COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Real Estate, Northern Aqueduct, Section 2, Parcel 59.

In reference to opinion No. 199, which was laid over at the meeting of January 8, 1908, and to the right-of-way requested by Mr. Lowell M. Palmer over this parcel, Commissioner Chadwick submitted a report from the Examiner of Real Estate and Damages, dated January 9, 1908, recommending the adoption of the resolution the form of which was submitted with said opinion. Commissioner Chadwick stated that he approved the Examiner's recommendation, and also submitted a communication from the Chief Engineer, dated January 7, 1908, advising that there were no engineering reasons why the resolution should not be adopted, except that a stipulation should be made that neither the pipe line nor the railroad should be so constructed as to interfere with either the construction or maintenance of the aqueduct. Commissioner Chadwick recommended that the said form of resolution be changed by adding such a stipulation, and also stipulations providing for indemnity to the City and for the construction of the railroad and pipe line in a manner satisfactory to the City's proper representatives.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The City of New York has acquired a tract of land in the Town of Phillipstown, Putnam County, New York, for the purpose of constructing the Catskill Aqueduct and its appurtenances; and
Whereas, Among other parcels acquired is one designated on the map as Parcel 59, on or over which said parcel a right-of-way has been given to the present owner and his successors in title; and

Whereas, The owner is desirous that his rights in the parcel be specifically defined, and that he be granted the privilege of maintaining a four-foot water pipe beneath the surface, and to use the surface for a railroad; now therefore be it

Resolved, That Lowell M. Palmer and his successors in title shall have the perpetual right to use the right-of-way across Parcel 59 for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a railroad during the construction of the aqueduct and forever thereafter, and shall also have the right to lay and forever maintain an iron pipe or conduit four feet or less in diameter beneath the surface for the purpose of carrying water across said parcel; provided, however, and the said rights are hereby given on the expressed conditions,

1. That neither the said railroad nor said pipe line shall be so constructed or placed as to interfere with either the construction or maintenance of the Catskill Aqueduct;

2. That said Lowell M. Palmer and his successors in title shall indemnify and hold harmless The City of New York of and from all damages and claims of every nature and description arising out of or on account of the construction or maintenance of said railroad and said pipe line, or either of them, or any part thereof, as permitted by this resolution;

3. That said railroad and said pipe line shall be constructed and placed in all respects in accordance with the proper regulations of, under the supervision of and to the satisfaction of that Board or officer of The City of New York who shall be charged by law with the cognizance and control of the aqueduct;

Be it further

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be and hereby is authorized to introduce a certified copy of this resolution in evidence before the Commissioners of Appraisal, in order to decrease the claims for damages against the City.

Real Estate, Northern Aqueduct, Section 2, Parcel 53.

No. 200, January 8, 1908, transmitted contents of a communication from Mr. H. T. Dykman, Special Counsel, dated January 6, 1908, and form of resolution to be adopted by this Board in reference to fences at this parcel.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, In the acquisition of the necessary real estate for the Catskill Aqueduct in the County of Putnam, a certain tract of land was designated as Parcel 53, in which a temporary easement only was acquired; and

Whereas, This Board, at a meeting held September 5, 1907, passed a resolution providing for the amending of the petition so that a permanent easement should be taken in this parcel instead of a temporary easement; and

Whereas, Certain questions have arisen as to whether the permanent easement so acquired will be fenced; and

Whereas, It is necessary that the rights of the owner of this parcel as well as the City should be fixed and determined; therefore be it

Resolved, That no fences will be built on this parcel, a gate should be maintained in the fence on the east side of the highway where this parcel intersects the same and also a gate on the west line of the City's property near the south portal of the Cat Hill tunnel. On one side of this parcel permanently marked monuments will be placed, which will not interfere with the right of the owner to cross and recross the same.

Real Estate, Possession, Hill View Reservoir.

No. 201, January 8, 1908, transmitted contents of a communication from Mr. H. T. Dykman, Special Counsel, dated January 6, 1908, to the effect that to obtain possession of the land acquired for Hill View Reservoir would require the payment of about $250,000 in cash.

On motion, the Secretary was directed to write the Corporation Counsel, requesting him, in accordance with the understanding with his department, to arrange the necessary preliminaries and obtain the necessary funds, and advise this Board as to the payees to be named in the vouchers for the payment of 50 per cent. of the assessed valuation of each parcel.

Real Estate, Northern Aqueduct, Section 2, Parcel 57a.

No. 202, January 8, 1908, transmitted contents of a communication from Mr. H. T. Dykman, Special Counsel, dated January 6, 1908, advising that this Board take the necessary steps to acquire this parcel at private sale, as the expense of advertising would be three times the value of the property.

On motion, the Secretary was directed to ascertain the facts in regard to this matter and report the same to the Board.

No. 204, January 8, 1908, relating to the same matter, was read and filed.

Real Estate, Northern Aqueduct, Section 1, Parcels 25 and 26.

No. 203, January 8, 1908, was read and filed.

