EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF THE INVESTIGATION INTO CERTAIN ALLEGED CHARGES AGAINST THE COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
NEW YORK, July 17, 1874.

In accordance with a request made by the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction in a resolution adopted on the 7th day of May last, to "make a full, thorough and complete investigation into the alleged charges implied in the presentment of the Grand Jury of the City of York, April 29, 1874, I proceeded without delay to comply with that request, and named the 20th day of May for that purpose, giving due notice to all parties who might throw light upon the subject, to appear and be present on the occasion, and accompanied by Jonathan Sturgis, Esq., whose high reputation and long experience in business eminently fitted him to share that duty with me, we commenced the investigation on that day, and I regret that the absence of Mr. Sturgis from the city prevented his being present during the remainder of the sessions.

I deemed it due to the high character of the Board and to the gentlemen who compose it, in whom I had every reason to place the greatest confidence, to appoint as early a day as possible in order to give them an opportunity to refute the reflections and insinuations indicated in the presentment of the Grand Jury. It is true that no direct charge was made in that document against any individual, and its terms were so vague that the District Attorney did not find it expedient to take any action upon it. However, the vagueness and indefiniteness made it the more sweeping and general, and furnished the partisan press an opportunity to magnify the implications contained therein, and shake the confidence of the people in a number of public officers, whose appointment has always been a source of satisfaction to me.

The proceedings before the Grand Jury upon which the presentment was based, was carefully examined, and the action which seemed to furnish the ground for the charges contained therein turns upon a transaction of the Board in giving orders direct to one Louis Sternbach for the supply of a line of dry goods instead of effecting the purchase through the Supply Clerk; it is also charged that the Board paid a higher price for goods furnished by said Sternbach than could have been obtained anywhere else. This transaction seemed to justify the Grand Jury in asserting that since "the first of May, 1873, the dry goods bought by the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, have been purchased in a manner at once wasteful and extravagant, leading directly to corruption, and which in the interest of the reputation of the Commissioners, as well as of the City of New York, should be at once reformed."

Examining the evidence as given before the Grand Jury, in which a certain William P. Lampson, the former Supply Clerk, who was discharged by the Board for good and sufficient reasons, figured as the principal personage, I must confess that I failed to discover any substantial reason for the presentment subsequently made. There is certainly no wrong in the chief and only responsible officers of a public department in assuming the performance of the duty usually intrusted to a subordinate, if by so doing the interests of such department are served thereby. The Supply Clerk is but a subordinate officer, a mere employee, charged with the performance of a certain branch of work, and the Commissioners themselves are ultimately responsible for the proper discharge of that portion of the work. They may think him best capable of attending to one branch of the business, and unfit for another. The Commissioners perform their duty best by examining and attending personally, if possible, to the details and routine of business, and no suspicion need be attached to their actions because they judge it best in the interest of the public to attend to certain labors themselves instead of leaving them altogether to subordinates.

The appointment of Commissioners was conferred upon gentlemen whose position in the community is one of acknowledged rectitude, of capacity and willingness to undergo the arduous and responsible labors connected with their several offices. Should this trust be forfeited upon the simple charge of a subordinate, after his discharge from office? Yet solely upon such a charge was the presentment of the Grand Jury based, as far as I could ascertain, from the written proceedings before them.

The investigation at which an opportunity was given to all parties to be heard, convinced me that not the slightest foundation existed for the implications indicated.

It appears that one of the Commissioners, soon after the assumption of office by the new Board, found that the prices paid for dry goods by the Department were higher than necessary, and many of them entirely unsuited for the purpose for which they were purchased. The Board found that almost the entire supply of dry goods was obtained from one firm. According to the extracts produced from the official records of the Department, and sworn to by the storekeeper, John E. Flager, and on close examination by the Commissioners of Accounts, the amount expended for dry goods, from May, 1872, to May, 1873, was $62,933.45, of which amount one firm furnished over $47,000, and from January to July, 1873, that same house alone furnished all the supplies of dry goods, with the exception of a few bills of comparatively trifling amount. The Commissioners considered it suspicious, and justly so, that all the goods were obtained from one house, indicating that the Supply Clerk simply delivered to that house his requisitions, or that he received a commission on the purchases which he made.

The first step taken by the Board to improve this condition of things was to adopt a resolution offered by Commissioner Stern, on the 30th of May, 1873, which reads as follows:

"Resolved, That all supplies for this Department amounting in value to five thousand dollars ($5,000) and upwards per annum shall be advertised in the CITY RECORD, in the usual manner, for sealed proposals, which proposals shall be opened before the Board of Commissioners at such time as the advertisement states."

It was found, however, that such a course was not practicable, as the law required that certain forms of a complicated nature should be complied with, and first-class business houses would very seldom, if at all, go to the necessary trouble, and the result proved that the bids received were at higher prices than the goods could be bought for in the open market.

It appears that Louis Sternbach, a dealer in dry goods, was informed, among others, that if he furnished samples of goods of the quality required, and his prices compared favorably with those of other houses, he might get an order from the Department. He furnished such samples, and the prices proved much lower than those offered to the Department for goods of a similar quality.

