LAW DEPARTMENT.

OPINIONS OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION.

The official relation occupied by the Counsel to the Corporation to a suit against the City wherein the pleadings have been served during his incumbency of the office, does not necessarily imply such a professional connection with the case as to disqualify him from appearing as counsel for the plaintiff upon the trial of the cause after he has been succeeded in the office by another person.

The professional usage in such cases requires that an objection to his appearance should be sustained by special facts showing that his official action in the case has been such and of such extent as to render it unfair to the public that he should accept a retainer from the private litigant.

LAW DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE
COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, Dec. 9, 1874.

Hon. JAMES M. SMITH:

DEAR SIR—My predecessor in office, Mr. O'Gorman, is offered a retainer by the plaintiff in a suit instituted against the City during his official term. I have retained you as counsel for the City on the trial. It appears that upon the usual written statement by the Comptroller of grounds upon which the latter deemed the case defensible, an answer was drawn by Mr. O'Gorman's assistant, and was served before my accession to this office. With a delicacy honorable to him, Mr. O'Gorman submits to me the question whether there can be any objection to his present appearance in the suit as counsel for the plaintiff.

The rule of professional propriety here involved has been settled by an unbroken practice of at least thirty years. Among the eminent men who have held the offices of Counsel to the Corporation, District Attorney for the City, and District Attorney of the United States, within my own recollection, there has hardly been one, surviving his official term, who has not appeared upon the opposite side in cases commenced while he was in office.

It is a general and wholesome rule, that a lawyer who has been engaged either as attorney or counsel for one of the parties to a litigation, may not withdraw from one side and espouse the other; but this rule applies to those who voluntarily accept the original retainer offered them. The official relation borne by a public law officer to a suit pending in a public law office over which he presides does not necessarily imply any such professional relation to the suit as to involve him in any charge of impropriety in accepting a retainer from a litigant after such official relation has ceased. It would be a hardship upon litigants themselves if, when an eminent lawyer is withdrawn from general practice by an appointment to an official law office, the eminent counsel whom he replaces should be alike disqualified for the service of his fellow-citizens. The injustice to the lawyer himself is equally apparent. Official station is proverbially uncertain. A lawyer may accept a law office from a sense of public duty and to his own professional injury, and he may be removed at any time without reference to his possible interests. The position of a private counsel, who, without violation of public duty, may accept, decline, or withdraw from any professional employment, at his own will, is widely different.

It is obvious that there may be cases in which a public law officer has held such a practical and intimate relation to a public suit as to give force to a special objection to his appearance upon the other side after the termination of his official position. He may, for instance, have obtained in one relation facts which it would not be fair for him to use in the other; but this state of things is by no means to be implied from the mere fact that he has held a public law office in which the suit with a thousand others has been pending. In illustration of this proposition it is sufficient to say that the number of suits pending to-day in the office of the District Attorney of the United States at New York, and also in the office of the Counsel to the Corporation in this city, is such as to render it impossible that the head of either office should be personally familiar with the facts and the details of every case, except upon special examination. The motives of action and the modes of compensation, relating to public and private counsel respectively, are widely different. With regard to the former, his official position forces him to the alternative of appearing in a case or resigning his office. His duties are of a public character, and cannot be specifically declined. The latter, on the contrary, in entering upon a particular case, acts with entire freedom and under circumstances reasonably involving a disqualification for conscientious services upon the opposite side. A proper desire for professional gains operates in the one case, and not in the other. The mischiefs which in general render it obviously improper for private counsel to desert one side and espouse the other are not matters of fair implication in instances wherein public law officers give way to successors and again appear in the position of private counsel open to retainers from litigants in general.

In conclusion, I have no hesitation in saying that no objection should be interposed to the appearance of Mr. O'Gorman as counsel for the plaintiff in the case to which I have referred. A copy of this letter will be transmitted to him.

