PROCEEDINGS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,

FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1907,

AT 320 BROADWAY,

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

There were present—Chairman William R. Willcox, Commissioners William McCarroll, Edward M. Bassett, Milo R. Maltbie, John E. Eustis.

Commissioner Maltbie reported informally as to the matter of testing gas meters.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, McCarroll, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Commissioner Bassett, as Chairman of the Committee on Budget, submitted the following:

1724

Report of the Committee on Budget and Method of Obtaining Funds for Expenses of Commission and Salaries other than those of the Commission, its Counsel and Secretary.

Messrs. Bassett, Whitney and Hollmann have compared the provisions of the Rapid Transit Act touching the subjects referred to this Committee, and the Public Service Law, and find that in regard to this subject the provisions are substantially identical. On this account your Committee have inferred that the method heretofore employed by the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners in this regard will be presumably correct to be adopted by the present Commission, and it is likely that the Board of Estimate will prefer this method of caring for this subject.

The requests for estimates for budget heretofore sent out by the Board of Estimate apply to City Departments, Bureau and Boards. As ours is a State Board with a separate provision for its expenses, this request does not relate to us. The method followed by the Rapid Transit Board has been:

First—In the latter part of each year it has made up, as nearly as possible, an estimate of its needs for expenses the following year. This was done in order to facilitate the work for the Finance Department, so that it might not have to pass on a large number of small requisitions. Last year this requisition was made December 27, and was for the sum of $826,500. Of this amount the Board of Estimate assented to $742,500, leaving about $84,000 to be assented to later, if necessary, on account of the planning and letting of new work.

Second—For the salaries of the Rapid Transit Commissioners an application was made each year to the Appellate Division of the First District. The salaries of the new Commissioners, their Counsel and Secretary are paid by the State Treasurer.

Third—If the requisitions of the Rapid Transit Board for expenses were not complied with, they had the right to place the requisitions before the Appellate Division, whose decision would be final. We understand, however, that this was never done.

To come now to the method that we should employ to obtain funds for payment of expenses and salaries other than those of the Commission, Counsel and Secretary:

First—There is no necessity of making up a present budget and submitting it to the Board of Estimate.

Second—We may expend the unexpended balance for any proper purposes of our Commission, and during the remainder of this year, if this fund is not sufficient, we may make a requisition for a further sum.

Third—In the month of December we should serve upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment a statement of requisition which will approximately cover our needs for the year 1908. This will not prevent our making further requisitions in the year 1908, if they become necessary.

Fourth—In case the Board of Estimate does not comply with this request and honor this requisition, it will be our duty to make our request to the Appellate Division, whose determination will be final.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) EDWARD M. BASSETT,
WM. McCARROLL.

Dated, New York, July 5, 1907.

The Chairman reported progress as to the acquirement of permanent quarters.

Commissioner Bassett reported progress as to the matter of badges for the employees of the Commission.

The Chairman reported that Chief Engineer Rice would soon submit a report as to the present condition of rapid transit work, and as to all problems pending or considered and not finished.

Commissioner Bassett reported progress as to rules of procedure.

Commissioners Bassett and Eustis, to whom were referred the matter of disposition of communications as to the increase of rates on the New York Central, reported. The question involved is whether this Commission has jurisdiction over the question of rates over a railroad between points outside of this district to a point within this district. This seems to be clearly provided for in section 5, subdivision 6, paragraph 2:

"All jurisdiction, supervision, powers and duties under this Act not specially granted to the Public Service Commission of the First District shall be vested in and be exercised by the Public Service Commission of the Second District, including the regulation and control of all transportation of persons or property and the instrumentalities connected with such transportation on any railroad other than a street railroad from a point within either district to a point within the other district."

By section 5, subdivision 3, the Commission for the First District is given jurisdiction over such portions of the lines of railroads other than street railroads "so far as concerns the construction, maintenance, equipment, terminal facilities and local transportation facilities and local transportation of persons or property within that district."

Under these provisions it is clear that complaints as to fares between points outside of this district and points within this district over railroads other than street railroads should be referred to the Commission for the Second District.

(Signed) EDWARD M. BASSETT,
JOHN E. EUSTIS.

July 5, 1907.

Deputy Engineer Craven, by request, appeared before the Commission and was directed to detail an inspector to investigate the accident which occurred on the Brighton Beach line of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system early in the morning of July 5, 1907.

The Commission then informally discussed the matter of counsel to the Commission.

On motion, duly seconded, it was

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Commission that in the selection of counsel endeavor should be made to secure, if possible, a man who will give his entire time to the work.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, McCarroll, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.
Nays—None.
Carried.

The Secretary presented the following communications, which, on motion, were ordered on file:

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, McCarroll, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The list referred to in the above resolution, and therein incorporated, and the letter of George S. Rice, Chief Engineer, transmitting the said list, are as follows:

1271

NEW YORK, July 6, 1907.

The Honorable WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—I enclose copy of a list showing the name, rank and salary of the different employees who have been connected with the Rapid Transit Engineering Department and the Commissioners on June 30, 1907.

All these men, with the exceptions which are noted on the several sheets, have been appointed under Civil Service rules; fifteen of these are in the exempt class, but all the remaining names were supplied through the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

When this department was formed in 1900 special provision was made to have men particularly competent to carry on the rapid transit work, which, although nominally a railroad, combines almost every class of municipal work, and special examinations were held at that time so that the staff could be able and competent to conduct the work, which, at the time, was the largest of its kind ever started. The organization and the personnel of this staff have been exceptional; men have only been kept who have proved themselves competent and devoted to their work.

At the present time the force is not sufficient to conduct the work which is already in progress. A great many of the staff have been transferred to other City departments, and the force of inspectors has been reduced during the last year owing to the completion of a certain portion of contracts Nos. 1 and 2, which are the original McDonald contracts, and the extension to Brooklyn. During the last few months, however, new work has been ordered, and while the engineering force is very nearly equal to what may be desired, the force of inspectors will have to be increased. A great many capable men who have been trained in this particular class of work have gone to other City departments, and are only waiting to come back to the work as soon as contracts for new work are in full operation, and it would be a great advantage to the Commission if these men could be re-employed. I suggest that it would be important to have some way devised by which the State Civil Service Commission, in their deliberations in reference to the transfer of the force from the Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners to the Public Service Commission for the First District, be empowered to arrange for the transfer of men now engaged in City work to the Public Service Commission work or vice versa. A number of men in the employ of the Commission have been over twenty years in the service of the City, have gained an invaluable experience, and the carrying on of the Rapid Transit work has been benefited by having such an exceptional corps of assistants.

Since its organization in 1894 the expenses of the whole Rapid Transit Commission, including the salaries of the Commissioners, legal expenses, engineering expenses, rent, etc., have been less than 8 per cent. of the total cost of the work. This is unprecedented; no work, to my knowledge—and I have been associated with large public works for over thirty-eight years—has ever been conducted in such an economical manner; and I am pleased to direct attention to the fact that there has never been the least amount of scandal in any way connected with the work, which has been done under adverse circumstances.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

RULE III.

RULE IV.

Every common carrier, railroad corporation and street railroad corporation is required to give immediate notice to the Commission of every accident happening upon any line of railroad or street railroad owned, operated, controlled or leased by it, within the territory of the First District, by telephone or telegraph, and by written communication as set forth in an order issued by this Commission and served upon each such corporation.

It is desirable that the facts be thus agreed upon whenever practicable.

RULE XIII.

Hearings.

Upon issue being joined by the service of an answer or notice of hearing, on a petition or complaint, the Commission will assign a time and place for hearing the matter, which will be at its office unless otherwise ordered. Witnesses will be examined orally before the Commission unless otherwise ordered by this Commission, or unless the facts be agreed upon as provided for in these rules. The complainant or petitioner must in all cases establish the facts alleged to constitute a violation of the Act unless the person or corporation complained against admits the same or fails to answer. The person or corporation complained against must also prove facts alleged in the answer, unless admitted by the petitioner and fully disclose its defence at the hearing.

In case of failure to answer, the Commission will take such proofs of the facts as may be deemed proper and reasonable, and make such order thereon as the circumstances of the case appear to require.

Cases shall be argued orally upon submission of the testimony unless a different time shall be agreed upon by the parties or directed by the Commission, but all arguments may be omitted in the discretion of the Commission.

Hearings will be held by or before the Commission or by or before a Commissioner designated by the Commission.

Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses for the purpose of taking the testimony of such witnesses orally before one or more members of the Commission or by deposition, will, upon the application of either party, or upon an order of the Commission, directing the taking of such testimony, be issued by any member of the Commission or by the Secretary. Subpoenas for the production of books, papers or documents (unless directed to issue by the Commission upon its own motion) will only be issued, in the discretion of the Commission upon application in writing.

The time within which the proposed findings and printed or written arguments or briefs shall be filed in any case shall be determined by the Commission upon submission of the testimony.

RULE XVI.

Rehearings.

After an order has been made by the Commission, any party interested therein may apply for a rehearing in respect to any matter determined therein, and the Commission may grant and hold such a rehearing, if, in its judgment, sufficient reason therefor be made to appear; if a rehearing shall be granted, the same will be determined by the Commission within thirty days after the same shall be finally submitted.

RULE XVII.

The Chairman laid before the Commission the following report from Chief Engineer Rice, which was read by the Secretary and referred to the Committee of the Whole:

July 6, 1907.

The Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission, for the First District:

DEAR SIR—For the information of the Commission, I have made a statement in condensed form of the work which is now under construction and in direct charge of the Public Service Commission for the First District and which had formerly been under the charge of the Rapid Transit Board.

In March, 1900, Contract No. 1, which has formerly been called the McDonald contract, was executed by The City of New York through the Rapid Transit Board, and that work is almost done, two small portions of elevated road in the vicinity of Broadway and One Hundred and Thirtieth street, and One Hundred and Eighty-second street and Boston road remaining to be completed. The whole road, however, is under operation, and delay in the completion of these elevated stations was due to a change in the contract after its execution. The original contract contemplated ending the road at Kingsbridge station, but since that time the road had been continued up Broadway to the north to Van Cortland Park. At the other terminus of the road at Bronx Park the same condition of affairs exists. The station at One Hundred and Eightieth street is a temporary station and the road is in operation to this point; but owing to the Zoological Park authorities having bought certain additional lands for park purposes the station was made a temporary station and the plans have just been made for a permanent station, and this work will be under construction in a short time and will probably take from six to eight months to complete near One Hundred and Eighty-second street.

There are some small matters in connection with this Contract No. 1 which have not been finished, but they are of little moment and do not affect the operation of the road. Owing to the non-completion of the work no final estimate for Contract No. 1 has been rendered by the Engineer of the Commission. Monthly estimates, however, have been rendered to the contractor, and almost all the moneys have been paid. There are some points relating to the final payments of the work where there is disagreement, the contractor having put in bills to the amount of nearly $5,000,000, which are now under adjustment and are to be reported on by the Chief Engineer within the next two months.

