MESSAGES FROM HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.

(Received February 12, 1886.)

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, February 8, 1886.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I return, without my approval, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, adopted February 2, 1886, permitting Thomas A. Briggs to retain the platform-scales now in the carriageway of Thirtieth avenue, about thirty-seven feet north of Twenty-fourth street, for the reason that there is no scale at the place designated.

W. R. GRACE, Mayor.

Resolved, That permission be and the same is hereby given to Thomas A. Briggs to retain the platform-scale now in the carriageway of Thirtieth avenue, about thirty-seven feet north of Twenty-fourth street; such permission to continue only during the pleasure of the Common Council.

Which was laid over, ordered to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

The ten days fixed by law for the reconsideration of subjects vetoed by the Mayor having expired, Vice-President Jaehne, at a subsequent stage of the proceedings, called up the above veto message of his Honor the Mayor, and moved the adoption of the resolution, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor.

The President put the question whether the Board would agree with said motion.

Which was decided in the affirmative.

The Board then, as provided in section 75, chapter 410, Laws of 1882, proceeded to reconsider the same, and, upon a vote being taken thereon, was adopted, notwithstanding the objections of his Honor the Mayor, as follows:

Affirmative—The President, Vice-President Jaehne, Aldermen Bennett, Cavanagh, Cleary, Corcoran, Cowie, Diver, Earle, Farrell, Ferrigan, Fitzgerald, Hunsicker, Lang, Masterson, Menninger, Mooney, Morgan, Murray, Quinn, Ryan, Smith, and Van Rensselaer—23.

(Received February 12, 1886.)

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, February 9, 1886.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I return, without my approval, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, adopted February 2, 1886, that permission be given to James Worden to place a transparency over the lamps at the corner of Eighty-sixth street and First avenue, etc., for the reason that the time for which the privilege is granted is too long, and the resolution does not specify that the work shall be done under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Mayor.

Resolved, That permission be and the same is hereby given to Rev. James Worden, Pastor of the City Temple, in Eighty-sixth street, between First and Second avenues, to place and keep a transparency over the lamps located on the northwest corner of Eighty-sixth street and First avenue, and on the southwest corner of Eighty-sixth street and Second avenue; such permission to continue only during mission in said Temple, to terminate March 1, 1886.

Which was laid over, ordered to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

The ten days fixed by law for the reconsideration of subjects vetoed by the Mayor having expired, Vice-President Jaehne, at a subsequent stage of the proceedings, called up the above veto message of his Honor the Mayor, and moved the adoption of the resolution, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor.

The President put the question whether the Board would agree with said motion.

Which was decided in the affirmative.

The Board then, as provided in section 75, chapter 410, Laws of 1882, proceeded to reconsider the same, and, upon a vote being taken thereon, was adopted, notwithstanding the objections of his Honor the Mayor, as follows:

Affirmative—The President, Vice-President Jaehne, Aldermen Bennett, Cavanagh, Cleary, Corcoran, Cowie, Diver, Earle, Farrell, Ferrigan, Fitzgerald, Hunsicker, Lang, Masterson, Menninger, Mooney, Morgan, Murray, Quinn, Ryan, Smith, and Van Rensselaer—23.

(Received February 16, 1886.)

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, February 12, 1886.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I return, without my approval, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, adopted February 9, 1886, permitting James I. Hawkins to erect a covered booth on the northeast corner of Ninth avenue and Sixtieth street, etc., for the reason that it would be an obstruction within the meaning of the word, as fixed by the court in recent decisions.

W. R. GRACE, Mayor.

Resolved, That permission be and the same is hereby given to James I. Hawkins to erect a covered booth, four feet wide, six feet long and eight feet high, on the northeast corner of Ninth avenue and Sixtieth street, the same to be inside the stoop-line, the work to be done at his own expense, under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works; such permission to continue only during the pleasure of the Common Council.

Which was laid over, ordered to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, February 6, 1886.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I return, without my approval, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, adopted February 2, 1886, to substitute boulevard lamps in place of the ordinary square lamps now in use, in Cedar street, between Broadway and West street, etc., for the reason that the lamps that are now in use there are the same as those used throughout the city, with the exception of some of the principal avenues and boulevards. The boulevard lamps cost about twice as much as the others, and as Cedar street is only an ordinary and narrow street I see no necessity for making the change.

W. R. GRACE, Mayor.

Resolved, That the Commissioner of Public Works be and he is hereby authorized and directed to substitute boulevard lamps for the ordinary street-lamps now on the lamp-posts in Cedar street, from Broadway to West street.

Which was laid over, ordered to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

The President laid before the Board the following message from his Honor the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, February 12, 1886.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I return, without my approval, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, adopted February 9, 1886, permitting George J. Siemers to erect two storm-doors at the entrances of the building, on the northwest corner of Canal and Mercer streets, etc., for the reason that it would be an obstruction within the meaning of the word, as fixed by the court in recent decisions.

W. R. GRACE, Mayor.

Resolved, That permission be and is hereby given to George J. Siemers to place and keep two storm-doors, one at each entrance to the building on the northwest corner of Canal and Mercer streets, inside the stoop-line, and as shown on the accompanying diagram; such permission to continue only during the pleasure of the Common Council.

Which was laid over, ordered to be printed in the minutes and published in full in the CITY RECORD.

To the Board of Aldermen:

Your Committee on Railroads, to whom was referred the application of the Southern Boulevard Railroad Company, respectfully

REPORT:

That public notice of said application and of the times and place when the same would be considered were duly published for fourteen days (Sundays excepted) in the papers designated therefor by his Honor the Mayor, pursuant to law, viz.: "The New York Sun," and the "Daily News," in said city, and that your Committee heard and considered said application in the chamber of the Board of Aldermen, on Monday, February 8, and Friday, February 12, at the time and place designated by your Honorable Board.

Your Committee further report that said company had procured the consent of nearly every property-owner along the proposed route of said railroad, and that a number of property-owners appeared and urged the necessity of the construction of a railroad in this section of the city which is now (to use the language of one of the property-owners) "almost a desert."

It appears that to a great extent this road is proposed to be built by property-owning tax-payers and that the company proposes to afford facilities for railroad travel in a portion of the city for the development of the locality and the construction of comfortable homes, at reasonable rentals, thus increasing the taxable value of all the property in the vicinity and producing thereby a corresponding increase in the revenue of the City, and at the same time supplying cheap and healthy homes so much needed in our community.

We therefore recommend that the consent of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonality of the City of New York be given to said railroad company as applied for, and the accompanying resolutions be adopted for that purpose.

Resolved, That the consent of this Board be and the same is hereby granted and the permission of the Common Council is hereby given, to the Southern Boulevard Railroad Company to construct, maintain, operate and use a street surface railroad with the necessary connections, sidings, switches, turn-outs and turn-tables through, upon and along the surface of the following streets and highways in the City of New York, to wit:

From the beginning of the said Southern Boulevard at the upper end of the iron bridge crossing the Harlem river on the line of Third avenue, thence through, upon and along the said Southern Boulevard and across the intersecting streets, avenues and highways, as said Southern Boulevard winds and turns, until it reaches Boston avenue, formerly called the Boston Post road, the length of said proposed railroad being about three and one-half miles.

Resolved, That the foregoing consent, authority and permission is given and granted to said company, upon the following conditions, viz.:

First—That the said railroad, and the said sidings, connections, switches, turn-outs and turn-tables shall be constructed upon the best plan for the construction of surface railroads, sidings, switches, turn-outs, turn-tables and connections as in use in said city at the time of their construction.

Second—That said Corporation shall comply with each and every of the provisions of chapter 252 of the Laws of 1884, pertinent thereto.

Third—That the foregoing consent is given and granted upon the express condition that the provisions of chapter 252 of the Laws of 1884 shall be complied with

THOMAS CLEARY, } Committee
ROBERT E. DE LACY, } on HENRY W. JAEHNE, } Railroads.
JACOB HUNTSICKER, }
JAMES A. COWIE, }

(Vice-President Jaehne was here called to the chair.)

The Vice-President put the question whether the Board would agree with said resolution.

Which was decided in the affirmative, on a division called by Alderman Van Rensselaer, as follows:

Affirmative—The President, Vice-President Jaehne, Aldermen Bennett, Cavanagh, Cleary, Corcoran, Cowie, De Lacy, Divver, Earle, Farrell, Ferrigan, Fitzgerald, Huntsicker, Lang, Masterson, Menninger, Mooney, Morgan, Murray, O'Neil, Quinn, Ryan, and Smith—24.
Negative—Alderman Van Rensselaer—1.

(The President here resumed the chair.)

Alderman Quinn, the chairman of the Special Committee appointed in the interest of resident mechanics to wait on the Commissioner appointed to contract for the erection of a new bridge over the Harlem river, reported verbally that the Committee, in the performance of the duty assigned them, waited upon the Bridge Commissioners, by whom they were cordially received, and, after explaining the object of their appointment, were assured by the Commissioners that, so far as they had the power, they would endeavor to promote the interests of resident mechanics and workmen, and that all the work and materials required for the construction of the bridge, so far as they had the power, would be supplied by residents of this city.

REPORT :

That the amendment appears to be a very proper one, as it provides that each driver shall, when employed, wear a badge similar to that worn by drivers of public hacks and other drivers of licensed vehicles, in order that the identity of every such driver may be readily ascertained, should occasion require it.

It is claimed by a minority of the Committee that the ordinance proposed to be amended is unconstitutional, and in conflict with the laws of the State. That question has not yet been judicially determined, nor is it likely to be, at least for some time; but, admitting this to be the case, the proposed ordinance, if adopted, will only be a legal amendment to an illegal ordinance; and inasmuch as the provisions of the ordinance are being enforced by the Mayor's Marshal and obeyed by the car-drivers generally, no possible harm can be done by amending it, particularly as the Mayor's Marshal favors the amendment.

The validity of the ordinance proposed to be amended can only be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction, and until such judicial determination its provisions remain in full force, and must be obeyed, as well by the Marshal as by the car-drivers. Most assuredly, it is not the province of the Common Council to pass upon the validity of its own ordinances. It possesses no judicial powers. Its functions are purely legislative. Hence the propriety of passing an ordinance in January and declaring it illegal and void the following February, is very questionable, and your Committee believe the minority of its members, upon reflection, will agree with the majority in this view of the case.

The undersigned, a majority of the Committee on Law Department, therefore respectfully recommends that the accompanying ordinance be adopted by your Honorable Body.

AN ORDINANCE to amend "An ordinance for licensing drivers of railroad cars driven on the surface of the streets in the City of New York," adopted January 12, 1886.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonality of the City of New York do ordain as follows :

Section 1. Section two of the above-entitled ordinance is hereby amended by adding thereto at the end thereof the following sentence, to wit : "Every such driver shall while at work wear conspicuously upon his breast a badge having legibly engraved thereon the words 'Licensed car-driver,' together with the number of his license, such badge to be approved and furnished by the Mayor's Marshal."

Sec. 2. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent or conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

BANKSON T. MORGAN, } Majority of JOHN CAVANAGH, } Committee on JAMES J. MOONEY, } Law Department.

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee on Law Department, to whom was referred the annexed ordinance to amend "An ordinance for licensing drivers of railroad cars driven on the surface of the streets in the City of New York," adopted January 12, 1886, do respectfully

REPORT :

That, as in the opinion of the undersigned, the said ordinance was in apparent conflict with the Constitution of the United States, and was in direct contravention of a law of this State, being chapter 246 of the Laws of 1865, entitled, "An act in relation to employees on railroads in this State," and, consequently, must be held null and void, if submitted to a judicial test in the courts of law, therefore, the annexed ordinance amending the same should not be adopted.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Dated New York, February 12, 1886.

