CITY CHAMBERLAIN.

Report for the Year ending December 31, 1904.

The City of New York,
Office of the City Chamberlain,
New York, May 1, 1905.

Hon. GEORGE B. McCLELLAN, Mayor:

Sir—If I may be permitted, I would like to call your attention to three things particularly in my annual report transmitted herewith. They are the care exercised in the management of the court and trust funds, the business principles followed as regards deposits of City moneys and the enormous cost to the City for the payment of jurors.

Respectfully yours,
PATRICK KEENAN, Chamberlain.

Office of the City Chamberlain,
May 1, 1905.

Hon. GEORGE B. McCLELLAN, Mayor:

Sir—I have the honor to submit herewith my report of the transactions of this office for the year ending December 31, 1904.

The duties of the Chamberlain are fivefold; first, to hold the moneys belonging to the City and to the various counties comprised in the limits of the Greater New York; second, to act as custodian and administrator of court and trust funds, generally known as equity moneys; third, as fiscal agent for the Adjutant General of the State in the distribution of military funds; fourth, as trustee of civil and criminal bail and mechanics' liens paid in by orders of courts, and, fifth, as County Treasurer in the payment of all jurors serving in the Civil and Criminal Courts in the counties comprising the Greater City of New York. The required bond is for three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000), with four sureties, each qualifying for the full amount.

The business of this office in the City Treasury branch, in which are included the receipt and payment of all the public funds, the banking of city moneys, the payment of jurors and witnesses and the disbursement of the Richmond County Park Commission Fund, has steadily increased since January 1, 1898, in fact, the work in this department has more than trebled since the expiration of my preceding term as Chamberlain, dated December 31, 1901.

The Equity Department, which includes, besides the care of court and trust funds, military, warehouse, criminal and civil bail funds, is a very important branch, and one of large responsibility. The Chamberlain is the County Treasurer of Richmond, Queens and Kings Counties, in conjunction with his duties as Treasurer of New York County. He has, therefore, the banking and investment of all court and trust funds paid into the courts in the four counties included in The City of New York.

I have established a separate department for the payment of jurors and criminal witnesses, and I want to thank the Judges of the several Courts for the rules laid down by them to their Clerks, thereby enabling me to make prompt payment for jury service. The Chamberlain's check is mailed to the juror to the address written by him on the back of the summons served by the Commissioner of Jurors immediately after the certified list is examined and audited, which is generally on the same day of its receipt in this office. I have made a tabulated statement of the number of jurors used in the parts of the different Courts with the cost to the City. In New York County alone there were fourteen thousand five hundred and thirty-two (14,532) jurors costing two hundred and thirty-two thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight dollars ($232,938).

The financial transactions of this office for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1904 (including the public moneys of the City, and the court and trust funds), amounted to $607,389,349.53. For keeping the record of these transactions and performing the duties incident to this business there was appropriated $63,743.28.

As custodian of the Court funds, the Chamberlain now holds, subject to his general administrative control, in conjunction with the courts, the sum of $4,576,852.03.

Upon this latter sum there were net earnings of interest from investments and deposits for the year ending December 31, 1904, of $133,581.90.

The care and investment of court and trust funds has been a matter of deep concern to this office, since they often represent nearly the sole means of support of orphaned and semi-orphaned families, and I want to testify here to the careful management of and the excellent character of the investments made by my predecessor.

The statute requires that the Chamberlain report to the Mayor and Comptroller all the operations of the City Treasury weekly, and in addition furnish daily reports of receipts to the Comptroller, with certification of cash balances. He must also present trial balances and quarterly statements to the Comptroller and the Commissioners of Accounts and a copy to the Supervisor of the CITY RECORD for publication. The law also requires that he transmit to the State Comptroller a report of all court and trust funds and to the Adjutant General a statement of the military funds in his possession at least once a year or as often as required. The labor of preparing the Court reports, which are voluminous and must be gotten up in the fullest possible detail, showing the amount of receipts, payments and interest earnings in each separate action, is quite arduous. The funds represent actions in partition, actions to foreclose mortgages, awards in condemnation proceedings, mechanics' liens, interpleaders, security for costs, tenders before and after judgment, accountings of assignees and receivers, special proceedings to sell real estate of decedents, special proceedings to sell real estate of infants, accountings of executors, administrators and guardians, bail in civil and criminal actions, surplus on sales for storage dues, and military moneys appropriated for the National Guard.

The legal commissions for handling these funds and turned into the City Treasury by me during 1904 amounted to $21,946.56. The commission received for the payment of the State tax was $5,000. This amount was credited to the Sinking Fund. The total fees of this office turned over to the City during the year were $26,946.56. The Chamberlain has also paid to the Sinking Fund Redemption Account the interest received from the deposits of City moneys amounting to $264,080.04. There are one hundred and fifty-six depositories for City and County funds, and twenty-nine depositories for court and trust funds, making in all one hundred and eighty-five banks and trust companies with which the office sustains relations.

The Chamberlain's office being the banking department of the City government it seemed right and proper that approved business principles should prevail in its management. Accordingly deposits of City moneys have uniformly been kept with those banks and trust companies which have rendered business service to the City. Unfortunately the reciprocity which the Chamberlain has been able to extend has been entirely inadequate to suitably recognize the important service of the financial institutions already referred to. As the collection of taxes is deferred till the month of October in each year, the City is in the humiliating position of having to borrow money on revenue bonds to meet its current expenses during at least nine months of the year. For a little over two months receipts from taxes are sufficient to pay off these bonds and provide for the regular appropriations and then the borrowing has to be resumed. Such a method of financing is humiliating for a great city like New York. Furthermore, it is wasteful and extravagant. If the City's receipts came in earlier banks and trust companies would pay a higher rate of interest on City deposits and they would also have a motive for loaning on better terms when money was needed.