In connection with Contract No. 1, in the latter part of 1906, the Board authorized the construction of an elevated extension to the Rapid Transit Railroad north of Two Hundred and Thirtieth street. This work is now under construction, and involves an expenditure of nearly $700,000, and there remains nearly half a million dollars of this work to be completed. This railroad will be in operation in the fall—probably some time in October—and the terminus of the road, instead of being at Kingsbridge, will be transferred to Van Cortland Park at that time. Although this work will be in operation then, it will not be completed, as the detailed work for the stations will require considerable time after commencement of operation.

In 1902 an extension of the subway was continued from the Post Office southerly down Broadway, under the East river, through Joralemon and Fulton streets and Flatbush avenue to the Long Island station at the junction of Fourth avenue and Atlantic avenue in Brooklyn. This contract is called Contract No. 2 and the amount which the contractor bid for this work was $3,000,000, $2,000,000 for construction and $1,000,000 additional for equipment, the value of the work being about $10,000,000. The portion of the contract lying in the Borough of Manhattan has been in operation for a considerable time. The tunnel under the river has not been completed, nor has the subway extending easterly from the tunnel to the Long Island station been in a condition yet for operation.

The contract time for the completion of this work is May 8, 1908, and it is probable that the road will be in operation in four or five months, although the work will not be entirely complete along Flatbush avenue at that time. The original time for this contract was September, 1906, but owing to the original contract having contemplated a two-track system through Fulton street and Flatbush avenue, the Rapid Transit Board, on account of a change in plans, authorized the construction of a four-track road through this section of the borough. This added an amount of over two and a quarter millions of dollars to this contract.

The tunnel under the river has been under construction from the very commencement of the letting of the contract, and although the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company were the contractors, this section of the work, like the other section each side of it, was let to some subcontractors. The City was fortunate in obtaining two good contractors on two ends of this contract, but unfortunate in getting the subcontractor for the work under the river, where there have been delays and mismanagement, and which have been reported to the Board for the last three years by the Engineering Department; but the work has been well done and is equal to any work of its kind now being executed. A great deal has been said in connection with this tunnel contract owing to its having been subjected to publicity through being a City contract. The conditions that exist there are no more unfavorable than anywhere else, nor have any greater difficulties been encountered than are found in any other place. The work is a well designed and well executed piece of work, some variations in grades as are encountered in every tunnel which is built with a shield exist, but these portions, although slight in extent, have been corrected, and the work is now nearing completion. The portions west of the centre of the river and east of the line of docks on the Brooklyn side are open to inspection to anybody, there being no air pressure now used in these sections of the work. In the remaining portion the joints are being caulked, and in a comparatively short time this whole portion will be relieved from the air pressure and the work of caulking can be pushed with much more vigor. This work is being done by men who have made a specialty of doing work under compressed air, and we are limited to this class of men, who are not very numerous; the work, however, is now being pushed, and the tracks are being laid, and the ducts for transferring the power are being put in position on the sides of the tunnel.

A serious delay in this work has been occasioned during the last year owing to the trouble in getting a ventilating shaft on Joralemon street, four locations having been selected and plans made, and three of them were abandoned owing to objections by property owners and on account of the delay by injunction proceedings. The contractor has acceded to the demands of the abutting property owners in those three cases. A location has now been found, however, where arrangements have been made, and this work is now progressing with rapidity. Inasmuch as this is the location where the cables go from the transformer station, this is necessarily the limiting place where the work will be delayed. I anticipate that this work will not be finished for a couple of months, after which the other portions of the tunnel can be completed.

There remains upon this Contract No. 2 about three million dollars' worth of work to be done, and I anticipate that this work will be completed late in the spring of 1906.

During the last few months the Rapid Transit Board has let five contracts in Manhattan for what is called the "Brooklyn loop lines," and this system of subways is really a four-track road connecting the Williamsburg, Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges with systems of railroads in Brooklyn. These contracts involve an expenditure of about ten million dollars, nine million dollars having been authorized in the letting of the five different contracts. This work is very complicated in construction, and the designing department of the engineering force is now engaged in making detailed drawings for construction.

In addition to the work enumerated above, in accordance with an Act of the Legislature of 1906, the Rapid Transit Board was ordered to study the problem of the elimination of the tracks of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad where they were laid at grade in the public streets and highways. The Act contemplated the condemnation of this New York Central property in the streets and highways if plans for a satisfactory removal were not agreed upon last March. Since May 14 the engineering force has been busy making surveys preparatory to the condemnation of this property. This work will be continued, and I anticipate that it will be two months before it can be completed.

In addition to the work on Contract No. 1, the Rapid Transit Board at its last meeting completed the contract for the building of additional tracks between Ninety-sixth street and One Hundred and Third street, on Broadway. There will be two additional tracks on the west side and one on the east side, so arranged that the congestion which has existed since the opening of the subway in this section of the city will be entirely obviated. This contract is almost all in rock and will cost in the vicinity of $900,000.

At the same meeting the Board authorized the improving of the condition of the subway between Ninety-sixth street and One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, on Broadway. These improvements relate to the making of openings in the roof of the subway so that a freer circulation of air can be had. This improvement was recommended some time ago, but it was thought best to wait until the results obtained from the previous work on ventilation had been under trial. This work will cost about $90,000.

These are the remaining portions of the work which are now in course of either construction or study at the present time and involve an expenditure of nearly $15,000,000.

In the last few months of the life of the Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners the extension of a system of railroads was authorized for that portion of the system as recommended by the Commission in 1905 for a comprehensive plan for rapid transit in that portion of the Borough of Brooklyn east and south of Manhattan Bridge. The plans for fourteen sections, comprising the routes along Manhattan Bridge approach and through Fourth avenue to Fort Hamilton, and with a connection at Fortieth street easterly to Coney Island, were completed in June, and the Commission authorized the holding of a public hearing, in accordance with the law, on July 25 on five of these fourteen sections. These five contracts are ready for printing, and I am proceeding with the writing of these other contracts. The letting of these contracts was authorized not only by the Rapid Transit Board, but by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and they involve an expenditure of about $23,000,000. This work is a four-track subway connecting the east end of Manhattan Bridge with the subway now being built in Flatbush avenue, and also extending through Willoughby street and Ashland place to the junction of Atlantic avenue and Fourth avenue; thence a four-track road southerly on Fourth avenue to Fortieth street, and then continuing southerly as a two-track road to Fort Hamilton. On Fortieth street the four tracks continue easterly to about Ninth avenue, where they become a two-track system through New Utrecht avenue and Eighty-sixth street and Stillwell avenue to Coney Island.

From the above it will be seen that the Public Service Commission for the First District, in finishing the work now under contract and carrying out the plans formulated for the extension in Brooklyn, will have an amount of work of construction more than that involved in the first subway already built in Manhattan and The Bronx boroughs.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

The Secretary presented the following communication, which, on motion, was ordered on file:

Hon. W. R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission, First District, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

MY DEAR SIR—I have received your favor of the 5th inst. suggesting co-operation between the two Commissions in the adoption of uniform methods. Such co-operation strikes me favorably and as being, in fact, indispensable.

We are not prepared just at this moment to take up the matter, but would it not be well if you have the subject under consideration to make a memorandum of the points upon which uniform methods are desirable, together with some suggestions of your Commission upon them, and send it to me? It could then be considered by this Commission and a member of the Commission designated to confer with you, who would be able to treat the matter more promptly and intelligently.

Please advise me what you think of this suggestion.

Yours respectfully,

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, First District, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

GENTLEMEN—The above alliance has gone on record unanimously in favor of the third tracking of the Second and Third avenue elevated roads, and your Commission is requested to grant a hearing in the matter at the earliest opportunity. If you will inform me when this matter can be taken up you will confer a great favor upon the alliance.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, First District, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

GENTLEMEN—In April, 1907, the above association, after due deliberation, passed a resolution for the installment and maintenance of an escalator on the West Farms station of the subway.

This matter has been called to the attention of the Interborough-Metropolitan Company and also the former Rapid Transit Commission, but nothing has been done in the matter.

It is hoped that your Commission will investigate, hold a hearing in the matter and order the installation of the above.

Hundreds of demands have been made upon the Taxpayers' Alliance for this, and the committee of the alliance having same in charge has thoroughly gone over the same with competent authority.

Yours truly,

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Chief Engineer, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

July 6, 1907.

The Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—At your request I submit a list of the problems which confront the Public Service Commission for the First District at the present time relating to rapid transit matters.

I have already in a letter to you of even date made mention of the proposed subway which has been ratified not only by the Rapid Transit Board, but by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, for an extension to the rapid transit system from the Manhattan Bridge easterly and southerly to Fort Hamilton and to Coney Island, for which a public hearing has been called on July 25 for five sections, and for which the contract and specifications are now ready and being printed.

It may not be known to you, but one of the most pressing necessities for rapid transit in Greater New York prevails now in connecting Manhattan with The Bronx. Plans and specifications were gotten out, and public hearings were held for the building of a four-track system on the east and west sides of Manhattan connecting with The Bronx early in this year. No bids were received, but the Board and City authorities devoted themselves to finding some relief for the extension of some rapid transit in Greater New York prevails now in connecting Manhattan with The Bronx. Fourth avenue, Fort Hamilton and Coney Island section was decided upon as an adequate increase to the system. It is unfortunate that the City could not get some relief at this time for Manhattan and The Bronx, as the travel is increasing to an alarming extent, as will be plainly seen by reading that part of the Engineer's annual report for the year 1906 to the Board relating to the increase of travel and the necessities for new work. Inasmuch as Manhattan, from Tenth street up to One Hundred and Third street is underlain by rock which is near the surface, additional subway construction for any north and south line will necessarily take about four years to construct. The only possible relief on that account is to put additional tracks on the elevated roads on the east side of the City, that is, on the Third and Second avenue lines, which extend from The Bronx to the lower end of Manhattan. This addition to the elevated facilities has been urged for a number of years, and the Rapid Transit Board at a recent meeting sent communications to the Interborough Company notifying them that they were willing to negotiate in reference to the affording of additional facilities by means of additional tracks under certain conditions. This problem is the greatest problem which the Commission has at the present time; it means the granting of privileges as suggested, with provisions which will not only compensate the City but protect the City in the granting of additional facilities for the franchise given in perpetuity.

In the upper part of The Bronx the Board has laid out several lines of elevated connections, not only with the subway system, but also with the elevated system. These are necessities and are also urgent on account of a wonderful growth of travel between the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx.

The Rapid Transit Board have recently laid out a subway system through Centre and Delancey streets for the purpose of affording a quick and adequate system of connecting the railroads in Brooklyn with Manhattan. Five contracts for this work are under construction, and this line contemplates not only a possible connection with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Interborough systems in Brooklyn, but also a connection with a proposed subway system into the northern and eastern part of the Borough of Brooklyn, besides affording communication with the west side of Manhattan south of Fourteenth street, and also making additional connections with the southern part of Manhattan below the City Hall.

