The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section five of chapter six hundred and twenty-five of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-one, entitled "An act to amend and reduce to one act the several acts relating to buildings in the city of New York, passed May fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, May seventeenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, and May sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight," passed April twentieth, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

§ 5. In all dwelling houses that may hereafter be erected not more than fifty-five feet in height, the walls shall not be less than twelve inches thick, and if above fifty-five feet in height, and not more than eighty feet in height, the outside walls shall not be less than sixteen inches thick to the top of second story floor beams; provided the same is twenty feet above the curb level, and if not, then to under side of the third story beams, and also provided that portion of the wall that is twelve inches thick shall not exceed forty feet above the said sixteen inch wall; and in every dwelling house hereafter erected more than eighty feet in height, four inches shall be added to the thickness of the wall for every fifteen feet or part thereof that is added to the height of the building. All party walls in dwellings over fifty-five feet in height shall not be less than sixteen inches in thickness.

§ 2. Section six of said chapter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

§ 6. In all buildings other than dwellings hereafter erected, the bearing walls shall not be less than twelve inches thick to the height of forty feet above the curb level; if above forty feet in height and not more than fifty-five feet in height, the bearing walls shall not be less than sixteen inches thick; if above fifty-five feet and not more than seventy feet in height, the bearing walls shall not be less than twenty inches thick, to the height of twenty feet above the curb level or to the next tier of floor beams above, and not less than sixteen inches from thence to the height of fifty-five feet above the curb level or the next tier of floor beams, and not less than twelve inches thick from thence to the top; and if above seventy feet and not more than eighty-five feet in height, the bearing walls shall not be less than twenty-four inches thick to the height of twelve feet above the curb level or the second story floor beams, and from thence to the height of sixty feet above the curb level, the said walls shall not be less than twenty inches thick, and from thence to the top not less than sixteen inches thick; and if above the height of eighty-five feet, the bearing walls shall be increased four inches in thickness for every fifteen feet, or part thereof, that shall be added to the height of said wall above the eighty-five feet. The Committee on Rules and Discipline reported progress on the subject of reappointment to the force.

The following report of Commissioner Disbecker on the subject of Italian vagrant children was adopted, ordered to be entered in the minutes, and the Chief Clerk directed to notify the Italian Consul of the action of the Board, and furnish him a copy of the report:

Commissioner Disbecker presented the following:

I have examined the papers referred to me on the matter of the application of the Consul General of Italy in respect to vagrant Italian children.

There can be no objection, and it may lead to public benefit, that a general order should be issued for the apprehension of all children under the age of sixteen years found in the streets or public places begging, dancing, or playing on musical instruments for gain, and to cause them to be brought to the Central Department.

Every facility should be given to the Consul General of Italy to examine such of these children who are Italians by birth, with a view of leading to the discovery and apprehension of parties guilty of a violation of the 116th chapter of the laws of this year, being "An act in relation to mendicant and vagrant children." But beyond this, this Board is powerless in the matter; the children arrested must either be discharged or dealt with as vagrants, and handed over to the custody of the Department of Public Charities and Correction.

I would recommend no general order as to the disposal of those children apprehended, but leave each case to be dealt with as the circumstances may demand. There is no power given by the laws of this State or of the United States to transport to Italy children found begging or playing on musical instruments in the streets of New York, although they may be of Italian nationality, and this part of the plan proposed by the Consul General of Italy ought not to receive the sanction of the Board of Police.

A general order of the character recommended is herewith submitted:

Resolved, That the Superintendent issue a general order to the force to arrest all children under the age of sixteen years found in the streets or public places begging, dancing, or playing on musical instruments for gain, and cause them to be brought to the Central Department for examination, in accordance with the provisions of the following law:

CHAP. 116.

An Act in Relation to Mendicant and Vagrant Children. Passed April 3, 1874—three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Any person, whether as parent, relative, guardian, employer, or otherwise, having in his care, custody, or control any child under the age of sixteen years, who shall sell, apprentice, give away, let out, or otherwise dispose of any such child to any person, under any name, title, or pretense for the vocation, use, occupation, calling, service, or purpose of singing, playing on musical instruments, rope walking, dancing, begging, or peddling in any public street or highway, or in any mendicant or wandering business whatsoever; and any person who shall take, receive, hire, employ, use, or have in custody any such child for such purposes, or either of them, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof before any court of special sessions, or other competent tribunal, shall be fined in a sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or suffer imprisonment in a county jail for a period not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, do ordain as follows:
