LGBTQ

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender & Queer

Guide of Services and Resources

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER

SCOTT M. STRINGER
COMPTROLLER

Dear Friend:

I am pleased to present the latest edition of the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer Services Guide – the most comprehensive directory of LGBTQ resources and programs in New York City. For members of the LGBTQ community, connecting to services geared towards their needs can be a challenge. Our Guide is intended to help individuals better understand the resources available, from hundreds of community organizations and health care facilities to counseling and support groups, recreational clubs, and much more.

Throughout my career, I have been a strong and vocal supporter of LGBTQ rights. As an Assembly member, I was one of the first co-sponsors of a 1995 bill to enact marriage equality in the State of New York. When my wife and I married in 2010, we did so in Connecticut to protest New York's continued discrimination against lesbian and gay couples.

As Comptroller, I have continued to work hard to advance equality of opportunity for the LGBTQ community, and in the last year alone have succeeded in:

- Implementing new Corporate Governance Principles and Proxy Voting Guidelines that expand the definition of board diversity beyond race and gender to include LGBT directors, as well as working with California's Comptroller to encourage other fiduciaries to embrace similar policies.
- Continuing to be an outspoken advocate for requiring all publicly accessible, single occupancy restrooms to become gender neutral and allowing for the code changes to do so, and for passage of the Gender Expression Non-Discrimination Act (GENDA).
- Supporting successful efforts to have The Stonewall Inn named a national monument to commemorate the 1969 Stonewall Uprising and the beginning of the LGBT rights movement.

As the cradle of gay rights activism, New York City is one of the most LGBTQ friendly cities on the planet and I am honored to make this important resource available to all New Yorkers. The Guide breaks down services by interest and geographic area. In order to highlight services beyond Manhattan, the Guide includes individual maps of service providers in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, and Staten Island. The Guide also includes an index to make navigation of this extensive directory that much easier.

If you have any questions about the Guide, please send us an email at action@comptroller.nyc.gov. It is also available online at www.comptroller.nyc.gov/lgbtq. I am confident that you will find the LGBTQ Services Guide a useful and powerful resource. I will never waiver in my lifelong support for equality and dignity for all New Yorkers.

Sincerely,

LEGAL SERVICES

The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer (LGBTQ) community in New York has made historic gains recently with the passage of New York's Marriage Equality Act in 2011 and the U.S. Supreme Court's landmark Windsor v. United States decision, which struck down a central pillar of the discriminatory Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA). Despite this extraordinary progress, many LGBTQ individuals continue to face discrimination, harassment, and violence. A survey in that same year showed that 74 percent of respondents in New York State experienced harassment or mistreatment on the job, with 26 percent of those people losing a job due to gender or identity expression.¹ In addition, over 37 percent of these respondents identified that in the past - they had not been hired because of their gender or identity expression.²

As a result, it is vital that all LGBTQ constituents understand the legal protections and services available to them to ensure that their rights are protected. The following is a list of options for those seeking LGBTQ specific legal services in New York City.

ANTI-VIOLENCE AND HARASSMENT RESOURCES

A recent report by the National Coalition of Anti-Violence Programs (NACVP) found that anti-LGBTQ hate crimes have been on the rise in New York City for the past five years. There was a whopping 27% increase from 2012 to 2013 in the number of hate crimes experienced by LGBTQ New Yorkers. In the three years prior, the City has experienced increases of 4, 11, and 13 percent.³ It is more important than ever that those that have experienced or are currently experiencing violence and harassment can find the support they need.

The following are examples of those resources.

The Center for Anti-Violence Education

GENERAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS

New York has a range of programs and services to help LGBTQ individuals protect and preserve their general health and wellness. Indeed, health surveys have found that members of the LGBTQ community face higher rates of anxiety, substance abuse, depression and mental health challenges than the heterosexual population.⁴ The pressures of social isolation, strain in familial relationships, homophobia, transphobia and other social factors can detract from an individual's overall health and provide unique challenges for those that identify as LGBTQ. Luckily, New York City has a number of programs and services tailored to this population.

