THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening and an amendment to a previously granted variance to permit certain retail uses (Use Group 6) at the cellar level of a six-story building within a residential zoning district; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 9, 2013 after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on May 7, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community testified in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the south side of West 13th Street between Avenue of the Americas and Seventh Avenue, in an R6 zoning district within the Greenwich Village Historic District; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a six-story mixed-use building with cellar retail use and residential use on stories one through six; and

WHEREAS, on August 11, 1998, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to legalize the retail use that existed in the cellar, limiting the permitted Use Group 6 uses to: "antique store, art gallery, furniture store, or jewelry or art metal craft store" and limiting its size to 1,400 sq. ft.; the Board limited the hours of operation of the use to Tuesday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and closed Monday; and

WHEREAS, the variance was granted for a term of 20 years, to expire on August 11, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it has substantially complied with all conditions of the grant, except when the space was occupied by an art gallery, which remained open until 7:00 pm on Saturdays (one hour later than was permitted under the grant); and

WHEREAS, the applicant now requests an amendment to permit: (1) any Use Group 6 use in the cellar, except eating and drinking establishments and food stores; (2) an expansion of the hours of operation to Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.; and (3) amend the 20-year term date to begin as of the date of the Board's action in the instant application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed expanded Use Group 6 uses would remain compatible with the neighborhood character and would greatly increase the marketability of the space; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant represents that it has consulted with real estate brokers about leasing the space but has not been able to find a tenant due to the restrictions on use and hours of operation contained in the prior grant; and

WHEREAS, as to the effect on the neighborhood character, the applicant represents that the expansion in permitted uses will have a minimal impact on the building's appearance; the applicant also notes that the subject building is only 20 feet from a C6-2 zoning district, which permits a wide range of commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a Certificate of No Effect ("CNE") from the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC"), dated, January 30, 2013, approving the proposed interior alterations; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, initially, the applicant sought an amendment authorizing: (1) any Use Group 6 use, except eating and drinking establishments; (2) expanded hours of Monday through Sunday, 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and (3) the removal of the term of the variance; however, after consulting with Community Board 2, the applicant agreed to amend its request to include: (1) a food store restriction; (2) more limited weekend hours, as noted above; and (3) a 20-year variance term; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested clarification regarding whether the applicant sought to retain the existing signage at its current size (18 sq. ft. in surface area) and whether LPC had approved such signage; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a letter indicating that no expansion was requested and that LPC would have to approve the new signage upon a full application for a CNE; the applicant noted that such an application has not yet been filed because the design of the signage will vary depending on the nature of the tenant obtained; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports a grant of the requested amendment with the conditions listed below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated August 11, 1998, to grant the noted modifications to the previous approval; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked 'Received April 30, 2013'- three (3) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on May 7, 2033;

THAT the commercial use in the cellar will be limited to any of the uses listed in Use Group 6, except eating and drinking establishments and food stores;

THAT the hours of operation will be limited to: Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.;

THAT the signage for the commercial use will be as per previously approved plans and will not exceed 18 sq. ft. in surface area, unless approved by the Board and by LPC;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction of a seven-story residential building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 19, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on July 24, 2012, September 11, 2012, January 8, 2013, February 26, 2013, and April 9, 2013, and then to decision on May 7, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Brooklyn, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, City Councilperson Letitia James and State Assembly Member David Weprin, provided testimony in opposition to the vesting application; and

WHEREAS, the Adelphi Street Residents, the Fort Greene Association, and certain neighbors provided testimony in opposition to the application, citing concerns about the limited amount of work performed and raising questions about whether the claimed expenditures were associated with the subject site or other sites controlled by the same owner/contractor; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the west side of Adelphi Street, approximately 74.12 feet south of Park Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site comprises two tax lots (Lots 52 and 53) having a lot area of 4,591 sq. ft., and is further augmented by additional floor area (4,116 sq. ft.) obtained through a zoning lot merger with the adjacent Lot 51; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop the site with a seven-story residential building with an FAR of 2.63, and 16 dwelling units (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is currently located within an R5B zoning district, but was formerly located within an R6 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Building complies with the former R6 zoning district parameters; specifically with respect to floor area and density; and

WHEREAS, however, on July 25, 2007 (the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Fort Greene/Clinton Hill Rezoning, which rezoned the site to R5B, as noted above; and

WHEREAS, the Building does not comply with the R5B zoning district parameters as to floor area and density; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Permit No. 302384417-EW-OT (the "Alteration Permit"), an Alteration Type 2 permit for the construction of the Building's foundation and structural work, was issued to the owner by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on July 24, 2007; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Alteration Permit was filed in conjunction with New Building Application No. 302330680, which included complete plans and specifications for the proposed seven-story building, and was originally filed on April 24, 2007 (the "Original Application"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, subsequent to the Enactment Date, the Original Application was amended through a Post Approval Amendment to reflect a three-story residential building that complies with the R5B zoning district requirements, for which DOB states that a permit was issued on May 8, 2008; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a separate application for the proposed seven-story residential building was filed under New Building Application No. 302360861, for which an NB permit was issued on July 23, 2007; however, that permit was subsequently withdrawn on March

15, 2008 (the "Withdrawn Permit"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that lawful work commenced under the Withdrawn Permit for the one day differential between the date of its issuance (July 23, 2007) and the issuance of the Alteration Permit (July 24, 2007); and

WHEREAS, the site is the subject of an earlier common law vested rights application to continue construction pursuant to the Withdrawn Permit under BSA Cal. No. 219-10-A; the applicant withdrew BSA Cal. No. 219-10-A by letter dated November 9, 2011; and

WHEREAS; the applicant now seeks to continue construction pursuant to the Alteration Permit; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board questioned the validity of the Alteration Permit for the purposes of vesting the proposed seven-story building, since the Alteration Permit authorizes only foundation and structural work and does not include zoning calculations or complete plans and specifications for the proposed seven-story building; and

WHEREAS, the Board further raised concerns regarding the connection between the Alteration Permit and the Original Application, the latter of which has been amended and now only permits the construction of an R5B compliant building; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant notes that the DOB Building Information System describes the job associated with the Alteration Permit as "New foundation and structural drawing details filed in conjunction with new building application at 74 Adelphi Street (Job # 302330680)"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that at the time the Alteration Permit was issued, the Original Application contemplated the construction of the proposed seven-story building and included zoning calculations for the seven-story building; therefore, the Alteration Permit's reference to the Original Application served to incorporate by reference the zoning calculations for the proposed seven-story building into the Alteration Permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant cites to Glenel Realty Corp. V. Worthington (4 A.D.2d 7002, 703 (2d Dep't 1957), where a developer proceeded based on validly issued permits for excavation and foundation work, and the court found that the developer's vested right was not for the completion of the foundation, but rather "a vested right to the erection and use of the specific superstructure for which the foundation was designed;" and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that in the subject case, the set of foundation and structural plans associated with the Alteration Permit, which show a framing plan for a seven-story building, make the nature of the superstructure clear, and that case law does not require that the foundation permit or an alteration permit for foundation or structural work include zoning calculations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the application for the Alteration Permit states that it was filed in conjunction with the Original Application, and therefore the Alteration Permit both: (1) incorporates by reference the plans from the Original Application, which included zoning calculations for the proposed seven-story building; and (2) contains plans for each floor, that reflects the building as contemplated in the Original Application; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 10, 2012, DOB confirmed that (1) the Alteration Permit is properly classified as an alteration permit and includes structural plans and foundation plans, (2) construction can commence under the Alteration Permit provided authorization to construct the remainder of the proposed building is obtained in additional permits, to the extent such permits are not already issued, and (3) the Alteration Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the record and concludes that the Alteration Permit was lawfully issued to the owner of the subject premises prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Alteration Permit lapsed by operation of law on the Enactment Date because the plans did not comply with the new R5B zoning district regulations and DOB determined that the Building's foundation was not complete; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a valid permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant initially asserted that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner had completed the following work: the completion of approximately 70 percent of the required excavation work; the installation of 30 percent of the required shoring; and the pouring of 19 yards of concrete in connection with underpinning the adjacent building and installation of certain footings, constituting 40 percent of the concrete required for the underpinning, and 12 percent of the concrete required for the foundation footings; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant includes work performed on July 24th and 25th, pursuant to the Alteration Permit it seeks to proceed under, as well as work performed on July 23rd, pursuant to the Withdrawn Permit it has abandoned and no longer pursues; and

WHEREAS, the Board questions whether the work and expenditures from July 23rd should be included in the analysis for vesting as such work and expenditures were not under the subject relevant permit that was issued prior to the Enactment Date and the applicant seeks to proceed under; and

WHEREAS, in support of representations about the work performed, the applicant submitted the following evidence: excavation slips, concrete delivery slips, construction contracts, a foundation plan, and photographs of the site; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board questioned the applicant's assessments due to the absence of documentation of the amount of completion at the time at the Enactment Date and ultimately the applicant conceded that only approximately 12-14 percent of excavation was complete and that no portion of the foundation walls or footings were constructed; and

WHEREAS, specifically, at hearing, the Board questioned the applicant's representations as to the amount of completed work and provided its own calculations, based on the available evidence, to conclude that (1) a maximum of 10 percent of excavation was completed; (2) a maximum of 20 percent of underpinning was completed; and (3) no shoring, footing, or foundation wall work was completed; and

WHEREAS, as to the excavation, the Board notes that the total site area is 4,600 sq. ft., to be excavated to a depth of 11 feet below grade, which amounts to approximately 1,874 cubic yards measured in place (or 2,435 cubic yards of loose volume); trucking tickets reflect a total removal of 245 cubic yards on July 23, 24, and 25, 2007, which is approximately 10 percent of the total required excavation; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that if the work performed on July 23rd, pursuant to the Withdrawn Permit is subtracted, only 140 cubic yards (five percent of the total) was removed pursuant to the subject Alteration Permit; and

WHEREAS, as to the underpinning, the Board's analysis, based on the plans approved July 24, 2007, concludes that of the 24 required underpinning pits around the site, a maximum of two sets of pits of the ten required along the north wall could be completed; the concrete delivery tickets of 19 cubic yards on July 24 and 25, 2007 are associated with this work but finds that two days to complete two sets of pits would be extremely rapid progress given the care required to shore the excavated area under the adjacent building, placement of form work, and allowance of sufficient time for concrete to harden before beginning the next set of underpinning pits, so the Board questions whether that subsurface work could have actually been completed; and

WHEREAS, as to shoring, the Board notes that the site perimeter is 292 linear feet and all of the perimeter except 50 linear feet requires shoring; there is not any evidence of completed shoring work in the form of a survey or photograph taken at the time of the rezoning; there is, however, some evidence that no shoring was in place in June 2008; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB violations and complaints issued in June 2008 note no protection at the sides of the excavation which was 11 feet deep; and

WHEREAS, as to footings, the Board's analysis concludes that no foundation footings were constructed prior to the Enactment Date; in addition to the fact that the owner could not confirm the location of the footings, there is evidence that any footings constructed were placed after the Enactment Date; on May 14, 2008, a DOB inspector noted on complaint number 3264303 that the foundation had not begun; and

WHEREAS, further, as to the footings, the applicant states that a June 20, 2008 DOB violation, reflecting a requirement to stop work was associated with the installation of a footing to vest certain 421(a) tax abatement benefits and that it revised its work schedule to eliminate such post-Enactment Date work, which it had initially represented to be part of the pre-Enactment Date work; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that after filing the PAA on June 2, 2008 to comply with the new zoning, a partial lift was approved in June 2008 to construct a foundation wall with a length of 15 feet, 15 feet from the adjacent building; this work could be the footing that is visible in the submitted undated photographs; however, there are questions about whether what is in the photograph is a footing at all as it does not appear level and could possibly be a remnant of the former building at the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that there is significant basis to conclude that the amount of work performed as of the Enactment Date pursuant to a valid permit is actually even less based on the following: (1) the permit under which certain work was performed was actually issued after the Enactment Date; (2) the disparity between the photographs, claimed work performed, and work required per the plans; (3) the unreliable nature of the evidence due in part to there not being any distinction between the work performed prior to and after the Enactment Date; and (4) a significant amount of the work claim, including a concrete pour, was performed on the Enactment Date, possibly after the City Council vote; and

WHEREAS, as to the last point, the Board notes that the transcript from the July 25, 2007 City Council hearing reflects that the City Council voted to adopt the Fort Greene/Clinton Hill Rezoning at approximately 3:30 p.m. and no later than 4:45 p.m., so the Permit technically lapsed at that time and any work performed afterwards should not be considered; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board has questions related to the amount of work performed between the time of the permit issuance and the Enactment Date; the concerns arise from the following facts: (1) at the time DOB issued a Stop Work Order in June 2008, it stated that work had not begun;

(2) photographs do not exist of the site as of the Enactment Date; (3) further excavation was performed after the Enactment Date, so it is difficult to say, how much excavation was done then; (4) the photographs show debris, partial shoring and old foundation walls that appear to be part of adjacent properties; (5) there is not enough documentation to establish whether the work performed was pursuant to the July 2007 Alteration Permit or in 2008 according to R5B plans under the New Building Permit; and (6) if the work performed pursuant to the Withdrawn Permit is excluded, then only the work performed on July 24 and 25 should be considered; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and finds that a nominal amount of work can be substantiated as having been preformed prior to the Enactment Date pursuant to a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, given the size of the site, and based upon a comparison of the type and amount of work completed in this case with the type and amount of work discussed by New York State courts, an insufficient amount work was performed at the site during the relevant period; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the applicant states that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner expended $310,016.34, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $3,358,912 budgeted for the entire project; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, invoices, and accounting tables; and

WHEREAS, in relation to actual construction costs, the applicant specifically notes that the owner had paid or contractually incurred $180,000 for the work performed at the site as of the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the owner paid an additional approximately $133,448 in soft costs related to the work performed at the site as of the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, thus, the expenditures the applicant claims up to the Enactment Date represent approximately nine percent of the projected total cost; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concerns about reliance on the submitted financial records and asked the applicant to explain its method of payment and recordkeeping; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant stated that the $180,000 check for foundation work, which reflects $130,000 in excess of the $50,000 specified in the June 2 contract for such work, was paid to ensure that the contractor would aggressively commence work at the site as soon as the construction permits were issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant later reduced the $180,000 figure to $135,000 without any documentation to reflect the basis for the new number; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the owner of the site is a one-third owner of the contractor business and thus questions the need to incentivize one's own business to perform work at one's own site in order to perform work expeditiously, particularly when no foundation work was actually performed; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board notes that the $180,000 check has notations on it for another address, 92 Adelphi Street - $150,000, and $30,000 for yet another project; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Board's concerns, the applicant stated that the notation was a reference to the source of the money (another nearby development project), not its destination (the subject project); and

WHEREAS, the Board is not persuaded that the documentation is evidence that the claimed expenditures are associated with the subject construction rather than with the project noted on the check itself; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that even if it accepted the full revised $135,000 for foundation costs (an amount that is neither reflected in contract or cancelled check), the total hard cost expenditure is only 5.6 percent of the total hard costs; and if the $135,000 is reduced to $50,000 to reflect the actual contract amount for the foundation work, the amount of hard costs expenditures out of the total required would be 4 percent; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board considers not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if the owner is not permitted to vest under the former R6 zoning, the floor area ratio would decrease from the approved 2.63 FAR (based on the aggregate zoning lot) to 1.35 FAR, representing a loss of 8,591 sq. ft. of buildable floor area in the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that complying with the R5B zoning would result in a reduction of units from 16 to six, a 63 percent decrease in the total number of units permitted at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the 8,591 sq. ft. loss in floor area and the loss of ten units would reduce the annual rental income from approximately $333,000 to $126,000, a decrease of 62 percent; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the diminution of the site value from the pre-Enactment Date $1,550,000 to the current $750,000 to $800,000 contributes to a finding of serious loss; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the purchase price should be included in the serious loss analysis and that the Board has considered it in past cases (BSA Cal. Nos.

368-05-A and 300-08-A); and

WHEREAS, the Board does not give any weight to the applicant's assertions about loss to the site value as it finds the figures to be conclusory and lacking any support; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that it has stated that there is not an impediment to considering the purchase price, but that it has never done so and the two noted cases in which the applicant sought to introduce it satisfied the three-pronged analysis for vesting without consideration of the purchase price; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that (1) the applicant has not substantiated its claim of diminution in the site value; (2) because so little work has been performed, none of the construction expenditures would be lost if required to resume construction under the current zoning; and (3) no costs of the redesign contribute to the serious loss because the applicant proactively redesigned the project to comply with the current zoning and proceeded under that scenario prior to seeking to vest; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the three elements of the common law vested rights analysis are examined as a whole and that certain successful vesting applications may have a minimal amount of work yet are able to establish a greater extent of expenditures or serious loss or vice versa, but, for the reasons cited above, the Board is not persuaded that the applicant has satisfied the three-prong analysis, in the aggregate; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that (1) the amount of work submitted into the record is minimal, even if all of it were corroborated with evidence, which it is not; (2) the bookkeeping is unreliable and significant expenses cannot be substantiated nor are they clearly related to the actual construction at the site; and (3) absent a sufficient case for the amount of work and expenditure, the serious loss finding, which itself is unpersuasive, cannot stand on its own; and

WHEREAS, the applicant cites to several New York State cases to support its position that the minimal level of work performed at the site may establish a right to vest the Alteration Permit; and

WHEREAS, primarily, the applicant cites to Ageloff v. Young, 282 A.D. 707 (2d Dept 1953) and Hasco Electric Corp. v. Dassler, 144 N.Y.S.2d 857 (Sup. Ct. Westchester County 1955); the applicant notes that in Ageloff, the court recognized vested rights for staking, clearing and excavating a site and contracting for architectural services, while in Hasco, the court recognized clearing trees and billboards, leveling the site, and excavating trenches for footings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Board has cited to Ageloff and Hasco in three cases – BSA Cal. Nos. 337-05-A, 45-07-A, and 366-05-A (respectively Hering Avenue, East 19th Street, and 8th Avenue); and

WHEREAS, the applicant also cites to Ortenberg v. Bales, 224 A.D. 87 (2d Dept 1928) in which the court granted vested rights when substantial excavation had been performed and the owner had entered into construction contracts but not performed any foundation work and Pehlham View Apts. v. Switzer, 130 Misc. 545 (Sup. Ct. Westchester County 1927) in which the developer had incurred certain expenses, employed the services of an architect, and excavated the cellar; and

WHEREAS, the applicant cites to two cases where the courts did not find vested rights because the work and expenditures were not deemed to be substantial: Smith v. M. Spiegel Sons, 31 A.D.2d 819 (2d Dept 1969) (demolition of existing houses and retaining of architects not sufficient to vest rights) and Cooper v. Dubow, 41 A.D.2d 843 (2d Dept 1973) (demolition of existing structures, preparation and filing of architect's plans, test borings, securing H.U.D. approval and negotiation with construction contractors not sufficient to vest rights); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the determining factor in the cases is whether a new development scheme has been physically imposed upon the site and asserts that the subject case with some excavation and underpinning clearly reflects that a new development scheme was being impose don the site at the time of the zoning change; and

WHEREAS, the Board distinguishes the case law and the noted Board precedent and finds that the applicant has failed to satisfy the more recently articulated three-prong analysis; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board notes that the Ageloff and Hasco decisions do not provide details about the three prongs, which were not articulated until approximately 20 years after those decisions; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in the three instances that it has cited Ageloff or Hasco, it has also cited to the more recent decisions, like Kadin and Putnam, which emphasize the individuality of the cases and the imperative to review each case as a totality of the circumstances; and

WHEREAS, the Board distinguishes Ageloff and Hasco from the subject facts in that (1) both involved sites that were affected by a change of use under the new zoning, which would have supported a more significant argument for serious loss (both sites were rezoned from commercial or industrial use to residential use); (2) the amount of construction required to complete the projects appears to have been less in proportion to the total amount needed than in the current case for a seven-story building; and (3) the amount of work performed in Ageloff (staking and clearing land and excavating trenches for footings) and in Hasco (leveled land and excavated 400 linear feet of trenches for footings) was comparable to or greater than the amount of work on which the applicant can definitively rely; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board distinguishes the three prior Board cases in which it cited Ageloff and Hasco; first, in Hering Avenue (BSA Cal. No. 337-05-A), the applicant established that the excavation, installation of footing forms and rebar, and approximately one-third of the concrete required for the foundation had been poured; in East 19th Street (BSA Cal. No. 45-07-A), the applicant established that partial excavation, seismic monitoring, lagging and shoring of adjacent properties had been performed; and in 8th Avenue (BSA Cal. No. 366-05-A), the applicant established that installation of 164 of the 200 required piles, dewatering, shoring, and sheeting work had all been performed; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the complete excavation work performed in Ortenberg and Pelham View decisively exceeds the amount of work in the subject case, which included only at most 12-14 percent of excavation; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the amount of work performed in the two cited unsuccessful vesting cases – Smith and Cooper – is more comparable to the amount of work performed in the subject case; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that a guiding principle in the common law vesting analysis is whether a new development scheme has been physically imposed upon the site, but the Board reaches the conclusion that the applicant has failed to establish such a scheme through its 12-14 percent of excavation work and purported (although highly questionable) 20 percent of underpinning, both of which could be reused for any development scheme at the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes by noting that the case law is clear that there is no fixed formula and that it must consider the totality of the conditions and the strength (and plausibility) of the evidence as it measures each case in accordance to its own circumstances; and

WHEREAS, the Board must consider the nature of construction, expenditure, and serious loss related to the individual project; and

WHEREAS, the Board has distinguished all of the relevant case law and prior Board cases and finds that the unique facts of this case together fail to match the circumstances of prior successful applications; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed, the expenditures made, and claim of serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and finds that the applicant has failed to establish that a vested right to complete construction of the Building accrued to the owner of the premises as of the Enactment Date; and

Therefore it is Resolved that this application made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 302384417, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is denied.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated September 28, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420600497, reads in pertinent part:

1. The proposed building is in the bed of the mapped street. BSA approval is required; and

WHEREAS, this is an application to permit a seven-story residential development within the bed of mapped but un-built portion of Ash Avenue; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on February 26, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on April 9, 2013, and then to decision May 7, 2013; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of 147th Street, approximately 280 feet south of the intersection of Sanford Avenue and 147th Street within an R6A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Board granted an application under GCL § 35 to permit the construction of a two-family house at the subject site on November 19, 1985 in the bed of a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to that approval, a two-family house was constructed at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant intends to demolish the existing home and replace it with the proposed seven-story residential development; and

WHEREAS, the Fire Department at the on February 26th public hearing on this application raised concerns regarding the development of a seven-story building on a street with a 30-foot width from curb to curb, with parking permitted on both sides of the street; the Fire Department also indicated that the proposal failed to comply with Fire Code ("FC") § 503; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Fire Department asserted that the narrowness of the street created a substandard condition for its operational needs; specifically, the Fire Department explained that, in the event of a fire, its truck would be impeded from accessing the street, and it would be required to use an aerial ladder instead of portable ladders; and

WHEREAS, the applicant at the hearing agreed to explore additional fire safety measures; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 13, 2013, the applicant provided an email between the Fire Department representative and the applicant in which both parties agreed that the placement of a fire hydrant in front of the premises would satisfy the Fire Department's concerns regarding the narrowness of the street; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 23, 2013, the Fire Department has stated they have no objections pending compliance of the following condition prior to the issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy: a hydrant be installed 50 feet north of the proposed building site; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that FC § 503 does not apply to the proposal; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 28, 2103, the Department of Transportation ("DOT") stated that it has reviewed the subject proposal and has no objections; and

WHEREAS, DOT states that the subject lot is not currently included in the agency's Capital Improvement Program; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated December 28, 2012, the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that: (1) there are no existing City sewers or existing City water mains in the bed of Ash Avenue between 147th Street and Parsons Boulevard; and (2) Amended Drainage Plan No. 33A calls for a future 12-inch diameter combined sewer in the bed of Ash Avenue starting west of 147th Street to Parsons Boulevard; and

WHEREAS, DEP further states that according to the Final Tax map, all lots that could benefit from the future 12-inch diameter combined sewer in Ash Avenue between 147th Street and Parsons Boulevard are fronting on either an existing or future sewer on 147th Street, Parsons Boulevard, Sanford Avenue and/or Beech Avenue; therefore, there is no need for the future 12-inch diameter combined sewer in Ash Avenue between 147th Street and Parsons Boulevard; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, DEP has no objections to the proposal; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence to warrant this approval under certain conditions.

Therefore it is Resolved that the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated September 28, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420600497, is modified by the power vested in the Board by Section 35 of the General City Law, and that this appeal is granted, limited to the decision noted above; on condition that construction shall substantially conform to the drawing filed with the application marked "Received May 6, 2013 " -(1) sheet; that the proposal shall comply with all applicable zoning district requirements; and that all other applicable laws, rules, and regulations shall be complied with; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT DOB shall review the proposed plans to ensure compliance with all relevant provisions of the Zoning Resolution;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT the applicant shall install a fire hydrant approximately 50 feet north of the proposed building site, as reflected on the plans, prior to the issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated March 21, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320117949, reads in pertinent part:

1. Proposed multi-family use is not permitted per ZR 22-10
2. Proposed floor area exceeds the maximum permitted per ZR 23-141
3. Proposed lot coverage and open space are less than required per ZR 23-141
4. Proposed dwelling units exceed the maximum permitted by ZR 23-22
5. Proposed front yard on interior portion of zoning lot is less than required per ZR 23-45
6. Proposed planting along Avenue V front yard is less than required per ZR 23-451
7. Proposed wall height and total height exceed the maximums permitted per ZR 23-631; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit the construction of a multi-family residential development partially within an R3-1 zoning district and partially within an R3-1 (C2-2) zoning district, contrary to ZR §§ 22-10, 23-141, 23-22, 23-45, 23-451 and 23-631; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 8, 2012, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on December 11, 2012, and February 12, 2013, and April 9, 2013, and then to decision on May 7, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, this application originally proposed a mixed residential and commercial building with 96,025 sq. ft. of floor area (2.09 FAR), including 3,760 sq. ft. of commercial floor area, 84 dwelling units, 103 parking spaces, 51.13 percent lot coverage, and a maximum building height of 64'-0"; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, at the Board's direction, the applicant revised the proposal several times; and

WHEREAS, the revised proposal now reflects a residential building with 54,615 sq. ft. of floor area (1.19 FAR), 48 dwelling units, 50 parking spaces, 46.54 percent lot coverage and a maximum building height of 41'-1"; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 18, Brooklyn, recommended disapproval of the original version of this application; and

WHEREAS, members of the community appeared at the initial hearing and gave testimony in opposition to the large scale of the original proposal; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular interior lot located on the south side of Mill Avenue approximately 116 feet west of its intersection with Strickland Avenue; the majority of the site is within an R3-1 district; the northwest corner of the site is within a C2-2 district mapped within the R3-1 district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 100 feet of frontage along Mill Avenue and a total lot area of 46,000 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a vacant, one-story manufacturing building that contains approximately 8,000 sq. ft. of floor area (0.18 FAR) and measures approximately 30 feet in height; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the eastern lot line of the site abuts an unpaved, 60-foot wide right-of-way, hereafter known as the "Avenue V Easement"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Avenue V Easement provides access to the industrial properties to the west and south of the site, and is used by members of the public to access the properties on the Mill Basin waterfront; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is also entitled to use the Avenue V Easement for ingress and egress; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site was historically part of a larger tract of land that was zoned and used for intense manufacturing uses, including lumber storage, a machine shop, an electrical shop, a warehouse, a steel fabrication shop and an open lot for motor vehicle storage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a multi-family residential building; however, per ZR § 22-10, only one- and two-family dwelling are permitted in the subject R3-1 (C2-2) district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes 54,615 sq. ft. of floor area (1.19 FAR); however, per ZR § 23-141, the maximum permitted floor area is 27,000 sq. ft. (0.60 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a lot coverage of 46.54 percent and an open space of 53.46 percent; however, per ZR § 23-141, the maximum permitted lot coverage is 35 percent and minimum required open space is 65 percent; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes 48 dwelling units; however, per ZR § 23-22, a maximum of 44 dwelling units are permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a front yard with a depth of eight feet along the Avenue V Easement; however, per ZR § 23-45, a front yard must have a minimum depth of 15 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes 1,542.83 sq. ft. of front yard planting along the Avenue V Easement; however, per ZR § 23-451, 3,560 sq. ft. of planting is required; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a maximum wall height and maximum building height of 41'-1"; however, per ZR § 23-631, the maximum permitted wall height is 21'-0", and the maximum permitted building height 35'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that these non-compliances are the basis for the subject variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the following are unique physical conditions inherent to the subject building and zoning lot, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations: (1) the environmental remediation required, including the requirements concerning the site's (E) designation; (2) the irregular lot depth and lack of frontage on Mill Basin; (3) the relatively narrow lot width in relation to lot depth; (4) the site's poor soil quality combined with its high water table; and (5) the surrounding commercial and industrial uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the environmental remediation required due to groundwater and soil contamination and the (E) designation (specifically, E-71, per Zoning Resolution Appendix C), the applicant represents that, based on fifteen boring samples, the soil at the site contains elevated concentrations of metals and semi-volatile compounds; additionally, groundwater sampling has revealed the presence of petroleum-related volatile organic compounds at levels above acceptable standards; and

WHEREAS, as to the (E) designation, the applicant states that, on March 21, 1996, the City Planning Commission placed the (E) designation on the site in acknowledgement of its historical manufacturing and industrial uses; pursuant to the designation, development of the site must include remediation of the contaminants and all soil excavation and disposal must be completed in accordance with Office of Environmental Remediation and Department of Environmental Protection standards and protocols; additionally, under the (E) designation, 30bBA of window/wall noise attenuation is required to allow for an indoor noise environment of 45dBA; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that environmental remediation, as well as compliance with the (E) designation filing and permitting requirements, will significantly increase the cost of development at the site; and

WHEREAS, as to the irregular lot depth and lack of frontage on Mill Basin, the applicant states that these conditions will require the installation of extensive sanitary sewer and storm water drainage infrastructure, which will be made more expensive by the site's high water table, which is between four and six feet below grade, and its (E) designation; and

WHEREAS, as to the relatively narrow lot width in relation to lot depth (as noted above, the site is 100 feet in width, but 460 feet in depth), the applicant states this condition constrains the configuration of complying buildings to a single row of detached or semi-detached houses; the applicant also notes that, in contrast, the majority of other vacant or predominantly vacant parcels in the R3-1 (C2-2) district have more lot area and greater lot widths, and can therefore, unlike the subject parcel, create an insular subdivision that is sheltered from any nearby commercial or industrial uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the site's poor soil quality and high water table, the applicant represents that the site is underlain by historic fill (sand and silt), and that such soil is unsuitable to support development; the applicant also represents that because the site's water table is between four and six feet below grade, constant dewatering is required during subsurface operations; consequently, the creation of basements or cellars at the site is infeasible due to cost; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the poor quality soil coupled with the high water table makes pile installation necessary, at significant cost; and

WHEREAS, as to the site's location among a mix of commercial and industrial properties, the applicant states that the subject site is surrounded by uses that limit the demand and marketability of low-density residential developments; as a result, the applicant contends that any housing at the site will be discounted in order to compete with similar housing stock in more residential locations within Mill Basin; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the site is unique, in that it is only one of two tax lots out of 50 surveyed in the subject R3-1 (C2-2) district between Mill Basin and Strickland Avenue that does not have an existing usable structure, are burdened by a narrow lot, and do not have frontage on Mill Basin; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that, in the aggregate, the noted conditions create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of one conforming scenario and three lesser variance scenarios; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that a conforming development of the lot would consist of 16 two-story, single-family, semi-detached homes with the following bulk parameters: lot areas of approximately 2,800 sq. ft. per lot, floor areas of approximately 1,680 sq. ft. per home and two off-street parking spaces; the applicant notes that such a development would require General City Law § 36 waivers from the Board, because the buildings in the development would not front upon a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following lesser variance scenarios were analyzed: (1) a development comprising three-family buildings that complies with the bulk regulations of an R5 zoning district; (2) a two-story commercial building requiring a use variance; and (3) a multiple dwelling with a lower FAR and fewer dwelling units than the sought under this application; and

WHEREAS, as to the three-family development scenario, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of constructing 18 three-family, attached or semi-detached buildings, each with a floor area of approximately 3,000 sq. ft., 55 percent lot coverage and three parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, as to the commercial variance scenario, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of constructing a two-story commercial building with 22,932 sq. ft. of floor area (0.50 FAR) and 80 on-grade parking spaces; a variance is necessary because, as noted above, the majority of the lot is solely within an R3-1 district; and

WHEREAS, as to the smaller multiple dwelling, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of constructing a multiple dwelling with 40 dwelling units and an FAR of 0.99; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that neither the as-of-right scenario, nor the three lesser variance scenarios would provide a reasonable rate of return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that only the proposal results in an acceptable rate of return; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict compliance with zoning will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal is similar in bulk to the two existing buildings directly to the south along the Mill Basin waterfront; specifically, 2184 Mill Avenue is a four-story manufacturing building with 59,000 sq. ft. of floor area (1.74 FAR) and a building height of 76'-9", and 2186 Mill Avenue is a three-story community facility building with 60,242 sq. ft. of floor area (0.52 FAR) and a building height of 45'-0"; as such, the buildings are not out of context with their immediate neighbors in terms of size and shape; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal has yards that meet or significantly exceed the minimum required along lot lines that are shared with potential residential development sites; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building's fourth story is set back from Mill Avenue approximately 105 feet, which mitigates the impact of the noncomplying height upon the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed density (48 dwelling units) only minimally exceeds that which is permitted as-of-right for this oversized lot (44 dwelling units); this minor deviation in density mitigates the fact that the dwelling units are, contrary to the use regulations, contained within one multiple dwelling building on the lot rather than spread among multiple one- and/or two-family dwellings on the lot; as noted above, a multiple dwelling is the most efficient use of the available density for the lot; and

WHEREAS, as to the impact of the use variance upon the surrounding neighborhood, the applicant asserts that it is necessary not because residential use is prohibited in the district, but because multiple dwellings are not permitted as-of-right; moreover, nearby areas—such as along Strickland Avenue—allow multiple dwellings with bulk similar to the proposal as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the overall bulk of the proposal complies with the majority of the requirements for R5 districts, which are mapped extensively in the vicinity and which City Planning had originally deemed appropriate for this area in connection with the Southeastern Brooklyn Rezoning; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant notes that although its front yard along the Avenue V Easement is eight feet in depth instead of the required 15 feet and will have less than the required planting, the Avenue V Easement, as discussed above, is not a public street but an unpaved access road without significant pedestrian traffic; accordingly, the reduced front yard depth and diminished plantings will minimally impact the surrounding community; moreover, the applicant states that providing complying plantings is not feasible, because it must provide multiple curb cuts and a walkway with building access along the Avenue V Easement; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is the result of the configuration of the lot and the history of development at the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is the result of the site's unique physical conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the original proposal was for a mixed residential and commercial building with 96,025 sq. ft. of floor area (2.09 FAR), including 3,760 sq. ft. of commercial floor area, 84 dwelling units, 103 parking spaces, 51.13 percent lot coverage, and a maximum building height of 64'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal was revised several times in response to the comments and concerns of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the current proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, in that, the building's lot coverage and open space are now within 15 percent of that required, its density (48) is only four dwelling units greater than what is permitted (44), its maximum height of 41'-0" is only 6'-1" higher than the maximum height of ridge line allowed in the district (35'-0"), and its required yards and plantings are either complying or appropriately reduced in light of the irregularities of the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an unlisted Action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 10BSA057K dated April 12, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit the construction of a multi-family residential development in partially within an R3-1 zoning district and partially within an R3-1 (C2-2) zoning district, contrary to ZR §§ 22-10, 23-141, 23-22, 23-45, 23-451 and 23-631; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 11, 2013"– nine (9) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: 54,615 sq. ft. of floor area (1.19 FAR), a maximum perimeter wall height and building height of 41'-1", a Mill Avenue street wall height of 29'-9", a front yard with a depth of eight feet along the Avenue V Easement, a front yard with a depth of 25 feet along Mill Avenue, a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet, 48 dwelling units, 1,542.83 sq. ft. of front yard planting along the Avenue V Easement, and 50 on-grade parking spaces, as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT all signage at the site shall be in accordance with the BSA-approved plans;

THAT all requirements associated with the (E-71) designation, as set forth in the EAS and in Zoning Resolution Appendix C, are satisfied;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Zoning Specialist, dated October 15, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121183584, reads, in pertinent part:

Proposed UG3A university use is not permitted; contrary to ZR 42-10; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an M1-5B zoning district, the proposed conversion of nine floors of an existing ten-story building to a Use Group 3 college and university use, contrary to ZR § 42-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 8, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on April 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Manhattan, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, New York State Senator Brad Hoylman and New York State Assembly Member Deborah J. Glick recommend disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Greenwich Village Society for Historic Preservation, the NoHo Neighborhood Association, and certain community members submitted testimony in opposition to this application (collectively, the "Opposition"), citing the following primary concerns: (1) the proposed variance will set a precedent for similar variances in NoHo, (2) the applicant should be required to submit proof that there are no reasonable alternative sites available for the project; (3) the proposal will negatively impact the essential character of the neighborhood, (4) the proposal was not included in NYU's 2031 plan ("NYU 2031"), which was intended to satisfy the university's requirements for 20 years, (5) the compatibility of the proposed classroom and laboratory space with nearby uses and the potential negative impact of emissions from the site; and (6) the need for four stories of mechanical equipment; and

WHEREAS, the NoHo-Bowery Stakeholders, Inc., provided testimony in support of the proposal with the condition that undergraduate teaching spaces will be limited to no more than 25 percent of the building; and

WHEREAS, this application was brought on behalf of New York University (NYU), a not for profit educational institution; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregularly-shaped through lot with frontage on Broadway and Lafayette Street, with a total lot area of 35,349 sq. ft., located within an M1-5B zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a ten-story building with 313,188 sq. ft. of floor area (8.86 FAR), with Use Group 6 retail and Use Group 17 shipping on the ground floor and Use Group 6 offices on the second through tenth floors (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that NYU currently uses the Building as a bookstore on the ground floor; administrative services on the second and fifth through eighth floors; the student health center on the third and fourth floors; financial operations on the ninth floor; and offices for the School of Nursing on the tenth floor; and

WHEREAS, on February 5, 1980, under BSA Cal. No. 1099-79-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the construction of three additional stories on an existing seven-story manufacturing building, contrary to the underlying zoning regulations for floor area, sky exposure plane, and rear yard equivalent (the "Existing Variance"); and

WHEREAS, on July 14, 2009, after NYU's purchase of the Building in 2008, the Board issued a letter of substantial compliance stating that certain changes to the configuration of retail space and loading berths on the Building's ground floor were in substantial compliance with the Existing Variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert the Building to Use Group 3 college and university uses on the second through tenth floors, primarily for scientific research laboratories and teaching laboratories (the "Conversion"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Conversion will proceed over time, with the eighth and ninth floors being converted to scientific research facilities immediately, and following this initial introduction of research space, the fifth through seventh and tenth floors would be converted to scientific research facilities, with the second floor being converted to teaching laboratories and support spaces for other uses in the Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the third and fourth floors will continue to be used as the student health center for the foreseeable future, and although the Student Health Center is permitted as-of-right as Use Group 6 offices, it is more appropriately characterized as a Use Group 3 college and university use because of the NYU functions and populations that it serves; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that over time, the second through tenth floors of the Building may be occupied by other academic uses, however, they will not be used for dormitories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the ground floor will not be affected by the Conversion, and the Conversion will not entail any changes to the envelope of the Building except that certain rooftop mechanical equipment will be installed in connection with the introduction of academic uses in the Building; and

WHEREAS, because Use Group 3 college and university use is not permitted in the underlying M1-5B zoning district, the subject use variance is required; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance request is necessitated by the programmatic needs of NYU, which seeks to add essential scientific research and teaching space in proximity to its existing facilities; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the following are the programmatic needs of NYU: (1) additional scientific research space; (2) additional science teaching laboratories; and (3) locating the new scientific research and teaching laboratory space in or near NYU's Washington Square Core; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for additional scientific research space, the applicant states that NYU's science facilities remain inadequate when compared to those of competing educational institutions; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that a campus facilities survey of 284 institutions conducted in 2007 found that NYU has approximately one-third the mean amount of dedicated research laboratory space among institutions with more than 25,000 students, and that this is due in large part to NYU's urban setting and, more particularly, to the difficulty in finding sufficiently large spaces for research facilities in or near the Washington Square Core; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that scientific research laboratories are generally occupied by teams of researchers conducting experiments for the purpose of furthering scientific knowledge or developing new products; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the inadequacy of NYU's existing science facilities impacts both faculty and students, as the lack of space significantly constrains the ability of faculty to conduct research and to compete for funding from federal, institutional, and philanthropic sources, and insufficient research space has also had a deleterious impact on faculty recruitment and retention, with a number of faculty candidates choosing to work for schools with more adequate on-campus facilities;

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a 2007 study conducted by NYU projected that the science programs will likely grow between 55 and 72 percent over the next ten years and the applicant states that this growth, taken with the inadequacies of NYU's existing laboratory space, translates to a need for approximately 275,000 gross sq. ft. of additional space dedicated to science and scientific research, and one of the major constraints in accommodating this growth is the lack of adequate space available for science use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a letter from the architect stating that such facilities must be accommodated in buildings with large floor plates, high ceilings, heavy load capacity, and wide column spacing, and industry standards for research and teaching laboratories require sufficient space for eight to 12 principal investigators ("PI"), which is the "critical mass" needed to facilitate collaborative research in a laboratory setting; and

WHEREAS, the architect's letter states that each PI needs approximately 3,000 gross sq. ft. of dedicated research space to operate efficiently, for an optimal floor plate size of approximately 24,000 to 36,000 gross sq. ft., and structural supports and interior partitions should be spaced so as to accommodate laboratory modules, which have a typical width of 22 feet; and

