COMMISSIONER OF LICENSES.

Report for the License Year from May 1, 1909, to May 1, 1910.

No. 277 Broadway,
New York City, May 1, 1910. }

Hon. WILLIAM J. GAYNOR, Mayor of The City of New York:

Sir—I have the honor to submit the accompanying report concerning the work of the office of the Commissioner of Licenses for the license year just ending, the period being from May 1, 1909, to May 1, 1910. Although my incumbency of the Commission-ership did not begin with the present license year, I felt nevertheless that I should follow the custom of the office by presenting an annual report, the sixth submitted since the law creating the office was enacted in May, 1904.

Attached to the report is a summary or table showing in statistical detail the work for the past license year.

Respectfully,

HERMAN ROBINSON, Commissioner of Licenses.

Operation of the Employment Agency Law.

The increase in the employment agency business keeps pace with the growth of The City of New York. Six years ago, when the law creating the office of the Commissioner of Licenses went into effect, there were 450 employment agencies licensed. The number is almost doubled now and the individual agencies do more business than they did then.

Domestic servants' agencies, known as intelligence offices, are not the only employment bureaus regulated under the law, although the immorality and extortion which had grown to be habitual in some of them, through lack of proper supervision, were responsible for its enactment. There are now also under regulation by the Commissioner of Licenses the theatrical, commercial, stenographic, shipping and labor agencies and nurses' registries. The domestic servants' agencies constitute barely one-half the total number.

The statute under which the Commissioner of Licenses operates is a general law affecting cities of the first and second class, but in reality it applies almost exclusively to The City of New York, because in all the rest of the State there are only sixty licensed employment agencies.

Experience has shown that grave evils will arise in the conduct of employment agencies without proper legal supervision. Immigrants—men and women—are easily imposed upon, and, in the past, have been frequently fleeced. Labor agencies have duped their too trusting applicants. Intelligence offices who send servants to thousands of households paid little heed to the character of the employees they furnished.

The registers of the agencies are now inspected at stated intervals; the references of servants sent out are tested as to genuineness; every complaint from either employee or employer is investigated, and in important cases, or where there is a conflict of testimony as to facts, a hearing or trial, with witnesses, is held by the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner. Nearly 600 such hearings or trials take place during the course of the year. Several times a week agents are forced to refund money which they have taken in excess of the legal fees, and this feature of the office administration is important in that the individual sums, although small in amount, are returned to those who can least afford to lose them—people in search of employment.

Irresponsible persons who act as employment agents without licenses, extorting money by making false promises of employment, are prosecuted through the office of the Commissioner of Licenses in the criminal courts.

The importance of the employment agency business in relation to the general welfare is shown by frequent attempts on part of government and other agencies to divert labor to those channels where there is most need of it. Organizations have been brought into existence to meet the demands for labor on one hand and to solve the question of employment on the other.

Such institutions as the National Employment Exchange and the Labor Information Office for Italians (neither of which is conducted for profit) have been organized by those interested in the labor situation to find employment for unskilled labor at a minimum amount of inconvenience to both employer and workman. State labor exchanges, too, have been established and abandoned. But none of these institutions make any serious inroad into the business of the private employment agent. He is secure in his field because he gives personal attention to his business, and the personal element in the employment agency business is necessary. That is why it can hardly be successful on a large scale, and also explains why there are so many agencies each with its own peculiar clientele.

"White Slavery" Charges Imposed on Agencies.

In the attempt made last fall to prove that wholesale traffic in alleged "white slavery" existed on an organized basis, the employment agencies were not overlooked. Certain propagandists know that these bureaus, especially those on the lower east side of Manhattan, have had to submit to criticism and reform during the past decade, and hence have concluded that when anything new is laid at their doors they—the employment agencies—will be found practically defenseless.

A magazine article published last fall (which at once became notorious by reason of its having furnished appalling, though unsupported allegations of "white slavery" just in time for the municipal election) included by innuendo employment agencies as stations where "white slaves" were recruited. It even presented full page illustrations of some of these places. Of course no direct charge was made that the places so pictured were "white slave" depots. Had this been done the owners of these places could have made the publishers of the magazine either prove the truth of the charges or pay damages. One picture of the interior of an employment agency, with girls and men sitting beside each other in a way which denoted easy familiarity, did help to lend an air of probability to the story. No one was more surprised than the proprietor of this agency when he recognized the picture of the interior of his office as one of the "typical" places in the "white slave" article. This is his explanation of how he was thus distinguished:

"One day last summer a travelling photographer came to me and said he would take a picture of my agency. I told him I did not want a picture. He begged me to let him take one, and said if it turned out to be a good one he would sell it to me for 25 cents. He said I would give a poor man a chance. I then consented. He had another man with who helped him to make the preparations for the photograph. They got a few girls who had been out in the front of the store and brought them in and seated them in my office. Then they got my two young men clerks and seated them amongst the girls, telling the girls to look closely into the men's faces. When they had them posed in this way they took a flashlight picture and went away. I haven't seen them since, but I recognized the picture of my office as soon as the 'white slave' article was shown to me."

This affords one illustration of how the article was manufactured. The Women's Municipal League, which also injected itself into the "white slave" agitation subsequent to the publication of the article referred to, declared in a public statement that the East Side employment agencies were amongst the places where "white slaves" were obtained. The League added that it knew this from its own investigations. The president of the principal association of employment agencies in the city endeavored for two months to have the Women's Municipal League produce any evidence whatever to substantiate its charge, but the result was what might have been expected—silence.

The fact is that the employment agencies of the East Side send thousands of girls to places every day. Not one in ten thousand of these girls is sent to a place that is not perfectly proper and respectable. Occasionally an agent may send a girl as a servant to a hotel that is not just right, or a "runner" may deceive the agent or the girl he is taking out as a servant as to the character of the place to which he is taking her. All such cases as these are investigated and proper action taken. That the East Side agencies were not all models is proved by the fact that many of them have been driven out of business, but to say that they foster a traffic resembling the "white slave" system is absurd.

