DEPARTMENT OF WATER SUPPLY, GAS AND ELECTRICITY.

Commissioner's Office,
City of New York,
November 29, 1902.

Hon. SETH LOW, Mayor:

Sir—In accordance with section 1544 of the Revised Greater New York Charter, I respectfully submit the following report of the business and transactions of this Department for the quarter ended September 30, 1902:

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX. Water Supply.

The rainfall in the Croton and Bronx watersheds was fair in July, low in August, and abundant in September, as shown by the following record of rain gauges at four stations:

	Inches.
	July.	August.	September.	Total.
Boyd's Corner Reservoir.....	3.77	2.91	6.07	12.75
Middle Branch Reservoir.....	4.32	3.23	6.73	14.28
Croton Dam.....	4.10	1.73	6.47	12.30
Kensico Reservoir—Bronx.....	3.20	1.70	6.70	11.60

To furnish the required daily supply through the old and new aqueducts for distribution in the City, the natural flow of the Croton river at the Croton Dam had to be supplemented by drafts on the reserve supply in storage reservoirs, as follows:

Middle Branch Reservoir, gallons.....	2,870,000,000
East Branch Reservoir, gallons.....	5,250,000,000
West Branch Reservoir, gallons.....	4,200,000,000
Titicus Reservoir, gallons.....	2,750,000,000
Muscoot Reservoir, gallons.....	2,500,000,000
Lake Gilead, gallons.....	250,000,000

Total, gallons..... 17,820,000,000

Average per day for the quarter, gallons..... 193,695,000

There was no flow of water over the Croton Dam, and at the close of the quarter the reserve supply in the reservoirs was 23,000,000,000 gallons, a little over fifty-four per cent. of their aggregate capacity.

The enormous and sudden rush of waters from the freshet of February 28 and March 1 of this year, the heaviest experienced in the Croton Valley in twenty-nine years, did considerable damage to dams and spillways at several reservoirs. Under ordinary circumstances all repairs to reservoirs, dams and their appurtenances are paid from the tax levy, and such payments are charged to the appropriation known as "Maintenance—Croton Water System," but in this case it became necessary on August 20, 1902, to call upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for a bond issue of $100,000. The defects in the dam of the East Branch Reservoir will alone require an outlay of that amount. Surveys, estimates and plans are now being made for this work.

Sanitary Protection.

On July 17, 1902, an application was made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, under advice from the Corporation Counsel, for the approval of a map of land around Lakes Mahopac and Kirk, according to the provisions of the Sanitary Protection Act, chapter 189, Laws of 1893, in the place of a map filed in 1897 by the Commissioner of Public Works, under chapter 445, Laws of 1877. The Department has obtained possession of a large area of such land, on which a working force is now engaged in the removal of buildings and rubbish. On September 18 bids were opened at public letting for a contract for building 80,000 linear feet of fence walls and 1,000 cubic yards of dry protection wall to inclose lands. Three bids were received, and as even the lowest was more than forty-five per cent. over the Engineer's estimate of cost, they were all rejected, and the contract was readvertised.

A large portion of the wooden fencing now standing on the Croton watershed is more than ten years old, and will speedily have to be renewed or replaced by stone fences.

The sanitary patrol of the watershed, the operation of electrozone plant at Brewsters, and dry pan process at Mount Kisco, for disinfection and disposal of sewage, have continued without interruption.

Maps of lands required along the Bronx and Byram rivers have been approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. Copies will soon be placed in the hands of the Corporation Counsel, and condemnation proceedings will then be commenced.

Bronx and Byram River Supply.

The rainfall at Kensico reservoir was 3.20 inches in July, 1.70 inches in August, and 6.70 inches in September; total, 11.60 inches.

The drafts on storage reservoirs were:

From Kensico Reservoir, gallons.....	400,000,000
From Rye Pond Reservoir, gallons.....	820,000,000
From Byram Reservoir, gallons.....	400,000,000

Total gallons..... 1,620,000,000

Average per day for the quarter, gallons..... 17,600,000

At the close of the quarter the reservoirs contained 2,100,000,000 gallons of water.

Contract Work.

The contractor for building the foundations for the high service pumping station at Jerome avenue has completed his work, except the curb and railing, and clearing up the ground.

The contractor for the house for engines, boilers and storage of coal having made no effort to do any work whatever under his contract of September 25, 1901, it was declared abandoned by notice dated July 31, 1902. It was then readvertised and relet, the lowest bid, on which the new contract was awarded, being $97,850, which is $10,350 higher than the first contract, which excess will be charged to the original contractor and his sureties.

The contractor for the pumping plant, two engines, each of 10,000,000 gallons daily capacity, has completed the foundations for the engines and boilers.

The laying of the 48-inch water main in Moshulu parkway, Bronx Park and the Southern Boulevard, to convey and distribute a large additional supply from the aqueduct to the central and southerly sections of the Borough of The Bronx, is slowly approaching completion. Progress in laying a similar main for water supply from the aqueduct to the westerly section of the borough has been more rapid, and its completion has only been deferred in consequence of difficulties in obtaining the necessary pipes and castings from the foundries.

The pipe line through Hunt's Point road to and under the East river to supply the institutions of the Department of Health on Riker's Island has been completed to the water front, and the laying of the pipe under water is in progress.

Distributing System.

Two contracts for additional distributing mains in twelve streets in the Borough of The Bronx and three streets in the Borough of Manhattan were completed, and two new water main contracts were made.

Under the several contracts there were laid:

Linear feet of 48-inch mains.....	7,097
Linear feet of 20-inch mains.....	585
Linear feet of 12-inch mains.....	3,191
Linear feet of 6-inch mains.....	7,128

Total..... 18,001

—or 3.4 miles.

In connection therewith 52 new stopcocks and 36 new fire hydrants were placed. Under direction and inspection of the Department, the contractors for rapid transit tunnel construction laid 820 linear feet of 12-inch mains in place of abandoned 6-inch mains, and set 11 new double-nozzle fire hydrants in the place of old hydrants.

The contractors of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company set 28 new double-nozzle hydrants in the place of old ones, and placed 4 additional 6-inch stopcocks.

The regular force of six district repair companies and two repair companies at large has been engaged in the maintenance and repairs of water mains, stopcocks and hydrants. The work for the quarter is summarized as follows:

- 1,036 linear feet of water mains laid.
- 63 additional fire hydrants placed.
- 333 old fire hydrants replaced by new ones.
- 3,399 fire hydrants repaired.
- 18 additional stopcocks placed.
- 37 old stopcocks replaced by new ones.
- 440 stopcocks repaired.
- 217 leaks in water mains repaired.
- 749 new taps placed in water mains.
- 296 taps shut off on account of leaks.

Consumption of Water.

The report of the Chief Engineer shows an alarming increase in consumption of water in comparison with last year and during the quarter, as follows:

	From Croton Watershed Per Day—Gallons.	From Bronx and Byram Watersheds Per Day—Gallons.	Totals Per Day—Gallons.
July.....	270,000,000	17,000,000	287,000,000
August.....	275,000,000	17,000,000	292,000,000
September.....	283,000,000	17,000,000	300,000,000
Average for the quarter.....	276,000,000	17,000,000	293,000,000
Average, third quarter, 1901.....	268,666,000	16,666,000	285,332,000
Increase.....	7,334,000	334,000	7,668,000

Increase in September over July, 13,000,000 gallons.

This latter increase in the short space of two months is ascribed by the Chief Engineer to the opening during the quarter of a large number of new apartment houses, flat houses, private dwellings and manufacturing establishments. There is no other reasonable cause, as the weather conditions for the greater part were rather favorable to moderate consumption. By the close of this year three new lines of large mains in The Bronx will be connected with the aqueduct; the two new pumping engines at the Washington Bridge station, for increasing the high service supply in Manhattan, will be in operation; changes in the distributing mains on account of rapid transit tunnel construction will be practically completed, all of which will produce increased pressure in the delivery of the water, which is always followed by increase in consumption, estimated in this case at twenty million gallons per day. It shows how dangerously near the City is to the extreme limit of the capacity of its present watersheds, and how urgent is the necessity of securing additional sources of supply.

Lighting Public Streets, Parks and Places.

The following table shows the changes and increases in the public lamp service in streets, parks, docks, bridges and public places in the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx during the quarter:

Gas lamps lighted July 1.....	23,694

Weekly tests of the illuminating power of the gas supplied by each company have been made at four photometric stations by an expert in the service of the Department, the averages for the several companies ranging from 20.78 to 25.08 candle power.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN.

Water Supply.

The rainfall at the Hempstead Reservoir, which is about the centre of the present available watershed, was 2.42 inches in July, 3.34 inches in August, and 5.54 inches in September; total, 11.30 inches, which is 2.02 inches less than for the third quarter of 1901.

From July 7 to September 26 continuous drafts had to be made on the reserve supply in the reservoirs to maintain a fair distribution of water. In that time the storage was reduced from 1,014,182,700 gallons to 521,806,100 gallons, or at the rate of 6,078,700 gallons per day. A serious crisis was only averted by the comparatively moderate summer temperature, and by copious rainfall in September.

The average daily supply and consumption of water from the Ridgewood system on Long Island watershed was:

Ridgewood Reservoir, or low service, gallons.....	82,338,545
Mount Prospect Reservoir, or intermediate service, gallons.....	5,430,752
Mount Prospect Tower, or high service, gallons.....	3,242,554
Total, gallons.....	91,011,851

The supply and consumption from the three other systems were:

Gravesend system and plant, gallons.....	3,112,034
New Utrecht system and plant, gallons.....	1,459,349
New Lots system and plant, gallons.....	3,669,209

Total public supply and consumption, gallons..... 99,252,443

The drafts on stored water were not confined to the Hempstead storage reservoir. There were taken from the three basins of the Ridgewood reservoir 44,340,100 gallons, reducing the depth of water to 9.68 feet in Basin No. 1, 9.32 feet in Basin No. 2, and 6.76 feet in Basin No. 3, and causing corresponding reduction of pressure in the delivery of the water through the mains. This reduction illustrates how inadequate were the conduits which convey the water to the Ridgewood pumping station, but the situation was remedied on and after September 9 when the 48-inch pipe conduit was brought into use from Oconee station to Ridgewood, since which time the level of water surface has been raised, and general complaints of decreased water pressure have ceased.

Distributing System.

In completing a contract of last year 604 linear feet of 6-inch mains, 604 linear feet of 8-inch mains, and 1,818 linear feet of 12-inch mains were laid to extend the water service into new streets, and in connection therewith six water-gates and six fire hydrants were placed.

Two new water main contracts are in preparation, one for general distributing mains in eighty-nine separate streets, and the other for a 30-inch force main between the Mount Prospect engine house and the reservoir and tower, and a number of 12-inch and 8-inch mains in connection with the plan of remodeling the service at and from the Mount Prospect station.

There are many locations in the borough where the demands on the water service have outgrown the capacity of the old mains. This applies particularly to 453,000 feet of 6-inch mains, 800 feet of 4-inch mains, and 500 feet of 3-inch mains, laid between forty and forty-five years ago. Plans are being made for apportioning over several years the work of replacing these mains with larger ones in the order of their urgency.

For purposes of maintenance and repairs the distributing system is divided into four districts: The Eastern District, the Western District, the East New York District and the Coney Island District, each having a repair yard and shops and a force of mechanics and laborers, with a foreman in charge, the whole under the charge of a superintendent of repairs. The following are the principal items of work performed by this force during the quarter:

177 new fire hydrants placed.
1,397 fire hydrants repaired.
50 new water-gates or stop-cocks placed.
172 water-gates repaired.
95 leaks in water mains repaired.
479 taps placed in water mains.
14 taps shut off on account of leaks.
240 water meters tested.

Pumping Stations.

At the Ridgewood "old" station repairs have been made on three Worthington engines and a beam engine, the Davidson engines being out of commission.

At the Ridgewood "new" station two boilers have been overhauled, a new engine and generator for electrical plant have been installed, and the electric wiring is nearly completed.

