PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD, HELD IN NO. 320 BROADWAY, ON THURSDAY, 5TH MARCH, 1903.

There were present—Alexander E. Orr, President, presiding; John H. Starin, Vice-President; Mayor Seth Low, Comptroller Edward M. GROUT and Commissioners Woodbury Langdon and John Claffin.

Edward M. Shepard and Albert B. Boardman, Counsel; Wm. Barclay Parsons, Chief Engineer, and George S. Rice, Deputy Chief Engineer, also were present.

The minutes of the preceding meeting, that of February 26, were read, and it was moved that they be approved.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioner Langdon.

Nays—None. Carried.

The President reported that there were many applications for further hearings on the comprehensive plans of the Chief Engineer for rapid transit in Manhattan, The Bronx and Queens boroughs, and the following resolution was moved by the Mayor:

Resolved, That a further hearing on the comprehensive plans for the boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Queens, submitted by the Chief Engineer, be announced for next Thursday, 12th instant, at 2:30 p. m.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioner Langdon.

Nays—None. Carried.

The Comptroller moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Engineer be directed to prepare as an alternative to the proposed Lexington avenue extension, an east side subway on some other avenue than Lexington avenue, running from The Bronx to the lower end of Manhattan, capable of extension to Brooklyn, and capable of construction and operation independent of the present subway.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioner Langdon.

Nays—None. Carried.

The President reported that he had conferred with Mr. Onderdonk, of the New York Tunnel Company, as authorized by the Board at its last meeting, and that Mr. Onderdonk had expressed his willingness to contribute the larger portion of the amount asked by the property owners in front of whose premises in Joralemon street he is desirous of placing the two shafts. The President said, however, that other property owners on the block had spoken to him of the matter, and that he had invited them to meet at his house at 4 p. m. on next Saturday, at which time Mr. Onderdonk will also be present.

At this point Mr. Claffin arrived.

The President presented petition signed by Judson Lawson and others with respect to station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Eighth avenue, which was read, as follows:

NEW YORK, February 27, 1903.

To the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners:

GENTLEMEN—Your resolution of January 15, in relation to the One Hundred and Fourth Street and Central Park West Station postponing the commencing of work on the same till April 1, 1903, is satisfactory to the undersigned, if it is in good faith and the station can be built after that time, but on investigation we are satisfied and are ready to demonstrate to you that now is the time, if this station is to be built, that the work should be going on as the tunnel work referred to by the contractor remaining to be done can undoubtedly be going on at the same time as the station work without any material delay, and the station can be completed as soon as the other work on this branch. We here attach our report of a prominent engineer, and if this is not sufficient we can give you further proof of other expert engineers or practical workers. Further, there are the stations on Lenox avenue, which cannot be completed in less than six or eight months, and for some of which, we understand, the iron has not been delivered as yet. We have no fault to find with the contractor, as he, no doubt, has some object of his own for the delaying of the building of this station or not building it at all, as, no doubt, his interest ends with the construction of the railroad. But the public and the residents of this vicinity will feel the inconvenience for all time, and we believe that your honorable commission has the interests of the public in mind rather than the contention of the contractor. We think, also, that you are misled by some of your employees as well as by the statement of the contractor.

To conclude, we should at least get a fair and frank decision that the station will or will not be built, and it does not seem to us that the station can be abandoned on the pretext of time or interference with other work; nor do we think that the contractor would put himself in the position of saying that he could not build this station and do the other work without one interfering much with the other. If he will, the public and ourselves have been deceived in his great judgment in planning and his abilities in accomplishing much more difficult tasks.

Therefore, we respectfully ask that the work on the station be commenced without further delay.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JUDSON LAWSON, etc., etc., etc.

The Comptroller then presented the following report of the Engineer of the Finance Department on this subject, with the report of Professor Burr, which were read, as follows:

March 5, 1903.

Hon. EDWARD M. GROUT, Comptroller:

SIR—In reply to the communications of Judson Lawson, of February 16 and February 27, the latter enclosing a report of Prof. Wm. H. Burr, in regard to the feasibility and practicability of building an additional station upon the Rapid Transit Railroad at Central Park West and One Hundred and Fourth street, I would report:

The excavation of the tunnel between One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue, and Central Park West and One Hundred and Fourth street has been fully completed, and the arch or completed tunnel construction has been carried from One Hundred and Tenth street to a point within 225 feet of the One Hundred and Fourth street shaft, or about the limit of the proposed station on the easterly end.

The work of excavation on the tunnel to the west of the shaft at Central Park West is about three-quarters finished, after which the arch construction will have to be made.

A station at Central Park West will necessitate a change of grade, if the length of the station is to be on a level, but this can be accomplished without interfering materially with the completed work.

Mr. Parsons, in his report to the Board on January 8, 1903, has given it as his opinion that the building of a station at this point will delay the east side tunnel six months, and that this east side line is one that will be first required for the use of rolling stock when received, delivery of which is due during May.

Mr. Burr, in his report, states that "If the station were to be built, additional width of tunnel excavation amounting to 13 feet on either side of the track would have to be made, involving the removal of about 9,000 cubic yards of rock. The tunnel between Broadway and the intersection of One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West is but partially excavated, the amount of rock yet to be taken out being about double that still to be excavated at the One Hundred and Fourth street station, i. e., about 18,000 cubic yards.

"There is no material reason so far as engineering or structural operations are concerned why the One Hundred and Fourth street station work should not proceed immediately and be completed concurrently with the other portions of the contract.

"Finally, its construction may be begun at any time without in any way conflicting with other work, and its completion may be attained not later than the completion of other portions of the same contract."

It appears to me that it is possible the extra excavation necessary for the station can be carried on simultaneously with the excavation and completion of the tunnel to the west of the Central Park shaft and the excavated material taken out from the shaft at Central Park West, and also at One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue, without delaying the opening of this part of the tunnel line, provided, of course, that such work is immediately commenced and carried on both day and night, without interruption.

Respectfully,

(Signed) EUG. E. McLEAN.

NEW YORK, February 23, 1903.

Hon. JUDSON LAWSON, Chairman, etc., New York City:

DEAR SIR—You have requested me to examine the location of the proposed Rapid Transit Subway Station at Central Park West and One Hundred and Fourth street, and report to you whether there may be objections of an engineering character against the location of a station at that point, or whether such a station is advisable in view of other engineering features of the construction, or for any reason of a material or substantial character connected with the public interests to be served by the Rapid Transit Subway in that vicinity.

As you are aware, a local station at the intersection of Central Park West and One Hundred and Fourth street is contemplated in the present plans of the Rapid Transit Railway Commission, but you advise me that its construction will not be undertaken until April 1 or some later date.

In the examination of this question I have made a careful scrutiny not only of the contract plans of the Rapid Transit Railway Commission, but also, of the Rapid Transit Tunnel at the point in question in its present state of partial completion, and I have further ascertained about the additional quantity of rock necessary to be excavated in the construction of the local station in question. As a resident of West Seventy-fourth street I am also familiar with the vicinity of this station and of the needs which would be served by it.

The intersection of One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West is about 2,400 feet from the station located at One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue; it is also about 4,100 feet distant from the station at Ninety-sixth street and Broadway, these two stations being nearest, one in a northeasterly direction and the other in a southwesterly direction to the point first named. The distance from the Ninety-sixth street station, therefore, measured along the line of the Rapid Transit Subway to the One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue station is about 6,500 feet, or nearly a mile and a quarter. This distance is much longer than that between consecutive stations in other similar portions of the city, and is much too far to give the accommodation required by the residents of this vicinity, particularly in view of the fact that Central Park West is a street of great foot and pleasure traffic and with electric surface lines. This traffic would naturally and necessarily be tributary to a station at One Hundred and Fourth street, and it will be greatly inconvenienced in its absence. Without this station that portion of the foot traffic along Central Park West or in this general vicinity desiring the accommodation of the subway would be compelled to seek either the station at One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue or that at Ninety-sixth street and Broadway, about one-half mile in the one direction and more than three-quarters of a mile in the other measured along the line of the subway, and fully one-third greater measured along streets at right angles to each other. It is my judgment therefore that a station on the line of the Rapid Transit Subway is urgently needed at One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West for the accommodation of the people seeking it.

Furthermore, the tunnel between the Ninety-sixth street and the One Hundred and Tenth street stations would have no place of exit between these stations, a distance of over a mile and a quarter, in case of accident to a train between those points. While this may not be regarded of great moment from some points of view, it might easily be a matter of most serious consideration. A deep tunnel over a mile and a quarter in length with no point of exit between its extremities is not without its grave dangers when traversed daily by thousands or tens of thousands of people. A feature which might under such circumstances add substantial relief to the exigencies of an accident should be most carefully considered before being rejected; indeed, it should not be rejected at all unless such rejection can be most clearly justified.

I find on examining the contract plans that the grade of the roadbed at this station is 1.04 per cent, i. e., 1.04 feet per 100 feet descending in passing northeasterly to One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue. At the site of the station the line is also curved with a radius of 573.69 feet. Neither such curvature nor grade are obstacles of moment to the location of a station. It is customary along the line of the Rapid Transit Subway so to adjust the grade on either side of the station that the track at the station itself shall be level. It is entirely feasible to introduce this feature of grade at One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West precisely as it has been introduced at other stations.

The contract plans show the following features of grade and curvature at the stations indicated, and a considerable number more might be cited if those were not sufficient. The station at Park avenue and Twenty-eighth street is approached from the south by a 1.5 per cent. grade, while that at Thirty-third street and Park avenue is approached by a 2.01 per cent. grade from the north. The station on Forty-second street between Vanderbilt and Madison avenues is on a curve with only 250 feet radius and is approached from the south by a 1.3 per cent. grade. At Broadway and Forty-second street the station is on a curve of 458 feet radius and is approached from the north by a down grade of .64 per cent., which becomes a 1 per cent. grade east of the station. Finally the station at Ninety-first street and Broadway is approached from the south on a 2 per cent. grade.

The grades and curves therefore found at One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West may be considered quite ordinary in view of those found at other stations on the line; indeed, they are not of sufficient consequence to affect sensibly the feasibility of a station at the point in question.

The tunnel, starting from the station at One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue, is completed down to the easterly extremity of the station at One Hundred and Fourth street, and nearly the entire floor of that station is now concreted. If the station were to be built, additional width of tunnel excavation amounting to thirteen feet on either side of the track would have to be made, involving the removal of about 9,000 cubic yards of rock. The tunnel between Broadway and the intersection of One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West is but partially excavated, the amount of rock yet to be taken out being about double that still to be excavated at the One Hundred and Fourth street station, i. e., about 18,000 cubic yards. There is therefore ample opportunity to adjust the grade, if desired, so as to make it level at the station without disturbing any completed work other than that of the concrete floor immediately at the station. I find, further, that the additional excavation of rock required for the construction of the station can be carried on concurrently with that in the tunnel westerly of the station with entire freedom. The contractor's railroad track and other plant can be operated or handled in such a way as to prosecute the work both in the station and westerly of it without any material conflict and, hence, without delays. There is no material reason, so far as engineering or structural operations are concerned, why the One Hundred and Fourth Street Station work should not proceed immediately and be completed concurrently with the other portions of the contract.

To sum up the whole matter, therefore, in answer to your inquiries, it is my judgment that a local station is much needed at One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West, and that the circumstances of grade and alignment are much more favorable to it than at a considerable number of other stations along the line. Finally, its construction may be begun at any time without in any way conflicting with other work, and its completion may be attained not later than the completion of other portions of the same contract.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) WM. H. BURR, Consulting Engineer.

The Comptroller moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the contractor be directed to proceed forthwith with the construction of the station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Eighth avenue, in accordance with the resolution of the Board locating the station there.

This was not seconded.

The Mayor moved the following resolution, which was seconded by the Vice-President:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer be requested to report fully on the matter of the station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Eighth avenue at the next meeting of the Board.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The following letter was presented and read:

NEW YORK, March 5, 1903.

A. E. ORR, Esq., President, Rapid Transit Board, No. 320 Broadway, New York:

DEAR SIR—I beg leave to suggest to the Board to pass a resolution directing the contractor to put on a second shift on excavation on that portion of the work between Park avenue and Broadway along Forty-second street, and to maintain such shift continuously at all points where excavation remains to be done, until such excavation is finished.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

The following resolution was moved by Commissioner Langdon and seconded by the President:

Resolved, That the contractor be and he is hereby directed to at once put on a second shift on excavation on that portion of his work from Park avenue to Broadway, and to maintain such additional shift continuously at all points where excavation remains to be done until such excavation is complete along Forty-second street.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The following letter of the Corporation Counsel was read and ordered on the minutes:

February 27, 1903.

ALEXANDER E. ORR, Esq., President Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

DEAR SIR—I beg to advise you that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, on the 25th instant, announced its decision in the case of Fowler vs. The City of New York and others, dismissing the appeal and affirming in all respects the decree of the Circuit Court, which dismissed the bill of complaint for want of equity.

The case as you will remember was an equity action for the threatened infringement of letters patent granted to one Benjamin F. Carpenter for a "bi-transit railway system." It was asserted that the rapid transit subway road now being built infringed the patent in question.

The opinion of the Court of Appeals on the subject is most satisfactory and concludes, I believe, this litigation.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) G. L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel.

Counsel spoke of the necessity for the adoption by the Board of the modification of the route and general plan with respect to the easterly section of the Park avenue tunnel, so that it might be presented for action to the Board of Aldermen, Mayor and Appellate Division.

Counsel reported that sufficient consents of property owners to the proposed change of route at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street had been obtained, so that with the consent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company the work could proceed. He presented form of consent which that company would sign. It was as follows:

To the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York:

Referring to the routes and general plan of construction adopted by said Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners on the 14th day of January, 1897, and to the plans and conclusions therewith, all of which were on or about the 2d day of March, 1897, transmitted by said Board to the Common Council of The City of New York, and referring also to the Resolutions adopted by said Board on the 25th day of June, 1902, and thereupon transmitted to the Board of Aldermen of the present City of New York, providing for the modification of the said routes, general plan of construction, plans and conclusions, by substituting for certain streets or portions of streets in the said routes the following streets or portions of streets and private property, to wit: East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, from a point at or near its intersection with Third avenue to its intersection with Bergen avenue; Bergen avenue, at or near its intersection with East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street; Gerard street, between its intersection with Bergen avenue and its intersection with East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street; Brook avenue, at or near its intersection with Westchester avenue; and private property where, according to said modified routes, general plan of construction, plans and conclusions, said railroad runs under or over private property in the block bounded by Bergen avenue, Gerard street and East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, and in the block bounded by Bergen avenue, Westchester avenue, Brook avenue, East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Gerard street, the undersigned of No. _____ in the _____ of _____, being owner of property on the _____ side of _____ in the Borough of The Bronx, in The City of New York, along and bounded on the said _____ side of the said _____ and known as Lot No. _____, Block No. _____, on the block map of taxes and assessments of The City of New York, filed in the office of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments in the Borough of The Bronx, in The City of New York, in the year 1898, does hereby consent to the construction and operation of a rapid transit railway in The City of New York, according to the said routes, general plan of construction, plans and conclusions transmitted as aforesaid by said Board to the Common Council of The City of New York, but modified as aforesaid.

This consent is in no way to be deemed a release or waiver of any right the undersigned may have, whether now or hereafter, for any property or easement taken by reason of the construction or operation of the said railroad through the said premises or any part thereof, and the said The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company hereby reserves to itself, its successors and assigns each and every legal right which it has or may have to compensation for any damage which may be done or which may result to it or to the said lands or any lands owned or occupied by it by or by reason of the construction or operation of such railroad in front of the said property above named, the right to and the extent of such compensation and the enforcement thereof being unaffected by this instrument, the sole intent and purpose of this instrument being the giving of the consent required by the Constitution and Statutes of the State of New York.

Dated the _____ day of February, 1903.

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF _____, ss.:

On this _____ day of _____, 1903, before me personally came to me known and known to me to be the person described in and who executed the foregoing consent, and duly acknowledged to me that he executed the same.

(Form of consent proposed by N. Y. Central & H. R. R. Co., and to be acted on at first meeting of the Board of Directors.)

The Comptroller moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Counsel be authorized to accept the consent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company in the form proposed.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The Comptroller presented the following resolutions, which were read:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this Board discretion ought to be vested in the Rapid Transit Commissioners to contract for the construction of municipal railways without at the same time contracting for the equipment and operation thereof, and to subsequently contract for such equipment and for such operation, or, if the public interests shall then be best served by so doing, to provide for the operation of such railways by the City.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Commission the exemption from taxation now enjoyed by the persons or corporation contracting to construct the municipal subway, in respect to their or its interest under the contract and in respect to the rolling stock and other equipment of the road, ought not in the interests of the taxpayers of the City to be continued in respect to any contracts hereafter made.

On the suggestion of the President, no action was taken on these two resolutions, and they were referred to the President as a committee to confer with the Mayor on the subject.

The following resolution was moved:

Resolved, That this Board hereby authorizes, subject to the consent of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, the transfer of title of the following, and hereby authorizes the Secretary to make the necessary request of the Civil Service Commission:

Name.	Title.	Salary.	To Take Effect.
John T. Dowd.....	Present Title. Axeman.....	Present Salary. $720 00	1st March.
	Future Title. Rodman.....	Future Salary. $960 00

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

The Chief Engineer spoke of a difficulty at the private property on the northwest corner of Elm and Worth streets, where machinery belonging to an electric light company at that point (the New York Edison Company), and used by the owner of the property, occupied a portion of the vault which was needed for the subway. He said the expense of removing the machinery from the vault into the private property and there properly setting it up would be about $300, and that the company had refused to move it, and the contractors also refused. The Counsel explained the law as to vaults, whereupon the following resolution was moved:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer require the contractors to safely remove the machinery occupying the vault in front of the private property at the northwest corner of Elm and Worth streets and deposit the same on such private property; but that, in view of the law as heretofore determined for this Board, the contractor be not required to incur any material expense in setting up the machinery in its new place.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The President reported that he had signed certificate extending to the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company additional time, till 26th day of May, to obtain certain consents, as follows:

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York did by certificate dated the 9th day of October, 1902, authorize the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company, a railroad corporation duly incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, to construct and operate a certain tunnel railroad or railroads in The City of New York; and

Whereas, The said certificate, duly executed by the Board, was delivered by the Board to the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company, which company on the 5th day of November, 1902, duly accepted the franchise and all the terms, conditions and requirements thereof by an instrument in writing; and

Whereas, By the terms and conditions and requirements of the said certificate, it was provided that if the Board should so determine, the franchise thereby granted should become void, unless the said company should, within three calendar months after the delivery to the Board of the acceptance of the said certificate by the said company, obtain or receive the consent and approval of the Board of Aldermen of The City of New York, together with the approval of the Mayor of the City, and also the consents of the Department of Docks and Ferries and the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the said City, if and so far, if at all, as such consents or either of them might be necessary to the construction, maintenance and operation of the said railroad or railroads, or any part thereof, under docks or other property belonging to The City of New York; and

Whereas, In said certificate it was further provided that if the Board should so determine the franchise thereby granted, should become void unless the said company should within one year after the time of the acceptance of the certificate by the said company obtain the consents of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on each portion of the streets under or through which the railroad or any part of the routes thereof runs to the construction and operation of the railroad or such part thereof, or in case the consent of such property owners cannot be obtained, then the determination of Commissioners, to be appointed pursuant to law by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department or the Second Department (as the case may be), that such portion of the railroad ought to be constructed and operated, the said determination of such Commissioners, when confirmed by the Appellate Division which shall have appointed such Commissioners, to be taken in lieu of such consent of property owners; and

Whereas, Three calendar months have elapsed since the date of the delivery of the said certificate, and the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company states that it has obtained the consents of the Board of Aldermen, together with the approval of the Mayor of the City, the consents of the Department of Docks and Ferries and the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the City, but has not obtained the other consents or approvals in and by said certificate required; and

Whereas, Reasonable cause has been shown by said Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company to the said Board why such consents have not been obtained within three calendar months;

Therefore the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York does hereby certify that the time of the Pennsylvania, New York and Long Island Railroad Company to obtain or receive the various consents and approvals required by the certificate or franchise of this Board to said railroad company, dated October 9, 1902, be and the same hereby is extended to the 26th day of May, 1903.

In witness whereof this certificate has been prepared by the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York, by and upon a concurrent vote of at least six members of the said Board, and is now attested by the signature of its President, who is its presiding officer, and by the signature of its Secretary, this 4th day of March, 1903.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD, HELD IN NO. 320 BROADWAY, ON THURSDAY, 12TH MARCH, 1903.

There were present—Alexander E. Orr, President, presiding; John H. Starin, Vice-President; Mayor Seth Low, Comptroller Edward M. Grout and Commissioners Woodbury Langdon and John Claffin.

Albert B. Boardman, of Counsel; William Barclay Parsons, Chief Engineer, and George S. Rice, Deputy Chief Engineer, also were present.

The President reported that the property owners on the block between Henry street and Garden place, on Joralemon street, had met in his house on last Saturday, and that Mr. Onderdonk had been present, but that the meeting had not been entirely satisfactory. The following letter of the New York Tunnel Company was read:

NEW YORK, March 11, 1903.

ALEXANDER E. ORR, Esq., President, Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, Produce Exchange Building, New York:

DEAR SIR—In reply to your request that I put in writing the matters relating to the location of the shafts of the Brooklyn Tunnel, in conformity with what I stated to the property holders assembled at your residence last Saturday, I take pleasure in complying with the same, as follows:

The reason we applied for permission to put down the shafts between Henry street and Garden place was because that location is the nearest point to the river in which the shafts can be safely installed and started. If we go to the beginning of our contract, at Clinton place, it will make a detention of four months in construction, and if we go west of Garden place the lower portion of the shaft will be in ground under high water and dangerous in a high degree to the workmen; and in case of a "blow-out" in the sand (an almost certain contingency) settlement to surrounding buildings will occur to within quite a radius of the shaft. The delays in putting down the shafts east of Garden place would also consume a greater time than it would take to reach Furman street from the site applied for.

At Furman street we propose to put down two small working shafts under air pressure and connect them with the tunnel at that point. It is perfectly feasible to sink these shafts under air pressure, but it is not feasible to install the shields and get them in operation.

In our opinion, and in that of our engineers, the residents exaggerate the amount of annoyance that these shafts will occasion. To begin with, the shafts will be located opposite vacant property. The hoisting apparatus will be operated by compressed air and the exhaust would be in the tunnel, and there would be no more noise after the first few feet of shaft are driven than would occur in the operation of the elevators of a building. There would be no teaming whatever at night. The teaming would be done in the daytime. The cars would be held in the tunnel with their loads, and hoisted and dumped on wagons during the daytime only. The work done at night would be away below the surface and noiseless. In order to further accommodate the residents, we would place tan bark on the block where the shafts are located. Whenever it is dusty the street will be kept watered, and the men will be enjoined against shouting or loud talking.

At the last directors' meeting of our company I brought up the question of these shafts, and although there was a feeling that we should be accorded the right to carry on the work with the least risk to life and damage to buildings, still, at my request, authority was given to our president to make some compensation to the property owners, for the reason that we are under a large expense for administration and these delays are expensive to us. There is not only a loss of interest on our capital account, but there are the salaries for the officers, superintendents, engineers, etc.

I may say to you that when you thought we could get the property of Mr. Otis and Mrs. Donaldson (owners of the vacant plots) at an aggregate of five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500) our company were willing that I should contribute three thousand dollars ($3,000) toward this amount; but since then, other objectors having appeared and the expense seemingly is likely to increase, in order to pacify the residents our company is willing to pay the sum of five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500), as a limit, towards this object, but feel that the City should supplement it with whatever amount, in the wisdom of its representatives, would be fair.

In conclusion I wish to call your attention to the fact that within nine months from the time we start the shafts (between Garden place and Henry street) we will have our connection on Furman street, and will be able to take the material after that away from the tunnel at that point, and the shafts at the site applied for can at once be obliterated and that will be the extent of any inconvenience to the property owners.

I believe the engineers have demonstrated to you the correctness of my statements in regard to the danger of attempting to install and start the shields under air pressure.

I send you with this a sketch showing the water line and the tunnels. I remain, Yours very truly,

NEW YORK TUNNEL COMPANY.

(Signed) A. ONDERDONK, Contractor.

An engineer of the company explained to the Board the necessity and the workings of the shafts. The Mayor moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That when the proposal of Mr. Onderdonk has been put into legal form by the Counsel, the Engineer be instructed to give the necessary permit for the two shafts required in Joralemon street.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claffin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Letter of L. S. and A. M. Bing, attorneys, representing owners of property at the southwest corner of Elm and Bleecker streets, dated 9th inst., requesting permission to examine certain photographs and other data of the Board as to the course of the work in that vicinity, was presented and Counsel reported that the request was a reasonable and proper one and should be complied with. The following resolution was moved by the Mayor:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer of this Board be and he hereby is authorized, in this and all other similar cases, to furnish the information desired to any applicant making the demand at a reasonable time and subject to the convenience of his own office.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claffin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

Counsel reported that the consent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company to the One Hundred and Forty-ninth street change of route would soon be obtained.