Improvement in East Side Agency Conditions.

Within a small area on the lower east side of Manhattan—Third and Fourth streets, between Avenues A and C—are more intelligence offices than in any other section of the city. It was in this locality where were found heretofore most of the abuses which made the present employment agency law a public necessity.

In the years prior to the enactment of this law agencies had acquired an unenviable reputation—with reason, undoubtedly—and they find some difficulty in eliminating it from the public mind. But since they have been placed under stricter surveillance they are made to give service for money received, and if they fail to do so the money must be refunded. They are not permitted now to send girls out as servants to stay a week in a place so that they may earn the fee, and then induce the servants to leave, in order to send them to other employers. They cannot furnish girls unless their references are investigated. They cannot induce girls to leave their employment; that choice is left to the girls themselves. When an agent shows a determination to ignore any of these prohibitions, his license is revoked, thus forcing him out of the business.

Since the present Commissioner of Licenses was appointed he has paid special attention to the lower East Side agencies, and has endeavored to put them on a business-like basis. Card playing and petty gambling in agencies have been stopped. The agents are not permitted to send out girls under sixteen years of age in violation of the child labor law or the compulsory education act. So-called "runners" are prohibited from keeping watch on the sidewalks and acting as "pullers-in" towards every passing girl who may have the appearance of being a possible domestic servant. Agencies are no longer kept open late at night as meeting places for servant girls and male companions. Men "runners" who are known to have earned bad or doubtful reputations are kept out of the business.

A feature of the agency situation on the East Side has been attempts on the part of the agent to offer social advantages to the girls who might frequent his place in search of employment. A successful agent took pains to make his girl customers acquainted with one another. He employed as clerks, "runners," etc., young men who were agreeable to the girls. He tried to make his agency a social headquarters. The result was that sometimes the girls grew loath to quit the agency. Only good-appearing situations tempted them, and if anything displeased them in the places to which they hired out they soon found their way back to the agency, perhaps for a change of scene or in the certainty of finding sympathizers to whom they could tell their troubles. It was no hard task on the part of a girl, if she felt so inclined, to prevent the employer whom she had just left from getting another servant from that agency or perhaps from other nearby offices.

But by forcing the agents to conduct their places in a business-like way, even at the expense of making them less popular with the servants, all these rather objectionable social features have been abolished.

Immorality Checked.

The greatest good resulting from regulation of the East Side agencies is the abolition of the immorality once prevalent. It is now almost impossible for an agent to send a girl to a disorderly house without the Commissioner of Licenses learning about it. An agent is well aware that if he should do such a thing not only would he lose his license, but criminal prosecution would follow. It is possible that a girl may be sent as a cook or chambermaid to a small hotel frequented by disreputable persons (and even such contingencies are carefully guarded against), but beyond this no agent will now dare to go. The agents' employees—those known as "runners," who accompany the girls and carry their belongings from the agency to the place of employment—are kept under observation by the inspectors of this office. The moral welfare of the girls is reasonably safe.

Nor are the agents now permitted to have any hold upon the girls other than that which they get in the line of strict business. They are not allowed to take their money or trinkets for "safe keeping," nor to hold their clothes "in storage." The girls are free to leave the agency when they please and the claims formerly established by nationality or a common language are no longer binding.

A large number of agencies are inspected more frequently than the law requires. Were inspections to be made but once in two months (except on complaint) as the statute prescribes, the law could not be genuinely enforced because the agents could, with tolerable accuracy, time the inspectors' visits and be prepared for them. But frequent inspections where they are regarded as necessary, keep the agencies that need stricter watching well under control. In this connection it might be remarked that although the work of the license office has been greatly extended since the present employment agency law was enacted, the number of employees has not been increased.

Swindling of Italian Laborers Made More Difficult.

Italian laborers who get their employment through labor agencies conducted by their own countrymen need the protection of the Commissioners of Licenses more than any other class of workmen. Before the Italian labor agencies were brought under the employment agency law, the extent to which the men were swindled would almost pass belief. The labor agent was the bordante and his sub-agents the bosses of the gangs on the works. The workmen, gullible as children, never complained of their treatment except to those who could speak their own language and these were generally in the employ or under the domination of the labor agent. Many of the labor agents made fortunes through the exploitation of their more simple fellow-countrymen. A laborer might work a week of ten or twelve hours a day on railroad construction work and after the price of his brown bread, spaghetti and bologna was taken from his wages by the bordante (who collected the wages for him, he would have no more, perhaps, than 50 cents to show for his six days of toil.

These labor agents are now well within legal supervision, but nevertheless complaints against them are of daily frequency. A great deal of the money which the Commissioner of Licenses orders employment agents to refund to their clients comes from the pockets of the Italian labor agent, who was formerly but is no longer known as the padrone. An inspector, who not only speaks the Italian language fluently but who is familiar with the various Italian dialects, investigates the complaints and thousands of the Italian laborers themselves are now familiar with the manner of obtaining redress.

But while the methods of the labor agents are well within the observation of the license authorities, another abuse has recently sprung up with undesirable frequency, which is a worse swindle upon the too credulous Italian in search of work than any other formerly perpetrated upon him by the padrone. Alleged labor agents would collect a number of Italians and give them tickets, representing that they were authorizations to work on railroad piers and in railroad yards. They collected from $10 to $50 each from the men. Sometimes these agents succeeded in getting work for their victims (probably through collusion or some understanding with foremen or assistant foremen), but the latter were usually discharged after a day or two.

It was difficult to detect the swindlers, although the Commissioner of Licenses succeeded in obtaining the conviction of one in the Court of Special Sessions in March of this year. He has also been able by agreement and with the co-operation of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroad companies, who employ a great deal of Italian labor on their piers, to take steps which will at least reduce the extent of such swindling. These companies have ordered their foremen to employ no Italian laborers except those who are known to be sent through licensed agencies, who can be held responsible.

