the offender of his play time. He is required to stand in ranks during his recreation periods for a length of time depending on the nature and gravity of the offense.

The day begins and ends with the sound of the gong. To give to each boy as much instruction as possible in both school and shop the work of the day is divided into two parts. One-half of the boys are at school in the morning, and the other half are at work. In the afternoon the conditions are reversed; those who were at work in the morning being at school, and those who were at school being at work. The schedule of daily exercises is as follows: The boys rise at 6 o'clock, make up their beds, dress, wash, and slacken their shoes. Inspection follows at 6:30.

Breakfast at 7. At 7:30, a lecture is given by the Superintendent on the current news of the day. At 7:45, music. At 8:15, recitations and shop work begin. At 10, there is an intermission of fifteen minutes for the boys at school. At 11:15, the school is dismissed. At 11:45, midday inspection.

Dinner at 12. At 12:45, military drill and calisthenics. At 1:30, recitations and shop work begin and continue until 4:30. At 5:45, evening inspection.

Supper at 6. At 7, the preparation of lessons for the next day is begun, and is continued until 8:30. At 9, taps are sounded, and all the boys are required to be in bed.

Systematic instruction is given daily, morning and afternoon, in the common English branches. When our boys enter the school, in no way do they more clearly show the neglect from which they have suffered than in their backward mental development. They are far below the average attainments of boys of their years, and in many cases are unable to read or write. Experience proves in the main that the fault is not theirs, and is not due to lack of ability. Their powers have never been cultivated. Under the influence of careful, intelligent exercise day by day, in the school room and in the shop, their minds soon respond, and the boys show good progress. Thoroughness is insisted upon. Instruction is given in arithmetic, English, geography, history, writing, spelling, drawing, shorthand and typewriting.

Recitations are marked and graded, and the class record of each boy is preserved. The following is a schedule of recitations for the past session:

In addition to the common English branches, daily instruction is given in geography and typewriting to three classes. Several of the boys have gained such proficiency in these studies as to be of practical assistance in the office work of the institution. Music, vocal and instrumental, and drawing form a part of each day's school routine.

A helpful adjunct to the education of the boys is an informal newspaper told by the Superintendent every morning at half-past seven in the large study hall. The occurrences of the preceding day in the life of the institution are also discussed. This has the effect of arousing in the mind of the boy an intelligent personal interest in his own welfare and through him in the welfare of the School. He learns to regard the institution not as a place of detention designed for his punishment, but rather as a home and school where his well-being, physical, mental and moral, is of first importance.

During the past year we have inaugurated a banking system by which the boys are given their first knowledge in business methods. All moneys received by them from relatives and friends are deposited with the Superintendent. Deposit slips and blank checks, printed in the School printing office, are employed in these transactions. The boys learn by actual experience not only the rudiments of commercial banking, but the value of money as well, and are thereby encouraged in economy. Boys having accounts are required to pay from them for any careless or willful deterioration of School property for which they are responsible. Those having no deposits may open and all the School's "credit" and liquidate such indebtedness. A credit is bestowed on a boy of an hour and a half out of school time. The monetary value of a credit among the boys varies from one to three cents according to the supply and demand. These transfers from one boy to another are made by means of checks as in the money transactions.

The religious instruction of the boys is attended to carefully. It has been possible for the Protestant boys to attend service in Sunday morning in the nearby churches. In inclement weather service is held at the school. Owing to the location of the institution it is necessary to hold Catholic and Jewish services in our own chapel. In this connection we are glad to acknowledge the faithful service rendered by the Fathers attached to the Church of St. Francis de Chantal, in Blytheburn, and of the Rabbi, Dr. Adolph Radin, of New York.

During the past year the shops have been running under full force. Instruction has been given daily, morning and afternoon, in printing, tailoring, shoemaking, knitting, carpentering, wood turning, scroll-sawing, carving, ironwork, painting and glazing, tin-smithing, boiler and electric engineering. The boys manufacture every article of clothing they wear—shoes, stockings, drawers, undershirts, shirts, sweaters, uniforms and caps.

Since my last report the shoe-shop and the wood-turning shop have been equipped with shafting, pulleys, etc., and a motor connected with the dynamo has been placed in each shop to supply driving power for the machines. These additions have materially increased the output and improved the quality of the work done.

In a room in the basement of the main building, where a baker's oven has been constructed, a dough mixer was installed, and properly connected by shafting and pulleys with an electric motor for the purpose of training the boys as bakers and satisfying the needs of the School in this direction. Our baker supplies we have been obliged to buy in the open market. We have not been able to use this plant for the lack of necessary alterations to the room which we have repeatedly requested of the authorities having jurisdiction over our buildings, the Department of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies.

In addition to the work in the shops the boys are employed in the house, kitchen, laundry and sewing-room, and during the summer months squads are kept busy at kitchen and landscape gardening. The entire care of the vegetable garden and lawns is given over to the boys, under proper supervision.

