INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Monsignor Kevin Sullivan, Pastor of Church of Our Savior, and Executive Director of Catholic Charities, Archdiocese of New York, located at 59 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Let's just take a moment, bow our heads, center ourselves, and be still.

Almighty God, in the city we address you by many different names in diverse ways.
We place ourselves in your loving and gracious presence, invoke your blessing and grace upon the work of this Council and upon the people of this great City.
Almighty God, you know our needs better than we do,
but, just in case you're a little distracted or forgetful, let us remind you of a few that are pressing.
Please keep our neighborhoods, streets, buses, subways safe.
Strengthen our schools to educate our children even better.
Keep our summer programs vibrant for the many youth and families who depend upon them.
Keep our hospitals healing and reduce the barriers to healthcare for those most in need.
Keep our economy strong with good-paying, decent jobs, sufficient to support our families in dignity.
Keep us always a city
in which the most vulnerable and struggling feel welcome, receive a helping hand, and are offered opportunities.
Especially watch those who struggle to find and to keep shelter.
We thank you for the diversity of our great city,
Almighty God, and your grace to make sure that we resist the sometimes strong temptations to divide us from one another and to tear each other down.
Keep us a city that welcomes immigrants and refugees, and, as we now receive a new wave of thousands seeking safety from their own countries and opportunity in ours, keep strong our rich passion for justice and progress and also protect us from self-righteousness and intolerance.
As we encounter many challenges and obstacles,
keep our spirits alive with hope.
Almighty God, 2 special prayers to say.
One for any Council Member who just happens to be celebrating her birthday,

a special blessing, and one final prayer.
 Almighty God, specifically this year, please, you've done a good job so far but keep the Mets and Yankees at the top of their divisions, lead them successfully to the playoffs,
 to a full '22 Subway Series,
 and, Almighty God, one point of personal privilege.
 It'd be an [extra] blessing
 if after a hard fought 7-game series that the Yankees emerge victorious.
 Amen.

Council Member Powers moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the record.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Stated Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the recent death of a number of individuals mentioned below.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the death of long-time public servant, advocate, and friend Joe Goldbloom. Mr. Goldbloom passed away on July 14, 2022 at the age of 90. She described Joe as a brilliant and caring man who worked in the Council for decades, advised multiple Council Members, and helped countless constituents. The Speaker (Council Member Adams) added that he would be sorely missed and that his legacy would continue to be uplifted.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the death of former Assembly Member and Council Member Al Vann. Former Council Member Vann represented an area of central Brooklyn which included Bedford-Stuyvesant for nearly four decades. She noted that he was an educator and an advocate who fought for the empowerment of black communities throughout his lifetime of public service. The Speaker (Council Member Adams) described former Council Member Vann as relentless and unwavering in his pursuit of empowerment, equity, and justice. She also noted that he was responsible for increasing the diversity of legislative representatives in New York City by advancing the policy of equal representation. She encouraged those assembled to tune into a memorial and celebration of Council Member Vann's life and legacy which was to be livestreamed during the following evening.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the death of two New Yorkers who died during the course of their employment: Johnny Pizarro, 31, and Matthew Webb, 23. Mr. Pizarro was fatally shot in North Brooklyn on a "Law and Order" film set where he worked as a crewmember who secured the space and watched over equipment trucks. On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) mourned his loss alongside his wife and three children. Mr. Webb, a fast-food worker, died on August 5, 2022 of gunshot wounds that he had suffered earlier in the week at a McDonald's Restaurant in Bedford-Stuyvesant, Brooklyn. She noted that Mr. Webb's family should continue to be uplifted and to be provided with the resources needed to heal them from this pain and trauma.

Report for Int. No. 600

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a rebate against real property taxes for certain owners of real property.

The Committee on Finance, to which the annexed preconsidered proposed local law was referred on August 11, 2022, respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On August 11, 2022, the Committee on Finance, chaired by Council Member Justin Brannan, held a vote on Introduction No. 600, sponsored by The Speaker (Council Member Adams) and Council Member Brannan, a local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a rebate of real property taxes for certain owners of real property. The legislation was previously heard at a hearing of this Committee on August 3, 2022.

The Council worked with the State Legislature on A 10440 and S 9399, State legislation which would authorize the City to provide a real property tax rebate against real property taxes for certain owners of real property in the city of New York for the fiscal year commencing on the first of July, two thousand twenty-one. On June 10, 2022 the Governor signed this state legislation which became Chapter 216 of the Laws of 2022 (the "State Law").

This local law would implement State Law by providing a $150 real property tax rebate for homeowners where the property is their primary residence and the income of the homeowners is not more than $250,000.

On August 11, 2022, the Committee passed Introduction No. 600 by a vote of 14 in the affirmative, zero in the negative, with zero abstentions.

STATE LAW

The State Law amends the State Real Property Tax law to authorize the City to provide, by local law, a rebate of real property taxes for eligible properties for fiscal year 2022. The rebate would be the lesser of $150 or the property's annual real estate tax liability.

The State Law provides that to be eligible for the rebate: (1) the property must be a one, two or three family residence or a dwelling unit in a cooperative or condominium; and (2) the property must be the primary residence of the owner as of June 15, 2022 and for the 90 days preceding that date. The State Law also requires that, to be eligible for the rebate, "the qualified gross income of all of the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence" cannot exceed $250,000.

The State Law provides that owners of eligible properties who receive a STAR exemption or credit in the current fiscal year do not file an application for the rebate. Essentially, unless the Commissioner of the Department of Finance (DOF) determines that STAR recipients are not eligible for the rebate, they will automatically receive the rebate. The State Law authorizes the City, by local law, to establish a procedure for applicants to demonstrate primary residence but only for owners not receiving the STAR exemption or credit for the current fiscal year. Those who are not receiving a STAR exemption or credit in the current fiscal year may file an application with the DOF if they meet the eligibility criteria of the State Law. For an eligible property that serves as the primary residence of more than one owner, all such owners would have to file a joint application. The State Law provides that the application be filed electronically by the deadline or deadlines established in the local law but allows the DOF Commissioner to waive the electronic filing requirement upon a showing that the applicant lacks the means or ability to file electronically. The burden of showing that the requirements for the rebate are met are on the applicant for the rebate. If DOF denies an application for a rebate, the State Law requires them to send a notice to the applicant stating the reason for the denial, but failure by DOF to send the notice or the applicant to receive it would not affect the City's ability to collect the property taxes.

The State Law contains provisions authorizing DOF to recover erroneously issued rebates within six years. It also provides for penalties for material misstatements in rebate applications that led to the granting of the rebate of $500 in addition to the recovery of the erroneously issued rebate. An application would be deemed to contain a material misstatement where the applicant: (1) claimed the property was their primary residence when it was not; (2) claimed they owned the property when they did not; or (3) claimed the qualified gross income of owners was $250,000 or less when it turns out the qualified gross income was "substantially higher," (meaning $275,000 or more).¹

UPDATE: On August 11, 2022, the Committee passed Introduction No. 600 by a vote of 14 in the affirmative, zero in the negative, with zero abstentions.

BILL ANALYSIS

INT. NO. 600

Preconsidered Int. No. would implement the $150 real property tax rebate for homeowners authorized in the State Law, by adding a new section, 11-240.2, to the Administrative Code. The proposed local law contains the eligibility requirements contained in the State Law: (1) that the property be a one, two or three family residence or a cooperative or condominium; (2) that it be the primary residence of the owners; and (3) that the qualified gross income of the owners not exceed $250,000.

In accordance with the State Law, the preconsidered Int. provides that recipients of the STAR exemption and credit are not to file applications for the rebate and if they meet all requirements of the law and DOF does not determine that they are ineligible, they will be entitled to the rebate. Those who are not receiving the STAR exemption or credit for the current fiscal year but otherwise satisfy the requirements may apply.

The proposed local law provides that an application may be filed electronically before November 15, 2022 but also allows for electronic filing after November 15, 2022 but on or before March 15, 2023 "when an applicant demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the commissioner..., extenuating circumstances, including but not limited to the death or illness of an immediate family member, that prevented such applicant from filing an application on or before November 15, 2022." Additionally, in accordance with the State Law, DOF may waive the electronic filing requirement.

The proposed local law puts the burden of eligibility for the rebate on the property owner, in accordance with the State Law. The proposed local law requires owners who must file an application to demonstrate that the property is their primary residence by completing a certification, but also authorizes DOF to require proof, which may include a driver's license, the most recent income tax return, or voter registration. DOF may require proof of residency and of income from any owner seeking a rebate. Consistent with the State Law, in the case of those receiving a STAR exemption or abatement and therefore not filing an application, such proof of residency would only be required if a question as to primary residence arose.

The proposed local law also provides that DOF mail out notices to those whose applications are approved, and notices of denial to those whose applications are denied stating the reason for any such denial. DOF may also revoke any approved rebate by sending a notice to an owner by June 30, 2023. These determinations are to be considered final unless an owner seeks administrative review from DOF within 90 days of the notice of denial or revocation. An owner receiving a STAR exemption or credit who does not file an application, and does not receive a rebate or a notice of denial, has until July 1, 2023 to seek administrative review.

Finally, in accordance with the State Law, DOF has six years to recover a rebate (or portion thereof) if it was calculated in error or if the owner was not entitled to a rebate. The proposed local law contains penalties for owners who make material misstatements in their applications of five hundred dollars ($500) in addition to recovering the rebate in accordance with the State Law.

The proposed local law would take effect immediately.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
FINANCE DIVISION
TANISHA S. EDWARDS, ESQ.

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER AND DEPUTY CHIEF OF STAFF TO THE SPEAKER

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PRECONSIDERED INTRODUCTION NO. 600

COMMITTEE: Finance

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a rebate against real property taxes for certain owners of real property.

SPONSOR(S): The Speaker (Adams), Brannan, and Yeger.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: On June 10, 2022, Governor Hochul signed into law Chapter 216 of the Laws of 2022, authorizing the City of New York to provide a property tax rebate to eligible property owners equal to the lesser of $150 or the annual property tax charged in Fiscal 2022. Preconsidered Introduction No. would implement the rebate as authorized by that State law.

Eligible recipients of the rebate include primary residents of one-to-three-family-homes, cooperative units, and condominium units, who earn $250,000 or less in gross income annually. The law authorizes the City's Department of Finance to issue the rebate automatically for eligible property owners already receiving the STAR exemption or credit.

For STAR-eligible property owners not currently receiving the STAR benefit, property owners would be required to file an application with the City's Department of Finance by November 15, 2022 to receive the rebate. Homeowners who miss the deadline and can provide proof of extenuating circumstances would have permission to submit an application for the rebate by March 15, 2023.

If an eligible rebate recipient holds delinquent accounts for unpaid property taxes, assessments, or other charges, the rebate would apply directly to reduce the amount delinquent.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The proposed local law would take effect immediately.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2023

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY22	FY Succeeding Effective FY23	Full Fiscal Impact FY23
Revenues	($56,250,000)	($33,750,000)	($33,750,000)
Expenditures	$0	$500,000	$500,000
Net	($56,250,000)	($34,250,000)	($34,250,000)

IMPACT ON REVENUES: The rebate would reduce City property tax revenues by a total of $90 million over Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2023. It should be noted that the current Financial Plan already accounts for the $90 million revenue reduction from the rebate, and assumes that the full reduction would occur in Fiscal 2022. However, based on updated timing of rebate disbursements, this fiscal impact more accurately reflects the timing of the revenue reduction.

Out of the roughly 1 million homeowners in New York City, Council Finance expects about 600,000 property owners would receive the rebate. The last time the City offered a homeowner rebate (Fiscal 2004 through 2008), only two-thirds of eligible homeowners applied for and received the rebate. Accounting for that take-up rate, and that the rebate proposed herein has an income threshold, Council Finance believes that roughly 60 percent of all City homeowners would pursue and receive the rebate.

Further, OMB has advised that rebates processed prior to the end of August would accrue back to Fiscal 2022, while those delivered after the end of August would accrue to Fiscal 2023. DOF has testified that they expect roughly 375,000 homeowners who receive STAR would automatically be sent rebate checks in August. The remaining 225,000 rebates would therefore be sent after the end of August and accrue to Fiscal 2023.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: The legislation would require roughly $500,000 in one-time expenses in Fiscal 2023 for printing, mailing, and computer programming needed to develop the application process for the rebate and distribute the rebate checks.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a rebate against real property taxes for certain owners of real property

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 1 of chapter 2 of title 11 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 11-240.2 to read as follows:

§ 11-240.2 Rebate for owners of certain real property. 1. For the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 2021 and ending on June 30, 2022, a rebate of the annual tax of an eligible property in the amount provided in this section shall be paid to the owner of such an eligible property, provided the qualified gross income of all the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence was $250,000 or less in tax year 2020. Where the eligible property, other than an eligible property that is a dwelling unit in residential property held in the cooperative form of ownership, is in arrears in the payment of real property taxes, assessments, and any other charges that are made a lien subject to the provisions of chapter 3 of this title other than water rents, sewer rents and sewer surcharges, such rebate shall be applied to any such unpaid real property taxes, assessments, and other charges on the account of such eligible property. Where the eligible property is a dwelling unit in residential property held in the cooperative form of ownership and such residential property is in arrears in the payment of real property taxes, assessments, and any other charges that are made a lien subject to the provisions of chapter 3 of this title other than water rents, sewer rents and sewer surcharges, such rebate shall be applied to any unpaid real property taxes, assessments, and other charges on the account of such residential property in an amount equal to the proportionate share of the arrears of the dwelling unit. Notwithstanding any provision of article 4 of the real property tax law to the contrary, an owner whose property is receiving benefits pursuant to any provision of such article shall not be prohibited from receiving a rebate pursuant to this section if such owner is otherwise eligible to receive such rebate.

2. Definitions. As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

Substantially higher. The term "substantially higher" means more than $275,000.

3. Primary residence. To be granted a rebate pursuant to this section, an owner, other than an owner who receives a real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for such property for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022, shall certify that the property serves as the primary residence of such owner. The department of finance may require that an owner submit proof of such primary residence to the department. Such proof may include but is not limited to a valid driver's license, the most recent federal or state income tax return, or a proof of registration to vote.

4. Amount of rebate. The amount of the rebate to be provided by the commissioner of finance shall be the lesser of $150, or the annual tax imposed on the property.

5. Qualification for rebate for recipients of STAR credit or exemption. The owner of an eligible property who receives a real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for the fiscal year commencing on the July 1, 2022 and satisfies the requirements described in subdivision 1 of this section shall not be required to file, and shall not file, an application for the rebate authorized by this section. To the extent the commissioner of finance determines that such an owner is not entitled to the rebate authorized by this section, the commissioner shall send to such owner a notice of denial of the rebate.

6. Qualification for rebate for owners of an eligible property who are not recipients of STAR credit or exemption. a. Generally. The owner of an eligible property who does not receive a real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022 may file an application for the rebate authorized by this section, provided that, such owner satisfies the requirements described in subdivision 1 of this section, and provided, further, that for an eligible property that serves as the primary residence of more than one owner, all such owners shall jointly file an application for such rebate. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, an application for a rebate authorized by this section shall be filed by electronic means on or before November 15, 2022, provided that, such application may be filed by electronic means after November 15, 2022 and on or before March 15, 2023 when an applicant demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the commissioner of finance, extenuating circumstances, including but not limited to the death or illness of an immediate family member, that prevented such applicant from filing an application on or before November 15, 2022. Upon a showing by an applicant that filing an application by electronic means is not practicable for reasons including but not limited to lack of access to, or ability to use, the technology needed to file by electronic means, the commissioner of finance may grant a waiver of the requirement to file such application by electronic means. No more than one application shall be submitted for an eligible property.

b. Approval or denial of application. If the commissioner of finance determines that an applicant is entitled to the rebate authorized by this section, the commissioner shall approve such application, notify such applicant of such approval, and grant such rebate to such applicant. If the commissioner of finance determines that an applicant is not entitled to the rebate authorized by this section, the commissioner shall send to such applicant a notice of denial of such application. Such notice of denial shall specify the reason for such denial and may be sent by mail or by electronic means. Failure to send any such notice of denial or the failure of any applicant to receive such notice shall not affect such denial and shall not prevent the levy, collection and enforcement of taxes on the property of such applicant.

c. Review of submission. The burden shall be on the applicant to establish that the property is the primary residence of such applicant, that the qualified gross income of all the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence is $250,000 or less and that any other requirements relating to the granting of the rebate are satisfied.

d. Oath. The commissioner of finance shall require that statements made in connection with any application filed pursuant to this section be made under oath. Such application shall contain the following declaration: "I certify that all information contained in this application is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that willful making of any false statement of material fact herein will subject me to the provisions of law relevant to the making and filing of false instruments and will render this application null and void." Such application shall also state that the applicant agrees to comply with and be subject to this section and any rules promulgated by the commissioner of finance pursuant to this section.