JAMES T. VAN RENSSLAER, } Committee
EUGENE M. EARLE, } on

The Committee on Law Department, to whom were referred the four annexed resolutions relating to certain privileges to be exercised upon or over the sidewalks at the localities and in the manner prescribed in said resolutions, do respectfully

REPORT :

That they have found great difficulty in reaching a definite conclusion upon the difficult questions thus brought before them.

The inquiry necessitated an examination and careful analysis of numerous legal decisions defining the powers of the Common Council, especially of those cases arising under the charter of 1873, which was re-enacted by the Consolidation Act, chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, and is still our fundamental law.

This investigation has led your Committee to the result that the Courts have not settled a construction of the charters and laws which would deprive the Common Council of nearly all authority in the matter of what are commonly, but inaccurately, called "street obstructions," except the duty of removing such.

On the contrary, your Committee believe that such authority exists in large measure; and in ascertaining its scope and limitations, their examination has led them over the ground briefly covered in this report.

Whatever may have been the rights in this respect, supposed to have been conferred by the ancient charters of the City, and confirmed or defined in the later organic laws down to the present time, it becomes the duty of this Committee and of the Honorable the Board of Aldermen to accept, with all due respect, the interpretation of the law as made by the Courts, if an understanding of such interpretation can be reached.

The rights on this head conferred upon the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty by the ancient charters, notably the Montgomerie, were broad and general in terms. The charter of 1830 does not define the authority of the Corporation in this respect; and the charter of 1857 (chapter 446 of the Session Laws of that year) contains no specific enumeration of the powers of the Common Council in relation to streets and the regulation of the use thereof.

Chapter 137 of the Laws of 1870, known as the Charter of 1870, first defined the powers of the Common Council on this branch; and the same provisions were substantially re-enacted, with slight modifications, by chapter 335 of the Laws of 1873, being the Charter of that year, which, as now contained in the New York City Consolidation Act, chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, with the amendments since passed by the Legislature, is the law, the meaning of which, as interpreted by the Courts, we must endeavor to ascertain.

Section 86 of the said "New York City Consolidation Act" provides as follows, among other things:

"§ 86. The common council shall have power to make ordinances, not inconsistent with law and the constitution of this State, and with such penalties as are provided in the last section, in the matters and for the purposes following, in addition to other powers elsewhere especially granted, namely:

1. To regulate traffic and sales in the streets, highways, roads and public places.

3. To regulate the use of sidewalks, and prevent the extension of building fronts and house fronts within the stoop-lines.

4. To prevent encroachments upon and obstructions to the streets, highways, roads and public places, not including parks, and to authorize and require the commissioner of public works to remove the same; but they shall have no power to authorize the placing or continuing of any encroachment or obstruction upon any street or sidewalk, except the temporary occupation thereof during the erection or repair of a building on a lot opposite the same, and except also that they may, by ordinance prescribing such terms and conditions as may be reasonable, provide for the use of portions of the streets or sidewalks for the public sale of newspapers and periodicals, in such manner as to promote the public convenience (as amended by chapter 455, Laws of 1884).

8. To regulate the use of the streets and sidewalks for signs, sign-posts, awnings, awning-posts, horse-troughs, urinals, telegraph-posts and other purposes.

15. In relation to exhibiting banners, placards, or flags in or across the streets, or from houses or other buildings.

It must be assumed that the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York have possessed powers to regulate the use of the streets for certain purposes beyond the mere right of thoroughfare by the public. If this is not so, there is not a lawful stoop, cellar-entrance or area-railing in the city. These obstructions exist by virtue of ordinances passed from time to time by the Common Council. It is true that such ordinances have been confirmed in the different city charters as enacted by the Legislature; and in like manner the law-making power of the State has, in the present and former charters, distinctly affirmed or granted to the Common Council the authority to legislate in relation to certain matters which the Legislature thereby declares to be within the province of the uses to which the streets may be applied as such.

This is entirely in accord with the line of decisions in the Court of Appeals, that the streets are held public juris, for the use of the public in general, and that the Legislature is the sole authority to determine what may be consistent with such public use (People vs. Kerr, 27 N. Y. R., 188).

The Common Council must, therefore, possess the authority conveyed by the various subdivisions of § 86 of the Consolidation Act above referred to.

The only difficulty consists in harmonizing subdivisions 1, 3, 8 and 15 with the limitation contained in subdivision 4, as amended in 1884 (supra).

The decisions of the courts leave the construction still in doubt, and, with one exception, noticed below, were all made at Special Term; so that, with this exception, no appellate tribunal has yet passed upon this important question.

The case of The People vs. William R. Roberts and others, which was an indictment found in 1878 against the members of the then Board of Aldermen for passing a resolution giving permission to one John Butler "to keep a stand for the sale of newspapers, southwest corner of New Church and Cortlandt streets," contains a very able examination of the subject by the learned judge who heard the arguments in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

The opinion of Judge Barrett, on the branch of the case touching principally the matters now before us, is so instructive that we quote that portion of it entire.

The Judge said, among his reasons for quashing the indictment:

"These instructions will be considered separately. As to the first, it is quite evident that the learned Recorder treated the words 'obstructions' and 'encroachments,' as used in § 17 of the Charter (Laws 1873, ch. 335, § 17, sub. 4), in their ordinary rather than their legal signification. The reasoning was in this wise: All booths, stands and racks are obstructions. The charter prohibits all obstructions. A willful violation of the provisions of the charter is a misdemeanor—ergo, the granting of permission to keep a news-stand is a misdemeanor. This is scarcely a correct view of the legislative meaning. It was, however, a perfectly natural error, if the attention of the Court were not called to another and somewhat obscure provision of the charter to which reference will presently be made. The language, upon the surface, seems comprehensive enough to cover obstructions and encroachments of every kind and character. If these words are to be taken in their ordinary and broader sense, the sidewalks must be absolutely cleared. No ash-barrel, pail, box or stepping-stone can be tolerated. But it must be both on general principles of construction, and especially in the light of the context, that the Legislature meant obstructions and encroachments, as those terms have been legally defined. In the People vs. Horton, 64 N. Y., 616, Allen, J., said that 'It is not every slight interference with the use of a highway' that will amount to a nuisance, and be indictable as such. Slight inconveniences and occasional interruptions are incidental to many lawful uses of public highways, and are tolerated by reason of necessity and the benefits resulting to the public by the acts causing the interruption. If the obstructions are temporary and reasonable, they will not be declared illegal merely because the public may not for the time have the full use of the highway.' (See, too, The People vs. Cunningham, 1 Denio, 524, and the Attorney-General vs. Cohoes Co., 6th Paige, 135.)

So much for the legal definition of an obstruction constituting a nuisance. Let us now look at the statute itself. Subdivision 1 of § 17 of the Charter gives the Common Council power "to regulate traffic and sales in the streets, highways, roads and public places." Subdivision 9 gives them the power "to regulate the use of the streets and sidewalks for signs, sign-posts, awnings, awning-posts, horse-troughs, urinals, telegraph-posts, and other purposes."

In a certain sense, these latter are all obstructions, yet clearly not such as are contemplated by the limitation of power contained in subdivision 4. Section 119 continues the ordinances which were in force on the first day of May, 1870. The obscurity to which we have adverted consists in the necessity for a reference to all such ordinances. Among these was the ordinance of February 24, 1866, which expressly regulated the granting of permits for "show-cases or stands for the sale of newspapers, fruit, books, or other merchandise, article or thing whatsoever, cumbering the streets or sidewalks."

It is perfectly clear, therefore, that the Legislature did not mean to condemn all show-cases and all stands for the sale of newspapers, fruit, books or other merchandise as "obstructions" or "encroachments." The result is inevitable, that a news-stand per se is not necessarily a public nuisance nor an obstruction within the meaning of the charter. That it may become such cannot be doubted. Any structure, whether it be a news or any other stand, which blocks up the sidewalk and prevents free passage, is both a public nuisance and a statutory obstruction. The maintainer of such a nuisance is indictable, and cannot protect himself under any municipal authority. Whether the structure is lawful or unlawful must, therefore, depend upon its characteristics and surroundings. Now, all that the defendants are charged with is the passage of a resolution granting permission to one John Butler "to keep a stand for the sale of newspapers southwest corner of New Church and Cortlandt streets."

In no just sense did this authorize an obstruction or unlawful structure. On the contrary, it authorized nothing but what is expressly contemplated in the law. If, furnished with this authority to keep a news-stand, John Butler chose to erect a news-stand of such size and dimensions as to amount to a legal obstruction, the responsibility rested solely with him, and he could not shield himself under the resolution. The mere passage of the resolution was not, therefore, an offense."

In the case of Smith Ely, Jr., Mayor, etc., vs. Allan Campbell, Commissioner of Public Works, etc. (Supreme Court, Special Term, August, 1879, reported in 59th Howard's Practice Reports, page 333), Judge Van Vorst decided, in a very able opinion, that the Superintendent of Markets had not the right to grant permits or licenses to persons to construct and maintain stands and booths upon the sidewalks of the streets adjacent to Washington Market, and that the municipal ordinances of 1866 conferred no such power. The judge cites § 17, subdivision 4 of the charter of 1873, which is the same as subdivision 4 of § 86 of the Consolidation Act, before the amendment of 1884, relating to newspaper stands, and says: "I regard this expression of the Legislature as clearly against any right in the municipal Board, or any of its officers or agents, to authorize the occupation of the streets and sidewalks with obstructions and encroachments of the character of those disclosed in this action. If the ordinances of 1866 allowed such encroachments and erections, they were ultra vires, and in any event are rendered nugatory by the act of the Legislature above mentioned."

But the learned judge had also stated, in a preceding paragraph of his opinion, that "Every obstruction of a street or highway is not necessarily a nuisance, or objectionable; but if unreasonable, bly continued, or without direct legal right, it becomes such" (Knox vs. The Mayor, etc., 55 Barb., 404; Davis vs. The Mayor, etc., 14 N. Y., 506).

This case is certainly authority that the particular stands in the situations referred to were unlawful "obstructions and encroachments" within the purview of sub. 4 of section 17 of the charter of 1873, which is still in force; but in the absence of a decision of a higher tribunal, it can scarcely be said to overrule Judge Barrett's exposition of the law in the indictment case just referred to, "that the Legislature did not mean to condemn all show-cases and all stands for the sale of newspapers, fruit, books or other merchandise as 'obstructions' or 'encroachments.'"

Ely vs. Campbell was followed in the case of The People ex rel. O'Reilly vs. The Mayor, etc. (Supreme Court Chambers, May, 1880; reported in 59 Howard's Practice Reports, page 277).

In this case the Board of Aldermen had, by resolution, permitted licensed vendors to occupy Forty-second street, west of Eighth avenue, and within 325 feet of that avenue, Saturday nights, from 6 to 12 o'clock, but not to interfere with public travel on the streets.

A physician having his residence and office at No. 303 West Forty-second street, applied to the Court for a mandamus to remove the obstructions caused by these licensed vendors, and the Court granted the application.

Judge Daniels held that: "To permit the street to be occupied and obstructed in this manner was clearly unlawful. It not only prevented its use and enjoyment for the ordinary purposes for which it is maintained, but also deprived the owners and residents upon it of the complete and beneficial use and enjoyment of their own property; as to them the obstruction was substantially a nuisance, and a party suffering special injury from it has a right to apply to the Courts for redress."

