2. Testimony from the Public Hearing on the Proposed 2011 Consolidated Plan, November 4, 2010.

No testimony on the Proposed 2011 Consolidated Plan was provided at the public hearing.

3. Comments Received During the Public Comment Period on the Proposed 2011 Consolidated Plan, October 8, 2010 through November 8, 2010.

George McCord, Vespro Incorporated

The writer, a cyclist, recommended that when the City plants new trees along sidewalks and bicycle lanes it should install root deflectors to prevent the trees from dislocating the sidewalks and bicycle lanes as the trees' root system grows. (Sidewalk improvements and tree planting are both CDBG-eligible activities under the Public Facilities and Improvements category.) Root deflectors drive growing roots downward, away from the concrete or asphalt thereby minimizing dislocation.

Mr. McCord was of the opinion since the City has made tree planting one of its initiatives it has the commensurate moral obligation to protect citizens from the perils of pavement dislocations. He further indicated that while root deflectors would incur additional implementation costs per planted tree, the deflectors would ultimately save the City money in the long run by reducing the number of sidewalks needing replacement, and the amount of city funds paid out for liability claims associated with trip and fall lawsuits due to uneven/uplifted pavement.

In closing, Mr. McCord stated that several California municipalities mandate the installation of deflectors when planting trees for this reason.

Department of City Planning response:

The City of New York utilizes different funding sources to fund a variety of activities. The Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) is responsible for planting trees in the City. However, the City does not use CDBG monies to pay for tree planting and sidewalk improvements. The City has a major tree planting program, One Million Trees. Therefore, it was recommended to Mr. McCord that he submit his suggestion directly to the Program via email at: Info@milliontreesnyc.org.

For more information regarding the One Million Trees initiative, Mr. McCord can visit its website at: www.milliontreesnyc.org

Office of Management and Budget/Department of Parks and Recreation response:

The Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) invites Mr. McCord to provide a free installation of his product (Root Solutions root deflectors) that the agency can monitor. Planting a tree with a root barrier has positive and negative implications. DPR needs to conduct research to understand what they are.

DPR would be in error to spend dollars on a product without proven evidence to justify its inclusion.

Kristin Goodwin, Director of NYC Policy and Organizing, Housing Works, Inc..

Ms. Goodwin submitted comments concerning the City's HOPWA-funded supportive housing activities for Persons Living with HIV/AIDS (PLWAs).

Ms. Goodwin mentioned there are 667 HOPWA units administered by the Department of Health/Bureau of HIV/AIDS Policy Coordination (BHAPC) that have their rents capped at 30 percent of the PLWA's income, as per federal regulations. The writer was of the opinion that the City's Human Resources Administration (HRA) HIV/AIDS Services Administration (HASA) clients who are placed in independent housing are not protected by this federally mandated rent cap and therefore subject to rent burden with their limited income. In addition, Ms. Goodwin commented regarding the placement criteria used for HASA supportive housing units. She indicated that low-income or homeless individuals with HIV who are not yet sick are therefore, HASA ineligible, and as a result, do not have access to the BHAPC units.

Ms. Goodwin raised concerns regarding the reimbursement rates for HOPWA-funded congregate and scatter-site supportive housing units under contract from community-based organizations. She indicated that HASA has not raised the per-unit cost for these contracts for the past few years, thereby making it difficult for the housing providers to meet their increased operating costs.

In closing, the writer raised concerns regarding the physical conditions of buildings containing HIV/AIDS scatter site supportive housing units. According to Ms. Goodwin, there are buildings containing scatter site units which have multiple violations. As a result, the violations create medically-inappropriate and dangerous situations for tenants with already compromised immune systems. The writer recommended the City inspect the units to ensure there are in suitable living condition for persons with HIV/AIDS.

Department of Health/Bureau of HIV/AIDS Policy Coordination response:

The City of New York employs an aggressive, multi-pronged approach to address the housing needs of low-income persons living with HIV/AIDS. New York City government agencies that receive HOPWA dollars combine this revenue with other federal, state, and local dollars to fund a continuum of care that includes multiple housing resources. These resources include congregate supportive housing facilities as well as units in the private housing market through rental subsidies, rental enhancements, and scattered site housing.