Some of these resources are listed below.

HIV AND AIDS RELATED SERVICES

In New York City, there are over 110,000 people that are reported as living with HIV/AIDS, with nearly 3,000 new diagnoses made in 2013 alone.⁵ Over 37 percent of all cases and over 56 percent of new HIV/AIDS cases were contracted by men who have sex with other men. Furthermore, within the LGBTQ community, African-Americans and Hispanics make up nearly 77 percent of all individuals living with HIV/AIDS.⁶ The significant impact that HIV/AIDS has had on the LGBTQ community should not be understated.

Thankfully, there are a wide variety of resources for HIV/AIDS care and treatment within New York City.

SENIOR NEEDS

Recent estimates suggest that there are at least 1.5 million LGBTQ people aged 65 and over in the United States – a number that will double by the year 2030.⁷ In addition to the problems that many seniors deal with, LGBTQ seniors deal with a host of unique challenges. A recent study found that older same-sex couples face higher poverty rates than heterosexual couples.⁸ Not only are LGBTQ seniors more likely to be in poverty, they are also more likely to deal with stigma and discrimination in the elder care system. A recent national survey of LGBT older adults in long-term care facilities found that only 22% of respondents felt they could be open about their LGBT identities with facility staff, 89% predicted that staff would discriminate against them based on their sexual orientations and/or gender identities, and 43% reported instances of mistreatment.⁹

The unique needs of New York City's LGBTQ seniors can be served by some of the following resources.

GENDER IDENTITY SERVICES

Numerous studies have shown that transgender people and those that have non-conforming gender identities face a disproportionate amount of discrimination, especially in employment and health care. Health care in general for transgender people can be difficult and expensive to access. Transgender individuals can face a higher incidence of abandonment by families, job discrimination, and a lack of access to appropriate identification documents. In particular, gender non-conforming youth are extremely vulnerable to dropping out of school, becoming homeless and developing mental health problems. The challenges that transgendered, gender non-conforming and questioning individuals face may be great – but there are a number of resources that are available for these individuals within New York City.

The following is a list of some of these services.

MINORITY COMMUNITY SERVICES

Members of the LGBTQ community face a number of barriers to basic services – yet the challenges that LGBTQ individuals of color face can be even greater. Those within the Minority and LGBTQ communities are more likely to face discrimination from services and employment.¹⁰ Yet the stunning diversity of New York City has created a wide community of ethnic and minority centered services available to LGBTQ individuals looking for support and advocacy.

The following is a sampling of the services available to minority and ethnically distinct communities.

RELIGIOUS AND SPIRITUALITY GROUPS

Despite the rhetoric that some religious entities direct towards LGBTQ individuals, New York City provides a wealth of LGBTQ-affirming institutions and groups for those individuals in search of these resources. Every borough has at least one religious institution that is welcoming to LGBTQ individuals.

Below is a list of some of these LGBTQ-affirming religious institutions, followed by a list of some broader religious and spirituality based groups.

As the visibility of the LGBTQ community grows in our society, more and more LGBTQ teens are finding the courage to come out of the closet. While numerous teens find supportive families and environments when they do come out, as many as 25% of these teens are rejected by their families, and many end up homeless on the streets.¹¹ It is estimated that over 40% of homeless youth are LGBTQ identified. Case management, counseling, referrals, food, internet access, educational services, job skills, and training for youth – all become critical resources to these most disenfranchised young people.

Below is a listing of some of the resources for LGBTQ youth and teens.

Our Youth

81 Christopher St., New York, NY 10014

Our Youth is a non profit organization that helps LGBT youth in the NY & NJ area. We help the young adults find jobs, get into college, offer free & confidential health referrals, and provided community activities to keep the youth off the streets and involved within our community! Our most successful program is the Our Youth Diversity Scholarship Program where we conduct monthly benefits from Sept-June raising funds for 2 college scholarships, one given to a LGBT high school senior in NY, the other given to a LGBT high school senior in NJ, both in July.
