No. 4051.

Engineering Office, Percival Robert Moses., E. E., 366 5th Ave., New York, July 18, 1911.

Hon. JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen, City Hall:

Dear Sir—I see by the "Record and Guide" that the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity has written to you, requesting the enactment of an amendment to the Building Code, making it a misdemeanor for any person to place, or permit to be placed, electric current on any wiring for electric light, heat or power, or on any alterations in any building, until the construction shall have been approved by the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity.

The City has already the right, in case an installation is dangerous or contrary to the rules of the Fire Department, to reject this installation and to condemn it, but it would be a mistake for the Board of Aldermen to place in the power of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity the right to prevent the operation of an isolated plant or connection to another building or connection to the building itself, by making it a misdemeanor if such a plant or connection was operated without the approval of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity.

At the present time the Department is administered in a high grade, impartial manner, but as this has not always been the case in the past, and it may not be the case in the future, there seems to be no objection to leaving matters as they are.

I would therefore urge that you do not change the Building Code as suggested.

Respectfully submitted, P. R. MOSES.

Which was referred to the Committee on Buildings.

P. S.—I also enclose copy of report of the Corporate Stock Budget Committee entitled "Effect on City's Borrowing Capacity."

Effect on City's Borrowing Power.

July 10, 1911.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

Gentlemen—In connection with our reports upon requests of the various departments and offices for corporate stock to be authorized in the year 1911, we submit the following statement which shows the effect the adoption of our recommendations will have upon the borrowing power of the City, and which also expresses our attitude concerning several improvements which we believe are desirable, but which we have not included in our recommendations for immediate authorizations of corporate stock.

The total of entirely new authorizations and additions to existing authorizations of corporate stock which we have recommended is $45,807,818.23. We have recommended rescindments amounting to $647,272.41, which will make the net amount of new indebtedness $45,160,545.82. Not all of this amount will be an addition to the debt, because items aggregating $7,432,638.29, now recommended for authorization, are to wipe out indebtedness included in the debt statement of December 31, 1910.

When this is subtracted from the net amount of new indebtedness, there is left $37,727,907.53 as an additional charge against the borrowing power of the City.

This amount can be still further reduced by rescindments of existing authorizations against which there is little or no liability. However, we have thought it best to rescind at this time only such authorizations as the work of reconciliation has shown to have no further obligations against them.

Our recommendations for the various departments are shown in the following summary:

Department.	Authorizations.	Rescindments.
President, Borough of Manhattan	$4,590,000 00	$148,125 00
President, Borough of Bronx	1,000,000 00	45,635 00
President, Borough of Brooklyn	835,000 00	18,010 68
President, Borough of Queens	1,014,600 00	2,386 00
President, Borough of Richmond	525,500 00	.....
Education	10,381,809 00	4,228 01
Docks and Ferries	7,102,901 29	.....
Bridges	2,315,000 00	.....
Fire	1,994,225 94	115,420 68
Charities	2,964,000 00	100,334 67
Parks, Manhattan and Richmond	1,694,000 00	100,000 00
Parks, Brooklyn and Queens	1,256,802 00	97,000 00
Parks, Bronx	408,800 00	.....
Health	1,000,000 00	.....
Bellevue and Allied Hospitals	2,469,500 00	.....
Police	600,000 00	.....
Correction	100,000 00	.....
Carnegie Library sites	171,000 00	.....
Normal College	91,380 00	.....
Brooklyn Disciplinary School	75,000 00	.....
Street Cleaning	20,000 00	15,632 37
Commissions and Commissioners	27,300 00	500 00
Metropolitan Sewerage Commission	34,000 00	.....
Commissioner of Records, New York County	25,000 00	.....
Surrogate and County Clerk, Queens	100,000 00	.....
Finance and Miscellaneous	5,012,000 00	*.....
Total authorizations	$45,807,818 23	$647,272 41

*$5,000,000 of the authorization for Finance and Miscellaneous is a release of a part of the previous authorization of $33,000,000 for the funding of uncollectible taxes. However, it is a new addition to the debt.

If all of these recommended authorizations are made, the City will still be able to build rapid transit subways and have ample margin left for other work that may have to be done.

A statement estimating the constitutional borrowing capacity of The City of New York as at July 5, 1911, shows that the margin of legal borrowing capacity is $159,300,978.07. Of this amount, $60,482,725.18 is available for rapid transit purposes only. This sum is made up as follows:

Manhattan-Bronx Rapid Transit bonds, exempted	$43,868,325 18
Brooklyn-Manhattan Rapid Transit bonds, to be exempted	3,614,400 00
Amount set aside by resolution of April 8, 1910, for additional rapid transit railroads	13,000,000 00
	$60,482,725 18

This leaves a margin of $98,818,252.89 for such purposes as the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may determine, including rapid transit railroads, should the Board so desire.

Even if it is assumed that $80,000,000 will be used for subway construction this year, there will be left the sum of $79,300,978.07. After subtracting from this remainder the sum of the new authorizations we have recommended, there will remain a margin of $41,573,070.54.

This margin may be reduced to the extent of approximately $11,000,000 by the necessary provision for extra work on the Manhattan-Bronx division of the existing subway, for which $2,260,000 has been allowed in a tentative agreement, and for four other improvements for which no provision has been recommended, which were alluded to in the first paragraph of this report. Whatever amount is authorized for paying claims for extra work on the Manhattan-Bronx division will be only a temporary charge against the debt margin, and as soon as the bonds for this work can be exempted, the probable additional charge of $11,000,000 will be reduced to approximately $9,000,000.

The four improvements which we believe should be provided for (but not until the City has procured satisfactory data upon which to base its action), are as follows:

First—A site for a new court house, New York County. Your Committee believes that a site should be procured at the earliest possible moment, but it is not able, at this time, to make any definite recommendation.

We recommend that this matter be referred back to the Committee on Court House Site, with instructions that the Committee report to this Board at the meeting July 27, 1911.

Second—Rockaway Park. We are convinced that the City should acquire land for a park at Rockaway at a time when it can be procured at a reasonable figure. We are not yet assured that the property available at Rockaway can be secured at a reasonable figure.

We recommend that this matter be referred back to the Committee on Rockaway Park, consisting of the President of the Board of Aldermen, President of the Borough of Manhattan and President of the Borough of Queens, with instructions to report to this Board at the meeting July 27, 1911.

Third—The proposed park at Coney Island, on the area burned over at the time of the Dreamland fire.

Additional park facilities should be provided at Coney Island, and we are of the opinion that the property recently burned over can be obtained now at a lower figure than at any time in the future. However, we believe that the City should have absolute assurance of a fair price before it is committed to the purchase of this property.

We recommend that this matter be referred back to the Committee consisting of the President of the Borough of Brooklyn, the Comptroller and the President of the Board of Aldermen, with instructions to report to this Board at the meeting of July 27, 1911.

Fourth—Proposed terminal of the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge, in connection with the new Municipal Building.

This matter, we believe, deserves attention. The former Commissioner of Bridges requested $2,500,000 for this work.

We recommend that the Secretary of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be directed to send a copy of this report to the present Commissioner of Bridges, with the request that he transmit to this Board, before its meeting of July 27, 1911, a complete statement, giving detailed figures of architects and engineers, also opinions of experts on the possibility of any other than all motor car trains to operate on the steep grade that is proposed for the terminal.

Respectfully,

WM. A. PRENDERGAST, Comptroller; JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen; GEORGE McANENY, President, Borough of Manhattan; Committee on Corporate Stock Budget.

Which was ordered on file.

On motion of Alderman Dowling, seconded by Alderman Willard, the Board took immediate action on the bulk of the ordinances and resolutions transmitted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, comprising the Corporate Stock Budget.

Section 1. The Board of Aldermen hereby approves of and concurs in the following resolution adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment July 17, 1911, and authorizes the Comptroller to issue corporate stock of The City of New York to the amount and for the purposes therein specified:

A true copy of resolution adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment July 17, 1911. JOSEPH HAAG, Secretary.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

Gentlemen—We transmit herewith our report upon the requests made by the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity for corporate stock to be authorized in 1911.

Our recommendations are embraced in the attached resolutions which are drawn in accordance with the schedule included herein.

Since authorizations of corporate stock for improving the water supply systems in the several Boroughs do not affect the borrowing capacity of the City, as determined by the debt limit, only such authorizations as are required to provide for improvements to be contracted for during 1911, and for the estimated annual cost of salaries and wages of the engineering and labor construction force of the Department; for the contingent expenses of this force, and for the purchase of supplies and materials for construction work performed by departmental labor, are herein recommended.

For the reason that when the authorizations previously noted are available, no further expenditures for salaries and wages, or for contingent expenses, will be charged against present authorizations of corporate stock, it has been considered advisable to recommend new authorizations for the specific improvements required; and later, when the amounts of the present authorizations which can be rescinded are definitely determined, to recommend such rescindments. At that time such further authorizations as may be required for improvements to be contracted for prior to July 1, 1912, will be recommended.

New Authorizations of Corporate Stock.

The Vice-Chairman laid before the Board the following communication from the President, Borough of Brooklyn:

No. 4364.

The City of New York, Office of the President of the Borough of Brooklyn, Brooklyn, July 25, 1911.

Honorable Board of Aldermen, New York City:

Gentlemen—I transmit herewith communication from Mr. John Thatcher, Superintendent of Buildings, this Department, relative to amendment to section 4 of the Building Code, which I respectfully request your honorable Body adopt.

Yours very truly, ALFRED E. STEERS, President of the Borough.

The City of New York, Office of the President of the Borough of Brooklyn, Borough Hall, Brooklyn, July 21, 1911.

Hon. ALFRED E. STEERS, President of the Borough, Brooklyn, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Section 4 of the Building Code, provides that before the erection or alteration of a building application must be made to the Bureau of Buildings for a permit, and that such application must include the names and residences of the owners of the property in question, but permits the agent or architects employed by the owners to make all affidavits in the matter, such as authority to perform the work and other things required by the applicant. The information thus given by architects, or agents, is often misleading, and where violations are subsequently filed against building operations, causes us considerable difficulty in locating the owners. The Corporation Counsel instructs me that the only way of remedying this, as other defects in the Building Code, is by an amendment thereof in the Board of Aldermen.

May I ask you, therefore, to have introduced in the Board of Aldermen, with the view to correcting the condition complained of, the subjoined addition to section 4 of the Building Code, inserting it after the sentence "Such statement may be made by the agent, or architect, of the person or persons hereinbefore required to make the same," and where such statement is made by said agent or architect it shall be accompanied by a sworn statement of the owner or owners of the property described, setting fourth that he or she, as the case may be, is the owner of such premises and has authorized the application to be made in his or her behalf. Very respectfully yours, (Signed) JOHN THATCHER, Superintendent, Bureau of Buildings.

Which was referred to the Committee on Buildings.

The Vice-Chairman laid before the Board the following communication from the Department of Education.

No. 4365.

Board of Education, Park Ave. and 59th St., New York, July 19, 1911.

Hon. P. J. SCULLY, City Clerk:

Dear Sir—I beg to advise you that at a meeting of the Committee on Buildings of the Board of Education, held on the 17th inst., consideration was had on preamble and resolutions adopted by the Board of Aldermen on June 27, 1911, recommending that the matter of erecting an addition to Public School 78, Manhattan, be proceeded with at the earliest possible date.

I was requested to notify the Board of Aldermen, through you, that plans for the construction of this addition have been prepared and are now awaiting the approval of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity and that proposals for the work will be advertised for in the near future.

Respectfully yours, A. E. PALMER, Secretary, Board of Education.

Which was ordered on file.

The Vice-Chairman laid before the Board the following communications from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

No. 4366.

Board of Estimate and Apportionment, City of New York, Office of the Secretary, 277 Broadway, July 17, 1911.

Hon. JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen:

Dear Sir—I transmit herewith certified copy of a resolution adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment July 17, 1911, disapproving of the resolution of the Board of Aldermen requesting the issue of special revenue bonds in the sum of $845 for the use of the Department of Education for furnishing certain supplies and equipment for classes of anemic children.

In accordance with the direction of the Board I transmit herewith copy of the Comptroller's report relative thereto, for the information of the Board of Aldermen.

Yours very truly, JOSEPH HAAG, Secretary.

Resolved, That the request of the Board of Aldermen as contained in resolution adopted June 27, 1911, and approved by the Mayor July 5, 1911, as follows:

"Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of eight hundred and forty-five dollars ($845), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Education for the purpose of furnishing certain supplies and equipment or classes of anæmic children"

—be and the same is hereby disapproved.

A true copy of resolution adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment July 17, 1911. JOSEPH HAAG, Secretary.

Department of Finance, City of New York, Bureau of Municipal Investigation and Statistics, July 12, 1911.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

Gentlemen—On June 27, 1911, the Board of Aldermen requested special revenue bonds in the sum of $845, the proceeds to be used by the Dpartment of Education for the purpose of furnishing certain supplies and equipment for classes of anemic children. In connection therewith I report as follows:

In the 1910 Budget, the sum of $6,500 was appropriated for fitting up classrooms for anemic or tubercular children. In this account, No. 1037, there was a balance on July 12, 1911, as shown by the books in the Department of Finance, of $2,141.30. It is stated that the Board of Superintendents delayed making up their specifications for the supplies and equipment until it was too late to awarda a contract in 1910. For this reason special revenue bonds have been requested for items for which funds were provided in the 1910 Budget.

It would appear, therefore, that the need for equipping rooms for anemic children is not very urgent, and may be held in abeyance for consideration in the 1912 Budget.

I recommend that the request for special revenue bonds be not approved.

Respectfully, WM. A. PRENDERGAST, Comptroller.

Which was ordered on file.

The Vice-Chairman laid before the Board the following communication from the Police Department:

The Vice-Chairman laid before the Board the following communication from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

No. 4370.

Department of Bridges, City of New York, 13-21 Park Row, Manhattan, N. Y., July 19, 1911.

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen of The City of New York:

Sirs—I beg to call your attention to the fact that the roadways of the Brooklyn, Williamsburgh, Manhattan and Queensboro Bridges, pursuant to orders which I have issued, have been thrown open for the free use by vehicles and led animals.

It is conservatively estimated, as a consequence, that the net revenues of the Brooklyn Bridge will be reduced by $35,000 for the remaining six months of 1911, and those of the Williamsburgh Bridge by $65,000. As the cost of maintenance of both of these bridges are paid out of the revenue arising out of the operation of those struc tures, and as the income from the roadway tolls was included in the estimated cost of maintenance for 1911, I beg to request that your honorable Board, in pursuance with section 188, subdivision 8 of the Charter, recommend to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment that the Comptroller be authorized to issue special revenue bonds in the amount of $35,000 to be applied to the expenditure of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge for 1911 and $65,000 to be applied to the expenditure of the Williamsburgh Bridge for 1911. Respectfully, ARTHUR J. O'KEEFFE, Commissioner.

In connection therewith Aldermen Dowling introduced the following:

Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Bridges for the purpose of providing means for maintenance of bridges as follows:

$35,000 to be applied to the expenditure of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge for 1911; $65,000 to be applied to the expenditure of the Williamsburgh Bridge for 1911.

The Vice-Chairman put the question whether the Board would agree with said resolution.

Which was unanimously decided in the affirmative by the following vote:

WALTER H. BUNN, Acting President of the Borough of Queens.

July 20, 1911.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

Gentlemen—For several months there has been an increasing clamor of protest from all parts of the City and from outlying sections, regarding the bad condition of the thoroughfare in the Borough of Queens known as Hoffman boulevard, which appears on the City maps as "Thompson avenue and the Hoffman boulevard." This street runs from the Queensboro Bridge plaza directly through the centre of the Borough of Queens to Hillside avenue and Jamaica avenue, forming with these streets the central and principal avenue of street communication between the Borough of Manhattan and the outlying sections of the Borough of Queens and central Long Island. It is the only direct route for automobiles and vehicles of all sorts from the Borough of Manhattan to Long Island.

Its present condition is such as to make it almost impassable to automobiles, and extremely difficult of transit for other vehicles. So dangerous has its condition become during the past few months that the Automobile Club of America has found it necessary to issue a special bulletin warning automobilists to avoid it, even at the extreme inconvenience of finding access from Manhattan Island to the main thoroughfares of Long Island by the devious routes through the Borough of Brooklyn.

The Long Island Real Estate Exchange, representing many of the principal property owners in Queens and suburban Long Island, as well as other organizations with similar interests, have made the intolerable condition of this avenue a subject for special meetings, have adopted resolutions calling upon the Borough and City authorities to remedy the evil, and are constantly appealing in every possible way for relief.

The Borough President of the Borough of Queens and the Commissioner of Public Works assert that they are now doing everything in their power within the limits of their appropriation to repair the street. Their reports show that they have now at work on Thompson avenue and Hoffman boulevard a force of forty-eight men. In the past six weeks, since they began the repair and resurfacing of this avenue, they have renovated nearly two miles from the Queensboro Bridge plaza. At the present rate of progress they will be unable to complete the entire length of about eight and one-half miles from the bridge plaza to Jamaica avenue before the middle of November or the 1st of December.

It is clear that the loss to The City of New York in depreciation of real estate values, both in the Borough of Queens and suburban Long Island, and the wear and tear on automobiles and other vehicles which find it necessary to pass over this road, is very great. In my opinion it is the plain duty of the City to come to the relief of the Borough authorities of Queens in their effort to put the road in proper condition.

After consulting with the Borough President and the Commissioner of Public Works in the Borough of Queens I am of the opinion that the present force employed on this work should be augmented by three additional gangs of laborers, and that these additional gangs should work at separate points along Thompson avenue and Hoffman boulevard. The Commissioner of Public Works states that a gang consisting of twenty-five laborers, one foreman and one assistant foreman, together with teams, carts, utensils and materials, is the best working unit for this character of work. He estimates that such a gang or working unit should be able to complete at least one mile of resurfacing in a working month of 28 days.

After careful examination of the estimates of the Commissioner of Public Works, I believe that the repair of the entire avenue can be completed in the manner in which I have outlined within a period of 39 working days.

In view of the urgent necessity of completing this work of repair as soon as possible, and in view of the character of Thompson avenue and Hoffman boulevard as the principal avenue of vehicular traffic between the Island of Manhattan and central Long Island, I believe that it is just and reasonable that the City at large should bear the burden of the extra expense involved in repairing this avenue within the time mentioned, which is estimated at $14,972.25.

I therefore offer the following resolution for adoption:

Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to an amount not to exceed fourteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-two dollars and twenty-five cents ($14,972.25), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Borough President of Queens, under the appended schedules of time, material and labor, for the purpose of expediting and completing the work of repairing and resurfacing Thompson avenue and Hoffman boulevard, from the Queensboro Bridge plaza to Jamaica avenue.

Respectfully, (Signed) WM. A. PRENDERGAST, Comptroller.

The Vice-Chairman put the question whether the Board would agree with said resolution.

Which was unanimously decided in the affirmative by the following vote:

Resolved, That, pursuant to provisions of section 419 of the Charter of the City of New York, the President of the Borough of Queens be and is hereby authorized to purchase in open market, without public letting, six (6) tar kettles at a cost not to exceed thirteen hundred and fifty dollars ($1,350), and twelve hundred (1,200) cubic yards of broken stone at a cost not to exceed three thousand one hundred and eighty ($3,180) dollars, in order to promptly accomplish the purposes and objects for which the sum of fourteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-two dollars and twenty-five cents ($14,972.25) was authorized in special revenue bonds.

No. 4374.

The City of New York, Office of the President of the Borough of Queens, Long Island City, July 21, 1911.

Hon. JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen, City Hall, New York City:

Sir—There is a general and insistent demand from the residents of this Borough for the erection of signs to indicate street names in all sections of the community.

Our Engineer reports that the entire Second Ward has been mapped, or practically so, the whole of the First Ward and a very large portion of the Fourth Ward, and that rapid progress is being made as to the other sections; that owing to the duplication of street names, it was necessary in many instances to make changes, which has caused confusion in some sections.

To alleviate this cause of complaint, I have decided to apply for revenue bonds to erect new street signs in the sections already mapped. I therefore beg to enclose you resolution for adoption by your honorable Board. Yours respectfully,

WALTER H. BUNN, Acting President of the Borough of Queens.