7. Denial and revocation of rebate. a. Generally. The commissioner of finance shall deny an application for a rebate or revoke any rebate granted pursuant to this section if it appears that: (i) the property does not serve as the primary residence of the owner who has applied for such rebate or who received the real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for such property for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022; (ii) prior to the granting of the rebate authorized by this section, title to the property has been transferred to a new owner other than to an immediate family member for whom the property serves as the primary residence until, at a minimum, the date on which such rebate is granted, provided that the commissioner of finance has been notified of any such transfer to an immediate family member in connection with the application authorized by subdivision 6 of this section; or (iii) the property is otherwise no longer eligible for the rebate.

b. Rights of owners. Upon determining that a rebate granted pursuant to this section shall be revoked, the commissioner of finance shall send a notice so stating to the affected owner. Such notice shall be sent by mail or by electronic means no later than June 30, 2023. Granting a rebate pursuant to this section, denying a rebate pursuant to subdivision 5 of this section, denying an application for a rebate pursuant to paragraph b of subdivision 6 of this section, or revoking a rebate granted pursuant to this section shall constitute a final determination of the commissioner of finance, unless, within 90 days of the date of the notification of such denial or revocation, the owner seeks administrative review by the commissioner of finance of such determination, provided that the burden shall be on the owner to establish eligibility for the rebate. The failure to grant a rebate pursuant to this section to an owner who is not required to submit an application pursuant to subdivision 5 of this section and who does not receive a notice of denial pursuant to such subdivision shall constitute a final determination by the commissioner of finance unless such owner seeks administrative review by such commissioner of such determination no later than July 1, 2023.

8. Restriction on rebate for married couples with two or more residences. The rebate provided by this section shall be granted on no more than one property owned by a married couple, unless such spouses are living apart due to legal separation.

9. Record of ownership of an eligible property. A deed or other instrument demonstrating ownership of an eligible property shall be recorded with the city register, the Richmond county clerk, or the automated city register information system on or before June 30, 2022.

10. Proof of residency and information regarding qualified gross income. In accordance with subdivisions 1 and 3 of this section, the commissioner of finance may request proof of residency and information relating to qualified gross income from any owner seeking to receive a rebate authorized pursuant to this section, including but not limited to, an owner who received the real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for such property for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022.

11. Rebate returned for re-issuance. The commissioner of finance may provide a credit against the annual tax of an eligible property in the amount of the rebate when an owner of an eligible property requests that a check in the amount of the rebate be re-issued to such owner, except that no such credit shall be provided later than two years from the date the rebate is granted.

12. Recovery of erroneous rebate. a. If the commissioner of finance determines that an owner received an erroneous rebate, the commissioner of finance shall recover such erroneous rebate, within six years of the granting of such rebate, by deducting the amount of such erroneous rebate from any refund otherwise payable to the owner of such property, and any balance of the amount of such erroneous rebate remaining unpaid shall constitute a tax lien on the property of such owner as of the due and payable date provided on the tax bill mailed by the commissioner of finance containing such amount. If such amount is not paid by such due and payable date, interest at the rate applicable to delinquent real property taxes on such property shall be charged and collected on such amount from the due and payable date provided on such notice to the date of payment. Such tax lien shall be enforceable in accordance with the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of tax liens, including chapters 3 and 4 of this title. No lien created pursuant to this section shall be enforced against a subsequent purchaser for value in good faith, provided that the purchase occurred prior to the date the amount of the erroneous rebate was entered on the statement of account for such property. Such authority shall supplement any other authority of the commissioner of finance to enforce payment of the erroneous rebate by the owner of such property.

b. To the extent a rebate was granted or calculated in error under this section, the amount of the erroneous rebate shall be equal to the difference between the amount of the rebate originally granted and the amount to which the owner was entitled.

13. Penalty for material misstatements. a. Generally. If the commissioner of finance determines, within three years from the granting of a rebate authorized by this section, that there was a material misstatement in an application filed pursuant to this section and that such misstatement provided the basis for the granting of a rebate under this section, the commissioner of finance shall proceed to impose a penalty tax against the property of $500 in addition to recovering the amount of any erroneous rebate under subdivision 12 of this section. An application shall be deemed to contain a material misstatement for this purpose when either:

(1) the applicant claimed the property was his, her or their primary residence, when it was not;

(2) the applicant claimed that the applicant owned the property, when the applicant did not; or

(3) the applicant claimed that the qualified gross income of all the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence was $250,000 or less, when the qualified gross income of such owners was a substantially higher amount.

b. Procedure. When the commissioner of finance determines that a penalty tax shall be imposed, the penalty tax shall be entered on the next ensuing tentative or final assessment roll. Each owner shall be given notice of the possible imposition of a penalty tax, and shall be entitled to seek administrative and judicial review of such action in the manner provided by law.

14. Non-disclosure. The information contained in applications filed with the commissioner of finance pursuant to subdivision 6 of this section shall not be subject to disclosure under article 6 of the public officers law.

§ 2. This local law takes effect immediately.

I. BACKGROUND

A. Maternal Mortality in the U.S.

The ability to protect the health of mothers, birthing people,¹ and babies in childbirth is a basic measure of a society's development.² Yet, more people in the United States (U.S.) die of pregnancy-related complications than in any other developed country, and while the number of reported pregnancy-related deaths has been declining in most of the world,³ in the U.S., the maternal mortality ratio (MMR) – the number of maternal deaths in a population that occur during a given year per 100,000 live births⁴ – has increased compared to similar countries.⁵

¹ The Committees center that not just women give birth, and will include gender expansive and inclusive language within the report, aside from when quoting a source directly. However, doing so does not negate the fact that, while the majority of people receiving maternal health are women/mothers, there are populations that are impacted who do not identify as women or mothers.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the MMR in the U.S. has more than doubled since 1987, from 7.2 deaths per 100,000 live births in 1987, to a peak of 18 in 2014, and dropping slightly to 17.3 deaths per 100,000 live births in 2017, the last year with reported data.⁷ Data also shows that this trend has worsened in recent years. From 2000 to 2014, the MMR in the U.S. increased by an estimated 26.6 percent.⁸ Each year, about 700 American women die from pregnancy-related complications, and about three in five pregnancy-related deaths could be prevented.⁹ According to the CDC, severe maternal morbidity (SMM) has also been steadily increasing in recent years, and affected more than 50,000 women in the United States in 2014, the last year with data available nationally.¹⁰ SMM includes unexpected outcomes of labor and delivery that result in significant short- or long-term consequences to a woman's health.¹¹

Additionally, data shows that health inequities significantly impact pregnancy outcomes. According to the CDC, American Indian/Alaska Native and Black women in the U.S. are two to three times more likely to die from complications related to pregnancy than white women.¹² During 2014-2017, the MMR for Black women was 41.7 deaths per 100,000 live births, compared to 13.4 deaths for non-Hispanic white women (or over three times as high).¹³ The MMR for non-Hispanic American Indian or Alaska Native women was 28.3 deaths per 100,000 live births, or over two times the rate for white women.¹⁴ Such disparities also affect birth outcomes. Government data suggests that Black infants are more than twice as likely to die as white infants; 11.3 per 1,000 Black babies, compared with 4.9 per 1,000 white babies, a racial disparity that is actually greater than in 1850, 15 years before slavery was abolished in the U.S.¹⁵ Research points to race, rather than educational attainment

B. Maternal Mortality in New York City

New York City (NYC) accounts for about 30 of those estimated 700 women who die from pregnancy or childbirth-related causes each year nationally.¹⁸ According to the New York State Department of Health (DOH), the MMR in NYC was 19.8 per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019.¹⁹ Research has illustrated the impact that racial disparities can have on a person's health outcomes and care in NYC.²⁰ While about 30 women in NYC die each year of a pregnancy-related cause, statistics indicate that approximately 3,000 women "almost die," or experience morbidity, during childbirth.²¹ Black, non-Latina women are the most likely to experience maternal mortality or maternal morbidity.²² Additionally, according to a study in the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology, in NYC, Black women are more likely than white women to give birth in hospitals that already have a high rate of severe maternal morbidity or complications.²³ Only 23 percent of Black patients gave birth in the safest hospitals, compared to 63 percent of white patients.²⁴ At the city level, recent data suggests Black mothers in NYC are 8 to 12 times more likely to die from pregnancy-related causes than white mothers.²⁵ The Bronx and Brooklyn in particular carry a disproportionate burden of maternal and infant mortality rates.²⁶ In

¹⁸ The top causes of U.S. pregnancy-related deaths in 2011 were cardiovascular disease, 15.1 percent; non-cardiovascular disease, 14.1 percent; infection or sepsis, 14 percent; and hemorrhage, 11.3 percent. 2018, residents of Brooklyn had the highest number of both pregnancy-associated and pregnancy-related deaths (14 and 10), followed by the Bronx (10 and 5).²⁷

Several factors appear to have a positive influence on outcomes for persons giving birth in NYC. A recent report reveals that women who had doula²⁸ support were 39 percent less likely to have a caesarean section (C-section), and 15 percent more likely to give birth without needing drugs or labor-inducing techniques.²⁹ Additionally, a survey regarding doula care in NYC reveals that 72 percent of women reported that their doula helped them communicate their preferences and needs, while 80 percent of those surveyed reported that their doula helped them feel more empowered.³⁰ Furthermore, 83 percent of the surveyed women reported that having a doula made their labor and birth experience “much better” than if they had not used a doula, and it made them more relaxed before, during, and after birth.³¹ However, 88 percent of this cohort reported that cost was an issue when opting to work with a doula.³² According to DOHMH’s most recent The State of Doula Care in NYC report, there are several initiatives to improve access to doula care, in order to address the systemic and interpersonal racism that impacts birthing outcomes in New York City.³³

II. COVID-19 AND MATERNAL HEALTH, MORTALITY, AND MORBIDITY

Since the COVID-19 outbreak began, healthcare organizations and experts have been addressing its potential effects on maternal health, mortality, and morbidity. For example, in June 2020, the CDC recommended that pregnant women and their families take preventive measures to reduce their risk of contracting COVID-19, as pregnant women were significantly more likely to be hospitalized, admitted to the intensive care unit, and receive mechanical ventilation than non-pregnant women.³⁴ In November 2020, the CDC reported in a Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report that pregnant women are also at increased risk of death compared to non-pregnant women.³⁵ Similar to maternal mortality rates, COVID-19 mortality rates are substantially higher among Black, Latinx, and Native American people than among white or Asian people.³⁶ The CDC study also suggested that pregnant women who are Hispanic or Black might be disproportionately affected by SARS-CoV-2 infection during pregnancy.³⁷

Maternal health disparities are driven by socioeconomic factors, such as where people live and work and access to health care.³⁸ Given that COVID-19 magnifies existing health disparities, affecting communities of color much more than white communities, it is likely that COVID-19 will also exacerbate existing disparities in maternal mortality rates, which were greater among Black women before the pandemic.³⁹ Significant shifts in access to healthcare during the pandemic also significantly impacted the ability of Black, Indigenous, and other patients of color to receive adequate healthcare.⁴⁰ While some patients found that telehealth has been a blessing, allowing them to see doctors without the need to travel or find childcare, many patients stated that telemedicine made it more difficult to convince providers that they needed to be seen in person, even when they had serious conditions.⁴¹ Furthermore, some patients—especially low-income people and those living in rural areas or on reservations—cannot access telehealth at all because of a lack of internet access or appropriate devices.⁴² The pandemic is also exacerbating other inequities Black birthing people face, including the difficulty of even finding a doctor to treat them, as decades of redlining have left cities and towns segregated across America, with communities of color not receiving the same investment as majority-white, suburban neighborhoods.⁴³ There is also a significant lack of prenatal care in certain areas, which is associated with an increased risk of maternal mortality and morbidity.⁴⁴ Moreover, as many pregnancy-related deaths happen in the postpartum period, postpartum follow-up, which was already inconsistent among certain populations before the pandemic began, became almost nonexistent.⁴⁵ For example, because of the pandemic, mothers were being discharged so quickly that they did not have adequate information about how to care for their wounds, or how to breastfeed properly, and many mothers were discharged while showing signs of anxiety and depression as they were experiencing social isolation.⁴⁶

The pandemic also introduced a new risk factor for pregnant patients: isolation during birth.⁴⁷ Several studies have shown that having a doula or other support person during birth can improve outcomes for birthing people and their babies, and doulas are especially important for Black patients and others who experience discrimination during birth.⁴⁸ At the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic in the U.S., however, many hospitals instituted limits on the number of people who could accompany pregnant people into the delivery room, forcing patients to choose between a partner and a doula.⁴⁹ In fact, two major systems in New York City—New York-Presbyterian and Mount Sinai—banned support people from delivery rooms, forcing women to be alone while giving birth.⁵⁰ The limits on visitors were intended to conserve personal protective equipment and slow the spread of COVID-19, but when implementing them, hospitals did not consider the disproportionate impact that they could have on Black patients and birthing people.⁵¹

Former Governor Andrew Cuomo convened a task force of multidisciplinary experts to address the effect of COVID-19 on pregnancy and examine the best approaches to provide mothers with safe alternatives to hospitalization, when appropriate.⁵² The COVID-19 Maternity Task Force's recommendations included testing all pregnant women for the virus and designating doulas as an essential member of the care team, among other suggestions.⁵³ On April 29, 2020, Governor Cuomo issued an executive order recognizing doulas as essential

Tragically, New York City experienced several maternal deaths in hospitals since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Amber Isaac, a 26-year-old Black woman, died on April 21, 2020, shortly after delivering her son, Elias, at Montefiore Medical Center in The Bronx.⁵⁵ According to reports, Ms. Isaac studied the disproportionate impact of maternal mortality on Black women throughout her pregnancy, and shortly before her death, she tweeted, “Can’t wait to write a tell all about my experience during my last two trimesters dealing with incompetent doctors at Montefiore.”⁵⁶ Shaasia Washington, also a 26-year-old Black woman, died on July 3, 2020, during childbirth at Woodhull hospital, an H+H facility in Brooklyn.⁵⁷ According to some reports, Shaasia died while being given an epidural.⁵⁸ Hendel Lezer, a 33-year-old orthodox Jewish woman, died on November 19, 2020 in Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn from complications related to COVID-19, one day after delivering her fifth child.⁵⁹ According to reports, Mrs. Lezer’s family and doctor pled with the hospital to treat her with available COVID-19 treatments, but the hospital objected, citing protocol that only patients who contracted the virus less than a week ago could receive the treatment.⁶⁰

III. RESPONSE TO MATERNAL MORTALITY AND MORBIDITY

A. New York City and State Response

There have been a number of government initiatives addressing maternal mortality and morbidity over the past decade, including during the COVID-19 pandemic. For example, in March 2017, the NYC Council passed the Maternal Mortality Reporting Law, or Local Law 55 of 2017, which requires DOHMH to issue an annual report on maternal mortality, tracking statistics in four areas.⁶¹ The Council then passed Local Law 188 of 2018, which expanded upon these required reporting criteria.⁶² In December 2017, DOHMH formally launched a city-specific Maternal Mortality and Morbidity Committee (M3-RC, M3RC, or “the Panel”), composed of up to 45 members, including doctors, nurses, the doula community, researchers, first responders, and experts from various facilities and community based organizations.⁶³ The M3RC meets every two to three months to conduct a multidisciplinary expert review of every maternal death in the City from both a clinical and a social determinants of health perspective.⁶⁴ Additionally, DOHMH and the Fund for Public Health in New York City (FPHNYC) have received two grants from Merck for Mothers to implement severe maternal morbidity projects, with the first resulting in the implementation of the first citywide severe maternal morbidity surveillance system and the second in the launch of the “Reducing Inequities and Disparities in Preventable Severe Maternal Morbidity in New York City Project.”⁶⁵ DOHMH has released reports about instances of severe maternal morbidity in New York City, with the latest released in 2016.⁶⁶

In 2018, H+H partnered with DOHMH and the Mayor’s Office to begin implementing a comprehensive maternal care program with the focus of identifying and responding to pregnancy-related morbidity and mortality for women of color, including a maternal medical home and simulation-based programs.⁶⁷ Additionally, implicit bias training has occurred within relevant private and public health care facilities across the City.⁶⁸

The NYC Council has held hearings about or related to maternal health outcomes, including mortality and morbidity, in June 2018, September 2019, January 2020, and December 2020.⁶⁹ During the last hearing, the Council heard a package of legislation, and eventually passed Local Law 76 of 2021, which required posting information about midwives online.⁷⁰ The Council also has a long history of using discretionary funding towards reducing maternal morbidity. In Fiscal 2002, Council launched the Infant Mortality Reduction Initiative, totaling $2.5 million. The goal of the initiative was to promote women’s health before, during, and after pregnancy and to work in areas in the City with the highest infant mortality rates.⁷¹ Starting in Fiscal 2016, the Council began funding the Healthy Women, Healthy Future program initiative, totaling $300,000, a program that supports an array of doula services.⁷² Beginning in Fiscal 2017, the two initiatives were grouped together into the Maternal and Child Health Services Initiative.⁷³ The Council has continued its commitment to these issues and in Fiscal 2021, the Council has designated $1.9 million to the Maternal and Child Health Services Initiative which supports 19 organizations across all five boroughs.⁷⁴ In Fiscal 2020, this initiative reached more than 5,408 individuals.⁷⁵

Additionally, beginning in Fiscal 2017 the Council funded the Nurse Family Partnership Initiative for $2 million, which is an evidence-based maternal and early childhood health program that fosters long-term success for first-time mothers, their babies and society.⁷⁶ The Council has advocated for expansion of funding for the Nurse Family Partnership and in Fiscal 2019, the Council successfully negotiated $4 million in baseline funding for the program by the Administration.⁷⁷ The total budget for Nurse Family Partnership in the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene’s budget is $14 million.

