Dear Friends:

I am pleased to present the 2004-2005 Register of Foreign Consular and Associated Government Offices in New York - the "Red Book."

Through the New York City Commission for the United Nations Consular Corps and Protocol, we work to provide guidance, support and assistance to the consular offices. The "Red Book" is a resource for government agencies, businesses, and all New Yorkers as well as the consular community.

Our City draws its cultural vitality from the diversity of its population that enriches our many communities and bolsters our city's status as World's Second Home.

We are proud of the many relationships New York enjoys with cities and nations around the world and look forward to strengthening those bonds alongside the consular community.

Sincerely,

July 2004

Dear Friends:

New York City is proud to host 105 consulates - the largest consular community of any city in the world. In promoting trade, tourism, and investment, the consulates make a significant contribution to the City's vibrant international culture. New York truly is "the capitol of the world".

Since 1962, the Commission for the United Nations, Consular Corps and Protocol has served the diplomatic community as the City's official liaison to the Consular Corps.

The Register of Foreign Consulates and Associated Government Offices in New York is widely used by businesses, individuals, and government agencies as a directory to the Consular Corps.

We are pleased to offer you this updated version of the Register and we look forward to continuing to work with you.

Sincerely,

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The publication of the 2004-2005 edition of the Register of Foreign Consulates and Associated Government Offices in New York could not have been possible without the assistance of Abigail Cuthbertson and Dina Hanna at the Commission, as well as Brooke Bodkin, Cecile Delique and Elizabeth Miccio all of whom interned at the Commission.

We greatly appreciated the tremendous cooperation provided to this endeavor by the members of the Consular Corps of New York.

Thank you to Susan Weinstock, Melissa Chyla, Robert DeLeo, Dennis Schmidt and Elizabeth Greenspan at the Mayor's Print Shop, for their time and patience.