The unlicensed, irresponsible labor agent is a menace to the Italian laborer. And yet, when one is found taking money from those in search of work it is no easy matter to convict him in the criminal courts. In the first place the Italians themselves are not good witnesses against their own countrymen and, secondly, if the man has a plausible excuse the courts regard it as a light crime in a person to try to get a job for another, even if he takes money for it.

About 14,000 men were sent out of the city to work as contract laborers during the past twelve months by licensed Italian labor agents and in each instance, under the employment agency law, the agent was compelled to give every man a statement in his own language describing the conditions of work, wages, etc., and to file a copy with the Commissioner of Licenses. The total number of laborers sent beyond the city limits on contract labor work by all licensed employment agents during the licensed year just closed was 35,000.

Refunding Fees to the Unemployed.

During the license year now ending, the sum of $4,550.35 was refunded by employment agencies to applicants for employment and applicants for help, as a result of complaints made to the office of the Commissioner of Licenses. Of this sum more than $1,300 was ordered refunded by the present Commissioner. The major part of the total amount refunded, or $3,610.20, was given back to applicants for employment. Some of this money was refunded after hearings had been held in the office on disputed claims, but all of it after complaints had been lodged with the Commissioner and investigations made by the inspectors.

The majority of the individual refunds were small, varying from 50 cents to $5, but as the recipients were chiefly persons out of work, who had paid fees to agents for employment which they did not get, the refunding of the fees is a matter of no small importance.

In cases in which refunds were made to applicants for help the money was usually paid by housekeepers in search of servants who either did not get the servants or who were unable to keep them for more than one or two days, the agent then failing to furnish other servants or to return any part of the fees.

Servants Scarcer, Wages Higher.

Domestic servants' agencies, sometimes called intelligence offices, require more attention from the Commissioner of Licenses and his working force than any other class of employment bureaus. Their relationship to the well-being of the general public is important. Their conduct has a direct bearing on the servant problem which, although old, is still far from solution.

Employers of domestic or household servants never cease to complain of the methods of intelligence offices. The latter, because of competition in their efforts to get a supply of trustworthy domestic servants nearly equal to the demand, coupled with a desire to make all the money they can in their business, do not balk at acts which sometimes might be called dishonest. It is because of this situation that these agencies need strict and constant watching. Most employers, and employees for that matter, are prejudiced against agencies to such an extent that they would not deal with them if they could help themselves. They undoubtedly class agencies as necessary evils.

Many agents, on the other hand, declare employers of servants to be too exacting or too tyrannical, or servants themselves to be too independent. At all events none of the three parties in the case will look at it from the viewpoint of the other two and hence endless trouble and controversy. But without regulation of any kind it is difficult to imagine what sort of reputation employment agents would bear.

All the difficulties growing out of the conduct of domestic servants' agencies arise from one source, the scarcity of female servants in comparison with the demand. One might argue that this is so advantageous to the servants—it is increasing their wages every year—that their numbers would grow proportionately. But facts show that such is not the case. During the recent strike of shirt-waist makers in this city, when thousands of young working women were out of employment, it seemed logical to believe that the employment agencies on the lower East Side of Manhattan would have an increase in applications for places as domestic servants. But the contrary was true. None of the strikers tried to find employment as domestic servants and the owners of intelligence offices declared that many girls who were formerly household servants tried to go to work in the places of the strikers and in many instances succeeded.

While the material lot of the servant is better than that of the factory operator—better pay, better food, more attractive living accommodations—her individuality is less and her social independence lower.

Immigration is not filling the ranks of the servant class as it formerly did in proportion to the market demand. As a rule only the immigrant girls lowest in the social scale will now consent to go into domestic service. Many thousands of young women in New York City who are hard pressed to earn a comfortable living could easily find good homes with fair wages in other families if they would consent to become house servants. But they value their personal independence too much to do so and prefer to enter other fields already crowded.

It has been said that the growing tendency towards hotel life and the improvements in the labor-saving devices of the household may solve the domestic servant problem by making the servant less necessary to comfortable living. But these appear to be rather a result of the situation than an approach to the solution of the problem.

In Ontario, Canada, the government is preparing to pay a bonus of $5 for each servant brought into the province by the Salvation Army or any other reliable agency. On the East Side of Manhattan the employment agencies will willingly pay a bonus to anyone who brings them candidates for domestic service. Would-be employers in turn are willing to reimburse the employment agents provided they get desirable help. In the East Side agencies the applicants for employment need not now pay fees to the agencies who find them places.

Increasing Wages of Domestic Servants.

Books of domestic servants' agencies throughout the city show an increase in servants' wages over last year of about $2 a month. More orders are received from employers this year but fewer vacancies filled. The wages (including board) which employers offer at these agencies, who deal mainly with foreign-speaking servants, average as follows:

1909.		1910.
	Per Month.		Per Month.
Cooks	$24 50	Cooks	$26 00
Waitresses	23 50	Waitresses	25 00
General houseworkers.....	17 50	General houseworkers.....	18 75

In the agencies beyond the confines of the so-called East Side the wages offered are much higher.

Many agencies make a specialty of supplying day-workers, women who do the work of servants but go to their own homes at night. The number of day-workers furnished by these agencies during the first three months of the present year was, with one exception, just double what it was for the first three months of 1909. This is one attempt to meet the domestic servant difficulty. Many women will go out as day-workers who would reject a situation as a regular servant and many families in the high-rent apartment houses can use the services of day-workers who have not the necessary accommodation in their homes for the boarding of servants.

The increase in the number of day-workers supplied this year is significant. There is not, however, the same proportionate increase in the wages paid to day-workers as in the wages paid regular servants. This can be explained on the ground that there is not the same scarcity of one class as the other.

Good Demand for Farm Workers.

