Please bow your heads.

Dear wise and loving father,
 first let us say thank you on behalf of those that are gathered here today.
 Thank you for the many abundant blessings that you have shown to us.
 Thank you for life itself and the measure of health in which you have given.
 Thank you for the ability of being involved in useful work, and for the honor of bearing appropriate authorities.
 You have placed and established these various authorities to promote peace, justice and order.
 Therefore, we pray for Public Advocate.
 We pray for all City officials, and to us—to all assembled Council

 I ask that you would graciously grant them wisdom to governing the conflicting interests and issues of our times, a sense of welfare and true need of all people.
 Grant them a key first for justice and rightness,
 a confidence for what is good and fitting.
 Grant them the ability to work together with harmony that even if there's disagreement, it is disagreement with honesty and above all,
 grant them personal peace in their lives and in their family.
 I pray for the agenda that is set before them today.
 Please give them assurance of what will please you, and what will benefit those who live in and around this great city of New York.
 All of these merits we pray.
 Amen.

MESSAGES & PAPERS FROM THE MAYOR

M-478

Communication from the Mayor – Submitting Preliminary Mayor’s Management Report (PMMR) for Fiscal Year 2017.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The Preliminary Mayor’s Management Report (PMMR) for Fiscal 2017 provides a comprehensive assessment of the City’s performance from July through October 2016. Through reporting on performance indicators taken from 44 individual City agencies and offices, the PMMR enables the public to evaluate the efficacy of City government in meeting the central needs of New Yorkers.

In addition to reporting performance indicators, each agency chapter features narrative that provides context and explanations for noteworthy metrics, as well as updated Focus on Equity statements that convey each agency’s approach to the fair delivery of quality services across the City’s neighborhoods and constituencies. By encouraging New Yorkers to closely assess the performance of their government, the PMMR exemplifies the mutually reinforcing importance of public transparency and accountability. This data is also deployed by the Administration throughout the year to proactively monitor the speed, quality, and scale of government services.

The “Collaborating to Deliver Results” section of the PMMR highlights signature City initiatives that entail cooperative and coordinated actions among many different agencies. These chapters feature indicators that reflect the implementation and performance of these particular programs. Over time, applicable indicators may be included in the appropriate agencies’ chapters, reflecting the continuity of these initiatives. This occurred with earlier multi-agency programs such as Pre-K for All and IDNYC. The 2017 PMMR covers nine “Collaboration” initiatives, including Housing New York, Vision Zero, and ThriveNYC.

While the PMMR covers the first four months of the fiscal year, more information can be found using the City’s comprehensive online Citywide Performance Reporting (CPR) tool. This interactive website allows for a customized user experience, where selected data can be viewed on the community level or over user-selected time periods dating back to Fiscal 2003. Visit the CPR website at www.nyc.gov/cpr.

RE: Finance Committee Agenda of February 15, 2017 - Resolution approving a tax exemption for six Land Use items (Council Districts 9, 16, and 17)

Note: The following six items are part of the Sheva Portfolio, for each of which Article XI exemptions¹ are being requested to preserve their long term affordability (one per project). Each project in the Sheva portfolio is currently owned by a separate LLC, but with identical ownership structures. The prior owner of the portfolio financed a rehab of the properties in the late 1980's through HPD's Participation Loan Program with Community Preservation Corporation (CPC) as the 1st mortgage lender. The prior owner went into bankruptcy, and Langsam Property Services (the "Sponsor") acquired the properties in 1992 from the bankruptcy trustee after completion of foreclosure and bankruptcy proceedings with the prior owner.

Existing rents average 63% of AMI, while market rents in the neighborhood average 98% of AMI.

The project consists of the City providing a 30-year Article XI exemption with a Gross Rent Payment of 0.96%, and the property entering into a regulatory agreement maintaining long term affordability that will be coterminous with the exemption. At closing, title of 795 St. Nicholas Avenue will be conveyed to 795 Sheva Realty HDFC, Inc., with 795 Sheva Realty Associates LLC remaining beneficial owner.

Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations

Report for Int. No. 1181-A

Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to improving access to city services for limited English proficiency individuals.

The Committee on Governmental Operations, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on May 25, 2016 (Minutes, page 1466), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 14, 2017, the Committee on Governmental Operations, chaired by Council Member Benjamin Kallos, will hold second hearing and vote on Proposed Int. No. 1181-A, sponsored by The Speaker, Council Member Melissa Mark-Viverito, in relation to improving access to city services for limited English proficiency individuals. This bill received a first hearing on November 17, 2016.

BACKGROUND

1989 Charter Revision

In 1989, the Charter Revision Commission proposed, and then voters in the General Election later approved, the establishment of an “Office of Language Services” within the Mayor’s Office, to set standards for, provide technical assistance and training to, and monitor the performance of City agencies in providing translation and interpretation services in languages other than English.

This office, to be headed by a language services coordinator, was charged with establishing standards and criteria to be used by City agencies which provide services to the public for estimating and reporting on the need to provide services in languages other than English. The office was additionally charged with providing technical assistance to agencies in delivering such language services, developing testing materials for training, monitoring and reporting on the performance of City agencies in delivering such services and to maintain in a central place a public library of written materials published by City agencies in such languages.²

Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs

An Office of Immigrant Affairs was established within the Mayor's executive office by a ballot question approved at the General Election in 2001. It was meant to "promote the utilization of city services by all its residents including... speakers of foreign languages."³ Among its powers are duties are to "advise and assist the mayor and the council in developing and implementing policies designed to assist immigrants and other foreign-language speakers in the city," as well as to establish programs to inform and educate foreign language speakers, and to manage a citywide list of translators and interpreters.⁴

Executive Order 120

On July 22, 2008, then-Mayor Michael Bloomberg signed Executive Order No. 120, a Citywide Policy on Language Access to Ensure the Effective Delivery of City Services.⁵ It requires that "[a]ll City agencies that provide direct public services shall ensure meaningful access to such services by taking reasonable steps to develop and implement agency-specific language assistance plans regarding LEP persons... For agencies that provide services to the public that are not programmatic in nature, such as emergency services, the provisions of this order shall be implemented to the degree practicable."⁶ Under this EO, agencies were given flexibility to determine the appropriate language assistance for their agency's service populations, but were required to designate a Language Access Coordinator, and develop a language access plan. The plan must consider four factors: i) the number or proportion of LEP persons in the eligible service population, ii) the frequency with which LEP individuals come into contact with the agency, iii) the importance of the benefit or service to the LEP person, and iv) the resources available to the agency and the costs of providing various types of language services. The agencies are to provide services in languages based on at least the top six LEP languages, based on United States census data and as those languages are relevant to services offered by each agency. The plans must also address areas of document translation, interpretation services, training of frontline staff, posting of signage, establishment of measurement systems and the creation of public awareness strategies.⁷

Local Laws on Language Access

Many local laws passed by the City Council have made provisions for language access in specific instances. In the current session, for example: for translations of localized emergency preparedness materials,⁸ for translations of e-mail and text message notifications to voters,⁹ for oral summaries of an inmate bill of rights for persons whose preferred language is outside of the City's language access plan,¹⁰ for the translation of lectures or educational materials related to business education events,¹¹ for the translation of a business owner's bill of rights,¹² for the translation of elevator work occupant notifications into Spanish and other Similar language access laws have been passed in prior sessions. One of particular note is Local Law 73 of 2003, in relation to the provision of language assistance services for persons receiving assistance from certain agencies in relation to health and human services; which was cited as being influential in Executive Order 120.¹⁸

Presidential Executive Order

At the Federal level, Presidential Executive Order 13166, titled “Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency,” was signed on August 11, 2000. The EO requires Federal agencies to develop a plan to examine the services they provide, identify potential language needs and implement a system to provide access. It also requires the extending of guidance to cover recipients of Federal financial assistance to ensure consistency with the Limited English Proficiency guidance issued by the Department of Justice, to ensure there is no discrimination on the basis of national origin under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.¹⁹

Implementation of Language Access Policies in NYC

Under Executive Order 120, City agencies providing direct public services are required to develop and implement agency-specific language access plans.²⁰ These plans can generally be found on an agency’s website, though in different locations on each website and some may be more difficult to locate than others or be missing outright.²¹ Within such plans the specific language access goals and activities of that agency can be found. For example, the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (OATH) determined that it should go beyond the top six Limited English Proficiency (LEP) languages required by the executive order when translating forms and brochures for its Hearings Division, making those materials available in the top seven non-English languages based on interpreter requests at OATH and guidance from the Mayor’s Office.²² Similarly, OATH’s desktop signs offering free translation services for LEP persons are displayed in sixteen languages.²³ Their plan also details issues such as how such persons will be identified and how quality of language access services will be verified through the use of periodic surveys.²⁴ Similarly, the language access plan for the Department of Housing Preservation and Development provides a chart listing all of the offices and divisions within the agency, the core public facing services provided by that agency, the frequency of interaction with the LEP persons and the likely “Level of Importance to LEP Population.”²⁵ While each language access plan is different, the details contained therein can provide a yardstick to measure actual agency performance against.

In a study several years ago, by Make the Road New York and the New York Immigrant Coalition, it was found that many agencies were failing to provide language assistance to LEP New Yorkers, often because respondents were unaware of the availability of language services. The study further concluded that there was a disparity in the quality of language access services between different geographic areas and between different languages.²⁶ While a significant amount of time has passed since that study, it did occur after the passage of Executive Order 120 and can serve as a reminder that the existence of a plan may not be sufficient to ensure its effective implementation in all circumstances, particularly when the public is unaware of their rights. It is also a reminder of the potential malleability of such plans or executive orders, for better or worse, in future administrations.

There does seem to be a significant need for language access services across all of the City's public facing agencies. Based on data in the 2016 Mayor's Management report, in the last fiscal year there were almost one million requests for interpretation made to the Human Resources Administration, over 550,000 such requests made to 311 and over 200,000 such requests made to the NYPD.²⁷ Even smaller agencies, such as the Business Integrity Commission or the Office of the City Medical Examiner received interpretation requests in the last fiscal year, with 93 and 664 respectively.²⁸ Every public service offered by an agency may be one that an LEP New Yorker needs access to and a failure to provide language assistance may mean a failure to be able to provide that needed service.

