Now Open for 2024

HEAP Cooling Assistance

helps eligible New Yorkers buy a fan or air conditioner for their home. Act fast to prepare for the hot summer! Benefits are available on a first-come first-served basis.

Learn more about HEAP

and if you qualify:

otda.ny.gov/programs/heap

Did you know that eligible households can get help to buy and install an air conditioner or fan? The Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP) provides a limited number of units on a first-come, first-served basis. The 2023-2024 Cooling Assistance Component benefit application period opened on April 15, 2024.

In circumstances where an air conditioner cannot be safely installed, a fan will be provided. Only one air conditioner or fan, not to exceed $800 with installation for a window, portable air conditioner, or fan and not to exceed $1,000 for an existing wall sleeve unit, will be provided per applicant household. No additional HEAP cash benefits are available.

You can apply online, by mail, or in person. If you submit an application, you will receive the HEAP Cooling Assistance Notice of Eligibility Decision after your application is reviewed. For more information about eligibility and submitting your application, click here.

General Info and Upcoming Events

Active Shooter Guidance

Wednesday, May 29, 2024 | 2pm - 3:30pm ET

Please join the Region 2 National Preparedness Division in partnership with the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) for a condensed webinar on steps you and your employees can take during an active shooter event.

Preparing employees for a potential active shooter incident is an integral component of an organization's incident response planning. Because active shooter incidents are unpredictable and evolve quickly, preparing for and knowing what to do in an active shooter situation can be the difference between life and death.

REQUESTING FEEDBACK: FEMA National Resilience Guidance

FEMA is seeking feedback on the draft National Resilience Guidance from whole community stakeholders. National resilience is a complex topic and building it requires whole community effort. This Guidance will help everyone understand and fulfil their critical roles related to increasing national resilience.

With the goal of increasing community and national resilience, the Guidance:

- Promotes a common understanding of resilience.
- Emphasizes the critical relationship between chronic community stressors and shocks.
- Addresses the roles of all stakeholders.
- Provides an actionable approach to resilience planning and implementation.
- Incorporates a community resilience maturity model that walks through concrete steps to build resilience

FEMA will host a series of four 60-minute webinar sessions in May to provide an overview of the National Resilience Guidance and gather feedback from whole community partners. This national engagement period provides the opportunity for the public to review the draft guidance and provide comment for FEMA's consideration prior to finalizing the guide. The engagement period will conclude on May 23, 2024. For more information, click here.

REQUESTING FEEDBACK: FEMA Engaging Faith-Based and Community Organizations

FEMA and the DHS Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships are seeking feedback on the draft, "Engaging Faith-Based and Community Organizations: Planning Considerations for Emergency Managers." This document, originally released in 2018, outlines best practices for engaging faith-based and community organizations before, during, and after disasters to help jurisdictions improve their resilience and emergency management capabilities. Once engaged, these organizations become significant force multipliers, particularly in reaching high-risk and historically underserved community members. Lessons learned from real-world events and updates to FEMA programs since 2018 have resulted in additional considerations and resources for faith-based and community organizations.

FEMA is hosting several 60-minute webinar sessions to provide an overview of the draft and facilitate discussion with participants to gather feedback on additional ways to improve the guide. FEMA seeks input, especially real-world experiences, that can be incorporated into the guide. Advance registration is required.

A line-numbered version of the draft guide is provided to help identify specific areas or topics for potential update. The feedback form can be used to capture any recommendations. To provide input, download the line-numbered version of the document “Engaging Faith-Based and Community Organizations: Planning Considerations for Emergency Managers” and feedback form, then submit the completed feedback form to NPD-Planning@fema.dhs.gov. This open comment period will conclude at close of business on June 21, 2024. For more information, click here.

BUREAU: Risk Reduction and Recovery

Risk Analysis Specialist, $57,500-$65,000 – Job ID# 635187

The Risk Reduction and Recovery Division focuses on bridging long-term strategies to reduce NYC's risk with actionable operations and programs. This includes coordinating and guiding partnerships to develop strategies that analyze, plan, and address hazard risk and vulnerabilities. The unit is responsible for recovery planning, the City's Hazard Mitigation Plan, risk reduction tools, the Interim Flood Protection Measures Program (IFPM), and maximizing the City's receipt of hazard mitigation funding. The Risk Reduction and Recovery Division is seeking a candidate responsible for supporting and coordinating risk analysis efforts. Their goal is to reduce risk of all hazards and increase resiliency of NYC communities, infrastructure, and facilities.

BUREAU: Office of the Chief Operating Officer

Systems Engineer, $85,000-$104,000- Job ID# 619710

NYCEM's Information Technology unit is seeking an experienced Systems Engineer with a demonstrated track record in successfully migrating workloads from on-premises to Microsoft 365. The ideal candidate will possess in-depth experience in advanced configuration of Microsoft 365 applications and a proven ability to effectively manage security for a modern distributed workforce. We are looking for an IT professional with expertise in Microsoft 365 hybrid environments. The Information Technology unit provides all technology support for staff, including hardware, software, and licensing. The unit also maintains the technology and computer systems for the agency and all its resources.

BUREAU: Office of Strategic Operations

Strategic Initiatives Program Manager, $65,000-$74,000 – Job ID# 628245

The Strategy & Innovation (S&I) Unit is responsible for conducting strategic planning to improve the City's emergency management capability, leading strategic initiatives to further agency priorities, and for managing the agency's Innovation portfolio. The Strategic Initiatives Program Manager will oversee – from start to finish – the implementation of internal and interagency strategic initiatives to improve the City's response posture and operations. The ideal candidate will have previous project management and/or emergency management experience, facilitation and interpersonal communication skills, stakeholder engagement experience, and the ability to work in a fast-paced environment.