At Mount Prospect station the contract for two new boilers has been completed, and a contract for an additional new boiler was executed October 17. The Chief Engineer for the Borough of Brooklyn, in his report, presents and recommends a general plan for remodeling this station and enlarging its capacity. This subject may be fully treated in the forthcoming annual report.

The Gravesend and New Utrecht stations are much in need of improvements, as stated in former department reports. The Chief Engineer recommends the enlargement of the plant of the Gravesend station to a capacity of 8,000,000 to 9,000,000 gallons per day, and the abandonment of the New Utrecht station, the two being so near each other that they actually draw water from the same sources by means of wells. This subject will also be more fully considered and presented in a later report.

The New Lots station (former Long Island Water Supply Company's plant) has received the fourth new boiler, admitting of increased pumping and service to a larger district.

At the Spring Creek station eighty-seven shallow wells have been pulled, cleaned and redriven. The temporary pumping plant at this station should be replaced by a new plant as early as possible. Requests for a bond issue for this purpose have been repeatedly made in the past two years.

Minor repairs were made at Shetucket, Oconee, Baisleys, Jameco and Smith's Pond stations.

At Millburn station the engines and boilers have been overhauled. A contract for two new 15,000,000-gallon engines and a contract for two new boilers were advertised for public letting to be held August 8. Only one bid was received for each contract, viz.: For the engines $67,000 and for the boilers $11,950. Both bids were rejected and the contracts readvertised. At the second letting, September 11, three bids were received for each contract, and awards made on the lowest formal and regular bids, which were $51,000 for the engines and $11,400 for the boilers.

The Merrick and Wantaugh Driven Well stations, east of Millburn, have been in operation throughout the quarter, and those at Massapequa, Matowa and Agawam were started July 12 and August 25 and 30, respectively.

Filter Plants.

During the first and fourth weeks of July, respectively, the filter plants at the Jameco pumping stations and at Springfield were subjected to the third test required by the contract and specifications. The results are disappointing. Serious defects were developed in the Springfield plant, which compelled suspension of its operation. The Jameco plant was continued in operation some time longer than the Springfield plant, filtering and delivering about 4,000,000 gallons of water per day, but eventually it also failed to come up to contract requirements.

Efforts to purify the water at Horse Brook, which flows through the village of Hempstead to the Hempstead reservoir, and is naturally polluted by house drainage, were begun in 1898 by the construction of a settling basin near the influx into the reservoir, and an iron by-pass pipe to divert the polluted water to a point where it could not mingle with the water which enters the main conduit. During the quarter the settling basin was twice emptied and cleaned, only pure water being allowed to flow into the reservoir. Effective filtering alone can justify the continued use of the water of this stream and of Simonson's stream for the Brooklyn supply. Preliminary measures to that end are in progress, the money having been authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, under section 169 of the Charter.

Sanitary Protection of Water Supply.

The patrolling of streams, ponds and wells throughout the watershed has been continued, and in connection with it 4,844 privy-closets and cesspools, 2,327 of them in and about Hempstead, were cleaned. A new map giving the location and nature of all nuisances in the watershed has been prepared, with the view of applying to the State Board of Health for more stringent regulations and measures to suppress pollution of water needed for Brooklyn's supply.

Laboratory Work.

At the Mount Prospect Laboratory 1,812 samples of water, collected from all parts of the Brooklyn system and watershed, and many from the public water plant sources in the Borough of Queens, were analyzed. The tests show slight increase of albuminoid ammonia and chlorine in the samples taken from Ridgewood and Mount Prospect reservoirs. The laboratory staff also conducted the tests of water passing through the new filters at Jameco and Springfield, and made analyses of samples of oil and coal.

New 48-inch Pipe Conduit.

Only 933 feet of pipe remained to be laid at the close of the quarter, and, as already stated, the conduit is now in use from Oconee pumping station to Ridgewood. The pipe trench between Spring Creek and Rosedale remains to be filled in to grade and some work on culverts is yet to be done.

The following shows the changes and additions in the public lamp service during the quarter:

The Bureau attended to 310 complaints from citizens and 540 reports from Department Inspectors of improper lighting.

From 5,704 police reports there were tabulated 767 cases of electric lamps, and 37 gas lamps not lighted, for which proper deductions were made in the bills rendered by the companies.

Electrical Bureau.

The operations of the Bureau for the quarter are summarized as follows:

Applications for inspection of interior wiring.....	1,101
Certificates issued for interior wiring.....	824
Applications for inspection of outside electric work.....	1,528
Certificates issued for outside electric work.....	1,515

Burial of Electric Wires.

In the report of the Department for the quarter ending June 30, 1902, my predecessor, Hon. J. Hampden Dougherty, stated the duty of the City authorities in respect to overhead electric wires in Brooklyn. He also stated that he had conferred with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Postal Telegraph Cable Company. The result of that conference he reported to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in his communication of June 9.

Further conferences were had after I entered upon the duties of this office, on July 16, resulting in the adoption of a resolution by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, on September 12, calling for the placing underground of all electric wires, except "trolley wires," and those securely attached to elevated railroad structures, in the following streets in the Borough of Brooklyn:

Fulton street, between Fulton Ferry and New York avenue.
Broadway, between East river and Myrtle avenue.
Jay street, between Myrtle avenue and Fulton street.
Smith street, between Fulton street and First place.
First street, between Third avenue and Fifth avenue.
Myrtle avenue, between Washington street and Broadway.
Bedford avenue, from Atlantic avenue to Vernon avenue.
Flatbush avenue, from Fulton street to the Plaza at Prospect Park.
Prospect Park West, between the Prospect Park Plaza and Ninth street.
Classon avenue, between Myrtle avenue and Kent avenue.
Washington street, between the East river and Myrtle avenue.
Flatbush avenue, between Malbone avenue and Caton street.

BOROUGH OF QUEENS.

Water Supply.

The average daily quantity of water pumped and distributed at the several stations owned and operated by the City, and the supply delivered into the Long Island City mains under the contract with the Citizens' Water Supply Company, were as follows:

First Ward, Long Island City:
Station 1, gallons	852,149
Station 2, gallons	1,138,958
Station 3, gallons	686,843
	<hr/> 2,677,950
Third Ward:
Flushing Station, gallons	1,369,428
College Point Station, gallons	1,160,990
Whitestone Station, gallons	216,980
	<hr/> 2,747,398
Total from public pumping stations, gallons.....	5,425,348
Under contract with Citizens' Water Supply Company, gallons....	3,032,119
	<hr/> 8,457,467

The proper distribution of the supply in the First Ward, Long Island City, at the pressure which the quantity of supply warrants, has hitherto been impossible in consequence of the small size of the connecting mains. At one point a 10-inch main from Public Pumping Station 2, and a 12-inch main of the Citizens' Water Supply Company, discharge into an 8-inch main. An appropriation of $40,000 by bond issue having recently been authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to provide larger mains, the plans, contract and specifications for the needed improvement have been prepared, and the work will soon be advertised for public letting.

Three contracts have also been prepared for extending and improving the water service by the laying of additional mains in the northerly and southerly sections of the First Ward and in the Third Ward.

Improvements in the character of the buildings are needed at all the six stations, and at those at Flushing and College Point old boilers which have been in use for twenty to thirty years should be replaced by new.

The sources of supply at College Point, Flushing and Whitestone, ponds and driven wells, are susceptible of considerable development and increase of yield.

Further investigations and study are applied to these subjects to determine their practical and economic features.

The following is a summary of the work performed by the Maintenance Force in the care and repair of the distributing system:

4 new fire hydrants placed.
61 fire hydrants repaired.
5 new stopcocks placed.
5 stopcocks repaired.
15 new gate-boxes placed.
18 gate-boxes repaired and reset.
12 leaks in water mains repaired.
89 new taps placed in water mains.

Lighting and Electricity.

The following public lamps were in service on the streets, avenues and highways of the borough at the close of the quarter:

Electric arc lamps	2,111
Electric incandescent lamps	160
Welsbach gas lamps	292
Open flame gas lamps	3,921
Open flame naphtha lamps	199
Welsbach naphtha lamps	575
Total	<hr/> 7,258

The work of the Inspectors of Electricity is summarized as follows:

289 permits issued for exterior wiring.
209 applications for inspection of interior wiring received.
259 certificates issued for interior wiring.
247 notices of complaints issued.
202 complaints attended to.
5,156 inspections of interior and exterior wiring made.

BOROUGH OF RICHMOND.

The contract for two additional 10-inch wells, with pumping machinery to pump the water into the small reservoir, has been completed, but some small changes are necessary before the work can be accepted.

The contract for laying 8,000 linear feet of 6-inch water mains to extend the water service from the Tottenville pumping plant has also been completed. The average daily supply pumped and distributed is 121,000 gallons.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment having, in response to my request of August 20, authorized a bond issue of $8,000 to provide for a new boiler, enlargement of the boiler house and erection of a storage house for coal, the plans, estimates and specifications for these improvements are now being prepared.

Lighting Public Buildings and Offices, All Boroughs.

In accordance with my requests, and with the consent of the heads of the respective Departments, the following transfers of appropriations were made to the appropriations of this Department for "Lamps and Lighting" for the several boroughs to enable it to carry out the Corporation Counsel's opinion of April 29, 1902, making it the duty of the Department to audit and pay all bills for lighting public buildings and offices, except those under the jurisdiction of the Department of Docks, and possibly other Departments.

A large accumulation of bills incurred by the several Departments prior to these transfers have been carefully examined and audited, and are now ready for certification to the Comptroller.

The Corporation Counsel has under consideration the question whether this Department must audit and pay the bills for lighting the buildings under the jurisdiction of the Board of Education, and the Department of Bridges, and the Courthouse of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in the Borough of Manhattan.

The requisites for a transfer of appropriation from the Normal College have not yet been obtained.

All the buildings and offices continue to be regularly lighted.

Coal Purchases.

At the beginning of the quarter the strike in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania had been in existence more than six weeks, and by the middle of May the contractors with whom the contracts for coal for the pumping stations in the several boroughs had been made for the whole year declared they were unable to procure and deliver the coal as required. The pumping engines had to be kept in full operation, and there was no alternative but to go into the open market and purchase coal wherever obtainable and at whatever price. The financial loss to the City has proved less than might have been anticipated. There were purchased from May 23 to the close of the past quarter, September 30, 18,129½ tons of semi-bituminous coal and 1,133 9-10 tons of anthracite coal, at a total cost of $87,055.39. If the coal had been furnished under the contracts made at the beginning of the year, allowing also for delivery and use of hard coal in place of the compulsory use of soft coal, the cost would have been $79,054.62, a difference of $7,990.87, or 10 1-10 per cent.

Croton Water System Maintenance.

The several gangs of men have been employed taking care of reservoirs, streams, fences, aqueducts, gate houses, etc., and the operation of the three pumping plants in Manhattan.

The contractor for repairing boilers at Ninety-eighth Street Station has done but little, awaiting castings necessary.

The electrozone plant at Brewsters and the dry pan process at Mount Kisco have been continued, taking care of the sewage of those villages.

When the new large mains are connected with the aqueducts, so as to give a full supply to the Borough of The Bronx, the new pumping engines erected at One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street Station, to fully supply the high service district in Manhattan, and the changing of mains by the Rapid Transit work completed, so that the mains can be used to their full capacity, the increase in use will be at least twenty million gallons per day.

As it will take from five to ten years to provide a further supply of water for this city equal to the amount now used, that is looking forward at least fifteen years (the natural increase if a full supply is furnished being five to seven per cent. per annum), the necessary surveys should be immediately carried on so as to have detail maps and plans and accurate estimates of cost to present to the public before a vote on the constitutional amendment allowing stock to be issued for water supply independent of the constitutional limit is taken in November, 1903.

Salary Account Below Revised Budget.