On motion, the Secretary was directed to investigate the facts, and in case they should be found to be as stated by Mr. Brown and Mr. Hales, to cause a voucher for the payment of said rent to be prepared and forwarded to the Comptroller.

Advertising.

In reference to the letter of the Finance Department, dated December 26, 1907, referring to bills for advertising in certain up-State and engineering papers, the Secretary, in accordance with the directions of the Board at its meeting on January 8, 1908, submitted the form of letter to the Finance Department answering its inquiries, with the modifications requested.

Whereas, The Contractor, Cranford Company, has made requisition on this Commission, numbered No. 3, and dated October 31, 1907, for work done and materials furnished under contract dated May 27, 1907, for the construction of the Rapid Transit Railroad of The City of New York, to the 31st day of October, 1907, amounting to fifty-six thousand three hundred and seventy-five dollars and fifty-five cents ($56,375.55), and

Whereas, George S. Rice, Chief Engineer, has certified that the work done and the materials furnished have been done and furnished in accordance with the terms of the contract, that the value has been ascertained relatively to the contract value of the whole work and that no certificate has been previously made for such work and materials.

Resolved, That this Commission hereby approves the said requisition and directs that a voucher in due form be drawn on the Comptroller for the said amount.

ORDER (No. 107).

In the Matter

The hearing on the motion of the Commission on the question of the adequacy of the service and equipment of the Union Railway Company of New York City.

Under order for hearing issued September 13, 1907.

This matter coming on upon the report of the hearing had herein on September 27, 1907, October 4, 1907, October 11, 1907, and October 15, 1907, and it appearing that the said hearing was held by and pursuant to an order of this Commission made September 13, 1907, and that the said order was duly served upon the Union Railway Company of New York City, and that the said service was by the said company duly acknowledged, and that the said hearing was held by and before the Commission on the matters in said order specified on September 27, 1907, October 4, 1907, October 11, 1907, and October 15, 1907, pursuant to adjournments duly had, and at

Therefore, on motion of Abel E. Blackmar, Esq., Counsel to the Commission, it is Ordered, That the service of the said Union Railway Company of New York City on the lines of said company hereinafter mentioned, respectively, be supplemented and changed as follows, to wit:

The Secretary stated that by direction of the Committee of the Whole he had sent the following letter to the Corporation Counsel of New York:

November 21, 1907.

Hon. FRANCIS K. PENDLETON, Corporation Counsel, Hall of Records, New York City:

DEAR SIR—The Public Service Commission has learned that the Condemnation Commission, appointed several years ago to appraise easements along Joralemon street and Fulton street, Borough of Brooklyn, has suspended hearings pending an appeal to the Appellate Division. As this litigation will probably take considerable time, and as this Commission desires to suggest the economical use of its funds in every way possible, we desire to bring to your attention that George H. Young, Clerk of the said Commission, is continuing to draw one hundred dollars ($100) per month. The few inquiries that are made from time to time will probably be made at your office and not of Mr. Young.

We, therefore, request that you oppose any application that may be made to the Supreme Court for a taxation of any monthly sum in favor of Mr. Young until hearings are resumed.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Commissioner Bassett proposed the following resolution:

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, by resolution dated March 18, 1904, resolved that it was necessary and proper that the City should acquire the property bounded by Flatbush, Atlantic and Fourth avenues in the Borough of Brooklyn, County of Kings, for the purpose of erecting thereon a station building required for the operation of the Rapid Transit Railroad now under construction by the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company in pursuance of the contract heretofore made between the said corporation and The City of New York, bearing date the 21st day of July, 1902; and

Whereas, The erection of the said station building permits the underground station of the Rapid Transit Railroad as called for on the contract drawings to be reduced in size, thereby effecting a reduction in the cost to the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company of constructing the said underground station; now therefore it is

Resolved, That the said station building, together with all work incidental thereto, shall be constructed as an extra under the above mentioned contract.

It is further agreed that if the cost of said station building as certified to by the Chief Engineer exceeds the reduction in the cost of the underground station, such excess cost of said station building shall be paid to the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company. If the cost of the said station building is less than the reduction in cost of the underground station the difference shall be credited to the City.

I should say that this land is now owned by the City, and the building on it has been removed. It is a proper place for a supersurface ticket office, which would be an island for refuge if such a building were not placed there. Four subway entrances would need to be at that place if the land had not been condemned, so I am informed by the Engineers of our Board. And the placing of this ticket office on the surface, instead of enlarging the station below, will be a saving of money to the City, as I am informed by the Engineer's Department.

It was moved, and duly seconded, that the foregoing resolution be adopted:

Commissioner Bassett proposed the following resolution:

Resolved, That, pursuant to Paragraph 49-a of the Railroad Law, the following regulations and forms are hereby prescribed by this Commission for the inspection of steam locomotive boilers which are used exclusively within the limits of this District, and for making and filing of reports thereon:

STATE OF NEW YORK.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, FIRST DISTRICT.

Regulations for Inspecting, Testing and Washing Locomotive Boilers.

I.

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION AND SAFE WORKING PRESSURE.

