The Secretary presented the following communication from the Counsel to the Commission in regard to extending the subway to Prospect Park under Contracts Nos. 1 and 2 and on motion, duly seconded, the Council was directed to obtain, if possible, the consent of the Park Commissioner for the entire way to Parkside avenue.

December 23, 1907.

Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR:—I have the Secretary's letter of the 12th inst., transmitting a copy of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Counsel be requested to prepare an opinion on the method or methods whereby a contract for the construction and operation of an extension of the Fulton St., Brooklyn, Subway, from Atlantic Avenue station to Willink Entrance, Prospect Park, can be made, and whether it can be built as an extension of Contracts Nos. 1 and 2, and operated for 35 years."

On examining this matter I find that this route extending from Atlantic avenue to Parkside avenue was considered by the Rapid Transit Board as an extension of Contract No. 2, being the contract for the construction of the Brooklyn-Manhattan route, and was, at the time of its adoption, greatly desired by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company as a complement to the subway already under construction by it. The route was adopted by the Rapid Transit Board on March 24, 1904 (Rapid Transit Minutes, Vol. 5, p. 2508, by the Board of Aldermen, which then had jurisdiction to pass on franchises, on August 4th, 1904, and by the Mayor on August 22nd, 1904. The consents of the abutting property owners were obtained, as certified to the Board by its Counsel on December 29, 1904. (Rapid Transit Minutes, Vol. 5, page 3061), and have been recorded and are now in the safe in the Secretary's office.

The only remaining consent necessary was that of the Park Commissioner, which was refused because of the injury that would be caused by the subway construction, to the trees alongside the park on Ocean Avenue. After some discussion he agreed to give his consent if the subway at that point was moved about 12 feet, encroaching upon private property on the other side of the street, which was to be acquired by the city at an estimated expense of about $300,000. No steps have been undertaken in that direction and the estimated cost would probably be greater to-day. As showing the route as laid out, I transmit herewith blue-prints of the two drawings adopted with the route and general plan by the Rapid Transit Board.

I understand that the Commission at present only contemplates the construction of this route as far as the Willink Entrance to Prospect Park, but the consent of the Park Commissioner is still necessary, for, in my opinion, this route must be treated as a whole so far as consents are concerned, and the consents must all approve it as laid out and not a mere portion of it. In any event, the consent of the Park Commissioner is necessary for the part of the route from the Plaza to the Willink Entrance.

The question whether this route could be built as an extension of Contract Number 2 is dependent upon a construction to be given Section 38 of the Rapid Transit Act. This section in full is as follows:

The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for and on behalf of the said city in which such road or roads may be constructed, may, from time to time, with the concurrence of six members of said Board and the consent in writing of the landowners or sureties of the person, firm or corporation which has contracted to construct, equip, maintain or operate said road or roads, or any of them, agree with the said contracting person, firm, or corporation upon the changes in and modifications of said contract, or of the plans and specifications upon which the said road or roads is or are to be constructed, but no change or modifications in the plans and specifications consented to and authorized pursuant to Section 5 of this Act shall be made without the further consent and authorization provided for in said section; but in no event shall the annual rental to be paid to said City for the use of said road, be reduced below the minimum rate heretofore provided.

I desire to draw especial attention to the fact that this section applies to "changes in and modifications of said contract or of the plans and specifications upon which said road or roads is or are to be constructed," and that nowhere is the express permission given for the construction of extensions as such under a modifying contract. The construction of this section in regard to extensions has twice engaged the attention of the Counsel to the former Rapid Transit Board; once in the case of the Fort Lee extension, and again in the case of the Van Cortlandt Park extension.

In the letter of Counsel of 16th July, 1903, printed at page 2216, Vol. IV of the Rapid Transit Minutes, it is said:

"In drafting the papers for the proposed spur to Fort Lee Ferry on 130th Street and the proposed connection with the Manhattan Elevated Railroad at 3rd and Westchester Avenue, we have had to consider whether these spurs are to be deemed to be technically complete new routes within the meaning of the provisions of Sections 34 and 36 of the Rapid Transit Act prescribing the form of contracts and the procedure in letting them, or whether on the other hand, these spurs were to be treated merely as incidents of the main line of the Rapid Transit Railroad now under construction. We are satisfied that the latter is the case. Each of these spurs is very short, costing a relatively small sum of money, perhaps $100,000 or $150,000, and of no value whatever except as an incident to the Manhattan-Bronx Rapid Transit Railroad. It would seem to be quite absurd that, for the construction of these spurs, the Board should go through the illusory form of competition involving delay and large expense and should require in each case a cash deposit of $1,000,000 and a bond. The competition would be sheerly illusory, for the only value of the spurs is in making the Manhattan-Bronx Railroad more useful to the traveling public."

In concluding this opinion, however, the Counsel thought it well to qualify it by adding to it as the last paragraph the following statement:

"It is proper for us to add that this, in our opinion, would not apply to any addition or extension as long or important enough to be treated as a route in itself or as something more than a relatively unimportant incident to the main line of railroad already contracted for."

It is to be noted that one of the reasons which doubtless had considerable effect in the decision of this matter, namely, the requirement of a cash deposit of a million dollars and a bond on all contracts, is no longer present, the Rapid Transit Act having been amended in that regard.

In the second opinion, that in relation to the Van Cortlandt Park extension, of 6th August, 1906, printed at page 4203, Vol. VII of the Minutes, the scope of Section 38 is somewhat extended, but the general reasoning of the Fort Lee Ferry opinion is reaffirmed. In this opinion the Counsel said:

"The Van Cortlandt Park extension is an elevated line of about 5,300 feet, or almost exactly one mile in length. If constructed, it is intended to omit the part of the original line extending from Broadway to Bailey Avenue, about 600 feet long. The net addition to the original line will therefore be about 4,700 feet, less than nine-tenths of a mile of elevated railroad. It is proposed by the Chief Engineer to construct three stations on the new extension, namely, at 231st Street, 238th Street and 242nd Street, the latter being located near the entrance to Van Cortlandt Park. The actual cost of this extension is estimated by the Chief Engineer at $235,000, while the estimated cost of the part to be omitted from Broadway to Bailey Avenue is $60,000, not including the cost of the terminal station which is replaced by that at Van Cortlandt Park entrance.

"It will thus be seen that the proposed line constitutes a net addition to the original route of about 4% in length and less than 2% in cost. It was so designed as to be attached to and used with the original road. It obviously would be of no value as an independent line, for, as laid out by your Board and approved by the other constituted authorities, it could command no traffic if separated from the main stem."