And further that: "The resolution adopted by the Common Council . . . was in conflict with the provisions of the charter upon this subject, and consequently invalid."

These are the leading decisions upon the point in question, and the later cases have followed their authority.

Among the later ones the following are the principal:

People ex rel. Le Boutillier vs. The Mayor, etc. (N. Y., "Daily Register," April 23, 1884); People ex rel. Geraty vs. The Mayor, etc. (N. Y., "Daily Register," August 21, 1884); Hearn vs. The Mayor, etc. (N. Y., "Daily Register," May 26, 1885); and People ex rel. Bentley vs. The Mayor, etc. (N. Y., "Daily Register," September 25, 1885).

Your Committee have not been able to ascertain the facts in the Hearn case.

In People ex rel. Geraty vs. The Mayor, etc. (supra), the alleged obstructions—an awning, tubs, evergreens, etc., for a "summer garden"—were within the stoop-lines; but the permits were given by the Bureau of Permits, and not by direct resolution of the Common Council.

Judge Van Brunt granted a mandamus to remove the obstructions on the complaint of the relator.

In the Bentley case (supra), the permits were likewise issued by the Mayor's Bureau of Permits, under the general resolution of the Board of Aldermen, approved April 8, 1884, and Judge Barrett granted a mandamus to remove certain show-cases in Fourteenth street, which were found by the Court to be from seven to ten feet in height, and from four to six feet square, more than six feet beyond the house-line; also that they obstructed the view to the windows of the relator's store; that they encroached upon the public street and were a public nuisance. The permits were not revoked, as the Court held them worthless.

In the case of People ex rel. Le Boutillier vs. The Mayor, etc. (supra), the show-cases were authorized by the ordinance of the Board of Aldermen of July, 1882, giving permission to merchants in Fourteenth street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue, to exhibit goods in show-cases not more than six feet outside of the house-line. The question of the Permit Bureau was not involved. Nevertheless, on the complaint of the relator, Judge Barrett granted a mandamus to remove the obstructions, saying, in his opinion, "These show-cases are nuisances and should be removed."

This is the strongest case upon the direct point involved that has come to the knowledge of your Committee.

Nevertheless, it is only authority that in the particular instance the show-cases in question were a public and private nuisance, and consequently such an "obstruction" upon the sidewalk as the Common Council could not authorize.

The case does not controvert or overrule the general doctrine concerning legal obstructions, as defined by the same learned judge in his opinion quashing the indictment in People vs. Roberts and others, cited at length above.

Another recent and important case is the Mayor, etc., vs. Antonio Fernandez, decided in the General Term of the Court of Common Pleas, June 30, 1884. That was an action brought in a justice's court for a penalty of five dollars, under section 52, article 1, chapter 6 of the Revised Ordinances of 1880, against the defendant for placing and maintaining a stand on the sidewalk, near the curb. The defense was a permit issued by the Registrar of Permits, under an amendment to said ordinance adopted by the Common Council, March 31, 1884. The learned Corporation Attorney objected before the justice to the admission in evidence of the said amendment on the ground that the Common Council had no power to give any permission for any stand or other incumbrance, and upon the further ground that, even assuming that they had the power, they could not delegate it to the Registrar of Permits.

The justice admitted the evidence, and gave judgment for the defendant.

The Court of Common Pleas on appeal reversed the judgement with costs, but gave no opinion. The case may, therefore, have been decided upon the point that the Common Council could not delegate any authority to give the permit.

For this reason, it is not authority against the power of the Common Council's direct action in such matters.

From the foregoing examination of charters, laws, and the decisions of the Courts thereunder, your Committee draw the following conclusions:

1st. That neither under the charters nor laws have the Common Council power to authorize anything amounting in law to an "encroachment or obstruction," upon any street or sidewalk.

2d. By subdivision 4 of section 86 of the New York City Consolidation Act of 1882, as amended, the Legislature have defined two uses of the streets which are thereby declared not to be such encroachments or obstructions, viz.: the temporary occupation thereof during the erection or repair of a building on a lot opposite the same, and the use of portions of the streets or sidewalks for the public sale of newspapers and periodicals, under the provisions of said subdivision.

3d. That in all other cases where the Common Council are empowered to regulate, under the other subdivisions of said section, their permission should be always revocable at pleasure, and should be subject to the proviso that the privilege given should not be an encroachment or obstruction upon the street or sidewalk.

4th. Small, open stands, in proper localities, not only for the sale of newspapers, but also for the sale of fruit and other merchandise, would not be in themselves "encroachments and obstructions;" and permission to place and retain the same may be given by the Common Council, under their power "to regulate traffic and sales in the streets, highways, roads and public places," either by general ordinance or special resolutions. In such cases the Courts may, in proper proceedings before them, adjudge such stands to be public or private nuisances, as the facts in each instance might warrant; but, in the opinion of your Committee, no department of the City Government can proceed summarily to remove them. The grant by the Common Council of such privileges can only be annulled by the Courts or abrogated by the Legislature.

5th. Neither can any of the uses mentioned in subdivisions 8 and 15 of said section 86, and regulated accordingly, be regarded as in themselves "encroachments or obstructions," although the Courts may, in special instances, find them to be so; and the "other purposes" mentioned in subdivision 8, are, under the rules of construction of statutes, other kindred or like purposes, and the determination of this question is a legislative power, reposed by the State Legislature in the Common Council, and only to be annulled in special cases by the Courts of law.

The Common Council may grant privileges for such uses and purposes, in proper cases, without running counter to any rules as yet fixed by the Courts.

6th. In the opinion of your Committee, it is desirable that the Common Council should recognize and enforce a distinction between such uses of the streets within and without the stoop-lines. These lines have been confirmed in successive charters, and thereby formally recognized by the Legislature. Within these lines the public right of thoroughfare is materially abridged by stoops, cellars, awnings, area-railings, etc.

Signs and the like, within the stoop-lines, should, in the opinion of your Committee, be regulated by ordinance; and for this purpose your Committee have prepared, and herewith submit, a general ordinance, with the respectful recommendation that it be adopted.

In conclusion, your Committee are of opinion, that this Board has the lawful authority to grant the privileges to be conferred by the four resolutions referred to this Committee, and hereto annexed, if the Board in its sound discretion shall see fit to do so; but we are also of opinion that it would be unwise to permit the erection on the sidewalk of so large an emblematic sign as the monument contemplated in the resolution in favor of Hersch & Furane.

It was the abuse of this sound discretion, in times past, that gave rise to the complaints often heard concerning the indiscriminate granting of like privileges, and this Honorable Board should show its wisdom in zealously guarding the comfort and convenience of the public using our streets, rather than in recklessly conferring privileges which, while yielding a small benefit to a few, may incommode the many by encumbering the crowded and busy thoroughfares of our City.

Your Committee annex to this, their report, an opinion of the Honorable the Corporation Counsel upon the question of the authority of the Board of Aldermen to grant the privileges contained in the four resolutions hereto annexed.

It will be observed that the learned legal adviser of the City Corporation does not attempt to define the legal limitations of the power of the Common Council, nor to lay down any general rules, beyond referring the Board to the opinion of Judge Barrett in the indictment case of People vs. Roberts and others, cited in the foregoing report, and which the Corporation Counsel does not consider as qualified or overruled by the later decisions.

Your Committee had reached the same conclusion; but in the application of the principles involved, they respectfully differ with Mr. Lacombe to the extent of holding, as above, that the Common Council have the lawful authority in their sound discretion to grant the privileges to be conferred by all four of the above-mentioned resolutions; and that the undertaker's emblematic sign and the storm-door stand upon the same legal footing as the barber-pole and the clock on the post. All which is respectfully submitted.

AN ORDINANCE to regulate the use of the sidewalks of the City of New York, within the stoop-lines, for signs and other purposes.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Signs may be placed on the fronts of buildings, and shall be securely fastened, and, except in the case of swinging signs, shall not project more than one foot from the house-wall. Swinging signs shall not extend beyond four feet from the house-line, and shall be hung not less than eight feet in the clear above the level of the sidewalk, and in no case above the ceiling of the second floor, the ground floor being the first floor. Signs may be attached to the sides of stoops, but not to extend above the railing or beyond the line of any stoop.

Sec. 2. Show-cases may be placed in areas or on the sidewalk within the stoop-line, in front of any building, by or with the consent of the occupant of the ground floor thereof; but not beyond five feet from the house-line or wall of any building where the stoop-line extends further, and provided, also, that no such show-case shall be more than five feet in height, three feet in length, and two feet in width, nor shall be so placed as to interfere with the free access to the adjoining premises, and all such show-cases shall be freely movable.

Goods, when exhibited, shall not be placed more than three feet from the building-line, and not to a greater height than five feet above the level of the sidewalk.

Barber-poles not exceeding five feet in height, and other emblematic signs may be placed within the stoop-lines, or fastened to the railing of any stoop, under the same conditions as to dimensions, consent, etc., as hereinbefore provided for show-cases.

Ornamental lamps and illuminated signs may be placed on the stoop of any building by the owner of such building, and upon or within the stoop-line by the occupant of the ground floor of any premises.

Drop-awnings, without vertical supports, are permitted within the stoop-lines, but in no case to extend beyond six feet from the house-line.

Storm-doors, not exceeding nine feet in height, nor wider than the doorway or entrance of any building, may be temporarily erected within the stoop lines, but in no case to extend more than six feet outside the house-line. No structure under the name of "storm-door" shall be lawful which shall practically be an extension of the building-front or house-front within the stoop-line, or an enlargement of the ground floor of any premises.

Stairways may be constructed, but not at a greater distance than four feet from the house-wall of any building. Hoistways may be placed within the stoop-lines, but in no case to extend beyond five feet from the house-line, and shall be guarded by iron railings or rods to prevent accidents to passers-by.

Stands for the sale of newspapers, periodicals, fruit and other small wares and merchandise, are permitted within the stoop-lines, with the consent of the owner or occupant of the ground floor of the building in front of which such stands may be placed, but in no case to extend beyond five feet from the house-line; and provided that no covered stand or booth shall be permitted under this ordinance except for the sole purpose of the public sale of newspapers and periodicals.

Sec. 3. All privileges which may be exercised under the provisions hereof, are conferred only during the pleasure of the Common Council, who may, at any time, alter, amend or repeal this ordinance.

Sec. 4. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions hereof, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

LAW DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, February 10, 1886.

Hon. JAMES T. VAN RENSSLAER, Chairman Committee on Law Department, Board of Aldermen:

DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of your communication under date of January 12, 1886, inclosing copies of four resolutions, as follows:

Copy resolution permitting Alfred Sellhus to keep a barber-pole at No. 113 Charlton street.
Copy resolution permitting Hersch & Furane to keep an emblematic sign at No. 32 Grand street.

Copy resolution permitting D. Garofalo to keep an emblematic sign at No. 186 Spring street.
Copy resolution permitting Charles T. Matthews to keep a storm-door corner Chrystie and Stanton streets.

You request my opinion upon the question of the authority of the Board to grant the privileges contained in these four resolutions.

I have given the subject of your letter long and careful consideration. The determination of the limit to which privileges to use a public street for purposes other than that of public passage is not entirely free from difficulty. In view of the apparent conflict in some of the decisions, it seems desirable not to undertake to lay down general rules, but to treat each one of the four cases submitted for consideration in accordance with the particular facts thereof.