For a considerable time a patented system of elevated railroad called the "Behr Monorail System" has been suggested to the Rapid Transit Board. This proposed road starts from South Ferry, at the foot of Atlantic avenue in Brooklyn, along Atlantic avenue to Fourth avenue, thence through private property to Dean street, near Fifth avenue, through Dean street, Washington avenue, Prospect place, Rogers avenue, Flatbush avenue, Nostrand avenue, private property from the intersection of Nostrand avenue and Avenue R to the intersection of East Nineteenth street and Avenue U, through East Nineteenth street of Voorhees avenue, through private property to Emmons avenue, through Neptune avenue, West Twelfth street to terminus near Surf avenue.

After due deliberation on the application for a franchise for this proposed road, the Rapid Transit Board made arrangements by which the Behr Monorail Company should pay $25,000 to guarantee the City against any failure on the part of the Behr Monorail Company to carry out its plan, but the Behr Monorail Company evidently have been unable to raise the $25,000 which the Rapid Transit Board deemed necessary to protect the City against a failure of that scheme. The Rapid Transit Board have never laid out a route as suggested by the Behr Monorail Company. Even if the road were built, it would have to be built under competition, and some other form of elevated road might be the successful bidders. The requirements as demanded by the Rapid Transit Act would prohibit the entering into a contract with the Behr Monorail Company without public competition, and other people interested in any scheme which may be proposed.

The Rapid Transit Board in connection with the City authorities have within the last few years perfected franchises for the McAdoo tunnels and to the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Companies, connecting the State of New Jersey with the neighboring territory across the North and East rivers. These franchises are all in active construction, and have been under the supervision of the Rapid Transit Board; more particularly the McAdoo tunnel connection up Sixth avenue from Christopher street to Thirty-fourth street, one of the conditions of their charter being that the City could in twenty-five years buy at cost this portion of the McAdoo Railroad. A portion of the Pennsylvania tunnel in the vicinity of Broadway and Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets has also been particularly under the observation of the Board, on account of some trouble having been had in connection with the rock, more particularly in the vicinity of Fifth avenue and the two streets named above.

A large amount of work has been done and is now being done in connection with the rebuilding and enlargement of the terminal facilities of the New York Central Railroad near Forty-second street. This construction did not come under the control of the Rapid Transit Board, but is a part of the work under the Public Service Commission for the First District, as well as the tunnel which has been under construction for about two years, called the "Belmont Tunnel," which started under the franchise given to Mr. Steinway in the early 90's.

These are the main problems which occur to me in which the Commission will be interested, without referring to the elevated system and surface system in Manhattan, which are manifestly of interest to the Public Service Commission.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

The Secretary presented the following communication which, on motion, was ordered filed.

July 10, 1907.

Mr. T. H. WHITNEY, Secretary, Public Service Commission, First District, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

DEAR SIR—In response to your request of the 9th inst., for certification from which to fill various positions, we are sending you to-day certifications from the list of Court Stenographers from which to make one appointment, and from the list of Women Stenographers, sixth grade, from which to make three appointments. If any of the persons certified decline appointment, additional name or names will, upon request, be certified in lieu thereof.

Referring to your request for certifications from which to appoint Inspectors of Gas Meters, Inspectors of Electric Meters, and Statisticians, we do not feel that your letter contains sufficient information to enable us to make the certifications. Will you kindly state the salaries to be paid in each case, and give a brief statement of the duties of each position.

The Commission has the following eligible lists:

Statisticians, four names.

When this examination was held it was stated to be for the position of Assistant Statistician in the Department of Excise, at a salary of $1,500 to $1,800 per annum, and other positions of similar character in the State and County service.

Inspector, gas and electricity, two names.

Examination held for the Commission of Gas and Electricity to fill positions at salaries from $1,200 to $2,000:

Chief Inspector, gas and electricity, two names.

Notice of examination for this position stated the salary to be $1,800.

Gas Meter Tester, eight names.

Established for Department of State Inspector of Gas Meters, salary $3.50 per day.

I inclose herewith clippings from the announcements of these various examinations, from which you can gain an idea of the character of the examinations, and perhaps determine whether these lists are appropriate for filling any of the positions to which you desire to make appointments.

We will send you by express in the morning a supply of nomination blanks for use in nominating persons for non-competitive examination for provisional appointment under Rule VIII, subdivision 4, in cases where it appears that the Commission has not appropriate eligible lists, and pending the establishment of such lists; also application blanks for nominees to fill and file in this office. We also send some copies of the Civil Service Law and Rules, and blanks on which changes in the Department may be reported to this Commission. Your attention is respectfully directed to Rule XX in regard to such notices.

As stated by telephone to-day, we will hold your weekly payroll for Inspectors, pending receipt of further information in regard to discrepancies of salaries between the payroll as submitted and the roster of the employees of the former Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, filed by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Yours very respectfully,

GEORGE R. HITCHCOCK, Assistant Secretary.

Approved, TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, SECRETARY.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,
FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1907,
AT 320 BROADWAY,
BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

There were present—Chairman William R. Willcox, Commissioners William McCarroll, Edward M. Bassett, Milo R. Maltbie, John E. Eustis.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Chief Engineer, regarding a complaint of Commissioner O'Brien, of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

July 11, 1907.

The Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—I have read the letter of Mr. John H. O'Brien, Commissioner of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, of July 9, 1907, in reference to the laying of the water main on Broadway, between Two Hundred and Thirtieth and Two Hundred and Forty-second streets.

I will first call your attention to an error on the part of Mr. O'Brien and where he states that the present grade of Broadway "was done to meet the plans of the Rapid Transit Commission, which provided for the placing of a superstructure on this avenue." I know of no action on the part of the Rapid Transit Board or its Engineers on which Mr. O'Brien can base the above statement; we simply adapted our work to the street grades as we found them. We knew of the existence of the present 12-inch water main, which Mr. O'Brien speaks of as having been covered up by the grading, but were given to understand that this water main would be replaced by a new one, so that there would be no necessity on the part of our contractors to move this main to another location. It was necessary to remove the gas main referred to as it interfered with the construction of the Rapid Transit Railroad, and after a consultation with the owners of the main it was placed in a position satisfactory to them and to your Engineers.

On May 13, 1907, I addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Rapid Transit Board in reference to the laying of a new water main on Broadway. I objected to its being laid, however, until our work is finished as it might interfere with or delay the work of our contractor; and in reference to this point I beg to call your attention to the contract and specifications under which this work is being done, under the head of subdivision relating to "Maintenance of Street Railroad Tracks and other Surface or Subsurface Structures," in which it is provided—

"In the event of the companies or the City being required to make any alterations to their structures as above provided, or in case they shall consider it is necessary or desirable to make any further alterations in, or do any work to or in connection with surface or subsurface structures owned by them or it, at the time the work under this contract is in progress, the contractor shall give said company or City all reasonable opportunity to perform such work, provided such work or alteration for the benefit solely of the owners of subsurface structures does not cause the contractor any serious loss or delay, as shall be determined by the Board."

A representative of the Water Department at a later date called at this office and the question of this water main was discussed in a general way, but nothing was determined in regard thereto.

In reference to the rights of the Board in the matter, I will call your attention to a decision of the Corporation Counsel as given on page 4226 of the minutes of the Rapid Transit Board, and again to report of Counsel on page 4077 of the minutes of the Board. It would appear from these decisions that the Rapid Transit Board and you as its successors have absolute jurisdiction over the streets on which a contract has been let to build a Rapid Transit Railway.

I am always glad to advise with the Department of Water Supply, and to do everything that is possible in the matter of rendering them any assistance and giving them the preference wherever it is possible to do so. In this case, however, I am of the opinion, that there is plenty of room in Broadway to lay the water-main without interfering with the gas main in question, as it has already been laid.

As to the rights of the Westchester Lighting Company, to lay a pipe on the street, that is something I am not informed about. We found the pipe, however, in existence, during our construction, and have to take care of it under the terms and provisions of the contract.

Upon reading the opinions of the Corporation Counsel referred to, you will observe that the question of the rights of other Departments in the streets where rapid transit railroads are being constructed, has been the source of numerous controversies. I cannot see, however, how this case differs from others; still it may be advisable to again refer to counsel.

There have been other decisions of Counsel in somewhat similar cases, but I think the one first referred to covers the ground sufficiently. I will refer you also to the Rapid Transit Act, Laws of 1891, chapter 4, section 6, pages 9 and 10, and to section 33, pages 36 and 37.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Chief Engineer, regarding a break in the water main in the Brooklyn subway, which, on motion, was ordered on file:

July 11, 1907.

TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Esq., Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—This morning at about 5 o'clock the capped end of the 20-inch water main in Adams street, just north of the subway structure at Fulton street, blew out, and the street was flooded. A large quantity of water found its way through manhole openings into the lower track spur east of the Borough Hall station, and also distributed itself in various directions on the street surface, in some cases flooding cellars on Fulton street and on Willoughby street. No structural damage was done, except to the cables of the telephone company which were located in a manhole near the intersection of the streets mentioned above. I understand that there were about 1,700 stations put out of commission, and it will take the rest of the day before these connections can be restored.

I have not yet ascertained that much damage has been done where cellars were flooded, but I understand that some goods of various kinds were slightly injured.

The water main in question formerly connected with the 30-inch main running along Fulton street, but was capped by the Water Department about two years ago in anticipation of subway work.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

The Chairman presented the following communication from the Commissioner of Bridges, which was read by the Secretary, and referred to the Committee of the Whole:

1637

July 11, 1907.

Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Utilities Commission, No. 320 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan:

SIR—With reference to the traffic problems in connection with the bridges over the East river in The City of New York, I desire to present to your Honorable Commission for consideration the following, viz.:

Williamsburg Bridge.

Certain work is in progress under the jurisdiction of the Department of Bridges which, when completed, which I expect will be by the latter part of this year, will result in the operation over the bridge of elevated railroad trains from Brooklyn to and into the subsurface railroad station in Manhattan extending on Delancey street, from Clinton street to Essex street. Upon the completion of the said terminal and the other improvements now under way in connection therewith, thirty (30) 8-car elevated trains per hour, which can deliver 25,000 people per hour at the Manhattan terminal, may be operated across the bridge. This traffic will be entirely in addition to the present traffic over the surface trolley cars crossing the bridge. The transportation facilities to and from the Manhattan terminal of the bridge for the present traffic are hardly adequate, and with the addition of the elevated railway traffic will be altogether inadequate. Until the completion of the subway now under construction in Manhattan, which is to connect with the Williamsburg Bridge, some additional facilities should be provided for taking passengers to and from the station.

Manhattan Bridge.

In the case of the Manhattan Bridge, which it is expected will be completed by the 31st of December, 1909, provision is made on the structure for eight (8) railway tracks in all, four on the lower roadway level and four on the upper level. Of these tracks the four on the lower level can be used interchangeably for subway, elevated or surface car traffic. The four on the upper level may be used interchangeably for elevated and surface cars. It will be necessary to know in ample time before the bridge is completed just how the tracks over the bridge are to be allotted to the different transportation companies.

It is of no small importance to provide adequate facilities upon this bridge and at its terminals for roadway traffic, and the disposition of the subway tracks at the Brooklyn and Manhattan terminals should be developed so as not to seriously interfere with this traffic.