By placing City deposits with financial institutions buying the revenue bonds the Chamberlain has established business relations on a basis of reciprocity and joins with the Comptroller in keeping the rate of interest on such bonds as favorable as possible to the City. The helpful co-operation of banks and trust companies has contributed to the same end.

It gives me pleasure to record my obligation to the entire official staff for faithful and efficient service.

It is, perhaps, interesting to note that the net cost of caring for the $607,389,349.53 passing through this office during the year was $36,796.72 or six one-thousandths of one per cent.

Appended hereto are statistical statements covering the transactions of the Chamberlain's office for 1904.

Respectfully submitted,
PATRICK KEENAN, Chamberlain.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD, HELD IN NO. 320 BROADWAY, ON THURSDAY, THE 25TH
OF MAY, 1905.

There were present:

There were present:
Alexander E. Orr, President, presiding; John H. Starin, Vice-President; Mayor George B. McClellan; Comptroller Edward M. Grout and Commissioners Woodbury Langdon, Charles Stewart Smith, Morris K. Jesup and John Claflin.

George L. Rives and Albert B. Boardman, counsel; George S. Rice, Chief Engineer and Alfred Craven, Acting Deputy Chief Engineer, also were present.

The minutes of the 18th of May were read and it was moved that they be approved.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor and Commissioners Woodbury Langdon, Charles Stewart Smith and Morris K. Jesup.

Nays—None.

President Orr informed the Board that Max E. Schmidt, General Manager of the Continuous Transit Securities Company, had informed him that his company had decided, if possible, to make a test of the moving-platform system between Third and Park avenues, in Forty-second street. He said that it would cost between $150,000 and $175,000 to make this installation.

The following resolutions were moved:

Route No. 8.

Fourteenth Street, University Place, etc.

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property, in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed, are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises, and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination;

Now, therefore, This Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York, and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue, or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract; or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of the said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may in the judgment of this Board require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that, at a future time, upon the requirement of this Board, the contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Board, require.

Routes.

A route lying wholly within the Borough of Manhattan and made up of several sections as hereinafter described. The said sections are as follows:

Section 80—A route, the centre line of which shall begin at or near the intersection of the centre line of West Fourteenth street with the marginal wharf on the North or Hudson river; running thence easterly under and along West Fourteenth street to a point at or near the intersection of the centre line of West Fourteenth street with the westerly side of Ninth avenue.

Section 8A—A route the centre line of which shall begin at a point at or near the intersection of the centre line of West Fourteenth street with the westerly line of Ninth avenue at the easterly end of Section 80 above described; running thence easterly under and along West Fourteenth street and East Fourteenth street to a point at or near the intersection of the centre line of East Fourteenth street with the westerly side or line of University place.

Section 8B—A route the centre line of which shall begin at a point at or near the intersection of the centre line of East Fourteenth street with the westerly side or line of University place at the easterly end of Section 8A above described; running thence easterly under and along East Fourteenth street to a point about half way between Avenue B and Avenue C, at which a connection can conveniently be made with a subway hereafter to be constructed under the East river, connecting the boroughs of Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Section 8D—A route the centre line of which shall begin at a point in the centre line of West Fourteenth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, at which a connection can conveniently be made with Route 8A, above described; running thence westerly and southwesterly and curving under West Fourteenth street and under Hudson street and private property to a point in Ninth avenue, between West Thirteenth street and West Fourteenth street; and running thence southerly under and along Ninth avenue and turning into Greenwich street and running southerly under and along Greenwich street to a point at or near the intersection of Greenwich street with the southerly line of Charlton street; thence curving southwesterly under Greenwich street and private property to a point in Washington street near the intersection of the centre line of Washington street with the northerly line of Spring street; thence running southerly under and along Washington street to a point about half way between Cortlandt street and Liberty street; thence curving easterly under Washington street and private property to a point in Liberty street about half way between Washington street and Greenwich street; and thence running easterly under and along Liberty street to a point at or near the intersection of Liberty street and William street at which a connection can conveniently be made with a subway running under Liberty street, Maiden lane and the East river, to be hereafter constructed to connect the boroughs of Brooklyn and Manhattan.

And also a spur or connection to unite the said last mentioned route, known as Section 8D, with a subway to be hereafter constructed under William street. The centre line of the said spur shall begin at a point in Liberty street between Nassau street and William street at which a connection can conveniently be made with Section 8D above described; and shall run thence easterly and southeasterly under Liberty street and private property to William street near Cedar street at a point where a connection can conveniently be made with a subway to be constructed as aforesaid under and along William street.

Section 8E—A route the centre line of which shall begin at a point on the centre line of Section 8B above described in East Fourteenth street between University place and Fourth avenue at which a connection can conveniently be made with said Section 8B; running thence westerly and southwesterly and curving under East Fourteenth street and private property into University place at a point between East Thirteenth street and East Fourteenth street; and running thence southerly under University place, Washington square, East, and Wooster street to a point about one hundred and fifty feet northerly from the intersection of the centre line of Wooster street with the northerly line of Canal street; thence curving under Wooster street and private property into Canal street at a point between Wooster street and Green street; running thence easterly under Canal street to a point at or near the intersection of the centre line of Canal street with the westerly side or line of Elm street; and thence curving southeasterly under Canal street and private property to a point in Centre street south of Canal street at which a connection can conveniently be made with a subway hereafter to be constructed running through and under Centre street.

Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing route is as follows:

For all of Sections 8O and 8A above described there shall be two tracks; for all of Section 8B above described there shall be four tracks; for all of Section 8D above described there shall be two tracks; and for the spur or connection near the intersection of Liberty street and William street there shall be one track. For all of Section 8E above described there shall be two tracks.