For the guidance of the Board, however, in its future action, I send herewith a printed copy of the opinion of Judge Barrett, rendered June, 1878, upon the indictment of the then Board of Aldermen for granting certain privileges to use the streets. In my opinion, the later decisions of the courts have not gone so far as to overrule or qualify the general propositions of law therein laid down.

First—As to the barber-pole: In view of the restrictions contained in the resolution, to wit, that it shall not be an obstruction to the free use of the street, and that it shall not exceed eight inches in diameter nor ten feet in height, I am of the opinion that this permit is within the power of the Common Council to grant. It seems to be within the purview of section 8 of section 86 of the Consolidation Act, and does not seem to be prohibited by subdivision 4 of that section, and does not apparently infringe on any easement of any abutting owner on the street.

Second—As to the clock on a post: This seems to be of the same class as the last permit, and the same remarks apply.

Third—As to the undertaker's sign: This is a more doubtful case, and I am inclined to think that the Board would have no authority to grant this permit in its present shape. While it is within subdivision 8 of section 86, it is also apparently within subdivision 4 of the same section. Its size and its proposed position on the sidewalk is such that it may become a dangerous structure. There have been certainly two actions brought against the City for damages resulting from the fall over a carriage block of about the same size and located similarly to this proposed sign. It is a question of fact, however, rather than one of law.

Fourth—As to the storm-door: I find no mention of storm-doors in the statutes. It may well be held to be an encroachment or encumbrance within the meaning of subdivision 4.

I am, sir, yours respectfully,

E. HENRY LACOMBE, Counsel to the Corporation.

OYER AND TERMINER—CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

THE INDICTED ALDERMEN—STREET OBSTRUCTIONS.

("Daily Register," June 21, 1878.)

Judge Barrett Grants the Motion to Quash—Interesting Decision.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday, Judge Barrett rendered the following important decision from the Bench upon the motion to quash the indictment for misdemeanor found by the Grand Jury of the Court of General Sessions against fifteen members of the Board of Aldermen:

BARRETT, J.—The rules regulating motions to quash are well settled. The granting or refusing to such motions rests in the sound discretion of the Court. This, of course, is not an arbitrary, but a judicial discretion. It is, however, a wide one, to be exercised whenever, for any reason which seems good to the Court, an indictment cannot be proceeded with advantageously to public justice or without doing a wrong to the defendant. (Bish. Crim. Pro., vol. 1, sec. 758.) The motion may be founded upon defects apparent upon the face of the indictment; also upon extrinsic matter. (Ib., sec. 763, and cases there cited.) Where insufficiency is alone complained of, the Court will not quash unless the indictment is most clearly and obviously bad (Stone v. People, 9 Wend., 192), but will put the defendant to his demurrer, motion in arrest or writ of error (1 Chitty Crim. Law, 246, 300), and this because if the indictment be quashed the recognizances will become ineffectual. Where, however, the motion is founded upon extrinsic matter which the defendant cannot otherwise avail himself of, this rigid rule cannot be said to prevail. "In many of our States," says Mr. Bishop (sec. 767) "there have been enacted of late years statutes curtailing the common law right of prisoners to take advantage by other means of defects in the proceedings. In such circumstances, considering that the Court must in some way make available to defendants all their rights of defense, they may find it necessary to elevate this motion to quash to more than its ancient importance, and allow it where it would not before have been allowed, and even give it greater effect." A proper application of these rules enables us without difficulty to dispose of many objections which were taken to the indictment. Even without resorting to these rules there are several points which must be overruled. We are quite clear, for instance, that the first count is not bad for duplicity. We are equally clear that if a violation or evasion of the charter be duly averred, the defendants cannot escape either upon the plea that theirs was a legislative act which cannot be called in question, or that it involved at least the exercise of discretion in the performance of their duty. Where an act is plainly forbidden and a penalty attached, it is idle to talk of discretion. So as to the legislative claim. A municipal corporation does not differ from any other corporation aggregate with respect to the power of a Court of Justice over its proceedings (Davis v. The Mayor, 1 Duer, 495, affirmed in the Court of Appeals, 5 Seld., 263), and its members are subject to legal correction both civilly (same case) and criminally. (The People v. Wood, 4 Parker C. R., 144.)

It was also urged that the provision in question is a mere negation of power, and not a positive command. From this it was argued that while the defendants may have exceeded their authority, they are not amenable as for the violation of any express prohibition. This point is not free from doubt, and if it were, all the defendants might well be remitted to their demurrer. We may say, however, that even if the defendants' position be correct with regard to the statutory offense, there is no doubt that the members of a common council are indictable for fraudulently exceeding their jurisdiction. (The People v. Stocking, 50 Barb., S. C. R., 573.)

This brings us to the consideration of what we conceive to be the two serious points of the case. The first is extrinsic—viz., as to the instructions of the learned Recorder to the Grand Jury. The second is upon the face of the indictment, and goes to the root of the inquiry—viz., whether an obstruction within the meaning of the Charter is averred, and consequently, whether an offense has been committed. These questions are intimately connected, and up to a certain point may be discussed together.

The instructions were three-fold; first, special as to the law on the subject of stands; second, general, as to the right of the Grand Jury to call upon accused officials for explanation; and third, what we will term the special address of May 9th, 1878.

These instructions will be considered separately. As to the first, it is quite evident that the learned Recorder treated the words "obstructions" and "encroachments," as used in section 17 of the Charter (Laws 1873, chap. 335, sec. 17, sub. 4), in their ordinary rather than their legal significance. The reasoning was in this wise: All booths, stands and racks are obstructions. The Charter prohibits all obstructions. A willful violation of the provisions of the Charter is a misdemeanor—ergo, the granting of permission to keep a news-stand is a misdemeanor. This is scarcely a correct view of the legislative meaning. It was, however, a perfectly natural error, if the attention of the Court were not called to another and somewhat obscure provision of the charter, to which reference will presently be made. The language, upon the surface, seems comprehensive enough to cover obstructions and encroachments of every kind and character. If these words are to be taken in their ordinary and broadest sense, the sidewalks must be absolutely cleared. No ash barrel, pail, box or stepping-stone can be tolerated. But it must be presumed, both on general principles of construction, and especially in the light of the context, that the Legislature meant obstructions and encroachments as those terms have been legally defined. In The People v. Horton (64 N. Y., 616), Allen, J., said, that "it is not every slight interference with the use of a highway * * * that will amount to a nuisance, and be indictable as such. * * * Slight inconveniences and occasional interruptions are incidental to many lawful uses of public highways * * * and are tolerated by reason of necessity and the benefits resulting to the public at large by the acts causing the interruption. If the obstructions are temporary and reasonable, they will not be declared illegal merely because the public may not for the time have the full use of the highway." (See, too, The People v. Cunningham, 1 Denio, 524, and The Attorney-General v. Cohoes Co., 6 Paige, 133.)

So much for the legal definition of an obstruction constituting a nuisance. Let us now look to the statute itself. Subdivision 1 of section 17 of the Charter gives the Common Council power "to regulate traffic and sales in the streets, highways, roads and public places;" subdivision 9 gives them the power "to regulate the use of the streets and sidewalks for signs, sign-posts, awnings, awning-posts, horse-troughs, urinals, telegraph posts and other purposes."

In a certain sense these latter are all obstructions, yet clearly not such as are contemplated by the limitation of power contained in subdivision 4. Section 119 continues the ordinances which were in force on the first day of May, 1870. The obscurity—to which we have adverted—consists in the necessity for a reference to all such ordinances. Among these was the ordinance of February 24, 1886, which expressly regulated the granting of permits for "show cases or stands for the sale of newspapers, fruit, books or other merchandise, article or thing whatsoever encumbering the streets or sidewalks."

It is perfectly clear, therefore, that the Legislature did not mean to condemn all show-cases and all stands for the sale of newspapers, fruit, books or other merchandise as "obstructions" or "encroachments." The result is inevitable, that a news-stand per se is not necessarily a public nuisance, nor an obstruction within the meaning of the charter. That it may become such cannot be doubted. Any structure, whether it be a news or any other stand, which blocks up the sidewalk and prevents free passage, is both a public nuisance and a statutory obstruction. The maintainer of such a nuisance is indictable, and cannot protect himself under any municipal authority. Whether the structure is lawful or unlawful must, therefore depend upon its characteristics and surroundings. Now, all that the defendants are charged with is the passage of a resolution granting permission to one John Butler to "keep a stand for the sale of newspapers on the southwest corner of New Church and Cortlandt streets."

In no just sense did this authorize an obstruction or unlawful structure. On the contrary, it authorized nothing but what is expressly contemplated in the law. If, furnished with this authority to keep a news-stand, John Butler chose to erect a news-stand of such size and dimensions as to amount to a legal obstruction, the responsibility rested solely with him, and he could not shield himself under the resolution. The mere passage of the resolution in question was not, therefore, an offense.

We may add that the charter makes ample provision for the removal of a legal obstruction by the Commissioner of Public Works (sec. 70), thus rendering a resort to the criminal law unnecessary for the practical purpose of abatement.

We now come to the second instruction:

While this indictment was under consideration by the grand jury, the learned Recorder instructed that body, in substance, that they had no right to examine accused officials or their witnesses, and that they had exceeded their duty in doing so in a particular instance. It is true that it is unusual to examine an accused person, and that the latter cannot claim the right to appear with his witnesses before the grand jury. There is a distinction, however, between the rights of the accused and the power of the grand jury. The latter body is seeking neither to indict nor to ignore, but to ascertain the truth and act upon it. Upon principle, they should not be strictly confined to the witnesses brought forward by the prosecution, but should have the privilege of obtaining additional light by sending for others. The opposite view was formerly maintained in England. But, speaking of this rule, Chitty remarks, that "it may be doubted whether, as they are sworn to present the truth which necessarily requires investigation—in case they may not be able to elicit truth from the witnesses for the prosecution and are actually convinced of that circumstance—they may not require other testimony to assist them in forming their decision" (Crim. Law, p. 318). He adds that "if they are unable to satisfy themselves of the truth sufficiently to warrant their determination, they may properly seek other information relative to mere facts, but further than this they cannot proceed."

Mr. Bishop says (Crim. Pro., vol. 1, s. 857): "To justify them in finding a bill, they should refuse no pertinent evidence whether for or against the prisoner; and, on weighing the whole testimony, they should be satisfied that the accused is guilty."

In a charge to the grand jury (referred to in Bishop's Crim. Pro., vol. 1, note to sec. 857), Mr. Justice Field instructed them only to receive legal evidence. "Subject to this qualification," he observed, "you will receive all the evidence presented which may throw light upon the matter under consideration, whether it tend to establish the innocence or the guilt of the accused. And, more, if in the course of your inquiries you have reason to believe that there is other evidence, not presented to you, within your reach, which would qualify or explain away the charge under investigation, it will be your duty to order such evidence to be produced."

There are authorities the other way, but the above quotations represent more fairly the modern spirit.

The ancient doctrine was doubtless based upon the rule that the grand jury ought to find the bill if probable evidence can be adduced to support it. But this is no longer the rule. "Great authorities," says Chitty, "have taken a more merciful view of the subject, and considering the ignominy, the dangers of perjury, the anxiety of delay, and the misery of a prison, have argued that the grand inquest ought, as far as the evidence before them goes, to be convinced of the guilt of the defendant." (See, also, 2 Inst., 384; 3 Coke Inst., 25; 4 Hawkins' Pleas of the Crown, p. 82, note; 4 State Trials, 183; 4 Black. Com., 303; 3 State Trials, 416; 5 State Trials, 3; 2 Woods, 559; 2 Hall, 61; 2 Wilson's Works, 365; Davis' C. L. in V., 426; Wharton's Am. Cr. Law, 233; The People v. Hyler, 2 Parker's C. R., 570; State v. Cowen, 1 Had., 280.)