The chief mechanical officer of each railroad company will be held responsible for the general design, construction and inspection of the locomotive boilers under his control. The safe working pressure for each locomotive boiler shall be fixed by the chief mechanical officer of the company or by a competent mechanical engineer under his supervision. The safe working pressure must be determined in accordance with calculations of the various parts after full consideration has been given to the general design, workmanship and condition of the boiler.

II.

INSPECTION OF INTERIOR OF BOILER.

(a) Time of Inspection—The interior of every boiler shall be thoroughly inspected before the boiler is put into service, and also whenever a sufficient number of flues are removed to allow examination.

(b) Flues to be Removed—All flues shall be removed at least once every three years and a thorough examination made of the entire interior of the boiler. After the flues are taken out, the inside of the boiler must have the scale removed and be thoroughly cleaned.

(c) Method of Inspection—The entire interior of the boiler must then be examined for cracks, pitting and grooving. The edges of plates, all laps, seams and points where cracks and defects are likely to develop, or which an exterior examination may have indicated, must be given an especially minute examination. It must be seen that braces and stays are taut, that pins are properly secured in place, and that each is in condition to support its proportion of the stress.

(d) Repairs—Any boiler developing cracks in the shell shall be taken out of service at once and thoroughly repaired before it is reported to be in satisfactory condition.

(e) Lap Joint Seams—Every boiler having lap joint longitudinal seams without reinforcing plates shall be examined with special care to detect grooving or cracks at the edges of the seams.

III.

INSPECTION OF EXTERIOR OF BOILER.

The jacket and lagging shall be removed at least once every three years, and also whenever the Inspector considers it desirable or necessary in order to thoroughly inspect the boiler.

IV.

TESTING BOILERS.

(a) Time of Testing—Every boiler before being put into service, and at least once every twelve months thereafter, shall be subjected to hydrostatic pressure 25 per cent. above the working steam pressure.

(b) Removal of Dome Cap—Preceding the hydrostatic test the dome cap and throttle pipe must be removed and the interior surface and connections of the boiler examined as thoroughly as the conditions permit.

(c) Foreman to Witness Tests—When boilers are being tested by hydrostatic pressure the foreman of the shop having under his charge the repairs of boilers, or an authorized competent boilermaker, shall personally attend and assist the Inspector in his examination.

(d) Repairs and Steam Test—When all necessary repairs have been completed, the boiler shall be fired up and the steam pressure raised to not less than the allowed working pressure.

V.

STAY BOLT TESTING.

(a) Time of Testing Rigid Bolts—All stay bolts should be tested at least once every month, and no boiler must be used over three months under any circumstances unless thorough stay bolt inspection has been made. Stay bolts shall also be tested immediately after every hydrostatic test.

(b) Method of Testing Rigid Bolts—The Inspector must tap each bolt from the fire box side and judge from the sound or the vibration of the sheet which of them are broken. If stay bolt tests are made when the boiler is filled with water there must be not less than fifty pounds pressure on the boiler. This will produce sufficient strain upon the stay bolts to cause the separation of the parts of the broken ones. Should the boiler not be under pressure the test may be made after draining all the water from the boiler, in which case the vibration of the sheet will indicate any unsoundness. The latter test is preferable.

(c) Method of Testing Flexible Stay Bolts—All flexible stay bolts having caps over the outer ends shall have the caps removed at least once every year, and also whenever the Inspector considers the removal desirable in order to thoroughly inspect the stay bolts. The fire box sheets should be examined carefully at least once a month to detect any bulging or indications of broken stay bolts.

(d) Broken Stay Bolts—No boiler must be allowed to remain in service when there are two adjacent stay bolts broken in any part of the fire box or combustion chamber, nor when three or more are broken in a circle four feet in diameter.

(e) Tell Tale Holes—All stay bolts shorter than eight inches applied after September 1, 1907, except flexible bolts, shall have tell tale holes $\frac{3}{16}$ inch diameter by $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or more in the outer end. These holes must be kept open at all times, and must not in any case be plugged. All stay bolts shorter than eight inches, except flexible bolts, shall be drilled when the locomotive is in the shop for heavy repairs or at other suitable opportunity, and this work must be completed prior to January 1, 1909.

VI.

STEAM GAUGES.

(a) Location of Gauge—Every boiler shall have at least one steam gauge which will correctly indicate the working pressure. Care must be taken to locate the gauge so that it will be kept reasonably cool, particularly in case of gauges located on the back head of boilers.

(b) Siphon—Every gauge shall have a siphon of ample capacity to prevent steam entering the gauge. The pipe connection shall enter the boiler shell direct, and shall be maintained steam tight between siphon and gauge.

(c) Time of Testing—Steam gauges should be tested at least once every month, and no boiler must be used over three months under any circumstances unless a thorough test has been made of the steam gauge.

VII.

SAFETY VALVES.

(a) Number and Capacity—Every boiler shall be equipped with at least two safety valves, the capacity of which shall be sufficient to prevent, under any conditions of service, an accumulation of pressure of more than 5 per cent. above the allowed steam pressure.