Resolved, That, pursuant to subdivision 8, section 188 of the Charter of the City of New York, the Comptroller be and is hereby authorized to issue special revenue bonds to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), proceeds whereof to be expended by the President of the Borough of Queens for the purchase and erection of street signs throughout the Borough of Queens.

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred on July 18, 1911 (Minutes, page 91), the annexed resolution requesting an issue of $7,400 special revenue bonds for automobile ambulances and salaries of Enginemen therefor, respectfully

REPORTS:

That, having examined the subject, it believes the proposed ambulances to be necessary. It considers, however, that the provision for salaries may rest until the ambulances are secured.

It, therefore, recommends that the accompanying resolution be adopted.

Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Public Charities for the purpose of purchasing two automobile ambulances at $2,500 each.

Department of Public Charities of The City of New York, Foot of E. 26th St., July 10, 1911.

Hon. JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen, City Hall, New York City:

Sir—We are informed by the Board of Ambulance Service that, owing to the increased demands caused by the excessive heat, the ambulance service has broken down in all parts of the City, and that this Department should make provision for an additional automobile ambulance at our Emergency Hospital, foot of E. 70th st., which has been assigned a territory in the crowded district of the East Side, from 70th st. to 110th st., and also for an additional automobile ambulance for the South Brooklyn district, to be located at our Coney Island Hospital, at which point we have at present only one ambulance.

This 70th st. emergency station has been established only since May 1, but it has grown to such an extent that an additional ambulance to take care of the service is necessary.

I would, therefore, respectfully request that special revenue bonds be issued to the amount of seven thousand four hundred dollars ($7,400), to provide the means with which to purchase two (2) automobile ambulances, at $2,500 each, for this Department, to be used as stated above, and $2,400 to employ four (4) Automobile Enginemen at the rate of $1,200 each for the two ambulances. These two men are on duty twelve hours. We therefore need four men for thes two ambulances, and their salaries for six months, from July 1, will amount to $2,400, as stated above.

We would also respectfully request permission to purchase these two automobile ambulances without public letting.

Trusting that this matter will have favorable consideration and that a resolution in the enclosed form, or other suitable form, will be passed by the Board at an early date, I am, respectfully yours, M. J. DRUMMOND, Commissioner.

No. 3103.

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred on March 21, 1911 (Minutes, page 1046), the annexed request for $7,200 special revenue bonds for additional Dock Masters, respectfully

REPORTS:

That the letter of the Commissioner explains this request. Since the Committee has had the matter under consideration so much time has elapsd that a reduction may be made per memorandum also attached. The Committee approves of the intention of the Dock Commissioner and recommends that the accompanying resolution be adopted.

Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Docks and Ferries for the purpose of paying salaries of six additional dockmasters at $1,800 each per annum during remainder of 1911.

Department of Docks and Ferries, City of New York, Pier "A," North River, New York, March 18, 1911.

To the Honorable, the Board of Aldermen, City Hall, Manhattan:

Gentlemen—This Department now employs 15 Dock Masters, at $2,100 per annum, and 8 Dock Masters, at $1,800 per annum.

The duties of the Dock Masters require physical qualifications which should only be second to those required in the Police and Fire Departments. They are each required to police and inspect sections of the waterfront varying from a mile and a half in the congested Manhattan districts, to 3, 4 and 5 miles in the outlying boroughs. They are required to board many vessels for the collection of wharfage; by their physical presence and appearance to be able to maintain order and settle disputes among barge captains, and on many occasions to perform police duties.

In addition to these requirements, they must have sufficient intelligence and judgment to be thoroughly familiar with and correctly apply the various rates of wharfage; keep proper record of their collections and make up reports as to the use of the waterfront. Unfortunately this position has been too often regarded in the light of a comfortable berth for older City employees instead of as a position requiring constant activity and vigilance.

As a consequence, out of the 23 Dock Masters at present employed in this Department, I regret to state that there are 6 who are unable, by reason of advanced age and physical infirmities, to render the service required in the efficient supervision of the dock front. These men, with their ages and length of service, are as follows:

	Age. (Years.)	Length of Service. (Years.)
Edward Abeel	86	28
James J. Fleming	62	19
Gerard Bancker	63	16
Peter Wooley	70	13
Patrick H. Lydon	71	2
James Daly (incapacitated by severe illness)	58	13

With the exception of Edward Abeel, James Daly and James J. Fleming, these men are all Civil War veterans, which accounts for Patrick H. Lydon's appointment recently at the advanced age of 69 years. Against these men, who have served from 10 to 28 years, it can only be said that they have grown old in the service and are really no longer qualified to continue in their present responsible positions. Unfortunately, the City does not provide a pension system for such men.

At the same time, while not able to perform the full duties and requirements of their position, these men, by reason of their knowledge and long experience, can still be of value to the Superintendent of Docks in a minor capacity.

Over each district there is placed a Dock Master, in whom is vested by the Charter certain powers. Attached to his office is a Laborer, so that when the Dock Master is out collecting dues and wharfage, which, under the Charter, can only be collected by him, his office is still open and attended to by the Dock Laborer. This Dock Laborer, in addition to the regular work of cleaning and caring for the office, can attend to the receipt of applications for berths, etc. These Dock Masters who are herein referred to could admirably do this office work.

It is desirable that these 6 men, 3 of them Civil War veterans, and one with 28 years of service to his credit, be required to fulfill the duties now performed by the Dock Laborers, that of watching and remaining in the office, and I therefore respectfully request that special revenue bonds be issued to the sum of $7,200, to meet the expense of 6 additional Dock Masters at the lower rate of $1,800 per annum, from May 1, 1911, to December 31, 1911, these men to perform the active outside work of the 6 men herein referred to.

After the issue of the special revenue bonds, a request can be made on the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to the end that Budget Line 172 be amended to read "14 Dock Masters at $1,800," instead of "8 at $1,800."

This seems a rather expensive solution of this difficulty, but owing to the unfortunate absence of a pension system and the requirement by law that Civil War veterans must be appointed to vacancies and cannot be discharged except upon specific causes, after formal trial, this seems the only practical way to meet the difficulty, especially as five of the men referred to are undoubtedly deserving of consideration from the City, which they have served long and faithfully. Yours respectfully,

CALVIN TOMKINS, Commissioner of Docks.

July 22, 1911.

Memorandum for Secretary.

In regard to communication of March 18, retiring six Dock Masters and placing them as Assistants in Dock Master's offices.

The letter of March 18 to the Board of Aldermen provided that this change would take effect May 1, 1911, and conseequently the issue of $7,200 of special revenue bonds would be necessary to meet the increased expenditures resulting from this change. The proposed transfer of six Dock Masters to Dock Master's offices cannot now take place before August 1, and there would be only five months to provide the salary for the six new Dock Masters to be appointed, at the rate of $1,800 per annum, which would amount to $4,500, instead of $7,200, as originally called for.

J. M. PHELAN, Auditor.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Report of Committee on Municipal Use of Automobiles—

No. 4375 (G. O. No. 130).

To the Board of Aldermen, City of New York:

Gentlemen—The Committee appointed by the Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen, pursuant to a resolution of Alderman Ralph Folks, to investigate the uses and cost of city-owned automobiles, together with the advisability of establishing a central garage, respectfully submits its report.

The Committee has held many sessions, examined many witnesses, and has taken nearly 900 pages of sworn testimony. The Committee has not sought to do the work to be performed by the Comptroller or the Commissioner of Accounts or any other officer. It has not had the force, time or money to undertake such work. Its object has been so far as possible to accumulate sufficient information to enable the Board of Aldermen to place the automobile service of The City of New York on a business basis.

The Committee has worked industriously, faithfully and done its best to secure such information as has been possible with the funds and facilities at its disposal.

The Committee hopes that the members of the Board of Aldermen will give its report careful consideration, believing as it does that the facts submitted herewith warrant radical changes in present methods.

The report of the Committee is divided into three parts, viz.:

First—A general statement of facts relative to the automobile service provided for The City of New York.

Second—A detailed statement of automobile service and expense in different offices and departments.

Third—Recommendations and suggestions. Respectfully submitted,

JAMES J. SMITH, Chairman; RALPH FOLKS, Secretary; EDWARD BRADY, FRANK A. CUNNINGHAM and CHARLES DELANEY, Committee.

Dated July 25, 1911.

PART I.

A General Statement of Facts Relative to the Automobile Service Provided for The City of New York.

It is not an easy task to describe in detail the methods of administering automobile service in different offices and departments. In no two offices are similar records kept. It is believed, however, that sufficient records are kept in practically all offices to determine the actual expenditure of money for automobile service.

Purchasing and Costs.

Automobiles—The present method of purchasing automobiles and supplies is unbusinesslike. Machines are purchased by different officers, few of whom have expert knowledge of the merits of any machine, and who therefore rely on mere hearsay or are guided by their own ideas as to what machines should be purchased, with the result that the City has on hand machines which are used practically for the same purposes, varying widely in horsepower, seating capacity and cost.

Cars have been purchased for chief officers at a cost ranging from $2,000 to $5,000; for subordinate officers at a cost varying from $750 to $3,500, many of which carry from four to seven passengers. In many instances machines of high cost and horsepower have been described as cumbersome and unsatisfactory.

It is the general opinion that not more than $2,000 should be expended for any machine, fully equipped, for any chief officer, and that machines costing from $750 to $2,000 provide sufficient and proper service for subordinate officers.

Lubricating Oil—It is a well recognized fact that much deception is practised by tradesmen in the sale of lubricating oils. Particular oils with fancy names and prices are frequently less serviceable than cheaper grades. In no two offices are oils purchased of the same grade or price, the prices ranging from 22 cents to $1 per gallon.

One of the best experts in chemistry in the City, a man of national reputation, who has made a chemical analysis of many oils, testified before the Committee that lubricating oil should not cost more than 27 cents per gallon, and that it could probably be purchased wholesale at 20 cents per gallon.

Lubricating oil is purchased by City Departments by the quart, gallon or barrel. If the machine is stored on city property oil is usually purchased by the gallon or barrel, while it may be purchased by the quart or gallon if bought from private garages, the private garages charging the maximum price for oil and gasoline.

Gasoline—The method of purchasing gasoline is practically the same as for the purchasing of lubricating oil, the purchase price actually paid ranging from 9½ to 20 cents per gallon. Gasoline can be purchased wholesale, best quality, from 9½ to 11 cents per gallon.

Tires, Tubes and Shoes—Owing to the fact that there are so many kinds and qualities of tubes, tires and shoes, the Committee is unable to say which is the most economical, although it is believed that this could be determined by a more accurate system of record.

The cost also depends on the size and dimensions of the wheel, the quality of the tire and the make varying in price with certain patents. In many instances a guaranty is given that a tire will run 3,500 miles with reasonable use. Such tires are taken back by the company in case of a latent defect and a new tire is substituted, allowing pro rata on the purchase price for the number of miles the old tire actually ran, or the old tire is kept in repair at the expense of the company until it has run 3,500 miles. It is believed that the purchasing of tires under this form of contract is desirable.

It is also to be noted that the heavy and more costly type of machine, weighing about 4,000 pounds, will wear out from a third to one-half more tires in cost than a lighter and less expensive machine of 2,000 pounds. The same rule holds true to a large extent in the consumption of gasoline and lubricating oil.

Storage—City machines are stored on City property or in private garages or in the Bridge Garage, under the care of the Department of Bridges.

The cost of storage in a private garage depends on the location and the size of the machine, the charge varying from $18 to $30 per month. This includes cleaning and burnishing. In private garages heavy charges are made for gasoline and oil, which in substance adds to the storage charge.

At the Bridge Garage there is a uniform charge of $20 per month, which includes cleaning and burnishing. Other officers and departments having city property store their machines on such property without cost, excepting the payment for the necessary labor incidental to the cleaning and burnishing of the machine.

Records—In a very few offices the Chauffeur keeps a daily record card showing where he went, the number of miles travelled, consecutive destinations, what officers were with him and the supplies used. This is the rare exception, however. In no office does the officer using the car make any record showing why he used the car, what business he transacted and how long he was gone. With one exception no attempts have been made to keep records of the time machines are waiting on call at the garage or outside an office.

Records are kept in practically all offices showing the amount of tubes, tires, shoes, gasoline, lubricating oil and repairs chargeable to each machine, and in at least one office a card record is kept of each tire, showing its number, the date of purchase, the date it was placed on the machine, repairs and the number of miles it has run.

Cyclometers—About one-half of the city-owned machines have no cyclometers. Without a cyclometer it is impossible to keep a proper check on the cost of running a machine. Tires and tubes should run a definite number of miles; a gallon of gasoline should run a car a definite number of miles, depending on the weight and horsepower of the machine.

The same rule applies to lubricating oil and certain mechanical parts.

A comparison of the number of miles a machine has run with the various items of evpenditure shows the condition of the machine and whether or not it is being run at an excessive cost for supplies, and also indicates whether there may have been any latent defects in tires or mechanical parts for which the manufacturer is responsible.

Serviceable cyclometers may be purchased at a cost varying from $15 to $25.

Assignment of Machines—In most City Departments a machine is reserved for the exclusive use of the Commissioner. In some instances other machines are assigned to Deputies, Chief Engineers or Superintendents, as the case may be, who have the machine at their personal disposal. In still other instances all cars are reserved for the use of the office or department and assigned to various officers as they may need them by a responsible officer in charge, who determines the advisability, in certain instances, of using the machine for the purpose requested.

The general rule, however, seems to be to assign machines to particular officers, who use them at their discretion.

Emblems of Identification—In most instances a City emblem has been placed on each machine. In some instances a detachable sign is used, or the initals of the department or office have been painted on the door or body of the car, which are suggestive, but not sufficiently definite or conspicuous. The detachable sign is objectionable for the reason that it may and has been detached, thus making it impossible to identify the machine as city-owned.

City Cars Idle One-Half of the Time—No records are kept as to the actual time cars are waiting on call in the garage or outside an office. In one office, however, some attempt has been made to keep such records.

In the month of March, 1911, the Committee visited the Bridge Garage in Brooklyn at 2 p. m. and found at least 10 cars waiting service at the garage. It is the testimony of Engineer Crocker in charge of the Bridge Garage, that cars are waiting nearly half of the time. It is the testimony of nearly all of the Commissioners and Borough Presidents that a car is kept subject to their call, which necessarily waits most of the time unless loaned to deputies or other officers for emergency work.

About one-half of the subordinate officers using automobiles stated that the cars assigned to them were waiting on an average of two and three hours per day, and in some instances such cars are waiting half of the time. Other subordinate officers testified that the cars assigned them were busily engaged all day. All officers and subordinates have necessarily some portion of their time reserved for office work.

It would appear from the foregoing that all city-owned cars are actually in use but little more than one-half of the time in business hours.

Repairs—In many instances repairs are made directly on the recommendation of the Chauffeur without an investigation by any officer. This is regarded as bad practice. In other instances the Chauffeurs recommend repairs to superior officers or an Engineer, who verifies the request and sees that the repairs are made.

Uses of Machines—It is impossible for the Committee to report the exact use of any machine, or the results accomplished by its use, owing to the fact that no officer keeps an exact and specific record of the particular business with reference to which the car is used.

In explaining the use of a car general terms are used, such as "assigned to Engineer on inspection or construction work," and "inspecting complaints as to lighting picture shows, markets, hospitals, etc."

It is submitted that such a statement gives no idea of the value of the service obtained from a machine, the quantity of service performed, or the results secured by its use.

While the Committee has no evidence that machines are used for joy-riding during business hours, it believes that the lack of precaution in assignment and supervising cars, and the further lack of proper records of use puts a premium on temptation to joy-ride, with the result that machines may be used as often as possible instead of only when absolutely necessary. The mileage and repair bills are the only indication of what service the machine may have rendered.

Joy-Riding—The practice of joy-riding after business hours has undoubtedly decreased very much since January, 1911. Prior to 1911 it existed extensively. In the year 1909 nearly all cars of certain offices and departments were out on the average of two or three nights per week after office hours. More rigid rules as to the use of machines were put in force in 1910, and still more rigid rules as to the use of machines have been put in force for the year 1911. It is probable that very few cars, if any, are now used after office hours for improper purposes with the consent of the head of the department or office. The Committee is satisfied, however, from the evidence obtained, that joy-riding is not a thing of the past. The cars stored at the Bridge Garage have been used undoubtedly extensively for this purpose within the past year. The authorities of the Department of Bridges have kept a record of all cars taken out or returned after 7 p. m. It is presumed by the employees of the Department of Bridges that a Chauffeur who brings in a car is entitled to take it out, and unless specific orders have been received from the head of the department, no objection is made to the taking of the car at any hour of the day or night.

The record referred to, which was subpoenaed by the Committee, shows that 216 cars were returned after 7 p. m. between May 18, 1910, and January 1, 1911. In several instances cars were reported as out all night. In many instances cars were reported out as late as one, two, three and four o'clock a. m., while practically all of the other cars referred to were reported as returned at different hours between 9 p. m. and midnight.

It is to be explained, however, that emergency work in any office or a breakdown might have caused the use or delay of the car, and on one or two occasions it is claimed that cars were loaned to the Bureau of Licenses or the Bureau of Weights and Measures for night inspection work. The Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity uses machines at night to inspect complaints as to inadequate lighting or new lighting projects, while cars are used by the Police Department at times to tour the various precincts or places where questions have arisen as to the enforcement of the law. It is also claimed that the Department of Bridges have used some cars at night for the inspection of emergency work after a fire on one of the bridges and for other proper purposes.

The Committee was unable to get clear or satisfactory information as to why many of the cars were used at night. It did secure evidence, however, that some cars were used apparently by unknown persons without authority.

The Bridge Garage—This garage is under the management of the Department of Bridges. It occupies space under the Brooklyn Bridge near its approach in Brooklyn, which would not be valuable for other purposes. The Department of Bridges stores its own machines there and those of other departments, under contract, at the rate of $20 per month. Its present capacity is about 50 machines, with the possibility of providing for 50 more machines with slight alterations.

Mr. Crocker, an Engineer of the Bridge Department, is in charge.

In the year 1909 there were stored in the Bridge Garage an average of 18 cars, and an average of 24 cars were furnished with supplies. There was a deficit of $2,300.

In the year 1910 there were stored an average of 23 machines, and supplies were furnished to an average of 38 cars. There was a deficit of $434.

In 1910 gasoline purchased at $1,610 was sold for $2,600; oil purchased for $500 was sold for $740; tires purchased for $8,891, were sold for $9,505.

Repairs are made at the usual rate, and supplies which are purchased in quantities at wholesale prices are sold at a little below the market rate in order to induce the various departments and offices to store their cars at the Bridge Garage. The profits from the supplies and the charge for storage are applied to the labor account.

A record is kept of all cars going out and coming in after 7 p. m.

Contract for Automobile Service—It has been suggested that a contract for automobile service for the entire City might be advisable. In some instances such service has been provided for emergency work at the rate of $3 per hour for various City Departments. In the Comptroller's office of The City of New York automobile service is provided under the contract system. Under the system established any officer desiring the use of a machine makes a request to an officer in the department responsible for automobile service.

In 1909 the total cost in the Comptroller's office for transportation for automobile maintenance, horse and carriage hire, was $17,252.19.

In September, 1910, a contract for automobile service was provided, the total cost for such service including costs of the system as continued from 1909, for the year 1910, was $11,676.30.

In January, 1911, the Comptroller states that a new contract was made, which, for the first quarter of the year, cost the City $2,897.83, which would seem to indicate that the total service for the year will cost about $9,000.

It is stated by the Comptroller that more service is rendered under the contract system than prior thereto.

It is also to be noted that the contract system obviates the heavy investment of capital in the purchase of automobiles. It is apparent that there is economy in this system provided it is adaptable to the nature of the service required.

When Is the Purchase of an Automobile Justified?—This is a difficult question to answer. It depends on whether or not the service required is necessary and continuous or intermittent.

Emergency Service—It is claimed by many City officials that automobiles are necessary at times for emergency work of great importance, and that the use of a machine on such an occasion may save the City an enormous amount. Emergency work, however, is the rare exception and not the rule.

It is also to be pointed out that automobile service may be had for hire at the rate of $3 per hour from private garages, and that taxicab service may now be had in nearly all parts of the City at any time at rates not prohibitive for emergency work. It is doubtful if any cars should be purchased for emergency work only. There should be actual need of a car for other purposes to justify the heavy expense incidental to its purchase and maintenance.

