Donovan Richards Jr. QUEENS BOROUGH PRESIDENT

DONOVAN RICHARDS President CITY OF NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE President of the Borough of Queens 120-55 queens boulevard kew gardens, new york 11424 718.286.3000 www.queensbp.org info@queensbp.org

May 6, 2024

To: The Mayor of the City of New York The New York City Council Director of the New York City Office of Management and Budget

For reasons that get to the heart of who we are as a city and for reasons that defy human decency, New York City has found itself in the throes of an asylum seeker crisis. More than 175,000 migrants have arrived in our city since Spring 2022, and The World's Borough has welcomed tens of thousands of our newest neighbors with open arms. But it is clear that Queens needs additional city resources to ensure that all our residents can lead productive lives.

First and foremost, the inability for hard-working New Yorkers to find affordable housing has had dire impacts on our borough. Housing costs continue to climb, as the average rent in Queens has risen to $2,781 as January 2024, according to MNS Real Estate. In growing neighborhoods like Long Island City, the average cost of monthly rent for a 2-bedroom apartment is an unacceptable $5,615. The need to rapidly build more affordable housing in our city has never been more apparent, and Queens needs a Department of Housing Preservation and Development that is committed to not only expanding new affordable housing construction, but cultivating innovative solutions like community land trusts.

A growing borough population also means our ability to educate our children in and out of the classroom must grow as well. When it comes to schools, Queens has the highest number of K-12 students enrolled in our school system and second-highest number of Pre-K students enrolled, but we struggle to produce enough school seats to accommodate them. There is a clear and obvious need for elementary and middle school seats, especially in school districts across West and Southeast Queens, where significant residential development is ongoing. Additionally, our libraries are the anchors of our communities, serving as lifelines for children, families, seniors and everyone in between. But the cuts facing the Queens Public Library system, as well as the other two systems, endanger weekend service, badly-needed programming and more. We call on these cuts to be reversed and for funding to both be fully restored and baselined at last fiscal year's levels.

Lastly, the disastrous COVID-19 pandemic made clear that our healthcare system, especially in Queens, needs significant financial reinforcement. Unfortunately, hospital closures have created healthcare deserts, and for years, Queens' nine remaining hospital campuses, have been forced to perform monumental feats of care with little in the way of support. Progress is being made, as we are grateful to NYC Health + Hospitals for its partnership in planning to construct a badly-needed Gotham Health clinic in Far Rockaway. But Queens remains the most underbedded and overburdened borough in New York City. Our borough has just 1.60 hospital beds per 1,000 residents, a far cry from Manhattan's 5.52 beds per 1,000 residents, an injustice that must be rectified immediately.

Pursuant to Section 241 of the New York City Charter, the Queens Borough President submits its expense and capital priorities for Fiscal Year 2025 Executive Budget.

Sincerely,

Donovan Richards President Borough of Queens

Recommendations

Increase the agency budget to better serve the Borough of Queens – Queens is the most ethnically diverse county in the continental United States with 47.2% of the population not having been born in the United States<sup>2</sup>. This diversity necessitates the office to provide multi-faceted and culturally aware services in their native language in most cases.

Restore and increase the agency budget line Other Than Personal Services - To better serve the residents of the Borough of Queens, our agency needs to be able to produce outreach materials in a variety of languages, intentionally create opportunities for our communities to come together and to receive critical information on services, opportunities and general resources in their mother language, and to effectively run a mid-size agency. Additionally, this will allow our agency to continue to run our free immigration law services to our immigrant communities and provide expense funding opportunities to our community based organizations.

In order to adequately serve the borough, which is still recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic effects and currently is becoming the home of more asylum seekers at a faster pace than other boroughs, the Queens Borough President recommends an increase in the expense budget to FY22 adopted budget levels in order to expand the scope of services.

Community Boards

Queens' 14 Community Boards are the eyes and ears of local government. Community Boards assist and advise public agencies and public offices on matters which relate to the welfare of the district and its residents. Duties include submitting recommendations to the Mayor, Borough President and various other city officials in the best interests of the community and evaluating the quantity and quality of agency provided services. The Community Boards conduct public hearings and submit recommendations and priorities to the capital and expense budgets, allocations and use of funds for community development and on development or improvements of land.