(b) Setting of Valves—Safety valves shall be set by the gauge employed upon the boiler, to pop at pressures not exceeding five pounds above the allowed steam pressure, the gauge in all cases to be tested before the safety valves are set or any change made in the setting. When setting safety valves the water level in the boiler must not be above the highest gauge cock.

(c) Time of Testing—Safety valves should be tested under steam at least once in every month, and no boiler must be used over three months under any circumstances unless the safety valves have been thoroughly tested.

VIII.

WATER GLASS AND GAUGE COCKS.

(a) Number and Location—Every boiler shall be equipped with at least one water glass and three gauge cocks. The lowest gauge cock and the lowest reading of the water glass shall not be less than three inches above the highest part of the crown sheet.

(b) Water Glass Valves—All water glasses shall be supplied with two valves or shut off cocks, one at the upper and one at the lower connection to the boiler, and also a drain cock, so constructed and located that they can be easily opened and closed by hand.

(c) Time of Cleaning—All gauge cocks and water glass cocks shall be removed and cleaned of scale and sediment whenever the boiler is washed.

IX.

PLUGS IN FIRE TUBES.

(a) Plugs Prohibited—No boiler shall remain in service which has one or more fire tubes plugged at both ends of the tube unless the plugs are securely tied together by means of a rod not less than $\frac{5}{8}$ inch diameter.

X.

WASHING BOILERS.

(a) Time of Washing—All boilers shall be thoroughly washed not less frequently than once in thirty days.

(b) Plugs to be Removed—When boilers are washed all washout, arch and water bar plugs must be removed.

(c) Water Tubes—Special attention must be given the arch and water bar tubes to see that they are free from scale and sediment.

(d) Office Record—An accurate record of all locomotive boiler washouts shall be kept in the office of the railroad company. The following information must be entered on the day that the boiler is washed:

- (1) Number of locomotive;
- (2) Date of washout;
- (3) Statement that boiler was washed;
- (4) Signature of the boiler washer or the boiler inspector;
- (5) Statement that gauge cocks and water glass cocks were removed and cleaned;
- (6) Signature of the boiler inspector or the employee who removed and cleaned the cocks.

XI.

STEAM LEAKS.

(a) Leaks under Lagging—If a serious leak develops under the lagging an examination must be made and the leak located. If the leak is found to be due to a crack in the shell or to any other defect which may reduce safety, the boiler must be taken out of service at once and thoroughly repaired before it is reported to be in satisfactory condition.

(b) Leaks in Front of Engineer—All steam valves, cocks and joints, studs, bolts and seams shall be kept in such repair that they will not at any time emit steam in front of the engineer, so as to obscure his vision.

XII.

FILING OF REPORTS.

(a) Specification Card—A specification card, Form No. 2, containing the results of the calculations made in determining the working pressure and other necessary data shall be filed in the office of the Public Service Commission, First District, for each locomotive boiler. A copy shall also be filed in the office of the chief mechanical officer having charge of the locomotive. Every specification card shall be verified by the oath of the engineer making the calculations, and shall be approved by the chief mechanical officer. These specification cards shall be filed as promptly as thorough examination and accurate calculation will permit. Where accurate drawings of boilers are available, the data for specification card, Form No. 2, may be taken from the drawings, and such specification cards must be completed and forwarded prior to March 1, 1908. Where accurate drawings are not available, the required data must be obtained at the first opportunity when general repairs are made, or when flues are removed. Specification cards must be forwarded within one month after examination has been made, and all examinations must be completed and specification cards filed prior to January 1, 1909, flues being removed if necessary, to enable the examination to be made before this date.

(b) Certificate of Inspection—Not less than once in three months and within ten days after each inspection, a Certificate of Inspection, Form No. 1, shall be filed with the Public Service Commission, First District, for each locomotive boiler used by a railroad company, and a copy shall be filed in the office of the chief officer having charge of the locomotive. A copy shall also be placed under glass in a conspicuous place in the cab of the locomotive before the boiler inspected is put into service. Each certificate shall give the number and the condition of the boiler inspected, the date of the inspection and other required details, and each certificate shall be verified by the oath of the inspector.

(c) Reporting Washouts—The inspector shall examine the record of boiler washouts on file in the company's office not less frequently than once every three months, and if he is satisfied of its accuracy he shall enter the dates of every washout made during the preceding three months on the Certificate of Inspection, Form No. 1. In case the record is not satisfactory the inspector shall make notation thereof on the certificate.

XIII.

COPIES OF REGULATIONS.

The chief mechanical officer of each railroad company shall keep each inspector of locomotive boilers under his supervision supplied with a copy of these regulations. Copies can be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Public Service Commission, First District, Tribune Building, New York City.

Commissioner Eustis—"In the case of the trial coming on upon the complaint of Grant Smith against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, I wish to read the following decision:

The questions of fact and law arising upon the complaint and answer herein having come on for trial before me, I find that the questions of fact alleged in the complaint have been sustained. In fact, the defendant's chief witness conceded that several of the employees worked the number of hours specified in the complaint.