The expenditures for salaries under the account of the Bureau of "Distribution and Repairs" have been at the rate of about $1,500 per annum more than the amount allowed in the revised Budget submitted at the beginning of the present year. This slight increase has been, however, more than offset by the reductions in the account of the Engineer's Bureau, under "Maintenance and Repairs." The aggregate expenditures for salaries under this account have been at the rate of some $8,000 less than the amount given in the revised Budget above referred to, and this saving has been effected after charging the cost of labor for grouting the slope walls of the Millburn Reservoir. If this last item, amounting to $2,184, be deducted from the regular salary account, the saving during the past quarter would be at the rate of about $17,000 below the figures estimated in the revised Budget. Under "Materials and Supplies" there is a large balance to our credit, no reduction having been made in this item at the beginning of the year from absolute lack of time. The balance will probably be sufficient to cover the increased price of coal for the current year, due to the strike.

The rainfall at the Hempstead Storage Reservoir during the past quarter was at the rate of 45.2 inches per annum, which is in excess of the average. Nearly one-half of the total amount fell during the month of September.

General Condition of Supply.

In spite of the heavy June rains, amounting to 6.03 inches, the stream flow and yield of the Pumping Stations were insufficient to furnish the requisite supply, and it was therefore necessary to begin drawing from the Hempstead Storage Reservoir on August 10. The amounts drawn from the Reservoir were as follows:

Month.	Number of Gallons.	Average Per Day, Gallons.
August 10 to 31.....	187,846,000	8,538,500
September 1 to 26.....	180,298,000	7,211,900

The total storage in the reservoirs reached the maximum on July 7, amounting then to 1,014,182,700 gallons, and the amount in storage reached its minimum on September 27, being then 521,806,100 gallons.

From July 7 to September 26 the average daily loss in storage was at the rate of 6,078,700 gallons.

At the beginning of the quarter the Merrick and Wantagh Driven Well stations were already in operation, and Massapequa, Matowa and Agawam were started on July 12, August 25 and August 30 respectively, pumping at the latter stations being somewhat retarded owing to the time required to secure the necessary Engineers and Firemen. Even with all the Driven Well stations in operation, we were compelled to draw heavily on the stored water to meet the consumption, and without the providential heavy rains of September the situation would have become critical. It is easy to determine from the figures already given what the condition of the supply would have been if, instead of the exceptionally cool and comparatively wet summer, we had had such an extremely dry season as that of 1894.

The short duration of high summer temperatures kept the consumption below normal figures. Thus, the average daily consumption during the quarter was but 1,500,000 gallons more than during the corresponding period of last year, whereas, with an adequate supply, an average increase of 5,500,000 gallons daily was recorded from 1895 to 1898.

Owing to the lack of conduit capacity the water in the Ridgewood reservoirs was lowered during August and the early part of September. The minimum depths in basins Nos. 1 and 2 were reached on September 9, when they were 9.68 and 9.32 feet respectively, and in basin No. 3 on September 10, the depth being then 6.76 feet. This lowering of the reservoir levels and consequent loss of pressure throughout the distribution system was followed by general complaints throughout all those sections of the City where the normal pressure is low. The additional pipe conduit was opened down to the Oconee Pumping Station on September 9, and this additional conduit capacity enabled us to increase the pumping at Ridgewood and thus bring up the reservoir levels, which, since that date, have been steadily rising, so that at the end of the quarter the reservoirs were at such a height that there was no further reason for general complaints of lack of pressure.

There are certain sections of the City where the normal pressure is far below what is necessary to give satisfactory water supply, and complaints are being continuously received that water does not rise in many cases above the second floor in buildings. This condition will have to continue until such time as additional trunk mains be authorized, and will not even then be entirely relieved unless we secure a large increase in the supply.

The chemical condition has been about normal during the quarter, but the bacteriological examinations showed an increase in the number of bacteria, and the test for the presence of bacillus coli in the water entering the Ridgewood basin showed a decided increase. A comparison with the previous years shows the following result:

Year.	Months.	Number of Bacteria per cc.	Per cent. of samples which gave positive test for B. Coli.
1898.....	July, August, September	192	...
1899.....	July, August, September.	224	2.8
1900.....	July, August, September.	206	2.1
1901.....	July, August, September.	328	6.9
1902.....	July, August, September.	301	12.4

A majority of the samples which gave positive tests for bacillus coli were obtained in the latter part of September, after the heavy rains. These heavy rains caused considerable surface run-off, thus carrying impurities into the stream.

It is pertinent, and it may be interesting to state in this connection that, owing to recent investigations, the results of which have been communicated to the writer by Mr. Whipple, our Biologist at the Mt. Prospect Laboratory, the significance of positive tests for bacillus coli is much less at present than heretofore, and, in fact, that there is even reason to doubt that the presence of bacillus coli is, as hitherto assumed, a proof of pollution.

The most polluted stream in connection with our supply is Horsebrook, which flows through the village of Hempstead and empties into the Hempstead Storage Reservoir. A settling basin was built at 1898 and a 36-inch cast iron by-pass pipe was laid from the settling basin to a point below Smith's pond, which is the lowest pond on the Hempstead stream from which the City derives its supply. During the quarter this settling basin has been twice filled and emptied into the reservoir, the contents of the basin being allowed to flow into the reservoir only when the examination showed it to be safe. The flow of Horsebrook, with the exception of the water which is emptied from the settling basin into the reservoir, has been allowed to waste through the by-pass.

Simonson's stream is also liable to dangerous pollution, and preliminary steps have been taken toward filtering the water from this stream. This work will be hereafter referred to.

The growth of micro-organisms in Ridgewood Basin No. 3 made it necessary to cut out this basin on August 13, and the by-pass was used until September 15, when the basin was again connected to the distribution mains.

Extension of Distribution.

A contract has been prepared and forwarded to the New York Office, covering all the extensions of distribution mains favorably reported upon up to September 29. This contract covered extensions on eighty-nine (89) streets, and the cost of the work is to be charged to the appropriation of $175,000, recently granted for laying additional water mains in the Borough of Brooklyn. Another contract was prepared and sent to the main office for laying the 30-inch force main between the Mt. Prospect Pumping Station and the High Service Tower, and the 12-inch and 8-inch mains necessary to properly divide and supply the tower and reservoir systems. This 30-inch main and its connections are part of the plan prepared to remodel the high service, to which further reference will be made.

The laying of mains under the contract with John Hann is now ready to be commenced, the contractor up to this time not having had sufficient pipe to begin laying the mains.

The following work has been done in laying additional distribution pipe:

Water Mains Laid.	12-inch.	8-inch.	6-inch.	Total.
Linear feet	604	604	1,818	3,026
Water gates set.....	1	2	3	6
Fire hydrants set.....	6
Linear feet of hydrant branches.....	39

Favorable reports were made on petitions for fifteen different streets, covering a total distance of 16,135 feet, and petitions for fourteen streets were reported on unfavorably.

Renewal of Old Pipe.

Considerable trouble having been experienced from loss of pressure due to the reduction of area in pipes laid many years ago, a schedule of such pipe was prepared with a view of determining the cost of replacing them, as well as many of the hydrants, and setting the latter closer together. From this schedule, prepared under the direction of Chief Engineer Van Buren, it appeared that there were, in round numbers, the following amounts of pipe laid 40 to 45 years ago:

6-inch pipe, say	453,000 feet
4-inch pipe, say	800 feet
3-inch pipe, say	500 feet

No 4-inch and 3-inch pipe should be continued in use, and the larger portion of the 6-inch should be replaced by 8-inch pipe. If all these old pipe were to be removed, the cost of the work would probably be between $750,000 and $800,000, so that, even if a portion only be removed, the cost will be considerable, and the work should therefore be distributed over a period of years, gradually taking up and replacing the pipes. I trust to be able in the forthcoming Annual Report to lay out the order of work more specifically.

Pumping Stations.

Mt. Prospect (Remodeling of High Service).

The daily pumping at the Mt. Prospect Station for the lower service has averaged about 1,250,000 gallons less than for the corresponding quarter last year; and for the higher or tower district there have been pumped about 200,000 gallons per day more than for the corresponding quarter last year. An abnormal increase in consumption, both in the Reservoir and Tower Districts, has been noticed during the last month, probably due to leakage from the Tower to the Mt. Prospect Reservoir system, and from the latter to the Ridgewood system, and efforts are now being made to locate these leaks. As these districts are formed by the closing of gates, much care is required to prevent the unauthorized opening of these gates, which has occasioned trouble in the past. If a gate is opened by error or malice, it is very difficult to determine where this occurs.

The contract for the installation of the two new boilers at this station has been completed, and bids have been called, and will be shortly opened, for a third boiler, similar to the other two. Until the latter is installed, the management of the station in this respect will necessarily continue to be wasteful, since it is impossible to utilize steam at full pressure with the new boilers, owing to the necessity of using a temporary boiler which cannot stand that pressure.

In the Annual Report from the Engineer in Charge for this Borough for 1899 will be found a full report from the writer on the remodeling of our High Service, prepared after considerable labor in determining the proper boundaries between the Ridgewood and Mount Prospect systems, and between the latter and the Tower District, and detailing the necessary changes and extensions in distribution, as well as the requisite boiler and pump capacity, etc. A map of the remodeled districts and estimates of probable consumption and cost are attached to that report. The remodeling of the High Service as there shown was intended "to secure adequate service to consumers, insure the safety of the supply against accidents to either pumps or service mains," and allot the Department to maintain the good quality of the water, while at the same time effecting a considerable saving in the cost of management. The comparatively small appropriation asked ($103,000) to carry this plan into execution was not granted, but the dangerous condition of the boilers, which, growing worse daily, led to their ultimate condemnation by the Boiler Inspectors, and the increasing complaints of inadequate service, forced the adoption of at least a portion of the plan. Thus of the three boilers recommended in that report, two have just been installed and bids for the third are about to be opened, while contracts for the necessary and long-delayed new force main and its connections and extensions of distribution have been approved by you and will also be shortly advertised. Therefore, it only remains to make provision for the engines. The latter are urgently needed, both on the score of safety, economy and adequate service. In fact, it would have been for the interests of the City to replace the Mount Prospect Reservoir engines, and particularly No. 2, which is an extremely wasteful machine, several years ago. In proportioning these engines, as well as the boilers hitherto installed, due regard has been had not only to present requirements, but to the annual increase in consumption up to the maximum to be reached when both the Reservoir and Tower districts are entirely built up. A few remarks in this connection may be of interest. The detailed figures will be given in the forthcoming Annual Report, being now omitted from lack of time.

In estimating the probable consumption and corresponding engine and boiler capacity, etc., it has been assumed that the present rates per capita and the relation between the Reservoir and Tower consumption, both at normal and maximum rates, will be continued. Given the character of the High Service districts, the results obtained on this basis should be reasonably accurate. For the year 1903 (if the Clinton avenue district be included) the maximum estimated daily consumption would be at the rate of

For the Reservoir, 7,500,000 gallons.

For the Tower, 5,250,000 gallons.

After the third boiler, for which bids are to be opened, is installed, the total boiler capacity will be sufficient for the estimated maximum daily consumption up to and including the year 1908, and with one boiler in reserve. With no reserve the boiler capacity would suffice up to 1920.

A new boiler in 1908 would therefore give reserve up to 1920. For the installation of this boiler the boiler house would have to be enlarged; there is space enough for that purpose.

For the ultimate consumption of the High Service District (i. e., assuming it to be entirely built up) six boilers of the present size and type would be required, assuming one to be in reserve; and with larger units, which should be adopted on renewals, five boilers would be sufficient for the ultimate consumption, of which one would be in reserve.

Engine No. 2 on the Mount Prospect Reservoir service is wasteful and, as already stated, should have been replaced several years ago. I earnestly recommend that it be replaced as soon as possible by a modern engine of a normal daily capacity of 8,000,000 gallons, which may be increased to about 9,000,000. After the instalment of this engine, the No. 1 engine should also be replaced by another engine entirely similar to the one proposed to take the place of No. 2, the normal daily pumping capacity of that station being then 16,000,000 gallons and the maximum 18,000,000 gallons. To provide for the ultimate maximum consumption of the Reservoir District a third engine of similar capacity will be required, for which, however, the building will have to be enlarged. There is sufficient space for the necessary addition.