Budget Overview

The Mayor's FY 2025 Executive Budget forecasts a $16.7 million budget for the Community Boards citywide and Community Boards in Queens are budgeted at $3.75 million.

The 14 Community Boards in Queens serve an increasingly multiethnic and multilingual community. Yet, the Mayor's FY 2025 Executive Budget estimates that Queens' Community Boards receive the lowest per capita support among the five boroughs. Additionally, the 14 Queens Community Boards serve, on average, the most residents per community district: 171,819 individuals, compared to 122,721 in the Bronx and 152,004 in Brooklyn.

Recommendations

Fully Restore and enhance funding to Queens Community Boards – The Community Boards are pivotal to the governance of the City since they serve as frontline service for the residents and allows our city agencies to effectively coordinate city agencies and address hyperlocal issues that otherwise would be difficult to respond to. The Queens Borough President recommends increasing the budget allocations to Community Boards to FY22's adopted budget levels in order to increase per capita support which will allow the 14 Community Boards to maintain services.

Fund the top budget priorities of each Community Board – Each Community Board has outlined budget priorities for their districts through the Register of Community Board Budget Requests. These priorities range from park improvements to infrastructure upgrades. The Queens Borough President recommends funding support for the budget priorities outlined in the FY 2025 Register of Community Board Budget Requests.

Provide funding for live broadcasting services of each Community Board - To continue to engage with its constituents and expand their reach, it is crucial that community boards are able to provide multiple ways to access their meetings. Therefore, the borough board recommends the creation of a budget line within the community boards budget to hire contracted services to live broadcast their meetings to their constituency.

NYC Department of Education

The NYC Department of Education is the largest municipal public school system in the United States, in 2022-23, there were 1,047,895 students across 1,867 schools in the NYC school system.

Recommendations

Restore and enhance funding for Senior Services- The Queens Borough President recommends increased investment for senior services. Seniors require access to a wide range of services to ensure a dignified life for those deciding to age in place. These provide support in key areas of the day to day living of this demographic.

Restore and enhance for Senior Services – Borough President Discretionary Funding – In years past with the exception of FY21, the five Borough Presidents received $1.13 million in discretionary funding through the City Council to support senior centers throughout New York City. In FY 2024 These funds historically totaled $324,904 for senior programs in Queens. The Queens Borough President recommends that the City Council restore and enhance these funds in FY 2025.

Increase funding for Home Delivered Meals to award organizations that provide culturally appropriate meals – The aging population in Queens has deep ties to their cultural origin and religion, and providing meals that respond to these needs are critical. In addition, seniors are especially vulnerable to COVID-19 and other respiratory illnesses, and should not risk their lives for basic necessities. The Queens Borough President recommends increasing funding for Home Delivered Meals that will directly fund local organizations that provide specific culturally humble home delivered meals.

Increase funding to ensure senior centers are open at least 6 days a week – Senior Centers are a critical tool to improve the quality of life of seniors and ensure they are able to age in place with health, dignity and access to social and physical activities. The Queens Borough President recommends the increase of programmatic funding for senior centers to increase their days of operation to up to at least 6 days a week.

Continue City Council Initiatives – The Queens Borough President urges the continuation of key City Council discretionary funds and initiatives for senior services.

Borough Overview

One of the most significant challenges facing Queens is access to healthcare. Queens was already under-bedded and underserved, but previous year's closures have further strained an already overburdened system. The Borough's overburdened system was made clearly evident when Queens became the epicenter of the COVID-19 pandemic and hospitals did not have enough beds to serve our patients.

Queens currently has nine acute care hospitals throughout the borough responsible for serving over 2.4 million residents. The borough has two municipal hospitals: Elmhurst Hospital Center and Queens Hospital Center. The other seven hospitals are voluntary and are part of major, multi-facility health systems. They are Jamaica Hospital and Flushing Hospital, part of the Medisys Health Network, Forest Hills Hospital and Long Island Jewish Medical Center, part of the Northwell Health System, Mount Sinai Hospital of Queens, New York Presbyterian – Queens, and St. John's Episcopal Hospital South Shore.