It is also to be noted that in addition to the maintenance cost, the capital invested in the machines is permanently lost.

In 1909 there were machines in the Comptroller's office costing $10,250 which were later sold at public auction for $1,800, indicating that the depreciation was $8,450. There is also a permanent interest charge on the depreciation of the machines and the maintenance fund, all of which must be taken into consideration in the comparison of the cost of city-owned machines with the contract system.

The total cost of the service of a given machine during its lifetime may be estimated approximately. The following table is based on the assumption that the life of a machine with active use is four years; that it cost $3,000; that the machine ran 40,000 miles, with a reasonable charge for maintenance and supplies at present garage prices:

Original cost of machine (life of machine 4 years)	$3,000 00
Chauffeur's salary, 4 years, $1,200 per year	4,800 00
Storage, $30 per month, 4 years	1,440 00
Gasoline, 10 miles per gallon, 40,000 miles, 4,000 gallons at 20 cents per gallon	800 00
Lubricating oil, one gallon per 200 miles, 200 gallons at 50 cents per gallon	100 00
Repairs, tires and tubes, 4 years	2,500 00
	$12,640 00

This cost is at the approximate rate of $3,000 per year for the machine. Automobile service may be had at the rate of $3 per hour. Three thousand dollars would thus provide service for a period of 1,000 hours. In a given year there are 88 days during which business is not transacted, as follows:

	Days.
Holidays	10
Half-holidays	26
Sundays	52
Total	88

—leaving 277 working days. On this basis, at $3,000 per year, a machine could be had three and one-half hours every working day.

It is believed that the amount charged in the foregoing table for maintenance and supplies is approximately correct, although there may be variations in the different items. It is in harmony with the report of Commissioner Fosdick made to the Mayor under date of January 27, 1910. In that report it appears that the salaries for Chauffeurs for the year 1909 was $107,185.54, while maintenance, including repairs, cost $132,568.55. It is to be noted in the above table that the total maintenance charge is also slightly in excess of the total of wages for Chauffeurs.

It is submitted that a machine should not be purchased by the City unless it has been clearly established by the officer desiring the same that the cost for automobile hire is in excess of the amounts herein referred to or other amounts determined along similar lines.

Chauffeurs—Chauffeurs are hired on a yearly basis at salaries ranging from $900 to $1,500, and on a per diem basis ranging from $3 to $4.50 per day.

In some instances officers and Engineers drive their own cars, and there is no expense for Chauffeurs.

Mileage Cost of City-Owned Machines—This can be determined in case the machines are equipped with proper cyclometers by dividing the total expenditure for supplies, repairs, storage and Chauffeurs' wages by the number of miles the car actually ran.

In the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan it has been determined that the average cost for the cars there used is at the rate of 26 cents per mile. The machines varied in the cost per mile from 21 cents to 30 cents, the less expensive machines running at the lower rate. These cars were new and were used very extensively. The rate of cost per mile was therefore obtained under favorable circumstances. No allowance was made for depreciation. The Chauffeurs' salaries and the cost for storage are in the nature of heavy fixed charges, and in case the car is not used extensively the cost per mile is much greater.

While the Committee hesitates to draw conclusions as to the actual cost per mile in the absence of accurate mileage records, it believes that the cost has been very high in some instances, the actual cost ranging from $1 to $2 per mile. This has been determined by considering the horsepower of a machine, the total number of gallons of gasoline and oil consumed and the number of miles such a machine should go on a gallon of gasoline and lubricating oil. The total mileage being appropriated, the cost per mile can be determined.

On the 1st of December, the Haynes touring car, No. 14 on the list, and the Mitchell touring car, No. 15, were withdrawn from service. The Haynes car was sold at auction April 18, 1911, for $435, and the Mitchell car is being held pending settlement of claim of the Mitchell Company, which claim is now in the hands of the Comptroller. Therefore, beginning January 1, 1911, the Borough equipment consisted of ten cars, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 9, 10, 12, 13 and 16. Mr. JAMES J. SMITH, Chairman, Aldermanic Committee on Municipal Use of Automobiles, City Hall, New York City:

Sir—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your circular letter of the 15th inst.

In reply thereto, beg to inform you that on January 24, 1910, pursuant to section 1553 of the Charter and section 490 of the revised ordinances of The City of New York, this Department, at public auction, disposed of the following automobiles, to wit: Two (2) Winton, 35-horsepower machines, one (1) Rambler 24-horsepower machine, one (1) National 35-horsepower machine.

The expenditures of January 1, 1910, to date of sale were, for storage, $10; salaries, Automobile Engineman, $168.

For hire of automobiles during the year 1910, this office expended, account of all Bureaus, $2,855.20.

Pursuant to resolution of the Board of Aldermen May 31, 1910, concurred in by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment October 7, 1910, there were allowed $6,000 special revenue bonds, proceeds whereof to be expended for the purchase of automobiles for this Department.

A further authorization of the Board of Aldermen, by resolution May 23, 1911, becoming a law on June 6, 1911, without the approval or disapproval of his Honor the Mayor, authorized us to purchase the same in open market.

In accordance therewith, we have issued orders for the purchase of three (3) automobiles, which have not been delivered up to date. Yours respectfully,

WALTER H. BUNN, Acting President of the Borough of Queens.

City Hall, New York, June 15, 1911.

Recommendations and Suggestions.

The Committee believes that automobile service under proper safeguards is necessary for the best interests of the City. Such service, however, is very expensive and should be as limited as possible. At all events it should be surrounded by safeguards applicable to private business.

The Committee realizes that a departure from the present system is something of an experiment. The experience at the Bridge Garage, in purchasing and centralization is suggestive of some conclusions. After reading carefully the testimony taken and after consultation with some experts, the Committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That forthwith the words "City of New York" should be painted in flaring colors plainly visible on the back of each city-owned machine, excepting cars used in the Police Department, the letters to be at least six (6) inches in one dimension.

2. That forthwith all city-owned machines be equipped with cyclometers properly sealed and not removable.

3. That the title "Automobile Engineman" be discontinued and that employees hereafter so employed be styled as chauffeurs.

4. That a standard rate of pay be determined for chauffeurs on a yearly and daily basis.

5. That forthwith no city-owned machine be taken from the Bridge Garage or any private or other garage at night or Sundays or holidays, without the written permission of the head of the department or office.

6. That no machine should be purchased exceeding the cost of $2,000, fully equipped, for any officer, excepting possibly one or two seven-seated cars for general use hereafter referred to.

7. That machins for subordinate officers should be purchased at a cost between the sums of $750 and $1,500, depending on the service required, and that ordinarily less than $1,000 should be expended for such machines.

8. That a central garage be established as soon as practicable for the Boroughs of Brooklyn and Manhattan, with a repair shop fully equipped to make all repairs for each Borough.

9. That the Bridge Garage be equipped to store and repair all cars in the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn. The proximity of this garage to Borough Hall and the new Municipal building in Manhattan is favorable. It may be advisable, however, to have a storage garage in the Borough of Manhattan under one of the bridges or on City property, all repairs to be made in the Brooklyn garage or vice versa.

10. That the central garage be maintained along the following lines:

(a) A superintendent should be provided for the said garage with the necessary labor.

(b) Cars should be delivered to an officer only upon the order of a Borough President, Commissioner or other such officer.

(c) Records to be kept in Central Garage:

(1) A daily book record properly supervised, to be signed by the chauffeur when he takes out or brings in a car, giving its number.

(2) A detailed record of all automobile expense for each car similar to the record now kept in the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan.

(3) That the officer using a car be required to present to the chauffeur upon the receipt of the car a card authorizing the use of the car so ordered properly signed by the head of the department or an officer authorized to sign in his behalf, the officer to enter upon the card the time he entered and left the car and where he entered and left the car; who was with him; the consecutive destinations and the specific nature of the business he transacted while using the car in some detail. Said officer should also be required to insert the cyclometer reading at the time he entered and left the car. The card should be delivered by the officer to the chauffeur, who should certify the correctness of the record and deliver it to the superintendent of the garage.

(4) A daily record of each car should be kept at the garage showing the daily mileage of each car. For this purpose the reading of the cyclometer should be recorded before the car is taken out in the morning and when it is brought back at the end of the day's work.

11. That one or two seven-seated cars for official inspections of new projects involving appropriations and the jurisdiction of several officers would be sufficient if a central garage be established.

12. That an officer now driving his own car, continue the driving of the car, proper records and authority in all cases to be required.

13. That the cars be assigned as follows from the central garage:

(a) Borough Presidents and Commissioners to have exclusive call on the large cars reserved for them as may be necessary.

(b) Subordinates should be assigned to other cars on proper authority as needed.

(c) If an officer is on duty all day and on permanent and continuous work; a machine should be set apart for his exclusive use.

(d) The number of cars should remain as at present until it can be ascertained by experience as to whether or not the number could be reduced.

Other Boroughs and Offices.

14. As to other Boroughs and offices the Committee doubts the expediency of a central garage, suggesting, however, that the same system of records should be kept as to expense as is now kept in the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan; that further records of the use of the cars be kept along the lines herein suggested; that machines be reserved for the office in general instead of being assigned to any particular officer; that machines be used only by permission of a responsible officer.

It is also suggested that departments and offices having automobiles in other Boroughs store their cars if possible with the Borough President under the plan of the Bridge Garage in order that they may benefit by lower prices for maintenance and supplies.

Central Purchasing Agency.

15. That a central purchasing agency be established for the purchasing of automobiles and automobile supplies for the entire City. The purchasing agent to be appointed by the Mayor to hold office during his pleasure; to be an expert on automobile service and to be responsible for proper records of mileage, use, cost for maintenance and other data in order that the cost of the service may be reduced to a minimum amount.

Which was laid over, and the Clerk was instructed to make a requisition upon the Supervisor of the City Record for five hundred copies of the same for distribution among the members of the Board, and the heads of the City Departments.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Aiderman Davis called up General Order 111, being a report and resolution, as follows:

No. 3227—(G. O. No. 111).

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred on April 4, 1911 (Minutes, page 6), the annexed resolution in favor of an issue of $26,500 special revenue bonds for additional help, Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, respectfully

REPORTS:

That, having examined the subject, it believes this extra help to be necessary to properly carry out the work devolving upon the Department. This request is based upon the needs for a year, and as such issue could not be made available until May 1, the Committee has reduced the amount by one-third.

It recommends that the accompanying resolution be adopted.

Resolved, That in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of seventeen thousand five hundred ($17,500) dollars, the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity for the purpose of paying salaries of additional employees in the Bureaus of Lamps and Lighting and Electrical Inspection during 1911.

FRANK L. DOWLING, WM. J. HEFFERNAN, CHARLES P. COLE, FRANCIS P. KENNEY, THOMAS J. McALEER, WM. P. KENNEALLY, Committee on Finance.

Alderman Dowling moved that this resolution be amended by striking out the words and figure, "Seventeen thousand five hundred dollars ($17,500)," and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures, "Six thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($6,125)."

Which motion was adopted.

The Vice-Chairman put the question whether the Board would agree to accept such report and adopt said resolution, as amended.

Which was decided in the negative by the following vote, three-fourths of all the members failing to vote in favor thereof:

Affirmative—Aldermen Baldwin, Campbell, Carberry, Cunningham, Davis, Delaney, Desmond, Dowling, A. S. Drescher, W. Drescher, Fink, Finley, Finnigan, Hannon, Hickey, Hoertz, Kenneally, Kenney, Levine, McAleer, McCann, Markert, Marx, Molen, Mulhearn, Reardon, Ruff, Sheridan, Smith, Snell, Van Nostrand, Walsh; Presidents Cromwell, Gresser; the Vice-Chairman—35.

On motion of Alderman Dowling the above vote was reconsidered, and the paper was restored to its place on the list of General Orders.

On motion of Alderman A. S. Drescher the privileges of the floor were extended to Assemblyman Aaron J. Levy.

Alderman Davis called up General Order 129; being a report and resolution, as follows:

No. 3921.

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred on July 11, 1911 (Minutes, page 30) the annexed request from the Commissioner of Street Cleaning for $210,000 special revenue bonds to meet deficit in appropriation for sweeping, carting and stable accounts, 1911, respectfully

REPORTS:

That, having examined the subject, it believes the proposed allowance to be necessary. The letter of the Commissioner explains the request in full detail.

The Committee recommends that the accompanying resolution be adopted.

Resolved, That in pursuance of the provisions of subdivision 8 of section 188 of the Greater New York Charter, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and it is hereby requested to authorize the Comptroller to issue special revenue bonds to the amount of two hundred and ten thousand dollars ($210,000), the proceeds whereof to be used by the Department of Street Cleaning for the purpose of meeting deficit in budget allowance for the year 1911, as follows:

Brough.	Division of Sweeping.	Division of Carting and Stable.
Manhattan	$25,000 00	$111,089 11
Brooklyn	.....	54,022 42
The Bronx	.....	19,888 47
	$25,000 00	$185,000 00

Department of Street Cleaning of The City of New York, 13-21 Park Row, New York, July 10, 1911.

Hon. JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, President, Board of Aldermen:

Sir—Under section 188, subdivision 8 of the Greater New York Charter, I respectfully request your honorable Board to authorize the issue of special revenue bonds to the amount of two hundred and ten thousand dollars ($210,000), in order to meet the apparent deficit in the appropriation allowed this Department for the year 1911, in the accounts of sweeping and carting and stable, in the Boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and The Bronx, due to the budget allowance for the year 1911, being insufficient on account of a decreased amount being allowed the Department of Street Cleaning by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment under the appropriation allowed for 1910.

The following is a statement of the original appropriation allowed for the year 1910, compared with the budget allowed for the year 1911, showing a decrease of $278,510.50:

	Original Appropriation 1910.	Allowed for 1911.	Allowed for 1911 under 1910.
Manhattan—
Division of Sweeping	$1,751,472 00	$1,679,872 00	$71,600 00
Carting and Stable	926,647 20	838,209 90	88,437 30
	$2,678,119 20	$2,518,081 90	$160,037 30
Brooklyn—
Division and Sweeping	$924,130 00	$911,632 00	$12,498 00
Carting and Stable	678,744 40	601,213 20	77,531 20
	$1,602,874 40	$1,512,845 20	$90,029 20
The Bronx—
Division of Sweeping	$233,152 00	$255,632 00	$20,020 00
*Revenue Bonds	24,791 66	.....	.....
	$257,943 66
Carting and Stable	135,830 80	169,372 00	8,424 00
*Revenue Bonds	24,480 17	.....	.....
	$160,310 97	.....	$28,444 00
	$418,254 63	$425,004 00	$278,510 50

*These bonds amounting to the sum of $49,271.83 were allowed for the last seven months of 1910 only. If they were allowed for the year the amount would be $84,466 or for Division of Sweeping, $42,500 and Carting and Stable, $41,966.

—which is further illustrated in the attached summary showing the anticipated condition of the appropriation for year 1911, on the basis of the pay rolls for the week ended June 22, 1911. This shows an apparent deficit of $164,307.29.

The difference between the apparent deficit and the amount requested, equaling the sum of $35,692.71, is due to the taking of the June 22, 1911 pay roll as a basis of calculation for the balance of the year.

As the fall and winter approaches, it will be necessary to augment the present force of drivers materially, hence this increase.

I therefore request that the sum of two hundred ten thousand dollars ($210,000) be divided as follows:

Borough.	Division of Sweeping.	Division of Carting and Stable.
Manhattan	$25,000 00	$111,089 11
Brooklyn	.....	54,022 42
The Bronx	.....	19,888 47
	$25,000 00	$185,000 00

In conclusion I desire to call your attention to the fact that with the addition of these revenue bonds to the appropriation for 1911, I will still be within the appropriation allowed this Department for the year 1910 by the sum of sixty-eight thousand dollars ($68,0000). Respectfully,

WM. H. EDWARDS, Commissioner of Street Cleaning.

FRANK L. DOWLING, WM. J HEFFERNAN, FRANCIS P. KENNEY, JOHN T. WALSH, THOS. J. McALEER, BRYANT WILLARD, JOHN DIEMER, Committee on Finance.

(16) The Fire Commissioner shall require that all workrooms where inflammable material is used in manufacture and where more than twenty-five persons are employed on any one floor at any one time, either an efficient automatic sprinkler system be installed in the workroom or in lieu thereof that the floor story be divided by a fire-resisting partition with fireproof doors into two parts, each of which two parts shall be large enough to hold all the people employed and be provided with a means of egress or escape which shall be approved by the Fire Commissioner. In every case where the requirements set forth in this section have not been complid with, it shall be the duty of the Fire Commissioner to notify, require and compel the owner or owners of the building to comply with such requirements. Such notice and order shall be in writing, shall specify the requirements and shall be served either by personal service upon the owner or owners of upon the agent in charge of the building. Where it is necessary so to do, in the judgment of the Fire Commissioner, extensions of time may be granted for the completion of the work necessary to comply with the requirements of this section. (1) Every building shall be covered or roofed with incombustible material as approved.

(2) The outside of the frame of every dormer window hereafter placed upon any building shall be covered with incombustible material. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the repairing of any shingle roof, provided the building is not increased in heighth, but this shall not permit the renewal of a shingle roof. The wood planking and sheathing of roofs shall not, in any case, extend across any side or party walls.

(3) Any mansard or other roof of like character, having a pitch of over thirty degrees, placed on any building over thirty-six feet six inches high, shall be constructed of incombustible material not less than three inches thick. The outside of such roofs shall be covered with incombustible material.

SECTION 39.

Cornices and Gutters.

(1) On all buildings hereafter erected, the exterior cornices, inclusive of those on show windows and gutters, shall be of incombustible material, built in a manner approved. The tops of cornices shall not extend above the tops of the walls to which they are attached.

(2) All exterior wooden cornices found to be unsafe shall be taken down and, if replaced, shall be of incombustible material. All exterior cornices and gutters of wood that may be damaged to the extent of one-half shall be taken down, and if replaced, shall be of incombustible material. If not damaged to the extent of one-half they may be repaired with the same kind of material of which they were originally constructed.

SECTION 40.

Roof Leaders.

All buildings shall be provided with proper metal leaders for conducting water from the roofs. In no case shall the water from leaders be allowed to flow upon the sidewalk, but it shall be conducted by pipe to the sewer. If there be no sewer in the street upon which such buildings front, the water from the leader shall be conducted by proper pipe below the surface of the sidewalk to the street gutter.

SECTION 41.

Tanks.

Tanks containing more than five hundred gallons of water or other fluid hereafter placed within or on the roof or above the roof of any building heretofore or hereafter constructed, shall be supported as approved. Underneath any such water tank or on the side near the bottom of the same there shall be a pipe or outlet, not less than four inches in diameter, fitted with a suitable quick opening valve to permit ready discharge of the contents from the tank. Such tanks shall be placed when practicable at a corner of a building. They shall not be placed over a line of stairs or elevator shaft. Covers of tanks placed on roofs, if of wood, shall be covered with metal. Tanks made of wood shall be coopered with metal hoops round in section. All water tanks containing more than one hundred gallons placed inside of buildings shall be properly insulated. All roof tanks shall be cleaned and inspected semi-annually and kept in proper repair, and the cover on same shall be securely locked.

SECTION 42.

Scuttles on Roofs.

Upon the roof of every building more than fifteen feet high there shall be a scuttle or bulkhead, with stairs or substantial stationary iron ladder leading thereto, which shall at all times be easily accessible to all occupants. All scuttles shall be covered on the top and edges with approved incombustible material. The openings shall be at least two feet by three feet in size.

SECTION 43.

Pent Houses and Bulkheads.

All enclosures upon roofs for tanks, elevators or elevator machinery, and all pent houses and bulkheads hereafter erected, shall be covered on all outside surfaces with approved incombustible, weatherproof material, including all surfaces and edges of doors and jambs. Stairs with suitable hand rails shall lead to the pent house or bulkhead.

SECTION 44.

Ducts for Pipes.

In all buildings the ducts for pipes, wires, cables and for similar purposes shall in all cases be separately inclosed on all sides with fire-resisting material. All such chases shall be fire-stopped at each floor. No pipes, wires, cables or similar material shall be encased within or imbedded in the fireproof protection of columns or other structural members.

SECTION 45.

Wainscoting.

When wainscoting is used in buildings hereafter erected or altered, the surface of the walls or partitions behind the wainscoting shall be plastered flush with the grounds and down to the floor line.

SECTION 46.

