MAYOR DE BLASIO APPLAUDS MAJOR STEP FORWARD FOR BROADBAND ACCESS

NEW YORK – Mayor Bill de Blasio today released the following statement on the passage of the Information Services Resolution:

“Today, New York City took another major step forward in bridging the digital divide. With this resolution, we are able to bring in new companies to offer more competitive and affordable broadband options to New Yorkers. As the COVID-19 pandemic has made abundantly clear, New Yorkers deserve access to affordable, high speed internet and I thank Chairs Moya and Salamanca for their partnership on this important issue.”
