Free Electronics Recycling

For Apartment Buildings

What is ecycleNYC?

ecycleNYC is a free and convenient electronic waste recycling service available to residential apartment buildings with 10 or more units.

The service is provided by the NYC Department of Sanitation and ERI.

Why Join?

Comply with the law. As of January 2015, it is illegal for New Yorkers to discard electronics in the trash. There is a $100 fine per offense.

It's free! Various electronics manufacturers fund ecycleNYC, so the service is provided at no cost to buildings or taxpayers.

Keep harmful materials from going to landfills.

Electronics are the largest and fastest growing component of hazardous waste sent to landfills.

Create an organized way for residents to recycle electronics. With ecycleNYC, staff can spend less time managing discarded electronics.

What Happens to the Electronics Collected?

Electronics are recycled domestically using the strictest industry and environmental standards available.

Data on electronics will be fully erased by ecycleNYC as part of the recycling process.

How to Enroll

Building managers or residents in apartment buildings with 10 or more units can enroll at nyc.gov/ecycle.

Service Options

Depending on the size and type of building, ecycleNYC provides three service options:

- Room cleanouts for buildings with 10 or more units. Buildings store electronics in a secure, enclosed area before they are picked up.
- Storage bins for buildings with 100 or more units. Buildings store electronics in a locked bin provided by ecycleNYC. Two bin sizes available:
 - Small (2' deep x 4' wide x 5' high)
 - Large (2' deep x 5.5' wide x 6' high)
- Outdoor electronics recycling events for buildings with 250 or more units. Buildings work with ecycleNYC to schedule outdoor electronics recycling events for building residents.

Recycle More!

The NYC Department of Sanitation offers additional recycling services for residential apartment buildings.