WHEREAS, the architect's letter further states that to support an efficient and collaborative research environment, no two laboratory modules on a given floor should be located more than a one-minute walk apart, or the total length of approximately 12 contiguous 22-foot-wide modules; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for additional science teaching laboratories, the applicant states that NYU is also experiencing a shortfall of teaching laboratories to accommodate the increased student demand for science courses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a teaching laboratory is a group-learning space in which teams of students replicate experiments for educational purposes under the guidance of a faculty member, and the 2007 Survey found that NYU has approximately two-thirds the mean amount of teaching laboratory space among educational institutions with more than 25,000 students; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that teaching laboratories are heavily utilized to accommodate the demand for laboratory sections, and most of the teaching laboratories are decades old and in need of replacement or updating; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that as a result of the inadequacy of these facilities, NYU is forced to limit student enrollment in its science courses and in other programs geared toward science, technology, engineering, and mathematics careers, which utilize such laboratories as part of their required curricula; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that NYU has an additional programmatic need to locate the new scientific research and teaching laboratory space in or near the Washington Square Core, so as to allow efficient functional relationships with existing science and classroom facilities and so as to be physically accessible to the student body; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that NYU's major academic facilities are located within the Washington Square Core area, with six science facilities located to the immediate east of Washington Square, between Washington Square East and Broadway, and therefore the new scientific research and teaching laboratories facilities would most efficiently be located not only within or near the Washington Square Core, but near these facilities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the consolidation of science facilities within this area simplifies access to such facilities for faculty and students who concentrate in the sciences, and allows for the sharing of limited resources; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that the physical proximity of facilities to one another is crucial for promoting integration of disciplines and interaction among faculty and students, and such interchange has become especially valuable as research agendas have grown increasingly cross-disciplinary in character; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that co-locating the needed scientific research and teaching laboratories with existing facilities that serve different science disciplines allows for efficient collaborations among such disciplines and, in turn, fosters a rich learning and research community; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that locating the scientific research and teaching space at the subject site is necessary because the Building is capable of providing approximately 190,000 gross sq. ft. of interconnected space dedicated to science and scientific research, and this amount of space is more than any other NYU Arts and Sciences building within the immediate vicinity of the site, including Warren Weaver Hall at 251 Mercer Street (158,591 gross sq. ft.) and the Center for Genomics and Systems Biology at 12 Waverly Place (75,869 gross sq. ft.); and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the Building has uniquely large floor plates of 32,500 gross sq. ft., and few buildings in or near the Washington Square Core, and no others owned by NYU, have such large floor plates which are sufficient for the "critical mass" of eight to 12 PIs needed to facilitate a collaborative research environment and capable of accommodating laboratory program elements that require significant space, such as research benches, as well as needed adjacencies between such program elements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Building is ideally suited for the proposed uses for the following additional reasons; (1) the 22-ft. column spacing is ideal for laboratory benches and equipment, as the typical laboratory module has a width of 22 feet; (2) the overall floor plate dimensions are capable of accommodating multiple modules without creating inefficient walking distances between research stations; (3) the 14-ft. floor-to-floor heights are sufficient for accommodating the extensive ductwork and piping requirements of scientific equipment; (4) the large floor plates and the Building's height allow for the strategic location of sensitive scientific equipment away from sources of electromagnetic fields, such as the subway and elevators; (5) the high floor load capacity, designed for the Building's original factory use, is capable of withstanding heavy laboratory equipment; (6) the steel and concrete construction, designed for the Building's original factory use, is sufficiently stiff to accommodate the maximum vibration requirements of sensitive scientific equipment; and (7) the Building has a robust electrical infrastructure capable of supporting intensive laboratory uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the argument raised by the Opposition that the applicant should be required to provide proof that there are no reasonable alternatives available to them which do not require a zoning variance, the Board notes that ZR § 72-21 does not require an alternative site search and, based upon the above, the Board finds that the applicant has submitted sufficient evidence in support of its need to locate the proposed programs at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concludes that the requested use waiver to accommodate the Conversion is required to meet the programmatic needs of NYU; and

WHEREAS, in analyzing the applicant's waiver requests, the Board notes at the outset that NYU, as a non-profit educational institution, may use programmatic needs as a basis for the requested waiver; and

WHEREAS, as noted by the applicant, under well-established precedents of the courts and this Board, applications for variances that are needed in order to meet the programmatic needs of non-profit institutions, particularly educational and religious institutions, are entitled to significant deference (see, e.g., Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986); and

WHEREAS, the Board also acknowledges that NYU, as an educational institution, is entitled to deference under the case law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that NYU's programmatic needs cannot be accommodated in a complying building on the site, thus creating unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since NYU is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its educational mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Conversion would introduce a use to the Building that is in keeping with the existing educational uses in the surrounding neighborhood and would be compatible with other uses in the area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that there are several college and university buildings in the surrounding area, such as the Hebrew Union College Brookdale Center, located to the southwest of the site at 1 West 4th Street, and Cooper Union facilities, located to the north of the site adjacent to Cooper Square, and NYU's Washington Square Core campus, which contains numerous academic facilities, is located to the immediate west of the site across Broadway, comprising the area generally surrounding Washington Square; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Washington Square Core contains six science buildings, all located within three blocks of the site, which provide an appropriate setting for the proposed Use Group 3 scientific research and teaching laboratories uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed uses in the Building would also be compatible with the office, retail, and residential uses in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Conversion would not impair the use and development of adjacent property, as it would not entail any new development or enlargement on the site or any changes to the existing Building envelope; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the only change to the exterior of the Building would be the introduction of new rooftop mechanical equipment in connection with the proposed academic uses, which would not require any bulk waivers; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Conversion would provide a benefit to New York City by supporting NYU's research and educational programs with much needed facilities, and the increased inventory of appropriately located scientific research and teaching laboratories would, in turn, improve the quality of education offered to students, bolster efforts to recruit talented faculty, and ensure NYU's continued role as a vital and stable economic engine in the City; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's concerns that the proposal was not included in the NYU 2031 plan and will set a precedent for similar variances in NoHo, the Board notes that its review of the subject variance application is limited to the specific site in question, and the relationship of the subject site to NYU 2031 is not part of the Board's consideration pursuant to ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Building is already owned and operated by NYU as a bookstore, administrative services, the student health center, financial operations, and offices for the School of Nursing, and the applicant's agreement to limit undergraduate classroom use to no more than 25 percent of the gross sq. ft. of the Building will mitigate any impact caused by the additional density and pedestrian traffic that results from the introduction of Use Group 3 college and university useto the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a Certificate of Appropriateness from the Landmarks Preservation Commission (LPC), dated February 4, 2013, approving the proposed conversion of the building; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's concerns regarding the proposed rooftop mechanical space, the Board notes that the applicant is not requesting any bulk waivers for the proposed mechanical space, and such space is subject to review and approval by LPC; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's concerns about emissions caused by the proposed use of the Building, the Board notes that the applicant submitted an Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") which concludes that the proposal does not have the potential for significant adverse impacts on air quality; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is the result of the programmatic needs of NYU; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief, since the Building is designed to address NYU's present programmatic needs, which have been clearly established in the record; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA047M dated December 14, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's mobile source, stationary source, and chemical spill air quality screening analysis and determined that the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, within an M1-5B zoning district, the proposed conversion of nine floors of an existing ten-story building to a Use Group 3 college and university use, contrary to ZR § 42-10; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received February 13, 2013"- sixteen (16) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the Building requires review and approval by the Board;

THAT any changes to the BSA-approved plans, including the installation of rooftop mechanicals, may be subject to additional review and approval by the Landmarks Preservation Commission;

THAT construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, this is an application to waive the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure, eliminate the term of a previously granted variance pursuant to Multiple Dwelling Law ("MDL") § 310, and extend the time to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on May 14, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of West 83rd Street, 83 feet east of Riverside Drive and is partially within an R10A zoning district and partially within an R8B zoning district, within the Riverside-West End Historic District Extension I; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a six-story and cellar residential building with a superintendent's apartment in the cellar and dwelling units on the upper floors; and

WHEREAS, on October 10, 1972, under BSA Cal. No. 552-72-A, the Board granted a variance pursuant to MDL § 310 to legalize an existing superintendent's apartment in the cellar of the building; and

WHEREAS, on October 23, 1973, under the subject calendar number, the Board amended the variance to permit the superintendent's apartment in the cellar for a term of five years to expire on October 23, 1978; and

WHEREAS, the grant has been extended several times; and

WHEREAS, most recently, on August 8, 1995, the Board extended the term for ten years, to expire on March

WHEREAS, the applicant acknowledges that at some point prior to its purchase of the building, the cellar apartment was enlarged to incorporate an additional bedroom and a living room, as shown on the existing cellar plan submitted with the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it will return the cellar apartment to compliance with the BSA-approved plans by eliminating the partitions that created the additional rooms; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it cannot maintain all of the habitable rooms because they are unable to meet light and air requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the necessary work to return the apartment to compliance will be performed within 12 months of the date of this grant; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant proposes to obtain DOB approval of the proposed work within three months; bid the project to contractors and pull permits within another three months; relocate the superintendent's family within two months; perform the work within two months; and obtain DOB sign-off within a final two months; and

WHEREAS, the Board directed the applicant to provide information about the fire safety measures in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant detailed the fire safety measures, including the smoke detectors and fire alarm system; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks to eliminate the term of the variance as the apartment has been occupied by a superintendent for more than 40 years without adverse impact on the subject building or the surrounding area, which is predominantly developed with similar uses; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant seeks an extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, based on its review of the record, the Board finds that a ten-year extension of term and a two-year extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy are appropriate, with the conditions set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated August 8, 1995, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to extend the term for a period of ten years from the date of this grant and extend the time to obtain a certificate of occupancy for two years; on condition that the use shall substantially conform to BSA-approved plans, on condition that all work and site conditions shall comply with drawings marked previously approved by the Board; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the grant will expire on May 14, 2023;

THAT the above condition will be noted on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy be obtained within two years of the date of this grant, by May 14, 2015;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."
(DOB Application No. 120714520)

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 14, 2013.

SUBJECT – Application September 5, 2012 – Appeal challenging Department of Buildings' determination that a sign is not entitled to continued non-conforming use status as an advertising sign. M1-2 & R4/C2-1 zoning district.
PREMISES AFFECTED – 980 Brush Avenue, southeast corner of Brush Avenue and Cross Bronx Expressway/Bruckner Expressway, Block 5542, Lot 41, Borough of Bronx.

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Appeal denied.
THE VOTE TO GRANT –

WHEREAS, the subject appeal comes before the Board in response to two Notices of Sign Registration Rejection from the Bronx Borough Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB"), dated August 6, 2012, denying registration for the signs at the subject premises (the "Final Determinations"), which read, in pertinent part:

> The Department of Buildings is in receipt of additional documentation submitted in response to the Deficiency Letter from the Sign Enforcement Unit and in connection with the application for registration of the above-referenced sign. Unfortunately, we find this documentation inadequate to support the registration of the sign and as such, the sign is rejected from registration. The 1977 ES receipt and application contradict the ownership information provided. In addition, the sign has been used exclusively as an accessory business sign to the Home Depot operating on the lot for at least two years, so any claimed non-conforming advertising sign use was terminated and may not be resumed. This sign will be subject to enforcement action 30 days from the issuance of this letter; and

WHEREAS a public hearing was held on this application on April 9, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on May 14, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject premises ("the Premises") is located on the southeast corner of Brush Avenue and the Bruckner Expressway/Cross Bronx Expressway partially within an M1-2 zoning district and partially within an R4 (C2-1) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, this appeal is brought on behalf of Related Retail Bruckner, LLC (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, the Premises is occupied by a one-story commercial building containing a hardware store ("The Home Depot"), 451 on-grade parking spaces, and, on the north side of the lot, a double-faced pole sign ("the Signs") whose current message is for the Home Depot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Signs are rectangular signs, each measuring 14 feet in height by 48 feet in length for a surface area of 672 sq. ft., each; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Signs are located 25 feet from the Bruckner Expressway; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that, on or about October 26, 1977, DOB issued a permit in connection with application ES 147/77 for the construction of a double-faced sign containing the copy "Whitestone Indoor Tennis Courts" ("the Permit"); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks a reversal of DOB's rejection of the registration of the Signs based on DOB's determination that to the extent a non-conforming advertising sign may have been established at the Premises, the Appellant failed to provide evidence demonstrating that it was not discontinued when the Signs began displaying messages for The Home Depot in July 2009; and

WHEREAS, DOB appeared and made submissions in opposition to this appeal; and

REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT

WHEREAS, the relevant statutory requirements related to sign registration have been in effect since 2005; and

WHEREAS, under Local Law 31 of 2005, the New York City Council enacted certain amendments to existing regulations governing outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, the amendments are codified under Articles 501, 502, and 503 of the 2008 Building Code and were enacted to provide DOB with a means of enforcing the sign laws where signs had been erected and were being maintained without a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Article 502 (specifically, Building Code § 28-502.4), an outdoor advertising company is required to submit to DOB an inventory of:

> all signs, sign structures and sign locations located (i) within a distance of 900 linear feet (274 m) from and within view of an arterial highway; or (ii) within a distance of 200 linear feet [60.96 m] from and within view of a public park with an area of ½ acre (5000 m) or more; and

WHEREAS, further, Local Law 31 authorized the Commissioner of DOB to promulgate rules establishing permitting requirements for certain signs; the DOB rules, enacted under Rule 49, provide specific procedures for registration of advertising signs; Rule 49-15(5) reads in pertinent part:

> Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter; and

WHEREAS, subchapter B of Rule 49 (Registration of Outdoor Advertising Companies), (specifically, Rule 49-15(d)(15)(b)), sets forth the acceptable forms of evidence to establish the size and the existence of a non-conforming sign on the relevant date set forth in the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the acceptable forms of evidence set forth at Rule 49 are, in pertinent part as follows:

> Acceptable evidence may include permits, sign-offs of applications after completion, photographs and leases demonstrating that the non-conforming use existed prior to the relevant date; and

WHEREAS, affidavits are also listed as an acceptable form of evidence; and

WHEREAS, a DOB guidance document sets forth the instructions for filing under Rule 49 and states that any one of the following documents would be acceptable evidence for sign registration pursuant to Rule 49: (1) DOB issued permit for sign erection; (2) DOB-approved application for sign erection; (3) DOB dockets/permit book indicating sign permit approval; and (4) publicly catalogued photograph from a source such as NYC Department of Finance, New York Public Library, Office of Metropolitan History, or New York State Archives; and

REGISTRATION PROCESS

WHEREAS, on or about June 29, 2011, pursuant to the requirements of Article 502 and Rule 49, the Appellant submitted an inventory of outdoor signs under its control and Sign Registration Applications for the Signs, attaching a plot plan and photographs as evidence of establishment of the Signs as non-conforming advertising signs within view of an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, on March 8, 2012, DOB issued two Notice of Sign Registration Deficiency letters, stating that the Appellant had "fail[ed] to provide proof of legal establishment – 1977 receipt does not state advertising sign (and) [r]ecent photos show accessory sign"; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 22, 2012, the Appellant submitted a response to DOB, asserting that the

Signs were lawfully established as advertising signs and not discontinued; and

WHEREAS, DOB determined that the May 22, 2012 arguments lacked merit, and issued the Final Determinations on August 6, 2012; and

RCNY § 49-15 – Sign Inventory to be Submitted with Registration Application

…(d)(5) Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter.

RCNY § 49-16 – Non-conforming Signs

(a) With respect to each sign identified in the sign inventory as non-conforming, the registered architect or professional engineer shall request confirmation of its non-conforming status from the Department based on evidence submitted in the registration application. The Department shall review the evidence submitted and accept or deny the request within a reasonable period of time. A sign that has been identified as non-conforming on the initial registration application may remain erected unless and until the Department has issued a determination that it is not non-conforming; and

THE APPELLANT'S POSITION

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Final Determinations should be reversed because: (1) the Signs are non-conforming advertising signs protected by ZR § 42-55(c); (2) the change in message on the Signs to a message relating to the "Home Depot" retail use in 2009 did not constitute a change to accessory signs; and (3) even if the Home Depot signs are accessory signs, such a change was a permitted "change in subject matter" under ZR § 52-81 and did not constitute a discontinuance of the non-conforming advertising sign use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Signs are non-conforming advertising signs under ZR § 42-55(c) because: they were established as advertising signs between June 1, 1968, and November 1, 1979; they were within 660 feet of the nearest edge of the right-of-way of an arterial highway and contain a message that is visible from such arterial highway; and their surface area is 1,200 sq. ft. or less, their height is 30 feet or less, and their length is 60 feet or less; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that that the Signs were established as advertising signs by the Permit, which authorized the construction of a "double-faced pole sign" for the "Whitestone Indoor Tennis Club" measuring 14 feet in height by 48 feet in length; the Appellant notes that the Permit was signed off by DOB in 1977; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Signs were constructed on a separately-owned lot from the business to which they directed attention (the Whitestone Indoor Tennis Club), and that such separate ownership of the lots renders: (a) the lots separate "zoning lots," per ZR § 12-10; and (b) the Signs "advertising signs," per ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that DOB misreads subsections (a) and (b) of the ZR § 12-10 definition of "zoning lot," which both, in pertinent part, require that a lot of record have existed "on December 15, 1961, or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto," by looking only to how the lot of record was owned or maintained as of December 15, 1961; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that because the February 27, 2001 enactment of ZR § 42-55(c) is an applicable subsequent amendment thereto, the controlling date for whether the lots in this case satisfy either ZR § 12-10(a) or (b) is not December 15, 1961 (or February 27, 2001), but November 1, 1979, the date by which, according to ZR § 42-55(c), an advertising sign must have been constructed near an arterial highway in order to be eligible for non-conforming use protection; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that when the Signs were constructed in 1977, the subject zoning lot comprised multiple separately-owned lots of record, and that the Signs were constructed on Lot 151, which was owned by Delma Engineering Corporation, and the Whitestone Indoor Tennis Courts were located directly south of Lot 151 on Lot 149, which was owned by Emmanuel Ciminello; as such, the Appellant states that the lots were separate "zoning lots" and the Signs were "advertising signs" according to ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also asserts that its recordation of an Exhibit III Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement on October 14, 1980 constituted a merger of Lots 151 and 149 and that such merger demonstrates that the lots were separate zoning lots when the Signs were constructed; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted three affidavits to support its claim of establishment, including one from the sign hanger who claims to have hung the sign in 1977; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Permit, the separateness of the zoning lots in 1977 and the affidavits are, in the aggregate, sufficient proof under Rule 49 that the Signs existed as advertising signs prior to November 1, 1979, and are therefore protected by ZR § 42-55(c)(2); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes even if—as DOB contends—the Permit authorized only the construction of accessory signs, because the Signs were constructed before November 1, 1979 and satisfied the definition of advertising signs, they were established as such and may be maintained as legal non-conforming advertising signs according to ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, as to continuous use, the Appellant states that the Signs have been in the same location and have remained the same size since their construction in 1977 and that only the message has changed over the years; and

The Classification of the Home Depot Signs

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the change in copy to the "Home Depot" on the Signs did not constitute a change in use, because the Home Depot signs do not satisfy the definition of "accessory use"; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Appellant asserts that because the copy of the Home Depot "changes from time to time" and because the Home Depot is a national retailer with "at least 20 locations throughout the City," the Signs are not "clearly incidental to, and customarily found in connection with" the principal use of the lot (the Home Depot store); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant further states that the Home Depot retail use could cease to exist and the Home Depot copy could remain on the Signs and still be relevant to Home Depot retailers in the Bronx, throughout the City and in the Tri-State area; the Appellant also notes that the Signs are visible from the arterials but the Home Depot itself is not; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant states that the Signs are not accessory signs because typical Home Depot accessory signs in the City have a smaller surface area, are shorter than 75 feet in height and solely contain the Home Depot logo with no other symbols or representations; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant contends that the change to Home Depot messaging on the Signs continued the non-conforming advertising sign use that was established pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c); and

The Interpretation of ZR § 52-81

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Signs' current message for the Home Depot is a permitted change in advertising sign copy under ZR §§ 52-81 and 52-83; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the phrase, "a change in the subject matter represented on a sign shall not be considered a change of use" as it is used in ZR § 52-81, allows any non-conforming advertising sign to interchangeably display advertising, accessory or non-commercial copy without changing the use of such sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB's explanation of the phrase ("the purpose of this last sentence is to clarify that the writing, pictorial representation or emblem on a non-conforming advertising sign may change to different advertising sign copy without triggering [Zoning Resolution] provisions regulating changes in non-conforming sign use") is an import of new language into ZR § 52-81, which is not supported by the text and contrary to case law; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that ZR § 52-81 operates as an exception to any provisions of the Zoning Resolution that could be read to prohibit the display of accessory signage on a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the non-conforming signage regulations are "completely different" from the signage provisions set forth in ZR §§ 22-30, 32-60 and 42-50; in essence, the Appellant contends that ZR §§ 52-81 and 52-83 stand alone, mean what they say, and are not properly interpreted in the context of all Zoning Resolution provisions regulating signs, including the definitions set forth in ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that if the Zoning Resolution sought to differentiate accessory copy from advertising copy, it could have done so, just as it separates the provisions applying to non-conforming accessory signs in ZR § 52-82 from non-conforming advertising signs in ZR § 52-83; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Signs retain their non-conforming status, because they comply with all provisions of the Zoning Resolution applicable to non-conforming advertising signs; namely, the Signs have remained in the same location and position and not increased their degree of non-conformity with respect to surface area or illumination, per ZR § 52-83, and have merely undergone permitted changes to "subject matter" in accordance with ZR § 52-81; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that DOB's Final Determinations rejecting the Signs from registration as non-conforming accessory signs, should be reversed; and

DOB'S POSITION

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that it correctly rejected registration of the Signs as non-conforming advertising signs, in that: (1) non-conforming advertising signs were never established pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c); and (2) even if non-conforming advertising signs were established, they were replaced by accessory signs in 2009 and the advertising sign use was discontinued, per ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the Signs were established as advertising signs; rather, DOB contends that the evidence supports a finding that a single-faced, accessory sign was constructed in 1977 and existed as of November 1, 1979, as required by ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that as of June 28, 1940, advertising signs were prohibited at the site; however, any advertising sign measuring less than 1,200 square feet and within 660 feet and within view of an arterial highway is non-conforming to the extent of its size existing on November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that acceptable proof that an advertising sign existed on November 1, 1979 includes permits and sign-offs; a permit for an accessory sign may be submitted as evidence of a non-conforming advertising sign on November 1, 1979 provided sufficient proof demonstrates that the sign was used, albeit contrary to the accessory sign permit, to direct attention to a use or commodity on another zoning lot consistent with the Zoning Resolution definition of "advertising sign"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Appellant seeks to register the double-faced sign as a non-conforming advertising sign existing on November 1, 1979 pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c) but fails to meet the standard of proof that is required by Rule 49; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that Rule 49 identifies the following as acceptable evidence that a non-conforming advertising sign existed to establish its lawful status: "permits, sign-offs of applications after completion, photographs and leases demonstrating the non-conforming use existed prior to the relevant date"; and DOB notes that Rule 49 also states that "affidavits, Department cashier's receipts and permit applications, without other supporting documentation, are not sufficient to establish the non-conforming status of a sign"; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Permit was for a single-faced 14' x 48' illuminated sign displaying the copy: "Whitestone Indoor Tennis Courts" and DOB notes that the Permit was signed-off on December 21, 1977; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Appellant's reliance on an October 26, 1977 Cashier's Receipt as evidence of the construction of a double-faced advertising sign is misplaced; at most, it demonstrates an intent to erect a double-faced sign, but it does not demonstrate that the sign was for an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Permit could not have authorized an advertising sign because advertising signs were prohibited near arterial highways since 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Appellant's remaining evidence of establishment of the Signs, which is three affidavits, is insufficient because the affiants do not state that they observed a double-faced advertising sign on November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that to the extent the Signs existed on November 1, 1979 that read "Whitestone Indoor Tennis Courts," the Appellant has submitted insufficient information about the zoning lot to support the conclusion that the Signs meet the Zoning Resolution definition of an "advertising sign"; and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the Appellant's assertion that since the Signs were located on Lot 151 and the tennis courts for the Whitestone Indoor Tennis Courts were located on Lot 149 and each lot was separately owned, the two parcels were on separate zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the definition of "zoning lot" provides that a zoning lot may or may not coincide with a tax lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that to determine the zoning lot in 1979, it is necessary to examine the facts against the text of the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Appellant has failed to adequately demonstrate that Lots 149 and 151 were not a single zoning lot under the applicable subsections of the definition; specifically, DOB states that the Appellant has not established: (1) whether Lots 149 and 151 were a single tax lot on December 15, 1961, and therefore a ZR § 12-10(a) zoning lot; (2) whether the Lots were a tract of land in single ownership on December 15, 1961 and developed or used together in a manner necessary to be deemed a ZR § 12-10(b) zoning lot; or (3) whether a permit was filed and obtained to use the Lots together prior to August 17, 1977 and while the property was in single ownership, and therefore a zoning lot under the former ZR § 12-10(c) definition; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's assertion that the Lots were separately owned when the Signs were constructed, DOB states that it is inconclusive evidence of the separateness of the Lots because the December 29, 1976 deed that conveyed the tennis courts parcel from Delma Engineering Corporation to Emanuel Ciminello, Jr. failed to identify the parcels by tax lot number and the historical tax map does not clearly indicate the tax lot boundaries during the relevant years; and

WHEREAS, DOB also contends that the Appellant incorrectly claims that the recording of an Exhibit III Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement on October 14, 1980 merged Lots 151 and 149 into one zoning lot, and that such recordation proves that the Signs and the tennis courts were on separate zoning lots prior to that date; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that an Exhibit III Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement describing the zoning lot metes and bounds, tax lot number, block number and ownership of the zoning lot must be recorded prior to issuance of any permit for a development or enlargement pursuant to the last paragraph of the Zoning Resolution "zoning lot" definition; however, an Exhibit III does not merge zoning lots; the only way to have merged two zoning lots not under single ownership is by recording an Exhibit IV Zoning Lot Declaration, and Exhibit V Waivers if necessary, signed by the owners and all other parties in interest pursuant to the ZR § 12-10(d) definition of "zoning lot"; and

WHEREAS, in addition, DOB contends that, contrary to the Appellant's assertion, the recording of an Exhibit III without accompanying zoning lot documents required by ZR § 12-10(d) does not show that the parcels were separate zoning lots before the Exhibit III was recorded; instead, as the sole recorded zoning lot document at the time, the Exhibit III indicates that the sign and tennis courts parcels were already located on an existing zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, thus, DOB states that based on evidence in the record, the Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Signs were established as non-conforming advertising signs in accordance with ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, DOB states that even if the Signs were established as non-conforming advertising signs as of November 1, 1979, ZR § 52-61 requires the use of the Signs to terminate because the advertising use was discontinued for a period of two or more years; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that, according to photographs obtained from "Pictometry" (an online aerial oblique imaging and mapping service), the Signs have been accessory to a Home Depot store for more than two years; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that while displaying messages for the Home Depot, the Signs satisfy the ZR § 12-10 definition of "accessory" in that the Signs are: on the same zoning lot as the Home Depot store; clearly incidental to and customarily found in connection with Home Depot stores; and operated and maintained on the same zoning lot substantially for the benefit or convenience of the owners, occupants, employees, customers, or visitors of the principal use; and DOB notes that the existence of multiple Home Depot stores throughout the City does not alter this conclusion; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that, contrary to the Appellant's assertion, the change in message on the Signs from advertising to accessory is a change of use; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that accessory signs and advertising signs must be recognized as different uses in accordance with the ZR § 12-10 definitions of "advertising signs" and "use," because included in the definition of an advertising sign is that it "is not accessory to a use located on the zoning lot"; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that whereas an advertising sign is designed, intended and maintained for the purpose of directing attention elsewhere than upon the same zoning lot and is not classified within any Zoning Resolution use group, an accessory sign use is incidental to and customarily found in connection with the principal use and is classified under the Use Group assigned to the principal use; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Board recognized that accessory signs and advertising signs are different uses in BSA Cal No. 154-11-A (23-10 Queens Plaza South, Queens); and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, in that case, the Board rejected the appellant's claim that the sign could be both advertising and accessory because the ZR §12-10 definition of "advertising sign" is clear that the two classifications of signs, advertising and accessory, are mutually exclusive; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that advertising signs have been prohibited at the site since June 28, 1940 per 1916 Zoning Resolution § 21-B, and continue to be prohibited per ZR § 42-53 (effective December 15, 1961) and ZR § 42-55 (superseding ZR § 42-53 on February 27, 2001); in contrast, accessory signs are allowed at the premises, but as of February 27, 2001 they cannot exceed 500 square feet of surface area; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB contends that a change from a non-conforming advertising sign to an accessory sign for more than two consecutive years is a discontinuance of the non-conforming advertising sign use and the use is required to terminate under ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the Appellant that ZR § 52-81 authorizes a non-conforming advertising sign to change to an accessory sign; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that ZR § 52-81 allows a non-conforming sign to change its copy, but does not authorize a change from non-conforming advertising sign use to accessory sign use; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the plain meaning of the term "subject matter" in ZR § 52-81's phrase "a change in subject matter represented on a sign shall not be considered a change of use" is understood to be the sign's writing, pictorial representation or emblem; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that, had the drafters intended "subject matter" to refer to the nature of the use as advertising or accessory, the text would have used defined terms: "a change from an accessory sign to an advertising sign, or an advertising sign to an accessory sign, shall not be considered a change in use"; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Appellant's interpretation of ZR § 52-81 as allowing non-conforming advertising signs to be changed to accessory signs without limitation is not consistent with the Zoning Resolution's scheme of regulating both conforming and non-conforming advertising and accessory signs differently based on size, illumination, projection, height, zoning district and distance from an arterial; specifically, DOB states that the Appellant's interpretation directly contradicts the ZR § 12-10 definitions of "accessory use" and "advertising sign"; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that ZR § 52-81 does not operate as an exception, but must be read consistently with all other provisions relating to advertising signs and accessory signs; specifically, DOB states that, per ZR § 52-81, non-conforming signs are subject to the provisions of Article V Chapter 2 including the ZR § 52-31 general provisions which state that "a change in use is a change to another use listed in the same or any other Use Group"; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that, in this case, the alleged non-conforming advertising sign use—a use not listed in any particular Use Group—is changed to an accessory sign use, which is classified under Use Group 6, (the same Use Group as the principal use of the Home Depot store); therefore, ZR § 52-81 cannot be read to authorize changes between advertising signs and accessory signs as mere "change[s] in subject matter" because such changes are, per ZR § 52-31, changes in use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that it properly issued its Final Determinations denying the registration of the Signs; and

CONCLUSION

WHEREAS, the Board finds that DOB properly denied the registration of the Signs because: (1) the Appellant has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Signs were established as non-conforming advertising signs prior to November 1, 1979; and (2) even if the Board were to accept that the Signs were established as non-conforming advertising signs, the display of the Home Depot message constituted a change of use, which was not authorized by ZR § 52-81 and resulted in a discontinuance pursuant to ZR § 52-61 after the Home Depot message was displayed for more than two consecutive years; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that based on the evidence submitted: (1) the Permit authorized an accessory sign; and (2) the Signs were constructed on a single zoning lot and were accessory signs for the principal use on the lot; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Permit authorized the construction of an accessory sign for the Whitestone Indoor Tennis Center; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, based on the evidence in the record, the Signs were constructed on the same zoning lot as the Whitestone Indoor Tennis Center; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board finds that: (1) Lots 149 and 151 were under the same ownership before October 31, 1973; (2) the permit DOB issued for the Signs was for accessory signs rather than advertising signs; (3) the definition of "advertising sign" was substantially the same when the Permit was issued – it required then, as now, that the sign display a message for a use on a different zoning lot, and, as noted above, an advertising sign has not been permitted as-of-right at the site since 1940; (4) the construction of a sign on one tax lot with message relating to a use on an adjacent lot is an indication that the parcels are being developed together; and (5) the recordation of an Exhibit III without the accompanying Exhibits IV and V suggests that the lot had historically been treated as a single zoning lot; accordingly, the Board finds that Lots 149 and 151 appear to have been a single zoning lot when the Permit was issued and on November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Signs were not established as non-conforming advertising signs prior to November 1, 1979, and are not protected under ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, although the Board has determined that the Signs constructed at the site before November 1, 1979 were accessory signs, even if it were to accept the Appellant's assertion that the Signs were established as non-conforming advertising signs, the Signs have been used as accessory signs since 2009, which constitutes a discontinuance pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Signs have been accessory signs for the Home Depot because they are, per the ZR § 12-10 definition of "accessory," located on the same zoning lot as the Home Depot, clearly incidental to and customarily found in connection with Home Depot, and operated and maintained on the same zoning lot substantially for the benefit or convenience of the owners, occupants, employees, customers, or visitors of the Home Depot; and

WHEREAS, the Board disagrees with the Appellant that the Home Depot signs' size, proximity to arterial highways or elaborateness in comparison to other accessory Home Depot signs makes the Signs any less accessory to the Home Depot; the Board rejected such arguments in BSA Cal. No. 154-11-A; likewise, that Home Depot is a national brand with multiple locations throughout the City is not relevant to whether the Signs are properly classified under the Zoning Resolution as "accessory"; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the change of the Signs from advertising to accessory would constitute a change in use because an accessory sign has the same use group as the principal use and an advertising sign is not classified in a use group; indeed, part of the definition of "advertising sign" is that the sign is "not accessory to a use located on the zoning lot"; this text can only be reasonably interpreted to mean that an advertising sign is a different use than an accessory sign; and

WHEREAS, as to whether, as the Appellant states, ZR § 52-81 permits a non-conforming advertising sign to change to an accessory sign, as a "change in subject matter" on the sign, the Board agrees with DOB: such an interpretation is contrary to the plain meaning of the statute and disregards the definitions of "advertising sign" and "accessory"; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Board finds that the term "subject matter" in the phrase, "a change in subject matter represented on a sign shall not be considered a change of use" in ZR § 52-81 refers to changes in the sign's writing, pictorial representation or emblem, rather than a change from advertising to accessory (or non-commercial, for that matter); and

WHEREAS, the Board also agrees with DOB that the Appellant's interpretation of ZR § 52-81 as allowing non-conforming advertising signs to be changed to accessory signs without limitation is not consistent with the Zoning Resolution's scheme of regulating advertising signs and accessory signs differently based on size, illumination, projection, height, zoning district and distance from an arterial; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that ZR § 52-81 does not operate as an exception, but must be read consistently with all other provisions relating to advertising signs and accessory signs; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that even if non-conforming advertising signs had been established at the site, they were discontinued when the accessory Home Depot signs were maintained at the site for two consecutive years in 2011; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that DOB properly rejected the Appellant's registration of the Signs.

Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal, challenging

Final Determinations issued on August 6, 2012, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 14, 2013.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated March 30, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420520635, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed enlargement of a legal, non-conforming manufacturing building: warehouse (UG 16) and factory (UG 17) within an R5 residential zoning district is contrary to 22-00. A special permit is required pursuant to 73-53 ZR. Refer to Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, this is an application made pursuant to ZR §§ 73-53 and 73-03, to permit, within an R5 zoning district, the proposed enlargement of a non-conforming mixed-use warehouse (Use Group 16) and factory (Use Group 17) building, contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 9, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on May 14, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of 12th Street, between 34th Avenue and 35th Avenue, within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 140.94 feet of frontage along 12th Street, three feet of frontage along 34th Avenue, and a total lot area of 4,795 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a one-story warehouse (Use Group 16) and factory (Use Group 17) building, with 4,416 sq. ft. of floor area (0.92 FAR), and a building height of 14 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that construction of the existing building was authorized by permit issued prior to the adoption of the Zoning Resolution on December 15, 1961, when the site was located in a Manufacturing Use

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is occupied by New Yorker Bagels, a wholesale bakery; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement will add a second story, increase the building height to 27 feet, and increase the floor area to 6,707 sq. ft. (1.39 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the enlargement would result in two new non-compliances in an M1-1 zoning district: (1) FAR, because 1.39 FAR is proposed and, per ZR § 43-12, the maximum permitted commercial or manufacturing FAR is 1.0; and (2) floor area, because 6,707 sq. ft. of floor area is proposed and, per ZR § 43-12, the maximum permitted commercial or manufacturing floor area 4,795 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that neither parking spaces nor a loading berth are required in connection with the proposed enlargement; and

WHEREAS, as to the prerequisites for the subject special permit, the applicant, through testimony and submission of supporting documentation, has demonstrated that: the use of the premises is not subject to termination pursuant to ZR § 52-70; the use for which the special permit is being sought has lawfully existed for more than five years; there has not been residential use where the existing manufacturing floor area is located during the past five years; the subject building has not received an enlargement pursuant to ZR §§ 11-412, 43-121 or 72-21; and that the subject uses are listed in Use Group 16 and Use Group 17, not Use Group 18; and

WHEREAS, the permitted enlargement may be the greater of 45 percent of the floor area occupied by the use on December 17, 1987 or 2,500 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the building by 2,291 sq. ft., in compliance with the limitation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the enlargement is an entirely enclosed building, and that all activities generated by the enlargement (accessory offices, storage and processing) shall be within the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the accessory offices in the enlarged portion of the building shall conform to all performance standards applicable in an M1 zoning district located at the boundary of a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that no open uses of any kind are proposed within 30 feet of a rear lot line that is located within a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that no portion of the proposed enlargement that exceeds 16 feet above curb level is within 30 feet of a rear lot line that coincides with a rear lot line of a zoning lot in a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that no portion of the proposed enlargement that exceeds 16 feet above curb level is within eight feet of a side lot line that coincides with a rear lot line of a zoning lot in a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that no open uses of any kind are proposed within eight feet of the side lot line that coincides with a rear lot line of a zoning lot in a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that no portion of the proposed enlargement is proposed within eight feet of the lot line that coincides with a side lot line of a zoning lot in the subject R5 district; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the proposed plans reflect that the enlargement will provide for a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet and a side yard with a width of eight feet above the first floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the enlargement may result in the hiring of one new employee, which will not generate a significant increase in vehicular or pedestrian traffic; and

WHEREAS, as to potential parking impacts, the applicant states there will be adequate parking to accommodate the facility's needs and the proposed enlargement will not introduce any new traffic generators; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that although New Yorker Bagels operates 24 hours per day, seven days per week, Fridays and Saturdays are much slower days with fewer employees; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the pickup and delivery schedule is as follows: ingredient deliveries and charitable donation pickups on Sundays and Thursdays between 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. and trash pickups six days per week at 5:00 a.m., and that these arrangements will not be altered by the proposed enlargements; the applicant also demonstrated that there is extensive signage to remind truck drivers to turn off their engines and headlights, turn down their radios and generally minimize noise; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the Board raised concerns about garbage storage on the sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, in response to such concerns, the applicant represents that garbage will be stored inside the facility rather than on the sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record indicates and the Board finds that the subject enlargement will not generate significant increases in vehicular or pedestrian traffic, nor cause congestion in the surrounding area, and that there is adequate parking for the vehicles generated by the enlargement; and

WHEREAS, as to the general impact on the essential character of the neighborhood and nearby conforming uses, the applicant states that the immediate area is characterized by numerous manufacturing uses, including the adjacent one-story manufacturing building at Lot 30 and several one- and two-story manufacturing buildings on the neighboring block (Block 325); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor will it impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the grant of the special permit will facilitate the enlargement of a viable,

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, a reopening, and an extension of term of a prior grant for an automotive service station, which expired on May 25, 2011; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 7, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on September 25, 2013, October 30, 2012 and January 8, 2013, and then to decision on January 29, 2013; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Queens, recommends approval of this application with the following conditions: (1) the surface mounted refueling caps on the underground gasoline storage tanks be lowered to minimize scraping to the underside of cars and possible tripping hazards; and (2) curb cuts and sidewalk flags at 108th Street be repaired and resurfaced; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregularly-shaped corner through lot bounded by 107th Street to the west, Astoria Boulevard to the north, and 108th Street to the east, within an R3-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a one-story automotive service station with an accessory convenience store; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since May 25, 1971 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the construction of an automotive service station with accessory signs restricted to the pumping of gasoline, which omitted automotive service and repair, for a term of ten years; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, the term was extended and the grant amended by the Board at various times; and

WHEREAS, most recently, on August 12, 2003, the Board granted a ten-year extension of term and an amendment to legalize a change of use from an accessory storage building to an accessory convenience store, to expire on May 25, 2011; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks an extension of term for ten years; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to provide landscaping on the site, replace the slatted fencing, clean the dumpster area, remove the ice box, and relocate the shed so it is not visible; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted photographs reflecting that landscaping has been planted on the site, the fence has been repaired, the dumpster area has been cleaned, and the ice box has been removed; and

WHEREAS, as to the Board's request to relocate the shed from the northeast corner of the site, the applicant states that the 10'-0" by 10'-0" shed is currently located in the most concealed position possible and it cannot be placed behind the convenience store, as requested, because there is only 8'-0" separating it from the fencing along the rear lot line; and

WHEREAS, in response to the concerns raised by the Community Board, the applicant submitted a letter from the project manager stating that (1) it is essential that the gas tanks remain elevated in order to prevent water from seeping into the tank manways, and (2) the change in grade at the 108th Street exit is necessary for on-site draining and that it acts as traffic control (like a speed bump) to ensure drivers do not "shoot out" of the site which could be potentially dangerous due to the close proximity of the curb cut to the intersection; and

WHEREAS, the Board accepts the applicant's explanations in response to the conditions proposed by the Community Board, and agrees that the shed on the site is not significantly visible from the street due to the topography on that portion of the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the submitted evidence, the Board finds that the requested extension of term is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals waives the Rules of Practice and Procedure, reopens, and amends the resolution, as adopted on May 25, 1971, as subsequently extended and amended, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to permit an extension of term for an additional period of ten years from the expiration of the prior grant, to expire on May 25, 2021; on condition that the use shall substantially conform to drawings as filed with this application, marked 'Received October 18, 2013"–(3) sheets, and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will be for ten years from the expiration of the prior grant, to expire on May 25, 2021;

THAT landscaping will be maintained in accordance with the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the site will be maintained free of debris and graffiti;

THAT signage will comply with C1 district regulations;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."
(DOB Application No. 420508114)

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, January 29, 2013.

