OFFICIAL JOURNAL.

VOL. II.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1874.

NUMBER 436.

PROCLAMATION.

With a grateful remembrance of the bountiful blessings of our Heavenly Father during the present year, in the abundant yield of the fruits of the earth, in our exemption from pestilence and other evils to which our great metropolis is ever liable, and in the prevalence of peace and concord throughout our widely extended country,—I recommend to the people of this city the observance of Thursday, the 26th day of November inst., set apart by the President of the United States and the Governor of this State as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, earnestly hoping, that with such calls to gratitude, the more favored among our citizens will extend to those less fortunate an opportunity of participating in the enjoyments of this happy festival.

Given under my hand and seal, at the Mayor's office, this twentieth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

W. F. HAVEMEYER,

City Superintendent.

The President laid before the Board the following report of the City Superintendent:

CITY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
NEW YORK, Nov. 18, 1874.

To the Honorable the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to report that since the 1st inst. the several Colored Schools under the care of the Board have been visited and examined.

In these schools there were enrolled on the 1st inst. 1,164 pupils, of whom the average attendance during the preceding month was 660, showing a rate of 18 per cent. of absenteeism. This, though large when compared with that of the other schools, shows a decided improvement in regularity of attendance in this class of schools.

The whole number of classes was 34, the instruction in only one of which was found to have been excellent; in 18 it was good, in 11 fair, and in four indifferent. The order and discipline of the classes are reported as somewhat better than this.

The general management in these schools, including discipline, classification, and supervision and direction by the Principal, is reported as follows:

In No. 1, Male Department.....Indifferent.
“ 1, Female “.....Good.
“ 2, Grammar “.....“
“ 2, Primary “.....“
“ 3, Grammar, “.....Excellent.
“ 3, Primary, “.....Fair.

The attendance in No. 3 has considerably increased since September last, and many of the classes are now quite crowded. An additional Teacher seems to be needed in this school.

In No. 1, as above reported, the management is not efficient. The Principal, though repeatedly admonished, is frequently late in his attendance, and does not properly supervise the classes, or keep the prescribed records. As the two departments of this school are maintained as separate schools, at very great expense, I recommend their consolidation, and that the whole school be organized and conducted as No. 4, which is of the same character and grade.

The usual monthly returns from the schools show that on the 1st inst. the whole number of pupils enrolled was 109,028, and that the average attendance for October last was 100,676, which is an increase of 7,815 over that of last year.

I submit also a schedule showing the classes in which the absenteeism during the same month was in excess of 20 per cent.

Very respectfully,

HENRY KIDDLE,

City Superintendent.

Ordered, That said report be entered in full in the minutes, and placed on file.

By the President—

The President announced that he had substituted the name of Commissioner Fuller on all Committees, in place of Commissioner Hoe.

To the Board of Education:

The Executive Committee on Nautical School, in compliance with section 2 of the Act of April 24, 1873, which requires them to recommend the rules and regulations which they deem necessary and proper for such school, present herewith, for the consideration of the Board, “Rules for the Admission of Boys” to said school, together with four forms of certificates to be given by the parent or guardian of the applicant desiring admission to the school, the Examining Surgeon and the Chairman of the Committee, in cases in which the examination of the applicant result satisfactory. These have been carefully considered, and, in the opinion of those who have had much experience in marine organization, are suitable for the proper conduct of the school which we are about to commence. Your Committee propose to have them adopted now, if no serious objection is presented, and under their supervision to be printed, for which they ask your authority and a resolution to that effect is appended.

Resolved, That the “Rules for the Admission of Boys” to the Nautical School, and the form of certificates herewith presented, be and they are hereby adopted for the government of said school, and that the Committee are hereby authorized to have them printed for use, and paid for from the Nautical School Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID WETMORE,

WM. DOWD,

JOS. SELIGMAN,

Executive Committee on Nautical School.

NEW YORK NAUTICAL SCHOOL—SHIP ST. MARYS.

Rules for the Admission of Boys.

1. Application for admission into the New York Nautical School, on board the ship St. Mary's may be made by parents or guardians of boys, or by the boys themselves, in person or by letter, to the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Education, on the Nautical School, at 146 Grand street, New York City.

2. All applicants should be at least 15 years of age; should have the written consent of their parents or guardians to their becoming pupils of the school (Form No. 1), and should produce written testimonials of good character and health, and also satisfactory evidence that they have never been convicted of any crime (Form No. 2), see Act of Congress, passed in 1874, “To encourage the establishment of public marine schools.”