There have also been a number of initiatives taken at the State level. In January 2018, Governor Cuomo announced a proposal to create a State Maternal Mortality Review Board (“Board”) to review of each maternal death.⁷⁸ The New York State Department of Health (DOH) convenes a Board of diverse experts to conduct a confidential review of each maternal death, determining whether death was preventable, and to identify recommendations.⁷⁹ On April 23, 2018, the Governor announced a series of additional new initiatives focused on maternal mortality and disparate racial outcomes, including another taskforce, a pilot to expand Medicaid to cover doula services, a best practices summit, and a call for enhanced training for medical students.⁸⁰ The Taskforce on Maternal Mortality and Disparate Racial Outcomes (the Taskforce) met three times between June and December 2018, and members of the Taskforce submitted recommendations to the Governor on ways to reduce racial disparities and preventable maternal mortality and morbidity.⁸¹ The doula pilot faced implementation issues and failed to get off the ground.⁸²

In response to issues arising during the COVID-19 pandemic, the State created a COVID-19 Maternity Task Force.⁸³ On April 29, 2020, the State announced that the Governor accepted the Task Force's recommendations in full, which included measures to diversify birthing site options and support patient choice; extend the period of time a healthy support person can accompany a mother post-delivery; mandate testing of all pregnant New Yorkers; ensure equity in birthing options; create an educational campaign; and review the impact of COVID-19 on pregnancy and newborns with special emphasis on reducing racial disparities in maternal mortality.⁸⁴ Included in the final recommendation was a plan for DOH to host weekly statewide interactive webinars addressing the management of maternity care during the pandemic, as needed, as part of a collaboration with the New York State Perinatal Quality Collaborative in partnership with the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology District II, including a webinar on obstetrical care and implicit bias within the context of the COVID-19.⁸⁵

Under the current Mayoral Administration, Mayor Eric Adams announced the creation of a new doula program, as well the expansion of a Midwifery Initiative and the expansion of a maternal health care services program.⁸⁶ The Citywide Doula Initiative will provide free access to doulas for birthing families and focus on 33 neighborhoods with the greatest social needs.⁸⁷ According to the Mayor's Press Release, "the Midwifery Initiative will be expanded to all 38 public and private birthing facilities citywide and will allow DOHMH, for the first time, to gather data on births and care with midwives; create partnerships with midwife organizations, private practices, and community members; and develop a report on midwives in New York City."⁸⁸ Additionally, the Maternity Hospital Quality Improvement Network (MHQIN) will be expanded across all 38 birthing facilities across the city in an effort to improve maternal care at local hospitals and birthing centers.⁸⁹

B. Medical Community Response and Best Practices

The medical community has done a great deal to respond to the maternal mortality crisis, including creating organizations, conducting studies, holding panel discussions, task forces, and seminars, and coming up with best practices and recommendations to improve maternal outcomes.⁹⁰ On a national level, the Surgeon General, via the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), issued a list of recommendations for healthcare providers in January 2020, which include⁹¹:

- Collect and evaluate your key maternal safety data for hypertension, hemorrhage, infections, primary C-section rate and opioid addiction. Every hospital should have a systematic approach to reviewing maternal health complications, acting on the data as appropriate and implementing improvement strategies. It is also important to ensure risk-appropriate care is provided to both high- and low-risk patients to decrease unnecessary interventions and improve screening and detection of complications.
- Examine care disparities in your maternal population. Break down your data by place, race, ethnicity and other variables appropriate to your organization and community. Analyze the data over a period of years to help identify disparities and opportunities for improvement in areas, including addressing social determinants of health and maternal health, both prior to and after delivery.
- Next, engage mothers and their families as advocates for themselves and others. Empower them to be vocal about their care, and ensure that you have strong referral networks and interventions.
- Partner with clinicians and stakeholders in your community. Engage healthcare providers, community and tactical partners, and other stakeholders in these efforts so that together we can improve maternal health and the well-being of babies and families.

The American Medical Association (AMA) supports and recommends similar data-based solutions to improve maternal outcomes,⁹² and also has committed to advocacy efforts to address maternal health outcomes.⁹³ On a clinical level, the Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine proposes recommendations to improve clinical care for providers, healthcare systems, and medical systems,⁹⁴ and how to approach the work in an anti-racist way.⁹⁵ The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists have also issued recommendations to specifically address racial and ethnic disparities in obstetrics and gynecology.⁹⁶

In New York City, doctors and the medical community have also worked to address maternal health outcomes outside the formal hospital and healthcare setting. For example, Dr. Taraneh Shirazian, an Obstetrician/Gynecologist at NYU Langone founded the non-profit Saving Mothers, which operates around the world and in New York City in underserved areas using low-cost, high-impact programs for women that aim to decrease death in pregnancy and delivery.⁹⁷ In 2020, Saving Mothers created a program in New York City called “mPOWHER,” which teaches community health workers how to identify high-risk patients in the home, how to talk about complications, teach about medical risk in pregnancy, and teach pregnant women how to communicate with their physicians to help ensure their health is prioritized in the health care system.⁹⁸

IV. FERTILITY EQUITY IN NYC

On January 1, 2020, a new state law went into effect, which requires large group (more than 100 employees) insurance policies, including New York City’s insurance policy, and contracts that provide medical, major medical, or similar comprehensive-type coverage and are delivered or issued for delivery in New York to cover three cycles of in vitro fertilization (IVF) used in the treatment of infertility.⁹⁹

Every large group policy delivered or issued for delivery in ... [New York State] that provides medical, major medical or similar comprehensive-type coverage shall provide coverage for three cycles of in-vitro fertilization used in the treatment of infertility. Coverage may be subject to annual deductibles and coinsurance, including copayments, as may be deemed appropriate by the superintendent and as are consistent with those established for other benefits within a given policy. For purposes of this item, a “cycle” is defined as either all treatment that starts when: preparatory medications are administered for ovarian stimulation for oocyte retrieval with the intent of undergoing in-vitro fertilization using a fresh embryo transfer; or medications are administered for endometrial preparation with the intent of undergoing in-vitro fertilization using a frozen embryo transfer.¹⁰⁰

Ancillary treatments and services including egg freezing and storage may also be covered.¹⁰¹

State law prohibits insurers providing the required IVF coverage from discriminating “based on an insured’s ... personal characteristics, including ... sex, sexual orientation, marital status or gender identity.”¹⁰² Although the State’s requirement of some IVF treatment is relatively progressive,¹⁰³ many plan participants who need such services to build families are essentially excluded from coverage.¹⁰⁴ Coverage is conditioned on obtaining an infertility diagnosis, which State law defines as:¹⁰⁵

[A] disease or condition characterized by the incapacity to impregnate another person or to conceive, defined by the failure to establish a clinical pregnancy after twelve months of regular, unprotected sexual intercourse or therapeutic donor insemination, or after six months of regular, unprotected sexual intercourse or therapeutic donor insemination for a female thirty-five years of age or older.¹⁰⁶

The State's definition operates to exclude IVF coverage for couples who require it to produce a baby, but who do not have an infertility diagnosis.¹⁰⁷ Critics of this test for coverage cite its discriminatory effect on single adults and same-sex couples who necessarily cannot or will not attempt to obtain a diagnosis for purposes of obtaining coverage.¹⁰⁸

Moreover, a host of other treatments and services related to family building, including gamete and embryo freezing, surrogacy and adoption, are often not covered under State-approved and City-contracted health plans as treatments for participants who, whether by virtue of a biological condition or of their family makeup, cannot build a family through sexual intercourse.¹⁰⁹ New York City's plan, Emblem Health/GHI-CBP, does not provide coverage for treatment/services related to: sperm donation when the donor is not a plan participant; "elective" egg and sperm freezing; certain egg retrievals; surrogacy; and adoption.¹¹⁰ In April, 2022, a same-sex couple sued New York City, alleging that the City discriminated against them by not covering IVF services for them under the City's health insurance plan.¹¹¹

V. LEGISLATION

A. Analysis of Int. No. 409-A

This bill would require DOHMH to post the annual Maternal Mortality and Morbidity report on its website. The proposed legislation would take effect immediately after becoming law. Since it was heard, the bill received technical edits.

B. Analysis of Int. No. 472-A

This bill would also require the DOHMH commissioner to submit a report to the Mayor and the Speaker of the City Council on the merits of the program. The proposed legislation would take effect immediately after becoming law. Since it was heard, the bill received technical edits and was amended to allow for continuing doula care.

C. Analysis of Int. No. 478-A

This bill would require an agency designated by the mayor to administer a public education program that informs the public regarding the services offered by doulas and midwives, the evidence-based benefits of such services and free and low-cost resources related to such services in the city. It would also require the administering agency to submit to the Mayor and Speaker of the City Council, and post online, by June 30, 2024, and by June 30 every five years thereafter, a report describing the methods of targeted outreach used to comply with this law. The proposed legislation would take effect on the same date as a local law as proposed in introduction 86-A for 2022 takes effect. Since it was heard, the bill received technical edits.

D. Analysis of Int. No. 482-A

This bill would require the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to provide education on polycystic ovary syndrome and endometriosis by posting information on its website, including, but not limited to: the definitions and potential symptoms of polycystic ovary syndrome and endometriosis; information on how to seek diagnosis and treatment, including how to procure the care of a primary care physician; and data regarding the number of individuals who are diagnosed with polycystic ovary syndrome or endometriosis in the city, disaggregated by age, race, ethnicity, and zip code, to the extent such data is available to the department. The department would also be required to submit a report to the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council on March 1, 2023 and every year thereafter regarding education efforts on polycystic ovary syndrome and endometriosis conducted by the department. The proposed legislation would take effect 30 days after becoming law. Since it was heard, the bill received technical edits and was amended to ensure coordination of data reporting with existing reports.

E. Analysis of Int. No. 490-A

This bill would require the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to provide sexual and reproductive health services and conduct research on sexual and reproductive health disparities within the city. In providing such services, the department will have the power and duty to: provide outreach, education, and support to individuals, especially low-income individuals and those without health insurance, regarding issues related to sexual and reproductive health, including but not limited to: contraception, including a broad range of methods such as long-acting reversible contraception; preconception health services; abortion services; family planning services; testing, prevention, and treatment for HIV; testing and treatment for sexually transmitted infections; routine screening for breast and cervical cancer; and health education in community settings to promote reproductive health, to prevent unintended pregnancy, and to promote access to reproductive and preventive health services. The office would also make referrals to affordable and accessible services related to contraception, abortion, family planning, breast and cervical cancer screenings, and counseling, testing, and treatment for HIV and sexually transmitted infections, when determined appropriate by the department. The proposed legislation would take effect one year after becoming law. Since it was heard, the bill was amended to account for existing infrastructure and maximize efficiency within DOHMH.

F. Analysis of Int. No. 86-A

This bill would require an agency designated by the mayor to administer a public education program that informs the public regarding the city's standards for respectful care at birth, as well as information regarding: the right to be free from discrimination in relation to pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition; reasonable workplace accommodations for persons who are pregnant or were recently pregnant and caregivers; rights for a person who is pregnant or was recently pregnant under the disability benefits law and paid family leave benefits law, earned safe and sick time act, and temporary schedule change law; and how to access information published by the New York State Department of health on appointing a health care proxy. The proposed legislation would take effect on the same date as a local law as proposed in Introduction 474-A for 2022 takes effect. Since it was heard, the bill received technical edits and was amended to coordinate protections with those existing under the City's Human Rights Law and other state and federal laws.

G. Analysis of Int. No. 509-A

This bill would require an agency designated by the mayor to administer a public education program that informs the public regarding maternal mortality and severe maternal morbidity. Additionally, no later than December 30, 2024, the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene would be required to report on the number of total births in the city for the previous calendar year, disaggregated, to the extent available, by the number of vaginal births, the number of vaginal births after prior cesarean section, the number of first-time cesarean sections, the number of repeat cesarean sections. This data would be further disaggregated by whether or not the pregnancy was considered low risk. The report would also include recommendations by the department to reduce maternal mortality and severe maternal morbidity, including efforts to reduce the risks associated with unplanned cesarean sections and efforts to address inequities across patient demographics. The proposed legislation would take effect on the same date as a local law as proposed in Introduction 478-A for 2022 takes effect. Since it was heard, the bill was amended to broaden the focus of reporting and recommendations.