The resolution has been revised to correct the DOB Application No. which read: "DOB Application No. 401636510" now reads: "DOB Application No. 420508114". Corrected in Bulletin No. 20, Vol. 98, dated May 22, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application from the Department of Buildings ("DOB") seeking to revoke Certificate of Occupancy ("CO") No. 147007 and CO No. 172308; both COs authorize accessory parking for the building located at 75 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn (Block 2121, Lot 41), contrary to the Zoning Resolution ("ZR"); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, a representative of the owner of the subject site testified in support of the application at hearing; and

WHEREAS, the subject site comprises four lots: Lot 41 (75 Greene Avenue), a corner lot located at the northwest intersection of Greene Avenue and Clermont Avenue, with 71.42 feet of frontage along Greene Avenue and 53.58 feet of frontage along Clermont Avenue and a lot area of 3,844 sq. ft.; Lot 44 (71 Greene Avenue), an interior lot with 21.42 feet of frontage along the north side of Greene Avenue between Adelphi Street and Clermont Avenue and a lot area of 1,530 sq. ft.; Lot 39 (378 Clermont Avenue), an interior lot with 41.42 feet of frontage along the west side of Clermont Avenue between Greene Avenue and Lafayette Avenue and a lot area of 3,367 sq. ft.; and Lot 36 (370 Clermont Avenue), an interior lot with 63 feet of frontage along the west side of Clermont Avenue between Greene Avenue and Lafayette Avenue and a lot area of 5,891 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Lot 41 is occupied by a seven-story chancery (an office for priests) and currently has three COs associated with it: CO No. 90840, dated January 24, 1939 authorizes an "office building chancery" at "73/79 Greene Avenue, Block 2121, Lot 41"; CO No. 147007, dated January 17, 1956, authorizes a "private parking lot for twelve (12) automobiles (accessory to existing chancery buildings on lot)" at "75 Greene Avenue, northwest corner of Greene Avenue and Clermont Avenue, Block 2121, Lot 41"; and CO No. 172308, dated September 8, 1960, authorizes "parking lot for more than five (5) passenger vehicles (for use of chancery building only)" for "370-374 Clermont Avenue, northwest corner of Greene Avenue, Block 2121 Lot 41"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Lot 39 is occupied by a four-story residence and has one CO associated with it: CO No. 95379, dated January 25, 1940; this CO authorizes the residence only and does not indicate the existence of any accessory parking; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Lots 36 and 44 are paved parking areas that have no COs associated with them; and

WHEREAS, as to the development history of the chancery—which demonstrates the erroneous nature of the accessory parking COs—DOB asserts that the chancery was originally constructed as a five-story building in 1930 under New Building Application No. 11292-29, which resulted in CO No. 62299, dated November 12, 1930; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that in 1929, Lot 41 was located in a Residence and Class 1½ District; and DOB records do not indicate how the office use would have been permitted in the residence district under the applicable provisions of the 1916 Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that on May 3, 1938, under BSA Cal. No. 228-38-BZ, the Board granted a variance pursuant to Section 7(c) of the 1916 Zoning Resolution from use district regulations under Section 3; specifically, the Board varied the use district regulations to permit the two-story enlargement of the chancery (office) use; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the enlargement was completed pursuant to the variance and resulted in the issuance of the 1939 CO mentioned above (CO No. 90840); and

WHEREAS, DOB states that of the three COs associated with Lot 41, only one, CO No. 90840, dated January 24, 1939, which reflects the enlargement of the chancery, allowed a use that was permitted (pursuant to the Board's grant); the other two CO No. 147007, dated January 17, 1956, and CO No. 172308, dated September 8, 1960, erroneously authorized parking accessory to the chancery; accordingly, DOB seeks revocation of CO Nos. 147007 and 172308; and

WHEREAS, as to CO No. 147007, DOB states that it was issued in connection with Alteration Application No. 292-54, which authorized the demolition of an existing building and the construction of a parking lot on Lot 44 and the rear of Lots 39 and 36; and

WHEREAS, as to CO No. 172308, DOB states that it was issued in connection with Alteration Application No. 1400-60, which authorized seven parking spaces on Lot 44 and the rear of Lot 39 and fourteen parking spaces on Lot 36; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the expansion of the chancery use contrary to the use regulations of the 1916 Zoning Resolution was (and only could have been) authorized by a variance; and

WHEREAS, similarly, DOB states that the construction of accessory parking for the chancery use was also contrary to the use regulations of the 1916 Zoning Resolution and also required a variance; thus, Alteration Application Nos. 292-54 and 1400-60 should not have been approved; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Board did not approve the construction of the parking by a separate variance or by an amendment to BSA Cal. No. 228-38-BZ, and that these would be the only mechanisms by which accessory parking could have been approved for the chancery, given its non-conformance with the underlying zoning; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that absent the Board's approval of the accessory parking for the chancery, the alteration permits were approved in error and the resulting COs should never have been issued; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the parking lots approved under Alteration Application Nos. 292-54 and 1400-60 as accessory to the chancery on Lot 41, but located on portions of Lots 44, 39 and 36, were an unlawful expansion of an existing commercial use authorized by a variance in a residence district, and were contrary to 1916 ZR § 3; and

WHEREAS, the Board confirms that BSA Cal. No. 228-38-BZ was never amended to authorize accessory parking for the chancery; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that DOB's approval of Alteration Application Nos. 292-54 and 1400-60 was inconsistent with the Board's condition in BSA Cal. No. 228-38-BZ that the chancery "not be further increased in area"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the CO Nos. 147007 and 172308, which resulted from erroneously-approved alteration applications, were issued in error and must be revoked; and Therefore it is Resolved that the application of the Commissioner of the Department of Buildings seeking the revocation of Certificate of Occupancy Nos. 147007 and 172308, is granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Zoning Specialist, dated February 17, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320373449 reads, in pertinent part:

1. Proposed Floor Are Ratio (FAR) exceeds that permitted by ZR Section 24-11.
2. Proposed lot coverage is contrary to ZR

Section 24-11.

3. Proposed minimum required front yards is contrary to ZR Section 24-34.
4. Proposed minimum required side yards are contrary to ZR Section 24-35(a).
5. Proposed maximum height of front wall and required front setback is contrary to ZR Section 24-521.
6. Required parking is not being provided; contrary to ZR Section 25-31; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site in an R2 zoning district, the construction of a two-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for floor area ratio, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height, setback, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521, and 25-31; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 23, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on January 8, 2013, February 26, 2013, and April 9, 2013, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application on condition that the simcha hall use be reserved for use only by the members of the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the adjacent property owner on Avenue N provided a letter in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a petition signed by 376 community members in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community, represented by counsel, provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the application (the "Opposition"); the Opposition's primary concerns are that (1) the applicant has not reliably described the program and the congregant body; (2) the applicant has not established the need for the waivers; (3) the bulk of the building is not compatible with the surrounding area; (4) no parking is being provided (19-22 parking spaces are required); (5) the environmental analysis is flawed; and (6) any benefit to the community is outweighed by the detriment to the community;

WHEREAS, the Opposition submitted a petition signed by 100 community members opposed to the building proposal and a note saying that more signators were available; and

WHEREAS, this application is being brought on behalf of Congregation Khal Bnei Avrohom Yaakov (the "Synagogue"); and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the northeast corner of East 27th Street and Avenue N in an R2 zoning district with 60 feet of frontage along East 27th Street and 100 feet of frontage along Avenue N; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a lot area of 6,000 sq. ft. and is currently occupied by a residential building with 3,623 sq. ft. of floor area (0.6 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially proposed to construct a new building with the following parameters: a floor area of 9,000 sq. ft. (1.5 FAR) (a maximum of 0.5 FAR is permitted or 1.0 FAR by City Planning special permit under ZR § 74-901); a lot coverage of 75 percent (a maximum lot coverage of 60 percent is permitted); front yards with depths of 10'-0" on East 27th Street and Avenue N (front yards with minimum depths of 15'-0" are required); and no side yards (side yards with minimum widths of 8'-0" and 9'-0" are required); and

WHEREAS, at the Board's direction, the applicant revised the plans to provide side yards along the northern and eastern lot lines; the applicant ultimately reduced the width of the building along Avenue N from 90 feet to 85 feet; and included a side yard with a width of 2'-0" along the northern lot line and a side yard along the eastern lot line with a width of 5'-0"; the applicant reduced the front yard along the southern property line from a depth of 10'-0" to 8'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the addition of the yards resulted in a reduced floor area to 8,500 sq. ft. (1.41 FAR); a reduced lot coverage to 71 percent; and a reduced parking requirement from 22 spaces to 19 spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes the following additional non-complying conditions: a perimeter wall height of 29 feet (a maximum wall height of 25 feet is permitted); no setback of the street wall (a front setback within the 1:1 sky exposure plane are required); and no parking spaces (a minimum of 19 parking spaces are required); and

WHEREAS, the proposal provides for the following uses: (1) a simcha hall, restrooms, lobbies, storage, coat rooms, and a pantry at the cellar level; (2) men's sanctuary, men's and women's lobbies, a washing station, a coffee room, and a coat room at the first story; and (3) women's sanctuary, lobbies, conference room, rabbi's office, and children's library at the second story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the primary programmatic needs of the Synagogue which necessitate the requested variances: (1) to accommodate a congregation with a desire to expand and currently consists of approximately 250 adults and 280 children; (2) to provide separate worship and study spaces for male and female congregants; (3) to provide the necessary space for offering weekly classes; (4) to provide a children's library; and (5) to satisfy the religious requirement that members of the congregation be within walking distance of the residences of the congregants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks to provide community and religious lectures on weekends, expand its educational programming for children, and offer Talmud classes twice daily; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that for the past five years, it has leased a synagogue building located at 1249 East 18th Street, which accommodates only approximately 110 people; it has approximately 1,600 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the leased building is located approximately 0.7 miles from the proposed synagogue location; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Synagogue has been unable to establish a permanent synagogue in the past five years, having looked at many sites in its search to find a site of the appropriate size and central location to suit its programmatic needs; the site is centrally located within the neighborhood of the Synagogue, allowing congregants to walk to services, as required for religious observance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially determined that it requires approximately 9,000 sq. ft. of floor area and an additional 6,000 sq. ft. in the cellar but, ultimately, through redesign, was able to reduce the number to 8,500 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for a floor area waiver, the applicant notes that a conforming development would be limited to 3,000 sq. ft. of floor area, and 6,000 sq. ft. by City Planning Commission special permit, both significantly less floor area than needed to fulfill the programmatic need; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that in a conforming development, the men's sanctuary would only accommodate 52 people and the women's sanctuary would only accommodate 48 people, whereas the proposed men's sanctuary would accommodate 187 people and the women's would accommodate 141 people; (the original proposal would have accommodated 216 people in the men's sanctuary and 153 people in the women's sanctuary); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that a conforming development would eliminate the main women's lobby and children's library on the second floor; and that there would not be sufficient space to accommodate Talmud classes and other lectures; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for waivers to the front and side yards, and lot coverage, the applicant states a conforming development would result in a floor plate of 1,500 sq. ft. (50 feet by 30 feet), as opposed to the 4,250 sq. ft. of floor area proposed, and therefore would be insufficient to satisfy the Synagogue's programmatic needs to accommodate its congregation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will accommodate more congregants, which is essential considering the current number of congregants who attend the synagogue on weekends and holidays and the anticipated increase in membership; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for height and setback waivers, the applicant represents that the proposal will provided (1) the double-height ceiling of the main sanctuary which is necessary to create a space for worship and respect and an adequate ceiling height for the second floor women's balcony; and (2) other required uses on the second floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the parking waiver is necessary because providing the required 19 parking spaces would render the site wholly inadequate to support the proposed building and such parking spaces are not necessary because congregants must live within walking distance of their synagogue and must walk to the synagogue on the Sabbath and on high holidays; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that 57 percent of the congregation lives within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site, which is less than the 75 percent required under ZR § 25-35 to satisfy the City Planning Commission certification for a locally-oriented house of worship and waiver the parking requirement, but still a significant portion of the congregation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested waivers enable the Synagogue to construct a building that can accommodate its growing congregation as well as provide a separate worship space for men and women, as required by religious doctrine, space for studying and meeting, and a children's library and other lecture space; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raised several concerns regarding the applicants stated programmatic need including (1) justification for the floor area increase based on the number of congregants; and (2) the need for the height and setback waiver; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raised a concern that the request for floor area is not supported by the actual number of congregants who attend the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition questioned the veracity of the applicant's congregant numbers, stating that the applicant conflates the terms "congregants" and "members," which is problematic because the synagogue may have many members but fewer regular congregants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant produced a congregant list for the record which the Opposition contested; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Opposition's concerns about the congregant list are unprecedented in the religious use context; the Board understands that congregant numbers may fluctuate and may not always correspond with the membership lists, but that Board sees no basis to reject the applicant's list because the Opposition has questions about whether a few of the noted people actual attend another synagogue; further, the Board accepts that the congregation is growing and that the Synagogue seeks to accommodate such growth; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the Opposition asserts that there is no basis for the requested height for the first floor (13'-4" in the area below the women's balcony and greater than 27'-0" in the double-height portion) as it is not required by religious law nor does it improve acoustics; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it has approved many applications from religious institutions seeking additional height for sanctuary space and accepts the applicant's representation that the height is necessary for its meaningful sacred space and to accommodate the second floor balcony; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Synagogue, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Synagogue create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Synagogue is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed use is permitted in the subject R2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant represents that the proposed FAR and all other bulk regulations are consistent with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of its assertions, the applicant provided a study of existing FAR's of larger buildings in the area, which reflects that there are numerous buildings of similar bulk to that proposed; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant identified 15 homes within 600 feet of the subject site that have 1.25 FAR or greater (the ranges is from 1.25 to 3.17 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that there are a number of educational and religious institutions in the area with comparable bulk, including four community facilities in the area with FAR ranging from 1.18 to 8.52; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the proposed 1.4 FAR falls within the range of FAR's of the larger buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is currently occupied by a home that exceeds the maximum permitted floor area, has a noncomplying front yard along East 27th Street, a minimal side yard along its northern lot line, and its garage is built nearly to the eastern lot line; thus, the proposed yards are comparable to the existing and provide more space along the portion of the side lot line occupied by the garage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed side yard with a width of 2'-0" along the northern lot line allows for a distance of 10'-0" from the adjacent home; and similarly, the proposed side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the eastern lot line allows for a distance of 8'-0" from the adjacent home; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant (1) to analyze alternatives that would provide greater side yards than initially proposed and (2) to provide information about the yard context in the area; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant increased the side yards from no side yards in their initial application to widths of two and five feet; the front yard was reduced to eight feet along Avenue N and remained at ten feet along East 27th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a study that identified a significant number of sites in the surrounding area that have front yards with depths of less than eight feet and provide less than ten feet of open area between buildings on adjacent lots; and

WHEREAS, the applicant's study reflects that the three adjacent homes to the east on Avenue N have front yards with depths of less than eight feet and provide less than ten feet of open area between buildings on adjacent lots, a comparable condition to the proposed; and

WHEREAS, the opposition raised concerns regarding the accuracy and reliability of the data used for bulk and yard study; and

WHEREAS, with regard to the Opposition's questions about the reliability of the applicant's bulk and yards analyses, the Board accepts that the applicant relied on publicly available building and land use data and that any inaccurate bulk conditions were not intentional; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that even if the sites with disputed data were eliminated from the analysis, the applicant has still established that the Synagogue is compatible with the surrounding context; and

WHEREAS, as noted, during the hearing process, the Board directed the applicant to provide side yards along the northern and eastern lot lines, even though the adjacent neighbor to the east supported the proposal prior to the inclusion of the side yard with a width of 5'-0" on its shared lot line; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the applicant provided a streetscape which reflects that the adjacent row of homes along Avenue N all have heights of 35'-0" as do the homes on East 27th Street; the adjacent home on East 27th Street has a total height of 37'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the height in excess of 27 feet for portions of the first floor is required in order to promote the metaphysical and physical significance of Judaism in that the ceiling metaphorically reaches to Heaven and gives importance to the space while providing acoustical advantages befitting a place of worship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that high ceilings have historically been an important element of synagogue architecture; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the conforming development would reduce the height of the building and the floor area devoted to sanctuary space; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the proposed total height of the building of 35'-0" does not require a waiver and is contemplated by the zoning district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that four commissioners visited the site on repeated occasions and personally observed and confirmed that the proposal is compatible with the existing context of the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the parking waiver requested will not result in a material increase in street parking in the surrounding area due to the close proximity to the congregants' homes, which allows congregants to walk to the site in observance of religious law; and

WHEREAS, further, as noted above, the applicant represents that 57 percent (fewer than the 75 percent minimum threshold), of congregants live within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site, thus do not meet the minimum threshold for the parking waiver, but are still within the spirit of City Planning's parking waiver for houses of worship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant performed a parking study which reflects that during the times of day when attendance is greatest and most area residents are at home, there were 369 vacant spaces on one day and 342 and 325 vacant spaces on two other days when the study was repeated; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant concludes that there is ample curbside parking to accommodate any demand; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the study was conducted within an approximately one-quarter-mile radius of the subject site, consistent with CEQR Technical Manual methodology; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the trip generation falls below the CEQR Technical Manual threshold size, but, still, it assessed the trip generation based on occupancy and found it would not exceed threshold levels of vehicular traffic generation, even at its peak attendance level of 350 people during the high holidays; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raises supplemental concerns about the sufficiency of the applicant's environmental review including that the conclusion that no potential for emissions exists is based on the assumption that the heating flue stacks will be more than 50 feet from the nearest building; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Opposition's assertions about the environmental review being insufficient, the applicant supplemented the record with an Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) Full Form, including the following narratives: (1) Introduction, Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; (2) Urban Design and Visual Resources; (3) Transportation; and (4) Air Quality; and clearly identified the location of the heating flue stacks on the roof and their distance from the lot lines; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's concerns about the environmental review, the Board has carefully considered both parties' environmental analyses, including the areas of traffic/parking, open space, air quality, and construction impacts, and agrees that the applicant has correctly applied the CEQR methodology to conclude that the incremental effect of the proposal versus the no build does not trigger any of the CEQR threshold requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the required distance of the heating ducts from adjacent buildings in order to screen the HVAC system is 30 feet, rather than the 50 feet the Opposition alleges and the applicant proposes to locate its rooftop flues 30 feet from its property line, thus, more than 30 feet from adjacent buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted responses adequately addressing the concerns raised by the opposition regarding the environmental review; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Board must balance the interests of the community and the Synagogue and deny an application when "the (presumed) beneficial effect may be rebutted with evidence of a significant impact on traffic congestion, property values, municipal services and the like" Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583, (1986); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Board cannot grant a variance until it is assured that the proposed use is not contrary to public health, safety, or welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that in order to appropriately analyze the application, the applicant must define the project fully and accurately including its programmatic needs, the number of people it will service, the hours and days of operation and to analyze each through the application of various strictly defined methodologies prescribed in the CEQR manuals; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also asserts that the traffic study is flawed and that the impact on parking and traffic will be significant to the surrounding area to the extent of diminishing property values; and

WHEREAS, the applicant responded that the Synagogue will have a beneficial impact on the community surrounding the site and will provide a place of worship for many local residents; the applicant asserts that the Synagogue's beneficial effect has not been rebutted with any "evidence of a significant impact on traffic congestion, property values, municipal service, [or] the like," citing to Cornell; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a petition signed by nearly 400 community members in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, further, in response to the Opposition's concerns about the operation of the Synagogue, the applicant revised its application to note that (1) there will be no onsite catering; (2) the simcha hall will be used primarily for Kiddush ceremonies following Sabbath prayer services; and (3) there will be no simultaneous use of the simcha hall and worship areas anytime there is a near-capacity crowd at the synagogue, but they may be used together when neither is at near capacity; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that it has submitted (1) a full and complete description of the proposal including programmatic needs, number of people it will serve, and hours and days of operation; and (2) the Opposition has failed to provide any evidence of a significant negative impact caused by the proposal as required by the New York State courts to deny a variance for a religious institution; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the Opposition's concerns and notes the following: (1) the requirements of ZR § 72-21(a) are met by the demonstration of legitimate programmatic needs and the limitations of the site in meeting those goals; and (2) the case law does not recognize concerns about potential traffic and disruption of residential character of the neighborhood as basis for rejecting a variance request; and

action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Synagogue could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed a lesser variance scenario with a side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the eastern lot line and a side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the northern lot line and asserts that a lesser variance would compromise the programmatic needs of the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, specifically, a lesser variance scenario that could only accommodate 175 men, as opposed to the 216 in the initial proposal (187 in the current proposal) and 137 women, as opposed to the 153 in the initial proposal (141 in the current proposal) for the women's sanctuary would be insufficient; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the addition of the proposed yards is the most possible without further limiting its ability to accommodate its congregation; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant asserts that many of the rooms on the first and second floors, including the rabbi's office, children's library, and conference room would be greatly reduced under the lesser variance scenario; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the requested waivers to be the minimum necessary to afford the Synagogue the relief needed to meet its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 12BSA095K, dated March 12, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, on a site in an R2 zoning district, the construction of a two-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for floor area ratio, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height, setback, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521; on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received May 15, 2013" – Fourteen (14) sheets and "Received May 17, 2013" – One (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: three stories; a maximum floor area of 8,500 sq. ft. (1.41 FAR); front yards with depths of 8'-0" on the southern lot line and 10'-0" on the western lot line; side yards with widths of 2'-0" on the northern lot line and 5'-0" on the eastern lot line; a maximum lot coverage of 71 percent; a maximum building height of 35'-0"; and a maximum street wall height of 29'-0", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in control or ownership of the building will require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the use will be limited to a house of worship (Use Group 4) and any classes will be accessory to this use;

THAT the use of the cellar kitchen will be limited to warming;

THAT no commercial catering will take place onsite;

THAT there will be no simultaneous use of the simcha hall and worship areas anytime there is more than half capacity in either space;

THAT the site, during construction and under regular operation, will be maintained safe and free of debris;

THAT garbage will be stored inside the building except when in the designated area for pick-up;

THAT any and all lighting will be directed downward and away from adjacent residences;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT rooftop mechanicals will comply with all applicable Building Code and other legal requirements, including noise guidelines, as reviewed and approved by the Department of Buildings and that the flue stacks be located at least 30 feet from adjacent buildings, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR

§ 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R2X zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for FAR and maximum perimeter wall height, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141 and 23-631; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received May 15, 2013"-(12) sheets; and on further condition:

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated October 22, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420229194, reads in pertinent part:

> [t]he rear lot line of this zoning lot coincides with the residential district boundary. Provide 30 ft. rear yard as per ZR 33-292; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03, to legalize, on a site in a C4-3 zoning district abutting an R5B zoning district, the construction of an eight-story community facility building with an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 20 feet, contrary to ZR § 33-292; and

WHEREAS a public hearing was held on this application on February 26, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on March 19, 2013 and April 23, 2013, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Queens, recommends approval of the application on condition that (1) the rear wall with a height of 23 feet be completely finished with stucco; (2) the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations; (3) the entire parapet wall at the rear setback be high enough to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment; (4) the front of the building and setback area be well-lit when the building is not in operation; and (5) the applicant remedy damages to the adjacent owners on 31st and 32nd streets by agreeing to pay repair costs; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community provided written and oral testimony in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the application ("the Opposition"); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition's primary concerns are that: (1) no grant should be given until all damage to adjacent properties has been repaired and owners' costs recouped; (2) the insurance claims process has been unsatisfactory; (3) the applicant has not provided evidence of the need for the special permit; and (4) the potential nuisance of light and noise on the adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior zoning lot (comprising Tax Lots 27 and 31) located on the east side of 31st Street between 23rd Avenue and 23rd Road, with 125 feet of frontage on 31st Street, a depth of 90 feet, and a total lot area of 11,250 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is located within a C4-3 zoning district that abuts an R5B zoning district to its rear; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 33-292, an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required on a zoning lot within a C4-3 district with a rear lot line that abuts the rear lot line of a zoning lot in a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to legalize a partially-constructed eight-story community facility building that provides an open area along the rear lot line beginning above the roof of the first story (23 feet above curb level), with a depth of 20 feet (the "20-foot yard"), rather than the required 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building complies in all other respects with the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, under ZR § 73-50, the Board may grant a waiver of the rear yard (open area) requirements set forth in ZR § 33-29 in appropriate cases; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the instant application is an appropriate case for a waiver of the requirements set forth in ZR § 33-29; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the non-complying 20-foot yard is attributable to a design error by the project architect and that the error was discovered after approximately 80 percent of the building was completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in order to comply with ZR § 33-292 at this stage of construction, the rearmost 10-foot portion of the building at the first seven stories would have to be demolished by hand and reconstructed with a completely redesigned structural system; the applicant represents that such work is infeasible; and

WHEREAS, as to the infeasibility, the applicant represents that the line of columns at the rear of the building begin below ground at the foundation and continue to the roof level, and cannot practically be moved without the construction of new footings and the removal of the parking ramps; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the roof water tanks would have to be relocated to a different portion of the roof and such portion would have to be structurally reinforced to carry the additional loads, at significant design and construction costs; and

WHEREAS, lastly, the removal of 10 feet of building depth would result in a building depth of 45 feet at the fourth through eighth stories, which the applicant asserts is inadequate to provide an efficient floor plate for a modern medical office use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the waiver will not have an adverse effect on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that of the seven other zoning lots located on the 31st Street frontage, six extend to the rear lot line; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that prior to the construction of the subject building, Lot 27 was occupied by a one-story commercial building that extended to its rear lot line and Lot 31 was occupied by a three-story residential building that provided an approximately 20-foot rear yard consistent with the proposed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that there is a lack of adequate medical facilities in the neighborhood and states that the proposed facility is desired by the community at large; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed tenants include University Orthopedics of NYC, Metropolitan Gastroenterology and Endoscopy Center of Queens; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that if the building were redesigned to comply with ZR § 33-292, the building height would be increased from 158 feet to 182 feet; such increase in height would be as of right and result in longer shadows being cast on neighboring buildings; further, the decreased floor plates would be detrimental to the proposed medical use, which the applicant states requires large floor plates so as to minimize the movement of patients from floor to floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a shadow study demonstrating the increased neighborhood impact of a taller building; and

WHEREAS, during the public review and hearing process, the Opposition raised concerns about the impact of the building on the residences directly abutting the site; specifically, the Opposition raised concerns regarding: (1) the visibility, noise and potential contamination from exhaust and intake vents and stair pressurization fans at the rear first story roof; (2) glass blocks within the rear wall at the first story and basement, which would allow light to transfer outside the building; (3) open violations from the Department of Buildings ("DOB"); and (4) damages allegedly sustained by the adjacent properties during the course of construction of the subject building and related DOB violations; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board directed the applicant to (1) redesign the exhaust and vent system so that it was further from the adjacent residents at the rear; (2) remove the glass blocks in the rear wall and replace with concrete block and stucco that will be opaque; (3) describe the nature of any outstanding violations; and (4) address the Opposition's concerns about property damage; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant: (1) relocated exhaust vents from the rear of the building to the front setback; (2) relocated intake vents and stair pressurization fans to be as far as functionally possible from the rear parapet; (3) provided a detailed statement from the project engineer certifying the make, model, size, functionality and necessity of the intake vents and stair pressurization fans; (4) submitted a visibility study indicating that the intake vents and stair pressurization fans will not be visible from the tallest of the residences abutting the rear lot line (23-26 32nd Street); (5) amended the plans to show the replacement of glass blocks with solid masonry; and (6) submitted evidence of a request from the project architect to the Queens DOB Commissioner for permission to perform work in order to remove the conditions that gave rise to the violations; and

WHEREAS, as to the damages allegedly sustained by the adjacent properties during the course of construction at the subject building and related DOB violations, the applicant asserts that such matters are under the purview of the general contractor and its insurance company and that it is prohibited, by contract, from intervening in the insurance negotiations; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that the violations were all issued in response to the neighbors' complaints and, thus, cannot be resolved absent the neighbors' cooperation, particularly given that a number of the violations are not actually issued to the subject lot, but to the neighbors', and that other violations require access to the neighbors' property; and

WHEREAS, a search of the Buildings Information System reflects that there are three outstanding violations on the site: (1) ECB Violation No. 34959031Y was issued on September 18, 2012 and alleged a failure to safeguard persons and property affected by construction operations, contrary to New York City Building Code § 3301.2; the respondent was found in violation on January 22, 2013, and no certificate of correction has been approved by DOB; (2) ECB Violation No. 34959207Z was issued on January 15, 2013 and alleged a failure to safeguard persons and property affected by construction operations, contrary to BC § 3301.2; the respondent was found in violation on April 30, 2013, and no certificate of correction has been approved by DOB; and (3) DOB Violation No. 073112C0101SA was issued on July 31, 2012 and alleged that the borough commissioner had issued an intent to revoke the permit and approval for Job No. 420229194 and a Stop Work Order, pursuant to New York City Administrative Code § 28-207.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that disputes between neighbors and the resolution of property damage caused by construction are beyond its purview and it cannot get involved in such disputes; however, it strongly encourages the parties to work together to achieve a resolution fairly and expeditiously; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the negotiations between the contractor's insurance company and the neighbors' insurance companies are ongoing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that, on April 15, 2013, one of the neighbors has commenced an action in New York State Supreme Court, Sesumi v. Pali Realty, LLC et al., Index No. 7428/13, Queens County, for alleged property damages; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also raised additional concerns regarding light pollution from the building, the sufficiency of the roof drains, the functioning of the electrical and mechanical systems and equipment, the general contractor's means and methods of construction, and the completeness of plans submitted in connection with this application; and

WHEREAS, as to these concerns, the Board finds that the applicant adequately addressed them and that all construction methods and plans are subject to DOB review and approval; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the construction activities have given rise to certain damage to property and disputes with adjacent property owners, but that such effects are the result of physical construction work and not the land use and planning effects that the Board considers in determining whether or not the open area required by ZR § 33-292 must be provided; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that the use and building are permitted as of right but for the rear ten feet of building depth above a height of 23 feet; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the portion of the new building which appears to have created the most conflict with the adjacent property owners is actually the portion of the building (and its rear wall) within the rear yard below 23 feet, which is permitted as-of-right pursuant to ZR § 33-292; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the extra ten feet of building depth at the rear above a height of 23 feet has not led to the adjacent property owners' concerns in the short-term and is compatible with the adjacent uses in the long-term, pursuant to ZR §§ 73-03 and 73-50; however, the impact of the physical construction work upon adjacent properties may be considered by the Board in determining the appropriate conditions and safeguards to impose along with the grant of a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant has satisfied all of the Community Board's requests related to building design and site conditions, in that: (1) the rear wall will be completely finished with stucco; (2) the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear will be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations; (3) the entire parapet wall at the rear setback is high enough to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment; and (4) the front of the building and setback area will be well-lit when the building is not in operation; and

WHEREAS, as to the Community Board's additional request that the applicant remedy damages to the adjacent owners on 31st and 32nd streets, the Board notes that both parties have testified that there are ongoing negotiations between the property owners' and contractor's insurance companies to resolve the damages; and

WHEREAS, based on the record, the Board finds that the application meets the requirements of ZR § 73-03(a) in that the disadvantages to the community at large are outweighed by the advantages derived from such special permit; and that the adverse effect, if any, will be minimized by appropriate conditions; and

WHEREAS, the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project and therefore satisfies the requirements of ZR § 73-03(b); and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03, to permit, on a site in a C4-3 zoning district abutting an R5B zoning district, the construction of an eight-story community facility building with an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 20 feet, contrary to ZR § 33-292, on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above-noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 2, 2013" – sixteen (16) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the vents atop the rear first story roof will be for intake only;

THAT the stair pressurization fans atop the rear first story roof will be operated only in an emergency;

THAT all lighting will be directed away from adjacent residences, as reflected on the plans;

THAT the glass blocks at the rear wall will be replaced by masonry and stucco;

THAT the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear will be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations;

THAT the entire parapet wall at the rear setback will be built to a sufficient height, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans and approved by DOB, to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment;

THAT the front of the building and setback area will be well-lit when the building is not in operation;

THAT the above conditions be noted on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT DOB will not issue a Temporary Certificate of Occupancy (or Final Certificate of Occupancy) and the building will not be occupied until all violations on the site have been cured to DOB's satisfaction;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

and (4) the projecting blade sign located above the main entrance exceeds the maximum size permitted by ZR § 22-341; the applicant notes that the degree of non-compliance with respect to (3) and (4) will not change under the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, contrary to ZR § 54-31, the proposal will increase the degree of non-compliance with respect to: (1) lot coverage, which will increase by one percent; (2) required rear yard within the R7-2 district, which, as a result of the Bridge, will be decreased by an area of approximately 1,372 sq. ft. (the Bridge is not a permitted obstruction, per ZR § 24-33); (3) sky exposure plane, which will be penetrated by the 170.5 sq. ft. portion of the Enlargement that is located at the front of the South Building; and (4) required rear yard within the C1-9 district, which, as a result of the Enlargement, will be decreased by an area of approximately 300 sq. ft. (this portion of the South Building is not a permitted obstruction, per ZR § 33-23); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Enlargement will accommodate three new academic/science classrooms on the fifth story, an expanded cafeteria, and a multifunctional activity space on the sixth story and rooftop; the proposed Bridge will integrate the South Building with the North Building; and

WHEREAS, because neither the Enlargement, nor the Bridge comply with the applicable bulk regulations in the subject zoning districts, the applicant seeks the requested variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the variance is necessary to meet the School's programmatic needs of: (1) providing sufficient space to carry out its specialized curriculum, which is heavily infused with exercise, art, and photography; and (2) minimizing travel time between the South Building and the North Building in order to maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the specialized curriculum of the School, the applicant states that because the School specializes in educating children with special needs and certain learning differences, it emphasizes physical education and the arts to a much greater degree than mainstream schools, because these subjects help the students with both confidence and focus; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that due to the relationship between physical activity and creating an effective learning environment for the School's students, the proposed activity space on the sixth story—which includes a synthetic floor that accommodates a multitude of activities—is neither recreational nor elective, but rather an important component of the School's highly-specialized educational program; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal would allow for the creation of several new spaces to effectively conduct the curriculum; specifically, the Enlargement would result in new seminar rooms, a multi-media arts room, a state-of-the-art digital photography lab, an expanded cafeteria, and physical activity space, as mentioned above; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that the Enlargement effectively addresses the School's programmatic need to provide sufficient space to carry out its specialized curriculum and create a learning environment that is tailored to the particular needs of its student body; and

WHEREAS, as to the need to minimize travel time between the South Building and the North Building, the applicant represents that, currently, students, faculty and staff who must travel between the buildings must exit the front of their building on either West 89th Street (the subject building) or West 90th Street (the North Building), walk west to Amsterdam Avenue and travel either north or south for an entire block before turning east toward the other front door, a trip that takes approximately 15 minutes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the School has determined that, on average, a student travels between the two buildings seven times per week, for a total weekly travel time of approximately 105 minutes; the applicant notes that this is the equivalent of more than two full class periods; in addition, because the walk takes the students past an active garage, traveling students are required to be accompanied by a faculty member; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the travel between the buildings is necessary because the School has a variety of educational specialists throughout the two buildings who provide one-on-one assistance to students; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that several classes attended by most students are only offered in one building; for example, Music, Gym and Library are currently offered only in the North Building; and although there are cafeterias in both buildings, there is insufficient space for all students to eat, and Middle School students from the North Building must travel to the South Building for lunch; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that student arrivals and dismissals are located in the North Building, so students taking all or most of their instruction in the subject building would benefit from the construction of the Bridge; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that the Bridge most effectively meets the School's programmatic need to minimize travel time and maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the selection of the fourth story for the location of the Bridge, the applicant states that such placement will enable the overlap and access of two similar programs between the Lower School in the North Building and the Middle School in the South Building; in particular, the North Building students will have access to Mixed Media and Digital Arts program and the physical activity space created by the Enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that there is no as-of-right alternative for the proposed development because the building already exceeds the maximum permitted lot coverage, eclipses the sky exposure plane, and does not provide the required rear yard at all stories above the first story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the location of the stair and elevator bulkheads prevent the construction of the proposed activity space at the fifth story; and

could not be located at the cellar, first, second, third or fifth stories without significantly disrupting existing program or mechanical spaces; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that: (1) a connection at the cellar level would interfere with well-established program and support space; (2) a connection at the first story would interfere with a planned performing arts classroom at the South Building; (3) a bridge at the second story would interfere with a portion of the South Building's Early Childhood Center, whose program requires isolation due to the age of the students; (4) a bridge at the third story would interfere with program space in both buildings and create an elevational challenge for mechanical stacks located at the second story play yard at the South Building; and (5) a bridge at the fifth story would adversely affect the proposed classrooms in the South Building and significantly increase travel times for the North Building's third story students; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that satisfying the School's programmatic needs without the Bridge and the Enlargement would require enlargement of one or both buildings (with new height and setback waiver requests) and the creation of redundant facilities, at significant cost; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the width and height of the Bridge have been minimized to those dimensions necessary to further the School's mission and provide safe egress; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the School create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the School is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the block on which the building is located within the West Side Urban Renewal Area and as such there has been considerable eclectic community facility development over the past half century; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the midblock is largely developed with religious, educational, and cultural institutions; the North Building is shared with Ballet Hispanico, an internationally-renowned dance company, the block to the south (Block 1219) is largely occupied by P.S. 166, and a large NYCHA development is located on the block to the north of the subject block (Block 1221); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that both the Enlargement and the Bridge will be minimally visible to the public; the Bridge will only be obliquely visible from West 89th Street and will be visible to—and approximately 80 feet from—only the northernmost windows on the rear elevation of The Sagamore, a residential building located at 189 West 89th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that approximately 45 percent of the new floor area will be within the rear yards of the South Building and the North Building, which minimizes the impact of the expansion on adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant notes that the proposed use is permitted in the subject zoning district and that the general welfare of any community is furthered by the strengthening of educational facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that on April 30, 2013, the Landmarks Preservation Commission issued a Certificate of Appropriateness with respect to the proposal; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created, and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the School could occur given the existing conditions of the South Building and the North Building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to accommodate the School's current and projected programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow the School to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA083M dated January 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the School would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space;

Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site partially within an R7-2 zoning district and partially within a C1-9 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building to accommodate classrooms and an exercise and activity space, and the construction of a bridge between the subject building located at 175 West 89th Street and the building located 148 West 90th Street, which do not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, minimum required rear yard, permitted obstructions in a rear yard, and sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-33, 24-36, 24-522, 33-23, 33-26 and 54-31, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 1, 2013" – seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the South Building: a total floor area of 38,412 (4.99 FAR in the R7-2 district and 5.34 FAR in the C1-9 district), a maximum building height of 95'-7/8", a maximum street wall height without setback of 72'-0", and 96 percent lot coverage in the R7-2 district and 95 percent lot coverage in the C1-9 district, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the school requires review and approval by the Board;

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

1. ZR 24-11 24-33 Proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not comply with lot coverage requirements because the proposed bridge does not qualify as a permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33, contrary to ZR 24-11
2. ZR 24-33 24-36 Proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not comply with rear yard requirements because the proposed bridge does not qualify as a permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33, contrary to ZR 24-36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a companion variance application to allow enlargement of the South Building and construction of the Bridge within its rear yard has been filed under BSA Cal. No. 10-13-BZ and decided at the same hearing; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Gail Brewer submitted a letter in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community testified at the hearing in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Stephen Gaynor School (the "School"), a nonprofit educational institution founded in 1962, which serves approximately 300 students with various special needs ranging in age from three to 14; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior lot located on the south side of West 90th Street between Amsterdam Avenue and Columbus Avenue, within an R7-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 65 feet of frontage along West 90th Street and a lot area of 6,546 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site, which is Tax Lot 7506, was merged into a single zoning lot with Tax Lot 107 in 2004; Lot 107 has 47.5 feet of frontage along West 89th Street and a total lot area of 4,783; together the lots have a combined lot area of 11,329 sq. ft. and a total floor area of 50,050 sq. ft. THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated January 23, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 220246437, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed 2-story rear enlargement of existing UG-3 school building in R8 zoning district is not a permitted obstruction in the required rear yard and is contrary to ZR Sections 24-36 and 24-33(b); and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site within an R8 zoning district, the legalization of an enlargement to an existing three-story school building that does not comply with regulations regarding minimum required rear yard and permitted obstructions in a required rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-36 and 24-33(b); and

WHEREAS, the application is brought on behalf of the Grand Concourse Academy Charter School (the "School"), a non-profit educational institution; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 4, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a corner lot located at the intersection of Walton Avenue and East 169th Street within an R8 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 145.75 feet of frontage along Walton Avenue, 198.69 feet of frontage along East 169th Street, and a lot area of approximately 25,750 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a basement and three-story Use Group 3 school and church building with 27,846 sq. ft. of floor area (1.08 FAR), and 30 on-grade parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks to legalize an enlargement of the school that was filed with the Department of Buildings ("DOB") in 2010 and completed in 2011; the applicant represents that subsequent to the completion of construction, but prior to the issuance of a final certificate of occupancy, DOB audited the application and determined that it did not comply with ZR §§ 24-36 and 24-33(b); and

rear yard with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required; however, per ZR § 24-33(b), any portion of the building used for community facility uses is a permitted obstruction within the required rear yard, provided such building portion does not exceed one story and a maximum height of 23 feet above curb level; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlargement it seeks to legalize is a double-height space spanning the second and third stories and located 39'-9" above curb level; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the building complies in all other respects with the governing bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the programmatic needs of the School, a charter elementary, necessitate the provision of adequate facilities for physical activity and education, and that the enlargement, which is gymnasium with approximately 1,500 sq. ft. of floor area, satisfies those needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the enlargement is essential to the School's ability to comply with New York State physical education requirements, and that the space will be used as a multipurpose room to conduct assemblies and graduations; and

WHEREAS, as to the New York State physical education requirements, the applicant states that Education Law § 803 requires elementary-aged students to be provided with instruction in fitness, personal health, hygiene, and safety education, and they must participate in some form of physical education for a minimum of 120 minutes per week; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that prior to the enlargement, the School lacked sufficient space for physical activities and education; when weather permitted, the students used a portion of the parking lot for recess and physical activity; during times of inclement weather, students were forced to have recess and physical education in the cafeteria, or, when that room was occupied, forego activity altogether; and

WHEREAS, in addition, before the gymnasium was constructed, assemblies and graduations were conducted in borrowed space outside the school; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that without such enlargement, the School would lack sufficient space to meets its program needs; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that an enlargement that is constructed in strict compliance with the applicable zoning provisions is infeasible; and

WHEREAS, in support of its assertions, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of three conforming enlargements: (1) the construction of a double-height gymnasium at the front of the existing building above the third story ("Scenario A"); (2) the construction of a free-standing gymnasium building within the existing parking lot ("Scenario B"); and (3) the construction of a connected gymnasium on the west side of the building within the existing parking lot ("Scenario C"); and

WHEREAS, as to Scenario A, the applicant states that a vertical enlargement would require reinforcement of the existing structural systems, the extension of stairs and elevators, significant interior renovations, and disturbance of classroom activity at the third story, at significant cost; the applicant also notes that the increased height of the building under Scenario A (63'-3" above curb level), is incompatible with the streetscape of East 169th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a letter from a consulting engineer who examined Scenario A and concluded that it would not be possible without significant underpinning and reinforcing and retrofitting of the existing structure, which the engineer considered prohibitively expensive and difficult to accomplish; and

WHEREAS, as to Scenario B, the applicant states that the physical separateness of the new building would result in students having to traverse an active parking lot in order to access the gymnasium, which the applicant asserts is unsafe for students and impractical for teachers; and

WHEREAS, as to Scenario C, the applicant states that a horizontal enlargement along the west side of the building would require the elimination of classroom windows and the reconfiguration of existing program space at the ground floor level; and

WHEREAS, further, under both Scenario A and B, the enlargement would eliminate as many as half of the parking spaces, which is undesirable; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the alternative scenarios are infeasible and do not satisfy the School's programmatic needs to the same extent as the subject enlargement requiring the waivers; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the School's programmatic needs are legitimate and agrees that the proposed building is necessary to address its needs, given the current unique conditions that constrain the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based on the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the School create an unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the School is a non-profit educational institution and the variance is requested to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance,

if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Use Group 3 school and church uses are as-of-right in the subject R8 district, and that the building, including the enlarged portion, is well within the height and floor area requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlargement is consistent with the character of the surrounding area, which is primarily developed with high-density residential and community facility uses; specifically, the applicant states that the subject block contains several five-story multiple dwellings, a few two-story single-family homes and several religious institutions, including: Walker Memorial Baptist Church, Grand Concourse Seventh-Day Adventist Temple, and Iglesia de Dios Pentecostal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the placement of the enlargement within the rear yard limits its visibility from East 168th and East 169th streets; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlarged portion of the building maintains a distance of at least 20 feet (and in some cases up to 35 feet) from the three buildings abutting the rear lot line of the site; moreover, residents of two of those buildings have signed memoranda in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the hardship was not self-created and inherent in the unique programmatic needs of the School; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is owing to the School's programmatic need to provide space for physical education and activity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to accommodate the programmatic needs of the School; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow the School to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR §§ 617.5; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site within an R8 zoning district, the legalization of an enlargement to an existing three-story school building that does not comply with regulations regarding minimum required rear yard and permitted obstructions in a required rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-36 and 24-33(b), on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 10, 2013"- Eight (8) sheets; ", on further condition:

THAT the portion of the building within the required rear yard shall not exceed a height of 39'-9" above curb level, as shown on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the premises shall comply with all applicable fire safety measures, as required;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT construction will be substantially completed in accordance with the requirements of ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted; and

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only.