For the Tower service a modern high duty engine of a normal daily capacity of 6,000,000 gallons, which may be increased to about 7,000,000 gallons, should be installed without delay. This would provide sufficient pumping power for the Tower service for a few years, after which engines Nos. 3 and 4 should be replaced with a new engine of the same capacity as now proposed. And to provide for the ultimate maximum consumption of the Tower District, engine No. 5 must be replaced by a third engine of the requisite capacity, no enlargement of the building being required in this case.

Assuming that modern high duty engines are to be installed both for the Reservoir and Tower service, the approximate cost would be as follows:

For the Reservoir engine, including foundation, piping and all other work incidental thereto, as well as the removal of the old engine, say.....	$35,000 00
For the Tower engine, including foundation, piping and all other work incidental thereto, say.....	35,000 00
Making a total of, say.....	$70,000 00

The economy in operation, on the basis of estimated consumption for the year 1903, already given, will be approximately as follows:

On coal (Reservoir service) at present contract prices.....	$4,700 00
On coal (Tower service) at present contract prices.....	2,100 00
Total saving on coal.....	$6,800 00
Less interest and Sinking Fund charges on the estimated cost of engines, say	4,000 00

Net saving in operation..... $2,800 00

—which, capitalized at 3 per cent., amounts to $93,300.

The capitalized saving therefore would exceed the total outlay for the proposed pumps, and, as already explained, the efficiency of the service would be greatly increased and adequately provided for.

Gravesend Pumping Station.

Minor repairs have been made at this station. It needs, however, an entirely new set of boilers and additional engines. The average daily consumption is over 3,000,000 gallons, and the pumping plant at present consists of a 5,000,000-gallon Dean engine and a 2,000,000-gallon Worthington engine; thus the station is run wastefully and yet without any reserve, the Worthington engine being practically useless, and should any accident occur to the Dean engine, the district would greatly suffer from lack of water. Repeated recommendations for remodeling this station have been made in the past and will be discussed further on.

New Utrecht Pumping Station.

The daily amount pumped at this station averaged but 1,400,000 gallons, approximately. The plant is not economical, and, owing to the proximity of the Gravesend Station above and of tide water below, it is impossible to increase the pumping without an inflow of salt water. If the Gravesend Station can be developed, as hereinafter recommended, it would be advantageous to abandon this station and sell the property.

Development of Gravesend and Abandonment of New Utrecht Station.

The Gravesend and New Utrecht stations not only draw from the same watershed, but are close together, the distance in an almost due north and south direction being only about one-half mile. As the two stations lie practically in the direction of the underground flow from which both draw their supply through driven wells, their interference with each other is obvious. It has been stated above that under these conditions, and owing to the greater proximity of New Utrecht to tide water, the pumping at the latter station could not be safely increased to any great extent; in other words, the Gravesend Pumping Station, if properly developed, can pump somewhat more water than is now obtained from both the Gravesend and New Utrecht stations, and with a considerable economy in operating expenses.

The work to be done consists in increasing the number of wells at the Gravesend Station (for which purpose the requisite land would have to be purchased), and providing adequate boilers and engines, and altering the buildings.

Assuming that modern high duty engines are to be installed, the items and approximate estimates of cost of the work would be as follows:

Land required, say.....	$25,000 00
Driven wells and suction line, say.....	8,000 00
2 high duty pumping engines, say.....	50,000 00
3 boilers, say.....	12,000 00
Steel stack, foundations, steam fittings, connections and appurtenances, say.....	4,500 00
Remodeling of engine-house and moving dwelling, say.....	9,000 00
Changes in new pipe and changes in old line, say.....	1,500 00
Total.....	$110,000 00
Contingencies and engineering.....	10,000 00
Total.....	$120,000 00

The engines and boilers provided in above estimate would be sufficient for the supply of the district now served and leave an adequate engine and boiler reserve.

In the above estimate no allowance has been made for the piping and other material from the New Utrecht Station which may be utilized in the extension of Gravesend. The value of the land at the New Utrecht Station should, however, be considered as an offset, and would probably amount, at present prices, to say, $20,000, which, deducted from the estimate above given, would reduce the total estimate of the cost of the proposed extension and improvement of Gravesend to $100,000.

The economy of operation, on the basis of present pumping, at both Gravesend and New Utrecht, would be approximately as follows:

Saving on coal, at present contract prices.....	$11,200 00
Saving on salaries at New Utrecht.....	8,200 00
Gross saving.....	$19,400 00
Less interest and Sinking Fund charges on the estimated cost of work, say.....	5,100 00

Net saving..... $14,300 00

—which, capitalized at 3 per cent., amounts to $477,000.

The capitalized saving, therefore, would be nearly five times the net estimated outlay for the proposed extension and improvement of the station, while the efficiency of the service would be greatly increased and its requirements adequately provided for.

In this comparison no account has been taken of the saving of the outlay imperatively required, if both the present stations were to be continued in operation, in order to install new engines at Gravesend and new boilers at both New Utrecht and Gravesend, and to make indispensable alterations in the Gravesend building. The total cost of this work, on the basis of the above estimate, would not be less than $50,000, or half the amount required for the extension and improvement of the Gravesend station as proposed.

Ridgewood Old Station.

As the Ridgewood Station has been using anthracite coal since 1899, the scarcity of coal due to the strike has seriously interfered with the proper operation of the station. The smoke from the semi-bituminous coal we have been compelled to use has been the cause of much complaint, and, owing to the poor quality of the coal, steam could not at times be generated by the boilers rapidly enough to supply the engines, the pumping then being reduced. At present we have practically no coal in store, and should this condition continue until winter the station will be compelled to shut down if the delivery of coal is delayed by a severe storm.

The necessary repairs have been made on the three triple-expansion Worthington engines, and on the Beam engine; the Davidson engines have not been run, but simply moved every week so as to keep them in condition and ready for starting at short notice. The work of rewiring the main engine room, together with the cellar and the four engines has been practically completed, and the new switchboard is now in operation. A new wainscoting is being put around the engine room, which, when completed, will greatly improve its appearance. To put it in good condition it will then require a coat of paint.

Ridgewood New Station.

The engines have been repaired as required, and two of the Bigelow boilers have been overhauled, No. 21 having new bottom sheet and tubes, and No. 22 new bottom sheet, head and tubes. These boilers are now in position, and the masonry work is being reset. The old dynamo, which has been in constant operation under an excessive load for a number of years, burned out early in September owing to the breaking down of the insulation from constant operation. The new engine and generator being installed under contract with F. G. Blanchard was nearly ready for service when the accident occurred to the old generator, and the work was hurried so that the station was without lights for only two nights. Unfortunately a defect was found in the shaft of the new engine, necessitating its being shut down on September 21. The contractors immediately ordered a new shaft, which will be delivered and the engine running within two or three days. The wiring to be done by the contractor in the new station has been practically completed. The old wiring, which was not to be replaced under this contract, is in many places in very poor condition and will need to be replaced in the near future.

Line Stations.

The district supplied by the New Lots Station was enlarged on September 16, the fourth boiler for the station having been completed and thus giving sufficient boiler capacity to safely provide for the increased consumption. Provision has been made for a 20-inch connection between one of the 48-inch distribution mains and the New Lots Reservoir. When this is completed the reservoir can be emptied and a suitable screen and inlet chamber built and an overflow pipe laid.

At the Spring Creek Station eighty-seven of the shallow wells have been pulled up, cleaned and redriven with new 5-foot points. The brick chimney at this station has been partially taken down and rebuilt, and the brick work repointed. The temporary plant is in bad condition, and the entire station should be remodeled, as has previously been recommended.

At Shetucket, Oconee and Baisleys Stations minor repairs have been made to the engines and boilers. At Oconee three of the 8-inch deep wells have been cleaned and the rest of the plant will be similarly treated. The store shed at this station has been cut in two and a portion of it removed to the Jameco Station for a storehouse, and the other portion moved to a location just east of the engine room. The south side of this shed has been fitted up as an Engineer's office, and the telephone will be moved into this room.

At the Jameco Station three of the 8-inch wells were cleaned by washing and two were washed and then turned down for a short distance to free the strainers. The steam piping at this station needs overhauling, and this will be done as soon as the necessary material can be obtained.

Six of the 8-inch deep wells at Springfield have been cleaned and reconnected to the suction main; in three of these wells the suction pipes were badly corroded and have been replaced. Minor repairs have been made, but the engine needs general overhauling.

At Forest Stream and Clear Stream stations no special repairs were made to the pumping plants, but at the Clear Stream Station twenty-two of the 2-inch wells were pulled up and redriven with new 5-foot points. This work completes the cleaning of all the wells at the Clear Stream Station.

At the Watts Pond Station the boilers are in fair condition, but the engine requires overhauling.

At the Smith's Pond Station one engine has been in constant operation and the other one has been overhauled. The boilers need resetting in front, as has previously been reported.

At the Millburn Station the engines and boilers have been overhauled and kept in good condition. The covering of the east battery of boilers will need to be removed and replaced with new covering. The new engine and generator for this station has been installed and has been giving satisfactory service since the latter part of August. Bids were asked for two engines of a daily capacity of 12,500,000 gallons, which might be increased to 15,000,000 gallons, and for two boilers for this station, and two bids, one for each item, were received and opened on August 8, as follows:

From M. T. Davidson for the two engines..... $67,600 00
From A. D. Granger Company for the two boilers..... 11,950 00

These two bids were rejected and the work readvertised, and new bids were received and opened on September 11, as follows:

For the two engines--
From the Snow Steam Pump Works..... $50,000 00
From Henry R. Worthington (one bid)..... 51,000 00
From Henry R. Worthington (another bid)..... 59,000 00
For the two boilers--
From Edwin Burhorn..... 11,400 00
From J. Edward Ogden Company..... 11,800 00
From James Reilly Repair and Supply Company..... 12,276 00

The bid of the Snow Steam Pump Works for the engines was declared irregular and the contract awarded to Henry R. Worthington on his bid for $51,000.

The contract for the boilers was awarded to Edwin Burhorn on his bid for $11,400.

The five Driven Well Stations east of Millburn have been running, as has previously been stated, but at some of the stations it has been necessary to have the Engineers work on twelve-hour shifts, owing to insufficient force. In the latter part of August complaint was made to the Board of Health that the Merrick Station caused the lowering in a pond south of the same to such an extent that the pond became a menace to the health of those residing in the vicinity. Since that time the station has been run for only sixteen hours, but no definite decision has been made by the Board of Health in the matter.

Filter Plants at Baisleys and Springfield.

The third period of test described in the specifications for the Springfield Plant was started at 8 a. m., July 1, and at 4 p. m. on July 9 the test was stopped, owing to serious defects in the plant. Since that time the plant has not been operated.

At the Baisleys Plant the third period of test was finished on July 27. During this test the plant failed to meet contract requirements. The plant was continued in operation through the remainder of the quarter, yielding about 4,000,000 gallons per day. The contractors have requested an extension of time, promising to make extensive alterations in both plants in order that they may comply with contract requirements, and the matter is under consideration.

Ponds, Conduits and Reservoirs.

The 48-inch connection between the northerly 48-inch additional pipe line and the Millburn Reservoir has been completed by Mr. John Horie under a requisition. The grouting of the slope wall of Millburn Reservoir was completed on August 13. The average cost for the entire reservoir was 50 cents per square yard, and the total cost $15,727.24.

At the Mount Prospect Reservoir the underground wiring supplying the gate-house and reservoir lights was found to be in a very bad condition. The feeder running from the Tower to the gate-house was a No. 4 B. & S. wire without lead covering. As the Bureau of Electricity require a lead-covered feeder for all underground work, a new 1¼-inch loricated conduit was run from the Tower to the gate-house, and a No. 4 B. & S. lead-covered feeder was pulled in. The conduit was laid so as to drain to the pull-in boxes, and a drain pipe was attached to each pull-in box to prevent the accumulation of water in the conduits. Wherever grounds were found on the circuits around the reservoir, the conduit was cut, the grounded wire pulled out and new wire pulled in and connected. This conduit accumulates so much water that it may be necessary to eventually remove the same and relay it to such grade that it will be self-draining.

Patrolling and Cleaning of Streams.