Very respectfully, and truly yours,

E. DELAFIELD SMITH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

The City of New York, owning certain wharf property, leased it to an individual for ten years; the lease containing no provision authorizing the City to resume possession of the property for its own use before the expiration of the term. Upon negotiation conducted by the Dock Department the lessee agreed to surrender the lease in consideration of $10,000, and such agreement was thereupon submitted by the Dock Department to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for their approval. Held, that the fact that the City owned the property did not prevent the Dock Department from purchasing the unexpired term of the lease; and that the Department has the same right to acquire unexpired terms of this description which they possess to acquire any wharf property, or any rights or easements pertaining to wharf property, in the City of New York.

COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, November 7, 1874.

Mr. EUGENE T. LYNCH,

Secretary of the Dock Department:

SIR—In your letter to me of the 27th of October, ultimo, you state that the Commissioners governing the Department of Docks have found it necessary to acquire the title to certain pier and bulkhead property on the North river, at the foot of Canal street, for the purpose of proceeding with the work of improving the water front of the City under the new plans heretofore adopted. The property in question consists of the north half of Pier No. 42, the bulkhead between Piers 42 and 43, and the south half of Pier No. 43, up to the L, all of which is now owned by the City.

It appears that the property in question, together with the franchise for a ferry to the New Jersey shore, was leased by the City to William J. Peck, for the term of ten years. The lease will not expire until June 1, 1876, and contains no provision, such as is found in some leases given by the City, reserving to the City the right to take possession of the premises for its own use at any time during the demised term. As it was important for the Department in carrying out its plans to obtain immediate possession of this property, negotiations were entered into with the lessees for a surrender of the lease, and resulted in an offer on their part to transfer all their rights under the lease for the sum of $10,000. This offer was accepted by the Dock Department, and an agreement was entered into between the Department and the lessees, by which the lessees agreed to surrender possession at once, and also to procure the consent of all sub-lessees that the premises sub-let to them respectively should be surrendered upon the request of the Dock Department.

This agreement was then submitted to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for their approval. You now request my opinion whether, in order to proceed with the work of improving the water front of the City, the Department is authorized to acquire, in the name and for the benefit of the Corporation, by purchase from the lessees, the rights held by them under the lease.

The fourth sub-division of section 6 of chapter 574 of the Laws of 1871 contains the following provision: "The said Board of the Department of Docks is hereby authorized to acquire, in the name and for the benefit of the Corporation of the City of New York, any and all wharf property in said City to which the Corporation of the City of New York then has no right or title, and any rights, terms, easements, and privileges pertaining to any wharf property in said city, and not owned by said Corporation; and said Board may acquire the same either by purchase or by process of law as herein provided."

"Said Board may agree with the owners of any such property, rights, terms, easements, or privileges upon a price for the same, and shall certify such agreement to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund; and, if said Commissioners approve of such agreement, said Board shall take from such owners, at such price, the necessary conveyances and covenants for vesting said property, rights, terms, easements, or privileges in, and assuring the same to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York forever; and said owners shall be paid such price from the city treasury as hereinafter provided."

In my opinion, under the provisions of this law, the Department has full authority to purchase the property in question, subject, however, to the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, as therein provided. I understand that a doubt has been suggested as to whether the Commissioners of the Dock Department have the right to purchase the unexpired term of a lease of wharf property owned by the City and held under such lease by private individuals. I do not think that the section above cited contains anything to justify the doubt. The words "not owned by said Corporation" do not qualify the words "wharf property," but the words "rights, terms, easements, and privileges."

I think the Commissioners of the Dock Department have precisely the same authority to purchase the property in question which they possess to purchase any other wharf property, or any other rights, terms, easements, and privileges pertaining to wharf property in the City of New York. Under the statute above cited the only limitations upon the power of the Commissioners are contained in the provision that their action must be approved by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, and in the provision limiting the amount of bonds to be issued at their request, in any one year, to the sum of three millions of dollars.