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, a reopening, and an extension of term for the continued use of an automobile service station, which expired on July 15, 2012; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 15, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 12, 2013, March 19, 2013, and April 16, 2013, and then to decision on June 4, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Queens, recommends a conditional approval of this application; the conditions are (1) that the term be limited to five years; (2) the plans reflect the shed and gate conditions; (3) the site be better maintained; and (4) the fence be repaired; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the south side of Northern Boulevard between 234th Street and 233rd Street, within an R1-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also revised its plans to reflect the metal shed onsite and the gate condition; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the requested extension of term is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

WHEREAS, this is an application for an extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy in accordance with a variance, which expired on January 13, 2013, and an amendment to allow the construction of a sub-cellar level; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 21, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on June 4, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southwest corner of Astoria Boulevard and 112th Place, within an R6A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since January 13, 2009 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the construction of a six-story and cellar hotel building, contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, as of January 13, 2013, substantial construction had not been completed; accordingly, on that date, per ZR § 72-23, the variance lapsed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that additional time is necessary to complete its environmental review and remediation at the site; such measures are required because of a 2008 oil spill; and

WHEREAS, as to the proposed modification to the variance, the applicant seeks to create a sub-cellar below the cellar to accommodate accessory off-street parking for 28 automobiles, as well as an accessory gym and accessory laundry; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that under the original grant, 14 parking spaces were provided at grade and 17 parking spaces were provided at the cellar level, for a total of 31 parking spaces; in order to provide 31 parking spaces under the proposed amendment, the applicant seeks to locate 3 parking spaces at grade to supplement the 28 parking spaces provided in the sub-cellar; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the inclusion of a sub-cellar will remove parking spaces from the street level, thereby reducing traffic and noise and increasing the floor area available for conference rooms and other amenities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed amendment allows it to defray the costs of the environmental remediation, which are significantly higher than was anticipated at the time of the original grant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that neither the total floor area of the building nor the number of guest rooms is being altered by the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of term and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

WHEREAS, on a date uncertain, pursuant to the requirements of Article 502 and Rule 49, the Appellant submitted a Sign Registration Application for the Sign and completed an OAC3 Outdoor Advertising Company Sign Profile, attaching a copy of the 1981 Permit as evidence of establishment of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, on March 8, 2012, DOB issued a Notice of Sign Registration Deficiency, stating that "[DOB is] unable to accept the sign for registration at this time (due to your) failure to provide proof of legal establishment"; and

WHEREAS, by emails dated March 22, 2012 and March 28, 2012, the Appellant submitted a response to DOB, asserting that the Sign was legally established by the 1981 Permit; and

WHEREAS, DOB determined that March 22, 2012 and March 28, 2012 emails lacked sufficient evidence of the Sign's establishment, and on July 17, 2012, issued the Final Determination denying registration; and

RCNY § 49-15 – Sign Inventory to be Submitted with Registration Application
…(d)(5) Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter.

(a) With respect to each sign identified in the sign inventory as non-conforming, the registered architect or professional engineer shall request confirmation of its non-conforming status from the Department based on evidence submitted in the registration application. The Department shall review the evidence submitted and accept or deny the request within a reasonable period of time. A sign that has been identified as non-conforming on the initial registration application may remain erected unless and until the Department has issued a determination that it is not non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Final Determination should be reversed because: (1) the Sign was established as an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940 and may therefore be maintained as a legal non-conforming advertising sign; and (2) equitable estoppel prevents DOB from taking enforcement action against the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that that the Sign was established prior to June 28, 1940; in support of this contention, the Appellant has submitted two historical photographs from 1912 and 1942 of the Sign with the message "Wallach's Superior Laundry"; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Appellant asserts that the 1981 Permit, the 2000 Permit, a 1970 lease, and an affidavit from the managing agent of the net lessee of the building at the Premises indicating that the Sign has been in existence since 1959, confirm the Sign's establishment and status as a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the 2000 Permit encompasses the "explicit approval" of the legal status of the Sign by the borough commissioner; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Board previously found a reconsideration to be sufficient evidence of establishment in BSA Cal. No. 95-12-A; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that there is sufficient evidence to support the lawful establishment of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that it has relied on the 2000 Permit and the Reconsideration for several years and made substantial investments relative to the continued operation of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that under established principles of equity, DOB should be estopped from ordering the removal of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that although as a general rule estoppel or laches cannot be used against a municipality enforcing its zoning law, New York courts have ruled that these doctrines are not foreclosed entirely and may be invoked as a rare exception; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that two New York State court decisions – Town of Hempstead v. DeMasco, 2007 WL 4471362 (Sup. Ct. 2007), aff'd, 62 A.D.3d 692 (2d Dept. 2009) and Inner Force Econ. Dev. Corp. v. Dep't of Educ. Of the City of New York, 36 Misc.3d 758, 559 (Sup. Ct. 2012) – to support its conclusion that the City should be estopped; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that in DeMasco, the Town sought to enforce its zoning ordinance against a metal salvage business which had existed for many years prior to a zoning change, and the Appellate Division affirmed that the Town was equitably estopped in part because it continued business with the junkyard and "gave an imprimatur to the businesses' continued operation"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant argues that this appeal is similar to DeMasco, in that DOB "did not prohibit the [Appellant] from continuing to maintain its advertising signage during the period following the issuance of the Permit[s]" and that "by not enforcing against the signage [DOB] implicitly permitted its continued use"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that Inner Force involved an action against the New York City Department of Education in which a plaintiff filed its Notice of Claim with the Comptroller's Office instead of the Office of the Corporation Counsel, which should have received the claim instead, and the Comptroller's Office acknowledged the receipt of the Notice, informed the plaintiff that it was conducting an investigation and ultimately denied the claim based in part on the improper notice; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that the Inner Force court found estoppel applicable to the conduct of the Comptroller's Office because the Comptroller's response to the plaintiff's erroneous notice wrongfully or negligently induced reliance by the plaintiff to its detriment to believe that its notice of claim was proper and that the proper party had been served; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that this appeal is similar because "DOB clearly understood or should have understood that by not pursuing enforcement action against the maintenance of valuable advertising signage there was every reason for the [Appellant] to continue its operation"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant argues that DOB should be estopped from taking any enforcement action against the Sign and DOB's Final Determination with respect to the Sign should be reversed; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence to demonstrate that an advertising sign was established at the Premises in that: (1) the photographic evidence submitted by the Appellant demonstrates establishment of a business (accessory) sign rather than an advertising sign; and (2) the Reconsideration issued in connection with the 2000 Permit cannot be relied upon as evidence of the establishment of a non-conforming advertising sign before June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that in order to demonstrate the lawful establishment of an advertising sign at the Premises, the Appellant must provide proof of the existence of an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940, the date that the 1916 Zoning Resolution was amended to prohibit advertising signs within 200 feet of arterial highways; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Appellant's photographs from 1912 and 1940 depict a "business sign" pursuant to 1916 ZR § 1(q); to support this contention, DOB has submitted excerpts from advertisements from 1907, 1909, 1912, 1913-1914 and 1918-1919 showing that the message on the sign, "Wallach's Superior Laundry," was a service offered at 330 East 59th Street, which is the Premises; DOB notes that a "business sign" under the 1916 Zoning Resolution is equivalent to an "accessory" sign under the 1961 Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, consequently, DOB asserts that there is insufficient evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign at the Premises prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB also contends that to the extent that DOB issued the 1981 Permit and 2000 Permit, it did so contrary to the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, as to the Reconsideration, DOB asserts that it was issued in error; specifically, DOB asserts that the evidence reviewed by the borough commissioner and mentioned in the Reconsideration—a 1969 Lease, the 1981 Permit and a photo—demonstrates that he was unaware that the relevant date for the establishment of a non-conforming advertising sign at the Premises is June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Reconsideration in the instant matter is distinguishable from the reconsideration at issue in BSA Cal. No. 95-12-A; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that in BSA Cal. No. 95-12-A, the appellant argued, and the Board accepted, that a 1999 Reconsideration issued by the Manhattan Borough Commissioner reflected the DOB's acknowledgement that the use of advertising signs at the subject premises had been established prior to November 1, 1979; however, in that case, the Appellant only needed to provide evidence that an advertising sign was erected prior to November 1, 1979 in order to gain non-conforming status under ZR § 42-55, and the 1999 Reconsideration specifically cited to an alleged advertising sign lease dated May 24, 1978 (a year and a half prior to the relevant date the sign needed to be established in order for the sign to obtain non-conforming use status); and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, in contrast, the 2000 Reconsideration does not cite to nor indicate in any way that the borough commissioner reviewed any evidence prior to or even within two and a half decades of June 28, 1940, the relevant date that the Sign must have been erected in order for the Sign to have lawful non-conforming status; accordingly, DOB contends that the Reconsideration was erroneous and cannot be the basis for determining lawful establishment of the Sign as non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that it properly issued its Final Determination denying the registration of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that: (1) DOB properly denied the Sign registration because the Appellant has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Sign was established prior to June 28, 1940 as an advertising sign; and (2) DOB is not equitably estopped from correcting its erroneous issuance of the 1981 Permit, the Reconsideration, and the 2000 Permit; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that there is no basis to conclude that an advertising sign was ever lawfully established at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the 1912 photograph submitted by the Appellant depicts a business (accessory) sign rather than an advertising sign; the Board notes that the Appellant's 1942 photograph is indecipherable; and

WHEREAS, the Board also agrees with DOB that the Reconsideration in this case is distinguishable from the reconsideration at issue in BSA Cal. No. 95-12-A, in that it is clear from the Reconsideration that it did not take into account evidence of establishment from the relevant date; as such, the Board finds that the Reconsideration was erroneous and unreliable and that the 2000 Permit should not have been issued; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board finds that the Appellant's reliance on the 2000 Permit as evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign is misplaced; and

WHEREAS, as to the balance of the Appellant's evidence, which comprises the affidavit, 1981 Permit and the 1970 Lease, neither individually, nor in the aggregate, do they provide a sufficient basis for the Board to conclude that an advertising sign was established at the Premises prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that even if it were to conclude that the Sign was established as a non-conforming advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940, there is insufficient evidence in the record to demonstrate the requisite continuous use set forth in ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board does not find the Appellant's arguments regarding equitable estoppel persuasive; and

WHEREAS, the Board distinguishes the Appellant's case law on the matter of equitable estoppel on the primary basis that in DeMasco the City actually maintained a business relationship with the junkyard on which the junkyard relied as an indication that its rights were preserved and in Inner Force, the City made a specific procedural decision that deprived the claimant of a right he might otherwise have had, if the City had not accepted his claim without notifying him of its defective notice; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant, by its own admission, has enjoyed approximately 50 years' worth of revenue from an advertising sign that has never been permitted by the Zoning Resolution at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that DOB's enforcement against the Sign is warranted, and as such, DOB properly rejected the Appellant's registration of the

Sign.

Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on July 17, 2012, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, June 4, 2013.

> The Department of Buildings is in receipt of additional documentation submitted in response to the Deficiency Letter from the Sign Enforcement Unit and in connection with the application for registration of the above-referenced sign. Unfortunately, we find this documentation inadequate to support the registration of the sign and as such, the sign is rejected from registration. This sign will be subject to enforcement action 30 days from the issuance of this letter; and

(a) With respect to each sign identified in the sign inventory as non-conforming, the registered architect or professional engineer shall request confirmation of its non-conforming status from the Department based on evidence submitted in the registration application. The Department shall review the evidence submitted and accept or deny the request within a reasonable period of time. A sign that has been identified as non-conforming on the initial registration application may remain erected unless and until the Department has issued a determination that it is not non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Final Determination should be reversed because: (1) the East Sign was established as an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940 and may therefore be maintained as a legal non-conforming advertising sign; and (2) equitable estoppel prevents DOB from taking enforcement action against the East Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the East Sign was established prior to June 28, 1940; in support of this contention, the Appellant has submitted the 1915 Permit and the 1917 Permit and two affidavits as proof of the establishment of the East Sign; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Appellant asserts that a 1962 photograph, a 10-year lease that commenced in 1965, a two-year lease that commenced in 1975, a six-year lease that commenced in 1977, a 1982 photograph, a six-year lease that commenced in 1983, a six-year lease that commenced in 1989, a six-year lease that commenced in 1995, a four-year lease that commenced in 2001, a one-year lease that commenced in 2005, and a 10-year lease that commenced in 2006, confirm the Sign's continuous use and legal status as a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that there is sufficient evidence to support the non-conforming use status of the East Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that it has relied on DOB's tacit approval of the East Sign for several years and made substantial investments relative to the continued operation of the East Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that under established principles of equity, DOB should be estopped from ordering the removal of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that although as a general rule estoppel or laches cannot be used against a municipality enforcing its zoning law, New York courts have ruled that these doctrines are not foreclosed entirely and may be invoked as a rare exception; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that two New York State court decisions – Town of Hempstead v. DeMasco, 2007 WL 4471362 (Sup. Ct. 2007), aff'd, 62 A.D.3d 692 (2d Dept. 2009) and Inner Force Econ. Dev. Corp. v. Dep't of Educ. Of the City of New York, 36 Misc.3d 758, 559 (Sup. Ct. 2012) – to support its conclusion that the City should be estopped; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that in DeMasco, the Town sought to enforce its zoning ordinance against a metal salvage business which had existed for many years prior to a zoning change, and the Appellate Division affirmed that the Town was equitably estopped in part because it continued business with the junkyard and "gave an imprimatur to the businesses' continued operation"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant argues that this appeal is similar to DeMasco, in that DOB "did not prohibit the [Appellant] from continuing to maintain its advertising signage during the period following the issuance of the Permit[s]" and that "by not enforcing against the signage [DOB] implicitly permitted its continued use"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that Inner Force involved an action against the New York City Department of Education in which a plaintiff filed its Notice of Claim with the Comptroller's Office instead of the Office of the Corporation Counsel, which should have received the claim instead, and the Comptroller's Office acknowledged the receipt of the Notice, informed the plaintiff that it was conducting an investigation and ultimately denied the claim based in part on the improper notice; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that the Inner Force court found estoppel applicable to the conduct of the Comptroller's Office because the Comptroller's response to the plaintiff's erroneous notice wrongfully or negligently induced reliance by the plaintiff to its detriment to believe that its notice of claim was proper and that the proper party had been served; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that this appeal is similar because "DOB clearly understood or should have understood that by not pursuing enforcement action against the maintenance of valuable advertising signage there was every reason for the [Appellant] to continue its operation"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant argues that DOB should be estopped from taking any enforcement action against the Sign and DOB's Final Determination with respect to the Sign should be reversed; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that: (1) the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the East Sign was established as an advertising sign at the Premises prior to June 28, 1940; and (2) even if the Board were to find that the East Sign was established, there is compelling evidence that the East Sign advertising use was discontinued between May 13, 2009 and April 7, 2012, and the use must therefore terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that in order to demonstrate the lawful establishment of an advertising sign at the Premises, the Appellant must provide proof of the existence of an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940, the date that the 1916 Zoning Resolution was amended to prohibit advertising signs within Business Use districts; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that on June 28, 1940, the Premises was not within 200 feet of the BQE, because that arterial highway did not open until 1950; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Appellant's evidence, which consists of the 1915 and 1917 permits and the two affidavits, is not sufficient under Rule 49 to demonstrate that the East Sign established as an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Rule 49 indicates that proof that an advertising sign "was erected, but that does not establish that it was advertising, will not be sufficient;" and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Appellant does not state the date that the advertising sign was installed, but indicates instead that the East Sign's existence as an advertising sign is documented by the 1915 and 1917 permits; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the only decipherable word on the 1915 Permit is "Havemeyer" and the only decipherable words on the 1917 Permit are "SE corner Havemeyer St & South 4th Street"; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that because there is proof that the West Sign existed at the Premises prior to June 28, 1940 (as discussed above, DOB accepted the registration application for the West Sign), it is reasonable to conclude that the maintenance permits were issued to maintain the West Sign structure rather than the East Sign structure; and

WHEREAS, DOB also states that two 1940 tax photographs from the Municipal Archives demonstrate that the East Sign was not established; specifically, DOB asserts that in the photographs, the supporting scaffold structure behind the West Sign is visible and no East Sign can be seen in the location where it is installed today; and

WHEREAS, finally, DOB states that the Appellant's two affidavits are submitted without supporting documentation and therefore, per Rule 49, cannot be relied upon to demonstrate that the East Sign has existed continuously since 1940; and

WHEREAS, consequently, DOB asserts that there is insufficient evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign at the Premises prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that even if the Board were to find that the East Sign was established, there is uncontroverted evidence that the East Sign was discontinued between May 13, 2009 and April 7, 2012, and the use must therefore terminate, per ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB has submitted photographs obtained from Pictometry (an online aerial oblique imaging and mapping service), which depict the East Sign with no copy in 2009, 2010 and 2012; and

WHEREAS, to counter these photographs, the Appellant submitted photographs, which DOB describes as "undated photographs of the West Sign, which are not relevant, and undated photographs of the East Sign, which are completely black with no message visible"; and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that the lease that the Appellant submitted as evidence of the existence of the East Sign from 2009-2012 is ambiguous, in that it does not specify whether it is for the West Sign (which, again, DOB accepted as non-conforming) or the East Sign (which DOB asserts never became non-conforming), or both; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that even if the lease did authorize the Appellant to maintain the East Sign at the Premises, there is no evidence to show that the right under the lease was exercised; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that it properly issued its Final Determination denying the registration of the East Sign; and

CONCLUSION

WHEREAS, the Board finds that: (1) DOB properly denied the East Sign registration because the Appellant has not met its burden of demonstrating that the East Sign was established prior June 28, 1940 as an advertising sign; and (2) DOB is not equitably estopped from taking enforcement action against the East Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that there is no basis to conclude that an advertising sign was ever lawfully established at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the 1915 and 1917 permits are not sufficient to establish the non-conforming status of the East Sign prior to the June 28, 1940 amendment to the 1916 Zoning Resolution that prohibited advertising signs in Business Use districts; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that neither permit on its face indicates that it is for advertising, and neither permit indicates whether it is applicable to the East Sign or the West Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the 1940 tax photographs showing the West Sign would have also shown the East Sign, and that the absence of the East Sign of such photographs is compelling evidence that it did not exist prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the East Sign was not established as an advertising sign prior to June 28, 1940; and

WHEREAS, however, even if the Board had found that the East Sign was established, it agrees with DOB that photographic evidence demonstrates that the East Sign did not display advertising copy from 2009-2012; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that DOB's photographic evidence of discontinuance is not refuted by the Appellant's evidence of continuity; specifically, the Board agrees with DOB that: (1) the Appellant's lease is ambiguous and, at most, is merely evidence of the existence of a right, rather than evidence of the exercise of that right; and (2) the Appellant's affidavits are of limited evidentiary value because they are unsupported by objective, independently verifiable evidence; and (3) the Appellant's East Sign photographs are of limited evidentiary value because they are undated and of such poor quality that the sign's message cannot be determined; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees with DOB that even if the East Sign were considered established as a non-conforming use, the use was discontinued, per ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's arguments regarding equitable estoppel, the Board does not find them persuasive; and

WHEREAS, the Board distinguishes the Appellant's

case law on the matter of equitable estoppel on the primary basis that in DeMasco the City actually maintained a business relationship with the junkyard on which the junkyard relied as an indication that its rights were preserved and in Inner Force, the City made a specific procedural decision that deprived the claimant of a right he might otherwise have had, if the City had not accepted his claim without notifying him of its defective notice; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant, by its own admission, has enjoyed approximately 72 years' worth of revenue from an advertising sign that has never been permitted by the Zoning Resolution at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that DOB's enforcement against the East Sign is warranted, and as such, DOB properly rejected the Appellant's registration of the East Sign.

Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on July 30, 2012, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, June 4, 2013.

COMMUNITY BOARD #1BX

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Appeal Denied.

Affirmative: 0

Negative: Chair Srinivasan, Vice Chair Collins, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Montanez 5

WHEREAS, the subject appeal comes before the Board in response to a Notice of Sign Registration Rejection letter from the Bronx Borough Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB"), dated August 6, 2012, denying registration for a sign at the subject premises (the "Final Determination"), which reads, in pertinent part:

> The Department of Buildings is in receipt of additional documentation submitted in response to the Deficiency Letter from the Sign Enforcement Unit and in connection with the application for registration of the above-referenced sign. Unfortunately, we find this documentation inadequate to support the registration of the sign and as such, the sign is rejected from registration. Signs within 200 feet of an arterial may not be replaced or reconstructed as per § 42-55. This sign will be subject to enforcement action 30 days from the issuance of this letter; and

WHEREAS a public hearing was held on this application on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 21, 2013 and then to decision on June 4, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject premises ("the Premises") is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of East 133rd Street and Cypress Avenue, in an M1-2/R6A zoning district within a Special Mixed Use District (MX-1) as of March 9, 2005; prior to that date, the Premises was zoned M1-2; and

WHEREAS, the Premises is occupied by a two-story residential building; on the west wall of the building is an advertising sign with a surface area of approximately 288 sq. ft. ("the Sign"); and

WHEREAS, this appeal is brought on behalf of the lessee of the Sign structure (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Sign is located within 900 feet and within view of the Bruckner Expressway, an arterial highway pursuant to Appendix H of the Zoning Resolution; DOB states that the Sign is located 114 feet from the Bruckner Expressway; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks a reversal of DOB's rejection of the registration of the Sign based on DOB's determination that it was not permitted to be reconstructed pursuant to ZR § 52-83; during the appeal process, the issue became whether the Sign was discontinued pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, the relevant statutory requirements related to sign registration have been in effect since 2005; and

WHEREAS, under Local Law 31 of 2005, the New York City Council enacted certain amendments to existing regulations governing outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, the amendments are codified under Articles 501, 502, and 503 of the 2008 Building Code and were enacted to provide DOB with a means of enforcing the sign laws where signs had been erected and were being maintained without a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Article 502 (specifically, Building Code § 28-502.4), an outdoor advertising company is required to submit to DOB an inventory of:

> all signs, sign structures and sign locations located (i) within a distance of 900 linear feet (274 m) from and within view of an arterial highway; or (ii) within a distance of 200 linear feet [60.96 m] from and within view of a public park with an area of ½ acre (5000 m) or more; and permitting requirements for certain signs; the DOB rules, enacted under Rule 49, provide specific procedures for registration of advertising signs; Rule 49-15(5) reads in pertinent part:

> Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter; and

WHEREAS, subchapter B of Rule 49 (Registration of Outdoor Advertising Companies), (specifically, Rule 49-15(d)(15)(b)), sets forth the acceptable forms of evidence to establish the size and the existence of a non-conforming sign on the relevant date set forth in the Zoning Resolution; and

> Acceptable evidence may include permits, sign-offs of applications after completion, photographs and leases demonstrating that the non-conforming use existed prior to the relevant date; and

WHEREAS, affidavits are also listed as an acceptable form of evidence; and

WHEREAS, a DOB guidance document sets forth the instructions for filing under Rule 49 and states that any one of the following documents would be acceptable evidence for sign registration pursuant to Rule 49: (1) DOB issued permit for sign erection; (2) DOB-approved application for sign erection; (3) DOB dockets/permit book indicating sign permit approval; and (4) publicly catalogued photograph from a source such as NYC Department of Finance, New York Public Library, Office of Metropolitan History, or New York State Archives; and

WHEREAS, on a date uncertain, pursuant to the requirements of Article 502 and Rule 49, the Appellant submitted a Sign Registration Application for the East Sign and completed an OAC3 Outdoor Advertising Company Sign Profile, attaching a copy of a 1979 illuminated sign permit and various lease agreements from 1965, 1977, 1985, 1993, 2007 and 2008, as evidence of the Sign's non-conforming use establishment and continuous use; and

WHEREAS, on May 17, 2012, DOB issued a Notice of Sign Registration Deficiency, stating that it was "unable to accept the sign for registration at this time (because the) sign (was) removed/replaced contrary to ZR 42-55"; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 28, 2012, the Appellant submitted a response to DOB, indicating that while the Sign had been removed, it was replaced within two years of removal; and

WHEREAS, in response, DOB determined that the Sign was not permitted to be reconstructed, and on July 30, 2012, it issued the Final Determination denying registration; and

RCNY § 49-16 – Non-conforming Signs

(a) With respect to each sign identified in the sign inventory as non-conforming, the registered architect or professional engineer shall request confirmation of its non-conforming status from the Department based on evidence submitted in the registration application. The Department shall review the evidence submitted and accept or deny the request within a reasonable period of time. A sign that has been identified as non-conforming on the initial registration application may remain erected unless and until the Department has issued a determination that it is not non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Final Determination should be reversed because: (1) the Sign was permitted to be reconstructed pursuant to ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83; (2) DOB is estopped from disavowing its April 3, 2003 letter stating that ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83 permit the reconstruction of a non-conforming advertising sign within 200 feet of an arterial highway in a Manufacturing District; and (3) sufficient evidence exists that the Sign was not discontinued pursuant ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, during the registration process and in the instant appeal, the Appellant asserts that ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83 authorize the reconstruction of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant and DOB agree that the Sign was established as a non-conforming advertising sign pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c), in that sufficient evidence was presented to DOB demonstrating that the sign existed and was used for advertising prior to May 31, 1968; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant's assertion is based on an April 3, 2003 opinion letter ("the 2003 Opinion") from a DOB attorney, which in pertinent part provided that:

> an advertising sign other than a flashing sign in a manufacturing district within 200 feet and in view of an arterial highway that is covered by ZR 42-55(c)(1) . . . or . . . ZR 42-55(c)(2) . . . may be structurally altered, reconstructed or replaced pursuant to ZR 52-83. ZR 52-83 is inapplicable to an advertising sign on an arterial highway in a manufacturing zone that is regulated by ZR 42-55 except as provided in ZR 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the proper interpretation of the interplay between ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83 is found in the 2003 Opinion's plain, unambiguous language, which DOB never disclaimed or modified until the issuance of the Final Determination; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Final Determination—which stated that "signs within 200 feet of an arterial may not be replaced or reconstructed as per § 42-55"—ignores ZR § 42-55(c)(1), which provides that an advertising sign located within 660 feet of an arterial highway that is erected prior to June 1, 1968 shall have legal non-conforming status pursuant to ZR § 52-83; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the references to ZR § 52-83 in ZR § 42-55 and to ZR § 42-55 in ZR § 52-83 are to clarify that signs conferred non-conforming use protection pursuant to ZR § 42-55 are entitled to reconstruct pursuant ZR § 52-83, and that an interpretation to the contrary would be illogical; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant asserts that ZR § 42-55(a)(2) was intended to prohibit the reconstruction of illegal advertising signs, not limit the reconstruction of signs deemed non-conforming pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that it reasonably relied in good faith on the 2003 Opinion when it removed the Sign to perform façade repairs; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that DOB's rejection of the Sign from registration notwithstanding its 2003 Opinion constitutes an unexplained and arbitrary failure to conform to agency precedent, contrary to Matter of Charles A. Field Delivery Serv., Inc., 66 N.Y.2d 516, 520, 488 N.E.2d 1223, 1227 (1985) and Richardson v. Comm'r of New York City Dep't of Soc. Servs., 88 N.Y.2d 35, 39, 665 N.E.2d 1059 (1996); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant contends that its reconstruction of the Sign was authorized by the plain text of the Zoning Resolution and sanctioned by DOB in its 2003 Opinion; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Sign was removed on August 17, 2009 and replaced on August 12, 2011; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the Appellant has submitted four documents: (1) an undated work order from Lamar Outdoor Advertising ("Lamar"), which indicates that the work to be done is "please arrange to have the following 30 sheet removed 740120-Bruckner Blvd EL 5 F N of E 133rd St Address: 691 E 133rd St/Bron" and that the work was completed on August 17, 2009; (2) an August 25, 2009 Survey that includes photographs of the Premises without the Sign and indicates on the photographs and on the lot diagram where the "remnants of a sign" were located; (3) an August 5, 2011 work order from Lamar to Josie Rodriguez, which indicates that the work to be done at the Premises is "retro fit one wall mounted 30 sheet steel panel" and that the work was completed on August 12, 2011; and (4) an August 12, 2011 invoice from the Metropolitan Sign & Rigging Corp., which indicates a request for payment to Lamar for "retrofit one wall mounted 30 sheet steel panel"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the two documents indicating removal and two documents indicating reconstruction are sufficient evidence that the Sign was not discontinued for a period of two or more years; as such, the Appellant states that use of the Sign for advertising was never discontinued per ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant asserts that the Board should reverse DOB's Final Determination that the Sign was not permitted to be reconstructed, and find that the Sign may remain pursuant to ZR § 52-11; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that: (1) the Sign was permitted to be reconstructed pursuant to ZR § 52-83; and (2) photographic evidence demonstrates that the Sign was discontinued for a period of more than two consecutive years, and the use must therefore terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Sign was permitted to be reconstructed pursuant to ZR § 52-83, because at the time of reconstruction it was within a zoning district that allowed reconstruction of non-conforming advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that, as a threshold matter, it accepted the Sign as having been established as a non-conforming advertising sign pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c); and

WHEREAS, DOB states that because the Premises is within an M1-2/R6A zoning district within a Special Mixed Use District (MX-1), per ZR § 123-40, the sign regulations applicable in C6-1 district are applicable; therefore, per ZR § 52-83, the Sign was permitted to be reconstructed; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that despite language in the 2003 Opinion suggesting otherwise, no advertising sign may be structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed if that sign is located in a district regulated by ZR §§ 42-55 or 32-662 and is within 200 feet of an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that although ZR § 52-83 generally allows a non-conforming advertising sign to be altered, reconstructed, or replaced, this allowance is limited by an exception clause, which states, "except as otherwise provided in Sections 32-66 or 42-55"; and

WHEREAS, therefore, DOB states that where a non-conforming advertising sign is in a district covered by ZR § 52-83 and either ZR § 32-662 or ZR § 42-55, the exception clause in ZR § 52-83 is applicable because it is the more restrictive requirement1; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that although the Sign was permitted to be reconstructed pursuant to ZR §§ 52-83 and 123-40, photographic evidence demonstrates that the Sign was discontinued for a period of more than two consecutive years, and the use must therefore terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that, contrary to the Appellant's statements, the Sign was removed at least as early as July 5, 2009 and not replaced until at least August 12, 2011, which DOB accepted as the date that the Appellant restored the Sign to the wall of the building at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, DOB has submitted the following photographic evidence from Pictometry (an online aerial oblique imaging and mapping service) to demonstrate that the Sign was absent from the building for more than two consecutive years: (1) four photographs from July 5, 2009, each from a different angle, showing the absence of the Sign and the Sign structure; (2) four photographs from July 15, 2009, each from a different angle, showing the absence of the Sign and the Sign structure; (3) an April 4, 2010 photograph showing the absence of the Sign and the Sign structure; (4) four photographs from April 5, 2010 each from a different angle, showing the absence of the Sign and the Sign structure; and (5) four photographs from February 27, 2012 each from a different angle, showing the Sign and the Sign structure in place (which DOB submitted as a contrast to the several photographs showing the absence of the Sign and the Sign structure); and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested additional information regarding the credibility of the dated aerial images created by Pictometry; and

WHEREAS, in response, DOB states that the Pictometry International Corporation is a provider of geo-referenced, oblique aerial imagery founded in 2000; that Pictometry is a subscription-only database that maintains a fleet of 72 aircraft which have captured over 210 million data-rich aerial images; that Pictometry's patented imagery capturing system is designed to produce orthogonal and oblique aerial images that reveal the front and sides of buildings from up to 12 different angles; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that Pictometry provides aerial imagery for federal, state and local governments, including the United States Department of Homeland Security, the Connecticut Department of Information Technology, and county assessors nationwide; Pictometry also provides aerial imagery for public safety, insurance, and utility professionals; and

WHEREAS, in addition, DOB notes that Pictometry images have been used as DOB exhibits in at least three other appeal cases before the Board regarding the registration of advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Pictometry images are compelling evidence that the Sign was discontinued from at least July 5, 2009 to August 12, 2011 and must therefore terminate, pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that it properly denied the registration of the Sign as a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that DOB properly denied the registration of the Sign as non-conforming advertising sign because the Appellant failed to rebut DOB's evidence that the Sign was removed and not replaced within two years; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Sign's establishment pursuant to ZR § 42-55 and the Appellant's right to reconstruct the Sign pursuant to ZR § 52-83 are not in dispute; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board finds that, based on the evidence in the record, the Sign was removed and not replaced within two years of removal; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds DOB's photographic evidence showing that the Sign did not exist at the Premises as of July 5, 2009 compelling; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB sufficiently demonstrated the credibility of the dated aerial images provided by Pictometry; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the Appellant's evidence showing that the Sign was removed on August 17, 2009 insufficient in light of DOB's photographic evidence to the contrary; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB did not dispute the Appellant's assertion or supporting evidence that the Sign was restored to the Premises on August 12, 2011; and

1 DOB asserts that, per ZR § 11-22, the provision that results in the elimination of the non-conforming sign (ZR § 52-83) rather than its continued existence (ZR § 42-55(c)) is the "more restrictive" and, therefore, controlling provision. In relevant part, ZR § 11-22 provides that:

> whenever any provision of this Resolution and any other provision of law, whether set forth in this Resolution or in any other law, ordinance or resolution of any kind, impose overlapping or contradictory regulations over the use of land, or over the use or bulk of buildings or other structures, or contain any restrictions covering any of the same subject matter, the provision which is more restrictive or imposes higher standards or requirements shall govern.

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that the Appellant provided no additional evidence or arguments to dispute DOB's assertion with supporting evidence that the Sign was removed no later than July 5, 2009 and restored no sooner than August 12, 2011; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the Sign did not exist at the Premises for at least two years and 36 days; thus, the non-conforming advertising sign use must terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that DOB properly rejected the Appellant's registration of the Sign as a non-conforming advertising sign.

Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on August 6, 2012, is denied.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated April 26, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 300938822 reads, in pertinent part:

> [t]he existing one-family residence in an R5 zoning district has a deficient north side yard and is contrary to Section 23-461 of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R5 zoning district, the proposed legalization of an enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for side yards, contrary to ZR § 23-461; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 9, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 7, 2013 and then to decision on June 4, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 15, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, a member of the surrounding community appeared and provided testimony in opposition to the application, primarily on the basis that he considered the enlargement to be excessive; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of East 19th Street, between Avenue T and Avenue U; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a total lot area of 3,269.5 sq. ft., and is occupied by a single-family home with a complying floor area of approximately 3,206.2 sq. ft. (0.98 FAR); the maximum permitted floor area is 4,087 (1.25 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the premises is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to legalize a 1999 enlargement that resulted in the north side yard width being 2'-0" instead of the required 5'-0"; the requirement is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each;

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a permit was obtained from DOB for the 1999 enlargement and that the plans complied with the Zoning Resolution; however, the contractor deviated from the plans, resulting in the deficient side yard; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the south side yard has an existing non-complying width of 7'-8" and that this width was maintained in the 1999 enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building complies in all other respects with the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R5 zoning district, the proposed legalization of an enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for side yards, contrary to ZR § 23-461; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received May 23, 2013"-(9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum floor area of 3,206.2 sq. ft. (0.98 FAR), a north side yard with a minimum width of 2'-0" and a south side yard with a minimum width of 7'-8", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objections(s) only; no approval has been given by the Board as to the use and layout of the cellar;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Queens, recommends approval of this application, on condition that the applicant: (1) ceases servicing automobiles on the sidewalk and the curb facing 85th Street; (2) ceases all activity relating to the sale of used automobiles; (3) documents any proposed changes to landscaping and provides landscaping at locations where it has been neglected; (4) provides adequate 24-hour lighting for the gasoline canopies, islands, and pump dispensers; (5) prohibits access to the public toilet except by keyed locking device; (6) stores motor oil, waste, and debris in a safe location and free from potential safety hazards to the general public and employees; and (7) addresses all outstanding ECB violations; and

No. 676-53-BZ, it granted a variance to permit the construction and operation of a gasoline service station, automobile wash, lubritorium, motor vehicle repair, storage and sale of accessories, and office; the variance also permitted a curb cut nearer to a residence use district than was permitted under the 1916 Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, on November 26, 1968, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted an application to permit the existing automotive service station

WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant has been amended and the term extended by the Board at various times, including a 1968 amendment that permitted the construction of a one-story enlargement to the existing building; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the requested extension of term and an extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

WHEREAS, the subject site is located at the southwest intersection of Northern Boulevard and 192nd Street, partially within an R3-2 zoning district and partially within an R3X zoning district; and

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Application granted on condition.