Services and benefits provided through the HIV/AIDS Services Administration (HASA) of the New York City Human Resources Administration (HRA) are guided by federal and state guidelines and were specifically designed to address the needs of people with HIV or AIDS who require intensive support. In 2009 HASA provided a three percent (3%) Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) for all supportive housing contract staff. This additional funding also included a concomitant increase in fringe Benefits and administrative overhead.

All supportive housing units funded with HOPWA dollars, including units administered by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) and HASA, abide by the 30% monthly rent contribution rule as mandated by HOPWA regulations. Additionally, all housing units are required to abide by Housing Quality Standards set forth both the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). All new scattered-site apartments administered by HRA are inspected by HASA staff prior to occupancy. In addition, HASA staff conduct an annual inspection of all occupied scattered-site apartments. These HASA inspections are performed to ensure continued suitability.

Referrals for the 667 HOPWA-funded housing units administered by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) do not come from HASA and therefore are not subject to the administrative requirements for HASA programs. Client recruitment is conducted directly by the DOHMH contracted provider and encompasses referrals from various sources.

Appendix 1:

DEFINITIONS

Accessibility: CDBG funds can be used for the removal of material and architectural barriers which restrict the mobility and accessibility of elderly or persons with disabilities.

Affordable Housing: Affordable housing is generally defined as housing where the occupant is paying no more than 30 percent of gross housing costs, including utility costs.

AIDS and Related Diseases: The disease of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome or any conditions arising from the etiologic agent of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome.

Alcohol/Other Drug Addiction: A serious and persistent alcohol or other drug addiction that significantly limits a person's ability to live independently.

Assisted Household or Person: For the purpose of specifying one-year goals for assisting households or persons, a household or person is assisted if, during the coming Federal fiscal year, they will benefit through one or more programs included in the jurisdiction's investment plan. A renter is benefitted if the person takes occupancy of affordable housing that is newly acquired, newly rehabilitated, or newly constructed, and/or receives rental assistance. An existing homeowner is benefitted during the year if the home's rehabilitation is completed. A first-time homebuyer is benefitted if a home is purchased during the year. A homeless person is benefitted during the year if the person becomes an occupant of transitional or permanent housing. A non-homeless person with special needs is considered as being benefitted, however, only if the provision of supportive services is linked to the acquisition, rehabilitation, or new construction of a housing unit and/or the provision of rental assistance during the year. Households or persons who will benefit from more than one program activity must be counted only once. To be included in the goals, the housing unit must, at a minimum, satisfy the HUD Section 8 Housing Quality Standards (see 24 CFR section 882.109). See also, instructions for completing Table 3B of the CHAS and Table 1 of the Annual Performance Report.

Chewable surface: An interior or exterior surface painted with lead-based paint that a young child can mouth or chew. A chewable surface is the same as an "accessible surface" as defined in 42 U.S.C. 4851(b)(2). Hard metal substrates and other materials that cannot be dented by the bite of a young child are not considered chewable.

Chronically Homeless Individual: Any currently homeless individual (including single adults and individuals in adult couples) who is disabled and has been homeless for at least 365 days of the last 2 years, not necessarily consecutive; or any currently homeless individual who has been homeless for 730 days of the last 4 years, not necessarily consecutive.

Chronically Homeless Person: The Consolidated Plan regulations define a chronically homeless persons as follows: An unaccompanied homeless individual with a disabling condition who has been continuously homeless for a year or more, or has had at least four episodes of homelessness in the past three years. To be considered chronically homeless, a person must have been sleeping in a place not meant for human habitation (e.g., living on the streets) and/or in an emergency shelter during that time.

Chronically Homeless Family: A currently homeless family that has been homeless for at least 365 days of the last 2 years, not necessarily consecutive.

Committed: Generally means there has been a legally binding commitment of funds to a specific project to undertake specific activities.