The contract already let by the former Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for the subway route 9-0-2 contemplates constructing the subway entrance to the Manhattan Bridge on the Manhattan plaza as far as Chrystie street, and this entrance is so located as to seriously affect the roadway approach to the bridge. It is my conviction that this subway entrance in Manhattan should be so located as not to interfere in the least with any of the uses to which the bridge will be put other than for railway traffic.

Blackwell's Island Bridge.

The track construction as contemplated on this bridge will provide upon completion of the bridge for operation of cars six (6) tracks, viz.: Two tracks for elevated railway trains, two tracks for surface trolley cars and two tracks which may be used for either surface trolley cars or for trains operated from the subway to and over the bridge. In addition to these tracks and to meet future demands there is sufficient space on the structure for two additional tracks for the operation of elevated railway trains.

In determining upon the track plans for this bridge I have endeavored to ascertain the intentions of the transportation companies with regard to their operation to and over the bridge. So far as I am advised by them it is not contemplated that use may be made of any of these tracks except one pair for the operation of surface trolley cars from the Borough of Queens over the bridge and to Manhattan into a subsurface terminal which the Department of Bridges is constructing.

The rapid development of the Borough of Queens will certainly require in the immediate future more adequate facilities over this bridge than the transportation companies contemplate furnishing, and I would suggest that this matter receive the earnest consideration of your Honorable Commission.

Respectfully,

J. W. STEVENSON, Commissioner of Bridges.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Department of Finance, regarding rental of subway payable by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which, on motion, was referred to the Chief Engineer:

I also inclose a revised itemized statement of the bonds issued for the construction of the Brooklyn-Manhattan section only, there being no change in the bond issue for the construction of the Manhattan-The Bronx section of the Rapid Transit Railroad as previously furnished by this Department for the information and use of the former Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners.

The Secretary presented a communication from the Department of Finance signed by Assistant Deputy Comptroller H. L. Smith, addressed to the Hon. Bion L. Burrows, Secretary of the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission, advising him that on July 2, 1907, the sum of $5,000 was deposited to the credit of Rapid Transit Fund No. 2, having been authorized January 25, 1907, pursuant to the provisions of section 10, chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891, and section 7, chapter 752, Laws of 1894, as amended. The communication, on motion, was ordered on file.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the South Brooklyn Board of Trade, regarding the complaint against the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company, concerning the Smith street line, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

SOUTH BROOKLYN BOARD OF TRADE,
No. 271 NINTH STREET,
BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 11, 1907.

The Public Service Commission, New York, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—On April 19 last, the State Railroad Commission gave a hearing to the South Brooklyn Board of Trade in its complaint against the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company (Smith street line). At that hearing the South Brooklyn Board of Trade was represented by a committee, of which I had the honor of being chairman, and we presented facts under oath as to the condition of the equipment, cars and track of this railroad. The facts as we presented them were admitted by the railroad people and were confirmed by the State Railroad Commission's own expert, the Inspector who inspected the road. These conditions were and are so outrageous that they call for immediate abatement, and it was understood that the State Railroad Commission would, before it went out of office, report its findings against this railroad company, and compel it thereunder to put on proper equipment as regards cars, repair and renew the tracks and do away with the outrageous, nerve-racking, noise-producing, ramshackle cars they are running.

Presumably the State Railroad Commission was unable to accomplish this before it went out of office, and the matter, hence, stands as unfinished business, and we therefore respectfully ask that your Honorable Commission take up this question promptly and compel this road, in decency's sake, to do its duty to the public. All the proofs and data are, no doubt, in your possession as part of the records of the State Railroad Commission, and the Secretary of that Commission, Mr. Kennedy, is quite familiar with the subject.

If there is anything that the South Brooklyn Board of Trade, my committee or myself can do to bring about the results we have fought for for years, we respectfully ask you to call upon us and our services will be promptly given. Otherwise I would respectfully ask you to favor me with a report of the present status of this matter, and inform me of when your Honorable Commission will give its decision or findings on this subject.

I remain,

Yours very respectfully,

(Signed) JOHN E. GAVIN,

Chairman, Transportation Committee, South Brooklyn Board of Trade.

MILES M. DAWSON, F. A. S., F. I. A.,
 No. 76 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK,
 July 1, 1907.

The Public Utilities Commission, First District, New York City:

GENTLEMEN—On behalf of the Committee of Fifty, which has been agitating to bring about the removal of the New York Central tracks from the surface of Eleventh avenue and other streets and along Riverside and other parks, and which was responsible for the Saxe Law now in force, we respectfully request your early and careful attention to the duty of completing the plans for the condemnation of the said tracks, which have been in progress under Engineer Rice, and which, because of the pressure upon him in the matter of plans for contracts let in the closing days of the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, have been somewhat retarded.

The Saxe Law provided in set terms that if no contract was made by March 26, 1907, proceedings to condemn the franchises and properties of the Railroad Company should be instituted forthwith by the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners preparing plans for such condemnation, and then turning the matter over to the Corporation Counsel.

Corporation Counsel Ellison advises us that there will not be a moment's delay when the plans have reached his hands, and in view of the great public importance of the matter and of the necessity to relieve the present intolerable conditions at the earliest moment possible, we respectfully request your early attention in order that the preparation of the plans may be expedited.

Thanking you in advance for your courtesy in the matter, we are,

Yours sincerely,
 (Signed) JOHN P. CHIDWICK,
 Chairman, Committee of Fifty.
 (Signed) MILES M. DAWSON,
 Vice-Chairman, Committee of Fifty.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE
 PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,
 MONDAY, JULY 15, 1907,
 AT 320 BROADWAY,
 BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

There were present—Chairman William R. Willcox, Commissioners William McCarroll, Edward M. Bassett, Milo R. Maltbie, John E. Eustis.

The Secretary presented the following report from the Chief Engineer, relative to the installment of elevators, or escalators, at the West Farms Station of the subway, which was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

1208

July 12, 1907.

Mr. TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary, Public Service Commission, for the First District:

DEAR SIR—I have your letter of July 9, 1907, transmitting a communication from Mr. Harry Robitzek, Corresponding Secretary of the Taxpayers' Alliance of The Bronx, in reference to installing and maintaining an escalator at the West Farms or the One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street subway station.

The two train platforms of the One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street station are served by one ticket house, just underneath the tracks. This ticket house is accessible by stairways from both sides of the street. Passengers using the station ascend approximately 32 feet from the street surface to the ticket house, thence 15 feet more to the train platforms; altogether about 47 feet before they can board the trains.

The contract with Mr. John B. McDonald provides that wherever station platforms are located at a depth or height exceeding 30 feet from the surface of the street, contractor shall, if required by the Board, establish an approved plan of elevators not exceeding four in number.

When the plans for this station were prepared in 1904 no provision was made for either elevators or escalators, though they might have been required of the contractor under his contract with the City.

The station is now entirely completed in accordance with the plans prepared by the Board. It is entirely practicable, however, to provide either elevators or escalators for this station for a very small additional cost over what the cost would have been if they had been installed when the station was first constructed.

Since both train platforms are served through one ticket house, access to both north and south bound trains would be had by elevators or escalators constructed on one side of the street.

One of the following plans might be adopted:

First—Property may be secured on one side of the street, preferably on the west side, and an elevator building constructed which will contain at least two elevators operating to the level of the ticket house floor; a bridge or passageway can be constructed over the sidewalk to the building connecting with the ticket house. If this plan were carried out, passengers would then ascend or descend by elevators to or from the ticket house level and thence to or from either train platform by stairway 15 feet high. This plan would involve a minimum change in the present structure. The present stairways running from the ticket house level to the street would not have to be disturbed; all the work to be done would be additional work. Private property would have to be acquired, however, in which to install the elevators. The cost of the two elevators, exclusive of the elevator house and private property for the same, would probably be about $25,000 or $30,000.

Second—One of the stairways ascending from the street to the ticket house level, preferably on the west side of the street, can be removed and an ascending escalator substituted for it. Passengers would then ascend by escalator to the ticket house level and thence to either train platform by the stairway 15 feet high. Disembarking passengers would use the same stairways between the train platforms and the ticket house level, and thence descend to the street by the exit stairway.

An ascending escalator can first be provided, and if subsequent conditions warrant it, a descending one can be built as a substitute for the remaining stairway on the same side of the street. This plan would not require the purchase of any private property. One ascending escalator could probably be constructed for about $30,000, which represents the whole construction cost.

It is obvious, therefore, that the second plan is the more preferable of the two. The work would probably have to be ordered as an extra, under the contract with Mr. John B. McDonald, and additional money provided to defray the cost of the same, since the station at the above mentioned point has already been completed under the plans approved by the Rapid Transit Board.

Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission, No. 320 Broadway, N. Y. City:

DEAR SIR—I beg to call your attention to a condition existing in this Borough, on Richmond road (Concord), between Ninth street and Vanderbilt avenue, where there is laid an asphalt pavement. Owing to escaping electricity beneath the tracks of the Richmond Light and Railroad Company (Midland Branch), the water service pipes, due to electrolysis, are continually eaten away, thereby causing bad leaks, which necessitates a continual ripping up of the road to repair the leaks at an unnecessary expense to the City, as well as to the individual property owner. There is one case, that of an orphan girl, who owns a small building occupied by a laundry, who has spent at least ninety dollars within the last three years in this connection.

The attention of the railroad company has been repeatedly called to this condition, but to no avail. Deeming this complaint a matter for the consideration of your Commission, I beg leave to write you in the hope that the Commission may take the necessary remedial steps.

Very truly yours,
 (Signed) GEORGE CROMWELL,
 President of the Borough.

The Secretary presented a communication signed by Louis Arnold, Secretary of the Atlantic Avenue and Brooklyn Improvement Association, protesting against the granting to the Monorail Railroad Company the right to operate a railroad of any nature on Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, which was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The Secretary presented various communications from the City Departments, asking for the transfer to such departments of employees of this Commission, and the following was moved:

Resolved, That this Commission hereby approve of the following transfers:

NEW YORK, July 13, 1907.

Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, President of the Public Service Commission, New York City:

DEAR SIR—I have been directed by the Vice-President of the Zoological Society to confer with your Honorable Board concerning the proposed extension of the subway elevated structure northward from One Hundred and Eightieth street, West Farms. Pending the formulation of any definite request in the matter, I have conferred with your Chief Engineer, Mr. Rice, and from him received full information regarding the status of the terminus up to the present time. We have been made aware of the recent request of the Chief Engineer of the Interborough Railway Company for plans for the erection of a terminal station at One Hundred and Eighty-second street. It is because of this request of the Interborough Railway Company that I have been directed by the Zoological Society to take up the matter. At this juncture, I will only take up your time sufficiently to advise you that, in the estimation of the Zoological Society, the erection of a terminus at One Hundred and Eighty-second street, on the lines proposed by the contract between the City and the Interborough Railway Company would be a very grave calamity, and in the Society's view, highly detrimental to the best interests of the public. We earnestly hope that some arrangement can be made which will obviate the technical necessity of erecting a terminal as now shown on the contract plans.

