COMMISSIONERS OF ACCOUNTS.

Office of the Commissioners of Accounts, Rooms Nos. 114 and 115, Stewart Building, New York, December 10, 1886.

Hon. W. R. GRACE, Mayor.

SIR—We have the honor to submit the following report upon the result of an examination of the accounts of the Board of Excise, covering the period of time from May 1, 1883, which connects the present examination with a former one made by the Commissioners of Accounts up to December 31, 1855.

31, 1885. The system of accounts had been established with a view to prevent peculation and fraud, and admirably met those requirements. The Cashier, to whom all moneys for license fees were paid, was under bonds in the sum of $40,000, and directly checking his work were three others, one of whom, the Cashier of the bank in which the receipts were deposited daily, and who was, under a request from the Board, to report immediately a failure to deposit, if such should occur; another, the License Clerk, who filled out the carificate in accordance with the application handed him by the Cashier as soon as he had received the fee; and the other, the Treasurer's Clerk, who delivered the certificate to the license: upon his surrendering the Cashier's receipt for the payment of the fee, and who then noted the transaction at length in the Treasurer's cash-book, so that without the collusion of these four persons peculation was impossible.

The stubs of the license books were checked with the Treasurer's cash-book, which resulted in a proper accounting for all the certificates used. In cases where a duplicate certificate had been given to supply the place of one which might have been destroyed by fire or otherwise lost, we found attached to the stub from which it had been taken the affidavit of the licensee setting forth the facts relating to the loss or destruction of the original.

have been destroyed by hre or otherwise tost, we round autorited to the sub-roun duration of the original. Deposits of money with the City Chamberlain were regularly made twice in each month, and up to the date examined the Chamberlain's receipts were found on file for the full amount collected for license fees. Applicants for licenses are required to file bonds for their faithful observance of the Excise law. And as the neighborhood of the oritice of the Board had, for many years, been thronged by a herd of irresponsible people who, for a consideration, would undertake the solerm obligation of a surety, the Commissioners, with a view to the abolishing of this pratice, had passed a resolution prohibiting any one person from becoming surety on more than two separate bonds. However, under the system then existing of indexing the name of the principal with the other facts following, a compliance with this resolution was extremely difficult to enforce, and during the busy season, to ave time, the orelay of the bondsmen had been kept, reference could have been made to such a record with little or no delay. The accompanying statements will show the number of licenses of each class which were issued around received for fees, together with the dates and amounts of the several transfers of this money to the City Chamberlain. The decrease, from year to year, in the number of licenses of the firth Class (fee, 575), which adds the privilege of selling spirituous liquors, has materially swelled the receipts, and is due to the persistent refused of the Commissioners to issue a license is sued of the Board was called to this delete the Class of the first class of the 575, which adds the privilege of selling spirituous liquors, has materially swelled the receipts, and is due to the persistent refused of the Commissioners to issue a license of the first class to any person who had spirituous liquor exposed in his place of business. The attention of the Board was called to this deleted by the Commissioners of Accounts while enga

of the Board was called to this defect by the Commissioners of Accounts while engaged in their former examination. The City has lost annually a considerable sum of money on account of the periods of time for which licenses to the same party were issued year after year, not being continuous. A lapse of time had occurred in nearly every case between the date of the expiration of a license and the date of issuing a renewal, this interval, varying from a few days in some cases to months in others, and as each license continued in effect for one year from the date of issue and not from the date of expiration of the former license, the City received no return for the privilege which the dealer enjoyed during this interval.

each Beense continued in effect tor one year non-new for the privilege which the dealer enjoyed during of the former license, the City received no return for the privilege which the dealer enjoyed during this interval. Since May of the present year, the business of this office has been under the control of three Commissioners, who were then appointed to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of those who had held office during the period covered by our examination. Therefore, in view of the complications which existed about the time that this change was made, we have thought proper, before concluding this report, to visit the office of the Board of Excise for the purpose of ascertaining its present method of conducting the business. And we find a different system to be in operation, but which cannot be considered an alteration, for it was established anew by the present Board while in ignorance of the official routine of its predecessors in office. The innovations are all good and will tend toward accurate and honest results. A very admirable change is noticeable in issuing renewals of licenses. A present the date of the certificate of renewal is identical with the date of the expiration of the license of the official outine of lape of time between licenses. The "Index of Bondsmen" is, however, in form the same as heretofore in use, and recom-mendation was made that a supplementary index be keep to the names of the bondsmen only, with a reference to the lolio of the principal index for details. Very respectively. W. P. SHEARMAN, J. B. ADAMSON, Commissioners of Accounts.

Action of the Committee approved. The Special Committee appointed to examine into the character and value of the services rendered by Mr. James W. McCulloh, reported that they had given the matter considerable time and attention, and found that while Secretary. Mr. McCulloh performed duties outside of those belong-ing to his office, in connection with acquiring real estate for aqueduct purposes; and that inasmuch as there was a large amount of unfinished business relating to said real estate in his hands at the time he ceased to be the Secretary of the Commission, his continuance in the service of the Commis-sion was deemed advisable and necessary, because of his peculiar fitness for the duties in which he engaged concerning the real estate heretofore and hereafter to be taken for aqueduct purposes; and recommended the adoption of the following resolution. Resolved, That James W. McCulloh be and he is hereby continued in the service of the Aqueduct Commissioners as: "Special Assistant to the Chife Engineer," as provided in the resolu-tion adopted July 28, 1886, for and during the will and pleasure of the Aqueeduc Commissioners, with compensation at the rate of $5,000 per annum, to date from and after December 31, 1886, and that he be assigned to the service, control and direction of the Committee on Real Estate with regard to all matters pertaining to real estate under the charge of said Committee, as provided in by the Aqueduct Commissioners.