Applying this reasoning to the proposed Prospect Park extension, we find that the original contract price for Contract Number 2, extending from Park Row, in Manhattan, to Flatbush Avenue, in Brooklyn, was $2,000,000 for construction, and an allowance of $1,000,000 for the purchase of terminals, which will be somewhat increased by the four tracking of Fulton Street, the cost of which is to be borne equally by the City and the Contractor. Instead of an unimportant and relatively inexpensive addition, as in the case of the Fort Lee Ferry and Van Cortlandt Park Extensions, we have here a road, considering it on the basis of its extension, merely to the Willink Entrance to the Park, about a mile and three-quarters in length, containing four tracks from Atlantic Avenue to the Plaza, a large loop in the Plaza and two tracks from the Plaza to the Willink Entrance, all of which, I am informed by Mr. Rice, will cost between three and one-half and four millions of dollars. I also wish to call the attention of the Commission to the difficulty, of which I am informed by Mr. Rice, in the matter of grades on this road, if it terminates at the Willink Entrance. There is quite a hill beginning at the Willink Entrance to the Park and rising to the Plaza, and the stopping of this road at the Willink Entrance would, therefore, present the problem of stopping and starting at the foot of a hill. On the basis of the route, as laid out, extending down to Parkside Avenue, the length will be increased to about two and one-half miles, and the cost, due to the large eight track terminal yard on Ocean Avenue, increased to between seven and eight millions of dollars.

In addition to the length and cost, it seems to me that it would be possible that even if this road could not be operated by itself, it could be operated in conjunction with the Fourth Avenue route in Brooklyn by means of a short connection at Flatbush Avenue and Fourth Avenue, and might possibly be operated by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit System by connection with its open cut road at Malbone Street and its elevated road at Atlantic Avenue.

In my opinion, Section 38 was never intended to permit such an important extension to be built under the guise of a modification of the contract, and it seems to me to have more in view a modification, such as that involving the construction of additional tracks at 96th Street in the present Subway. There is an additional reason for this conclusion in the further consideration that since the execution of Contract No. 2 containing a leasing provision for thirty-five years, the Legislature has amended the Rapid Transit Act in this regard by prohibiting leases for longer than twenty years. We must accept this until changed as the policy of the State, and for that reason it would be proper, by treating this important section as an extension, to place it under the thirty-five year leasing provision of Contract Number 2, whereas by a new contract made in accordance with the law as it now stands it would be impossible to make a lease for more than twenty years, effecting a practical evasion of the provisions inserted in the Rapid Transit Act by the Elsborg Bill of 1906.

There are two methods under which this section can be built. It can be built (1) under Section 32a of the Act at the expense of the company, or (2) under the system of municipal construction.

Section 32a permits the building of extensions of existing roads wholly at the expense of the railroad company at a rental to be fixed by the Commission to be operated by the company for a period not longer than twenty-five years and for renewals not exceeding twenty years in the aggregate, and it is further provided that

"upon such termination of such franchise, right or authority, the plant and structures, together with the appurtenances thereto of the grantee constructed pursuant to such certificate except rolling stock and other movable equipment, shall become the property of the City without further or other compensation to the grantee."

It is doubtful whether the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company, as the contractor under Contract Number 2, would care to avail itself of the provisions of this section, but such a method is at the disposal of the Commission.

There remains the final method of construction at municipal expense under which the Commission can, subject to the consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, make a contract for construction, for construction and equipment, or for construction, equipment and operation, but under the present provisions of the Act the term of such operation cannot be longer than twenty years. If the money for construction were available, it might be that the Commission could construct the Subway at the same time it is constructing the Fourth Avenue Route, and when completed it could be used either in connection with Contract Number 2 or with the Fourth Avenue Route, thus securing a measure of competition under which to negotiate with the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company, or it may be that the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company would be willing to take this under a contract for construction, equipment and operation for a twenty year term, trusting to secure a further extension on the expiration of such term.

It seems to me that the Commission might well consider carefully the advisability of recommending an amendment of the law to permit under proper safeguards the extension of an existing route under the terms of the existing contract.

I am also in receipt of Commissioner Bassett's letter of the 12th inst., advising me that the Commission wished this department to proceed with the completion of the consents for this extension. As I have shown above, the only remaining consent necessary is that of the Park Commissioner, and I would be glad if the Commission would advise me whether it wishes me to take the matter up with him.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) ABEL E. BLACKMAR,
Counsel to the Commission.

Commissioner McCortoll entered the meeting at this point.

The Secretary presented a communication from Charles A. Shaw, Commissioner of the Board of Water Supply, asking information from this Commission concerning the routes of levels where parallel to those of the Board of Water Supply in order that the values adopted for the bench marks may be the best obtainable. The matter was referred to the Chief Engineer for reply.

1625

The Secretary stated that a lease had been signed by the officers of the Commission with Emma Fitch, for rooms at 2628-2630 Broadway, at $83.33 per month, for six months, in accordance with the directions of the Commission.

O-157, O-160

The Secretary presented the following report and orders of Commissioner Eustis for adoption by the Commission:

IN RE JOHN DAVIS, COMPLAINANT, AGAINST INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY (FOR ADDITIONAL SERVICE BETWEEN THE BOROUGH OF THE BRONX AND SOUTH FERRY, ON SECOND AVENUE,) DEFENDANT.

ORDER (No. 160).

IN RE OTTO GRASSER, COMPLAINANT, AGAINST INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY (COMPLAINT FOR ADDITIONAL THROUGH TRAINS FROM THE BRONX TO MANHATTAN ON SECOND AVENUE DURING THE MIDDLE OF THE DAY,) DEFENDANT.

ORDER (No. 157).

These cases were heard together, as they involved the same principles and subject matter.

The complainant in the first case is a resident of the Bronx, and resides near 143rd Street, so that in going to business he takes the elevated at 143rd Street station. His office is located near Hanover Square, so that in order to arrive at the nearest place to his office he alights at Hanover Square station of the elevated road, and is so situated that if he takes a Third Avenue "L" in the Bronx he would be carried to the City Hall, unless he changed cars at Chatham Square, which would require walking over the bridge. If he goes down Second Avenue and takes a Second Avenue car in the Bronx, which runs for a short time in the morning and evening, as far as Canal Street, when he would then have to change cars either at 129th Street or Canal Street, he feels that for his convenience, and that of many others situated as he is, the Second Avenue cars should be run from some section of the Bronx to South Ferry, especially during the rush hours morning and night when business people are going to their business or returning to their homes.

The complainant in the second case is a minister who has a church in the neighborhood of Second Avenue and Ninth Street, and it appears that a great many of his parishioners have moved to the Bronx, and that he is called there frequently during the middle of the day, making calls, attending to various church duties, such as funerals, weddings, etc., and finds that the Second Avenue line is the one most convenient, but in order to get to the Bronx he is compelled to make a transfer of trains at 129th Street from the Second Avenue to Third Avenue, as both of those roads converge at the Harlem River and use the same trackage northerly therefrom. His contention is that a certain number of trains of the Second Avenue line should be continued into the Bronx during the day so that people living along the line of Second Avenue could go to the Bronx by continuous passage without change of cars.

The railroad company claims, on the other hand, that the operation of those two lines is a matter that requires a great deal of care and arrangement, that it would be exceedingly dangerous to alternate into the Bronx during the day time one train from the Third Avenue and another from the Second Avenue, and that they are able to give better service to a larger number of people by running a certain line continuously between definite terminations, and therefore they have arranged a Third Avenue line from the City Hall to the Bronx continuously, and also a line from South Ferry to 129th Street via Second Avenue; and they also testified that from their data to make a change as required by these complainants would inconvenience three times as many people as it would accommodate, as the people using the Third Avenue line are so much more numerous, and if those trains that are now running to the Bronx were discontinued in order to allow some of the Second Avenue trains to take their place it would be a very great hardship as well as adding to the confusion and trouble in getting their trains through on time, especially during the rush hours when the headway is very short.

