McDonald, and that the contractor had named Morgan J. O'Brien as arbitrator on the part of the contractor.

[For determination of Chief Engineer, see Proceedings of 1908, p. 1310; and for action of this Commission, p. 1316.]

(8) HEARING ORDER (No. 626).

On motion by Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, a Hearing Order (No. 626) was adopted, directing a hearing on July 28, 1908, at 3 o'clock P. M., to inquire whether the Interborough Rapid Transit Company should be directed to enlarge the station platforms, both north bound and south bound, at the Christopher Street Station on its Ninth Avenue Elevated Road, and provide additional stairway facilities at said station. The Chairman designated Commissioner Eustis to conduct the hearing.

(9) REHEARING ORDER (No. 628).

On motion by Commissioner McCarroll, duly seconded, a Rehearing Order (No. 628) was adopted, directing a rehearing on July 16, 1908, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., in the matter of service on the Metropolitan Avenue line of the Brooklyn, Queens County & Suburban Railway Company, upon which Final Order No. 605 was issued June 26, 1908. The Chairman designated Commissioner McCarroll to conduct the hearing.

INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT CO.—SIDE-DOORS IN SUBWAY CARS—FINAL ORDER (No. 629.)

Commissioner Eustis presented the following report in the matter of the hearing on motion of the Commission on the question of improvements in the equipment of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. in respect to changes of cars now in use:

This question was brought on for a public hearing after the Commission had had the question thoroughly investigated by Bion J. Arnold, an expert transit engineer. Mr. Arnold after thoroughly investigating the workings of the present subway presented a report to the Commission in which he recommended a change in the type of cars, and on receiving that report public hearings were given and the Interborough Company was allowed to present its evidence in opposition to the recommendation of Mr. Arnold's report.

The report of Mr. Arnold and his evidence given upon the hearings had in this matter conclusively show that the use of cars in the subway with side doors would largely reduce the time consumed in station stops, and thereby increase the efficiency of the subway.

The type of car recommended by Mr. Arnold was that of two additional side doors in each car, located near the end of the car, and so constructed that they would slide into a recess where the present doors are now slid when the door is opened, and could be operated by the same guard. This would necessitate removing two seats for each door, or eight seats in each car, and to this extent it would reduce the seating capacity of the cars, but the time saved in the actual movement of the trains would be sufficient to pass by any given point as large or a larger number of seats from the fact that the schedule movement of the trains could be very much accelerated. If there was no other limiting feature in the operation of the subway this result would certainly be obtained.

The Interborough people contested very strenuously the recommendations of Mr. Arnold, and placed upon the stand Mr. Frank Hedley, their Manager, a man of large experience in railway operations, as their expert, and his evidence was that the benefits of the side door as recommended by Mr. Arnold would not be beneficial for various reasons. One was that in order to make them effective you would have to create a circulation inside of the car, that the people would have to be educated to come in one door and out of the other, and that owing to the congested condition of the platforms at some of the stations it would be impossible for people wanting to get in the entrance door to get through the crowd because the people would not move out of their way, and this theory was advanced by the Counsel for the company very strenuously, going so far as to state that the congestion that now often exists on the platforms would be transferred from the platforms into the inside of the car and it would make great confusion. I am thoroughly satisfied that there is nothing in this objection raised by the company to the use of the side doors. I believe in the intelligence of the people traveling upon the subway and that they would willingly adapt themselves to a change which gave them one door for exit and one for entrance in place of having to submit to an exit and entrance through the same door and at the same time.

Another of the strenuous objections that was made by the company, and upon which point they put much stress, was the recommendation by Mr. Arnold for curved railings on the platform to be used in connection with the side doors. This recommendation was made for the purpose of adding further to the benefits of the side door, but was not considered of any absolute necessity in connection with the side door, excepting to perhaps add somewhat to its availability. The evidence produced by the company on the hearing was to the effect that the trains could not be brought to a sufficiently definite stopping point to make those railings available; but as the railings were only an additional recommendation and not at all necessary to the operation of the side doors, and, to my mind, of very little benefit after the people have once become accustomed to the use of the side door, I do not consider this objection meritorious.

In a recent conference with the officers of the company they have also stated that this Commission had approved, through its predecessors, the Rapid Transit Commission, the present cars, and were therefore to a certain extent at least morally bound to permit them to use the present equipment until they were worn out, or practically so at least. I am frank to confess that there is some merit in this contention of the company, nevertheless the fact that the present equipment was approved by the Rapid Transit Commission four years ago when same was purchased and put in operation does not preclude this Commission from ordering improvements to same. The lease of the road provided that the company should at all times provide cars, rolling stock of the best character known at the time to the art of intra-urban railway operation, and it is not to be presumed that what was of the best character known at that time is of the best character known at another time some years subsequent thereto. And the lease further provides that in case the lessees neglect to so equip the railroad with cars and rolling stock of the best character known, the Board may upon notice require them to make good.