Thomas K. Fletcher testifies that he has been in the dry goods business in this city for over 20 years, and that he happened to come to the office of the Commissioners on some private business. Several samples of cloths, flannels and other dry-goods were lying on the table. The Commissioners took the opportunity to ask his judgment as an expert. His opinion was that the sample of flannel furnished by Louis Sternbach, and for which he charged 45c. per yard, was worth 15c. or 16c. a yard more than a sample furnished by another house, the price of which was 55c. a yard, and the price asked for the cloth offered by Mr. Sternbach was decidedly cheaper than any other samples submitted to the Commissioners by other houses.

It appears, then, that Louis Sternbach offered the goods required at the cheapest price, and he received an order from the Board for them. It was a plain business transaction, above board, and one by which a saving was effected to the Department.

When, subsequently, the Supply Clerk Lampson was discharged for dereliction of duty, he took the trouble to ascertain the price at which Sternbach bought the goods, and found that the latter made a profit of ten cents a yard on the cloth. The Board endeavored to obtain goods at the lowest possible price, and it certainly could not enter into an investigation of the original cost which the merchant who furnished the goods paid for them; the price was much lower than that previously paid for goods of a similar kind, and the goods proved, according to the testimony of the various officials, satisfactory throughout. I can see nothing blameworthy in that transaction, nothing that would give rise to suspicion, though it furnished the basis for the presentment of the Grand Jury. The evidence given before us established, beyond a doubt, the fact that the new Board appointed by me has proceeded with great intelligence, economy and circumspection in the administration of the Department; and that the purchase of dry goods, the subject inquired into, has been conducted with considerable care and sagacity.

From the statement received from the Commissioners of Accounts, there seems to have been expended by the Department for dry goods, from May, 1872, to May, 1873, $62,933.45, while the sum expended from May, 1873, to May, 1874, was only $49,864.90, a saving of over thirteen thousand dollars; and at this reduced expenditure over 3,000 more garments were furnished than the year previous, while the average number of people exceeded by nearly 1,200 that of the previous year; this is certainly no evidence of extravagance or wastefulness. The investigation has convinced me fully that the administration of the Department of Public Charities and Correction is in the best hands; that it is conducted honestly, conscientiously, and in the interests of the public, and that I have full cause to repose the highest confidence in the gentlemen composing the Board. Lest, however, in the present unsettled, feverish and deluded condition of the public mind, in expressing my opinion of the presentment of the Grand Jury, when considered in connection with the investigation it elicited, I might be charged with taking a more favorable view of the case than the facts warranted, I submitted all the testimony taken before me, together with the presentment of the Grand Jury, the evidence taken before them, the report of the Commissioners of Accounts on the questions involved, to Messrs. Wm. A. Booth and Howard Potter for examination and report, which, having received, I hereto append.

W. F. HAVEMEYER,
Mayor.

NEW YORK, July 15, 1874.

Hon. WM. F. HAVEMEYER,

Mayor:

At your request we have carefully examined the papers received from you, in relation to charges against Messrs. Laimbeer and Stern, Commissioners of Charities and Correction, including the testimony taken by the Grand Jury, and that taken by you, with the statement of the Commissioners of Accounts, and see nothing in them to justify the imputations to which they have been subjected, nor inconsistent with an honest purpose to do the public faithful service in a difficult and responsible position.

Yours truly,
(Signed) WILLIAM A. BOOTH,
HOWARD POTTER.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
NEW COUNTY COURT-HOUSE,

W. F. HAVEMEYER,

Mayor.

ANDREW H. GREEN,

Comptroller.

SAMUEL B. H. VANCE,

President of the Board of Aldermen.

JOHN WHEELER,

President of the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

Present—All the members, viz.:

William F. Havemeyer, the Mayor of the City of New York; Andrew H. Green, the Comptroller of the City of New York; Samuel B. H. Vance, the President of the Board of Aldermen; John Wheeler, the President of the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

The minutes of the meetings held July 8th and July 9th, 1874, were read and approved.

The Comptroller offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, The Comptroller has been called upon to provide means to carry on the public works of this city out of the proceeds of Bonds, upon the requisition of the following Departments, to wit:

For the Department of Public Works.

In 1872.....	$2,887,172 66
1873.....	4,306,108 79
1874, six months to June 30..	1,908,647 10
	$8,801,928 55

For the Department of Public Parks.

Stock issued in 1872.....	$1,447,272 30
" 1873.....	828,000 00
" 1874.....	450,000 00
	$2,725,272 30

For the Department of Docks.