Floor Lights.

Floor lights shall be constructed with frames and bars or plates of approved incombustible material. Glass shall be not less than three-quarters of an inch in thickness. If any glass measures more than sixteen square inches there shall be a mesh of wire, either in the glass or under the same. Floor lights shall be of the same strength as the floors in which they are placed.

SECTION 47.

Skylights.

(1) All skylights shall have frames and sash of metal. All skylight frames and parts thereof shall be riveted or otherwise securely fastened, in addition to soldering.

(2) Skylights Over Public Passageways—Skylights hereafter placed in buildings of a public character over any passageway or room of public resort shall have immediately underneath the glass thereof a wire netting of not less than No. 8 galvanized wire, and not more than one and one-half inch mesh set in substantial channel iron frames.

SECTION 48.

Skylight and Roof Protection.

(1) When walls are carried up two stories or more above the roofs of adjoining buildings, proper means shall be provided and used by the person erecting the walls for the protection of the skylights and roofs of such adjoining buildings.

(2) Should the owner of such adjoining buildings refuse to grant permission to have his roofs and skylights properly protected, such refusal shall be reported in writing to the Superintendent of Buildings and it shall then be the duty of the owner refusing such permission to make his skylights and roofs safe at his own expense.

SECTION 49.

Shed Coverings for the Protection of Pedestrians.

Whenever buildings shall be erected or increased to over thirty-six feet six inches in height, upon or along any street, the person erecting or altering such buildings shall cause to be erected and maintained during such construction or alteration, a substantial shed over the sidewalk in front of the said premises. The shed shall extend from area line to curb for the full frontage of the building, and the roof thereof shall be strong and tight, so as to protect persons using such streets. The street side of such covered way shall be left open for a height not less than six feet above the curb. Said sheds and enclosures shall be subject to the inspection of the Superintendent of Buildings.

SECTION 50.

Outside Scaffolds.

(1) Whenever outside scaffolds are used on buildings over thirty-six feet six inches in height, whether the same be suspended scaffolds or constructed of poles and thro-outs, there shall be erected on their outer edges and ends an enclosure of substantial wire netting of not over two-inch mesh, or of boards not less than seven-eighths of an inch thick, placed not over one and one-half inches apart, well secured to uprights not less than two inches by four inches fastened at bottom to planks or timbers on the outer edges and ends of the scaffolding and braced by diagonal stays fastened to platform and top of uprights. The said enclosure shall extend four feet above the working platform of the scaffold.

(2) Timber thrust-outs shall be not less than three inches by ten inches and as much larger as may be required for the load to be carried. They shall be thoroughly braced and secured.

(3) The flooring of all scaffolds shall be tightly constructed with plank. Where poles, put-logs or thrust-out scaffolding are used, the floor and enclosure shall not be removed until a like floor and enclosure are prepared and in position on the story above.

CHAPTER XI.

FLOOR LOADS; WIND PRESSURE.

SECTION 51.

Floor Loads.

(1) The dead loads in all buildings shall consist of the weight of walls, framing, floors, roofs and all permanent construction except partitions not over six inches in thickness.

(2) The live loads shall include all forms of loading other than the weight of the material entering into the construction of the building.

(3) Every floor shall be of sufficient strength to bear safely the weight to be imposed thereon in addition to the weight of the materials of which the floor is composed. Each floor of every building shall be of sufficient strength in all its parts to bear safely upon each and every square foot of its surface a minimum of not less than the live loads specified in the following table:

Class of Buildings.	Ground and Lower Floors. Pounds Per Square Foot.	Upper Floors. Pounds Per Square Foot.
Foundries, Light and Power Plants, Printing and Lithographing Houses, Railroad Freight Depots	250	250
Warehouses	200	200
Car Barns, Factories, Garages, Work Shops	150	150
Fire Houses	150	60
Armories, Exhibition Buildings, Lofts, Markets, Stables, Stores, Public Halls	125	125
Railroad Passenger Depots	125	90
Office Buildings	100	75
Court Houses	100	100
Amusement Halls, Churches, Colleges, Libraries, Municipal Buildings, Museums, Schools, Theatres	90	90
Asylums, Bath Houses, Club Houses, Detention Buildings, Dormitories, Hospitals, Hotels, Lodge Rooms, Lodging Houses, Restaurants, Studios	60	40
Dwellings, Lodging Houses and Tenement Houses	40	40

(4) Every roof with a pitch of less than twenty degrees with the horizontal shall be proportioned to bear safely forty pounds upon every square foot of its surface in addition to the weight of materials composing it. If the pitch be more than twenty degrees, the live load shall be assumed to be thirty pounds upon every square foot measured on a horizontal plane.

(5) For sidewalks between the curb and area lines, live loads shall be taken at three hundred pounds per square foot.

(6) Every column, post or other vertical support shall be of sufficient strength to bear safely the combined live and dead loads of the portion of each and every floor which depends upon it for support, except that in tenement houses and dwellings, where a deduction of 50 per cent. of the live load may be made.

(7) In buildings which are more than five stories in height and have steel columns, with the exception of those buildings where the live floor loads are required to be one hundred and twenty-five pounds per square foot or over, the following reductions are permissible: For columns supporting roof and top floor, no reduction; for columns supporting each succeeding floor, a reduction of five per centum of the total live load may be made until fifty per cent. is reached, which reduced load shall be used for the columns supporting all remaining floors.

(8) In all buildings of Classes A, E and F, the plans filed in the Bureau of Buildings shall designate the actual purpose for which each floor is intended to be used, giving the maximum distributed and concentrated loads to be imposed thereon. In all cases where the actual loads exceed the loads designated in this code, the strength of the floors shall be increased so as to safely bear the actual loads to be imposed upon them.

(9) No safe shall be placed on a stair landing or in a stair hall, nor shall its weight be carried by any beam which also carries the floor of any landing of the hall.

SECTION 52.

Strength of Existing Floors to Be Computed.

In every building of Classes A, E and F now existing or hereafter erected, the weight that each floor will safely sustain upon each square foot thereof, or upon each varying part of such floor, shall be computed. Such computation shall be reduced to writing on printed forms furnished by the Bureau of Buildings, which shall state the material, size, distance apart and span of beams, girders, posts, columns and walls which support floors, and its correctness shall be sworn to by the person making the same, and it shall thereupon be filed in the office of the Superintendent of Buildings. If the Superintendent of Buildings shall have cause to doubt the correctness of said computation, he may reject it. When the correct weight per square foot which the floors in any building will safely sustain has been ascertained and approved, the owner of said building shall post a copy of the result of such approved computation in a conspicuous place on each story, as designated by the Superintendent of Buildings, and no floor shall be loaded in excess of this safe loading.

SECTION 53.

Wind Pressure.

(1) All buildings of skeleton construction in which the height is more than four times the minimum horizontal dimension shall be designed to resist a horizontal wind pressure of thirty pounds for every square foot of vertical surface measured from fifty feet above the ground to the top of the structure, including roof, allowing for wind in any direction, and if the connections and main members of the steel frame are not of sufficient strength to safely sustain this wind load without exceeding the safe allowable unit stresses as hereinafter given, then such bracing and additional material shall be provided as may be necessary and the Superintendent of Buildings may make such allowances from these requirements as the nature of the case in his judgment warrants, making due allowance for the stability of the masonry, which under ordinary circumstances could be assumed to offset one-third of the assured wind load.

(2) If the height of the structure is less than four times the minimum horizontal dimensions, the wind pressure per square foot may be reduced to fifteen pounds, except in determining the overturning moment, when thirty pounds per square foot shall be used.

(3) The overturning moment due to wind pressure shall not exceed seventy-five per centum of the moment of stability of the structure, unless the structure is securely anchored to the foundation, the anchors to be of sufficient strength to safely carry the excess overturning moment, without exceeding the allowable unit stresses as given in this code.

(4) In determining the overturning moment of structures, a wind pressure of thirty pounds per square foot shall be assumed. Unless the stress due to the wind in any member amounts to fifty per centum of the total live and dead loads, it may be neglected. When the stress due to the wind exceeds fifty per centum of the stress due to live and dead loads combined, all these stresses shall be added together and the allowable unit stress for the total may be taken at fifty per centum in excess of the values stated in chapter XI of this code.

CHAPTER XII.

MATERIALS: QUALITY, TESTS, WEIGHT.

SECTION 54.

Bricks.

(1) The bricks used in all buildings shall be good, hard, well burnt bricks and thoroughly wet before being laid, except in freezing weather, when they shall be perfectly dry. Not more than five per centum shall be bats or broken bricks.

(2) When old bricks are used they shall be thoroughly cleaned and wet before being laid. They shall be whole and good, hard, well burnt bricks.

SECTION 55.

Hollow Concrete Building Blocks.

(1) Moulded hollow building blocks, of concrete, consisting of one part of Portland cement, two parts of sand and five parts of crushed stone, may be used for the bearing walls of any building, provided the materials are not stressed beyond the safe limits fixed in this section. No such blocks shall be used until satisfactory tests have been made by the manufacturer, under the direction of the Superintendent of Buildings, in accordance with the requirements of section 53 of this code, and the use of such blocks has been approved. In no case shall the hollow spaces of a block exceed thirty-three and one-third per centum of its cross section. The thickness of walls or webs of such blocks shall be not less than one-fourth of the height of the blocks, and in no case less than one inch.

(2) The thickness of the walls of any building in which hollow blocks are used shall not be less than is required by this code. All such walls shall be laid in cement mortar. No wall composed of hollow blocks shall be loaded in excess of one hundred pounds per square inch of the cross section of the wall. The cross section may be computed as for a solid wall.

SECTION 56.

Sand.

All sand used for building construction shall be sharp, clean, coarse, silicious, free from clay, loam, dirt or other foreign material, and shall not be finer than standard samples kept in the Bureau of Buildings.

SECTION 57.

Lime Mortar.

Lime mortar shall be made of one part of unslacked lime and not more than four parts of sand. All lime used for mortar shall be thoroughly burnt, of good quality and properly slacked before it is mixed with the sand.

SECTION 58.

Cement and Cement Mortar.

(1) Portland Cement—The term Portland cement shall be applied to the finely-pulverized product obtained from the heating or calcining up to incipient fusion of intimate mixtures properly proportioned, either natural or artificial, of argillaceous with calcareous substances, and to which no addition greater than three per centum has been made subsequent to calcination.

(2) All samples shall be taken from packages in the open market and secured by a representative of the Bureau of Buildings, and shall be taken from the centre of at least three different packages. Not less than fifteen pounds will be considered a sample for an official test, and shall be put immediately into a metal container with a tight fitting cover, and a sample number given it; said number shall be put on the outside of a sealed envelope containing the sworn statement by whom the sample was secured, when secured, date, and for what purpose the cement is to be used. Said envelope and sample shall be delivered direct to the Superintendent of Buildings.

(3) The specific gravity of Portland cement shall not be less than three and ten one-hundredths, and shall not show a loss on ignition at a low red heat of more than four per cent.

(4) Ninety-two per centum of the cement shall pass through a sieve having ten thousand meshes per square inch and seventy-five per centum through a sieve having forty thousand meshes per square inch; the sieves shall be of woven brass wire having diameter of .0045 inch and .0024 inch respectively.

(5) The cement shall not acquire its initial set in less than thirty minutes and shall have acquired its final set in not less than one hour and not more than ten hours.

(6) This time of setting shall be determined by the Vicat needle apparatus. This consists of a frame bearing a movable rod, with a cap at one end, and at the other a needle, one centimeter in diameter, the cap, rod and cylinder weighing three hundred grammes. The rod carries an indicator, which moves over a scale (graduated to centimeters) attached to the frame. The paste is held by a conical, hard rubber ring, seven centimeters in diameter at the base, four centimeters high, resting on a glass plate, about ten centimeters square. The initial set shall be taken as the time which elapses, after mixing the cement paste and when the needle ceases to pass a point five millimeters above the upper surface of the glass plate, and the final set shall be taken as the total time after mixing when the needle ceases to sink visibly into the paste.

(7) Pats of neat cement about three inches in diameter, one-half inch thick at the centre, and tapering to a thin edge, shall be kept in moist air for a period of twenty-four hours.

(a) A pat is then kept in air at normal temperature and observed at intervals for at least twenty-eight days.

(b) Another pat is kept in water maintained as near seventy degrees Fahrenheit as practicable, and observed at intervals for at least twenty-eight days.

(c) A third pat is exposed in any convenient way in an atmosphere of steam, above boiling water, in a loosely closed vessel, for five hours.

(8) These pats, to pass satisfactorily the requirements, shall remain firm and hard and show no signs of distortion, checking, cracking or disintegrating.

(9) The failure to meet the requirements to test "c" may or may not reject the cement at the option of the Superintendent.

(10) The minimum requirements for tensile strength for briquettes one square inch in section shall be as follows and shall show no retrogression in strength within the period specified:

Neat Cement.

24 hours in moist air	175 lbs.
7 days (1 day in moist air, 6 days in water)	500 lbs.
28 days (1 day in moist air, 27 days in water)	600 lbs.

Sand Test.

One part cement, three parts standard sand.

7 days (1 day in moist air, 6 days in water)	175 lbs.
28 days (1 day in moist air, 27 days in water)	250 lbs.

(11) The tensile strength shall be determined on not less than fifteen briquettes from each sample; nine for the neat cement tests and six for the sand tests.

(12) All briquettes, pats and test pieces during the time of setting shall be maintained in moist air except as otherwise above provided.

(13) The sand used for testing shall be crushed quartz or Ottawa sand screened to pass through a sieve having twenty meshes to the linear inch and retained on a sieve having thirty meshes per linear inch; the wires having diameters equal to one-half the width of the openings in each case. Sand having passed the twenty mesh sieve shall be considered standard when not more than one per centum passes the thirty mesh sieve after one minute continuous sifting of a five hundred grain sample.

(14) The cement shall be mixed on glass and worked with the hands for five minutes, using from eighteen per centum to twenty-six per centum of fresh water for the neat cement test, and from eight per centum to twelve per centum for the sand test, so that the mass shall be of sufficient plasticity as not to admit of ramming and packing, but shall be put into the moulds with thumb pressure only, and struck off smooth on both sides. Standard moulds of one inch square section shall be used for all tests.

(15) The Portland cement shall not contain more than one and seventy-five hundredths per centum of anhydrous sulphuric acid nor more than four per centum of magnesia.

(16) Natural Cement—This term shall be applied to the finely pulverized product resulting from the calcination of an argillaceous limestone at a temperature only sufficient to drive off the carbonic acid gas.

(17) Fineness—It shall leave by weight a residue of not more than ten per centum on the No. 100, and thirty per centum on the No. 200 sieve.

(18) Time of Setting—It shall develop initial set in not less than ten minutes, and hard set in not less than thirty minutes, and not more than three hours.

(19) Tensile Strength—The minimum requirements for tensile strength for briquettes one inch square in cross section shall be within the following limits, and shall show no retrogression in strength within the periods specified:

Age.	Neat Cement.	Strength.
24 hours in moist air		50
7 days (1 day in moist air, 6 days in water)		100
28 days (1 day in moist air, 27 days in water)		200

One Part Cement, Three Parts Standard Sand.

7 days (1 day in moist air, 6 days in water)	25
28 days (1 day in moist air, 27 days in water)	75

(20) Constancy of Volume—Pats of neat cement about three inches in diameter, one-half inch thick at centre, tapering to a thin edge, shall be kept in moist air for a period of twenty-four hours.

(a) A pat is then kept in air at normal temperature.

(b) Another is kept in water maintained as near seventy degrees Fahrenheit as practicable.

(21) These pats shall be observed at intervals for at least twenty-eight days, and, to satisfactorily pass the tests, shall remain firm and hard and show no signs of distortion, checking, cracking or disintegrating.

(22) The metric system of weights and measures shall be used on account of the relation of the gramme to the cubic centimeter.

(23) Tests of cement used in building operations shall be made from time to time under the supervision of the Superintendent of Buildings, in accordance with the preceding specifications. All Portland and natural cements meeting the above requirements shall be approved, but the Superintendent of Buildings shall reject or disapprove the cement failing to meet any of the above requirements. A record of the cements which shall meet the requirements of this section and of these specifications shall be kept in the Bureau of Buildings for the public's information. A representative of the manufacturer may be present at the making of the tests, and in case of failure, the Superintendent may, at the request of the manufacturer, order the tests repeated at some recognized testing laboratory in the manner above specified. All expenses of such tests shall be paid by the manufacturer, or the user, and the same samples shall be used in these tests as were used in the previous tests. No brand of cement which has not been tested under the provisions of this section, or which has not met the requirements, shall be used in building operations, except that the Superintendent of Buildings, at his discretion, may permit the use of "non-staining" or other uncommon varieties of cement intended to be used under special or unusual conditions.

Cement Mortar.

(24) Cement mortar shall be made of Portland or natural cement and sand in the proportion of one part of cement and not more than three parts of sand by volume, and shall be used immediately after being thoroughly mixed. All materials shall be measured; three and seven-tenths cubic feet shall be considered as the contents of a barrel and four bags of cement of ninety-five pounds each shall be considered one barrel. The cement and sand shall be measured and thoroughly mixed before adding water.

(25) Briquettes of one inch square in section, made from mortar taken from the mixing box, shall show a tensile strength of at least seventy per centum of the minimum requirements for mortars made with standard sand as previously specified.

(26) Mortars failing to meet this requirement shall be rejected.

SECTION 59.

Cement and Lime Mortar.

Cement and lime mortar shall be made of one part of unslacked lime, one part of cement and not more than three parts of sand to each. All materials shall be measured.

SECTION 60.

Concrete and Beton.

(1) All concrete for footings shall be made of at least one part of Portland cement, and not more than three parts of sand, and five parts of broken stone or gravel.

(2) All other concrete which supports dead loads shall be made of at least one part of Portland cement and not more than two parts of sand and five parts of broken stone or gravel.

(3) The broken stone shall be granite, trap rock or equally hard stone approved by the Superintendent of Buildings. Where gravel is used it shall be thoroughly washed.

(4) Where concrete in mass is to be used for foundations the stone or gravel shall be of such size as will pass through a two-inch ring.

(5) The concrete shall be immediately placed in forms and shall not be used after it has been mixed more than one hour. It shall be deposited in horizontal layers and thoroughly tamped.

(6) All forms and centering shall be built plumb and to true lines in a substantial manner and with joints sufficiently tight to prevent the leakage of the cement mortar. They shall be properly supported and braced in such a manner as to safely stand both the dead load and the load that may be placed upon them during construction.

(7) Before the placing of concrete is suspended, the joint to be formed shall be made in such a manner as will not injure the strength of the completed structure. Whenever fresh concrete joins concrete which has set or partially set, the surface of the old concrete shall be removed.

(8) Concrete shall not be mixed or deposited in a temperature lower than twenty-eight degrees Fahrenheit, at the point where the work is in progress. No materials containing frost, or that are frozen, shall be used. Precaution shall be taken to prevent the concrete from freezing. After it has been placed in position, the temperature of the concrete must be maintained, by artificial means if necessary, at not less than thirty-two degrees Fahrenheit, until the concrete has set.

(9) Centreing shall remain in place until the set of the concrete has reached a point where it may be removed with safety.

(10) Beton, when properly centred, may be used in place of concrete when the conditions will permit. The same compressive strength shall be allowed for it as is allowed for concrete made with the use of the same proportions of cement and sand.

(11) Beton shall consist of alternate layers of mortar and stone, the latter pounded down as soon as deposited until the mortar works up and completely fills all the interstries.

(12) The stone shall be of a size to pass all ways through a five-inch ring and broken bricks or other suitable substances as approved may be used instead of stone. The Beton shall be deposited in alternate horizontal layers of about three inches of mortar and five inches of stone.

(13) The centreing shall remain in place as required for concrete.

(14) The ingredients for all concrete shall be measured before mixing.

(15) Stone shall be granite, trap rock, gravel or other approved material.

(16) For Concrete B slag, or tile broken to the proper size may be used, either with or without stone.

B—Portland Cement	1, Sand	2, 1 ″ Stone	4
C—Portland Cement	1, Sand	2, 1½″ Stone	5
D—Portland Cement	1, Sand	3, 2 ″ Stone	5
E—Rosendale Cement	1, Sand	2, 1½″ Stone	4

SECTION 61.

Quality of Timber.