Employment agencies supplying men to work on farms report a greater demand for help this year than last. Like the domestic servants' agencies, they have far more orders than they can fill. Six typical agencies who, during the first three months of 1909 filled 420 orders, succeeded in getting 610 farm hands in places during the same period this year. The wages in 1909 averaged $16.30 a month (with board) while this year the average wages for the same workers is $18.20. The State Department of Agriculture, which maintains a free employment bureau in this city, placed 180 men in the first three months of last year and 275 in the first three months of this year. The agencies find that more immigrants are going West this year than ever before and that the opening up of factories and mines makes farm help harder to get. Greek and Italian immigrants who remain in New York are loath to take farm work.

Strike-Breaking Agencies Escape Regulation.

During the few months the present Commissioner of Licenses has been in office his attention has frequently been called to the activities of agencies whose sole business is that of furnishing men to break strikes. Suggestions have been made to the effect that these agencies should be brought under some sort of regulation or supervision. The present employment agency law seemingly does not include them within its scope and it is a debatable question whether or not it could be amended so as to embrace them. Inasmuch as the employment agency law is a penal statute, the Commissioner has already conferred with the District Attorney of New York County on the general question of strike-breaking agencies.

The argument has been advanced that the strike-breaking agent, while he may be engaged in a perfectly legitimate business, is subjected to no supervision, whereas the ordinary labor agency is under strict regulation. The fees which the latter charge workers or employees are prescribed by law and even those he charges employers are in a measure regulated. He must not give false information to anyone in search of work nor can he withhold essential information regarding the nature of the employment or the terms or conditions surrounding it. The strike-breaking agent, on the other hand, can do as he pleases and tell what he chooses. He files no statement with any public officer and he need not enter any names or details upon his books.

Usually the strike-breaking agent is the head of a detective firm operating under a detective's license issued by the State Comptroller. When he wants men he advertises for them and gets them by promise of big wages. He holds them in reserve until their services are called for but gives no details as to the conditions or even the place of employment. The men must trust to him and they have no redress if they are deceived.

During the traction strike in Philadelphia thousands of men were recruited in New York City; indeed, here are the headquarters of nearly all the strike-breakers.

The existing employment agency law provides for the inclusion of anyone who furnishes help or employment and who takes a fee for so doing from either the worker or the employer. This might be interpreted to mean that the strike-breaker is within its scope because he surely receives money from the employer for furnishing the men, although he does not collect money from the men for putting them at work. But to get evidence that would stand in a criminal court in New York City is difficult if not impossible. The strike-breaking agent operates in a city other than that in which the strike exists and the only charge that could be brought against him, under the employment agency law, would be that of conducting an employment agency business without a license, which charge is classified as a misdemeanor.

The employment agency law has never regulated strike-breaking agencies in this city and the Commissioner of Licenses is of the opinion that if these agencies are to be brought under official supervision new legislation is necessary.

Vaudeville Actors Versus Theatrical Agents.

Almost 200 theatrical employment agencies are licensed and regulated under the present law. These agencies provide more than 100,000 engagements for performers every year. Up to six years ago no attempt was made to license them and the process of including them within the scope of the employment agency law has been gradual.

The present law, as originally drafted in 1904, was not really intended to cover theatrical agencies. It was amended in 1906 principally for the purpose of including them but the framework of the original law remained. This law, which was essentially designed to govern conditions existing in domestic servants' agencies and employment agencies in general, did not well fit the theatrical agencies. Hence there have been several attempts to get a law which will satisfactorily cover all agencies and deal with each class as if it had been drafted for it specifically. Amendments dealing with the theatrical agency situation were adopted by the Legislature last year but did not reach the Governor because of disapproval by the Mayor of Buffalo. During the present session of the Legislature two bills were introduced on behalf of the performers, one by the Actors' National Union of America and the other by the organization known as the White Rats of America.

The purpose of both bills is to limit the privileges of the theatrical agencies in respect to commissions and the better protection of the performers in the matter of contracts. The theatrical agent usually acts primarily as the agent of the employer and, as such, subscribed to the contract on behalf of the employer. Because of this situation it is frequently difficult to tell just when he is a third party, bringing together the parties of the first and second parts, or when he is a representative of the employing manager.

The result is that the performer himself often employs another agent, one who will represent him or his interests; there are two agents and, of course, double commission. The performers or actors are anxious to have one class of agents abolished and all the amendments offered to the present law contain the provision that there shall be only one fee paid.

Salaries on the vaudeville stage—those paid the "headliners"—are very large but the commissions are large also. Many performers are credited with salaries of $300 a week (several are in the thousand dollar class), but these have to pay $30 of this sum to the agent. If the agent really represents the employer, the actor objects to paying him a commission for hiring him for his own manager.

But the main difficulty which confronts the Commissioner of Licenses in the recent cases which have come before him on complaints against theatrical agents is to fix the responsibility when engagements are not carried out. A team or a company of performers may be booked by an agent in New York to fill an engagement in Buffalo and upon the arrival of the performers in Buffalo they find the engagement cancelled; perhaps they are told that it is broken after the first performance, or one of many other possible hitches in the arrangement may have happened. Who is to pay the cost of transportation to and from Buffalo? When the actor returns to New York he certainly wants to hold the agent responsible for his expenses, although the agent has not obtained any money out of the transaction. He has made the engagement on the strength of an order written or telegraphed from Buffalo. If a manager absconds or is unable to pay the performers, the latter again ask the commissioner to compel the agent to reimburse them for financial loss, inasmuch as he is bonded to the City of New York in the sum of $1,000.

The amendments submitted to the Legislature this year force the agent to guarantee in some measure the responsibility of the employing manager.