The President reported that he had conferred with the Mayor, as requested by the Board, on the subject of proposed legislation, and that the Mayor had prepared a letter directed to the President, which would be given to the press on this subject in a day or two.

The President then announced a further hearing on comprehensive plans for rapid transit in Manhattan and The Bronx.

David L. Einstein, representing dry goods interests, presented petitions protesting against the proposed Wooster and Church street route, and favoring West Broadway. Former Justice Ernest Hall sent word that he represented many large dry goods concerns, and would like to be heard on this subject at some future time.

Former State Senator John Ford said he hoped all elevated structures could eventually be removed from the streets, and downtown the surface cars as well, and the streets in this section given over entirely to commerce. He thought section 32 of the Rapid Transit Act should be amended to give the Commission power so that additions to the present subway system could be constructed by private capital. As to future subways, he thought the law should be amended as provided by the Elsborg bill now in the Assembly, so that the power to contract separately for construction and operation would lie with the Board. A. Wiggers spoke in opposition to the Lexington avenue extension, and Isaac Boehm spoke in favor of it.

The Chief Engineer then presented the following report on a comprehensive plan for rapid transit for Brooklyn and Queens:

New York, March 12, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

Sir—On February 19 I laid before the Board a plan for extending the existing rapid transit facilities of the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, and for creating new facilities where there seemed to be greatest immediate demand, and at the same time explained to the Board that I would, within three weeks, submit another plan covering the Borough of Brooklyn, as the latter could be more intelligently treated if considered on its own merits. Such a plan I now beg leave to submit for your consideration. When the two plans and their accompanying reports are combined the instructions of the Board directing the Chief Engineer to prepare a comprehensive plan of rapid transit extension for the whole City of New York will have been complied with.

When the Rapid Transit Board was organized its jurisdiction extended over the City of New York, as it then existed, a territory now included within what is the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, and it was not until the limits of the City were extended so as to include the City of Brooklyn, Richmond County and a part of Queens County, that the Board had any power to deal with the last-named territories. It is for this reason that the work of the Board is found to be in a more advanced condition in Manhattan. As soon as possible after consolidation was effected the Board took up the question of extending the subway system across the East river, and pushed forward as rapidly as possible the work of preparing plans and securing the necessary consents. In due course a most advantageous contract was let, and such work is now actually in progress. When this second contract is completed the municipality will own a subway system extending from the Borough of The Bronx, passing the whole length of Manhattan to the intersection of Flatbush and Atlantic avenues in Brooklyn, with a total length of railway of 24.1 miles, over which passengers can ride in through cars for a uniform fare of five cents, and with both express and local service over the greater portion of the route.

Owing to the fact that until recently the municipalities of New York and Brooklyn were quite separate, there have been developed in the two cities two distinct systems of transportation facilities without any correlation, in each case as if the other city did not exist, and as if neither city had any relation with the other. In consequence we have the great network of railway lines of Brooklyn, consisting of 30 miles of elevated railway and 479 miles of surface railway (the latter expressed as single track) focused to one bridge with one pair of tracks for elevated trains and one pair of tracks for surface cars. These four tracks carry annually about 110,000,000 passengers, the greatest burden of traffic carried by any railway in the world. This extraordinary condition produces not only a congestion at the Manhattan terminus of the bridge that is a disgrace to municipal management and modern technical skill, but it also inflicts on the great majority of the passengers a tremendous burden of inconvenience in depositing them at a point considerably remote from their points of ultimate destination. However important a centre may be the City Hall, it is evident that only a small portion of the people coming from Brooklyn have their places of business in that immediate vicinity, the others being obliged to go by foot or vehicle to other points in the wholesale and financial districts extending from, say, Bowling Green to Grand street.

In considering any plan for the relief of Brooklyn—for however great is the need of relief from the present lack of transit facilities in Manhattan, similar relief for Brooklyn is quite as pressing—the question of congestion at the Manhattan terminus of the Brooklyn Bridge stands pre-eminent. The capacity of the bridge and the clogging of the avenues leading to it in Brooklyn limit the capacity of all lines in Brooklyn. With increased capacity of outlet every elevated and surface track could immediately carry more trains or cars.

To afford such relief certain improvements are in hand, and some nearing completion. The subway system is already being extended as above explained; the Williamsburg Bridge is nearly finished, and the Manhattan Bridge is well begun. When these works are completed by the City, at a tremendous cost, the opportunities will be presented to materially improve the situation. In order that such improvement shall be thoroughly effective some plan must be devised to bring the new bridges into harmonious relation with the transportation facilities. Such a plan has not hitherto been devised.

Many plans have been proposed for improving the conditions existing on the Brooklyn Bridge, but no entirely satisfactory plan has ever been devised, for the reason that no plan has ever been proposed sufficiently drastic or comprehensive as to provide a definite solution. Every plan has included some makeshift alteration of the bridge. As originally designed, twenty-five years ago, the bridge was intended to carry one pair of tracks in the centre, on which trains were to be run to and fro across the bridge, with an estimated capacity of 30,000,000 passengers annually, a figure not realized for many years. After a time the inconvenience of changing cars at the Brooklyn end, and the burden of paying two fares, led the City authorities, very wisely, from the point of view of the public, to lease the bridge railway to the local railway company, thus permitting it to run its elevated railway trains direct to the Manhattan terminus, and to place tracks on the bridge roadways for the surface trolley cars. These roadways, wide enough for vehicular traffic, if given up wholly to that purpose as originally planned, are seriously overburdened with both cars and vehicles; as the former, being on fixed lines, necessarily impede, and are impeded by the latter. To obviate this last difficulty it has been proposed to reconstruct the bridge superstructure at a cost to the City of more than $2,000,000. The bridge is now carrying nearly four times as many railway passengers as the original utmost maximum estimated capacity, with a similarly increased vehicular traffic. It is simply impossible for the present structure to perform this service properly.

One plan that has been proposed for bridge relief took into account one of the great defects, namely, the congestion at the bridge end, to relieve which it was thought necessary to build distributing railways north and south. This was the plan recommended by Messrs. Prout, Boller and Whinnery. The railway extensions proposed were elevated, however, thus inviting hostile attack by abutting property owners; and they also failed to recognize the limitations of the bridge itself.

Inasmuch as the most important details in the solution of the Brooklyn problem are the utilization of the bridges and distribution instead of congestion in Manhattan, they should be given first place in the consideration of the question. As more people can be carried in train units than in car units the facilities for distributing people by the Brooklyn elevated trains should be developed as much as possible, and arrangements made to utilize both the Williamsburg and Manhattan bridges, the western termini of which, however, are too far away from the great commercial centres to be reached conveniently without special transportation lines. After a very careful study of the Brooklyn Bridge, and after studying all the plans already proposed and making many others, I am convinced that it should be restored to its original purpose and cease to be a factor in the handling of elevated trains. As it can only be made use of by some makeshift plan, it is better to face the problem with all its difficulties and create a new plan adapted to the requirements of to-day.

To this end I beg leave to propose the following:

In connection with the Brooklyn end of the Manhattan Bridge, the City authorities propose to construct a new thoroughfare along the axis of the bridge produced to the intersection of Fulton street and Flatbush avenue. Such a street intersects or reaches all the elevated lines now running to the Brooklyn Bridge. When the Manhattan Bridge is completed spurs from the elevated lines will be run over the bridge. The topography of the ground in Brooklyn is such that a connection can also be made with every elevated line so that it will run into a subway without serious interference with cross streets. Such a subway can be carried under Nassau and Orange streets and the East river to Maiden lane in Manhattan with a station near William street. From this station one line can run across the City via Cortlandt street to West street, and another line along William street, diagonally under the present bridge structure to Park Row, thence to Centre street, to Grand street, and then under private property to the end of the Williamsburg Bridge at Delancey street, where, with but little alteration in the bridge structure, the subway tracks can be connected with the elevated tracks on the bridge. This will provide a loop for the elevated railways of Brooklyn by way of the Williamsburg Bridge and this second Brooklyn tunnel. With this subway a similar connection can be made with the elevated tracks on the Manhattan Bridge when the latter is completed, thus providing a second loop. This subway should have two tracks everywhere, except along Centre street, where there should be four. Stations could be located at William street, Fulton street, Brooklyn Bridge, Worth street, Canal street and Grand street, and at Church street and West street on the Hudson river branch. As the delays due to cross-switching at the terminal would be done away with, more elevated trains and longer ones could be run through the tunnel than on the present bridge, and by providing the above-named stations, or others equally convenient, Brooklyn travelers would be delivered at six stations instead of at one, as at present, and be distributed along the whole length of the east side of the commercial district in through trains at a single fare (also at two stations on the west side). For such passengers as desire to go to points north of Delancey street one or other of the two lines connects with every transportation line in Manhattan. The gradients in the tunnel are distinctly less than those on the Brooklyn Bridge. This plan proposes circulation of movement between the two new bridges and the proposed tunnel.

When the elevated trains are removed from the Brooklyn Bridge the trolley cars can be transferred from the roadways to the original bridge tracks, and thus restore the roadways to the exclusive use of vehicles. Additional terminal loops for the trolley cars have been ordered for the Manhattan end of the bridge. When they are completed the terminal congestion will be greatly reduced, and when the cars themselves are freed from vehicle interference, a more rapid and better service in every way can be furnished by the railway company. The City also will be saved the expense of reconstructing the bridge superstructure. As an incident to this plan, but an incident of no small importance, it will be possible to remove the existing unsightly bridge head house and give a magnificent vista to the bridge tower from City Hall Park, an opportunity made possible because the old Hall of Records has been removed.

To complete the subway from Williamsburg Bridge to Maiden Lane will require about two years after the necessary consents are obtained and contracts let, and three years will be required to complete the East River Tunnel. It is hoped that the Williamsburg Bridge will be opened for traffic during the present year. Some temporary arrangement must therefore be made to utilize the opportunity for additional service thus offered. This can be done by extending the elevated tracks over the Second and Third Avenue Elevated lines along Delancey street to the Bowery, and thence along the contemplated continuation of Delancey street to Elm street, thus making a connection for transfer to both the East Side elevated lines and the subway, and bringing the terminus of the Brooklyn lines near the centre of commercial activity. A very much better temporary relief would be to avail, if possible, of a suggestion made in my report of February 19, wherein two additional tracks were proposed over the Second Avenue Division to City Hall. These tracks could be connected with the Williamsburg Bridge by a line only 1500 feet long, and a temporary connection could also be made with such new tracks at the Brooklyn Bridge. A continuous loop would thus be immediately realized. It is possible that such an arrangement could be made with the two companies if it were taken up by the Board in connection with the granting of the other extensions previously and herein recommended. This connection should continue only so long as would be required to complete the Centre street subway.

The whole of the tunnel and subway herein proposed from the Brooklyn approach to the Manhattan Bridge under the East river and connecting with the Manhattan termini of the Williamsburg and Manhattan Bridges, could be constructed under the conditions of municipal ownership, as provided in the Rapid Transit Act, and similar to those in force on the subway and tunnel now being built to Brooklyn.

Should the above-described plan be carried out, the Borough of Brooklyn will then be connected with the Borough of Manhattan by three bridges carrying six elevated tracks and ten surface tracks, and two tunnels carrying four tracks, every one of which tracks will have a greater carrying capacity than either one of the two elevated or two surface tracks on the existing bridge. These increased facilities of transfluvial transit will in themselves provide the greatest single measure of relief that Brooklyn stands in need of; there remains, therefore, but to propose and to carry into execution as rapidly as possible certain extensions of the rapid transit facilities in Brooklyn, which will be rendered possible by the increase in the terminal facilities in Manhattan. These extensions should obviously be of two characters—one, the extension of the subway system wherever such extensions can be made economically, and become an integral part of the railway system which the City has already begun; the other, extensions on such terms as the Board may determine of the elevated lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, in order that such Company may more properly fulfill its obligations. The first of these extensions will obviously require time; the second, however, can be more quickly executed, and consequently is the one to furnish immediate relief. Such extensions as seem to be most important are shown upon the map accompanying this report and can be described briefly as follows:

FIRST—SUBWAY SYSTEM.

This system now terminates according to Contract No. 2 at the intersection of Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, where a connection can be made by transfer or otherwise with the trains of the Long Island Railroad, and by means of the Atlantic avenue improvement, now in progress of construction jointly by the City and the Long Island Railroad, and so provide means of reaching the easterly limits of the Borough of Brooklyn. From the present terminus the subway system should be extended under Flatbush avenue with four tracks to the Prospect Park Plaza. Around the outer limits of the Plaza I propose a loop, and diverging from this loop a three-track line easterly along the Eastern Parkway to, say, East New York avenue. Two of the tracks on Flatbush avenue should be depressed at the Plaza, passing beneath the loop so as to avoid grade crossing, and then be carried southerly along Flatbush avenue to, say, East Broadway. These two lines would reach a portion of the Borough of Brooklyn not now served by any of the elevated lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, but a district second to no other in Brooklyn in desirability of improvement, and which in the near future, with proper facilities, will, beyond question, support a large population. The two termini that are proposed above are merely arbitrary, as reaching points beyond which the subway system could be carried in the near future when and as desired. In these directions, however, local development has not yet begun. It would seem unwise, therefore, to carry the system further than the points proposed until lines of development beyond have been formed. The railway can then be extended more intelligently and more beneficially than can be done now, when, in the absence of definite development, only lines of a purely arbitrary character can be laid down. It is interesting to point out that these proposed subways, if constructed, will connect the great park systems of the City of New York, from Bronx, Pelham and Van Cortlandt Parks on the north, passing Central Park in the middle, and reaching Prospect Park on the south.

Another extension of the subway could begin at Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, running south along Fourth avenue to Fort Hamilton, probably becoming elevated at some point where the topography would allow.

When these lines are carried into execution and the traffic that they would produce has been developed, it is obvious that some further connection will be necessary in addition to the Whitehall-Joralemon street tunnel. It would seem that the best route for such a tunnel would be Atlantic avenue to Whitehall street. Such a tunnel would permit connections being made not only with the South Brooklyn line, but the east and southeastern Brooklyn lines, besides serving an already well populated district in Brooklyn. The Atlantic avenue line could be connected with the line that I have proposed to the Board running south along Church street, provided such line is constructed.

SECOND—BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT ELEVATED SYSTEM.

Studying the local details of this system one is impressed by the fact that it is without rapid transit facilities, as each one of the lines is a two-track structure only, and therefore incapable of furnishing an express service. The first thing that should be done should be to reinforce the main lines of travel with a third or a third and fourth track, so that the passengers who are living at a distance from the water front in either south or east Brooklyn can be carried to their destination without the inconvenience and loss of time of stopping at intermediate stations. Certain minor changes should be made in the system at a few points in order to facilitate the running of trains, and certain more important extensions should be made in order to reach the Williamsburg Bridge, and develop the facilities offered by that structure. In addition to this there are two important districts, one wholly in Brooklyn and one partly in Brooklyn and partly in Queens, not now served by rapid transit lines. It would be a comparatively easy matter for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to serve both of these districts and bring them both in touch, not only with the commercial district in Manhattan, but with the retail shopping district in the Borough of Brooklyn itself. These several extensions, additions and connections are shown upon an accompanying map, and are set forth in detail in the following table:

- 1st. Add a third track on the Fulton street elevated from the end of the line at East New York to the Brooklyn Bridge.
- 2d. Add a third and fourth track to the Broadway line, from the loop at East New York to the Williamsburg Bridge, and a third track from the loop to the terminus at Cypress Hills.
- 3d. Add a third track to the Myrtle avenue line from Ridgewood to the Brooklyn Bridge.
- 4th. Add a third track on the Fifth and Third avenue lines in South Brooklyn, from Myrtle avenue to Sixty-fifth street.
- 5th. Connect the Fulton street elevated, between Williams place and Alabama avenue and the Jamaica plank road. This will permit Jamaica trains to pass down either Fulton street or Broadway and avoid running through the loop with its consequent congestion.
- 6th. Connect the Fulton street line and the Fifth avenue line to provide for the latter a better terminal arrangement and to serve the local shopping district in Brooklyn.
- 7th. Construct a new elevated railway from the point where the Brighton Beach railroad connects with the Fulton street line, along Franklin avenue to Wallabout street, to Gwinnett street, to Lorimer street, to Manhattan avenue, to Vernon and Jackson avenues in Long Island City, to the Blackwell's Island Bridge, with an extension through Jackson avenue to Debevoise avenue, to Flushing Bay, and also a spur from Lorimer street to Montrose avenue, to South Fifth street, to the Williamsburg Bridge. This line will pass through an extensive portion of the Borough of Queens, and brings it in touch with the wholesale and financial districts in Manhattan, and the retail district in Brooklyn.
- 8th. Extend the Fulton street elevated from its terminus at Crescent street through Fulton street, Pitkin place, private property and Stewart avenue to the Jamaica plank road. This extension will give a direct connection to the district lying east of the terminus of the Fulton street elevated and west of Jamaica.
- 9th. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company is now arranging by means of inclines to make a loop between the Third and Fifth avenue elevated lines to Fort Hamilton, which will very materially increase the facilities at that point. It is obvious that these facilities can be but temporary only, as these lines are on the surface, and the development of that district will, before long, prevent the continuance of running trains in this manner. Elevated structures should therefore be authorized from Third avenue and Sixty-seventh street, through Third avenue to Clarke street, to Fifth avenue, and thence along Fifth avenue to Thirty-eighth street, thus completing the loop in question.

If the Board should approve these suggestions and should discuss with the railroad company terms under which such extensions can be authorized, I beg leave to call the attention of the Board to the fact that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company now owns a line partly depressed and partly on the surface connecting with the Fulton street elevated and running to Brighton and Manhattan Beaches, known as the Brighton Beach Railroad. In many places this line runs on the surface and crosses streets at grade. Although such streets are not now actually in existence, nevertheless, on account of the development of this portion of Brooklyn, which is taking place so rapidly, steps should be begun to remove the danger of these grade crossings. I therefore beg leave to suggest to the Board that one of the terms made with the company should be an arrangement that all the grade crossings on this or any similar lines should be removed.

In this report no railway provisions have been proposed to connect the Borough of Richmond with the Borough of Manhattan. After a very careful study of the problem, I regret to report that the great expense involved is entirely out of proportion to the population to be served.

The total number of miles of new road proposed by this report is 37, and the total amount of new tracks proposed, whether in new road or as additions to existing roads, is 120 miles. An approximate cost of these improvements, exclusive of abutment damages, is about $52,000,000, of which about $31,000,000 represents the approximate estimated cost of extending the subway and of constructing the second tunnel with its Centre street connection in Manhattan. If the Board approves the suggestion that is contained in the report that the extensions of the subway and the new tunnel with its connections should be undertaken as municipal construction, the latter figure will represent the cost of so doing.

Respectfully submitted,

The Chief Engineer reported the death of Theodore W. C. Happel, Assistant Engineer, on 28th February.

The President brought up the question of the advisability of supplementing the $5,500 offered by the New York Tunnel Company to residents on the Joralemon street block where the two shafts will be sunk. On motion, this matter was referred to the Committee on Plans.

The minutes of the meeting of the 5th instant were read, and it was moved that they be approved.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None. Carried.

The Chief Engineer presented the following letters of the Superintendent and Chief Engineer of the Post Office Building:

Office of Chief Engineer and Superintendent of Repairs, United States Public Buildings, No. 105 Post Office Building, New York, N. Y., February 14, 1903.

Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

SIR—I am in receipt of a request from the Postmaster and Custodian of the United States Courthouse and Post Office, this City, asking that in view of the congested condition of the floor space available in the basement of building referred to, you, in the vault recently occupied with tunnel construction, level over entire floor of said vault from the Mail street retaining wall over to main wall of building or openings to freight elevator shaft, forming a step of 6 inches, more or less, in height at entrance to vault. He also asks that you close the opening at east end of vault as soon as practicable; the flooring to be topped with cement.

Respectfully,

(Signed) ALFRED BROOKS FRY, Chief Engineer and Superintendent.

Office of Chief Engineer and Superintendent of Repairs, United States Public Buildings, No. 105 Post Office Building, New York, N. Y., March 7, 1903.

Mr. WILLIAM BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer, Rapid Transit Commission, No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

SIR—Referring to recent correspondence relative to raising grade of most easterly portion of Mail street vaults in accordance with request of Postmaster and Custodian, United States Court House and Postoffice, this city, said work being incident to tunnel construction beneath said vaults, and specifically referring to a letter dated February 25, by Albert Carr, Engineer, First Division, of your Commission, I have to state that I have personally conferred with the Postmaster in connection with this matter. He is very desirous of having the floor level raised and made uniform with concreting performed by you at westerly end of said vaults.

As I have previously stated, as far as this office is concerned I am perfectly satisfied with what you have done as regards this matter, but in view of the fact that the Postmaster desires this floor raised and made level I would suggest that said work be performed.

Respectfully,

(Signed) ALFRED BROOKS FRY,
Chief Engineer and Superintendent.

The Mayor moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer be instructed to carry out the wishes of the Postmaster with respect to the floor of the vault of the Postoffice Building, as requested in the letters printed above.

Ayes—The President, Vice-President, Mayor, and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin, the Comptroller not voting.

Nays—None. Carried.

The Chief Engineer presented the following letter, which was read:

The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, Chief Engineer's Office, No. 320 Broadway, New York, March 10, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—At the last meeting of the Board I was instructed to report on Thursday next on the subject of another East Side line, as requested by the Comptroller, and on the matter of the station at One Hundred and Fourth street. In addition to this, I have instructions pending for a report on a movable sidewalk. The Board directed me at a meeting two weeks ago to report on the Brooklyn plans on next Thursday.

I find it is simply impossible to prepare all four reports; in fact, the Brooklyn report is occupying all my time during this week. If I am to report on the other matters I shall have to slight the Brooklyn report. This, I presume, is not in accordance with your wishes, and I will ask, therefore, to be permitted to postpone making the other three reports until the next meeting, March 19.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WILLIAM BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

Letter of Fielding L. Marshall, with copy of resolutions of the Bronx West Side Association with respect to necessity for connection with the subway of proposed Jerome avenue extension, was presented.

The Board then adjourned.

BION L. BURROWS, Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD, HELD IN NO. 320 BROADWAY, ON THURSDAY, 19TH MARCH, 1903.

There were present—Alexander E. Orr, President, presiding; Mayor Seth Low, Comptroller Edward M. Grout and Commissioners Woodbury, Langdon and John Claflin.

The President announced that he had received word from the Vice-President that he would be absent a few days from the City.

Edward M. Shepard and Albert B. Boardman, Counsel; William Barclay Parsons, Chief Engineer, and George S. Rice, Deputy Chief Engineer, also were present.

The President announced a hearing on the comprehensive plans of the Chief Engineer for Brooklyn and Queens boroughs. Alderman Peter Holler asked that further hearings be given. E. D. Litchfield, in behalf of the Improvement League of the Thirtieth Ward of Brooklyn, presented a statement and a plan suggesting among other things the addition of two tracks to the line of the Long Island Railroad from Sixty-fifth street and Bay Ridge to Atlantic avenue.

The Mayor moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the statement and plan now presented in behalf of the Improvement League of the Thirtieth Ward be referred to the Committee on Plans.

Ayes—The President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The minutes of the meeting of the 12th instant were read, and it was moved that they be approved.

The President presented the following letter from the Mayor as to amendments to the Rapid Transit Act:

CITY OF NEW YORK—OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

March 12, 1903.

Hon. ALEXANDER E. ORR, President, Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners:

MY DEAR SIR—Referring to the interview which you have had with me, at the request and on behalf of the Rapid Transit Commission, with reference to legislation necessary to make possible further extensions of the subway system, it seems to me good judgment to try to make clear to the people of the City the exact problem to be dealt with.

The Rapid Transit Law proceeds upon the theory that the City shall perfect a franchise, which it shall then offer for sale, for a term of years, to some one who will first construct the railroad called for and then operate it. By the terms of the law, the contractor must agree to pay, as rental, at least the interest upon the bonds issued by the City against the cost of construction, and one per cent. in addition for a sinking fund. The contractor also furnishes the equipment. In order to make such a contract possible at a time when everything was experimental in this regard, the law also provided that the road and rolling stock thus constructed should be free from taxation. On the other hand, the roadway belongs to the City, and at the termination of the lease or franchise the road passes absolutely into the City's control. If the City then assumes control it pays for the equipment at its then value.