All timbers and wood beams used in buildings shall be of good, sound material, free from rot, large and loose knots, shakes, or any imperfection whereby the strength may be impaired, and be of such size and carrying capacity as to support the loads for which the buildings are intended.

SECTION 62.

Structural Material.

(1) Rivet steel shall have an ultimate strength of from fifty thousand to sixty thousand pounds per square inch, an elastic limit of not less than 50 per centum of the ultimate strength, an elongation of not less than twenty-eight per centum in eight inches, and a reduction of area of not less than fifty per centum. A rivet rod must be capable of being bent and cold-hammered down on itself without fracture.

(2) All other structural steel shall show an ultimate strength of from sixty thousand to seventy thousand pounds per square inch, and an elastic limit of not less than 50 per centum of the ultimate strength. It shall have an elongation of not less than twenty-two per centum in eight inches, and forty per centum reduction of area.

(3) No rolled iron shapes shall be used in any structure.

(4) No second-hand rolled shapes shall be used in any structure without the written permission of the Superintendent of Buildings.

(5) Steel castings shall be made from open hearth steel, and shall be practically free from blow-holes, with a reasonably clear skin and sharpness to pattern. The steel shall not contain over eight-hundredths of one per centum of phosphorus. Steel castings shall be tested for strength and ductility from runners cast with the pieces and annealed with the castings, if the work is annealed. Such runners shall be turned down to not less than one-half square inch cross-section for a length of about six inches, and show in the testing machine an ultimate strength of sixty thousand to seventy thousand pounds per square inch, a yield point of not less than fifty per centum of the ultimate, and an elongation of twenty per centum in two inches. They shall bend cold at right angles on a round corner to a radius of the diameter of the test piece.

(6) Cast iron shall be of good foundry mixture, producing a clean, tough, gray iron. Sample bars five feet long, one inch square, cast in sand moulds, placed on supports four feet six inches apart, shall bear a central load of four hundred and fifty pounds before breaking. Castings shall be free from serious blowholes, cinder spots and cold shuts. Their ultimate tensile strength shall be not less than sixteen thousand pounds per square inch when tested in small specimens.

SECTION 63.

Tests of New Materials, Methods and Appliances.

(1) The provisions of this section shall apply to all such new materials, methods and appliances as are proposed to be used in building construction.

(2) Before any new material is used in buildings in the same manner as and for the purposes for which natural stones, brick and concrete are now authorized, whenever said new material departs from the general shape, dimensions and composition of ordinary building brick, an application for its use and for a test shall be filed with the Superintendent of Buildings. A description of the material and a brief outline of its manufacture shall be embodied in the application.

(3) The material shall be subjected to the following tests: Transverse, compression, absorption, freezing and fire. All such tests shall be made at some laboratory of recognized standing, under the supervision of the Superintendent of Buildings or his representative. The tests shall be at the expense of the applicant.

(4) The results of the tests shall be placed on file in the Bureau of Buildings.

(5) For the purpose of the tests, samples or test pieces shall be provided as required. Such samples shall represent the ordinary commercial product. They shall be selected from stock by the Superintendent of Buildings, or his representative, or may be made in his presence, at his discretion. The samples shall be approximately eight inches long, four inches wide and two inches thick. In cases where the material is made and used in special shapes or forms, full size samples may also be called for and tested in such manner as may be directed by the Superintendent of Buildings.

(6) The samples shall in no case be tested later than sixty days after manufacture.

(7) The weight per cubic foot of the material shall be determined.

(8) These tests shall be made in series of at least five, except that in the fire tests a series of two shall be sufficient. The transverse tests shall be made of full sized samples. The resulting half samples then shall be used for the compression and absorption tests, but in no case shall both halves of the same piece be used in either series. Half samples may also be used for the freezing and fire tests under the same restrictions. The remaining samples are to be kept in reserve in case unusual flaws or exceptional conditions make it necessary to discard certain of the tests. All the samples shall be marked for identification and comparison.

(9) The following requirements shall be complied with before the approval of the materials: The modulus of rupture must average at least four hundred, and must not fall below three hundred and twenty-five. The ultimate compression strength must average at least two thousand five hundred pounds per square inch, and must not fall below two thousand.

(10) The percentage of absorption (being the weight of water absorbed divided by the weight of the dry sample) shall not average higher than fifteen per centum and must not exceed twenty per centum in any case.

(11) The reduction of compressive strength shall not be more than thirty-three and one-third per centum, except that when the lower figure is still above two thousand five hundred pounds per square inch the loss in strength may be disregarded.

(12) The freezing and thawing process shall not cause a loss in weight greater than ten per centum, nor a loss in strength of more than thirty-three and one-third per centum.

(13) The fire test shall not cause the material to disintegrate.

(14) The Superintendent of Buildings shall approve such materials as successfully pass the tests prescribed in this section. The approval of any material shall require that:

(a) A brand mark for identification shall be impressed on or otherwise attached to the material.

(b) The name of the applicant for the test shall be placed on file with the Superintendent of Buildings, and any change in the quality or composition of the material shall be promptly reported to the Superintendent of Buildings.

Columns and compression members shall not be used having an unsupported length of greater ratios than those given in the foregoing tables.

SECTION 68.

Columns Eccentrically Loaded.

(1) The stresses of every column which is eccentrically loaded shall be computed. The sum of the stresses due to the eccentricity added to all other stresses shall in no case exceed the working stresses stated in this code.

(2) The eccentric load of a column shall be considered to be distributed equally over the entire area of that column at the next point below which the column is securely braced laterally in the direction of the eccentricity.

(3) Tie plates and lattice bars shall not be used in columns eccentrically loaded unless approved by the Superintendent of Buildings. Otherwise only plates extending the full length of the column shall be used.

SECTION 69.

Strength of Temporary Supports.

Every temporary support placed under any structure, wall, girder or beam, during the erection, alteration, demolition or repairing of any building or any part thereof, shall be of sufficient strength to safely carry the load to be placed thereon.

CHAPTER XV.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON.

SECTION 70.

Rolled Steel Columns.

(1) No part of a rolled steel column shall be less than five-sixteenths of an inch thick.

(2) No rolled steel column shall have an unsupported length of more than forty times its least lateral dimension or diameter, except as modified by section 67 of this code.

(3) The ends of all columns shall be faced to a plane surface at right angles to the axis of the columns. Wherever practicable, the connections between them shall be made with splice plates. When the sections of the columns to be spliced are such that splice plates cannot be used, a connection formed of plates and angles designed to properly distribute the stress, may be used.

(4) No rolled steel column shall contain material (whether in the body of the column or used as lattice-bar or stay-plate) of less thickness than one-thirty-second of its unsupported width measured between centres of rivets transversely, or one-sixteenth the distance between centres of rivets in the direction of the stress.

(5) Stay-plates are to have not less than four rivets, and are to be spaced so that the ratio of length to the least radius of gyration of the parts connected shall not exceed forty; the distance between nearest rivets of two stay-plates shall in this case be considered as length.

(6) Steel columns shall be made in one, two or three-story lengths, and the materials shall be rolled in one length wherever practicable to avoid intermediate splices.

(7) Where any part of the section of a column projects beyond that of the column above, the difference shall be made up by filling plates secured to the column by the proper number of rivets.

(8) Shoes of iron or steel, as described for cast-iron columns, or built shoes of plates and shapes may be used.

(9) All column connections shall be riveted.

SECTION 71.

Cast Iron Columns.

(1) All cast iron columns shall be of good workmanship and material. The thickness of metal shall not be less than one-twelfth of the greatest lateral dimension of cross section, nor less than seven-eights of an inch.

(2) Cast iron columns shall not have a smaller outside diameter or side than seven inches, nor shall they have an unsupported length of more than twenty times their least lateral dimension or diameter, except as modified by section 69 of this code.

(3) Seats and lugs shall be cast with the column and shall be of ample strength, reinforced by fillets and brackets; they shall be not less than one inch in thickness when finished .

(4) All columns shall be machine faced at the ends to a true surface perpendicular to the axis.

(5) Where square or rectangular cast iron columns are placed one on top of another, the top flange shall project not less than three inches from the outer surfaces of the columns on all sides, and the shape and dimensions of the bottom flange of the column immediately above shall be the same as those of the top flange of the column below. If the column is round or polygonal, the top flange shall project not less than three inches at its least projection from the outer surface of the column and be square or rectangular in shape, and the bottom flange of the column immediately above the same shall be of the same shape and dimensions as the top flange of the column below. Each flange shall be reinforced with brackets cast centrally on the column, and with fillets on both the bracket and flange. In case the column is placed on the lot line, the flanges on that side only may be omitted, if approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

(6) Between the joints of cast iron columns placed vertically over each other there shall be a solid steel plate not less than one-half inch in thickness, of the same dimensions as the flanges of the columns, and true on both sides. The columns shall be bolted together with bolts not less than three-quarters of an inch in diameter passing through the two flanges and the intermediate plate, the bolts being of sufficient length to allow the nuts to be screwed up tightly, and as each column is placed in position the bolts shall also be placed in position and the nuts shall be tightly screwed up. One bolt shall be placed at each corner of the plate and flanges, and the number of bots shall be never less than four. The holes for these bolts shall be drilled to a template.

(7) Where cast iron columns are placed vertically one on top of the other, the diameters or sides shall not be decreased more than one inch for each story.

(8) If the core of a column below a joint is larger than the core of the column above, the core of the lower column shall be tapered up for a distance of not less than six inches, to the size of the core of the column above, and the joint plate shall be of sufficient strength to distribute the load.

(9) Whenever the core of a cast iron column has shifted more than one-fourth the thickness of the shell, the strength shall be computed assuming the thickness of metal all around equal to the thinnest part, and the column shall be condemned if this computation shows the strength to be less than required by this code.

(10) Wherever blowholes or imperfections reduce the area of the cross section of a cast iron column at any point more than ten per centum, such column shall be condemned.

(11) Cast iron posts or columns not cast with one open side or back, before being set up in place, shall have three three-eighths of an inch holes drilled in the shaft of each post or column by the manufacturer or contractor furnishing the same, to exhibit the thickness of the castings; and any other similar sized hole or holes which the Superintendent of Buildings may require shall be drilled in the said posts or columns by the said manufacturer or contractor at his own expense.

(12) Iron or steel shoes or plates planed true on top shall be used under the bottom tier of columns to properly distribute the load on the foundation.

(13) Cast iron columns shall not be filled with any material.

(14) Cast iron columns shall not be used in any building exceeding seventy-five feet in height.

(15) Cast iron columns shall not be used in any case where the load is eccentric as to cause tension in the cast iron.

(16) Steel columns shall not be placed upon cast iron columns and vice versa.

(17) All holes in cast iron columns shall be drilled; no cored or cored and reamed holes shall be permitted. The diameter of holes shall not exceed that of the bolts by more than one-sixteenth of an inch.

SECTION 72.

Buildings with Cast-iron Fronts.

In buildings hereafter constructed with a front or other exterior wall of cast iron, the cast iron portion shall not extend more than thirty-six feet six inches above the curb, and the walls above this height shall be of masonry. The cast-iron portion shall be backed up with not less than twelve inches of brickwork or masonry, to which it shall be firmly anchored. This restriction shall not prevent the use, above the height of thirty-six feet six inches, of mullions or ornamental panels of cast iron, provided they do not serve as bearing members.

SECTION 73.

Cast-iron Lintels.

(1) Cast-iron lintels shall not be used for spans exceeding eight feet.

(2) Cast-iron lintels shall be not less than three-fourths of an inch in thickness at any point.

SECTION 74.

Steel Girders.

(1) All girder connections to columns shall be riveted. Rivets in flanges shall be spaced so that the least value of a rivet for either shear or bearing is equal to or greater than the increment of stress due to the distance between adjoining rivets. The length of rivets between heads shall be limited to four times the diameter.

(2) The compression flange of plate girders shall be secured against bucking, if its length exceeds thirty times its width, or the allowed unit stresses in the top flange shall be reduced by the column formulae as given in section 67.

(3) If splices are used, the splice plates or angles and rivets shall be equal in strength to the members spliced in either tension or compression. No reliance shall be placed on the bearing of milled joints.

(4) In determining the flange area no portion of the web is to be included.

(5) Stiffness shall be provided over supports and under concentrated loads; they shall be of sufficient strength, as a column, to carry the loads, and shall be connected with a sufficient number of rivets to transmit the stresses to the web plate. Stiffeners shall fit so as to support the flanges of the girders. Intermediate stiffeners shall be provided where necessary.

(6) When rolled steel beams are used in pairs to form girders they shall be connected together by bolts and iron or steel separators at intervals of not more than five feet.

(7) All beams twelve inches and over in depth shall have at least two bolts to each separator.

SECTION 75.

Rolled Steel Floor and Roof Beams.

(1) All rolled steel beams used in buildings shall be of full weight, free from distortion and injurious defects.

(2) Beams supported by girders shall be riveted to the same wherever practicable and in all other cases shall be securely bolted in place. Floor and roof beams if subjected to lateral thrust shall be tied together with suitable tie-rods, placed at intervals of not more than eight times the depth of the beams, which distance shall not exceed six feet. Holes for tie-rods shall be not more than one-sixteenth of an inch larger than the rod itself and be as near the centre of thrust as practicable. When channels or other rolled shapes are used as skewbacks they shall have a sufficient resisting moment between the rods to take up the thrust.

(3) Every beam, lintel or girder supported by a wall shall be properly anchored thereto and shall rest upon a steel or iron or plate so designed as to properly distribute the load over the masonry, excepting that for beams not exceeding six inches in depth, placed not more than thirty inches on centres, no plates shall be required.

SECTION 76.

Framing and Connecting Structural Work.

(1) Steel girders, columns, beams, trusses and other steel work of floors and roofs shall be well and firmly connected together, and to the walls.

(2) All beams framed into and supported by other beams or girders shall be connected thereto either by angles or knees of a proper size and thickness and have sufficient rivets or bolts in both legs of each connecting angle to transmit the entire weight or load coming on the beam to the supporting beam or girder; or a seat sufficiently strong to carry the full load with a side angle or knee to hold the beam in place may be used.

(3) In no case shall the shearing value of the rivets or bolts or the bearing value of the connection angles, provided for in section 66 of this code, be exceeded.

SECTION 77.

Riveting of Structural Steel.

(1) The distance from centre of a rivet hole to the edge of the material shall be not less than—

¾ of an inch for ½-inch rivets.
1 inch for ⅝-inch rivets.
1¼ inches for ¾-inch rivets.
1½ inches for ⅞-inch rivets.
1¾ inches for 1-inch rivets.

Wherever possible the distance shall be equal to two diameters.

(2) All rivets, wherever practicable, shall be machine driven. Rivets shall be proportioned and placed to suit the stresses. The pitch of rivets shall never be less than three diameters of the rivet, nor more than six inches. In the direction of the stress it shall not exceed sixteen times the least thickness of the outside member. At right angles to the stress it shall not exceed thirty-two times the leat thickness of the outside member.

(3) All holes shall be punched accurately, so that, upon assembling, a cold rivet will enter the hole without straining the material by drifting. Occasional slight errors shall be corrected by reaming.

(4) The rivets shall fill the holes completely; the heads shall be hemispherical and concentric with the axis of the rivet.

(5) Wherever required gussets shall be provided of sufficient thickness and size to accommodate the number of rivets necessary to make a connection.

SECTION 78.

Bolting of Structural Steel.

(1) Where riveting is not practicable, connections may be made by bolts which shall be of wrought iron or mild steel, with United States standard threads. The threads shall be full and clean; the nut shall be truly concentric with the bolt, and the thread shall be of sufficient length to allow the nut to be screwed up tightly.

(2) When bolts go through bevel flanges, bevel washers to match shall be used so that head and nut of bolt are parallel.

(3) When bolts are used for suspenders, the working stresses shall be reduced for steel to twelve thousand pounds per square inch of net area, and the load shall be transmitted into the head or nut by washers distributing the pressure evenly over the entire surface of the same.

SECTION 79.

Trusses.

(1) Trusses shall be so designed that the stresses in each member can be calculated.

(2) All trusses shall be held rigidly in position by efficient systems of lateral and sway bracing, struts being spaced so that the maximum limit of length to least radius of gyration, established in section 67 of this code, is not exceeded.

(3) Any member of a truss subjected to transverse stress, in addition to direct tension or compression, shall have such stresses added to the direct stresses coming on the member, and the sum of these stresses shall not exceed the working stresses stated in this code.

SECTION 80.

Riveted Steel Trusses.

(1) For tension members the actual net area only, after deducting rivet holes one-eighth inch larger than the rivets, shall be considered as resisting the stress.

(2) The number of rivets shall be determined as prescribed in sections 66 and 77 of this code.

(3) If the axes of two adjoining members do not intersect within the line of chords sufficient area shall be added to the chords to take up the bending stresses, or the web members shall be connected by plates so arranged that the axes of the web members prolonged will intersect on the centre of gravity of the chord.

(4) No bolts shall be used in the connection of riveted trusses, excepting when riveting is impracticable, and then the holes shall be drilled and reamed.

SECTION 81.

Steel Pin-Connected Trusses.

(1) All compression members in pin-connected trusses shall be proportioned, using seventy-five per centum of the permissible working stress for columns. The heads of all eye-bars shall be made by upsetting or forging. No weld will be allowed in the body of the bar. Steel eye-bars shall be annealed. Bars shall be straight before boring.

(2) All pin-holes shall be bored true and at right angles to the axis of the members, and must fit the pin within one-thirty second of an inch. The distances of pin-holes from centre to centre for corresponding members shall be alike, so that when piled upon one another pins will pass through both ends without forcing. Eyes and screw-ends shall be so proportioned that upon test to destruction, fracture will take place in the body of the member. All pins shall be accurately turned.

(3) Pin-plates shall be provided wherever necessary to reduce the stresses on bearings to the working stresses prescribed in this code. These pin-plates shall be connected to the members by rivets of sufficient size and number to transmit the stresses without exceeding the allowable working stresses.

(4) All rivets in members of pin-connected trusses shall be machine driven. All rivets in pin-plates which are necessary to transmit stress shall be machine driven.

(5) The main connections of members shall be made by pins. Other connections may be made by rivets. If there is a combination of riveted and pin-connected members in one truss these members shall comply with the requirements for pin-connected trusses; but the riveting shall comply with the requirements of section 80 of this code.

SECTION 82.

Painting of Structural Work.

(1) All metal structural work shall be cleaned of all scale, dirt and rust and be given one coat of paint at the shop. After erection all such work shall be painted at least one additional coat, of a different shade.

(2) Where surfaces in riveted work come in contact with each other, they shall be painted with two coats of paint before assembling.

(3) Cast-iron columns shall not be painted or covered until after inspection by the Bureau of Buildings.

(4) Structural metal work shall not be painted when it is to be thoroughly imbedded in concrete or cement grout.

(5) All iron or steel used under water shall be imbedded in concrete.

CHAPTER XVI.

TIMBER CONSTRUCTION AND WOODWORK.

SECTION 83.

(2) No wood floor or roof beam used in any building hereafter erected shall be of a less thickness than three inches.

(3) All wood trimmer and header beams shall be proportioned to carry with safety the loads they are intended to sustain and shall be properly framed; if over four feet in length they shall be hung in suitable metal stirrups.

(4) Every wood beam, except header and tail beams, shall rest at each end four inches in a wall, or on a corbel, a beam, girder or column.

(5) The ends of all wood floor and roof beams, which rest on walls, shall be cut to a bevel of three inches in their depth.

(6) Neither end of a floor or roof beam shall be supported on stud partitions, except in frame buildings.

(7) All wood floor and roof beams shall be properly bridged with cross bridging. The distance between bridging or between bridging and bearing shall not exceed eight feet.

(8) All wood beams shall be trimmed away from flues and chimneys. The trimmer beam shall be not less than eight inches from the inside face of a flue and four inches from the outside of a chimney breast, and the header beam not less than two inches from the outside face of the brick or stone work of the same. For the smoke flues of boilers and furnaces where the brick work is required to be more than eight inches in thickness, the trimmer beam shall be not less than four inches from the outside of the brick work and the header beam shall be not less than four inches from the outside of the brick work.

(9) The header beam carrying the tail beams of a floor and supporting the trimmer arch in front of a fireplace shall be not less than twenty inches from the face of the chimney breast.

(10) The safe carrying capacity of wood beams shall be determined by their resistance to bending and shear in accordance with the unit stresses fixed by section 66 of this code.