This complaint was made under chapter 672 of the Laws of 1907, which went into effect on the first day of October, and it seems to have been passed for the purpose of protecting the public from the danger that arises from telegraph and telephone operators, who operate switches, being overworked. The men complained of by the complainant are tower switchmen, but the evidence shows that they are not telegraph or telephone operators in any sense in connection with their regular work as switchmen. The proof is not clear that they all have even telephones in their booths, but they probably do, as the general manager of the road said it was the intention of the management to have telephones in all such places, so that in case of emergency the men could be reached, or the men could reach other officers of the road without leaving their station.

The only way that this Commission could hold the defendant guilty of violation of this law would be to say that the towerman employed by them at the various towers, designated in the complaint, are telegraph or telephone levermen, and as the evidence was very clear that they did not use the telegraph or telephone in any manner in connection with their work, it would be a forced construction, and as this is a penal statute, it should be construed literally, and I am therefore of the opinion that the complaint herein should be dismissed."

The following order for dismissal was thereupon presented by Commissioner Eustis for adoption by the Commission:

DISMISSAL ORDER (No. 112).

Grant Smith,

Complainant,

against

Interborough Rapid Transit Company,
Defendant.

Under Order for Hearing, issued October 30, 1907, No. 59.

This matter coming on upon the report of the hearing had herein on November 12, 1907, November 19, 1907, and November 23, 1907, and it appearing that the said hearing was held by and pursuant to an order of this Commission made October 30, 1907, upon the complaint and answer herein, and that the said order was duly served upon the said Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and that the said service was by the said company duly acknowledged, and that the said hearing was held by and before the Commission on the matters in said complaint, answer and order specified on November 12, 1907, November 19, 1907, and November 23, 1907, and at all of said sessions Mr. Commissioner Eustis presiding, Oliver C. Semple, Esq., Assistant Counsel, appearing for the Commission, and Alfred A. Gardner, Esq., as Attorney, appearing for said Interborough Rapid Transit Company:

Now, it appearing by said complaint that employees of defendant in and about the operation of switches upon some of its elevated roads are alleged to be employed in excess of the hours prescribed by chapter 627 of the Laws of 1907, and in violation of said act, and by the answer herein and the evidence produced upon said hearing it appearing that the acts of the defendant complained of are not in violation of said act, it is Ordered, That the said complaint be and the same hereby is dismissed, and that this order be filed in the office of the Commission.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Commissioner Bassett presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Electrical Engineer, the acting head of the Bureau of Inspection, and the Chief Clerk of the Bureau of Accidents constitute a subcommittee to consider safety devices and accident prevention measures. Such subcommittee to held at least one meeting each week, and their conclusions, if approved by the Chief Engineer, to be reported to this Commission.

Commissioner Bassett—"This is a subject that has been engaging the attention of the Commission for a long time, and a good many devices come before the members of the Commission and the Committee as a whole, that we are not able to sift, and it seems proper that some subcommittee of this sort should sift them. Nothing is more important than to make progress in the prevention of accidents. The approach of these questions from that point of view is in the direction of minimizing the vast number of accidents that are being reported to us every month, as our reports show. I move that this resolution be adopted."

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

The public interest demanded that we should serve peremptory notice, copy of which is also attached, which we did on October 7, concerning:
Marcy avenue, between Flushing avenue and Middleton street.
Nassau avenue, between Diamond street and Morgan avenue.
Farragut road, between East Twenty-sixth street and the ocean.
Franklin street, between Kent avenue and Commercial street.

Vanderbilt avenue, between Park avenue and Myrtle avenue.
Manhattan avenue, between Driggs avenue and Newtown creek.
Driggs avenue, between South Fourth and South Twelfth streets.

We respectfully pray your prompt attention to this matter, as in the interests of the public comfort, safety, etc., this corporation should not be permitted to delay longer in this pressing matter, and respectfully inquire if under paragraph 57 of chapter 429 of Laws of 1907, of the Laws of New York, you will not so order affairs that they shall complete promptly these repairs. I am,

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) BIRD S. COLER,
President of the Borough of Brooklyn.

COMPLAINT ORDER No. 120.

Bird S. Coler, President of the Borough of Brooklyn, Complainant,
against
Brooklyn City Railroad Company and Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, Defendant.

The order of Mr. Commissioner Bassett, being Order No. 120, for satisfaction or answer within ten (10) days, was approved, confirmed, and ordered filed in the office of the Commission.

Henry B. Seaman appeared before the Commission and recommended that the clearance of the proposed subway be made not less than 14 feet 6 inches from top of rail to under side of roof, instead of 13 feet 6 inches as at present designated.

Mr. Seaman stated that since the City would build the subway and later would seek a tenant to operate the road, the subway should be designed to be attractive to as many operating companies as possible, in order to attract competitors for the rental. He reported that the increase of one foot in depth could be made for less than 5 per cent. increase in cost, and would undoubtedly increase the probability of advantageous arrangements later, in a much greater ratio. He stated that the Philadelphia subway had 14 feet 0 inches clearance; the Boston subway had 14 feet 3 inches clearance, and the Engineers said they would increase this, if building again; the suburban cars of the New York Central Railroad, 14 feet 4 1/8 inches clearance. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company desired 15 feet 0 inches, to operate their elevated cars with overhead trolley, but could operate in 14 feet 6 inches.