Affirmative: Chair Srinivasan, Vice Chair Collins, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Montanez 5

WHEREAS, this is an application for an extension of term for a variance to allow Use Group 6 retail stores on the first story of an existing five-story mixed residential and commercial building, which expired on April 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 14, 2013, and then to decision on June 11, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application, on condition that the Board maintains its prior prohibition on eating and drinking establishments and limits the term of the renewal to five years; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the north side of East 58th Street, between Second Avenue and Third Avenue, within an R8B zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a five-story mixed residential and commercial building, with two retail stores on the first story, and residences on the second through fifth stories; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since January 4, 1967 when, under BSA Cal. No. 633-66-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the conversion of the first story from residential to Use Group 6 retail stores; the Board granted a 15-year term, to expire on January 4, 1982; and

WHEREAS, the grant expired on January 4, 1982, and was reinstated under the subject calendar number on April 8, 2003; the 2003 grant was for a term of ten years, to expire on April 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks a ten-year extension of the term for the Use Group 6 retail stores; the also applicant seeks clarification from the Board that a Use Group 6 eating and drinking establishment is permitted under the prior grants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that because the prior grants, which authorize "a retail store, Use Group 6," did not contain a condition prohibiting a Use Group 6 eating and drinking establishment, no such condition exists; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that under the original grant (BSA Cal. No. 633-66-BZ) the Board specifically authorized "a retail store" only, and that under the 2003 reinstatement (under the subject calendar) the Board did not eliminate or waive the restriction; thus, it deliberately limited the kind of Use Group 6 use allowed under the variance; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding, the "retail store" language of the grant, the applicant asserts that an eating and drinking establishment is appropriate and seeks to expand the potential Use Group 6 uses; and

WHEREAS, at the Board's request, the applicant submitted an area study of all buildings within a 400-foot radius to identify the pattern of uses; the study reflects that there are 23 active eating and drinking establishments in the area; and

WHEREAS, based on the study and on its own observations, the Board notes that there are a significant number of eating and drinking establishments in the area; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board notes that eating and drinking establishments have different impacts on the surrounding neighborhood, particularly on the conforming residential uses, than do retail stores; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant has not shown sufficient need to justify the inclusion of eating and drinking establishments in the grant; indeed, the Board notes that stores are currently operating at the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the retention of the restriction is proper, absent evidence from the applicant that the restriction prevents the owner from realizing a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant did not submit any evidence that the retail stores were failing to provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board declines to expand the permitted Use Group 6 use to include eating and drinking establishments; nevertheless, the Board finds that the requested extension of term is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens, and amends the resolution, dated April 8, 2003, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to extend the term for a period of ten years, to expire on April 8, 2023; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received January 25, 2013'- (3) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on April 8, 2023;

THAT the only commercial uses permitted will be Use Group 6 retail stores;

THAT eating and drinking establishments will not be permitted;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT the conditions above and the conditions from the prior resolutions will be noted on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R3-1 zoning district within the Special Bay Ridge District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area, side yards and perimeter wall height, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-631; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 12, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on April 16, 2013 and May 14, 2013, and then to decision on June 11, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 10, Brooklyn, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns about configuration of the roofline and total height and the size of the rear enlargement, which it finds objectionable and not in keeping with the character of the block; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Vincent J. Gentile, provided testimony in opposition to the application, citing the same concerns as the Community Board; and

WHEREAS, the district manager for Community Board 10, a representative of the Bay Ridge Conservancy and certain members of the surrounding community provided testimony in opposition to the application, citing the same concerns as the Community Board; and

WHEREAS, a member of the community provided testimony in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of 76th Street, between Narrows Avenue and Colonial Road, within an R3-1 zoning district within the Special Bay Ridge District; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a total lot area of 2,379.2 sq. ft. and is occupied by a single-family home with a floor area of 1,271.62 sq. ft. (0.53 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the premises is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks an increase in the floor area from 1,271.62 sq. ft. (0.53 FAR) to 1,926.76 sq. ft. (0.81 FAR); the maximum permitted floor area is 1,427.52 sq. ft. (0.60 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to maintain the existing non-complying side yards, which have widths of 3'-9½" and 3'-6"; the requirement is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to maintain the existing perimeter wall height of 22'- 3½" and increase the building height from 28'- 3/4" to 35'-0"; the maximum permitted perimeter wall height is 21'-0" and the maximum permitted building height is 35'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that ZR § 73-622(3) allows the Board to waive the perimeter wall height only in instances where the proposed perimeter wall height is equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed perimeter wall height, 22'-3½", is existing and is less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, which is 22'-3¾"; the applicant submitted a survey in support of this representation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that it is providing a rear yard depth of more than 38 feet, which is eight feet more than the minimum required depth of 30 feet and nearly twice the depth (20 feet) permitted by the special permit under ZR § 73-622 and routinely approved by the Board; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood and will not impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in response to the community's concerns that the enlargement is out of character with the neighborhood, the applicant asserts that the requested waivers are modest and the proposed building is compatible with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that: (1) the floor area is consistent with the neighborhood character; (2) the side yard dimensions are existing non-compliances that are being maintained; and (3) the perimeter wall height is an existing non-compliance that is being maintained and matches the adjacent building's perimeter wall height; and

WHEREAS, as to floor area, the applicant submitted an area study of the 172 buildings within 600 feet of the site; based on the study, 127 buildings have an FAR in excess of the maximum permitted in the district (0.60 FAR), and 59 buildings have an FAR in excess of the FAR proposed under the subject application (0.81 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that during the hearing process, the applicant amended the proposal to create a more harmonious curbside appearance with the immediately adjacent homes; specifically, the attic was set back three feet from the street wall, additional plantings were included, and the entranceway was modified; in addition, the applicant submitted a streetscape plan that demonstrates that the proposal is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the applicant's area study and has visited the site and concludes that the revised proposal is well within the parameters permitted under the special permit and that the height and rear enlargement which seem to be of greatest concern to the community are actually within the as-of-right building envelope and do not require any waiver from the Board, except for the extension of the existing, non-complying yard and perimeter wall conditions; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board notes that of the three required waivers only the floor area increase is not associated with an existing, non-complying condition; and

WHEREAS, the Board has noted that the special permit is available in the subject community district and it contemplates greater degrees of waiver; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the Board acknowledged that although the special permit may not be popular among certain members of the community, it is established in the Zoning Resolution subject to the Board making the required findings; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03.

and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. WHEREAS, co-locating the two facilities allows for greater efficiency as it eliminates the need for certain services to be duplicated; and

WHEREAS, the applicant articulated the following primary programmatic needs: (1) a sufficient number of up-to-date operating and procedure rooms, private inpatient rooms, observation units for post-procedure patients, and attendant spaces to satisfy increased patient volumes and current medical standards for its ambulatory care and maternity services; (2) hospital floor plates that are highly flexible and repetitive; (3) relocation of its existing ambulatory surgical and interventional services from the Main Campus to the site; (4) moving selected services to an ambulatory care setting in the proposed Building, to provide state-of-the-art technology, enhance the ambulatory patient care experience, increase operational efficiencies, and improve outcomes and timely access for outpatients; (5) in addition, by relocating the ambulatory care services from the Main Campus, inpatients will be better accommodated in the Main Hospital; and (6) to add private rooms for post-natal recovery; and

WHEREAS, the applicant describes in detail additional programmatic objectives, which include: (1) improving the patient environment and movement through the facility; (2) providing efficient surgical suites that include all operating/procedure rooms adjacent to patient preparatory and recovery areas and support services, separate from public circulation areas and all on a single floor; (3) modern operating rooms measuring between 600-650 sq. ft. that include imaging functions to allow caregivers to access real time information during complex procedures; (4) ideally situated preparation and recovery rooms on the same floor as associated operating rooms to help minimize the patient's exposure to pre-and post-operative infection caused by travel in corridors and elevators and to maximize staff efficiency; (5) promoting efficient circulation patterns to improve access to the patient and equipment by staff and also minimize the risk of infection by separating patient traffic from staff and service traffic; (6) sufficient mechanical space to allow for redundant systems to permit essential backup in case of failure; (7) 20-ft. floor-to-floor heights to allow for the necessary supporting steel, the installation of essential equipment and mechanical systems and to allow for new technological improvements in the ceiling; and (8) providing onsite parking for outpatients, staff, and visitors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that its floor design allows for functional and efficient care, minimizes the need for duplicative staff, and reduces travel distances for patients and staff; one method to achieve its goal of efficient floor design is providing the central clean core workspace that allows staff easy access to essential equipment and case carts, while a perimeter race track corridor is intended for the movement of patients and staff only and for quick removal of soiled material from the procedure rooms; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that locating the mechanical room in the middle of the building reduces the run of pipes, ductwork and chases and the size of the equipment necessary as opposed to if the mechanicals were all on an upper or lower floor; and

WHEREAS, as far as the services in the new ACC, the applicant states that NYPH will focus on the outpatient treatment procedures of (1) infusion and radiation oncology (12 infusion rooms or patient cancer therapies located on the same floor as the radiation oncology area); (2) interventional imaging and diagnostic imaging; (3) ambulatory surgery; (4) endoscopy (12 procedure rooms and 36 prep/recovery rooms); (5) gastroenterology (including 32 exam rooms and 20 physician offices); (6) central sterile processing; (7) preadmission testing (12 exam rooms and an additional ten for multidisciplinary clinic visits); and (8) perioperative and other support services; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the existing operating rooms on the Main Campus, which service both ambulatory and inpatient surgeries, are at or nearly at capacity, limiting further growth of outpatient procedure areas as well as state-of-the-art inpatient surgery; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that dedicated outpatient facilities in the ACC will (1) provide additional capacity to meet the demand for ambulatory surgery, (2) create a more patient-centric and operationally efficient setting for ambulatory procedures in state-of-the-art operating rooms of dimensions adequate to support the latest technologies, and (3) decompress the operating rooms in the Main Campus, resulting in more capacity for inpatient surgery; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the new facilities will allow the development of adequate preparatory and recovery area capacity in the ACC, free up prep/recovery area capacity at the Main Hospital and thereby increase productivity of the operating rooms and operational efficiencies there; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that following a detailed analysis of patient loads on the operating rooms in the Main Hospital, it was determined that the proposed ambulatory surgery suite in the ACC should include 12 operating rooms and 36 preparation and recovery rooms which will accommodate the growing amount of outpatient surgery volumes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that after accounting for equipment requirements and the movement of patients and staff, a typical operating room measures 24 feet wide by 27 feet long; the operating rooms surround a double-loaded clean corridor containing clean surgical supplies and equipment, and staff support space in a sterile environment as required by code; in addition, flexibility zones to accommodate changing technological and procedural requirements should also be provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a typical prep/recovery room measures 11 feet wide by 13 feet long, which is sized to accommodate both the patient and visitors during their stay and it is more efficient to aggregate prep/recovery rooms in multiples of six to optimize staffing ratios and cross coverage while minimizing the distance most patients will have to travel to the operating room; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that based on industry standards for similar programs, the space requirements for the ambulatory surgery department is 37,200 departmental gross sq. ft., and 48,360 building gross sq. ft., including a 1.3 multiplier for building envelope and essential mechanical systems; and

WHEREAS, as far as the services in the new MH, the applicant states that NYPH will focus on (1) improving the labor and delivery facilities to include 18 all-private labor, delivery and recovery rooms; (2) the neonatal intensive care unit will include 65 bassinets; and (3) obstetric beds and maternal fetal medicine will include 81 obstetric beds, including 15 antepartum and 6 postpartum/flex beds and 60 postpartum beds and all private room configuration is industry standard and supports family-centered care for patients, allowing the newborn to "room-in" with the family; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the programmatic needs, the applicant states that the building design is constrained by the following unique conditions of the site: (1) the L-shaped lot and (2) subsurface conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the L-shaped lot containing only 42,677.5 sq. ft. of lot area in total, is not large enough to allow for the ideal 50,000 sq. ft. floor plates; the applicant submitted an analysis demonstrating the impact of the L-configuration on the ideal in the interventional and diagnostic imaging, ambulatory surgery, endoscopy and GI floors, with shortfalls in floor area on these procedural floors ranging between 2,400 and 4,400 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that in total, between 2,400 to 4,400 sq. ft. of desired program space had to be either relocated or eliminated from the procedural floors to accommodate the L-shaped lot; modifications to the ideal had to be made to accommodate the proposal including (1) elimination of zones of flexibility, (2) relocation of certain support functions, including staff locker rooms and perioperative administrative functions, which had to be moved off of the procedural floors onto a separate support floor, and (3) loss of efficiency due to less direct relationships among prep/recovery rooms and procedure rooms; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the ideal depth of a typical procedural floor with an operating suite is 115 feet deep by 200 feet long; to achieve a 12-operating-room suite as is desirable, a minimum 200 feet long by 115 feet deep floor plate is needed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that based on industry standards for an operating suite, an average of 3,100 sq. ft. per operating room or 37,200 sq. ft. for 12 operating rooms was determined to be ideal; this figure excludes public areas and elevator/stair cores that account for an additional approximately 30 percent (11,160 sq. ft.), totaling at least 48,360 sq. ft. per floor; and

WHEREAS, as noted, a floor plate of 50,000 sq. ft. is an ideal generic module for a procedural floor and this typical module meets the space needs of each of the surgical, endoscopy and interventional radiology clinical floors, allowing for adjustments to the module that are specific to each specialty and permitting all related support services to be co-located on each procedural floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that applying the model to the ideal stacking plan, each procedural floor would be vertically stacked along common mechanical, electrical and plumbing chases, ducts, and pre-operative clean and post-operative soiled service elevators and, accordingly, a 50,000 sq. ft., 200 feet deep by 250 feet wide simple rectangular floor plate, would accommodate all of the programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the program is packed tightly into the 42,677 square feet L-shaped lot; on procedural floors this has resulted in the loss of flexibility and some program spaces; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant asserts that the relationships between departments and services, and the industry standards that drive the dimensional and functional requirements in each department, allow little or no room for setbacks that would reduce the floor plates below these essential minimums; the requested modifications of the rear yard, lot coverage, setback and floor area regulations result in large part from the site's L-shaped configuration that reduces the floor plates below acceptable standards, thus creating practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in strictly complying with the applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, as to the subsurface conditions, the applicant states that construction is constrained due to: (1) the presence within FEMA flood plain zone C, with groundwater levels ranging from El. 1 to El. 14; (2) the subsurface soil consists of layers of sand fill and natural sand to El. 4 to El.14 along the eastern boundaries of the site; and (3) bedrock was encountered within about 3 feet below the level of the cellar slabs of the existing buildings on the site (El. 21 and El. 27), except at two points along the eastern boundary of the site where bedrock depth was detected at approximately 18 to 25 feet below the existing cellar slabs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that as a result of these conditions, its engineer determined that in order to accommodate construction of the cellar and sub-cellar down to El. 0.0, approximately 27 feet of rock will need to be excavated, in addition to deeper excavation at footing locations; additionally, the applicant asserts that the site is uniquely burdened by the adjacent Memorial Sloan-Kettering ("MSK") building, the cellar of which is located at a depth of El. -26, which requires that any foundations that are located adjacent to and within 20 feet of the MSK building on the western edges of the site must be extended below El. -26, with column loads supported on caisson piles with rock sockets, whereas columns located beyond 20 feet of the property line can be supported on footings bearing on rock sub-grade; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant asserts that dewatering will be required during construction and to address the presence of groundwater on the exterior foundation walls and beneath the sub-cellar slabs, pressure slabs with a sub-slab waterproofing system or an under-drained slab will be required; foundation walls must also be waterproofed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that there are significant premium costs that lead to almost $19 million for excavation and foundations at the site taking into account the need for dewatering, caissons, and related below-grade conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the sub-surface conditions preclude the ability of constructing any level below a single sub-cellar; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that hospitals generally have multiple sub-cellars and such a design would allow NYPH to reduce the degree of waivers by locating additional program space below grade, however the cost associated with additional sub-cellar levels are in the range of $15 million to $27 million per level; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested modifications of the rear yard, lot coverage, setback, and floor area regulations result in part from the soil, bedrock and groundwater conditions found at the site that strictly limit below-grade construction, thus creating practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in strictly complying with the applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant studied as-of–right alternatives which considered a complying development scheme that proposed to locate three procedural floors (infusion and radiation oncology, interventional and diagnostic imaging, and endoscopy) in sub-cellars three through five but, even if the cost to remove bedrock and provide the structure necessary to withstand water pressure on slabs and foundations at 100 feet below curb level were not prohibitive, sub-grade procedural floors are undesirable for quality of care reasons; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that due to the specific programmatic requirements of the NYPH, and in particular the needs of the MH, it is not possible to develop the project in conformance with the 8.56 adjusted maximum FAR and in order to accommodate the ACC in above grade floors that provide the necessary adjacencies between procedural floors and support services, allow access to daylight for an enhanced patient experience, and avoid costly excavation for multiple sub-cellars; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that neither the option to provide significant sub-grade space, due to its cost and failure to provide desirable space, nor the option to construct an as-of-right building without multiple cellar levels would serve NYPH's programmatic needs; in the latter alternative, the MH could not be accommodated at all as approximately 8.07 FAR or 344,412 above grade sq. ft. would be required to be devoted to the ACC, including lobbies and building-wide general services, which would leave only .49 FAR for the MH; and

WHEREAS, consequently, the applicant states that in order to facilitate development of the 5.26 FAR, 224,389 sq. ft. MH, a variance to allow 13.33 FAR, or an increase over the allowable of 4.77 FAR is requested; and

WHEREAS, as to lot coverage, the applicant states that due to the requirements of the procedural floors in the ACC, a departmental gross floor area of approximately 33,000 sq. ft. is necessary; applying a 1.3 multiplier to the departmental gross to allow for vertical and horizontal circulation, mechanical and building envelope, a building gross floor area equal to approximately the area of the site is the minimum workable floor plate for the proposal; thus, in order to facilitate the development, a variance to allow 100 percent lot coverage is requested; and

WHEREAS, as to required setbacks and rear yards, the applicant states that due to the programmatic requirements of NYPH, and in particular the requirements of the procedural floors in the ACC, a building gross floor area equal to approximately the area of the site is the minimum workable floor plate for the proposal; thus, in order to facilitate development of the Building, variances to allow penetrations of the front and rear setback requirements are requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the requested parking excess of 38 spaces is required to help satisfy the demand; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that NYPH, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the above, the Board finds that the limitations and inefficiencies of the site, when considered in conjunction with the programmatic needs of NYPH, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since NYPH is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate

use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building would be in keeping with the character of the surrounding neighborhood, which is defined by numerous medical and other institutional uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the area bounded by the East River, First Avenue, East 71st Street, and East 65th Street is almost entirely institutional in character, home to medical, educational and research institutions of world-class quality and renown and located on large superblock campuses; and

WHEREAS, as to the FAR context, the applicant notes that nearby there is a 40-story 16.94 FAR residential tower located at 400 East 70th Street on the corner of First Avenue and East 70th Street, and the 15-story 11.4 FAR WCMC Weill Greenberg building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant cites to other buildings in the vicinity including the Belfer Biomedical Research Building located to the north on East 69th Street, approved pursuant to a Board approval (BSA Cal. No. 170-08-BZ), with 12.71 FAR and six sub-cellars, in the R8 zoning district, and the adjacent MSK Zuckerman Research Center, which was the subject of a zoning map amendment that changed the zoning district from R8 to R9 and a City Planning special permit to modify height and setback requirements as well as a variance (BSA Cal No. 130-01 BZ) to facilitate construction of an 11.24 FAR, 23-story building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided a diagram of the building massing in the area that reflects that the proposed height at 341.46 feet above site average mean curb level to the top of the parapet and at elevation 375 feet above Manhattan Datum, is within the range of height and massing of the buildings surrounding it; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the MSK Zuckerman Research Center located to the immediate south and west of the site and sharing property lines with it, rises to elevation 443.09 feet above Manhattan Datum; the Belfer Research Building across from the site on East 69th Street rises to elevation 335.50; the Weill Greenberg Center rises along York Avenue to elevation 267.66; the Main Campus buildings at the east side of York Avenue, rise to 26 stories and elevation 395.50; the Helmsley Medical Building rises on York Avenue at 70th Street to 39 floors and elevation 423.91; and the Payson House across the street rises to elevation 332; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that with respect to the East 68th Street, East 69th Street, and York Avenue street walls, the as-of-right building would set back 12 feet from York Avenue and 15 feet from East 68th and 69th Streets, disrupting the street wall continuity established on both sides of the streets and on York Avenue to comply with the alternate setback requirements of ZR § 24-53; and

WHEREAS, in contrast, the applicant asserts that the Building will conform well to the neighborhood institutional context of street walls that rise without setback and to buildings of similar massing and height as the proposed street wall condition, which rises to the full height of the building without setback, is more similar in character to the existing conditions in the area: the Memorial Hospital building to the south on York Avenue rises to 19 stories and approximately 275 feet without setback; the MSK Zuckerman Research Center rises without setback on East 68th and 69th Streets to 443 feet; the Belfer Research Building rises without setback on East 69th Street to approximately 335 feet; and Weill Greenberg Center rises without setback at the corner of East 70th Street and York Avenue to 267 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the area's residential zoning does not reflect the actual built conditions of so many educational and health-related institutions and, consequently, the vast majority of institutional buildings developed on these sites have relied on discretionary approvals from the Board or the City Planning Commission ("CPC") in order to meet their programmatic needs; such approvals have in included relief for lot coverage, rear yard, height and setback and floor area regulations; and

WHEREAS, in addition to NYPH's Main Campus that spans from the east side of York Avenue to East 68th and East 71st Streets, Weill Cornell Medical School, the Hospital for Special Surgery, Memorial Sloan Kettering and Rockefeller University occupy nearly every lot with institutional buildings; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that the superblock east of York Avenue and bounded by East 68th Street to the south and East 71st Street to the north includes the main hospital campus for NYPH and a portion of the WCMC; at 1320 York Avenue at 70th Street, the Helmsley Medical Tower provides guest facilities for patients and their families, apartments for staff, and offices; east of the Helmsley Medical Tower and the NYPH Annex building is the Hospital for Special Surgery; west of the Helmsley Medical Tower across York Avenue is the Stich Radiation Oncology Center; the WCMC Weill Greenberg Center at 1305 York Avenue at East 70th Street; to the north of the site on East 69th Street, WCMC is constructing the Belfer Research Building; Memorial Hospital is located directly south of the site across East 68th Street; Memorial Hospital and other buildings that are part of the MSK Cancer Center occupy the entire block bounded by East 67th and 68th Streets and York and First Avenues; and at 415-417 East 68th Street is MSK's Zuckerman Research Center; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that it is critical that institutions need to be in close proximity to each other to enable collaborative efforts leading to development of cutting-edge medical technologies, education, clinical support, and patient care and that such collaboration and advancement also demands that these institutions be able to enlarge and adapt their facilities to continue to meet changing technological and care models, even in the face of limited availability of development sites within these geographical boundaries; and

requirements, in the R10 portion of the lot, a residential building designed according to the Quality Housing regulations would be permitted to occupy 100 percent of the corner lot; the adjacent seven-story wing of the Zuckerman Research Center on East 68th Street contains an auditorium and laboratories located along the rear of the building and set back 30 feet from the rear property line and no residential uses, community facility uses containing sleeping rooms, or hospital bedrooms are located in this portion of the Zuckerman Research Center; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the proposal will be consistent with rear yard conditions on the block and will not deprive residential uses or community facilities with sleeping accommodations of required light and air; and

WHEREAS, further, the only property immediately adjacent to the site is the Zuckerman Research Center to the west and south; all other properties are located across East 68th Street, East 69th Street, or York Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed height is permitted as-of-right, and asserts that the proposed increase in FAR to 13.33 would have no effect on the use and development of the Research Center and the 38 car increase in the number of permitted parking spaces on the site would be irrelevant to the use and development of the Research Center; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concludes that the building envelope conforms to the size and massing of the other buildings within this institutional geographical area, NYPH's proposal will develop the site with an institutional project that makes the best use of the Site's constraints, will supply its patients and the NYPH community with essential maternity hospital, ambulatory care services, and translational medicine environment, and will facilitate improvement of outdated facilities on the Main Campus; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of NYPH could occur on the existing site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum relief necessary to accommodate the projected programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the applicant's program needs and assertions as to the insufficiency of a complying scenario and has determined that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow NYPH to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 13BSA065M, dated June 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials, and air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the April 2013 Remedial Action Work Plan and site-specific Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's May 2013 air quality screening analysis and determined that the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant stationary source air quality impacts based on the conditions below; and

WHEREAS, the noise monitoring results in the EAS determined that window-wall noise attenuation and an alternate means of ventilation (central air conditioning) should be provided in the proposed building in order to achieve an interior noise level of 50 dBA or lower in the ACC and 45 dBA or lower in the MH; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and the Board of Standards and Appeals makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, within R8, R9, and R10 zoning districts, the construction of a 15-story ambulatory care center and maternity hospital for New York Presbyterian Hospital-Weill Cornell Medical Center that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio, lot coverage, front setback, rear setback, rear yard, rear yard equivalent, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-36, 24-382, 24-522, and 13-133, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received June 5, 2013" – twenty-six (26) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the proposed building will be in accordance with the approved plans and be limited to 568,801 sq. ft. of floor area (13.33 FAR); a maximum height of 341.46 feet; and 224 parking space, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT DOB will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided them with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT the sound attenuation measures in the proposed building will be maintained as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the boiler exhaust stack be located 10 feet above the proposed rooftop on the northeast area of the building;

THAT the boilers utilize low NOx burners of 30 ppm or less;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated January 15, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420781773, reads in pertinent part:

> Physical Culture Establishment use is not permitted in an M1-1 zoning district per ZR Sec. 42-10 and therefore requires a ZR Sec. 73-36 special permit from the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located partially within an M1-1 zoning district and partially within a C4-2A zoning district, the legalization of an existing physical culture establishment ("PCE") on a portion of the ground floor and mezzanine levels of a one-story commercial and manufacturing building, contrary to ZR §§ 32-10 and 42-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 14, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on June 11, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Queens, recommended disapproval of the application because the mezzanine is inaccessible to persons with certain physical disabilities; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a zoning lot that comprises Tax Lots 5 and 7; Lot 5 has 75.37 feet of frontage along Northern Boulevard and 75 feet of frontage along 38th Street; Lot 7 has 63.08 feet of frontage along Northern Boulevard, 57.33 feet of frontage along Steinway Street, and 39.73 feet of frontage along 38th Street; and

WHEREAS, the site has a total lot area of 22,500 sq. ft.; Lot 5 is occupied by a one-story commercial and manufacturing building with 10,825 sq. ft. of floor area (0.48 FAR); Lot 7 is an open parking lot for the subject site and the adjacent supermarket; and

WHEREAS, the PCE occupies approximately 2,475 sq. ft. of floor area on the ground floor and 3,245 sq. ft. on the mezzanine, for a total PCE floor area of approximately 5,720 sq. ft. (0.25 FAR); the applicant notes that a portion of the ground floor is also used as an automotive laundry and maintenance facility; and

WHEREAS, the PCE is operated as Euphora Health Medi-Spa and Salon ("Euphora"); the applicant states that Euphora has been in operation since June 2010; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the services at the PCE include facilities for instruction and programs for physical improvement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Board previously granted a special permit for the operation of a PCE at the site on July 16, 1996, under BSA Cal. No. 108-95-BZ; the term of that grant was for ten years and expired on July 16, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the hours of operation for the PCE are Tuesday through Saturday, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and closed Sunday and Monday; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA098Q, dated February 13, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located partially within an M1-1 zoning district and partially within a C4-2A zoning district, the legalization of an existing physical culture establishment ("PCE") on a portion of the ground floor and mezzanine levels of a one-story commercial and manufacturing building, contrary to ZR §§ 32-10 and 42-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received May 31, 2013" – Four (4) sheets and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on June 11, 2023;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the physical culture establishment without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT the hours of operation will not exceed Tuesday through Saturday, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and closed Sunday and Monday;

THAT all massages must be performed by New York State licensed massage therapists;

THAT the above conditions will appear on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT Local Law 58/87 compliance, which may include a waiver from the Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities, will be as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT fire safety measures will be installed and/or maintained as shown on the Board-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction will be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all of the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Zoning Specialist, dated February 17, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320373449 reads, in pertinent part:

1. Proposed Floor Area Ratio(FAR) exceeds that permitted by ZR Section 24-11.
2. Proposed lot coverage is contrary to ZR Section 24-11.
3. Proposed minimum required front yards is contrary to ZR Section 24-34.
4. Proposed minimum required side yards are contrary to ZR Section 24-35(a).
5. Proposed maximum height of front wall and required front setback is contrary to ZR Section 24-521.
6. Required parking is not being provided; contrary to ZR Section 25-31; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site in an R2 zoning district, the construction of a two-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for floor area ratio, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height, setback, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521, and 25-31; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 23, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on January 8, 2013, February 26, 2013, and April 9, 2013, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application on condition that the simcha hall use be reserved for use only by the members of the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the adjacent property owner on Avenue N provided a letter in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a petition signed by 376 community members in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community, represented by counsel, provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the application (the "Opposition"); the Opposition's primary concerns are that (1) the applicant has not reliably described the program and the congregant body; (2) the applicant has not established the need for the waivers; (3) the bulk of the building is not compatible with the surrounding area; (4) no parking is being provided (19 parking spaces are required); (5) the environmental analysis is flawed; and (6) any benefit to the community is outweighed by the detriment to the community;

WHEREAS, the Opposition submitted a petition signed by 100 community members opposed to the building proposal and a note saying that more signators were available; and

WHEREAS, this application is being brought on behalf of Congregation Khal Bnei Avrohom Yaakov (the "Synagogue"); and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the northeast corner of East 27th Street and Avenue N in an R2 zoning district with 60 feet of frontage along East 27th Street and 100 feet of frontage along Avenue N; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a lot area of 6,000 sq. ft. and is currently occupied by a residential building with 3,623 sq. ft. of floor area (0.6 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially proposed to construct a new building with the following parameters: a floor area of 9,000 sq. ft. (1.5 FAR) (a maximum of 0.5 FAR is permitted or 1.0 FAR by City Planning special permit under ZR § 74-901); a lot coverage of 75 percent (a maximum lot coverage of 60 percent is permitted); front yards with depths of 10'-0" on East 27th Street and Avenue N (front yards with minimum depths of 15'-0" are required); and no side yards (side yards with minimum widths of 8'-0" and 9'-0" are required); and

WHEREAS, at the Board's direction, the applicant revised the plans to provide side yards along the northern and eastern lot lines; the applicant ultimately reduced the width of the building along Avenue N from 90 feet to 85 feet; and included a side yard with a width of 2'-0" along the northern lot line and a side yard along the eastern lot line with a width of 5'-0"; the applicant reduced the front yard along the southern property line from a depth of 10'-0" to 8'-0"; and

coverage to 71 percent; and a reduced parking requirement from 22 spaces to 19 spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes the following additional non-complying conditions: a perimeter wall height of 29 feet (a maximum wall height of 25 feet is permitted); no setback of the street wall (a front setback within the 1:1 sky exposure plane are required); and no parking spaces (a minimum of 19 parking spaces are required); and

WHEREAS, the proposal provides for the following uses: (1) a simcha hall, restrooms, lobbies, storage, coat rooms, and a pantry at the cellar level; (2) men's sanctuary, men's lobby, a washing station, a coffee room, and a coat room at the first story; and (3) women's sanctuary, lobbies, conference room, rabbi's office, and children's library at the second story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the primary programmatic needs of the Synagogue which necessitate the requested variances: (1) to accommodate a congregation with a desire to expand and currently consists of approximately 250 adults and 280 children; (2) to provide separate worship and study spaces for male and female congregants; (3) to provide the necessary space for offering weekly classes; (4) to provide a children's library; and (5) to satisfy the religious requirement that members of the congregation be within walking distance of the residences of the congregants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks to provide community and religious lectures on weekends, expand its educational programming for children, and offer Talmud classes twice daily; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that for the past five years, it has leased a synagogue building located at 1249 East 18th Street, which accommodates only approximately 110 people; it has approximately 1,600 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the leased building is located approximately 0.7 miles from the proposed synagogue location; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Synagogue has been unable to establish a permanent synagogue in the past five years, having looked at many sites in its search to find a site of the appropriate size and central location to suit its programmatic needs; the site is centrally located within the neighborhood of the Synagogue, allowing congregants to walk to services, as required for religious observance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially determined that it requires approximately 9,000 sq. ft. of floor area and an additional 6,000 sq. ft. in the cellar but, ultimately, through redesign, was able to reduce the number to 8,500 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for a floor area waiver, the applicant notes that a conforming development would be limited to 3,000 sq. ft. of floor area, and 6,000 sq. ft. by City Planning Commission special permit, both significantly less floor area than needed to fulfill the programmatic need; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that in a conforming development, the men's sanctuary would only accommodate 52 people and the women's sanctuary would only accommodate 48 people, whereas the proposed men's sanctuary would accommodate 187 people and the women's would accommodate 141 people; (the original proposal would have accommodated 216 people in the men's sanctuary and 153 people in the women's sanctuary); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that a conforming development would eliminate the main women's lobby and children's library on the second floor; and that there would not be sufficient space to accommodate Talmud classes and other lectures; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for waivers to the front and side yards, and lot coverage, the applicant states a conforming development would result in a floor plate of 1,500 sq. ft. (50 feet by 30 feet), as opposed to the 4,250 sq. ft. floor plate proposed, and therefore would be insufficient to satisfy the Synagogue's programmatic needs to accommodate its congregation; and COMMUNITY BOARD #

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will accommodate more congregants, which is essential considering the current number of congregants who attend the synagogue on weekends and holidays and the anticipated increase in membership; and

WHEREAS, as to the need for height and setback waivers, the applicant represents that the proposal will provide (1) the double-height ceiling of the main sanctuary which is necessary to create a space for worship and respect and an adequate ceiling height for the second floor women's balcony; and (2) other required uses on the second floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the parking waiver is necessary because providing the required 19 parking spaces would render the site wholly inadequate to support the proposed building and such parking spaces are not necessary because congregants must live within walking distance of their synagogue and must walk to the synagogue on the Sabbath and on high holidays; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that 57 percent of the congregation lives within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site, which is less than the 75 percent required under ZR § 25-35 to satisfy the City Planning Commission certification for a locally-oriented house of worship and waiver the parking requirement, but still a significant portion of the congregation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested waivers enable the Synagogue to construct a building that can accommodate its growing congregation as well as provide a separate worship space for men and women, as required by religious doctrine, space for studying and meeting, and a children's library and other lecture space; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raised several concerns regarding the applicants stated programmatic need including (1) justification for the floor area increase based on the number of congregants; and (2) the need for the height and setback waiver; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raised a concern that the request for floor area is not supported by the actual number of congregants who attend the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition questioned the veracity of the applicant's congregant numbers, stating that the applicant conflates the terms "congregants" and "members," which is problematic because the synagogue may have many members but fewer regular congregants; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Opposition's concerns about the congregant list are unprecedented in the religious use context; the Board understands that congregant numbers may fluctuate and may not always correspond with the membership lists, but that Board sees no basis to reject the applicant's list because the Opposition has questions about whether a few of the noted people actually attend another synagogue; further, the Board accepts that the congregation is growing and that the Synagogue seeks to accommodate such growth; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the Opposition asserts that there is no basis for the requested height for the first floor (13'-4" in the area below the women's balcony and greater than 27'-0" in the double-height portion) as it is not required by religious law nor does it improve acoustics; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it has approved many applications from religious institutions seeking additional height for sanctuary space and accepts the applicant's representation that the height is necessary for its meaningful sacred space and to accommodate the second floor balcony; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Synagogue, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Synagogue create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Synagogue is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed use is permitted in the subject R2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant represents that the proposed FAR and all other bulk regulations are consistent with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of its assertions, the applicant provided a study of existing FAR's of larger buildings in the area, which reflects that there are numerous buildings of similar bulk to that proposed; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant identified 15 homes within 600 feet of the subject site that have 1.25 FAR or greater (the ranges is from 1.25 to 3.17 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that there are a number of educational and religious institutions in the area with comparable bulk, including four community facilities in the area with FAR ranging from 1.18 to 8.52; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the proposed 1.4 FAR falls within the range of FAR's of the larger buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is currently occupied by a home that exceeds the maximum permitted floor area, has a noncomplying front yard along East 27th Street, a minimal side yard along its northern lot line, and its garage is built nearly to the eastern lot line; thus, the proposed yards are comparable to the existing and provide more space along the portion of the side lot line occupied by the garage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed side yard with a width of 2'-0" along the northern lot line allows for a distance of 10'-0" from the adjacent home; and similarly, the proposed side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the eastern lot line allows for a distance of 8'-0" from the adjacent home; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant (1) to analyze alternatives that would provide greater side yards than initially proposed and (2) to provide information about the yard context in the area; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant increased the side yards from no side yards in their initial application to widths of two and five feet; the front yard was reduced to eight feet along Avenue N and remained at ten feet along East 27th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a study that identified a significant number of sites in the surrounding area that have front yards with depths of less than eight feet and provide less than ten feet of open area between buildings on adjacent lots; and

WHEREAS, the applicant's study reflects that the three adjacent homes to the east on Avenue N have front yards with depths of less than eight feet and provide less than ten feet of open area between buildings on adjacent lots, a comparable condition to the proposed; and

WHEREAS, the opposition raised concerns regarding the accuracy and reliability of the data used for bulk and yard study; and

WHEREAS, with regard to the Opposition's questions about the reliability of the applicant's bulk and yards analyses, the Board accepts that the applicant relied on publicly available building and land use data and that any inaccurate bulk conditions were not intentional; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that even if the sites with disputed data were eliminated from the analysis, the applicant has still established that the Synagogue is compatible with the surrounding context; and

WHEREAS, as noted, during the hearing process, the Board directed the applicant to provide side yards along the northern and eastern lot lines, even though the adjacent neighbor to the east supported the proposal prior to the inclusion of the side yard with a width of 5'-0" on its shared lot line; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the applicant provided a streetscape which reflects that the adjacent row of homes along Avenue N all have heights of 35'-0" as do the homes on East 27th Street; the adjacent home on East 27th Street has a total height of 37'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the height in excess of 27 feet for portions of the first floor is required in order to promote the metaphysical and physical significance of Judaism in that the ceiling metaphorically reaches to Heaven and gives importance to the space while providing acoustical advantages befitting a place of worship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that high ceilings have historically been an important element of synagogue architecture; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the conforming development would reduce the height of the building and the floor area devoted to sanctuary space; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the proposed total height of the building of 35'-0" does not require a waiver and is contemplated by the zoning district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that four commissioners visited the site on repeated occasions and personally observed and confirmed that the proposal is compatible with the existing context of the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the parking waiver requested will not result in a material increase in street parking in the surrounding area due to the close proximity to the congregants' homes, which allows congregants to walk to the site in observance of religious law; and

WHEREAS, further, as noted above, the applicant represents that 57 percent (fewer than the 75 percent minimum threshold), of congregants live within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site, thus do not meet the minimum threshold for the parking waiver, but are still within the spirit of City Planning's parking waiver for houses of worship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant performed a parking study which reflects that during the times of day when attendance is greatest and most area residents are at home, there were 369 vacant spaces on one day and 342 and 325 vacant spaces on two other days when the study was repeated; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant concludes that there is ample curbside parking to accommodate any demand; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the study was conducted within an approximately one-quarter-mile radius of the subject site, consistent with CEQR Technical Manual methodology; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the trip generation falls below the CEQR Technical Manual threshold size, but, still, it assessed the trip generation based on occupancy and found it would not exceed threshold levels of vehicular traffic generation, even at its peak attendance level of 350 people during the high holidays; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition raises supplemental concerns about the sufficiency of the applicant's environmental review including that the conclusion that no potential for emissions exists is based on the assumption that the heating flue stacks will be more than 50 feet from the nearest building; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Opposition's assertions about the environmental review being insufficient, the applicant supplemented the record with an Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) Full Form, including the following narratives: (1) Introduction, Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; (2) Urban Design and Visual Resources; (3) Transportation; and (4) Air Quality; and clearly identified the location of the heating flue stacks on the roof and their distance from the lot lines; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's concerns about the environmental review, the Board has carefully considered both parties' environmental analyses, including the areas of traffic/parking, open space, air quality, and construction impacts, and agrees that the applicant has correctly applied the CEQR methodology to conclude that the incremental effect of the proposal versus the no build does not trigger any of the CEQR threshold requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the required distance of the heating ducts from adjacent buildings in order to screen the HVAC system is 30 feet, rather than the 50 feet the Opposition alleges and the applicant proposes to locate its rooftop flues more than 30 feet from adjacent buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted responses adequately addressing the concerns raised by the opposition regarding the environmental review; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Board must balance the interests of the community and the Synagogue and deny an application when "the (presumed) beneficial effect may be rebutted with evidence of a significant impact on traffic congestion, property values, municipal services and the like" Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583, (1986); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Board cannot grant a variance until it is assured that the proposed use is not contrary to public health, safety, or welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that in order to appropriately analyze the application, the applicant must define the project fully and accurately including its programmatic needs, the number of people it will service, the hours and days of operation and to analyze each through the application of various strictly defined methodologies prescribed in the CEQR manuals; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also asserts that the traffic study is flawed and that the impact on parking and traffic will be significant to the surrounding area to the extent of diminishing property values; and

WHEREAS, the applicant responded that the Synagogue will have a beneficial impact on the community surrounding the site and will provide a place of worship for many local residents; the applicant asserts that the Synagogue's beneficial effect has not been rebutted with any "evidence of a significant impact on traffic congestion, property values, municipal service, [or] the like," citing to Cornell; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a petition signed by nearly 400 community members in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, further, in response to the Opposition's concerns about the operation of the Synagogue, the applicant revised its application to note that (1) there will be no onsite catering; (2) the simcha hall will be used primarily for Kiddush ceremonies following Sabbath prayer services; and (3) there will be no simultaneous use of the simcha hall and worship areas anytime there is a near-capacity crowd at the synagogue, but they may be used together when neither is at near capacity; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that it has submitted (1) a full and complete description of the proposal including programmatic needs, number of people it will serve, and hours and days of operation; and (2) the Opposition has failed to provide any evidence of a significant negative impact caused by the proposal as required by the New York State courts to deny a variance for a religious institution; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the Opposition's concerns and notes the following: (1) the requirements of ZR § 72-21(a) are met by the demonstration of legitimate programmatic needs and the limitations of the site in meeting those goals; and (2) the case law does not recognize concerns about potential traffic and disruption of residential character of the neighborhood as basis for rejecting a variance request; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Synagogue could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed a lesser variance scenario with a side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the eastern lot line and a side yard with a width of 5'-0" along the northern lot line and asserts that a lesser variance would compromise the programmatic needs of the Synagogue; and

WHEREAS, specifically, a lesser variance scenario that could only accommodate 175 men, as opposed to the 216 in the initial proposal (187 in the current proposal) and 137 women, as opposed to the 153 in the initial proposal (141 in the current proposal) for the women's sanctuary would be insufficient; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the addition of the proposed yards is the most possible without further limiting its ability to accommodate its congregation; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant asserts that many of the rooms on the first and second floors, including the rabbi's office, children's library, and conference room would be greatly reduced under the lesser variance scenario; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the requested waivers to be the minimum necessary to afford the Synagogue the relief needed to meet its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 12BSA095K, dated March 12, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, topermit, on a site in an R2 zoning district, the construction of a two-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for floor area ratio, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height, setback, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521; on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received May 15, 2013" – Fourteen (14) sheets and "Received May 17, 2013" – One (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: three stories; a maximum floor area of 8,500 sq. ft. (1.41 FAR); front yards with depths of 8'-0" on the southern lot line and 10'-0" on the western lot line; side yards with widths of 2'-0" on the northern lot line and 5'-0" on the eastern lot line; a maximum lot coverage of 71 percent; a maximum building height of 35'-0"; and a maximum street wall height of 29'-0", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in control or ownership of the building will require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the use will be limited to a house of worship (Use Group 4) and any classes will be accessory to this use;

THAT the use of the cellar kitchen will be limited to warming;

THAT no commercial catering will take place onsite;

THAT there will be no simultaneous use of the simcha hall and worship areas anytime there is more than half capacity in either space;

THAT the site, during construction and under regular operation, will be maintained safe and free of debris;

THAT garbage will be stored inside the building except when in the designated area for pick-up;

THAT any and all lighting will be directed downward and away from adjacent residences;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT rooftop mechanicals will comply with all applicable Building Code and other legal requirements, including noise guidelines, as reviewed and approved by the Department of Buildings and that the flue stacks be located at least 30 feet from adjacent buildings, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 21, 2013.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated December 21, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 120406131, reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 24-11 Proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not qualify as a permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33 and therefore increases the degree of non-compliance with respect to lot coverage, contrary to ZR 24-11 and ZR 54-31;
2. ZR 24-36 Proposed vertical extension of building portion exceeding 23 ft above curb level and the proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not qualify as permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33 and therefore increases the degree of rear yard non-compliance, contrary to ZR 24-36 and ZR 54-31;
3. ZR 24-522 Portion of proposed vertical extension of building at the 5th and 6th story levels penetrates the sky exposure plane and increases degree of front setback non-compliance, contrary to ZR 24-522 and ZR 54-31;
4. ZR 33-26 Proposed vertical extension of building portion exceeding 23 ft above curb level in C1-9 district does not qualify as permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 33-23 and therefore increases degree of rear yard non-compliance, contrary to ZR 33-26 and ZR 54-31; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site partially within an R7-2 zoning district and partially within a C1-9 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building to accommodate classrooms and an exercise and activity space ("the Enlargement"), and the construction of a bridge ("the Bridge") between the subject building located at 175 West 89th Street ("the South Building") and the building located at 148 West 90th Street ("the North Building"), which do not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, minimum required rear yard, permitted obstructions in a rear yard, and sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-33, 24-36, 24-522, 33-23, 33-26 and 54-31; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a companion variance application to allow the Bridge construction within the rear yard of the North Building has been filed under BSA Cal. No. 11-13-BZ and decided at the same hearing; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Gail Brewer submitted a letter in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of the Stephen Gaynor School (the "School"), a nonprofit educational institution founded in 1962, which serves approximately 300 students with various special needs ranging in age from three to 14; and