SECTION 84.

Anchors and Straps for Wood Beams and Girders.

(1) Each tier of beams shall be anchored to the walls at intervals of not more than six feet with steel or wrought iron anchors not less than one and one-half inches by one-quarter of an inch in size, with pins at the wall ends not less than five-eighths of an inch in diameter and ten inches long, fastened to the beams by three or more nails made of steel or wrought iron at least one-quarter of an inch in diameter. Said anchors shall extend into the brick walls at least eight inches.

(2) Where the beams are supported by girders, the girders shall be anchored to the walls and fastened to each other by suitable iron straps.

(3) The ends of wood beams resting upon girders shall be abutted together, end to end, and strapped by steel or wrought iron straps of the same size and distance apart, and in the same beam, as the wall anchors, and shall be fastened in the same manner as the wall anchors. Or they may lap each other at least twelve inches and be well spiked or bolted together where lapped.

(4) Each tier of beams running parallel to enclosing walls shall have at suitable intervals hard wood anchor strips dovetailed into the beams diagonally, which strips shall cross at least four beams and be one inch thick and four inches wide. No anchor strips shall be let in within four feet of the centre line of the beams. Or wood strips may be nailed on the top of the beams and kept in place until the floors are laid.

(5) Every pier shall be well anchored to the beams of each story, with the same size anchors as are required for walls.

SECTION 85.

Wood Columns and Posts and Timber for Trusses.

(1) All timber columns and posts shall be squared at the ends perpendicular to their axes, and timber, iron or steel cap plates or pintles and base plates shall be provided. The safe carrying capacity of timber columns and posts shall be determined by the working stresses fixed by section 64 of this code.

(2) Where the cap plate of a wood column or post supports a wood girder, and directly on top of the girder is an iron or steel base plate of the wood column or post above, the cap and base plates shall be connected by pintles of metal passing through the girder; these pintles may be of round bars of steel of proper size and not less than four in number, or a hollow cast-iron pintle of proper thickness may be used, in all cases adequate to transmit the load. Additional iron or steel check plates shall be placed between the cap and base plates, and bolted to the girders when required to transmit the loads with safety.

(3) When timber members of trusses are in compression or tension they shall be stressed in the direction of the fibre only.

(4) The working stress in timber struts of pin-connected trusses shall not exceed seventy-five per centum of the working stresses established in section 64 of this code.

(5) All bolts used in connection with timbers and wood beams shall be provided with washers of such proportions as will reduce the compression on the wood at the face of the washer to that allowed in section 64 of this code, supposing the bolt to be stressed to its limit.

SECTION 86.

Stud Partitions.

Where stud partitions rest directly over each other, and are not parallel with wood floor beams, they shall run down between the floor beams and rest on the top plate of the partition below, and shall have the studding filled in solid between the uprights to the depth of the floor beams, with approved incumbustible materials.

CHAPTER XVI.

EXCAVATIONS AND FOUNDATIONS.

SECTION 87.

(1) The person causing any excavation for a building to be made shall have the same property guarded and protected. Wherever necessary he shall properly sheath pile and at his own cost erect sufficient retaining wall to permanently support the adjoining earth. Such retaining wall shall be carried to the level of the adjoining earth and shall be properly coped.

(2) Whenever an excavation is not intended to be or shall not be carried to a depth of more than ten feet below the curb level, as defined in section 4, the owner of every adjoining or contiguous wall or structure shall protect the same, so that it shall be and remain as safe as before such excavation was begun. Such owner shall be permitted to enter upon the premises where the excavation is being made when necessary for this purpose.

(3) Whenever an excavation is intended to be or shall be carried to a depth of more than ten feet below the curb level, as defined in section 4, the person causing such excavation shall at all times from the beginning until the completion of the excavations, foundations, retaining walls or other structures to be built in such excavation, protect at his own expense every adjoining or contiguous wall or structure, and support the same by proper means. For this purpose he shall be afforded the necessary access to the adjoining premises. If access be denied by any owner of adjoining property, it shall be the duty of the person causing such excavation to notify the Superintendent of Buildings in writing to this effect. Thereafter it shall be the duty of the owner of the premises to which permission for access has been denied to make such adjoining wall or structure upon his premises safe, and to protect and support it by proper means so that the excavation may be made; and for this purpose he shall, when necessary, be permitted to enter upon the premises where the excavation is being made.

SECTION 88.

Foundations Adjoining Party Walls.

(1) In case an adjoining party wall is intended to be used by the person causing an excavation to be made, and the footings and foundations of such party wall are in good condition and sufficient for the uses of both the existing building and the new one, then and in such case the person causing the excavation to be made shall, at his own expense, preserve such party wall from injury and support the same by proper means, so that said party wall shall be and remain as safe as before the excavation was begun.

(2) In case the footings and foundations of any such party wall are not in good condition, or not sufficient for the uses of both the existing building and the new one, it shall be the duty of the person causing such excavation to be made to extend such defective or insufficient footing or foundation, or to replace same with a new footing or foundation. Such extended or new footing shall project on each side of the party line such a distance as to bring the centre of the footing under the centre of the wall, so that the total load upon the wall may be uniformly distributed over the area of the footing. In order that this may be done, the person causing the excavation to be made shall be allowed access to the adjoining premises.

(3) In case any excavation, or the removal of any existing building, shows any adjoining wall or structure to be unsafe at the time the excavation was begun, it shall be the duty of the person causing the excavation to be made, or the building to be removed, to forthwith report the fact, in writing, to the Superintendent of Buildings, who shall, upon the receipt of such notice from any person causing any excavation to be made, or any building to be removed, forthwith cause an inspection of such adjoining premises to be made, and if such inspection prove the aforesaid wall or structure to be unsafe, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Buildings, acting under the provisions of sections 7 and 135 of this code, to declare such wall or structure to be unsafe and cause the same to be repaired as therein provided.

(4) If the person whose duty it shall be to preserve or protect from injury any wall or structure, shall neglect or fail so to do within twenty-four hours after the receipt of a notice from the Superintendent of Buildings, then the Superintendent of Buildings shall enter upon the premises and employ such labor, and furnish such materials and take such steps as, in his judgment, may be necessary to make the premises safe and secure, or to prevent the same from becoming unsafe or dangerous, at the cost and expense of the person whose duty it is to keep the same safe and secure. Payment of such expenses shall be collected in the manner set forth in section 135 of this code.

SECTION 89.

Bearing Capacity of Soil.

(1) Applications filed in the Bureau of Buildings shall contain a statement of the character of the soil at the level of the footings. The Superintendent of Buildings shall be notified before any test is made of the sustaining power of the soil, so that he may be present or represented thereat. When doubt arises as to the safe sustaining power of the soil upon which a building is to be erected, the Superintendent of Buildings may order borings to be made, or he may order tests of the sustaining power of the soil to be made by and at the expense of the owner of the proposed building.

(2) In tests of the sustaining power of the soil the ultimate test load shall be one and one-half times the load which the soil is to actually bear when the building is completed. Measurements of the settlement shall begin as soon as one-tenth of the ultimate test load has been applied and shall be continued until a period of twenty-four hours shall have elapsed without increase of settlement under the ultimate load. On no soil shall the total allowable settlement after the application of one-tenth of the ultimate test load exceed one inch.

(3) In all cases where the foundation extends to a point less than five feet above the level of mean low water, or in any other case when required by the Superintendent of Buildings, test borings shall be made to ascertain the character of the material underlying the footings. Such test borings shall go either to rock or to a depth of at least twenty feet below the footing level. The Superintendent of Buildings, or his representatives, shall inspect the material, as disclosed by such borings, and shall fix and authorize, in accordance with the provisions of this code, the safe load which the soil may bear per unit of area at the footing level. The records of such borings or tests shall be filed in the Bureau of Buildings.

(4) In the absence of actual test of the sustaining power of the soil to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Buildings, the area of the bearing footing shall be so proportioned that the load per square foot upon the respective characters of soil shall not exceed those set forth in the following table:

Soil Under Footing.	Load in Tons.
Soft clay	1
Clay, sand or clay, and sand together or in layers, wet and springy	2
Loam, clay or fine sand, firm and dry	3
Coarse sand, gravel, or sand and gravel	4

SECTION 90.

Foundations.

(1) The foundations of every building except those erected upon solid rock, or upon walls or piers on the waterfront, shall extend not less than four feet below the surface of the earth unless protected against frost. When neither solid earth nor rock is found, piles or wood or of concrete may be used.

(2) Foundation walls if of rubble stone shall be at least eight inches thicker than the wall which rests upon them for a depth of twelve feet. For every additional ten feet, or fraction thereof, increase of depth, they shall be increased four inches in thickness. If of brick concrete or beton they shall be for a depth of twelve feet below the curb level, at least four inches thicker than the wall which rests upon them. For every additional ten feet, or fraction thereof, increased depth, they shall be increased four inches in thickness.

(3) Only Portland cement mortar shall be used in the construction of the footings and foundations of any building. No lime whatever shall be used under any conditions.

SECTION 91.

Piers Sunk to Rock or Hard Pan.

(1) When foundations are carried down through by piers of stone, brick or concrete in caissons, the load that the piers may carry shall be determined by the safe unit stresses allowed by this code on the respective materials, and by the safe carrying capacity of the material on which the piers rest.

(2) No timber of any kind shall remain in the permanent masonry.

(3) The excavations shall be kept free from water until the masonry of the piers has set. Free access shall be had at all times to examine the material on which the piers rest.

SECTION 92.

Footings.

(1) Foundation walls shall rest upon a footing course which shall be of footing stones, steel grillages, concrete, concrete reinforced with steel beams, or concrete steel construction. Wood footings may be used if they are entirely below the level of mean low water. The design of every footing shall be such that the stresses in the materials employed conform in all respect to the requirements of this code.

(2) Footings shall be so designed that the loads they sustain per unit of area shall be as nearly uniform as possible. The dead loads carried by the footings shall include the actual weight of the superstructure and foundations down to the bottom of the footings. All tanks or other receptacles for water shall be figured as being full of water. All vaults or similar built-in structures shall be considered parts of the building.

(3) In warehouses, stores and buildings not over one hundred and fifty feet high, used for light manufacturing, in which the live load on the floors is not over one hundred and fifty pounds per square foot, and in churches, school houses and places of public amusement or assembly, the live load carried by the foundation shall be not less than seventy-five per centum of the total live load upon the floors contributing thereto.

(4) In office buildings, hotels, dwellings, lodging houses, tenement houses and stables, the live load carried by the foundation shall not be less than sixty per centum of the total live load on the floors contributing thereto.

(5) The live load carried by the foundations of all other buildings shall not be less than that required to be carried by the lowest tier of columns or by the foundation walls.

(6) The area of the footing which has the largest percentage of live load to total load shall be determined by dividing the total load by the unit working stress, as stated in section 89. From the area thus calculated all the other footings of the building shall be proportioned according to the ratios of their respective dead loads only. In no case shall the load per square foot under any portion of any footing due to the combined dead, live and wind loads, exceed the safe sustaining power of the soil upon which the footing rests.

(7) Footing stones shall be not less than three feet long by two feet wide. Under walls their thickness shall be not less than one-fourth of their width, and in no case shall it be less than eight inches. Under piers, columns or posts the thickness of footing stones shall be not less than ten inches. The footing shall project a minimum distance of four and one-half inches beyond each side of any foundation wall, and six inches beyond each side of any pier. The footing shall be so designed that a line drawn from the outer edge of the wall or pier, at the bottom, to the outer edge of the footing, at the bottom, shall form an angle of not less than sixty degrees with a horizontal plane and shall lie within the masonry throughout its length. Footing stones shall be laid on their natural bed, crosswise, edge to edge, and well bedded. No two adjacent vertical joints shall lie in the same plane.

(8) Concrete footings shall be not less than twelve inches thick and shall project not less than six inches beyond each side of any foundation wall, and twelve inches beyond each side of any pier.

(9) Stepped-up courses of brick laid upon either footing stones of concrete shall have offsets of 1½ inches if laid in single courses, and 3 inches if laid in double courses. The offset of the lowest course of brick shall be equal to one-half the thickness of the footing stone or concrete base, so as to properly distribute the load throughout the same.

(10) If the nature of the ground and the character of the building are such as to make it necessary or advisable, the Superintendent of Buildings may require the use of isolated piers, instead of a continuous wall, as a support for the building. Between such piers suitable inverted arches shall be turned. These arches shall rest upon a proper bed of concrete. The thrust of the outer piers shall be taken up by suitable wrought iron or steel rods and plates.

(11) Where necessary, suitable grillage beams of steel, resting upon a bed of concrete, may be used. Such beams shall be fastened by bolts and separators and the grillage filled solid with concrete. All metal which forms parts of any footing or foundation shall be thoroughly protected from rust by concrete or by the use of other approved coating.

SECTION 93.

Wood and Concrete Piles.

Wood Piles.

(1) Wood piles shall be only of spruce, oak, longleaf or yellow pine, Norway pine or fir. They shall be sound and straight. The diameter at the butt shall not be less than ten inches, and the diameter at the point shall not be less than six inches. The length shall not exceed twenty-five times the diameter at the butt.

(2) They shall be driven to refusal, if possible, and the method of driving shall be such as not to impair their strength. The centre to centre distance between piles shall be not more than thirty-six inches, nor less than three times the average butt diameter. If driven to refusal, a maximum load per pile of fifteen tons may be used unless the load be otherwise determined by test. If not driven to refusal the maximum load per pile shall not exceed ten tons.

(3) The Superintendent of Buildings shall be notified before any test is made of the sustaining power of piles, so that he may be present or represented thereat. When doubt arises in regard to the safe sustaining power of piles in the soil upon which a building is to be erected, the Superintendent of Buildings shall order test piles to be driven by or at the expense of the owner of the proposed building. The record of such test shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent of Buildings.

(4) The safe sustaining power of a pile not driven to refusal, which shall in no case exceed ten tons, shall be determined by calculation based upon the following formula:

in which L = the allowable load in tons (maximum ten tons),
W = the weight of the hammer in tons,
H = the fall of the hammer in feet,
P = the penetration in inches under the last blow after the pile has sunk to a point where successive blows produce equal penetrations.

(5) Piles shall be cut off so that the tops are always below the level of mean low water. Concrete shall be rammed down in the interspaces between the heads of the piles to a depth of not less than six inches, and laterally for a distance of not less than twelve inches on each side of the rows of piles.

(6) Under frame buildings piles may be capped with timbers; the timbers shall be of sound, hard wood, not less than six inches thick and properly joined together. The tops of all such timbers shall be below the level of mean low water, except in the case of frame buildings built over the water or on soft meadow, or similar land, in which case piles may project above the water a sufficient distance to raise the building above high tide, and then the building may be placed directly thereon.

Concrete Piles.

(7) The mixture used for concrete piles shall be one part of Portland cement, two parts of sand and three parts of broken stone, which will pass through a ring three-quarters of an inch in diameter. The concrete shall be machine mixed.

(8) Steel reinforcement when imbedded in the concrete, shall be protected by at least two inches of concrete.

(9) The allowable bearing capacity of concrete piles shall be determined by the Superintendent of Buildings or by test. The requirements of this code for reinforced concrete shall apply to reinforced concrete piles.

CHAPTER XVII.

MASONRY.

SECTION 94.

Walls.

(1) The walls of every building, other than frame buildings, shall be of stone, brick, Portland cement concrete in bulk, blocks or reinforced, or of hollow tiles of dense, hard burnt clay or terra cotta, or other approved hard, incombustible material.

(2) Every building shall be enclosed on all sides with independent, or party walls.

(3) The walls and piers of every building of brick or stone shall be properly and solidly bonded with close joints filled with mortar. They shall be built to a line and carried up plumb and straight. The front, rear, side and party walls shall be properly bonded together.

(4) All brick laid in non-freezing weather shall be well wet before being laid. No brick, stone, concrete or mason work of any description shall be built when the temperature is below twenty-eight degrees Fahrenheit at the point where the work is in progress. No frozen materials shall be built upon.

(5) No wall of any building shall be carried up more than two stories in advance of any other portion of the walls of the building, except that in the case of wall bearing buildings the exterior walls may be carried up so that the interior iron or steel work shall not be, at any time, more than five stories in advance of the walls, but this provision shall not apply to buildings in which the walls are carried independently by girders at each floor. When not carried up at the same time, the perpendicular point between the walls shall be made with four-inch offsets at every heading course, and have also iron or steel anchors at least every three feet in height. These anchors shall not be less than two-inch by one-fourth-inch metal, and shall be either bent up at the ends or have a cross-pin to form the anchorage. Anchors connecting front and rear walls with side or party walls shall extend not less than eight inches into the side or party wall, and not less than twelve inches into the front and rear walls.

(6) The walls and beams of every building during the erection or alteration thereof shall be strongly braced from the beams of each adjacent story, and when required shall also be braced from the outside until the building is enclosed.

(7) In every brick wall every sixth course shall be a heading course, except where walls are faced with brick in flemish or running bond, in which latter case every sixth course shall be bonded into the backing by cutting the course of the face brick and putting in diagonal headers behind the same, or by splitting the face brick in two and backing the same with a continuous row of headers. Where face brick is used of a different thickness from the brick used for backing, the courses of the exterior and interior brickwork shall be brought to a level bed at intervals of not more than ten courses in height of the face brick, and the face brick shall be properly tied to the backing by a heading course of the face brick. In running bond, approved metal wall ties may be used in place of the diagonal headers if placed not over four courses apart vertically and twenty inches horizontally.

(8) Face brick shall be laid at the same time as the backing, and shall in no case be laid after the backing is in place.

(9) No timber, except inside lintels, as described in section 109 of this code, and brace blocks not over eight inches in length, shall be placed in any brick or masonry wall.

SECTION 95.

Piers.

(1) Every pier shall be built of dimension stone, stone concrete, or good, hard, well-burned brick. Stone or brick piers shall be laid in Portland cement mortar. Every exterior pier shall be securely anchored to the beams or girders at the level of each tier. The height of any isolated pier shall not be greater than ten times the least horizontal dimension of the pier.

(2) Every stone or brick pier less than nine square feet in cross-section, which supports any beam, girder, arch or column upon which a wall rests, or a lintel spanning an opening over ten feet wide on which a wall rests, shall have built into it, at vertical intervals of not more than thirty inches, steel plates five-sixteenths inch thick. Every steel plate shall have the same horizontal dimensions as the pier into which it is built.

(3) Every pier which supports a column or girder shall have immediately below the column or girder a suitable plate of steel or cast iron, to distribute the load over a sufficient area so that the permissible stress for the material supporting it, as determined in section 64 of this code, will not be exceeded.

SECTION 96.

Stone Walls.

(1) Every stone wall shall have one header extending through the wall in every three feet in height and every three feet in length. All headers shall be good, flat stones, not less than twelve inches wide and eight inches thick.

(2) No stone shall be laid in any bearing wall in any other position than on its natural bed. No stone which does not bond or extend into the wall at least six inches shall be used. Stones shall be firmly bedded in mortar with all spaces and joints thoroughly filled.

(3) Walls built of dimension stone, with dressed level beds, shall have a thickness not less than that required for brick walls under similar conditions. Walls built of rubble stone shall have such increase of thickness over that specified for dimension stone walls as may be required by the Superintendent of Buildings.

SECTION 97.

Ashlar.

(1) Stone used for the facing of any building, and known as ashlar, shall be not less than four inches thick. Stone ashlar shall be anchored to the backing, and except in skeleton structures the backing shall be of such thickness as to make the walls, independent of the ashlar, conform as to thickness with the requirements of the sections of this code, unless every alternate course be at least eight inches thick and bonded into the backing, and then four inches of it may be counted as part of the thickness of the wall. No wall faced with ashlar shall be less than twelve inches thick.

(2) Where terra cotta or other approved artificial material is used instead of stone ashlar, it shall not be less than four inches thick. It shall be properly and securely anchored to the backing, and not be counted as part of the thickness of the wall.

SECTION 98.

Mortar for Walls.

(1) Foundations and footings shall be laid in Portland cement mortar only.

(2) All parapet walls and chimneys above roofs, shall be laid in cement mortar, but this shall not prohibit the use, in freezing weather, of a small proportion of lime.

(3) All other brick walls may be laid in lime and cement mortar.

(4) All stone and hollow tile walls shall be laid in Portland cement mortar.