Whereas, Over 700 women a year in the United States die of complications related to pregnancy and two-thirds of those deaths are preventable, with 50,000 women suffering from Severe Maternal Morbidity defined as life threatening complications of pregnancy according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; and

Whereas, Rising maternal mortality and morbidity rates disproportionately impact Black women, who are up to three times more likely to die due to a complication from child birth than white women, regardless of other factors such as their level of educational attainment or income, according to United States Department of Health and Human Services research on maternal mortality disparities; and

Whereas, In New York State, the maternal mortality rate for black women was 51.6 deaths per 100,000 live births, compared to 15.9 deaths per 100,000 live births for white women from 2014-2016, according to the New York State Taskforce on Maternal Mortality and Disparate Racial Outcomes report from March 2019; and

Whereas, In New York City, Black women are three times more likely than white women to suffer from Severe Maternal Morbidity according to a New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene report on Severe Maternal Morbidity; and

Whereas, The Black Maternal Momnibus Act of 2021 H.R.959/S.346 sponsored by Rep. Lauren Underwood (D-IL-14) and Sen. Cory Booker (D-NI) is a package that includes nine individual pieces of legislation to address the immense racial and ethnic disparities in maternal healthcare in the United States; and

Whereas, The Social Determinants for Moms Act H.R.943/S.851 sponsored by Rep. Lucy McBath (D-GA-6) and Sen. Richard Blumenthal (D-CT) approves the disbursement of grant funding for further research and study on social determinants of maternal health such as transportation, housing and environmental factors; and

Whereas, The Kira Johnson Act H.R.1212 sponsored by Rep. Alma Adams (D-NC-12) and named for a 39-year-old active, otherwise healthy Black woman who passed away in 2016 from a preventable complication shortly after delivering her second son, would expand funding for community based organizations working to improve maternal health outcomes for Black women; and

Whereas, The Protecting Moms Who Served Act H.R.958/S.796 sponsored by Rep. Lauren Underwood (D-IL-14) and Sen. Tammy Duckworth (D-IL) would commission a study on maternal health outcomes among veterans with an emphasis on ethnic and racial disparity; and

Whereas, The Perinatal Workforce Act H.R.945/S.287 sponsored by Rep. Gwen Moore (D-WI-4) and Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) would establish grant funding under the Public Services Act for accredited schools that educate and train certified nurse-midwives and other perinatal healthcare providers in order to expand and diversify the maternity care workforce; and

Whereas, The Data to Save Moms Act H.R.925/S.347 sponsored by Rep. Sharice Davids (D-KS-3) and Sen. Tina Smith (D-MN) would improve data collection processes and quality measures of maternal health outcomes; and

Whereas, The Moms MATTER Act H.R.909/S.484 sponsored by Rep. Lisa Blunt Rochester (D-DE-At Large) and Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) would address the mental health and substance use disorder needs of mothers through the promotion of evidence-based programs that improve outcomes; and

Whereas, The Justice for Incarcerated Moms Act H.R.948/S.341 sponsored by Rep. Ayanna Presley (D-MA-7) and Sen. Cory Booker (D-NJ) would support incarcerated women by promoting better care in corrections facilities and would help to end the utilization of shackling in state and local prisons by attaching federal funding to prohibitions on the use of restraints on pregnant women; and

Whereas, The Tech to Save Moms Act H.R.937/S.893 sponsored by Rep. Eddie Bernice Johnson (D-TX-30) and Sen. Bob Menendez (D-NJ) would invest in digital tools like telehealth to improve maternal health outcomes in underserved areas; and

Whereas, The IMPACT to Save Moms Act H.R.950/S.334 sponsored by Rep. Janice Schakowsky (D-IL-09) and Sen. Bob Casey (D-PA) would help to promote better access to care through the continuity of health insurance coverage for the duration of labor, delivery and postpartum care; and

Whereas, The Maternal Health Pandemic Response Act H.R.8027/S.4769 sponsored by Rep. Lauren Underwood (D-IL-14) and Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-MA) would make targeted investments to advance safe and maternity care and improve data collection, monitoring, and research on maternal health outcomes during the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond; and

Whereas, The Protecting Moms and Babies Against Climate Change Act H.R.957/S.423 sponsored by Rep. Lauren Underwood (D-IL-14) and Sen. Ed Markey (D-MA) would address climate change-related risks, make investments to initiatives that aim to reduce levels of and exposure to extreme heat, air pollution, and other environmental threats to pregnant people, new moms, and their infants, and

Whereas, The Maternal Vaccination Act H.R.951/S.345 sponsored by Representative Terri A. Sewell (D-AL-07) and Sen. Tim Kaine (D-VA) would provide funding for programs to increase maternal vaccination rates, protecting both new moms and their babies; and

Whereas, The Black Maternal Health Momnibus Act of 2021 would make critical investments in policies that would help to end preventable maternal mortality and to close the racial and ethnic disparities in maternal healthcare; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the United States Congress to pass and President Joseph Biden to sign the Black Maternal Health Momnibus Act of 2021.

Res. No. 95

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A217/S2736, relating to informing maternity patients about the risks associated with cesarean section.

By Council Members Rivera, Hanif, Riley, Stevens, Won, Nurse, Louis, Narcisse, Brooks-Powers, Ayala, Hudson and Cabán.

Whereas, According to the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), a cesarean birth is the delivery of a baby through incisions made in the abdomen and uterus; and

Whereas, According to ACOG, a cesarean birth may be performed if there are certain concerns about the fetus, problems with the placenta, if the birthing parent has certain medical conditions, and for other reasons; and

Whereas, While cesarean sections can be medically needed, for low risk pregnancies and those who do not medically require a cesarean section, there are benefits to having a vaginal birth; and

Whereas, According to the Mayo Clinic, cesarean sections include risks for both the birthing parent and baby; and

Whereas, Babies born by scheduled cesarean section are more likely to develop transient tachypnea, a breathing problem marked by abnormally fast breathing during the first few days after birth, and, rarely, babies may experience a surgical injury; and

Whereas, Risks for birthing parents include infection, postpartum hemorrhage, blood clots, wound infection, surgical injury, and other issues; and

Whereas, Individuals who have a cesarean section also require time to recover and additional postpartum care; and

Whereas, Cesarean sections also impact the birthing parent's future maternal health; and

Whereas, Individuals who have a cesarean section face a higher risk of potentially serious complications in a subsequent pregnancy, such as cesarean scar on the uterus rupturing during a future vaginal birth; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Taskforce on Maternal Mortality and Disparate Racial Outcomes, the cesarean delivery rate in the U.S. has risen to over 30 percent, and, when compared to vaginal deliveries, cesarean deliveries carry overall higher rates of maternal mortality; and

Whereas, According to the Task Force's report, from 2012-2014, 66 percent of prenatal related deaths in New York State involved a cesarean section; and

Whereas, According to the New York City 2008-2012 Severe Maternal Morbidity report, maternal morbidity is a continuum from mild adverse effects to life-threatening events or death; and

Whereas, According to the report, the severe maternal morbidity rate was higher among people with a primary or repeat cesarean (474.1 and 492.3 per 10,000 deliveries, respectively), compared to those with a vaginal birth (109.8 per 10,000 deliveries) or vaginal birth after a cesarean (172.7 per 10,000 deliveries); and

Whereas, Although it is difficult to differentiate between morbidity caused by cesarean delivery versus morbidity requiring a cesarean delivery, cesarean sections may have a higher risk of maternal morbidity; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, in 2020 the cesarean delivery rate in New York State was 33.6 percent, the twelfth highest rate in the country; and

Whereas, It is increasingly important to ensure that all individuals giving birth are informed of the risks associated with cesarean births; and

Whereas, A217/S2736, sponsored by Senator Julia Salazar and Assembly Member Amy Paulin, amends the public health law, in relation to informing maternity patients about the risks associated with cesarean section; and

Whereas, The bill would require maternal health providers to supply individuals with a planned cesarean and those who undergo an unplanned cesarean with a standardized written communication about cesarean sections; and

Whereas, Such written communication would include, but not be limited to, potential maternal injuries, potential injuries to the fetus, the impact of a cesarean delivery may have on future pregnancies and deliveries, and the circumstances in which cesarean delivery may be necessary to save the life of the parent or fetus; and

Whereas, The information would be developed by the Commissioner based on consultations with appropriate health care professionals, providers, consumers, educators, and patients, including the ACOG and the New York State Association of Licensed Midwives; and

Whereas, Such a law would ensure the universal dissemination of information to improve the health and safety of New York's birthing parents and newborns; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A217/S2736, relating to informing maternity patients about the risks associated with cesarean section

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation making doulas more accessible to individuals with Medicaid and those without health insurance.

By Council Members Rivera, Louis, Hudson, Hanif, Brooks-Powers, Joseph, Nurse, The Speaker (Council Member Adams), Restler, Won, Narcisse, Avilés, Ayala, Marte, Dinowitz, De La Rosa, Cabán and Riley (in conjunction with the Brooklyn Borough President).

Whereas, According to DONA International, a doula is a trained professional who provides continuous physical, emotional, and informational support to a pregnant person and the family before, during, and shortly after childbirth; and

Whereas, Doulas have proven to be beneficial to pregnant people and their health; and

Whereas, Doulas act as important advocates, facilitating communication between providers and patients, providing culturally-competent and language-appropriate care to immigrant communities and communities of color they serve; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's (DOHMH's) report The State of Doula Care in NYC 2019 ("doula report"), doula care has been associated with lower rates of Cesarean birth, preterm birth, low birthweight, and postpartum depression, as well as with increased rates of breastfeeding, and greater patient satisfaction with maternity care; and

Whereas, A 2017 report published by Cochrane reveals that people who had doula support were 39 percent less likely to have a caesarean section and 15 percent more likely to give birth without needing drugs or labor-inducing techniques; and

Whereas, According to Choices in Childbirth, a survey regarding doula care in New York City reveals that 72 percent of people reported that their doula helped them communicate their preferences and needs, while 80 percent of those surveyed reported that their doula helped them feel more empowered; and

Whereas, 83 percent of survey respondents reported having a doula made their labor and birth experience “much better” than if they had not used a doula, and it made them more relaxed before, during, and after birth; and

Whereas, 88 percent of this cohort reported that cost was an issue when opting to work with a doula; and

Whereas, According to DOHMH’s doula report, the average cost of birth-doula services was $1,550 per client among doulas surveyed for the report, with a range of $225 to $5,000; and

Whereas, Doula services are generally not covered by Medicaid or private insurance; and

Whereas, Doula care should be more accessible, especially given the maternal mortality and morbidity rates in New York City as well as the inequitable health outcomes for people of color and infants of color, specifically those who are Black; and

Whereas, Of the 21 pregnancy-related deaths in New York City in 2017, 11 were of people who were Black and six were of people who were Latina, accounting for nearly every pregnancy-related death; and

Whereas, In New York City in 2017, the rate of severe maternal morbidity was highest among Black people (457.2 per 10,000 births), followed by people of other or multiple race(s) (399.6), people who are Latina (313.7), Asian/Pacific Islander (225.4), and, last, people who are white (187.9); and

Whereas, By expanding access to doulas, New York City could better tackle these insidious inequities; and

Whereas, Doulas face barriers providing care to all those who need it; and

Whereas, According to DOHMH’s doula report, among doulas surveyed, 9 of every 10 have turned clients away, for reasons including clients’ living outside their coverage area (47 percent), being already booked with other families (43 percent), and clients’ being unable to afford their fee (37 percent); and

Whereas, New York State considered legislation to include doula services in Medicaid coverage; and

Whereas, In April 2018, New York State announced the launch of a Medicaid pilot program to cover doula services; and

Whereas, This legislation and pilot were extremely controversial in the doula community for numerous reasons; and

Whereas, The Medicaid pilot program was discontinued in Brooklyn because of lack of doula participation due to many flaws with the program; and

Whereas, One of the crucial flaws in the program was the inadequate reimbursement rate for doula services; and

Whereas, For a Medicaid doula program to operate and become sustainable, reimbursement rates must be sufficient to allow doulas to support themselves and their families and to increase doula participation in the program; and

Whereas, DOHMH’s doula report on doula care provides numerous recommendations for stakeholders to improve access to doulas; and

Whereas, Recommendations fall within four key components, including increasing access for underserved communities, making hospital environments more welcoming of doulas, amplifying community voices to help expand access to doula services, and improving data collection; and

Whereas, The New York State Legislature should consider these recommendations, and should develop legislation, in collaboration with doulas and people with lived experience, in order to best understand the most effective and significant ways to expand access to doula services; now, therefore, be it,

Resolved, The Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation making doulas more accessible to individuals with Medicaid and those without health insurance

Resolution calling on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to provide expanded funding for the Healthy Start Brooklyn doula program known as By My Side in order to make doulas available to all low-income birthing people in New York City.

By the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Cabán, Hanif, Louis, Gutiérrez, Narcisse, Avilés, Joseph, Hudson, Ayala, Won, Rivera, De La Rosa, Brooks-Powers and Hanks.

Whereas, The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) describes doulas as trained birth assistants who provide non-medical support to birthing parents and their partners before, during and after a child's birth; and

Whereas, The By My Side (BMS) birth support program is administered through Healthy Start Brooklyn, a federally-funded program based in the City's DOHMH Center for Health Equity, that provides free doula services to low-income birthing parents in Brooklyn who disproportionately face the risks of infant mortality, low birthweight, preterm birth and other challenges; and

Whereas, The BMS program's mission is also to encourage breastfeeding among low-income and immigrant parents, and educate through the use of doula services, thereby promoting the nutrients necessary for a healthy baby's brain growth and nervous system development; and

Whereas, According to the Cochrane Collaboration Review, a compilation of data from multiple peer-reviewed and evidenced-based studies, continuous labor supports provided by birth doulas has been scientifically proven to shorten labor by 41 minutes on average, reduce the risk of cesarean section delivery by 25 percent and has increased the likelihood of spontaneous vaginal births by eight percent; and

Whereas, DOHMH has reported doula services lead to improved birthing outcomes, with instrumental vaginal births or induced labor less likely and a reduced need for pain medications; and

Whereas; Additionally, doulas services lead to experiencing a more successful initiation of breastfeeding and self-reported positive experience in giving birth which facilitates better parent-baby bonding; and

Whereas, The DOHMH State of Doula Care in NYC 2021 Report clearly stated that while doulas alone cannot solve the inequities in birth outcomes that are the result of centuries of structural and medical racism nationwide, doulas do provide a positive health benefit in facilitating improved birth outcomes, particularly while working to eliminate racial inequities and decrease maternal deaths while reducing life-threatening complications related to childbirth; and

Whereas, Additional funding from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) would allow the expansion of the DOHMH's BMS birth support program to serve low-income birthing parents in all five boroughs who are also part of a demographic that disproportionately face the risks of infant mortality, preterm birth, low birthweight and other challenges; now, therefore, be it, Resolved, The Council of the City of New York calls on Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to provide expanded funding for the Healthy Start Brooklyn doula program known as By My Side in order to make doulas available to all low-income birthing people in New York City.

For the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 2021 and ending on June 30, 2022, a rebate of the annual tax of an eligible property in the amount provided in this section shall be paid to the owner of such an eligible property, provided the qualified gross income of all the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence was $250,000 or less in tax year 2020. Where the eligible property, other than an eligible property that is a dwelling unit in residential property held in the cooperative form of ownership, is in arrears in the payment of real property taxes, assessments, and any other charges that are made a lien subject to the provisions of chapter 3 of this title other than water rents, sewer rents and sewer surcharges, such rebate shall be applied to any such unpaid real property taxes, assessments, and other charges on the account of such eligible property. Where the eligible property is a dwelling unit in residential property held in the cooperative form of ownership and such residential property is in arrears in the payment of real property taxes, assessments, and any other charges that are made a lien subject to the provisions of chapter 3 of this title other than water rents, sewer rents and sewer surcharges, such rebate shall be applied to any unpaid real property taxes, assessments, and other charges on the account of such residential property in an amount equal to the proportionate share of the arrears of the dwelling unit. Notwithstanding any provision of article 4 of the real property tax law to the contrary, an owner whose property is receiving benefits pursuant to any provision of such article shall not be prohibited from receiving a rebate pursuant to this section if such owner is otherwise eligible to receive such rebate.

Such application shall also state that the applicant agrees to comply with and be subject to this section and any rules promulgated by the commissioner of finance pursuant to this section.

7. Denial and revocation of rebate. a. Generally. The commissioner of finance shall deny an application for a rebate or revoke any rebate granted pursuant to this section if it appears that: (i) the property does not serve as the primary residence of the owner who has applied for such rebate or who received the real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for such property for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022; (ii) prior to the granting of the rebate authorized by this section, title to the property has been transferred to a new owner other than to an immediate family member for whom the property serves as the primary residence until, at a minimum, the date on which such rebate is granted, provided that the commissioner of finance has been notified of any such transfer to an immediate family member in connection with the application authorized by subdivision 6 of this section; or (iii) the property is otherwise no longer eligible for the rebate.

b. Rights of owners. Upon determining that a rebate granted pursuant to this section shall be revoked, the commissioner of finance shall send a notice so stating to the affected owner. Such notice shall be sent by mail or by electronic means no later than June 30, 2023. Granting a rebate pursuant to this section, denying a rebate pursuant to subdivision 5 of this section, denying an application for a rebate pursuant to paragraph b of subdivision 6 of this section, or revoking a rebate granted pursuant to this section shall constitute a final determination of the commissioner of finance, unless, within 90 days of the date of the notification of such denial or revocation, the owner seeks administrative review by the commissioner of finance of such determination, provided that the burden shall be on the owner to establish eligibility for the rebate. The failure to grant a rebate pursuant to this section to an owner who is not required to submit an application pursuant to subdivision 5 of this section and who does not receive a notice of denial pursuant to such subdivision shall constitute a final determination by the commissioner of finance unless such owner seeks administrative review by such commissioner of such determination no later than July 1, 2023.

8. Restriction on rebate for married couples with two or more residences. The rebate provided by this section shall be granted on no more than one property owned by a married couple, unless such spouses are living apart due to legal separation.

9. Record of ownership of an eligible property. A deed or other instrument demonstrating ownership of an eligible property shall be recorded with the city register, the Richmond county clerk, or the automated city register information system on or before June 30, 2022.