WHEREAS, the subject site, which is Tax Lot 5, is an interior lot located on the north side of West 89th Street between Amsterdam Avenue and Columbus Avenue, partially within an R7-2 zoning district and partially within a C1-9 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by the South Building, a five-story building that was originally constructed in 1892 as a boarding stable and came to be known as the Claremont Stables; the South Building was designated as an individual landmark by the Landmarks Preservation Commission in 1990, and it is also on the National Register of Historic Places; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the School purchased the South Building in 2009 and currently utilizes a portion of the first story and the entire second story as its Early Childhood Center; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the campus of the School currently includes seven stories of the 11-story North Building and two stories of the five-story South Building; there is another School-owned building under construction at 171 West 89th Street; each building is a separate tax and zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the South Building has a height of 79.18 feet, including mechanicals and a total floor area of 34,404 sq. ft., with 9,255 sq. ft. (4.60 FAR) located within the C1-9 portion of the lot and 25,149 sq. ft. (4.54 FAR) located within the R7-2 portion of the lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the South Building and construct a bridge in the rear yard to connect to the North Building, which would increase the floor area to 38,412 sq. ft. and result in an FAR increase from 4.60 FAR to 5.34 FAR within the C1-9 portion of the lot and 4.54 FAR to 4.99 FAR within the R7-2 portion of the lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the South Building has the following existing, non-compliances: (1) the lot coverage within the R7-2 portion of the lot is 95 percent (per ZR § 24-11, the maximum lot coverage is 65 percent); (2) the rear yard is 5.04 feet (per ZR § 24-36, a minimum rear yard depth of 30 feet is required; per ZR § 33-26, a minimum rear yard depth of 20 feet is required); (3) the portion of the building wall within the R7-2 district does not provide the required 20-foot front setback, exceeds the 60-foot maximum height, and violates the sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR § 24-522; and (4) the projecting blade sign located above the main entrance exceeds the maximum size permitted by ZR § 22-341; the applicant notes that the degree of non-compliance with respect to (3) and (4) will not change under the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, contrary to ZR § 54-31, the proposal will increase the degree of non-compliance with respect to: (1) lot coverage, which will increase by one percent; (2) required rear yard within the R7-2 district, which, as a result of the Bridge, will be decreased by an area of approximately 41 sq. ft. and, as a result of the Enlargement, will be decreased by a total area of approximately 1,372 sq. ft. (the Bridge is not a permitted obstruction, per ZR § 24-33); (3) sky exposure plane, which will be penetrated by the 170.5 sq. ft. portion of the Enlargement that is located at the front of the South Building; and (4) required rear yard within the C1-9 district, which, as a result of the Enlargement, will be decreased by an area of approximately 300 sq. ft. (this portion of the South Building is not a permitted obstruction, per ZR § 33-23); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Enlargement will accommodate three new academic/science classrooms on the fifth story, and a multifunctional activity space on the sixth story and rooftop; the proposed Bridge will integrate the South Building with the North Building; and

variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the variance is necessary to meet the School's programmatic needs of: (1) providing sufficient space to carry out its specialized curriculum, which is heavily infused with exercise, art, and photography; and (2) minimizing travel time between the South Building and the North Building in order to maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the specialized curriculum of the School, the applicant states that because the School specializes in educating children with special needs and certain learning differences, it emphasizes physical education and the arts to a much greater degree than mainstream schools, because these subjects help the students with both confidence and focus; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that due to the relationship between physical activity and creating an effective learning environment for the School's students, the proposed activity space on the sixth story—which includes a synthetic floor that accommodates a multitude of activities—is neither recreational nor elective, but rather an important component of the School's highly-specialized educational program; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal would allow for the creation of several new spaces to effectively conduct the curriculum; specifically, the Enlargement would result in new seminar rooms, a multi-media arts room, a state-of-the-art digital photography lab, and physical activity space, as mentioned above; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that the Enlargement effectively addresses the School's programmatic need to provide sufficient space to carry out its specialized curriculum and create a learning environment that is tailored to the particular needs of its student body; and

WHEREAS, as to the need to minimize travel time between the South Building and the North Building, the applicant represents that, currently, students, faculty and staff who must travel between the buildings must exit the front of their building on either West 89th Street (the subject building) or West 90th Street (the North Building), walk west to Amsterdam Avenue and travel either north or south for an entire block before turning east toward the other front door, a trip that takes approximately 15 minutes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the School has determined that, on average, a student travels between the two buildings seven times per week, for a total weekly travel time of approximately 105 minutes; the applicant notes that this is the equivalent of more than two full class periods; in addition, because the walk takes the students past an active garage, traveling students are required to be accompanied by a faculty member; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the travel between the buildings is necessary because the School has a variety of educational specialists throughout the two buildings who provide one-on-one assistance to students; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that several classes attended by most students are only offered in one building; for example, Music, Gym and Library are currently offered only in the North Building; and although there are cafeterias in both buildings, there is insufficient space for all students to eat, and Middle School students from the North Building must travel to the South Building for lunch; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that student arrivals and dismissals are located in the North Building, so students taking all or most of their instruction in the subject building would benefit from the construction of the Bridge; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that the Bridge most effectively meets the School's programmatic need to minimize travel time and maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the selection of the fourth story for the location of the Bridge, the applicant states that such placement will enable the overlap and access of two similar programs between the Lower School in the North Building and the Middle School in the South Building; in particular, the North Building students will have access to Mixed Media and Digital Arts program and the physical activity space created by the Enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that there is no as-of-right alternative for the proposed development because the building already exceeds the maximum permitted lot coverage, violates the sky exposure plane, and does not provide the required rear yard at all stories above the first story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the location of the stair and elevator bulkheads prevent the construction of the proposed activity space at the fifth story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Bridge could not be located at the cellar, first, second, third or fifth stories without significantly disrupting existing program or mechanical spaces; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that: (1) a connection at the cellar level would interfere with well-established program and support space; (2) a connection at the first story would interfere with a planned performing arts classroom at the South Building; (3) a bridge at the second story would interfere with a portion of the South Building's Early Childhood Center, whose program requires isolation due to the age of the students; (4) a bridge at the third story would interfere with program space in both buildings and create an elevational challenge for mechanical stacks located at the second story play yard at the North Building; and (5) a bridge at the fifth story would adversely affect the proposed classrooms in the South Building and significantly increase travel times for the North Building's third story students; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that satisfying the School's programmatic needs without the Bridge and the Enlargement would require enlargement of one or both buildings (with new height and setback waiver requests) and the creation of redundant facilities, at significant cost; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the width and height of the Bridge have been minimized to those dimensions necessary to further the School's mission and provide safe egress; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the School create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the School is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the block on which the building is located within the West Side Urban Renewal Area and as such there has been considerable eclectic community facility development over the past half century; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the midblock is largely developed with religious, educational, and cultural institutions; the North Building is shared with Ballet Hispanico, an internationally-renowned dance company, the block to the south (Block 1219) is largely occupied by P.S. 166, and a large NYCHA development is located on the block to the north of the subject block (Block 1221); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that both the Enlargement and the Bridge will be minimally visible to the public; the Bridge will only be obliquely visible from West 89th Street and will be visible to—and approximately 80 feet from—only the northernmost windows on the rear elevation of The Sagamore, a residential building located at 189 West 89th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that approximately 45 percent of the new floor area will be within the rear yards of the South Building and the North Building, which minimizes the impact of the expansion on adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant notes that the proposed use is permitted in the subject zoning district and that the general welfare of any community is furthered by the strengthening of educational facilities;

WHEREAS, the Board notes that on April 30, 2012, the Landmarks Preservation Commission issued a Certificate of Appropriateness with respect to the proposal; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created, and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the School could occur given the existing conditions of the South Building and the North Building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to accommodate the School's current and projected programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow the School to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA083M dated January 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the School would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site partially within an R7-2 zoning district and partially within a C1-9 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building to accommodate classrooms and an exercise and activity space, and the construction of a bridge between the subject building located at 175 West 89th Street and the building located 148 West 90th Street, which do not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, minimum required rear yard, permitted obstructions in a rear yard, front setback, and sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-33, 24-36, 24-522, 33-23, 33-26 and 54-31, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 1, 2013" – seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the South Building: a total floor area of 38,412 (4.99 FAR in the R7-2 district and 5.34 FAR in the C1-9 district), a maximum building height of 95'-7/8", a maximum street wall height without setback of 72'-0", and 96 percent lot coverage in the R7-2 district and 95 percent lot coverage in the C1-9 district, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the school requires review and approval by the Board;

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 21, 2013.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated December 21, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121397201, reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 24-11 24-33 Proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not comply with lot coverage requirements because the proposed bridge does not qualify as a permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33, contrary to ZR 24-11
2. ZR 24-33 24-36 Proposed bridge connection at the 4th story level in R7-2 district does not comply with rear yard requirements because the proposed bridge does not qualify as a permitted obstruction pursuant to ZR 24-33, contrary to ZR 24-36; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site within an R7-2 zoning district, the construction of a bridge ("the Bridge") between the subject building located at 148 West 90th Street ("the North Building") and the building located at 175 West 89th Street ("the South Building"), which does not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, minimum required rear yard, and permitted obstructions in a rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11,

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a companion variance application to allow enlargement of the South Building and construction of the Bridge within its rear yard has been filed under BSA Cal. No. 10-13-BZ and decided at the same hearing; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Gail Brewer submitted a letter in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Stephen Gaynor School (the "School"), a nonprofit educational institution founded in 1962, which serves approximately 300 students with various special needs ranging in age from three to 14; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior lot located on the south side of West 90th Street between Amsterdam Avenue and Columbus Avenue, within an R7-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 65 feet of frontage along West 90th Street and a lot area of 6,546 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site, which is Tax Lot 7506, was merged into a single zoning lot with Tax Lot 107 in 2004; Lot 107 has 47.5 feet of frontage along West 89th Street and a total lot area of 4,783; together the lots have a combined lot area of 11,329 sq. ft. and a total floor area of 50,050 sq. ft. (4.42 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is currently occupied by the 11-story North Building; the School occupies the first through seventh stories, Ballet Hispanico occupies the eighth through tenth stories, and the 11th story comprises mechanical space shared by both the School and Ballet Hispanico; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Ballet Hispanico also occupies the two-story building on Lot 107; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the campus of the School currently includes seven stories of the 11-story North Building and two stories of the five-story South Building; there is another School-owned building under construction at Lot 7 (171 West 89th Street); each building is a separate zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the North Building complies in all respects with the zoning resolution; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to create a bridge between the North Building and the South Building ("the Bridge"), which will increase the floor area from 50,050 sq. ft. (4.42 FAR) to 50,263 sq. ft. (4.43 FAR) and create new non-compliances with respect to rear yard, lot coverage, and permitted obstructions, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-33 and 24-36; specifically, the Bridge will: (1) encroach upon the required 30-foot rear yard for the full depth of the yard, a width of seven feet, and an area of 213 sq. ft.; (2) increase lot coverage from 65 percent, which complies, to 67 percent, which does not comply; and (3) violate ZR § 24-33, because the Bridge is a portion of the building located within the required rear yard at a height of greater than 23 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed Bridge will integrate the North Building with the South Building; and

WHEREAS, because the Bridge does not comply with the applicable bulk regulations in the subject zoning district, the applicant seeks the requested variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the variance is necessary to meet the School's programmatic need to minimize travel time between the North Building and the South Building in order to maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the need to minimize travel time between the North Building and the South Building, the applicant represents that, currently, students, faculty and staff who must travel between the buildings must exit the front of their building on either West 90th Street (the North Building) or West 89th Street (the South Building), walk west to Amsterdam Avenue and travel either north or south for an entire block before turning east toward the other front door, a trip that takes approximately 15 minutes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the School has determined that, on average, a student travels between the two buildings seven times per week, for a total weekly travel time of approximately 105 minutes; the applicant notes that this is the equivalent of more than two full class periods; in addition, because the walk takes the students past an active garage, traveling students are required to be accompanied by a faculty member; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the travel between the buildings is necessary because the School has a variety of educational specialists throughout the two buildings who provided one-on-one assistance to students; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that several classes attended by most students are only offered in one building; for example, Music, Gym and Library are currently offered only in the North Building; and although there are cafeterias in both buildings, there is insufficient space for all students to eat, and Middle School students from the North Building must travel to the South Building for lunch; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that student arrivals and dismissals are located in the North Building, so students taking all or most of their instruction in the subject building would benefit from the construction of the Bridge; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that the Bridge most effectively meets the School's programmatic need to minimize travel time and maximize instruction and learning times; and

WHEREAS, as to the selection of the fourth story for the location of the Bridge, the applicant states that such placement will enable the overlap and access of two similar programs between the Lower School in the North Building and the Middle School in the South Building; in particular, the North Building students will have access to the Mixed Media and Digital Arts program and the physical activity space created by the Enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Bridge could not be located at the cellar, first, second, third or fifth stories without significantly disrupting existing program or mechanical spaces; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that: (1) a connection at the cellar level would interfere with well-established program and support space; (2) a connection at the first story would interfere with a planned performing arts classroom at the South Building; (3) a bridge at the second story would interfere with a portion of the South Building's Early Childhood Center, whose program requires isolation due to the age of the students; (4) a bridge at the third story would interfere with program space in both buildings and create an elevational challenge for mechanical stacks located at the second story play yard at the North Building; and (5) a bridge at the fifth story would adversely affect the proposed classrooms in the South Building and significantly increase travel times for the North Building's third story students; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that satisfying the School's programmatic needs without the Bridge would require enlargement of one or both buildings (with new height and setback waiver requests) and the creation of redundant facilities, at significant cost; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the width and height of the Bridge have been minimized to those dimensions necessary to further the School's mission and provide safe egress; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the School create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the School is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the block on which the North Building is located within the West Side Urban Renewal Area and as such there has been considerable eclectic community facility development over the past half century; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the midblock is largely developed with religious, educational, and cultural institutions; the North Building is shared with Ballet Hispanico, an internationally-renowned dance company, the block to the south (Block 1219) is largely occupied by P.S. 166, and a large NYCHA development is located on the block to the north of the subject block (Block 1221); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Bridge will be minimally visible to the public; the Bridge will only be obliquely visible from West 89th Street and will be visible to—and approximately 80 feet from—only the northernmost windows on the rear elevation of The Sagamore, a residential building located at 189 West 89th Street; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant notes that the proposed use is permitted in the subject zoning district and that the general welfare of any community is furthered by the strengthening of educational facilities; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created, and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the School could occur given the existing conditions of the North Building and the South Building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to accommodate the School's current and projected programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow the School to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, 13BSA083M dated January 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the School would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual

Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site within an R7-2 zoning district, the construction of a bridge between the building located at 148 West 90th Street and the building located at 175 West 89th Street, which does not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, minimum required rear yard, and permitted obstructions in a rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-33 and 24-36, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 1, 2013" – twenty (20) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the North Building: a floor area of 50,263 sq. ft. (4.43 FAR) and 67 percent lot coverage, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the school requires review and approval by the Board;

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 21, 2013.

The resolution has been amended. Corrected in Bulletin No. 24, Vol. 98, dated June 19, 2013.

WHEREAS, this is an application for an amendment to a prior grant to permit the conversion of automotive service bays to an accessory convenience store; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 21, 2013, and then to decision on June 18, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 15, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the southwest corner of Knapp Street and Avenue X, in a C2-2 (R3-2) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since June 22, 1954 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the premises to be occupied by a gasoline service station with accessory uses for a term of 15 years; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant has been amended and the term extended by the Board at various times; and

WHEREAS, on August 11, 2009, the grant was extended for a term of ten years to expire on October 23, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now requests an amendment to permit the conversion of automotive service bays to an accessory convenience store and to enlarge the building by approximately 600 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-412, the Board may amend the grant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the enlargement complies with the parameters of ZR § 11-412 in that the existing floor area is 1,875 sq. ft. and the proposed enlargement is 600 sq. ft. for a total of 2,475 sq. ft.; the maximum permitted enlargement pursuant to ZR § 11-412 would be 937.5 sq. ft. for a total of 2,812.5 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a steel storage container at the site will be removed during the construction process; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to (1) discuss how it complies with DOB's Technical Policy and Procedure Notice (TPPN) 10/99 requirements for accessory convenience stores; and (2) provide signage calculations by frontage and reflect compliance with underlying zoning district regulations; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant states that it complies with the TPPN in that (1) the store will be located on the same zoning lot as the existing automotive service station and will be contained within a completely enclosed building; (2) the retail selling floor will be 1,534 sq. ft. which is less than the maximum permitted 2,500 sq. ft. and less than 25 percent of the area of the zoning lot; and (3) the convenience store will be designated as Use Group 16E and not UG 6; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided a revised zoning analysis by frontage that reflects compliance with the underlying zoning district regulations and has modified the signage accordingly; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated June 22, 1954, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to allow for the conversion of automotive service bays to accessory convenience store, the enlargement of the building, and other related site changes; on condition that all use and operations shall substantially conform to plans filed with this application marked 'Received May 3, 2013' – (3) sheets and 'May 28, 2013'-(2) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT all signage comply with the underlying C2-2 zoning district regulations;

THAT the above condition and all relevant conditions from prior grants appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a new certificate of occupancy will be obtained by June 18, 2015;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks to reduce the amount of signage from 105 sq. ft. to 12 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant seeks to extend the term of the special permit for ten years; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to revise its sign analysis to reflect the correct amount of signage identified on the proposed elevation drawing; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a revised sign analysis that is consistent with the elevation drawing; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for an amendment to a prior grant for the construction of a five-story residential building; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 23, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 4, 2013, and then to decision on June 18, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 9, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of Troy Avenue and Carroll Street, within an R4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, on March 16, 2010, the Board granted a variance under the subject calendar number to permit, on a site within an R4 zoning district, a proposed five-story (including penthouse) residential building with 34 dwelling units and 35 accessory parking spaces, which exceeds the maximum permitted FAR, lot coverage, wall height, total height, and number of dwelling units and, does not provide the minimum required front or side yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-462(a), 23-631(b), 23-22, and 23-45; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board directed the applicant to consider alternative locations for the mechanicals including the potential for it to be within the individual units; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant determined that it could provide mechanicals within the individual units and modified its original request; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks only to reduce the number of dwelling units from 34 to 26 by creating duplex apartments throughout the building and to reduce the number of parking spaces from 35 to 32; and

WHEREAS, based on its review of the record, the Board finds the amendments are appropriate, with the conditions set forth below.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated January 30, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420605768, reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 42-10, 117-21: Proposed physical culture establishment is not permitted as-of-right
2. 136-01-BZ: Proposed conditions are contrary to approved BSA plans under Cal. No. 136-01-BZ; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located within an M1-4/R7A zoning district within the Special Long Island City Mixed Use District and the Hunters Point Subdistrict, a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on the first floor and mezzanine of an existing two-story commercial building, contrary to ZR §§ 42-10 and 117-21; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 4, 2013, and then to decision on June 18, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the north side of 44th Drive between 11th Street and 21st Street within an M1-1/R7A zoning district within the Special Long Island City Mixed Use District and the Hunters Point Subdistrict; and

WHEREAS, the site has 200 feet of frontage on 44th Drive, a depth of 100 feet, and 20,000 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a two-story commercial building with a floor area of 39,999 sq. ft., which is currently occupied by warehouse use on the first floor and offices on the mezzanine and second floor; and

WHEREAS, the site has been under the Board's jurisdiction since June 11, 2002 when the Board granted a variance, pursuant to BSA Cal. No. 136-01-BZ, to permit the enlargement of the existing building and to legalize an encroachment into the rear yard; in 2010, the Board amended the variance to allow for the reduction of the floor area from 55,762 sq. ft., as originally approved, to 31,784 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the Board granted extensions of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy and an amendment to increase the floor area to 39,999 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, by letter, dated June 12, 2013, the Board approved the conversion of the building's entire first floor to commercial use, which involves the removal of the building's parking and loading berth, resulting in an increase of 1,444 sq. ft. of floor area; the addition of a second mezzanine in the northwest corner of the building, totaling 1,654 sq. ft.; and the removal of 3,172 sq. ft. of floor area from the building's second floor to create a double-height space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed changes are related to the PCE design and that the proposed modifications will actually result in a small decrease in the building's total floor area, from 39,999 sq. ft. to 39,970 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that there is no parking requirement for non-residential uses in this section of Queens pursuant to ZR § 13-41, and that a loading berth is not required for the proposed uses; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will be operated as the Cliffs, a rock-climbing facility; and

WHEREAS, the hours of operation for the PCE are Monday through Thursday, from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m., and Sunday from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation (DOI) has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report to the Board; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the applicant responded to DOI's report of an arrest and investigation related to one of the principals; the applicant provided evidence to support the legitimacy of the business, which has a successful facility in Westchester, and asserted that the arrest and investigation were unrelated to the special permit findings and are being addressed in another forum; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed DOI's report and the applicant's response submission and has determined it to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA095Q, dated February 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located within an M1-4/R7A zoning district within the Special Long Island City Mixed Use District and the Hunters Point Subdistrict, a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on the first floor and mezzanine of an existing two-story commercial building, contrary to ZR §§ 42-10 and 117-21; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received April 22, 2013" – Seven (7) sheets and on further condition:

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it was selected following a Request for Proposal issued by the New York City Economic Development Corporation and, as part of the property sale process, it was subject to a series of public reviews including the disposition of City-owned property and minor changes to the Bronxchester Urban Renewal Plan to amend site boundaries of Urban Renewal Area Sites 7A and 7B; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated February 29, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 310112990 reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed Use Group 3 use is not permitted as of right within manufacturing zoning districts, and is contrary to ZR Section 42-00 and therefore requires a special permit from the NYC BSA pursuant to ZR Section 73-19; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-19 and 73-03 to permit, on a site within an M1-2 zoning district, the legalization of a six-story yeshiva (Use Group 3), contrary to ZR § 42-00; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 15, 2012, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on January 8, 2013 and February 12, 2013, and then to decision on March 12, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the application is brought on behalf of the Central United Talmudical Association (the "Yeshiva"); and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the west side of Wythe Avenue, between Penn Street and Rutledge Street, within an M1-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 200 feet of frontage on Wythe Avenue, 125 feet of frontage on Penn Street, 125 feet of frontage on Rutledge Street, and a lot area of 25,000 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the subject building is six stories with a floor area of approximately 119,997.4 sq. ft. (4.80 FAR), and was formerly occupied by a factory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Yeshiva meets the requirements of the special permit authorized by ZR § 73-19 for permitting a school in an M1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19 (a) requires an applicant to demonstrate the inability to obtain a site for the development of a school within the neighborhood to be served and with a size sufficient to meet the programmatic needs of the school within a district where the school is permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the school serves an estimated 1,920 students from pre-nursery through ninth grade; and

WHEREAS, the Yeshiva's program includes 86 classrooms, 142 teachers, and 26 support staff positions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Yeshiva's program requires a minimum lot area of 20,000-25,000 sq. ft. and a building with a floor area of approximately 120,000 sq. ft. with an additional 20,000 sq. ft. of space in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant searched for two years in South Williamsburg in R6 or equivalent zoning districts, which would allow for an FAR of 4.80 and accommodate the programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that it specifically evaluated the feasibility of 11 sites that were either vacant or under-developed within the catchment area of the school, and which could potentially be redeveloped for a school that could accommodate the projected enrollment; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a chart identifying the sites (on Bedford Avenue, Flushing Avenue, Myrtle Avenue, Park Avenue, Willoughby Avenue, and Skillman Street) and summarizing the insufficiencies; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, of the 11 sites it evaluated, only two had lot area greater than 20,000 sq. ft. (one was a vacant lot which has since been developed by HPD and one is a banquet hall parking lot not available for sale); six of the smaller sites are in the process or have recently been developed for residential use; and the remaining three are used as parking and a gas station and are not available for sale; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a letter from a real estate broker stating that the Yeshiva sought an existing building for immediate occupancy, but also considered vacant lots, which were not available due to an active residential market that resulted in residential development on the vacant lots; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant submitted communication between its representation, City Councilperson Letitia James, and the Department of Education (DOE), seeking space to lease in DOE buildings; the applicant represents that no available DOE space was identified; and

WHEREAS, the applicant maintains that the results of the site search reflects that there is no practical possibility of obtaining a site of adequate size in a nearby zoning district where a school would be permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19 (a) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19 (b) requires an applicant to demonstrate that the proposed school is located no more than 400 feet from the boundary of a district in which such a school is permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a radius diagram which reflects that directly across Wythe Avenue there is an R6 zoning district and directly across Rutledge Street there is an R7-1 zoning district, and therefore the site is within 400 feet of at least two zoning districts where the proposed use would be permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19 (b) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19 (c) requires an applicant to demonstrate how it will achieve adequate separation from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of the surrounding non-residential district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that adequate separation from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of the surrounding M1-2 zoning district will be provided through the building's 12-inch thick exterior masonry with four-inch wood stud interior walls and double-paned glass windows; and

WHEREAS, the noise analysis submitted by the applicant indicates that the existing windows comply with the required noise attenuation and no additional mitigation measures are recommended; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the exterior wall and window construction of the building and the adjacency of residential zoning districts with residential uses directly across Wythe Avenue and Rutledge Street will adequately separate the Yeshiva from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of any of the uses within the surrounding M1-2 zoning district; thus, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19 (c) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19 (d) requires an applicant to demonstrate how the movement of traffic through the street on which the school will be located can be controlled so as to protect children traveling to and from the school; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that approximately 1,800 students arrive by bus, and that the school operates approximately 15 buses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the buses arrive between 7:40 a.m. and 10:00 a.m., and that their arrival is spread out so that the buses arrive at the school in a staggered manner with a maximum of six buses parked in front of the school at one time; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that there are two teachers/monitors on each bus with young children and constant radio contact between the bus and a monitor at the school who is solely responsible for buses and stands in front of the school; there are also two monitors on the street in front of the school at the time of arrival and departure; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the students are also dismissed in a staggered manner from 2:30 p.m. for the youngest to 6:00 p.m. for the oldest; and

WHEREAS, the Yeshiva confirms that its 15 buses make a total of 35 runs each day at designated times; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that when buses are not in use, they are parked nearby at 671 Myrtle Avenue and 41 South 11th Street, off street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the street system has significant capacity to enable the buses to access the school without disruption; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Transportation submitted a letter stating that it does not object to the proposed legalization of the school from a traffic safety perspective; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above-mentioned measures maintain safe conditions for children going to and from the School; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19 (d) are met; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 73-19; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Fire Department has inspected the site on numerous occasions and that its only violation is that the operating Interior Fire Alarm and full Sprinkler Systems require application and approval by DOB; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) 12BSA088K, dated March 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials, air quality and noise impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the October 2012 Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's May 15, 2012 stationary source air quality screening analysis and determined that the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant stationary source air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's October 2012 noise analysis and concurs with the conclusions regarding the required sound attenuation levels and measures; and

WHEREAS, DEP determined that, with these noise measures, the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant noise impacts; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-19 and 73-03 and grants a special permit, to allow the legalization of a six-story yeshiva (Use Group 3), on a site within an M1-2 zoning district; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received March 7, 2013" - Eleven (11) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT a certificate of occupancy will be obtained by March 12, 2015;

THAT DOB will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided it with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated October 22, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420229194, reads in pertinent part:

> [t]he rear lot line of this zoning lot coincides with the residential district boundary. Provide 30 ft. rear yard as per ZR 33-292; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03, to legalize, on a site in a C4-3 zoning district abutting an R5B zoning district, the construction of an eight-story commercial and community facility building with an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 20 feet, contrary to ZR § 33-292; and

WHEREAS a public hearing was held on this application on February 26, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on March 19, 2013 and April 23, 2013, and then to decision on May 21, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Queens, recommends approval of the application on condition that (1) the rear wall with a height of 23 feet be completely finished with stucco; (2) the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations; (3) the entire parapet wall at the rear setback be high enough to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment; (4) the front of the building and setback area be well-lit when the building is not in operation; and (5) the applicant remedy damages to the adjacent owners on 31st and 32nd streets by agreeing to pay repair costs; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community provided written and oral testimony in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the application ("the Opposition"); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition's primary concerns are that: (1) no grant should be given until all damage to adjacent properties has been repaired and owners' costs recouped; (2) the insurance claims process has been unsatisfactory; (3) the applicant has not provided evidence of the need for the special permit; and (4) the potential nuisance of light and noise on the adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior zoning lot (comprising Tax Lots 27 and 31) located on the east side of 31st Street between 23rd Avenue and 23rd Road, with 125 feet of frontage on 31st Street, a depth of 90 feet, and a total lot area of 11,250 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is located within a C4-3 zoning district that abuts an R5B zoning district to its rear; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 33-292, an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required on a zoning lot within a C4-3 district with a rear lot line that abuts the rear lot line of a zoning lot in a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to legalize a partially-constructed eight-story community facility building that provides an open area along the rear lot line beginning above the roof of the first story (23 feet above curb level), with a depth of 20 feet (the "20-foot yard"), rather than the required 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building complies in all other respects with the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, under ZR § 73-50, the Board may grant a waiver of the rear yard (open area) requirements set forth in ZR § 33-29 in appropriate cases; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the instant application is an appropriate case for a waiver of the requirements set forth in ZR § 33-29; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the non-complying 20-foot yard is attributable to a design error by the project architect and that the error was discovered after approximately 80 percent of the building was completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in order to comply with ZR § 33-292 at this stage of construction, the rearmost 10-foot portion of the building at the first seven stories would have to be demolished by hand and reconstructed with a completely redesigned structural system; the applicant represents that such work is infeasible; and

WHEREAS, as to the infeasibility, the applicant represents that the line of columns at the rear of the building begin below ground at the foundation and continue to the

roof level, and cannot practically be moved without the construction of new footings and the removal of the parking ramps; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the roof water tanks would have to be relocated to a different portion of the roof and such portion would have to be structurally reinforced to carry the additional loads, at significant design and construction costs; and

WHEREAS, lastly, the removal of 10 feet of building depth would result in a building depth of 45 feet at the fourth through eighth stories, which the applicant asserts is inadequate to provide an efficient floor plate for a modern medical office use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the waiver will not have an adverse effect on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that of the seven other zoning lots located on the 31st Street frontage, six extend to the rear lot line; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that prior to the construction of the subject building, Lot 27 was occupied by a one-story commercial building that extended to its rear lot line and Lot 31 was occupied by a three-story residential building that provided an approximately 20-foot rear yard consistent with the proposed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that there is a lack of adequate medical facilities in the neighborhood and states that the proposed facility is desired by the community at large; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed tenants include University Orthopedics of NYC, Metropolitan Gastroenterology and Endoscopy Center of Queens; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that if the building were redesigned to comply with ZR § 33-292, the building height would be increased from 158 feet to 182 feet; such increase in height would be as of right and result in longer shadows being cast on neighboring buildings; further, the decreased floor plates would be detrimental to the proposed medical use, which the applicant states requires large floor plates so as to minimize the movement of patients from floor to floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a shadow study demonstrating the increased neighborhood impact of a taller building; and

WHEREAS, during the public review and hearing process, the Opposition raised concerns about the impact of the building on the residences directly abutting the site; specifically, the Opposition raised concerns regarding: (1) the visibility, noise and potential contamination from exhaust and intake vents and stair pressurization fans at the rear first story roof; (2) glass blocks within the rear wall at the first story and basement, which would allow light to transfer outside the building; (3) open violations from the Department of Buildings ("DOB"); and (4) damages allegedly sustained by the adjacent properties during the course of construction of the subject building and related DOB violations; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board directed the applicant to (1) redesign the exhaust and vent system so that it was further from the adjacent residents at the rear; (2) remove the glass blocks in the rear wall and replace with concrete block and stucco that will be opaque; (3) describe the nature of any outstanding violations; and (4) address the Opposition's concerns about property damage; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant: (1) relocated exhaust vents from the rear of the building to the front setback; (2) relocated intake vents and stair pressurization fans to be as far as functionally possible from the rear parapet; (3) provided a detailed statement from the project engineer certifying the make, model, size, functionality and necessity of the intake vents and stair pressurization fans; (4) submitted a visibility study indicating that the intake vents and stair pressurization fans will not be visible from the tallest of the residences abutting the rear lot line (23-26 32nd Street); (5) amended the plans to show the replacement of glass blocks with solid masonry; and (6) submitted evidence of a request from the project architect to the Queens DOB Commissioner for permission to perform work in order to remove the conditions that gave rise to the violations; and

WHEREAS, as to the damages allegedly sustained by the adjacent properties during the course of construction at the subject building and related DOB violations, the applicant asserts that such matters are under the purview of the general contractor and its insurance company and that it is prohibited, by contract, from intervening in the insurance negotiations; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that the violations were all issued in response to the neighbors' complaints and, thus, cannot be resolved absent the neighbors' cooperation, particularly given that a number of the violations are not actually issued to the subject lot, but to the neighbors', and that other violations require access to the neighbors' property; and

WHEREAS, a search of the Buildings Information System reflects that there are three outstanding violations on the site: (1) ECB Violation No. 34959031Y was issued on September 18, 2012 and alleged a failure to safeguard persons and property affected by construction operations, contrary to New York City Building Code § 3301.2; the respondent was found in violation on January 22, 2013, and no certificate of correction has been approved by DOB; (2) ECB Violation No. 34959207Z was issued on January 15, 2013 and alleged a failure to safeguard persons and property affected by construction operations, contrary to BC § 3301.2; the respondent was found in violation on April 30, 2013, and no certificate of correction has been approved by DOB; and (3) DOB Violation No. 073112C0101SA was issued on July 31, 2012 and alleged that the borough commissioner had issued an intent to revoke the permit and approval for Job No. 420229194 and a Stop Work Order, pursuant to New York City Administrative Code § 28-207.2; and

neighbors and the resolution of property damage caused by construction are beyond its purview and it cannot get involved in such disputes; however, it strongly encourages the parties to work together to achieve a resolution fairly and expeditiously; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the negotiations between the contractor's insurance company and the neighbors' insurance companies are ongoing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that, on April 15, 2013, one of the neighbors has commenced an action in New York State Supreme Court, Sesumi v. Pali Realty, LLC et al., Index No. 7428/13, Queens County, for alleged property damages; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also raised additional concerns regarding light pollution from the building, the sufficiency of the roof drains, the functioning of the electrical and mechanical systems and equipment, the general contractor's means and methods of construction, and the completeness of plans submitted in connection with this application; and

WHEREAS, as to these concerns, the Board finds that the applicant adequately addressed them and that all construction methods and plans are subject to DOB review and approval; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the construction activities have given rise to certain damage to property and disputes with adjacent property owners, but that such effects are the result of physical construction work and not the land use and planning effects that the Board considers in determining whether or not the open area required by ZR § 33-292 must be provided; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that the use and building are permitted as of right but for the rear ten feet of building depth above a height of 23 feet; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the portion of the new building which appears to have created the most conflict with the adjacent property owners is actually the portion of the building (and its rear wall) within the rear yard below 23 feet, which is permitted as-of-right pursuant to ZR § 33-292; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the extra ten feet of building depth at the rear above a height of 23 feet has not led to the adjacent property owners' concerns in the short-term and is compatible with the adjacent uses in the long-term, pursuant to ZR §§ 73-03 and 73-50; however, the impact of the physical construction work upon adjacent properties may be considered by the Board in determining the appropriate conditions and safeguards to impose along with the grant of a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant has satisfied all of the Community Board's requests related to building design and site conditions, in that: (1) the rear wall will be completely finished with stucco; (2) the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear will be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations; (3) the entire parapet wall at the rear setback is high enough to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment; and (4) the front of the building and setback area will be well-lit when the building is not in operation; and

WHEREAS, as to the Community Board's additional request that the applicant remedy damages to the adjacent owners on 31st and 32nd streets, the Board notes that both parties have testified that there are ongoing negotiations between the property owners' and contractor's insurance companies to resolve the damages; and

WHEREAS, based on the record, the Board finds that the application meets the requirements of ZR § 73-03(a) in that the disadvantages to the community at large are outweighed by the advantages derived from such special permit; and that the adverse effect, if any, will be minimized by appropriate conditions; and

WHEREAS, the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project and therefore satisfies the requirements of ZR § 73-03(b); and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-50 and 73-03, to permit, on a site in a C4-3 zoning district abutting an R5B zoning district, the construction of an eight-story community facility building with an open area 23 feet above curb level with a minimum depth of 20 feet, contrary to ZR § 33-292, on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above-noted, filed with this application marked "Received April 2, 2013" – sixteen (16) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the vents atop the rear first story roof will be for intake only;

THAT the stair pressurization fans atop the rear first story roof will be operated only in an emergency;

THAT all lighting will be directed away from adjacent residences, as reflected on the plans;

THAT the glass blocks at the rear wall will be replaced by masonry and stucco;

THAT the mechanical equipment on the roof setback at the rear will be installed on vibration pads and encased with sound-attenuating materials to reduce noise and vibrations;

THAT the entire parapet wall at the rear setback will be built to a sufficient height, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans and approved by DOB, to conceal rooftop mechanical equipment;

THAT the front of the building and setback area will be well-lit when the building is not in operation;

THAT the above conditions be noted on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT DOB will not issue a Temporary Certificate of Occupancy (or Final Certificate of Occupancy) and the building will not be occupied until all violations on the site

have been cured to DOB's satisfaction;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, May 21, 2013.

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening, an extension of term of a previously granted variance for an automobile laundry (Use Group 16) in an R3-2 (C2-1) zoning district, which expires on February 23, 2014, and an amendment to allow an enlargement, renovations to the existing building, site modifications, and an expansion of the hours of operation; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 29, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 26, 2013, April 23, 2013, May 14, 2013 and June 11, 2013 and then to decision on July 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of Sunrise Highway between Hook Creek Road and West Circle Drive, within an R3-2 (C2-1) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has a total area of approximately 9,800 sq. ft., with 140 feet of frontage along Sunrise Highway; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a one-story building with 4,169 sq. ft. of floor area; the applicant states that an automobile laundry has operated within the building since 1994; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since June 2, 1958 when, under BSA Cal. No. 939-57-BZ, the Board granted a variance pursuant to 1916 Zoning Resolution § 21, authorizing in the former E-1 Area District the building's encroachment into the required rear yard; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, under the subject calendar number, the Board, on February 23, 1994, granted a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21, authorizing the alteration, enlargement, and conversion of a bakery and cabaret into an automobile laundry; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to extend the term of the variance for ten years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also requests an amendment to permit: (1) enclosure of an open storage area at the rear of the building; (2) the installation of opaque windows at the rear; (2) installation of an outdoor heating fan; (3) relocation of vacuum machinery from the rear property line to the cellar to minimize noise; (4) rearrangement and renovation of the accessory retail store; (5) installation of new washing equipment, including water recycling machinery, new doors, lighting, ceiling material and flooring; (6) installation of an accessible ramp at the entrance; (7) removal of security gates from windows and doors; (8) installation of a new canopy; (9) new landscaping on the site; (10) installation of a sound-attenuating fence at the rear property line; and (11) modification of the driving lanes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed renovations and site modifications will reduce the impact of the use upon the neighboring residential area; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant seeks to amend the hours of operation from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., seven days per week to Monday through Saturday from 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m., and Sunday from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the existing restrictions on the auto laundry's hours of operation increasingly hamper the operator's ability to maintain a profitable business; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted statements in support of the expanded hours from the four neighbors directly adjacent to the site; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns about accessory signage at the site, noting that it was well in excess of the signage permitted under the C2-1 district regulations; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted photographs of the removal of all excessive signs except the "menu boards" and the directional signs, which the applicant states are essential to the operation of an auto laundry; the applicant also submitted photographs of other automobile laundries, which maintain similar "menu boards" and directional signs; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that there is a conflict between allowing the automobile laundry within the C2-1 district, where it is not permitted as-of-right, but applying the sign regulations applicable within a C2-1 zoning district, which do not contemplate the signage typically found with automobile-oriented uses; further, the Board is persuaded that limiting the accessory signage would prevent the applicant from announcing its service in a manner that is familiar to patrons of automobile laundries, which would be detrimental to its business; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board agrees with the applicant that directional signs are essential to maintaining a safe and orderly traffic flow on the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, in addition to 150 sq. ft. of accessory signage permitted as-of-right in the C2-1 zoning district, the menu boards and the directional signage, as set forth in the approved drawings, are justified by the use variance and appropriate under the circumstances; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds the requested extension of term and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, as adopted on February 23, 1994, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to extend the term for a period of ten years from July 9, 2013, to expire on July 9, 2023, and to permit the noted modifications to the site; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received February 13, 2013'-(5) sheets and 'May 30, 2013'-(2) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on July 9, 2023;

THAT landscaping, site trees and fencing will be provided and maintained in accordance with the BSA-approved plans;

THAT site lighting will be directed downward and away from adjacent residential uses;

THAT the surface area of accessory signage will be limited to 150 sq. ft., except menu boards and directional signs, in accordance with the BSA-approved plans, will be permitted;

THAT there will be no open storage on the lot;

THAT reservoir space for at least ten motor vehicles will be provided;

THAT the above conditions will appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a new certificate of occupancy will be obtained by July 9, 2014;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 11-332(b), to permit an extension of time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy for nine single-family dwellings currently under construction on nine separate lots within a major development at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 4, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on July 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 8, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site, known as Villanova Heights or Chapel Farm Estates, is located in the Fieldston section of the Bronx, on an approximately 15-acre parcel within an R1-2 zoning district within Special Natural Area District 2 ("SNAD"); and

WHEREAS, the site is located within: the arcing portion of Grosvenor Avenue that begins at West 250th Street, crosses Longview Place and West 252nd Street, and terminates at Iselin Avenue; the portion of Goodridge Avenue between West 250th Street and West 252nd Street; and the portion of West 252nd Street between Grosvenor Avenue and Goodridge Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the site is a major development comprising 12 lots, nine of which are the subject of this application; one single-family home is proposed on each of the nine lots; the applicant notes that the three lots that are not the subject of this application have been completed; and

WHEREAS, each of the nine buildings within the major development comply with a prior version of the SNAD requirements set forth in Zoning Resolution Article X, Chapter 5; and

WHEREAS, however, on February 2, 2005 (hereinafter, the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt a text amendment, which affected the SNAD regulations and resulted in non-compliances; and

WHEREAS, as of that date, the applicant had obtained permits for all nine homes under New Building Permit Nos. 200922528, 200922537, 200922546, 200922555, 200922564, 200922591, 200922608, 200922617, and 200922626 ("the New Building Permits"), and it had completed the foundation for one home, such that the right to continue construction was vested pursuant to ZR § 11-331, which allows the Department of Buildings ("DOB") to determine that construction may continue under such circumstances; and

WHEREAS, however, only two years are allowed for completion of construction of the entire development and to obtain certificates of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, because the two-year time limit expired and construction was still ongoing, on April 24, 2007, under BSA Cal. Nos. 20-07-BZY through 31-07-BZY, the Board granted the applicant relief pursuant to ZR § 11-30 et seq., renewing the New Building Permits for one term of two years; and

WHEREAS, consistent with BSA Cal. Nos. 20-07-BZY through 31-07-BZY, the Board renewed the New Building Permits for two additional two-year terms by letters dated June 15, 2009 and June 22, 2011; as a consequence, on June 22, 2013, the New Building Permits lapsed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that since the last renewal of the New Building Permits in 2011, it has performed infrastructure related work on Lots 50, 60, 70, 3930, 3940, 3630, 3635, 4018 and 4025, including the installation of: (1) roadway asphalt; (2) cul-de-sac grading and curbs; (3) a gray water sprinkler system; (4) utility connections for each lot from lines installed in the roadway beds; (5) electrical conduits for the street lamp system; and (6) partial landscaping; during that same time period, the applicant has expended approximately $8,921,405, including soft costs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks an additional extension of time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy pursuant to ZR § 11-332(b); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-332(b), where construction that was permitted to continue has not been completed at the expiration of extended terms pursuant to ZR § 11-332(a), the Board may grant an additional one-year extension if it finds that: (1) the applicant has been prevented from completing construction by hardship or circumstances beyond the applicant's control; (2) the applicant has not recovered all or substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred in construction, nor is the applicant able to recover substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred through development that conforms and complies with any applicable Zoning Resolution amendment(s); and (3) that there are no considerations of public safety, health and welfare that have become apparent since the issuance of the permit that indicate an overriding benefit to the public in enforcement of the applicable amendment(s) to the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold issue, per ZR § 11-31(a), the Board must determine that proper permits were issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents—and the Board previously recognized in BSA Cal. Nos. 20-07-BZY through 31-07-BZY—that all of the relevant DOB permits were lawfully issued to the owner of the subject premises prior to the Enactment Date and have been timely renewed since initial issuance; and

WHEREAS, turning to the findings of ZR § 11-332(b), the applicant states that the scope of the project and the limited availability of commercial financing are hardships that have prevented completion of construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that its original intention was to build and sell the homes two or three at a time, however, the 2008 credit crisis and subsequent downturn in the housing market have prevented the applicant from selling the homes at the originally-projected price point; as such, the applicant has been forced to finance construction with a trickle of rent payments, rather a series of sales; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that in January 2011, a contractor filed a mechanic's lien against the site for $1,566,000; the applicant defended against the lien for approximately 15 months; ultimately, the lien was settled and discharged; however, while the matter was pending, the applicant was unable to secure financing, which delayed the pace of construction; and

WHEREAS, based on these assertions and on the supporting documentation in the record, the Board finds that the applicant has been prevented from completing construction by hardship and by circumstances beyond the applicant's control; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that it has not recovered all or substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred in construction, nor is it able to recover substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred through development that complies with the SNAD requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents recovery of its financial expenditures is dependent on completing construction on the site as originally designed, and the applicant notes that only three out of 12 of the homes on the site have been completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that if the site were to be subject to the SNAD requirements, no as-of-right development would be permitted; instead, all unfinished homes on the site would be subject to City Planning Commission ("CPC") actions, which the applicant states are difficult to predict; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that fewer homes would be permitted by CPC, which would result in a substantial redesign of the site, at significant cost, including sums already spent for infrastructure that might not be utilized; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the applicant would not be able to recover all or substantially all of its financial expenditures through development that complies with the SNAD requirements; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that there are no considerations of public safety, health and welfare that have become apparent since the issuance of the New Building Permits that indicate an overriding benefit to the public in enforcement of the SNAD requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that there are no considerations of public safety, health and welfare that have become apparent since the issuance of the New Building Permits that indicate an overriding benefit to the public in enforcement of the SNAD requirements; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that the applicant has satisfied all the requirements of ZR § 11-332(b), and that the owner is entitled to the requested reinstatement of the permits, and all other permits necessary to complete the proposed development; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board, through this resolution, grants the owner of the site a one-year extension of time to complete construction, pursuant to ZR § 11-332(b).