The difficulty then lies in enacting a law that will fit the situation, one that will be sustained in the courts and one that can be enforced. This is not an easy matter, considering the conflict of interests. Besides, the conditions surrounding the theatrical field are changing from year to year. The moving picture places have eaten into the vaudeville preserves and the vaudeville houses have in turn substituted themselves in hundreds of places for the dramatic theatre. But these rapidly moving changes have given a great impetus to the agency business, so much so that the theatrical managers are endeavoring to control it. The principal booking is done by circuits and this enables the managerial interests rather than the vaudeville performers to bring it within the sphere of their influence.

The present law, as far as it can be applied to the theatrical agencies, is fairly well enforced. There are now no agents unlicensed, although many of them at first fought hard against the attempts to bring them under the law. The itinerant or "hat" agent is abolished. Several agents were compelled, during the present year, to refund substantial sums of money to vaudeville performers, which sums either they had exacted in excess of the legal commission or had taken for engagements which were not consummated.

Free Employment Bureaus Not Under the Law.

Many agencies in New York City which obtain employment and furnish help are not licensed and do not come under the employment agency law because they do not charge fees to either employer or employee. The commercial or business schools are exempt. These schools take fees for tuition and when the course is completed they get positions for their graduates. But they take no fees for placing their pupils, and therefore are not employment agencies.

Suggestions have been made, however, to the effect that these schools should be brought under the employment agency law by means of an amendment to the present statute, not so much for the purpose of compelling them to pay license fees, but to put them under such regulation as would cause them to investigate the places to which they send female applicants for employment and to learn something about the character of persons to whom they send them. Such schools obtain a large number of positions for their graduates, both male and female, especially those who become stenographers, clerks and bookkeepers. Employers can always be sure of getting beginners from these schools, without the payment of the usual fee. If they want stenographers with some office experience they usually apply either to the regular licensed stenographic agencies or the employment bureaus of the typewriter manufacturing firms.

Some schools guarantee employment as a condition of paying for a course of instruction and while this matter is clearly an indirect means of taking a fee for getting a position, the courts hold that under the present employment agency law schools that do not charge directly for obtaining employment are exempt. An illustration was furnished in March of the present year. Complaint was made to the Commissioner of Licenses by three men who paid $10 each for which they were to get a course of instruction in operating a moving picture machine, sufficient to enable them to obtain licenses from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity as operators, and afterwards positions. They got neither the licenses nor the employment. The Commissioner caused the person who took the money to be arraigned in the criminal courts on a charge of conducting an employment agency without a license. The facts were admitted but the Court of Special Sessions dismissed the complaint on the ground that the money was taken for instruction and not for getting employment.

Another class of agencies which does not come under the law are stenographic employment bureaus conducted by the several typewriter manufacturing companies. These bureaus take no fee. They are willing to place in positions stenographers who can operate their machines. The manager of one of these bureaus states that during 1909 he placed 15,000 stenographers in positions.

Then there are the immigrant homes, church organizations and charitable and co-operative societies. Some of the immigrant homes and church organizations also care for and house newly-arrived immigrants in addition to obtaining employment for them. Of course in many cases fees are paid indirectly by employers in the shape of voluntary subscriptions but the employment agency law does not contemplate that these places should be licensed or regulated as they are not conducted for profit to individuals. Nor do they enter into competition to any appreciable extent with the regular employment agencies.

There are also hundreds of employment bureaus conducted by the various trades unions in New York City, all of whom obtain employment for their members. Only skilled labor is sought from these sources and none of them comes under the law inasmuch as no fees are charged.

Knowledge of Foreign Tongues Necessary in License Office.

An example of the diversity of the work of the license office is furnished by the number of foreign tongues spoken by those who come in business contact with it. Of those who make complaints against the employment agencies more than 75 per cent. are non-English speaking. The names of Greek and Italian laborers are particularly numerous on the complaint records. Many of the agencies do business in several languages other than English. At the trials before the Commissioner the languages heard more frequently than English are the German, Yiddish, Slavic and Scandinavian tongues.

It is because of the inability of many of the patrons of employment bureaus to understand English that the extracts from the law, receipts, contract labor statements and other printed matter furnished them must be in languages which they can understand. It is also necessary that members of the office force should have a working acquaintance with some of the foreign tongues. At present the service of an interpreter is required on occasions. Later it may be found necessary to employ one permanently.

Dr. W. H. Smith, the General Medical Superintendent, reported as follows:

From April 3 to 16, inclusive, the following operations were performed, at all of which the attending Surgeons or their Assistants were present: Bellevue Hospital, 70; Gouverneur Hospital, 36; Harlem Hospital, 24; Fordham Hospital, 28.

In accordance with the rules, a fire drill was held at Gouverneur Hospital on April 4 and 13; at Harlem Hospital on April 5 and 14; at Bellevue Hospital on April 9 and 13, and at Fordham Hospital on April 14.

Special Nurses have been authorized as follows: For isolation cases, three days' service; general ward cases, seven days' service.

A letter has been received from Dr. Norris, stating that Dr. F. M. Hanes, Pathologist at Harlem Hospital, has resigned, the resignation to take effect May 20. Dr. Norris has been unable to find any one to take Dr. Hanes' place up to the present time.

A letter has been received from the General Superintendent of Training Schools asking that Miss Vient be granted an additional two weeks' leave of absence with pay, inasmuch as she was not able to take her vacation last year. This would give Miss Vient six weeks' leave of absence with pay in 1910. In view of the fact that Miss Vient was entitled to one month's vacation last year and was only able to take one week, and was therefore entitled to three weeks additional, it is recommended that the extra leave of absence with pay of two weeks for the year 1910 be granted.

Reports from the Supervising Engineer have been received, stating that there is considerable water in the basement under ward 34, and that the water varies from 3 to 6 inches in depth, according to the tide. It is recommended that this be referred to the Building Committee and the General Medical Superintendent to determine whether or not it is possible to improve this condition.

It is recommended that a revision of schedules be authorized with the following increases:

Miss Conlon, Stenographer, from $750 to $900.

