SIR-It becomes my duty to present the fol-

in accordance with its requisition upon the tion of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

In the matter of the maintenance of the Boulevards, roads and avenues, the appropriation for the year 1873 is $40,000, of which to the 10th inst., $34,896.97 had been expended, leaving little over $5,000 for the balance of the year, while the said balance will be expended by the 10th proximo. The force employed is not now ade- 1873: quate to the proper discharge of the duty required.

The amount appropriated for this work for six and one-half months in 1872 was $35,000, which sum was set apart to maintain 251,039 square yards, and its continually increasing amount.

While the sum of $40,000 was set apart for the entire year 1873, when the surface to be maintained covers 568,078 square yards, or 126 3-10 per cent. increase.

Upon examination and estimate, I am convinced the additional sum of $25,000 will be required to properly discharge this duty until the ist of January, 1874.

If the Board of Estimate and Apportionment should, in their judgment, set apart this additional amount to the credit of the account from the "extra contingencies," the utmost economy will be exercised in the expenditures for the interest of the city.

Very respectfully, GEO. M. VAN NORT, Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon motion, the above communication was referred to the Comptroller for investigation.

The communication from the Commissioners of Accounts was then taken up, and after some discussion, was made the special order of business for the next meeting.

The Comptroller presented demand of J. Wm. McGowan, for services as acting messenger of to time, as may be required, and at such rates of the Board of Supervisors of the County of New York, during the months of October, November and December, 1871, amounting to the sum of Which was laid on the table.

The Supervisor of THE CITY RECORD appeared before the Board, and made application for an additional appropriation to the amount of $1,000, to meet the contingent expenses of the Supervisor of THE CITY RECORD.

Which was laid over for future consideration. On motion of the Comptroller, the Board then adjourned, to meet at the call of the chairman. JOHN WHEELER,

JOSHUA PHILLIPS,

REPORT

OF THE OPERATIONS

OF THE

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION,

FROM THE

19th Day of May to the 31st Day of July, 1873.

[CONCLUDED.]

The officials employed by the Commissioners to carry out their designs, to conduct and administer the affairs of the institution have cared more to mislead the Commissioners and the publisher of the commissioners and the commissioners are considered to the co lic by a magnified exhibit of the business transacted, than to have an eye to efficient management, by which the institution could have been brought to a standard of real usefulness. Thus, the official report rendered in 1870 magnified the number of places secured for female applicants by 7,079 over and above the actual number; an excess in the figures of males, 1,208; in 1871, excess of figures, females, 15,526; males, 1,491; 1872, females, 12,065; males, 3,685; 1873, only six months, females, 3,330; males, 992. This deception, as officially stated by the Chief Clerk, has been practised up to the first of this month, and whatever the motive for it may have been, was perpetrated by the clerks in the emlic by a magnified exhibit of the business transbeen, was perpetrated by the clerks in the em-ploy of the Bureau, some of whom held their positions since it was first established.

Instead, therefore, of the Bureau becoming the Central Office where employers would resort to obtain the required help, private offices are first applied to and the Bureau is only brought into requisition as the last resource; the Institution which should enjoy most the confidence of the which should enjoy most the confidence of the public is leo ed upon with suspicion, and we must not be astonished therefore if the better classes of servants rather prefer other agencies, classes of servants rather prefer other agencies, though connected with some expense.

As long as we permit worthless characters to fill our rooms and occupy the places of honest servants: as long as persons addicted to drink and dismissed for that cause by their employers, are allowed to enjoy again and again the privileges of the Institution; as long as we continue the laxity of control over those whom we labor to benefit and improve their condition, we cannot hope to effect a material improvement, we must introduce strict rules of discipline that must be impartially but rigorously executed; we must endeavor to be just to the employer, as well as the employee, we must establish the confidence of the public in the Institution, if we mean to make the Bureau what it should be.

public in the Institution, if we mean to make the Bureau what it should be.

Every one seeking its benefits must be made to conform to the rules of the establishment, and these must be laid down so as to be clear and intelligent to every one, our rooms will then soon be purged of those that make them the resort of be purged of those that make them the resort of idleness and shiftlessness; we will have more ap-plications for help, because the employer feels secure in engaging the services of one who enjoys the protection of the Labor Bureau, at once an the protection of the evidence of good character, faithfulness and steadiness, and we will be sure that the money expended confers a benefit upon those meriting expended confers a benefit upon those meriting our sympathy and protection.

I would propose, therefore, the following resolution, in the hope of succeding; inducing thereby a radical cure of the evils existing, which in my opinion are so injurious, that should we fail in our efforts of reform, after a fair and faithful trial and experiment for at least three months, we had better close the entire establishment as a useless waste of public funds of rather pernicious than beneficial effect.

Resolved. That the following rules and regu-

Resolved, That the following rules and regu-lations be and are hereby established for the Free Labor and Intelligence Bureau, and the Chief Clerk be charged with the strict enforcement thereof.

1. Applicants for employment must state their name, age, place of birth, and present residence to the Registry Clerk, designating the nature of employment they are in search of, produce written references from previous employers, or, if seeking employment for the first time, give reference to some reliable person, as to character. These statements shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose.

for that purpose.

2. All applicants are assigned to a room in which they must remain during business hours; they must keep themselves clean and neat in person, observe decorous behavior, not indulge in loud conversation, or be guilty of impertinence.

3. Every engagement entered into shall be for no less a term than one month except by special agreements. And if servants leave the service their employer, without sufficient grounds, in less time than one month, they shall not be entitled to any compensation for the time served; if with the consent of the employer, they shall be remunerated, pro rata. They shall not be entitled to compensation if discharged from service for the reason of intoxication, or impudent behavior, indulgence in the use of protane and vulgar language, or refusing to perform services required of them, if not otherwise employed, though the labor required does not come strictly within the line for which they are engaged.

4. Every applicant shall be provided with a book, on the opening pages of which shall be printed the rules and regulations of the Free Later and Intelligence Bureau, and in said book shall be entered the name, nativity, and present residence of the applicant for labor, the name and residence of the persons in whose employ have remained in employment. Every engagement effected through the Bureau shall be entered on this book, and such engagement can not be cancelled except by permission of the chief clerk. This book must be delivered to the employer as soon as the engagement is concluded, to be returned by him to the employee when discharged from service. The employer shall state frankly and truthfully in the book the reasons for discharge, whether by his or her own request, or for incompetence, or suspicion of dishonesty, or bad temper, intoxication, or any other cause that induced the dissolution of the contract. Every employer should state briefly the character and disposition of the employee, and make such other remarks as circumstances merit and require.

5. In applying for employment this book must be handed to the clerk, and no employee shall be admitted to the privileges of the Bureau who is without the book, and cannot satisfactorily account for its count for it.

6. The violation of any of the rules of the department involves the forfeiture of the privileges which it confers.

7. All complaints of employers and employees will be received at the desk of the Complaint Clerk, and will be investigated by the Chief Clerk.