Proposed Int. No. 1181-A

Proposed Int. No. 1181-A contains a declaration of legislative findings and intent recognizing that a large percentage of the City's inhabitants speak languages other than English and that the well-being and safety of the City as a whole is put in jeopardy if the people of the City are unable to access City services or effectively communicate with City agencies. Therefore, it is declared desirable that the City promote the utilization of City services by all its residents, including speakers of languages other than English.

Proposed Int. No. 1181-A would first require covered agencies to provide language access services for all designated citywide languages. Covered agencies would be all those City agencies that provide direct public services (defined as services by an agency directly to program beneficiaries, participants or applicants) or emergency services. The designated citywide languages would ten languages, to be determined by the Office of the Language Services Coordinator, with six based on United States census data and four based on Department of Education data. The language access services would include identifying and translating documents commonly distributed to the public, providing interpretation services and the posting of multilingual signage about the availability of interpretation services. The language access services provided by each covered agency would be described in a language access implementation plan developed and implemented by each agency, in consultation with the Office of the Language Services Coordinator and the Office of Immigrant Affairs.

The language access implementation plans would be required to include certain items. Each plan would designate a language access coordinator to oversee the creation and execution of such plan, with the coordinator's name and title posted on the agency's website. Each plan would describe how the agency would provide language access services to ensure meaningful access to information and direct public services, and such plans would identify the documents to be translated and services for which language access services are to be provided so as to meet those goals. In developing each plan, several factors should be taken into consideration, including considerations of the service population, frequency of contact with the agency, the importance of the service, and the resources available to the agency. As an example, an agency that provides licensing services might find, in developing and implementing such plan, that meaningful access to such service can be provided by translating informational guidance documents on such licensing service. Each plan would also incorporate an evaluation of the language access needs of the service population, including a consideration of relevant language data that may be available. Each plan would incorporate planning to address language access needs in emergency preparedness and response. Each plan would incorporate consideration of language access in agency communications to the public. Each plan would incorporate plain language principles for documents. Each plan would incorporate the training of frontline workers on language access policies and determine the agency's capacity to provide language access services through staffing and contracts with third parties. Each plan would incorporate public awareness strategies. Each plan would include a process to monitor and timely respond to public complaints regarding language access. Finally, each plan would describe the steps by which the plan would be effectuated, provided that for newly required languages not currently covered by that agency, such services would be required to be provided by July 1, 2018, except for the purposes of issuing a license, permit or registration which would be required to be provided by July 1, 2020. Each agency would be required to update their plan based on changes in their service population, or services, at least every three years and publish such plans on their website.

Each covered agency would also be required to provide for telephonic interpretation services in at least 100 languages, including common and esoteric languages as identified by the Office of the Language Services Coordinator.

The bill would also require the Office of the Language Services Coordinator, in consultation with the Office of Immigrant Affairs, to work with covered agencies on the development and implementation of their language access implementation plans and language access services. Additionally, they would collect annual reports from covered agencies regarding such implementation. The two offices would also coordinate to perform outreach in neighborhoods containing a significant number of persons that do not speak any of the languages already covered by most agencies' language access implementation plans, but which might otherwise contain a likely service population, to inquire what agency direct public services might be used by such persons if such services were available in a language spoken by such persons. It would also be required to make recommendations to agencies on specific programs for which the providing of language access services in languages not already required might be beneficial. The bill also provides greater specificity to the requirement to monitor agency performance.

The Office of the Language Services Coordinator would also be required to issue annual reports, beginning on June 30, 2018, providing information on the implementation of the law, including: the name of each agency's language access coordinator, a copy of each agency's language access implementation plan, information regarding how members of the public may submit complaints or requests, data on complaints and requests and how they were addressed, a copy of the list of designated citywide languages and the data relied upon for its creation, and information regarding the required outreach to language communities outside of those generally served.

Proposed Int. No. 1181-A would also require that a copy of every complaint received by 311 on language accessibility, or request for additional language services, be forwarded to both the relevant agency and the Office of the Language Services Provider.

Finally, the bill includes a preview provision requiring the Office of the Language Services Coordinator to make a preliminary assessment, by May 15, 2017, of the languages like to be the designated citywide languages when the bill takes full effect.

It would take effect on July 1, 2017, except for the preview provision which would take effect immediately.

Int. No. 1181-A

By The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) and Council Members Chin, Mendez, Koo, Rosenthal, Kallos, Menchaca, Levine, Salamanca, Levin and Treyger.

A Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to improving access to city services for limited English proficiency individuals.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. The city recognizes that a large percentage of its inhabitants speak languages other than English and that the well-being and safety of the city as a whole is put in jeopardy if the people of the city are unable to access city services or effectively communicate with city agencies. The city further recognizes that effective language access is a tool to promote equity in economic opportunity, education, health, civic participation, and all other aspects of the life of the city, and that it is a necessary component of city agencies' ability to accomplish their mandates. It is therefore desirable that the city promote the utilization of city services by all its residents, including speakers of languages other than English.

§ 2. Title 23 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to add a new chapter 11, to read as follows:

*CHAPTER 11
LANGUAGE ACCESS*

§ 23-1101 Definitions. a. For the purposes of this chapter, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

Covered agencies. The term "covered agencies" means every city agency that provides direct public services or emergency services.

Designated citywide languages. The term "designated citywide languages" means the top six limited English proficiency languages spoken by the population of New York city as determined by the department of city planning and the office of the language services coordinator, based on United States census data; and the top four limited English proficiency languages spoken by the population served or likely to be served by the agencies of the city of New York as determined by the office of the language services coordinator, based on language access data collected by the department of education, excluding the languages designated based on United States census data.

Direct public services. The term "direct public services" shall mean services administered by an agency directly to program beneficiaries, participants, or applicants.

§ 23-1102 Language access implementation plans. a. Every covered agency shall provide language access services for all designated citywide languages. Such language access services shall include, but not be limited to:

- 1. identifying and translating those documents most commonly distributed to the public that contain or elicit important and necessary information regarding the provision of basic city services;*
- 2. providing interpretation services, including through telephonic interpretation services; and*
- 3. posting of multilingual signage in conspicuous locations about the availability of free interpretation services.*

b. Each covered agency shall, in consultation with the office of the language services coordinator and the office of immigrant affairs, develop and implement an agency-specific language access implementation plan to describe how language access services will be provided and to ensure meaningful access to information and direct public services. The implementation plans of emergency service providers shall include provision for their requirements to be implemented to the degree practicable. For each covered agency, the language access implementation plan shall:

1. designate a language access coordinator to oversee the creation and execution of such implementation plan and provide for the name and title of such language access coordinator to be posted in a conspicuous place on such agency's website;

2. describe how such agency will provide the language access services required by subdivision a.

3. consider the following factors in developing such implementation plan: (a) the number or proportion of limited English proficiency persons in the eligible service population; (b) the frequency with which limited English proficiency individuals come into contact with the agency, including the evaluation conducted pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subdivision; (c) the importance of the benefit, service, information, or encounter to the limited English proficiency person (including the consequences of lack of language services or inadequate interpretation or translation); and (d) the resources available to the agency and the costs of providing various types of language services.

4. incorporate an evaluation of the language access needs of the service population, or likely service population, of such agency, and consider under what circumstance some or all of the direct public services of such agency should be provided in a language or languages supplemental to the designated citywide languages. Such evaluation should consider any available data on the service population of such agency, including but not limited to (i) relevant survey data collected pursuant to paragraph 1 of subdivision i of section 15 of the charter, (ii) language data collected by such agency through intake processes or other processes for collecting client, applicant or participant information, and (iii) the data collected by such agency on language access services rendered or requested. Such evaluation should also consider any information collected pursuant to paragraph 3 of subdivision c of section 15 of the charter.

5. incorporate planning to address language access needs in the agency's emergency preparedness and response;

6. incorporate consideration of language access in agency communications, including emergency notifications, public hearings and events, press releases, and other communications to the public;

7. incorporate plain language principles for documents most commonly distributed to the public that contain or elicit important and necessary information regarding the provision of basic city services and for other public communications, by using plain language, where possible, in place of technical, legal, or specialized terms, and by using layout and design strategies to make such documents and communications easier to read, understand, and act upon;

8. incorporate the training of frontline workers and managers on language access policies and procedures;

9. incorporate appropriate public awareness strategies regarding the agency's language access services;

10. include a process to monitor and timely respond to public complaints regarding language access;

11. determine such agency's capacity with regard to providing language access services, both through agency staffing and contracts with third parties; and

12. describe the steps by which such agency's language access policy will be effectuated, provided that for any designated citywide language for which such agency does not provide language access services at the time of the enactment of this section, such agency shall provide such services (i) by July 1, 2020 for purposes of issuing a license, permit or registration, and (ii) by July 1, 2018 for all other purposes of this section.

c. Each covered agency shall provide for telephonic interpretation services in at least 100 languages, including both common and esoteric languages as identified by the office of the language services coordinator.

d. Each covered agency shall update its language access implementation plan, based on changes in the agency's service population or services, at least every three years and publish such implementation plan on its website.

§ 3. Subdivision c of section 15 of the New York city charter, as added at a General Election held on November 7, 1989, is amended to read as follows:

c. There shall be an office of the language services coordinator within the office of operations. Within appropriations therefor, the office of the language services coordinator shall appoint such experts and assistants as necessary to fulfill the duties assigned to the office by this charter, in consultation with the office of immigrant affairs. The office of the language services coordinator shall have the following powers and duties:[.]

1. To [establish standards and criteria, to be used by city agencies which provide services to the public, for estimating, and reporting on, the need to provide such services in languages other than English.]

work with each agency subject to the requirements of section 23-1102 of the code on the development and implementation of its agency-specific language access implementation plan to ensure meaningful access to information and direct public services.

2. To collect annual reports from each such agency regarding implementation of its language access implementation plan.

3. To perform outreach, in coordination with the office of immigrant affairs or other agencies, in neighborhoods containing a significant number of persons that do not speak any of the languages already covered by most agencies' language access implementation plans, but which might otherwise contain a likely service population, to inquire what agency direct public services, as defined in section 23-1101 of the code, might be used by such persons if services in a language spoken by such persons were available, and collect information therefrom to be shared with the relevant agencies.