After giving the matter considerable attention, hearing the evidence and personally investigating the action of the trains in these congested sections, I am of the opinion that more people will be accommodated by the present arrangement and less danger incurred than it would be to make the change, and I therefore recommend an order that the complaints in both of these matters be dismissed.

FINAL ORDER (No. 177).

Thereupon, on motion made and duly seconded, a Final Order (No. 177) was adopted, dismissing the complaint of John Davis against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, in the matter of additional service on the Second and Third Avenue Elevated Roads, south of Chatham Square.

DISMISSAL ORDER (No. 178).

On motion made and duly seconded, a Dismissal Order (No. 178) was also adopted, dismissing the complaint of Otto Grasser against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company in the matter of through trains to the Bronx on the Second Avenue Line.

O-179

The Secretary presented the following Report and Order of Commissioner Malibie for adoption by the Commission:

As the Commissioner designated to hear the evidence and to present a report as to whether an order should be adopted by the Commission directing that certain improvements, repairs and additions should be made to the cars and car equipment of the New York City Railway Company, I submit the following:

Notice of the hearing was duly served not only upon the Secretary of the New York City Railway Company but also upon Mr. Adrian H. Joline and Mr. Douglas Robinson, receivers, appointed by Judge LaCombe of the United States Circuit Court. Upon December 21st the hearing was held and evidence taken, but no one representing the Company or the receivers appeared or offered to present any evidence to show that it would not "be just, reasonable, safe, adequate and proper" to issue the order proposed. However, a communication was received from the receivers and was offered in evidence by the Counsel to the Commission which stated:

"It is of course most desirable that every car should receive a thorough inspection followed by such repairing as will put it in first class operating condition. The condition of the rolling stock when we took possession was deplorable. The main cause of this was apparently the neglect of the Company in prior years to keep it at all times in first class condition."

The evidence presented at the hearing was given by Mr. A. W. McLimont, the Electrical Engineer of the Commission, who had been directed by the Commission to make a thorough examination of the equipment of the Company and to report the exact facts. In this work, which covered the greater portion of October and November, Mr. McLimont was assisted by four electrical engineers, one mechanical engineer and a number of transit inspectors, all employees of the Commission. They personally inspected some 1600 cars out of a total of about 2000 cars now being operated by the Company, and 452 cars were examined in detail in the car-houses while standing over "pits" by the engineers of the Commission. They also carefully examined the power-houses, sub-stations, car-houses and shops. The facts found by Mr. McLimont and his assistants were presented in a report which was sworn to and offered in evidence, a copy being placed at the disposal of the Company or the receivers. This report is very comprehensive and complete, giving in detail the exact condition of every car and structure examined.

The condition of the 1600 cars at the time of the observation is reported by Mr. McLimont to be as follows:

Total number of cars.....	1600
Total number of cars with dash boards needing painting.....	93
Total number of cars with bodies needing painting.....	766
Total number of cars with panels broken and unpainted.....	169
Total number of cars with flat wheels.....	401
Total number of cars with rattling and loose windows, doors, etc.....	786
Total number of cars with gear noises (clattering due to dry and worn gears and pinions).....	1005
Total number of cars with brass noises (worn and dry bearings).....	77
Total number of cars with broken glass.....	192
Total number of cars operating without headlights.....	240
Total number of cars operating with dim headlights.....	82
Total number of cars filthy.....	105

Combining certain of the items in the above table, it is found that one-quarter of the cars had flat wheels; that one-half of them needed painting in part or in whole; that one-half rattled; that two-thirds had gear noises; that 1 out of every 6 was operated without headlights and that over 100 cars were "filthy." Upon an average there were nearly 2 defects to every 2 cars. This does not mean that every car needed repairs of some sort or other, but upon an average there were between two and three defects for each car, for many of the cars were defective in several regards.

The condition of the 452 cars examined more in detail while standing over the "pits" in the car-houses is reported to have been as follows:

Total number of cars inspected.....	452
Total number of cars with defective trucks.....	115
Total number of cars with flat wheels.....	84
Total number of cars with defective brakes.....	84
Total number of cars with gear troubles (excessively worn).....	242
Total number of cars with gearing troubles (excessively worn and loose).....	154
Total number of cars with motor troubles.....	358
Total number of cars with plow troubles (worn and loose parts and pinions).....	17
Total number of cars with controller faults.....	45
Total number of cars with switches broken or missing.....	9
Total number of cars with resistances poorly protected.....	100
Total number of cars with wiring worn or loose.....	159
Total number of cars with headlights broken or loose.....	85
Total number of cars with gates loose, worn or bent.....	3
Total number of cars with platform worn.....	6
Total number of cars with bumper spring or cracked.....	4
Total number of cars with draw-bar missing or cracked.....	3
Total number of cars with stanchion bent or worn.....	7
Total number of cars with guard rail bent or worn.....	4
Total number of cars with handrail bent or worn.....	9
Total number of cars with grab handles bent or worn.....	19
Total number of cars with running boards bent or worn.....	38
Total number of cars rattling.....	1
Total number of cars with dash board bent or worn.....	57
Total number of cars with dash posts bent or worn.....	13
Total number of cars with glass broken.....	54
Total number of cars with broken curtain cards, etc.....	4
Total number of sign reflectors broken or missing.....	4
Total number of cars needing painting.....	144
Total number of cars with roof gutters bent.....	4
Total number of cars with life guard bent or broken.....	9
Total number of cars with steps insecure or broken.....	38
Total number of cars with no headlight operating.....	41
Total number of cars with panels broken or unpainted.....	1
Total number of cars in filthy condition.....	4

Summarizing the results of this examination, which covered a considerable number of matters not possible to be covered in the other 1,200 cars, it is found that upon an average there were 4 defects to each car.

The effect of these conditions upon the carrying capacity of the system is reflected by the reports of the repair shops. At one barn where the cars seemed to be in worse condition than at any other, the average daily number of instances where cars were "run in" for repairs during the month of November was nearly 40% of the number of cars housed there, and upon one day the number of "run-ins" was over 70% of the number of cars. Upon the whole system during the month of October there were between 12,000 and 13,000 hours that cars were "run-in" for numerous defects, which is equivalent to 30 cars taken off the road entirely for 15 hours during every day of the month. The interference with the operation of the system, due to the bad condition of the equipment is not confined to the loss of time cars are standing in the barns waiting for or undergoing repairs, for when a car breaks down on the line it is out of commission from that moment as well as during the time it is in the shop. It must also be shoved back to the barn and this procedure still further interferes with the schedule, is often the cause of much delay and overcrowding in other cars, and congests vehicular traffic as well.

In their letter to the Commission the receivers state:

"The most frequent causes of breakdown are those peculiarly incident to the operation of cars by the conduit electric system, and differ from the troubles incident to the operation of surface cars by the overhead trolley system. A very large percentage of breakdowns on the road is due to failure of the contact plow."