Paul Franzel, Property Clerk, from $720 to $900.

Also that provision be made for the appointment of an Assistant Housekeeper at $720. This is on account of the recent change in the organization of the laundry. It is also recommended that increases from $1,500 to $1,800 be allowed for two Pathologists, the individuals to be recommended by Dr. Norris.

As the grade of Anaesthetist at $750 has now been established, it is desired that instructions be given as to how these vacancies shall be filled.

A communication has been received from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, with proper forms, requesting that hereafter in filling the non-competitive positions a blank for each new appointment is to be filled out and forwarded to the Civil Service Commission, a copy of the same to be retained here. These blanks require the name, age, residence, former employer, reason of leaving, three references, a medical certificate, etc. It is recommended that if possible we be relieved from this task, as it involves a lot of unnecessary labor, and I cannot see where at the present time it will accomplish any good whatever, for the reason that it is absolutely impossible for us to wait to hear from references, for in the Hospital Helper class vacancies must be filled at once; otherwise the work of the institution will suffer.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the appointment of Special Nurses reported by the General Medical Superintendent was approved.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the resignation of Dr. Hanes was accepted.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was

Resolved, in view of the circumstances, To grant Miss Vient an extra leave of absence with pay of two weeks.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the question of the water in the basement of ward 34 was referred to the Building Committee and the General Medical Superintendent as recommended.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, To authorize a revision of salary schedules for 1910 to contain the changes recommended by the General Medical Superintendent.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the General Medical Superintendent was instructed to report upon the selection of instructors in Anaesthesia.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was

Resolved, To request the Municipal Civil Service Commission to relieve this Department from filling out the blanks which have been supplied for non-competitive appointments.

The General Medical Superintendent presented list of changes in help at Bellevue Hospital for the week ending April 2, and as this had already been reviewed by the Committee on Officers and Employees, it was

Resolved, upon the recommendation of that Committee, That it be approved as follows:

Special Orders.

The hearing in the matter of the charges preferred against Richard D. Healy was again resumed and testimony taken from the following witnesses: The General Medical Superintendent, John F. McHale, John Besenbacher, Mrs. Martha Scott, Dr. O. S. Warr, Richard D. Healy and Mrs. Richard D. Healy. Statements were then made by the two attorneys, Mr. Blair and Mr. Benedict, and also by Commander George Laud. The hearing was then closed and decision reserved.

Consideration was given to the question of the appointment of an X-ray Photographer. A communication, dated April 13, was received from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, stating that Dr. Darling's appeal had been denied for lack of power, no errors of marking or rating on the part of the examiners having been shown. On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was therefore Resolved, To instruct the General Medical Superintendent to obtain an eligible list and to submit a nomination at next meeting.

A letter dated April 19 was also received from Dr. Byron C. Darling, requesting that the Board ask the Civil Service Commission to approve the payment of his salary since March 1. After consideration, on motion, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, To comply with this request.

Reports of Committees.

The Building Committee submitted a report as follows:

"The Building Committee met on Tuesday, April 12, 1910, at Bellevue Hospital. Present—Dr. Brannan, Mr. Robbins, Mr. Farley, and the General Medical Superintendent. Professor Sever was also present, at the request of the Committee, and discussed with them the recommendations contained in his report of April 7. After consideration, the General Medical Superintendent was instructed to ascertain the number of additional telephones required to meet the recommendations of Professor Sever. In regard to the water supply, the General Medical Superintendent was requested to submit a report by the Supervising Engineer on the advisability of separating the fire lines from the house lines in the old hospital building, together with the estimated cost. An inspection was made of some of the parts of the building commented upon by Professor Sever, and the General Medical Superintendent was requested to take steps to reduce the length of hose wherever this can be done advantageously, and also to report a plan, together with estimated cost, for installing sprinklers in the most dangerous rooms. It was also recommended that the General Medical Superintendent be instructed to appoint some person in authority to pass upon all discarded supplies, in order that whatever material is useless may be destroyed.

"Since this meeting of the Committee reports have been received from Mr. Ross, renewing the recommendation that a fire alarm system be installed and giving reasons therefor, and also reporting in regard to the length of hose. These reports are submitted herewith."

After consideration, on motion, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, To approve the report of the Building Committee, and it was further Resolved, To transmit the reports of Mr. Ross to Professor Sever for his information, and to ask him to meet again with the Building Committee, after which another report should be submitted by that Committee to the Trustees.

Mr. Farley, Chairman of the Building Committee, recommended that the estimate of $125 submitted by the Wells and Newton Company for the removal of plumbing pipes crossing the windows in the autopsy room be accepted. This work was necessary as the result of additional windows installed in that room and has already been performed. On motion, duly seconded and carried, this report was accepted, and it was Resolved, To issue an order for $125 accordingly.

Mr. O'Keefe, on behalf of the Finance Committee, stated that after careful investigation the Committee recommended that revenue bonds be requested to meet the deficit in the appropriations for 1910 as follows:

199. General Supplies	$42,790 00
207. Forage, Shoeing and Boarding Horses.....	1,580 00
208. Contingencies	6,000 00
	$50,370 00

On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, To accept this report and to request revenue bonds for the amounts named, and it was further

Resolved, That the General Medical Superintendent prepare a statement to show why this request is necessary, and that a copy be transmitted to the Board of Aldermen.

The Finance Committee and Building Committee jointly reported upon the communication received at last meeting relative to the contract of Messrs. McKim, Mead and White, and presented a letter from the Department of Finance, dated April 14, recommending that certificate No. 3 for $135,000 be withdrawn and that two separate certificates be issued, one for $111,000 and one for $24,000, chargeable against C. B. H. 10 and C. B. H. 11, respectively. It was stated that all the appropriations for the new Bellevue Hospital were deposited in C. B. H. 10 with the exception of the appropriation for the boiler house, which had been classified as C. B. H. 11, and that the change in the certificates was necessary in order that the architects' fees for the boiler house could be properly charged. On motion, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, To forward the amended certificates as recommended by the Committee.