With a view to harmonizing all interests in the matter I have taken up the question with the Interborough Railway Company, and at the present moment the matter is under friendly consideration. I sincerely hope that it will be possible for us to arrive, informally, at a conclusion which will satisfy the Interborough Railway Company and the Zoological Society, and which also will meet the approval of your Honorable Board.

I take the present opportunity to submit these facts for your information, and that of your Chief Engineer, in order that you may be advised that the whole subject is under diligent consideration. I hope to be in a position to submit to the Public Service Commission at an early date, a suggestion for a final plan for the terminus which will meet your approval.

Yours very respectfully,

(Signed) W. T. HORNADAY, Director.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 16, 1907.

Mr. TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

DEAR SIR—By direction of the Commission, I hand you herewith communication received by the former Commission of Gas and Electricity from the Merchants' Association of New York, dated May 7, 1907, requesting the Commission to investigate the cost of supplying break-down service by the New York Edison Company, with a view to determining the fair charge for such service, and to make recommendations to the Legislature as to modifying the existing law if found necessary. It appears that no action was taken in this matter other than to acknowledge the receipt of the communication.

Very truly yours,

J. S. KENNEDY, Secretary.

"May 7, 1907.

The Honorable Commission of Gas and Electricity of the State of New York:

GENTLEMEN—Differences having arisen between certain members of this association and the New York Edison Company as to the obligation of the Company to supply so-called "break-down service," the Edison Company requested the Merchants' Association, through its Committee on Gas and Electricity, to examine into the subject, with a view to developing the equitable considerations which should govern the relations, in the particular cited, between the company and the public.

This committee accordingly made such examination as was practicable, and embodied the result of its inquiries in a report, a copy of which is transmitted herewith.

The conclusions and recommendations of the report are as follows:

"It is our opinion that the New York Edison Company should be required to furnish its services to all applicants, irrespective of the use to which such service is to be put; that it should not discriminate in any way against the users of private plants; that especially it should be required to supply 'break-down service,' but that the legal restrictions now imposed upon it as to charge, if found to be inequitable, should be so modified as to permit it to exact for 'break-down service' a rate that would be fairly remunerative for such service."

"We therefore recommend that the subject be presented to the State Gas and Electric Commission, and that that body be requested to make a full investigation into the cost of supplying 'break-down service' and into the conditions under which it is supplied, with a view to determining a fair charge for such service. We further recommend that if the Commission should find the present legal rate inadequate for 'break-down service' the subject be thereafter presented to the Legislature, with a view to modifying existing law and establishing a proper rate of charge for such service."

The report has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association, and this committee has been instructed to give effect to its recommendations.

We therefore have the honor to request that you make a full investigation into the cost of supplying break-down electric service in this City and into the conditions under which it is supplied, with a view to ascertaining the equitable charge for such service; and that you thereafter make such order or recommendations in relation to the subject matter as the facts may warrant.

Very respectfully,

Committee on Gas and Electricity,
THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OF NEW YORK.
By J. CRAWFORD MCCREERY, Chairman.

New York, February 28, 1907.

Preliminary Report Regarding Auxiliary Electric Service.

To the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association of New York:

GENTLEMEN—By the action of your Executive Committee, your Committee on Gas and Electricity was instructed to examine into and report upon the conditions relating to the supplying by the New York Edison Company of auxiliary electric current (or "break-down service") to consumers having private plants.

This inquiry was undertaken at the instance of several members having private plants and of the New York Edison Company.

I.

SCOPE OF INQUIRY.

It was alleged by the complainants that the New York Edison Company generally refuses to supply occasional electric current to consumers having private plants, and that in the cases where exceptions are made the conditions attached are onerous and unreasonable.

It was contended by the company that consumers having private plants are in effect competitors of the company; that the proper operations of such private plants to assure effective service whenever needed, requires duplicate installation of apparatus and large additional investment as a guarantee against stoppage; that such additional investment would not be required if the service of the company, as a substitute, could be compelled whenever a private plant became disabled; that to make the service of the company thus available in the case of disabled private plants, would remove the necessity for adequate private installation, greatly reduce the private investment now necessary, and strongly tend to promote private competition by enabling the Company's facilities to be employed for the benefit of its alleged competitors to its own great detriment.

It was further contended that the cost to the company of supplying occasional auxiliary service is extremely disproportionate to the revenue which can be derived from such service, the charges of the company being restricted by law, whereby it is precluded from imposing a charge justly proportioned to the extraordinary cost of the occasional service.

The company therefore contends that it is justified in generally refusing to supply so-called "break-down service," and in attaching to the erratic and occasional supply of auxiliary current conditions which tend to discourage its use and compel private plants to rely upon their own resources.

II.

PRACTICE AND OBLIGATION OF THE COMPANY.

The general policy of the New York Edison Electric Light Company is to withhold its services as far as possible from consumers having private plants. Some of its contracts for service bind the consumer not to install a private plant or derive any part of the service from any other source than the company during the term of the agreement. In some cases this restriction has been disregarded by consumers and the company has deprived such consumers of its service. In other cases the company has modified its restrictions and has contracted to supply part of the service, stipulating that the consumer should pay monthly for an agreed minimum quantity of current, whether consumed or not, and that the service of the company should be continued for a term of years.

We cannot concur in the Company's contention that it may rightfully refuse service to any class or take into consideration the use to which the service supplied by it may be put.

The New York Edison Electric Light Company is a public service corporation enjoying certain privileges, in consideration of the performance by it of a certain obligation. That obligation is to provide for a certain public need. Its duty is to the whole public. In discharging its obligation it cannot rightfully discriminate against individuals or classes; it cannot elect to supply certain classes with service and refuse that service to other classes. It must supply the needs of all upon terms proportioned to the extent of the service and the conditions under which that service is supplied.

The company violates this fundamental duty of supplying service to all. It seeks to withhold the benefit of its service from any who decline to deal with it exclusively. It seeks to preclude the use of its services in the manner which a certain class of consumers finds most beneficial, on the ground that such use tends to restrict the operations of the company.

The plea that in supplying a certain class of service it is promoting competition against itself is wholly beside the question. If it receives adequate compensation for a specific class of service, it is bound to supply that service, irrespective of the use to which it may be applied, and irrespective of the indirect limitation of the company's business which may ensue. While denying the right of the company to refuse "break-down service" on the ground that it will promote the use of private plants, we wish to point out that the company can largely restrict the use of private plants by supplying electricity at rates which will make resort to private plants unprofitable—an alternative that should be well within the company's power, as the great relative economy of large electric plants is well established.

The doctrine that public service corporations must render service alike to all is too well established to be disputed. A railroad company cannot supply transportation to some and refuse it to others; a water company cannot refuse water to any; a gas company cannot withhold light from whosoever wants it. Similarly, an electric company cannot rightfully refuse service; cannot rightfully exact as a condition of supplying service, that only its services shall be used; cannot rightfully require that its services shall be contracted for during a period of years.

Our inquiry leads us to the belief that "break-down service" entails upon a company increased elements of expense. The existing plant of the New York Edison Company, like the plants of gas and water companies, is based upon a fairly well defined normal consumption, with provision for supplying the normal maximum demand during the months when consumption is at its greatest. The rate of consumption for ordinary purposes at various hours of the day, and during the different seasons of the year is fairly constant, and in definite proportion to the entire number of lamps. It is, therefore, a comparatively easy matter to determine a proper rate of charge per unit of such normal service, derived from the aggregate of capital and operating charges, in the case of a plant constantly employed to its average capacity in turning out a fixed product for which there is a certain market. The factors indicated determine the charge in the case of the ordinary service of the New York Edison Company, namely, definite cost of production and fairly constant consumption.

In the case of "break-down service," the company asserts that the factors are materially different. This service is used only when accidents disable private plants. The occurrence of these accidents is somewhat erratic. None may happen for weeks. During this period of exemption, there is no demand whatever for current. On the other hand, there might be a cumulation of break-downs, and therefrom might result large demand for extra current. Because of the erratic frequency of these demands and the uncertainty of their extent, the company declares that provision must be made to meet them. The installation should be large enough to meet the maximum demand. Moreover, this installation must be kept in a general condition of fitness to supply the maximum current, irrespective of whether it is actually required or not, except at seasons of low general consumption, as from March 1 to December 1.

For ordinary service the New York Edison Company says that the average yearly use of each lamp is about 1,000 hours; for the small extent of "break-down service" now in use the average yearly use per lamp, as stated by the Edison Company, might fall to only about twenty hours. Nevertheless, the installation to provide the "break-down service" must be kept ready.

It is obvious that, if the conditions of service outlined above by the company are correctly stated, a greater expense upon the company would be entailed than under normal circumstances; and it is likewise obvious that a charge per unit, which would be fair for ordinary service, would perhaps be inadequate for "break-down service."

The company states that it has an installation of 4,000,000 lamps; that its station capacity is something in excess of 100,000 horse power; that one horse power on its system furnishes about fifteen lamps, so that its station capacity would supply 1,500,000 lamps. In installing 4,000,000 lamps, when it has a capacity for supplying 1,500,000, it is proceeding upon the theory established by its experience, that it does not require generating machinery for 4,000,000 lamps, because that number of lamps is not likely to be operated at the same time. The same theory might perhaps be applicable to the "break-down service" upon a like law of averages, for break-downs would probably not be simultaneous all over the city.

In view of the highly technical nature of the subject it is impracticable for your committee to reach a definite conclusion as to what additional cost, if any, might be imposed upon the company in supplying "break-down service." It seems to us that the proper rate of charge could only be determined after an exhaustive inquiry into the following elements of cost:

1. The extent of additional installation, if any, required in order to enable the company to be at all times prepared to supply the demand likely to be made upon it for "break-down service."

2. The additional operating charges, if any, necessarily imposed upon the company in supplying such service.

To ascertain these data would require a more minute examination of technical detail than is practicable for us to give.

III.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

It is our opinion that the New York Edison Electric Light Company should be required to furnish its service to all applicants, irrespective of the use to which such service is to be put; that it should not discriminate in any way against the users of private plants; that especially it should be required to supply "break-down service," but that the legal restrictions now imposed upon it as to charge, if found to be inequitable, should be so modified as to permit it to exact for "break-down service" a rate that would be fairly remunerative for such service.

We therefore recommend that the subject be presented to the State Gas and Electric Commission, and that that body be requested to make a full investigation into the cost of supplying "break-down service" and into the conditions under which it is supplied, with a view to determining the fair charge for such service. We further recommend that if the Commission should find the present legal rate inadequate for "break-down service" the subject be thereafter presented to the Legislature with a view to modifying existing law and establishing a proper rate of charge for such service.

Your committee also has under consideration other phases of the conditions under which electric light is now supplied, upon which it will render a further report.