All of the above-mentioned tracks shall be placed in subway or tunnel substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same level, except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or sub-surface structures, or other special or local necessities, and except for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings at or near the intersection of East Fourteenth street and University place, West Fourteenth street and Ninth avenue, and Liberty street and William street, or elsewhere, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the street level of the other track or tracks of the route by a depth of not more than twenty feet.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient, except that in Ninth avenue they shall be placed as near as practicable to the easterly side or line of the said avenue; and wherever else required by special or local necessities, or for curves, the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of such longitudinal streets or any of them; but in West Fourteenth street and East Fourteenth street, University place and Canal street, no wall of the tunnel or part thereof (except at stations, station approaches, point where the route passes from streets to private property, curves and places of access to subsurface structures as hereinafter provided) shall be within a distance of five feet from the exterior line or side of the said longitudinal streets of the route. In all other longitudinal streets of the routes any part of such streets may be occupied so far as the purposes of this general plan require.

The roof of the tunnels when under streets shall be as near the surface as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit; except that under East Fourteenth street between Avenue B and Avenue C the tunnel shall be depressed to such point as will permit easy connection with another tunnel to be hereafter constructed under the East river; and except that near the intersections of Fourteenth street with First avenue, Second avenue, Third avenue, Fourth avenue, Broadway, Fifth avenue, Sixth avenue, Seventh avenue and Ninth avenue the roof of the tunnel shall be depressed to such a depth, not less than twenty feet, as may be sufficient to allow other tunnels or subways constructed or to be constructed to pass over and across it; and except that near the intersection of Canal street and Elm or Lafayette street, the roof of the tunnel shall be depressed to such a depth as may be sufficient to pass under the subway constructed under resolutions of this Board adopted January 14 and February 4, 1897, and to avoid grade crossings in Centre street; and except that at the intersection of West Fourteenth street and Eighth avenue the roof of the tunnel may be depressed to a depth of not less than thirty-five feet; and except that near the intersection of Liberty street and William street the tunnel shall be depressed to a depth sufficient to permit of an easy connection with a subway or tunnel to be hereafter constructed from the Borough of Brooklyn.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure; or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks may at any point of the said route or of the spurs therein included be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width may be increased.

Station and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersections of streets and shall be built under the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property, or through or under private property to be acquired for the purpose. The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures, the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side, provided always that the limits hereinbefore provided as to certain longitudinal streets of the route shall be observed. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed, shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction shall be by tunnelling or excavation under cover, except in places where the Board shall give express permission to construct by open excavation.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed in the course of construction shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

The following resolutions were moved:

Route No. 9.

Brooklyn and Manhattan Loops.

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property, in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed, are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises, and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination;

Now, therefore, This Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York, and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation, and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract; or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of the said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may, in the judgment of this Board, require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that, at a future time, upon the requirement of this Board, the contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Board, require.

Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing route is as follows:

For the part of Section 9O above described across the Williamsburg bridge and its approaches there shall be two or more tracks as shall be hereafter determined by the Commissioner of Bridges. For the part of Section 9O under Delancey street and Centre street to the new Brooklyn Bridge terminal there shall be four tracks. For the spur under Walker and Canal streets to the Manhattan Bridge there shall be two tracks. For the spur under Grand street and Desbrosses street there shall be two tracks. For the spur from the Brooklyn Bridge terminal under William street to Beekman street there shall be two tracks. For the whole of Section 9A under Bedford avenue and Bedford avenue extended to the Williamsburg Bridge Plaza there shall be four tracks, except that between Division avenue and Broadway there may be two additional tracks in order to afford suitable connections near that point with other subways. For Section 9Ar, under William street and Old Slip in Manhattan, the East river, and Montague street in Brooklyn, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9A3 under Broadway there shall be four tracks. For Sections 9B and 9C under Fulton street, Willoughby street and other streets, there shall be four tracks. For Section 9D1 under Lafayette avenue, between Fulton street and Flatbush avenue, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9E under Beekman street in Manhattan, the East river, and Cranberry street and Fulton street in Brooklyn there shall be two tracks. For the spur running through Beekman street to the City Hall loop of the present subway there shall be two tracks. For Section 9E1 under Liberty street and Maiden lane in Manhattan, the East river, and Pineapple street and Fulton street in Brooklyn, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9E2 under Fulton street, between Pineapple street and Court street, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9F under Lafayette avenue, from Fulton street to Bedford avenue, there shall be four tracks. For Section 9G under Lafayette avenue, from Bedford avenue to Stuyvesant avenue, there shall be four tracks. For Section 9H under Broadway, from Lafayette avenue to Fulton street, there shall be four tracks. For Section 9I under Gates avenue, from Bedford avenue to Broadway, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9K under Bedford avenue, between Lafayette avenue and Gates avenue, there shall be two tracks. For Section 9K1 under Bedford avenue, between Gates avenue and the Eastern parkway, there shall be two tracks. The several spurs or connections uniting the above sections with each other or with other subways to be hereafter constructed shall have no more than two tracks.

All of the above-mentioned tracks shall be placed in subway or tunnel, except that upon the Williamsburg Bridge and the approaches thereto the tracks shall be two or more of those constructed by the City as a part of the bridge structure, and except that between the ends of the bridge tracks and the tunnel or tunnels, the tracks of the railway hereby established shall be placed in open cuts and on viaducts or otherwise, as may be necessary for efficient operation.

All of the tracks of the routes hereby established shall be substantially parallel with each other, and on substantially the same levels, except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or other special or local necessities and except for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings at the intersections of the several sections with each other or with spurs, branches or connections, or elsewhere, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the level of the other track or tracks to such depth as may be necessary; but this limitation as to the level of the tracks shall not apply to the portions of the route passing in tunnel under the East river.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient, but wherever required by special or local necessities or for curves the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of such longitudinal streets or any of them.

The roof of the tunnels when under a street shall be as near the surface as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit, except that in the approaches to the East river tunnels the depth shall be such as will conform to the grades of such river tunnels, and except that in passing under Water street, Pearl street, Nassau street, Broadway, Church street, Elm or Lafayette street, Wooster street, West Broadway, Hudson street, and Washington street in the Borough of Manhattan, and at intersections with other proposed rapid transit railway routes in the Borough of Brooklyn, such tunnels or subways may be depressed to such a depth under subways constructed or to be hereafter constructed as may be necessary for proper construction and operation.

