Pursuant to the directions of the resolution of the Board, the Communication Mayor being that occurred on the night of August 15.

Communications were addressed to Mr. Formal Louling, Key, W. H. Brook, and Mr. Frank Moss, requesting that they submit any facts to their possession or but no four Colon No answer was received from Rey, W. H. Brooks. Answer was received from Mr. Moss, copies of which accompany this report.

At the first hearing, Mr. Lynel Landow mounted to sharing a made by William 1. Ellient were investigated.

At the hearing, Mr. Israel Ludlov respected to be permitted to appear a source, and claimed the right to examine and cross-examine witnesses. In view of the last that he as council for a large number of colored people filed claims against The Uliy of New York, claiming damages in large amounts for alleged assaults committed by Police officers, and bolissing that the desire and intention of said attorney was to the the lovestigation of the charge mode by Elliott before your Committee, more as a means to aid how in his brigation than to assau the Committee in arriving at the true facts, he was denied the right to appear as commed. Ullion and every other person who was shown in any way to have any knowledge in regail to the assault was examined by your Committee under outh; the testimony accommands that report. From an examination of the same it will appear that Elliott's conduct on the night of August 15 was such as to justify his arrest.

No claim is made that he was assaulted on the street, or while in costody on the way to be station-house, but that the assault was committed in the muster-room of the station-house.

The testimony of Elliott is corroborated by that of three disinterested beweepaper men who, while not in all respects agreeing as to the particulars of the occurrence, substantially agree in stating that Elliott was prefect or misused while on his way through the master room to the cell to occurrence there were sixty or eventy officers in the room which made it occurs for the Doorman to push his way, and the way of the presoner, Elliott, through the

at the time of the occurrence there were say or overty oncers in the room which made it necessary for the Doorman to push his way, and the way of the prisoner, Elliott, through the officers while going to the cell-mom which was at the extreme end of the master-room.

The testimony of Elliott and the other witnesses is faily contradicted by the Acting Captain, the Doorman and a number of officers. Elliott, both in the station-house and in the trial room during the investigation, stared that he could not identify any such officer who had assaulted him, and when asked if it would be possible for him to identify any such officer. If every utilizer who was in the station-house at the time of the assault was placed before him, he scand that he could not identify any one.

The other witnesses who had in part corroborated. Elliott were just as emphatic in their statement that they could not identify any officer as having assaulted Elliott. This practically dispuses of the specific complaint of assault, except in so far as the Commanding Sergeant might be responsible for knowingly permitting a prisoner to be abused in his station-house and failing to take action thereon. Acting Captain Conney swears positively that no assault was committed in his presence or to his knowledge; that he was in the minter-room at about the time of the alleged assault, and that he would have seen it had it occurred. He is corroborated in this by a number of witnesses. An object who nould commit an assault on a proposer in a station-house, or permit such an oscalar, is a control and annit to wear the uniform of the force. The gravity at such a charge is apparent, and the evidence to sustain it should be clear and coavincing. The evidence in this case is very controllers and the bias of the complainant is apparent, and no conviction of a violation of the Kules in the Department could be sustained on this evidence, and it is not such as would tearly the placing of a commanding officer on trial charged with such an it is not such as would justify the placing of a commanding officer on trial charged with such an

Your Committee took means to ascertain the names of every person who claimed to have been mattreated by the Police; such names were taken from the blotter of arrests and also from the public prints. They were subprended and publicly examined under oath, as well as all officers who were shown to have any connection with the different cases or with the riotons mulde as a whole.

While it is apparent from the testimony taken that many people were clubbed, it must be borne in mind that the conditions existing in the neighborhood of the trouble were very serious. A few dars provious a polynomial, while in the discharge of his duty, had been killed by a colored man, which created as uneasy testing on the part of the colored residents of the district.

On the evening procedure the day of the uneral of the officer, a colored man maned Walters as arrested for attempting to shoot a white man maned Healy; through the trouble a large crowd gathered, and Walters, he along away from Healy, discharged his revolver in the disconnect from the discount of the crowds of people increased. This was undoubtedly the immediate cause which led to the disorder may the assumits which followed.

Your computitive has had calculated expects from the Inspector of the District and the Action.

This course is a comparison of the course of the course of the District and the Acting Capitan of the Twentieth thee et, in which precinc most all of the trouble occurred; they have also and reports showing the number of officers and man performing duty in this district, and the means taken for the proteins at the public peace during the existence of the district; and the means taken for the proteins at the public peace during the existence of the district; and while it is apparent that the officers on duty used their clubs in their effort to restand of charge against a volunt of the coaten by your committee which will justify the preference of charge against a volunt of the use of his club, as in the specific cases where the officer has been destribed by a complainant the existence taken is of such a contradictory character and the best of the complicates to approve that the fact of clubbing would not on the trial of a clump to a proven as in instill a cour cities.