Under these provisions of the law the original subway contract was entered into in February, 1900, and the contractor, Mr. John B. McDonald, undertook to operate the road to be constructed for a period of fifty years, with the option of an extension, by mutual agreement, of twenty-five years more. If at the end of fifty years the City does not wish to extend the lease, it need not do so. It is hoped that the road so placed under contract in February, 1900, will be in operation for its whole length on Manhattan Island by the end of this year, and during the next year for its entire length in the Borough of The Bronx, as well. If so, the road will have been constructed in a little less than four years, although the period of four and one-half years was allowed by the contract. At the outset it was supposed that the equipment required for satisfactory operation would cost about $7,000,000. It is now expected that the equipment will cost $17,000,000. It is also rumored, though it is not definitely known, that the contractor's profit upon the construction of the subway, as distinguished from the operation of the railroad, will be approximately $6,000,000. When it is considered that, only three years ago, there were only two bidders for this franchise—Mr. McDonald being the lower by $4,000,000, and that he put up his check for $150,000 as security for his bid without knowing whether he could find any one to finance the contract—it is apparent that the change in the outlook as to underground roads that has come about in these three years is little less than phenomenal. This is even more clear when it is recalled that the Rapid Transit Commission tried in vain to interest the great railroad corporations and the leaders of finance in the undertaking.

The second contract entered into under the Rapid Transit Law was made last summer for the subway connecting the Manhattan end of the East River Bridge with the Battery, and by tunnel under the East river with Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, in Brooklyn. The estimated cost of this extension, including stations, as estimated by the Chief Engineer of the Rapid Transit Commission, was $9,000,000, and it is believed that the actual cost will not differ very largely from this sum. The contract was let, nevertheless, for $3,000,000, upon a lease of the franchise for thirty-five years instead of fifty years, as in the first instance, with the same privilege of a further extension of twenty-five years with the City's consent. These figures, apparently, have but one interpretation, viz., that the estimated profit from operation of the railroad is great enough to justify the contractor in bidding something like $6,000,000 below cost. It is, perhaps, worth while to point out that the City saves on the second contract just what the contractor is supposed to have made out of construction under the first. When this second contract was about to be let it became apparent that the only certain way to secure a uniform five-cent fare over both parts of the road to be thus built with public money was to give the contract for the second section to the contractor for the first section; for only the contractor for the first section was in a position to guarantee a single fare. On the other hand, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was an active bidder for this franchise, and it is probably due to this fact, in part at least, that the City was able to secure such favorable terms.

Now we are considering the proposals of the Chief Engineer to piece out the subway, as originally planned for Manhattan and The Bronx, in order to make it more complete, by adding a section here and a section there; to unite the various bridges crossing the East river, and to develop the subway system of Brooklyn. The question, therefore, is a vital one, in view of the facts as I have outlined them, what sort of legislation should be had in order to secure for the City not only the increased facilities desired, but also its proper share of the results of the proposed outlay.

The Rapid Transit Law limits the sum that can be invested under it to $50,000,000, unless this sum is enlarged by act of the Legislature. It is clear, I think, that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment should be substituted in this respect for the Legislature, so that the City may use for subway purposes whatever sum the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may deem proper. But, when this has been said, there still remain very grave problems to be considered.

The Comptroller suggests that the freedom from taxation, which was originally thought necessary, is no longer either necessary or permissible. He also proposes that the City should be authorized to construct the subway on its own account, and to lease it, when constructed, to whom it will. So far as the question of taxation is concerned, I am inclined to agree with the Comptroller; and if the fragments of subway likely to be built in the near future were complete systems in themselves, I should also be inclined to agree, without reserve, to his second proposition. But the pieces of the subway proposed for Manhattan and The Bronx are mere fragments to make more complete the system created by the first contract, the control of which has passed from the City for fifty years. The connection of the bridges and the extension of the Brooklyn subway system are equally dependent on existing facilities that are in private control for their greatest usefulness. I am apprehensive that the City might build any one, or all, of these sections, and find no lessee to operate them, except the company controlling what would be in each case the main system. Were the City to build under these circumstances, such company might be able to command the use of the City's subways practically upon its own terms—for, if the subways were constructed, the public demand that they should be immediately used would be irresistible, and the City might or might not be able to make a proper contract with the only company that could operate them at a profit and for a single fare. On the other hand, if the City's subway system is to be not only constructed in fragments, but operated by different companies, it is certain to be increasingly difficult to secure a single fare over all parts of the system, and universal transfers, even over the City's own lines. There remains to be considered, nevertheless, the fact that the contractor's profit on the construction of the first section is believed to be very large. It may well be desirable, therefore, to secure competition in construction, even if competition in operation is not to be had. I am inclined, therefore, to suggest that the City be given the option to construct additions to the subway system on its own account, provided that before it enters upon any such construction it shall have made a satisfactory contract for the use of the piece of road to be constructed by it.

Mr. R. Fulton Cutting, in view of this general situation, and realizing that, unless the City controls a system that is complete in itself it cannot hope to make favorable arrangements for its operation, has proposed still more radical action. He suggests that the City should, if it can, buy out the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which controls the franchise for the original subway and also for the Brooklyn tunnel. In this way, as Mr. Cutting perceives, the City would acquire at once a system capable of independent operation, and certain to become more valuable by every addition made to it. He realizes that the Interborough Rapid Transit Company has already paid the contractor a profit of say $6,000,000, for the control of the City's franchises, and that it would probably be necessary for the City to pay a premium of not less than 20 per cent. upon the company's stock in order to secure possession. His suggestion, if practicable, would have the merit of placing the City in immediate control of the system; but, on the other hand, it has certain very distinct disadvantages. I doubt if the City would be justified in repurchasing its own franchises, and in agreeing to pay a profit for them of ten or twelve millions of dollars, before the subway is completed and before a single train has been run through it, in order to regain control of the situation at once. For it must not be forgotten that in fifty years the City will acquire complete control of these roads without paying any money at all. Fifty years is a long time in the life of a man, but it is a short period in the history of a city. Again, such a policy, were the City to adopt it, would compel the City to raise by taxation the entire amount of interest upon the forty-five or fifty millions of dollars to be paid for the franchises, until the net earnings of the road should be sufficient to relieve the taxpayers of this burden. Furthermore, such a policy would necessitate the City's investing, for the two franchises already let, more than $20,000,000 additional in an operating plant—much of which, at the outset, must necessarily be experimental. Such an investment, besides increasing the tax rate still more, would further tax the City's borrowing capacity, and make it even more difficult than it is now to provide for the City's needs, other than rapid transit. These other needs are already great, and are likely to grow with great rapidity because of the improved facilities about to be realized in the way of rapid transit. It may be said that the City, having repurchased its franchises, may lease them for operation on more favorable terms than now; but this is by no means certain, and, failing to make a profitable lease, the City would be obliged to operate for itself.

How, then, in the face of such difficult conditions, are the interests of the City to be adequately protected for a period so long as fifty years? When one contemplates the vast change, not only in public opinion, but in financial opinion, which has been wrought during the last three years, he may well hesitate to dogmatize upon such a question. Tentatively, therefore, and with all deference to the judgment of others, I venture to point out what seems to me at once the practical and the safe course of procedure.

Four things seem to me to be absolutely essential: I. A uniform rate of fare over every mile of the road built by the use of the City's credit, from one end of the City to the other. II. That this uniform rate of fare, at first to be five cents, shall be reduced as rapidly as circumstances will permit. III. That, year by year, while the control of the City's system is in private hands, the City shall receive as large a percentage as possible of the earnings of the road. IV. That the City, and not the railroad, shall dictate the character of service to be given. At the present time, when the City wants better service at the hands of private companies, the burden of proof is placed upon the City to show that it ought to have it. I think that, either by the Rapid Transit Law itself or by the contract, the burden of proof can be shifted to the operating company, so that, when it wants to give less service at any hour of the day than it gives during rush hours, the company must prove that the service it proposes to give is reasonable, and obtain permission to furnish only such service.

Bearing these requirements in mind, it may as well be taken for granted that the only bidder who is in a position to give to the City a uniform rate of fare over the entire system to be built with the City's credit is the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which already controls the original subway and the first Brooklyn tunnel. I think amendments to the law may as well frankly recognize this fact and give to the City an option, by an amendment of section 32, to make contracts with this company, from time to time, for the extension of the subway system upon the best obtainable terms, just as the law now gives the City authority to make contracts with existing railroad corporations. Separate systems may, of course, be laid down where this situation would apply to other corporations than the Interborough Rapid Transit Company. If the law should be so amended, the law should also provide for the examination of every such company's books by representatives of the City, and for a reduction of the rate of fare whenever the profit warrants it.

The law should also provide, in my judgment, for the termination of all contracts at the same date as the first contract, which runs for fifty years, thus bringing the entire system under the control of the City at the same time. There is very slight advantage to the City in coming into possession of fragments of a system at different times. On the other hand, the law should also provide for periodic readjustment of the terms upon which the franchise is to be enjoyed, at intervals not exceeding twenty-five years. In other words, I would apply to these franchises, having fifty years to run, the same principle of periodic revision of terms which has recently been applied to the Pennsylvania franchise, which was granted in perpetuity. In the matter of taxation, I have this suggestion to make: The power houses are already subject to taxation, like other real estate; that which is not taxed is the franchise and the rolling stock, and what we may call the interior equipment of the subway. The subway itself should not be taxed, for it belongs to the City. I venture the suggestion that every future extension of the road should be subject to taxation, during the term of the franchise, on the basis of the amount of money which the City is called upon to provide in order to secure such extension. Thus, if the City issues bonds for $5,000,000 in order to secure a given extension, that extension would pay taxes on an assessed valuation of $5,000,000 for the whole term of the contract; if the City issues only $1,000,000 of bonds, taxes would be paid on only $1,000,000; and, if the contractors furnished their own money, so as to make no demand upon the City, they would pay no such tax. But, in this event, the City would own the road, at the end of the franchise, without having used its credit at all in order to secure it. The effect of such a provision, I think, would be greatly to limit the demands made upon the City's credit, and it might easily be, in some conditions of the money market, that the operating company would finance the cost of this extension, or of that, on its own account; at all events such a provision as to taxation would have the advantage of making the amount of taxes a fairly ascertainable quantity, thus removing from the domain of bargaining an element that might otherwise be of great uncertainty.

This discussion is based, primarily, upon Mr. Parsons' suggestion as to Manhattan and The Bronx. It is practically certain, however, that the connection and use of the East river bridges will require similar co-operation from the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, and all future extensions of the subway system in Brooklyn must command the like co-operation either of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company or of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. In other words, unless the City's transit system is to be broken up into fragments, with duplicate fares and conflicting management, there must be co-operation between the City and the private companies concerned. I think the real interests of the City require that this co-operation should be sought upon terms that protect the interests of the public as perfectly as good judgment can devise; and, if successfully sought, I think it will mean within a few years a single fare from one end of the City to the other over all roads, both public and private.

In submitting to you these suggestions in this form I have done so in the hope that they will evoke general criticism. The question is too important to be approached by anybody otherwise than with an open mind. That, at least, I assure you, is the spirit in which I approach it, and the spirit in which these suggestions are made.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) SETH LOW, Mayor.

The Mayor spoke of certain corrections to be made in his letter, and it was understood he would write an additional letter, making the changes, which the Mayor has since sent, as follows:

March 24, 1903.

Hon. ALEXANDER E. ORR, President, Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners:

MY DEAR SIR—Referring to my previous letter on the subject of rapid transit legislation, I take this method of correcting two erroneous impressions that may have been made by my earlier letter. Neither of them bears upon the argument touching the desirability of amendment of the Rapid Transit Act, but for the sake of accuracy it is well to correct them.

The first relates to the terms of the franchise granted in connection with the first subway contract. My letter gives the impression that at the end of fifty years the franchise is renewable for twenty-five years only with the consent of the City. The fact is that it is renewable for twenty-five years at the option of the contractor. The rate of compensation, however, is to be fixed anew at the end of fifty years, either by agreement or by arbitration if agreement fails.

The second mistake relates to my statement that the competition of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Railroad for the Brooklyn tunnel had something to do with the low bid made by the Subway Company for that franchise. I am reminded that Mr. Belmont stated explicitly to the Commission at the time of the award that the bid would have been the same whether the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company had been in the field or not.

The object of the low bid was stated to be to relieve the City from the limitations then existing on its borrowing power, and to enable the Commission to authorize the construction of the road from Forty-second street to Union Square, through Broadway.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) SETH LOW, Mayor.

Commissioner Langdon moved the following resolution:
Resolved, That the letter of the Mayor be referred to counsel and be made the basis of recommendations for amendments to the Rapid Transit Act.

Ayes—The President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Clavin.

Nays—None.
Carried.

The Mayor presented first draft of an act prepared by the Corporation Counsel embodying the suggestions in the Mayor's letter, and, on motion, this was also referred to the counsel as above, with the understanding that the counsel should confer with the Corporation Counsel.

The Chief Engineer presented the following letter:

NEW YORK, March 19, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—Work on Contract No. 2 having already begun, it becomes necessary to organize the engineering force. I beg leave to propose to the Board that this extension be made a separate division. If this is agreeable to the Board, I beg leave to nominate for the position of Division Engineer Mr. Robert Ridgway.

Mr. Ridgway was born in Brooklyn in 1862 and has filled various positions in engineering work, and for the greater portion of the time in tunnel work. From 1882 to 1884 he was on the engineering staff of the Northern Pacific Railway. In 1884 he entered the employment of the City on surveys for Croton Dam, and from that date to 1900 was an Engineer under the Aqueduct Commission, with steadily increasing responsibilities. In 1900, at the beginning of the Rapid Transit work, he was transferred from the Aqueduct Commission to this Commission, and from that time to the present has held the position of Senior Assistant Engineer on the Second Division. The appointment of Mr. Ridgway is, therefore, in line of continuous promotion.

If the appointment is ratified by the Board, I recommend that it be made to take effect from and after Monday, March 23.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

The following resolution was moved:

Resolved, That this Board hereby promotes Robert Ridgway to be Division Engineer of the Brooklyn Division, at a salary of $4,000, to take effect 23d March, 1903.

Ayes—The President, Mayor, Comptroller, and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

The Chief Engineer presented the following report as to an east side line:

NEW YORK, March 19, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—In accordance with instructions of the Board I have been making a study for an additional east side line, as a continuation south from Forty-fifth street, of the proposed Lexington avenue line, or as an additional line by some other route. East of Madison avenue the avenues along which it would be possible to construct a rapid transit route are: First, Second, Third, Lexington and Fourth avenues. Fourth avenue south of Forty-second street is already occupied by the subway under construction. Second and Third avenues are occupied by elevated railways, and while it is possible to build a subway along a street occupied by an elevated railway, it would not seem prudent to duplicate facilities until all other routes have been occupied. There is, therefore, a choice left between First and Lexington avenues. I have proposed Lexington avenue as the best street to be occupied for the reason that it lies nearer to the centre of traveling population. An examination of the traffic returns of the Second and Third avenue elevated railways shows that the passengers per station on the Third avenue line are more than twice as numerous as those on the Second avenue line, and that the bulk of the travel on the Third avenue comes from points along or west of it. A line west of Third avenue, or under Lexington avenue, for instance, would thus supply the most urgently demanded transportation facilities, and would best serve to relieve the present congestion of the most crowded elevated line on the east side.

Another reason for the choice of Lexington avenue is that the day will come when there will be required a great through line on the east side of the City, providing an express service, not only greatly in advance of the express service offered by any existing line, but greater than that proposed on any projected line. Such a line will be needed to carry the people living in the trans-Harlem districts to the commercial area south of Forty-second street. First avenue is the most available for such a line, and should be reserved for that purpose. If an independent east side line is to be constructed, it would seem, therefore, that it would be best to extend the Lexington avenue line south. Lexington avenue terminates at the south end of Fourteenth street. If a line is to be carried southerly along Lexington avenue to Fourteenth street, it would have to be thence carried across private property to the Bowery below Eighth street, or diagonally under private property to Third avenue, and thence south along the Bowery. A line along the Bowery is subject to the same criticism as lines along Second and Third avenues, namely, the duplication of existing facilities. The Second avenue elevated runs south over that avenue to Twenty-third street, whence it runs easterly to First avenue, and thence southerly along the latter. I would suggest, therefore, that the proposed Lexington avenue line be carried south from Forty-fifth street to, say, Twenty-fourth street, and through Twenty-fourth street to Second avenue, and thence southerly along that thoroughfare and Chrystie street. At Grand street this route crosses the route of the proposed connection with the Williamsburg Bridge, with which it could be made to connect. Or it could be continued along Chrystie street and private property to Catharine street, to Water street, to South Ferry.

In view of the various lines that I have already proposed to the Board being undetermined, it is very difficult to make any precise recommendations, as the location of any additional line will be much affected by the action of the Board on the lines already suggested or amendments thereto.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

On motion, this was referred to the Committee on Plans.

The following report of the Chief Engineer on station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Eighth avenue, with letters of the contractor and sub-contractors, was presented:

NEW YORK, March 19, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—As directed by the Board I have made an examination of the conditions existing in the Central Park Tunnel with respect to the construction of a station at One Hundred and Fourth street.

From the east end of the station limit the tunnel has been completed both as to excavation and lining to Lenox avenue; the tunnel has also been excavated westerly from the station a distance of 860 feet, and has been partly lined with masonry. Similarly the tunnel has been excavated and partly lined for a distance of 400 feet easterly from Broadway. Between Broadway and Eighth avenue there remains a distance of 980 feet where the excavation of the top heading only has been made, the lower half of the tunnel not yet having been excavated. In order to remove this rock two shifts of men are at work at each end, and the material as excavated is removed from the west end westerly to a shaft near Broadway, at One Hundred and Fourth street, and from the east end easterly to a shaft at Central Park West. These shafts are consequently in constant use. The shaft at Central Park West is within the limits of the station. If, therefore, the station is to be begun, the work of removal of the bench by means of this shaft or the introduction of concrete for masonry lining will be necessarily interfered with, and the completion of the tunnel between Central Park West and Broadway correspondingly delayed. If the station is not constructed, the present rate of progress will require nearly seven months in order to remove the bench and one month more to complete the lining. Of late the ground has been bad, necessitating careful and slow work. The conditions are expected to improve, however, so that the contractors hope that they will complete the excavation of the tunnel between Central Park West and Broadway by, say, the first of August, provided that the work is not interfered with by station excavations. This expected rate is much better than anything hitherto accomplished. If the station is built the section must be enlarged from the present excavated width of about 29 feet to 54 feet, and the height of the excavation would have to be increased from the present height of 19½ feet to 29½ feet. The present excavation has been done along the floor of the tunnel; the additional excavation required for the station will therefore be at the sides and above the roof of the present excavation, which, unfortunately, is the worst method of proceeding, as the foundation for the support of the roof has already been removed. To support an arch of this span in New York rock will require heavy timbering.

I have conferred with the contractors in detail as to the practical questions above. Mr. McDonald has written me a letter, which is annexed to this report. If the station is to be built it would seem as if the order should be given immediately. The construction of the station will, as explained above, delay the progress of the tunnel between Central Park West and Broadway, and will postpone the laying of track on the east side branch; but by beginning the station now we believe that the station and the balance of the tunnel will be completed substantially simultaneously. Provided the ground remains good and provided no unforeseen accident occurs, the station and the tunnel could be put in a position for the track laying about January 1st. This time limit, however, is based on a considerably greater rate of progress than the contractors have been able to accomplish during the past six months.

It has always been the general programme for the beginning of operation that the equipment should be introduced into the subway at the end of Lenox avenue, where the cars could be conveniently brought on floats and run down on an incline into the subway at that point, and then run southerly on to the main line. This involves the completion of the whole of the east side line, and the tracks should be laid at as early a date as possible. As the Commission is aware, the contractors are now engaged in laying track, which work will proceed from now on continuously. Sufficient rails for fifteen miles of track have already been delivered and that amount of roadbed is already prepared. If this station is ordered the above programme will not be possible of execution, and some other means will have to be devised of introducing the equipment into the subway. The importance, therefore, of the east side line to the whole of the subway becomes at once apparent.

The native rock as found in Manhattan is a very treacherous material, and our experience has already demonstrated that no reliance can be placed upon surface indications. It is possible that we may be able to complete the large arch required for this station without accident. Should, however, any accident occur, an unknown delay to the whole of the east side line will be at once involved. Along Central Park West there are laid one brick sewer, 3 by 2 feet in section, one 6-inch gas pipe, one 20-inch gas pipe, one 12-inch water pipe and five 48-inch water mains. In the event of any break in the rock or any movement of the ground the water supply of The City of New York would be most seriously crippled, as these mains constitute nearly the whole of the supply of the Central Park Reservoir, and, therefore, of the district south of it.

In view of the conditions surrounding this work, the risk of accident and of delay involved, with the consequent responsibility in ordering the work undertaken, I have laid the facts before the Board for such action as it may determine.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company, Office Park Row Building, Nos. 13-21 Park Row, New York, March 17, 1903.

WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Esq., Chief Engineer, Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, No. 320 Broadway, New York:

DEAR SIR—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 12 relating to the feasibility of constructing station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Eighth avenue, and to say in reply that it is not possible to begin the construction of this station without serious interference with the completion of the work between Central Park and Broadway.

If this part of the work were not delayed by resolution of the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission it should be finished by the first of July. It is not advisable that you undertake the construction of a station at this point without understanding that it would delay the completion of this section until at least January 1, 1904.

As I am extremely anxious that the track should be laid through to Harlem by November of this year, I ask you most respectfully to consider this a protest against any such undertaking. I beg also to inclose to you copy of a letter from Farrell, Hopper & Co. on this subject.

Yours truly,

(Signed) JOHN B. McDONALD.

March 14, 1903.

Mr. JOHN B. McDONALD, Contractor, Nos. 13-21 Park Row, City:

DEAR SIR—We have already had considerable correspondence on the question of the One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park proposed station. The last was our letter to you of January 12, 1903, and your answer of the 13th. Since that time we have been going on as directed in your letter of the 13th.

We have now come to the point that the concrete arch work is completed up to the east end of the proposed station and within a very short distance of the west end; and as there would be a considerable amount of work in connection with this station, which would take eight months to complete, it should be decided at once whether it is to be built or not.

Therefore we would respectfully request that you decide as early as possible, as a part of our concreting outfit and gangs will be idle again in a few days unless we can go ahead and close up the gap that has been held back on account of this station.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) FARRELL, HOPPER & CO.

The Chief Engineer stated that the shaft at that point would be converted into a stairway which would provide a means of egress from the tunnel there.

The Mayor moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That in view of the opinion of the Chief Engineer and of the contractor that the station at One Hundred and Fourth street cannot be constructed without causing serious delay in the completion of the subway, the station be definitely abandoned.

Ayes—The President, Mayor and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nay—The Comptroller.

The following letter of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, transmitted to the Board by the Mayor, with the report of the Chief Engineer, was presented:

CITY OF NEW YORK—OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

March 13, 1903.

Hon. ALEXANDER E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Commission:

DEAR SIR—The Mayor directs me to forward to you, for consideration, the inclosed communication from Hon. J. A. Cantor, relative to the location of tracks on Fourth avenue, from Seventeenth street to Fifteenth street.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM J. MORAN, Assistant Secretary.

City of New York, Office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, City Hall, March 11, 1903.

Hon. SETH LOW, Rapid Transit Commission:

SIR—I beg to call your attention to the location of the tracks on Fourth avenue, from Seventeenth street to Fifteenth street. Before the subway was built at this point the Fourth avenue tracks continued south of Eighteenth street on the same tangent as they are north of it to about Fifteenth street, where a simple curve commenced bending toward the east. The pavement is being relaid by the subway contractor, and the tracks have not been replaced in their proper position. They take a curve near Seventeenth street to the west, which is compounded and then brought in to the curve south of Fifteenth street. This throws the tracks several feet west of where they were before, and out of the centre line of Fourth avenue to a position which is not nearly as acceptable as the old one. The new position is objectionable because it will interfere with the vehicle traffic, which must keep to the right of the centre line of the roadway.

May I ask that these conditions be remedied without delay, as it will not be possible for me to assume the maintenance of the roadway after the completion of the rapid transit subway until the location of the tracks has been corrected. I have already approved plans for the special work for the tracks which will be located west of the Washington statue, connecting the Fourth avenue line with the Fourteenth street line, and the special work has been ordered by the Interurban Company under these plans. This special work will not fit the Fourth avenue tracks as they are located now.

No permission or consent to the change made by the Rapid Transit Subway contractor has been given by me, and I am advised that none has been given by the railroad company. May I ask for prompt action in this matter?