Wherever the tracks change from tunnel to viaduct, or from viaduct to tunnel, the change shall be so made as to occupy or obstruct the surface of the street to the least possible extent consistent with the proper gradient for the tracks.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure; or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Viaducts shall be built with a width of twelve and one-half feet for each track and with an additional width of three feet on each side for outside footways. Viaducts may be built of metal, or of masonry, or of both.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks may at any point of the said routes or of the spurs therein included be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width may be increased.

Stations and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersections of streets and shall be built under or, if the position of the tracks so require, over the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property, or through private property to be acquired for the purpose, or both under or over streets and through private property as aforesaid.

The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side. All or any pipes, wires, sewers, or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction shall in general be by tunneling, except in places where the Board shall give express permission to construct by open excavation; but upon or along the Williamsburg Bridge and the approaches thereto, all work of construction shall be subject to the requirements of the Commissioner of Bridges.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed in the course of construction shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

Definitions.

The word "street" wherever used herein shall include an avenue or public place. The words "Rapid Transit Act," wherever used herein, shall be taken and meant to mean chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891 entitled "An Act to provide for Rapid Transit Railroads in Cities of over one million inhabitants," as amended by chapter 752 of the Laws of 1894 and other acts of the Legislature.

The following resolutions were moved:

Route No. 10.

Brooklyn, Manhattan and Long Island City.

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property, in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed, are necessary for the interests of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination; now therefore

This Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof, as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does, in such general plan hereby adopted, show the general mode of operation and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract, or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of the said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may, in the judgment of this Board, require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that, at a future time, upon the requirement of this Board, the contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road, as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Board, require.

tion 10O at the intersection of North Seventh street and Driggs avenue, and with spurs or connections near that point to unite with the said Section 10O on North Seventh street; and still northerly under Driggs avenue and Williamsburg Park to a point in the southwesterly side of Lorimer street distant about four hundred and ninety feet from the intersection of the said southwesterly side of Lorimer street with the southeasterly side of Nassau street; thence running under and across Lorimer street and curving under private property to a point in Manhattan avenue about half way between Nassau street and Driggs avenue; thence curving and running westerly and northwesterly under Manhattan avenue to a point about half way between Dupont street and Clay street; thence curving and running under private property, Clay street, private property, Box street, and private property to Ash street at a point about one hundred and fifty feet easterly from the intersection of the southerly side of Ash street with the easterly side of Manhattan avenue; thence still northerly and under Ash street and private property to Newtown creek; thence under Newtown creek to the Borough of Queens and to a point on the northerly side of said Newtown creek distant about one hundred and eighty feet easterly from the intersection of the said northerly side of Newtown creek with the northerly side of Manhattan avenue; thence still northerly and parallel, or nearly so, with Manhattan avenue, under private property, Borden avenue and private property again to a point in the southerly side of Third street about twenty-five feet easterly from the intersection of the southerly side of Third street with the southeasterly side of Jackson avenue; thence curving northeasterly under Third street and Jackson avenue and running northeasterly under and along Jackson avenue to a point in Jackson avenue about half way between Rogers street and Skillman avenue, where a connection can conveniently be made with a railway to be hereafter constructed over the Blackwell's Island Bridge.

Connecting Spurs—The spurs connecting Sections 10O and 10C above described shall be two in number, diverging from a point in the centre line of North Seventh street about half-way between Driggs avenue and Bedford avenue. The centre line of the southerly one of such spurs shall curve from said point easterly and southerly under North Seventh street and private property to a point on the westerly side of Driggs avenue about seventy-five feet southerly from the intersection of the said westerly side of Driggs avenue with the southerly side of North Seventh street, and thence still southerly under Driggs avenue to a convenient point of connection with section 10C above described between North Seventh street and North Second street.

The centre line of the northerly one of such spurs shall curve from the point of beginning above described under North Seventh street and private property to a point in the westerly side of Driggs avenue about half-way between North Seventh street and North Eighth street, and thence under and along Driggs avenue to a convenient point of connection with Section 10C above described between North Seventh street and North Twelfth street.

Section 10D—A route the centre line of which shall begin at a point in the Borough of Brooklyn near the intersection of Union avenue and Broadway at which a connection can conveniently be made with a subway to be hereafter constructed under Broadway; running thence northerly through Union avenue to a point about half way between Devoe street and Metropolitan avenue; thence curving northwesterly under Metropolitan avenue into North Seventh street; and thence running northwesterly under and along North Seventh street to the easterly end of Section 10O hereinbefore described.

Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing routes is as follows:

For the whole of Section 10O there shall be four tracks. For the whole of Section 10A, including the spur or connection from Stuyvesant avenue into Lafayette avenue, there shall be four tracks. For the whole of section 10B, under Stuyvesant avenue, Kossuth street, Stanhope street and Cypress avenue, there shall be two tracks, with a third track between Reid avenue and Broadway to permit of convenient connection with the spur near that point. For Section 10C, under Williamsburg Bridge Plaza and Driggs avenue to a point between North Seventh street and North Twelfth street, where the northerly spur above described connecting with Section 10O unites with the main portion of Section 10C, there shall be four tracks; and from the said point northerly to the terminus of Section 10C, in the Borough of Queens, there shall be two tracks. For the whole of Section 10D, under Union avenue and other streets, there shall be four tracks. There may also be in Section 10O, between Driggs avenue and the East river, two additional tracks, if required, for making convenient connections between Sections 10O and 10C above described. There may also be in Section 10O, between Union avenue and Driggs avenue, two additional tracks if required for making convenient connections between said Section 10O and Sections 10A and 10D above described.