Consistent with the CHAS: A determination made by the jurisdiction that a program application meets the following criterion: The Annual Plan for that fiscal year's funding indicates the jurisdiction planned to apply for the program or was willing to support an application by another entity for the program; the location of activities is consistent with the geographic areas specified in the plan, and the activities benefit a category of residents for which the jurisdiction's five-year strategy shows a priority.

Disabling Condition: For the purposes of Consolidated Plan-defined chronic homelessness, a disabling condition is a diagnosable substance use disorder, serious mental illness, developmental disability, or chronic physical illness or disability, including the co-occurrence of two or more of these conditions. A disabling condition limits an individual's ability to work or perform one or more activities of daily living.

Economic Development: The acquisition, disposition, construction or rehabilitation of commercial or industrial land and/or buildings, infrastructure development, assistance to private businesses including grants, loans, loan guarantees, interests supplements and technical assistance.

The term "household" is used in combination with the term "related" in the CHAS instructions, such as for Table 2, when compatibility with the Census definition of family (for reports and data available from the Census based upon that definition) is dictated. (See also "Homeless Family.")

Income definitions are based on Federal Fiscal Year 2010 Section 8 median family income limits, as determined by HUD for the New York, NY PMSA with adjustments for smaller and larger families and for areas with unusually high or low incomes or where needed because of prevailing levels of construction costs or fair market rents. According to HUD, the Federal FY 2010 Median Family Income for the New York, NY PMSA was $62,300. (Please note: this income definition is for HUD's required table of housing assistance needs of low and moderate income households by household income category and housing problems by tenure, household type and race/ethnicity.) Very Low, Low and Moderate Income are defined as follows:

Two sub-groups (0 to 30% and 31 to 50% of MFI) are distinguished in the tables. The Very Lowest Income category, 0 to 30% MFI, includes households with incomes less than or equal to $23,750 for a family of four. The 31 to 50% of MFI subgroup includes households with income greater than $23,750 but less than or equal to $39,600 for a family of four.

LOW (51 TO 80% MFI) -- [equivalent with CDBG's moderate-income category]

The term may also apply to a person infected with the human acquired immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and a person who suffers from alcoholism or drug addiction, provided the person meets the definition as provided in Section 811 (42 U.S.C. 8013(k)(2)). A person whose sole impairment is a diagnosis of HIV positive or alcoholism or drug addiction who does not meet Section 811 (42 U.S.C. 8013(k)(2)) qualifying criteria is not considered eligible for the Section 811 Supportive Housing program.

The New York City Human Rights Law defines a person with a disability as follows: A person shall be considered to have a disability if the person has any physical, medical, mental or psychological impairment, or a history or record of such impairment. APPENDIX 3:

MAPS

1. Community Development Eligible Census Tracts

The attached revised Community Development Block Grant Eligibility maps show those 2000 census tracts in which Community Development (CD) funds may be used for an activity, the benefits of which are available to all the residents in a particular area, where at least 51% of the residents are low- and moderate-income persons ("CD area benefit" or "CD eligible area") according to the 2000 Census. Low- and moderate-income persons are defined as persons living in households with incomes below 80 percent of the median household income ($47,100 for a 4-person household in 2000) of the Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area (PMSA), which includes the five boroughs, and Putnam County.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) released the revised New York City CD Eligible Census Tracts data based on the 2000 Census at the end of March 2007. The revised data supersedes the CD Eligible Census Tract data for New York City originally released in February 2003. As a result of the data revision, the City of New York has generated updated CD Eligible Census Tract maps to replace the maps previously created in March 2003.

The revisions to the CD Eligible Census Tract data are the result of changes in the metropolitan area definitions used to calculate HUD median family income limits and estimates. The new definitions are based on the current U.S. Office of Management and Budget metropolitan statistical area (MSA) definitions.

HUD encouraged local municipalities which receive Community Development Block Grant funds to begin using the new data to determine area eligibility as early as possible. The City of New York began to use the revised 2000 Census data to determine CD area eligibility commencing with City Fiscal Year 2008 (CFY08) CD-funded activities, which began July 1, 2007.