Another serious objection raised by the defendant is the loss of fifteen per cent. of the number of seats in each car, and in order to carry an equal number of seats they will be required to increase their car mileage by a very large number of miles. This can be overcome in so far as their required seating capacity is to be enforced by this Commission by allowing the cars that are first equipped with side doors to be rated with their original number of seats until there have been a sufficient number of cars changed so that the benefits derived from the shorter intervals at station stops can be fully realized. It is very evident that by changing a few of the trains and putting them in service on the express line no substantial benefits can be obtained, because those trains will not be able to go any faster than they are scheduled, and the schedule can only be adapted upon the speed of the slowest train in the circuit. The only direct benefit that will be received by the people will be the doing away with the unseemly rushing and crushing at some of the stations for a few passengers, which was described by the Counsel for the defendant upon one of the hearings as a disgraceful exhibition, and in another place stated that at 14th and 42nd Street stations modest women were subjected to violent indignities. And if it is not possible to eliminate all of this congestion, if it is done to a certain extent, with the knowledge that it will eventually all be eliminated, it will certainly be appreciated by the traveling public. It will also settle the question that has been disputed by the defendant in this matter as to whether side door cars will be more serviceable and help in a large measure to make the subway more resourceful when the 96th Street changes are completed.

The company claim that the subway is now operated to its full capacity during the so-called rush hours, that even had they side doors requiring shorter stops the condition of the tracks at 96th Street would make it impossible to realize any benefit until the improvements at that point are completed. Admitting this to be so, it would be losing valuable time to wait until the 96th Street changes are completed before the changing of the cars into side door cars is begun. I realize that the changing of these cars must be done without crippling to any degree their service, and therefore must necessarily be done in a few cars at a time, and will extend over a considerable period of time. I would therefore recommend that the company be required to put side doors near the ends of enough of their cars to make up at least two express trains, eight cars each, in order to give this type of car a fair and impartial trial. And after such trial, if the same proves satisfactory to the Commission, to require the rest of the cars used in the express service to be gradually converted into side door cars as they can be withdrawn from use without detriment to the service, so that when the 96th Street changes are completed the work of changing the equipment into side doors will be well advanced and not just beginning. And I submit the following order:

FINAL ORDER (No. 629).

Thereupon on motion of Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, a Final Order (No. 629) was adopted directing,

(1) That the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, by alteration and reconstruction of cars now in use on its subway, provide, for use in the subway, not less than 16 cars of the type described in Figure 14 of the Report of Mr. Bion J. Arnold, dated February 18, 1908, and entitled "The Subway Car," being the Commission's Exhibit 1, of March 4, 1908, copy of which is hereto attached; this type of car being designated in said report as "Car with Double Doors near Ends." The cars to be provided shall have four doors on each side, two of the doors on each side being in the position of the doors on cars now in use in the subway, and two additional doors on each side to be of the same size as and to be placed not less than one nor more than two doors' width from, the doors now in use.

(2) That the Interborough Rapid Transit Company equip these cars with pneumatic or other mechanical or electrical devices so arranged as to open and close the doors quickly, and automatically to signal to the motorman when the doors are closed.

(3) That the 16 cars to be reconstructed be so arranged that 2 trains of 8 cars may be made up, and that not less than one-half of the 16 cars so reconstructed be equipped with motors.

(4) That before reconstruction of the cars above described a full set of plans showing in detail the method of reconstruction be submitted to the Public Service Commission for the First District for approval.

(5) That the cars as ordered above be completed and ready for operation not later than October 15, 1908, and that notice be given to the Public Service Commission for the First District when the cars are ready for operation.

(6) That the cars as reconstructed have adequate and conspicuous signs informing passengers that the doors nearer the end of each car are entrance doors, and the doors nearer the middle are exit doors.

(7) That the said cars as reconstructed be operated daily on the express service in the subway during the morning and evening rush hours on and after October 15, 1908, and that notice be given to the Public Service Commission for the First District at least three days before said cars are to be operated.

(8) That the Interborough Rapid Transit Company take such other and further steps as may be necessary to provide as aforesaid the subway car described and shown in Figure 14 of the said report of Mr. Bion J. Arnold, dated February 18, 1908, and do everything necessary to secure as aforesaid a fair trial for the operation of the cars hereby ordered.

(9) That the provisions of this order take effect at once, and shall continue in force until fully complied with.

(11) EXTENSION ORDER (No. 630). O-630

On motion by Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, an Extension Order (No. 630) was adopted extending to September 1, 1908, the time within which the operation of Orders (No. 266 and No. 337) with respect to the service upon the Sixth Avenue Elevated Line and the Third Avenue Elevated Line of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., was suspended by the terms of Order (No. 569).