Together, these nine hospital campuses serve the entire borough. However, Queens remains the most under-bedded borough in New York City. There are only 1.61 beds per 1,000 patients in Queens, compared to 5.53 in Manhattan and 2.58 in the Bronx. Out of the 3,851 beds in Queens, only 269 of them are maternity beds.

Borough Overview

Queens North and South continue their strong efforts to respond to crime, despite a reduction in personnel over the years. Due to its large land area and physical distance between precincts, and due to the predominantly residential nature of the borough, officers are often required to cover large distances to address crime and quality of life issues. Overall crime incidents in Queens North and Queens South have increased.

Recommendations

Provide additional Neighborhood Coordination Officers –The Neighborhood Coordination Officers serve as the first point of contact between the police and the community, significantly bettering coordination and engagement with the community when addressing and preventing criminal activities. The Queens Borough President recommends increasing Neighborhood Coordination Officers for each precinct.

Build a new precinct to help reduce the coverage area of the 109th Precinct - The Queens Borough President recommends allocating funds to build a new precinct to reduce the coverage area of the 109th precinct.

Increase the number of School Safety Crossing Guards - The Queens Borough President recommends the increase of number of school safety crossing guards throughout the Borough and urges the administration and police department to rethink the role and responsibilities of the crossing guards to increase the demand of these positions.

Department of Sanitation

Recommendations

Increase cleanup of major commercial corridors – The Queens Borough President recommends more funds be dedicated to the cleanup of major commercial corridors in Queens, including more street sweepings, particularly those that do not have a dedicated Business Improvement District.

Increase garbage and recycling pickup throughout the borough – The Queens Borough President recommends additional funds be dedicated to increasing the number of garbage and recycling pickups throughout the borough. The Borough Board further recommends the budget funds to combat illegal dumping found prevalent throughout parts of the borough.

Restore and Enhance funding for Waste Prevention, Reuse and Recycling- The Queens Borough President recommends restoring funding to increase composting sites in Queens.

Increase e-waste recycling sites in Queens- The Queens Borough President recommends more funds be dedicated to more electronic waste recycling sites to prevent illegal dumping of electronics.

Restore and enhance funding for community composting programs - Each week, residents bring these groups their food scraps—collected in bespoke tins, old yogurt containers and ziplock bags—to be transformed into compost that can fertilize everything from street trees to community gardens. It's a useful service in a city where many lack space to compost on their own: New York's community-composting programs divert an estimated 4,150 tons of food scraps (often called "organics") from landfills each year, according to GrowNYC, one of the organizations.

Borough Overview

Queens has a diverse and sound housing stock that attracts families with children, young adults and seniors. The borough's housing stock is a mixture of mostly one and two-family homes and mid-rise apartment buildings with a concentration of a few higher-density apartment buildings. The higher-density apartment buildings are generally found in western and central Queens while lower density homes are found throughout the borough, with higher concentrations in the eastern and southern parts of the borough.

25,936 housing units were completed in new buildings in New York City in  $2022^{10}$ . This is a decrease from 2021, but it is in line with the annual completions from immediate years prior. This represents the seventh consecutive year of completed units above the 20,000 mark.

As shown in the above charts<sup>11</sup> Brooklyn has been the borough with the most completed units since 2012 compared to the rest of the boroughs, building a total of 8,253 units in 2022. For the second year in a row, Manhattan has built less new building units than Brooklyn, Queens, and the Bronx. Staten Island remains with the lower amount of completed units with 463. This is the lowest level of new building completions in the borough over the past thirteen years.