10. Proof of residency and information regarding qualified gross income. In accordance with subdivisions 1 and 3 of this section, the commissioner of finance may request proof of residency and information relating to qualified gross income from any owner seeking to receive a rebate authorized pursuant to this section, including but not limited to, an owner who received the real property tax exemption pursuant to section 425 of the real property tax law or a school tax relief credit pursuant to subsection (eee) of section 606 of the tax law for such property for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2022.

11. Rebate returned for re-issuance. The commissioner of finance may provide a credit against the annual tax of an eligible property in the amount of the rebate when an owner of an eligible property requests that a check in the amount of the rebate be re-issued to such owner, except that no such credit shall be provided later than two years from the date the rebate is granted.

12. Recovery of erroneous rebate. a. If the commissioner of finance determines that an owner received an erroneous rebate, the commissioner of finance shall recover such erroneous rebate, within six years of the granting of such rebate, by deducting the amount of such erroneous rebate from any refund otherwise payable to the owner of such property, and any balance of the amount of such erroneous rebate remaining unpaid shall constitute a tax lien on the property of such owner as of the due and payable date provided on the tax bill mailed by the commissioner of finance containing such amount. If such amount is not paid by such due and payable date, interest at the rate applicable to delinquent real property taxes on such property shall be charged and collected on such amount from the due and payable date provided on such notice to the date of payment. Such tax lien shall be enforceable in accordance with the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of tax liens, including chapters 3 and 4 of this title. No lien created pursuant to this section shall be enforced against a subsequent purchaser for value in good faith, provided that the purchase occurred prior to the date the amount of the erroneous rebate was entered on the statement of account for such property. Such authority shall supplement any other authority of the commissioner of finance to enforce payment of the erroneous rebate by the owner of such property.

b. To the extent a rebate was granted or calculated in error under this section, the amount of the erroneous rebate shall be equal to the difference between the amount of the rebate originally granted and the amount to which the owner was entitled.

13. Penalty for material misstatements. a. Generally. If the commissioner of finance determines, within three years from the granting of a rebate authorized by this section, that there was a material misstatement in an application filed pursuant to this section and that such misstatement provided the basis for the granting of a rebate under this section, the commissioner of finance shall proceed to impose a penalty tax against the property of $500 in addition to recovering the amount of any erroneous rebate under subdivision 12 of this section. An application shall be deemed to contain a material misstatement for this purpose when either:

(1) the applicant claimed the property was his, her or their primary residence, when it was not;

(2) the applicant claimed that the applicant owned the property, when the applicant did not; or

(3) the applicant claimed that the qualified gross income of all the owners for whom such property serves as their primary residence was $250,000 or less, when the qualified gross income of such owners was a substantially higher amount.

b. Procedure. When the commissioner of finance determines that a penalty tax shall be imposed, the penalty tax shall be entered on the next ensuing tentative or final assessment roll. Each owner shall be given notice of the possible imposition of a penalty tax, and shall be entitled to seek administrative and judicial review of such action in the manner provided by law.

14. Non-disclosure. The information contained in applications filed with the commissioner of finance pursuant to subdivision 6 of this section shall not be subject to disclosure under article 6 of the public officers law.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to conducting continuous wastewater-based epidemiology testing and reporting on infectious diseases found in wastewater, and to repeal section 24-531 of such code, relating to the creation of a pilot program to test sewage for SARS-CoV-2 RNA

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 24-531 of the administrative code of the city of New York is REPEALED and a new section 24-531 is added to read as follows:

§ 24-531 Wastewater testing program. a. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Declared infectious disease. The term “declared infectious disease” means an infectious disease that a city or state agency, the United States centers for disease control and prevention, or the world health organization has declared to be an imminent threat to public health, a local, state, or national public health emergency, or a global pandemic. Such term includes COVID-19 and monkeypox if such disease is declared to be an imminent threat to public health, a local, state, or national public health emergency, or a global pandemic.

Wastewater-based epidemiology. The term “wastewater-based epidemiology” means the chemical analysis of pollutants, viruses, and biomarkers in raw wastewater to obtain qualitative and quantitative data on disease activity among inhabitants within a given wastewater catchment.

b. Wastewater sampling and testing. 1. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of health and mental hygiene, shall conduct wastewater-based epidemiology sampling and testing to quantify the levels of viruses and other agents that cause declared infectious diseases in wastewater at each city wastewater treatment plant in accordance with this subdivision.

2. No less than twice per week, the commissioner shall collect raw wastewater samples in amounts necessary to measure the presence of viruses and other agents that cause declared infectious diseases. The commissioner, in collaboration with the commissioner of health and mental hygiene, shall arrange for the testing of such samples for such viruses and agents, and may provide such samples to other relevant local, state, or federal agencies for related testing. Such testing shall, at minimum, measure the number of copies of viruses or other agents that cause declared infectious diseases through a testing method that reflects industry best practices for the virus or agent to be tested.

3. In addition to the sampling and testing required by this subdivision, the commissioner and the commissioner of health and mental hygiene may also conduct wastewater-based epidemiology sampling and testing to measure the levels of infectious diseases other than declared infectious diseases in furtherance of the detection, prevention, and control of such diseases.

4. The commissioner of health and mental hygiene shall publish the results of the testing provided for in this subdivision no less than weekly on the department of health and mental hygiene’s website.

c. Annual report. No later than August 31, 2023, and every year thereafter, the commissioner of health and mental hygiene, in consultation with the commissioner of environmental protection, shall submit to the mayor and the speaker of the council a report which shall include but not be limited to the following:

1. Results of all sampling of viruses and other agents that cause declared infectious diseases conducted pursuant to this section, disaggregated by the type of virus or other agent sampled, the site where the sample was collected, the date the sample was collected, and the date the sample was tested, in order to monitor the leading indicators of increases or decreases in declared infectious diseases present in each drainage area;

2. The various testing methods used to test samples for viruses and other agents as part of the wastewater-based epidemiology testing program;

3. The total cost of the wastewater-based epidemiology testing program for the previous fiscal year; and

4. Analysis of the effectiveness of the wastewater-based epidemiology testing program in testing for viruses and other agents that cause declared infectious diseases.

Res. No. 283

Resolution calling on the Mayor and the Chancellor of the Department of Education (DOE) to immediately reverse the DOE's reductions to school budgets; calling on the Chancellor to submit updated school budgets to the Panel on Education Policy reflecting the restoration, as well as an accounting of unspent federal stimulus funds; and calling on the Mayor to promptly utilize any unspent and unallocated federal stimulus or other funds and submit a budget modification to the Council to fully restore the $469 million removed from school budgets by DOE.

By The Speaker (Council Member Adams) and Council Members Ayala, Powers, Brannan, Salamanca, Brooks-Powers, Brewer, Joseph, De La Rosa, Farías, Abreu, Hanif, Schulman, Dinowitz, Restler, Narcisse, Sanchez, Nurse, Won, Krishnan, Stevens, Avilés, Ossé, Hudson, Williams, Cabán, Menin, Marte, Ung, Lee, Bottcher, Kagan, Rivera, Barron, Feliz and Gutiérrez.

Whereas, The NYC Department of Education (DOE) is the entity that determines and allocates school budgets based on its formulas, which the Panel for Education Policy approves,; and

Whereas, Under State Education Law and the New York City Charter, the Chancellor is responsible for preparing estimates of DOE's budget needs to be used in the preliminary and executive expense budgets, and preparing the budgets for individual schools; and

Whereas, On February 16, 2022, Mayor Eric Adams issued his Preliminary Fiscal Year 2023 Expense Budget, which included a $374.6 million reduction to the DOE budget based on "enrollment changes" with an impact of decreasing headcount by 3,227 positions, which was partially offset by the use of $160 million in federal stimulus funds to restore 1,778 positions resulting in a $215 million funding and 1,449 headcount reduction; and

Whereas, On May 6, 2022, the Mayor issued his Executive Fiscal Year 2023 Expense Budget, which contained the same $374.6 million reduction to the DOE budget based on “enrollment changes” with an impact of decreasing headcount by 3,227 positions, which was partially offset by the use of $160 million in federal stimulus funds to restore 1,778 positions resulting in a $215 million and 1,449 headcount reduction; and

Whereas, According to the DOE and Office of Management and Budget (OMB), this $215 million gap consisted of a reduction of $131.5 million from school budgets and an accompanying $83.1 million in fringe costs from the central DOE budget; and

Whereas, In budget documents and statements, Mayor Adams’ Administration (the administration), including DOE and OMB, indicated that Programs to Eliminate the Gap (PEGs) would result from eliminating vacancies; and

Whereas, During the budget process, the administration represented that the $215 million reduction ($131.5 million to school budgets and $83.1 million to DOE central for fringe costs) was due to the elimination of 1,449 vacant positions (its initial 3,227 headcount reduction minus the 1,778 headcount restoration), bringing the DOE’s budgeted headcount closer to its actual headcount.

Whereas, This $131.5 million reduction, when divided by the 1,449 vacant positions that were indicated as constituting the savings, equals an average salary close to the pay level for a senior teacher of $91,000; this was sufficient to fund the entire reduction of $131.5 million without the need to lay off any existing teacher or eliminate any program; and

Whereas, On June 13, 2022 the Council adopted the Fiscal Year 2023 Expense Budget (FY23 Budget); and

Whereas, Various data sets on individual school budgets that DOE has released, as early as June and as recently as mid-July, show the agency has reduced school budgets by nearly three times more than the $131.5 million in the city budget, equaling more than $360 million for all schools; and

Whereas, These data sets further demonstrate that DOE’s reductions to school budgets for those schools with decreases to their Fair Student Funding (FSF) allocations total $469 million; and

Whereas, These school budget reductions have gone far beyond the elimination of vacancies within the city budget to impact existing teachers and programming in schools; and

Whereas, FSF makes up over 60 percent of the initial allocations made directly to schools, and represents flexible funding that is only mirrored in flexibility by a limited number of other streams of funding for school budgets, known as School Allocation Memoranda (SAMs); and

Whereas, The FSF formula maintains inequities and the DOE has agreed that it must be reviewed and revised for next fiscal year; and

Whereas, Essential DOE data that helps determine school budgets and represents available funds within the agency remains inaccessible to the public; and

Whereas, Any reductions to school budgets that have occurred due to DOE’s allocation and administration of individual school budgets beyond the city budget are within the purview and control of the DOE; and

Whereas, DOE’s Fiscal Year 2023 budget totals over $37.0 billion, its largest single Unit of Appropriation (U/A) is nearly $7.1 billion, and the agency distributes individual school budgets through at least six U/As giving DOE significant flexibility to address needs; and

Whereas, Pursuant to sections 106 and 107 of the New York City Charter, changes to the city budget are enacted by budget modifications that are initiated by and can occur at the direction of the Mayor at any time to be acted upon by the Council; and

Whereas, DOE can act now to eliminate the school budget reductions and their adverse impacts by: (1) covering any shortfall at least until a budget modification can be negotiated; (2) directing funds to those schools facing reductions; and (3) providing transparency in its school budgeting processes to ensure that its funding mechanisms and formulas and their impacts on school budgets are clear; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the Mayor and the Chancellor of the Department of Education (DOE) to immediately reverse the DOE’s reductions to school budgets; calls on the Chancellor to submit updated school budgets to the Panel on Education Policy reflecting the restoration, as well as an accounting of unspent federal stimulus funds; and calls on the Mayor to promptly utilize any unspent and unallocated federal stimulus or other funds and submit a budget modification to the Council that fully restores the $469 million removed from schools by the DOE.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing a needle, syringe and sharp buyback pilot program

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The section heading of section 17-180.1, as added by local law number 128 for the year 2018, is amended to read as follows:

§ 17-180.1 Overdose prevention and reversal training; needle, syringe and sharps buyback.

§ 2. Section 17-180.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subdivision g to read as follows:

g. 1. Needle, syringe and sharps buyback pilot program. The department shall establish, in consultation with all overdose prevention centers operating in the city, a needle, syringe and sharps buyback pilot program. Such program shall offer financial incentives only to individuals who (i) use a needle, syringe or sharp for the purpose of drug consumption in a facility operated by such a center and then (ii) deposit that needle, syringe or sharp at the same facility after use. The department shall set the amount of the buyback incentive for this program, except that such incentive shall not exceed 20 cents per needle, syringe or sharp and shall not exceed a maximum payout of $10 per day to any individual.

2. Implementation. The department shall complete implementation of such pilot program no later than one year after the effective date of the local law that added this subdivision. The pilot program shall commence on the date that the department completes implementation and conclude one year after that date.

3. Report. No later than six months following the conclusion of the pilot program, the department shall submit to the mayor and the speaker of the council, and post conspicuously on the department's website, a report on the pilot program established pursuant to this subdivision. Such report shall include at a minimum the following information:

(a) The names and locations of all facilities participating in the pilot program;

(b) The number of needles, syringes and sharps returned to or disposed of under the pilot program at all such facilities;

(c) The total amount of money disbursed to individuals; and

(d) The department's recommendation as to whether to establish a permanent needle buyback program and whether and how to expand such program, including whether to authorize buyback of needles, syringes, sharps or other items that have been used in a location other than an overdose prevention center facility.

§ 3. This local law takes effect 30 days after it becomes law.

Res. No. 284

Resolution calling on the Civil Court of the City of New York to repeal the procedural directive that removed from tenants a temporary protection from default judgment that provided additional time for those who qualify under the Right to Counsel law to seek representation.

By Council Members Ayala, Restler, Won and Nurse.

Whereas, New York City passed the Right to Counsel law in 2017, which sought to ensure free legal representation to all tenants making at or below 200% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines who are facing eviction proceedings in housing court; and

Whereas, The unprecedented and devastating effects of the COVID-19 pandemic led New York City to pass an expansion to the Right to Counsel law in the Summer of 2020 to immediately cover all five boroughs and protect more residents from eviction as thousands of people lost their incomes and jobs; and

Whereas, Right to Counsel helps in protecting against representative imbalance in housing courts, as the NYC Office of Civil Justice found that since the law's pandemic expansion, 100% of tenants with calendared eviction cases had access to legal services in Fiscal Year 2021, with 71% of tenants in housing court receiving full legal representation, and that the past four years saw 84% of tenants who received representation under Right to Counsel win their cases and stay in their homes, a drastic improvement from 2013 which saw just 1% of tenants with full legal representation versus 95% of landlords with legal counsel in housing courts; and

Whereas, New York State eviction moratoriums, which were put in place to protect New Yorkers as monumental job and income loss devastated the city's economy with billions of dollars in lost revenue and wages, expired in January 2022, allowing eviction cases to resume in housing courts across the city while New Yorkers face an estimated $3.3 billion in back rent; and

Whereas, Legal service providers contracted with the New York City Office of Civil Justice to provide Right to Counsel services are under dire circumstances as they face staffing shortages coupled with accelerated eviction case filings and little support from the New York State Office of Court Administration, which denied an appeal from the legal service providers to slow down eviction case scheduling and ordered eviction cases to proceed; and

Whereas, From March to May 2022, OCA data shared with New York Daily News revealed that approximately 2,500 defendants eligible for Right to Counsel representation have been forced to go to housing court without any legal representation due to the insufficient number of lawyers to keep up with the number of cases scheduled in the housing docket per month, with many more residents also facing housing court without their legal right to counsel; and

Whereas, Legal representation greatly improves a tenant's chances of remaining in their homes, thus allowing them to navigate pandemic recovery from a place of stability; and

Whereas, On June 30, 2022, the Administrative Judge for the Civil Court of the City of New York issued directive DRP-223, lifting a procedural buffer, for eviction matters commenced on or after January 15, 2022, that had prohibited an immediate judgment or warrant from being issued on default when a tenant unrepresented by counsel had failed to appear, and instead required an additional motion by the petitioner to seek such relief; and

Whereas, This extra procedural step served to protect unrepresented tenants by granting them an additional opportunity to appear as well as additional time in which to match with a lawyer and mount a represented defense in housing court before facing a judgment, which is particularly necessary at this time given the limited ability of Right to Counsel providers to meet the current demand for representation; and

Whereas, The removal of this procedural step is expected to accelerate eviction case proceedings against these unrepresented tenants; and

Whereas, Under directive DRP-233, this procedural buffer remains in place for eviction matters commenced before January 15, 2022, but that protection should continue to be extended to all tenants unrepresented by counsel, regardless of the date on which a property owner has filed for an eviction; and

Whereas, The Civil Court of the City of New York has the power to directly impact the circumstances in which New Yorkers may or may not be legally represented in housing court; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the Civil Court of the City of New York to repeal the procedural directive that removed from tenants a temporary protection from default judgment that provided additional time for those who qualify under the Right to Counsel law to seek representation.

