MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, May 2, 1873. To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of New York:

I avail myself of the opportunity offered me by your meeting of to-day to announce to you the death of Hon. James Brooks, tor many years representative in the Congress of the United States of the Sixth Congressional Dis.

United States of the Sixth Congressional Dis-trict of this City. Mr. Brooks has for a long period been con-nected with one of the prominent daily journals of this city, and in addition to his public ser-vices as representative in Congress, has, in his professional relations, been so intimately ac-quainted with and so deeply interested in the great questions which have agitated the public mind for the past few years, as to invest his career with an interest which in my judgment calls for some respectful recognition from your Honorable Body.

I therefore communicate to you the event of his death for such commemorative notice as it deserves at your hands, and which I have no doubt it will receive. W. F. HAVEMEYER.

MAYOR'S OFFICE. NEW YORK, May 8, 1873. To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of New York :

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of New York: It becomes my painful duty to announce to you the death, in this city, yesterday morning, of Hon. Salmon P. Chase, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. This melancholy event is one of great public in-portance, and though sudden, yet it could not not have been altogether unexpected. Chief Justice Chase stood, for a long series of years, among the foremost of the public men-of this country. His services in the Coun-cils of the nation, his pre-eminent ability, dis-played in the successful administration of the finances of the country as a member of President Lincoln's Cabinet during the war of the Rebel-lion, and his high character as the head of the highest Judicial tribunal of the land, have ren-dered his memory dear to the whole people. Like many of his colledgues in the Cabinet of our late President, he has now yielded his life to disease brought on by unremitted and herculean labots in the cause of his country. He died among us, and it is fitting that distinguished re-cognition of the valued and widely appreciated services of this eminent statesman should be ex-tended by the municipal authorities to his me-mory.