(5) The backing-up of all ashlar shall be laid up with cement mortar. The back face of ashlar may be parged with lime mortar.

SECTION 99.

Wall Thickness.

(1) The minimum thickness of all bearing walls shall be in accordance with the schedules below. In determining the thickness by means of these schedules, the height of the walls shall be measured to the point of support whether this be a foundation, a beam or a girder. No wooden beam or girder shall rest on a wall of less thickness than 16 inches, and no walls thinner than 16 inches shall be used as a bearing wall in any inflammable building, except as provided in section 109.

(2) Walls of hollow tile may be used as leaning walls in buildings not exceeding 50 feet in height and the thickness of such walls shall be as required for brick walls by the provisions of this section.

Thickness of Hollow Tile Walls.

(3) Walls of hollow tile may be used as bearing walls in buildings which do not exceed fifty feet in height. The thickness of such walls shall be as required for brick walls by the provisions of this section.

Increased Thickness of Walls.

(3) When the height of any wall exceeds one hundred feet, it shall be increased in thickness in general accordance with the above schedules as shall be approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

(4) When the clear span is greater than twenty-five feet, the thickness of bearing walls shall be increased four inches over that set forth in the above schedules for every twelve and one-half feet or fraction thereof that the said span exceeds twenty-five feet; or shall have in lieu of this increase of thickness, such piers or buttresses as the Superintendent of Buildings may direct.

(5) Every bearing wall faced with brick laid in running bond shall be four inches thicker than specified in the foregoing schedules.

(6) If any horizontal section through any part of any bearing wall shows more than thirty per centum (or forty-five per centum if the wall is laid in Portland cement mortar) area of flues and openings, such wall shall be increased in thickness by four inches for every fifteen per centum, or fraction thereof, by which the total area of flues and openings exceeds thirty per centum.

(7) In all buildings, walls over one hundred and five feet in length shall be four inches thicker throughout than is required by this code, unless they are properly braced by cross walls, piers, buttresses or similar means.

Thickness of Nonbearing Walls.

(8) The thickness of nonbearing walls may be four inches less than that of bearing walls, provided that no nonbearing wall is less than twelve inches thick and extends for more than fifty feet in height without an increase of thickness.

SECTION 100.

Enclosure Walls for Skeleton Structures.

In skeleton structures the enclosure walls shall be supported by girders at each story and be not less than twelve inches thick, if of brick, or stone, laid in cement mortar and thoroughly anchored to the steel work. If of concrete or beton they shall be twelve inches thick, but if of re-enforced concrete they may be eight inches thick. When the vertical distance between supporting girders exceeds fifteen feet the thickness of the wall shall be increased one-third for each fifteen feet or fraction thereof that the said vertical distance exceeds fifteen feet. Such walls may be of hollow tile as specified in section 103 of this code, if such hollow tile be faced with four inches of brick or stone ashlar thoroughly bonded so that the total thickness shall not be less than twelve inches.

SECTION 101.

Curtain Walls.

Curtain walls shall be taken to mean nonbearing walls built between piers or they shall be laid in cement mortar, and not less than twelve inches thick for the uppermost sixty feet thereof, or nearest tier of beams to that height, and increased four inches for the lower section of sixty feet, or nearest tier of beams to that height; and thence downward the thickness of walls shall increase as prescribed in section 99 of this code. When such walls are used, the foundations of the buildings shall be so designed that the load from the columns and the load of the walls are carried together.

SECTION 102.

Parapet Walls.

All exterior and division or party walls over fifteen feet high, excepting where such walls are to be finished with cornices, gutters or crown mouldings, shall have parapet walls not less than eight inches in thickness carried two feet above the roof. In warehouses, factories, stores and other buildings used for commercial or manufacturing purposes the parapet walls shall be not less than twelve inches in thickness carried three feet above the roof. All such walls shall be coped with stone, terra cotta, cast iron or other approved material.

SECTION 103.

Hollow Walls.

Walls of Hollow Tile.

(1) Hollow tile used in walls shall be of dense, hard burnt clay or terra cotta and shall have an average ultimate compression strength of not less than 3,600 pounds per square inch of net sectional area and the total area of the cellular spaces shall not exceed fifty-five per centum of the end cross-section. The thickness of the walls shall be as specified in section 99 of this code.

(2) When hollow tile walls are exposed to the weather the hollow tile must either be vitrified in burning, veneered with brick or stone ashlar to which it shall be securely bonded, or coated with not less than one inch of Portland cement stucco. To receive such coating the blocks shall be scored with dovetailed grooves.

(3) Whenever a girder or a beam transmits to a hollow tile wall a load of more than two tons or a lintel is more than five feet long such girder, beam or lintel shall rest upon a tile which has been filled solidly with Portland cement concrete or upon a suitable metal plate. No hollow tile shall be loaded in excess of 250 pounds per square inch of net sectional area, when set on end, or of 150 pounds per square inch when set on the side.

(4) When hollow tile walls are decreased in thickness the tiles in the top course of the thicker wall shall be filled with Portland cement concrete.

SECTION 104.

Walls of One-Story Brick Buildings.

One-story structures not exceeding a height of fifteen feet may be built with eight-inch walls when the bearing walls are not more than nineteen feet apart, and the length of the eight-inch bearing walls does not exceed fifty-five feet. One-story and basement extensions to dwellings may be built with eight-inch walls when not over twenty feet wide, twenty feet deep and fifteen feet high.

SECTION 105.

Walls of Buildings Raised, Lowered or Altered.

(1) No brick dwelling-house with eight-inch walls, already erected, that has a peaked roof, shall be raised for the purpose of making a flat roof thereon, unless the addition to the exterior walls be of brick, and unless the new roof be covered with fireproof material. The building, when so raised, shall not exceed thirty-six feet six inches in height.

(2) No brick building shall be enlarged or built upon unless the addition to the exterior walls be of approved combustible materials.

SECTION 106.

Existing Walls.

(1) Existing Party Walls—Walls heretofore built for or used as party walls, the thickness of which was at the time of their erection in accordance with the requirements of the existing laws, which are in good condition but are not in accordance with the requirements of this code, may be used at the discretion of the Superintendent of Buildings for the ordinary uses of party walls provided the height of the same be not increased.

(2) Lining Existing Walls—Should it be desired to increase the height of existing party or independent walls, which are less in thickness than required under this code, this shall be done by lining with reinforced concrete to form a combined thickness with the odd wall eaqul to the thickness required for a new wall corresponding with the total height of the wall when so increased in height. The said lining shall be supported on proper foundations and carried up to such a height as the Superintendent of Buildings may require. No lining shall be less than four inches in thickness, and all linings shall be thoroughly anchored to the old brick walls by removing the old brick so that the concrete shall enter the old wall 8-inch by 8-inch by 8-inch at regular intervals one to every 16 square feet of wall surface, the old walls being first cleaned of plaster or other coatings where any lining is to be built against the same. No rubble wall shall be lined until it has been approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

SECTION 107.

Furred Walls, Hollow Walls and Studded-off Spaces.

(1) The inside four inches of all walls may be built of hard burned hollow brick, the dimensions of ordinary brick, properly tied and bonded into the walls. Hollow tiles of porous terra cotta used as lining or furring shall not be considered to form part of the required thickness of any wall.

(2) In all walls furred with wood the masonry between the ends of wood beams shall project the thickness of the furring beyond the inner face of the wall for the full depth of the beams.

Hollow Walls.

(3) In all hollow walls the same net horizontal section of stone, brick or concrete shall be used as if they were solid. The parts of hollow walls shall be connected by proper ties of brick, stone, iron or other approved metal, placed not over twenty-four inches apart, horizontally and vertically. Metal ties shall have the ends bent at right angles and be not less than one inch wide by one-quarter inch thick, and shall extend into the wall on each side not less than four inches.

Studded-off Spaces.

(4) Where walls are studded off, unless fire-stops are provided as called for in this section, the space between the inside face of the wall and the studding at the floor level shall be fire-stopped with approved fireproof material. The beams directly over the studded-off space shall be deafened with not less than six inches of such material, which shall be laid on boards cut in between the beams. The under side of such beams shall be protected by a covering of metal lath, or other approved fireproof materials, and plaster.

SECTION 108.

Recesses and Chases in Walls.

(1) There may be in foundation or cellar walls such recesses for stairways or elevators as the Superintendent of Buildings may approve, and such reinforcement as he may require to compensate for the diminished thickness of the walls shall be provided. The brick backing of recesses for alcoves and similar spaces shall be not less than eight inches thick. The recesses shall be not more than eight feet in width, and arched or spanned over with iron or steel lintels, and carried not higher than eighteen inches below the bottom of the beams of the floor next above.

(2) No chase for water or other pipes shall be made in any wall more than one-third of its thickness. No horizontal recess or chase which exceeds four feet in length shall be allowed in any wall. The aggregate area of recesses and chases in any wall shall not exceed one-fourth of the whole area of the face of the wall on any story, nor shall any such recess be made within a distance of six feet from any other recess in the same wall. There shall be no chase in any pier.

SECTION 109.

Arches and Lintels.

(1) Openings for doors and windows in all buildings shall have arches of stone, brick or terra cotta, well built and keyed, or lintels of stone, iron or steel, of sufficient strength, which shall have a bearing at each end of not less than five inches on the wall. On the inside of all openings in inflammable buildings in which lintels shall be less than the thickness of the wall to be supported, there may be timber lintels, which shall rest at each end not more than three inches on any wall, and be chamfered at each end or cut to true arch shape on top. A suitable rowlock or keyed arch shall be turned over the timber lintel. Or the inside lintel may be of cast iron, or steel, and in such case plates shall not be required at the ends where the lintel rests on the walls, provided the opening is not more than six feet in width.

(2) All masonry arches shall be capable of sustaining the weight and pressure which they are designed to carry, and the stress at any point shall not exceed the working stress for the material used, as given in section 66 of this code. Tie rods shall be used where necessary to secure stability.

CHAPTER XVIII.

FIREPROOFING.

SECTION 110.

Fireproof and Semi-Fireproof Buildings.

(1) All columns which support the steel girders, which carry enclosure walls, and all columns which are built into walls and support floors only, shall be protected against fire by a casing of masonry, which shall be not less than eight inches in thickness on the outer surfaces, and not less than four inches on the inner surfaces, and be well bonded into the masonry of the enclosure walls.

(2) The exposed surfaces of the wall girders shall have a similar casing of masonry not less than four inches in thickness on the outer surfaces and tied and bonded, but the extreme outer edges of the flanges of beams or plates or angles connected to the beams may project to within two inches of the outside surface of the masonry casing. The inside surfaces of the girders shall be similarly covered with masonry, or, if projecting inside the walls, they shall be protected by concrete, terra cotta or other approved fireproof material.

(3) All structural metal shall be covered with fire-resisting material not less than two inches thick as approved.

Their weight shall in no case be supported by wood sleepers or floor boards. In buildings with metal lath and plaster ceilings the partitions shall in no case penetrate the ceilings but shall be built snugly to the underside of the metal lath surafce.

(5) Brick and block partitions shall be built with Portland cement mortar consisting of one part Portland cement and three parts of sand.

CHAPTER XIX.

REINFORCED CONCRETE.

SECTION 116.

Reinforced Concrete.

(1) The term reinforced concrete shall mean an approved concrete mixture reinforced by steel of any shape, so combined that the concrete will take up the compression stresses and the steel the tension stresses and assist in the resistance to shear.

(2) The concrete used shall be stone concrete A, of section 60 of this code, and shall be what is usually known as wet mixture.

(3) All cement used in reinforced concrete shall be Portland cement conforming to the requirements of section 58 of this code.

(4) The sand shall meet the requirements of section 56 of this code.

(5) The crushed stone or gravel shall be clean, pass through a three-quarter inch ring, and conform in every respect to the requirements of section 60 of this code. Any other material than that specified, shall first be submitted to and approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

(6) The steel used in reinforced concrete shall meet the requirements for structural steel given in section 62 of this code.

SECTION 117.

Working Stresses and Requirements.

(1) Reinforced concrete shall be so used that the stresses in the concrete and steel shall not exceed the limits given in section 66 of this code and the following.

Adhesion of concrete to steel 120 pounds per square inch.

(2) The ratio of the modulai of elasticity of concrete and steel shall be taken as 1 to 15.

(3) The following assumptions shall guide in the determination of the bending moments due to the external forces in reinforced concrete. Continuous beams to be calculated by the formula $\frac{W.\ L.}{10}$. Floor slabs when constructed continuous and when provided with reinforcement at top of plate over the supports, may be treated as continuous beams. The bending moment for uniformly distributed loads being taken at not less than $\frac{W.\ L.}{12}$. The bending moment may be taken as $\frac{W.\ L.}{28}$ In the case of square floor slabs which are reinforced in both directions and supported on all sides by concrete beams or girders.

(4) The moment of resistance of any reinforced concrete construction under transverse loads shall be determined by formula based on the following assumptions:

(a) The bond between the concrete and steel is sufficient to make the two materials act together as a homogeneous solid.

(b) The stress in any fibre is directly proportional to the distance of that fibre from the neutral axis.

(c) The modulus of elasticity of the concrete remains constant within the limits of the working stresses fixed in this section.

(5) No allowance shall be made for the tensile strength of concrete.

(6) When the shearing stresses developed in any part of a reinforced concrete construction exceed the safe working strength of concrete, as fixed in this section, a sufficient amount of steel shall be introduced in such a position that the deficiency in the resistance to shear is overcome.

(7) When the safe limit of adhesion between the concrete and steel is exceeded, provision must be made for transmitting the stresses from the one material to the other.

(8) All reinforcement in beams, girders and columns shall be so secured that there can be no displacement of the same in the concrete. Where girders or beams are connected with columns, the reinforcement of the girder shall penetrate the column and be secured to it. All reinforcement shall be completely encased in concrete. The thickness of concrete outside of the reinforcement shall not be less than three-quarters of an inch in floor slabs, partitions or walls not less than two inches for all beams, two inches for girders and columns and four inches in footings.

(9) Reinforced concrete may be used for columns in which the ratio of length to least side or diameter does not exceed 16.

(10) All reinforced concrete columns shall have longitudinal reinforcement of a total cross sectional area equal to at least one per cent. of the effective cross sectional area of the concrete; provided, however. that the total sectional area of the reinforcing steel shall not be less than one square inch, and that no rod or bar be of less diameter or smaller dimension than one-half inch. All longitudinal reinforcement rods shall be tied together by wire at least one-quarter of an inch in diameter at intervals of twelve inches or not more than a distance equal to the least side or diameter of the column. All vertical reinforcing rods or bars shall extend upwards or downwards into the column lapping the reinforcement of the column above or below to a distance equal to the greatest side or diameter of the respective column.

(11) In the case of columns which are further reinforced by bands, or spirally wound hoops, the allowable unit working stress in direct compression shall be seven hundred and fifty pounds per square inch, of the effective sectional area of the concrete; provided the bands or hoops shall be designed to resist a lateral load equivalent to one-eighth of the vertical load carried by the concrete within the reinforcing cage; and provided that the bands or hoops shall not be stressed more than sixteen thousand pounds per square inch, and provided further that the bands or hoops shall not be spaced more than one-eighth the diameter of the reinforcing cage, and also provided that the bearing stresses between the reinforcing bands and the concrete shall not exceed five hundred and fifty pounds per square inch.

(12) Whenever a splice occurs in a metal reinforcement of reinforced concrete, the length of the splice shall not be less than thirty diameters for columns, and twenty-four diameters for beams and girders. A splice-bar may be used provided the lap on each bar shall conform to the above requirements. If the reinforcing metal is not of circular section, the largest dimension of the section shall be considered as the diameter of the bar. Nothing, however, in this section, is to be construed as permitting the splicing of the main tension members in the bottom of beams, girders or floor slabs except over the centre of supports, nor shall the centre of the splice in columns come further from the floor line than one foot.

(13) Spandle walls supported entirely upon reinforced concrete or steel girders shall have a minimum thickness of six inches.

(14) Hollow tile may be used in combination with reinforced concrete for floor construction, the hollow tile being used to resist compression and shearing stresses subject to the following provisions:

(15) The provisions relating to reinforced concrete construction shall hold as far as they are applicable.

(16) Hollow tile shall be of hard burnt or semi-porous terra cotta, which shall be of uniform density and hardness of burn and have an ultimate compression strength of not less than 3,000 pounds per square inch of net sectional area.

(17) The hollow tile shall be thoroughly wet before the concrete is poured. The joints between adjoining rows of tiles shall be broken and filled or grouted with Portland cement mortar. If the blocks are laid without mortar between abutting ends they shall not be estimated as part of the structure taking compression.

(18) During freezing weather reinforced concrete construction shall be carried on in accordance with section 60 of this code.

(19) The contractor shall, on the request of the Superintendent of Buildings, make load tests, at his own expense, or any portion of a reinforced concrete building within thirty days after erection. The test must show that the construction will sustain a load three times the live load for which it was designed without a deflection of more than one-thirtieth of an inch per foot of span.

(20) Centreing shall remain in place until the set of the concrete has reached a point where it may be removed with safety.

(21) No person shall use reinforced concrete unless there is present at all times during which the concrete is being mixed and placed, an Inspector, licensed by the Superintendent of Buildings, whose sole duty it shall be to see that the work is done in accordance with the provision of this code, and who shall make daily reports to the Superintendent of Buildings as to the progress and character of the work.

(22) Failure to comply with this requirement shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or imprisonment for ten days, or both.

(23) The Superintendent of Buildings shall license for this work for a period of one year only such persons as he believes to be competent and reliable, and said license may be revoked by him at any time.

(24) Applicants for a license shall pass an examination as prescribed by the Superintendent of Buildings and shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25).

(25) The license shall be revoked by the Superintendent of Buildings if the licensee is found neglectful of his duties.

(6) Frame Buildings Damaged—Every wood or frame building with a brick or other front, which may hereafter be damaged to an amount not greater than one-half of the value thereof, exclusive of the value of the foundation, at the time of such damage, may be repaired or rebuilt. If such damage shall amount to more than one-half of such value, exclusive of the value of the foundation, such building shall not be repaired or rebuilt, but shall be taken down. In case the owner of a damaged building disagrees with a decision of the Superintendent of Buildings that the damage is greater than one-half of the value thereof, exclusive of the value of the foundation, the amount and extent of such damage shall be determined upon, an examination of the building by one surveyor, who shall be appointed and paid by the Superintendent of Buildings, and one surveyor who shall be appointed by the owner of the premises, to be paid by the owner. Should these two surveyors not agree, they shall appoint a third surveyor, and an affidavit of two of them as to value shall be conclusive, and such building shall in no manner be repaired or rebuilt until after such affidavit shall have been filed.

(8) No store or room contained in the building, or the offices, stores or apartments adjoining, as aforesaid, shall be let or used for carrying on any business, dealing and articles designated as specially hazardous in the classification of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, or for manufacturing purposes.

All fences, signs and billboards shall be erected entirely within the building line, and be properly and firmly secured, supported and braced, and shall be so constructed as not to be or become dangerous. Before the erection of any fence, sign or billboard shall be commenced, a permit shall be obtained from the Superintendent of Buildings. Each application for the erection of any fence, sign or billboard shall be accompanied by the written consent of the owner of the property upon which it is to be erected.

(2) Signs of metal or wood may be placed on the fronts of buildings, providing they are placed flat against the wall and do not extend above the roof of such buildings, and are firmly and properly secured, supported and braced, and shall be so constructed as not to be or become dangerous. No sign shall be placed upon or attached to the face of a wall of any building in such a manner as to cover in whole or in part any door or window opening.

SECTION 132.

(1) Any electric letter, word, model, sign, device or representation in the nature of an advertisement, announcement or direction erected at right angles to any building shall be deemed to be an electric sign.

(2) Electric signs may be hung or attached at right angles to buildings and extend not to exceed six feet beyond the cornice line thereof in said space, and be ten feet in the clear above the level of the sidewalk in front of such building, upon the payment of an annual license fee of ten cents for each square foot of sign space or part of square foot of such sign space, to be collected by the City Clerk of The City of New York. The square feet of sign space on one side of an electric sign, however, shall be deemed to be the entire number of square feet of sign space for the purpose of computing the license fee herein referred to and required to be paid.