4. To make recommendations to city agencies on specific programs for which the providing of language access services in languages not already required pursuant to section 23-1102 of the code may be beneficial.

5. Beginning no later than June 30, 2018, and no later than every June 30 thereafter, submit to the city council and post on the city website a report providing information regarding each agency subject to the requirements of section 23-1102, including:

(i) the name of the individual designated as the agency's language access coordinator, including all titles held by such individual;

(ii) the agency's language access implementation plan, to be updated every three years unless such implementation plan has been updated by such agency since it was last reported;

(iii) information regarding how members of the public may submit language access complaints, questions and requests to the agency;

(iv) data on complaints and requests received pursuant to section 23-301 of the code and a description of how such complaints and requests were addressed;

(v) a copy of the list of designated citywide languages, created pursuant to section 23-1101 of the code, as well as the data relied upon for its creation;

(vi) information regarding the outreach conducted pursuant to paragraph 3 of this subdivision;
and

[2.] 6. To provide technical assistance to such city agencies in meeting the requirements of section 23-1102 of the code [developing appropriate plans and programs to: (i) deliver their services in languages other than English, (ii) translate written materials into such languages, and (iii) educate the public about such agency plans and programs].

[3. In conjunction with a committee of agency representatives, to develop testing materials to evaluate the ability of city employees to deliver services in languages other than English; to develop materials to be used in the training of such employees; and, either on its own or in cooperation with the appropriate agencies, to provide such training.

4.] 7. To monitor and report on the performance of city agencies in delivering services in languages other than English, including but not limited to compliance with signage requirements, the availability of interpretation services, the familiarity of frontline workers with language access policy and reviews of translated documents for accuracy and availability.

[5.] 8. To maintain in a central place which is accessible to the public a library of written materials published by city agencies in such languages.

9. To establish, in furtherance of the purposes of this subdivision and of chapter 11 of the code, additional standards and criteria for city agencies that provide language access services.

§ 4. Subdivision b of section 18 of the New York city charter, as added at a General Election held on November 6, 2001, is amended to read as follows:

b. In furtherance of the policies stated in subdivision a of this section, there shall be established in the executive office of the mayor an office of immigrant affairs. The office shall be headed by a director, who shall be appointed by the mayor. The director of the office of immigrant affairs shall have the power and the duty to:

2. enhance the accessibility of city services to immigrants and [foreign language] speakers of languages other than English by establishing programs to inform and educate immigrants and [foreign language] speakers of languages other than English of such services;

[3. manage a citywide list of translators and interpreters to facilitate communication between city agencies and foreign language speakers;]

[4.] 3. perform policy analysis and make recommendations concerning immigrant affairs; and

[5.] 4. perform such other duties and functions as may be appropriate to pursue the policies set forth in subdivision a of this section.

§ 5. Section 23-301 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

§ 23-301 Tracking information provided. a. 311 customer service center call takers shall provide the caller with a unique identifier for such call taker at the beginning of every call and a tracking number for every call that results in a request for service or complaint being filed with a city agency.

§ 6. By May 15, 2017, the office of the language services coordinator shall make a preliminary assessment, based on the best available data, of the ten limited English proficiency languages likely to be the designated citywide languages when section 2 of this local law takes effect, and report the results of that preliminary assessment to the speaker and the mayor.

§ 7. This local law takes effect on July 1, 2017, except that section 6 shall take effect immediately.

The Council finds that the present status of the Project Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the City of New York and that a designation of the Project as an urban development action area project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council approves the designation of the Project Area as an urban development action area pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law.

The Project shall be developed in a manner consistent with the Project Summary submitted by HPD on February 1, 2017, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

- e) “HDC” shall mean New York City Housing Development Corporation.
 - f) “HDFC” shall mean HP MJM Housing Development Fund Company, Inc.
 - g) “HPD” shall mean the Department of Housing Preservation and Development of the City of New York.

Nicholas Colleran ran through a stop sign, killing Ms. DiBiaso, and took off. He turned himself in the next day and was later sentenced up to four years in state prison. As a result of her death, conversations soon began about traffic safety around the Astoria Park area and the Department of Transportation drafted a plan using community input that was given at a public workshop in fall 2015 in the aftermath of Ms. DiBiaso's death. Shore Boulevard, which runs along the Astoria Park waterfront was given traffic safety measures including a conversion into a one-way street with no reduction in parking, the installation of a protected bike lane on the roadway that is away from the path of pedestrians and ADA accessible curb extensions. She taught at Harvard Law School and New York Law School and lived most recently in Washington.

Section 11. Easter Rising Way

Introduced by Council Member Crowley

This co-naming will commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the Easter Rising against Britain's rule over Ireland. On April 24, 1916, the Irish Republican Brotherhood, a secret organization of Irish nationalists, launched an armed uprising against British rule referred to as the Easter Rebellion. Assisted by militant Irish socialists, the groups rioted and attacked British provincial government headquarters across Dublin and seized the Irish capital's General Post Office. They proclaimed the independence of Ireland, which had been under the repressive thumb of the United Kingdom for centuries, and by the next morning were in control of much of the city. Later that day, however, British authorities launched a counteroffensive, and by April 29 the uprising had ended. The Easter Rebellion is considered a significant marker on the road to establishing an independent Irish republic.

Forest Park currently includes several memorials in recognition of veterans who have served in WWI, WWII and Vietnam. Additionally, the Park contains a 9/11 memorial near the bandstand in recognition of all those who lost their lives in the attacks. The United States of America offered refuge and she arrived in New York City with only $5 in her pocket. She lived in a room on 172nd Street and performed odd jobs until 1966 when she earned enough money to move uptown to 184th Street. Her youngest daughter was born with Down Syndrome and she did not institutionalize her as was suggested at that time, instead she opened her home to other needy kids and raised them all together. She provided "Safe Haven" prior to our "Safe Haven Laws" for the children of the homeless, street workers, the mentally ill, and the drug addicted and she raised over 100 children. The children would be dropped off by their parents and no questions were asked with the exception of the child's name and birthdate. She was known as "Mami Flor" because she was everybody's mother. Maria gave them unconditional love and every child that entered her home was fed, taken to school and given a place to sleep, if needed. She took it upon herself to keep or make their respective doctor's appointments, ensure each child received religious instruction and see that each child attended mass on Sundays. Many of the children she cared for received their First Holy Communion and Confirmation because of her. She often took children sight-seeing and on summer vacations allowing many to experience places they would not otherwise, giving them memories to cherish forever. Most importantly, she made sure each child was cared for and loved unconditionally as if they were her very own. A memory often shared is that all the children would line up in the kitchen with their personal plate (all plates and cups were marked with their names in marker) to be served their food. They would all receive .50 cents every Sunday for church offerings. Report of the Committee on Public Safety

Report for Int. No. 834-B

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the use of all-terrain vehicles, including dirt bikes.

The Committee on Public Safety, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on June 26, 2015 (Minutes, page 2676), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On February 14, 2017, the Committee on Public Safety, chaired by Vanessa L. Gibson, will vote on Proposed Introduction 834B (“Prop. Int. 834B”), in relation to the use of all-terrain vehicles, including dirt bikes. The Committee previously held a hearing on this bill on September 15, 2016. At that time, the Committee heard testimony on the bill from the New York Police Department (“NYPD”), and other interested groups and members of the public.

II. ALL TERRAIN VEHICLES IN NEW YORK CITY

All-terrain vehicles (“ATVs”) are motorized vehicles designed primarily for use on trails or in off-road competitions.¹ The New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law sets forth a general structure for regulation of

ATVs, including generally prohibiting the use of ATV's on city streets.² Specifically, the law restricts the use of ATVs on streets, providing that they may only be operated on highways if they are: 1) making a direct crossing where there are no obstructions and the operator yields to oncoming traffic, or 2) using a highway designated as open for ATV travel in accordance with State law.³ ATV use is also restricted on public lands that have not been designated for such use, private property, and on certain farms.⁴

However, the State law prohibiting ATV use on city streets is frequently disregarded in New York City. ATVs continue to be used illegally and have been involved in a number of collisions, most notably in the Bronx. In May 2014, a man was killed after maneuvering his ATV around an SUV.⁵ Later that year, another man was killed in the borough in an ATV crash.⁶ In the summer of 2013, the Bronx District Attorney handled more than 200 cases involving ATVs and dirt bikes, with charges including reckless driving.⁷ Harlem has also seen problems with illegal ATV use. Between January and September 2013, a Central Harlem police precinct seized more than 1,400 ATVs, dirt bikes, and motorcycles.⁸

Though the Council recently prohibited "stunt behavior" by motorists, such as wheelies, donuts, burnouts, and revving, this prohibition does not cover ATVs.⁹ Some feel that increasing penalties for ATV usage, and allowing for forfeiture of the vehicles, will work to curb ATV usage in New York City.

III. ANALYSIS OF PROP INT. NO. 834B

Section 1 of the bill adds a new administrative code section 19-196 that would prohibit the use of all ATVs, including dirt bikes, in New York City. Those found to be illegally operating an ATV or dirt bike would be liable for a fine and/or a civil penalty of not more than 500 dollars for the first offense and not more than 1,000 dollars for subsequent offenses. Section 2 of the bill state that the local law takes effect 30 days from its enactment.

IV. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 834

Int. 834 has been amended since this Committee first heard it. The bill originally did not specify the prohibition on the use of dirt bikes on city streets. In addition, the original bill included a forfeiture provision allowing the NYPD to forfeit an ATV. Finally, the effective date was amended from 120 days after the bill's enactment to 30 days, and the title number was amended from title 10 to title 19.

Report for Int. No. 1308-A

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to limiting the application of temporary orders obtained pursuant to the nuisance abatement law.

The Committee on Public Safety, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on October 27, 2016 (Minutes, page 3553), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On Tuesday, February 14, 2017, the Committee on Public Safety, chaired by Council Member Vanessa Gibson, will vote on 13 bills, as referenced above, regarding the Nuisance Abatement Law (“NAL”).¹ The NAL provides a legal framework that permits the City to, among other remedies, shut down residential and commercial establishments that are “nuisances” as defined in the law. The Committee previously heard these bills on November 2, 2016. At that time, the Committee heard testimony on these bills from the New York City Police Department (“NYPD”), Queens Legal Services, The Legal Aid Society, Bronx Defenders, Brooklyn Defender Services, Neighborhood Defender Service of Harlem, the New York Civil Liberties Union, and members of the public.