Res. No. 285

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress and President to end the Cuban embargo and Cuban travel ban.

By Council Members Barron, Cabán, Brewer, Restler, Hanif, Bottcher, Nurse, Krishnan, Avilés and Stevens.

Whereas, The United States (US), virtually since the triumph of the Cuban Revolution in January 1959, has unsuccessfully sought to assassinate former Cuban President Fidel Castro over 600 times, through a variety of overt as well as covert means, such as the failed Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961; and

Whereas, Most notoriously, the US, in the hopes of isolating Cuba and starving the Cuban people into rebellion, has maintained an economic blockade, or embargo of Cuba, which was first imposed in 1960 during the Eisenhower administration, and which is the longest economic embargo in history; and

Whereas, Recent decades have witnessed steadily growing opposition to the US Cuban embargo, both internationally and domestically. In particular, every year since 1992, the United Nations General Assembly has adopted a resolution declaring the embargo a violation of the both the Charter of the United Nations and International Law. During the most recent vote in June 2021, a total of 184 countries voted in favor of a resolution to demand the end of the US economic blockade on Cuba, for the 29th year in a row; and

Whereas, The ending of both the Cuban embargo and travel ban would be of great benefit to both the US and Cuba, particularly in the areas of medical and biotechnological research, economic opportunities, education health care, the arts, music sports and tourism; and

Whereas, The City of New York would greatly benefit from the restoration of trade with the Republic of Cuba, through permitting the exportation of products and services to this neighboring country of over 11 million people, and the importation of Cuban products useful to city of New York, such as life-saving medicines and vaccines; and

Whereas, New York City's citizens and residents and its institutions and businesses are negatively affected by the embargo and travel ban's restrictions as they violate the right to travel, and harm economic opportunities that enhanced trade with Cuba would initiate; and

Whereas, The United States Congress is urged to promulgate and pass legislation that will finally and fully end the unsuccessful 62-year-old economic, financial, and commercial embargo, as well as the travel restrictions on US citizens and residents to Cuba, and Cuban citizens to the United States; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, The Council of the City of New York call upon the United States Congress and President to end the Cuban embargo and Cuban travel ban.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to carbon accounting

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 2 of chapter 1 of title 3 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 3-133 to read as follows:

§ 3-133 Carbon accounting. a. Definitions. As used in this chapter:

Carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂e). The terms “carbon dioxide equivalent” and “CO₂e” mean the quantity of carbon dioxide gas expressed in metric tons that would have the same GWP when measured over a timescale of 100 years as a given quantity of a greenhouse gas.

Carbon emissions. The term “carbon emissions” means greenhouse gas emissions from any source, as expressed in CO₂e.

Carbon offsets. The term “carbon offset” means a project or process owned or operated by the city that captures and sequesters or chemically decomposes a greenhouse gas from the atmosphere, as expressed in CO₂e.

Carbon mitigation. The term “carbon mitigation” means a project or process owned or operated by an entity other than the city the expenses of which are paid in whole or in part from the city treasury that captures and sequesters or chemically decomposes a greenhouse gas prior to its release into the atmosphere, or results in a reduction of greenhouse gas emissions from any source by the replacement or retrofit of mechanical or electrical equipment or by conversion to an alternative source of energy. Carbon mitigation shall be measured as the reduction of the pre-mitigation release of greenhouse gas into the atmosphere, as expressed in CO₂e, for the entire useful life of any mechanical or electrical equipment used to achieve such mitigation, as appropriate, prorated by the percentage of funds used to finance such mitigation that were paid from the city treasury.

Global warming potential (GWP). The terms “global warming potential” and “GWP” mean the total infrared radiation energy that a greenhouse gas absorbs over a period of time compared to carbon dioxide. The GWP value for any particular greenhouse gas shall be equal to the value for such gas as listed in column “GWP 100-year” of table 8.A.1, Radiative efficiencies (REs), lifetimes/adjustment times, AGWP and GWP values for 20 and 100 years, and AGTP and GTP values for 20, 50 and 100 years, of Climate Change 2013: The Physical Science Basis. Contribution of Working Group I to the Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change as published on September 30, 2013.

Greenhouse gas. The term “greenhouse gas” means a gas that absorbs infrared radiation in the atmosphere, and specifically any gas listed in table 8.A.1, Radiative efficiencies (REs), lifetimes/adjustment times, AGWP and GWP values for 20 and 100 years, and AGTP and GTP values for 20, 50 and 100 years, of Climate Change 2013: The Physical Science Basis. Contribution of Working Group I to the Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change as published on September 30, 2013.

Net carbon impact. The term “net carbon impact” means an amount equal to the carbon emissions less the carbon offsets and carbon mitigation that would be generated by a unit of appropriation, by an agency, or by the entire city government, respectively.

b. Preliminary budget accounting. Not later than the day the mayor submits the preliminary budget to the council pursuant to section 236 of the charter, the mayor shall submit to the council an accounting of the carbon emissions, carbon offsets, carbon mitigation and net carbon impact that would be generated by each unit of appropriation in the preliminary budget, by each agency, and by the entire city government. The second and subsequent annual reports submitted pursuant to this subdivision shall also include, where appropriate, the changes from the adopted budget for previous year to the carbon emissions, carbon offsets, carbon mitigation and net carbon impact that would be generated by each unit of appropriation in the preliminary budget, by each agency, and by the entire city government with an explanation of the cause of such changes.

c. Executive budget accounting. Not later the day the mayor submits the executive budget to the council pursuant to section 249 of the charter, the mayor shall submit to the council an accounting of the carbon emissions, carbon offsets, carbon mitigation and net carbon impact that would be generated by each unit of appropriation in the executive budget, by each agency, and by the entire city government. The second and subsequent annual reports submitted pursuant to this subdivision shall also include, where appropriate, the changes from the adopted budget for previous year to the carbon emissions, carbon offsets, carbon mitigation and net carbon impact that would be generated by each unit of appropriation in the executive budget, by each agency, and by the entire city government, with an explanation of the cause of such changes.

d. Methodology. The director of the office of long-term planning and sustainability shall establish the methodology by which carbon emissions, carbon offsets and carbon mitigation shall be calculated. A description of the methodology shall be included with each report submitted pursuant to subdivisions b or c of this section.

§ 2. This local law takes effect immediately.

Res. No. 286

Resolution calling on corporate and government entities operating in New York City to divest from agricultural industries that benefit from deforestation and the acceleration of global warming.

By Council Members Brannan, Restler, Hanif, Nurse, Gutiérrez and Joseph.

Whereas, On April 18, 2019, the Council passed the New York City Climate Mobilization Act, targeting energy sources and greenhouse gas emissions and requiring an eighty percent reduction in citywide emissions by 2050 to offset the globe’s changing climate; and

Whereas, On June 20, 2019, the New York State legislature passed the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act, to require statewide reductions in greenhouse gas emissions and achieve net zero emissions in all sectors of the state economy by 2050; and

Whereas, According to the University of Michigan’s Center for Sustainable Systems, the production of food accounts for 83% of all carbon dioxide equivalent emissions associated with food consumption in U.S. households, with nearly half of all food-based emissions stemming from livestock; and

Whereas, According to a 2018 article published by the American Association for the Advancement of Science entitled “Reducing Food’s Environmental Impacts Through Producers and Consumer,” producing one pound of beef alone requires 592 square feet of land on average; and

Whereas, The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations has stated the global consumption of beef is rising at a rate of 5% annually; and

Whereas, Earlier this year, to cope with rising demands for beef, Brazilian farmers set fires in the Amazon rainforest to clear land for more cattle farms, as reported by Brazil's National Institute for Space Research, which captured satellite images of 41,000 fire spots across the country; and

Whereas, According to the New York Times, the Amazon's rainforest is now burning at record rates, with an 80% increase of forest fires since 2018, straining the earth's ability to store carbon and produce oxygen; and

Whereas, Members of the European Union have condemned the destruction of the Amazon rainforest by cattle farmers and called for an urgent review of the possibility of banning Brazilian beef imports for their connection to environmental damage; and

Whereas, According to the Center for International Policy's Mighty Earth Campaign, soy products have a related effect on global deforestation, as 75% of the world's soy is used as feed for raising livestock including chicken and fish across the globe; and

Whereas, In 2017, the Global Environmental Change Journal described the rising global demand for soybean production as an underlying driver of global deforestation, as pressure mounted for farmers across South America to partake in large-scale forest-clearing to establish more cropland for soy cultivation; and

Whereas, According to the World Wildlife Fund, global supply-chains, shipments, and storage across international agricultural trading companies have created visible impacts on the world's climate as seen by the presence of increasing droughts and heatwaves; and

Whereas, The United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization issued a statement entitled "Livestock a Major Threat to Environment," stating that animal agriculture is responsible for approximately 65% of all human-related nitrous oxide emissions, which causes heat to be trapped at an estimated rate 296 times stronger than carbon dioxide, and is guiding our global temperature towards a climate tipping point; and

Whereas, Many multinational corporations that distribute beef and soy products in New York City are not signatories to the New York Declaration on Forests, which ensures a commitment from companies to end deforestation by 2030; and

Whereas, Any buyer in New York City, be it a city agency, private corporation, or otherwise, should proactively uphold climate protections by refraining from purchasing agricultural products that fail to meet the sustainability standards set under the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act; and

Whereas, In order to achieve the commitments made by New York City and State to reduce greenhouse gasses and carbon emissions in all sectors of the economy, it is imperative for public and private sectors to divest from agricultural industries that contribute to climate change; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on corporate and government entities operating in New York City to divest from agricultural industries that benefit from deforestation and the acceleration of global warming.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and Governor to sign, A.1326/S.1978 and A.1382/S.3032, to promote a more sustainable and equitable energy system in New York State.

By Council Members Brannan, Hanif, Nurse, Gutiérrez and Joseph.

Whereas, In 2021, New York State's (NYS) electric grid was comprised of approximately 30% renewable generation resources, with approximately 4% provided by wind and 2.5% solar assets statewide; and

Whereas, Environmental advocates have expressed concerns that there are insufficient renewable projects in the pipeline to meet the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act's (CLCPA) mandated target of 70% renewable energy by 2030, and a zero emission grid by 2040; and

Whereas, In New York City, electricity is largely generated via the combustion of fossil fuels, with approximately 85% of the electric supply sourced from fossil-fuel combustion plants in 2021, compared to upstate, where only 12% is sourced from fossil-fuel combustion plants and 88% of the electricity is supplied via renewable generation; and

Whereas, The New York City Mayor's Office of Climate and Environmental Justice has acknowledged that the City must maximize the use of renewables within the city, and increase transmission from clean power sources outside the city, in order to meet the CLCPA mandated goal of an 100% zero emissions grid by 2040; and

Whereas, The New York Power Authority (NYPA) is the largest public utility in the country, providing approximately 25% of New York's energy, around 80% of which is renewable hydroelectric power, the most affordable source of energy available in NYS; and

Whereas, The NYPA is currently barred by its charter from owning more than six generation projects over 25 megawatts; and

Whereas, A.1382, introduced by NYS Assembly Member Robert Carroll, and S.3032, introduced by NYS Senator Kevin Parker, would empower the NYPA to own new renewable energy generation facilities; and

Whereas, The State bill would give the NYPA the right of first offer and refusal for acquiring any renewable generational facility; and

Whereas, A.1326, introduced by NYS Assembly Member Robert Carroll, and S.1978, introduced by NYS Senator Robert Jackson, would establish a downstate New York Power Authority to own and operate electricity services and acquire the distribution facilities formerly owned by any downstate utility corporation by purchase or condemnation; and

Whereas, In New York City, Consolidated Edison of New York (ConEd) holds a virtual monopoly over the electricity market, serving all parts of New York City (except for Rockaway, Queens), and Westchester County; and

Whereas, ConEd is an investor-owned for-profit company that answers to its shareholders, not solely the general public in New York City and Westchester; and

Whereas, Publicly-owned and operated utilities are governed by and operate for the sole benefit of the public; and

Whereas, Public power systems can perform equal to, if not better than, private power systems in reliability; and

Whereas, According to the American Public Power Association, public power customers are likely to be without power for an average of 62 minutes per year, compared to 150 minutes per year for private utility customers, provided there are no major adverse events; and

Whereas, According to the American Public Power Association, residential customers of public power utilities pay monthly bills that are on average 4% less than customers of investor-owned utilities; and

Whereas, New York City needs a reliable electricity provider that is fully accountable to the public to ensure the safety and economic health of the city; and

Whereas, To confront the climate crisis, NYS must take further action to ensure its energy needs are met through the generation of renewable energy; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and Governor to sign, A.1326/S.1978 and A.1382/S.3032, to promote a more sustainable and equitable energy system in New York State.

Res. No. 289

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, the Stephanie Tubbs Jones Uterine Fibroid Research and Education Act of 2021.

By Council Members Brannan, Brooks-Powers, Restler, Hanif, Nurse and Joseph.

Whereas, According to the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services' (HHS) Office on Women's Health, fibroids are muscular tumors that grow in the wall of the uterus or womb; and

Whereas, Fibroids are almost always benign, and, while not all people with fibroids have symptoms, people who do have symptoms often find fibroids hard to live with because of pain, heavy menstrual bleeding, and other symptoms; and

Whereas, According to the American Board of Obstetrics & Gynecology, uterine fibroids can result in reproductive problems, such as infertility, multiple miscarriages, or early labor; and

Whereas, According to a 2013 study published in the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology titled The Health Disparities of Uterine Fibroids for African American Women: A Public Health Issue, "ultrasound evidence shows that more than 80 percent of African American women and approximately 70 percent of white women will have uterine fibroids by age 50"; and

Whereas, In addition to a having greater lifetime incidence of fibroids, African American women have a 3-fold increased age-adjusted incidence rate and 3-fold increased relative risk of fibroids when adjusted for other confounding factors; and

Whereas, Some investigators suggest a doubling of risk for Hispanic women as well; and

Whereas, The size and growth rates of fibroids are greater in African American women, and they are more likely to undergo surgical intervention than other racial groups; and

Whereas, Since only 20 percent to 50 percent of all people with fibroids experience related symptoms and screenings are not routinely performed, true incidence of uterine fibroids is difficult to ascertain; and

Whereas, Symptoms can alter one's quality of life and reproductive health; and

Whereas, Treatment options include many alternatives to hysterectomy, including medical therapies, minimally invasive surgery, and others, yet hysterectomy remains the most common intervention, and, in the United States, fibroids are the leading indication for hysterectomies; and

Whereas, According to the study, "African American women have higher rates of surgery for fibroids and therefore may have more postoperative complications than other racial groups," and fibroids as the primary indication for hysterectomy was much higher for African American women (61 percent vs 29 percent for white women); and

Whereas, There are clear reasons uterine fibroids are a public health concern, and particularly an equity concern; and

Whereas, The Stephanie Tubbs Jones Uterine Fibroid Research and Education Act of 2021, sponsored by Congresswoman Yvette Clarke and Senator Cory Booker, directs HHS to expand research on, and take other actions to address, uterine fibroids; and

Whereas, The bill would establish new research funding, totaling $150 million over five years, and would expand a Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services database on chronic conditions to include information on services provided to individuals with fibroids; and

Whereas, The bill would also create a public education program through the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and direct the Health Resources and Services Administration to develop and disseminate fibroids information to health care providers; and

Whereas, The bill also highlights the need for improved patient and provider education surrounding the heightened risk for fibroids faced by women of color; and

Whereas, As noted in the press release by Congresswoman Clarke, approximately 25 percent of Black women will suffer from uterine fibroids by the age of 25, and 80 percent will have them by age 50; and

Whereas, While language within reports, bills, and other materials refers to “women” when speaking to the issue of uterine fibroids, all individuals with a uterus, including those who may not identify as women, are at risk for fibroids and, although language may not be inclusive of this, it is something known and recognized by the Council; and

Whereas, The glaring health inequalities related to uterine fibroids must be addressed, and the country must increase research, education, and access to care for those living with uterine fibroids; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, the Stephanie Tubbs Jones Uterine Fibroid Research and Education Act of 2021.