Respectfully submitted,

DEAR SIR—By direction of the Commission I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of May 7, requesting that this department make a full investigation into the cost of supplying "break-down service" by the New York Edison Company and into the conditions under which it is supplied, with the view of determining a fair charge for such service, and with a further view to making recommendations therein, if necessary, to the Legislature; and also the enclosed preliminary report of the committee regarding auxiliary electric service, dated February 28, 1907. Such investigation will be undertaken in the regular course of business now pending. We trust to be able to appoint an early date for a hearing, of which the association will be promptly notified.

DEAR SIR—Referring to your communication of July 15, 1907, concerning the discontinuance of the so-called Seventh Avenue Brooklyn Bridge line, I beg to hand you herewith a report to me on the subject by the Vice-President and General Manager of the company, in charge of the operation, dated July 16, 1907, which covers the situation very fully and sets forth therein the reasons for making the change, and showing clearly the benefit to the public which will be thereby gained, all of which received most careful attention on the part of the management before the change was inaugurated. The discontinuance of this extension of the Seventh Avenue line in no way affects the service facilities and operation of the regular Seventh Avenue line.

Very truly yours,

Enclosure.

"NEW YORK, July 16, 1907.

Mr. H. H. VREELAND, President:

DEAR SIR—With reference to the inquiry of the Public Service Commission for the First District, dated July 15, concerning the discontinuance of the operation of the Seventh Avenue cars to the Brooklyn Bridge, I beg to state that we commenced running the cars of this line in question to the bridge on September 1, 1905. This line was established by us with the hope that it might prove to be a convenient and expeditious form of transit from the upper west side as well as from the Brooklyn Bridge to the shopping district; this did not prove to be the case, however, and in consequence the line was but poorly patronized, and because of the fact that the operation of cars over the route in question necessitated their being moved over tracks where great congestion prevailed, a regard for the interest of the greatest number seemed to require that we could cease to operate the line involved.

The situation existing on Twenty-third street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues and at Columbus Circle seemed particularly to demand action of this character. These Seventh Avenue cars proceeded southward on Seventh Avenue to Twenty-third street, thence eastward on Twenty-third street to Sixth Avenue and southward on Sixth Avenue, returning in the opposite direction; this fact added materially to the congestion, which by reason of the other factors entering into the situation at Twenty-third street and Sixth Avenue is very great in that locality. Each time a Seventh Avenue car passed from Sixth to Seventh Avenue, eastbound and westbound Twenty-third street cars as well as north and southbound Sixth Avenue cars were blocked, and of course the progress of the vehicles was correspondingly impeded, thereby rendering the movement of all traffic, both pedestrian and vehicular, more sluggish. A further delay resulted in turning out from Twenty-third street into Seventh Avenue and the movement of the Seventh Avenue cars from Seventh to Sixth Avenue also resulted in corresponding complications. It is a matter of common observation that the facilities of the Twenty-third street crosstown line are very heavily taxed, and the amount of service which we can afford is limited to the number of cars which we are able to operate past the most congested points on that line. In other words, the operation of the Seventh Avenue cars around the curve from Sixth Avenue into Twenty-third street and from Twenty-third street into Seventh Avenue more than correspondingly curtails the number of cars which could be run on the Twenty-third street line and also on the Sixth Avenue line by this point of intersection, and in view of the small number of persons riding in the Seventh Avenue cars as compared with the heavy patronage on the Sixth Avenue and Twenty-third street lines, there seemed to be no question as to what course of procedure the interests of the public as a whole demanded should be taken, especially since the running of the Seventh Avenue cars to the Brooklyn Bridge was of no particular convenience to any appreciable number of persons, the route being covered by other lines and very few through passengers availing themselves of the opportunities afforded.

The retarding influence of the Seventh Avenue cars at the Columbus Circle was also a factor taken into consideration by us; the cars of five other lines pass the point in question, and in each case are obliged to cross two double track intersections, hence the Seventh Avenue car was taking the place of a Broadway car, notwithstanding the fact that the latter afforded greater accommodation and that the Broadway line is far more popular than were the cars of the Seventh Avenue line.

Briefly, then, the reasons which actuated us in discontinuing the Seventh Avenue-Brooklyn Bridge service were the relatively small number of persons whose convenience it served, the far greater number of persons to whom its operation caused inconvenience by limiting the carrying capacity of other popular lines, and the fact that the route followed by the Seventh Avenue Brooklyn Bridge cars was and is now covered by other lines of cars, so that the same trip may be taken on payment of a single fare as heretofore. In other words, the operation of the Seventh Avenue line was nothing less than a negative element in the transportation situation and the interest of the public at large demanded the change which has been made.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) OREN ROOT, JR.,
Vice-President and General Manager."

The Secretary presented the following report from the Chief Engineer relative to the complaint of the United Cities Realty Corporation at No. 64 Flatbush Avenue, and, on motion, it was ordered on file with the understanding that the Secretary would communicate with the owners of the building in accordance with the report of the Chief Engineer:

NEW YORK, July 16, 1907.

TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Esq., Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—Communication from the United Cities Realty Company, transmitted with yours of July 13 in regard to their building at No. 64 Flatbush Avenue, I return herewith with the information that, upon investigation, it has been found that there has been no hole made in the foundation wall of this building as stated. There is, however, an opening in the front foundation wall below the sidewalk, which formerly served as a cellar entrance, at the foot of a flight of steps leading up to the sidewalk. As the subway excavation extends to the building line, the steps have been removed and the cellar entrance boarded up substantially with a two-inch plank.

I doubt very much if the owner desires to have this entrance bricked up, as we are intending to restore the steps when the subway work is finished, as it is likely to be opposite this point in a few weeks. Backfilling is now in progress. If the entrance is to be bricked up the owner should notify us stating that he does not wish to have the cellar steps restored, and I will see that the contractor is properly instructed.

It has been ascertained by inquiries made that when the building was entered by thieves recently entrance was not made through the opening in the foundation wall referred to but through a window on the ground floor, where the glass was found to be broken the following morning.

Very truly yours,

The Secretary presented the following report with photograph annexed, from the Chief Engineer, relative to the complaint of William Wise & Son as to the condition of the street in front of their place at Flatbush avenue and Nevins street, Brooklyn:

NEW YORK, July 16, 1907.

TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Esq., Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—I have had investigated the complaint of Messrs. Wise & Son as to the condition of street in front of their place at Flatbush avenue and Nevins street, Brooklyn, communication regarding which, transmitted with yours of July 13, I return herewith, and submit the following report:

Inclosed is a print of photograph No. 1940 showing the condition of Flatbush avenue in front of Wise's store. This picture was taken last November, but the same conditions exist at present as are shown in the picture. Out of consideration for Mr. Wise, as well as the other merchants in this vicinity, I gave orders last fall that Flatbush avenue should be decked over, which was done except for such small openings as were needed for ventilation, and the picture was taken after the decking was finished.

At the right of the picture is Nevins street and just around the corner, but not shown, are two hydrants. As the specifications forbid the storage of material within 10 feet of a hydrant the side of Nevins street next to Mr. Wise's store for a distance of about 30 feet has been and is available for his unobstructed use as a carriage stand. There is space in front of his store on the Flatbush avenue side which can be used for the same purpose.

Until the Nevins street station is finished, it will be absolutely necessary for the contractor to use Nevins street on the opposite side of the street from Wise's store for the purpose of mixing concrete and storing daily supply of materials, as this is the only place in this vicinity that can be used for this purpose.

The statement that Nevins street is almost blocked by material is not borne out by the facts: it is always possible for a team to get through, the contractor having been given instructions to keep his material within such limits to permit of this.

In view of the fact that Wise's store has no entrance on Nevins street and the consideration shown him in decking over the station has caused him to be less inconvenienced than any one else in that vicinity, his complaint would seem to be uncalled for.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

(Signed) H. L. SMITH, Assistant Deputy Comptroller.

The Secretary stated that Davies, Stone & Auerbach had asked to be notified of any application or petition for a permit heretofore granted for the maintenance of any structure in Furman street, between Montague and Joralemon streets, Brooklyn, in connection with the construction of the tunnel, and that they be given an opportunity to be heard.

Commissioner Bassett announced that a hearing on the matter of the Eleventh avenue tracks would be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. in the rooms at No. 320 Broadway.

Commissioner Bassett as a sub-committee of the Commission to consider the matter presented to the Commission in the communication of John H. O'Brien, Commissioner of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, relative to certain pipes in Broadway above Two Hundred and Thirtieth street, made a statement and submitted the following report which, upon motion, was ordered on file, to be referred to the counsel of the Commission when appointed.

"Report of Commissioner Bassett relative to the matter of the pipes of the Westchester Lighting Company in Broadway above Two Hundred and Thirtieth street:

Without getting a permit from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, or any other City department, but upon conferring with the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, a 12-inch main was laid on the easterly side of the street between the curb and the foundation of the elevated portion of the subway. A former pipe had been maintained by the gas company in this same street. The space now occupied by this 12-inch pipe is needed by Mr. Bull of the Water Department for the laying of a 36-inch water main some time in the next two or three years. Mr. Rice claims that this gaspipe was properly moved by reason of the supreme authority which the Rapid Transit Board had over pipes in this street after it once let a contract. Mr. Bull thinks that his Department should have been consulted, and that without a permit from his department the gas company is an intruder and can be forced to move their pipe.

I suggest that this be taken up by counsel at an early date and that space be made for the large water main, if possible.

(Signed) EDWARD M. BASSETT."

Commissioner Bassett stated to the Commission that he had received a letter from H. A. Metz, Comptroller of The City of New York, inclosing a copy of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel of The City of New York relative to the Public Service Commissions Act and presented the same, which, upon motion, were ordered on file.

Commissioner Bassett, on behalf of the Committee on the Brooklyn Bridge, made a report and submitted a report from the Chief Engineer as to the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company, and presented a draft of a letter and notice.

It was moved that the following letter and notice be sent to the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company.

The Secretary presented the following communication from W. W. Niles, Chairman of the Committee on City Streets of the Automobile Club:

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 16, 1907.

Public Service Commission, No. 320 Broadway, New York:

GENTLEMEN—A recent severe automobile accident in which Mr. Thomas was seriously injured and a young woman companion was so seriously hurt as to require the amputation of her leg, calls attention for the second time to the dangerous condition of Jerome avenue at the point where the accident occurred. This point is about opposite to the Woodlawn Cemetery entrance gate, at which point Jerome avenue makes an almost right angle turn. The tracks of the Union Trolley Company in Jerome avenue are laid in the centre of the avenue up to the turn referred to, and there diverge, the westerly track running out to the westerly side of Jerome avenue, and the easterly track to the easterly side of Jerome avenue. The trolley road is operated by the overhead wire system, supported on poles, which, south of the turn, are placed in the centre of the highway between the trolley tracks. These poles continue to about the point where the tracks diverge, opposite the cemetery gate, and from that point on the wires are supported from poles erected on either side of the highway. A person coming south on Jerome avenue from a point north of this turn has a free and unobstructed roadway, and there is nothing to indicate that it does not continue unobstructed till one gets to the sharp turn where the tracks diverge, and at this point, directly in the centre of the highway, is the first trolley pole. In the day time, on a clear day, these poles are plainly discernible and are not a menace to vehicles coming down Jerome avenue, but on a foggy day, or at night, they make the point an extremely dangerous one, as was shown by the recent accident, which was not the first accident at this point, as a serious accident took place there some months since, the details of which I have not preserved.