II. BACKGROUND

A. History of the Nuisance Abatement Law

The Council passed the NAL in 1977, which established a streamlined legal process for evictions and related civil actions for apartments and houses used for the following illicit purposes: prostitution, promotion of “obscenity,” violations of the building code, unlicensed businesses, environmental violations, zoning violations, violations of the alcoholic beverage control law, and similar activities.² The original law was targeted mainly at “houses of prostitution” in Times Square and other purveyors of “obscene” materials.³ This law also included the use of drugs as a “nuisance,” but restricted NAL actions to those cases in which there were at least five “violations” of various drug laws, including misdemeanors and non-criminal offenses, within one year.⁴

The NAL has been amended and expanded since 1977. In 1983, the legislature amended the law and added marijuana to the subdivision that addresses drug usages and added a subdivision related to stolen property and automobiles aimed at “shops where stolen vehicles are stripped.”⁶ In 2006, a subdivision related to commercial establishments, such as nightclubs, in which alcohol is sold and security guards are employed

Note also that the non-codified legislative intent section of Local Law 55 of 1977 listed targeting obscenity and prostitution as the primary drivers of the law, and listed drugs only secondarily.

was added to the law⁷ A year later in 2007, the law added locations in which fake identifications are created.⁸ Most recently, in 2015, the Council amended NAL to add locations in which synthetic cannabinoids or synthetic phenethylamine, also known as “K2” are sold.⁹ The NAL was also amended to “clarify that one and two-family homes are included within the scope of the definition of public nuisance”¹⁰ in 1983, and to reduce the number of drug-related violations that constitute a nuisance from five to three violations in 1993.¹¹

B. Legal Structure of the Nuisance Abatement Law

All NAL actions must include an application for permanent relief, but the law also allows for an application for interlocutory relief, meaning that a court may order the eviction or the closing of premises while a NAL case is pending.¹² An application for such relief may also include an application for a temporary order.¹³ A temporary order is a form of interlocutory relief that requires the plaintiff to prove the existence of a nuisance by “clear and convincing evidence,” and may be granted ex parte, meaning on application of the plaintiff only without notice to the defendant.¹⁴ When ex parte orders are granted, defendants are typically notified of their eviction or of the closure of premises when the order to evict or close is served upon them.¹⁵ In this overlapping structure, any requirement for an application for permanent injunction applies to an application for a preliminary injunction, and any requirement for an application for a preliminary injunction applies to an application for a temporary order.

Under the NAL, only the New York City Law Department (“Law Department”) may bring a NAL action. However, according to information provided to the Council by the Law Department and NYPD, the NYPD and Law Department have entered into an agreement whereby the Law Department has, in essence, delegated their authority to the NYPD to file NAL cases. The Law Department, however, continues to review all such cases.

C. Usage of the NAL

Though the NAL was enacted largely to address issues pertinent to businesses in Times Square at that time, the NYPD has used the law increasingly in the residential context. Information provided to the Council by the NYPD for the years 2013 to 2015 indicate the Department brought 2,609 NAL actions, with a high of 920 actions in one year and 801 in another year.¹⁶ Of those cases, 44.5% of such cases were filed ex parte in a residential context. Furthermore, while the law was originally targeted at obscenity and other similar quality of life concerns, the NYPD has used the law in the residential context almost exclusively for drug-related offenses: 86.5% of the residential NAL cases between 2013 and 2015 were for drug-related offenses.¹⁷ That number has greatly reduced in the past months. The NYPD testified that between January 1 through October 1, 2016, the Department brought 307 NAL actions. Almost two-thirds of those actions (about 200) were against commercial establishments, and 107 were against residential establishments.¹⁸ Recently, the Department reformed its use of ex parte proceedings,¹⁹ and is seeking closing orders less frequently and tailoring their requests in residential order to only exclude the individual or individuals arrested in the premises.²⁰

According to information provided to the Council by the Law Department, the NYPD, legal advocates, and obtained through news reports,²¹ virtually all NAL cases are settled. Many of the respondents in the residential context do not have attorneys, so they negotiate with the NYPD or Law Department attorneys directly.²²

III. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1308-A

This bill would limit the application of temporary orders, as described in Section II(B), supra, which are typically granted ex parte. Temporary closing orders, which permit the shuttering of locations, would be permitted only for nuisances involving prostitution, certain violations of the building code, and problematic commercial locations in which there is a “significant risk of imminent physical harm” to the public. Temporary restraining orders would be permitted in these circumstances as well, and would also be permitted for public nuisances for commercial locations that sell alcohol without a license or which have a license to sell liquor and violate the State’s Alcoholic Beverage Control Law.

The NAL would retain interlocutory relief in the form of “preliminary injunctions” but these injunctions could be granted only after notice was provided to the defendant. The bill would also require that preliminary injunctions be granted only where the “public health, safety, and welfare immediately requires the granting” of the injunction. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

IV. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1308

Intro 1308 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The original version of this bill eliminated temporary orders entirely, whereas the current version of the bill allows such orders in limited conditions described supra.

V. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1315-A

According to news reports, NAL actions are often filed while actions addressing the same conduct proceed in other venues such as the State Liquor Authority (“SLA”),²³ Housing Court,²⁴ and other administrative proceedings.²⁵ These concurrent adjudications can mean that defendants in some NAL cases are punished multiple times for the same conduct. According to advocates, this often occurs when there are concurrent NAL actions brought under the “Bawdy House” law, which are cases brought in the Housing Court courtrooms of the New York City Civil Court.²⁶ According to information provided to the Council by District Attorney’s offices, “Bawdy House” cases are typically instigated by District Attorney’s offices to address nuisances similar to, if not identical with, those that form the basis of NAL actions. The State “Bawdy House” laws define nuisances similarly to the NAL.²⁷ According to information provided to the Council by both District Attorney’s offices and advocates, settlements reached in “Bawdy House” cases are typically similar if not identical to those obtained in NAL actions.

This bill would require dismissal of an NAL action if there were any similar legal proceeding in either tribunals of the New York City Housing Authority (“NYCHA”) or any New York City Civil Court, including “Bawdy House” actions. However, because the City may have a unique interest from the plaintiffs in NYCHA or “Bawdy House” cases, the bill would permit a similar NAL action to proceed if the City could establish a “unique and compelling interest” in the NAL action.

The bill would address duplicate fines being imposed on businesses who violate State rules on alcoholic beverages by requiring courts to consider whether fines imposed pursuant to the NAL would pose an “excess burden” on the defendant. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

VI. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1315

Intro 1315 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The exception to the section requiring dismissal of duplicative NAL actions where the City can establish a “unique and compelling interest” in the NAL action was added. Also, the original version of this bill required dismissal of NAL actions in which there were similar proceedings before the State Liquor Authority, whereas the current version of the bill requires fines imposed by that Authority to be taken into consideration when determining what remedies are necessary to abate an alcohol-related nuisance.

VII. ANALYSIS OF PROP INT. NO. 1317-A

As noted in Section II(A), supra, the NAL originally defined a drug-related nuisance as five drug-related incidents within one year, but was amended in 1993 to reduce this requirement to three such instances within one year.²⁸ Also, the NAL originally did not include marijuana-related offenses in its definition of drug-related incidents, but such offenses were added to this definition in 1983.²⁹

This bill would remove from this definition any misdemeanor related to marijuana as well as the misdemeanor possession of a controlled substance. Drug-related felonies would remain part of this definition, as would offenses involving synthetic cannabinoids or synthetic phenethylamine, also known as “K2.” This bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

VIII. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1317

Intro 1317 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The bill originally increased the number of incidents of drug-related activity required to establish a nuisance from three to four such incidents, while the current version of the bill does not affect the number of incidents so required.

IX. ANALYSIS OF PROP INT. NO. 1318-A

News reports indicate that due to the lag time between when nuisances occur and when NAL papers are filed, in many instances, the NYPD pursues NAL actions against locations that had already been shut down or where the offending tenants have moved out.³⁰ These reports cite NYPD sources indicating that there are “no rules in place mandating that they check for ongoing illegal activity.”³¹ There has been at least one lawsuit filed by a family temporarily evicted from their apartment by a NAL order who had moved into the apartment months after the previous tenants, who had been arrested for drug dealing, had moved out.³²

This bill would require the Law Department to “verify the ongoing occupancy of those persons alleged to have caused or permitted” nuisances within 15 days filing a nuisance abatement action. It would take effect 60 days after it became law.

X. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1318

Intro 1318 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The original version of the bill required verification of the “ongoing nature” of a nuisance rather than the “ongoing occupancy” of those causing a nuisance. The original version of the bill also required such verification prior to the enforcement of an order, rather than prior to the filing of an action.

XI. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1320-A

News reports have documented instances in which drug-related NAL actions were filed despite the fact that laboratory reports made on the alleged drugs underlying such actions came back negative for any controlled substances, and such laboratory reports had been filed in criminal court months prior to the NAL action.³³ This bill would require that laboratory reports be filed in any drug-related NAL action. It would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XII. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1320

Intro 1320 has been not been substantively amended since it was first heard by this Committee.

XIII. ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 1321-A

According to information provided by the NYPD to the Council, in many drug-related NAL actions, the NYPD relies on confidential informants to provide information regarding the location of drug sales, then executes a search warrant on that location prior to filing any NAL action. This bill requires that for any drug-related NAL action, one drug-related incident must be based on information supported by the observations of a police or peace officers – whether through the enforcement of a search warrant or otherwise. It would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XIV. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1321

Intro 1321 has been not been substantively amended since it was first heard by this Committee.

XV. ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 1323-A

The NAL currently places no limit on the time period within which any order issued may expire. This bill would prohibit permanent injunctions barring persons from any property, instead limiting such relief to one year, or up to three years if there is “clear and convincing evidence that unique circumstances exist” justifying a lengthier period of exclusion. It would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XVI. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1323

Intro 1323 has been not been substantively amended since it was first heard by this Committee.

