

Maximum Compensation Limit under IRC 401(a)(17) for 2025 and Prior Retirements, As Applicable

All Tiers

NYC EMPLOYEES'
RETIREMENT SYSTEM

April 2025

Each year or 12-month period used in the calculation of the Final Average Salary (FAS) for NYCERS retirement is subject to the Maximum Compensation Limit under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) 401(a)(17). Prior to retirement, this limit is applied to any required member contributions during each applicable calendar year so that a member is not charged contributions for any earnings in excess of the respective calendar year's Maximum Compensation Limit.

The Omnibus Budget and Reconciliation Act of 1993 (OBRA '93) reduced the Maximum Compensation Limit under IRC 401(a)(17) from $235,840 to $150,000 for employees of private sector Qualified Plans effective for plan years beginning in 1994.

The $150,000 Maximum Compensation Limit under IRC 401(a)(17) is adjusted annually for cost-of-living increases by the IRS effective as of January 1.

While OBRA '93 reduced the Maximum Compensation Limit for the private sector for plan years beginning after December 31, 1993, it provided a "Transitional Rule" for "eligible participants" of governmental state and local plans. An eligible participant for this purpose is defined as any individual who first became a participant in the plan prior to the first plan year beginning after December 31, 1995.

Therefore, the New York City Retirement Systems (NYCRS) members who joined the retirement system prior to July 1, 1996 (first plan year beginning after 12/31/1995) are exempt from the OBRA '93 Maximum Compensation Limit reductions and are "grandfathered" in the Maximum Compensation Limit rules that were in effect as of July 1, 1993 as escalated to the date of benefit determination.

However, members who first joined the plan on or after July 1, 1996 are not eligible for the "grandfathered" Pre-OBRA '93 Maximum Compensation Limit and are subject to the private sector reduced Maximum Compensation Limit under OBRA '93 as escalated to the date of benefit determination.

IRS Regulation 1.401(a)(17) – 1(b)(3)(ii) provides that for plans that determine compensation used in determining benefit accruals on the basis of compensation for a 12-consecutive-month period or periods, the annual Maximum Compensation Limit under IRC 401(a)(17) as adjusted for cost-of-living is to be applied to the compensation in each 12-month period in the member's Final Average Salary period based on the IRC 401(a)(17) Maximum Compensation Limit in effect at the beginning of each respective 12-month period.

For example, the annual Maximum Compensation Limit for 2025 which became effective as of January 1, 2025 is to be applied to the compensation for any 12-month period beginning in 2025.

The Maximum Compensation Limits for 2025 are $350,000 for non-grandfathered members of the NYCRS and $520,000 for grandfathered members of the NYCRS.

The Maximum Compensation Limits under IRC 401(a)(17) as adjusted for cost-of-living are also to be applied to any required member contribution during a calendar year so that the member is not charged contributions for any compensation in excess of the respective calendar year Maximum Compensation Limit.

The effective grandfathered (Pre-OBRA '93) and OBRA '93 Compensation Limits since 1996 are presented below:
