SANITARY COMPANY.

The transactions of the Sanitary Company for the quarter, setting forth the number of steam-boilers examined, and their condition, and the number of applicants for examination as engineers, will be found in schedule annexed, marked "D."

The report of the Sanitary Company shows the very large number of 4,011 stationary steam-boilers in the City of New York—3,291 of which are under the direct supervision of the Police Department, and are subject to periodical inspection by officers of the Sanitary Company.

There are at this date 229 steam-boilers insured by the Fidelity and Casualty Co., and 491 insured by the Hartford Steam-boiler Inspection and Insurance Co. These companies are acting (it is believed) under authority of chapter 614, Laws of 1874, and make monthly reports to this Department, as required by the provisions of said act. Notwithstanding the fact that these 720 boilers are inspected and the premises they occupy insured by the above named companies, the Board of Police are not wholly exempt from the responsibility attached to their use, inasmuch as every engineer or other person in charge of a stationary steam-boiler in the City of New York must be examined by and receive his certificate from this Department. While it is not denied (in the absence of positive information on the subject) that the inspection of the 720 boilers referred to is thorough and satisfactory, yet there is a divided responsibility which ought not exist. Either these companies should have the authority to examine and license the engineers for their 720 boilers, or the boilers should be placed under the supervision of this Department.

The act of 1862, which placed the inspection of steam-boilers in this city under the supervision and authority of the State government, has always been regarded as wise and proper. It was deemed prudent to charge the duty of such inspection upon the then Metropolitan Police, and the very few accidents and the comparatively small loss of life and property resulting from boiler explosions in this city is the best proof that the duty has been well performed. It may not be considered that steam-boiler inspection is a legitimate police duty, but the public welfare demands that the work should be done by government (State or city) authority, in order that the responsibility for accidents may be placed where it properly belongs.

Attention is respectfully called to this important subject.

PROPERTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

The value of lost and stolen property recovered and restored to owners, and other transactions of the Property Clerk's office for the quarter, will be found in schedule annexed, marked "E."