On motion, duly seconded, it was Resolved, That the report of Mr. Seaman as to height and clearance be approved, and that his suggestion be adopted.

On motion, duly seconded, it was Resolved, That Henry B. Seaman be authorized to consult with other engineers, with regard to certain details of subway construction, at an expense not to exceed $100 per day for each consulting engineer.

On motion, duly seconded, it was Resolved, That the matter of securing remaining consents for the construction of the Flatbush avenue subway extension be referred to the Counsel for action.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1907,
TRIBUNE BUILDING, 154 NASSAU STREET,
BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

Present—Commissioner William McCarroll, Acting Chairman, Commissioners Edward M. Bassett, Milo R. Maltbie John E. Eustis.

Bion J. Arnold submitted a preliminary report, and after considerable discussion, it was on motion, duly seconded,

Resolved, That the preliminary report of Bion J. Arnold, regarding the equipment and operation of the subway be transmitted to the Interborough Railroad Company, with a request that it consider the same without delay and report to this Commission.

The report of Mr. Arnold was as follows:

NEW YORK, November 26, 1907.

Public Service Commission, First District, State of New York. Tribune Building, New York City:

GENTLEMEN—On October 4 you requested me to make a study of the subway in this city, operated by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, with the object of making suggestions which would lead to the improvement of the service, and you also, at the same time, submitted to me a list of questions to which you desired specific answers. I found that to properly answer these questions would require a comprehensive study of the general design and operation of the entire subway, and since that date I have had a skilled force assisting me in the work of making an investigation of the entire subway, including stations, cars, tracks, signal system, ventilating system, the terminal and shop facilities, as well as the speed and method of operating trains.

In this investigation the railway officials and engineers as well as the Engineers of your Commission have cheerfully furnished all information asked of them, and have co-operated in every practicable way to assist me.

I find that it will require some additional time to complete my full report, but I have already reached a number of preliminary conclusions, which I can give you at this time.

My main reason, however, for submitting this preliminary report is for the purpose of suggesting that you take the necessary steps to allow the Interborough Company to put into operation certain methods which its officials, I believe, will be willing to adopt, and also ask them to operate to their fullest efficiency certain other methods herein recommended, for upon the results of these methods will depend my final conclusions regarding certain other important questions, and especially in reference to the necessity of centre side doors in the present cars. Furthermore, as the changes hereinafter suggested are those which relate to methods of operation only, and involve but small changes in the signal equipment of the subway they can be put into effect in a short time with little expense, and thus enable the subway to better meet the constantly growing traffic. These changes, if effectively introduced and maintained should be the means of causing about 25 per cent. more cars than at present to leave each express station within a given period of time during the rush hours thus somewhat increasing the capacity of the subway, and at the same time adding to the comfort of the passengers carried in these cars by relieving, in a measure, the present crowding.

PRESENT CONDITIONS.

It is but fair to say that, taking into consideration the circumstances under which the subway was built, and is now being operated, it is one of the best constructed and best operated railways in existence.

On the other hand the service demanded of it is far in excess of that of any other road, and as a consequence conditions are now such that although the time card calls for a time interval or headway of two minutes between trains south of Ninety-sixth street during rush hours, in actual operation the trains fall behind this schedule from twelve to thirty seconds under normal conditions during these hours. This results in only about twenty-five express trains per hour leaving Grand Central station instead of thirty trains as called for by the time card.

After studying the causes of delay I am convinced that several of them can be promptly removed and the two-minute headway, as given by the time card, maintained under normal conditions during rush hours. Many of these delays are due entirely to the excessive time taken for loading and unloading trains at the platforms, and are caused largely by the policy in vogue, at the time I began studying the situation, of holding the trains at the stations until all the cars were jammed full of passengers in an attempt to clear the platforms. This policy should be changed to one of starting the trains within a fixed time after they have stopped in order that the maximum number of cars may be made to pass through the stations after allowing reasonable time for loading. This time of loading and unloading the express trains should be limited to forty-five seconds instead of an average of sixty-five seconds taken at present at Grand Central station. This can be accomplished provided the proper degree of efficiency is maintained by the platform men and train guards, by putting into effect the following methods of operation:

IMPROVEMENTS REQUIRED TO SECURE TWO-MINUTE HEADWAY.

First—In view of the fact that northbound evening express trains leaving Grand Central station carry approximately twenty-five per cent. more passengers than are brought into this station from Fourteenth street I suggest that a system of loading be adopted, which will regulate the loading at Brooklyn Bridge and Fourteenth street in such a way that there will be capacity left in the cars for the increase of load at Grand Central station and thus avoid the present excessive crowding.