With the relaxation of this rule the limitation upon the inquiry naturally fell.

We now come to the third instruction—that is, the address of May 9, 1878. It was in these words:

"Mr. Foreman and Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: I regret the necessity that occurs to me at this time, in view of some occurrences which have passed within a few days. I beg to remind you of the fact that I charged you with reference to inquiries into these obstructions of the public streets. I was then advised that the chief executive officer of this city had vetoed the action of the Board of Aldermen, in authorizing the erection of a booth and an incumbrance upon the public streets of this city, and for that reason that it was against the law that he vetoed the action of the Board of Aldermen. Well, gentlemen, since the charge I was honored by giving you a few days ago, this Board of Aldermen with two exceptions, have noted in their power, have decided the action of the law and my action in recommending the matter to you. I am going to test the question whether this Board of Aldermen rule this State and its constitutions and its charter. I am going to ask you, and I am going to furnish you with the evidence of their willful action in deriding the law, and to try by you and through you whether any man, Board of Aldermen, etc. If they are tried and found guilty, I will give them every day and every hour which the law permits me to give. I place it in your hands."

"The Foreman: The Grand Jury have voted to adjourn over till Monday."

"The Recorder: Yes; the evidence will be laid before you, gentlemen."

This branch of the subject is delicate and somewhat embarrassing, but we hope to be able, fairly and judiciously, to consider the question of law which it presents, without venturing to criticise the judicial methods of another judge. We would certainly have preferred that it should have been discussed before the learned Recorder himself, and that he should thus have had the advantage, which has been afforded to us, of the light thrown on the question by the able and exhaustive arguments of the counsel.

The books contain but little on the subject. Chitty says that "in the performance of this duty, the judicious magistrate will take care not only that his remarks are in general suited to the offices which a Grand Jury have to discharge, but have a plain reference to local objects, events, discussions and concerns, as far as they properly fall within the limits of his jurisdiction and seem entitled to his notice. He will strive to allay animosities, to destroy the spirit of party, to discountenance every receptacle of idleness and vice, as well as every vestige of popular barbarity and grossness" (sec. 313).

Mr. Bishop says: "Sometimes, however, the judge, knowing that a particular class of crimes, or some particular case, is to be investigated by the Grand Jury, first instructs this jury as to the law and the duty of the jurymen relating thereto; and it is the general practice of this jury as to the Grand Jury to enter upon a term of service, to give them some instructions, descending more or less into particulars, concerning their duty. And the prisoner has various rights, such as the right to challenge the Grand Jury, or a particular juror, and the like."

In duty practice the Court rarely comments upon the special facts of any particular case, and for the reason that the evidence is taken in secret. The charge is usually confined to a general outline of the law which is to govern, and to the legal effects of certain facts if proved.

There are certain fundamental rules, however, which should lead us to a just conclusion. One of these is that the Grand Jury should be perfectly free and untrammelled in the performance of their duties. To illustrate: So far as the public prosecutor is concerned, it is well settled that while he is to assist and advise, he is not otherwise to influence or direct them in respect of their finding (Bish. C. P., sec. 861).

Mr. Davis, in his concise treatise upon the office and duty of grand jurors, remarks that "the least attempt to influence the Grand Jury in their decision upon the effect of the evidence, is an unjustifiable interference. * * * It is very common, however, for some one of the Grand Jury to request the opinion of the public prosecutor as to the propriety of finding the bill. But it is his duty explicitly to decline giving it, or even any intimations upon the subject, but in all cases to leave the Grand Jury to decide independently for themselves" (Bish. C. P., sec. 862, note). Under these authorities, it cannot for a moment be doubted that if the language under consideration had been addressed to the Grand Jury by the District Attorney the Court would not stop to inquire as to its possible or probable effect, but would at once quash the indictment.

Another fundamental rule is that, before being subject to the reflection which an indictment is apt to cast upon him, an accused party is entitled to a fair and impartial consideration, by a legally constituted and unprejudiced Grand Jury, of the evidence presented.

In the People vs. Jewett (3 Wend., 314), it was held to be good cause of exception to a grand jury that he had formed and expressed an opinion as to the guilt of a party whose case would probably be presented to the consideration of the grand inquest. It was also held that a grand juror's having evident feelings of hostility towards such party was good cause of exception.

And, further, such fair and impartial consideration must be of regularly sworn testimony; otherwise the bill will be quashed. "Thus," says Wharton, "where an irregularity was shown in the swearing, Story, J., exclaimed with great emphasis, that if such irregularities were allowed to creep into the practice of Grand Juries, the great object of their institution was destroyed" (p. 232, U. S. vs. Colledge, 2 Gallison, 364). These citations served to show that the law, in view of the secrecy of the institution, jealously guards the rights of the accused, by securing to him impartiality and freedom from influence on the part of the grand jurors, and by carefully scrutinizing the regularity of their proceedings, so far as to see that they are conducted according to the forms which the law has provided.

Still another valuable rule is that which goes to the remedy. "Every right," says Bishop, "which the law gives the accused must in some way be made to him practically available. * * * for it is plain in reason that a right of which the possessor cannot avail himself is practically no right whatever. * * * So, where a wrong has been done, the party who has suffered from it should be permitted to find, in some way, redress" (sections 532, 113, 872).

Now, taking these rules for our guide, and considering, too, the position and great authority of the Court, can it be said that the grand jury was uninfluenced by the language which we have quoted, or that it approached the consideration of the evidence presented in the free, unprejudiced and impartial spirit which the law contemplates? It is barely possible, but certainly it is highly improbable, especially as no affidavit, from any of its members, denying the influence, has been submitted. In the case of a petit jury, although its verdict may not have been influenced by an inaccurate exposition of the law, yet a new trial follows error. This is because of the possibility that the jury may have been misled, or rather from the inability of the Court to say that it was not. It is true that in the case at bar, reference was made to evidence which would be laid before the grand jury, but an indictment, as the inevitable result, was treated as a matter of course. Indeed it was conceded, that similar language addressed to a petit jury would necessitate a new trial. Now, while, of course, there is a vast difference in the effect of the instructions given to the two bodies, yet, on the other hand, it should be considered that the accused is not generally present, and has not the advantage of counsel when the Court instructs the grand jury.

It is, of course, difficult to say where the line should be drawn, or to lay down any general rule upon the subject; nor is that essential to the proper disposition of the present motion. We are satisfied, however, that an indictment should not be quashed solely because of an erroneous instruction upon the law, nor in consequence of the expression of an inaccurate opinion as to the effect of evidence which may be offered. But where there is such a conjunction of the various elements upon which an appeal may be made to judicial discretion as in the present instance where, in fact, the grand jury is instructed that a vote given for an object, not itself unlawful, is an offense; that the body whose duty is diligently to inquire has no right to seek any explanation or light from accused public officers; and, finally, when that body is addressed in the language which has been quoted, it would be contrary to the genius of our institutions and subversive of the due administration of criminal justice, to proceed upon such a foundation as an indictment thus procured.

We yield to this conclusion with less reluctance, as it can result neither in a miscarriage of justice nor even in any practical inconvenience. For, in any case where an indictment is quashed, the matter may again, if thought desirable, be immediately presented and a fresh indictment obtained.

The discussion thus far has covered a part of what should be said respecting the sufficiency of the indictment. Thus we have seen that the avowment of a resolution authorizing a news-stand is bad, as charging no legal offense. This difficulty was evidently foreseen by the pleader, and he seeks to overcome it by the ingenious avowment that a news-stand of any description would necessarily (as the defendants well know) be an obstruction at the point in question.

The answer to this is obvious. As a news-stand is not necessarily an obstruction within the meaning of the law, the special facts which make it such must be pleaded. It will not do to state that that which is not in itself a nuisance must become such in a particular locality without setting out any of the incidents whereby the conversion from the lawful to the unlawful is effected. True, the second count sets out the dimensions of the stand. But that does not help the matter, for it does not appear that there was anything unusual or unreasonable in the style of the structure; nor is the size, condition or other peculiarity of the sidewalk stated. Even if the pleader had omitted the resolution and simply averred in terms the authorizing of an obstruction, it would have been insufficient; for as an obstruction has a legal significance, the facts bringing it within the sense of the law must be stated. Even in misdemeanor, it is not always sufficient to pursue the very words of the statute, unless by doing so you fully, directly, and expressly allege the facts in the doing or not doing of which the offense consists (Bish. C. R., vol. 1, sec. 632; The People v. Taylor, 3 Denio, 91; Clark v. The State, 19 Ala., 552).

Pearce v. The State (1 Sneed, 63) was very similar in principle to the case at bar. The statute made it indictable for a man knowingly to vote at an election, not being a qualified voter. It was held that a presentment merely in the words of the statute was not sufficient. Totten, J., said: "The act of voting is not necessarily illegal, but it may become so for some of the causes before stated; and in order that the charge may be perfect, such cause must be set forth and averred in the indictment." (See also U. S. v. Stowell, 2 Curtis C. C., 153; The People v. Stone, 9 Wend., 182, 191; The People v. Wilber, 4 Parker Crim. R., 19, 24; State v. Mackenzie, 42 Maine, 392; Commonwealth v. Hampton, 3 Grat., 590).

It will be observed, too, that this statute, although nominally creating a misdemeanor, is in reality highly penal, involving forfeiture of office and exclusion forever from office under the city government. It therefore comes within Chitty's general rule that all indictments upon statutes, especially the most penal, must state all the circumstances which constitute the definition of the offense in the act, so as to bring the defendant precisely within it (p. 281).

It follows that, upon both of the grounds discussed, the indictment must be quashed. We may add, in conclusion, and without reflecting in the least upon the present procedure, that while it is in the highest degree important that public officers should be kept within the limits of their authority, and that misfeasance and malfeasance should be sternly rebuked and severely punished, it is equally important that the machinery of the criminal law should not be lightly or unnecessarily set in motion, lest bills proceeding upon trifling grounds should become common and the wholesome fear of indictments be lessened.

By Alderman Masterson—

Whereas, It is a fundamental principle of republican government that the burthen of its support should rest equally upon all persons protected in person and property by it, and exemption therefrom should be granted only in case of institutions formed for, and at their own expense performing governmental functions or wholly charitable work as will advance the public welfare or lessen taxation.

Whereas, A corporation owning in the Twelfth Ward of this city nearly seven hundred lots valued at $4,000,000, and partly occupied by the Bloomingdale Insane Asylum, but otherwise vacant, did in 1875, upon the claim of being a charitable society, secure the passage of a law allowing total exemption from taxation, under which law the city has lost $100,000 of taxes annually, the same being made a charge upon the general public.

Whereas, The said institution is owned by a private close corporation and from all control or voice in which the officers of the Corporation of the City of New York, although members thereof under its ancient charter, have been excluded by special legislation obtained without the knowledge of the city authorities and is not a charitable corporation, but demands and charges large and extravagant sums for the care and treatment of any insane person admitted to its care, and receives annually from such source nearly $200,000, or an average of over $750 from each patient, which income and revenue is for the most part used and devoted to the payment of large and extravagant salaries, and the balance disbursed without reference to economy or any public charitable purpose; and

Whereas, Within the last ten years the exemption from taxation of the property of this institution has amounted to fully $1,000,000, in return for which neither the city nor any charity has received any return whatever, and which donation, or appropriation of taxes, is unjust and inequitable in principle, unsound in policy, and oppressive in practice, has increased the burden of all other taxpayers of the city.