All of the above mentioned tracks shall be placed in subway or tunnel substantially parallel with each other and substantially on the same level except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or sub-surface structures or other special or local necessities and except for the purposes of avoiding grade crossings near the intersection of Stuyvesant avenue and Lafayette avenue, Lafayette avenue and Broadway, and Driggs avenue and North Seventh street, all in the Borough of Brooklyn, or elsewhere, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the level of the other track or tracks to a depth of not more than twenty feet; but the limitation as to the level of the tracks shall not apply to the portion of the route under the East river.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient; but wherever required by special or local necessities or for curves, the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of such longitudinal streets or any of them.

The roof of the tunnels when under a street shall be as near the surface as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit, except that Section 10C along Driggs avenue shall be depressed so as to pass under the line of Section 10O, running under North Seventh street; and said Section 10C may be depressed under the Williamsburg Bridge Plaza, in the Borough of Brooklyn, so as to permit another rapid transit railway or other rapid transit railways to be constructed over it.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure; or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one-quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks may at any point of the said route or of the spur or loops therein included be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width may be increased.

Stations and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersection of streets and shall be built under the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property, or through or under private property to be acquired for the purpose.

The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other sub-surface structures, the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other sub-surface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction shall be by tunneling or excavation under cover, except in places where the Board shall give express permission to construct by open excavation.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed in the course of construction shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

(Route over Manhattan Bridge.)

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property, in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed, are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination; now therefore

This Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York, and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof, as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract, or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may, in the judgment of this Board, require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that, at a future time, upon the requirement of this Board, the contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road, as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Board, require.

Routes.

A route lying within the boroughs of Brooklyn and Manhattan, the centre line of which shall begin at or near the intersection of the centre line of Willoughby street with the centre line of Flatbush avenue, as the same is proposed to be extended; running thence northwesterly under said Flatbush avenue extension and the easterly Manhattan Bridge approach to a point near the intersection of Johnson street, and there emerging to the surface and continuing northwesterly upon a viaduct and along the easterly Manhattan Bridge approach, and along and across the Manhattan Bridge and the westerly Manhattan Bridge approach, over and across the East river to the Borough of Manhattan to a point at or near the intersection of the southerly side of Canal street with the easterly side of Chrystie street, at which a connection can conveniently be made with a subway to be hereafter constructed.

The said route shall also include a suitable spur or connection, the centre line of which shall begin at or near the point of beginning above mentioned near the intersection of the centre line of Willoughby street with the centre line of Flatbush avenue extension; and running thence southeasterly under the said Flatbush avenue extension, and under and across Fulton street, to a possible connection with the subway to be constructed under Flatbush avenue by resolutions of this Board adopted January 24, 1901, and April 13, 1905. The said spur may be partly constructed in the same tunnels as a subway to be hereafter constructed under Willoughby street, the Flatbush avenue extension and Fulton street, and may include suitable tracks to afford a means of connection with the said proposed subway.

Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing route is as follows:

There shall be two tracks throughout the whole of the said route, and also such additional tracks not more than three in number near the southeasterly end of said route as may be requisite to make proper connections with other subways.

All of the above-mentioned tracks, shall be placed in subway or tunnel; except that upon the Manhattan Bridge and the approaches thereto, the tracks shall be two of those to be constructed by the City as a part of the bridge structure; and except that between the ends of the bridge tracks and the tunnel or tunnels, the tracks of the railway hereby established may be placed in open cuts or on viaducts or otherwise, as may be necessary for efficient operation.

All of the tracks of the said route shall be substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same levels, except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or other special or local necessities, and except for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings near the intersection of the Flatbush avenue extension with Willoughby street or elsewhere, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the level of the other track or tracks to a depth of not more than twenty feet.

The tracks shall be placed in general along the central part of the Manhattan Bridge and the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient, except that wherever required by special or local necessities the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of the said bridge and the said longitudinal streets or any of them.

The roof of the tunnels shall be as near the surface as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit, except that under the Flatbush avenue extension the tracks may be depressed so as to permit a subway to be hereafter constructed under Willoughby street, the Flatbush avenue extension and Fulton street to pass over them.

Wherever the tracks change from tunnel to viaduct, the change shall be so made as to occupy or obstruct the surface of the street or bridge approach to the least possible extent consistent with the proper gradient for the tracks.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure; or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Viaducts shall be built with a width of twelve and one-half feet for each track and with an additional width of three feet on each side for outside footways. Viaducts may be built of metal, or of masonry, or both.

The tracks may, at any point of the said route or of the spur therein included, be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track, in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width may be increased.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed, not to exceed in length one-quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

Stations and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersections of streets and shall be built under or, if the position of the tracks so require, over the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property, or through private property to be acquired for the purpose, or both under or over streets and through private property as aforesaid. The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side, provided always that the limits hereinbefore provided as to certain longitudinal streets of the route shall be observed. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction under the Flatbush avenue extension shall be by tunneling or excavation under cover, except in places where the Board shall give express permission to construct by open excavation. Upon or along the Manhattan Bridge and the approaches thereto all work of construction shall be subject to the requirements of the Commissioner of Bridges.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed in the course of construction shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

Definitions.

The word "street" wherever used herein shall include an avenue or public place.

Counsel reported that all the other routes reported by the Committee would be ready for action at the next meeting of the Board, with the exception of Twenty-third and Fifty-ninth street crosstown lines. It was decided as to these latter lines that no action would be taken by the Board at present, especially in view of the fact of the proposed test of the moving platform in Forty-second street and the possibility that in case such test were a success that company might want to bid for one or other of these routes.

J. Edward Swanstrom and William C. Redfield, representing the Brooklyn Transportation Reform League, submitted the following proposition for uniting the elevated systems of Manhattan and Brooklyn, and the Secretary was directed to send a copy of the same to the Interborough Company and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, with a request that they express to the Board their views on the matter.

The Third Avenue Elevated Railroad in the Borough of Manhattan has ample terminals at its north end, but at the City Hall is limited to two terminal tracks, which hamper its capacity. The Brooklyn Elevated Railroad has four or more terminals, but at the Manhattan end of the bridge is also limited by insufficient tracks.