Therefore it is Resolved that this application made pursuant to ZR § 11-332(b) to renew Building Permit Nos. 200922519, 200922528, 200922537, 200922546, 200922555, 200922564, 200922573, 200922582, 200922591, 200922608, 200922617, and 200922626, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction, is granted, and the Board hereby extends the time to complete the proposed development for one term of one year from the date of this resolution, to expire on July 9, 2014.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated January 25, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 220245759, reads:

> Eating and drinking establishment with accessory drive-through facility in an R6 (C1-2) zoning district is contrary to ZR 32-10; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-243 and 73-03, to permit, on a site within an R6 (C1-2) zoning district, the legalization of an accessory drive-through facility on the site in conjunction with an as-of-right eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6), contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 14, 2013, with a continued hearing on June 4, 2013, and then to decision on July 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 10, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of East Tremont Avenue and St. Raymond's Avenue within an R6 (C1-2) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 138 feet of frontage along East Tremont Avenue, approximately 188 feet of frontage along St. Raymond's Avenue and approximately 100 feet of frontage along Williamsbridge Road; and

WHEREAS, the site has a total lot area of 18,487.21 sq. ft. and is occupied by a one-story eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6) operated by Wendy's, an accessory drive-through and 23 accessory parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the Board previously exercised jurisdiction over the site when, on October 22, 1985, under BSA Cal. No. 88-85-BZ, it granted a special permit for the operation of a drive-through for a term of five years; and

WHEREAS, the term of the grant under BSA Cal. No. 88-85-BZ was renewed on May 14, 1991 for an additional five years, to expire on October 22, 1995; after 1995, the grant was never renewed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it purchased the property in February 2006, was unaware of the requirement for the special permit and only became aware of the requirement when it sought to obtain a permit from DOB to perform façade repairs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks to legalize the existing drive-through and reduce the number of accessory parking spaces at the site from 23 to 21 in order to accommodate a dedicated travel lane around the drive-through queuing lane; and

WHEREAS, a special permit is required for the proposed accessory drive-through facility in the R6 (C1-2) zoning district, pursuant to ZR § 73-243; and

WHEREAS, under ZR § 73-243, the applicant must demonstrate that: (1) the drive-through facility provides reservoir space for not less than ten automobiles; (2) the drive-through facility will cause minimal interference with traffic flow in the immediate vicinity; (3) the eating and drinking establishment with accessory drive-through facility complies with accessory off-street parking regulations; (4) the character of the commercially-zoned street frontage within 500 feet of the subject premises reflects substantial orientation toward the motor vehicle; (5) the drive-through facility will not have an undue adverse impact on residences within the immediate vicinity; and (6) there will be adequate buffering between the drive-through facility and adjacent residential uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a site plan indicating that the drive-through facility provides reservoir space for at least 10 vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the facility will cause minimal interference with traffic flow in the immediate vicinity of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, in support of this representation, the applicant states that the site has three curb cuts, one on each frontage, and that each curb cut is located a sufficient distance from any intersection and will not adversely affect traffic flow on the streets; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant represents that the proposed reconfiguration of the site to accommodate a travel lane will further improve the traffic flow; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the restaurant has operated a drive-through since 1985; therefore, the drive-through is well-established in the neighborhood and will not create new traffic patterns in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the facility fully complies with the accessory off-street parking regulations for the R6 (C1-2) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this representation, the applicant submitted a proposed site plan providing 21

accessory off-street parking spaces, which complies with ZR § 36-21; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the facility conforms to the character of the commercially zoned street frontage within 500 feet of the subject premises, which reflects substantial orientation toward the motor vehicle; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that both East Tremont Avenue and Williamsbridge Road are heavily-travelled commercial thoroughfares occupied by a variety of uses, including restaurants, drug stores, supermarkets, banks, offices and retail stores; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that such uses and the surrounding residential neighborhoods they support are substantially oriented toward motor vehicle use; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant has submitted photographs of the site and the surrounding streets, which supports this representation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the drive-through facility will not have an undue adverse impact on residences within the immediate vicinity of the subject premises; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the impact of the drive-through upon residences is minimal, in that most of the surrounding properties are occupied by commercial uses and that the properties containing both commercial and residential uses are located across a four-lane commercial thoroughfare from the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that a drive-through facility has been in operation on the site for approximately 28 years, and the proposed reconfiguration will substantially improve current conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that there will be adequate buffering between the drive-through facility and adjacent residential uses, in that: (1) the site fronts on three streets, two of which are busy commercial thoroughfares (East Tremont Avenue and Williamsbridge Road); (2) the only adjacent building is occupied by a bank; and (3) the nearest residential uses are located on the upper floors of a mixed-use building across a four-lane commercial thoroughfare; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant represents that the drive-through facility satisfies each of the requirements for a special permit under ZR § 73-243; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the community is not adversely impacted by the legalization and modification of the existing drive-through; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the restaurant is well-established in the neighborhood and has existed with a drive-through for approximately 28 years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the drive-through window does not increase the number of vehicular visits to the site but rather decreases the amount of time that restaurant patrons spend at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proprietor of the restaurant maintains a clean and orderly site and that providing a drive-through is essential to the operation of the Wendy's franchise; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns about the landscaping and striping (the painted markings for circulation, drive-through and parking spaces) of the site; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant represented that, upon the grant of the special permit, new landscaping will be installed and the lot will be re-striped; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-243 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2 and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA094X dated February 5, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-243 and 73-03 to permit, on a site within an R6 (C1-2) zoning district, the legalization of an accessory drive-through facility on the site in conjunction with an as-of-right eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6), contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 2, 2013"- four (4) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on July 9, 2018;

THAT the premises will be maintained free of debris and graffiti;

THAT parking and queuing space for the drive-through will be provided as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT all landscaping and/or buffering will be maintained as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT exterior lighting will be directed away from the nearby residential uses;

THAT all signage shall conform to C1-2 zoning district regulations;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening, an amendment to a previously-granted variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21, and an amendment to a previously-granted special permit pursuant ZR § 73-641; the previous grants authorized the enlargement of the Nightingale-Bamford School ("the School") contrary to the bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 11, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 8, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community testified in opposition to the application, citing concerns about the proposed mechanical equipment on the roof; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located mid-block on the south side of East 92nd Street between Madison Avenue and Fifth Avenue, partially within a C1-5 (R10) zoning district and partially within an R8B zoning district, within the Special Madison Avenue Preservation District and within the Expanded Carnegie Hill Historic District; and

WHEREAS, the site has 165.43 feet of frontage along East 92nd Street and 16,660.46 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by the seven-story building located at 20 East 92nd Street ("the School Building") and two four-story brownstones located at 28 and 30 East 92nd Street ("the Adjacent Buildings"), which are all operated by the School; and

WHEREAS, on February 7, 1989, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted: (1) a variance to allow the enlargement of the School Building contrary to the requirements for: (a) lot coverage (ZR § 24-11); (b) rear yard (ZR § 24-33); and (c) street wall height and initial setback (ZR § 99-052); and (2) a special permit to allow the enlargement of the School Building to penetrate the front and rear sky exposure planes in the portion of the lot located in the R8B district, contrary to ZR § 24-523; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now requests an amendment to permit the merger of the School Building's zoning lot with the Adjacent Buildings' zoning lots and the subsequent as-of-right enlargement and renovation of the Adjacent Buildings (collectively, "the proposal"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal does not trigger the need for any further relief from the Board but is required due to the prior action for the School Building; the applicant also notes that the Adjacent Buildings are being enlarged and renovated in compliance with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal will allow the School Building and the Adjacent Buildings to function together as a single school building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal will further the School's programmatic needs without affecting any of the previously-obtained bulk waivers; in addition, the proposal will result in decreases in lot coverage and floor area ratio; and

WHEREAS, as to the effect on the neighborhood character, the applicant represents that the proposal will have no effect, since the School currently operates both the School Building and the Adjacent Buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a Certificate of Appropriateness from the Landmarks Preservation Commission, dated, June 20, 2013, approving the alterations proposed to the Adjacent Buildings; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports a grant of the requested amendment with the conditions listed below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated February 7, 1989, to grant the noted modifications to the previous approval; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked 'Received June 14, 2013'- (19) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 16, 2013.

WHEREAS, this is an application for an extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy for a previously granted physical culture establishment ("PCE"), which expired on April 25, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 21, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 18, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, on October 25, 2011, the Board extended the time to obtain a certificate of occupancy until April 25, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a certificate of occupancy has still not been obtained due to open DOB applications that do not pertain to the PCE; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now requests an additional 18 months to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, based on its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy is appropriate, with the conditions set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated July 17, 2001, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to extend the time to obtain a certificate of occupancy for 18 months from the date of this grant; on condition that the use and operation of the PCE shall substantially conform to BSA-approved plans, and on further condition:

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction of a five-story residential building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 18, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the east side of Woodpoint Road, between Jackson Street and Skillman Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the site has a lot area of 4,580 sq. ft. and approximately 50 feet of frontage along Woodpoint Road; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop the site with a five-story residential building with 9,956.40 sq. ft. of floor area (2.17 FAR) and 15 dwelling units (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is currently located within an R6B zoning district, but was formerly located within an R6 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Building complies in all respects with the former R6 zoning district parameters; and

WHEREAS, however, on July 29, 2009 (the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Greenpoint-Williamsburg Contextual Rezoning, which rezoned the site to R6B; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the rezoning, the Building does not comply with the district parameters regarding maximum floor area, maximum base height, maximum building height and maximum number of dwelling units (density); and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that New Building Permit No. 310057390-01-NB (the "Permit") was issued to the owner by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on April 28, 2008; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 12, 2013, DOB confirmed that the Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that ZR § 11-31(c)(1) classifies the construction authorized under the Permit as a "minor development"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, per ZR §§ 11-331 and 11-332, where all work on foundations for a minor development has been completed prior to the effective date of an applicable amendment to the Zoning Resolution, work may continue for two years, and if after two years, construction has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy has not been issued, the permit shall automatically lapse and the right to continue construction shall terminate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, as of the Enactment Date, the entire foundation for the Building was completed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states, DOB recognized the owner's right to continue construction under the Permit for two years until July 29, 2011, pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, however, as of July 29, 2011, construction was not complete and a certificate of occupancy had not been issued; therefore, on that date the Permit lapsed by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks to proceed pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a valid permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that prior to July 29, 2009, the owner had completed the following work: demolition, excavation, footings, the entire foundation, the entire superstructure and steel decking for all five stories, masonry block up to roof, mechanical, electrical and plumbing roughing up for four stories, and some window framing and sheetrock installation; since July 29, 2009, the applicant states that the following has been completed: partition studs and mechanical, electrical and plumbing roughing have been installed on all five stories, and doorways are blocked out; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Building is approximately 89 percent complete; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant submitted the following evidence: invoices, concrete delivery slips, construction contracts, plans highlighting the work completed, and photographs of the site showing certain aspects of the completed work; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before and after the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, given the size of the site, and based upon a comparison of the type and amount of work completed in this case with the type and amount of work discussed by New York State courts, a significant amount of work was performed at the site during the relevant period; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner expended $2,547,480.03, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $3,200,000.00 budgeted for the entire project; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, invoices, and accounting tables; and

WHEREAS, thus, the expenditures up to the Enactment Date represent approximately 80 percent of the projected total cost; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if the owner is not permitted to vest the nearly-completed Building under the former R6 zoning and must comply with the R6B zoning, the maximum permitted residential floor area ratio would: (1) decrease from the allowable 2.2 FAR for the entire lot to 2.0 FAR, representing a loss of 916 sq. ft. of buildable residential floor area in the building; (2) reduce the maximum base height from 45 feet to 40 feet; (3) reduce the maximum building height from 55 feet to 50 feet; and (4) reduce the maximum number of dwelling units from 15 to 13; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that because construction is nearly complete, its contractor estimates that demolishing and rebuilding portions of the Building to bring it into compliance will cost an estimated $1,859,440.00; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also represents that the loss of nearly 10 percent of its residential floor area and two out of 15 dwelling units will significantly decrease the market value of the Building; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that that the owner would incur substantial additional costs in reconstructing the Building to comply with the current zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Board also agrees with the applicant that the reduction in the floor area and dwelling units results in a significant decrease in the market value of the Building; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

Therefore it is Resolved that this application made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 310057390, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for two years from the date of this grant.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the subject appeal comes before the Board in response to a Final Determination dated January 29, 2013 by the First Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB") (the "Final Determination"); and

WHEREAS, the Final Determination states, in pertinent part:

> The Department is in receipt of your correspondence dated September 27, 2012 in which you request confirmation that Lot 72 is a separate zoning lot, notwithstanding the current Certificate of Occupancy (CO No. 109233) dated April 24, 1996 which contains the note: "This premises is part of a zoning lot consisting of Lots 69 and 72, as per Commissioner Minkin's memo dated December 9, 1983. Easement filed under Reel 591, Pages 620-630." . . .
> The Department cannot issue a determination that Lot 72 is a separate zoning lot because the CO states that Lots 69 and 72 together form a single zoning lot. Per New York City Charter Section 645(b)(3)(e), every certificate of occupancy is binding and conclusive as to all matters set forth in the certificate and no determination can be at variance with any matter in the certificate unless it is set aside, vacated or modified by the Board of Standards and Appeals (BSA) or a court. The Charter prohibits the Department from disregarding the CO's note that Lots 69 and 72 are merged into one zoning lot.
> The Department does not intend to file an application at BSA to set aside the CO in favor of treating Lot 72 as a separate zoning lot. Lot 72 cannot be a separate zoning lot because a "building" as defined by the New York City Zoning Resolution must be located within the lot lines of a zoning lot and portions of the building on Lot 72 extend onto Lot 69. Application documents and plans approved under Alteration No. 1059/79 show that an elevator required in connection with an enlargement of the building on Lot 72 to twelve stories was installed on Lot 69. The required elevator located on Lot 69 is a part of the building it serves on Lot 72 and therefore the Lots cannot be considered separate zoning lots. In addition, the October 12, 1981 easement referenced on the current CO is a grant from the owner of Lot 69 to the owner of Lot 72 for use of Lot 69 for light and air and the construction and maintenance of elevators and chimneys and notably, for "use and maintenance of the northerly wall of the building on the Premises [Lot 72] which may encroach on the Adjacent Premises [Lot 69] or may be a party wall…". The survey submitted with your correspondence, dated March 9, 1996, depicts portions of the northern wall of the building on Lot 72 as an encroachment onto Lot 69.

Based on the above, documentation described in the New York City Zoning Resolution definition of "zoning lot" must be filed with the Department that is consistent with the zoning lot comprised of Lots 69 and 72 as described on the CO.

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 21, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site had visits by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHERAS, the appeal is filed on behalf of the owner of Lot 72 who contends that DOB's determination was erroneous (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, DOB and the Appellant have been represented by counsel throughout this appeal; and

WHEREAS, Lot 72 at 807 Park Avenue (formerly known as 813 Park Avenue) is located on the east side of Park Avenue, between East 74th Street and East 75th Street, within an R10 zoning district in the Special Park Improvement District and the Upper East Side Historic District; and

WHEREAS, Lot 72 is occupied by a 12-story residential building (the "Lot 72 Building"); and

WHEREAS, Lot 69 at 815 Park Avenue is the adjacent lot to the north which is occupied by a 14-story residential building (the "Lot 69 Building") and a portion of Lot 72 Building's north wall and elevator bank; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks to increase the floor area of the Lot 72 Building on Lot 72, based on the premise that Lots 69 and 72 are not merged and there is available floor area on Lot 72 such that the enlarged Lot 72 Building would comply with floor area regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contests DOB's determination that Lots 69 and 72 were merged, as noted on the 1996 certificate of occupancy for the Lot 72 Building (the "1996 CO" or "CO") and seeks to have the CO modified to remove the reference to Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant requests that the Board (1) reject DOB's determination that the zoning lots were merged and (2) modify the 1996 CO to remove the reference to Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, beginning in 1979, under Alteration Application No. 1059/79, the former owner of the Lot 72 Building sought to construct a four-story vertical enlargement to the then eight-story building; and

WHEREAS, the proposal included the construction of portions of the Lot 72 Building – the elevator tower and a portion of the northern wall – on Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, DOB objected to the encroachment of Lot 72 Building components on Lot 69 due to the Zoning Resolution requirements that buildings be contained within the boundaries of a single zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, in anticipation of construction, the former owners of Lots 69 and 72 entered into an easement agreement (the "Easement Agreement") to allow for the construction of the elevator tower and a portion of the northern wall on Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, in 1983, DOB stated that an easement agreement is not sufficient to resolve an objection that portions of the building are located on Lot 69 and reiterated the requirement that Lots 69 and 72 be merged into a single zoning lot because the enlargement application relies on area located on the adjoining Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, during the Board's public hearing process, DOB discovered that the issue of the zoning lot formation was the subject of litigation titled 813 Park Avenue Associates and Panjandrum Realty, Inc. v. City of New York, (no index number is available for the unpublished case), a lawsuit brought by the former owners of 807 [813] Park Avenue against DOB, in which the parties ultimately acknowledged the formation of a single zoning lot comprising Lots 69 and 72; and

WHEREAS, the associated July 1983 settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") states that the owners of 807 [813] Park Avenue agree to file with DOB a single zoning lot declaration for both lots and DOB agrees to accept a single zoning lot for both properties; it also states that DOB agrees that it will not seek to revoke the COs for either building on the lots provided the Lot 72 building owner files a single zoning lot declaration referred to in the agreement; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Settlement Agreement reflects the parties' agreement that the City will not seek to revoke COs notwithstanding objections it had previously raised including objections to the elevator shaft encroachment and excess floor area if the lots are formally merged into one zoning lot; it is signed by the Corporation Counsel as attorneys for DOB and by attorneys for the owner of the Lot 72 Building at that time; and

WHEREAS, there is a second agreement, dated October 3, 1983 (the "Stipulation") in which the parties agree that the single zoning lot comprising both lots already exists; it states that rights over the rear yard and courts of Lot 69 were sold to allow a portion of the building on Lot 72 to be built on Lot 69 at the time when the lots were under common beneficial ownership and that it was the intent of the single beneficial owner to develop the lots as a single zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Stipulation states that the zoning lot declaration is not required as part of the resolution of the litigation; however, the Lot 72 owner agreed that all future permit applications would reflect the single zoning lot and that they would record a restrictive declaration acknowledging the existence of the single zoning lot: "Plaintiffs further agree that all applications to the Department of Buildings filed on behalf of 813 [now known as 807] Park Avenue shall recognize and affirm the existence of the single zoning lot, and its applicability to all future alterations or developments of 813 [807] Park Avenue, and that Plaintiffs will file a restrictive declaration to that effect so binding 813 [807] Park Avenue;" the Stipulation is signed by the Corporation Counsel as attorneys for DOB and by attorneys for the owner of the Lot 72 Building at that time; and

WHEREAS, in the Alteration Application job folder is a November 1, 1983 amendment to the application submitted by the applicant that acknowledges the zoning lot comprising Lots 69 and 72, along with the Settlement Agreement, and the Stipulation; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the discovery of the litigation and the two agreements, DOB and the Appellant revised their positions on appeal to include assertions about the effect of the agreements rather than reliance solely on the notation on the CO; and

WHEREAS, COs issued after December 2, 1983 describe the zoning lot as including Lots 69 and 72; and

WHEREAS, on April 24, 1996, DOB issued a CO for the current 12-story Lot 72 Building, which states "THIS PREMISES IS PART OF A ZONING LOT CONSISTING OF LOTS 69 and 72, AS PER COMMISSIONER MINKIN'S MEMO DATED 12/9/83. EASEMENT FILED UNDER REEL 591. PAGES 620-630."; and

WHEREAS, the referenced Minkin Memo has not been located; and

WHEREAS, the Lot 69 Building does not have a CO; and

WHEREAS, in 2012, the Appellant sought an opinion from DOB as to whether an enlargement to the Lot 72 Building would comply with ZR § 54-41, which permits reconstruction of a non-complying building as long as less than 75 percent of the floor area is demolished and reconstructed; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant proposes to renovate and increase the floor area on Lot 72 from 18,126 sq. ft. to 18,750 sq. ft., which it represents complies with floor area regulations and does not increase the existing non-complying rear yard, lot coverage, and setback conditions; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant represents that there is floor area available on Lot 72 (10.0 FAR is the maximum permitted and the Lot 72 Building is 9.67 FAR); and

WHEREAS, by pre-determination, DOB granted an approval of the proposed enlargement and reconstruction with conditions, that state that ZR § 54-41 applies to allow the proposed demolition and reconstruction but that it still required confirmation about whether or not the zoning lot referenced on the CO was properly formed; and

"Zoning lot" is defined in ZR § 12-10 as follows:

A "zoning lot" is either:

(a) a lot of record existing on December 15, 1961 or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto;

(b) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more contiguous lots of record, located within a single #block#, which, on December 15, 1961 or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto, was in single ownership;

(c) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet, located within a single #block#, which at the time of filing for a building permit (or, if no building permit is required, at the time of the filing for a certificate of occupancy) is under single fee ownership and with respect to which each party having any interest therein is a party in interest (as defined herein); or

(d) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet, located within a single #block#, which at the time of filing for a building permit (or, if no building permit is required, at the time of filing for a certificate of occupancy) is declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one #zoning lot# for the purpose of this Resolution.

Such declaration shall be made in one written Declaration of Restrictions covering all of such tract of land or in separate written Declarations of Restrictions covering parts of such tract of land and which in the aggregate cover the entire tract of land comprising the #zoning lot#. Any Declaration of Restrictions or Declarations of Restrictions which individually or collectively cover a tract of land are referred to herein as "Declarations". Each Declaration shall be executed by each party in interest (as defined herein) in the portion of such tract of land covered by such Declaration (excepting any such party as shall have waived its right to execute such Declaration in a written instrument executed by such party in recordable form and recorded at or prior to the recording of the Declaration). Each Declaration and waiver of right to execute a Declaration shall be recorded in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register or, if applicable, the County Clerk's Office of the county in which such tract of land is located, against each lot of record constituting a portion of the land covered by such Declaration; and

- Lot 69 and Lot 72 Are Separate Zoning Lots

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that Lot 72 meets the definition of a zoning lot and that a combined Lot 69/72 does not, based on the clear meaning of the definition and the absence of a zoning lot merger; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that there is not any ambiguity in the Zoning Resolution's definition of zoning lot, which includes how it is formed, and thus it must be given its plain meaning; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that a lot of record or a tract of land, including an unsubdivided tract of land, may be determined to be a zoning lot under solely one of the four subdivisions of the zoning lot definition, given that a zoning lot is, by the terms of the definition, a zoning lot under "either" subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that Lot 72 qualifies as a zoning lot under three of the four subdivisions and may be deemed a zoning lot under any of the three; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that subdivision (a) is satisfied because on December 15, 1961, Lot 72 was a lot of record as evidenced by the deed of December 19, 1958; on that date the certificate of occupancy that was in effect was that of October 17, 1922, listing a five-story tenement building; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted evidence to support its assertion that the lot was (1) a lot of record on December 15, 1961 and (2) was never in common ownership with another lot nor declared together with another lot to be part of a multiple-lot zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that subdivision (b) is satisfied because On December 15, 1961, Lot 72 was an unsubdivided tract of land in the single ownership of an entity that was different that the entity that owned Lot 69, as evidenced by the deed of December 19, 1958 and it was an unsubdivided tract of land in single ownership without any common ownership of these two, separate lots; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that subdivision (c) is satisfied because at all times since December 15, 1961, Lot 72 has been an unsubdivided tract of land in single fee ownership and at the time of each filing for building permits or certificates of occupancy there was a zoning lot under this subdivision (c); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that Lot 72 meets the ZR § 12-10 definition of zoning lot in the following ways: (1) it was a lot of record on December 15, 1961 and therefor is a zoning lot under subdivision (a) of the definition; (2) it was an unsubdivided tract of land on December 15, 1961, and therefore also meets subdivision (b) of the definition; and (3) because it was in separate ownership from Lot 69 on each occasion that a permit or certificate of occupancy application for lot 72was made, it also satisfies subdivision (c) of the definition; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts, significantly, since Lot 72 was never declared together with any other lot to be part of a multiple-lot zoning lot, it cannot satisfy subdivision (d) of the definition, which applies where there is a "written Declaration of Restrictions" that is recorded with the City Clerk to declare two or more adjoining lots to be a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant relies on the following: (1) there is no recorded zoning lot declaration for Lot 72; and (2) there is certification by a title insurance company for Lot 72 as a zoning lot; and

- The Effect of the Stipulation

WHEREAS, in light of the evidence regarding the litigation and Stipulation, the Appellant provided the following supplementary arguments: (1) a stipulation is not a functional equivalent to a zoning lot certification; (2) a stipulation is unable to effectuate a zoning lot certification and a zoning lot certification is required by the Zoning Resolution; and (3) zoning requirements cannot be varied absent jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the stipulation is not a functional equivalent to a zoning lot declaration and is vulnerable to challenge by the owner of Lot 69 whose rights are affected by it to which it was not a party, or by any other person with standing; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that DOB acknowledged that the Stipulation conditions that the Lot 69/72 zoning lot "already exists by virtue of . . . the sale of rights of the rear yard and courts of 815 Park Avenue" and "the fact that 813 and 815 Park Avenue were under common beneficial ownership at the time of the sale of such rights" do not form a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Zoning Resolution does not recognize any "functional equivalent" for forming a zoning lot and DOB must rely on the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the stipulation, which is contrary to the clear meaning of the statute was executed in error as statutory law is supreme in the hierarchy of legal authority, and no agreement for an illegal act is ever valid; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that for those reasons, a Lot 69/72 zoning lot cannot exist absent zoning lot formation consistent with the requirements of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant asserts that under the definition of zoning lot, there are requirements for certifying a zoning lot having two or more fee owners and for recording the description of the zoning lot, each in connection with a development; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the following Zoning Resolution requirements must be followed for the preparation and the recording of a zoning lot (1) a zoning lot certification and (2) a zoning description and ownership statement; allowing a "functional equivalent" would prevent the owner of Lot 72 from complying with zoning lot certification and zoning lot description and ownership statement requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that under the Zoning Resolution's definition of "zoning lot," at subdivision (f)(1) of the definition, title insurance companies are given a role in the certifying of a zoning lot and that a title insurance company cannot certify Lots 69 and 72 as a zoning lot as there exists no "duly record" Declaration of Restrictions; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the agreements, no matter their content, do not allow a title insurance company to certify Lots 69 and 72 as a single zoning lot because it does not comport with the Zoning Resolution, specifically under subdivision (d) of the zoning lot definition, the only method for forming a zoning lot of "two or more lots of record," as there are here, to be "declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one 'zoning lot … [s]uch declaration shall be made in one written Declaration of Restrictions" that, the definition states, "shall be recorded;" and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that in the case of Lots 69 and 72, there is no recorded Declaration of Restrictions, and no zoning lot declaration that declares these lots of record to be treated as a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that to alter the requirements for zoning lot formation, as the supplemental stipulation purports to do, for the formation of a zoning lot among multiple lots and multiple owners by a zoning lot declaration varies zoning, without authority; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that only the Board, under Charter Section 666(5), has jurisdiction to vary zoning; and

- The Definition of Building

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB's mention of the definition of building in its Final Determination is not relevant because the review is not whether the Lot 72 Building is a "building" per the Zoning Resolution but whether Lot 72 is a zoning lot under the definition of zoning lot; and

- Relief Requested

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant requests that the Board modify the Lot 72 Building's CO so as to indicate that the lot is a zoning lot (and that no zoning lot merger was formed between Lots 69 and 72) in order to allow the Appellant to apply for and obtain a CO for solely Lot 72 as a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that if the Board modifies the CO, DOB is not in a position to then revoke it; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant proposes instead that following the Board's modification of the CO, it will make application to the Landmarks Preservation Commission for its proposed construction and then ultimately seek a new CO at which time DOB may or may not object to the CO application; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant represents that it is unclear about what form the construction will take and what position DOB may have on a new CO; and

- Lot 69 and Lot 72 Are a Single Zoning Lot

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that it does not have the authority to issue a determination that Lot 72 is a separate zoning lot because the CO states that Lots 69 and 72 form a single zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB relies on New York City Charter Section 645(b)(3)(e), which states that a CO is binding and conclusive as to all matters set forth in the certificate and no determination can be at variance with any matter in the certificate unless it is set aside, vacated or modified by the Board of Standards and Appeals or a court; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the 1996 CO contains the note: "This premises is part of a zoning lot consisting of Lots 69 and 72, as per Commissioner Minkin's memo dated 12/9/83. Easement filed under Reel 591, Pages 620-630" and the Charter prohibits DOB from disregarding the CO's note that Lots 69 and 72 are merged into one zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB adds that a zoning lot merger was proposed at the time of the application for the CO; a description of the work on the approved Alteration Application No. 645/89 which includes the following: "An amended C of O will be obtained. This is a major alteration and structural stability is involved; this premises is part of a zoning lot consisting of lots 69 & 72, as per Commissioner Minkin's memo dated 12/9/83. Easement filed under reel 591, pages 620-630;" and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that the former owner's representative's last two typewritten sentences are circled and a handwritten note reads: "This note to be indicated on certificate of occupancy" followed by what appear to be the initials of both the DOB plan examiner and the former owner's representative dated June 21, 1995; and

WHEREAS, DOB rejects the Appellant's assertion that the failure to record a zoning lot declaration and a zoning lot description and ownership statement means that the zoning lot was not lawfully created pursuant to the ZR § 12-10 definition of "zoning lot" because it recognizes that the attorneys representing the former owner of Lot 72 signed agreements conceding that Lots 69 and 72 comprised a single zoning lot and binding both the City and the owner of Lot 72 to recognize the zoning lot in all future applications; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB finds that the Stipulation is the functional equivalent of a zoning lot declaration and zoning lot description and ownership statement in that it is a statement signed by attorneys representing the owners of the premises identifying the zoning lot; instead of the owners declaring the formation of the zoning lot, the parties stipulated and agreed to the zoning lot and are bound to recognize its existence in all permit applications; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that in the event the Appellant denies having an obligation to comply with the Stipulation, the CO that was conditioned on the existence of the zoning lot is placed in jeopardy because the CO is valid only to the extent it was issued in reliance on the existence of the zoning lot as described in the Stipulation; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that if there were no such zoning lot, the CO was issued in error given that the merger was necessary to resolve the DOB's objections concerning the encroaching elevator and northern wall; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that if the Appellant does not follow the Stipulation and instead claims that the zoning lot merger was defective, the Lot 72 Building will be exposed to the same violating conditions DOB raised before the merger was recognized; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB concludes that if the Appellant insists that the zoning lot was not properly formed, the CO issued in reliance on the zoning lot is likewise rendered defective; and

WHEREAS, DOB concludes that the CO properly reflects that the two tax lots are merged into one zoning lot as the zoning lot merger was made necessary by the development on both lots; and

- The Definition of Building

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that, by definition, one building cannot straddle two zoning lots and because there are elements of the Lot 72 Building on both Lots 69 and 72, Lots 69 and 72 cannot be separate zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB relies on the ZR § 12-10 definition of "building," which requires that a building be located within the lot lines of a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the application plans approved under Alteration No. 645/89 reflect elevators on Lot 69 that serve the building on Lot 72; and

WHEREAS, DOB provides that the 1981 easement reference on the CO reflects a grant from the owner of Lot 69 to the owner of Lot 72 for use of Lot 69 for the construction and maintenance of two elevators and elevator shaft to service 813 Park Avenue and for the use and maintenance of the northerly wall that encroaches on Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant submitted a survey, dated March 9, 1996, which depicts portions of the northern wall of the building on Lot 72 as an encroachment on Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that in the event the CO is revoked, no new CO could be issued to Lot 72 as a separate zoning lot and it could not be lawfully occupied given that the elevator tower and north wall are not on the Lot 72 Building's zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that under both the Zoning Resolution's 1961 and 2011 definitions of building, there is a prohibition on straddling multiple zoning lots; specifically, under the 1961 ZR text, a "building" must be "bounded by either open area or the lot lines of a zoning lot;" further, where a structure's exterior walls are not located on zoning lot lines and the structure is instead bounded by open area, the 1961 definition is understood to mean that the structure is bounded by the open area of its zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that in 2011 the definition was amended, but it still requires a building to be located within zoning lot lines: a "building" must be "located within the lot lines of a zoning lot… ;" therefore, while a building can straddle a tax lot line, the post-1961 Zoning Resolution never permitted a building to straddle the zoning lot line; and

WHEREAS, additionally, DOB notes that the 2011 Zoning Resolution key terms text amendment made a substantive change to the 1961 "building" definition to allow abutting buildings that are located on a single zoning lot to be treated as separate independent buildings for zoning purposes, but the amendment did not change that part of the definition that required a building to be wholly contained within zoning lot lines; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that exterior building walls cannot straddle zoning lot lines without undermining the concept of the zoning lot as the basic unit for zoning regulations and that the Zoning Resolution regulates land use and development by controlling the use, building size, density and open areas of each zoning lot and each building must be located on only one zoning lot in order to demonstrate the building's compliance with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB discovered its March 30, 1983 letter to the owners of Lots 69 and 72 listing outstanding objections to the alteration application and describing the lots as a single zoning lot, while acknowledging that an easement agreement is not sufficient to resolve an objection that portions of the Lot 72 Building are proposed to be located on Lot 69 and also reflects the Zoning Resolution requirement that Lots 69 and 72 be merged into a single zoning lot because the enlargement application filed by the owner of Lot 72 relies on area located on the adjoining Lot 69; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that unless both lots are treated as a single zoning lot, the premises is not entitled to receive a CO certifying that the building conforms to applicable laws; and

- The Remedy Sought

WHEREAS, DOB states that if the CO's zoning lot description is incorrect, the CO cannot be modified to reflect a different zoning lot but rather must be set aside in its entirety; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that if the Board determines that the zoning lot merger did not take effect and the CO was erroneously issued for the building on a merged lot, the Appellant cannot obtain a new CO describing Lot 72 as the zoning lot given the building's encroachment onto Lot 69 and without a CO, the premises cannot be lawfully occupied; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that given that the building is already constructed, the best way to correct the error in formation of the zoning lot is by submitting the missing zoning lot documents; in the alternate, it would seek the Board's revocation of the CO since the building will remain but occupancy of the building will be prohibited; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the Appellant that (1) the ZR § 12-10 definition of zoning lot has clear requirements and does not provide for any exceptions such as a functional equivalent to the zoning lot declaration; and (2) there is not any evidence to establish that a Lot 69/72 zoning lot was created; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the Appellant that the ZR § 12-10 definition as it applies to these facts is not ambiguous and that Lot 72 satisfies the definition in at least one of the subdivisions (a) through (c); and

WHEREAS, on the contrary, the Board does not find that there is any acceptable evidence that Lot 69/72 was formed in accordance with the definition's subdivision (d); the insufficient evidence includes that as of the date of the Settlement Agreement, no zoning lot merger was effectuated and through the Stipulation, it was agreed that the zoning lot merger was no longer required; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not persuaded that agreements made between only the City and the former owner of Lot 72 (but not the former owner of Lot 69) absent any of the other standard zoning lot declaration documents and that are inconsistent with the Zoning Resolution are substitutes for the Zoning Resolution's requirement; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not condone the practice of a property owner benefitting from flouting an agreement made in good faith for a clear purpose, but it also does not find that a functional equivalent to Zoning Resolution requirements is contemplated within the ZR § 12-10 definition of zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the notion that the parties' intent and DOB's good faith at the time of the Stipulation can override zoning; and

WHEREAS, the jurisdiction to waive Zoning Resolution provisions is vested in the Board and the Board does not find any basis to accept the Settlement Agreement and Stipulation as being imbued with such jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, nor does the Board find that notations on the CO or the Alteration Application, recognizing information inconsistent with what is required by the Zoning Resolution, are substitutes for required zoning lot declaration documents; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that the CO issued in reliance on an agreement contrary to law was issued in error; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that Lot 72 is a zoning lot and a merged Lot 69/72 does not exist; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not deny that zoning regulations necessitated a merger of lots 69 and 72 to allow for the construction of the Lot 72 Building; however, it does not find that the requirement to satisfy the definition of building willed the zoning lot into being absent satisfaction of the Zoning Resolution's clear requirements for zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the Lot 72 Building, with portions on Lot 69 and Lot 72, does not satisfy the Zoning Resolution definition of building; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB's interpretation of the definition of building and that the Lot 72 Building's non-compliance precludes it from obtain a CO as currently constructed; and

WHEREAS, as to the Lot 72 Building's zoning compliance, the Board cites to the Appellant's own assertion that only the Board may waive zoning regulations to note that DOB has no such authority to waive the definition of building and allow a building to straddle two zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board declines to direct DOB to modify the CO to remove any notations associated with the zoning lot merger between Lots 69 and 72 as such modification would result in another erroneous CO due to zoning non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board directs the Appellant to apply to modify the CO for a building on Lot 72 that complies with the definition of building and all other zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not modify the CO and restricts the Appellant from doing so until DOB is satisfied with the Lot 72 Building's zoning compliance; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board grants the appeal to the extent of agreeing that the merged zoning lot was not formed, but the Board does not direct DOB to modify the Certificate of Occupancy until such time as it is satisfied that the Lot 72 Building is fully zoning compliant.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated April 4, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420475024 reads, in pertinent part:

> Proposed parapet exceeds maximum height, contrary to ZR 24-51; sky exposure plane to be measured from height above front yard line of non-disturbed natural grade level, per ZR 24-31; proposed street wall front height and related structure are contrary to ZR 24-521 and 24-51; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site within an R2A zoning district, a one-story and cellar building to be occupied on both levels by a house of worship for a church (Use Group 4), which does not comply with the underlying zoning regulations for permitted obstructions and sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR §§ 24-51 and 24-521; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 11, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, this application is being brought on behalf of Saint Paul's Catholic Church, a non-profit religious entity (the "Church"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southeast corner of the intersection of 32nd Avenue and Parsons Boulevard, within an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 150 feet of frontage along 32nd Avenue, 85 feet of frontage along Parsons Boulevard, and a total lot area of approximately 14,661 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a one-story community facility building ("Worship Center") with a floor area of 7,083 sq. ft. (0.48 FAR), a wall height of 25'-0", a building height of 34'-6", and roof parapet spanning the full width of the building with a height of 9'-6", which: (1) is in excess of the maximum parapet height permitted per ZR § 24-51 (4'-0"); and (2) due to its width, eclipses the required one-to-one sky exposure plane required per ZR § 24-521; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, other than the proposed parapet, the Worship Center complies in all respects with the applicable use and bulk regulations; however, because the proposed parapet wall does not comply, the subject variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Worship Center will contain 16 religious study and consultation rooms, two administrative offices, a choir practice room, and a chapel, and will be used by parishioners and Church staff for religious education, private spiritual meditation, and religious seminars; and