This is undoubtedly true, but the defects reported by Mr. McLimont have no connection whatever with the conduit system and ought to be remedied regardless of what changes or improvements are adopted in the conduits and the method of transmitting current from the conductors to the motors.

The failure of the Company to provide adequate protection to the power cables under the platforms and floors of the cars and the defective condition of the automatic circuit breakers have increased the possibility of the car catching fire. The evidence does not show that the frequent disastrous fires in the car-houses of the Company have been due to the defective wiring of the circuit breakers and appliances, but when the evidence clearly shows, as it does, that there is a lack of proper insulation and that there are defective circuit breakers on many cars, one is led to consider whether the great loss of equipment and of car-houses might not have been due to these defects.

Frequent complaints have been made to the Commission of the noise caused by street cars. The evidence shows that a very large proportion of the cars are noisy, and that if they were properly repaired, wearing parts promptly renewed and the running gear kept well lubricated, the noise would be very greatly reduced. In my opinion, the public should be protected against unnecessary noise, and that, even if the defective condition of the cars did not interfere with the carrying capacity of the system, the Commission would be justified in requiring the Company so to maintain its equipment as to reduce car noises to a minimum.

For similar reasons, I have concluded that the Company should be required to put its cars in a clean and neat condition. Dirty and filthy cars are not only offensive, but are dangerous to the health of the City.

In the order recommended for adoption, the date fixed when the company shall begin to turn out ten cars per day from the repair shops is February 15. No representative of the Company or of the receivers appeared at the hearing, so that it was impossible to obtain from them an opinion as to when the order should be made operative. However, Mr. McLimont definitely testified that knowing as he did the exact facilities which would be needed by the Company to comply with the order and the facilities which they now have, it would be possible for the Company to begin and continue turning out ten cars a day upon and after February 15th.

In order to turn out ten cars a day, it will not be necessary to reduce materially the number of cars now being operated upon the lines of the Company. Mr. McLimont testified that not more than 40 cars would need to be kept out of service at any one time. Indeed, the number of cars which the Company has ordered and of which delivery has been promised before February 15th, is several times the number of cars which upon any one day will need to be taken from the service for repairs so as to comply with the proposed order.

The order is made applicable to the entire rolling stock of the Company, including the summer as well as the winter cars. Of course, the cars now in use are the cars that should be repaired immediately, but the order has been made applicable to the summer cars in order that by the time these cars are needed, they will have been repaired and put in good condition.

FINAL ORDER (No. 179).

Thereupon, on motion made and duly seconded, a Final Order (No. 179) was adopted, directing the New York City Railway Company to thoroughly overhaul and repair all its rolling stock, turning out not fewer than ten cars daily after February 15th, 1908.

Mr. Hoffman tells me that he has conferred with the Secretary of the Board of Estimate, with regard to this matter, and was advised that the request should be made for the above amount. I also return herewith File No. 2133 of the Secretary's files, containing the papers in this matter.

Very truly yours,

Counsel to the Commission.

The said resolution referred to in the Counsel's communication was thereupon offered, and was as follows:

Resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary of the Public Service Commission for the First District be and they hereby are authorized to make requisition upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York for the authorization of bonds of the City of New York, sufficient to meet the expense of $500,000, the amount which is requisite and necessary to pay for the purchase of real estate or interests therein, and to execute and sign a requisition for the said amount, and a communication, which are herewith presented.

The form of the requisition and communication was as follows:

January 1, 1908.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York:

DEAR SIRS—Requisition is hereby made upon you, pursuant to the provisions of Section 37 of Chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891, as amended, being known as the Rapid Transit Act, by the Public Service Commission for the First District, for the authorization of an amount of corporate stock of the City of New York to be sold by the Comptroller, sufficient to pay the expense of $500,000, which is requisite and necessary to provide the necessary means to pay for real estate or interests therein.

Appended hereto is a copy of the Resolution of the Public Service Commission for the First District, authorizing the execution of this requisition, and a communication, showing the purposes to which it is intended to apply the appropriation for which this requisition is made.

In witness whereof, the Public Service Commission for the First District has caused this requisition to be subscribed by its Chairman and Secretary and its official seal to be hereto affixed, this 2nd day of January, 1908.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,

(Signed) W. R. WILLCOX, Chairman.

(Signed) TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary.

January 1, 1908.

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York:

DEAR SIRS—The Public Service Commission for the First District, in pursuance of a resolution of the Commission, adopted on the 31st day of December, 1907, herewith transmits to you and as a part hereof a requisition for the sum of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000), the amount requisite and necessary to pay for real estate or interests therein including the payment of the awards allowed by an order of the Supreme Court, entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 5th day of August, 1907, confirming the report of the Commissioners appointed to appraise the property taken, which awards aggregate the sum of $395,374.50, and are as follows:

Damage Parcel No. 1, to Heinrich Van Deilen, as owner.....	$47,216.00
Damage Parcel No. 2, to Bridget M. Dooley, as owner.....	30,055.00
Damage Parcel No. 3, to John Wamamaker, as owner.....	143,560.00
Damage Parcel No. 4, the Sailors' Snug Harbor, in the City of New York (a corporation), as owner, and to John Wamamaker, as lessee.....	175,743.50

The oaths of the Commissioners of Appraisal were duly filed in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 5th day of October, 1892, since which date, in accordance with the provisions of the Rapid Transit Act, interest has run upon the amounts to be found due, at the rate of six per cent. (6%) per annum, and such interest computed to the 6th day of February, 1908, will amount to $126,582, making the total sum necessary to pay the several awards $522,158.50.

Proceedings to acquire this property were instituted by the former Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, under the provisions of the Rapid Transit Act, for the purposes of the present Manhattan-Bronx Subway, being the rapid transit railroad built under the contract of the 21st of February, 1900, between the City of New York and John B. McDonald.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has heretofore appropriated the following amounts for the purchase of real estate and interests therein, for the purposes of this contract:

1900.....	$500,000.00

making a total of.....$2,000,000.00

of which there has been expended to date the sum of $1,782,227.76, leaving a balance to the credit of the Commission, for the purchase of real estate for the purposes of this contract, of $210,778.24. This amount is necessary for current purchases of real estate and will not be sufficient to pay for property acquired under proceedings now pending.

The Public Service Commission for the First District therefore makes requisition in accordance with the statutes above mentioned and under and in pursuance of the said resolution for the authorization of an amount of corporate stock of the City of New York, to be sold by the Comptroller, sufficient to meet the expense of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000), to pay for real estate or of interests therein, as aforesaid.

Respectfully yours,
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,
(Signed) W. R. WILLCOX, Chairman.