3. The Executive Committee, or its duly appointed representatives, being satisfied that the requirements of section 2 have been fulfilled, the applicant will be examined physically. The Examining Surgeon will be careful to recommend none but boys who give promise of good physical development. He will reject any one who has the slightest defect in sight, hearing, or limbs, who is liable to any disease, or who is in any respect constitutionally unfit for the hardships and changes incident to a sea life.

4. Having passed the necessary physical examination, the applicant will be required to show that he is able to spell with a fair degree of accuracy, to read with tolerable correctness and ease, to write legibly, and to answer questions upon the multiplication table.

Natural intelligence and animation will receive their proper weight in cases where the applicants do not appear to have had the benefit of suitable instruction.

5. If found qualified in all respects, the applicant will receive a permit to report on board the ship (Form No. 4). Inclosed with the permit will be the originals of the certificates of parents or guardians, and of the report of the Examining Surgeon (Form No. 3), which papers are to be presented to and will be carefully preserved by the Superintendent.

6. After being received on board the ship, the boy will be placed on probation for a period of two weeks, when, if no reason to the contrary shall appear, he will be admitted permanently and entered on the records of the school.

7. After admission each boy will be furnished with the necessary articles of bedding and clothing appropriate to the season, the cost of which he will be required to defray; and such of his old clothing as is not suitable for ship's wear will be given to him to send home, if possible; otherwise it will be retained and given to him upon his first vacation, or upon his final leaving of the school. All articles belonging to scholars will be marked with the owner's name.

8. The boys will be carefully instructed under the direction of the Superintendent of the school in reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, geography, and English grammar; and in all the duties of a seaman; they will be examined from time to time, and those who show a lack of aptitude for a sea life, or develop any physical disqualification, will be presented to their parents or guardians for withdrawal from the school.

9. After a sufficient trial, the vicious or incorrigibly bad lad will be peremptorily dismissed.

10. The course of instruction will cover a period of two years, during which time every boy will be allowed such vacations as the School Committee may hereafter determine, the general character and progress of the scholar being carefully considered. At the end of the two year's term, every boy who has passed through the course successfully will receive a certificate showing his character and qualifications, which certificate, with such aid as the Committee will always gladly render, will enable him to obtain a suitable position on board a good merchant ship.

11. Boys who have enjoyed the benefit of a good common school education, and who are otherwise sufficiently advanced, will be instructed in practical navigation and in such other branches pertaining to the higher duties of a seaman as may be found necessary and convenient.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

OPINION OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION.

Where a certificate of election was given to one person, who entered upon and performed the duties of a Civil Justice in the City of New York, and the rival candidate obtained a judgment at a Special Term of the Supreme Court that he was the actual person elected to the office; held, after an affirmance at a General Term, that the latter was entitled to receive the salary awarded by law to the office from the date of the judgment at the Special Term.

LAW DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION, NEW YORK, November 17, 1874.

HON. ANDREW H. GREEN, Comptroller:

SIR—In your letter of the 10th instant, you enclose a certified copy order of affirmance in the case of the People, ex rel. John A. Stemmler vs. Joseph McGuire, being a suit for the determination of the right to the office of Civil Justice. It appears that the certificate of election was awarded to McGuire, who entered upon the duties of the office, and became ex officio Judge. The Court, however, determined that Stemmler was the person actually elected. An appeal from this judgment was taken to the General Term of the Supreme Court, where the judgment was affirmed, and the right of the plaintiff, John A. Stemmler, to the office was adjudged. You state that Mr. Stemmler applies for payment of his salary as Justice of the Seventh Judicial District Court, and you request my opinion as to the claim.

There is no doubt that Mr. Stemmler is entitled to receive salary as Justice of the Court in question, from the 24th of November, 1873, when he obtained his original judgment at the Special Term of the Supreme Court. From that date he has been such Justice, and so continues at the present time.

I return the certified copy order which you transmitted to me.

I am, sir,

Very respectfully,

E. DELAFIELD SMITH, Counsel to the Corporation.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The President pro tem. laid before the Board the following:

LAW DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE
COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, November 17, 1874.

General JOSEPH C. PINCKNEY:

SIR—I have received the following resolution: "Whereas, In a recent decision made by the Court of Appeals, it was held that no claim was a legal charge against the county, unless the same should have been properly audited and allowed by the Board of Supervisors. There being now a large number of claims for labor, materials, etc., supplied to the county prior to the passage of the 'Consolidation Act' remaining unpaid, it is necessary that some action should be taken in order that the said claims should be properly settled; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Legal Adviser of this Board be and he is hereby requested to furnish, at his earliest convenience, an opinion as to the powers and duties of the Board in auditing claims against the county incurred prior or subsequent to the passage of the act consolidating the City and County of New York.

"J. C. PINCKNEY,
"Clerk."