These two great systems with their enormous traffic, each crippled by lack of terminals at the point where they discharge a large part of their load, and from which again they must start on their return trips, approach each other in Manhattan within 50 feet. Neither road can now utilize the ample terminals of the other, and their service is hampered and the public inconvenienced because each of the two systems is pocketed at the point of greatest pressure.

If the two inadequate and adjoining terminals can be done away with and replaced by one "through" station and a "through" movement of trains be substituted for the reciprocal movement now existing, both economy and public convenience should result.

In Brooklyn, the Bridge railroad over which all elevated trains pass is a two-track line, on to which four tracks converge, two of which—the Kings County line—pass directly through Borough Hall square in front of the finest business property in Brooklyn.

The drawing herewith shows a unified and simplified system of elevated connections between Manhattan and Brooklyn via the Brooklyn Bridge, whereby the elevated railways of both boroughs are united, the Bridge crush is relieved, and a large part of the elevated structure on the lower part of Fulton street, Brooklyn, is removed.

In Manhattan the plan proposes to unite the tracks of the elevated railway on Park row with the tracks on the Brooklyn Bridge by a curve, which can be built without condemnation of any property.

On the Brooklyn side it proposes to construct one block of new elevated structure on Adams street, between Myrtle avenue and Fulton street, and because of this connection to remove all the elevated railway on Fulton street from Adams street (Borough Hall) to Fulton Ferry, to take away all the elevated structure from the Bridge Plaza, and to remove three and one-half blocks of elevated structure on Adams street, between Sands street and a point south of Concord street, with their bridge connections. By thus constructing one block of elevated line it proposes to remove twenty-one (21) blocks.

By the plan proposed (though not shown on drawing) the two bridge terminals in Manhattan and Brooklyn cease to exist, and each becomes instead a four-track way or "through" station on a continuous line of railway. A four-track station is shown on Myrtle avenue, between Adams and Jay streets, and on Adams street, between Myrtle avenue and Fulton street. These four different four-track stations are to provide ample waiting time for trains in each station and also opportunity for utilizing each of these four distinct stations as temporary terminals, if desired, so that trains may enter them and be despatched from them in either direction.

If the proposed connections were made, a traffic agreement between the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company would be necessary; and were this made, it would be feasible to run trains through from Bronx Park to Brighton Beach or from any portion of The Bronx to the City line of Brooklyn. It would also be possible to run intermediate trains from any terminal of either the Brooklyn or the New York elevated structures to either end of the Bridge, and there to turn back and go whence it came.

A traffic agreement already exists whereby Long Island Railroad trains from Jamaica are now run to the Bridge terminal on the Brooklyn side over the elevated structure of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, and traffic agreements of a similar nature are in existence in other large local steam railway terminals.

In brief, a perfectly flexible, simple system (doing away with all terminals, while covering such temporary need for terminals as might exist) is presented, which relieves the Bridge crush, and takes from the most prominent part of Brooklyn its chief nuisance.

Details are not urged, but a general plan, which, however, can be worked out as shown without condemning any property, and without involving serious expense or any long time. The whole thing, so far as physical connections are concerned, could be put into operation in six months and at a cost which would probably not exceed $500,000.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company has already offered a five-cent fare throughout the Greater City from The Bronx to Brooklyn, and therefore the matter of fares throughout this proposed unified elevated railway system is largely settled. What is required is a traffic agreement between the companies, the expenditure by the City of a small amount of money, and a few months of time, and at once the terminal problems cease and the elevated structure disappears from the lower part of Fulton street and the Brooklyn Borough Hall is relieved from its ugly presence.

It is not the policy of the Brooklyn Transportation Reform League in offering this plan to go into details of construction, operation or ornamentation, but simply to show that such a simple system of elevated construction is possible, leaving the details to be worked out after discussion by railway experts, engineers and architects, and leaving it to the public officers to arrange the necessary traffic agreement between the companies.

The attention of the Mayor, of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and of the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners is invited to this proposal, and they are requested to lay same before their engineering experts for consideration and advice.

Communication of the Vice-President of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company was read as follows, and, on motion, it was decided to give a public hearing on this matter at the meeting of the first of June.

INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY, No. 23 NASSAU STREET, }

Report of the Chief Engineer was read as follows:

THE BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS, }
No. 320 BROADWAY, }
NEW YORK, May 25, 1905. }

BION L. BURROWS, Esq., Secretary, Rapid Transit Board:

DEAR SIR—On May 12 the Rapid Transit Board authorized, by resolution, the withholding of payment for work done during the month of April by the New York Tunnel Company on Contract No. 2, on account of the failure of the Tunnel Company to follow the instructions of the Engineering Department of this Board.

Recently I have been in communication with the sub-contractors (the New York Tunnel Company), and have been assured by them that all instructions and orders given by the Rapid Transit Engineers will be complied with and that the work will be conducted to the satisfaction of the Chief Engineer. With these assurances I respectfully report to the Rapid Transit Board that I have requested the contractor to present a requisition for the amount of money withheld from the April estimate, and the same will be submitted to you for approval, when received.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

Letter of the Barber Asphalt Paving Company was read as follows, and it was understood that this matter would be considered by the Counsel and the Chief Engineer in preparing specifications for additional work:

THE BARBER ASPHALT PAVING COMPANY, }
LAND TITLE BUILDING, }
PHILADELPHIA, May 24, 1905. }

Mr. BION L. BURROWS, Secretary, Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, New York City, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR—We are informed that there are a number of plans for the construction of subways awaiting consideration by the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, and that some, or perhaps all, of these plans involve the adoption of a system of tube construction which will not disturb the surface of the streets, except at occasional intervals. As this company has constructed street pavements on many streets in New York City, and has agreed to maintain them in accordance with certain provisions of its contracts with the City for periods of five, ten and fifteen years, respectively, from date of acceptance, it begs leave to express to the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners its apprehension that the aforesaid method of construction, if adopted, will seriously affect the condition of the pavements it has agreed to maintain. It is our belief that it will be impossible to construct the tunnels without disturbing the earth in such proximity to the pavements as will cause settlements from time to time, and that the excessive vibration will in time affect all pavements, particularly sheet asphalt pavements, whose monolithic form of construction renders them peculiarly sensitive to such vibration.