Commissioner Maltbie made the following statement to the Commission with regard to the matter of prescribing a uniform system of accounts for corporations under the jurisdiction of the Commission:

Your Committee to whom was referred the question of Uniform Statistics and Accounts for the companies under the jurisdiction of this Commission, begs to submit the following report of progress:

The Interstate Commerce Commission has prescribed certain accounting forms and methods for steam railroads doing an interstate business and has under consideration forms for express and sleeping-car companies, but no progress has been made with the accounts for electric roads or street railways that run from one state to another, a small portion, 26%, of the entire electric mileage of the country. Our predecessors, the Railroad Commissioners, had not attempted to prescribe a uniform system, but the Commission of Gas and Electricity had considered the matter and had drafted a tentative system for discussion, which was published in the report of the Commission for the six months ending June 30, 1907.

From the very beginning this Commission has realized the importance and necessity of a uniform system of accounts for all corporations of the same kind, not merely because of the value of uniform statistics to this Commission in arriving at wise decisions, but also because of their value to the companies themselves, to the holders of their securities, to investors and to those who use the service—the public. Preliminary to the preparation of such a uniform system of records, your Committee and Mr. Weber, our chief statistician, have had conferences with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Public Service Commission for the Second District, similar commissions in other states and the associations representing the various classes of corporations. It has been found impossible, owing to the large number of persons and officials interested, to prepare a satisfactory system of accounts for use by the street railway companies during the year ending June 30, 1908, and for adoption in the annual reports to the Commission covering this period; but it will be ready early in 1909 probably. It can then be put in force upon July 1st, 1908, for all the companies in this district and be made the basis of the financial portion of the annual reports for the year ending June 30, 1909.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has recently approved, as stated above, a revised scheme of accounts for all steam railroads doing an interstate business. This scheme has been adopted by the Public Service Commission for the Second District, and by the railroad commissioners of other states, and I recommend that it be adopted by this Commission.

As the Interstate Commerce Commission has not yet framed a system of accounts for sleeping-car and express companies, and as the law requires our forms to agree as nearly as may be with such forms when adopted, I recommend that no system be adopted for the present.

In order that both Public Service Commissions may have the same system of accounts for gas and electric companies, this subject was early discussed with the Commission of the Second District. Several conferences have also been held with the associations representing the companies. If the companies throughout the State were more uniform as to the nature and scope of their operations, the problem would have been more simple, but with a few corporations whose financial operations amount to several millions of dollars upon the one hand and upon the other a considerable number of small companies whose annual incomes do not exceed a few thousands, it is difficult to frame a single system of accounts which will go sufficiently into the details of the large companies and yet be suited to the limited operations of the small companies. It now seems probable that a satisfactory solution will be found and one which will be satisfactory to practically all of the companies. In this work the officials of the companies have generously assisted the Committee. A scheme will be adopted at an early date probably.

Thereupon the following Order was adopted by the Commission:

(Order No. 180.)

The Public Service Commission for the First District, being authorized by Section 52 of the Public Service Commission Law to establish, whenever it deems advisable, a uniform system of accounts to be used by railroad corporations subject to its jurisdiction, and it appearing advisable to establish at this time a uniform system of accounts for expenditures for road and equipment, operating revenues, operating expenses, locomotive miles, car miles and train miles,

Ordered:

I. That the system of accounts shown by Schedule A, hereto annexed, be and the same hereby is established as the system of accounts for said matters, to be kept and maintained by all railroad corporations under the supervision of this Commission, as that term is defined in Section 2 of the Public Service Commission Law, owning, controlling or operating any railroad on which steam is used as the motive power.

II. That said system of accounts shall be put in use by all such railroad corporations on the 1st day of January, 1908, and be thereafter kept and used by them.

III. That all such railroad corporations shall, in the annual reports to be severally made by them concerning their respective affairs and operations, during the fiscal year July 1st, 1907, or June 30th, 1908, inclusive, classify and report their expenditures for road and equipment, their operating revenues, their operating expenses, and their locomotive miles, car miles and train miles, in accordance with the classifications of expenditures for road and equipment, of operating revenues, of operating expenses, and of locomotive miles, car miles and train miles, set forth in said Schedule A.

IV. That the form of the annual report to be made by the said railroad corporations, showing their respective affairs and operations during the said year, shall call for the total amounts charged or credited to each of the several accounts provided for in the said several classifications.

V. That the Secretary of this Commission serve upon each of the said corporations, persons and associations, on December 31st, 1907, in the manner prescribed by law, a copy of this order.

ORDER (No. 182).

On motion of Commissioner Eastis, duly seconded, an Order (No. 182) was adopted, in the matter of the issuance of transfers by the Union Railway Company upon its Williamsbridge Line, westbound on 177th Street, which provided that the Union Railway Company of New York City on every car on its Williamsbridge line, west bound on Tremont Avenue (177th Street), ask of each person becoming a passenger thereon, at any point west of Morris Park Avenue, and paying fare, whether such passenger wishes a transfer slip for continuation of his trip north or south, and deliver such transfer slip accordingly to such passenger prior to or on leaving said car at Third Avenue and 177th Street.

FINAL ORDER (No. 183).

On motion of Commissioner Eastis, duly seconded, an order (No. 183) was adopted, directing that the New York City Interborough Railway Company either construct a substantial shelter for passengers transferring from the Subway to its lines at 180th Street and St. Nicholas Avenue on a level with such street railway tracks, or at all times during the day and night hold at that point a car for the use of waiting passengers, until the arrival of the next car.

The Committee of the Whole presented to the Commission the following report of its sub-committee, consisting of Commissioners Maltbie and Eastis, upon the matter of additional subways for Manhattan and The Bronx:

December 30, 1907.

To the Public Service Commission for the First District:

Sirs—Your Committee appointed to report upon additional subways for Manhattan and The Bronx, beg to submit the following report:

The urgent need for the immediate construction of another rapid transit subway in Manhattan and The Bronx needs no proof. Every person who uses the present lines knows that they are congested, that the conditions of overcrowding are indecent and that every improvement that can be made will hardly be sufficient to keep pace with the growth of traffic prior to the time when a new subway may be opened, to say nothing of relieving the congestion which now exists. The question is not whether a new subway is needed, therefore, but where a new line may be located most advantageously and which of the several routes that are needed should be constructed first.

In the opinion of your Committee, the subway which should be started first is the Broadway-Lexington Avenue line, running from the Battery up Broadway or Greenwich and Vesey streets to the Post Office, thence up Broadway to Tenth street or thereabouts, thence under private property and public streets to Irving place, thence up Irving place and Lexington Avenue to the Harlem River, thence under the Harlem River to One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street or thereabouts. Dividing here into two branches, one line would go up Mott Avenue to East One Hundred and Fifty-first street, through One Hundred and Fifty-first street and Gerard Avenue to Jerome Avenue and thence up Jerome Avenue to Woodlawn Cemetery; the other line would pass east through One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to the Southern boulevard, and up the Southern boulevard and Westchester Avenue to Eastern boulevard.

From the Post Office, and possibly from the Battery, the subway would contain four tracks until it reached One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street. The easterly fork would contain at least three tracks and likewise the westerly fork as far as Jerome Avenue where there would be four tracks again. This is considered wise because at some future time a subway will probably be built in Eighth Avenue to connect with the line up Jerome Avenue, and then four tracks will be needed to afford facilities to both lines. The whole line would be underground, except possibly the Southern boulevard and Westchester Avenue section. Some money would be saved by building an elevated road on Jerome Avenue instead of a subway, but in view of the many obvious objections to an elevated road, in view of the important character of this thoroughfare, and in view of the small saving in cost when the expense of constructing the whole line is considered, your Committee recommend that a subway be planned throughout Jerome Avenue.