XVII. ANALYSIS OF INT. NO. 1326

Sections 10-155 and 10-156 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York are commonly referred to as the “Padlock Law.”³⁴ The NYPD has indicated both to the Council and publicly that they have not utilized the Padlock Law in at least 15 years.³⁵ The history of the law indicates that it was intended to address similar issues as the NAL; in fact, the “legislative intent” section of Local Law 5 of 1989 indicates that the bill was “enacted to authorize the police commissioner to sanction and penalize public nuisances.” Unlike the NAL, the Padlock Law permits the NYPD to shutter a home or business without any judicial review.³⁶ The Council is concerned that decisions of this import should involve judicial scrutiny, and that the NAL should be the sole vehicle for addressing nuisance concerns. Therefore, this bill repeals the Padlock law in its entirety. The bill would take effect immediately.

XVIII. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1327-A

This bill requires the comprehensive reporting on the NYPD's use of the NAL, including the rate of the use of interlocutory relief, the relationship between NAL actions and 311 or 911 calls, and the rate of NAL actions by precinct. Also, because other agencies and governmental entities can request that the Law Department bring NAL actions, the bill requires the Law Department to issue a similar report on the wider use of the NAL. The bill would take effect immediately, reports on NAL would be due every 6 months, and the first report would be due January 31, 2018.

IXX. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1327

Intro 1327 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The original version of the bill included certain reporting requirements that have been eliminated, including reporting on the number of instances in which the NYPD withdraws a NAL case after being denied a temporary order, reporting on the time gap between which a temporary order is issued and it is executed, the number of NAL actions filed while concurrent proceedings in New York City Civil Court are ongoing, and a map of New York City indicating the location of NAL actions. The Law Department's reporting requirements have also been modified, and now only include basic reporting on the use of nuisances by agency and type of nuisance, and the use of temporary orders. Finally, the first report is now due on January 31, 2018, instead of January 1, 2017.

XX. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1333-A

The NAL currently has no blanket statute of limitations, and while certain types of nuisances such as drug-related offenses and prostitution effectively have a one year time limit, other nuisances have no such limit. This bill would require that any NAL action must pertain to a nuisance that allegedly occurred within four months of the filing of an NAL action. According to information provided to the Council by the Administration, of the 15 forms of nuisance currently defined in the NAL, those related to obscenity, air pollution, and noise control are rarely if ever used. This bill would repeal these types of nuisances, and eliminate references to these nuisances throughout the nuisance abatement law. The bill would also update the definition of a nuisance in subdivision (d) of section 7-703, which currently refers to laws that no longer exist. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XXI. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1333

Intro 1333 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. A separate statute of limitations for drug cases has been eliminated, subdivision (d) referring to building code violations has been updated to refer to newer versions of the building code, and cross-references to certain types of nuisances that will be repealed have been deleted. Finally, the bill has been clarified to state that types of nuisances that require multiple instances to establish a nuisance require all such instances to have occurred within the previous year, but that the most recent of such instances must have occurred within the past four months.

XXII. ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 1338-A

News reports have indicated that despite a State law prohibiting such usage, the NYPD has filed NAL actions including sealed criminal records as evidence.³⁷ This bill would require the Law Department to verify that sealed records are not used in NAL actions.

The NAL currently requires only that service of legal papers on defendants be performed "as provided in the civil practice law and rules."³⁸ The State's Civil Practice Law and Rules contains multiple methods of service, including personal service by mail.³⁹ This bill would require that any residents of property subject to a NAL action be provided with personal service of NAL papers, or by service of a type ordered by a judge. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XXIII. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1338

Intro 1338 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The bill originally mandated that personal service was the only form of service permissible, the bill now requires personal service or service in a form ordered by a judge, allowing flexibility in service processes where appropriate.

XXIV. ANALYSIS OF PROP. INT. NO. 1339-A

News reports have indicated that some individuals and businesses have been the subject of NAL actions despite having had no knowledge of the nuisance activity occurring within their residence or business.⁴⁰ This bill would prohibit any NAL order from closing a business or depriving an individual of property rights if such person or business owner was unaware of the nuisance activity and had no reason to be so aware.

Also, to ensure that NAL orders do not needlessly punish persons or businesses beyond what is required to abate a nuisance, this bill would require judges to review and sign all NAL dispositions, and directs that the purpose of any disposition is to abate a specific nuisance and not to inflict punitive damages or more generally deter bad behavior. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XXV. AMENDMENTS TO PROP. INT. NO. 1339

Intro 1339 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. The bill now requires NAL dispositions to be reviewed by a judge. The original version of the bill required that orders or dispositions impose relief that is the “least restrictive remedy,” whereas the current version of the bill states that orders or dispositions must be designed to deter a specific nuisance and not more generally deter bad behavior. The current version of the bill also clarifies that a lack of physical proximity to a nuisance is not sufficient to establish that a person did not know or have reason to know about a nuisance

XXVI. ANALYSIS OF PROP INT. NO. 1344-A

While the NAL currently requires three instances of a sale of drugs to constitute a nuisance, it does not require any more than one instance of the violation of the State’s Alcoholic Beverage Control Law to so constitute. This bill would require four such instances to constitute a nuisance, unless the violation was against a location that did not have a license to sell alcohol.

This bill also addresses an issue raised in news reports that some NAL enforcement regarding the sale of alcohol to minors is based on incidents of minimal violations of this law, instead of targeting establishments with a pattern of frequent and flagrant behavior.⁴¹ This bill would require that NAL actions for the violation of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Law be based on incidents so clear that any reasonable person would have been aware of this violation. The bill would also require that any closure of a business that has a license to sell beer and wine, but not a license to sell liquor, be based on “willful and flagrant” violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control law. The bill would take effect 60 days after it became law.

XXVII. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1344

Intro 1344 has been amended since it was first heard by this Committee. A reference to subdivision (n) of the definition of public nuisance, regarding establishments that sell alcohol and employ licensed security guards, has been eliminated. The bill now requires four instances of violating the Alcoholic Beverage Control law only for those establishments that have a license to sell alcohol, while the original version of the bill required four such instances for any location. The original version of the bill required “willful and flagrant” violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control law to close any establishment, while the current version of the bill only applies this standard to those establishments with a license to sell beer and wine but not those with a license to sell liquor.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1308-A COMMITTEE: Public Safety

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to limiting the application of temporary orders obtained pursuant to the nuisance abatement law

SPONSORS: The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito), Council Member Johnson, the Public Advocate (Ms. James), Salamanca, Gibson, and Chin

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. 1308-A would limit the application of temporary orders pursuant to the Nuisance Abatement Law, which permits the shuttering of locations without notice to the defendant. These types of orders would be permitted only for nuisances involving prostitution, certain violations of the building code, and problematic commercial locations in which there is a “significant risk of imminent physical harm” to the public. Temporary restraining orders, which do not permit the shuttering of a location but which do permit court orders without notice to the defendant, would be permitted in these circumstances as well. These orders would also be permitted for public nuisances for commercial locations that sell alcohol without a license or which have a license to sell liquor and violate the State’s Alcoholic Beverage Control Law.

The Nuisance Abatement Law would retain interlocutory relief in the form of “preliminary injunctions” but these injunctions could be granted only after notice was provided to the defendant. The bill would also require that preliminary injunctions be granted only where the “public health, safety, and welfare immediately requires the granting” of the injunction.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 60 days after it becomes law.

Int. No. 1308-A

By The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) and Council Members Johnson, the Public Advocate (Ms. James), Salamanca, Gibson, Chin, Menchaca and Levin.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to limiting the application of temporary orders obtained pursuant to the nuisance abatement law

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision (a) of section 7-707 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

(a) Generally. Pending an action for a permanent injunction as provided for in section 7-706 of this subchapter, the court may grant a preliminary injunction enjoining a public nuisance within the scope of this subchapter and the person or persons conducting, maintaining or permitting the public nuisance from further conducting, maintaining or permitting the public nuisance, where the public health, safety or welfare immediately requires the granting of such injunction. An order granting a preliminary injunction shall direct a trial of the issues within three business days after joinder of issue or, if issue has already been joined, within three business days after the entry of the order. Where a preliminary injunction has been granted, the court shall render a decision with respect to a permanent injunction within three business days after the conclusion of the trial. A temporary closing order may be granted pending a hearing for a preliminary injunction where it appears by clear and convincing evidence that a public nuisance within the scope of this subchapter is being conducted, maintained or permitted and that the public health, safety or welfare immediately requires the granting of a temporary closing order. A temporary restraining order may be granted pending a hearing for a preliminary injunction where it appears by clear and convincing evidence that a public nuisance within the scope of this subchapter is being conducted, maintained or permitted.

§ 2. Subdivision (a) of section 7-709 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

(a) Generally. If, on a motion for a preliminary injunction pursuant to section 7-707 [of this subchapter] alleging a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (a) or (d) of section 7-703, or a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (e) of section 7-703 in a building, erection or place used for commercial purposes in which there is a significant risk of imminent physical harm to a natural person or persons, the corporation counsel shall show by clear and convincing evidence that [a] such public nuisance [within the scope of this subchapter] is being conducted, maintained or permitted and that the public health, safety or welfare immediately requires a temporary closing order, a temporary order closing such part of the building, erection or place wherein [the] such public nuisance is being conducted, maintained or permitted may be granted without notice, pending order of the court granting or refusing the preliminary injunction and until further order of the court. Upon granting a temporary closing order, the court shall direct the holding of a hearing for the preliminary injunction at the earliest possible time but in no event later than three business days from the granting of such order; a decision on the motion for a preliminary injunction shall be rendered by the court within three business days after the conclusion of the hearing.