Resolved, That this Board approves of the bill introduced by Hon. John McManus in the Assembly, modifying the existing law which grants to the said corporation unqualified exemption from taxation by amending the same so as to allow exemption only to the extent that the said institution makes some return to the city and the public therefor, in caring and providing for persons of the unfortunate class for whose care as a charity the said institution was originally chartered, and be it further

Resolved, That if the said corporation declines to make any return for exemption from taxation or to relieve the city from any of the burthen of the care and support of the insane for whom the city has not now and cannot by taxation obtain the funds for sufficient accommodation, the said existing law of exemption ought in justice to the general taxpayers of the city be wholly repealed.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Common Council transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the Speaker of the Assembly and the President of the Senate.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Report for the Year 1885.

Hon. WILLIAM R. GRACE, Mayor, etc.:

SIR—I herewith present the first annual report, which has been made by the Law Department since the passage of the Charter of 1873. The reason why none has heretofore been prepared, as explained in the last quarterly report, was the failure of your predecessors to require its presentation, as contemplated by section 27 of that charter.

The present report is prepared in conformity with the requirements of your communication of December 24, 1885, and future reports will be cast in the same mold.

STATISTICS.

The statistics of the business of the office of the Counsel to the Corporation (exclusive of that transacted in the bureaus, which make their own reports) for the year 1885 are contained in nine schedules.

SCHEDULE No. 1.

This is a list of actions and special proceedings pending and undetermined on December 31, 1885. These may be thus classified:

Common law actions on contract.....	344
Common law actions in tort.....	243
Common law actions—Miscellaneous.....	226
Equity actions.....	297
Actions in which summons only has been served.....	68
State writs—Certiorari.....	139
State writs—Mandamus.....	240
Street and park opening proceedings.....	47
Miscellaneous special proceedings.....	53
Proceedings in Supreme Court to vacate assessments.....	3,991
	<hr/> 5,648

Besides these there are listed 2,741 proceedings before the Assessment Commission. With these, however, the Department has no concern except to note their commencement and determination; the case for the City is conducted by the Counsel of the Commission.

SCHEDULE No. 2.

This is a list of actions and special proceedings begun during the year 1885, and still pending at the end of the year. These may be thus classified:

Common law actions on contract.....	40
Common law actions in tort.....	56
Common law actions—Miscellaneous.....	76
Equity actions.....	101
Actions in which summons only has been served.....	32
State writs—Certiorari.....	47
State writs—Mandamus.....	26
Street and park opening proceedings.....	8
Miscellaneous special proceedings.....	23
Proceedings in Supreme Court to vacate assessments.....	605
	<hr/> 1,014

SCHEDULE No. 3.

This is a list of old actions and special proceedings, that is, those begun prior to January 1, 1885, which were finally disposed of during the year. These may be thus classified:

Common law actions on contract.....	87
Common law actions in tort.....	58
Common law actions—Miscellaneous.....	76
Equity actions.....	38
State writs—Certiorari.....	87
State writs—Mandamus.....	13
Street and park opening proceedings.....	3
Miscellaneous special proceedings.....	4
Proceedings in Supreme Court to vacate assessments.....	482
	<hr/> 851

The manner in which these were finally disposed of is as follows:

By discontinuance, either voluntary or following City's motion to dismiss.....	186
By dismissal for failure to prosecute.....	23
By compromise or settlement concurred in by Finance and Law Departments.....	500
After trial or argument, and by judgment or order of Court (other than discontinuance or dismissal).....	142
	<hr/> 851

SCHEDULE No. 4.

This is a list of new actions and special proceedings, that is, those begun subsequent to January 1, 1885, which were finally disposed of during the year. These may be thus classified:

Common law actions on contract.....	49
Common law actions in tort.....	4
Common law actions—Miscellaneous.....	87
Equity actions.....	9
State writs—Certiorari.....	2
State writs—Mandamus.....	9
Miscellaneous special proceedings.....	11
Proceedings in Supreme Court to vacate assessments.....	30
	<hr/> 201

The manner in which these were finally disposed of is as follows:

By discontinuance, either voluntary or following City's motion to dismiss.....	56
By compromise or settlement concurred in by Finance and Law Departments.....	120
After trial or argument, and by judgment or order of court (other than discontinuance or dismissal).....	25
	<hr/> 201

From these schedules it appears that there were:

	ACTIONS AND SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.	ASSESSMENT PROCEEDINGS.	TOTAL.
Pending January 1, 1885.....	1,617	3,868	5,485
Begun during 1885.....	580	635	1,215
	<hr/> 2,197	<hr/> 4,503	<hr/> 6,700
Ended during 1885.....	540	512	1,052
Pending January 1, 1886.....	1,657	3,991	5,648

This office, therefore, was not quite able to keep up with the volume of current business there being 1,215 proceedings begun as against 1,052 disposed of. This inability to dispose of old cases as rapidly as new ones were begun occurred during the first six months. Since the reorganization of the working force was effected, a marked improvement may be noted, and there is every reason to expect that the ensuing twelve months will witness a material reduction of the arrears of earlier years.

The relative number of those arrears may be shown and the magnitude of the task which confronts this office each year may be appreciated by a comparison with pending business elsewhere. So numerous are the cases requiring attention that such comparison can only fairly be made with the calendars of courts, rather than with the Law Department dockets of other cities. Omitting the assessment proceedings there are found:

Total cases pending on the docket of the Law Department.....	1,657
Total cases pending on the calendar of Court of Common Pleas, February 1, 1886.....	1,502
Total cases pending on the calendar of the Superior Court, October, 1885.....	1,983
Total cases pending on the calendars of the Supreme Court, Circuit, Kings County, and City Court, Brooklyn, January 1, 1886.....	1,138
Total cases pending on the calendar of the Supreme Court, Circuit, Erie County.....	310
Total cases pending on the calendar of the Supreme Court, Albany County.....	386

SCHEDULE No. 5.

This is a list of the claims received for collection, showing their disposition, as follows:

Collected in whole.....	7
Collected on compromise.....	4
Put in suit.....	6
Withdrawn by department sending them.....	3
Not yet disposed of.....	40
Total.....	<hr/> 63

SCHEDULE No. 6.

This is a list of the payments from the appropriations for contingencies and special services for the office of the Counsel to Corporation, exclusive of salaries and the payments for the bureaus. The amounts thus disbursed were:

General Contingencies.....	$20,041 78
Contingent Counsel Fees.....	23,526 28
For procuring and presenting evidence as to frauds prior to 1872.....	9,999 58
For preparing and presenting case of the City before Commission for New Parks in Annexed District and Westchester County.....	10,802 87
Total.....	$64,370 51

SCHEDULE No. 7.

This is a table giving the disposition of calendar cases. It shows what actions and special proceedings appeared on the day calendars of the courts during the year; which ones were tried or argued, with the results of such trials or arguments; and which were adjourned. But a very small number of adjournments were had on the City's motion, and it may confidently be asserted that nine-tenths of the cases included in the list were fully prepared for trial by this office. This fact must be borne in mind when the table is examined as a record of work done, because the labor of preparation is almost always greater than the labor of trial or argument. If the Department were to be credited only with the cases actually disposed of, the full measure of its yearly work would not be appreciated.

There appeared on the different day calendars for trial at Circuit and Special Terms, cases. As many of these appeared repeatedly, they required for their attention separate appearances at court to the number of.....	245	1,624

There were also 185 days attendances before referees and commissioners, and 280 motions at chambers and elsewhere disposed of.

SCHEDULE No. 8.

This is a list of the moneys collected by the office of the Corporation Counsel, as distinguished from the bureaus, during the year. The total amount was $73,709.41.

SCHEDULE No. 9.

This is a table showing the condition and disposition of street and park opening proceedings, exclusive of the new parks in Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards and Westchester County.

There were also "opinions" given as follows:

Public Parks.....	26
Other City Departments.....	93
Aqueduct Commission.....	16

There were received from the Police Department 554 reports of accidents, which were examined into and filed.

There were received from the Finance Department 389 requests for the examination of claimants. Oral examinations under oath were conducted in 240 of these.

There were contracts examined, drafted and approved as to form, as follows:

REORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Past experience has for some time indicated the necessity of a reorganization of the working force of this office, and an effort in that direction was begun immediately upon the reappointment of its present head in January last. The report made in May, 1885, by Mr. Horace E. Deming, as special counsel for the Commissioners of Accounts, emphasized the importance of such action, and the work has been steadily going on during the year. The Department is to-day in better condition to cope with the demands of current business, and at the same time attack the large accumulation of unfinished cases, than it has been in at any time since the passage of the "Public Burdens bill," chapter 521 of 1880. That act required a ten per cent. reduction in the appropriations of all the departments for salaries—a reduction which operated unfortunately for this office, because it was not at the time supplied with a force more than sufficient to handle the new business, and the reduction of that force allowed arrears of work to accumulate.

The force at the opening of the present year consists of:

The Counsel to the Corporation.
One First Assistant.
Eight Assistants.
Five Junior Assistants.
Three Senior Law Clerks.
Four Junior Law Clerks.
One Chief Clerk.
One Register Clerk.
Three Clerks.
Two Copyists.
Three Stenographers.
Two Examiners.
One Librarian.
Three Messengers.

GROWTH OF DEPARTMENTAL BUSINESS.

The steady increase in the amount of business transacted is a fact probably wholly unappreciated by those who have no personal experience of the operations of the Department for the past few years. The legacy of unfinished work left at the downfall of the old "Ring" in 1871 was still very large in 1875, when the office was reorganized by the Hon. William C. Whitney, and the ensuing five years were mainly devoted to disposing of the mass of litigation, which had its origin in the corrupt transactions of the decade prior to 1872. It was generally supposed that when that work was disposed of, the volume of yearly business would become reduced to something more nearly approaching to the moderate dimensions of earlier years. This belief was entertained by Mr. Whitney himself, who in a letter called forth by newspaper criticism of expenditures in 1877, described the Department as then on a "war-footing," and predicted a shrinkage of work to be done, and a consequent material reduction of its force, in the near future. The event has not justified those expectations. The ring litigation, except for a half dozen cases, is practically ended, but the growth of the City in population and as a centre of commercial and manufacturing industry has induced a purely normal increase of its legal business, so great as to call for quite as large, in fact, for even a larger working force than that employed in 1877. It is not, perhaps, easy to understand that such can be the case, and it seems desirable to devote a portion of this report to demonstrating so pertinent a fact. Unless the City officers, who vote the appropriations, and the body of citizens under whose criticism those appropriations are made can be fully enlightened as to the present, in contrast with the past condition of its legal business, the Department cannot fairly expect to obtain the yearly sum necessary to enable it to properly perform its work.

It is not easy to formulate statistics, which will correctly present the amount of work performed each year, because so much of it is of a class which cannot be measured arithmetically. All that can be done is to prepare lists of such items as can be counted, and to submit the aggregations of these lists with the statement (which will be conceded by the legal profession) that the increase in the amount of purely intellectual work is quite as great as that in the more mechanical branches.