At the present time the cars come into Grand Central station fully loaded, and the delay at the station platforms is caused largely by the passengers getting off slowly from crowded cars and the difficulty of loading so many additional passengers into the cars which are already full. The delay caused by this extra time consumed on account of the congested condition of the cars at Grand Central station soon backs the trains up in the subway as far as Fourteenth street, and as the trains are held at Fourteenth street, they are naturally loaded more fully, and thus automatically the congestion increases, which can only be remedied by a combination of systematic loading and prompt movement of the trains.

In other words, if part of the passengers who are ready to enter the trains at Fourteenth street are cut off all trains can be moved on time, and therefore, more trains operated than at present. Thus additional speed and comfort can be obtained for all of the patrons of the subway by a small amount of inconvenience to a few patrons who are slightly delayed in taking the cars at Fourteenth street, and on the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number this policy should be adopted.

Second—On each express platform there should be stationed a train dispatcher provided with two stop watches, one for the local, the other for the express service, with instructions to give the signal for closing the doors not later than forty seconds after the train has come to a stop, thus allowing five seconds to close the doors and start the train within a forty-five second period.

Subsequently indicators visible to the passengers can be installed, which will show them the time in seconds remaining before the closing of the doors.

Third—The guards upon the cars should be instructed to open the doors as soon as the train has stopped. There is now at times a noticeable delay in getting these doors opened. The train guard should also be instructed to listen attentively for the closing signal, and at once make every effort to close the doors with the assistance of the platform attendants, and when the doors are once closed they should be kept closed, instead of being opened occasionally to let off a delinquent passenger.

Fourth—Train guards should be instructed to keep themselves alert, and to promptly transmit the starting signal forward. If it is found that the guards cannot be trained to attend to this matter of signaling promptly it may be necessary to eventually require an electrical system of signaling whereby the motorman will get the signal on the instant the last door is closed, but I do not think it will be necessary to insist upon this electric system at the present time.

Fifth—The station attendants should be given positive instructions to act promptly when the signal is given for closing the doors. This can be done by positively regulating the stream of passengers entering the car so that the last passenger in will not obstruct the closing of the door.

I believe the railway company's officials will put these suggestions into effect, provided the co-operation of your Commission and the public can be secured.

POLICE ASSISTANCE.

In order to secure better service for the patrons of the subway the railway company's officials have pointed out the fact that suitable police regulation upon the platforms of the stations should be provided in order to properly control such individuals as may, through selfish motives, interfere with the prompt closing of the doors. I understand that the railway officials have already made application to secure such police authority for the station attendants, and the uniforms have been provided for such attendants. These uniformed attendants, who should have qualifications and authority comparable with the regular New York policemen, should be stationed on all express station platforms to assist the other platform men and the train guards in putting into effect this new policy of prompt train movement in order that its full benefits may be realized.

The above suggested improvements are not intended to provide a better service than called for by the present time table, but if carried out will, in my opinion, insure that the time table will be more closely followed and more trains per hour will be operated through each express station than at present.

BLOCK SIGNALING.

By making other improvements I find it will be possible to reduce the headway still further, and as the present signal system is arranged so that, by slightly changing it at the stations, trains can be easily operated on a ninety second headway if such a headway were not prohibited by excessive station stops. I would suggest that the railway officials be requested to prepare a time table or train schedule on the basis of a one hundred and five second headway during rush hours, which is a reduction from the present schedule of fifteen seconds. This saving of fifteen seconds in the headway, as indicated, can be secured at once by changing the block signaling system at the express stations, as previously stated. At the present time the station block is not cleared until the leaving train has nearly left the platform. With an eight-car train upon the express tracks it requires from twenty-two to twenty-five seconds after a train starts to get the signal which allows the following train to proceed. It then requires a certain length of time for the following train to pull into the platform and come to a stop. For example, at Grand Central Station this time amounts to fifty seconds for a north-bound train. If the signal on the following train could be given at or about the time the leaving train starts, rather than waiting until the train has cleared the platform, a saving in headway could be effected at express station stops of about fifteen seconds, which will permit the operation of a one hundred and five second headway. A number of plans for accomplishing this result have been considered, but pending the completion of my full report I suggest that your Commission ask the railway officials to consider how this result can be best accomplished, and submit to you in the near future such plan or plans as they may consider practicable. Should they, for any reason, fail to submit some feasible plan, I am prepared to offer one or more plans which seem to me to meet the conditions.

NINETY-SIXTH STREET.

From my study of the Ninety-sixth street situation it does not yet seem to be necessary to make any changes other than those relating to the signal system as indicated above, or at any rate until after the headway between trains is made less than two minutes. When a headway of less than two minutes on the system south of Ninety-sixth street is established by the adoption of the suggestion herein mentioned, or by other methods, the changes already authorized by your Commission, whereby the present grade crossings at Ninety-sixth street are to be eliminated, will make it practicable to operate the shorter headway through this station.

TYPE OF CAR.

