

CHAPTER 35      UNAVOIDABLE ADVERSE IMPACTS

Unavoidable adverse impacts are defined as those that meet either of the following two criteria:

- There are no reasonably practicable mitigation measures to eliminate the impact; or
- There are no reasonable alternatives to the proposed project that would meet the purpose and need of the action, eliminate the impact, and not cause other or similar significant adverse impacts.

Site-specific analyses predict that any impacts identified are capable of being mitigated. Therefore, there are no unavoidable adverse impacts associated with the development of any facility option or with the implementation of the Proposed Plan Facilities overall.