Borough Overview

The Borough of Queens has the largest landmass of the five boroughs. The borough is serviced by busy subway lines, with 81 subway stops that reach from Western Queens to Flushing/Jamaica, and down into the Rockaways. The borough is also serviced by over 75 local route buses. In 2021, the ninth busiest subway station in New York City was the 7 line at the Flushing-Main Street station, which increased its ridership from 2020.<sup>13</sup>

There are numerous transportation issues in Queens, but they all stem from the inadequate transit infrastructure of both mass transit and the roadways. Queens' transportation infrastructure was designed piecemeal over time to meet burgeoning needs and its capacity has now been surpassed. The highest trafficked subway and bus stations are regularly overcrowded, and large parts of the borough, particularly eastern Queens, remain public transit deserts. The need for a more interconnected, multimodal transportation network was made more evident during the pandemic when individuals found it hard pressed to find access to transportation.

Additionally, Open Streets created synergy in Queens that has transformed streets like 34th Avenue in Jackson Heights into a destination and its popularity has increased exponentially in New York City.

Recommendations

Increase the number of slow zones, install more pedestrian and countdown crosswalk signals with implementation– In order to mitigate this dangerous situation, the Queens Borough President recommends the increase of capital funds in order to expand the number of slow zones, install additional pedestrian countdown crosswalk signals, and increase police presence in high traffic corridors and subways.

Expedite the implementation of daylight measures to heavy transit zones in Queens - The Queens Borough Presidents urges the administration to combat traffic incidents that have resulted in tragedy by expediting the implementation of daylight measures to heavy transit zones in Queens.

Create more open streets- The Queens Borough President recommends the Department of Transportation work with various other agencies and communities in the neighborhoods that want open streets. This includes communities that want open streets but do not necessarily have the ability to organize.

Increase capital funds to resurface streets, sidewalks and curbs – The Queens Borough President recommends increasing and including capital funds dedicated to resurfacing and repaving the borough's key thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks and curbs.

Increase funding for traffic studies- The Queens Borough President supports increased funding to expedite traffic studies.

Repair or build new seawalls or bulkheads- The Queens Borough President supports repairs or building new seawalls or bulkheads to prepare for storms while protecting waterfront areas.

Invest capital funding to create and improve protected bike lanes - Bicycle ridership has increased throughout New York City. Protected bike lanes have been a great addition to the safety of active transportation users, however some of the infrastructure improvements have fallen short and require extra funding to improve them. Additionally, bike lanes should be connected throughout Queens to ensure the riders safety.

Queens Public Library

The Queens Borough Public Library provides free service at 66 library locations throughout the borough. Locations include one central library, seven adult learning centers, two teen centers and a technology center. The Queens Borough Public Library continues to serve as a nationally recognized model of excellence and lifelong learning for the entire population including young people and adults.

Borough Overview

Queens possesses one of the richest concentrations of cultural institutions in the world. The arts and cultural community is thriving in the Borough of Queens, and much of this success is due to the ethnic diversity found within its borders. Queens is the most ethnically diverse borough in New York City, and the most diverse county in the nation. It is this diversity that has spurred the creation of artistic gems unique only to Queens, significantly contributing to New York City's offerings as a cultural hub for the global community.

However, many of these Queens institutions still lack adequate funding to provide high quality programs to an ever-changing and ever-growing borough and to increase accessibility of their exhibits and programming. These organizations not only face tight program budgets, but also tight operating budgets due to high insurance rates and, in many cases, high commercial rents. Admissions and ticket sales cover only a small portion of operating expenses, while foundation, corporate, state, and federal grants cover a little more. All of our institutions and organizations rely on basic funding provided through the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs.

The per capita support from the Department of Cultural Affairs for Queens is lower than every other borough. Queens' members of the Cultural Institutions Group receive $2.34 per capita, compared to $9.86 for the Bronx and $8.31 for Staten Island.

Borough Overview

Queens has the highest parkland acreage of any borough. The 7,748 acres of parkland are situated in 464 parks, playgrounds, triangles, and malls throughout the Borough's 14 community boards. Constituents in Queens always relied on parks land but the public land became especially more utilized throughout the pandemic as New Yorkers practiced and continue to practice social distancing. The current number of Maintenance and Operations personnel is insufficient for the large amount of park acreage in Queens.