Although it is hardly necessary, I enclose extracts from the Rapid Transit Act, chapter 4, section 5, Laws of 1891:

" * * * and it shall be lawful to make such excavations and openings along the route through which such railway or railways shall be constructed as shall be necessary from time to time; in all cases the surface of such streets around such foundations, piers and columns shall be restored to the condition in which they were before such excavations were made, as nearly as may be, and under the direction of the proper local authorities * * *"

Laws of 1895, chapter 519, section 33. " * * * any corporation organized under this act, or any contractor or person constructing any railway or part of a railway under any contract made with the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, is hereby authorized, for the purpose of constructing the said work, to remove the track or tracks of any such surface railway or railways, or any such pipes, sewers, subways, or underground conduits or ways, but the same shall be done in such manner as to interfere as little as possible with the practical operation or workings of such surface railway or railways or the works or business of the owners of any such pipes, sewers, subways, or underground conduits or ways, and upon the construction of such railway built under and in conformity with the provisions of this act, where such removal or changes have been made, said track or tracks, pipes, sewers, subways, or underground conduits or ways, shall be restored as nearly as may be to the condition in which they were previous to the construction of such railway built under the provisions of this act, and any damages which such company or companies or owners may sustain shall be ascertained by a commission to be appointed the same as in the case where lands are taken for the purpose of a railway route or routes, as hereinbefore provided in this act * * *"

Very truly yours,

(Signed) JACOB A. CANTOR, President.

NEW YORK, March 16, 1903.

BION L. BURROWS, Esq., Secretary, Rapid Transit Board:

DEAR SIR—I return you herewith the communication of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, addressed to the Mayor, on the location of the tracks on Fourth avenue, between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets.

The Borough President is unfortunately misinformed as to the previous location of the Fourth avenue tracks. The old horse car tracks of the Harlem Railroad were located substantially midway between the curbs the whole length of Fourth avenue. Between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets the curb line of Union Square is considerably to the west of the curb line of Fourth avenue, produced southerly from Seventeenth street. In order, therefore, to maintain the central location the old horse car tracks were given a reversed curve just south of Seventeenth street. When the Metropolitan Street Railway Company took over the Harlem Railroad and re-equipped the same with electricity the engineers of the company urged that the company should locate the line on a tangent, as now proposed by the President of the Borough. The lawyers of the company, however, could find no authority to change the location of the old horse car line, and the municipal authorities at that time would not consent to any change in the location. Through this action of the municipal authorities the Fourth avenue tracks were reconstructed according to their old location. When the tracks were temporarily removed by our contractor a careful survey was made of their location as we found it, and we have restored the tracks precisely to the location that they originally occupied. The change, therefore, that the President of the Borough complains of has not been made.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

The President reported that a copy of the report of the Chief Engineer had been forwarded to the officials interested.

Counsel presented agreement between the City, acting by the Board, and the New York Tunnel Company, as follows:

Memorandum of agreement, made this 19th day of March, 1903, by and between The City of New York, acting by the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners for The City of New York, party of the first part, and New York Tunnel Company, party of the second part:

Whereas, The Rapid Transit Subway Company has contracted with the party of the first part for the construction and operation of the Brooklyn extension of the subway; and

Whereas, In building such extension the said Company claims that it is necessary to construct and maintain for one year (more or less) the two shafts shown on the annexed diagram, marked "Plan of Proposed Shafts in Brooklyn," said shafts being located on Joralemon street, between Henry street and Garden place; and

Whereas, The party of the second part has applied to the party of the first part for the usual permits to enable it to construct and maintain said shafts; and

Whereas, It is the opinion of the party of the second part that it is necessary that said shafts should be constructed and maintained in order that the work of constructing the Brooklyn tunnels may proceed with reasonable expedition and without unnecessarily endangering the lives of the employees of the party of the second part; and

Whereas, It is understood that the construction and maintenance of said shafts may result in special damage to the owners of abutting property, for which they may be entitled to recover damages from the parties hereto, either or both of them (although it is not the intention of the parties hereto by this agreement to admit that any such damages can be recovered by the owners of abutting property or by any other person); and

Whereas, It is the desire of the parties hereto that the work of constructing the Brooklyn tunnels should proceed at once, and that, if possible, litigation with the owners of the property opposite or near said shafts should be prevented;

Now, in consideration of the premises and of one dollar ($1.00) in hand paid by each of the parties hereto to the other, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, it is covenanted and agreed as follows:

The Chief Engineer of the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners will furnish to the party of the second part the necessary permits at once. The shafts in question will be constructed by the party of the second part in accordance with the annexed plan, which correctly shows the amount of street surface to be appropriated or covered, including the space required for the buildings. The buildings over said shafts shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet in height. Said shafts shall be fenced. The fences shall be at least eight (8) feet in height, and shall be built within the areas to be appropriated, as shown by said plan.

The hoisting apparatus used in and about said shafts will be operated by compressed air, and the exhaust will be in the tunnel. There will be no teaming done between seven o'clock in the evening and six o'clock in the morning. The cars will be held in the tunnel with their loads, and hoisted and dumped on wagons during the daytime only. Tan bark will be placed and maintained upon the entire block between Henry street and Garden place. The party of the second part will keep the street watered to avoid annoyance from dust. If, in order to avoid litigation, settlements are made with the abutting property owners, the party of the second part covenants to advance and pay on account of such settlements all sums which may be needed, not to exceed in the aggregate five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500). Any other sums needed to effect such settlements will be advanced and paid by the party of the first part and treated as an expense for right of way. It shall be discretionary with the party of the first part to make said settlements or not. In case settlements are not made and litigation follows which results in favor of the abutting property owners, so that they become entitled to the payment of damages, the respective contributions of the parties hereto to the fund needed for the payment of said damages shall be the same as their contributions to the settlement fund above stated. Should the construction of said shafts be enjoined and such injunction be finally maintained, this agreement shall thereupon become null and void, without prejudice to what shall have been done under it.

In testimony whereof, this contract has been executed for The City of New York by its Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, under and by a resolution duly adopted by said Board and concurred in by more than six of its members, and the seal of the Board has been hereto affixed and these presents signed by the President and Secretary of the said Board, and the party of the second part has hereunto affixed its corporate seal and caused these presents to be signed by its President, the day and year first above written.

The following report of the Chief Engineer as to moving platform was presented and read:

NEW YORK, March 18, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—Under date of February 21 the Deputy Comptroller, on behalf of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, submitted a communication from the Commissioner of Bridges, transmitting in turn a communication from Messrs. Schmidt & Gallatin, proposing a moving platform to run from the west end of Williamsburg Bridge along Grand, Centre and William streets to Wall street, and then by some suitable connection to Hanover square or Bowling Green. This matter has been submitted to me for examination and report.

At the moment it does not appear necessary to enter into the engineering questions involved, except to explain that this device is similar to a device installed at the exhibition in Chicago in 1893 and in Paris in 1900, and consists of moving platforms running parallel with each other, but at different speeds, so that passengers can step from a stationary platform to a moving platform, and from the first moving platform to another platform moving at a higher speed. The wheels on which these platforms move are fixed. The only cases where such a device has been used is over a comparatively short distance and for a comparatively short time. As to whether the device will work satisfactorily over a long distance, of course, is unknown. The main question, however, appears to me to be one of policy rather than of engineering details. This device introduces a new element not capable of co-operation with any of the existing railroads, thus necessitating a change of cars, if not an additional fare. It would seem to me, therefore, to be a matter of principle for the Board to decide whether it desires to extend or to create a service capable of carrying through trains without change, or whether it desires to install a new device which would necessitate a change of vehicles. The route covered by Messrs. Schmidt & Gallatin is almost identical with the route which I have already proposed for a railway connection between the ends of the bridges. For short distance runs, for which a change of vehicles is obligatory—as, for instance, on the Forty-second street spur of the Manhattan Elevated from Third avenue to Fourth avenue, or on the proposed connection between the subway on Broadway and the Pennsylvania terminus at Seventh avenue—a device of the character as proposed by Messrs. Schmidt & Gallatin might be more desirable than operating such a connection by train service.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

Alderman Peter Holler stated to the Board that an organization of citizens in his district would like to be heard upon the matter of the moving platforms, whereupon the Mayor moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That a public hearing be given on this subject two weeks from to-day, and that in the meanwhile a copy of the Chief Engineer's report be sent to Alderman Holler.

Ayes—The President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The Comptroller requested the Chief Engineer to report further as to the use of moving platforms for long distances.

William A. Martin, of the Harlem Board of Commerce, presented the following communication:

March 18, 1903.

Hon. ALEXANDER E. ORR, President, Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners,
No. 320 Broadway, New York City:

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the Harlem Board of Commerce, held Monday evening, March 16, 1903, the following resolution was adopted:

"It is the sense of this Board that the proposed station at One Hundred and Fourth street and Central Park West is not needed, that it will greatly militate against efficient service of the Rapid Transit along Lenox avenue, and that we respectfully protest against the same, and that a committee of three (3) be appointed by the Chair to present the protest to the proper authorities."

I am, very respectfully yours,

(Signed) WILLIAM A. MARTIN, President.

Letter of Jesse W. Reno, with proposition as to his double-decked system of subway, was presented with report of the Chief Engineer and referred to Committee on Plans.

Letter of William Cokeley in behalf of Throgg's Neck Taxpayers' Association as to need for additional rapid transit facilities there was also referred to the same committee.

The President reported that the committee of Broadway property owners between Maiden lane and Wall street had sent the report of their engineer, Mr. Bates, and this had been referred to the Chief Engineer with the blue prints submitted by Mr. Bates. The Chief Engineer reported on this matter as follows:

NEW YORK, March 18, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of a letter referred to me by you, being a report by Mr. Charles J. Bates, an Engineer retained by a committee of the property owners on Broadway, between Maiden lane and Wall street. Mr. Bates's report gives some information in regard to the position of the foundations of the abutting buildings in respect to the subway, and points out that where the construction goes beneath the foundation level of the abutting buildings that proper precautions will have to be taken in each case. It is the intention of the Engineers of the Board and of the Contractors to see that suitable precautions are taken, and the information in regard to the depths of the buildings is information which we already possessed.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

The Mayor presented a letter of the New York Steam Fitting Company on the condition of Elm street, which had come to him from the President of the Borough of Manhattan. This was on motion referred to the Chief Engineer for report.

The Mayor then moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer be instructed to examine, immediately, the condition of the streets along the line of the subway, and at least fortnightly thereafter; and, after each examination, to report both to the Commission and to the Mayor where there are obstructions that should be removed, and the points at which the streets may be put immediately in good order.

Ayes—The President, Mayor, Comptroller and Commissioners Langdon and Claflin.

Nays—None.

Carried.

The following letter of the Chief Engineer was read and ordered spread on the

NEW YORK, March 12, 1903.

Hon. A. E. ORR, President, Rapid Transit Board:

MY DEAR SIR—In looking after the sub-contracts for the decoration and other finishing work in connection with the stations, I have appointed Mr. D. L. Turner, Assistant Engineer, in charge. I recommend that his salary be fixed at $2,500.

In order to avoid friction and to facilitate a very complicated detail of the work, involving a great many small sub-contracts, Mr. McDonald has requested that Mr. Turner shall report to him in regard to the work done by these sub-contractors. For the service thus performed, Mr. McDonald is willing to recompense Mr. Turner at the rate of $500 per annum. Unless the Board instructs me otherwise, I will permit Mr. Turner to accept this salary, as it is especially desirable that one man should be in complete control of all the details.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. BARCLAY PARSONS, Chief Engineer.

The President reported that the Mayor, on the invitation of the contractor, had, on the 14th instant, at 3.10 p. m., driven the first spike in the first rail laid in the subway, the informal ceremony, attended by a few guests of the contractor, having taken place at the Columbus Circle Station, the first rail being laid on the downtown express track. The Rapid Transit Board was represented there by the President, Vice-President, Commissioner Langdon, the Chief Engineer and the Deputy Chief Engineer.

The Board then adjourned.

BION L. BURROWS, Secretary.

Such payment shall be at a fair valuation of the said plant as property, excluding any value derived from the franchise, and such value shall be determined by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment or its successors in authority.

Fourth—The New York City Interborough Railway Company, its successor or assigns, shall pay for this franchise to The City of New York the following sums of money: During the first term of five years an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $15,000, and which shall be equal to 3 per cent. of its gross annual receipts, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $15,000; during the remaining twenty years of the term an annual sum which shall not be less than $30,000, and which shall be equal to 5 per cent. of its gross annual receipts, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $30,000; for the use of the four bridges described above, during the first term of five years the annual sum of $4,000 for each bridge; during the second term of five years the annual sum of $4,500 for each bridge; during the third term of five years the annual sum of $5,000 for each bridge; during the fourth term of five years the annual sum of $5,500 for each bridge; and during the last term of five years the annual sum of $6,000 for each bridge.

Such sums shall be paid into the treasury of The City of New York on November 1 in each year, after the commencement of the operation of any portion of the railroad, provided, however, that the first payment shall only be for that proportion of the above sums as the time of the commencement of operation of any portion of the road before September 30 next preceding, shall bear to the whole of one year. The fiscal year shall end on September 30 next preceding said date of payment, and the provisions of the Railroad Law as it now exists, or as it may hereafter be amended, relating to the manner of payments and statements of percentages of gross receipts of street railway companies shall be strictly followed. The intention of this paragraph is to fix an annual charge to be paid by the grantee, its successors or assigns, to The City of New York for the rights and franchise hereby granted, and it shall not be construed as providing for the payment by the grantee, its successor or assigns of a percentage of gross receipts within the meaning of any general or special statute, referring particularly to chapter 340 of the Laws of 1892.

Fifth—The said annual charge or payments shall continue throughout the whole term of the franchise hereby granted, whether original or renewal, notwithstanding any clause in any statute or in the charter of any other railway company providing for payments for street railway rights or franchises at a different rate, and no assignment, lease or sub-lease of the rights or franchise hereby granted, whether original or renewal, or of any part thereof, or of any of the routes mentioned herein, or of any part thereof, shall be valid or effectual for any purpose unless the said assignment, lease or sub-lease shall contain a covenant on the part of the assignee or lessee that the same is subject to all the conditions of this grant, and that the assignee or lessee assumes and will be bound by all of said conditions, and especially said condition as to payments, anything in any statute of the Charter of such assignee or lessee to the contrary notwithstanding, and that the said assignee or lessee waives any more favorable conditions created by such statute or its charter, and that it will not claim by reason thereof, or otherwise, exemption from liability to perform all and each of the conditions of this grant.

Sixth—The rights and franchises granted hereby shall not be assigned either in whole or in part, or leased or sublet in any manner, nor shall title thereto or right, interest or property therein pass to or vest in any other person or corporation whatsoever, either by the act of the New York City Inter-Borough Railway Company, its successor or assigns or by operation of law, whether under the provisions of the statutes relating to the consolidation or merger of corporations, or otherwise, without the consent of The City of New York, acting by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successor in authority, evidenced by an instrument under seal, anything herein contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, and the granting, giving or waiving of any one or more of such consents shall not render unnecessary any subsequent consent or consents.

Seventh—The said railway may be operated by overhead electrical power substantially similar to the system of overhead electrical traction now in use by the Union Railway Company, or by the underground electric system now in use by the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, and by any other motive power, except locomotive steam power or horse power, which may be approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners, and consented to by the owners of property, in accordance with the provisions of the Railroad Law. Provided, however, that as to such portions of the route of the said railroad, which are within the limits of the Borough of Manhattan such railroad shall be operated as soon as practicable by underground electrical power substantially similar to the system of underground electrical traction now in use on the railroads in Second, Sixth, Eighth, Lenox and Madison avenues, in the Borough of Manhattan. And, provided further, that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successor in authority, upon giving to the grantee, its successor or assigns, one year's notice in writing, may require it or them to operate its railroad upon the whole or upon any portion of its route by underground electrical power substantially according to the system now in use on the railroads in the Borough of Manhattan above referred to, and thereupon to discontinue the use of the overhead trolley system and to remove its poles, wires and other structures used by it for that purpose from the streets, highways, bridges and public places of The City of New York.

Eighth—The said railway shall be constructed, maintained and operated subject to the supervision and control of all the authorities of The City of New York who have jurisdiction in such matters under the Charter of the City.

Ninth—Said railway shall be constructed and operated in the latest improved manner of street railway construction and operation, and the railway and property of said company shall be maintained in good condition throughout the term of this grant.

Tenth—The rate of fare for any passenger upon said railway shall be five cents, and said company shall not charge any passenger more than said sum for one continuous ride from any point on said railway or a line or branch operated in connection therewith to any point thereof, or of any connecting line or branch thereof, within the limits of The City of New York. The rates for the carrying of property upon the cars of the grantee shall in all cases be reasonable in amount and shall be subject to the control of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successor in authority, and may be fixed by such Board after notice and hearing to the grantee, and when so fixed such rate shall be binding upon said grantee, its successor or assigns, and no greater sums shall be charged for such services than provided for by it.

Eleventh—The cars on the said lines as proposed shall run at intervals of not more than thirty minutes, both day and night, and as much oftener as the reasonable convenience of the public may require or as may be directed by the City ordinance.

Twelfth—The said railway company shall apply to each car run over said railway a proper fender and wheelguard in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities.

Thirteenth—All cars on said railway shall be heated through the cold weather in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force, or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities, and each car shall be well lighted either by the Pintsch gas system or by electricity, or by some system of lighting equally efficient.

Fourteenth—The said company shall at all times keep the street between its tracks, and for a distance of two feet beyond the rails upon either side of said streets, free and clear from ice and snow.

Fifteenth—The said railway company, as long as it shall continue to use any of the tracks upon said streets, avenues, highways, parkways, public places, bridges or viaducts, shall have and keep in permanent repair that portion of the surface of said streets, avenues, highways, parkways, bridges and viaducts between its tracks, the rails of its tracks and two feet in width outside of its tracks, under the supervision of the proper local authorities, and whenever required by them to do so, and in such manner as they may prescribe. And The City of New York shall have the right to change the material or character of the pavement of any street, highway, parkway and public place, and in that event the grantee, its successors or assigns, shall be bound to replace such pavement in the manner directed by the proper City officer at its own expense, and the provision as to repairs herein contained shall apply to such renewed or altered pavement.

Sixteenth—The said railway company so long as it shall continue to use any of the tracks upon said streets, avenues, highways, bridges and viaduct shall cause to be watered the entire roadway of each of the above streets, avenues, highways, bridges and viaduct, except when the width shall exceed sixty feet between curb lines, when a roadway of sixty feet shall be watered at least three times in every twenty-four hours when the thermometer is above 35 degrees Fahrenheit.

Seventeenth—In case of any violation or breach or failure to comply with any of the provisions herein contained, this grant may be forfeited by a suit brought by the Corporation Counsel on notice of ten days to the said railway company.

Eighteenth—If any of the streets, avenues, highways, public places or bridges above referred to, or described, shall not now be open or in use as public highways, no right or franchise shall vest in the grantee by virtue of this ordinance until after such streets, avenues, highways, public places or bridges shall be legally opened as a public highway. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as an obligation on The City of New York, in respect to the opening of such streets, avenues, highways, public places and bridges.

Sec. 3. This grant is also upon the further and express condition that the provisions of Article 4 of the Railroad Law applicable thereto, and all laws or ordinances now in force or which may be adopted affecting the surface railroads operating in The City of New York shall be strictly complied with.

Sec. 4. The grant of this franchise shall not affect in any way the right of The City of New York to grant a similar franchise upon the same or other terms and conditions over the same bridges and their approaches, and the viaduct and over the streets and highways within a distance of 1,000 feet from the end of such approaches to said bridges and viaduct, to any other person or corporation, and in such case the use of the street railway, including tracks, wires and other equipment constructed thereon by the New York City Interborough Company, aforesaid, shall be granted by such company to any person or corporation which The City of New York may hereafter grant the right or franchise to use any portion of such viaduct, such bridges and their approaches for the street railway purposes, upon payment of an annual sum which shall not exceed the legal interest on one-half the cost of the construction of such portion of said street railway, and the actual cost of the power necessary for the operation of the cars of such company thereon and one-half the cost of maintenance of the tracks, wires and other equipment of the New York City Inter-Borough Railway Company used by the said grantee, including the watering, paving and cleaning of streets from ice and snow and all the other duties imposed upon the New York City Inter-Borough Railway Company in connection with the maintenance of the portion of its road used by said grantee. And such persons and companies shall have the right to make all tracks and other connections which may be requisite and necessary to connect with the tracks of the grantee, its successors or assigns, it being intended by this provision to restrict to two the number of tracks upon the bridges above described and the approaches thereto, including the viaduct in West One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street.

Sec. 5. The portion of the route above described which passes over the One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street Viaduct and the Central or Macomb's Dam Bridge and its approaches shall be operated by the grantee, its successors and assigns, solely upon the street railway erected in such streets, bridge, approaches and viaduct by the Union Railway Company of The City of New York, and not otherwise, and upon such terms of payment as may be agreed upon in the manner fixed by the provisions of a certain grant of a street railway franchise to such Union Railway Company of The City of New York, approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, 1903, provided that such grant is accepted by said Union Railway Company, and in case such grant shall not be accepted by such company then the operation of the Inter-Borough Railway Company over such bridge and viaduct shall be carried on in such manner as may be provided for by subsequent legislation.

Sec. 6. Said railway company shall commence construction within six months from the date when it has obtained complete legal authority to begin construction, including necessary permits from the City officials and departments, and shall complete the construction of at least twenty-four miles of double-track railway on or before July 1, 1905, otherwise this grant shall be forfeited. Provided that such time may be extended under and for causes specified in section 90 of the Railroad law, and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may extend such time for a period or periods not exceeding one year if, in their discretion, it seems best so to do, and that the City officials or departments who or which shall at the time of such construction have authority over the said avenues, streets, roads, highways, bridges and viaduct may extend such time for a period or periods not exceeding one year further, if reasonable, in their judgment, by reason of requirements as to the manner of construction imposed by the City officials.

Sec. 7. This grant is upon the express condition that the New York City Inter-Borough Railway Company, within thirty days after the said company has been duly authorized to operate its railway and before anything is done in exercise of the rights conferred thereby, shall deposit with the Comptroller of The City of New York the sum of fifty thousand dollars, either in money or in securities to be approved by him, which fund shall be security for the performance by such company of the terms and conditions of this grant, especially those which relate to the payment of the annual charge for the franchise, the repairs of the street pavement and the removal of snow and ice, and the quality of construction of the railroad, and in case of default in the performance by said company of such terms and conditions The City of New York shall have the right to cause the work to be done and the materials to be furnished for the performance thereof after due notice, and shall collect the reasonable cost thereof from the said fund without legal proceedings, or after default in the payment of the annual charges shall collect the same, with interest, from such fund after ten days' notice in writing to the said company. Or in case of failure to keep the said terms and conditions of this grant relating to the headway of cars, fenders and wheel guards and the heating of the cars and the watering of the street pavement, the said company shall pay a penalty of $50 a day for each day of violation, and the further sum of $10 a day for each car which shall not properly be heated or supplied with fenders and wheel guards in case of the violation of the provisions relating to those matters. In case of any drafts so made upon this security fund, the said company shall, upon thirty days' notice, in writing, pay to the Comptroller of The City of New York a sum of money sufficient to restore the said fund to the original amount of fifty thousand dollars, and in default thereof the grant hereby made may be canceled and annulled at the option of the Comptroller of The City of New York, acting on behalf of said City. No action or proceeding or rights under the provisions of this section shall affect any other legal rights, remedies or causes of action belonging to The City of New York.

Sec. 8. This grant shall not become operative until said railway company shall duly execute, under its corporate seal, an instrument in writing wherein said company shall promise, covenant and agree on its part and behalf to conform to and abide by and perform all the terms and conditions and requirements in this ordinance fixed and contained, and file the same in the office of the Comptroller of The City of New York.

Sec. 9. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen March 16, 1903.

Approved by the Mayor March 31, 1903.

In connection with the foregoing ordinance his Honor the Mayor transmitting the following message and accompanying instrument:

City of New York, Office of the Mayor,
March 31, 1903.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen of The City of New York:

I have, this morning, attached my signature to the ordinance passed by your Honorable Board on March 16, 1903, granting to the New York Interborough Railway Company the right or franchise to operate a street surface railroad in, upon and along certain streets, highways, bridges, and public places in the City of New York.

At a public hearing given by me, the terms of this franchise were criticised upon the ground that, by reason of the various provisions, the franchise, as it applies to the different routes covered by it, would expire at different dates, and, upon this assumption, it was argued that certain clauses of the franchise were so worded as to permit its indefinite continuance, at the pleasure of the grantee. The Corporation Counsel advises me that, in his opinion, the franchise runs for twenty-five years from the date of its approval by the Mayor; and that the various clauses referred to in said criticisms bear not upon the life of the franchise but upon the time at which work must be commenced on this or that route. In order to secure the City from any danger or risk upon a question so important, the Corporation Counsel, at my suggestion, has secured from the New York City Interborough Railway Company a formal admission, by an instrument which I herewith submit to your Honorable Board, that the term of the franchise is a term of twenty-five years from the time when the said ordinance shall be approved by the Mayor. The Corporation Counsel is of the opinion that this instrument disposes of all criticisms based upon these alleged defects in the ordinance.