Referred to the Committee on Health.

Res. No. 290

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation that would create a New York City Parks Construction Authority.

By Council Members Brannan, Restler, Ung, Nurse and Yeger.

Whereas, The Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) has been criticized for delays and cost overruns in parks capital projects; and

Whereas, Notwithstanding DPR’s commitment to streamline and shorten the capital process, DPR still allots themselves 30 to 45 months for on-time projects, a negligible decrease from the allotted time in 2013, 33 to 45 months; and

Whereas, The capital process has five stages which include Needs Assessment, Project Initiation, Design, Procurement and Construction; and

Whereas, Needs Assessment includes DPR, community members and elected officials identifying a need for a park or recreational facility in a particular area followed by a cost estimate for the site prepared by DPR; and

Whereas, Only after the estimated project cost is fully funded can the project proceed to Project Initiation; and

Whereas, Project Initiation typically takes one to two months and DPR staff and/or an outside consultant are assigned to the project to review project plans, often with external agencies such as the Department of Environmental Protection to decide as to whether a completely new specialty design is warranted or, in the case of an existing park, if it may be replaced in-kind, with a similar park; and

Whereas, The final step of Project Initiation is a scope meeting, which brings together DPR and members of the community to determine the scope of the project; and

Whereas, The Design stage, which typically takes 10 to 15 months, is itself broken down into four discrete sub-stages including, Design Development (two to five months), Internal Schematic Approvals (one month),

External Schematic Approvals (two to three months), and Construction Document Preparation and Permit Applications (five to six months); and

Whereas, The Procurement stage, which typically takes seven to ten months, is broken down into four discrete sub-stages: Pre-Solicitation Review (two to three months), Solicitation (one to one and a half months), Pre-Award (three to four and a half months), and Award and Registration (one month); and

Whereas, After legal reviews, bid reviews and the chosen contractor providing insurance, DPR then submits the package to the City Comptroller who registers the contract, and DPR will publicly notice the award to the contractor; and

Whereas, The Construction stage typically takes 12 to 18 months and is closely supervised by DPR staff who oversee the daily operations of the project to ensure that it is built to contract specifications and to resolve any issues that arise; and

Whereas, Construction supervision responsibilities include subcontractor approvals, submittals, change orders and overruns, and payments, which occur simultaneously on a project; and

Whereas, Construction staff submit weekly progress reports with percent completion information and are published to the Capital Tracker on DPR's website; and

Whereas, DPR capital projects, historically, have experienced large delays and substantial cost overruns; and

Whereas, Delays in DPR capital projects have generally been attributed to the overuse of private management consultants, poor project planning and inaccurate early cost estimates; and

Whereas, An authority that exclusively manages the design and construction of DPR capital projects may be able to increase the number capital projects which are completed on time and within budget; and

Whereas, An authority would not require multiple approvals from the Office of Management and Budget or the NYC Comptroller; and

Whereas, An authority may have a simplified procurement process for construction and contracted services; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation that would create a New York City Parks Construction Authority.

Referred to the Committee on Parks and Recreation.

Res. No. 291

Resolution calling upon the United States Federal Aviation Administration to ban all non-essential helicopter travel, including tourist and chartered helicopter flights over New York City.

By Council Members Brewer, Restler, Hanif, Won, Nurse, Gutiérrez, Yeger and Joseph (by request of the Manhattan Borough President and the Brooklyn Borough President).

Whereas, There are thousands of commercial helicopter flights over the City of New York each month; and

Whereas, There have been several notable accidents over the City's airspace, raising congestion and safety issues; and

Whereas, In May of 2019, a charter helicopter crashed into the Hudson River while the pilot, who suffered a hand injury, was moving the aircraft from the fueling area to the customer section of the West 30th Street Heliport; and

Whereas, A month later in June of 2019, a helicopter crashed on the roof of a building in Manhattan, killing the pilot who was the sole person in the aircraft; and

Whereas, Before these incidents, there were several other notable accidents over the City's airspace; and

Whereas, In April of 1997, a corporate helicopter taking off from a heliport on East 60th Street, crashed into the East River, killing one passenger and injuring three others; and

Whereas, Later that same year, a helicopter was forced to make an emergency landing after clipping a Manhattan building, resulting in damage to the helicopter's rotor; and

Whereas, In 2007, a tour helicopter had to make an emergency landing in the Hudson River on its emergency pontoons; and

Whereas, On August 8, 2009, a helicopter operated by Liberty Helicopter Tours collided with a small private plane over the Hudson River resulting in the deaths of all nine individuals aboard both crafts making the incident one of the deadliest helicopter accidents in New York City history; and

Whereas, In October of 2011, a woman was killed and four others were injured when a tour helicopter crashed into the East River; and

Whereas, In June of 2013, a tour helicopter carrying a family of four and their pilot made an emergency landing in the Hudson River after the helicopter lost power; and

Whereas, In March of 2018, another helicopter operated by Liberty Helicopter Tours crashed in the East River resulting in the deaths of five passengers on board, however the pilot survived; and

Whereas, This accident was the third involving Liberty Helicopter since 2007 and since this incident, the United States Federal Aviation Administration (“FAA”) banned flights that use restraints in which passengers cannot easily free themselves ; and

Whereas, These accidents are reminders of the dangers associated with helicopters in an urban setting; and

Whereas, According to the Natural Resources Defense Council's 1999 study "Needless Noise: The Negative Impacts of Helicopter Traffic in New York City and the Tri-State Region," exposure to frequent overhead flights are associated with a number of health effects in children, including high blood pressure, neuroendocrinological issues, impaired psychological and cognitive functions, learned helplessness, poorer long-term memory, and diminished reading comprehension; and

Whereas, Helicopters emit air pollutants such as particulate matter, nitrogen oxide, and formaldehyde, which are known to cause asthma, cancer and other illnesses; and

Whereas, The federal government regulates airspace and the FAA is the entity that is charged with developing airspace regulations; and

Whereas, In an attempt to make the airspace over New York City safer, on September 2, 2009, the FAA announced new recommendations that would include new training programs for pilots, air-traffic controllers, and tourist helicopter operators, set new mandatory speed limits for these vehicles and require all pilots to tune into the same radio channel; and

Whereas, Despite these proposed safety measures, some public officials felt the recommendations did not go far enough, because air traffic controllers would still not be required to monitor aircraft below 1,000 feet; and

Whereas, In April 2010, the New York City Economic Development Corporation (“EDC”) released a Helicopter Sightseeing Plan (the Plan) to address the problems presented by tourist helicopter flights operating on city-owned property; and

Whereas, The Plan eliminated short tours, sightseeing tours over Central Park and the Empire State Building and sightseeing flights over Brooklyn; and

Whereas, The Plan also improved sightseeing tour routes and added an enhanced 3-1-1 protocol directing helicopter complaints to 3-1-1 representatives for input, improving EDC’s ability to track complaints and allowing the agency to report data on noise complaints more effectively; and

Whereas, Helicopter-related noise complaints to New York City’s 3-1-1 increased from 10,359 in 2020 to 25,821 in 2021 with a vast majority of the complaints coming from Manhattan; and

Whereas, During the past 5-years, 3-1-1 has experienced a 2,329% increase in noise complaints related to helicopters; and

Whereas, However, the airspace above New York City remains dangerous for these types of vehicles; and

Whereas, A great deal of public outcry for relief from harms caused by helicopter tours in New York City still exists, including from a wide range of public officials; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Federal Aviation Administration to ban all non-essential helicopter travel, including tourist and chartered helicopter flights over New York City.

Referred to the Committee on Economic Development.

Res. No. 292

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.5320, which would amend the administrative code of the city of New York to allow commuter vans to accept hails from prospective passengers in the street, and would repeal certain provisions of law relating thereto.

By Council Member Brooks-Powers, the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Restler and Won.

Whereas, Commuter vans in New York City are motor vehicles with seating capacities of nine to 20 passengers that provide transportation on a prearranged regular daily basis, over non-specified or irregular routes between a residential zone and a work related central location, a mass transit facility, a shopping center or recreational facilities within New York City; and

Whereas, The New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC) regulates and licenses commuter vans, van bases and van drivers in the City; and

Whereas, As of May 16, 2022, according to the TLC, there were 18 authorized TLC-licensed bases for commuter vans, 123 TLC-licensed commuter van drivers, and 32 TLC-licensed commuter vans; and

Whereas, Under current law, TLC-licensed commuter vans are not permitted to accept hails from prospective passengers in the street and consumers can only make use of the service if they have made arrangements for the service before-hand; and

Whereas, Although commuter vans provide an important service in supplementing New York City's public transit system, particularly for those that live in transit deserts and areas that lack close, effective and affordable transit options, the current law that requires pre-arrangement of services limits the impact that commuter vans can have on the City; and

Whereas, In addition, as the number of commuter vans, bases and drivers licensed by the TLC has decreased in recent years, allowing TLC-licensed commuter vans to accept hails from prospective passengers in the street would greatly help the industry; and

Whereas, S.5320, introduced by New York State Senator Kevin Parker, would allow commuter vans to accept hails from prospective passengers in the streets and would repeal certain provisions in New York City law, ultimately, resulting in increased access to affordable and effective transportation options for New York City residents, particularly those from areas underserved by current public transit; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.5320, which would amend the administrative code of the city of New York to allow commuter vans to accept hails from prospective passengers in the street, and would repeal certain provisions of law relating thereto.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the expansion of worker coverage under the Earned Safe and Sick Time Act

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 20-912 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 172 for the year 2021, is amended by amending the definitions of “employee” and “employer” and adding a definition of “professional services” in alphabetical order to read as follows:

“Employee” shall mean any “employee” as defined in subdivision 2 of section 190 of the labor law who is employed for hire within the city of New York for more than eighty hours in a calendar year who performs work on a full-time or part-time basis, including work performed in a transitional jobs program pursuant to section 336-f of the social services law, or any person deemed an employee under section 20-912.1, but not including work performed as a participant in a work experience program pursuant to section 336-c of the social services law, and not including those who are employed by (i) the United States government; (ii) the state of New York, including any office, department, independent agency, authority, institution, association, society or other body of the state including the legislature and the judiciary; or (iii) the city of New York or any local government, municipality or county or any entity governed by section 92 of the general municipal law or section 207 of the county law.

“Employer” shall mean any “employer” as defined in subdivision (3) of section 190 of the labor law, or any other person who employs a person deemed an employee under section 20-912.1, but not including (i) the United States government; (ii) the state of New York, including any office, department, independent agency, authority, institution, association, society or other body of the state including the legislature and the judiciary; or (iii) the city of New York or any local government, municipality or county or any entity governed by general municipal law section 92 or county law section 207. In determining the number of employees performing work for an employer for compensation during a given week, all employees performing work for compensation on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis shall be counted, provided that where the number of employees who work for an employer for compensation per week fluctuates, business size may be determined for the current calendar year based upon the average number of employees who worked for compensation per week during the preceding calendar year, and provided further that in determining the number of employees performing work for an employer that is a chain business, the total number of employees in that group of establishments shall be counted.

“Professional services” shall mean professional services provided by any of the following: (i) writers; (ii) graphic designers; (iii) webpage and digital designers; (iv) animators, illustrators, industrial product designers, interior designers, or fashion designers; (v) fine artists; (vi) photographers; (vii) journalists, freelance digital media workers, videographers or audio/podcast producers; (viii) software engineers; or (ix) musicians and other persons otherwise engaged in the performing arts.

§ 2. Chapter 8 of title 20 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 20-912.1 to read as follows:

§ 20-912.1 Presumption of employment.

a. Solely for the purposes of this chapter, any person performing any services for a hiring entity other than professional services for remuneration within the city of New York for more than 80 hours in a calendar year, including labor or services performed in a transitional jobs program pursuant to section 336-f of the social services law, shall be classified as an employee of the hiring entity unless it can be shown that the person is a separate business entity, or all of the following criteria are met, in which case the person shall be an independent contractor:

1. The individual is free from control and direction in performing the job, both under his or her contract and in fact;

2. The service must be performed outside the usual course of business for which the service is performed; and

3. The individual is customarily engaged in an independently established trade, occupation, profession or business that is similar to the service at issue.

b. Whether a person performing professional services for a hiring entity is an independent contractor or employee of the hiring entity shall be determined by applying the criteria in subdivisions h and i.

c. Any hiring entity that seeks to challenge a person’s employee status on the ground that the person is an independent contractor pursuant to this section bears the burden of proof.

d. The failure to withhold federal or state income taxes or to pay unemployment compensation contributions, workers’ compensation premiums, or disability or paid family leave benefits premiums with respect to an individual’s wages shall not be considered in making a determination under this section, except as set forth in subdivision f.

e. An individual’s act of securing workers’ compensation, liability insurance, or disability or paid family leave benefits with a carrier as a sole proprietor, partnership, or otherwise shall not be binding on any determination under this section.

f. Solely for purposes of determining whether a business entity performing services for a hiring entity is an employee under this section, a business entity, including any sole proprietor, partnership including any limited liability partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or entity shall be considered a separate business entity from the hiring entity, engaged in a business-to-business relationship, where all of the following criteria are met:

1. The business entity is performing the service free from the direction or control over the means and manner of providing the service, subject only to the right of the contractor for whom the service is provided to specify the desired result;

2. The business entity is not subject to cancellation or destruction upon severance of the relationship with the hiring entity;

3. The business entity has a substantial investment of capital in the business entity beyond ordinary tools and equipment and a vehicle, such as a website or website business listings for the business entity, business cards, dedicated workspace apart from a vehicle, trademarks, general liability insurance for the business entity, and/or business or professional software, and not including any payments for access to an application through which work is distributed;

4. The business entity owns the capital goods, if any, gains the profits and bears the losses of the business entity, as a result of its exercise of managerial skills and the prices that it independently sets for its services;

5. The business entity makes its services directly available to the general public on a continuing basis;

6. The business entity performs services rendered on a federal income tax schedule as an independent business or profession;

7. The business entity performs services for the hiring entity under the business entity's name;
 8. When the services being provided require a license or permit, the business entity obtains and pays for the license or permit in the business entity's name;
 9. The business entity furnishes the tools and equipment necessary to provide the service;
 10. If necessary, the business hires its own employees without approval of the hiring entity, pays the employees without reimbursement from the hiring entity and reports the employees' income to the internal revenue service;
 11. The hiring entity does not represent the business entity as an employee of the hiring entity to its customers; and
 12. The business entity has the right to perform similar services for others on whatever basis and whenever it chooses.
- g. When a business entity meets the definition of a separate business entity pursuant to subdivision f, the separate business entity will be considered a hiring entity subject to all the provisions of this chapter in regard to classification of individuals performing services for it.
- h. The presumption of employment set forth in this section shall not apply to workers under contract for professional services, and instead the determination of whether such worker is an employee or an independent contractor shall be determined using the test set forth in subdivision i, if the hiring entity demonstrates that all of the following factors are met:
1. The individual maintains a business location, which may include the individual's residence, that is separate from the hiring entity;
 2. The individual has any license or permit required by law for the individual to practice their profession;
 3. The individual has the ability to set or negotiate his or her own rates for the services performed;
 4. Outside of project completion dates, timing that is inherent in the project itself, and reasonable business hours, the individual has the ability to set his or her own hours;
 5. The individual is customarily engaged in the same type of work performed under contract with another hiring entity or holds himself or herself out to other potential hiring entities as available to perform the same type of work; and
 6. The individual customarily and regularly exercises discretion and independent judgment in the performance of the services.
- i. For workers who fall within the exemptions described in subdivision h of this section, the following factors, none of which is determinative, must be considered for determining whether such worker is an employee or an independent contractor:
1. The extent of control which, by the agreement, the hiring entity may exercise over the details of the work;
 2. Whether or not the individual hired is engaged in a distinct occupation or business;
 3. The kind of occupation, with reference to whether the work is usually done under the direction of the hiring entity or by a specialist without supervision;
 4. The skill required in the particular occupation;
 5. Whether the hiring entity or the worker supplies the instrumentalities, tools, and the place of work for the person doing the work;
 6. The length of time for which the person is hired;
 7. The method of payment, whether by the time or by the job;
 8. Whether or not the work is a part of the regular business of the hiring entity;
 9. Whether or not the parties believe they are creating an employment relationship;
 10. Whether the hiring entity is or is not in business; and
 11. Whether or not the hiring entity has been assigned, or otherwise retained, in word or in substance, the copyright of any material to be produced pursuant to the contract.
- § 3. Subdivision f of section 20-913 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law 46 of 2013, is amended to read as follows:
- f. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to (i) work study programs under 42 U.S.C. section 2753, (ii) employees for the hours worked and compensated by or through qualified scholarships as defined in 26 U.S.C. section 117, (iii) any person deemed an independent contractor [contractors who do not meet the definition of employee under section 190(2) of the labor law] under section 20-912.1 and (iv) hourly professional employees.