The work of cleaning closets and cesspools on the watershed has been carried on as usual, and the following schedule gives the number cleaned, together with the aggregate cost:

Near Foster's Meadow stream	416
Near Springfield stream	559
Near Valley stream	195
Near Schodack brook	104
Near Pines brook	117
Near Hempstead	2,327
Near Millburn stream	78
Near East Meadow stream	134
Near Wantagh stream	193
Along conduit line	721

The cost of this work during the quarter was $979.

I beg respectfully to refer to the statements made in the last quarterly report in regard to the patrolling and cleaning of the streams in connection with the proposed reorganization of the Bureau.

Protection from Pollution.

The map of nuisances on our watershed up to date was completed in August last by Assistant Engineer Osterhout, and I requested Mr. Osterhout and Mr. Skilton to carefully check it before transmitting it to you for such action as you may deem advisable, in accordance with the suggestions embodied in my last report.

Mr. John M. Smith, Superintendent of the Bureau of Conduits and Reservoirs, having resigned, Mr. George S. Skilton, Assistant Engineer in this Bureau, and who some time ago acted as such on Ponds and Conduit, was temporarily re-assigned to that position on July 21.

Laboratory.

During the quarter the usual routine work of the Laboratory has been continued, the work done being as follows:

Water Analyses.

Number of samples collected.....	1,812
Physical examinations	772
Chemical analyses, complete.....	230
Chemical analyses, partial.....	182
Microscopical examinations	450
Bacteriological examinations, quantitative.....	1,668
Bacteriological examinations, tests for B. coli.....	823

Miscellaneous.

Test of Baisleys and Springfield Filters.

Inspection of Sources of Supply.

Investigations of Typhoid Epidemic at Bayside.

Coal analyses	8
Oil analyses	11
Sand analysis.....	1

The average condition of the water during the quarter is shown by the following figures:

	Turbidity.	Color.	Alb. Am.	Free Am.	Chlorine.	Micro-organisms.	Bacteria.

Additional Forty-eight-inch Pipe Conduit.

The forty-eight-inch pipe to be laid by Contractor William H. Masterson has now been completed with the exception of about 933 feet. There is at present one derrick laying pipe, and the work should be completed by about October 15. The greater portion of the pipe trench west of Rosedale has not been refilled to grade, and it will probably be the latter part of November before the work is entirely completed. As has been previously stated, the pipe is in use as far as the Oconee Pumping Station, where a twenty-four-inch connection is made with the main brick conduit. The contractor has two more small brick culverts to build, and the coping for practically all of the culverts west of Culvert U has to be set.

Damage Suits.

Two law suits for the diversion of underground water were tried during the last quarter, one being brought by A. Foster, Sr., and the second by J. Higbie. These cases were brought before Judge Smith, and as an injunction was asked were not tried before a jury. The station which it was claimed affected the plaintiffs' farms was the Springfield Driven Well Station, and while the City introduced testimony showing that this station derives its supply from a stratum below a clay bed which was entirely independent of the surface supply, the decision was against the City in the case of A. Foster, Sr., the verdict being for $525, this verdict covering the depreciation in rental and fee values and the deepening of a well. The case of J. Higbie was similar to that of Foster, but no decision has yet been rendered. A third suit, brought by Mr. Mott, who likewise resided near the Springfield Pumping Station, was settled for $50 damages and costs, the settlement of this case depending on the decision in the Foster case. As the award for damages is limited to the reduction in rental and fee value of the premises affected, the amount which can be recovered is comparatively small.

Records and Accounts.

No change has as yet been made in the distribution of our Clerks, and as the engineering force has been much below that required for the routine and special work, it has not been possible to keep our records in the complete form in which they have previously been kept. We have been falling behind, so that at present our engine tables and reports are over a year behind, and our miscellaneous records are incomplete. This is to be regretted, as these records are important for use in our damage suits, and for obtaining, when required, readily and quickly, all the necessary data in relation to the different parts of our work. Our engineering force is inadequate to attend to the work in hand and under preparation, our requisitions for Rodmen and Draughtsmen not having yet been filled. This delays the work of preparation on our new pumping stations, Millburn Reservoir, Forest Part, etc. It is to be hoped that the indispensable additions to the force requested since the beginning of the year may be speedily made.

Requisitions for Work and Supplies.

No change has been made in the method adopted since the first of the year, which has been discussed in the two previous Quarterly Reports.

Reorganization of Bureaus.

As I understand that this matter, which was discussed in the two last Quarterly Reports, is at present receiving your earnest consideration, it may be of interest to refer to the changes effected by the new Charter and Revised Civil Service Rules.

Section 458 of the old Greater New York Charter authorized the Commissioners to organize new Bureaus, and by virtue of this authority the new Bureaus of Conduits and Reservoirs and of Repairs to Distribution and Complaints were created. The heads of these Bureaus were officially designated as the Superintendents of the same, and under the Civil Service rules existing prior to May 9 of this year all heads of Bureaus were placed in Class A (non-competitive). Section 458 of the old Charter was omitted in the new Charter, but by section 1543 of the latter "Any head of Department or Borough President may, with the consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, consolidate any two or more Bureaus established by law and may change the duties of any Bureau." On the other hand, the new Civil Service rules, approved May 9 of the present year, while leaving some of the heads of Bureaus in Class A, placed under subdivision 3 of schedule C of competitive class the following employees, i. e.:

Superintendent of Conduits and Reservoirs,
Superintendent of Construction and Repairs.

It would seem, therefore, that if these Bureaus were to be continued, the heads of the same, in case of a vacancy, would, according to the present Civil Service rules, be filled by a competitive examination, and that if it were decided to abolish the Bureaus and make their work part of that of the Engineer's Bureau, an Assistant Engineer could be detailed to take charge of the work. It has already been stated in previous reports that should it be decided to continue either Bureau the work of the same should be clearly defined.

Tax Bills.

I again beg respectfully to refer to the recommendations made under this head in the first Quarterly Report for the present year.

Surveys in Suffolk County.

The surveys started during last quarter in Suffolk County have been completed, but have not been plotted owing to the lack of Draughtsmen. Reference has already been made to the requests repeatedly made since the beginning of the year for Rodmen and Draughtsman.

Works for the Improvement and Development of the Watershed.

No appropriations have been asked or authorized since the last Quarterly Report was submitted. In the latter a schedule of the bond issues authorized on May 23 was given. It may be well now to call your attention to outstanding balances on October 1, 1902, from previous appropriations, which are as follows:

1. Borough of Brooklyn—Water Construction:
Balance January 1, 1898.....	$509,739	92
Expenditures to September 30, 1902.....	423,831	91
	$85,908	01
Reserved for contract for Filter Plants (Cranford).....	69,750	00
Balance October 1, 1902.....			$16,158 01
2. Water Construction—Borough of Brooklyn:
Bonds authorized	$1,010,000	00
Expenditures to September 30, 1902.....	728,624	68
	$281,375	32
Reserved for completion of Additional Pipe Conduit (W. H. Masterson)	147,452	71
Balance October 1, 1902.....			133,922 61
3. Water Main Fund—Borough of Brooklyn:
Bonds authorized	$500,000	00
Expenditures to September 30, 1902.....	266,719	18
	$233,280	82
Reserved for contract on extension of distribution (I. Harris)	$25,148	57
Reserved for contract on extension of distribution (J. Hann)	77,015	00
	102,163	57
Balance October 1, 1902.....			131,117 25
Total.....			$281,197 87

The above figures show a total aggregate of unexpended appropriations amounting, on October 1, 1902, to $281,197.87. Whether this surplus could be transferred to and applied to any other works than those for which the appropriations were originally made is a matter for legal decision. A few explanatory remarks may, however, be pertinent.

The account marked No. 1 was made up of unexpended balances existing to the credit of the old City of Brooklyn on January 1, 1898. The contract for the remodeling of the Ridgewood Pumping Station, and the contract for the Filtering Plants, By-pass at Hempstead, etc., were charged to this balance, and there remains now a surplus of over $16,000, subject to salaries due until the completion and acceptance of the plants. This amount should be available for the purchase of the controllers, which it has been proposed to add to the remodeled filters, and the installation of which, I understand, meets with your approval.

In account marked No. 2, the bonds were issued for the payment of the Additional Pipe Conduit, and the balance, on October 1, 1902, is about $134,000, after reserving estimated payments due the contractor, and which are somewhat in excess of those that will be actually due, but making no allowance for salaries still to be paid until completion.

No. 3 is the account of bonds issued for laying water mains under the old Charter, and the available balance shown October 1, 1902, is approximately $131,000. These bonds were issued for work which, according to the old Charter, required the approval of the Board of Public Improvements, the Municipal Assembly, and the Mayor. The cost of all works so approved was charged to this account, and the only items approved and not under contract are the new force main and connections, the contract for which has been recently approved by you and is to be shortly advertised.

Contracts.

During the quarter there were prepared and forwarded to the main office complete forms of contracts, specifications and bids for the following works and supplies:

July (Borough of Brooklyn)—Steam packing, lamp and asbestos wick.
August (Borough of Brooklyn)—Extension of water mains on all petitions approved to date of contract, embracing eighty-nine streets.
August (Borough of Brooklyn)—30-inch force main between the Mount Prospect Pumping Station and the High Service Tower and Reservoir, together with 12-inch and 8-inch distributing mains.
August (Borough of Queens)—Furnishing, delivering and laying water mains in North Washington place, Titus, Lathrop, Pomeroy, Albert, Purdy, Academy and North Henry streets; in Ninth, Grand, Fifth, Hoyt, Ditmars, Debevoise and Graham avenues; in Broadway and in Newtown road.
August (Borough of Queens)—Furnishing, delivering and laying water mains in Ninth, Hancock, Fourteenth, Front, Honeywell, Hulst, Buckley and Queens streets, and in Skillman, Jackson, East and Middleburg avenues.
August (Borough of Queens)—Furnishing, delivering and laying water mains in Twenty-ninth street, Eleventh avenue and Seventh avenue, Whitestone, Third Ward, and in Fourteenth street and its continuation, Willets Point road, Third Ward, and in Prospect avenue, Sixteenth street, Sanford avenue and Twenty-fifth street, Flushing, Third Ward.
September (Borough of Queens)—Furnishing, delivering and laying water mains in Grand, Fulton and Pierce avenues; in Main, Munson and Locust streets and in the Boulevard, in the First Ward of the Borough of Queens.

Forms of contract and specifications to cover the construction of the proposed infiltration gallery systems are well under way and can readily be completed as soon as the lines are located.

Some work has been done also on the specifications for the Millburn Reservoir lining.

In the Borough of Queens considerable preliminary work has been done to prepare the contract and specifications for the new engines and boilers, to which further reference shall be made.

Additional Supply.

Three surveying parties have been in the field during the past month locating property lines and determining the underground water level, in order to obtain the necessary data for the selection of the most favorable locations of the proposed underground water supply stations. In order to man these surveying parties the whole office force has been practically sent to the field, but even thus this work has been delayed, owing to the inadequate force already referred to. As soon as the lines are located the forms of contract and specifications will be readily completed.

With this work out of the way the contract and specifications for the repairs to the Millburn Reservoir can be speedily completed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rapid Transit and Atlantic Avenue Improvement Work.

The work on the Rapid Transit and Atlantic Avenue Improvement necessitates considerable readjustment of our distribution system. This work has been entirely in charge of Mr. Robert Van Buren, and will be undertaken as soon as the location of the line and terminals of the Rapid Transit are decided upon.

Sewer Crossing at Oconee.

We have passed upon and approved plans and specifications for the extension of the outlet sewer for Jamaica under our conduit, and expect that this work will be shortly undertaken.

Coal.

The effects of the recent strike have been seriously felt in the management of our works. The contractors practically refused to fulfill their contracts and the purchase of coal has been made by requisition at increasing cost, which reached, for bituminous coal, including handling and freight, $10 per ton for coal delivered at our Millburn Pumping Station. But more serious than the surcharge in cost is the depletion of our coal bins, which for weeks have held but a meagre supply, at times reduced, even at our Ridgewood Station, where we should never have less than a thirty days' storage, to the amount required for two or three days' consumption. It is earnestly to be hoped that an early termination of the strike may end this situation, full of danger, especially with the approach of winter, during which snowstorms are likely at any time to interrupt traffic and cut off deliveries.