I am, sir,

Yours respectfully,

E. DELAFIELD SMITH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

Awards made to owners of lands in reports of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment for the opening of streets, must be paid to the assignees of the owners where sufficient assignments and powers of attorney have been filed in the Department of Finance.

LAW DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE
COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, December 10, 1874.

HON. ANDREW H. GREEN, Comptroller:

SIR—Your letter to me of the 8th instant transmits assignments from Samson B. McGowan to Lewis Sternback and others, and from Lewis Sternback and Charles Sternback to Myer Stern, of awards for parcels 227, 228, and 229, in the matter of the opening of Lexington avenue; together with powers of attorney from said McGowan to the Messrs. Sternback and Myer Stern, and also from the Messrs. Sternback to Mr. Stern, to collect the same. Also, assignment from William H. Ingersoll to Myer Stern of the award on said opening for parcel No. 226, together with the power of attorney from Mr. Ingersoll to Mr. Stern to collect the same. You request my opinion whether it will be safe to pay over such awards to Mr. Stern upon such papers.

The report of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment that Mr. McGowan and Mr. Ingersoll were entitled to the awards in question, was conclusive in their favor. The assignments and powers of attorney transmitted by you are in due form, and are fully sufficient to authorize you to pay all the awards in question to Mr. Stern.

The papers transmitted with your letter are herewith returned.

I am, sir,

Yours, respectfully,

E. DELAFIELD SMITH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

The number of reports thereon received from the Inspectors was 478.

During the past week 60 complaints were received from citizens, and referred to the Inspectors for investigation and report.

Bureau of Vital Statistics.

During the week ending December 5, 1874, there were issued from this Bureau 521 burial permits for city deaths, 23 for bodies in transitu, and 45 for the interment of still-born infants. There were recorded 521 deaths, 203 marriages, 520 births, 45 still-births, 23 applications for transit permits, and 40 returns from Coroners. There were 21 searches of the registers of births, marriages, and deaths; and 1 transcript of birth record, 6 of marriage, and 16 of death were issued from this Bureau.

By the order of the Board.

EMMONS CLARK,
Secretary.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS,
December 8, 1874.

To the Secretary of the Board of Health:

The last week in November was more favorable to life than any period since the last week in June. The total number of deaths in the seven days ending November 28 was 486, and the equivalent of the death-rate was 24.30 per 1,000 inhabitants annually. The last mortality occurred on the 26th, when the total was only 50 deaths, and when only 1 person over 70 years of age, and 19 children under 5, died. Diphtheria was charged with 49 deaths, small-pox with 23, diarrhoeal diseases with 11, bronchitis and pneumonia with 69, phthisis with 73, and the class of constitutional diseases, altogether, with 97 deaths.

In the succeeding week, ending on Saturday, December 5, there were 521 deaths reported, 126 of which were of the constitutional, and 163 of the zymotic classes respectively. The temperature last week was at 36.8 degrees Fahrenheit, and in the previous week at 40.4 degrees. In the central district of the city, between the Fourth and the Seventh avenues, from One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street to the Battery, and in all south of Broome street, this disease makes no mark as an epidemic; only two fatal cases have occurred in the entire district south of Canal, Mulberry, and James streets during the past three weeks; while in the region of the Twentieth Ward, in which it has been most widely distributed and fatal for the past sixteen months, its greatest fatality is still witnessed. But the diminished mortality by this disease is noticeable, and the precautionary measures and sanitary cleansing which the Board and its Inspectors are urging, will greatly diminish the fatality and hasten the extermination of this malady. It is a duty to the public health in every city and village, and every school and public institution in the State, to make known the precautionary measures for the prevention of destructive diseases. The full application of these precautions is everywhere required, and especially of vaccination and revaccination. The latter duty is most urgent in all the public charities and asylums in the State.

Respectfully submitted.

ELISHA HARRIS, M.D.,
Registrar of Vital Statistics.