(12) EXTENSION ORDER (No. 631). O-631

On motion of Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, an Extension Order (No. 631) was adopted in the matter of the complaint of William Henderson and others against the Union Railway Co. and Frederick W. Whitridge as Receiver, extending until thirty days after the rendition of opinion by the Corporation Counsel in the above matter, the time within which said Union Railway Co., and its Receiver, should extend their line on Fort Schuyler Road as provided in Final Order (No. 474).

(13) HEARING ORDER (No. 622A). O-622A

Joline and Douglas Robinson as Receivers of the New York City Railway Company; said order for hearing to take the place of an Order (No. 622) adopted July 7, 1908.

The Chairman designated Commissioner Eustis to conduct the hearing.

(2) By operating a minimum number of thirty cars during each thirty-minute period in which the provisions of Subdivision (1) above were not complied with.

The Chairman designated Commissioner McCarroll to conduct the hearing.

The Chairman designated Commissioner McCarroll to conduct the hearing.

(9) CENTRAL CROSTOWN RAILROAD COMPANY—APPROVAL OF LEASE. O-637

Commissioner Eustis presented the following report upon the application of the Central Crosstown Railroad Company for approval of an agreement for the operation of its road for a period of one year by Adrian H. Joline and Douglas Robinson, as Receivers:

The Central Crosstown Railroad Company, a street surface railroad in The City of New York, leased its road and property to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company by lease bearing date February 8, 1904, for 999 years, the lessee to keep the property in repair, pay taxes, rentals of leased lands, interest upon funded debt, and the fixed charges of the lessor and 15 per cent. upon the capital stock of the lessor ($600,000). The present application is based upon the proposition of the receivers, Messrs. Adrian H. Joline and Douglas Robinson, that if the Central Crosstown Company would release the receivers from the obligation to pay 15 per cent. upon the stock, they would continue to operate the property under the lease, paying the remainder of the stipulated rental, the arrangement to continue for at least one year or until the close of the receivership if sooner terminated. The Central Crosstown Railroad Company have accepted the proposition without prejudice to any claim which it may have by reason of the operation of its property by the Receivers up to May 1, 1908, and also without prejudice to any claim for breach of contract, or otherwise, which the company may have against the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and the New York City Railway Company, or either of them, as a result of default under the original lease.

It is provided by the Railroad Law, Section 78, that any railroad corporation or any corporation owning or operating any railroad may contract with any other such corporation for the use of their respective roads or routes, or any part thereof, and thereafter use the same in such manner and for such time as may be prescribed in such contract, and that if such contract shall be a lease of any such road and for a longer period than one year, such contract shall not be binding or valid unless approved by the votes of stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of each corporation.

It is also provided by the Public Service Commissions Law, Section 54, that no franchise nor any right to or under any franchise to own or operate a railroad or street railroad shall be assigned, transferred or leased, or shall any contract or agreement with reference to or affecting any such franchise or right be valid or of any force or effect whatsoever unless the assignment, transfer, lease, contract or agreement shall have been approved by the proper Commission.

The company accordingly presented copies of the correspondence evidencing the proposition of the Receivers and the reply of the company to the Commission to be filed, and for approval if the same should be required, and the matter accordingly came on for hearing to-day.

It appeared that the Central Crosstown Railroad Company, has acquired by use of its special funds, and now owns about 80 new cars, which are in the possession of the receivers, Messrs. Joline and Robinson, but are marked with the name of the company and are capable of identification in the hands of the receivers.

It seems to me that in the public interest the proposition of the receivers to continue the operation of the road under the lease, with the modification of the rental, which merely affects the dividend upon stock of the Central Crosstown Railroad Company, is one which, having been accepted by that company, should have the approval of the Commission. It is necessarily limited to the period of one year at the end of which time, unless the receivership is sooner terminated, negotiations can be instituted with the receivers as to the terms of a continuance of the arrangement.

Commissioner Maltbie—"In voting for this resolution, I wish to say that I do so principally because the modified lease will increase by about $90,000.00 the funds in the hands of the Receivers available for improvements in equipment and service, which are so greatly needed. I do not consider that the approval of this modification by the Commission commits the Commission in any way to an approval of the other provisions of the lease. If any question should ever arise in which the original lease or the modified lease shall be a factor, I shall consider that the Commission is entirely free to act, and that the approval now given does not bind the Commission in any way whatever."

The Chairman—"I concur in what Commissioner Maltbie says."

FINAL ORDER (No. 637).

Thereupon, on motion by Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, a Final Order (No. 637) was adopted approving said agreement, this approval to take effect as of May 1, 1908, and to remain in force for a period of one year from and after said date.

HEARING ORDER (No. 638).

On motion of Commissioner Eustis, duly seconded, a Hearing Order (No. 638) was adopted directing a hearing on July 21, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. in the matter of complaint of Harry E. Fuller et al. against the South Brooklyn Railway Company on account of the discontinuance of station stops at Kensington station of the Culver Line.

On motion, duly seconded, it was Resolved, That this Commission hereby make the following appointments and accept the following resignation:

PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