§ 3. Subdivision (a) of section 7-710 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

(a) Generally. If, on a motion for a preliminary injunction pursuant to section 7-707 [of this subchapter] alleging a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (a), (d), or (k) of section 7-703, or a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (e) of section 7-703 in a building, erection or place used for commercial purposes in which there is a significant risk of imminent physical harm to a natural person or persons, or a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (h) of section 7-703 in a building, erection or place operating without a license or with a license permitting the sale of liquor under the alcoholic beverage control law, the corporation counsel shall show by clear and convincing evidence that [a] such public nuisance [within the scope of this subchapter] is being conducted, maintained or permitted and that the public health, safety or welfare immediately requires a temporary restraining order, such temporary restraining order may be granted without notice restraining the defendants and all persons from removing or in any manner interfering with the furniture, fixtures and movable property used in conducting, maintaining or permitting [the] such public nuisance and from further conducting, maintaining or permitting [the] such public nuisance, pending order of the court granting or refusing the preliminary injunction and until further order of the court. Upon granting a temporary restraining order, the court shall direct the holding of a hearing for the preliminary injunction at the earliest possible time but in no event later than three business days from the granting of such order; a decision on the motion for a preliminary injunction shall be rendered by the court within three business days after the conclusion of the hearing.

§ 4. This local law takes effect 60 days after it becomes law.

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to resolving conflicts between the nuisance abatement law and related proceedings and fines for public nuisances involving alcohol. SPONSORS: Council Members Garodnick, The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito), Salamanca and Gibson

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. 1315-A would permit the dismissal of a nuisance abatement action if there were any similar legal proceeding in New York city civil court or by the New York City Housing Authority, with some limited exceptions. This legislation would also address duplicate fines imposed on businesses that violate State rules on alcoholic beverages by requiring courts to consider whether fines imposed pursuant to the nuisance abatement law would pose an excess burden on the defendant.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 60 days after Proposed Int. No. 1323-A becomes law.

Int. No. 1315-A

By Council Members Garodnick, The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito), Salamanca, Gibson, Menchaca and Levin.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to resolving conflicts between the nuisance abatement law and related proceedings and fines for public nuisances involving alcohol

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 4 of chapter 7 of title 7 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, is amended to add two new sections 7-728 and 7-729 to read as follows:

§ 7-728 Conflicting proceedings. Any action for a permanent injunction brought under this chapter against a natural person shall be dismissed if legal proceedings based on the same or substantially similar factual allegations have been conducted or are being conducted in New York city civil court or by the New York city housing authority, unless the city has a unique and compelling interest that is substantially different from that of the plaintiff in the other legal proceeding. Such interest shall not include the speed with which such case could be resolved. For the purposes of this section, the term “substantially similar factual allegations” shall not be construed to include conduct or actions that occurred subsequent to the allegations included in the relevant legal proceedings conducted in New York city civil court or by the New York city housing authority.

§ 7-729 Duplicate fines for public nuisances involving alcohol. To the extent practicable, fines imposed or expected to be imposed by the state liquor authority shall be taken into consideration in evaluating whether a disposition reached in an action brought under this chapter poses an excess burden on the defendant, pursuant to section 7-724.

§ 2. This local law takes effect on the same date that a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, takes effect.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. 1327-A would require comprehensive reporting on the New York Police Department's (NYPD) use of the nuisance abatement law, including the rate of the use of interlocutory relief, the relationship between nuisance abatement actions and 311 or 911 calls, and the rate of these actions by precinct. A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to amending the definition of public nuisances and establishing timeliness requirements under the nuisance abatement law, and to repeal certain provisions of the nuisance abatement law defining public nuisances and provisions relating thereto

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision d of section 7-703 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

(d) Any building, erection or place, other than a one- or two-family dwelling classified in occupancy group J-3 pursuant to section 27-237 of [this] the code or in occupancy group R-3 pursuant to section 310.1.3 of the New York city building code, which is in violation of [article five of subchapter two of chapter one of title twenty-six or of] any of the following provisions of the code: article [three,] four[, six, ten, twenty-two or twenty-four] of subchapter one of chapter one of title [twenty-seven of this code] 27; article 102, 105, 108, or 118 of chapter 1 of title 28; article 210 of chapter 2 of title 28; article 301 or 302 of chapter 3 of title 28; or section 28-207.2. A conviction, as defined in subdivision thirteen of section 1.20 of the criminal procedure law, of persons for offenses, as defined in subdivision one of section 10.00 of the penal law, in violation of the aforesaid provisions of this code in the building, erection or place[, including one- or two-family dwellings,] within the period of one-year preceding the commencement of an action under this chapter, shall be presumptive evidence that the building, erection or place[, including one- or two-family dwellings,] is a public nuisance;

§ 2. Section 7-706 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subdivision (i) to read as follows:

(i) Timeliness. An action for permanent injunction must be commenced within four months of the most recent act that forms a basis for such action. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to preclude acts that occurred outside of the time ranges established for the timely commencement of the action from being included as a separate cause of action, submitted into evidence, or used in consideration of damages or civil penalties.

§ 3. Subdivisions (b), (c), (i), and (j) of section 7-703, subdivision b of section 7-704 and subchapter 3 of chapter 7 of title 7 of the administrative code of the city of New York are REPEALED.

§ 4. Section 7-701 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

§ 7-701 Legislative declaration. The council of the city of New York finds that public nuisances exist in the city [of New York in the operation of certain commercial establishments and the use or alteration of property] in flagrant violation of the building code, zoning resolution, health laws, multiple dwelling law, penal laws regulating [obscenity,] prostitution and related conduct, licensing laws, [environmental laws,] laws relating to the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, laws relating to gambling, controlled substances and dangerous drugs and penal laws relating to the possession of stolen property, all of which interfere with [the interest of the public in] the quality of life [and total community environment, the tone of commerce in the city], property values and the public health, safety, and welfare; the council further finds that the continued occurrence of such activities and violations is detrimental to the health, safety, and welfare of the people of the city [of New York] and of the businesses thereof and visitors thereto. It is the purpose of the council to create one standardized procedure for securing legal and equitable remedies relating to the subject matter encompassed by this law, without prejudice to the use of procedures available under existing and subsequently enacted laws, and to strengthen existing laws on the subject.

§ 5. Subdivision (a) of section 7-704 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 8 for the year 2007, is amended to read as follows:

(a) The corporation counsel shall bring and maintain a civil proceeding in the name of the city in the supreme court of the county in which the building, erection or place is located to permanently enjoin the public

The owner, lessor and lessee of a building, erection or place wherein the public nuisance as being conducted, maintained or permitted shall be made defendants in the action. The venue of such action shall be in the county where the public nuisance is being conducted, maintained or permitted. The existence of an adequate remedy at law shall not prevent the granting of temporary or permanent relief pursuant to this subchapter.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to restricting certain orders and dispositions pursuant to the nuisance abatement law

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 4 of chapter 7 of title 7 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, is amended to add four new sections 7-724, 7-725, 7-726 and 7-727 to read as follows:

§ 7-724 Judicial review. The purpose of a disposition reached pursuant to an action brought under this chapter shall be to deter the public nuisance alleged in the action from recurring either at the building, erection or place cited in the action or at any other location under the legal control of a defendant named in the action, and not to deter generally such nuisance from occurring elsewhere. A disposition reached pursuant to an action brought under this chapter shall not be final unless it is so ordered by the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a disposition from including terms or conditions routinely included in stipulations or orders resolving civil litigation.

§ 7-725 Business owner awareness. No disposition reached or order issued pursuant to an action brought under this chapter shall permit the closure of any business where the owner or proprietor of such business was not aware of, should not have been aware of, and had no reason or duty to be aware of the public nuisance addressed by such disposition or order. An owner or proprietor's physical absence from a business shall not alone establish that such owner or proprietor was not aware of, should not have been aware of, and had no reason or duty to be aware of such public nuisance.

§ 7-726 Property rights and awareness. No disposition reached or order issued pursuant to an action brought under this chapter shall deprive any natural person of any property right to which such person is otherwise entitled where such person was not aware of, should not have been aware of, and had no reason or duty to be aware of the public nuisance addressed by such disposition or order. A person's physical absence from a building, erection or place in which such nuisance has occurred shall not alone establish that such person was not aware of, should not have been aware of, and had no reason or duty to be aware of such public nuisance.

§ 7-727 Limitations on applicability. Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to relieve an owner of a building from responsibilities pursuant to section 28-301.1 of chapter 3 of title 28 of the code.

§ 2. This local law takes effect on the same date that a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, takes effect.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to amending the nuisance abatement law regarding alcoholic beverages

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision (h) of section 7-703 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

(h) Any building, erection or place, including one- or two-family dwellings, [used for any] wherein, within the period of one year prior to the commencement of an action brought under this chapter, there have occurred at least four instances of the unlawful activities described in section [one hundred twenty-three] 123 of the alcoholic beverage control law, where a reasonable person would or should have been aware that such unlawful activity was occurring. The physical absence of a person from such building, erection or place shall not alone establish that such person would or should not have been aware that such unlawful activity was occurring. Notwithstanding the foregoing, only one instance of such unlawful activity shall be required if the building, erection or place was not licensed as required by the alcohol beverage control law;

§ 2. Subchapter 4 of chapter 7 of title 7 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, is amended by adding a new section 7-730 to read as follows:

§ 7-730 Willful and flagrant alcohol-related violations. No disposition reached or order issued pursuant to an action brought under this chapter solely in relation to a public nuisance as defined in subdivision (h) of section 7-703 may require the closure of any business that has a license to sell beer and wine but does not have a license to sell liquor unless the corporation counsel can demonstrate through clear and convincing evidence a willful and flagrant violation of the alcohol beverage control law.

§ 3. This local law takes effect 60 days after it becomes law, except that section two takes effect on the same date that a local law for the year 2017 amending the administrative code of the city of New York relating to limiting exclusions of natural persons pursuant to the nuisance abatement law, as proposed in introduction number 1323-A, takes effect.

Report for Int. No. 1240-A

Report of the Committee on Technology in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the dissemination of electronic emergency notifications

The Committee on Technology, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 16, 2016 (Minutes, page 2758), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 13, 2017, the Committee on Technology, chaired by Council Member James Vacca, will hold a hearing to consider Proposed Int. No. 1240-A, in relation to the dissemination of electronic emergency notifications. The Committee previously held a hearing on this bill on October 6, 2016 and received testimony from the Department of Information Technology & Telecommunications (DoITT) and Emergency Management (OEM).