As to the routes covered by the franchise; complaint was made at the hearing referred to only to the route affecting Riverdale and to the route upon Aqueduct avenue. As to the Riverdale route; counsel for the company stated that, if application is made to the State Railroad Commissioners to refuse consent to this route, the company would offer no objection. I desire to add that, as to this route, I shall be glad to join with the property-owners in asking the State Railroad Commissioners to withhold their consent from this particular route.

As to the line upon Aqueduct avenue; the opinion of the owners upon the avenue was divided, and the general opinion of the inhabitants of the borough, as voiced at the hearing before me, was strongly in favor of this route, among others.

After careful consideration of both sides of the question, I am of the opinion that the public interest requires that the franchise for this route should stand.

SETH LOW, Mayor.

Whereas, The Board of Aldermen of The City of New York, heretofore, and on March 16, 1903, duly adopted a certain ordinance, granting to the New York City Interborough Railway Company the right or franchise to operate a street surface railroad in, upon and along certain streets, highways, bridges and public places in The City of New York, and

Whereas, The said ordinance is now before the Mayor of The City of New York, pursuant to law, for his consideration and action, and

Whereas, Certain questions have been raised regarding the term of the right or franchise to be granted to said railway corporation by this ordinance, and

Whereas, The New York City Interborough Railway Company has requested that it be permitted to resolve any doubt created by the questions raised as to the term of the right and franchise aforesaid, by executing and delivering to The City of New York simultaneously with the approval by the Mayor of the ordinance granting such right and franchise, of an instrument which shall operate as an estoppel in deed upon the said railway corporation, so as to fix absolutely the term of any right or franchise to operate a street railway upon the routes set out in said ordinance, or any portion thereof, so that such term shall not in any event exceed the period of twenty-five years from the date when the said ordinance shall be approved by the Mayor, and

Whereas, The City of New York, acting through the Mayor, is willing to receive such an instrument as a preliminary act of the said railway company before the said ordinance shall be approved by the Mayor;

Know all men by these presents, that the New York City Interborough Railway Company, a domestic corporation, doth hereby declare and certify that the term of the right or franchise to operate a street surface railroad in, upon and along certain streets, highways, bridges and public places in The City of New York, which is mentioned and described in a certain ordinance adopted by the Board of Aldermen of The City of New York on March 16, 1903, is the term of twenty-five years from the time when the said ordinance shall be approved by the Mayor, and that nothing in said ordinance contained shall be taken to extend the term of such franchise, whether by reason of any portion of the routes therein specifically described, passing over or along land which is now in private ownership, or otherwise, and that this declaration shall operate upon the said corporation and its rights, and the rights of all persons or corporations hereafter to claim under it as an estoppel and bar, both in law and in equity, upon the said railway corporation, its successors and assigns, prohibiting it from in any manner, or at any time, questioning the term of the right or franchise to be as above set forth, or claiming any right based upon a construction of the said ordinance to a contrary effect.

It is understood and agreed that nothing in this instrument contained shall affect the right of the New York City Interborough Railway Company to a renewal of the said right or franchise, according to the terms of the said ordinance at the expiration of the original term of twenty-five years from the date when the ordinance aforesaid shall be approved by the Mayor.

In witness whereof the New York City Interborough Railway Company has caused its corporate seal to be affixed to these presents and the same to be attested by its secretary, the 30th day of March, in the year nineteen hundred and three.

The Chief Engineer also presented the following report:

NEW YORK, March 14, 1903.

REPORT No. 516.

To the Aqueduct Commissioners:

GENTLEMEN—That portion of the Old Croton Aqueduct between the Old and the New Croton Dams is so situated that it will be within the New Croton Reservoir, and when the reservoir is filled the water will submerge the aqueduct to a depth of 36 feet.

Certain portions of the Old Aqueduct are built upon embankments that have settled, causing cracks and leaks in the conduit, and many repairs have been necessary from time to time. These embankments, if submerged, would settle further to such an extent as to destroy the usefulness of the aqueduct. Near the Old Croton Dam the invert or bottom of the aqueduct has leaked considerably and many repairs have been made by grouting and cementing the cracks.

I present for your consideration the following general plan of reconstruction, in order that the aqueduct may be maintained after it is submerged:

At the crossing of all ravines new sections of the aqueduct made of concrete resting upon concrete foundations to be built in lieu of those portions that are upon embankments.

Near the Old Dam where leaks have occurred or where the invert is unsound, the foundation to be grouted with Portland cement and reinforced with concrete about a foot in thickness placed upon the present invert.

To compensate for the loss of area of the aqueduct due to the above, the upper arch should be removed and reconstructed one foot higher than at present. The grade of the aqueduct will permit this to be done without decreasing its carrying capacity. The covering arch is but eight inches in thickness and generally this should be reinforced with eight inches of concrete. All the concrete for this work should be made of Portland cement.

I have recently gone over the line of the aqueduct between the New and Old Dams with Mr. Nicholas S. Hill, Jr., Chief Engineer, and Mr. George W. Birdsall, Consulting Engineer, of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity. I called their attention to the above plan of reconstruction and they gave it their verbal approval.

The work can be done without interference with the flow of water in the aqueduct, except for a period of about a month, but at all times the aqueduct could be used in case of an emergency on a few hours' notice.

As the Old Croton Aqueduct is under the supervision of Mr. R. G. Monroe, Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, I would advise that a copy of this report be referred to him for his approval and suggestion.

I am preparing an estimate of the cost of reconstruction, which I shall shortly submit to you.

Yours respectfully,

W. R. HILL, Chief Engineer.

The President was directed to transmit a copy of said report to the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, with a request that he make any suggestions he might desire.

The following communication was received:

NEW YORK, March 12, 1903.

WILLIAM H. TEN EYCK, Esq., President, Aqueduct Commission, No. 280 Broadway, Manhattan:

DEAR SIR—In reply to your letter of January 29, 1903, transmitting "General Plan and Profile showing location of grade of blow-off pipe line from Gatehouse No. 2, Jerome Park Reservoir, to the Broadway sewer, in the Borough of The Bronx, dated January 26, 1903," I beg to say that the plan submitted has not been approved, in view of the fact that the changes of grade suggested thereon must receive the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and of the Board of Aldermen, pursuant to the revised Greater New York Charter.

It is my intention to present your application so far as it relates to the change of grade of Van Cortlandt avenue, from the junction of Albany road with Van Cortlandt Park to Sedgwick avenue, to the next meeting of the Local Board of Morrisania, to be held on March 19, 1903, at this office, at 4 p. m., which will require also a modification of the grade on the intersecting streets. I would suggest the presence of yourself or some representative of your Board to appear at said meeting.

The question of the expediency of connecting this blow-off pipe line with the sewer in Broadway has not finally been determined upon by the Engineer in charge of sewers for this borough so as to recommend the approval of your application, as no details are shown how such proposed connection with the Broadway sewer is to be made. I respectfully request that a plan be furnished to me setting forth in full the details of the connection which is desired to be made. This is necessary in view of the fact that the discharge of water from this proposed blow-off pipe will, no doubt, at times enter the sewer in very large volume and at high velocity. It seems therefore advisable that this pipe should not discharge directly into the sewer, but into a masonry chamber to be built by the Aqueduct Commission, and be so arranged that the velocity of the water from the blow-off pipe should be very materially checked before entering into the sewer.

I return plan transmitted.

Yours truly,

LOUIS F. HAFFEN, President of the Borough of The Bronx.

Which was referred to the Chief Engineer to confer with the Engineer of the Borough of The Bronx.

The following communication was received from the Municipal Civil Service Commission:

NEW YORK, March 17, 1903.

HARRY W. WALKER, Esq., Secretary, Aqueduct Commission:

DEAR SIR—In response to your requisition of the 13th instant for two Superintendents of Dam Construction and one Inspector of Masonry, I beg to certify, in addition to the Inspectors of Masonry certified on the 13th, the following names which you may consider for the additional vacancies:

	Per Cent.
Tonyan, Joseph H., 128 West Ninetieth street.....	78.60
Marshall, Michael J., 166 East Seventy-eighth street.....	78.50
Fury, John, 1684 Second avenue.....	75.40
Quinn, Thomas, Elm street, Tarrytown.....	74.20
Hegarty, Arthur B., 151 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn.....

The first name is from the preferred list, formed in pursuance of section 1543 of the Charter, and must be preferred for appointment.

The title of Superintendent of Dam Construction is not classified, and the list of Inspector of Masonry is certified as being the most nearly appropriate for the position you desire to fill.

Yours very truly,

S. WM. BRISCOE, Secretary.

Which was referred to the Chief Engineer, and in connection therewith the Secretary was directed to ascertain from said Commission whether it intends to hold an examination for the position of Superintendent of Dam Construction, calling attention to the fact that in response to its request of November 15, 1902, this Commission furnished the Civil Service Commission with a statement of the duties of a Superintendent of Dam Construction on November 24, 1902.

An application was received from C. Austin Crane, Assistant Engineer, dated March 20, 1903, for a leave of absence, without pay, for one year, beginning April 1, 1903.

Which was referred to the Chief Engineer for report.

An application was received from J. Peterson, Mechanical Draughtsman, dated March 19, 1903, for an examination for promotion to Assistant Engineer.

Which was laid over.

The Commissioners then adjourned.

HARRY W. WALKER, Secretary.

The Board of Aldermen of The City of New York hereby grants to the Union Railway Company of New York City, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter set forth, the franchise or right to extend its railway and to use the streets, avenues, highways, bridge and viaduct of the city, and to construct, maintain and operate a double-track street surface railway, as an extension of its existing railway for street railway purposes in the conveyance of persons and property, in, upon and along the following named streets, avenues, highways, bridge and viaduct, viz:

Commencing at the intersection of Jerome and Sedgwick avenues at the terminus of the tracks of this company's Jerome avenue line; thence upon and along the westerly approach, known as the Sedgwick avenue approach, formerly called Ogden avenue approach, to Central or Macomb's Dam Bridge; thence southerly upon and along said bridge and the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street Viaduct and Macomb's Dam road to the terminus of the railway of the Eighth Avenue Railroad Company, between West One Hundred and Fifty-fourth and West One Hundred and Fifty-fifth streets; also from the intersection of said Central or Macomb's Dam Bridge and the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street Viaduct; thence westerly upon and along said viaduct to the station, depot or terminus of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company, situated between said bridge and Bradhurst avenue, together with the necessary connections, switches, sidings, turnouts, turntables, cross-overs and suitable stands necessary for the accommodation and operation of said railroad by the overhead system of electricity or any other motive power which may be lawfully employed upon the same; all in the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, City, County and State of New York. The phrases "said railroad" or "said railway" hereinafter used, shall be construed to mean the railroad constructed under this ordinance.

Section 2. The grant of said franchise or right to use said streets, avenues, highways, bridge and viaduct is made subject to the following conditions:

First—The consent in writing of the owners of half in value of the property bounded on said streets, avenues, highways, parkways and public places to the construction and operation of said railroad shall be obtained by the grantee, or in the event that such consent cannot be obtained, the grantee shall obtain the favorable determination, confirmed by the Court, of three Commissioners, appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, before said railroad is built or operated.

Second—The said right, privilege and franchise to construct and operate said railway shall be held and enjoyed by said railway company, its lessee or successors, for the term of twenty-five years, with the privilege of renewal of said grant for a further period of twenty-five years upon a fair revaluation of said right, privilege and franchise. Such revaluation shall be of the right, privilege and franchise to maintain and operate said railroad by itself, and not to include any valuation derived from the ownership, operation or control of any other railroad by the grantee, its successor or assigns. It shall be in the following manner:

One disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment or its successor in authority; one disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the railway company; these two shall choose a third disinterested freeholder. The three so chosen shall act as appraisers and shall make the revaluations aforesaid. Such appraisers shall be chosen at least six months prior to the expiration of the grant, and their report shall be filed with the Comptroller or his successor in authority within three months after they are chosen. They shall act as appraisers and not as arbitrators. They may base their judgment upon their own experience, and upon such information as they may obtain by inquiries and investigations without the presence of either party. They shall have the right to examine the books of the railway company. The valuations so ascertained, fixed and determined shall be conclusive upon both parties, but shall not in any event be less than the minimum amount fixed as the sum to be paid annually for the last five years of the original franchise.

Third—Upon the termination of said franchise or right, whether original or renewed, the plant and property of the grantee, its successor or assigns, in such streets, avenues and highways, and upon such bridge and viaduct, with its appurtenances constructed under this ordinance, shall be and become the property of The City of New York upon the repayment to the grantee of the fair value of the said plant and property constructed in the streets and on the bridge and its approaches and on the viaduct under this ordinance, which valuation shall be the fair value thereof as property, excluding any value derived from the franchise, and such value shall be determined by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment or its successors in authority.

Fourth—The said Union Railway Company of New York City, its successors or assigns, shall pay into the Treasury of The City of New York for this franchise the following sums of money: During the first term of five years an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $4,000, and which shall be equal to three per cent. of the gross annual receipts of the railroad constructed under this ordinance, computed in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $4,000; during the next five years of the term an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $4,500, and which shall be equal to five per cent. of the gross annual receipts of the railroad constructed under this ordinance, computed in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $4,500; during the next five years of the term an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $5,000, and which shall be equal to five per cent. of the gross annual receipts of the railroad constructed under this ordinance, computed in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $5,000; during the last five years of the term, an annual sum which shall in no case be less than $6,000, and shall be equal to five per cent. of the gross annual receipts of the railroad constructed under this ordinance, computed in the manner provided by the Railroad Law, if such percentage shall exceed the sum of $6,000, and the terms hereafter to be fixed for any renewal term of such franchise shall not be less than $6,000 per annum, and no renewal of the franchise shall provide for a further renewal.

Such sums shall be paid into the treasury of The City of New York on November 1st in each year after the commencement of the operation of any portion of the said railroad, provided, however, that the first payment shall only be for that proportion of the above sum as the time of commencement of operation of any portion of the said railroad, before September 30th next preceding, shall bear to the whole of one year. The fiscal year shall end on September 30th next preceding said date of payment, and the provisions of the Railroad Law as it now exists, or as it may hereafter be amended, relating to the manner of payments and statements of percentages of gross receipts of street railway companies shall, as to said railroad, be strictly followed. The intention of this paragraph is to fix an annual charge to be paid by the grantee, its successors or assigns, to The City of New York for the rights and franchise hereby granted, and it shall not be construed as providing for the payment by the grantee, its successors or assigns, for said franchise, of a percentage of gross receipts within the meaning of any general or special statute, referring particularly to chapter 340 of the Laws of 1892.

Fifth—The said annual charge or payments shall continue throughout the whole term of the franchise hereby granted, whether original or renewed, notwithstanding any clause in any statute or in the charter of any other railway company providing for payments for street railway rights or franchises at a different rate, and no assignment, lease or sub-lease of the rights of franchise hereby granted, whether original or renewed, or of any part thereof, or of any of the routes mentioned herein, or of any part thereof, shall be valid or effectual for any purpose unless the said assignment, lease or sub-lease shall contain a covenant on the part of the assignee or lessee that the same is subject to all the conditions of this grant, and that the assignee or lessee assumes and will be bound by all of said conditions, and especially said condition as to payments, anything in any statute or the charter of such assignee or lessee to the contrary notwithstanding, and that the said assignee or lessee waives, so far as this franchise is concerned, any more favorable conditions created by such statute or its charter, and that it will not claim by reason thereof, or otherwise, exemption from liability to perform each and all of the conditions of this grant.

Sixth—The rights and franchises granted hereby shall not be assigned either in whole or in part, or leased or sub-let in any manner, nor shall title thereto, or right, interest or property therein, pass to or vest in any other person or corporation whatsoever, either by the act of the Union Railway Company of New York City, its successors or assigns, or by operation of law, whether under the provisions of the statutes relating to the consolidation or merger of corporations, or otherwise, without the consent of The City of New York acting by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successor in authority, evidenced by an instrument under seal, anything herein contained to the contrary thereof in any-wise notwithstanding, and the granting, giving or waiving of any one or more of such consents shall not render unnecessary any subsequent consent or consents.

Seventh—The said railway may be operated by overhead electrical power substantially similar to the system of overhead electrical traction now in use by the Union Railway Company, or by the underground electric system now in use by the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, and by any other motive power except locomotive steam power or horse power which may be approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners, and consented to by the owners of property in accordance with the provisions of the Railroad Law.

Eighth—The said railway shall be constructed, maintained and operated subject to the supervision and control of all the authorities of The City of New York, who have jurisdiction in such matters under the Charter of the City.

Ninth—Said railway shall be constructed and operated in the latest improved manner of street railway construction and operation, and the railway and property of said company shall be maintained in good condition throughout the term of this grant.

Tenth—The rate of fare for any passenger upon said railway shall be five cents, and said company shall not charge any passenger more than said sum for one continuous ride from any point on said railway or a line or branch operated in connection therewith to any point thereof, or of any connecting line or branch thereof, within the limits of The City of New York. The rates for the carrying of property over said railroad upon the cars of the grantee shall in all cases be reasonable in amount and shall be subject to the control of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or its successor in authority, and may be fixed by such Board after notice and hearing to the grantee, and when so fixed such rate shall be binding upon said grantee, its successor or assigns, and no greater sums shall be charged for such services than provided for by it.

Eleventh—The cars on said railroad shall run at intervals of not more than ten minutes from 6 o'clock a. m. to 8 o'clock p. m. and at intervals of not more than twenty minutes from 8 o'clock p. m. to 6 o'clock a. m. of each day, and as much oftener as the reasonable convenience of the public may require or as may be directed by City Ordinance.

Twelfth—The said railway company shall apply to each car run over said railway a proper fender and wheel guard in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities.

Thirteenth—All cars on said railway shall be heated through the cold weather in conformity to such laws and ordinances as are now in force, or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities, and each car shall be well lighted either by the Pintsch gas system or by electricity, or by some system of lighting equally efficient.

Fourteenth—The said company shall at all times keep the streets, bridge and viaduct upon which said railroad is constructed, between its tracks, and for a distance of two feet beyond the rails upon either side of said streets, free and clear from ice and snow.

Fifteenth—The said railway company, as long as it shall continue to use any of the tracks upon said streets, avenues, highways, parkways, public places, bridge or viaduct, upon which said railroad is constructed, shall have and keep in permanent repair that portion of the surface of said streets, avenues, highways, parkways, bridge and viaduct, between its tracks, the rails of its tracks, and two feet in width outside of its tracks, under the supervision of the proper local authorities, and whenever required by them to do so, and in such manner as they may prescribe. And the City of New York shall have the right to change the material or character of the pavement of any street, highway, parkway, public place, bridge and viaduct upon which said railroad is constructed, and in that event the grantee, its successors or assigns, shall be bound to replace such pavement in the manner directed by the proper City officer at its own expense, and the provision as to repairs herein contained shall apply to such renewed or altered pavement.

Sixteenth—In case of any violation or breach or failure to comply with any of the provisions herein contained, this grant may be forfeited by a suit brought by the Corporation Counsel on notice of ten days to the said railway company.

Section 3. This grant is also upon the further and express condition that the provisions of Article 4 of the Railroad Law applicable thereto, and all laws or ordinances now in force or which may be adopted affecting the surface railroads operating in the City of New York, shall be strictly complied with as to said railroad.

Section 4. This grant is upon the express condition that the use of the said railroad, including the tracks, wires and other equipment constructed upon the Central or Macomb's Dam Bridge and its approaches, and upon the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street Viaduct, and upon the Macomb's Dam road as above set forth, and within a distance of 1,000 feet from the end of such approaches to said bridge and viaduct, shall be granted by the Union Railway Company of New York City, its successors or assigns, to any other person or corporation to which The City of New York may have granted or may hereafter grant the right or franchise to use such bridge or approaches or viaduct for street railway purposes, upon payment of an annual sum which shall not exceed the legal interest on one-half the cost of the construction of such railway and its approaches as aforesaid, and the actual cost of the power necessary for the operation of the cars of such person or company thereon, and one-half the cost of maintenance of the tracks, wires and other equipment of the Union Railway Company used by the said grantee, including the paving and cleaning of streets from ice and snow, and all the other duties imposed upon the Union Railway Company in connection with the maintenance of the portion of said railroad used by said grantee. The grant of this franchise shall not affect in any way the right of The City of New York to grant a similar franchise upon the same or other terms and conditions over the same streets, avenues, highways, bridge, approaches and viaduct upon which said railroad is constructed, to any other person or corporation, and such persons and companies shall have the right to make all track and other connections which may be requisite and necessary to connect with the tracks of the grantee, its successors or assigns, it being intended by this provision to restrict to two the number of tracks upon the bridge above described and the approaches thereto, including the viaduct in West One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street.

Sec. 5. The said railway company shall commence construction within ten days from the date when it has obtained complete legal authority to begin construction, including necessary permits from the city officials and departments, and shall complete construction within ninety days thereafter; otherwise this grant shall be forfeited. Provided that such time may be extended under and for causes specified in section 90 of the Railroad Law, and that the city officials or departments, who or which shall at the time of such construction have authority over the said bridge and viaduct, may extend said time for a period or periods not exceeding ninety days further, if reasonable, in their judgment, by reason of requirements as to the manner of construction imposed by the city officials.

Sec. 6. This grant is upon the express condition that the Union Railway Company, within thirty days after this ordinance takes effect and before anything is done in exercise of the rights conferred thereby, shall deposit with the Comptroller of the City of New York the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, either in money or in securities to be approved by him, which fund shall be security for the performance by such company of the terms and conditions of this grant, especially those which relate to the payment of the annual charge for the franchise, the repairs of the street pavement and the removal of snow and ice, and the quality of construction of the railroad, and in case of default in the performance of said company of such terms and conditions, The City of New York shall have the right to cause the work to be done and the materials to be furnished for the performance thereof after due notice, and shall collect the reasonable cost thereof from the said fund without legal proceedings, or after default in the payment of the annual charges shall collect the same with interest from such fund after ten days' notice in writing to the said company. Or in case of failure to keep the said terms and conditions of this grant relating to the headways of cars, fenders and wheel guards and the heating of the cars, the said company shall pay a penalty of $50 a day for each day of violation, and the sum of $10 a day for each car which shall not properly be heated or supplied with fenders and wheel guards in case of the violation of the provisions relating to those matters. In case of any drafts so made upon this security fund, the said company shall, upon thirty days' notice, in writing, pay to the Comptroller of the City of New York a sum of money sufficient to restore the said fund to the original amount of two thousand five hundred dollars, and in default thereof the grant hereby made may be canceled and annulled at the option of the Comptroller of the City of New York, acting on behalf of said City. No action or proceeding or rights under the provisions of this section shall affect any other legal rights, remedies or causes of action belonging to The City of New York.

Sec. 6. The provisions and obligations of this ordinance shall only attach to the rights and franchise hereby granted and the railroads constructed thereunder and the operation thereof.

Sec. 7. This grant shall not become operative until said railway company shall duly execute, under its corporate seal, an instrument in writing wherein said company shall promise, covenant and agree on its part and behalf to conform to and abide by and perform all the terms and conditions and requirements in this ordinance fixed and contained, and file the same in the office of the Comptroller of the City of New York.

Sec. 8. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

REPORT OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL.

LAW DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
NEW YORK, February 24, 1903.

Hon. SETH LOW, Mayor:

SIR—I submit the following report of the transactions of the Law Department of the City of New York for the year 1902.

The work of this Department, under the Charter, consists in the first place of acting as legal adviser to the Mayor and other city officials, watching legislation affecting the City, drafting or approving contracts, leases, etc., and attending to other business out of Court; in the second place, of conducting litigation for or against the City, including some litigation of a criminal character; and in the third place, of conducting proceedings to acquire land for the multifarious uses of the City.

The organization of the Department is, to a certain extent, based upon this natural division of its functions, but it must also necessarily be governed by geographical considerations. The Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx constitute the first judicial Department of the State. The Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond form part of the second judicial Department. All litigation, therefore, in these various parts of the City, is conducted before different sets of Judges, and for its efficient management, two principal offices must necessarily be maintained, one in the Borough of Manhattan and the other in the Borough of Brooklyn.

The Charter provides that there shall be in the Law Department a Bureau for the Collection of Penalties and a Bureau for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes. Both of these Bureaus, as their names indicate, are concerned with litigation in which the City acts as plaintiff. The Charter also provides that there shall be a Bureau of Street Openings, which is concerned with the acquisition of land for new streets, and it is therefore exclusively concerned with proceedings for condemnation of land.

On the first of January, 1902, I found that, in addition to the two principal offices of the Department, and the three Bureaus provided by law, there were three branch offices, viz.: A branch office for the Borough of Queens which was situated at No. 280 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan. A branch office connected with the Department of Health at Fifty-sixth street and Sixth avenue. A branch office connected with the Department of Buildings at Eighteenth street and Fourth avenue.