The line thus planned could be connected with the New York Central Railroad at the Mott Haven station, at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and at Forty-second street, and suburban trains could be run through to the Battery via Broadway—a more direct route to downtown Manhattan than by the present subway. At this very moment, before the Grand Central station has been reconstructed and while the traffic is being so seriously interfered with by this reconstruction that the number of persons using the Grand Central station is very much less than it will be when the station has been rebuilt and the trains are again running upon schedule time, the present subway is congested by New York Central traffic. The proposed line would relieve this congestion and help handle the additional traffic that will come when the New York Central has completed its work of reconstruction and its lines have been electrified.

The proposed line will also run close to the Steinway tunnel at Forty-second street and the Blackwell's Island Bridge at Fifty-ninth street, so that a connection may be made with the crosstown subway under Fifty-ninth street, planned by the Rapid Transit Commission. By either route the residents of Queens will be able to reach the lower portion of Manhattan much more expeditiously than at present.

The Broadway-Lexington avenue line, as proposed, is not a part of the "Tri-Borough route" as originally planned, but by means of the connection through Canal street, discussed later in this report, it has every advantage which the Manhattan portion of the "Tri-Borough route" possesses and certain other advantages which the latter does not have, inasmuch as the Manhattan portion of the "Tri-Borough route" would not tap the Broadway section, between the Post Office and Tenth street. It is also possible to make a similar connection with the Williamsburg Bridge, and any subway extended by this route into Long Island. At the Battery it could likewise be connected with the present tunnel to Brooklyn or any future subway built east or west of Broadway.

Thus, while the proposed line is to be constructed in Manhattan and The Bronx, it will afford great relief to Brooklyn and Queens.

The value of the Broadway-Lexington avenue route both from the transit and from the financial standpoint is apparent. Below Fourteenth street, it would run through the very heart of the commercial and office centres of the City. It would also tap the populous district between Forty-second street and the Harlem River, the residents of which at present can reach the lower Broadway district only by a circuitous route. The two branches in The Bronx would tap the sections which are most in need of transit facilities. The Jerome avenue line has been urged for years. The Southern boulevard section would run through a district already well populated and the Westchester avenue section would open up an area which has not developed owing to the lack of transit facilities. Further, the present subway carries the Bronxites by a very devious course from their homes to their offices. The Broadway-Lexington avenue route would shorten the trip very materially. Further, the directness of the line and the few curves (Lexington avenue is almost upon an exact line with Broadway) would safely allow cars to be run at high speed and would lower operating costs.

Inasmuch as more of The Bronx lies east than west of a line continued in a straight line upon the axis of Lexington avenue the most natural connection of Jerome avenue would be with a future line down Eighth avenue, or a line between Eighth avenue and Lexington avenue, for it is probable that every subway built upon Lexington avenue or east of Lexington avenue will be needed for the portion of The Bronx east of Jerome avenue. But if the Commission were to build the Jerome avenue line and to lease it to the company operating the Broadway-Lexington avenue line under such conditions that it might allow a separate company operating the Eighth avenue to have running powers over the Jerome avenue section, the present connection of this section with Lexington avenue would not interfere with the ultimate normal development.

Attention should be called to the fact that the Broadway-Lexington line as above outlined, is not precisely the same as the Lexington avenue route proposed by the Rapid Transit Commission. The Lexington route, as originally planned, was not sufficiently direct and contained so many curves that the speed of the trains would be interfered with. It was also planned to connect the Lexington avenue line with the present subway at Forty-second street. This is considered objectionable for two reasons; the present subway has all the traffic it can possibly handle with decency, and perhaps more. To add to its burdens by feeding another line into it would be exceedingly unwise. Further, if such a connection were made any competitor of the Interborough Company would be at a decided disadvantage when bidding for the operating lease. Upon the other hand, the subway as now proposed will not interfere with any longitudinal routes which may be built later. For example, a line connecting with the present subway at Forty-second street and Broadway could be brought downtown via Broadway to Union square, thence down University place, Wooster street and Church street to the Battery.

The estimated cost of the Broadway-Lexington line, including the two branches in The Bronx, would be about $60,000,000, and with the present traffic conditions in mind, work ought to be begun immediately upon every section. However, if for financial or other reasons it should be found desirable to delay the awarding of the contracts on construction of certain portions of the route until another year, it would be possible at once to begin on the section from the Battery to the Grand Central Station. Within another year the contracts for the section from Forty-second street to One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street could be let, to be followed with the Gerard and Jerome avenue section. By the time the portion from the Battery to Forty-second street would be ready for lease to an operating company the other sections of the route would be under contract, so that even though they were not completed the bidders for a franchise to operate would know when they were to be finished, and a lease could be made for the unfinished as well as the finished portions of the line. Further, if the construction of the entire line were approved by this Commission and by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, it would be possible to advertise a lease of this route at the same time the lease for the Fourth avenue subway is advertised. This any prospective bidder could obtain not only a lease of the Fourth avenue subway in Brooklyn, but also of the very remunerative line up Broadway and Lexington avenue. Owing to the possibility of a physical connection through Canal street these two lines could be run as one system, making the proposition, from a financial point of view, very attractive and remunerative.

Your committee also recommend that plans be prepared at once for a two-track subway from the Manhattan Bridge through Canal street to West street. According to the present plans for the Centre street loop no means have been provided for connecting any of the bridges with the present subway, the elevated roads, the new subway up Broadway or any future subways west of Broadway. Even the Fourth avenue subway from Brooklyn has been planned to run down Centre street without any connection with any subway or elevated road in Manhattan. Such a condition is most inconvenient and inadvisable, particularly in view of the fact that by building a line across town under Canal street any person coming to Manhattan via the Manhattan Bridge could change to the present subway, the proposed Broadway-Lexington avenue subway and each of the four subways to be built west of Broadway without climbing to the street, and also to the elevated roads whose stations are immediately above. It is also possible to make a physical connection with the proposed Broadway-Lexington avenue route and other subways, so that cars could be run through from the Bronx to Fort Hamilton or Coney Island via Manhattan Bridge and the Fourth avenue subway. This plan does not interfere with a connection with the Centre street loop, but merely provides for the running of certain trains from Brooklyn through to the North River and certain others down Centre street to City Hall.

The estimated cost of this Canal street line is $7,000,000, but if it is not considered possible for financial reasons to construct the whole of it at once, it could end for the present just west of Broadway. But it should be constructed at least to this point at an early date, to provide for a connection with the present subway and the Broadway line.

A map submitted herewith shows the two routes recommended for your approval and indicates the relations these will bear to the present facilities for rapid transit in Manhattan and The Bronx, as well as certain of the connections which might be made with future lines.

If the two subway lines above proposed meet with your approval your committee recommend that application be made at once to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for their approval and for permission to contract for the construction of these two routes as soon as the plans can be prepared.