I. BACKGROUND

Notify NYC

Notify NYC is the City's official source for information about emergency events and important City services.¹ It began as a pilot program in December 2007 and expanded citywide in May 2009. It now operates out of OEM, with staff located in the OEM Watch Command and support from DoITT.²

² 'About Notify NYC,' found at: <https://a858-nycnotify.nyc.gov/notifynyc/About.aspx>

Registration is not required to view notifications, as they can be seen directly on the Notify NYC website, the Notify NYC twitter account (@NotifyNYC), or through an RSS feed reader. Those who wish to receive notifications directly, or to receive targeted notifications, can register to receive such notifications by SMS/text, telephone call, or e-mail. According to the website, users can opt-in and register (via the website or by calling 311) for one or more of several notification types:

- Emergency Alerts: Messages about life-threatening events that may require immediate action. This may include tornado alerts, mandatory evacuations and missing person alerts (if the missing person is deemed to be in imminent danger). All registrants are automatically added to this list.
- Significant Event Notifications: The most commonly issued message type. Important information about major incidents like large fires, structural collapses or severe weather, utility outages, major transit disruptions, and other types of high-impact events.
- Public Health Notifications: information about important public health issues in the registrant's community. This may include NYS Department of Environmental Conservation Air Quality Health Advisories or Department of Health and Mental Hygiene mosquito spraying.
- Public School Closing/Delay Advisories: Updates about unscheduled public school closings, delays and early dismissals. This can be school-specific if users know the address or cross street(s) for the relevant schools.
- Unscheduled Parking Rules Suspensions: Updates about unscheduled suspensions of citywide parking rules.⁴
- Major Mass Transit Disruptions: Planned or unplanned disruptions to regular NYC or regional mass transit. Incident severity is determined by OEM and only those causing significant transit delays would trigger notifications.
- Major Traffic Disruptions: Planned or unplanned arterial roadway closures, causing significant traffic delays on significant delays would trigger notifications.⁵
- Waterbody Advisories: Combined Sewer Overflow events that caused untreated wastewater to be released into waterways within the prior 24 hours.⁶

There are also two alerts listed on the website that are not yet present on the registration page:

- Missing Senior Notifications: Issued for missing seniors (over 65 years of age) that may not have known cognitive impairments and do not meet the requirements for a silver alert.
- Missing Child/College Student: When a missing child under the age of 21 or a college student of any age is deemed to be endangered, but the case does not meet AMBER Alert activation criteria.

In FY 2016, OEM issued 1,505 Notify NYC messages to subscribers, an eight percent increase from the previous fiscal year.⁷ The average time elapsed between incident occurrence and Notify NYC message was six minutes, compared to eight minutes in the previous year, which is lower than their stated target of seven minutes.⁸ There were over 400,000 Notify NYC subscribers⁹ and 263,000 followers of the Notify NYC Twitter account as of October 3, 2016.¹⁰

¹⁰ Notify NYC Twitter, found at: <https://twitter.com/notifynyc>

Regarding accessibility, sign language videos are available for some notifications, but the only language option currently available is English. In a survey on the website, OEM has a question meant to gauge interest in expanding to other languages.¹¹

Wireless Emergency Alerts (WEA)

This is a federal alert communication system, but NYC OEM was the first alert originator to adopt the WEA service.¹² WEAs are text-like messages, accompanied by loud sounds, issued by local, state and/or federal officials for significant emergencies in a given area. By federal rule, they are limited to 90 characters.¹³ They are broadcast from cellphone towers near an emergency and are received on all cell phones equipped to receive them. These alerts are not necessarily sent by Notify NYC and so even non-subscribers will receive them. Examples include severe weather alerts issued by the National Weather Service, AMBER Alerts issued by state law enforcement officials or Presidential alerts during a national emergency.¹⁴ Although all capable cellphones are automatically included in the program, individuals can opt-out of receiving WEA messages for imminent threats and AMBER alerts, but not for Presidential messages, by adjusting settings on their mobile devices.¹⁵

A recent example of a WEA release was on September 19, 2016 when the Chelsea bombing suspect was at large and residents received an alert with his name. This is believed to be the first time a WEA has been used as an “electronic wanted poster.”¹⁶ The suspect was found 3 hours later.¹⁷

While these alerts may often be important, or even vital, some controversy has arisen when they are issued in the middle of the night, for geographically distant events or for missing persons, waking up thousands of people and thus making them far more likely to turn off the emergency alert feature on their mobile devices. This has been particularly discussed in relation to missing person alerts.¹⁸ Another such middle of the night alert occurred in New Jersey on February 24, 2015, and it caused the words “Amber Alert” to trend on Twitter in the New York area, often as part of a complaint.¹⁹ In at least one instance, however, a WEA AMBER alert was credited with locating an abducted child—an 8-month-old boy in Minnesota.²⁰

II. BACKGROUND ON PROPOSED INT. NO. 1240-A

According to 2013 Census data, almost a quarter of New York City residents speak English “less than very well.” However, Notify NYC and WEA notifications are provided in English, and they are not automatically translated into any other language. Although some Notify NYC messages include an option for users to click a separate hyperlink to find translations, the entire message is written in English, so non-English speakers may not be aware of the translation option.

The City’s Digital Playbook, an outline of how the City intends for residents to experience City services, includes strategies to provide these diverse communities with notifications for important, potentially life-

III. PROPOSED INT. NO. 1240-A

Proposed Int. No. 1240-A would require any city office or agency that sends WEAs to issue them in the two most commonly spoken languages within the area covered by the WEA.. It would also require OEM to issue Notify NYC notifications in at least seven of the most commonly spoken languages in the City. This Local Law would take effect two years after it becomes law.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Int. No. 1240-A would require any city agency that sends Wireless Emergency Alerts to issue them in the two most commonly spoken languages spoken in New York City as determined by the Commissioner of the New York City Office of Emergency Management (“NYCEM”) in consultation with the Department of City Planning (“DCP”), unless exigency or federal rule prohibits such issuance.

This law would also require NYCEM to issue Notify NYC notifications in at least seven of the most commonly spoken languages, as determined by the NYCEM Commissioner in consultation with DCP, provided that this requirement shall not delay or prohibit the immediate issuance of notifications in any individual language.

Net	$689,187	$652,687	$652,687

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on revenues as a result of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that the enactment of this legislation would impact expenditures at NYCEM in the amount of $689,187 in Fiscal 2019 and $652,687 in the outyears. The Council estimates that requiring NYCEM to translate Notify NYC messages in at least the seven of the most commonly spoke languages would require at least six personnel and additional other than personal services (“OTPS”) costs to fulfill the requirements of the legislation. The additional six personnel are estimated to annually cost $589,662 in personal services (“PS”) costs and $99,525 in OTPS costs. However, it is expected that OTPS costs would decrease in the outyear to $63,025. This estimated PS cost includes annual salaries and fringe benefits. This PS cost estimate includes the Fiscal 2017 civilian fringe rate of 41 percent. Proposed Intro. No. 1240-A would require any city agency that sends Wireless Messaging Alerts to issue them in the two most common languages, it is conceivable that other city agencies, such as the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications (“DoITT”) may need additional resources in the future to comply with this legislation.

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 30 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 30-115 to read as follows:

§ 30-115 Emergency notifications. a. Any emergency alert originated by a city office or city agency that is issued through a commercial mobile service alert system established pursuant to section 1201 of title 47 of the United States code shall, to the extent practicable and to the extent permissible under regulations enacted pursuant to such section, be issued in no fewer than the two most commonly spoken languages within the area covered by the emergency alert as determined by the commissioner in consultation with the department of city planning, provided that this subdivision does not require the issuance of an emergency alert in a language if exigent circumstances prohibit the issuance of an alert in such language.

b. Any emergency notification system operated and controlled by the office of emergency management for the purposes of aggregating information obtained from other offices or agencies to inform the public about emergencies or disruptive events through e-mail, text, phone, social media platform, or internet-based feed shall offer each notification in no fewer than the seven most commonly spoken languages within the city as determined by the commissioner in consultation with the department of city planning, provided that this requirement shall not delay or prohibit the immediate issuance of notifications in any individual language. Report of the Committee on Transportation

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to fines and civil penalties for failure to remove abandoned poles.

The Committee on Transportation, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on October 29, 2015 (Minutes, page 3888), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 13, 2017, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member Ydanis Rodriguez, held a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 975-A, a Local Law in relation to fines and civil penalties for failure to remove abandoned poles. This was the second hearing on this item. The first hearing was held on January 26, 2017 at which the Committee heard testimony from the New York City Department of Transportation (“DOT”) and other interested stakeholders.

BACKGROUND

When a utility company needs to replace a utility pole or moves upgraded services to another pole, they may leave the original pole in place, leading to the presence of “double” or “twin” poles.¹ City law requires old pole to be removed “forthwith” unless the owner demonstrates to DOT that there is “sufficient cause” for an extension; however, some poles are left in place due to the cost of removal and a lack of coordination between the multiple entities that may use the poles.² In addition to being an unsightly presence in local communities, abandoned poles can pose safety concerns if they are not removed in a reasonable period of time and become structurally unsound.³

If the person or company owning or managing the double pole does not remove it, the City will do so at their expense.⁴ Currently, the penalty for violation is a fine of $250 to $500 and/or imprisonment of up to 10 days.⁵ Int. No. 975-A would raise the fine for failure to remove a utility pole when required to $350 to $750 and provide that a person in violation may also be subject to civil penalties of $100 per day that they are in violation of the Code.

ANALYSIS OF INT. NO. 975-A

Section one of Int. No. 975-A would amend subdivision b of section 24-411 of the Administrative Code to remove references to the Commissioner of Design and Construction, clarifying that DOT is responsible for removing poles, wires, or appurtenances that have become disused, abandoned, dangerous, or unsafe when the owner fails to do so.

Section two of Int. No. 975-A would amend subdivision c of section 24-411 of the Administrative Code to increase the penalties for any person convicted of violations for the failure to remove abandoned poles such as telegraph, telephone and electric light poles, wires or conductors. Subdivision c would be amended to raise the fine for failure to remove a utility pole when required from a range of $250-$500 to $350-$750 and provide that a person in violation may also be subject to civil penalties of $100 per day that they are in violation of the Code.

Section three provides that Int. No. 975-A would take effect in 120 days.