The Department of Buildings was legislated out of existence on the 1st of January, 1902, and its functions divided among the several Borough Presidents. This fact, together with the other enormously increased powers and duties of the Borough Presidents, made it imperative in my judgment that well-equipped branch offices should be established in the Boroughs of The Bronx, Queens and Richmond, in convenient proximity to the offices of the Borough Presidents. I therefore have caused the Queens Borough office to be removed to Long Island City, and have established branch offices, each under the charge of an assistant, in the Boroughs of Richmond and The Bronx.

The branch office connected with the Health Department I abolished after consulting with Dr. Lederle, and transferred the work to the Bureau for the Collection of Penalties. The results are proving, I think, satisfactory. Heretofore, the assistant in charge of that office was largely engaged in advising people as to what the Department of Health required, which was a matter properly for the officials of that Department. The business now conducted by the Law Department for the Health Department is solely legal business. It is more convenient for citizens in general, and especially for lawyers, to call in reference to actions in Health Department cases at law offices in the neighborhood where law business is usually done. It is also the fact that citizens comply more promptly with the orders of the Health Department when they find themselves dealing with the Corporation Counsel's office directly, instead of with a branch, as it were, of the Board of Health.

The same results, so far as I am able to judge, have followed from the abolition of the special branch connected with the Building Department.

I am of the opinion that the business of this Department will be better conducted and give more satisfaction to citizens generally if no branch office is maintained in connection with any other Department. I have, however, consented to make one exception to this general rule in the case of the Tenement House Department, because of the novelty and variety of questions with which it is called upon to deal. But in my judgment this branch should only be regarded as a temporary expedient, and after the work of the Tenement House Department has been carried on sufficiently long that branch of the Law Department ought to be abolished.

In addition to the regular employees of the Department, special counsel have been retained by me in a few cases. The most important of these are the cases relating to the watershed belonging to the City, situated in the Counties of Westchester and Putnam. In common with all my predecessors, I am satisfied that the interests of the City require that they should be protected by lawyers resident in that part of the State and thoroughly familiar with local conditions.

I have also employed counsel in patent matters; in reference to certain proceedings affecting the riparian rights of the City; in three condemnation proceedings where counsel were heretofore employed and which are almost completed, and in the trial of a few cases where special knowledge of the facts made such employment very desirable. The total expenditure for this purpose in the past year was much less than the sum appropriated. The employment of special counsel was undoubtedly carried too far in former years, and it has been my policy to limit such employment as narrowly as possible.

Prior to January 1, 1902, the office of Junior Assistant Corporation Counsel had been placed in the competitive class of the Municipal Civil Service, but no examination for that office had ever been held, and no eligible list was in existence. At my request the Civil Service Commission held an examination for that purpose, and I have appointed several Junior Assistants from the eligible list, so formed, with very satisfactory results.

At my request the Civil Service Commission's new rules have reduced by ten the number of exempt positions in the Department.

The expenses of maintaining and managing this Department for the year 1902 (so far as such expenses are paid out of taxes) will amount (when all the bills are paid) to about $424,650.67, as against $458,025.16 for the expenses of the year 1901.

I call attention particularly to the fact that the payments for salaries of Assistants, Clerks, etc., in the Department (exclusive of the Street Opening Bureau) were only $329,435.01 in 1902, as against $323,272.72 in 1901, although the number of persons employed at the close of the year was 157, as against 132 at the close of 1901.

The total amount collected by the Department in 1902 was $553,992.99, a sum enormously in excess of the collections of any previous year, and nearly $130,000 more than the whole expense of running the Department. This amount was made up as follows:

Main offices.....	$120,960 82
Personal taxes.....	385,032 20
Penalties.....	24,657 12
Building and Tenement House Department.....	23,342 85
Total.....	$553,992 99

I proceed now to take up the work of the Department under the three general heads outlined above, namely:

First—Advising City officials and other work out of court.

Second—Litigation; and Third—Condemnation proceedings.

I.

PREPARATION OF OPINIONS.

During the year 1902, I have rendered 1,909 formal written opinions in answer to requests of various City officers therefor. Many of them involved much labor and research, and the work was rendered more difficult than usual because the amended New York Charter went into effect at the beginning of the year and made many changes in the former Charter, thus rendering it necessary to re-examine the fundamental law relating to the City in many important particulars. In addition to these written opinions, a great deal of advice has been given by word of mouth to the Mayor and other officials of the City Government.

AS TO LEGISLATION.

The time of one of my assistants was all occupied during the earlier part of the year, when the Legislature was in session, in representing the City before Committees of the Legislature, in attending public hearings before the Governor and in assisting the Mayor in his duties in examining bills affecting the City. The necessity of such action is evident from the fact that there were 2,100 bills introduced into the Legislature of 1902, of which 591 directly affected The City of New York.

Of the bills affecting The City of New York, 94 became laws, 18 were vetoed by the Governor, 41 were vetoed by the Mayor, and 438, most of which were opposed by my assistant under instructions from the Administration, failed of passing.

AS TO DRAFTING OF CONTRACTS AND APPROVAL THEREOF.

The adoption of the revised Greater New York Charter, with its provisions for home rule and the changes in the heads of Departments from Boards to single Commissioners or to Borough Presidents, and the separation of the hospitals from the Department of Public Charities, required many and marked changes in the forms of contracts. In making these changes, the occasion was seized as a proper one to make uniform, so far as possible, the contracts of the several Boroughs and Departments of the City.

The same effort has been directed to secure uniformity in the proposals for bids or estimates, and this effort has resulted in a material saving to the City in the cost of advertising. This was effected by first securing the adoption by heads of Departments of a general form issued by the Law Department, and by subsequently publishing the general conditions required to be published by the ordinances and Charter, once only for all insertions of advertisements, reference being made in each advertisement to these general conditions in the last column on the last page of the "City Record." The adoption of this practice has reduced the length of the advertisements of letting for supplies and public improvements by at least one-half.

The number of contracts approved as to form during the year was 2,180. For the previous four years the average number of contracts approved was 993.

GRANTS OF LAND UNDER WATER.

During the year thirty-six applications have been made for grants of land under water within the city limits by private individuals and corporations, of all of which the City has received due notice.

Under section 86 of the Charter the Commissioners of the Land Office are authorized to insert in all patents issued for lands under water in Greater New York such terms and conditions as are recommended by the Dock Department and will protect the public interests of the City.

Up to the time of my taking office no conditions had been inserted in patents by the Commissioners of the Land Office, although an attempt had been made on behalf of the Dock Department to have certain conditions put in all grants. Early in the year I took the subject up with the Commissioners of the Land Office, and suggested certain conditions which would enable the City in the future to acquire title to the lands granted upon an equitable basis as between the City and the patentee; and after full examination of the subject and several conferences between the Attorney General and myself or my representative, the Commissioners of the Land Office adopted a resolution on September 19, 1902, for the insertion of such conditions in all subsequent grants, and since that time all grants have contained these conditions.

An action has been brought by the City to determine the title of lands under water in Sheepshead Bay, based upon the title of the Town of Gravesend to lands under water within the limits of the grant to the town by the crown. The determination of this action will settle a long-mooted question as to the titles of the towns of Long Island and the present title of The City of New York to lands under water in Sheepshead and Jamaica bays, which are of increasing value.

II.

The litigation affecting the City naturally divides itself into cases where the City is plaintiff, and cases where the City is defendant.

Of the cases in which the City is plaintiff a comparatively small number are brought into the Supreme Court, or fall within the management of the main office and the borough branches. By far the larger part of such litigation comes within the control of the Bureau for the Collection of Penalties and the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes. Nevertheless, a certain number of cases brought by the City comes under the charge of the main offices.

Owing to the increase in office force allowed by the larger appropriation for salaries, I have been enabled to revive many cases that had, almost of necessity, been permitted to slumber for years past. An insufficient office force in this Department inevitably results in neglect of the City's own cases. Where the City is defendant, plaintiffs are usually urgent to have their cases tried, and the Courts compel the City to proceed. But where the City is plaintiff the opposite party is usually quite willing to let the cases remain untied.

By forcing on some important actions of ejectment I have succeeded in recovering some valuable land. One such case I compromised, with the approval of the Mayor and Comptroller, upon payment to the City of the sum of $75,000.

CASES AGAINST STREET RAILROADS.

Hearings were begun in June, 1902, before Mr. Hamilton Odell, as referee, in two actions against the Manhattan Railway Company for an accounting of the income derived from passenger traffic on the Ninth avenue elevated line, of which the City, under the provisions of chapter 489 of the Laws of 1867, is entitled to 5 per cent. The accounting is proceeding in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeals in one of the cases reported in 143 New York, at page 1. A large sum of money is involved.

A number of cases have been begun since the 1st of January, 1902, against various railroad companies to recover the sums expended by the City for repairing or repaving the portion of the streets within and about the tracks of the railroad companies which, by their charter, or the Railroad Law, the companies are bound to keep in repair. The aggregate amount demanded by the City in cases either begun or in which complaints have been served during the year, amounts to over $900,000; and the entire amount involved in all the cases pending is over $1,250,000. There are also pending a number of cases—nearly all of them recently begun—to recover what are known as car license fees.

The cases against the companies included in the Metropolitan system have been much delayed by the technical nature of the defenses set up by the companies; but recent decisions of the Appellate Division have cleared the way to prosecution of the actions on the merits.

Litigation is also pending to test power of the City to remove disused car tracks from the street. The question comes up in various forms, both in Manhattan and Brooklyn, and involves, among other long stretches of track, the unused and unusable Third Avenue Railroad Company's tracks in Amsterdam avenue.

A large amount of litigation has been pending for a long time past in reference to the taxes due from the Manhattan and Metropolitan Street Railway systems. This litigation is of the most complex character.

In the case of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company's taxes, the litigation still continues, and unless some settlement can be effected is likely to occupy the Courts for a considerable time.

In the case of the Manhattan Railway Company, substantially all of the litigation in relation to taxes that was pending on January 1, 1902, related to the taxes for the years 1895 to 1899, both inclusive. The Special Franchise Tax Law which went into effect on February 1, 1900, relieved the officials of The City of New York from responsibility in regard to the taxes on the elevated structure and franchises for that and subsequent years.

The taxes in dispute amounted originally to $2,799,718.68, of which, however, the company had paid $1,139,177.25, leaving $859,396.68 claimed by The City of New York, together with interest from the various dates upon which these taxes became payable. It was apparent from the history of the former litigation between the Manhattan Railway Company and the City, which had been in many respects of a very inconclusive character, that an adjustment of this controversy through the Courts would last for many years, and that no one could predict with any certainty what the outcome would be. I therefore thought it wise to enter upon negotiations with the Company with a view to a compromise of the City's claims. As a result of much discussion, the claims were finally completely settled on a basis approved by the Mayor and Comptroller, and the City received in full settlement, including interest, from the Manhattan Company the sum of $752,524.50.

PROCEEDINGS TO COLLECT WATER RENTS.

Soon after the beginning of the year the discovery was made by the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity that in various ways far more water had been and was being used in certain business places than was paid for, even though meters had been installed. Mr. Dougherty then caused tests to be made from which he determined as accurately as possible the amounts actually used. Bills for these amounts were presented to the consumers and payment demanded on penalty of having the water shut off. In many cases the consumers paid. In a few cases the consumer whose supply was threatened to be cut off appealed to the courts for injunctions to restrain the Commissioner's threatened action. In the case of Krumenaker v. Dougherty the Appellate Division upheld the course adopted by the Commissioner, and as a result the amount demanded was paid. The case is exceedingly important and should have a most beneficial effect in checking excessive and unconscionable uses of water.

I have also begun an action against a city contractor to recover the value of the water supplied to him by the City, through a meter, for use in connection with his contract work. A valuable precedent will be established by this case, which, it is expected, will shortly be tried.

In the case of the New York and Westchester Water Company a contract was made some years ago permitting them to draw 500,000 gallons a day from the City's water supply. This water the company subsequently pumped and supplied to certain parts of the Borough of The Bronx. A meter had at one time been put upon the outlet which supplied the company, but after operating for about a week had broken down and had never been repaired. Early in 1902 Mr. Dougherty caused a new meter to be put in and kept it in repair. The result appeared to be that the company, instead of drawing 500,000 gallons a day, which was all they paid for, was, in fact, drawing nearer 1,000,000 gallons a day. The company was in the hands of receivers and their property had been sold under foreclosure. I began proceedings against the receivers, but suggested to the Commissioner that the most satisfactory arrangement that could be made would be to have the City acquire the entire property of that company so far as it was situated within the city limits. Negotiations to that end were carried forward by the Commissioner and the Comptroller, with the result that the entire property of the company was acquired on satisfactory terms by the City and the litigation against the receivers was incidentally settled.

ACTIONS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following is a summary of the actions and proceedings pending against the City on December 31, 1902:

Miscellaneous proceedings and actions.....	6,053
"Prevailing Rate of Wages" cases.....	4,086
"Suspension" cases.....	4,769
"Overtime" cases.....	724
Proceedings to Reduce Assessments.....	675
Total.....	16,397

The actions and proceedings of all kinds pending on December 31, 1902, as stated in the report for that year, amounted to 12,748. The increase shown by the foregoing figures this year amounts to 3,719 cases and proceedings, and this increase is entirely accounted for by the growth in the number of what are known as suspension and overtime cases. In other classes of litigation there is substantially no change. There is a slight increase in the number of pending negligence cases and a corresponding decrease in the number of pending equity cases. The number of proceedings to vacate assessments has been largely reduced owing to favorable decisions by the courts in pending test cases, which have led attorneys to discontinue hopeless proceedings. The number of pending condemnation proceedings has also been reduced.

There are several things to be borne in mind in connection with the subject of unfinished litigation. First—Of the cases which are pending upon the books of this office a large number will never be brought to trial, but have been practically abandoned by both sides, although for one reason or another they are not actually disposed of. Second—A very great number of cases often depend upon the decision in a single test case. Third—This office suffers in the same way as all the legal profession from the over-crowding of the courts. The City has a right to a preference in the trial of cases, but I have not thought it desirable as a rule to claim a preference except in such cases as seem to involve some matter of serious public interest. Fourth—The office force is probably still inadequate—although considerably enlarged under the present administration—to deal as promptly as it should with the enormous mass of work to be attended to.

Much of the litigation here referred to is of a special and technical character, such as in certiorari proceedings to reduce taxes, in litigation relative to assessments for local improvements, in patent suits, in admiralty suits and in the large special class of proceedings growing out of the Civil Service laws.

There is also a great amount of general litigation involving a very wide range of subjects, which embraces almost every branch of legal learning, except criminal law, the domestic relations and the law of probate courts. Even these matters are occasionally before this Department.

ACTIONS BY LABORERS.

It will be observed that of this great mass of litigation 8,579 cases, or considerably more than half, are actions brought to recover wages. I have heretofore called your attention to this discreditable condition of affairs. The City of New York should not be engaged in so many controversies with its servants, and especially with men who are paid daily wages and are presumably dependent upon those wages for the support of themselves and their families. The existence of this vast litigation is due in part to the passage of obscure and unconstitutional laws, and in part to the unwise action of the heads of certain departments in former years.

It has been my effort to have typical cases brought to trial at the earliest possible day, and to get final decisions from the courts in regard to them.

In the group of cases relating to the so-called Prevailing Rate of Wages Law (which now number 4,086), I entered into an arrangement with the attorneys for several of the important labor unions of the State and City, who also represented a large number of claimants, to try the case of Pierce Ryan vs. The City of New York. The City's contention that the provisions of the Labor Law regarding the prevailing rate of wages were unconstitutional under the ruling of the Court of Appeals in People ex rel. Rodgers vs. Coler was sustained, both at Special Term and at the Appellate Division. The plaintiff has appealed to the Court of Appeals.

The case of Downs vs. The City was selected as a typical case from another large group of claims brought by sweepers in the Street Cleaning Department in the Borough of Brooklyn, who claimed that they had been illegally deprived of their wages by the action of the Commissioner of Street Cleaning in 1900 and 1901, in requiring them to take one day off every week under a leave of absence granted by him at their request. This case was tried by Mr. Justice Barrett, who decided adversely to the City. An appeal was taken from his decision, and the judgment was reversed by the Appellate Division. The plaintiff appealed to the Court of Appeals, which, since the close of the year, has affirmed the action of the Appellate Division. The number of cases included in this group is nearly seven hundred.

The case of Driscoll vs. The City was selected as a typical case from another important group of cases involving a very large sum of money. The cases were brought because the mechanics of the Street Cleaning Department claim that although their wages are fixed at a per diem rate they are in fact officers of the City with a fixed status and a fixed salary. This case was tried last spring before Mr. Justice Nash, and was decided in favor of the City. The Appellate Division has since affirmed the judgment.

The case of Eckerson vs. The City was selected as a typical case from another group of claims. The veteran day laborers in several of the departments made claims for pay for days upon which they rendered no labor, urging that under some recent decisions of the courts a veteran employee of the City is a quasi officer, and is entitled to pay so long as he remains in the City's employment, and that he cannot be dismissed from such employment except after a hearing upon charges. This case was tried before Mr. Justice Blanchard, and a decision adverse to the City was rendered by him. On appeal from his decision the judgment has recently been reversed, the Appellate Division holding in effect that a day laborer was not in any sense an officer of the City; that the relation was purely one of contract employment, and that payment was only due for work actually performed.

LITIGATION TO RESTRAIN THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT FROM REVIEWING THE ACTION OF THE FORMER BOARD OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

The outcome of this litigation has been very satisfactory, resulting in an immense saving to the taxpayers of the City.

The former Board of Public Improvements at the last three meetings of its official existence, near the end of December, 1901, took action in regard to upwards of thirty street opening proceedings by shifting the burden of the cost of opening these streets from the property owners assessed to the general body of taxpayers of The City of New York.

This action of the Board of Public Improvements, if it had been effective according to its intention, would have involved an increase in taxation of over two millions of dollars. The present Board of Estimate believing this action of the Board of Public Improvements to be unjust, proposed to reconsider the whole subject and to determine whether the burden of these improvements should not, in part, at least, be taken from the City at large and assessed upon the private property in the vicinity of the improvement as was originally contemplated when the improvements were initiated.

Temporary injunctions in taxpayers' actions and in actions by property owners whom it was proposed to assess were obtained, restraining the Board of Estimate and Apportionment from this contemplated action, thus necessitating litigation which resulted in the vacation of the injunctions and in the Court holding that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment had authority to review the action of the Board of Public Improvements in the respects indicated.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment did subsequently review such action and diminished the burden to be borne by the City by over one million of dollars.

PERSONAL INJURY CASES.

A very large number of actions are brought against the City every year to recover damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the negligence of the City's officials. These are usually based upon a claim of defect in the pavements, failure to remove snow and ice, or careless management of street-cleaning carts. The injuries complained of are frequently severe and such as to enlist the sympathy of juries; and the defense in such trials requires skill and resource on the part of the representatives of the City.

During the year one hundred and thirteen such cases were tried in court and disposed of. The amounts claimed by the plaintiffs in these cases aggregated $1,274,150. The recoveries aggregate $93,645.46, or about seven per cent. of the amounts claimed. In two of these cases, verdicts amounting to $4,000 have been set aside on appeal.

In addition a number of similar cases have been compromised or dismissed for want of prosecution; and if these were included in the above computation the percentage of recovery would be materially diminished.

PROCEEDINGS FOR REINSTATEMENT OF EMPLOYEES.

A large part of the work of this Department during the past year has consisted in resisting claims to reinstatement preferred by persons who have been discharged from the City's service. These cases are always based upon an assertion that the provisions of some one of the numerous and very obscure statutes governing the subject have not been complied with. Many of the questions involved are of a technical nature, and many relate to procedure rather than to anything of general public interest. The following cases may, however, be referred to:

When Dr. Lederle, of the Department of Health, assumed office on January 1, 1902, he removed about 150 of the former employees of the Department of Health. This removal was made necessary, as he claimed, to enable him to keep within the appropriation given to the Department for the year 1902. Two test cases were presented to the courts. The real question involved was as to the correctness of the data furnished by the Department and the good faith of the Commissioner in exercising his powers. Our contention was supported by the courts, which held that the conditions in the Department warranted the dismissal of the men removed.

The Superintendent of Buildings for the Borough of Manhattan on January 2, 1902, dismissed upwards of 60 employees, in order, as he claimed, to meet the appropriation for that Bureau for the Borough of Manhattan for the year 1902. The courts sustained the removals and held that, upon the facts presented by Mr. Stewart, he was fully warranted in the course pursued.

Shortly after assuming office Dr. Woodbury, as Commissioner of Street Cleaning, ascertained that many of the sections into which the City was divided for the purpose of street cleaning had more Acting Assistant Section Foremen than the circumstances warranted. In some sections twenty or more sweepers were directed in their work by one Section Foreman and four Acting Assistant Section Foremen. The Commissioner came to the conclusion that such a proportion of the force for supervision was unnecessary, and that in most sections two or three men were quite enough to supervise the work. A test case was brought by one Leach, a veteran of the Civil War, who contended that his reduction to the rank of sweeper was illegal. The courts held that the men employed as Acting Assistant Section Foremen were merely detailed at the discretion of the Commissioner, and that the court would not interfere with his discretionary powers. This case involved 60 to 70 similar ones.

In the matter of Walker an important principle was laid down by the Appellate Division. It was there held that a school teacher who had been refused a license for a superior grade after examination could not ask the courts to review the action of the Board of Education in this regard, and that its determination was not a judicial action, but ministerial and discretionary.

In the matter of O'Grady the question involved was as to the time when the probationary term of a new appointee really began. The facts there were that the relator was appointed on a certain date, but did not begin work until three days later. It was held that the probationary term only began when he reported for work and actually entered on the performance of his duties, and consequently that his removal three months and three days after the date of his appointment was valid.

In the matter of Morrison it appeared that the relator was a veteran volunteer fireman, and had been employed as Chief Engineer of Highways, etc., in the Borough of Richmond until February, 1902. He claimed that by reason of the provisions of the Veteran Act he was entitled to be transferred to a position of Chief Engineer in the Borough of Manhattan. The courts, however, held that as it was shown that the position of Chief Engineer was strictly confidential the relator was not entitled to the transfer as a matter of right; and it was also held that, even admitting the relator's right to reinstatement, yet this alone gave him no right to a peremptory writ of mandamus, because the court could not command the Borough President to fill a vacancy so long as he was content to leave the place unfilled.

In the matter of Croker the facts were that the relator had applied for and received a leave of absence. He returned to the City before his leave of absence had expired, and insisted that he had a right to perform the duties of his position as Chief of the Fire Department. The Commissioner thereupon issued an order relieving him from duty until further order. The Appellate Division held that this was within the general powers of the Commissioner in the responsible discharge of the duties of his position.

CONTRACTORS' CASES.

The City, being engaged in very extensive and costly undertakings, which are being carried out by contractors, naturally is constantly involved in litigation of one kind or another with such contractors. These cases usually involve the examination of very complicated questions of fact. They also frequently relate to very large sums of money. The amount of such litigation begun during the year 1902 has probably been somewhat less than in former years, and so far as the cases have been concluded they present little of general interest. Some typical cases are referred to below in connection with appeals.

Under this head, however, may be mentioned the question that has arisen between the City and the contractor for the construction of the Rapid Transit Railway. The Rapid Transit Act provides that the contractor shall supply, at his own expense, the equipment of the railroad, and it defines equipment as including, among other things, "wires, ways, conduits and mechanisms * * * and devices of every nature whatsoever used for the generation or transmission of motive power." When the contract for building the road was let, the kind of motive power to be used had not been settled; but the contractor was left to the choice of either electricity or compressed air. Later on he determined to use electricity supplied through a third rail or some equivalent device, and he proposed that instead of stringing the wires in the tunnel as had been contemplated by the Rapid Transit Board, there should be built into the walls of the tunnel vitrified brick or tile chambers to carry and support the wires. This was agreed to by the Rapid Transit Board, and during the past year the question arose as to whether such chambers constituted equipment or construction.

The case was argued at Special Term before Mr. Justice O'Gorman, who decided in favor of the City's contention that these chambers constituted equipment within the meaning of the statute. An appeal was taken to the Appellate Division, which resulted unfavorably to the City's contention, after the close of the year; and the question will be submitted to the Court of Appeals.

RAPID TRANSIT CASES.

The Law Department has taken part in defending certain cases relative to the right to construct the Rapid Transit Subway.

The more serious of these cases were brought by certain owners of property along Park avenue, who asserted that the route of the road as originally laid out and approved by the Appellate Division, had been wrongfully shifted so as to bring the easterly wall of the tunnel materially nearer the house line than the plans approved had called for. Of these cases two were brought in the State Courts and two in the Federal Courts. In all of them the contention of the City and the counsel for the Rapid Transit Commission was sustained, and an injunction to restrain the construction of the tunnel in Park avenue was refused. In the Federal Court the decision rested upon the ground of the want of jurisdiction; and an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court of the United States upon this point.