BOROUGH OF QUEENS.

There has been no important change in the conditions of the water supply for the Borough of Queens, the supply being barely sufficient to provide for the needs of the districts supplied. Owing to the comparatively cool summer there has been little complaint of lack of pressure, except on the high levels. Reference has already been made to the contracts prepared for new mains, which, when laid, will considerably relieve those points where inadequate pressure is at present found. The force, both for the office and for the outside work, is very small in comparison with the work to be done, and should be enlarged. The average amount pumped daily at each station and the amount supplied by the Citizens' Water Company are as follows:

First Ward—
Station No. 1.....	852,149
Station No. 2.....	1,138,958
Station No. 3.....	686,843
Third Ward—
Flushing Pumping Station.....	1,369,428
College Point Station.....	1,160,990
Whitestone Station	216,980
Citizens' Water Supply Company—
Meter No. 111,396.....	428,347
Meter No. 111,397.....	427,108
Meter No. 60,792.....	512,676
Meter No. 60,793.....	544,278
Meter No. 119,483.....	630,978
Meter Debevoise road.....	271,752
	8,240,487

Mode of Supply.

The Borough of Queens is supplied as follows:
First Ward (Long Island City)—Supplied by the three City stations and by the Citizens' Water Company, the latter supplying directly to the consumers and also selling water to the City.

Second Ward (old Town of Newtown)—Supplied by the Citizens' Water Company, who deal directly with consumers.

Third Ward (old Town of Flushing, comprising the villages of Flushing, College Point, Whitestone, Bayside, Douglaston and Little Neck)—Supplied by the City stations.

Fourth Ward (old Town of Jamaica)—Supplied by the Jamaica Water Supply Company and the Woodhaven Water Supply Company, both of which deal directly with consumers.

Fifth Ward (part of the old Town of Hempstead)—Supplied by the Queens County Water Company, who deal directly with consumers.

Work to be Done.

Distribution.

The more urgent extensions are covered by the three contracts already referred to and submitted in August last, i. e., for the Third Ward, for streets in the northern portion of the First Ward (Astoria), and for the southern portion of the First Ward (Hunter's Point), the estimated cost of which, including contingencies, is $87,000, leaving a balance from the appropriation for this work of about $10,000. The fourth contract, for water mains in Grand, Fulton and Pierce avenues, in the First Ward, prepared and submitted on September 18, is chargeable to the appropriation of $40,000 obtained last September.

In the Long Island City distribution, at the Flushing avenue point of supply, Station No. 2 delivers the water through a 10-inch main, the Citizens' Water Supply Company deliver through a 12-inch main, and both these 10-inch and 12-inch discharge through an 8-inch main several thousand feet long. To remedy these conditions it is proposed to lay a new main, from 1½ to 2 miles long, starting at say 16 inches in diameter and gradually reducing. This is the main provided for in the fourth contract above mentioned and submitted on September 18. Similar conditions to those above outlined, although not to such a marked degree, exist at Thompson avenue and Shell road, and at the delivery of Station No. 3. Enlarged mains must be laid, as in the previous case, to remedy these conditions; an appropriation must be obtained to defray the cost of the same.

It will be advantageous to discontinue the use of the Whitestone standpipe and to remove the College Point standpipe from its present site and set it alongside of the Flushing standpipe, so that these two standpipes may do the service for the whole Third Ward. To insure the service of College Point, which now depends exclusively on an old 12-inch main on the causeway alongside of the marsh, which is in a dangerous condition, a new main should be laid on the high land. An extra 20-inch main should also be laid from the College Point Station to the standpipe. The cost of these two latter mains and appurtenances would probably amount to about $80,000, and the work should be undertaken next year, as well as any changes in the buildings, with the exception of a few repairs to be noted hereafter.

Pumps and Boilers.

Additions to and the replacement of these are needed and should be undertaken this year. I understand there is an available appropriation for that purpose of about $98,000.

Long Island City.

Station No. 1—There is one old Holly engine, of 4,000,000 gallons capacity, and, when using two water cylinders, 2,000,000 gallons, and also a Worthington engine, of 2,000,000 gallons capacity. There are two boilers, in fairly good shape. The supply is rated only at about 700,000 gallons per day. This large pumping capacity was provided because it was originally intended to pump water from a stream that would flow by gravity from a station near the present Station No. 3 to the well at Station No. 1.

Long Island City.

Station No. 2 (at Cabinet street)—There is one Worthington engine, with a daily capacity of 2,000,000 gallons, and a Guild & Garrison engine, also of 2,000,000 gallons capacity, both in good condition, with two boilers, in fair condition. One boiler runs one engine.

Long Island City.

Station No. 3—There is one engine, of 1,500,000 gallons capacity, and one return tubular boiler, of about 100 horse power. If this station is to be preserved another engine, of from 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 gallons capacity, should be provided, and another tubular boiler. At this station the service is direct. The buildings at this station are in a very poor condition and the operation of the station is necessarily wasteful. The cost of engines and boilers would be about $9,000, and a new station might be erected for about $5,000 more.

College Point Station.

There are two engines, one with a daily capacity of 2,000,000 gallons, in fair condition, and another with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, in poor condition. The latter should be replaced by another engine, of from 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 gallons capacity. The present boilers are over twenty years old and carry but sixty pounds of steam; they should be replaced by new boilers. When erecting the new engine the floor of the engine-house should be lowered. The approximate cost of these boilers, engines, alterations, etc., would be, say, $18,000. The coalshed would have to be repaired and the roof raised so as to use it as a temporary boiler room while the new boilers and engines are being erected. The cost of this work and repairs to the building would be about $4,500.

Flushing Station.

There is at present a Blake engine, of 2,000,000 gallons capacity, in good order, and a Holly engine, of 1,500,000 gallons capacity, which is old and should be replaced by another engine of from 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 gallons capacity. The boilers are nearly thirty years old and should be replaced by new ones, and the old coalshed is in very bad condition and should be taken down. The cost of the engine, new boilers, coalshed, etc., would be, say, $21,000.

Whitestone Station.

There is an engine of a capacity of about 750,000 gallons, and sufficient boiler power. If the station is to be preserved and enlarged another engine, with a capacity of from 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 gallons, should be installed. This would require also the enlargement of the building. It has already been stated that it would be advisable to discontinue the use of the Whitestone standpipe and to connect the distribution with the Flushing system. The estimated cost of engine is about $5,000.

Supply.

At all the Long Island City stations the supply is obtained from wells. At Station No. 1 there is a large open well 50 feet in diameter, and five driven wells 5 inches in diameter and from 80 to 85 feet deep. At Station No. 2 the supply is obtained from one open well about 20 feet in diameter and 25 feet deep, and from 45 driven wells (4½ inches), from 42 to 58 feet deep. Eight of these wells were condemned by the Board of Health as furnishing water that was too brackish and are shut off. This is the best of the three municipal stations in Long Island City, pumping, as reported, nearly as much as the other two. At Station No. 3 there are 12 driven wells 4½ inches in diameter, without any casing, driven to depths of about 45 feet. It was proposed to take up and redrive the wells at this station, lowering the engines 10 feet, at a cost of about $30,000. The advisability of this work and expense is questionable, especially in the absence of more reliable examinations and data than are now available. The repairing of the present wells and driving some additional ones would cost about $2,000.

College Point Station.

The supply is obtained from a pond and is reported as 1,100,000 gallons. It may be somewhat increased by turning in the brook and possibly by driving wells. Surveys and tests would have to be made to determine the amount of land required, as well as the conditions of the underground flow, probable increase and cost.

Flushing Station.

The supply is obtained from the pond and driven wells, of which there are 21, driven to a depth of about 45 feet. Some of these wells are 6-inch casing and 4½-inch suction, and others 4½-inch casing and 2½-inch suction. At present the water is taken from the upper pond, fed largely by springs, the water from which, it is claimed, is more free from riling during freshets than that of the much larger pond (Oakland Lake), which is about 17 acres in extent. By proper protection of the lake, the waters therefrom might be utilized and the supply considerably increased, it being reported that the summer daily flow from this pond is about 1,000,000 gallons. Surveys would have to be made to determine the land required for the protection, additional yield and cost.

Whitestone Station.

The supply here is obtained from 17 driven wells, 6-inch casing and 4-inch suction, driven from 60 to 80 feet through a bed of clay reported to be 18 feet thick and 30 feet below the surface. When not pumping, all these wells flow, and their supply has been estimated at 250,000 gallons. There are also 4 shallow wells, the depth of which is not reported. It has been proposed to increase the supply by driving wells, but in this case, as in all the other similar ones, it would not be wise to incur the expenditure until more reliable data than are now available can be procured. The additional driven wells for this station would probably cost about $2,000.

The approximate estimates given above add up as follows:
For engines, boilers and repairs to stations.....	$62,500 00
For additional wells	4,000 00
Total	$66,500 00
For which the available appropriation is	98,000 00
Thus leaving a balance of	$31,500 00

for the improvement of College Point and Flushing plants. It may be well to state, in general, that the supplies herein given are those reported from the various City Stations and based entirely on pump displacement. This method, in itself inaccurate, is still more unreliable in the present case owing to the condition of the plants, particularly at Long Island City, and to the fact that they pump from driven wells. There is little doubt, therefore, in my opinion, that there are errors in the stroke computations and also that a large amount of air is estimated as water, and that the actual yield of these several stations is probably no less than 30 per cent. below the reported figures, and at Long Island City still lower.

I have found no records of gaugings or observations on the lowering of the underground levels, or of borings and examinations to determine the conditions of the underground flow. These and other data should be gathered for an intelligent design of the contemplated improvements.

The supply from the City Stations throughout the borough is very expensive, owing to the small amount pumped at the stations, which have a large salary account, and the high cost of maintenance due to the poor condition of the plants, particularly at Long Island City. The supply of the Third Ward is in all respects superior to the supply furnished to Long Island City, and with the three stations improved and developed as herein suggested, may suffice for the consumption for a few years more. These stations, therefore, should be so developed and improved. The conditions of the supply at Long Island City are most unfavorable, but as the possibilities of improvement or extension of the City plants are very limited, these stations will have to be continued for some years, but should be abandoned as soon as possible.

Office in General.

No change has been made in the quarters assigned to the force of this Bureau, which are objectionable less from lack of space than from its distribution in two floors, thereby causing much inconvenience and loss of time. The office work has entailed a more than usually burdensome task on the members of our force, who, owing to their inadequate number and the pressing needs of work under preparation, have had to devote to the latter a considerable portion of their time, often extended beyond official hours.

Salaries of Engineering Force.

I could add little to the statements made under this head in the two previous quarterly reports for the present year, and will therefore simply call your attention to the recommendations therein made, respectfully requesting your favorable consideration of the just claims advanced on behalf of the Assistant Engineers, Transmitters, Levelers, Rodmen and other subordinates of the Engineering Staff to more adequate compensation.

Respectfully submitted,

I. M. DE VARONA, Chief Engineer.

A representative of the Local School Board appeared before the committee, and stated that there was not one kindergarten in the district, notwithstanding its being one of the most thickly populated districts in the City, and recommended hiring the parlor floor of the premises No. 15 Hamilton street.

The City Superintendent stated that there is need for kindergarten accommodations in this neighborhood, and the Deputy Superintendent of School Buildings reported that the premises are suitable.

The Committee on Sites, to which was referred the following communication:

"New York, December 24, 1902.

"Supreme Court.

"In the matter of acquiring title to certain lands on the westerly side of First avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets, as a site for school purposes.

"Hon. CHARLES C. BURLINGHAM, President of the Board of Education:

"Sir—It appears from a survey made by Francis W. Ford, City Surveyor, of the premises sought to be acquired in the above proceeding and from the documentary evidence of title submitted to the Commissioners of Estimate, that the northerly wall of the building on the premises known as No. 937 First avenue is a twelve-inch party wall, and that the City under the survey is to acquire to the centre of that party wall.

