Overview

- ❖ As required by law, the Preliminary Budget maintains budget balance in FY 2012 and presents our plan for budget balance in FY 2013.
- ❖ The national economy continues its slow climb out of the deep recession, which began almost three years ago, which should help us over time.
- ❖ The European sovereign debt crisis in 2011 resulted in volatility in U.S. financial markets, hurting Wall Street profitability and thus our tax revenues.
- ❖ The ongoing economic uncertainty has limited growth in wage earnings and job creation, both nationally and locally.
- ❖ Although there are bright spots in the City's economy, including record levels of tourism and a stable real estate market, the tentative recovery underway is by no means assured.
- ❖ We will continue to monitor economic conditions going forward, and we are prepared to take all necessary steps to maintain budget balance, including additional gap closing actions by City Agencies. We face a gap of over $3 billion in FY 2014.

Overview (continued)

- ❖ The All Funds budget is forecast to be $70.3 billion in FY 2013, an increase of $1.1 billion, or 1.6%, over the FY 2012 all funds budget of $69.2 billion.
- ❖ The City funded budget is forecast to be $50.7 billion in FY 2013, an increase of $1.6 billion, or 3.2%, over the FY 2012 City funded budget of $49.1 billion.
 - Our Controllable Agency Expenses are forecast to decline by $437 million, or (1.9%), between FY 2012 and FY 2013.
 - Our Non-Controllable Expenses and Debt Service are forecast to increase by $2 billion, or 7.5%, between FY 2012 and FY 2013, accounting for all of the increase in City funded expenses and more.
- ❖ All Funds headcount has fallen from 311,804 in FY 2002 to 291,326 in FY 2013, a decrease of 20,478, or (6.6%), due to the Agency PEG Programs we have implemented over the last ten years.
- ❖ City funded headcount has fallen from 269,956 in FY 2002 to 251,909 in FY 2013, a decrease of 18,047, or (6.7%), due to the Agency PEG Programs we have implemented over the last ten years.
- ❖ We still face budget gaps in the out years of the Financial Plan, currently forecast at $3 billion in FY 2014, $3.5 billion in FY 2015, and $3.4 billion in FY 2016.

We Have Proposed a Preliminary Plan for Budget Balance Through the End of FY 2013

- ❖ We are continuing our Agency Programs to Eliminate the Gap previously announced in November, saving $470 million in FY 2012 and $1.02 billion in FY 2013.
- ❖ We have increased the revenue forecast slightly, by $111 million in FY 2012 and $278 million in FY 2013, largely based on year-to-date collections and the preliminary property tax roll for FY 2013.
- ❖ We now forecast spending $575 million in each of FY 2012 and FY 2013 for Changes in Pension Methods and Assumptions, based on new estimates from the City's Actuary. This will result in our spending $425 million less in FY 2012 and $425 million less in FY 2013 than we had reserved for this purpose.
- ❖ We are forecasting debt service will be lower by $81 million in FY 2012 and $99 million in FY 2013, largely due to lower than expected interest rates.
- ❖ $500 million of the City's reserve for accrued claims funded in prior years is no longer needed, and thus reduces our expenses.
- ❖ We appropriated a general operating reserve of $300 million at the beginning of FY 2012, which we are reducing by $200 million.
- ❖ We have re-estimated expenses for health insurance, resulting in a reduction of $44 million.
- ❖ Our latest forecast is that we have an increase of $122 million in other agency expenses.
- ❖ In total, these actions result in budget balance through the end of FY 2013.

III. Education

New York City Has Continued to Invest in Our Schools Over the Last 11 Years

NYC Has More than Doubled Its Spending on Education Since FY 2002

New York State Support for Education in New York City Has Fallen Further and Further Behind the City's Commitment

- ❖ In FY 2002, New York State and the City shared the non-federal cost of education equally
- ❖ In FY 2013, New York State's share is 39% while the City's share is 61%
- ❖ If the State had continued to share the cost of education equally with the City, spending on education would have cost local taxpayers $2.2 billion less in FY 2013

IV. Pensions

City Funded Pension Costs Have Increased by 499% from $1.3 Billion in FY 2002 to $8.0 Billion in FY 2013

The Average Annual Growth in City Funded Pension Costs FY 2002 - FY 2013 Is 18%

New York City Needs a New Pension Plan for New Employees. The City Endorses the Governor's Proposal as a New Tier 5 for All New York City Employees

- ❖ All new non-uniform employees will be required to work until age 65 to retire and receive a pension.
- ❖ All new employees will contribute 4%, 5%, or 6% of pay, the higher rates corresponding to higher salary levels.
- ❖ The City and new employees will share the additional cost/savings if pension contributions fall outside of a set range.
- ❖ New employees can elect a Defined Contribution plan that vests in one year, with a 4% employer contribution plus an employer match of up to an additional 3%. Defined Contribution plans are also portable, so employees who leave can take their savings with them. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, only 20% of private sector workers participate in Defined Benefit programs comparable to the City's pension system. The Governor's pension proposal would start to bring the public sector into line with what the private sector started a generation ago.
- ❖ Restrictions on including overtime and other items in the salary used to calculate pensions will reduce costs.
- ❖ If enacted, the Governor's pension proposal will save the City approximately $30 billion over the next 30 years.
