EMMONS CLARK,
Secretary.HEALTH DEPARTMENT OF THE
CITY OF NEW YORK.

Bureau of Vital Statistics, April 21, 1874.

To the Secretary of the Board of Health:

SIR: In the week that ended on the 18th inst., 585 deaths were reported in this city, against 580 reported, and 583 which actually occurred, during the preceding weeks. There was an increase of mortality from puerperal diseases, which should be made known to all practitioners of obstetrics, for in this city no experienced physician can reasonably doubt that the puerperal fever-infection is the most preventable of causes of that disease. There was an increase of mortality from diphtheria and membranous croup, and a marked decrease from pulmonary diseases. The 4th, 6th, 8th, 11th and 12th wards have the highest death-rate, and the 9th, 10th, 16th, 22d and 23d, are next in order of excess. The classes of persons who have suffered excessive mortality in these districts were fully represented in the classes of patients that died in unusual numbers last week in the charitable institutions in other wards.

The death-rate in this city the last two weeks was equal to 29.15 per 1,000 annually, and was in excess of the mean for the past 5 years. The rate in London, the last week of March, was 23 per 1,000; and in 21 chief cities of Great Britain it was 25; Glasgow reported 30 per 1,000; Dublin, 28; and Liverpool, 27 per 1,000. Paris, during the week ending March 27, reported a death-rate of 25 per 1,000; Berlin, 33; Breslau, 33; and Munich, 45 per 1,000 yearly, 12 deaths that week being from cholera, which still lingers in that city.

Respectfully submitted,
ELISHA HARRIS, M. D.
Registrar of Vital Statistics.

LAW DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COUNSEL TO THE
CITY OF NEW YORK,
NEW YORK, April 4, 1874.

Hon. Wm. Laimbeer, President of the Department of Public Charities and Correction:

SIR:—I duly received your letter of the 23d ultimo, transmitting a printed copy of an act to establish an asylum for inebriates in the City of New York, passed April 8, 1864, and also a copy of the report of Commissioner Stern, recommending the repeal of said act, and an extract from the minutes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and asking my opinion whether the duties imposed on the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, by virtue of said act, are mandatory, or whether they possess the power to abolish and close the institution, and devote the building to other purposes.

I am of the opinion that the provisions of this act are mandatory, and that it is the duty of the Commissioners to continue and maintain the asylum until the act shall be repealed by the Legislature. I presume that any doubt which the Commissioners may have upon the subject has arisen from the language employed in the first section of the act which declares that the Commissioners are "authorized and empowered" to erect, establish and furnish a building or buildings to be known as the "Asylum for Inebriates." It will be observed, however, that the language employed in the second section of the act is beyond dispute mandatory. That section declares that the necessary expenses of erecting and constructing such asylum and appurtenances, and of maintaining the same, shall be provided for in the same manner as the expenses of the other institutions under the control of the said Commissioners, and said Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to apply to the support of the said asylum all the proceeds of the tax or excise upon intoxicating liquors which shall be received by them, except ten per cent. heretofore directed to be paid to the managers of the "State Inebriate Asylum at Binghamton."

It cannot be disputed that this provision as to the application of the tax upon intoxicating liquors is mandatory, and it would seem clear that the provision of the first section must, therefore, be construed in the same manner, because, of course, such tax could not be applied in the manner directed by the second section unless the provisions of the first section were carried into effect.

The provisions of the third section are also mandatory. This section declares that the Commissioners shall make all needful rules and regulations for the government of said asylum, and shall provide for the proper support and maintenance of the inmates thereof, and that they shall have full power and authority to regulate and control the inmates of said asylum.

There are other provisions in the act which are also clearly mandatory, and I have no doubt, taking the whole act together, that it must be regarded as mandatory in its character. Moreover, the words "authorized and empowered" when used in statutes, are not always permission merely. Indeed, no general rule can be laid down by which it can always be determined whether they are mandatory or permissive. And such determination must depend upon the manner in which they are used, and upon the character and object of the statute in which they are found. The question of the proper construction of these and other similar words and phrases used in statutes has been frequently considered by the courts. The word "may" is frequently construed by the courts to mean "shall," and the words "authorized and empowered" are sometimes construed as though the words employed were "authorized and directed."

In a case decided in the old Supreme Court of this State, where this question was considered, the late Chief Justice Nelson said the inference deducible from the various cases on this subject seems to be, that where a public body or officer has been clothed by statute with power to do an act which concerns the public interest, or the rights of third persons, the execution of the power may be insisted on as a duty, though the phraseology of the statute be permissive merely, and not peremptory.

(The Mayor, &c., of the City of New York v. Furze, 3 Hills Reports, page 615.)

It seems to me that the views expressed by the learned judge in that, cover the question submitted by you. The Commissioners of Charities and Correction, by the act referred to, were invested with certain powers which concerned the public interest, and also the right of third persons, and I do not think that they are at liberty to decline to exercise those powers. If the Commissioners are of the opinion that the public interests do not warrant the maintenance of the Asylum, I would respectfully recommend that application be made to the Legislature to repeal the law.

I am, sir, yours, very respectfully,
E. DELAFIELD SMITH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

THE COMMISSIONERS DESIRE TO CAUTION the Tax Payers of New York against the imposition practiced by persons pretending to be connected with this Department, who offer to obtain reductions in the assessed value of Real or Personal Estate.

The Books of the Department are open to the public, and will remain so until the 30th inst., and all representations made to the Commissioners, for which purpose blanks are in readiness, receive the most careful attention.

There is no other method of having complaints attended to or errors rectified.