"The question has arisen before the Commission as to whether it is the intention of the City in acquiring title to this property to also acquire the easement which the owner of the property known as No. 939 First avenue and adjoining the said premises on the north has in this party wall, or whether the title is to be taken subject thereto.

"This easement consists in the right to have the wall remain as a whole for the protection and benefit of the adjoining property. Of course, if the easement is to be extinguished and the City vested with the legal right to remove or destroy the wall, the owner of such easement must be compensated for the damage which he will sustain by reason of such removal, and which damage may be regarded as large in proportion to the benefits resulting to the City by its obtaining the right to build on the few inches of land.

"If it is not the intention of the Board to acquire said easement, I would suggest the adoption of the following resolution with all convenient speed:

"Resolved, That title to the premises known as No. 937 First avenue be acquired subject to the easement of the owner of the property adjoining on the north, known as No. 939 First avenue, in and to said party or division wall so long as said wall shall stand.

"Respectfully,

"G. L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel,"

—reported that it had given the matter careful consideration and submits for adoption the following resolution:

Resolved, That title to the premises known as No. 937 First avenue be acquired, subject to the easement of the owner of the property adjoining on the north, known as No. 939 First avenue, in and to said party or division wall, so long as said wall shall stand.

Decided in the affirmative by a unanimous vote.

In the Matter of the Charges Preferred Against Chief of Department Edward F. Croker, under date of September 23, 1902.

The first charge alleges a failure to safeguard the Park Avenue Hotel.

The statutes, the Building Code (a part of the statutes) and the Department Rules and Regulations clearly define the measures that shall be taken to safeguard such buildings, which measures include standpipes, hose, etc., in buildings over 100 feet or of nine stories (the Park Avenue Hotel was 124 feet in height), and also require semi-annual inspections. These measures were not taken, nor were the inspections made. In the two and a half years during which the defendant exercised the powers of Chief of Department before the fire no effort was made by him to enforce the necessary precautions. It was his duty to enforce them. Why was it not done? On October 2, 1899, he issued an order suspending all inspections except where he should specifically order. He never thereafter ordered an inspection of this building. Why not? The defense first alleges that it was fireproof. The statute makes no such exemptions. But was it fireproof? Certainly not. What does the defendant think? He testified under oath before the Coroner's jury in March that he did not consider it fireproof, and gave as his reasons the large amount of wood employed in its construction. He therefore knows its construction, and his present contradiction cannot be accepted.

The defense further alleged the orders of the ex-Commissioner, Scannell, but the effort to shift the responsibility was not sustained. The ex-Commissioner was not called as a witness by the defendant, and no excuse was given for the omission to do so. The preponderance of evidence showed that the meeting at which such order was alleged to have been given took place in the autumn of 1900, one year after the order of the defendant was issued. Further, that nothing approaching such an order was given at said meeting, but that the talk referred to a change of form in violation notices, requested by the Corporation Counsel, to enable him the better to prosecute his cases. Further, the defendant stated that he personally composed the order of 1899 himself. Lists of other inspections were placed in evidence, but they included no first-class hotels.

It is unnecessary to seek the motive for these exemptions. The fatal result in the case of the Park Avenue Hotel is known, and it cannot be doubted, from the evidence, that if well-known requirements had been complied with no such calamity would have occurred. The existence of a standpipe and lines of hose in the hotel would have saved many lives, and perhaps all of those that were lost. No sufficient or valid reason is given in this case for the violation of law, rule and regulation. The finding is guilty.

The second charge alleges incompetency at great fires. Three illustrations are given.

The Wicke fire at Thirty-first street and First Avenue: One feature of the charge centres around the abandonment of certain buildings on Thirty-second street between First avenue and East river, and their consequent destruction and spread of fire from them. The Deputy Chief and the Battalion Chief fighting the fire in those buildings say they could have held the ground. The defendant, their superior officer, decided that they could not and ordered them out. It was a proper exercise of his discretion. The lives of many firemen were at stake, and their lives were worth more than the buildings. If he erred he erred on the right side.

The second illustration is the Tenth street fire: A great building had been destroyed. One wall remained standing unsupported. Its top had fallen. It had been exposed for hours to a fierce fire and the shock of a falling roof, which carried down all lateral supports. It had been drenched with water to save it. Behind, thirty feet distant, stood a Standard Oil warehouse filled with benzine and other inflammable and explosive oils. The defendant knew this, and had vainly sought to remove the contents. He thought the wall safe and sent home part of his forces. The wall fell, crushed the oil building, released the contents and a burning brand produced acres of blazing oil. Then he recalled his men to control the spread of the fire thus caused. It is conceded that his men if present could not have prevented the fall of the wall; but threatened with such a possibility, no commander should have reduced his fighting force. It was a serious error of judgment, but not such a one as alone would sustain the charge.

The third illustration presents different conditions: An enormous conflagration was in progress in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. For an hour a continuous storm of burning wood was blown by a wind of forty-five miles an hour against the Park Avenue Hotel, 200 feet distant. This hotel held six hundred persons. Its framework was stone, brick and iron, but its windows had exposed pinewood frames and mouldings and within had wooden shutters. Inside the windows were also lace curtains and throughout the building wooden finishings to all rooms, wooden doors, wood and plaster partitions, wooden floors except on the entrance floor, and an elevator shaft partly lined with wood and soaked with oil. The upper part of the staircase was of wood; on the roof was a mansard structure and a bulkhead, both lined with wood. The defendant states that the only precaution he took was to order a fireman to see if the windows were closed. He did not put an engine company or a hook and ladder company into the hotel. He did not put either one on the roof. He did not put any firemen in the hotel to guard against a possible fire. He did not warn the guests and occupants of possible danger. He did not cause them to be awakened. Each of these acts is strictly enjoined by the rules of the Department. The defence placed great stress upon the supposition that the fire in the hotel originated from causes within it and independent of the Armory fire. This was not the case. The great burden of testimony shows that there were indeed several separate fires, but that all came from the Armory. One passed down the elevator shaft from the openings above the roof in flues and in wall of shaft and found ready fuel in the wooden lining at the foot. Others came directly through the windows of the bedrooms. Many windows were opened by guests, some to gaze out, some in order to effect escape. Other windows were broken by the blows of the burning wood driven by the wind and fires kindled in such rooms by said burning wood fragments. Others burnt from the accumulation of burning brands in the window recesses outside the glass. All of these were contingencies which were not only possible but probable. No one will question the defendant's personal bravery. But this quality is not in issue. The quality vitally necessary in his position is the ability to foresee, to guard, to anticipate, to meet emergencies—in a word, to control the situation.

The defendant had under his orders on the spot at this time some 250 men, among them many experienced Chiefs and Captains, but he did their work and not his own. When the fire had gained possession of the upper part of the building he fought his way gallantly with his men to the top floor, but he passed by the lifeless bodies of a score of persons who had been living a half hour before and would have still been living if he had possessed the qualities of generalship and a true conception of the work of a commanding officer. Nothing approaching an adequate justification for failure to take precautionary measures is presented. The conclusion is unavoidable that he entirely failed to comprehend the situation, and the result was in the highest degree disastrous. Guilty.

The third charge is that of the sending of false reports to the Commissioner in connection with the Wicke fire, the allegations being that the defendant falsely reported the scarcity of water: The evidence does not sustain this charge, though it is true that the report makes a statement more sweeping than the facts justify. There was undoubtedly a marked scarcity of water within the radius named by him, compared with the extent of the fire, and in his anxiety to preserve the reputation of his men the exaggerated statement should not be regarded as a falsification. Not guilty.

Next in order is the charge (4) relating to the asking, receiving or using of free transportation or passes for himself or friends upon or over various railroads and steamship lines: The official letter books of the Bureau Chief of Department were in evidence, in which, among many others upon Department business, all signed Edward F. Croker, Chief of Department, appeared numerous letters addressed to one or other of the transportation companies above cited. These letters either asked for passes or acknowledged receipt of "transportation" (passes), courtesies or favors, or of what had been previously asked for. They were indexed in regular order, the subject being stated to be "transportation." The evidence given by such representatives of the companies as appeared was scanty. Inability to remember, the alleged inaccessibility or destruction of their records, were the causes assigned. One official thought he had been applied to by the defendant and had sent to the Department a list of the names for which passes had been asked, but would not identify the list. Another had granted the defendant what another company had granted, but would not swear positively what it was. He stated his belief that it was free transportation. The defendant was asked many questions, first, to establish the fact that the letter-book copies were genuine copies of letters dictated and signed by him, and second, the direct questions (in the case of each company) in substance, did he ask for, receive, accept or use free transportation by such a line, or did he travel or did his friends travel by such a line at or about the time of the correspondence shown by the letter books. To all questions thus asked in connection with this charge the defendant replied, "I refuse to answer by advice of counsel." He was then asked if he refused because it would incriminate or degrade him, to which the same answer was given. The validity of the correspondence was not denied or impeached by the witness best able to do it, and most vitally affected. The circumstantial evidence is so convincing that it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the defendant is guilty as charged. But, inasmuch as the defendant positively refused to either affirm or deny, and even refused to answer the question as to his reason for so refusing under the constitutional provision (the Commissioner being without the power possessed by a Court of enforcing an answer), the Commissioner is unable to make a finding on this charge.

The fifth charge deals with the conversion of public property to private use, and divides itself under two headings: The use of such property by the defendant, and the transfer of such property by him to other persons for their use. Under the first it is shown that the defendant caused to be made for his use an excessive amount of harness, some of it suited for fast or pleasure driving, and unusual and unsuited to Department use; that such harness was decorated with his initials or private monograms. On the other hand, it is asserted without contradiction that public duty was occasionally performed by him when using such harness. The opinion of the Commissioner is that the evidence shows an extravagant use of public property, viz.: The labor and material paid for by the City, but not a conversion to private use in the meaning of the charge.

Under the other heading it is shown that the defendant caused to be delivered to private persons or firms or companies certain amounts of Department fire hose, with its couplings, which hose was not to be returned, but was permanently alienated. Two defences were presented: First, that the deliveries were made by order of the ex-Commissioner; second, that it was a proper disposition of such Department property, because the persons, places or property of the public frequenting said places needed the protection. No evidence other than the defendant's statement was shown as to the alleged order of the ex-Commissioner, while the correspondence of the defendant with the recipients of the hose indicates that the actions were taken on his own authority. This point has hitherto been recently ruled on by the Commissioner, and it was held that the order of a superior does not justify the committing by a subordinate of an act which he knows to be illegal. Confirmatory evidence of his responsibility is given by the defendant's testimony as to the propriety of such gifts, in which he defines his views of public versus private use. He stated in substance that he should consider it a proper public use to place hose in a building like the Fifth Avenue Hotel, or the Cathedral on Fifth avenue, or in John Wanamaker's store. This view is, of course, untenable, as the statute provides specifically that owners of such buildings shall provide their own apparatus, and the defendant, through his bureau, is daily aiding in the enforcement of the law. The construction of his powers held by him would permit unlimited discrimination and favoritism, he determining who should furnish their own apparatus and who should be supplied at the expense of the City, and this, in fact, is what has been done. It was further testified that the hose was below the Department standard in quality and had been condemned. This is met by the mandatory provision of the statute, which provides that all such material shall be sold at public auction for the benefit of the Firemen's Relief Fund. The charge is sustained.

The allegations of persecution and unjust discrimination are considered under charge six. The defence against this charge consists chiefly of denials made by the defendant, but corroboration of these was lacking, while the testimony of the witness for the charge from all ranks in the Department was well sustained and remained unshaken. In the case of the Chiefs, Gooderson and Burns, warned not to try for promotion, intimidation was clearly shown, all other motive being lacking. In the case of Chief Terpeny, constantly transferred from one battalion to another for five months, while his juniors were permanently stationed; in those of the officers and men whose names were repeatedly passed over, though at or near the head of their respective eligible lists, while men lower down and with less distinguished records were promoted, appears a retribution for failure to propitiate the recommending power by joining the organization and personal following which he was trying to create in the Department.