At this point, the Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) announced that the following items had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for voice-vote item Res. No. 1373

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a Resolution authorizing the Speaker to file or join amicus briefs on behalf of the Council in litigation challenging any of President Donald Trump's executive orders and actions relating to immigration.

The Committee on Finance, to which the annexed preconsidered resolution was referred on February 15, 2017, respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On February 15th, 2017, the Committee on Finance, Chaired by Council Member Julissa Ferreras-Copeland, held a hearing and vote on Resolution No. 1373-2017 authorizing the Speaker to file or join amicus briefs on behalf of the Council in litigation challenging President Donald Trump's executive orders relating to border security, immigration enforcement, and foreign-born individuals seeking entry into the United States.

On February 15, 2017, the Committee on Finance approved the resolution by a vote of seven in the affirmative and one in the negative. The Council is set to vote on the resolution at February 15, 2017 Stated Meeting.

II. BACKGROUND

On January 25th and 27th, 2017 President Donald J. Trump signed three executive orders relating to immigration. In the days immediately following the orders, there were multiple legal challenges filed nationally.

a. Border Security and Immigration Enforcement Improvements

Signed by President Donald Trump on January 25th, 2017, this executive order calls for, among other things, the construction of a wall along the United States-Mexico border, as well as additional detention facilities. Further, the executive order calls for the detention of individuals while they are in removal proceedings, as well as the elimination of policies intended to allow individuals to pursue asylum and other forms of immigration relief outside of immigration detention. The executive order also calls for an additional 5,000 Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) officers.

b. Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States²

Signed by President Donald Trump on January 25th, 2017, this executive order calls for, among other things, the reinstatement of the Secure Communities enforcement program; which results in a significant expansion of immigrants deemed priorities or removal. The executive order also calls for increased immigration enforcement efforts and an additional 10,000 Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents. Further, the executive order directs the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to explore and implement federal funding cuts for “sanctuary jurisdictions.”³

c. Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States⁴

Signed by President Donald Trump on January 27th, 2017, this executive order calls for, among other things, a 90-day period during which entry into the United States will be denied to any national of Iran, Iraq, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, and Yemen. The order also leaves open the possibility of adding additional countries to the list as recommended by DHS. Initially, DHS stated that green card holders and non-U.S. dual citizens from these countries who were outside the United States when the executive order was signed were also barred from re-entering the country.⁵ DHS later rescinded that interpretation, allowing lawful permanent residents and non-U.S. dual citizens from these countries to enter the United States.⁶

Additionally, the executive order asserts that new “extreme vetting” processes will be used in all future immigration programs; suspends the refugee resettlement program for a period of 120 days for extensive review; suspends the entry of Syrian refugees indefinitely; reduces the number of refugees that will be admitted in fiscal year 2017 from President Obama’s commitment of 110,000 to a mere 50,000; and suspends the Visa Interview Waiver Program.

III. LEGAL CHALLENGES TO THE EXECUTIVE ORDERS

Of the three executive orders, the majority of lawsuits filed challenge the executive order “Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States.” There is, however, also a challenge to the executive order “Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States” filed by the City and County of San Francisco.

a. Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

In immediate response and opposition to this executive order, the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) filed an emergency motion for stay of removal on January 27, 2017 in a federal district court in Brooklyn, New York.⁷ The same night, a federal judge in Boston, Massachusetts issued a week-long restraining order against the executive order⁸ and a federal judge in Alexandria, Virginia did the same.⁹

On January 30, 2017, the state of Washington brought a lawsuit against the executive order, challenging the constitutionality of key provisions and seeking a temporary suspension against its enforcement.¹⁰ Minnesota joined the lawsuit shortly thereafter.¹¹ On February 3, 2017, a Seattle federal judge issued a nationwide restraining order that blocked the implementation of travel ban provisions of the executive order.¹²

³ There is no legal definition of a sanctuary city or jurisdiction. Generally, the term “sanctuary” is used in reference to cities that in any way limit their cooperation with immigration enforcement efforts.

Accordingly, DHS suspended its enforcement of the ban.¹³ On February 6, 2017 the Department of Justice (DOJ) filed a brief with the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals challenging the temporary restraining order.¹⁴ On February 9th, 2017, the three judge federal appeals panel unanimously rejected the government's arguments and upheld the temporary restraining order.¹⁵ At current count, the Ban faces approximately 20 additional lawsuits filed in federal courts across the country, some are class action suits while others seek relief for specific individuals.¹⁶

b. Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States

On January 31st, 2017, the City and County of San Francisco filed a lawsuit in federal district court, challenging the provisions of this executive order that relate to federal funding cuts for sanctuary cities and the underlying federal statute.¹⁷ The executive order describes sanctuary jurisdictions as those that willfully limit the exchange of information regarding citizenship or immigration status between government entities and federal immigration authorities, pursuant to federal law.¹⁸ San Francisco argues that the federal law barring cities from prohibiting or restricting their employees from exchanging information regarding immigration status with ICE and the Executive Order violate the 10th Amendment by unconstitutionally commandeering the governments of states and cities. San Francisco's position is that its policies relating to immigration enforcement do not violate any existing federal law.¹⁹

IV. CONCLUSION

This resolution would authorize the Speaker to file or join amicus briefs on behalf of the Council in litigation challenging President Donald Trump's executive orders, specifically, those issued on January 25th and 27th, 2017, which relate to border security, immigration enforcement, and foreign-born individuals seeking entry into the United States.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

INTRODUCTION AND READING OF BILLS

Preconsidered Res. No. 1373

Resolution authorizing the Speaker to file or join amicus briefs on behalf of the Council in litigation challenging any of President Donald Trump’s executive orders and actions relating to immigration.

By the Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) and Council Member Kallos.

Whereas, New York City is home to more than three million immigrants; and

Whereas, Approximately 60 percent of New Yorkers are immigrants or the children of immigrants; and

Whereas, New York City has, and will continue to be, a city that embraces diversity and promotes equality and respect for all of its inhabitants; and

Whereas, President Trump has issued three executive orders relating to border security, immigration enforcement, and foreign-born individuals seeking entry into the United States; and

Whereas, The executive order titled “Border Security and Immigration Enforcement Improvements,” calls for the construction of a wall along the United States-Mexico border, an increase in the number of Customs and Border Patrol officers, the creation of additional detention facilities, and eliminates the use of policies allowing individuals to pursue asylum and other forms of immigration relief outside of immigration detention; and

Whereas, The executive order titled “Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States” calls for a return to the Secure Communities immigration enforcement program, an increase in the number of Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents, a significant expansion of enforcement priorities, and for federal funding cuts for “sanctuary cities” that limit cooperation with immigration enforcement authorities; and

Whereas, The executive order titled, “Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry Into the United States,” calls for an immediate halt to refugee admissions for 120 days, a significant reduction in the number of refugees to be admitted in Fiscal Year 2017, a complete and indefinite end to Syrian refugee resettlement, and a 90-day ban of the entry into the United States by nationals of Iran, Iraq, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, and Yemen; and

Whereas, In response to the executive order restricting the entry of refugees and certain nationals, dozens of lawsuits were filed challenging its validity, many claiming that the order violates the due process and equal protection clauses of the United States Constitution, and one of which resulted in a nationwide stay of the order; and

Whereas, The City of San Francisco filed a lawsuit challenging the executive order instituting new immigration enforcement policies in the interior of the United States and threatening to defund sanctuary cities; and

Whereas, Other lawsuits are sure to arise as federal authorities begin to implement the directives contained within these executive orders; and

Whereas, The New York City Council will continue protect the rights of immigrants through local laws that ensure federal authorities comply with the rule of law and by filing or joining amicus brief that support the Council's positions; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York authorizes the Speaker to file or join amicus briefs on behalf of the Council in litigation challenging President Donald Trump's recent executive orders relating to border security, immigration enforcement, and foreign-born individuals seeking entry into the United States.

Adopted by the Council by voice-vote (preconsidered and approved by the Committee on Finance).

Res. No. 1374

Resolution establishing March 1 annually as Teen Mental Health Awareness Day in the City of New York.

By Council Member Cohen.

Whereas, The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) has estimated that 20 percent of young people between the ages of 13 and 18 live with a mental health condition and 50 percent of all lifetime cases of mental illness begin by the age of 14; and

Whereas, According to the ThriveNYC Mental Health Roadmap, 8 percent of public high school students in New York City report suicide attempts, and 73,000 report feeling sad or hopeless each month; and

Whereas, The Mental Health Roadmap also noted that 27 percent of New York City public high school students reported feeling sad or hopeless almost every day for two or more weeks and that only 18 percent of those students received help from a counselor; and

Whereas, Despite the prevalence of mental health issues among young people in New York City, not all of those who need treatment receive it; and

Whereas, The Mental Health Roadmap reported that while 26 percent of CUNY students suffer from significant anxiety, just 10 percent of CUNY students receive help from campus counseling or the health center; and

Whereas, Beyond the cost of unfulfilled human potential, mental illness also imposes a heavy financial burden; and

Whereas, In a 2015 report, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene found that New York City suffers $14 billion in annual productivity losses due to depression and substance misuse; and

Whereas, Reducing the stigma that surrounds mental health treatment has been one of the core objectives of ThriveNYC; and

Whereas, A 2008 study performed at the Annenberg Public Policy Center at the University of Pennsylvania found that providing teenagers and young adults with information about the effectiveness of depression treatment reduced the prevalence of preexisting negative stereotypes about the condition; and

Whereas, Additionally, years of research on the brain have shown that the prefrontal cortex is not fully developed in teenagers and young adults, thereby inhibiting their ability to make decisions, plan for the future, and regulate their emotions; and

Whereas, A teen mental health awareness day could start conversations across the city that destigmatize mental illness and encourage teenagers to seek the treatment and services they need; and

Whereas, In light of the pervasiveness of mental illnesses among young people, the current gaps in access to mental healthcare, and the inherent psychological vulnerabilities of adolescents and young people, mental health awareness deserves extensive engagement on the part of city government; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York establishes March 1 annually as Teen Mental Health Awareness Day in the City of New York

Referred to the Committee on Mental Health, Developmental Disability, Alcoholism, Substance Abuse and Disability Services.