It is impossible to estimate the worth to the boys of the training they receive in the shops. As a feature of their education, considered in its large sense, the work of the shop is of greater value than that of the school room. It develops both head and hand, furnishes interesting employment, cultivates industry, and supplies the means for self-support and usefulness. It is to be regretted that our accommodations in the way of buildings are so poor and inadequate that we are hampered on every side in the development of this work. The tin shop is in a corner of the garret of a frame building nearly a hundred years old; the shoe shop is in the basement of the same building, where the space under a porch has been inclosed for the purpose and daylight can scarcely find its way; the lathe shop has to be lighted by artificial means; and all are cramped for room and are ill adapted to the purpose for which they are used.

This is true not merely of the shops, but also of the buildings as a whole. The dormitories and class-rooms are overcrowded; the washrooms are altogether too small; there is no place for lockers for the boys' change of clothing; the dining-room is dark and poorly ventilated; there is not adequate room for the employees. Twenty-seven of the boys removed to the New York Catholic Protectorate at the time of the fire in March, 1899, we have been unable to return to our own institution, owing entirely to lack of accommodations and to the constantly increasing number committed to our care. We need a new building built for our purpose and fitted up with modern appliances that will enable us to do the work of making men as perfectly as it deserves and as we should like to have it done. The cost to the City would be slight compared with the returns it would receive in good citizens.

The installation by the Board of Managers of a chronic accumulator storage battery has proved a valuable addition to our electric-light plant. By its aid we are enabled to secure from the labor of an eight-hour day twenty-four hours of service in furnishing motive power for our shops and illumination for our buildings and grounds. Instruction is also made possible in electric mechanics.

So far my report has treated of the life of the boys in school and shop. It is our desire to keep their minds and hands so occupied that they can have neither time nor thought for mischief, and to so vary their duties that the daily routine shall not become monotonous. But at the same time we take care that this shall not be gained at the expense of health and recreation. Periods are set aside in the day's schedule for play and rest. Every school afternoon the boys are drilled in military tactics and calisthenics. The privates have been supplied with muskets and the officers with proper side arms. These accomplishments, together with the martial music furnished by a band organized some time a year ago, add greatly to the interest and pride of the boys in the institution and in themselves. To the drill, and the intelligently regulated exercise, and the regular life of each day we feel that we owe much of our immunity from sickness. Hereto is attached a copy of the diary, to which we feel justified by experience in adhering. It is materially the same as that of last year.

Up to the time of the outbreak of typhoid fever, early in October, the health of the boys was excellent. There had been only two cases of serious illness; one of pneumonia, which was followed by complete recovery, and one of tubercular peritonitis. This boy was discharged to his home on the application of his guardian and the advice of our physician. Several cases of minor ailments were not rare but in advantage. Those requiring general treatment were sent to St. Peter's Hospital; and four received occasional treatment at the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital. Our thanks are again due to Dr. John D. Rushmore, who has continued to give his valuable services without compensation to the institution whenever needed.

Early in October a number of the boys reported at the School hospital, complaining of pains and nausea. The house physician diagnosed and treated the cases as malarial. Later, however, the symptoms developed so seriously, and were so peculiar and erratic that Dr. John D. Rushmore was called in consultation. A careful examination of the patients and the hospital charts resulted in no positive diagnosis, though the sustained seriousness of the illness, in conjunction with the unsatisfactory condition of the buildings, indicated that the outbreak might be typhoid. Notice was sent to the Board of Health, together with blood cultures taken from each patient. Dr. F. A. Leont, of the Health Department, visited the School, pronounced the malady to be typhoid fever, and recommended the removal of those patients, whose condition made such action advisable, to one of the hospitals of the city, where more room and proper ventilation and convenience could be had. Eight boys were transferred to the Kings County Hospital, where they are now convalescing.

The same day that Dr. Jewett visited the school, Saturday, October 21, in the evening, Robert Green, fifteen years of age, died, apparently of heart failure. He was never a robust boy. And though the outbreak in his case assumed a serious nature his improvement for three days before his death had been so marked as to justify confident hopes of his ultimate recovery. He was buried at the expense of the School in Evergreen Cemetery. His is the first death that has occurred at the School since its organization.

The origin of the outbreak can be attributed only to the long-existing, general unsanitary condition of the premises. It is a comfort for congratulation that an epidemic had not occurred long before. As soon as the gravity of the case became apparent, every precaution was taken to prevent the spread of the disease. How effective these measures were is evident from the fact that there have been no subsequent cases, although more than enough time has elapsed for the appearance of the malady if it still threatened.

On October 23 the building was closed by the Board of Health. The boys were transferred temporarily to the New York Catholic Protectorate, in the Borough of The Bronx, there being no suitable institution in Kings County to which they could be moved, and the time allowed five days, before they could resume and fit quarters.

