STATEMENT FROM MAYOR DE BLASIO ON BLOOD SHORTAGE

“New York City’s blood supply is experiencing a shortage due to cancellations related to inclement weather. I urge healthy New Yorkers to help us rebuild our blood bank and set aside less than one hour of their time to donate blood—it’s not painful, you will get a free basic medical exam, and most importantly, you can help save many lives. Anyone interested in donating should call (800) 933-BLOOD (2566) or visit nybloodcenter.org.”
