The following opinion of Justice Charles Dono-hue, Supreme Court, was ordered to be entered in the minutes of the Board :

The Christopher and Tenth Street Railroad Company Donohue, J.

VS. The Mayor, etc.

In this case the plaintiffs own and operate, under a special charter, a railroad through Tenth and other streets in the city of New York, and they other complain that the Police Commissioners and the defendants are throwing the snow on their tracks in such a way as to impede the use of the railroad. understand any claim to be made by I do not either the defendants or the Police Comm sioners that they have the right to generally place the snow on plaintiffs' tracks, but the claim is, that the plaintiffs, by their snow-plows and their street-sweeping machine, having thrown the snow off the tracks on the side of the street, thereby making an accumulation that seriously inter-feres with the use of the street, the defendants have the right to replace the whole or some part of the snow on the tracks to improve the use of the streets. The first question raised is on the right to use the means employed by the plaintiffs to clean their tracks, by which the alleged obstruction of the street has occurred. This subject has received the attention and thorough consideration, within a few weeks, of a court possessing a juris-diction co-ordinate with this Court, and aside from the ability and learning of the Judge who considered the case, that decision is entitled to the same consideration as the judgment of one of the Judges of the Court. The opinion delivered shows a thorough examination of the case directly on the point in question, and even if not fully concurring, I would hesitate in declining to follow it. The difficulty on the part of those attempting to restrain the use of the means employed by the plaintiffs in cleaning their tracks is, that the Legislature seems to have looked solely at the railroad corporations, and the Courts have so construed the rights granted. I shall therefore follow, until a contrary rule shall be made, Judge Robinson's decision, especially as it appears to this very road on this very right.

very right. The only question left is, whether if the railroad company have right to do what they have done, have the Police Commissioners the right to undo it ? It seems to me this must be answered in the negative, because if the snow is so replaced on the tra same sweeper can be resorted to to put it off; and if the right is so possessed to clean the road it must carry with it the right to have the road left free. The right to clean must include the right to have the road free from interference of this kind. Whatthe road free from interference of this kind. What-ever inconvenience or disregard of private right there may be in the matter, redress must come from the power that placed matters where they are. It is to that the parties must be remitted.

Motion granted. On motion of Commissioner Disbecker, it was Resolved, That the salary of John Z. O'Brien, Deputy Inspector of Street Cleaning, be and is hereby fixed at $2,500 per annum, from April 1, 1875—All voting aye.
