Active shooter incidents are often unpredictable and evolve quickly. In the midst of the chaos, anyone can play an integral role in mitigating the impacts of an active shooter incident. The Department of Homeland Security aims to enhance preparedness through a "whole community" approach by providing products, tools, and resources to help you prepare for and respond to an active shooter incident.

This in-person workshop will outline "whole community" considerations and strategies for community and faith-based leaders to navigate the five components of Active Shooter Preparedness: Prevent, Protect, Respond, and Recover.