We are advised that the aforesaid method of construction would impose upon pavements guaranteed by us a burden not within the terms of our contracts with The City of New York; and that such construction, if made, will terminate the obligations or guaranty of this company as to the streets affected. We therefore respectfully request that the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners take this phase of the subject into consideration, and, if the aforesaid plan of construction be determined upon, that steps be taken to adjust, in accordance with the changed legal conditions, the rights and duties of paving companies having pavements under guaranty on the streets affected by such construction.

Yours truly,
(Signed) THE BARBER ASPHALT PAVING COMPANY,
CLYDE BROWN, Treasurer.

Communication of the Flatbush Board of Trade, Borough of Brooklyn, urging the immediate construction of the authorized subway under Flatbush and Ocean avenues and the extension of the same under Ocean avenue to the Ocean front, was presented, and the Secretary was instructed to transmit a suitable reply:

FLATBUSH BOARD OF TRADE, BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN, CITY OF NEW YORK,
No. 1710 OCEAN AVENUE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.,
May 20, 1905.

Secretary Rapid Transit Commission, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the Flatbush Board of Trade, held on Monday evening, May 15, the Committee on Transit was instructed to seek a hearing before the Rapid Transit Commission and urge the immediate construction of the authorized subway under Flatbush and Ocean avenues in the Borough of Brooklyn, also to extend same under Ocean avenue to the Ocean front.

If consistent, will you kindly give this Committee a hearing in the matter?

Thanking you for an early reply, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) WILLIAM T. DAVENPORT, Chairman, Transit Committee.

Complaints of the President of the Borough of Manhattan and of the President of the Harlem Board of Commerce as to the condition of the surface of Lenox avenue were presented, and the Chief Engineer was requested to report to the Board at its next meeting whether or no the pavement in this street is in a dangerous condition.

Mr. Boardman reported that owing to the large amount of work which would be necessary in connection with the attempt to secure the consents of a majority in value of the abutting property owners along the many new routes adopted by the Board, his office force would be inadequate, and the following resolution was thereupon moved:

Resolved, That the counsel be and he hereby is authorized to secure such additional canvassers and clerical force as in the judgment of the President of the Board is thought necessary to carry on the work of securing consents of property owners along the proposed new routes.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon, Smith, Jesup and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Letter of Goodale, Files & Reese, offering to release certain easements on the Southern Boulevard, was presented as follows, and referred to the Comptroller for report:

GOODALE, FILES & REESE, No. 71 WALL STREET,
NEW YORK, May 23, 1905.

Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, No. 320 Broadway, New York:

GENTLEMEN—We represent the Madison Square Mortgage Company, owners of the following-described real property, in front of which the elevated structure erected by the City along the Southern Boulevard in The Bronx runs:

"All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in the Borough of The Bronx, of The City of New York, which, on a certain map entitled 'Map of section A of the Vyse Estate, belonging to the Twenty-third Ward Land Improvement Company,' dated July 1, 1893, made by John G. Van Horne, C. E. and C. S., and filed in the office of the Register of the County of New York July 19, 1893, are known and designated as Lots Nos. 130, 131, 132, 159, 160 and 161."

[DIAGRAM.]

You will notice that this property has a frontage of 75 feet on the Southern Boulevard, and if we could get a settlement through within thirty to sixty days, our client would accept $10 a running foot in settlement of the claim.

Will you kindly advise us as to your decision in the matter?

Yours very truly,

(Signed) GOODALE, FILES & REESE.

The Board then adjourned.

BION L. BURROWS, Secretary.

JOHN J. DELANY, Corporation Counsel.

BOROUGH OF RICHMOND.

LOCAL BOARD—STATEN ISLAND DISTRICT.

Meeting June 20, 1905, 10.30 a. m.

Present—Aldermen Collins, Gillies and Shea, and President Cromwell.
The minutes of the meeting of May 31 were approved.

Petition 543.

To widen Nicholas avenue, from Innis street to Richmond terrace, as laid out on the map or plan of The City of New York, Ward 3. First hearing.

Signers of a protest filed with the President of the Borough, chiefly owners of 25 foot lots on which they had built their homes, addressed the Board in opposition to the widening of the upper end of the avenue, as destructive of their property and not necessary to the public good.

Alderman Collins moved to refer the matter to Alderman Shea for report, which was carried.

Petition 544.

To extend Henderson avenue, from Broadway to Taylor street, Ward 1. First hearing. Referred to the Commissioner of Public Works.

Petition 545—Resolution 66.

To set curb opposite the property of the late Thomas Hogan, at the corner of Jersey and Brook streets, Ward 1. First hearing.

The following resolutions were moved by Aldermen Shea and were adopted:

Whereas, A petition for a local improvement described below has been received by the President of the Borough of Richmond; and

Whereas, He has appointed a time for a meeting of the Local Board not more than fifteen days after the receipt by him of the said petition, at which meeting the said petition would be submitted by him to the said Local Board, and he has caused a notice to be published in the City Record that said petition has been presented to him and is on file in his office for inspection, and of the time when and the place where there would be a meeting of this Local Board at which the said petition would be submitted by him to the said Board, which time was not less than ten days after the publication of this notice; and

Whereas, The said petition was duly submitted thereafter to the said Local Board, which did duly consider the same and give a full hearing thereon; now therefore it is

Resolved, by the Local Board of the Staten Island District, pursuant to titles 2 and 3 of chapter 10 of the Greater New York Charter, That the said petition be and the same hereby is granted; and it is hereby

Resolved, That this Board does hereby initiate proceedings for the said local improvement, to wit:

To set curb in front of a certain property at the southeast corner of Jersey street and Brook street in the First Ward of the Borough of Richmond, designated in the tax lists of the Borough of Richmond as Ward 1, Vol. 1, Plot 4, Block 15, Lot No. 433; and to do such other work as may be necessary to the completion of the work described.