In another case in the Federal Court, two corporations organized several years ago, known as the Underground Railroad of The City of New York and the Rapid Transit Underground Railroad Company, claimed to have vested rights to build a road under Elm street. The Circuit Court of the United States held that no Federal question was involved which entitled the complainants to redress in the courts of the United States; and an appeal from that decision is now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Still another case in the Federal Courts, Fowler against The City of New York, involved the claim that the mode of construction of the Rapid Transit Subway involved an infringement of the complainant's patent. The Court dismissed the case in the year 1901, holding the patent bad. On appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals the decision was affirmed.

PATENT CASES.

In Brickill vs. The Mayor, etc., which has been pending since January, 1871, and which resulted in a judgment against the City of $951,070.10, with interest from May 11, 1900, that judgment has been vacated by the mandate of the Circuit Court of Appeals and the cause remanded back to the Master, with directions to proceed in accordance with the opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which, it is hoped, will result in the final termination of this litigation, in favor of the City.

In Campbell vs. The Mayor, etc., which has been pending since October, 1877, and wherein a claim is made against the City of $11,049,550, and which thus far has resulted in a judgment against the City of $818,074.33, with interest from May 14, 1897, an appeal has been taken to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and it is expected that that appeal will be reached for argument during the year.

In DuBois vs. The Mayor, etc., which grows out of the building of the New York Pier of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge, the City's defense has been concluded, and I am taking steps to compel the complainant to close his proofs and bring the case to a speedy hearing. In this case the complainant is asserting a claim of something like $500,000.

During the past year the City has become involved in no new patent litigation, although several claims for infringement of patents have been made against it, but in every case full investigation has shown that they were without foundation, and upon our views being communicated to the parties making the claims, it has resulted in no suit having, as yet, been brought. The policy of first carefully examining into every claim made for infringement of letters patent, with the view of determining what basis, if any, exists for such claim, and then communicating our views to the claimant, is, I believe, responsible for the fact that, during the past two or three years, the City has become involved in far less of such litigation than prior thereto.

APPEALS.

The amount of work done in the preparation and argument of appeals during the year has been greater than in any previous year, and the results have been unusually satisfactory. Taking all the Courts together, 231 appeals were argued or submitted. Of cases decided there were 164 decisions in favor of the City, 46 decisions against it and 11 in which the decision was partly favorable and partly unfavorable. The fact that about three cases out of every four decided on appeal have been in favor of the City, shows to my mind more clearly than anything else the efficiency of the purely legal work done by the Department. There is no other test so satisfactory. Cases in Courts of first instance may be lost through some misapprehension on the part of a jury or on the part of a Judge, who must necessarily deal offhand with a multitude of questions. But in the Appellate Courts, where sufficient time is allowed for examination and for the preparation and argument of cases, the decisions reflect much more accurately the professional ability of those who are in charge of them.

Four suits have been argued during the year 1902 before the United States Supreme Court. All of these have been decided in favor of the City.

The first is known as the Pine suit, which involved an attempt to enjoin the City from diverting a part of the water of the Byram River. This stream rises in the State of New York and eventually flows into the State of Connecticut. Residents of that State claimed, and were allowed by the lower Courts, the right to enjoin the City from diverting water in the State of New York. Although the broad question of the right of one State to divert water within its own territory which would naturally run in a stream through another State was not distinctly passed upon the decision was of great value to the City because its practical effect was to allow the use of the waters of the Byram River as a part of the water supply.

The second of the cases before the United States Supreme Court was brought by stockholders of the First National Bank of Brooklyn against the Brooklyn Assessors, to review the validity of certain taxes upon bank stock levied by the officials of the City of Brooklyn in 1897. It was claimed that the taxation of this bank stock was in violation of the United States Revised Statutes to the effect that the taxation of shares of stock in national banks shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens. The action of the State Courts in affirming the proceedings of the Assessors was affirmed.

The third case was that of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company against the City. In this case it was sought to obtain through a writ of error the reversal of the action of the New York City Assessors in imposing an assessment on certain lands of the Railroad Company for local improvements. The Court dismissed the case for lack of jurisdiction, and thus terminated a dangerous litigation.

The fourth case was that of the Home of Incurables against the City, in which the legality of the charges for interest that have been made for many years in assessments for local improvements was questioned. The Court of Appeals decided the question in favor of the City, but the petitioner carried the case to the United States Supreme Court, claiming that the decision involved a violation of the Federal Constitution, which prohibits the taking of property without due process of law. The Court dismissed this case also for want of jurisdiction.

In the Court of Appeals one of the most important cases decided during the year was that in relation to the election of the City Magistrates in Brooklyn. It was there held that the provisions of the Revised Charter which required an election to be held in 1901 for City Magistrates to succeed the former appointees were unconstitutional and void, and it was also held that the appointees of the late Mayor held for ten years. This decision was chiefly of value to the City because it put an end to an intolerable state of things existing at the beginning of the year under which two different sets of officials were each claiming to be City Magistrate in the Borough of Brooklyn.

McGrath vs. Grout, the Court held that the Constitution did not require a submission to the Mayor for his approval of statutes making the office of Sheriff, County Clerk and Register of Kings salaried offices.

The case of Gearty vs. The Mayor involved an important question in contract cases. The plaintiff was a contractor to pave one of the transverse roads crossing Central Park. After several hundred linear feet of pavement had been laid the Engineer of the Finance Department discovered, upon an inspection of the work, that it had not been laid in accordance with the contract requirements. The Chief Engineer of the Park Department thereupon ordered Gearty to take up the defective work and do it over. This was done, and when the job was finished Gearty brought this action to recover $10,000 damages. The Court of Appeals reversed the judgment in favor of the City, and ordered a new trial. The Court laid down the rule that notwithstanding the provision in the contract that the Engineer in charge of the work should be the arbiter to determine the amount of work done, his determination could be attacked and set aside upon proof of fraud, collusion, bad faith, obvious mistake, or because he had acted in an arbitrary manner. Since the decision of the Court of Appeals the Gearty case has been retried, with the result that the jury found a verdict in favor of the City.

In the case of Jones and Brosnan against The City, a contract was entered into in September, 1896. In the early part of 1898 the late Comptroller refused to make a payment upon the contract, because of the doubt then existing as to whether the City had not exceeded its constitutional limit of indebtedness even as early as the time when the contract was made. The contractors then refused to go on with the work, and sued the City for not only what they had already done, but for the prospective profits which they claimed they would have earned if the City had not repudiated its contract. A judgment in favor of the City upon the principal point in the case was upheld by the Court of Appeals.

Jones vs. The City of New York involved no novel principles, but illustrates to some extent the manner in which the City's contract work is performed. It appeared that in 1884 Jones entered into a contract to build a large sewer in Webster avenue. By the Engineers first in charge of the work he was permitted, in distinct violation of the terms of the contract, to build the sewer in a way that did not accord with the specifications. After he had been at work a little over a year other Engineers were placed in charge of the work by the City, and they compelled him to proceed in accordance with the specifications. He had many disputes with them, claiming that the plan was defective, and that a certain part of the route required the driving of piles, as the ground was too soft without them to hold up the heavy brick sewer. As the result of these disputes and the failure of Jones to obey the Engineer, the work dragged along and was not finished until 1890, and he then began a suit to recover the sum of $171,741, with interest from April, 1890. He obtained a judgment for $1,074, which was a part of the sum which had been deducted by the City under the clause of the contract authorizing a penalty for delay in completion, and this result was affirmed on appeal.

In the matter of the New York Juvenile Asylum the Court of Appeals decided in effect that the City is prohibited by the present State Constitution from paying any charitable institution wholly or partly under private control, for the care of inmates who are not received and maintained therein pursuant to the rules established by the State Board of Charities. This decision takes away from all such institutions the untrammelled right which they have heretofore claimed to determine what inmates were to be received by them and supported at the expense of the City. It will be seen, therefore, that the decision is important and of a very far-reaching character.

The matter of Devery was also a case of unusual importance. It was a proceeding brought to test the constitutionality of chapter 33 of the Laws of 1901, which reorganized the Police Department of the City and abolished the office of Chief. Although the attack made upon the act had special reference to the provision abolishing the office of Chief, yet, incidentally, the entire system provided for by the new law was brought into question. If Mr. Devery's proceeding had been successful, not only would the reorganization of the Police Department of 1901 have been entirely invalidated, but the acts of its head after February 22, 1901, would have been open to very serious question. In fact, the result of an adverse decision would have been the entire disorganization of the Department.

Mahon vs. The Board of Education involved the constitutionality of the Act of 1900 which directed the Board of Education to place on a special pension list all of the teachers who had been retired prior to 1884, the date of the establishment of the present pension system. The Court of Appeals sustained the contention of the Law Department that the act was unconstitutional in that it appropriated public moneys for a private purpose. This case involved fifty-two similar ones.

In the matter of Shaughnessy, the Court of Appeals held that a veteran of the Civil War who had been appointed Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the former City Council could not have a peremptory writ of mandamus directed to the Board of Aldermen, as constituted under the revised Charter of 1902, directing them to elect him Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the new body. It was held that the veteran law did not apply to such a position as that held by the relator, and that the Board of Aldermen, as a legislative body, had a right to elect its own officers and attendants.

In the case of the City vs. McLean it was held that while the Board of Taxes and Assessments had authority to tax the stock of a national bank of that City, owned by a non-resident of the State, and payment of the tax might be enforced by a lien upon and a sale of the stock, no authority has been conferred by law to enforce the tax by an action in personam against the non-resident stockholder.

In the case of the Mercantile National Bank vs. the Mayor it was alleged that the shares of stock of the plaintiff bank were assessed for taxation at their full value, while real estate liable to taxation was deliberately and intentionally assessed and taxed at not more than sixty per cent. of its actual value; that the statutes required all taxable property, real and personal, to be assessed at its actual value; and that by reason of the inequality of assessment, the plaintiff's shareholders would be required to pay more than the proper portion of the taxes for the year in question. The plaintiff asked for an injunction restraining the collection of any sum in excess of sixty per cent. of the taxes actually levied on its stock. The Court of Appeals held that an action in equity would not lie, although the grievance assigned was not one which could be reached by certiorari or for which there existed any remedy at law; and that in the absence of evidence to the contrary, it must be presumed that the taxing officers acted honestly and impartially in making the assessment, with no intention to discriminate to the injury of a class of persons or of a species of property, and that the valuation as fixed by them was uniform with respect to each class of property.

In the matter of the application of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Brooklyn the Court of Appeals affirmed the decisions of the Courts below, holding that an owner of real estate in The City of New York who had secured a reduction of his assessment for general municipal purposes must pay the reduced amount, with interest at the statutory rate from the date when the taxrolls were delivered for collection.

In the case of the Delaware and Hudson Company, which involved the assessment for taxation of the capital and surplus of the relator, it appeared that the Delaware and Hudson Company, under practically perpetual leases, operated, in connection with its own property, the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad and the Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroad. The Tax Commissioners held that the terms of the leases were such as to vest the ownership of the properties of the lessor companies in the relator, and assessed the relator as owner, but refused to deduct certain mortgage indebtedness of the lessor companies, aggregating ten million dollars, on the ground that the indebtedness was not a primary obligation of the relator. The Special Term held that the refusal to deduct the debts was error and vacated the assessment. The Appellate Division decided that the relator did not acquire title to the property under the leases, and that the debts of the lessor companies were not deductible, and modified the order of the Special Term, by directing a reassessment of the property, so as to exclude the value of the property of the lessor companies but to include the value of the leases, deducting therefrom the "value of the right to use the franchises of the leased corporations." Upon certified questions the Court of Appeals affirmed the order of the Appellate Division.

STATISTICS.

I annex to this report a tabular statement showing in some detail the work done by the Law Department for the year. This statement is exclusive of the work done by the Bureau for the Collection of Penalties, the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes, the Tenement House Department Bureau and the Street Opening Bureau. Figures in regard to them are given below in the body of the report.

While referring to the annexed statement and the details of the work of the main offices during the year, the following figures are of interest as exhibiting a comparison between what has been accomplished in litigated business during the year 1902 and the average amount of work done and results obtained during the previous four years, which cover all the period since consolidation.

	1902.	Average 1898-1901.
Number of actions tried in court.....	348	219
Number of appeals argued.....	231	201
Number of motions argued.....	994	817
Number of actions and proceedings begun.....	7,008	5,996
Judgments against the City.....	571	1,912
Amount .....	$511,240 25	$1,836,935 46
Judgments in favor of the City.....	130	124
Amount .....	$27,771 10	$25,467 21
Amounts collected, including cases settled out of court, costs, etc. ....	$120,960 82	$30,930 39

In explanation of the large decrease in the number and amount of judgments recovered against the City it should be stated that this appears to be due in part to two causes: First, The passage of the Confession of Judgment Bill makes it impossible for the Corporation Counsel to settle cases which the Comptroller thinks should be contested, thus tending to reduce the number of judgments confessed. Second, For the first two or three years after consolidation many claims were presented which could not lawfully be paid out of any existing appropriation, and the only way in which they could be paid was by allowing actions to be brought and then permitting judgment to be entered by default or confession against the City.

But after making every allowance for these causes the Department has certainly been unusually successful this year in keeping down the amounts recovered against the City through legal process.

COLLECTION OF PENALTIES.

The Bureau for the Collection of Penalties has shown a striking increase in the volume of work performed and the results accomplished. The sum of $24,657.12 was collected in penalties in 1902, as compared to $13,993.02 in 1901, being an increase of over seventy-five per cent. The rights of the public have at the same time been studiously observed, and the effort has always been to have the law complied with rather than to collect penalties. For instance, while more complaints for violations of ordinances were received in 1902, and necessarily more suits were brought, there has been an increase of 300 per cent. in the number of suits settled out of court in 1902 as compared with 1901. This policy has saved citizens the annoyance and expense of going to court, while compelling due regard for the law. There have also been twice as many suits discontinued as in the preceding year, either because the law had been complied with or because the defendant sued satisfied the Department that he was not liable. On the other hand, suits actually brought into court have been vigorously prosecuted, and while there were many more suits brought this year than last, there were a fourth less dismissed on actual trial.

Much attention has been given to the prosecution of cases for violating the ordinances forbidding encroachments on the sidewalks of Broadway, on the ground that Broadway, as being the leading thoroughfare in this City, should be wholly preserved in its entire width free from such encumbrances as areas, stoops and railings, for the use of the public.

In the Charity Department cases there has been an increase of 500 per cent. in the number of complaints sent to us to prosecute, on behalf of wives who have been abandoned by their husbands, and an increase of 350 per cent. in the cases of aged parents who seek support from their children. All of these have been promptly and vigorously pushed, as the people the City represents are usually wholly destitute and friendless.

In Fire Department matters there has been a striking decrease in the number of complaints against apartment houses, etc., for not putting in telegraphic communication. In 1901 there were 337 such complaints, and in 1902 only 33.

Many complaints have been sent in of theatres who allowed persons to stand in the passageways, and this law has been vigorously enforced. The law undoubtedly had been disregarded, and the conditions in some theatres were exceedingly dangerous.

While the number of fines sent here to be enforced against delinquent jurors has been about the same as in 1901, there has been collected this year $2,481.01 as against $1,024.03 in the preceding year.

On taking charge of the affairs of the Department of Health I found that there was apparently little interest shown in enforcing the law. All cases pending at the beginning of the year have now been prosecuted, and we have increased the fines collected in the Courts of Special Sessions nearly $8,000 over the preceding year, or 150 per cent. The benefit of this vigorous prosecution is shown by the fact that to-day there is practically no adulterated milk sold in the City. We are heartily co-operating with the Department of Health in making milk dealers realize that they must sell good, pure milk, or their licenses will be taken away and they will be put out of business. The importance of this is obvious, as the children of the poor are the chief sufferers.

The anthracite coal strike last summer led to many proceedings for abating smoke nuisances. The most noteworthy case was that of the Manhattan Elevated Road. By bringing criminal proceedings that company was induced to use hard coal, and other large corporations followed their example.

The cash collections made in civil proceedings in 1902, in Health Department cases, was $1,729, as against nothing in 1901.

COLLECTION OF ARREARS OF PERSONAL TAXES.

The records of the Bureau show that 30,521 new claims were in the office at the beginning of the year. By new claims are meant those that had received no attention whatsoever before this year. These claims have been taken up and pushed as far as possible. In a large proportion of these cases, the tax debtors could not be found, after careful search both by mail and attempted personal service.

The method of procedure has been for the Bureau to notify every tax debtor by mail and thus give him an opportunity to pay or show whether the tax against him is collectible or not; and when tax debtors receive the notice, but fail to appear in response to it, an action is begun, and if no appearance is put in a judgment by default is entered. When, on investigation, it appears by the affidavit of the tax debtor that he has no property, it has been the uniform practice to discontinue proceedings in such cases, and a very large number have been disposed of in that way.

Offers of compromise have been accepted in all cases where the defendant either had a good defense on the merits, or showed by affidavit that a judgment would be uncollectible, and was willing to pay a reasonable sum to dispose of the claim. It can thus be seen that every opportunity is given the tax debtor and no complaint has been made by any one on this score, excepting in cases of neglect on the part of the tax debtors themselves.

The total collections for the year, including costs, amount to $385,032.20. Of that amount a very large part, about 64 per cent., has been received from forty-nine corporations and estates paying over $500 each. The remaining collections—over 2,000 in number—amounted on an average to about $60 each.

The total amount of collections made during the four years since the date of consolidation to January 1, 1902, was $157,316.86; showing that in the past year there has been collected much more than twice as much as had been collected during the previous four years. This result has not been due to any change in the law, or to anything except the adoption of proper business methods.

At the beginning of the year substantially no system for the conduct of the business of this Bureau was in force. Everything was in a chaotic state, and it was absolutely impossible to find old matters at all. Money collected was deposited whenever the clerks in the Bureau happened to think of it; and it was discovered almost immediately that one of the clerks had in his possession about $1,800 belonging to the City, which he was unable to pay over. On his admission of the facts I dismissed him from the service of the City and caused his arrest upon a criminal charge. The amount was subsequently made good by him or his friends.

The claims returned to the Bureau for collection had not been written up in what were known as the warrant registers for a period of at least two years. There had never been any balancing of accounts between the Bureau and the office of the Receiver of Taxes.

At the present time a thoroughly business-like system of accounting and arranging claims and papers has been adopted. The payments received are deposited in a Trust Company daily, and the entire amount collected during each month is paid over to the proper financial officers on the first secular day of the succeeding month.

BUREAU OF BUILDINGS.

As above stated, there are now five separate Bureaus of Buildings, one in each of the Boroughs. The work of these Bureaus leads to constant consultations between the assistants of the various branch offices of this Department, and to a large amount of minor litigation. In the Borough of Manhattan, the Superintendent of Buildings has been particularly active in enforcing the provisions of the Building Code with regard to the protection of theatres and roof gardens against fire, and his position on this question has been sustained by the courts in the case of the Fifth Avenue Real Estate Company vs. Stewart.

The Courts in two cases also sustained his position on the important question of fire-proof wood.

Among the more interesting proceedings coming under the charge of the Bureaus of Buildings were the unsafe building proceedings begun against the Hall of Records and the fire engine house in the City Hall Park.

TENEMENT HOUSE DEPARTMENT.

The Tenement House Department was organized on January 1, 1902, and during the year has taken over a great volume of the work formerly done by the Department of Buildings and by the Department of Health. While it has but recently received its force of inspectors and clerical force, much important business has already arisen under the Tenement House Act, involving questions as to the exercise of the police power of the State.

As the Tenement House Department has now the powers of the Board of Health with regard to the abatement of nuisances in connection with tenement houses, several interesting cases have arisen over the action of the Department in vacating houses which have been erected and occupied in violation of the law. Proceedings of this sort have been begun against six or seven tenement houses, and except in a single instance, have resulted in prompt compliance with the law.

In a number of instances moderate penalties have been collected. One hundred and three of these penalty cases are now pending. In some few cases resort has been had to criminal prosecution, but this action is only resorted to in extreme cases.

III. CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS.

The proceedings begun by The City of New York to acquire lands are very numerous, and involve very large amounts of money. Proceedings are now pending to take land for opening streets; for public parks; for improvement of the water front; for approaches to bridges over the East river, the Harlem river and Newtown creek; for hospitals, armories, school sites, police station sites, fire engine sites and library sites, and for lands taken in connection with the water supply of the City, either for reservoirs or for the land in the neighborhood of reservoirs secured for the sanitary protection of the water supply.

The proceedings to condemn water-front property, although not numerous, are generally the largest and most important in a pecuniary point of view which the City is engaged in. They involve frequently very difficult questions of law and fact. During the past year awards have been made in the matter of Pier, old 12, East river; Pier, old 15, East river; Pier at the foot of Nineteenth street, East river; and the bulkhead rights on the East river, between Eighteenth and Twentieth streets; the block between Little West Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, on the North river. In all these cases the awards have been satisfactory to the City.

In the month of August last, under direction of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, a very important proceeding was begun to acquire the property along the North river from Eighteenth street to Twenty-third street, running back a considerable distance. The property so acquired is to be used for laying out a marginal street 250 feet wide, and for the building of new piers which will be among the largest, if not the largest, in the City. The property so to be taken is assessed for purposes of taxation at over a million dollars.

In the matter of the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory site, the report of the Commissioners made in August, 1901, was satisfactory to the City, but on motion of the property owners the court, at Special Term, sent back the case as to several parcels with instructions in effect to increase the awards. The City appealed from this order in so far as it refused to confirm the report, and the Appellate Division, in a very important decision, sustained the City.

In the matter of the site for Troop C in the Borough of Brooklyn proceedings were begun in 1901, and an award was made by the Commission in June, 1902. This award was, in my opinion and in that of the Armory Board, excessive, and a resolution having been passed by the Armory Board to discontinue the proceeding, an application was made to the Court for leave to do so, which was granted upon payment of actual cash disbursements to the owners of the property. The property was subsequently purchased at private sale by the City at very much less than the award.

In the matter of school sites, police sites and other minor pieces of property several proceedings have been completed during the year with unusual rapidity and with satisfactory results to the City.

The principal proceedings pending at the close of the year for securing bridge property were for the approaches to the Williamsburg Bridge, both in Manhattan and Brooklyn; for the Manhattan Bridge in Brooklyn, and for the Blackwell's Island Bridge in both Manhattan and Queens. These involve a very large number of parcels of land and are progressing as rapidly as possible.

The proceeding to acquire title to the proposed park at First and Second avenues, East Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, in Manhattan, is now well advanced, and the testimony will soon be closed. If an award is made with promptness by the Commissioners it will be possible for the City to begin laying out this park in the summer of 1903.

With respect to the proposed park in the Eastern District of Brooklyn, hearings were much delayed owing to various complications existing by reason of the presence of railroads across the property and other matters. The proceeding has now been brought to a hearing before the Commissioners, and as the greater part of the tract of land consists of unimproved property it is hoped that there will be no great delay in securing a final report.

The land to be taken for the Willink Entrance to Prospect Park was so situated that similar legal questions of an embarrassing nature have arisen, but they have now been disposed of, and Commissioners were appointed soon after the close of the year.

STREET OPENING PROCEEDINGS.

The most numerous class of condemnation proceedings are those relating to the acquisition of land for use as streets. These proceedings have in the past been conducted in an extremely dilatory and expensive manner. It has seemed to me that there was no branch of the work of the Law Department which required more attention on my part or in which more satisfactory results to citizens could be obtained than by endeavoring to shorten the time and diminish the expense of these proceedings. The expense of these proceedings is not wholly borne by the City at large, but falls, for the most part, upon the owners of adjacent property for whom the City acts really as trustee or agent. That I have been successful to a considerable extent in these efforts will appear from the figures hereafter given.

	Awards.	Assessments.	Linear Feet Acquired.	Parcels Acquired.	City Lots Acquired.
Reports confirmed..	120	$7,897,001 37	$4,262,470 25	221,742	3,107 6,074
Reports submitted for confirmation .....	38	4,833,130 63	1,373,021 30	72,430	1,115 2,127

Totals .....	257	$17,574,386 60	$14,285,318 92	294,172	4,222 8,201

Nearly 42 miles of streets have thus been acquired in proceedings actually confirmed.

In addition to the foregoing, 47 reports are in course of preparation for preliminary filing.

In 75 cases the Commissioners are still taking testimony, and in 73 cases the Commissioners have adjourned awaiting the preparation of their final or draft damage maps.

Out of 487 cases pending on January 1, 1902, reports in proceedings confirmed, submitted, signed and in which final instructions have been received, and where Commissioners are adjourned without date, amount to about one-half of the cases pending in the Bureau.