Therefore, City Agencies and not-for-profit organizations who intend to request CD monies to fund area wide activities which will be undertaken in the current and future City Fiscal Years should use the updated 2000 Census Tract Eligibility data to determine their respective programs' area eligibility.

2. Minority Population

The attached Minority Population maps depict the percentages of the City's minority population¹ within 2000 census tracts by three (3) intervals: 1) greater than or equal to 85 percent minority population; 2) 65 to 84.9 percent; and 3) Less than 65 percent.

The percentage of minority population within the census tracts was computed by dividing the balance of the respective tract's non-White population (total number of persons of all races less White, non-Hispanic persons) by its total population.

In addition to enumerating persons as White, non-Hispanic for the 2000 Census, the U.S. Census Bureau expanded and refined its previously existing race categories to enumerate persons as: American Indian or Alaska Native; Asian; Black or African-American, Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander; some other ¹Minority Population excludes White, non-Hispanic persons.

(single) race not previously reported; two or more races; and, persons of Hispanic origin (of any race).
The data depicted represents persons who comprise these categories.

01 Acquisition

Acquisition is frequently used for the acquisition of property on which a public facility or public improvement will be constructed using other funds.

02 Disposition

Disposition can occur through the sale, lease, or donation of property acquired with CDBG funds or under urban renewal. This term is used to describe costs that are incidental to disposing or transferring real property acquired with CDBG funds, and to describe the costs of temporarily maintaining properties pending disposition (for example, legal service, financial service, appraisal survey, and transfer of ownership costs).

Public Facilities and Improvements

This category allows the acquisition of real property and construction or rehabilitation of the following public facilities and improvements to those facilities.

03 Public Facilities and Improvements

This activity should be used, unless the activity falls under a more specific category, listed below.

03B Centers for the Disabled/Handicapped

Construction or rehabilitation of group homes or centers for the disabled.

03E Neighborhood Facilities

Structures that will be used for social services or for multiple purposes, including recreation, and that are principally designed to serve a neighborhood. Such facilities may include libraries and public schools.

03T Operating Costs of Homeless "and/or" AIDS Patients Programs

This category funds the operating expenses of ESG-funded emergency shelters. This category includes all costs associated with the operation of facilities (such as utilities, maintenance, and insurance) for homeless persons and/or AIDS patients. INCOME TYPES (Income) - A household's income as defined by HUD for New York City, including the five boroughs, adjusted for family size is as follows:

(Income definitions are based on Federal Fiscal Year 2009 Section 8 Median Family Income (MFI) for New York City which is $61,700.)

VERY LOW (0 to 50% MFI) [Equivalent to CDBG's low-income category]

A household with an income less than or equal to 50 percent of the area's median family income (Defined as less than or equal to $39,600 for a family of four, or less than or equal to $27,750 for a single person household.)

LOW (51 to 80% MFI) [Equivalent to CDBG's moderate-income category]

A household with an income greater than 50 percent and less than or equal to 80 percent of the City's median family income. (Defined as greater than $39,600 and less than or equal to $63,350 for a family of four; and greater than $27,750 and less than or equal to $44,350 for a single person household.)

MODERATE (81 to 95% MFI)

A household with an income greater than 80 percent or less than or equal to 95 percent of the City's median family income. (Defined as greater than $63,350 or as less than or equal to $75,250 for a family of four.)

LIMITED CLIENTELE

An activity which benefits a limited clientele, at least 51 percent whom are, or are presumed to be, low and moderate income persons.

SLUMS AND BLIGHT AREA

An activity will be considered to address prevention or elimination of slums or blight in an area if:

- b) Throughout the area there is a substantial number of deteriorated or deteriorating buildings or the public improvements are in a general state of deterioration;

- c) Documentation is maintained by the recipient on the boundaries of the area and the condition which qualified the area at the time of its designation; and
- d) The assisted activity addresses one or more of the conditions which contributed to the deterioration of the area. Rehabilitation of residential buildings carried out in an area meeting the above requirements will be considered to address the area's deterioration only where each such building rehabilitation is considered substandard under local definition before rehabilitation, and all deficiencies making a building substandard have been eliminated if less critical work on the building is undertaken. At a minimum, the local definition for this purpose must be such that buildings that it would render substandard would also fail to meet the housing quality standards for the Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments Program-Existing Housing.