I inclose rough diagram showing the locality referred to, the location of the trolley tracks and the location, approximately, of the trolley poles. It will be seen from this diagram that human ingenuity could hardly have devised a cleverer trap for users of this much frequented highway.

The trolley company should be required to remove the poles on the curve at once from the centre of the road to the sides, and the first pole should be indicated by lights at night until the company is ready to remove it. After it has been removed the first pole on the series left standing should be indicated by lights, so their presence may be perfectly apparent, no matter how obscure the night may be.

Trusting the Commission will be able to give this matter prompt attention, I remain

Yours truly,

(Signed) W. W. NILES,
Chairman, Com. on City Streets.

On motion, duly seconded, it was

Resolved, That a copy of the letter of complaint from W. W. Niles, Chairman of the Committee on City Streets of the Automobile Club, be sent to the Union Railway Company, with a copy of the rules of this Commission, and with directions that the same be satisfied, or answer thereto made within ten days.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, McCarroll, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Twenty-eighth Ward Board of Trade, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

1091

July 15, 1907.

Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman of the Utilities Commission, New York City, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR—In behalf of the Twenty-eighth Ward Board of Trade, the undersigned have the honor to address you, and to invite the attention of the Commission to the following facts:

That work upon the Williamsburg Bridge and at the Manhattan Terminal of such bridge to provide for operation of elevated service thereon (apart from the subway loop to connect the two bridges, as provided by the Rapid Transit Board), is far advanced, and that it will soon become necessary for the City to enter into negotiations with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company in respect to the terms of a contract or franchise for such operation.

That the terms of this contract or franchise are of vital importance to the people of that section of Brooklyn tributary to Broadway, Brooklyn, numbering about 600,000. That it is of the utmost importance there be unity of effort in respect to this bridge, between the City authorities and the Commission.

That the plans of each should be studied by the other, and that the public should have an opportunity of expressing opinion on such plans in advance of consummation of contracts, etc.

That nothing should be included in the contract about to be let by the City providing for elevated service across the bridge, which might interfere in any way with any future routes the Commission may determine upon.

That nothing should be included in such contract which will prevent the operation of an independent system across the bridge in the event of any such entering upon the field in the future.

That nothing should be included in such contract which will jeopardize the rights of the City to operate a municipal road upon the bridges.

That in view of these facts we respectfully petition that measures be taken to acquaint yourselves with the full provisions of the contract or franchise about to be let in advance of its execution with a view of safeguarding the interests of the people so far as your jurisdiction extends.

This communication is addressed to you, with a full appreciation of the limitations of the powers of the Commission, and with the knowledge that the Board of Estimate, and possibly the Bridge Department, in respect to this bridge, have conflicting powers, but it is respectfully submitted that this very situation emphasizes the necessity of the action we ask for, and possibly points to the desirability of placing the entire matter of passenger transportation across the bridges by public service corporations in the hands of a single body, and that body the Utilities Commission.

Attention is further invited to the fact, that according to the report of the State Railroad Commission for 1906, the Bridge Operating Company, operating cars across the Williamsburg Bridge, has filed no report with the Commission, though it has been operating for some years, a circumstance which is cited to show the degree of independence which a corporation holding a contract with the Bridge Department can assume and maintain.

It would appear to be within the power of the authorities controlling the bridges to enter into contracts with similar operating companies, which would greatly embarrass the work of the Commission, if they would not in fact prevent the utilization of the bridge altogether, except in conformity with the plans of such contracting parties.

Very respectfully,

ALBERT FIRMIN, President,
C. M. SHEEHAN, Secretary,
JOSEPH SCHREIBER, Chairman,
Rapid Transit Committee.

The Secretary presented a communication from J. J. Townsend, Esq., relative to the obstruction of the entrances to the subway trains by packages of newspapers, which was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Commissioner Maltbie offered the following resolution:

Whereas, It will be necessary from time to time for the Public Service Commission for the First District to make disbursements for minor and incidental expenses necessary to proper administration,

Resolved, The Comptroller of The City of New York be requested to advance from time to time to the Auditor of the Public Service Commission for the First District, on his requisition, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), for the purpose of defraying such minor and incidental expenses: provided, however, that receipted vouchers therefor submitted for audit before a further requisition is made.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, McCarroll, Bassett, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Commissioner Eustis made an oral report of progress as to the investigation of the accident on the Third Avenue Elevated on July 16, 1907.

Commissioner Eustis announced that a hearing would be held August 15, 1907, before the full Commission, on matters relating to Bronx transit improvements.

Commissioner Bassett announced that a hearing would be given at 2 p. m., on July 18, 1907, on the matter of the New York Central tracks on Eleventh avenue.

Chairman Willcox offered certain resolutions, and said in support of them:

1531

"I believe that the resolution which I now offer speaks for itself, and sufficiently formulates the necessity for its passage.

"In taking up the work which this Commission has inherited from the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, as well as the performance of the new functions vested in it by the law under which we are organized, we meet a series of fundamental questions, questions of fact growing out of the manner in which the railway corporations in Greater New York are organized, capitalized, controlled and operated. I regard it as fundamental to the proper performance of the duties of this Board that it should, at the earliest possible day, familiarize itself thoroughly through proper investigation and report, with all of the conditions of fact and of law which are raised or created by the present actual organization and operation of the street railways in this city. This can only be done by the most thorough investigation, and a report of the facts to this Board, which report of facts, when completed to the satisfaction of the Board, will constitute the basis for its determination as to the manner in which it shall perform its duty, not only, but what its duties actually are, and the extent to which and the manner in which it can treat or deal with the existing railway companies in respect of future franchises, as well as in respect to the operation of the railways of the city under the franchise as already enjoyed by each corporation.

"It will undoubtedly be the duty of this Board, at some time in the future, and I believe in the near future, after proper hearing, to issue specific orders to increase the adequacy of the service now performed by these companies; but to enable the Commission to take up these lines of inquiry, and to afford hearings preparatory to the issuing of orders, I regard it as absolutely necessary that this general investigation be now made in the aid of the performance by this Board of practically all the duties which are to be imposed upon it by the Rapid Transit law, as well as by the Public Service Commissions law in respect of railroads. And I think this investigation should be welcome to the railway corporations as offering them an opportunity to disclose the facts, just as I am sure it will be welcomed by the public, which, as well as this Commission, should know the facts."

The resolutions presented by Chairman Willcox were as follows:

ORDER NO. 6.

"Whereas, This Commission is vested by law with the general supervision of all common carriers, street railroads, railroad corporations and corporations controlling and operating street railroads within its jurisdiction, and not only has the power, but is charged with the duty to keep informed as to the general condition of all such railroads and corporations, their capitalization, their franchises, and the manner in which their lines, owned, leased, controlled, or operated, are managed, conducted and operated, not only with respect to the adequacy, security and accommodation afforded by the service, but also with respect to their compliance with all the provisions of law; and

Whereas, Practically the entire street railroad service of the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx are controlled by the Interborough Metropolitan Company, and operated in its interest; and

Whereas, The Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, Brooklyn, Kings County and Suburban Railroad Company, Coney Island and Gravesend Railway Company, Transit Development Company, American Railway Traffic Company, South Brooklyn Railway Company, Sea Beach Railway Company, Nassau Electric Railway Company, Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company, Brooklyn City Railroad Company, Prospect Park and Coney Island Railroad Company in the Boroughs of Kings and Queens, are all owned and controlled and operated in the interests of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company; and

Whereas, All of the corporations herein before referred to are required by law to furnish such service and facilities as shall be safe and adequate, and in all respects just and reasonable, and are also required by law to interchange passengers, freight and property traffic between the lines owned, operated, controlled or leased by every such corporation; and

Whereas, It is necessary for this Commission to determine whether it shall make certain orders to enforce the performance of adequate service by the street railway corporations within its jurisdiction, and take steps to compel the transfer of passengers under the provisions of section 35 of the Public Service Commission law; and

Whereas, It is necessary to inform itself as required by law as to precisely the manner in which corporations within its jurisdiction are operated and controlled as well as the manner and the measure of their capitalization and financial condition, and their ability to render those public services for which they were chartered;

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, That this Commission shall forthwith, as required by sections 45 and 48 of the Public Service Commission law, investigate and examine the general condition of the Interborough Metropolitan Company, and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, and of all companies controlled by and operated in the interest of either of the said companies, their capitalization, their franchises, and the manner in which their lines, owned, leased, controlled, or operated, are managed, conducted and operated, including the adequacy, security and accommodation afforded by their service, and with respect to their compliance with all provisions of law, and also for the purpose of determining as a result of such investigation whether the said corporations do in fact illegally and as monopolies control and operate the several properties now under their control and operated in their interest; for the purpose of determining what is the capacity of each of the individual corporations so owned and controlled to render adequate service as required by law and for the purpose of determining and performing the duties of this Board in the premises."

PROCEEDINGS OF THE
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT,
FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1907,
AT 320 BROADWAY,
BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

There were present—Chairman William R. Willcox, Commissioners Edward M. Bassett, John E. Eustis.

The following communication from the Chief Engineer was presented and referred to the Committee of the Whole:

NEW YORK, 18th July, 1907.

Complaint In Re Defective Pavement.

TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Esq., Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—I return herewith the statement received from the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, transmitted with your letter of July 13, and beg leave to report that from a careful examination made of the alleged settlement of the wood block pavement over the sewer built by the Rapid Transit Commission in front of No. 6 State Street, it has been found that it is not a case of settlement, but apparently of a broken concrete base under the pavement, and that it is neither over the sewer nor over the subway, but between the sewer and the curb line. The enclosed blue print will show the relative location of the broken pavement, the sewer and the subway.

No depression in the pavement exists, but simply an irregularity on the surface. A heavy load passing over it shows a movement which would indicate a broken base. The concrete base put down under this pavement seems to be too poor for the kind of soil that is found in this vicinity, which is wet and spongy. This was apparent from a depressed wave moving along with the wheels of heavy trucks passing over the stone pavement which existed before the wood block was put down. Similar conditions to those complained of in front of No. 6 State Street exist at several other points along State Street and Whitehall, only in a less degree.

It will therefore be seen that this alleged defective pavement is not due to rapid transit construction.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

Commissioner Maltbie entered the meeting at this point.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Committee on Franchises of the Citizens' Union, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

NEW YORK, July 15, 1907.

WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—The Citizens' Union of The City of New York has since 1897 taken an active interest in the subject of the granting of franchises for public utilities within the limits of this district, and during that period has frequently given public expression to its views in relation to this subject. These may be summarized as follows:

That grants of franchises for public utilities shall be for limited periods only, in order that increase of value therein shall accrue to the people, and with option reserved to the City to retake such franchises on definite terms, so that it shall be free to adopt such future policy as to municipal or private operation as it shall then deem best.