In connection therewith, the Committee of the Whole recommended the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, In the opinion of the Commission a rapid transit system in the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx should be laid out and offered for bids; and

Whereas, The rapid transit system which, in the opinion of the Commission, seems best to meet the requirements of the people of The City of New York is one described as beginning at a point under Battery Park, running thence northerly through and under Greenwich street, Trinity place and Church street to Vesey street; thence easterly through Vesey street to Broadway; thence northerly along and under Broadway to Canal street, where connection will be made with a crosstown line herein after described; thence northerly to a point near East Tenth street, where the line curves generally in a northeasterly direction and under private property and across East Eleventh street to Fourth avenue, East Twelfth street, East Thirteenth street and East Fourteenth street in Irving place; thence northerly along and under Irving place to Gramercy Park; thence northerly under Gramercy Park to Lexington avenue; thence northerly under Lexington avenue to the Harlem River and under the Harlem River to a point near the intersection of Park avenue and East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, where the lines will diverge, the easterly line continuing east along East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to Southern boulevard; thence in a generally northerly direction along Southern boulevard to Westchester avenue; thence in a generally northeasterly direction along Westchester avenue to Eastern boulevard or Pelham Bay Park; the westerly line to begin at a point near the intersection of Park avenue and East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and running northerly along Mott avenue to One Hundred and Fifty-first street; thence northwesterly along One Hundred and Fifty-first street to Gerard avenue; thence northerly along Gerard avenue to the intersection of Gerard avenue and Jerome avenue near Clark place, from which the line to extend northerly along and under Jerome avenue to Woodhawn Cemetery. Also a crosstown line on Canal street, connecting at Broadway with the other parts of this system, and beginning at the intersection of Canal street and West street, and thence running easterly under Canal street and, with proper connections at Broadway, to the Manhattan Bridge approach, where connection can be made with the Fourth avenue route in Brooklyn already authorized; and

Whereas, Portions of this system have been laid out as separate routes by the former Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners and approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Mayor, and consented to by a majority in value of the owners of abutting property, or by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in lieu thereof; and

Whereas, The construction of such a system will require the modification of certain of the said routes; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the question of the legality and feasibility of such a system be referred to the Counsel and Chief Engineer to the Commission for a report and to prepare the necessary plans and papers for submission to the Commission.

It was moved and duly seconded that the above resolution be adopted and approved as the resolution of the Commission.

CIVIL SERVICE MATTERS.

Appointments.

The Secretary reported that on July 16, 1908, he had requested the Municipal Civil Service Commission to certify an eligible list from which to appoint six first grade Clerks, to be considered with the certification of three names made on July 13, 1908; also an eligible list for Topographical Draftsman, at $1,500 per annum.

On motion, these actions of the Secretary were confirmed.

A communication was received from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, dated July 15, 1908, stating that the application of this Board for authority to reinstate Harris P. Greenwood in the position of Topographical Draftsman, had been denied, for the reason that there is a preferred list in existence for that position.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The Board did, by resolution duly passed at meeting held on June 12, 1907, authorize the employment of Elting Harp, of New Paltz, to assist the Examiner of Real Estate and Damages in the adjustment of claims, at the compensation of seven dollars ($7) per day for each day actually employed; and

Whereas, Subsequently the said Elting Harp was engaged by the Special Counsel, John J. Linson, as an Appraiser for the City, of lands to be acquired by the City, at the compensation of ten dollars ($10) per day for each day actually so employed, which employment the Board is advised has been terminated; and

Whereas, In the opinion of the Board it is deemed advisable to secure the services of Mr. Harp to assist the Examiner of Real Estate and Damages in the negotiations for the purchase of property by agreement, and also in the matter of the adjustment of the payments of one-half the assessed value of parcels to be acquired, and possession of which is immediately necessary; therefore be it

Resolved, That the said Elting Harp be employed by this Board at the compensation of ten dollars ($10) per day for each day actually engaged in work, as directed by Commissioner Chadwick, for services in assisting the Examiner of Real Estate and Damages in the purchase of property at private sale, and in the matter of securing immediate possession of property by the City.

Said board of trustees shall consist of seven residents of The City of New York, together with the Commissioner of Public Charities, ex-officio. It shall be known as the "Board of Trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals." In the month of January, nineteen hundred and two, the Mayor of The City of New York shall appoint one resident of The City of New York to serve as such trustee for the term of one year, one for the term of two years, one for the term of three years, one for the term of four years, one for the term of five years, one for the term of six years and one for the term of seven years, from the first day of February, nineteen hundred and two. In the month of January, and on or before the twentieth day thereof, prior to the expiration of the term of office of any trustee, the Mayor shall appoint his successor for the full term of seven years. The Mayor shall fill any vacancy in the board caused by the death of a trustee, his resignation, removal from the city or otherwise, by the appointment of a trustee to hold office for the unexpired term. Every person appointed to serve as such trustee shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of the State.

2. For the purpose of making the appointments aforesaid, the said Mayor shall call upon the president or other executive head of each of the following organizations, to wit: The United Hebrew Charities of The City of New York, the Particular Council of New York of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in New York, and the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, to present a list of not less than twice the number of persons to be appointed members of said board of trustees to fill a vacancy or otherwise. Notice in writing of the dates on which appointments, including the first, to said board of trustees are proposed to be made shall be given by the Mayor to each of said residents or other executive heads at least ten days prior thereto, and such list of names shall be so presented within three days after the receipt of such notice. Said presidents or other executive heads may each submit, or two or more of them may jointly present, such a list of names. Appointments to said board of trustees may, in the discretion of the Mayor, be made from such list or lists.

3. No trustee shall be subject to removal under the provisions of section ninety-five of this act, but any trustee may be removed by the Mayor upon proof either of official misconduct or neglect of duty or of conduct which tends to discredit his office or for mental or physical inability to perform his duties, but before such removal he shall receive due and timely notice in writing of the charges and a copy thereof, and shall be entitled to a hearing on like notice before the Mayor and to the assistance of counsel on said hearing. No trustee shall receive pecuniary compensation for his services or be interested directly or indirectly in the furnishing or performing of work, labor, services, materials or supplies of any kind to or for said hospitals by contract or otherwise. 4. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of The City of New York shall within thirty days after the passage of this act prepare a plan for the separation from the Department of Public Charities of the said Bellevue Hospital, and the Fordham, Harlem, Gouverneur and Emergency Hospitals. Such plan shall apportion to each of said hospitals the lands, buildings, fixtures, furniture and other appurtenances and property, and the books, records, vouchers and other papers hitherto used in connection with or for the purposes of said hospitals, and provide in detail for the transfer thereof to said board of trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals on the first day of February, nineteen hundred and two. It shall further apportion to each of said hospitals, the employees and subordinates of every grade in the service of the Department of Public Charities who shall be in service in and about the said hospitals exclusively on said date. To enable said commissioners to prepare such plan, they shall have access to all of the books and papers which are the property of The City of New York in the custody of said Department of Public Charities, and to visit said hospitals, and to require at any and all times the attendance before them of the Commissioner of Public Charities and of any of his employees and subordinates.