LOW/MODERATE AREA

- ii) Necessary to complete the urban renewal plan, as then in effect, including initial land redevelopment permitted by the plan.

Note: Despite the restrictions in (b)(1) and (2) of this section, any rehabilitation activity which benefits low and moderate income persons pursuant to paragraph (a)(3) of this section can be undertaken without regard to the area in which it is located or the extent or nature of rehabilitation assisted.

SLUM/BLIGHT SPOT

Acquisition, clearance, relocation, historic preservation and building rehabilitation activities which eliminate specific conditions of blight or physical decay on a spot basis not located in a slum or blighted area will meet this objective. Under this criterion, rehabilitation is limited to the extent necessary to eliminate specific conditions detrimental to public health and safety.

This indicator shows the total number of businesses assisted. Specifically, it shows the number of new businesses, existing businesses, and the DUNS number of each business so that HUD can track the number of new businesses that remain operational for three years after assistance.

18) Does assisted business provide a good or service to meet needs of service area/neighborhood/community (to be determined by community)?

This indicator shows whether an assisted business provides goods or services to meet the needs of the service area, neighborhood, or community, as determined by the grantee.

N/A Not Applicable

The particular eligible activity cannot be measured and/or properly categorized by one of the eighteen (18) Performance Indicators (e.g., General Program Administration).

CITY OF NEW YORK RESPONSES TO QUESTIONNAIRE FOR HUD'S INITIATIVE ON REMOVAL OF REGULATORY BARRIERS, PART A., LOCAL JURISDICTIONS

The City of New York provided to public, private and not-for-profit entities submitting applications for competitive grant funds under the 2010 HUD SuperNOFA (Notice of Funding Availability) process a unified response to the Department's "Questionnaire for HUD's Initiative on Removal of Regulatory Barriers". The Questionnaire was incorporated into the point scoring system for several HUD competitive grant programs under the grant application's section: Removal of Regulatory Barriers to Affordable Housing. Higher points were available to (1) governmental applicants that are able to demonstrate successful efforts in removing regulatory barriers to affordable housing and (2) nongovernmental applicants that are associated with jurisdictions that have undertaken successful efforts in removing barriers.

The City's unified response to the Questionnaire's Part A., Local Jurisdictions, Counties Exercising Land Use and Building Regulatory Authority and Other Applicants Applying for Projects Located in such Jurisdiction or Counties, was formulated by the Department of City Planning, Department of Housing Preservation and Development and the Department of Buildings, each providing information on their respective department's area of expertise in an effort to provide one-stop, consistent responses with supporting references and/or data to prospective applicants. In May 2010, the responses on the Questionnaire and Supplement: References were updated to reflect New York City's adoption of the International Building Code (IBC) as the basis for its Building Code. The updated Questionnaire and Supplement have been incorporated into the City's proposed 2011 Consolidated Plan.

The unified response was made available to prospective SuperNOFA applicants upon request or after they were informed of its availability when the applicant requested a Certification of Consistency with the Consolidated Plan from the certifying City agency.

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 3 hours. This includes the time for collecting, reviewing, and reporting the data. The information will be used to encourage applicants to pursue and promote efforts to remove regulatory barriers to affordable housing. Response to this request for information is required in order to receive the benefits to be derived. This agency may not collect this information, and you are not required to complete this form unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

Questionnaire for HUD's Initiative on Removal of Regulatory Barriers

Part A. Local Jurisdictions. Counties Exercising Land Use and Building Regulatory Authority and Other Applicants Applying for Projects Located in such Jurisdictions or Counties [Collectively, Jurisdiction]