Never before was our need for a properly equipped hospital and isolation ward so strongly emphasized as during this sickness. Every makeshift had to be resorted to that proper attention might be given to the typhoid cases, and, without neglecting the others and losses of the other boys. The few requires that every boy when received into the institution shall be placed at strict quarantine thereafter from the other inmates until discharged from such supervision by the house physician. No such quarters have ever been provided us.

It is with pleasure that I speak of one feature connected with the closing of our School and the removal of the boys at the time of the typhoid outbreak, and that is the manifestation of the positive attitude that has come over the spirit of the boys under our present method of management. Their reluctance at leaving and regret at the break in their school life were evidenced by word and act. This feeling is shared also by the parents and guardians of the boys. Scores of letters were soon received inquiring about the probable length of the boys' absence, and expressing deepest gratitude to what has been done for the boys and commendation of the methods employed. There could be no higher or more acceptable tribute to the work of the Board of Managers and those actively engaged in the conduct of the School.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES H. SUMWAL, Superintendent.

AUGUSTUS T. DOCHARTY, Secretary.

We respectfully request a further extension of time of two years, for the reasons mainly stated in our letter of May 1, 1899, as the work cannot be fully completed in less time, although every man and machine that can be used for speedy and complete work is now and has been used by us in carrying out our contract with the City.

It might not be out of place to make a comparison with other works that have been recently completed. For instance, all the contracts let by the Aqueduct Commissioners have taken from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. more time to complete than was originally named in the contract.

The only works of similar character in the world that approach in magnitude the New Croton Dam contract with which we could fairly make a comparison are the Furens Dam and the Vyřvay Dam in England, the latter being about half the size of the New Croton Dam and requiring about eleven years to complete.

To cite some of the reasons why you should extend the time for two years from the 1st of January, 1901, I will mention that you originally intended, when you let the contract and named the time as seven years, to build only about 550,000 cubic yards of masonry. You have changed your plans from time to time, as you had the right to do, so that when the work is completed there will be about 750,000 cubic yards of masonry; this item in itself would require two years' additional time. But in addition you have, in changing your plans, increased the item of earth excavation from about 600,000 cubic yards to about 1,400,000 cubic yards, upon which we could reasonably ask two years' additional time. The item of rock excavation will also be increased from about 300,000 cubic yards to about 350,000 cubic yards. This item would fairly require an additional year's time.

Many of the other items in the contract have been proportionately increased, therefore we respectfully request that you extend our time from the 1st of January, 1901, to January 1, 1903.

Yours respectfully,

COLEMAN, BREUCHAUD & COLEMAN.

Whereupon Commissioner Power offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, Application has been made by Coleman, Breuchaud & Coleman, assignees of Coleman, Ryan & Brown, contractors, for an extension of time to January 1, 1903, in which to complete their contract for building the New Croton Dam, on Croton river, at Cornell Hill, in the Town of Cortlandt, Westchester County, New York; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Aqueduct Commissioners hereby grant to Coleman, Breuchaud & Coleman, assignees of Coleman, Ryan & Brown, contractors, an additional extension of time to January 1, 1903, in which to complete the contract above referred to, providing their businesses shall, within ten days from the date hereof, enter into stipulations containing their obligations for and during the completion of said contract under said extension of time, which is hereby allowed to them as further time for the performance of said contract.

SEALED BIDS OR ESTIMATES WILL BE RECEIVED by the Department of Public Charities, at the above office, until 12 o'clock noon, on MONDAY, JANUARY 22, 1901.

This contract is to be performed and the supplies furnished and delivered within the year 1901, and as required by the Commissioners, and as provided in the contract.

Samples will be on exhibition at the General Drug Department, on the grounds of Bellevue Hospital, during office hours, until the bids are opened.

All bids must be based upon the descriptions furnished or samples exhibited by this Department and not on samples furnished by the bidder.

The articles, supplies, goods, wares and merchandise are to be delivered, free of expense, at the General Drug Department, on the grounds of Bellevue Hospital, in such quantities and at such times as may be required.

No. 5. FOR FURNISHING AND DELIVERING DRY GOODS, HORSES, LUMBER, LABOR, ETC.

In cases every item must be bid on, and award will be made to the lowest bidder for such class, except where otherwise stated.

All estimates not conforming to these requirements may be considered as informal.

The Department reserves the right of reducing the quantity of any article to be furnished if the demand therefor should diminish or cease.

The person or persons making an estimate shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title given above of the work for which the estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation, to the head of said Department, at the said office, on or before the day and hour above named, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law, as soon thereafter as practicable.

The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated therein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as a surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank form of bid mentioned below.

No estimate will be received or considered unless accompanied by a certified check, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies or the nature and extent of the work required or of the materials to be furnished, bidders are referred to the printed specifications.

Bidders will write out the amount of their estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.