The status of the various pending proceedings on December 31, 1902, as compared with the status of proceedings pending on December 30, 1901, will show that a substantial gain has been made in disposing of these proceedings, viz.:

	1901. December 31.	1902. December 31.
Reports confirmed.....	94	120
Reports submitted.....	25	38
Objections heard.....	43	72
Reports filed.....	69	27
Reports in course of preparation.....	77	47
Awaiting maps.....	147	73
Taking testimony.....	52	75

Taking the proceedings confirmed, submitted and those in which objections have been heard and where the Commissioners have adjourned without date awaiting preparation of their final reports, it will be seen that in the year 1902 230 reports have been practically disposed of as against 162 for the year 1901.

Only half as many proceedings are awaiting maps at the present time as at the end of the preceding year, and in that respect there is a very commendable improvement.

In the 94 reports confirmed during 1901 the awards amounted to $4,850,000.58, whereas in the 120 confirmed during the year 1902 the awards amounted to $7,897,061.37.

The expenses of the Bureau of Street Openings are paid in the first instance from the Fund for Street and Park Openings. They subsequently are made to form part of the assessment for benefit in each of the proceedings conducted, so that they do not fall upon the taxpayers at large unless the Board of Estimate and Apportionment so directs in particular cases, or unless the City is itself the owner of abutting property. I have, nevertheless, taken every possible means to reduce these expenses, and have succeeded in doing so in more than one respect.

In particular, I call attention to the expenses of stenographic work. Prior to January 1, 1902, the taking and transcribing of testimony in these proceedings was paid for at the retail rate of 25 cents per folio, and an additional 5 cents for each additional copy, or at the rate of 40 cents per folio in the aggregate for the four copies required. The amount of this work may be judged from the fact that the average cost during the two previous years was $28,029.62. I have made arrangements by which the rate per folio has been reduced from 40 cents to 20 cents or just one-half the rates previously charged.

The fees for expert services of Appraisers, Engineers, etc., have likewise been carefully investigated in each case, and substantial reductions have been made in the charges heretofore allowed.

CHANGE OF GRADE DAMAGE COMMISSION.

This Commission was established by chapter 537 of the Laws of 1893, amended by chapter 567 of the Laws of 1894 and other acts, and had jurisdiction to award damages caused by reason of the change of street grades in connection with the separation of the track and street grades over the New York and Harlem Railroad to do away with grade crossings.

The area affected by these changes is from the Harlem river to Williamsbridge, and from one to three blocks on both sides of the railroad. Nine hundred and ninety claims were filed, in which the aggregate amount claimed exceeds $4,000,000.

The time to file additional claims expired in 1893. During the six months ending July 1, 1902, the Commission made 85 awards, aggregating, with the counsel fees, $199,425, in which cases the total amount claimed was $467,217. The Commission dismissed during that period 218 claims, making a total of 303 claims disposed of.

On July 1, 1902, there were 21 claims pending before the Commission which had been previously dismissed by the Commission, and subsequently, on motion of the claimants' attorneys, orders purporting to set aside these orders of dismissal were entered by the Commission. The aggregate amount claimed in these cases was $157,600.

New Commissioners were appointed by the Mayor on July 2, 1902, and they immediately proceeded to hear and determine the question of their jurisdiction in regard to the twenty-one re-opened claims. On August 22, 1902, the Commission rendered a unanimous decision, declaring that they had no jurisdiction to hear or determine any of said claims, and, having reported to the Mayor that the labors of the Commission had been concluded by the decision referred to, their resignations were accepted and the Commissioners went out of office on September 15, 1902.

On September 12, 1902, proceedings were begun in the Supreme Court to compel the hearing of one of the claims included in the Commissioners' decision of August 22, 1902. The motion was argued, and on the 21st day of November, 1902, an order was entered denying the application.

Four of the awards made by the previous Commissioners just prior to their resignations were reviewed in certiorari proceedings instituted by the Comptroller in the Appellate Division, First Department. In one of these claims the application of the City for the reduction of the award from $6,000 to $1,000 was unanimously sustained, and payment of the reduced award of $1,000 has been advised. In the other three claims the awards were sustained.

The matters now pending in connection with the work of this Commission are appeals to be taken to the Court of Appeals in proceedings to review the awards referred to and new proceedings instituted by the claimants to compel the further consideration of the twenty-one claims, of which the Commission declined to take jurisdiction.

MATTER OF THE SPEEDWAY.

This proceeding was begun several years ago, and was completed in April, 1897. The report of the Commissioners was confirmed by an order entered June 13, 1897, and the majority of the awards were paid shortly thereafter.

Several of the property owners whose property fronted on the Harlem river, and to whom no award had been made for the deprivation of riparian rights, appealed from the order confirming the report, and to the Court of Appeals. That court reversed the proceedings and remitted them back to the Commissioners to ascertain the compensation to be allowed to the upland owners for the taking and destruction of their riparian rights in and to the Harlem river.

After the proper notice of hearing had been published and the necessary legal steps taken, hearings were resumed in May of this year and have been carried on as rapidly as possible.

The matter will probably be closed at an early day, and the report of the Commissioners as to the value of said riparian rights presented to the Supreme Court for confirmation without delay.

WATERSHED PROCEEDINGS.

On January 1, 1902, five proceedings were pending in Westchester and Putnam counties to acquire title to land for use in connection with the City's water supply. These proceedings are now well on their way toward completion. In two of them the work was completed so far as this Department is concerned, and the cases submitted to the Commissioners for decision. These two cases are known as the Cornell Dam, Seventh Supplemental Proceeding, and Double Reservoir I, additional lands.

In a third proceeding known as the Cornell Dam, Eighth Supplemental Proceeding, there were about 150 cases still pending before the Commission. The testimony has now been introduced in one-third of these cases and the Commission have made their report, which is now awaiting confirmation by the court. This report disposed of 36 parcels and 4 separate claims, and relates to about 1,075 acres in all. The amount claimed by the property owners was $987,357.50; the City's valuations were $219,025.57, and the awards amounted to $291,829.

With the signing of this report the Commission has disposed of 208 parcels and 13 claims, with the following results:

Total amounts claimed.....	$3,247,591 30
Total amounts awarded.....	1,011,650 95

In addition to the awards the City is compelled to pay in costs, counsel fees, witness fees and commissioners' fees sums aggregating several hundred thousand dollars.

The proceeding known as the Mahopac proceeding is closed with the exception of five cases, and the only other pending proceeding covers but a single parcel of land, the claimant being now engaged in presenting his evidence.

Six appeals in condemnation proceedings of the class under consideration have been disposed of during the year, so far as this Department is concerned, being all that there are pending. Five of these cases have been decided in favor of the City, and the other one has been argued and awaits the decision of the Court. One of the cases was carried to the Court of Appeals by the land owners and that Court has dismissed the appeal.

I have endeavored, although without much success, to reduce the extravagant expenses of this class of proceedings. The condition of the statutes and the traditions of many years past render the task of retrenchment most difficult. Nevertheless, some economies have been effected.

I may also state in this connection that proceedings have been instituted to review the action of the Assessors in certain towns in Westchester, Putnam and Nassau counties on account of over-valuation of the City's property to the extent of about $3,500,000. The local town Assessors yearly attempt to increase largely the valuations of property owned by the City within their respective towns, thus diminishing taxation upon the local residents by imposing a larger proportion upon the property which the City uses in connection with its water supply system. This necessitates a large amount of litigation and a continual watchfulness on the part of this Department to prevent unjust taxation.

Under the system which I have established, a careful examination is made of all of the tax bills against the City's property before they are paid by the Comptroller, with the object of ascertaining whether or not increases of valuations have been made and instituting proceedings to review the action of the Board of Assessors if it appears that such increases are not justified.

I believe that this course will result in a large reduction upon the City's property in these towns.

CONCLUSION.

The business entrusted to the Law Department is so extensive and varied that it is possible to cope with it only by means of a thorough organization and by adopting and observing the most systematic methods. In general, the system which has been followed for more than twenty years in the Manhattan offices is adequate, and I have only thought it necessary to adopt some minor changes.

But if the work is to be thoroughly well done, a good system will not alone suffice. Keen professional interest and zeal for the public service are essential. The results achieved during the year are the best evidence of the skill and industry of my assistants; but it gives me pleasure to add an expression of my personal obligation for the loyal and zealous support which I have received from the staff of the Department.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel.

REPORTS OF THE BUREAUS AND OTHER SUBDIVISIONS OF THE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Bureau of Street Openings.

LAW DEPARTMENT, BUREAU OF STREET OPENINGS,
NOS. 90 AND 92 WEST BROADWAY, BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN,
NEW YORK, January 13, 1903.

Hon. GEORGE L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel:

SIR—I transmit herewith the report of the Bureau of Street Openings for the quarter ending December 31, 1902.

120 reports in street openings were confirmed, in which the awards aggregate $7,897,001.37, the assessments $4,262,470.25, and the lands acquired embrace 221,742 linear feet, or 42 miles.

38 reports were moved for confirmation, in which the awards amounted to $4,833,130.63, the assessments to $1,373,021.30, and the linear feet of street acquired embrace 72,430 feet, or 13.7 miles.

In addition to the foregoing 35 final reports were signed by the Commissioners and are waiting confirmation, in which the awards amount to $1,511,015.40 and the assessments to $3,630,630.60.

Of the 277 reports which are not ready for confirmation, final instructions have been received from the Commissioners to make up their final reports in 37 cases.

27 preliminary reports have been filed for objections and such objections are being heard.

In 47 cases preliminary abstracts of estimate and assessment are in course of preparation.

In 18 cases the Commissioners have closed the testimony and are in executive session determining awards.

In 75 cases testimony is being taken.

In 73 cases maps have not been furnished.

Of the 470 reports on which Commissioners have been engaged in the whole Bureau, 193 have been finished and 277 have reached the stages above enumerated.

As the branch office in Brooklyn was not under the jurisdiction of the main office in the Borough of Manhattan prior to January 1, 1902, it is necessary to analyze the work done in each separately, in order to arrive at the results accomplished this year.

The work done in the main office may be tabulated as follows:

Bureau for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes.

Hon. GEORGE L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel:

Sir—I beg to submit the report of this Bureau for the year 1902, as follows:

Amount collected for taxes and interest during the year 1902.....	$381,197 66
Costs collected, including interest on bank deposits.....	3,834 50
Total .....	$385,032 20

During the year upward of 38,000 cases of arrears of personal taxes have been handled by the Bureau. Owing to the total lack of system existing at the beginning of the year, it is impossible to state exactly the number of cases that have been taken up. Of the foregoing number, 30,521 cases were numbered and classified and the balance can only be estimated.

The total number includes arrears of all years from 1896 down to 1901.

The only proper way for recasting the yearly work of this Bureau is to classify the claims by years; this plan (which is illustrated by Schedule E, showing the disposition of the 1900 taxes) will be put into operation with the 1901 taxes which have not, as yet, been entirely remitted to this Bureau and which will not be acted upon until the lists in their entirety are in our possession.

The schedules hereto annexed will show the disposition of the business done.

Very respectfully yours,

MARTIN SAXE, Assistant Corporation Counsel,

In charge of the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears of Personal Taxes.

ACTIONS AND SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS BY AND AGAINST THE TENEMENT HOUSE COMMISSIONER AND THE SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS.

Rocco M. Marasco vs. Robert W. DeForest, as Tenement House Commissioner.

Motion for injunction to restrain the Tenement House Commissioner from proceeding to vacate premises No. 164 Mott street, owned by the defendant and used as a tenement house, plans not having been filed and approved by the Commissioner.

The motion for injunction was argued November 26 before Scott, J., and denied December 8, with $10 costs; premises ordered to be vacated by January 8, 1903.

Adam Mohl vs. Robert W. DeForest et al.

This was a motion for a mandamus to compel the Tenement House Commissioner to approve plans for alterations to a tenement house.

The motion was argued on the 22d of December before Fitzgerald, J., and has not yet been decided.

In the Matter of the Application of The City of New York against the Unsafe Building Nos. 52 to 58 Duane Street.

An application was made before Fitzgerald, J., on the 22d of December upon behalf of the lessee of the premises, at the time of unsafe proceedings, for an allowance of costs in connection with the trial before the Referee. This application was opposed upon behalf of the City, but no decision has yet been handed down.

The City of New York vs. Mary Lyons.

This was an application for an injunction to restrain the use and occupation of No. 141 East Seventy-first street as a tenement house, instead of as a private dwelling, in violation of the plans filed.

The defendant in this action after the signing of the order to show cause, and before the return day, took such steps to remove the violation as satisfied the Tenement House Commissioner and Superintendent of Buildings of her intention to comply with the law. The proceedings were therefore suspended and the law has since been fully complied with.

People ex rel. Charles L. Cooke vs. Perez M. Stewart.

The appeal from the order denying the motion for injunction in this proceeding was argued on the 7th of November, and the order was on the 6th of December affirmed with $10 costs.

In the Matter of The City of New York against the Unsafe Building No. 327 Madison Street, Samuel Goldberg, Owner.

The work directed by the precept in this proceeding having been performed in 1901 by the Commissioner of Buildings, and the owner of the premises having disputed the claim, on application to Bischoff, J., Mr. Peter Everett was appointed on May 16, 1902, as Referee to determine the amount due to the City. After numerous hearings before the Referee the claim was on December 19, 1902, compromised by the acceptance of the defendant's offer to pay $300 and the costs of the reference.

Moneys Received and Accounted For.

A large number of the pending cases are so near a satisfactory termination that, while it is necessary to report them in the undisposed-of column, I feel sure that early in the year they will be terminated and the law complied with by the defendants. In at least 90 of the complaints from the Borough of Brooklyn the responsible defendant has been ascertained, the case prepared and sent to the Brooklyn office for attention up to trial, and I await further information as to the proceedings taken in that branch.

In conclusion, I desire to add that the assistants and office force assigned to this Bureau upon its creation have performed the duties devolving upon them with fidelity and efficiency.

Respectfully submitted,

MATTHEW C. FLEMING, Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Change of Grade Damage Commission.

Change of Grade Damage Commission, Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards—Summary Report of Work of the Commission During the Year Ending December 31, 1902.

December 31, 1902.

Hon. GEORGE L. RIVES, Corporation Counsel:

Sir—The following is a summary report of the work accomplished by the above Commission during the year ending December 31, 1902:

This Commission was established by Chapter 537 of the Laws of 1893, amended by Chapter 567 of the Laws of 1894 and other Acts, and has jurisdiction to award damages caused by reason of the change of street grades in connection with the separation of the track and street grades over the New York and Harlem Railroad to do away with grade crossings.

The area affected by these changes is from the Harlem River to Williamsbridge and from one to three blocks on both sides of said railroad. Nine hundred and ninety claims have been filed, in which the aggregate amount claimed exceeds $4,000,000. The time to file additional claims expired in 1893.

Schedule of work for the six months ending July 1, 1902:

Claims Disposed of.	Awards.	Am't Claimed.
Trials concluded 72.....	$184,460 00	$439,217 00
Trials 13.....	14,965 00	28,000 00
Dismissals 218.....	.....	no estimate
Total 303.....	$199,425 00	$467,217 00

On July 2, 1902, the personnel of the Commission was changed, and there were pending for consideration by the new Commissioners twenty-one claims, which had been previously dismissed by the Commission and thereafter reopened on motion of the claimants' attorneys. The aggregate amount claimed in these cases pending was $157,600. The new Commissioners rendered a unanimous decision on August 22, 1902, declaring that they had no jurisdiction to hear or determine any of the said reopened claims, and thereafter reported to the Mayor that the labors of the Commission had been concluded by that decision, and their resignations were accepted and the Commission went out of office on September 15, 1902.

Four of the awards made by the Commission retiring on July 2, 1902, were reviewed by the Appellate Division, First Department, in certiorari proceedings instituted by the Comptroller. In one of these claims, the application of the City for the reduction of the award from $6,000 to $1,000 was unanimously sustained and the payment of the reduced amount accepted by the claimant. In the other three claims the awards were sustained with presiding Justice Van Brunt dissenting.

In the claim of John F. Steeves, one of the said twenty-one reopened cases, a motion for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel the hearing of the claim was denied by the Supreme Court, and the time to appeal from the order entered thereon has expired. In that case and nineteen others of the reopened claims, writs of certiorari to review the decision as to jurisdiction have been served. In one of the twenty-one claims reopened and included in the decision as to jurisdiction the time to take a proceeding by certiorari has elapsed and the determination becomes final as to that claim.

The only matters pending in connection with the work of this Commission are the twenty proceedings by writ of certiorari to review the decision of the Commission, declaring that they had no jurisdiction to hear reopened claims, and the appeals from the decision of the Appellate Division in the three certiorari proceedings instituted by the City, in which the awards were affirmed by a divided court.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT C. BEATTY, Counsel in Charge.

Report of Special Counsel in Charge of Part of the Water Supply Proceedings for the Year 1902.

Services Rendered in the Preparation and Trial of Cases.

Eighth Cornell.

Thirty-six parcels and four separate claims have been reported on by this Commission. The proof against the City was $547,253.59. The awards were $291,829, making a saving in favor of the City of $255,424.59.

In addition to these, eleven cases have been closed by the claimants and petitioner and are awaiting a report. The amount proven against the City is $103,918.58. This does not include services rendered before the Commission and in the preparation of other cases. It only refers to completed work.

Double Reservoir I.—Additional Lands.

This Commission has made its final report, including six claims in which the proof was $60,443.25 and the awards $27,310, making a reduction in favor of the City of $33,133.25.

Seventh Cornell Dam.

Two hundred and forty-two claims, exclusive of eleven highways, have been closed, and are now awaiting a report. No claim was filed for the highways. The Commissioners report on these without any evidence.

Kensico.

The claims of Killahy, La Furley and Corcoran were tried before the Commissioners of Appraisal.

Report drawn, motion made to confirm the report and order confirming report drawn and entered, making a saving of $1,245.

Mahopac.

Ten cases reported on. Amount proven against the City $40,685. Awards, $32,975; saving to City, $7,710.

Eleven cases remain before this Commission, five have been closed by the claimant and petitioner, four of the remaining parcels are practically closed by the claimants. In two no evidence has been introduced by claimants.

Matter of St. Joseph's College.

The trial of this case has been completed and a report made. The total value as proven against the City was $461,000; award, $65,000, making a saving of $396,000.

In order to avoid the expense of trying the question as to what it would cost to remove the remains of the dead interred upon this property, the sum of $2,000 has been agreed upon between the claimants and the Department of Water Supply as a proper compensation for this purpose.

East Branch Croton.

One case, involving $150,000, remains to be disposed of in this proceeding. The testimony of claimant has been introduced. Evidence on behalf of the City has been prepared, and I am ready to proceed. The question of discontinuing has been made the subject of frequent consultations, and was referred to the Department of Water Supply. Your Department was advised the latter part of January, 1902, that the Commissioner of Water Supply did not at that time possess such knowledge of all the facts as would justify him in advising a discontinuance of the proceeding. You advised me, under date of February 1, 1902, of this state of affairs, since which time nothing has been done by me.

Appeals.

First—In the proceeding known as the Kensico Reservoir Proceeding, instituted under chapter 189 of the Laws of 1893, Phoebe F. Stoutenberg and Charles P. Wyckoff, parties interested in different parcels, appealed to the Appellate Division from the award of the Commissioners.

Briefs were prepared and appeals were argued and decided in favor of the City. In the Gleneida matter a motion was made on behalf of the City to reverse the report of the Commissioners on the ground that they had proceeded upon an erroneous theory of law. This motion was granted by his Honor Justice Dickey. An application for reargument was denied. An appeal was taken to the Appellate Division from the order reversing the report of the Commissioners. Briefs were prepared and matter argued and decided in favor of the City after a reargument had been ordered by the Court on its own motion; subsequently a motion for a reargument or for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals was made and denied.

In the Muscote proceeding an appeal was taken by the City from the order made by his Honor Justice Keogh in the Hannifin matter.

This order was affirmed, and a new commission appointed. The case is now in process of trial.

Discontinuance.

In the matter of the Discontinuance Proceeding an appeal was taken by Abram J. Miller, attorney for Myron J. Howes and others from the order confirming the report of the Commissioners. Appeal argued and decided in favor of the City.

Byram.

Sarles Appeal, Parcel 61 and Part of 62.

In this proceeding Justice Keogh refused to confirm the report which made nominal awards, making an order reversing it and directing the appointment of commissioners. From this order your department appealed to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Second Department, and was successful. The amount involved was $113,500, which claimants would have been entitled to recover if their theory of the law had prevailed.

Taxation of City's Lands.

The Committee on Revision of the Charter, by their report to the Legislature, recommended the re-enactment of the old Statutory Tax law, which provides that the lands acquired and to be acquired by the City should be assessed at the same rate as similar property similarly situated, excluding the aqueducts and other works and constructions necessary for the introduction of water in the City of New York.

The Legislature, however, changed the proposed act so that the lands are now to be taxed in the manner heretofore taxed, exclusive of the aqueducts. The local assessors construe this to include the dams.

By direction of the Law Department, after consultation with the Comptroller, the right of the various county assessors to tax the City's dams, etc., is to be contested.

A large amount of detailed work, as well as examination of authorities, has been done, but as yet no definite result has been reached, for the reason that Mr. Justice Keogh, before whom the original motion was argued, has not as yet fixed when all parties can be heard.

Ten certiorari proceedings have been instituted to review the action of the local assessors, the amount of increase in the assessments being $3,680,095.80.

In addition to this fifty-five tax bills, mainly for school taxes, have been sent to me from your department and examined; the amount involved was $3,312.24.

Saw Mill River Drainage.

By an act of the Legislature Commissioners were appointed with power to drain the lowlands bordering on the Saw Mill river. It is sought to assess the City for benefits and thus compel it to pay part of the expense, amounting to about $3,000. This proceeding is being contested.

Motions.

Under this head will be classified motions by and against the City.

In the motion made by the City to confirm the report of the Commissioners, Matter of Lake Gilead, serious opposition was encountered as to the parcel designated as Parcel No. 27, being the bed of the lake. The claim for $75,000 was reduced to about $7,000 on the ground that no one could be vested with the title to water as such.

The matter was argued at length before his Honor Justice Keogh. Briefs were submitted, and the matter decided in favor of the City.

In the Kensico Proceeding a motion was made to confirm the report of the Commissioners and was opposed. The motion was argued at length before his Honor, Justice Gaynor, who decided the questions of law submitted to him in favor of the City.

There have been thirty-nine motions made to procure the payment by the Mercantile Trust Company of funds deposited in the various proceedings. I have appeared on behalf of the City on these motions, all of which have been dismissed as to the City, except one, viz., the Lyon motion at Katonah, where provision was made in the order for payment to the City of the amount of two judgments for costs on appeal.

The ground for the dismissal of these motions as to the City was that, with the deposit of the funds with the Trust Company the duty of the City was at an end.

Awards.

Two hundred and sixty awards, amounting to $596,372.12, have been paid. This includes cases where private settlements have been made, but does not include the amount disbursed for costs and counsel fees allowed the claimants' counsel.

Taxation of Costs.

In the appeals to the Appellate Division, matter of Wyckoff and Stoutenberg, judgments of affirmance were entered in the office of the County Clerk of Westchester County.

The Clerk refused to tax as a disbursement the amounts paid by the City for printing the cases on appeal.

An appeal was taken to the Special Term from the ruling of the County Clerk. This appeal was argued before his Honor, Mr. Justice Marean, who decided in favor of the City, reversing the action of the Clerk, and directing the taxation of the disbursements. These amounts have been paid.

Dispossess Proceedings.

I was directed by your Department to institute proceeding to dispossess Oscar Miersch from the property which he had rented from the Aqueduct Commissioners, included in the taking known as the Eighth Cornell Dam Proceeding. The necessary papers were drawn, orders of the Court procured, and on the return day I extended the time of the delinquent for a week, with the result that a check was sent to the City.

Communications.

Two hundred and thirty-two communications have been received from the Law Department and answered.

General Summary.

There were fifty-seven claims reported on, in which $1,109,381.84 was proven against the City for the fee of property acquired and damage done adjacent property; $417,114 was awarded, making a saving in favor of the City of $692,267.84. To this should be added a saving of $1,245 in the Killahy case, at Kensico, where no new evidence was introduced against the City, making the total saving $693,512.84. The amount claimed (not used here) would make the saving to City much greater.

In addition to this there are two hundred and sixty-four claims closed by both parties awaiting a report.

Appeals.

Seven appeals argued, six decided in favor of City. One appeal taken by City unsuccessful, as new Commission has been appointed. Ruling of new Commission that the claimants cannot prove value by items or comparison has already reduced any recovery more than $100,000.

Proceedings Pending.

Seventh Cornell, Eighth Cornell, Mahopac and Saw Mill river drainage, ten certiorari proceedings. Hannifin case and one case in Supplemental Brewster.

Awards Paid.

Two hundred and sixty awards, aggregating $596,372.12.

Communications and Opinions.

Two hundred and thirty-two.