§ 4. Section 20-919 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subdivision d to read as follows:

d. Notwithstanding subdivision a of this section, all employers who were not subject to the requirements of this chapter before the enactment date of the local law that added this subdivision shall provide employees with a notice of rights as required under paragraph 1 of subdivision a of this section within 60 days of such enactment date.

§ 5. This local law takes effect 120 days after it becomes law except that the commissioner of consumer and worker protection shall take such measures as are necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Res. No. 293

Resolution calling on the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, legislation requiring that the Federal Aviation Administration ensure that all approved emergency medical kits on airplanes flying within the United States include life-saving medications and devices, including, but not limited to, a glucometer, an EpiPen, automatic blood pressure cuffs, disposable stethoscopes and naloxone.

By Council Members Hudson, Restler, Nurse and Joseph.

Whereas, Since 1986, the regulations of the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA), the agency responsible for managing the United States' airspace and all aspects of civilian aviation, have mandated that all domestic passenger airplanes with a required flight attendant have an emergency medical kit (EMK) containing medications and devices onboard; and

Whereas, Since 1986, the FAA-approved EMK has expanded under federal law and regulations to include, among other things, varying quantities of: a sphygmomanometer; a stethoscope; a self-inflating manual resuscitation device; protective nonpermeable gloves; needles; syringes; non-narcotic analgesic tablets; antihistamine tablets; an antihistamine injectable; an epinephrine injectable; a lidocaine injectable; nitroglycerin tablets; and basic instructions for use of the drugs in the kit; and

Whereas, According to a 2018 review article in the Journal of the American Medical Association, in-flight medical emergencies occur in about one in every 604 commercial flights; and

Whereas, In recent years, there have been multiple instances when a doctor or medical professional was called to help in a mid-flight emergency and found that the EMK on their flight was missing key items, including, among other things, certain drugs, blood pressure cuffs, and auto-injectors; and

Whereas, This includes a recent incident where Dr. Andrea Merrill, in June of 2022, was asked to help and found that the EMK on her flight was missing items, including a glucometer, an EpiPen, and automatic blood pressure cuffs, according to National Public Radio; and

Whereas, According to the report, after tweeting out her experience, Dr. Merrill received numerous replies citing the same issue that other medical professionals have gone through, highlighting long-standing calls to expand the required items in EMKs on airplanes; and

Whereas, Dr. Paulo Alves, global medical director for aviation health at MedAire, a company that provides guidance from the ground during in-flight medical emergencies, has said that the last time EMKs were modified by the FAA was in 2004, thus the regulations in place have not evolved with advancing medical knowledge and equipment; and

Whereas, In addition, according to the New York Times, the FAA is allowed to grant airlines exemptions that permit passenger planes to fly without a complete EMK if the airlines say they cannot replenish drugs that are cited to be in short supply, with 50 airlines being granted four-year exemptions in January 2016 from the requirement to carry all five drugs (two doses of epinephrine, atropine, dextrose, and lidocaine) in the EMK; and

Whereas, Although the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2018 requires the FAA to consider whether the minimum contents of FAA-approved EMKs include appropriate medications and equipment to meet the emergency medical needs of children and pregnant women, there are gaps in this process which result in EMKs not having the right medical equipment for certain in-flight emergencies; and

Whereas, New York City is home to two large airports: John F. Kennedy International Airport, which in the 12 months ending in April 2022 served about 36 million passengers; and LaGuardia Airport, which in the 12 months ending in April 2022 served about 20 million passengers, according to The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, therefore it is imperative that EMKs on all airplanes flying in the United States contain effective and adequate medical equipment and medications to ensure that if a mid-flight emergency does occur, the person impacted can receive the care they need in the most effective way; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, legislation requiring that the Federal Aviation Administration ensure that all approved emergency medical kits on airplanes flying within the United States include life-saving medications and devices, including, but not limited to, a glucometer, an EpiPen, automatic blood pressure cuffs, disposable stethoscopes and naloxone.

Res. No. 294

Resolution calling upon the United States Department of Health and Human Services to increase the number of monkeypox vaccines available and ensure the amount of vaccines sent to New York City is reflective of the proportion of the nationwide cases for an equitable distribution and effective containment of the nationwide monkeypox outbreak.

By Council Members Hudson, Bottcher, Ossé, Cabán, Schulman, Carr, Richardson Jordan, Powers, Brewer, Restler, Hanif, Won, Nurse, Farías, Avilés, Narcisse, Velázquez, Krishnan, Williams, Gutiérrez, Brooks-Powers, Ayala, Joseph, Sanchez and Abreu.

Whereas, Monkeypox, which is a contagious disease that is spread through close physical and intimate contact, is now spreading across the globe, including the United States and other nations that have generally been free from the monkeypox virus in recent decades; and

Whereas, Monkeypox is not as contagious as other viruses, such as the virus that causes COVID-19, and is typically spread through direct contact with rash, sores, and/or bodily fluids of an infected person; respiratory droplets; kissing; engaging in sexual activity; or sharing clothes, bedsheets, or food; and

Whereas, While any person can be susceptible to monkeypox, the recent outbreak has clustered around members of the LGBTQ+ community, specifically, gay, bisexual, or other men who have sex with men (MSM); and

Whereas, Although the mortality rate for monkeypox is between three to six percent globally, in countries like the United States, with access to quality health care, the death rate falls below one percent; and

Whereas, Although monkeypox is rarely fatal and often self-healing, symptoms include rash, sores, discomfort from itching, fevers, headaches, and tiredness that may appear seven to 21 days after the exposure and last for a few days to a few weeks; and

Whereas, New York City has become the national epicenter of monkeypox, with the highest rate of infected persons and, according to New York State Health Commissioner Dr. Mary Bassett, this number is expected to increase as more testing is made available; and

Whereas, As of August 3, 2022, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has reported 6,617 cases nationwide, with New York State making up almost a quarter of the total infected persons (1,666 individuals); and

Whereas, As of August 3, 2022, the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) reported a growing count of 1,558 monkeypox cases, which is almost equivalent to the CDC's total of 1,666 infectious individuals for New York State, emphasizing that the bulk of cases from New York State are coming from New York City; and

Whereas, In response to the outbreak, as of July 21, 2022, the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has distributed nearly 200,000 JYNNEOS vaccinations, a two-dose vaccine for monkeypox and smallpox, administered over a period of 14 days, nationwide; and

Whereas, As of July 21, 2022, those eligible in New York State for the vaccine include individuals with recent exposure to a suspected or confirmed monkeypox case within the past 14 days; those at high risk of a recent exposure to monkeypox (including gay men, those in the bisexual, transgender, and gender non-conforming community and other communities of MSM); and individuals who have had skin-to-skin contact with someone in a social network experiencing monkeypox spread; and

Whereas, New York City has the highest infection rate in the country, yet as of July 19, 2022, it has only received approximately 12% (23,963) of JYNNEOS doses out of the 200,000 distributed by HHS, leading to an extreme vaccination shortage in the city for eligible individuals; and

Whereas, This shortage of monkeypox vaccinations was demonstrated when all 9,200 appointments made available by DOHMH were booked within 10 minutes of launch, leading the website to crash; and

Whereas, Due to this unprecedented demand, an additional 14,500 doses were sent to New York City by the Federal government; and

Whereas, Out of those 14,500 doses, 8,200 first dose appointments were made available on July 15, 2022, but were booked within minutes, leaving many eligible patients frustrated as they anxiously await appointments to protect themselves and their loved ones from monkeypox; and

Whereas, An additional 4,000 doses were reserved for referrals from community partner organizations serving highest-risk patients and the remaining vaccines were kept for second dose appointments until more vaccines arrive; and

Whereas, This shortage could have dire consequences as infection rates more than doubled within the week of July 13 to July 20, 2022 in New York City, jumping from 336 to 711 cases; and

Whereas, In July, HHS began distributing 800,000 new vaccinations throughout the country, allotting about 14% (110,000) of JYNNEOS doses to New York State from which, only 80,000 vaccines or 10% of the total supply will be given to the New York City; and

Whereas, As of August 3, 2022, DOHMH has received approximately 40% (32,000) of the promised doses of JYNNEOS vaccines, opening 23,000 new first-dose appointment on its online portal on August 4, 2022, while reserving the rest for referrals from community partner organizations, health care providers, and close contacts of known cases; and

Whereas, On July 11, 2022, New York City Mayor Eric Adams wrote an open letter to United States President Joseph Biden requesting an equity-driven allocation of monkeypox vaccinations for the residents of the New York City; and

Whereas, On July 23, 2022, the World Health Organization (WHO), declared monkeypox a “Public Health Emergency of International Concern,” to urge countries to take immediate actions; and

Whereas, On July 29, 2022, New York State Governor Kathy Hochul issued an executive order, declaring the monkeypox outbreak a state disaster emergency to allow a quicker and more flexible response to the growing outbreak; and

Whereas, On August 1, 2022, Mayor Adams issued an emergency executive order, declaring monkeypox a local state of emergency, further echoing alarm on the necessity of equitable monkeypox vaccine distribution and testing services within New York City; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Department of Health and Human Services to increase the number of monkeypox vaccines available and ensure the amount of vaccines sent to New York City is reflective of the proportion of the nationwide cases for an equitable distribution and effective containment of the nationwide monkeypox outbreak.

Res. No. 296

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.6924A/A.8347A, which establishes a task force on missing women and girls who are Black, Indigenous and people of color.

By Council Members Stevens, Menin, Sanchez, Abreu, Velázquez, Restler, Ung, Nurse and Joseph.

Whereas, Over 600,000 individuals go missing in the United States every year according to the National Missing and Unidentified Persons System (NamUs), a national information resource center for missing, unidentified, and unclaimed person cases across the United States; and

Whereas, About 40 percent of the 250,000 women and girls listed as missing as of 2020 were people of color, despite making up just 16 percent of the overall population, according to the United States Congress Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Civil Liberties; and

Whereas, According to a 2020 report by the Women's Media Center, there are 64,000-75,000 missing Black women and girls across the United States; and

Whereas, According to the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC), in 2019, there were 421,394 missing children entered into the data system and of those missing, 298,190 were female and 205,802 were Black females; and

Whereas, According to a 2020 report by the Sovereign Bodies Institute, an Indigenous-led nonprofit research organization, at least 2,306 Indigenous women and girls have gone missing in the last 40 years in the United States, about 1,800 of whom were killed or vanished; and

Whereas, Cases involving Black women and girls often do not receive the attention they need and there are often barriers to families reporting a missing loved one, such as mistrust of police, and racial disparities in how law enforcement treats disappearances; and

Whereas, These structural inequalities have led to the underreporting of the disappearance of women and girls who are Black, Indigenous and people of color (BIPOC); and

Whereas, In 2004, the late PBS news anchor Gwen Ifill coined the term “Missing White Woman Syndrome,” referring to the mainstream media’s seeming fascination with covering missing white women, and the disinterest in cases involving missing people of color; and

Whereas, According to research from Northwestern University, though white women make up about a third of the national population, half of the news articles studied were just about white females; and

Whereas, BIPOC women and girls exist at the intersection of racism and sexism, and often face worse health, wealth, housing, education, and employment outcomes; and

Whereas, According to the Center for Bioethics and Social Justice at Michigan State University, the FBI’s National Crime Information Center, the FBI’s National DNA Index System and the National Missing and Unidentified Persons System do not transfer data to local and state justice agencies and access varies, meaning there is no national unified system for the reporting of missing persons; and

Whereas, The FBI’s Databases include “Asian,” “Black,” “Indian,” “Unknown,” and “White” and there is no category for Hispanic or other ethnicities, nor any subcategories for different Indigenous groups, according to the Center for Bioethics and Social Justice; and

Whereas, In 2021, Minnesota became the first state in the nation to create a Task Force on Missing and Murdered Black Women and Girls; and

Whereas, S.6924A/A.8347A, sponsored by Senator Alessandra Biaggi and Assemblymember Karines Reyes, would establish a task force on missing women and girls who are Black, Indigenous and people of color; and

Whereas, Under S.6924A/A.8347A, the taskforce would develop policy changes that would work to address the lack of care and concern for missing and murdered BIPOC women and girls within New York state governmental agencies; and

Whereas, The taskforce would be tasked with advancing the knowledge of communities on the severity of BIPOC women and girls who are missing and murdered and recommending preventive programming and ideas to advance the safety of women and girls; and

Whereas, The taskforce would also ensure BIPOC communities are educated and trained on the prevention, protection, and protocols relating to missing BIPOC women and girls as it relates to social media, as well as develop a strategy to collect statistics, demographics, surveys, oral histories, and data analysis; and

Whereas, Historical trauma, systemic racism, sexism, racial stereotyping, and sexual objectification of BIPOC women and girls have all contributed to the disparities in missing persons and are often compounded by poverty, homelessness, child welfare involvement, domestic violence, sex trafficking and fear of law enforcement; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S.6924A/A.8347A, which establishes a task force on missing women and girls who are Black, Indigenous and people of color.

Stated Council Meeting

Council Chambers – City Hall.....Agenda – 1:30 p.m.

The following comments were among the remarks made by the Speaker (Council Member Adams) during the Communication from the Speaker segment of this meeting:

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that Drew Zimmerman, a new addition to the Council team, would be serving as the Council's new Digital Director. She welcomed Mr. Zimmerman to the Council.

On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) congratulated Council Member Sanchez and her family on the birth of their beautiful baby boy. She also wished Council Member Velázquez a happy birthday.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that our Jewish communities recently observed Tisha B'Av, which is a day of fasting, prayer, and reflection. She noted that it was known as a sad day which commemorated the destruction of the Temples as well as the other tragedies which were inflicted on the Jewish people. She further noted that this holiday also served as a reminder that all people must come together to protect each other and uplift each other in this city and beyond.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the celebration of Jamaican Independence Day on August 6th. She added that this year marked the 60th anniversary of Jamaica's independence from Great Britain. The Speaker (Council Member Adams) noted that the city was home to a vibrant Jamaican community which has contributed to the culture of New York. She hoped that Jamaicans across the city had a happy and safe celebration.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that Ecuadorian Independence Day was on August 10th. This holiday, she added, has been celebrated annually since 1809. She noted that the city was home to a large Ecuadorian community particularly in the borough of Queens. She pointed out that Council Member Francisco Moya was the first Ecuadorian-American elected official in the history of the Council. The Speaker (Council Member Adams) wished a happy Ecuadorian Independence Day to all who celebrated.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged a number of several additional important cultural holidays on the horizon including: Pakistan Independence Day on August 14th; Indian Independence Day and Korean Independence Day on August 15th; and Trinidad and Tobago Independence Day on August 31st. She spoke of her pride in representing the diverse South Asian and Indo-Caribbean communities in her home 28th District and the special importance that these holidays meant to her and to many New Yorkers.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that August 15th represented one of the most important holidays for Korean New Yorkers called Gwangbokjeol which translates to "bringing back the light." This holiday symbolizes the restoration of Korean national independence.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that August 21st marks National Senior Citizens Day which is dedicated to celebrate our senior citizens. The Speaker (Council Member Adams) also acknowledged that Women's Equality Day would be celebrated on August 26th. This day of commemoration was championed by New York City Congresswoman Bella Abzug in the early 1970s. In light of the recent rollback in women's rights across the country, she noted that it was especially important to recognize that the struggle for gender equality was still an ongoing one.

Whereupon on motion of the Speaker (Council Member Adams), the Majority Leader and Acting President Pro Tempore (Council Member Powers) adjourned these proceedings to meet again for the Stated Meeting of Thursday, September 15, 2022.

MICHAEL M. McSWEENEY, City Clerk
Clerk of the Council