There have, therefore, been prepared careful tabulations of the litigated business of the years 1875, 1880, and 1885. The following comparison of the results of those tabulations will indicate to lawyers, and perhaps also to laymen, the steady increase of the work transacted. In these tabulations all proceedings before the Assessment Commission are omitted, because, although the Department has considerable work to do in entering the proceedings in its books and certifying the orders to the Finance Department, the legal conduct of these cases is entirely attended to by the Counsel of the Commission, who is not attached to the Department. This mere entry and certification is, however, no inconsiderable item in the yearly work of the clerical force. There were pending of these proceedings 3,137 on January 1, 1885, and 2,741 were left on January 1, 1886. There were none of them in 1875: their first appearance was in 1880, the act creating the Commission having passed in June of that year.

The aggregate of litigated business which confronted the Department at the beginning of each of these years was:

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Total actions and special proceedings.....	2,794	1,094	1,617
Total assessment proceedings.....	653	1,731	3,868
	3,447	2,825	5,485

The records of the earlier years were not kept in such shape as to make it possible, without the expenditure of a great amount of labor, to state the total number of assessment proceedings disposed of in those years, nor, in fact, to make such statement as to other special proceedings so disposed of. In 1885 there were finally disposed of 512 assessment proceedings, which include part of the 3,868 outstanding at the beginning of the year, and part of the 635 proceedings begun during the year.

A careful summary has been prepared of the common law and equity actions disposed of by judgment in the court of first instance in each of the three years; the same proportion of disposition undoubtedly prevailed as to the special proceedings (mandamus, certiorari, etc.) other than assessment proceedings.

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Total actions, The Mayor, etc., defendant , disposed of by judgment.....	544	227	311
Amount claimed therein (not including interest).....	$1,830,378 03	$1,537,072 00	$1,165,246 79
Amount recovered therein (not including interest).....	1,275,364 26	1,059,787 49	340,670 49
Ratio of recovery to claim.....	69 per cent.	68 per cent.	30 per cent.
Total actions, The Mayor, etc., plaintiff , disposed of by judgment.....	5	16	21
Amount claimed therein (not including interest).....	$16,692 45	$30,128 48	$154,113 90
Amount recovered therein (not including interest).....	16,692 45	29,210 03	119,821 72

Some explanation is needed of this statement. The relative number of actions disposed of in 1875 and 1885 does not accurately measure the work of those two years. In 1875 there were disposed of a large number of cases which came before the courts, for the sole reason that the City had practically stopped payment in 1872. So large a number of claims arising in 1871 and prior years were tainted with fraud, that the Finance Department declined to pay nearly every claim, which had its origin in the transactions of those years, and the claimants were thrown into court. When actions were brought and the City called upon to present its defense, it turned out, of course, that to very many of these claims there was none at all. In consequence they were put in judgment with no other labor on the part of the Law Department than an examination of the plaintiffs' papers in each case, and the preparation of a statement showing why the collection of the claim could not be resisted. So, too, in that year, very many of the actions disposed of may be grouped under a few leading cases. There are several instances where a refusal to settle the pay-roll of a single department induced the bringing of sixty or seventy different actions presenting precisely the same facts. These remarks as to the character of the litigated business of 1875 should be borne in mind when examining the next tabulation.

The amount claimed and recovered against the City in 1880 is abnormally increased by the single case of Baird vs. The Mayor, the Navarro water-meter case, in which judgment was entered for $700,000 (exclusive of interest and costs).

*The total number of cases disposed of by trial was considerably more than this, several being tried together.

The most suggestive feature of the above comparison, and the one most indicative of a greatly increased amount of actual work is the ratio of recovery to claim; this is only 30 per cent. in 1885, as against 60 and 68 per cent. in the earlier years. When the fact is taken into consideration that there are every year many cases where perfectly just claims are put in suit solely because there are no funds in the City Treasury to meet them*, a ratio of recovery so small indicates exhaustive and well-directed work in preparing the defense of claims where the right to recover is doubtful.

In further illustration of the increased amount of work done, the following comparative statement is presented:

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Orders and judgments drafted, entered and served (excluding assessment proceedings).....	510	395	501
Motions argued (exclusive of assessments).....	113	102	280
Number of pages in press-copy letter-book.....	3,376	2,743	5,099
Opinions given.....	297	204	402
Examinations of claimants under oath.....	240
Reports of accidents by Police examined.....	554

These last two classes of office work have only recently received attention, it being supposed (and rightly as the event has proved) that the interest of the City would be better protected by an early investigation of actual or possible claims against its treasury than by the old system of waiting till actions were begun.

While there has been an increase in the total amount of work done, there has not been a corresponding increase in the cost of doing it.

Leaving out the special appropriation for presenting the case of the City before the "New Parks" Commission—that work not being included in the foregoing comparative statements of business transacted—the total expenditures, including salaries and all contingencies, were—

In 1875	$192,143 15
In 1880	160,991 94
In 1885	163,642 12

A comparison of the following items of expenditure indicates greatly increased labor in the preparation and trial of cases, caused in part by an increase in the number requiring attention and in part by a change in the character of the cases handled. The rapid growth of the "accident" business has rendered imperatively necessary a large increase in certain classes of disbursement. These cases are expensive to try because the witnesses must be gathered not from the employees of the corporation, but from the general body of the citizens, and because experts, models and photographs must be secured:

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Stenographer's fees, Court opinions, minutes, etc.,	$1,848 90	$2,085 50	$3,447 96
Traveling expenses of Counsel to Court of Appeals, etc.,	207 67	517 68	468 10
Witness fees, including surveyors, medical and other experts, car-fares, etc., of messengers, examiners, and subpoena servers and other disbursements in obtaining evidence.....	1,290 04	3,498 76	9,221 67
Extra clerical service, extra copying, lithographing, etc.,	127 72	533 09	2,599 41
Photographs and models.....	127 00	839 25

Large though some of these items may seem, the increased expenditure is imperatively demanded by the character of the "accident" business. The damages recoverable in such cases are wholly uncertain. They cannot be measured by arithmetical calculations as in actions on contract, but may be influenced by unexpected developments upon the trial, or by wholly collateral circumstances which may operate upon the minds of individual jurors. No pains or expense can be safely spared in preparing each and all of these suits for trial, as it cannot be told till the plaintiff's evidence is in, which case is likely to prove a dangerous one for the City. So far as possible, every contingency must be foreseen and provided for, because a mistake in the preparation of even a single case might result in a verdict as large as the entire annual expenditure for preparation and trial. The City holds its own against claims of this character by so continued a strain upon its vigilance, and at so large an expense, that it is to be hoped the Legislature may accord the relief which has been given to other cities, by prescribing a short statute of limitations and requiring prompt notice of the intention to bring suit. Such a bill was prepared and laid before the late Senate Committee on Cities. As presented by that Committee, however, it omitted the provision requiring prompt notice to be given of the intention to bring suit. This is greatly to be regretted as it is a much better protection against improper claims than is the mere shortening of time within which action may be brought. The importance of an early preparation of these cases cannot be overestimated. To secure this the system of Police reports to the Law Department was put in practice, but of course there are many claims presented for damages from alleged accident of which the police have no knowledge. In fact bogus or exaggerated claims are only brought to the knowledge of the City officers when action are begun.

The disbursements of 1885 for preparation and trial of cases have not, however, been increased over those of earlier years in the items last above enumerated without retrenchment in other quarters.

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Fees paid to special counsel from the appropriation for contingencies.....	$87,414 27	$28,848 60	$23,526 28

The true justification, however, of so much larger an expenditure in the preparation and trial of causes will be found in the volume of work performed and the results obtained.

	1875.	1880.	1885.
Total number of accident cases tried at Circuit before Court and jury.....	13	24	63
Total amount of damages claimed therein...	$85,400 00	$163,522 50	$792,441 00
Total amount of recoveries had against the City.....	$2,224 46	$26,528 00	$15,551 26
Percentage of claims recovered.....	over 2½ per cent.	16¼ per cent.	2 per cent.
Total accident cases pending at end of year..	157	167	243

* This fact is thus commented upon in Mr. Deming's report: "There is another feature of the City's book-keeping which deserves mention, since it affects the Law Department. There are a large number of perfectly just claims against the City every year, to meet which there are apparently no funds in the City Treasury, either because there are no appropriations for the purpose, or because specific appropriations have been exhausted. These claims are put in suit. The Law Department is called upon to give a formal opinion that there is no defense; presently judgment is entered against the City for the amount claimed with interest and costs; and from a fund called the 'Judgment Fund' this enhanced amount is paid. It would seem that some simple remedy might be devised to prevent so extravagant and wasteful a method of paying undisputed debts."

NOTE.—The details of this comparison will be found in Schedule No. "A," which is printed after the nine regular schedules, post.

With regard to the percentage of recovery in 1875, it should be noted that the cases of that year were tried before the decisions of the Court of Appeals in the group of cases beginning with Todd vs. City of Troy, 61 N. Y., had materially circumscribed the power of the trial judge to dispose of the issues raised on these trials without sending them to the jury.

COMPARISON OF EXPENDITURES AND RESULTS.

In December, 1885, the Council of Political Reform presented to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment a statement of the expenditures of this city for the year 1884, contrasting them with those of other cities, and insisting that they were grossly and unjustifiably extravagant. The expenditures of the Law Department were compared only with those of the Law Department in the City of Brooklyn, the figures given being for New York $247,304, per capita, 18 cents; for Brooklyn $23,332, per capita, 3 cents. A letter was at once sent to the gentlemen presenting this statement, requesting the items of the $247,304 charged to this Department. This called forth a prompt and courteous reply, to the effect that, by a clerical error, there had been included an item of $91,000 properly chargeable elsewhere, and that the correct amount of expenditure by the New York Law Department for the year 1884 should have been given as $155,095.85, as shown by the Comptroller's books. The error admitted, however, is not the only one into which the compiler of the statement has fallen, and it seems in all fairness due to the hard-working departmental force that such statement should be more carefully analyzed, and that the comparison suggested should be more fully made, so that the taxpayers may be able to see for themselves that the money contributed by them to the support of the Department produces results which will stand the test of any comparison which may be instituted.

The expenditures charged to this Department, as corrected, are accurately given, viz.: $155,095.85. This sum includes the cost of the Bureau of the Public Administrator. The head of that bureau and his clerks are salaried officers. In Brooklyn they are paid by the fees they collect from estates, such fees being retained by the Public Administrator, and not covered into the City Treasury, as they are here. In other words, this work costs New York the salaries paid; it costs Brooklyn the fees collected.

In Brooklyn the Police Department and the Commissioners of Charities have each special counsel, who are paid salaries not included in the appropriation for the Law Department. The City and the County of New York form a single corporation, and the legal business of both political divisions is done by the Law Department. The legal business of Kings County is not transacted by the Brooklyn Law Department, and its cost does not appear in the budget of that city.

These facts require a modification of the figures given in the report of the Council of Political Reform, as follows:

Brooklyn Law Department, as above.....	$23,332 00
Additional balances spent in 1884, as given by Comptroller of Brooklyn.....	228 00
Salary of Counsel, Police Department.....	2,000 00
	$25,560 00

Allowances for 1884, by Supervisors of Kings County:

Winchester Britton	$2,500 00
John H. Kemble	2,500 00
J. W. Gilbert	2,500 00
John B. Myenborg	125 00
W. G. Cooke.....	2,168 36
John H. Bergen (New Lots)	250 00
J. H. Kemble, (New Lots)	125 00
Mr. Simis, Counsel to Charities and Correction	1,800 00
	$11,968 36

Deduct for New Lots, not being within limits of Brooklyn	375 00
	11,593 36

Fees collected and retained by Public Administrator, estimated.....	5,000 00
	$42,153 36

	Brooklyn.	New York.
The contrasted figures therefore, instead of being given as.....	$23,332 00	$247,304 00
Should be given as.....	42,153 36	155,095 85
Instead of spending for its legal business over ten times as much as Brooklyn, this city does not spend quite four times as much.
Correcting the per capita calculation of the original statement, viz.,	3 cents.	18 cents.
By these figures it should be	5½ cents.	11⅓ cen s.

