From the Commissioner

Kathryn Garcia

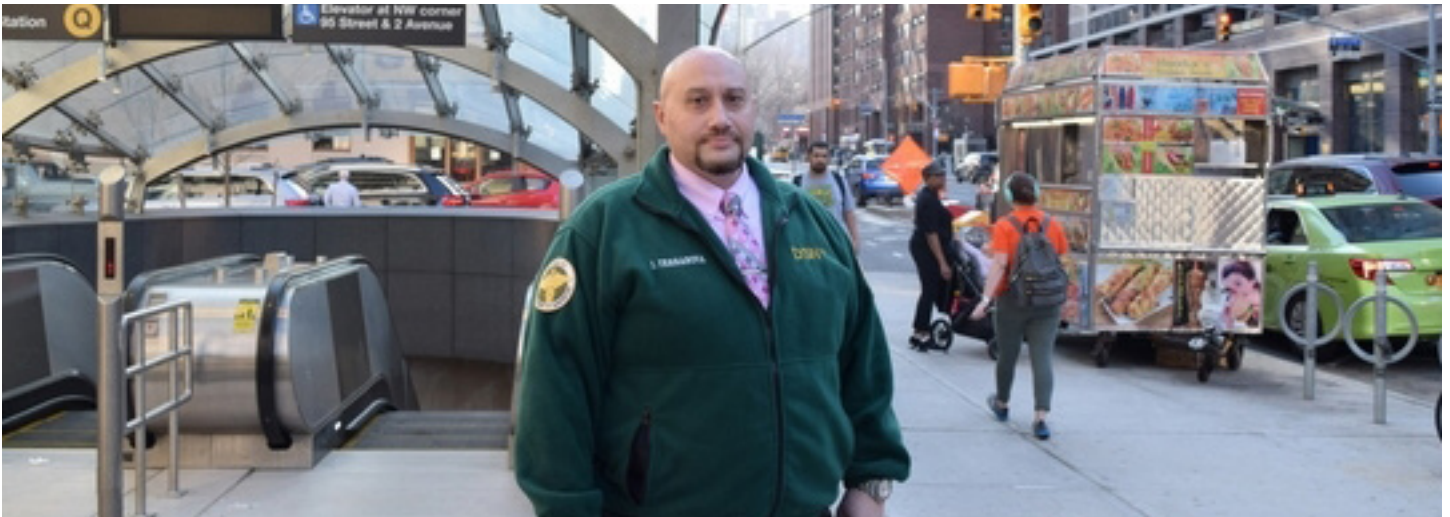

This seemingly endless winter offers plenty of reminders that the men and women of this Department are dedicated to what they do. Day in and day out, you do your part to keep New York City healthy, safe and clean. But the dedication of our employees goes well beyond our core mission.

Yesterday was World Autism Awareness Day, and DSNY once again joined Autism Speaks to "Light It Up Blue." For the month of April, 2,500 DSNY trucks and brooms will feature blue posters celebrating World Autism Month, which seeks to increase awareness about autism and bring understanding and respect to those living with autism spectrum disorder.

But our support for this important cause does not end there. Since 2013, our employees have raised hundreds of thousands of dollars to support Autism Speaks and their important work. This year, I know we will continue to surpass our previous fundraising achievements. I look forward to participating in many fun and meaningful events this month, and I hope you do too.

I am immensely proud of the continued dedication employees across this organization have shown to this important cause. To those of you who have children, siblings, friends and relatives affected by autism, we stand with you. To those who have done so much to help out, I thank you.

In the Spotlight!

Be Cautious in the Workplace

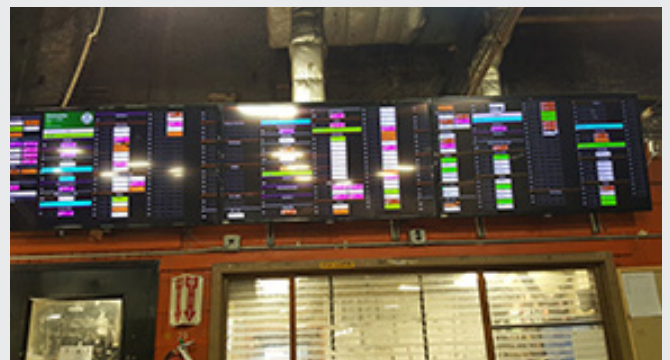

Think before you act, romantic relationships between supervisors and employees are strictly prohibited. This can lead to disruptions at work, low workplace morale and can evolve into a sexual harassment case. For more information, contact our OEDI office.

SAFE Disposal is Coming to Brooklyn

Drop off your harmful products, such as paint, medical waste or flammable items, at our SAFE disposal event at Prospect Park on Sunday, April 8th. Learn more or find an event near you here.

Staten Island Going Paperless

Staten Island 1 is the latest garage to say goodbye to paper. Our SMART boards are allowing us to go completely digital with our operations. Next up, Staten Island 3!

Take Care!

Over 700 sprains and strains were reported by our employees over the past year. Sprains and strains can be caused by excessive reaching, bending, lifting, gripping and/or twisting.

To minimize the chance of injury;

- practice safety measures to prevent falls
- always wear appropriate footwear and use extra caution on uneven or slippery surfaces
- always plan the lift. Consider the weight of the object, how far you have to carry it and your route of travel.
- always lift with your legs, not your back

For more information, call the Health Care Facility at 1-212-437-4457.

Moving Up

We are pleased to announce the appointment of Kisha Shrouder as the new DSNY Director of Human Resources. Kisha began her city service in 1997 and was a member of DSNY from 2000 to 2001. She returned to Sanitation in May of 2015 as the Deputy Director. Recently, she spearheaded Commissioner Garcia’s mandate to improve HR’s employee engagement and organizational development. Please congratulate Kisha in her new role.