(3) All electric signs shall be constructed entirely of metal, including the uprights, supports and braces for the same, properly and firmly attached to the building, and shall be so constructed as not to be or become dangerous.

(4) Before any permit is issued by the City Clerk plans and statements of the proposed sign and method of attachment to the building must be filed with the Superintendent of Buildings, and his certificate of approval must be obtained as to the sufficiency of the construction and method of attachment to the building. A certificate must also be obtained from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity certifying that the proposed electric wiring and electric appliances are in conformity with the rules and regulations of that Department.

(5) No certificate shall be given by the Superintendent of Buildings, and no permit shall be issued by the City Clerk, for the erection of electric sign on any building when such building adjoins a building occupied exclusively as a private residence, unless the written consent of the owner of said private residence for the erection of such electric sign be first obtained.

(6) No electric sign shall be placed, hung or maintained, except as in this ordinance provided, under a penalty of ten dollars for each offense, and a further penalty of ten dollars for each day or part of a day the same shall continue.

CHAPTER XXVI.

VIOLATIONS OF CODE; UNSAFE AND DANGEROUS BUILDINGS; COURT PROCEEDINGS.

SECTION 133.

(1) Removal of Violations—Whenever the Superintendent of Buildings is satisfied that there exists in any building erected or in course of erection a violation of the provisions of this code, he may, in his discretion, authorize the Corporation Counsel to institute any appropriate action or proceeding at law or in equity, to restrain, correct or remove such violation, prevent further work upon the building, require its removal, or prevent the occupation or use of the building.

(2) Notice of Violation and Service Thereof—Notices of violation shall be issued upon the report of an Inspector or Engineer by the Superintendent of Buildings and have his name affixed thereto, and shall immediately be filed in his office. A Notice of Violation shall be served upon the person charged with the violation or upon the person designated in section 137, or as otherwise specified in this code. It shall contain a brief statement of the nature of the violation charged, and of the penalty or penalties that may be incurred, a brief description of the building and premises to which the notice refers, including its location and a direction to the owner requiring that the violation be removed forthwith. A copy of section 138 of this code, entitled "Duty of Occupant to Notify Owner," shall be printed thereon. If the person charged with the violation or the person designated in section 137 cannot be found in The City of New York after diligent search, then service may be made by affixing the same in a conspicuous place on the property as to which a violation is alleged to exist, or to which such notice may refer, and by depositing in a post office in The City of New York a copy thereof in a securely closed postpaid wrapper, addressed to him at his last known place of residence, or his last known place of business. If his place of residence is not known, and the Superintendent of Buildings cannot with reasonable diligence ascertain either, or a place where he would probably receive matter transmitted through the post office, he may dispense with the deposit of any papers, and upon an affidavit thereof the notice of violation shall be deemed served, and the same action or proceeding may be taken thereupon as if he had been personally served.

(3) Penalties—A person who violates a provision of this code shall, for each violation, pay a penalty in the sum of fifty dollars; except that a person who shall violate a provision thereof as to chimneys, fireplaces, flues, steam or hot-air pipes, boilers or furnaces, or as to the framing or trimming of timbers, girders, beams or other woodwork in proximity to a chimney, flue, steam or hot-air pipe, boiler, furnace or fireplace, shall pay a penalty in the sum of one hundred dollars. But if said violation shall be removed within ten days after the service of a notice of violation, or shall be in process of removal within said period, and be actually removed within a reasonable time thereafter, the liability for such penalty shall cease. The Corporation Counsel, on written notification by the Superintendent of Buildings of the actual removal of said violation, shall discontinue any action pending to recover such a penalty. A person who, having been served with a notice of violation, shall fail to comply with the requirements of said notice within ten days after service, and shall continue the violation in the respect named in the notice, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(4) Courts Having Jurisdiction for Enforcement of Penalties—For the recovery of a penalty an action may be brought in the name of The City of New York in any municipal court or court of record in said City, and no court shall lose jurisdiction of any action by reason of a plea that the title to real estate is involved, provided the object of the action is to recover a penalty for a violation. When any judgment shall be rendered therefor, the same shall be collected and enforced as judgments of the court in which said action was commenced.

SECTION 135.

Unsafe Buildings.

(1) Notice to Make Safe—When it is reported to the Superintendent of Buildings that any building or part thereof is unsafe or dangerous, he shall immediately cause an examination of the property to be made. If this examination shows the building or any portion thereof to be unsafe or dangerous, the result thereof shall be entered upon a docket, and the Superintendent of Buildings shall at once serve notice in the manner prescribed in section 133 of this code, upon the owner or upon the person designated in section 137 of this code. Such notice shall have printed upon it a copy of section 138 of this code, and shall contain a description of the property or building deemed unsafe or dangerous, and shall require the same to be made safe and secure or removed, as may be considered necessary by the Superintendent of Buildings; and it shall require the person served therewith to immediately certify in writing to the Superintendent of Buildings his consent or refusal to secure, make safe or remove the building or part thereof. If he immediately certifies in writing his consent to comply therewith he shall be allowed until one o'clock of the day following the service of such notice in which to begin to secure, make safe or remove the building. He shall employ sufficient labor and materials, and immediately begin to secure, make safe or remove the same. The work shall be done as speedily as possible, and shall be continuously prosecuted to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Buildings.

(2) Notice of Survey—Should the person so served with notice neglect or refuse to comply with any of the requirements of said notice to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Buildings, a further notice, which shall have printed upon it a copy of sections 7 and 138 of this code, shall thereupon be served upon him in the manner heretofore prescribed. Said notice shall state that a survey of the premises specified therein will be made by a committee of surveyors, to be appointed as prescribed in section 7 of this code, at a stated time and place, which time shall not be less than twenty-four hours nor more than three days from the time of service of said notice. But if the owner proceeds to secure, make safe or remove the unsafe or dangerous building, or part thereof, and prosecutes the work in a manner satisfactory to the Superintendent of Buildings, the survey may be adjourned or cancelled at his discretion. But after the service of a notice of survey no adjournment thereof shall be granted unless the owner serves upon the Superintendent of Buildings a verified statement that he undertakes the work solely upon his own responsibility, and assumes all responsibility against danger to life, limb or property, and will hold The City of New York and the Superintendent of Buildings harmless.

(3) Survey—Should the Superintendent of Buildings deem it necessary, a survey shall be held. The committee of surveyors shall attend at the time and place specified, examine the building and immediately report in writing its opinion thereof to the Superintendent of Buildings. Should two members of the committee report the building unsafe or dangerous, a copy of their report, with a copy of the notice of survey, shall forthwith be posted in a conspicuous place upon the building. A copy of their report shall also be immediately presented by the Superintendent of Buildings to the Corporation Counsel, who shall forthwith apply to the court for a Precept directed to the Superintendent of Buildings, commanding him to remove the building or part thereof, or make the same safe and secure.

(4) A cause of action is hereby created for the benefit of The City of New York against the owner of said building and of the land upon which it is situated, for the amount of the fees, with interest, of the committee or surveyors, which action shall be prosecuted by the Corporation Counsel in the name of The City of New York.

(5) Court Proceedings—In any proceeding to remove an unsafe or dangerous building, or to make the same safe and secure, the written report of survey shall constitute the issue of fact. The said issue shall be brought to trial before a justice holding a Special Term of the court, who shall give this issue precedence over every other business, and his decision shall be final. If the decision of the court be that the building or part thereof is unsafe or dangerous, the justice shall immediately issue a Precept commanding the Superintendent of Buildings to secure, make safe or remove the unsafe or dangerous building, or such part thereof as shall be specified, permitting him in his discretion to authorize the owner to do so, as hereinafter specified, and empowering him to modify the requirements of said Precept when he shall be satisfied that such modification will secure equally well the safety of the building.

(6) Execution of Precept—The Superintendent of Buildings shall thereupon proceed to execute the Precept as therein directed. He may procure the neecessary materials, ways, work and means, and employ such experts, employees, mechanics, workmen and laborers as may be necessary for that purpose; or may, in his discretion, upon payment by the owner of the unsafe or dangerous building of all costs and expenses theretofore incurred in the proceeding, issue to him an authorization to carry out the requirements of the Precept, and this work shall be immediately done to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Buildings. If thereafter in his judgment it shall be necessary, the Superintendent of Buildings shall himself enter and execute said Precept, as heretofore prescribed. After completion of the work the Superintendent of Buildings shall cause the return to the said Special Term of the court of said Precept, with an endorsement thereon of his action thereunder, and a statement of the costs and expenses thereby incurred, including preliminary searches and surveys.

(7) Costs; Disbursements; Expenses—The justice shall thereupon tax, award, adjust and allow such costs, disbursements and expenses as may have been incurred and render judgment therefor, and direct that the same be paid by the owner of the property designated in the action, and may declare the same a lien upon said property and direct that it be sold as on a judgment in foreclosure of a mortgage upon real estate or a mechanic's lien upon real property. The subsequent proceedings shall be in the same manner and with like effect as under judgments in said forms of action; and in and about all preliminary proceedings, as well as the carrying into effect of any order of the court or any Precept issued by any court, said Superintendent of Buildings may make requisition upon the Comptroller of The City of New York for such amount or amounts of money as shall be necessary to meet the expenses thereof; and upon the same being approved by any judge or justice of the court from which the said order of Precept was issued and presented to said Comptroller, he shall pay the same, and for that purpose shall borrow and raise, upon revenue bonds, to be issued as provided in section 188 of The Greater New York Charter, the several amounts that may from time to time be required, which shall be reimbused by the payment of the amount and interest at six per cent. out of the judgment or judgments obtained as aforesaid, if the same shall be collected.

(8) Emergency Work—If in the opinion of the Superintendent of Buildings there shall be actual and immediate danger of the falling of any building or part thereof so as to endanger life, limb or property, or there shall be any illegal or defective work, or work in violation of or not in compliance with any of the provisions or requirements of this code, he or such person as he may authorize, shall order all further work to be stopped in and about said building and require all persons to vacate the same. He shall cause such work to be done as in his judgment may be necessary to remove the danger, and he may, when necessary for the public safety, temporarily close the sidewalks and streets adjacent to such building. The Commissioner of the Police Department of The City of New York, when called upon by the Superintendent of Buildings, shall enforce such orders and requirements.

(9) Recovery of Bodies—In case a building or part thereof falls and persons are known or believed to be buried in the ruins, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Buildings to cause a search of the premises to be made for the rescue of the living and the recovery of the bodies of the dead. For such purpose he may temporarily hire persons, and temporarily hire or purchase the materials, ways, works and means which may be necessary. Whenever, in making such search, it shall be necessary to remove debris from the premises, it shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the various Departments of The City of New York, when called upon by the Superintendent of Buildings, to co-operate, and to provide a suitable and convenient dumping place for the deposit of such debris. The Superintendent of Buildings is hereby authorized and empowered in such cases to order and require the occupants of such building, or part thereof, to vacate the same forthwith, and he may, when necessary for the public safety, close the sidewalks and streets adjacent to such building, or part thereof, and prohibit the use of the same; and the Commissioner of the Police Department of The City of New York, when called upon by the Superintendent of Buildings, shall enforce such orders or requirements.

SECTION 136.

(1) Duty of Corporation Counsel to Proceed—Upon written request by the Superintendent of Buildings, the Corporation Counsel shall sue for and collect all penalties and take charge of and conduct all legal proceedings imposed or provided for by this code; and all suits or proceedings instituted for the enforcement of any of the several provisions of this code or for the recovery of any penalty thereunder shall be brought in the name of The City of New York, by the Corporation Counsel, to whom all notices of violation shall be returned for prosecution, and it shall be his duty to take charge of the prosecution of all such suits or proceedings, collect and receive all moneys that may be collected upon judgments, suits or proceedings so instituted, or which may be paid by any parties who have violated any of the provisions of this code, and upon settlement of judgment and removal of violations thereunder, execute satisfaction therefor.

(4) Notice of Lis Pendens; Filing by Counsel—Upon the commencement of an action or proceeding to enforce the provisions of this code, the Corporation Counsel shall file in the County Clerk's office of the County where the property is situated, a notice of lis pendens, stating the names of the persons claimed to be affected thereby, with a copy of the notice of violation or notice of survey, and proof of service thereof, and a copy of the action or proceeding instituted or to be instituted. The Corporation Counsel may, however, in his discretion, file such notice at any time.

(5) Effect of Notice of Lis Pendens—A notice filed, as prescribed in the preceding paragraph, is constructive notice to an owner or encumbrancer of the property affected thereby, and to an owner or encumbrancer thereof, from or against a person with respect to whom the notice is to be filed and indexed, as prescribed in the next paragraph. A person whose conveyance or encumbrance is subsequently executed or subsequently recorded, is bound by all proceedings taken in the action, after filing of the notice, to the same extent as if he were a party to the action.

(6) Notice of Lis Pendens to be Filed and Indexed—Each County Clerk with whom such a notice is filed shall immediately file and index it to the name of the person specified in a direction appended at the foot of the notice of lis pendens, and subscribed by the Corporation Counsel, and to the property affected, and under the section number of the land map of the county where the property is situated.

(7) Cancellation of Notice of Lis Pendens—After an action is commenced, and is settled, discontinued, abated or final judgment is rendered therein, against The City of New York, and the time to appeal therefrom has expired, or if the Corporation Counsel unreasonably neglects to proceed with the action, the Court may, in its discretion, upon the application of any person aggrieved, and upon such notice as may be directed or approved by it, direct that the notice of lis pendens, filed as prescribed in the last paragraph, be cancelled of record by the County Clerk with whom it is filed. The cancellation shall be made by a note to that effect in the index to the names of each person and the property specified in the notice filed, referring to the order, or consent of counsel in this section provided, and a like note upon the notice filed. Unless the order is entered in the same clerk's office, a certified copy thereof shall be filed therein before the notice is cancelled.

(8) Before or after an action is commenced to enforce a notice of violation, the notice of pendency thereof shall be likewise cancelled upon the written consent of the Corporation Counsel, which consent shall be filed with and indexed by said County Clerk.

(9) Actions in Supreme Court—Except in an action for the recovery of a penalty or a criminal action, all actions and proceedings for the enforcement of the provisions of this code shall be commenced in the Supreme Court of the County in which the property is situated, and shall be entitled, under the direction of the Court, to preference in the trial or hearing thereof, over all civil actions.

(10) All courts in which any suit or proceeding is instituted under this code shall upon the rendition of a verdict, report of a referee, or decision of a judge or justice, render judgment in accordance therewith; and the said judgment so rendered shall be and become a lien upon the premises named in the complaint in any such action, to date from the time of filing in a County Clerk's office in The City of New York, where the property affected by such action, suit or proceeding is located, of a notice of lis pendens therein; which lien may be enforced against said property, in every respect, notwithstanding the same may be transferred subsequent to the filing of the said notice.

It shall remain in force during the period specified therein, if any, or, if no period is specified therein, until one year after the filing thereof, but it is revoked earlier, either by the death or legal incompetency of either of the parties, or by the filing of a revocation by either of the parties, duly acknowledged, and the consent of the Superintendent of Buildings. The Clerk of the County must immediately file and index such designation, consent or revocation; and shall note, upon the original designation and index, the filing of a revocation. While the designation remains in force, as prescribed in this section, a notice of violation, notice to make safe, or notice of survey, a summons, a mandate, or any paper or process under the provisions of this code, or either of the same, may be served upon the person so designated, in like manner and with like effect, as if it were served personally upon the person making the designation, notwithstanding his presence in The City of New York.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS AT SALES OF OLD BUILDINGS, ETC.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH BUILDINGS, ETC., WILL BE SOLD FOR REMOVAL FROM CITY PROPERTY.

THE BUILDINGS AND APPURTENANCES thereto will be sold to the highest bidder, who must pay cash or certified check, drawn to the order of the Comptroller of The City of New York, and must also give a certified check or cash in half the amount of the purchase price as security for the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of the sale. Where the amount of the purchase price does not equal or exceed the sum of $50, the sum of $50 shall be the amount of the security to be deposited. This security may at any time after the expiration of the contract period be applied by the City to the cost of completing any of the work required under the contract, but unfinished at the expiration of the contract period.

The purchaser shall not lease, occupy, cause or permit the building or buildings, etc., purchased by him to be used or occupied for any purpose other than that of their speedy removal, nor shall he collect any rental or other revenue for the use of either the land or the buildings, etc., situated thereon. The breach of either or any of these conditions shall forthwith void the sale and cause immediate forfeiture of the purchase money and the security deposited for the faithful performance of the conditions of the sale. The placing therein or permitting the occupancy of any such building by any tenant free, for rent or otherwise, excepting the necessary watchmen or the workmen engaged in the actual demolition thereof, shall of itself be a breach of the above conditions of sale.

The sale will be as of the condition of the property on date of delivery thereof to the purchaser. The City of New York will not be responsible for any change or loss which may occur in the condition of the buildings, or their appurtenances between the time of the sale thereof and the time of delivering possession to the purchaser, after being properly vacated of all tenants. The sale and delivery to purchaser will be made as nearly together as the circumstance of vacating the structures of their tenants will permit.

All the material of the buildings, sheds, walks, structures and cellars of whatsoever nature, with their exterior and interior fixtures, appurtenances and foundations of all kinds, except the exterior walls of the buildings and their foundations and the sidewalks and curb in front of said buildings, extending within the described area shall be torn down and removed from the premises. None of the dirt, debris or waste resulting from demolition shall be allowed to remain on the premises, except old mortar or plaster only, which may be left, but not higher at any point than two feet below the curb opposite that point. The exterior walls and their foundations shall be taken down only to a plane whose elevation shall be the level of the curb in front of the building. Where there is no curb the elevation of the surrounding ground shall be considered curb level. All wells, cesspools, sinks, etc., existing on the property must be filled to the level of the surrounding ground with clean earth.

The purchaser at the sale shall also withdraw and remove all abandoned water taps and old service mains, and in place thereof cause to be inserted a brass plug in the main water pipe in the street, in compliance with the rules and regulations of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, and furnish the Department of Finance with a certificate from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity that this has been performed.

The purchaser at the sale shall also remove all house sewer connections to the main sewer in the street, and the opening of the main sewer in street shall be properly closed in compliance with the directions of the Bureau of Sewers in the Borough in which the buildings are situated, and furnish the Department of Finance with a certificate from the Bureau of Sewers that the work has been properly performed.

The permit for all opening in the street to be obtained by and at the expense of the purchaser of the building.

Failure to remove said buildings, appurtenances, or any part thereof, within thirty days from the day of possession will work forfeiture of ownership of such buildings, appurtenances, or portion as shall then be left standing, together with all moneys paid by said purchaser on account thereof at the time of the sale, and the bidder's assent to the above conditions being understood to be implied by the act of bidding, and The City of New York will, without notice to the purchaser, cause the same to be removed, and the cost and expense thereof charged against the security above mentioned.

The work of removal must be carried on in every respect in a thorough and workmanlike manner, and must be completed within thirty days from the day of possession, and the successful bidder will provide and furnish all materials of labor and machinery necessary thereto, and will place proper and sufficient guards and fences and warning signs by day and night for the prevention of accidents, and will indemnify and save harmless The City of New York, its officers, agents and servants, and each of them, against any and all suits and actions, claims and demands of every name and description brought against it, them or any of them, and against and from all damage and costs to which it, they or any of them be put by reason of injury to the person or property of another, resulting from negligence or carelessness in the performance of the work, or in guarding the same, or from any improper or defective materials or machinery, implements or appliances used in the removal of said buildings.

Where party walls are found to exist between buildings purchased by different bidders, the materials of said party walls shall be understood to be equally divided between the separate purchasers.

Party walls and fences, when existing against adjacent property not sold, shall not be taken down. All furrings, plaster, chimneys, projecting brick, etc., on the faces of such party walls are to be taken down and removed. The walls shall be made permanently self-supporting, beamholes, etc., bricked up, and the wall pointed and made to exclude wind and rain and present a clean exterior. The roofs and adjacent buildings shall be properly flashed and painted and made watertight where they have been disturbed by the operations of the contractor.

The Comptroller of The City of New York reserves the right on the day of sale to withdraw from sale any of the buildings, parts of buildings and machinery included therein, or to reject any and all bids; and it is further

Resoved, That, while the said sale is held under the supervision of the Commissioner of the Sinking Fund, the Comptroller is authorized to cause the sale to be advertised and to direct the sale thereof as financial officer of the City.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department, and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a Department, chief of a Bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately.

The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