	1	2
1. Does your jurisdiction's comprehensive plan (or in the case of a tribe or TDHE, a local Indian Housing Plan) include a "housing element? A local comprehensive plan means the adopted official statement of a legislative body of a local government that sets forth (in words, maps, illustrations, and/or tables) goals, policies, and guidelines intended to direct the present and future physical, social, and economic development that occurs within its planning jurisdiction and that includes a unified physical plan for the public development of land and water. If your jurisdiction does not have a local comprehensive plan with a "housing element," please enter no. If no, skip to question # 4.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
2. If your jurisdiction has a comprehensive plan with a housing element, does the plan provide estimates of current and anticipated housing needs, taking into account the anticipated growth of the region, for existing and future residents, including low, moderate and middle income families, for at least the next five years?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
3. Does your zoning ordinance and map, development and subdivision regulations or other land use controls conform to the jurisdiction's comprehensive plan regarding housing needs by providing: a) sufficient land use and density categories (multifamily housing, duplexes, small lot homes and other similar elements); and, b) sufficient land zoned or mapped "as of right" in these categories, that can permit the building of affordable housing addressing the needs identified in the plan? (For purposes of this notice, "as-of-right," as applied to zoning, means uses and development standards that are determined in advance and specifically authorized by the zoning ordinance. The ordinance is largely self-enforcing because little or no discretion occurs in its administration.). If the jurisdiction has chosen not to have either zoning, or other development controls that have varying standards based upon districts or zones, the applicant may also enter yes.	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
4. Does your jurisdiction's zoning ordinance set minimum building size requirements that exceed the local housing or health code or is otherwise not based upon explicit health standards?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No

5. If your jurisdiction has development impact fees, are the fees specified and calculated under local or state statutory criteria? If no, skip to question #7. Alternatively, if your jurisdiction does not have impact fees, you may enter yes.	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
6. If yes to question #5, does the statute provide criteria that sets standards for the allowable type of capital investments that have a direct relationship between the fee and the development (nexus), and a method for fee calculation?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
7. If your jurisdiction has impact or other significant fees, does the jurisdiction provide waivers of these fees for affordable housing?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
8. Has your jurisdiction adopted specific building code language regarding housing rehabilitation that encourages such rehabilitation through graduated regulatory requirements applicable as different levels of work are performed in existing buildings? Such code language increases regulatory requirements (the additional improvements required as a matter of regulatory policy) in proportion to the extent of rehabilitation that an owner/developer chooses to do on a voluntary basis. For further information see HUD publication: “Smart Codes in Your Community: A Guide to Building Rehabilitation Codes” (www.huduser.org/publications/destech/smartcodes.html)	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
9. Does your jurisdiction use a recent version (i.e. published within the last 5 years or, if no recent version has been published, the last version published) of one of the nationally recognized model building codes (i.e. the International Code Council (ICC), the Building Officials and Code Administrators International (BOCA), the Southern Building Code Congress International (SBCI), the International Conference of Building Officials (ICBO), the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA)) without significant technical amendment or modification. In the case of a tribe or TDHE, has a recent version of one of the model building codes as described above been adopted or, alternatively, has the tribe or TDHE adopted a building code that is substantially equivalent to one or more of the recognized model building codes? Alternatively, if a significant technical amendment has been made to the above model codes, can the jurisdiction supply supporting data that the amendments do not negatively impact affordability.	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
10. Does your jurisdiction’s zoning ordinance or land use regulations permit manufactured (HUD-Code) housing “as of right” in all residential districts and zoning classifications in which similar site-built housing is permitted, subject to design, density, building size, foundation requirements, and other similar requirements applicable to other housing that will be deemed realty, irrespective of the method of production?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes

11. Within the past five years, has a jurisdiction official (i.e., chief executive, mayor, county chairman, city manager, administrator, or a tribally recognized official, etc.), the local legislative body, or planning commission, directly, or in partnership with major private or public stakeholders, convened or funded comprehensive studies, commissions, or hearings, or has the jurisdiction established a formal ongoing process, to review the rules, regulations, development standards, and processes of the jurisdiction to assess their impact on the supply of affordable housing?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
12. Within the past five years, has the jurisdiction initiated major regulatory reforms either as a result of the above study or as a result of information identified in the barrier component of the jurisdiction’s “HUD Consolidated Plan?” If yes, attach a brief list of these major regulatory reforms.	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
13. Within the past five years has your jurisdiction modified infrastructure standards and/or authorized the use of new infrastructure technologies (e.g. water, sewer, street width) to significantly reduce the cost of housing?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
14. Does your jurisdiction give “as-of-right” density bonuses sufficient to offset the cost of building below market units as an incentive for any market rate residential development that includes a portion of affordable housing? (As applied to density bonuses, "as of right" means a density bonus granted for a fixed percentage or number of additional market rate dwelling units in exchange for the provision of a fixed number or percentage of affordable dwelling units and without the use of discretion in determining the number of additional market rate units.)	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
15. Has your jurisdiction established a single, consolidated permit application process for housing development that includes building, zoning, engineering, environmental, and related permits? Alternatively, does your jurisdiction conduct concurrent, not sequential, reviews for all required permits and approvals?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
16. Does your jurisdiction provide for expedited or “fast track” permitting and approvals for all affordable housing projects in your community?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
17. Has your jurisdiction established time limits for government review and approval or disapproval of development permits in which failure to act, after the application is deemed complete, by the government within the designated time period, results in automatic approval?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
18. Does your jurisdiction allow “accessory apartments” either as: a) a special exception or conditional use in all single-family residential zones or, b) “as of right” in a majority of residential districts otherwise zoned for single-family housing?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes
19. Does your jurisdiction have an explicit policy that adjusts or waives existing parking requirements for all affordable housing developments?	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes
20. Does your jurisdiction require affordable housing projects to undergo public review or special hearings when the project is otherwise in full compliance with the zoning ordinance and other development regulations?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No

#4. No.

The City of New York's zoning ordinance (the Zoning Resolution) does not set minimum building size requirements that exceed the local housing or health code.

#5. Yes.

As per questionnaire instructions, the City of New York does not have impact fees. Therefore, the response is Yes.

#6, and 7. Yes.

As stated in #5., The City of New York has no impact fee. Therefore, it is not necessary that there be a waiver for affordable housing or the establishment of state standards.

#8. Yes.

The NYC Construction Codes are now mandatory for new construction projects beginning after July 1, 2009. The New Construction Codes also incorporate the Plumbing Code, previously enacted under Local Law 99/2005.

#9. Yes.

On July 3, 2007 the new NYC Construction Codes were signed into law by Mayor Bloomberg. The new codes which include a new Building Code that was modeled on the International Building Code and adapted for NYC, is familiar to industry professionals in New York State, New Jersey and jurisdictions within all 50 states.

Select administrative and enforcement provisions, as well as safeguards during construction and demolition are effective July 1, 2008 for all work performed (new construction or existing buildings). However, professionals have the option to use the remaining technical provision of the new codes until July 1, 2009 at which time they will be mandated for new construction.

#10. Yes.

The City regulations permit as-of-right use of manufactured housing. This product is widely used in the City's subsidized projects (e.g. Partnership New Homes Program).

#11. Yes.

In 1999, the Furman Center for Real Estate and Urban Policy at NYU (New York University) completed a study examining the cost of new housing construction in New York City. The study was commissioned by the New York City Partnership and Chamber of Commerce and the City of New York. The center updated their study of new housing construction in 2005. Reducing the Cost of New Housing Construction in New York City analyzes affordability problems in New York City and compares the cost of construction in New York City to other large American cities. The study examines the factors and conditions in New York City that contribute to the high cost of housing and provides over 90 recommendations for government and the private sector to decrease the cost of housing construction. The study can be accessed at the Furman Center for Real Estate and Urban Policy's website, <http://furmancenter.org/research/publications>.

In May 2007, Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg, released PlaNYC 2030, a comprehensive sustainability plan for the City's future. PlaNYC puts forth a strategy to reduce the City's greenhouse gas footprint, while also accommodating a population growth of nearly one million, and improving New York's infrastructure and environment. As part of the goal of creating homes for one million additional New Yorkers, the Plan identified strategies and policies to promote the production of affordable housing.