Bonds issued in 1872.....	$1,000,000 00
" 1873.....	194,500 00
" 1874.....	559,500 00
	$1,754,000 00

And whereas, The Comptroller has been required by mandate of the Supreme Court, to raise moneys to pay the expenses of opening and acquiring title to boulevards, streets, parks, and avenues, as follows:

In 1873.....	$6,071,100 00
1874, to June 30.....	168,100 00
	$6,239,200 00

This amount includes paying for Riverside Park, Broadway widening, and the Boulevard, and for the extension of Madison avenue, of Lexington avenue, etc. The sum of $958,880.33 is yet to be raised during the present year. Most of these schemes having been commenced before the present Comptroller took office; and

Whereas, The issue of a large amount of Bonds has been required to pay alleged debts outstanding when the Comptroller took office, and a large amount of this class of debts are still outstanding unliquidated; and

Whereas, The revenues of the city have largely increased during the last three years, notwithstanding which the debt is increasing by reason of these immense calls for new works and for means to pay old and unliquidated debts; now therefore

Resolved, That it is the judgment of this Board that, as the laws now stand, no new work should be undertaken except when actually necessary, and the Common Council, the Corporation Council, the Department of Parks and the Department of Public Works, be requested not to commence or authorize any new works, or the opening of any new boulevards or avenues, except distinctly and clearly necessary, and not until the owners of property improved by the advances made by the city show a greater disposition to pay the assessments on the property benefited. It is not just that the property-owners in the lower part of the city should be taxed to pay for up-town improvements which are solely for the benefit of the owners of these lots.

Resolved, That the prosecution of the class of works under what are known as Boulevard laws by days' work, at an enormously exaggerated expense, with the doubt and uncertainty which exist as to the provisions of these laws, is prejudicial to the public interests and ought not to be continued, and this Board will require to know that the laws on this subject are clear and unmistakable, both as to the authority to do the work and as to their sufficiency to insure the collection of the assessments, before it will consent to authorize the further issue of Assessment Bonds for the continuance of this class of works, many of which are of no public utility, and most of which are a generation in advance of any public necessity.

Resolved, That instead of further prosecuting this class of improvements in the upper part of the city a generation in anticipation of the requirement, many of which are scarcely used at all, which are a continual source of expense for repairs, etc., and upon which at least fifteen millions of dollars ($15,000,000) have been expended in two years and a half, the public interests would be better served by devoting some attention to the repair and improvement of the streets in the lower part of the city, which are thronged with people, and which are a constant necessity for the movement of persons and property.

Resolved, That while this Board is in favor of the carrying on of public works which are essential to the growth, development and ornamentation of the city, it is at this time proper that such of the public moneys as are expended should be devoted especially to the improvement of the dock property, by which commercial facilities will be enlarged and from which an immediate and remunerative revenue will be derived, and to putting in order the thoroughfares in the lower part of the city which are now so much in want of repair.

Which was laid over.

The President of the Board of Aldermen offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That in pursuance of the authority conferred upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment by provisions of section 112 of chapter 335, Laws of 1873, the Comptroller be and he is hereby authorized to issue from time to time, as may be required, and at such rates of interest and as he may determine, not exceeding seven per cent. per annum, "New York Bridge Bonds," authorized by chapter 399, section 12, Laws of 1867 (amended by chapter 26, Laws of 1869), and ordinance of the Common Council, adopted December 31, 1868, being the tenth installment as per requisition of the New York Bridge Company, dated June 12, 1874, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00).

Which was laid over.

The Comptroller offered for adoption the following resolution:

Resolved, That in pursuance of the authority conferred upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment by the provisions of section 112 of chapter 335, of the Laws of 1873, the Comptroller be and he is hereby authorized to issue from time to time, as may be required, Stock of the County of New York, not exceeding forty-two thousand dollars ($42,000), as provided by Chapter 565, Laws of 1865, in the name of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, under chapter 304, of the Laws of 1874, payable at such time or times as the Comptroller shall determine, not exceeding five years, said stock to bear interest not exceeding seven per cent. per annum, the proceeds to be applied in payment of land taken in matter of laying out a Road or Public Drive, from One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street northwardly. Said stock shall be redeemed out of the proceeds of collections of assessments levied for said Road or Public Drive.

The Chairman put the question whether the Board would agree with said resolution.

Which was decided in the affirmative by the following vote:

Affirmative—The Mayor of the City of New York (Chairman), the Comptroller of the City of New York, the President of the Board of Aldermen, and the President of the Department of Taxes and Assessments—4.

The President of the Department of Taxes and Assessments moved to suspend the operation of the rule adopted June 23, 1874, in order that the Board might act upon resolutions in relation to the issue of "N. Whereas, Section 3 of chapter 756 of the Laws of 1873 provides for the issue of bonds to meet and pay certain bonds when they become due and payable, as follows, to wit:

"If at any time hereafter the amount in the treasury of the City of New York, derived from collections of assessments, shall be insufficient to meet and pay, when they become due and payable, any bonds issued by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, for expenditures incurred in public improvements, payable in whole or in part from assessments, then it shall be lawful for the Comptroller, and he is hereby authorized, to issue like bonds for an amount sufficient to pay, and from the proceeds thereof to pay the bonds so falling due, as aforesaid;" therefore

Resolved, That the Comptroller be, and he is hereby authorized to issue in pursuance of law, from time to time, in such amounts as may be required, and at such rates of interest as he may determine, not exceeding seven per cent. per annum, "Department of Parks Improvement Bonds" to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars, payable within such period as he shall deem expedient, not exceeding five years, to pay from the proceeds thereof the "Department of Parks Improvement Bonds" falling due July 15, 1874.
