OATH News

OATH and Office of Nightlife launch new MEND NYC mediation program: On August 14, Mayor Bill de Blasio announced the launch of MEND NYC, a new joint initiative of OATH and its Center for Creative Conflict Resolution and the Office of Nightlife. MEND NYC provides mediation to New Yorkers and hospitality businesses across the city who are in disputes over quality-of-life issues.

COVID-19 Update

Pursuant to an order of the Chief Administrative Law Judge, all hearings, trials, and other OATH operations are being conducted by telephone, videoconferencing, online, or mail, and OATH will only allow in-person appearances in limited, pre-approved circumstances. Individuals may only enter OATH offices if the agency has approved your or your representative's request because there is a compelling need for an in-person proceeding and the proceeding can be conducted while providing sufficient social distancing and other public health protections to comply with state and local government public health guidelines. For more information, read OATH's public flyer.

Appeals Division decisions (appeals from the Hearings Division)

The Appeals Division sustained a hearing officer's imposition of recidivist penalties against a tobacco retail dealer for selling tobacco products to a person under 21 years of age. Respondent argued that prior violation (on which the recidivist charge was based) had been issued to a prior owner.

Trials Division

Licensing

Taxi driver asserted an innocent ingestion defense.

In a Taxi and Limousine Commission license revocation case, the driver objected to petitioner's reliance on an affidavit from a testing laboratory and a chain of custody verification to establish that he tested positive for marijuana, without producing a witness to be cross-examined, and argued that his test sample equaled, but did not exceed, the federal cutoff for a positive test.
