The Special Committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to examine and inquire into the plan submitted by Alderman Kehr, "to relieve the distress among the laboring classes, and to furnish work for the unemployed, and to report at the next meeting of this Board how far it would be practicable to set the same in operation," beg leave to

REPORT:

That the plan referred to the consideration of your committee, is substantially: to authorize the City Government to purchase from manufacturers with the public moneys, saleable articles, in-order to prevent the blockade of our home mart ket with goods for which there is no or but a limited demand, said articles to be sold at foreign ports, or exchanged for such goods as are not manufactured here. To conduct this business it is proposed to appoint a commission, to consist of six or eight of our prominent business men, who shall be empowered to designate competent and trustworthy persons to act as "commission merchante" to export those articles, to sell or exmerchants" to export those articles, to sell or ex-change them, and turn the proceeds over to the City Government.

This scheme is not so much a plan for the relief of the distress among the working classes as it is for the benefit of certain manufacturers whom the city would have to supply with customers for articles for which there may not be sufficient demand to enable them to keep their establishments in operation, and the municipality to take the risk for an attempt "to make water run up the hill."

The fact that neither the Common Council nor the executive branch of our municipal govern-ment, either singly or conjointly, possess a ment, either singly or conjointly, possess a shadow of authority to squander the money raised by taxation of the whole people for the special benefit of one or the other portion of the business community, and that the State Legislature, although it has at times evinced an inclination to tavor corrupt schemes for the city of New York, has as yet given no grounds for suspicion that it would abuse its power by legalizing such an attempt to rob the many in the interest of the few, is sufficient to denounce this whole project as absurd and wholly impracticable, and therefore not entitled to earnest consideration.

Since however, during the labor agitation of entitled to earnest consideration.

Since, however, during the labor agitation of the past few months many propositions have been advanced characterized by the same false apprehension of the rights and duties of our government—although having the appearance of more plausibility—it may not be improper in this connection to call attention to the absurdity and pernicious effect of such agitation. The legitimate rights, duties and functions of our city government consist in protecting the life, health and property of its citizens, to afford health and property of its citizens, to afford full scope and opportunity for the promotion and development of their general facul-ties, and to inaugurate and complete such public improvements as are necessary for the general weifare. It has no means except such as are deweifare. It has no means except such as are derived from taxation, what it expends on the one hand it must take from the people with the other; and therefore to apply the public money to the partial benefit of one portion of our business community must assuredly be regarded as robbing all the other portions, and this would continue to "grow by what it feeds on," giving rise to a war of "all against all," resulting in general ruin and anarchy.

The unemployed workingmen thrown into disaster by a crisis, which they have not caused and could neither prevent nor mitigate, ought not be so much censured, if they seek to relieve their embarassment by asking legislative aid of doubtful propriety, but if men who are in a position to better inform themselves of the legitimate doubtur propriety, but if men who are in a posi-tion to better inform themselves of the legitimate powers and authority of government, put forth propositions chimerical and contrary to public policy, which must result in causing detriment and injury to those who seek to be benefited—it generally results in impressing the workingmen with the belief that all claims pretending to assist with the belief that all claims pretending to assist them are just and practicable without regard to them are just and practicable without regard to right and laws, or to their ultimate influence on the community and society; and when, to repress disorders occasioned by such agitation, strong and severe measures are found necessary, the poor, misguided ones generally become the vic-tims, instead of those who have sown the wind and should reap the whirlwind.

It is to be hoped that the apparent symptoms of a revival of business activity will soon remove the causes which have developed a sort of error neous public sentiment during the past few months. Our citizens will perceive the anomamonths. Our citizens will perceive the anomalous and humiliating position in which they would be placed if the Government should assume the superintendence and control of their industries aod of their social and domestic life. Such a state of affairs would be incompatible with the preservation of Republican institutions, and could only result in an early destruction of all that constitutes the pride of the American results.

The chief requisite for a revival of business activity, by which remunerative work for the un-employed would be secured, is that plant of proverbially slow growth—confidence. Such propositions, however, as have been referred to the consideration of your Committee must create mistrust, paralyze the energy of our business men, and vitally stifle the progress towards a healthy reaction.

healthy reaction.

If the Common Council of the City of New York did not indignantly reject a scheme by which one portion of our citizens are to be pillaged to enable others to manufacture goods for which there is no home demand, and which, therefore, would have to be sacrificed and squandered at foreign ports, then, indeed, it would not be surprising if sensible and prudent business men seek other places as fields for their enterprise, instead of remaining in a city whose Com-mon Council entertains the ridiculous opinion that it can repeal the laws of nature and set everything topsy-turvey.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

From the proceedings of the Board of Aldernen, January 26, 1874:

Alderman Kehr here arose and addressed the Chair in explanation of a plan he intended to propose for the relief of the workingmen of this city, and was proceeding at length when Alderman Van Schaick rose to a point of order and stated it to be that there being no question before the Board Alderman Kehr was out of order.

the Board Alderman Kehr was out of order.

The President ruled the point of order to be well taken, whereupon Alderman Kehr present-well taken, whereupon Alderman Kehr presented the following:

In order to relieve the distress among the laboring classes and in order to furnish work for the unemployed, be it resolved, that a committee of three be appointed to examine and inquire into the plan submitted by Alderman Kehr, and to report at the next meeting of this Board how far it would be practicable to set the same in operation.

The government to raise the amount of money as might be agreed, and to apply it in getting the manufacturers to employ men and to manufacture for the city government such articles as facture for the city government such articles as are generally manufactured by them, and such as are saleable and market articles, the city government to dispose of them, and in order not to blockade our home market the articles to be sent to foreign ports, there to be sold for money or exchanged for goods such as is saleable in this market, and such as are not produced in this city. The government to appoint a commission consisting of six or eight of the best business men from the different branches of manufacturing, these commissioners to be applied to by the manufacturers for an order of such articles as they facturers for an order of such articles as they generally manufacture, These commissioners are also to examine and approve of the work when delivered to the city. The commissioners to employ the most competent and the most trustworthy commission merchants of this city to export the work to foreign ports and there to cause the articles to be sold or exchanged, and they to deliver to the city government such re-turns as might have been possible for them to obtain by the sale or exchange of the articles entrusted to them for the aforesaid purpose.

Alderman Cooper moved that the resolution be adopted and the plan be laid over. Which was lost on division. Affirmative—The President, Alderman Bil-lings, Falconer, McCafferty, Ottendorfer and lings, Falconer, McCanery, Van Schaick-6. Negative-Aldermen Cooper, Flanagan, Gilon, Kehr, Koch, Lysaght, Monheimer, Morris and Alderman Ottendorfer moved that the whole subject a laid on the table.

Which was lost.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the resolution, which was agreed to by the following vote:

Affirmative - Aldermen Cooper, Flanagan, Gilon, Kehr, Koch, Lysaght, Monheimer and Negative—The President, Aldermen Billings, Falconer, McCafferty Morris, Ottendorler and Van Schaick—7.

Van Schaick—7.

And the President appointed as such committee Aldermen Kehr, Ottendorfer and Falconer.