In the case of the Civil War veteran, Lindsay Williamson, is apparent a determination to prevent his well-earned promotion so tenacious and so reckless of consequences as to lead the defendant not only to ignore the laws of the State of the Civil Service, which make it mandatory that a preference shall be given to veterans, but further to take such steps to enforce the veteran's retirement as called for the condemnation of the Supreme Court. This veteran stood at the head of the list on July 24, 1900. Thirty-eight men below him were promoted on July 27. On July 31 he was sent before the Medical Board and examined and retired from service in one day, one of the orders signed in blank by the then Commissioner (who had been absent for a considerable period) being used by the defendant for that purpose.

In dealing with this matter the weight of the position and the enormous power of the defendant as Chief of Department must be briefly considered, and his duties to the members of the uniformed force arising therefrom. It is not too much to say that their daily lives and those of their families, their comfort or misery, their promotions or their failure to rise—in a word, their present and their future, are in his hands. By him they are assigned to duty, severe and dangerous, or easy and safe; by him they are placed in service near their homes, or miles away; by him kept in one company, or transferred constantly from place to place; by him recommended for promotion, or passed over and stricken from the eligible lists. On his recommendation they are sent before the Medical Board for retirement, or kept on full pay long after they have ceased to be efficient. To gain his favor means success; to incur his enmity means misfortune. Under the charge cited a number of illustrations are specified showing various forms of alleged ill-treatment. These are of so far-reaching a character as to strike broadly at the enthusiasm, energy and efficiency of the force. From men who know that merit will surely be rewarded and that nothing else is necessary to advancement may be gained the maximum of service and devotion. Let them know that they must seek the favor of an individual by becoming a personal adherent and a member of his party in the Department, and their thoughts and efforts are turned into an unworthy channel.

It may be properly urged that a discretionary power is vested in the Chief of Department to recommend such selections from the eligible lists as will best raise and strengthen the personnel of the Department, but it is manifest that the use of this great power can only be justified by an honest and single-minded devotion to this worthy end. If but one or two, or even several such exceptions were made, a proper purpose could be assumed; but where a large number, involving all grades of rank, have been thus discriminated against, where all had good records and some highly meritorious ones, where personal threats were used in some cases to induce compliance with demands outside of the duty of a fireman, it is impossible to resist the conclusion that the power of the defendant was being used for personal ends and not for the good of the service. Such conclusions sustain the charge, of which the defendant is hereby found guilty.

The seventh charge concerns the personal relations between the defendant and the present Commissioner. To all the preceding charges the Commissioner has merely an official relation. In causing them to be brought to a hearing he has performed simply the duty enjoined by his oath of office to preserve the discipline and well-being of the uniformed force and to take cognizance of the acts of any member of the force detrimental thereto. In this connection the rank of any accused person is immaterial, except in so far as that the higher rank imposes the higher obligations of preserving the discipline of the Department and strict observance of its rules and regulations. The standing of a fourth grade Fireman is as precious to him, and should be to the Commissioner, as that of a Chief of the higher grades. On account of the nature of the present charge the Commissioner approaches it with regret. The relations between the Commissioner and the Chief of Department should be those of mutual trust, respect and reliance. Where these fail the proper management of the Department is impossible.

The first allegation is that of a false and disrespectful statement made by the defendant to the representative of a daily newspaper and published in full by it. The managing editor refused to give the name of the informant or that of the representative, and upon this specification no finding is made.

The second allegation is that of insubordination: The conclusion given below is derived solely from the testimony of the defendant, as the Commissioner did not become a witness. It appears that on July 25 the defendant received, at his own request, a leave of absence for two months—from August 2 to October 1—and that the necessary orders detailing his successor and other officials to new duties were directed by the Commissioner. That the defendant returned on or about August 15 and talked with the Commissioner. That the latter told him that he did not wish him to return from his vacation, to which the defendant assented and again left town. That on August 18 he again returned and during the absence of the Commissioner, by reason of illness, assumed command of the Department, sending a letter to the Commissioner's office after taking this action, informing the Commissioner that he had done so. That on August 19 in another interview the Commissioner told the defendant that he objected to this action and the rescinding of the Commissioner's order, and he then ordered the defendant to restore the previous conditions, which the defendant refused to do.

The defence presented was the provision of Rule 321, to wit:

"Any officer or member who may, before the expiration of a leave of absence, return to quarters and report himself for duty to the commanding officer shall be deemed to have abandoned the unexpired portion of such leave of absence and be regarded as present for duty."

The defence also relies on the ground, apparently sustained by a Justice of the Supreme Court, that the defendant was within his legal right in abandoning the unexpired portion of his leave of absence and returning to duty.

These defences do not touch the real question at issue. An act may be, strictly speaking, legal and yet insubordinate. In the present instance the fact was that the Chief's action in resuming command of the uniformed force was in direct opposition to the clearly expressed wishes and directions of the Commissioner. The Chief of Department knew therefore that his act was contrary to orders, and yet he persisted in it. Such conduct is plainly and unmistakably insubordinate.

Nor can the construction which the defence gives to Rule 321 be accepted. It is contended that an officer returning unexpectedly from a leave assigns himself to duty as was done by the defendant. The true construction is found in the literal language of the rule, "Shall * * * be regarded as present for duty." In other words, he reports to his superior that he is ready for duty in order that he may be assigned, whether to his former command or another is discretionary with his chief. A simple illustration will suffice: Let it be supposed that during a Captain's absence promotions have been made, another Captain has been assigned to his former company and arrangements made to transfer the absent one to a new company or to detail him as Acting Chief of Battalion or otherwise upon his return. It is to be assumed that on returning abruptly he can take charge of his former company forcibly, displace its commander and refuse to accept his new assignment or detail? Manifestly not. Still stronger would be the case of a Battalion Chief. But further amplification is needless. The position of the defence in this regard is untenable.

The precedent of custom is finally sought for support of this action, and where no objection existed on the part of the Commissioner some force is conceded to the argument. But no precedent was cited and none is known where such action was taken in opposition to the expressed directions and orders of that official. The finding is guilty.

THOMAS STURGIS, Fire Commissioner.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A hearing will be given by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York on Friday, January 30, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, in the old Council Chamber (Room 16), City Hall, Borough of Manhattan, in the matter of the proposed change of the grade crossings of the New York Central Railroad, in the neighborhood of Kingsbridge, along the Port Morris Branch, in the neighborhood of St. Mary's Park, and along the Fordham line.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York, deeming it for the public interest so to do, proposes to alter the map or plan of The City of New York, by changing the lines of East One Hundred and Sixty-second street, from River avenue to the intersection of Walton avenue and Grand Boulevard and Concourse approach, in the Borough of The Bronx, City of New York, on the 6th day of February, 1903, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., at which such proposed change of lines will be considered by said Board, all of which is more particularly set forth and described in the following resolutions adopted by the Board on the 16th day of January, 1903, notice of the adoption of which is hereby given, viz:

Resolved, That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York, in pursuance of the provisions of section 442 of the Greater New York Charter, deeming it for the public interest so to do, proposes to alter the map or plan of The City of New York, by changing the lines of East One Hundred and Sixty-second street, from River avenue to the intersection of Walton avenue and Grand Boulevard and Concourse approach, in the Borough of The Bronx, City of New York, more particularly described as follows:

East One Hundred and Sixty-second street, from River avenue to the intersection of Walton avenue and Grand Boulevard and Concourse approach, is to be laid out at a width of 70 feet.

From River avenue to Gerard avenue, the northern line of East One Hundred and Sixty-second street, as filed and legally opened, is to be retained for the northern line of the new 70-foot street. Said northern line will connect with the western line of Gerard avenue by a curve of 40 feet radius.

Between Gerard avenue and Walton avenue the northern line of East One Hundred and Sixty-second street will intersect the eastern line of Gerard avenue at a point directly opposite where the curve of the 40-foot radius, described in the course of the northern line between River avenue and Gerard avenue, intersects the western line of Gerard avenue; said point is about 320 feet northerly of the Concourse approach.

East One Hundred and Sixty-second street to run from Gerard avenue to Walton avenue at right angles with Gerard avenue, and thence to run adjoining Walton avenue southerly until it meets the junction of Walton avenue with the Grand Boulevard and Concourse.

It is proposed to discontinue those portions of East One Hundred and Sixty-second street, between River avenue and the Grand Boulevard and Concourse approach, which are not covered by the new 70-foot street.

It is also proposed to discontinue the 20-foot drainage street which runs from East One Hundred and Sixty-second street and River avenue to Walton avenue.

Resolved, That the President of the Borough of The Bronx cause to be prepared for submission to this Board three similar maps or plans for certification and filing in the manner required by law, showing as nearly as possible the nature and extent of the proposed change of lines and the location of the immediate adjacent or of intersecting open or established streets, roads, squares, or places, sufficient for the identification and location thereof.

Resolved, That this Board consider the proposed change of lines at a meeting of this Board, to be held in the Old Council Chamber (Room 16), City Hall, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 6th day of February, 1903, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Board cause these resolutions and a notice to all persons affected thereby that the proposed change of lines will be considered at a meeting of the Board, to be held at the aforesaid time and place, to be published in the "City Record" for ten days continuously, Sundays and legal holidays excepted,

All the buildings and their foundations of every class and description within the hereinbefore described area are to be torn down to the level of the existing curb and removed from the premises. All tin from roofs, and galvanized or black iron from roofs, cornices, sides of buildings or partitions, brick laid in lime mortar or in mortar which may be readily broken from the bricks, floor beams, joists, studding, flooring, ceiling, roofing boards and woodwork of every description, and all gas, water, steam and soil piping shall be removed from the premises. Also all combustible matter, such as tar and felt roofing, broken lath and fragments of timber, chips, splinters, etc., shall be gathered together by the purchaser and removed from the premises. The final non-combustible rubbish, such as lime mortar, brickwork in cement mortar or in mortar which cannot be readily broken from the brick, plaster, roofing gravel, etc., may be left on the premises within the building lines, but otherwise all planking, rubbish or other material within the heretofore described area, whether particularly described or not, must be removed from the premises. The removal of all buildings, parts of buildings, sheds, planking and all other material must be made by the purchaser, who must commence the said removal within three days from the date of the receipt of a notification from the Engineer-in-Chief that the work is ready to be begun, and continue the same diligently until completed.

The structures must be torn down to the level of the first story within fifteen days from the date of the receipt of the above notice, and all of the materials comprised in the buildings as hereinbefore provided must be entirely removed from said premises within thirty days from the date of the receipt of the notice above mentioned; and if the purchaser or purchasers fail to commence the said removal as specified, and to diligently prosecute the same, as above set forth, then the Commissioner of Docks may, at his option, complete the said removal and charge the expense of the same to the said purchaser, who shall sign the present terms of sale and agree to be bound thereby.

The building known as McClave's Office Building, on the south side of West Twenty-second street, the easterly side of which is about 75 feet west of the west side of Eleventh avenue, and having a frontage of about 42 feet on West Twenty-second street, and a depth of about 25 feet, is expressly reserved from this sale. All adjoining lots and buildings are to be removed, so as not to impair the stability of the foundations or walls of the above-described building or injure it in any way, leaving this building intact, with all the rubbish and debris cleared away from the vicinity.

The building over the passageway to the west of this building is to be removed so as to leave the walls in substantially a vertical line along the westerly side of same, and in such a condition that the Department of Docks and Ferries may place on the westerly side of this building such partitions as it may require without any unnecessary work.

All machinery and other personal property is to be removed from the buildings on or before January 26, 1903, and in case of failure so to do such machinery and personal property will be removed by this Department and stored at the expense and risk of the owner. No machinery or personal property of any description contained in said buildings will be sold.

And for the further securing of the removal of the said buildings, etc., hereinbefore mentioned, the purchaser will be required at the time of sale and the award of said property to him to execute a bond in such form and with such sureties as may be approved by the Commissioner of Docks of The City of New York, and in a penalty of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, that he will in all things carry out the terms of sale and comply with the conditions thereof, and remove all of said property within the time required by the said terms of sale.

The form of bond to be executed by the purchaser may be seen at the office of the said Department, at Pier "A," Battery Place, New York.

The contracts must be bid for separately.

The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