I am carefully studying the necessity of changing the design of the present cars so as to provide one or more openings in the side of the cars, but I cannot reach a just conclusion on this important subject until I have had an opportunity of observing the effect of the improvements which have been hereinbefore suggested or the result of such other methods as the Railway Company may see fit to promptly adopt whereby the passengers will be carried with the present end-door cars, and at the same time limit the station stops to not more than forty-five seconds, which is essential to get the greatest practical capacity out of the subway.

There will always be the problem as to where to draw the line between seating capacity and standing room. At the present time during rush hours there are practically twice as many people standing as there are seated. If more seats were provided in the present cars one seat would displace two standing passengers, and either the carrying capacity of the car would be reduced or the standing passengers would be more crowded than at present, which seems practically impossible. As it is impracticable to use wider cars, due to lack of clearance in the present subway, the only method of providing more seats is to provide more cars of the present type, or cars of the same size as the present cars, and provide them with more cross seats, which latter method would tend to greatly increase the time required for loading and unloading them. As soon, however, as the service of the subway becomes improved either by providing additional seating capacity or by more rapid service, instead of this service creating additional comforts to those who are now riding, more people will be attracted by this superior service, and the applicants for seats will outnumber the available seats in practically the same ratio as at present. It is, therefore, evident that a decision must be made relative to the general nature of the service to be supplied before the proper type of car can be determined. The desirability of providing a certain number of passengers with a maximum number of seats, and thereby limiting the capacity of the subway to practically the number of seats that can be made to pass any given point within a given time, must be compared with the desirability of providing transportation to the greatest number of passengers possible, even though a large majority are compelled to ride for a short time without being provided with seats.

It has been contended not only by those who have suggested certain methods for improving the subway service, but also by the advocates of better service in most of our large cities of this country, that each passenger should be provided with a seat, or at any rate, that whatever improvement is attempted should tend to increase the seating capacity of all cars operated over the seating capacity of those now in use. There is no question as to the righteousness of this contention, but the futility of attempting to furnish such service to all patrons of the road may be judged any evening by the most casual observation of the crowded conditions of the present subway cars. If the policy is adopted of providing seats to the majority of those who ride during rush hours it will result in a material decrease in the total number of passengers which it is now possible to transport in the subway, and would, therefore, result in the turning away of many passengers who now make use of its service.

If the principle of a slight reduction in the seating capacity of the present cars can be accepted as permissible and adopted, increased carrying capacity can be obtained by eliminating all or part of the present cross seats. The elimination of these cross seats makes it practicable to introduce centre side doors into the present cars should this change be found necessary later. In case it is found that the traffic cannot be properly handled and the forty-five second limit for station stops, hereinbefore mentioned, maintained with the present end-door cars, the use of these centre doors in connection with the absence of the cross seats will make it practicable to load and unload so rapidly that this limit can be maintained. There are good arguments to be advanced in favor of both these policies. No one having the best interests of the public at heart will deny that if it were possible to provide each passenger with a seat throughout his entire journey that he should be so provided, but as it is practically impossible during rush hour periods in most transportation systems now existing in the principal cities of this country, the question of just how far this principle can be departed from, and still serve the best interests of the public by providing as many seats as practicable, and at the same time utilizing the carrying capacity of the subway to its greatest extent by giving to those who are willing to stand the advantages of its transportation facilities, is one that requires careful consideration.

The hardship imposed upon those who are compelled to stand in the subway cars during the rush hour period is not as great as it at first appears to be for the reason that owing to the transfer system between the express and local service, so well worked out in this railway, few passengers are compelled to stand for any great length of time. This is brought about through the fact that the personnel of each car changes so often, due to transferring at express stations, that many of those who stand at first soon get seats, compelling the newcomers to stand, who for like reason and in turn soon find seats.

In further support of the policy favoring increased standing room in the cars, it is but proper to point out that the reason for diminishing the number of seats is for the purpose of providing greater aisle space so that a system of circulation of passengers from the entrances toward the exits of the cars may be more easily maintained, resulting in greater comfort, not only to those standing, but also to those seated, and at the same time avoiding the conflict of streams of passengers with the resulting discomfort now so evident at the express stations during the rush hours. As an additional result of maintaining a definite circulation of passengers greater expedition will be possible in loading and unloading, station waits will be reduced, and the average speed of travel materially increased so that the discomfort of standing is further lessened by being shortened.

The question, then, tersely stated, is as follows:

Having sixty thousand people to carry per hour, shall we, by following one policy, provide seats for forty thousand people with standing room for possibly ten thousand more, and turn away ten thousand to other and slower means of transportation; or by adopting, at least until future subways can be built, the other policy whereby increased standing capacity is obtained, provide seats for twenty thousand and carry the other forty thousand standing for short intervals of time, and thus furnish transportation for the entire sixty thousand?

Inasmuch as an answer to this question involves a decision based upon public policy rather than upon engineering feasibility, I feel that your Commission should first pass upon it, and instruct me accordingly.

All other matters bearing upon the questions which you have asked of me and not herein specifically mentioned are receiving attention, and will be considered at length in my full report, which will be completed as soon as practicable.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) BION J. ARNOLD.

PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