The Citizens' Union initiated and successfully pressed to enactment the so-called "Elsberg Bill," chapter 472 of the Laws of 1906, amending the Rapid Transit Act, and which provides, viz.:

1. That franchises and renewals thereof be limited to short terms.
2. That contracts for construction may be let separately from contracts for operation, with power in the City to itself operate in case of necessity.
3. That construction may be provided for in its entirety by a single contract, in order that the City may secure the best terms that the times and circumstances may permit.
4. That operating contracts may be let during the progress or upon the completion of construction, in order that the City may have full opportunity to ascertain the value of the franchise before granting same and of determining as to the advisability of municipal operation thereof.

The Citizens' Union deems the Elsberg amendments to be wise in the light of experience.

The separation of construction and operation will allow greater competition in the matter of construction. Not every contractor able to construct is also able and willing to both construct and operate.

The experience of Boston shows that subway construction and operation may successfully be separately provided for. The first Boston subway was constructed in sections under the direct charge and supervision of the Boston Transit Commission and the contract for operation was not let to one of the three bidders therefor until the work of construction was about two-thirds completed.

The construction and operation of the New York subway was provided for by a contract with John B. McDonald. He was free to act without the aid of the Elsberg bill and promptly therefore separated construction and operation by letting out the construction in sections to several different sub-contractors familiar with such work, and assigning the franchise for operation to a railroad company.

The Citizens' Union therefore urges upon your Honorable Commission:

That, in order to obtain the advantage of actual competition by small as well as by large contractors, bids for the new subway construction contracts are let, namely, for sections, also for the entire work, also for

Equipment, maintenance and operation altogether, also for Construction, equipment, maintenance and operation as a whole, thus utilizing the advantages provided by the Elsberg amendments.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) JOHN J. MURPHY, Secretary.

President of the Borough of The Bronx.

"July 1, 1907.

Hon. LOUIS F. HAFFEN, President of the Borough of The Bronx:

SIR—Referring to mine of June 26, 1907, relative to obstructed sewer on the northerly side of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, between Third avenue and Bergen avenue, I have to report that at about 8 o'clock p. m., June 29, 1907, this sewer was cleared of the obstructions by the maintenance force of this bureau. It was necessary to break out two pipes from the line thereof and substitute new ones in place of the same.

This sewer is now in good working order, but in view of the conditions and reasons set forth in mine of the 26th ult., it is respectfully recommended that the Greater New York Public Service Commission be requested to have this 6-inch sewer replaced by a 12-inch line.

I return herewith communication No. 10038 dated June 28, 1907, from the Secretary of the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, stating that this matter will receive attention.

Respectfully,

(Signed) CHARLES H. GRAHAM,
Engineer in Charge of Sewers."

"July 26, 1907.

Hon. LOUIS F. HAFFEN, President of the Borough of The Bronx:

SIR—I return herewith memorandum from you in relation to leak in sewer in One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, at northeast corner of Third avenue, and in regard thereto have to say that the sewer referred to consists of a 6-inch pipe line alongside the exterior of the northerly wall of the subway at this locality, which sewer was built by the Rapid Transit Railway Company and connects with a sewer manhole in Bergen avenue.

General Foreman Schaufelberger reports as follows:

"I would report that in reference to complaint of sewer being stopped at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, east of Third avenue, find that a 6-inch pipe put in by the subway on north side of street, connecting with Bergen avenue sewer, has been so clogged that it will be impossible to clean the same without taking up same. I would state that the pipe makes such a 'turn' that we find it impossible to clean same, and also state that said 6-inch pipe is entirely too small. We are pumping out sewer on Third avenue to keep the cellars clear; two houses connected with the same."

In view of the foregoing it is respectfully recommended that the Rapid Transit Railway Commission be requested to at once take up the 6-inch pipe line and provide in place thereof a 12-inch sewer, as I do not conceive that it should be for this bureau to do this work. We will do the best we can toward keeping the existing 6-inch pipe sewer cleaned until it shall have been determined as to whether the Rapid Transit Railway Commission will reconstruct this line, or whether this bureau will have to do so.

When this sewer was laid by the Rapid Transit Railway Commission in lieu of the sewer in One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, which had to be removed on account of the subway construction, it was done without any conference with the Department of Sewers in this borough; we were merely furnished with a plan of the work as it had been done after the same had been completed.

Respectfully,

(Signed) CHARLES H. GRAHAM,
Engineer in Charge of Sewers."

NEW YORK, July 20, 1907.

Hon. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Chairman, Public Service Commission, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

MY DEAR COMMISSIONER—I beg to send herewith, in the form of proof, a memorandum in behalf of the City Club in relation to transit conditions in New York City. The Club has given considerable attention to this subject for several years past, and in this memorandum we try to sum up the results of our study of the subject and to place the facts as we have learned them and the opinions we have reached from studying these facts at the disposal of the Commission. The inquiry you are about to make will doubtless be much more far reaching than we have been able to make with the resources at our disposal, but I think you may find suggestions as to the matters in which you will wish to go more fully.

We shall send you within a few days a copy of the memorandum in pamphlet form. We send the proof now in order to get the material before you at the earliest possible moment. I am

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) HOMER FOLKS,
Chairman, Committee on Transit Facilities.

Commissioner Eustis submitted the following report on the matter of the accident on the 18th inst., in Third avenue elevated at One Hundred and Sixth street.

"REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH STREET ACCIDENT,
Public Service Commission, for the First District:

GENTLEMEN—Your committee, to whom was referred the matter of investigating the accident on the 18th inst., on Third avenue and One Hundred and Sixth street, begs to report:

That your committee has received a report on such accident from one of the Division Engineers under Chief Engineer Rice, and your committee has also received a report from the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and a copy of the affidavit of the motorman on the train, and a copy of the memorandum and report of the general manager to the president of the road, all of which are herewith submitted. And your committee has also visited the place and questioned various employees on duty at the time of day when the accident occurred, and from those investigations it is shown that the accident occurred under the following conditions:

There was a five-car train stopping at One Hundred and Sixth street a little after 11 p. m., on the 18th of July, 1907, which was very heavily loaded, mostly with Italians returning from the festival; there was another three-car train, which was a short train running from One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, which, when it left One Hundred and Sixteenth street, was boarded by a great many Italians, several of whom piled over the front gate in front of the motorman and crowded the front platform to such an extent that he refused to start the train until they moved; after they had moved to one side he started his train, and then the people in front of him began to jostle and fight, and when he had gone but a short distance they broke the glass in front of him, which occurred when the train was near One Hundred and Tenth street; by the time he had gone two blocks further the door to his quarters was beaten in upon him, and he was thrust over against the side of the car and his hand knocked off the controller. As soon as he could recover himself from this and get control the train was within 100 feet of the train in front of him, and, as it was a down grade, he could not apply sufficient restraining force to stop the train before it ran into the one in front of him.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) J. E. EUSTIS, Committee.

New York, July 22, 1907."

DEAR SIR—We desire to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of July 18, inclosing a certified copy of a communication received from W. W. Niles, Chairman of the Committee on City Streets of the Automobile Club of America.

Referring to the location of poles of this company at a point on Jerome avenue near the entrance gate to Woodlawn Cemetery, we desire to say that steps have been taken to remove the poles from the centre of the roadway around the curve referred to by Mr. Niles, and to place them upon the sides of the roadway.

The Secretary presented the following communication of Chief Engineer Rice, and he was instructed to reply in accordance therewith, to the President of the Borough of The Bronx:

NEW YORK, July 24, 1907.

TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Esq., Secretary, Public Service Commission for the First District:

DEAR SIR—In reply to yours of July 22, enclosing copy of communication from the President of the Borough of The Bronx with accompanying communications from Mr. Charles H. Graham, Engineer in Charge of Sewers, relative to replacement of six-inch sewer by a twelve-inch sewer on the north side of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, I beg leave to report as follows:

The sewer complained of, which is a six-inch sewer, was clogged the latter part of June, and the Sewer Bureau of The Bronx found that a piece of wood lodged in the pipe was the cause of the obstruction. This was removed, after which the sewer rendered good service.

Originally, before the construction of the Rapid Transit Railroad, a twelve-inch sewer existed in the middle of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, between Third and Bergen avenues, and when the railroad was constructed two connections with the building near the corner of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Third avenue were diverted to a sewer on Bergen avenue. The clearance between the Rapid Transit Railroad and private property at the corner of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Bergen avenue was only 0.54 of a foot, and for that reason a six-inch pipe was installed with a grade of 2.08 per cent., there being only these two connections on this particular portion of the sewer.

Realizing that to keep this sewer in good working order a sufficient amount of water must be furnished for flushing purposes near the end of the sewer, which was designed with the idea of having a flush tank placed in One Hundred and Forty-ninth street directly opposite the property which was to be served by these connections. The six-inch pipe is abundantly able to take care of the sewage which comes from this building, but evidently the occupants of the building have not been cautious in the use of this sewer.

In 1904 the Division Engineer in Charge of Sewers for the Rapid Transit Board communicated with the Principal Assistant Engineer of the Bureau of Sewers in The Bronx in connection with the construction of this sewer, and the Principal Assistant Engineer approved of the plan as presented, but unfortunately Mr. N. S. Hill, Jr., then Chief Engineer of the Water Department, would not give permission to have water served to the flush tank, and for that reason nothing was done toward furnishing a flushing device, although a manhole was built.

On May 26, 1904, a letter addressed by the Division Engineer in Charge of Sewers to the Principal Assistant Engineer of Sewers of The Bronx, contained the following statement:

"We are now placing a manhole at the westerly end of the six-inch drain pipe on the north of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, east of Third avenue, as requested by you some time ago, at which time you stated that this sewer would be satisfactory if we placed this manhole. In cleaning out this sewer I wish to call your attention to the extreme carelessness of the people on the northeast corner of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Third avenue.

"My inspector reports that they removed from the house connection the cotton end of a mop, four handkerchiefs, one pair of socks, one piece of 'cotton batting,' apparently the end of a quilt, six inches in diameter, and quite a large amount of sludge which naturally collected back of such an obstruction. These would be sufficient to stop a much larger than a six-inch pipe; unless the people are made to conform to the sanitary regulations trouble will be caused at short intervals."

In view of the foregoing, I am of the opinion that a twelve-inch sewer would furnish no greater relief even if there were sufficient clearance to build it between the subway and the northwest corner of Bergen avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, since it is not a question of capacity, but of sufficient quantity of water to properly flush the sewer, and that an automatic flush tank, such as is shown on the drawing of May 24, 1904, and which was approved by the Chief Engineer of the Rapid Transit Board in 1904, is the solution of the problem. The Bureau of Sewers of the Borough of The Bronx approved, through its Principal Assistant Engineer, of the sewer as constructed, and I have no doubt that if a flush tank is installed as suggested and as originally planned, which would cost but very little, about $100, that this entire matter would be satisfactorily adjusted.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) GEORGE S. RICE, Chief Engineer.

The Secretary presented a communication from George H. Davis relative to service on Madison avenue, which, on motion, was referred to a Committee of the Whole.

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Merchants' Association of New York, which, on motion, was referred to the Committee of the Whole:

PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profit thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