Mr. Paulding and Mr. Stern, on behalf of the Conference Committees, recommended that the following appointments be made to Bellevue Hospital:

FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1910,

at 11 o'clock a. m., in lots and parcels and in manner and form as follows:

Parcel No. 1. Boiler and steam heating plant and fire escapes in and on the buildings known as Nos. 63 and 65 New York avenue, in the Borough of Brooklyn.

Sealed bids (blank forms of which may be obtained upon application) will be received by the Comptroller at the office of the Collector of City Revenue, Room 141, No. 280 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, until 11 a. m. on the 27th day of May, 1910, and then publicly opened, for the sale for removal of the above described appurtenances, and the award will be made to the highest bidder within twenty-four hours, or as soon as possible thereafter.

Each parcel must be bid for separately and will be sold in its entirety, as described in above advertisement.

Each and every bid must be accompanied by a deposit of cash or certified check in a sum equal to 25 per cent. of the amount of the bid, except that a minimum deposit of $50 will be required with all bids.

Deposits of unsuccessful bidders will be returned within twenty-four hours after successful bidders have paid purchase price in full and given security, and those of successful bidders may be declared forfeited to The City of New York by the Comptroller upon the failure of the successful bidder to further comply with the requirements of the terms and conditions of the sale, as set forth hereinafter.

Successful bidders will be required to pay the purchase money and deposit the required security within twenty-four hours of the receipt of notification of the acceptance of their bids.

The Comptroller reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive any defects or informalities in any bid should it be deemed in the interest of The City of New York to do so.

All bids must be enclosed in properly sealed envelopes, marked "Proposals to be opened May 27, 1910," and must be delivered, or mailed in time for their delivery, prior to 11 a. m. of that date to the "Collector of City Revenue, Room 141, No. 280 Broadway, New York City," from whom any further particulars regarding the appurtenances to be disposed of may be obtained.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

The appurtenances will be sold to the highest bidder, who must pay cash or a certified check drawn to the order of the Comptroller of The City of New York, and must also give a certified check or cash in half the amount of the purchase price as security for the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of the sale. Where the amount of the purchase price does not equal or exceed the sum of $50, the sum of $50 shall be the amount of the security to be deposited. This security may at any time after the expiration of the contract period be applied by the City to the cost of completing any of the work required under the contract, but unfinished at the expiration of the contract period.

The sale will be as of the condition of the property on date of delivery thereof to the purchaser. The City of New York will not be responsible for any change or loss which may occur in the condition of the appurtenances, between the time of the sale thereof and the time of delivering possession to the purchaser, after being properly vacated of all tenants. The sale and delivery to purchaser will be made as nearly together as the circumstance of vacating the structures of their tenants will permit.

Failure to remove said appurtenances, or any part thereof, within thirty days from the day of possession will work forfeiture of ownership of such appurtenances, or portion as shall then be left standing, together with all moneys paid by said purchaser on account thereof at the time of the sale, and the bidder's assent to the above conditions being understood to be implied by the act of bidding, and The City of New York will, without notice to the purchaser, cause the same to be removed, and the costs and expense thereof charged against the security above mentioned.

The work of removal must be carried on in every respect in a thorough and workmanlike manner, and must be completed within thirty days from the day of possession, and the successful bidder will provide and furnish all materials of labor and machinery necessary thereto, and will place proper and sufficient guards and fences and warning signs by day and night for the prevention of accidents, and will indemnify and save harmless The City of New York, its officers, agents and servants, and each of them, against any and all suits and actions, claims and demands of every name and description brought against it, them or any of them, and against and from all damage and costs to which it, they or any of them be put by reason of injury to the person or property of another, resulting from negligence or carelessness in the performance of the work, or in guarding the same, or from any improper or defective materials or machinery, implements or appliances used in the removal of said buildings.

The walls shall be made permanently self-supporting, beam-holes, etc., bricked up and the wall pointed and made to exclude wind and rain and present a clean exterior.

The Comptroller of The City of New York reserves the right on the day of sale to withdraw from sale any of the parts of machinery included therein, or to reject any and all bids; and it is further

CORPORATION SALE OF BUILDINGS AND APPURTENANCES THERETO ON LEASED CITY REAL ESTATE BY SEALED BIDS.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, by virtue of the powers vested in them by law, will offer for sale by sealed bids the building and appurtenances thereto standing upon property leased by The City of New York in the Borough of Brooklyn.

Being the one-story building and all its appurtenances situated on the southeast corner of Atlantic and New York avenues, particulars of which may be obtained at the office of the Collector of City Revenue, Department of Finance, No. 280 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, adopted at a meeting held March 16, 1910, the sale by sealed bids of the above described building and appurtenances thereto will be held by direction of the Comptroller on at 11 a. m., in lots and parcels and in manner and form as follows:

Parcel No. 1. One-story corrugated iron building and appurtenances thereto on the southeast corner of Atlantic and New York avenues.

Sealed bids (blank forms of which may be obtained upon application) will be received by the Comptroller at the office of the Collector of City Revenue, Room 141, No. 280 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, until 11 a. m. on the 26th day of May, 1910, and then publicly opened for the sale for removal of the above described buildings and appurtenances thereto, and the award will be made to the highest bidder within twenty-four hours, or as soon as possible thereafter.

Each parcel must be bid for separately and will be sold in its entirety, as described in above advertisement.

Each and every bid must be accompanied by a deposit of cash or certified check in a sum equal to 25 per cent. of the amount of the bid, except that a minimum deposit of $50 will be required with all bids, and that a deposit of $500 will be sufficient to entitle bidders to bid on any or all of the buildings.