Affirmative—Alderman Collins, Alderman Gillies, Alderman Shea, President Cromwell.

Negative—None.

Petition 546—Resolutions 67 and 68.

To flag sidewalks opposite certain properties in Elizabeth street, Cary avenue, Post avenue and John street, Wards 1 and 3. First hearing.

Alderman Shea stated that property-owners asked that no action be taken by the Board until they could be heard; but President Cromwell stated that they had been ordered to flag their sidewalks, and if they wished to do so they would still be able to after the Board had authorized the work to be done by the President.

The following resolution was moved by Alderman Collins and was adopted:

Whereas, A petition for a local improvement described below has been received by the President of the Borough of Richmond; and

Whereas, He has appointed a time for a meeting of the Local Board not more than fifteen days after the receipt by him of the said petition, at which meeting the said petition would be submitted by him to the said Local Board, and he has caused a notice to be published in the City Record that said petition has been presented to him and is on file in his office for inspection, and of the time when and the place where there would be a meeting of this Local Board at which the said petition would be submitted by him to the said Board, which time was not less than ten days after the publication of this notice; and

Whereas, The said petition was duly submitted thereafter to the said Local Board, which did duly consider the same and give a full hearing thereon; now therefore it is

Resolved, by the Local Board of the Staten Island District, pursuant to titles 2 and 3 of chapter 10 of the Greater New York Charter, That the said petition be and the same hereby is granted; and it is hereby

Resolved, That this Board does hereby initiate proceedings for the said local improvement, to wit:

To flag the sidewalks in front of certain properties in Elizabeth street, Cary avenue and Post avenue, in the First Ward of the Borough of Richmond, and to do such other work as may be necessary to the completion of the work described, said properties being designated as follows in the tax lists of the Borough of Richmond:

Petition 547.

To widen and extend Chestnut avenue, based on a petition to extend Arents avenue, and to widen and extend Butler avenue, based on a petition to extend Butler avenue, Ward 5. First hearing.

A tentative map, prepared by the Commissioner of Public Works, was laid before the Board, showing, in red lines, a straight new street touching Arents avenue, and extended so as to merge in Chestnut avenue, at a uniform width of 60 feet; and in blue lines, a new street partly embracing Arents avenue and other streets, and extended in a broken line, approximating a wide curve, so as to finally merge in Chestnut avenue, at a uniform width of 60 feet.

Strong protests were entered by property-owners and other citizens against an extension of Chestnut avenue as shown by the straight red lines, as practically destroying the business of the Hadkins soda water factory by cutting off an artesian well, and as doing great and unnecessary injury to other important properties. Mr. Hadkins and Charles A. Marshall were among the speakers.

All who were interested urged the necessity of opening a through street in the section concerned, and favored the new street indicated by the blue lines, as virtually pursuant to the original petition for the extension of Arents avenue; but objected to a width of 60 feet, which would involve serious injury to improved properties, whereas a width of 50 feet would be ample and would injure no one, although cutting through extensive properties.

Alderman Shea moved:

"That this Board, after public hearing duly advertised and held, petitioners and others being present, do approve the proposal of the Commissioner of Public Works to lay out on the map or plan of The City of New York a new street in the Fifth Ward of the Borough of Richmond, which shall embrace an extension of Arents avenue and other streets to and into Chestnut avenue, in the place and direction indicated by the blue lines shown on a tentative map submitted at said hearing, with the understanding that said new street shall be not more than 50 feet in width, and so laid out as not to unnecessarily cut into improved properties on either side, as the lines showing a width of 60 feet would do."

Which was carried.

On the same tentative map was indicated a proposed new street as an extension and widening of Butler avenue on both sides of the new street above approved.

Mr. Alfred Simonson, as counsel, and Mr. Thomas A. Turner and others, as property-owners, addressed the Board; and

Alderman Shea moved:

"That this Board, after public hearing duly advertised and held, petitioners and others being present, do approve the proposal of the Commissioner of Public Works to lay out on the map or plan of The City of New York a new street in the Fifth Ward of the Borough of Richmond, which shall be an extension and widening to a uniform width of 50 feet of that part only of Butler avenue lying between Eureka place and Broadway, as indicated on a tentative map submitted at said hearing."

Which was carried.

County Fair Appropriation.

Mr. William S. Van Clief, on behalf of the Richmond County Agricultural Society, seconded by Mr. E. P. Doyle, Secretary, asked the Local Board to pass a resolution, and do what else its members could do, to obtain from The City of New York an appropriation of $5,000 to help defray the cost of the County Fair to be held in September, the special objects being the erection of a "City Building" in which school exhibits should be held, and the construction of a highways exhibit in the form of a road, in sections of about 100 feet each, each section to represent one of the kinds of pavement or construction in use in The City of New York.

The following resolution was moved by President Cromwell, and was adopted: Whereas, The Richmond County Agricultural Society will hold a county fair in the County of Richmond during the week of September 4 to 9, 1905, and is desirous to include exhibits of special value to The City of New York, and to erect a building for school exhibits to be known as the City Building, and to lay a road in sections of various pavements as a highways exhibit; therefore it is

Resolved, That the Local Board of the Staten Island District, Borough of Richmond, hereby requests the Board of Aldermen of The City of New York to request the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to issue Revenue Bonds to the amount of $5,000 for the purpose of appropriating that amount to the Richmond County Agricultural Society for the County Fair of 1905.

Affirmative—Alderman Collins, Alderman Gillies, Alderman Shea, President Cromwell.

Negative—None.

On motion, the Board adjourned.

MAYBURY FLEMING, Secretary.

PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, the names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