I presume the decision referred to in the above resolution was in the case of The People, on the relation of James Ryan vs. Andrew H. Green, Comptroller of the City of New York. The Honorable the Board of Supervisors is, however, entirely mistaken as to the tenor of that decision.

Mr. Ryan commenced proceedings in the Court of Common Pleas, in August, 1873, against the Comptroller, to compel payment of salary claimed by him as Deputy Clerk of the Court of Special Sessions for the period from February 1, 1873, to May 31, 1873. In December, 1873, the Special Term of the Common Pleas issued a writ of peremptory mandamus requiring the Comptroller to pay the claim. An appeal was taken by me to the General Term of the Common Pleas, and such appeal was argued in March, 1874. On the 4th of May, 1874, the General Term affirmed the decision of the Special Term. An appeal was thereupon taken by me to the Court of Appeals, which last appeal was argued on the 10th day of June, 1874. The act to consolidate the governments of the City and County of New York was passed April 30, 1874; but, although the argument in the Court of Appeals was some time subsequent, the effect of this statute upon the payment of county claims was not discussed by counsel upon the argument, nor considered by the Court. The principal questions in the case were, whether Mr. Ryan could hold the offices of Deputy Clerk of the Court of Special Sessions and of Member of the Assembly at the same time; and whether the Court of Common Pleas had jurisdiction over mandamus proceedings. The point was also raised, on behalf of the Comptroller, that the Court of Common Pleas had erred in granting the writ, because Mr. Ryan's claim had not been audited by the Board of Supervisors, nor had the voucher for the claim been audited by the Auditor in the Finance Department. The only question, however, before the Court was, as to how the law stood at the time of the decision by the Special Term of the Court of Common Pleas in December, 1873. The point was not whether a county claim could be paid in June, 1874, without an audit of the Board of Supervisors, but whether, in December, 1873, the Court could order such a claim to be paid without an audit of the Board of Supervisors. On this question there was hardly any room for discussion. It had been well settled law for many years that the Comptroller could not be compelled by the courts to pay a county claim until such claim had been audited by the Board of Supervisors; and the Court of Appeals, in the Outwater case, argued in the early part of this year, had decided that, in addition to the audit of the Board of Supervisors, there must also be an audit of the voucher for the claim by the Auditor in the Finance Department. The counsel for Mr. Ryan did endeavor to establish the doctrine that the salaries of county officers, fixed by law, could be paid without an audit by the Board of Supervisors; but this doctrine was not sustained by the Court of Appeals. In the decision of the Court of Appeals, the effect of the "Consolidation Act" upon the payment of county claims is not discussed. The only allusion to the act is in a single sentence, in which the Court says that, prior to the passage of the "Consolidation Act," the Court could not compel the Comptroller to pay a county claim until the same had been audited by the Board of Supervisors; thus intimating, so far as any indication of the opinion of the Court was given, that since the passage of the "Consolidation Act" no such audit was necessary.

In this connection I would respectfully refer the Honorable the Board of Supervisors to an opinion given, at the request of the Board, in May last, by the Honorable John K. Porter and John H. Strahan, Esq., which opinion was published in the CITY RECORD of May 26. It will be seen by an examination of that opinion that the ground was distinctly taken by Judge Porter and Mr. Strahan, that, after the passage of the "Consolidation Act," the Board of Supervisors had no jurisdiction to audit claims against the county, whether the same were incurred before or after the enactment of that law. To that opinion I gave my written concurrence, which was also published in the CITY RECORD of the date above mentioned.

There is nothing whatever in the decision in the Ryan case which creates any doubt in my mind as to the correctness of the views expressed by Judge Porter and Mr. Strahan, and concurred in by me, nor do I see any reason to doubt that such views were entirely correct.

I must, therefore, advise the Honorable the Board of Supervisors that, in my opinion, the Board has now no jurisdiction to audit claims against the county, whether incurred before or after the passage of the "Consolidation Act," and that actions to recover such claims can now be maintained against the City of New York without such audit.

I am, sir,

Yours, respectfully,

E. DELAFIELD SMITH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

On motion of Supervisor Monheimer the communication was ordered to be printed in the minutes.

Supervisor Reilly moved that when this Board adjourns, it do adjourn to meet again on Monday, the 30th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M.

The President pro tem. put the question whether the Board would agree with said motion. Which was decided in the affirmative.

Supervisor Kehr moved that the Board do now adjourn.

The President pro tem. put the question whether the Board would agree with said motion. Which was decided in the affirmative.

Whereupon the Board was declared adjourned until Monday, the 30th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M.

JOSEPH C. PINCKNEY,
Clerk.