Deposits of unsuccessful bidders will be returned within twenty-four hours after successful bidders have paid purchase price in full and given security, and those of successful bidders may be declared forfeited to The City of New York by the Comptroller upon the failure of the successful bidder to further comply with the requirements of the terms and conditions of the sale as set forth hereinafter.

Successful bidders will be required to pay the purchase money and deposit the required security within twenty-four hours of the receipt of notification of the acceptance of their bids.

The Comptroller reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive any defects or informalities in any bid should it be deemed in the interest of The City of New York to do so.

All bids must state clearly (1) the number or description of the building or buildings bid for, (2) the amount of the bid, (3) the full name and address of the bidder, and (4) the name of the person to whom the bid is made.

All bids must be enclosed in properly sealed envelopes, marked "Proposals to be opened May 26, 1910," and must be delivered, or mailed in time for their delivery, prior to 11 a. m. of that date to the "Collector of City Revenue, Room 141, No. 280 Broadway, New York City," from whom any further particulars regarding the building to be disposed of may be obtained.

Possession of the above building will be given purchaser at once.

The building will be sold for immediate removal only, subject to the following

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

The buildings and appurtenances thereto will be sold to the highest bidder, who must pay cash or a certified check drawn to the order of the Comptroller of The City of New York, and must also give a certified check or cash in half the amount of the purchase price as security for the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of the sale. Where the amount of the purchase price does not equal or exceed the sum of $50, the sum of $50 shall be the amount of the security to be deposited. This security may at any time after the expiration of the contract period be applied by the City to the cost of completing any of the work required under the contract, but unfinished at the expiration of the contract period.

The purchaser shall not lease, occupy, cause or permit the building or buildings, etc., purchased by him to be used or occupied for any purpose other than that of their speedy removal, nor shall he collect any rental or other revenue for the use of either the land or the buildings, etc., situated thereon. The breach of either or any of these conditions shall forthwith void the sale and cause immediate forfeiture of the purchase money and the security deposited for the faithful performance of the conditions of the sale. The placing therein or permitting the occupancy of any such building by any tenant free, for rent or otherwise, excepting the necessary watchmen or the workmen engaged in the actual demolition thereof, shall of itself be a breach of the above conditions of sale.

The sale will be as of the condition of the property on date of delivery thereof to the purchaser. The City of New York will not be responsible for any change or loss which may occur in the condition of the buildings, or their appurtenances, between the time of the sale thereof and the time of delivering possession to the purchaser, after being properly vacated of all tenants. The sale and delivery to purchaser will be made as nearly together as the circumstance of vacating the structures of their tenants will permit.

All the material of the buildings, sheds, walks, structures and cellars of whatsoever kind, with their exterior and interior fixtures, appurtenances and foundations of all kinds, except the exterior walls of the buildings and their foundations and the sidewalks and curb in front of said buildings, extending within the described area shall be torn down and removed from the premises. None of the dirt, debris or waste resulting from demolition shall be allowed to remain on the premises, except old mortar or plaster only, which may be left, but not higher at any point than two feet below the curb opposite that point. The exterior walls and their foundations shall be taken down only to a plane whose elevation shall be the level of the curb in front of the building. Where there is no curb the elevation of the surrounding ground shall be considered curb level. All wells, cesspools, sinks, etc., existing on the property must be filled to the level of the surrounding ground with clean earth.

The purchaser at the sale shall also withdraw and remove all abandoned water taps and old service mains, and in place thereof cause to be inserted a brass plug in the main water pipe in the street, in compliance with the rules and regulations of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, and furnish the Department of Finance with certificate from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity that this has been performed.

The purchaser at the sale shall also remove all house sewer connections to the main sewer in the street, and the opening of the main sewer in street shall be properly closed in compliance with the directions of the Bureau of Sewers, Borough of Brooklyn, and furnish the Department of Finance with a certificate from the Bureau of Sewers that the work has been properly performed.

The permit for all opening in the street to be obtained by and at the expense of the purchaser of the building.

Failure to remove said buildings, appurtenances or any part thereof within thirty days from the day of possession will work forfeiture of ownership of such buildings, appurtenances or portion as shall then be left standing, together with all moneys paid by said purchaser on account thereof at the time of the sale, and the bidder's assent to the above conditions being understood to be implied by the act of bidding, and The City of New York will, without notice to the purchaser, cause the same to be removed, and the costs and expense thereof charged against the security above mentioned.

The work of removal must be carried on in every respect in a thorough and workmanlike manner, and must be completed within thirty days from the day of possession, and the successful bidder will provide and furnish all materials of labor and machinery necessary thereto, and will place proper and sufficient guards and fences and warning signs by day and night for the prevention of accidents, and will indemnify and save harmless The City of New York, its officers, agents and servants, and each of them, against any and all suits and actions, claims and demands of every name and description brought against it, them or any of them, and against and from all damage and costs to which it, they or any of them be put by reason of injury to the person or property of another, resulting from negligence or carelessness in the performance of the work, or in guarding the same, or from any improper or defective materials or machinery, implements or appliances used in the removal of said buildings.

Where party walls are found to exist between buildings purchased by different bidders, the materials of said party walls shall be understood to be equally divided between the separate purchasers.

Party walls and fences, when existing against adjacent property not sold, shall not be taken down, all furtings, plaster, chimneys, projecting brick, etc., on the faces of such party walls are to be taken down and removed. The walls shall be made permanently self-supporting, beam-holes, etc., bricked up, and the wall pointed and made to exclude wind and rain and present a clean exterior. The roofs of adjacent buildings shall be properly flashed and painted and made water-tight where they have been disturbed by the operations of the contractor.

The Comptroller of The City of New York reserves the right on the day of sale to withdraw from sale any of the buildings, parts of buildings and machinery included therein, or to reject any and all bids; and it is further

Resolved, That while the said sale is held under the supervision of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, the Comptroller is authorized to cause the sale to be advertised and to direct the sale thereof as financial officer of the City.

PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be included in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department. No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids or estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