The City of New York reviews and updates PlaNYC annually.

#12. Yes.

In 2003 a mayoral advisory committee recommended that New York City adopt the International Code Council's Building Code (IBC) as a model code to replace the current code which had not undergone a major overhaul in nearly 40 years. Over 400 NYC experts from labor, industry, and affordable housing volunteered 300,000 pro bono hours to tailor the code to meet NYC's unique needs. During testimony in favor of enacting the new codes, the New York State Association for Affordable Housing stated that there was nothing more important to affordable housing developers than efficiency and consistency.

In June 2009, as part of New York City's efforts to reduce the time and cost of private development, the Mayor's Office of Operations introduced the Development Coordinator Initiative. The Development Coordinator, currently a pilot program in Brooklyn and Queens, provides a multi-agency forum to resolve city policy and jurisdictional conflicts that create a barrier in both time and cost to legal development, including the production of affordable housing.

#13. No.

#14. Yes.

The City of New York offers an as-of-right bonus through its Inclusionary Housing Program.

Please refer to the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York, Article II., Residence District Regulations., Chapter 3., Bulk Regulations for Residential Buildings in Residence Districts; II-R23-90 to 23-943: Inclusionary Housing to (Inclusionary Housing) Preservation Option; Article III., Commercial District Regulations., Chapter 4., Bulk Regulations for Residential Buildings in Commercial Districts; III-C34-221, III-C34-226, Exceptions to the Applicability of Residence District Controls; and Chapter 5., Bulk Regulations for Mixed (Use) Buildings in Commercial Districts; III-C35-31, Maximum Floor Area Ratio for Mixed Buildings, respectively. The Zoning Resolution may be accessed on the New York City Department of City Planning's website at www.nyc.gov/planning.

#15. No.

#16. No.

However, the NYC Department of Buildings does allow any building (residential or otherwise) to utilize its professional certification program, which can significantly reduce time frames.

#17. No.

#18. No.

The Zoning Resolution of the City of New York permits “accessory apartments” (as per HUD’s definition) “as of right” in R3 through R10 zones. R3 to R10 residential zones encompass two-family houses through high-density apartment buildings and represent the overwhelming majority of New York City residentially zoned land. The Zoning Resolution prohibits accessory apartments in its single-family residential zones (R1 and R2). However, R1 and R2 zones represent a small percentage residentially zoned land. The text of the Zoning Resolution may be accessed on the New York City Department of City Planning’s website at www.nyc.gov/planning.

#19. Yes.

Please refer to the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York, Article II., Residence District Regulations., Chapter 5., Accessory Off-Street Parking and Loading Regulations; II-R25-25: Modification of Requirements for Public, Publicly-Assisted and Government Assisted Housing or for Non-Profit Residences for the Elderly which indicates the minimum required provision of parking spaces as a percentage of the total number of dwelling units for: 1) Publicly Assisted Housing; 2) Federal Rent Subsidy Programs; 3) Public Housing Developments or Dwelling Units for Low-Income Tenants; 4) Non-Profit Residences for the Elderly or Dwelling Units for the Elderly; and 5); Government Assisted Housing, respectively. The text of the Zoning Resolution may be accessed on the New York City Department of City Planning’s website at www.nyc.gov/planning.

#20. No, As-of-Right. (DCP)

The City of New York does not require affordable housing projects to undergo public review or special hearing when the project is in full compliance with the City’s zoning ordinance and other development regulations. For a brief review of what type of housing development and related activity would trigger the City’s Uniform Land Use Review Procedure (ULURP), please refer to the 2007 Consolidated Plan; Volume 2., Part II., Other Actions; Section B., Relevant Public Policies and Barriers to Affordable Housing: Uniform Land Use Review Procedure. The 2007 Consolidated Plan may be accessed on the New York City Department of City Planning’s website at www.nyc.gov/planning.