5. Said board of trustees shall organize within ten days after said trustees are appointed. It shall annually choose from its members, at a regular meeting to be held in the month of February, a president and a secretary for the term of one year. It shall establish rules and regulations for the administration and government of said hospitals. It shall administer the moneys appropriated for said hospitals, subject to the general provisions of this act relative to the audit and payment of claims. Said board shall have power to appoint and at pleasure remove such superintendents, medical officers, subordinate officers and other employees as may be necessary for the efficient management and conduct of said hospitals, subject to the Civil Service laws and the rules and regulations of the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The board of trustees shall keep accurate and detailed accounts in a form approved by the Comptroller of all moneys received and expended by it, the sources from which they are received and the purposes for which they are expended. It shall during the month of January in each year transmit to the Mayor a report as to the condition of the hospitals under its care and the management thereof during the year ending the preceding thirty-first day of December.

6. The medical board of Bellevue Hospital and Allied Hospitals shall be composed of the attending and consulting physicians and surgeons of said hospitals on the first day of February, nineteen hundred and two. They and such successors as the board of trustees may appoint shall serve without pecuniary compensation, and shall hold office so long as they shall perform their duties in a manner satisfactory to the said board of trustees. Vacancies occurring in said medical board shall be filled by the said board of trustees by appointment from the medical profession in The City of New York. The said board of trustees shall, on nomination of the said medical board, appoint medical and surgical house officers to the said hospitals, all of whom shall serve without pecuniary compensation.

7. Any person injured or taken sick in the streets or in any public square or place within The City of New York, who may not be safely removed to his or her home, may be sent to and shall be received by the said hospitals for temporary care and treatment, irrespective of his or her place of residence. The said board of trustees shall provide and maintain suitable rooms or wards for the reception, medical examination and temporary care of persons alleged to be insane.

8. The said board of trustees may permit the reception and treatment in said hospitals of persons who do not reside in The City of New York, provided that every person so receiving treatment shall be required to pay such sum for board and attendance as may be fixed by said board of trustees, and provided that no such person shall be received to the exclusion of patients who reside in said city. The said board of trustees shall collect and pay over all such moneys to the Chamberlain once every month, and the amount so collected shall be paid into the general fund. The said board of trustees shall, upon making such payments to the Chamberlain, report the same to the Comptroller of The City of New York.

9. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Board of Aldermen shall in each year appropriate such sum as in their judgment may be necessary for the support and maintenance of said hospitals. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees thereof to send to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, on or before the first day of September in each year, an estimate in writing of the sum needed for the ensuing year in the same manner and general form as the heads of departments and other boards of The City of New York are required to furnish.

10. Whenever any sick person in Bellevue or other hospitals hereinbefore mentioned shall, in the judgment of the board of trustees, cease to be a proper case for treatment therein, said board may cause such person to be transferred to the care, custody and control of the Commissioner of Public Charities, who shall forthwith receive and care for such person. In case any sick person under treatment in any of said hospitals shall die while under the care of the board of trustees, the latter, by their properly designated officer or employee, may call upon the Commissioner of Public Charities forthwith to receive and remove the body of such person, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such commissioner forthwith to receive and remove the same for burial or other proper disposition. Seaman, Chief Engineer," and one "Public Service Commission for the First District, Chief Engineer's Office, Route No. 2, 1908, Henry H. Seaman, Chief Engineer."

Pursuant to a resolution of the Public Service Commission for the First District adopted on August 12, 1908, the sale of the above described buildings will be held by the said Commission on September 1, 1908, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., on the premises, upon the following terms and conditions:

The buildings and appurtenances thereon will be sold to the highest bidder, who must pay immediately cash or a certified check drawn to the order of the Comptroller of the City of New York, and must also, at the time of the sale, give a certified check or cash in full the amount of the purchase price as security for the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of the sale. Where the amount of the purchase price does not equal or exceed the sum of fifty dollars the sum of fifty dollars shall be the amount of the security to be deposited. This security may at any time after the expiration of the contract period be applied by the City of New York to the cost of completing any other work required under the contract, but not to be applied to the expiration of the contract period.

All the materials of the buildings, shingles, walls, structures and pillars of whatever nature, with their exterior and interior fixtures, appurtenances and foundations of all kinds, except the sidewalks and curb in front of said buildings extending within the described area and down to the level of the cellar bottom, shall be torn down and removed from the premises. None of the dirt, debris or waste resulting from demolition shall be allowed to remain on the premises except old mortar or plaster only which may be left, but not higher at any point than two feet below the curb opposite that point; also the foundation walls of all classes shall be taken down only to a plane whose elevation shall be the level of the curb in front of the building.

The purchaser at the sale shall also withdraw and remove all abandoned water taps and all service mains, and in place thereof cause to be inserted a brass plug in the main water pipe in the street, in compliance with the rules and regulations of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, and furnish the Department of Finance with a certificate from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity that this has been performed, but this provision shall not apply where portions only of buildings are removed.

The purchaser at the sale shall also remove all house sewer connections to the main sewer in the street, and the opening of the main sewer in street shall be properly closed in compliance with the direction of the Bureau of Sewers, Borough of Manhattan, and furnish the Department of Finance with a certificate from the Bureau of Sewers that this work has been properly performed, but this provision shall not apply where portions only of buildings are removed.

The permits for all openings in the street to be obtained by and at the expense of the purchaser of the building.

Failure to remove said buildings, appurtenances, or any portion thereof within sixty days from the day of the sale, will work forfeiture of ownership of such buildings, appurtenances or portion as shall then be left standing, together with all moneys paid by said purchaser on account thereof at the time of the sale, and the bidders' assent to the above conditions being understood to be implied by the act of bidding, and the City of New York will, without notice to the purchaser, cause the same to be removed and the costs and expense thereof charged against the security above mentioned.

The work of removal must be carried on in every respect in a thorough and workmanlike manner and must be completed within sixty days from the day of sale, and the successful bidder will provide and furnish all materials of labor and machinery necessary thereto, and will place proper and sufficient guards and fences and warning signs by day and night for the prevention of accidents, and will indemnify and save harmless the City of New York its officers, agents and servants and each of them against any and all suits and actions, claims and demands of every name and description brought against it, them or any of them, and against and from all damage and costs to which it, they or any of them may be put by reason of injury to the person or property of another, resulting from negligence or carelessness in the performance of the work, or in guarding the same, or from any improper or defective materials or machinery, implements or appliances used in the removal of the said buildings.

Party walls and fences, when existing against adjacent property not sold, shall not be taken down. All furnishings, plaster, chimneys, projecting brick, etc., on the faces of such party walls are to be taken down and removed. The walls shall be made permanently self-supporting, beam-holes, etc., ripped up, and the walls painted and made to exclude wind and rain and present a clean exterior. The roofs of the adjacent buildings shall be properly flashed and painted and made water tight where they have been disturbed by the operation of the contractor.

The Public Service Commission for the First District reserves the right on the day of sale to withdraw from sale any of the buildings, parts of buildings and machinery included therein, or to reject any and all bids.