But the gross fallacy of this statement of the Council of Political Reform lies in this very per capita comparison. The proposition that the amount of public legal business transacted in the two cities varies directly with their aggregate populations must seem monstrous to any one familiar with the subject. To those unfamiliar with it, the following figures will demonstrate how fallacious is the comparison. These figures are taken from the report on the operations of this Department for the year 1884, made by Mr. Horace E. Deming in May, 1885, and from the printed report of the Corporation Counsel of Brooklyn for the year 1884:

	Brooklyn.	New York.
Arguments in Court of Appeals.....	2	20
Arguments at General Term.....	14	51
Actual trials at Circuit or Special Term.....	32	110
Finally disposed of without actual trial	2	505
Building cases disposed of.....	77	..
Assessment proceedings disposed of	521
New actions at law and suits in equity, also State writs begun during the year..	82	875
Corporation Attorney's suits in District Courts disposed of.....	..	4,287
Special proceedings to collect arrears of personal taxes disposed of.....	..	464

These figures sufficiently show that the Law Department of this city has no reason to apprehend unfavorable criticism, either as to work done or results accomplished, from a comparison with the record of its sister city.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion it is but just that the head of this Department should express his appreciation of the faithfulness, energy and skill with which its subordinate officers have discharged their duties. He may be pardoned the statement that he presents this report of their labors with entire satisfaction at the results accomplished in 1885, and with full confidence that the ensuing year will witness a still greater measure of equally efficient work.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. HENRY LACOMBE, Counsel to the Corporation.

The person or persons making any bid or estimate shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed "Bid or Estimate for Groceries, Dry Goods, Hardware, Lime and Lumber," with their name and address, and the date of presentation, to the head of said Department, at the said office, on or before the day and hour above named, at which time and place the bids or estimates received will be publicly opened by the President of said Department and read.

THE BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTION reserves the right to reject all bids or estimates if deemed to be for the public interest, as provided in section 64, chapter 410, Laws of 1882.

No bid or estimate will be accepted from, or a contract awarded to, any person who is in arrears to the Corporation upon debt, contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the Corporation.

The award of the contract will be made as soon as practicable after the opening of the bids.

Delivery will be required to be made from time to time, and in such quantities as may be directed by the said Commissioners.

Any bidder for this contract must be known to be engaged in and well prepared for the business, and must have satisfactory testimonials to that effect; and the person or persons to whom the contract may be awarded will be required to give security for the performance of this or their bond, with two or three sufficient sureties, in the penal amount of fifty (50) per cent. of the estimated amount of the contract.

Each bid or estimate shall contain and state the name and place of residence of each of the persons making the same; the names of all persons interested with him or them; and if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also that it is made without collusion or fraud; and that no member of the Common Council, Head of a Department, Chief of a Bureau, Deputy thereof or Clerk therein, or other officer of the Corporation in direct or indirect interest therein, or in the supplies or work to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate, that the several matters stated therein are in all respects true. Where more than one person is interested, it is requisite that the verification be made and subscribed by all the parties interested.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in the City of New York, with their respective places of business or residence, to the effect that if the contract be awarded to the person making the estimate, they will, on its being so awarded, become bound as sureties for its faithful performance; and that if he shall omit or refuse to execute the same, they shall pay to the Corporation any difference between the sum to which he would be entitled on the completion and discharge of the contract, or which he may be obliged to pay to the person or persons to whom the contract may be awarded at any subsequent letting; the amount in each case to be calculated upon the estimated amount of the work by which the bids are tested. The consent above mentioned shall be accompanied by the oath or affirmation, in writing, of each of the persons signing the same that he is a householder or freeholder in the City of New York, and is worth the amount of the security required for the completion of this contract, over and above all his debts of every nature, and over and above his liabilities, as bail, surety or otherwise; and that he has offered himself as a surety in good faith and with the intention to execute the bond required by section 12 of chapter 7 of the Revised Ordinances of the City of New York, if the contract shall be awarded to the person or persons for whom he consents to become surety. The adequacy and sufficiency of the security offered, to be approved by the Controller of the City of New York.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless accompanied by either a certified check upon one of the National Banks of the City of New York, drawn to the order of the Controller, for money to the amount of the percentage of the amount of the security required for the faithful performance of the contract. Such check or money must not be enclosed in the sealed envelope containing the estimate, but must be handed to the officer or clerk of the Department who has charge of the estimate-box, and no estimate can be deposited in said box until such check or money has been examined by said officer or clerk and found to be correct. All such deposits, except that of the successful bidder, will be returned to the persons making the same, within three days after the contract is awarded. If the successful bidder shall refuse or neglect, within five days after notice that the contract has been awarded to him, to execute the same, the amount of the deposit made by him shall be forfeited to and be retained by the City of New York, as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal; but if he shall execute the contract within the time aforesaid, the amount of his deposit will be returned to him.

Should the person or persons to whom the contract may be awarded neglect or refuse to accept the contract within five days after written notice that the same has been awarded to him, or that he has refused to accept it, or that he does not execute the contract and give proper security, he or they shall be considered as having abandoned it and as in default to the Corporation, and the contract will be readvertised and relet as provided by law.

The quality of the articles, supplies, goods, wares, and merchandise must conform in every respect to the samples of the same, respectively, at the office of the said Department, and the successful bidder must execute the specifications for particulars of the articles, etc., required, before making their estimates.

Bidders will state the price for each article, by which the bids will be tested.

Bidders will state the amount of their estimate, in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Payment will be made by a requisition on the Comptroller, in accordance with the terms of the contract, from time to time, as the Commissioners may direct.

Bidders are informed that no deviation from the specifications will be allowed, unless under the written instruction of the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction.

No bid or estimate will be accepted from, or a contract awarded to, any person who is in arrears to the Corporation upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the Corporation.

The form of the agreement, including specifications, and showing the manner of payment, can be obtained at the office of the Department.

A new and recently devised system of minuting these adjournments has just been adopted in the Department, so that henceforward it will be possible to record them with absolute accuracy.

RECAPITULATION OF STREET OPENING PROCEEDINGS.

Lineal feet of streets opened, 7,794.23.	Number of motions and appeals adjourned, 136.
Number of acres taken for new parks (Cedar Park), 17.	Number of orders entered, 162.
Total amount of awards, $215,224.70.	Number of actual hearings before Commissioners, 187.
Total amount of assessments, $227,571.76.	Number of proceedings commenced during 1885, 12.
Total number of parcels assessed, 2,006.	Number of proceedings confirmed during 1885, 7.
Total number of city lots assessed, 5,250.3.	Number of proceedings discontinued during 1885, 3.
Number of appeals argued, 3.	Amount of costs in discontinued proceedings, $878.59.
Number of motions argued, 37.	Number of proceedings pending December 31, 1885, 41.

Many proceedings have been delayed by the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment limiting the indebtedness of cities, which prevented this city from issuing bonds to pay for street improvements. This difficulty has been partially met by the passage of the act, being chapter 173 of the Laws of 1885, creating a street opening and park fund to a limited amount, but satisfactory results to all parties can scarcely be obtained without further legislation.

The passage of chapter 550 of the Laws of 1885, on June 12, 1885, requiring that all unimproved land included within the lines of streets, avenues, roads, public squares or places shown and laid out upon any map or maps filed by the Commissioners of the Department of Public Parks pursuant to the provisions of chapter 604 of the Laws of 1874 and the laws amendatory thereof, or of chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, should be exempted from assessment, has caused delay in completing the estimated report in Railroad Avenue, East, as the preliminary assessment included several streets so laid out, and new calculations had to be made by both the surveyor and the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment.

NOTE.—The above statement does not include services performed by me as Secretary for the Board of Street Opening and Improvement. The passage of the act, chapter 185 of the Laws of 1885, giving the Board of Street Opening and Improvement greatly enlarged powers has considerably increased the duties of the Secretary of said Board.

Dated New York, December 31, 1885.

CARROLL BERRY, Clerk of Street Openings.

APPENDIX.

Report of the Attorney for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes for the Year 1885.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY FOR COLLECTION OF ARREARS OF PERSONAL TAXES, {
No. 32 CHAMBERS STREET, NEW YORK, January 9, 1886. }

Hon. E. HENRY LACOMBE, Counsel to the Corporation :

SIR—Herewith I send you my report of the business transacted by this Bureau during the past year.

I have received from the Receiver of Taxes lists of arrears of personal taxes making, in the aggregate, 1,138 delinquents.

The total tax and interest received by me and paid over to the Receiver of Taxes, amounted to the sum of $56,346.74, and total costs paid to the Comptroller, the sum of $534.35, making together $56,881.09. As appears by the report, these amounts have been paid monthly to the Receiver of Taxes, and also to the Comptroller.

I have collected from several delinquents, a part of the tax, amounting in the whole to the sum of $561.35, giving them time to pay the balance, and as each is received in full, will be paid over to the Receiver, in the meantime the amount stands to the credit of the Bureau in the Irving National Bank, also the sum of $1,161.64 to be included in my next monthly returns.

On Schedule "G" will be found a list of banks sent me by the Receiver of Taxes. As the address of the stockholders of each bank is not given, I find it difficult to collect the tax or commence proceedings against them, though, as will be seen by the report, I have succeeded in a few cases, in collecting the tax, being the result of notices sent by mail.

Yours respectfully,

C. S. BEARDSLEY,
Attorney for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes.

Whereas, The power to regulate the use of the streets and sidewalks for signs, sign-posts, awnings, awning-posts, horse-troughs, urinals, telegraph posts and other purposes is vested by law or charter exclusively in the Common Council of this City; and

Whereas, It has been quite recently held by the courts that it is not competent for the Common Council to delegate any of its powers, but they must be regarded as "public powers and trusts, devolved by law or charter upon the Common Council, or governing body, to be exercised by it when and in such manner as it shall judge best, and cannot be delegated to others;" and

Whereas, The ordinance approved February 24, 1866, vesting in the Mayor, the power "to regulate permits for street stands, show-cases, signs, stairways, hoistways and deliveries," and the several amendments thereto; also sections 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290 and 291 of article XXX. of chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1880, and all the amendments thereto, including the resolutions approved April 8, 1884, which went into effect May 1, 1884, delegating this power to the Mayor through the Register of Permits, are clearly illegal, and every such permit so granted is null and void, and of no binding effect; be it therefore

Resolved, That the said ordinance approved February 24, 1866, and the several amendments thereto, "to regulate permits for street stands, show-cases, signs, stairways, hoistways and deliveries;" also sections 281 to 291, inclusive, of article XXX. of chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1880, and the several amendments thereto, including the resolutions approved April 8, 1884, which went into effect May 1, 1884, delegating like powers to the Mayor, through the Register of Permits, be and they are hereby severally and respectively annulled, rescinded and repealed, and the said office of Register of Permits be and is hereby abolished.