WHEREAS, as to the finding under ZR § 72-21(a), that there are unique physical conditions which create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying with the underlying zoning regulations, the Board acknowledges that the Church, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to the ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, nevertheless, the applicant states that the site has a unique sloping condition, which creates a practical difficulty and an unnecessary hardship in complying with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant states that the Worship Center will have its main entrance on Parsons Boulevard and that the site slopes in an easterly direction away from Parsons Boulevard along 32nd Avenue, resulting in a significantly lower elevation at the entrance (32.45 feet) than at the rear of the building (44.25 feet); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that such slope causes necessary but unsightly roof structures and mechanicals to be more visible from the entrance than would be the case in a non-sloping site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposed parapet would obscure the unsightly roof structures and mechanicals; as such, there is a direct nexus between the unique physical condition (sloping site) and the requested variances (a more robust parapet than is permitted as-of-right); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the following are the Church's programmatic needs necessitating the requested variances: (1) to locate the Worship Center in the subject neighborhood, in close proximity to the Church's main building and rectory in order to accommodate the size of the congregation and allow for future growth; and (2) to maximize all usable space within an as-of-right building whose appearance reflects the sacred nature of its use and is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Worship Center's location in close proximity to the Church's main building and rectory will allow the buildings to function together, which will maximize the amount of space that can be devoted to the Church's various religious activities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, having selected the site based on its location and proximity, the Church sought to construct an as-of-right building that would accommodate its growing congregation and programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Church has the largest congregation in the Brooklyn-Queens Archdiocese, with more than 6,000 parishioners; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that it could have justified a significantly larger building based on its programmatic needs as a religious institution, but instead chose to design a building that would be harmonious with the neighborhood character (many of its congregants reside nearby); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, owing to such constraints, it endeavored to maximize program space, which led to the placement of required egress stairs at the northwestern and eastern ends of the building, which in turn resulted in stair bulkheads on the roof near the street walls; a location which the Church considers undesirable for a scared space; and

WHEREAS, thus, in order to maintain an entrance that reflects the staid, sacred nature of the worship space within, the proposed parapet wall was necessary to shield observers from the stair bulkheads and other unsightly mechanical equipment, which are associated with more utilitarian structures; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted as-of-right plans reflecting a parapet wall in compliance with the height and sky-exposure plane requirements of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that under the scenario, in order to maintain an aesthetically proper front façade i.e., one that is free of unsightly roof obstructions, the stairs would have to be relocated further away from the street; in addition, a completely-enclosed egress hallway would be required to comply with the egress requirements of the Building Code, which would result in a loss of 1,709 sq. ft. of program space; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the Board acknowledges that the Church, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Church create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Church is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, as to the finding under ZR § 72-21(c), the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed use is permitted in the subject zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the proposed building fits completely within the permitted building envelope at the site and that, aside from the proposed parapet wall variances, complies with all other zoning regulations, including front yard, rear yard, side yards, lot coverage, and parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Worship Center has a lower height than two nearby buildings: the Church's main building on the adjacent lot, with a steeple rise well above the Worship Center; and a six-story multiple dwelling located directly east of the Church's main building and diagonal to the Worship Space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the proposed parapet creates an attractive, unbroken streetscape along Parsons Boulevard, which is compatible with other buildings on the block and in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, as to the finding under ZR § 72-21(d), the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Church could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, as to the finding under ZR § 72-21(e) requiring that the variance be the minimum necessary to afford relief, as noted above, the Worship Center complies in all respects with the applicable bulk parameters except those relating to a portion of the parapet wall on the Parsons Boulevard exposure; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds the requested waivers to be the minimum necessary to afford the Church the relief needed both to meet its programmatic needs and to construct a building that is compatible with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, a one-story and cellar building to be occupied on both levels by a house of worship for a church (Use Group 4), which does not comply with the underlying zoning regulations for permitted obstructions and sky exposure plane, contrary to ZR §§ 24-51 and 24-521, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received March 18, 2013" – Twelve (12) sheets and "Received June 27, 2013" – Four (4) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: a maximum floor area of 7,083 sq. ft. (0.48 FAR); a maximum wall height of 25'-0"; a maximum building height of 34'-6", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in control or ownership of the building shall require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the use shall be limited to a house of worship (Use Group 4);

THAT the above conditions shall be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the premises is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks an increase in the floor area from of 3,255 sq. ft. (0.54 FAR) to 5,791 sq. ft. (0.95 FAR); the maximum permitted floor area is 3,000 sq. ft. (0.50 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to maintain its existing non-complying side yard, which has a width of 4'-10" and reduce its complying side yard from a width of 15'-10" to a width of 10'-10"; the requirement is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposal complies in all other respects with the Zoning Resolution; in addition, the existing, complying building height is being reduced from 34;-0" to 32'-4" and the non-complying perimeter wall height of 21'-4" is being reduced to a complying height of 21'-0"; the applicant states that these adjustments are more in keeping with the streetscape than the building as it presently exists; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood and will not impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, at hearing the Board directed the applicant to submit a neighborhood study to support this representation; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a study of the 84 single-family homes within 400 feet of the site; based on the study, 16 homes (or 19 percent of the homes studied) have an FAR of 1.0 or greater; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees with the applicant that the proposed bulk is in keeping with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II Declaration under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R3X zoning district, the proposed enlargement of a two-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio ("FAR") and side yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141 and 23-461; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received July 12, 2013"- (12) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: two dwelling units, a maximum floor area of 5,791 sq. ft. (0.95 FAR), side yards with minimum widths of 4'-10" and 10'-10", a maximum building height of 32'-4", and a perimeter wall height of 21'-0", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objections(s) only; no approval has been given by the Board as to the use and layout of the cellar;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated February 13, 2013, and acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320329471 reads, in pertinent part:

Proposed side yards are contrary to ZR 113-543, 23-461(a), pertaining to R4A

Proposed parking space is not permitted in front yard pursuant to ZR 113-54; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yards and provides parking within the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461, 113-543, and 113-54; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 14, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 11, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East Fifth Street between Avenue L and Avenue M; and

WHEREAS, the site is located within an R5 district within the Special Ocean Parkway District and has approximately 41 feet of frontage along East Fifth Street; and

WHEREAS, the site is a triangular lot ranging in lot width from approximately 41 feet at the front lot line to 9.38 feet at the rear lot line; the lot depth ranges from 104.9 feet to 100 feet; the site has a lot area of approximately 2,521 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a two-story, detached, single-family home with approximately 2,135.40 sq. ft. of floor area (0.85 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that DOB permits for an as-of-right enlargement of the building have been obtained and construction has commenced but not yet been completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing first and second floor of the building contrary to the side yard and front yard requirements and increase the floor area from 2,135.40 sq. ft. (0.85 FAR) to 2,454,88 sq. ft. (0.97 FAR) (a maximum of 3,781.50 sq. ft. (1.50 FAR) is permitted); and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant proposes one side yard with a width of 1'-4" and one side yard with a width of 4'-0" (two side yards of no less than two feet each and ten feet total, with a minimum distance of eight feet between buildings is required, per ZR § 113-543); and a parking space within the required front yard (parking is not permitted within the front yard, per ZR § 113-54); the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement complies in all other respects with the applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, because the proposed enlargement does not comply with the R5/Special Ocean Parkway District regulations, a variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the subject site in compliance with underlying zoning regulations: the lot size and shape; limited width; and limited potential floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the lot is triangular in shape, which limits the development of the site to a triangular building due to compliance with the side yard and accessory parking requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a deed chain showing that the lot shape is a historic condition, which has existed since at least 1928; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that a triangular building has constrained and inefficient floorplates, inadequate shared living space, and impedes realization of the maximum available FAR; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the limited width of the lot—which, as noted above, is less than ten feet at the rear lot line—would result in a building that tapers to a width of approximately 5'-6" at the rear, which is too narrow to accommodate usable living space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the triangularity of the lot and its narrow width are atypical on the subject block, where the average lot is rectangular in shape with an average width of 21'-6"; and since many homes are semi-detached and share driveways, the average building on the block has a building width of 17'-5"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the only other triangular lot on the block is adjacent to the subject lot but is substantially larger, with approximately 3,900 sq. ft. of lot area, which is nearly 1,400 sq. ft. more than the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the shape and width of the lot reduce the potential building floor area well below what is permitted on the site and common on the block; specifically, the applicant states that it can only build 2,275 sq. ft. of floor area as-of-right, but homes in the neighborhood with average-sized, rectangular lots typically can build up to 2,600 sq. ft. as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant explored the feasibility of enlarging the building as-of-right i.e., with complying side yards and a parking space within the side lot ribbon, and determined that it would result in an increase in floor area of approximately 140 sq. ft. (70 sq. ft. on each story), which the applicant deemed impractical given the cost of construction; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that an as-of-right enlargement is infeasible; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that compliance with applicable zoning regulations will result in a habitable home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood, or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal essentially maintains existing distance between the subject building and the adjacent building to the south and will maintain a distance of greater than 20 feet from the adjacent building to the north; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlargement will occur in the rear of the building and will not be visible from East Fifth Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the proposed building is well within the maximum height and maximum permitted FAR in the district; thus, the impact of the enlargement on the surrounding community from a bulk perspective is both minimal and harmonious with the neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, as to the parking space within the front yard, the applicant notes while the space is within the front yard, it is not located in front of the home, but on the side of the home where the side yard intersects with the front yard; as such, in terms of appearance it is comparable to parking spaces in the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is a result of the unique lot size and shape; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yards and provides parking within the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461, 113-543, and 113-54; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received January 31, 2013" - (10) and "May 28, 2013"-(2) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the proposed building will be limited to: two stories, a maximum floor area of 2,454,88 sq. ft. (0.97 FAR), side yards with minimum widths of 1'-4" and 4'-0", and one accessory off-street parking space within the front yard, as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT significant construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated March 6, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121524733, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed use as a Physical Culture Establishment, as defined by ZR 12-10, is contrary to ZR 32-10 and must be referred to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval pursuant to ZR 73-36; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located partially within a C5-3 zoning district and partially within a C5-2.5 zoning district within the Special Midtown District, the operation of a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on portions of the seventh, eighth, and ninth stories of a 57-story mixed commercial and residential building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 11, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 5, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregular lot with 112 feet of frontage along East 58th Street between Park Avenue and Lexington Avenue and 60 feet of frontage along East 57th Street between Park Avenue and Lexington Avenue, with a total lot area of approximately 17,272 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is located partially within a C5-3 zoning district and partially within a C5-2.5 zoning district within the Special Midtown District and is occupied by a 57-story mixed commercial and residential building with approximately 453,533 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the proposed PCE will occupy approximately 12,485 sq. ft. of floor area on the seventh story, 12,921 sq. ft. of floor area on the eighth story, and 9,629 sq. ft. of floor area on the ninth story, for a total PCE floor area of 35,035 sq. ft.; the PCE will also feature an outdoor pool and deck at the ninth story; and

WHEREAS, the PCE is operated as "Spa Castle Premiere 57"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the services at the PCE include facilities for instruction and programs for physical improvement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Board previously granted a special permit for the legalization of a PCE at the site on May 2, 2000, under BSA Cal. No. 1-00-BZ; the term of that grant was for ten years and expired on January 3, 2010; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the hours of operation for the proposed PCE are 24 hours per day, seven days per week; however, the hours of operation for the outdoor pool will be seven days per week, 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-36(b), in certain commercial districts, a PCE may be located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, provided that such use is incidental to the PCE located within the same building, open and unobstructed to the sky, and located not less than 23 feet above curb level; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the PCE operator and the owner of the building must jointly bring the application for the outdoor PCE use, and in authorizing such use, the Board must prescribe appropriate controls to minimize adverse impacts on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant eliminated the bar, amended the plans to include landscaping around the pool area, confirmed that there were no residential uses immediately adjacent to the outdoor portion of the PCE, and agreed to limit the hours of the outdoor space, as noted above; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, the Board also finds that the proposed PCE is consistent with the purposes and provisions of the Special Midtown District, in accordance with ZR § 81-13; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated December 21, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320696984 reads, in pertinent part:

The proposed enlargement of the existing one-family residence in an R5 zoning district:

1. Creates non-compliance with respect to the side yard by not meeting the minimum requirements of Section 23-461 of the Zoning Resolution.
2. Creates non-compliance with respect to the rear yard by not meeting the minimum requirements of Section 23-47 of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R5 zoning district in the Special Ocean Parkway District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for rear and side yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461 and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on May 14, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 15, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of Ocean Parkway, between Avenue T and Avenue U; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a total lot area of 5,000 sq. ft., and is occupied by a single-family home with a floor area of approximately 3,015 sq. ft. (0.60 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the premises is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks an increase in the floor area from 3,015 sq. ft. (0.60 FAR), to 6,083 sq. ft. (1.22 FAR); the maximum floor area permitted is 6,250 sq. ft. (1.25 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to increase the width of the non-complying side yard from 1'-3 ¼" to 2'-3" along the north lot line and provide a side yard with a width of 8'-0" along the south lot line; the requirement is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet; the minimum required rear yard depth is 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant proposes to maintain the existing non-complying front yard depth of 22'-1 ¼"; a front yard with a minimum depth of 30'-0" is required pursuant to the Special Ocean Parkway District regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board directed the applicant to establish that the front yard depth is a pre-existing non-complying condition in the Special Ocean Parkway District; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant provided a 1930 Sanborn map which reflects that the front yard pre-dates the Zoning Resolution and the establishment of the Special Ocean Parkway District on January 20, 1977; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, within an R5 zoning district in the Special Ocean Parkway District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for rear and side yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461 and 23-47; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received April 29, 2013"-(12) sheets; and on further condition:

WHEREAS, the underlying case is an appeal requesting a Board determination that the owner of the site has obtained the right to complete construction of a three-story building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, on January 25, 2010, the Applicant filed an application with the Board seeking recognition of a right to continue construction under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, on October 5, 2010, under the subject calendar number, the Board found that a vested right to continue construction under Department of Buildings ("DOB") Permit Application No. 302049441 ("the Permit") had accrued to the owner under the common law; and

WHEREAS, on November 10, 2010, the adjacent neighbors, represented by counsel (hereinafter, "the Opposition"), appealed the Board's determination in New York State Supreme Court pursuant to Article 78 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules; and

WHEREAS, by decision and order in Bibi Lieberman 1999 Revocable Trust v. City of New York, dated September 5, 2012, Supreme Court, Kings County, Justice Lewis voided the Board's decision, and "remanded to the BSA for a full review of the questions presented, including whether the Permit issued by the DOB was legally sufficient to be the foundation of the common law vested right to continue construction"; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on February 12, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on April 9, 2013 and May 21, 2013, and then to decision on July 23, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 15, Brooklyn, recommended disapproval of the original vested rights application; and

WHEREAS, United States Congressman Michael Grimm, New York State Senator Tony Avella, and New York State Assemblyman Steven Cymbrowitz submitted written testimony in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, the Madison Marine Homecrest Civic Association and the Manhattan Beach Community Group provided testimony in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, a representative of the owner of the subject site ("the Applicant") appeared and made submissions in support of DOB's finding that the Permit was valid; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition appeared and made submissions in opposition to DOB's finding that the Permit was valid; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community provided testimony in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, DOB appeared and made submissions regarding the validity of the Permit; and

BACKGROUND

WHEREAS, the Applicant proposes to develop the subject site with a three-story residential building; the subject site was formerly located within an R6 zoning district, however, on February 15, 2006 (hereinafter, the "Rezoning Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Homecrest Rezoning, which rezoned the site to R4-1; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant represents that the development complies with the former R6 district parameters, but does not comply with the R4-1 district parameters with respect to floor area ratio, height, and front yard depth; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, a valid permit must have been issued prior to the Rezoning Date; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that on December 13, 2005, DOB issued the Permit, authorizing construction of a five-story and cellar residential building at the site; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that on February 7, 2006, DOB issued a post approval amendment ("PAA") to the Permit authorizing the addition of a sixth floor to the proposed residential building at the site; the applicant represents that the six-story building complied with the R6 zoning district regulations in effect at the time the PAA was issued; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that on April 13, 2009, DOB issued a PAA to the Permit authorizing the reduction of the proposed building to a three-story residential building and solarium; the three-story building complied with the R6 zoning and it utilized all of the work completed at the site prior to the Rezoning Date; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant notes that, as compared to the six-story building, the proposed three-story building represents a reduction in floor area from 7,515 sq. ft. (3.0 FAR) to 4,038 sq. ft. (1.61 FAR), a reduction in wall height from 62'-1" to 42'-10 ½", and a reduction in total height from 62'-1" to 53'-10 ¾"; therefore, the proposed three-story building reduces the degree of non-compliance with the current R4-1 zoning district, with respect to the floor area and height of the building; and

WHEREAS, on January 25, 2010, the Applicant filed an application with the Board seeking recognition of a right to continue construction under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, DOB submitted letters dated April 20, 2010, May 6, 2010, and October 1, 2010 to confirm for the Board that the Permit was lawfully issued prior to the Rezoning Date; and

WHEREAS, based on these letters, which reflect the permit-issuing agency's confirmation that it validly issued the Permit, the Board found that the Permit was validly issued and therefore a basis on which to seek a vested right to continue construction; and

WHEREAS, on October 5, 2010, the Board voted in favor of a resolution granting a vested right to continue construction; and

WHEREAS, subsequent to the Board's vote, on October 25, 2010, the Opposition emailed a complaint to DOB alleging that the walls and roof of the subject building were removed and the foundation was enlarged; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Opposition's October 25th email, DOB inspected the site and confirmed that such work had taken place; consequently, by letter dated November 15, 2010, DOB advised the Opposition that due to the extent of the removal work, an application for a New Building Permit ("NB") rather than an Alteration Type-1 Permit ("ALT") permit should have been filed, but that the error in application type was "administrative" and "did not render the Permit invalid"; and

WHEREAS, on November 10, 2010, the Opposition appealed the Board's determination in New York State Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, on September 5, 2012, Justice Lewis remanded the matter to the Board for a review of its decision and a determination on the validity of the Permit; and

THE OPPOSITION'S POSITION REGARDING THE PERMIT

WHEREAS, the Opposition contends that the Permit was not validly issued, and thus cannot form the basis for a vested right to continue construction; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Opposition asserts that the Permit was invalid when issued because the Permit should have been filed as an NB application rather than an ALT application, per DOB Technical Policy and Procedure Notice ("TPPN") No. 1/02; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Permit should have been filed, per TPPN 1/02, as an NB application, rather than an ALT application, and that such failure renders the permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that under TPPN 1/02, an NB application must be filed instead of an ALT application when: (a) more than 50 percent of the area of exterior walls is removed; (b) all floors at or above grade and the roof are demolished; and (c) the foundation system is altered or enlarged; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition contends that during the course of construction under the Permit, greater than 50 percent of the exterior walls were removed, all floors at or above grade and the roof were removed and the foundation was altered and enlarged; the Opposition submitted photographs in support of this assertion; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that because the limits of the TPPN were exceeded, an NB application was required and the applicant was no longer permitted to rely on the Permit for vesting purposes; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also contends that: (1) the Permit application did not contain complete plans and specifications authorizing the entire construction and not merely a part thereof, per ZR § 11-31; (2) the Permit lacked certain forms that are required by DOB to accompany an NB application, including a Builder's Pavement Plan ("BPP"), a site connection proposal on forms SD1 and SD2, Technical Reports of Inspection ("controlled inspections") for underpinning, shoring and bracing, on forms TR1 and TR2; (3) the Permit did not contain underpinning plans and specifications, as required by New York City Administrative Code ("AC") §§ 27-715 and 27-724, demolition plans or sprinkler plans; and (4) the plans submitted with the Permit suffer from a lack of "construction detailing information," including building sections, wall sections, stair detailing and materials used, contrary to AC § 27-157; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the Permit application did not contain complete plans and specifications authorizing the entire construction and not merely a part thereof in accordance with ZR § 11-31, which in pertinent part provides that

> [a] lawfully issued building permit shall be a building permit which is based on an approved application showing complete plans and specifications, authorizes the entire construction and not merely a part thereof; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that because the Permit did not include underpinning, demolition or sprinkler plans, forms SD1 and SD2 regarding the house connection, forms TR1 and TR2 regarding the underpinning, bracing, and shoring, and a BPP, the plans generally lacked sufficient detail under AC § 27-157, and the plans were not approved by DOB in accordance with ZR § 11-30; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also states that the failure to file an NB application was not an administrative irregularity; rather, the Opposition, asserts that such failure necessarily results in a failure to submit numerous additional required items, including forms SD1 and SD2 regarding the house connection, forms TR1 and TR2 regarding the underpinning, bracing, and shoring, and a BPP; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that the absence of the SD1 and SD2, the BPP and the TR1s and TR2s for underpinning, bracing, and shoring, rendered the Permit invalid; the Opposition also notes that such items should have been included with the Permit according to a Required Items Guide published by DOB and dated July 16, 2006; and

WHEREAS, further, the Opposition contends that once it became clear that an NB Application was required for the scope of work performed at the site, demolition, underpinning and sprinkler plans also became required; and

WHEREAS, as such, the Opposition states that the absence of demolition, underpinning and sprinkler plans rendered the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Opposition contends that the Permit suffers from an overriding lack of completeness and detailing in violation of AC § 27-157, and asserts that the question before the Board is not only whether the Permit is valid, but also whether, if DOB had known about the various alleged deficiencies, would DOB have issued the Permit in the first place; in support of this theory of the case, the Opposition emphasizes the fact that the Permit application was filed under professional certification (pursuant to AC § 27-143.2 and 1 RCNY § 21-01); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also contends that DOB has departed from its prior determinations of what constitutes a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Opposition asserts that DOB applied a different standard in BSA Cal. No. 121-10-A (25-50 Francis Lewis Boulevard, Queens); in that case, DOB considered an ALT permit invalid because based on its scope of work, a demolition permit was required, but never obtained; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that the failure to file an NB application is analogous to the failure to file a demolition application in BSA Cal. No. 121-10-A and that DOB's determination that the Permit is valid in this case is an arbitrary failure to adhere to the precedent it set in BSA Cal. No. 121-10-A; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also asserts that the Permit's failure to contain an SD1 and SD2 rendered the permit invalid in accordance with BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A (339 West 29th Street, Manhattan); in that case, DOB considered a permit invalid because it was issued without a required discretionary approval from another agency, namely, the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC"); and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that because the SD1 and SD2 must be approved by the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP"), they are analogous to the LPC permit in BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A, and that DOB's determination that the Permit is valid in this case is an arbitrary failure to adhere to the precedent it set in BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Opposition asserts that the Permit contains additional Building Code non-compliances, including: (1) lack of access to the required stair enclosure from the second, fourth and sixth stories, contrary to AC § 27-366 (the original plans were for a six-story building); (2) a private elevator, contrary to AC § 27-356(d); (3) exterior wall assemblies including wood studs, contrary to AC Title 27, Table 3-4; (4) insufficient furnace room ventilation, contrary to AC § 27-424; (5) the creation of a shaft without sufficient fire rating, contrary to AC Title 27, Table 3-4; and (6) rooms designed and arranged to be habitable but lacking required light and ventilation, contrary to AC §§ 27-733, 27-734, 27-749 and 27-750; and

DOB'S POSITION REGARDING THE PERMIT

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the Permit was validly issued, and contained only administrative irregularities; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Permit did not initially propose work that was required to be filed under an NB application pursuant to TPPN 1/02, however, the ALT limits of the TPPN were exceeded at the site and the requirement for an NB application was triggered; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Permit did not initially in 2005, or in subsequent amendments filed in 2006, 2008 and 2009 propose work that was required to be filed under an NB application pursuant to TPPN 1/02; and

WHEREAS, however, DOB states that during the course of construction, the ALT limits of the TPPN were exceeded and the requirement for an NB application was triggered; DOB notes that it determined that an NB application should have been filed in November 2010; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the subsequent requirement for the NB application due to the scope of work performed at the site is an administrative irregularity that did not render the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Administrative Code does not specify whether an NB application or an ALT application is appropriate where an existing building is to be enlarged by removing portions of the building, adding new construction materials, and reusing existing building elements; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that the failure to file an NB instead of an ALT is not a substantial deviation from the law and therefore not a basis for finding that the Permit was invalid when issued; and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that whether it requires retroactive compliance with the TPPN i.e., the filing of an NB application to replace an erroneous ALT application, depends on whether work has commenced under the ALT permit; where work has commenced, DOB allows the work to continue under the ALT permit and requires that items typically received prior to (NB) permit be submitted prior to the issuance of a temporary certificate of occupancy; where work has not commenced, DOB requires the ALT application to be withdrawn and replaced with an NB application; and

WHEREAS, as to the balance of the Opposition's arguments regarding the Permit, DOB asserts that: (1) since this application seeks recognition of a vested right under the common law, the statutory definition of "valid permit" set forth in ZR § 11-31 is not relevant; however, if it were, the Permit is considered complete within the meaning of the Zoning Resolution because the Permit application documents provided the minimum information required by the AC § 27-157 and were sufficient to allow DOB to conduct a meaningful review of the proposal; (2) the Permit's lack of certain forms associated with an NB application did not render the Permit invalid; (3) the Permit's lack of underpinning, demolition, or sprinkler plans did not render the Permit invalid; and (4) DOB's determination in the instant matter is distinguishable from its prior determinations in BSA Cal. Nos. 121-10-A and 145-12-A; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that since this application seeks recognition of a vested right under the common law, the statutory definition of "valid permit" set forth in ZR § 11-31 is not relevant; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, even if the Zoning Resolution "valid permit" definition applies, the Permit is considered valid because its application documents contained the information required by the AC § 27-157, which provides that applications for alteration permits shall be accompanied by "such architectural, structural, and mechanical plans as may be necessary to indicate the nature and extent of the proposed alteration work and its compliance with [the Administrative Code] and other applicable laws and regulations"; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that to satisfy ZR § 11-31 and AC § 27-157, it requires, at a minimum, plans and specifications that are sufficiently complete to allow a meaningful review of the proposal; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB asserts that neither the Zoning Resolution, nor the Administrative Code provide that an application is incomplete if it contains minor errors; and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that, per ZR § 11-31, "in case of dispute as to whether an application includes 'complete plans and specifications' as required in this Section, the Commissioner of Buildings shall determine whether such requirement has been met"; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Permit's lack of forms associated with an NB application (SD1 and SD2, BPP and TR1s and TR2s for underpinning, shoring, and bracing) did not render the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states the SD1 and SD2 (which DOB refers to as the "Site Connection Proposal" or "SCP") are required pursuant to AC § 27-901(e) to demonstrate that the water supply and sewage system for a new or altered building is connected to the public system and pursuant to AC § 27-901(k) to demonstrate proper disposal of storm water; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the submission of an SCP after the issuance of the Permit but before the issuance of a temporary certificate of occupancy is a minor error that did not render the Permit invalid; DOB also notes that, upon learning that an NB application should have been filed (based on the scope of work performed at the site), it notified the Applicant that the SCP would be required; and

WHEREAS, as to the BPP, DOB states that a BPP is required pursuant to AC § 27-204 to demonstrate that the sidewalk in front of a new or altered building is suitably improved; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that, per AC § 28-204, the BPP must be approved before a certificate of occupancy is issued; as such, the submission of the BPP after the issuance of the Permit did not render the permit invalid; DOB also notes that, upon learning that an NB application should have been filed (based on the scope of work performed at the site), it notified the Applicant that the BPP would be required; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that underpinning, shoring, and bracing controlled inspections were not required, per

AC § 27-724, because according to the construction documents for the Permit, the proposed underpinning and braced excavation surfaces were less than 10 feet below grade; accordingly, forms TR1 and TR2—which identify the professional responsible for performing the controlled inspections—were not required, and the absence of such forms did not render the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, DOB also states that, contrary to the Opposition's assertion, underpinning plans were not required for the proposed construction; rather, the plans complied with the requirements governing excavation and shoring; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB asserts that pursuant to AC § 27-715, "where support of adjacent structures or properties is required, such support may be provided by underpinning, sheeting, bracing or by other means acceptable to the Department," and that the "typical shoring plan" shown on Foundation Plan and Wall Types Sheet A-1 (approved April 2, 2009) shows supported excavation at a depth of eight feet; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's assertion that a demolition application was required once it became apparent that an NB application should have been filed, DOB asserts that it does not require a demolition application when it discovers that alteration thresholds are exceeded after the commencement of work; instead, DOB requires that the ALT application is amended to show the extent of the removal work; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that because it did not require a demolition application, it also did not require the Applicant to file certain items (an inspection report from the DOB Building Enforcement Safety Team, utility cutoffs, and extermination certifications) that accompany a demolition application; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the failure to file such items did not render the Permit invalid; DOB also notes that a registered design professional took responsibility for the safety of the removal work at the site, as required by 1 RCNY § 16-01; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's contention that a sprinkler application was required in connection with the Permit, DOB states that the Administrative Code does not require sprinkler plans to be included with a permit application; as such, the absence of sprinkler plans did not render the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that its determination in the instant matter is distinguishable from its prior determinations in BSA Cal. Nos. 121-10-A and 145-12-A; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the instant appeal is unlike BSA Cal. No. 121-10-A (25-50 Francis Lewis Boulevard, Queens); in that case, DOB found that an alteration permit was invalid because it proposed construction of a commercial building within a portion of a parcel occupied by a residential building without showing that the residence was to be demolished and without having obtained a demolition permit; because it would have been impossible to construct the commercial building without the removal of the residence, the alteration permit was invalid; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, in contrast to the plans and construction documents for the Francis Lewis Boulevard ALT permit, the construction documents and plans for the Permit showed the existing conditions; thus, the former was invalid and the latter was valid; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the instant appeal is also distinguishable from BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A (339 West 29th Street, Manhattan); in that case, DOB determined that the permit was invalid because it lacked a discretionary approval from LPC, which was required by AC § 25-305(b)(1) to have been secured prior to DOB's issuance of the permit; as noted above, the Opposition asserts that the Permit is similarly flawed as it lacked forms SD1 and SD2 (Site Connection Proposal), which require DEP approval, and should similarly be considered invalid; and

WHEREAS, in response, DOB asserts that although as a matter of policy it requires the Site Connection Proposal to be filed along with the NB application, the Site Connection Proposal is not a code-mandated, pre-DOB permit discretionary approval; as such, DOB considers the absence of the Site Connection Proposal in the Permit a minor error, which does not render the Permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Opposition questioned what standards DOB applies in determining whether a permit is valid; and

WHEREAS, in response, DOB states that it considers on a case-by-case basis whether errors contained in construction documents are so substantial as to render the permit invalid or instead are curable irregularities and that in each case, DOB compares the extent of the error against the scope of work; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that there is a "high threshold" for defects that render a permit invalid, citing: BSA Cal No. 242-09-A (75 First Avenue, Manhattan) (permit authorizing a street wall 82 feet higher than the 100-foot maximum was invalid); and BSA Cal. No. 193-09-A (78-46 79th Place, Queens) (permit authorizing a front yard eight feet shorter than the required 18 feet was invalid); and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that case law supports the notion that only substantial defects render a permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB cites to Matter of Menachem Realty Inc. v. Srinivasan, 60 AD3d 854 [2nd Dept 2009], in which DOB determined that a permit issued for the construction of a new building was not valid because it failed to demonstrate compliance with required plantings and an accessible ramp and the Board denied the vested rights application (BSA Cal. No. 85-06-BZY; 1623 Avenue P, Brooklyn); the Supreme Court reversed the Board's decision and the Appellate Division affirmed; and

WHEREAS, DOB also contends that Matter of GRA V, LLC v Srinivasan, 55 AD3d 58 [1st Dept 2008], revd 12 NY3d 863 [2009] is consistent with its determination of validity in the instant matter; in GRA V, LLC, DOB determined that a permit was invalid because it contained a front yard with a 1'-9" error and the Board denied the vested rights application (BSA Cal. No. 17-05-A; 3333 Giles Place, Bronx); notwithstanding that the Supreme Court and Appellate Division affirmed the denial, while the case was pending before the Court of Appeals, DOB acknowledged that its position on permit validity had evolved since the commencement of the case to accept cures of similar defects in other cases after a zoning amendment; accordingly, DOB determined the permit to be valid and it formed the basis for the Board's ultimate grant of the common law vested rights application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the relevant case law supports its determination that the Permit was valid because it contained only minor, curable errors and administrative irregularities; and

THE APPLICANT'S POSITION REGARDING THE PERMIT

WHEREAS, the Applicant concurs in DOB's arguments regarding the validity of the Permit and also submitted an affidavit from a former DOB commissioner, which indicated that the Permit was properly filed as an ALT application in that it complied with TPPN 1/02 (as amended by TPPN 1/05); and

WHEREAS, the Applicant also notes that the Opposition's reliance on the July 10, 2006 Required Items Guide (as evidence of the Permit's defectiveness) is misplaced, because the guide was issued approximately seven months after the Permit was first issued on December 12, 2005; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Applicant states that although the Permit application was filed under professional certification initially, it has been subjected to numerous audits over the years and its validity has consistently been reaffirmed by DOB; and

THE BOARD'S POSITION REGARDING THE PERMIT

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the record and agrees with DOB and the Applicant that the Permit was validly issued; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that whether an application was required to have been filed as an NB application or an ALT application is an administrative matter that is not indicative of the permit's overall validity; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB is the permit-issuing agency, with the expertise and authority to review plans and construction documents, to approve or deny applications, and to issue interpretations of the Building Code, Zoning Resolution, New York State Multiple Dwelling Law, and other applicable laws, rules, and regulations governing development of property within the City of New York; accordingly, in a vested rights application, the Board requests that DOB confirm that the permit it already issued pursuant to these requirements was valid; DOB's expertise in examining plans and construction documents is well-established and entitled to substantial deference, as the Appellate Division explained in Perrotta v. City of New York, Dep't of Bldgs., 107 A.D.2d 320, 324, 486 N.Y.S.2d 941, 944-45 [1st Dept 1985] aff'd sub nom. Perrotta v. City of New York, 66 N.Y.2d 859, 489 N.E.2d 255 (1985),

> [a] determination as to whether [there can be] vested rights under [a] building permit must, of necessity, involve an examination of the validity of the permit, as well as compliance with technical provisions of the Zoning Resolution, and this is clearly an appropriate inquiry for agency expertise. (emphasis added); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that during the course of the initial vested rights application, DOB confirmed the Permit's validity on four separate occasions in 2010 alone; therefore, the Board accepted DOB's letters as evidence that it, the permit-issuing agency, made a reasoned determination that the Permit was valid and did not request further information on the rationale underlying the determination; however, in light of the Court's remand, the Board directed DOB to provide the responses to the Opposition's specific assertions rejecting the validity claim and to explain how the Permit status is justified1; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's assertion that the Board failed to consider the requirements of the TPPN, the Board notes that its October 5, 2010 resolution pre-dated DOB's inspection and November 15, 2010 letter to the Opposition confirming that an NB application was required for the scope of work performed at the site; as such, the extent to which construction work deviated from that allowed by DOB under an ALT application pursuant to the TPPN could not have been (and was not) considered by the Board in its decision to grant the application; and

WHEREAS, however, now that the November 15, 2010 letter is before the Board, the Board finds that whether an application has been filed on the proper form is not dispositive as to whether such permit was valid, because the Board agrees with DOB that whether an application is filed as an NB or ALT is not determined by the Administrative Code but rather is an administrative determination that is by statute (New York City Charter § 645(b)(2) and AC §§ 27-110 and 27-139) and case law (Perrotta, 107 A.D.2d 320, 324) within the purview of DOB; consequently, the Board finds that DOB's application forms/types are not relevant to its analysis of vesting criteria, particularly if DOB has determined that the error does not render the permit invalid; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that while DOB's policy may be embodied in the form of a TPPN, DOB has the authority to deviate from the requirements of a TPPN where appropriate; and

WHEREAS, the Board also finds that it is reasonable for DOB to require retroactive compliance with the TPPN only where work has not commenced; the Board notes that in the instant matter, DOB discovered that the NB limits of the TPPN were triggered nearly five years after the initial issuance of the Permit; and

1 The Board also notes that, at hearing, the Opposition mischaracterized the Court's decision, alleging that the Court ruled that the Board "failed to follow its own precedent." The Court made no such ruling.

WHEREAS, as to whether, as the Opposition asserts, DOB should have required the filing of a demolition application once it determined that an NB application should have been filed – and that the failure to file such demolition application rendered the Permit invalid, the Board disagrees; indeed, as with all requirements deriving from the triggering of the NB application, the Board finds that invalidating the Permit based on its non-compliances with the code requirements and DOB's policies and procedures relating to NB applications ignores the fact that the Permit was filed as an ALT and complied as an ALT, with minor errors; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board disagrees with the Opposition that the appropriate inquiry for this remand is whether the Permit would have been issued in the first instance if the Permit application had not been filed under professional certification and if DOB had been aware of the Permit's irregularities; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects this characterization of the issue, primarily on the basis that it is speculative – it is simply not possible to determine whether the Permit application, as originally filed, would have been approved by a DOB plan examiner; of more importance to the Board is that DOB audited the Permit application multiple times and found that it contained no errors that would render it invalid; accordingly, that the application was professionally-certified (a common and established practice for design professionals in the city) is inconsequential; and

WHEREAS, as to the Opposition's remaining arguments regarding the validity of the Permit, the Board finds that: (1) the Permit was validly issued under both the statutory standard set forth in ZR § 11-31 and the common law standard; (2) the Permit application's lack of various forms and plans did not render it invalid; (3) the Opposition did not obtain final determinations for additional alleged Building Code non-compliances and such alleged non-compliances are beyond the scope of this application; and (4) the Board's precedent and case law are consistent with the determination that the Permit was valid; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Permit was lawfully issued under both the common law and under ZR § 11-31, which is more specific as to requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Boards finds that the Permit was complete within the meaning of ZR § 11-31 because the Permit application documents provided the information required by AC § 27-157 and were sufficient to allow DOB to conduct a meaningful review of the proposal; and

WHEREAS, the Board disagrees with DOB's assertion that the statutory definition of "lawfully issued building permit" set forth in ZR § 11-31 is irrelevant to this application; DOB originally recognized that the permit had vested under ZR § 11-331 because the Applicant had completed foundation work prior to the Rezoning Date; in doing so, it necessarily made a finding that the Permit was valid in accordance with ZR § 11-31; and

WHEREAS, the Board also recognizes, as DOB notes, ZR § 11-31(a) specifically provides that in case of dispute as to whether an application includes complete plans and specifications, DOB shall determine whether such requirement has been met; finally, the Board notes that under the common law, a permit may vest even if the underlying application did not include "complete plans and specifications" as required for a lawfully-issued permit according to ZR § 11-31; and

WHEREAS, as to the missing items that the Opposition asserts are grounds for finding that the Permit was invalid, the Board agrees with DOB that the Administrative Code does not require the submission of a Site Connection Plan (SD1 and SD2) and a BPP prior to the issuance of a Permit; as such, that the Permit application did not contain these items did not render it invalid; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the Board agrees with DOB that since the Permit application proposed excavation of less than ten feet below grade, the Administrative Code did not require the submission of controlled inspection forms (TR1s and TR2s) for underpinning, shoring, and bracing, and the Permit's lack of such documents did not render it invalid; and

WHEREAS, the Board also finds that the Permit's lack of demolition, sprinkler and underpinning plans does not render the Permit invalid; demolition plans were not required because the Permit was filed as an ALT and showed the existing conditions, sprinkler plans are not required under either AC § 27-157 (which governs NB applications) or AC § 27-162 (which governs ALT applications), and underpinning plans were not required because, as DOB states, the plans included with the Permit show "shoring details," which, per AC § 27-715, DOB found acceptable; and

WHEREAS, as to the additional alleged Building Code non-compliances identified by the Opposition, the Board notes that the Opposition failed to submit final determinations from DOB regarding such alleged non-compliances; accordingly, these issues are not properly before the Board within the context of the subject appeal; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board acknowledges the Opposition's assertions about the Permit's alleged Building Code infirmities insofar as they are allegations of the Permit's incompleteness; however, the Board has not analyzed or reached a determination on any of them individually, in the absence of a final determination from DOB; and

COMMON LAW VESTED RIGHTS FINDINGS

WHEREAS, turning to the Board's precedent and relevant case law, the Board agrees with DOB and the Applicant that its determination in the instant matter is distinguishable from its prior determinations in BSA Cal. Nos. 121-10-A and 145-12-A and consistent with Matter of Menachem Realty Inc. v. Srinivasan, 60 AD3d 854 [2nd Dept 2009] and Matter of GRA V, LLC v Srinivasan, 55 AD3d 58 [1st Dept 2008], revd 12 NY3d 863 [2009]; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the instant appeal distinguishable from BSA Cal. No. 121-10-A (25-50 Francis Lewis Boulevard, Queens) on the ground that the Permit in the instant matter indisputably showed the existing conditions and proposed work that could have been performed given those conditions and the invalid Francis Lewis Boulevard permit did not; thus, the Permit proposed work that could have been executed and the Francis Lewis Boulevard permit did not; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the instant appeal distinguishable from BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A (339 West 29th Street, Manhattan); specifically, the Board finds persuasive DOB's distinction between the lack of approval from LPC that is required by the Administrative Code prior to the issuance of a DOB permit and the lack of an approval from DEP that DOB, as a matter of policy, requests prior to permit; the Board agrees with DOB that the former renders a permit invalid and the latter does not; and

WHEREAS, as to the case law, both Menachem Realty Inc. and GRA V, LLC support the notion that the threshold for finding a permit invalid is high; in both cases, the permits contained Zoning Resolution non-compliances, which were (in Menachem Realty Inc.) found to be and (in GRA V, LLC) acknowledged by DOB as, errors that did not render the permit invalid, notwithstanding that DOB has no authority to waive the Zoning Resolution; in contrast, in the instant matter, there are no Zoning Resolution non-compliances in the Permit application; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board is persuaded that DOB had reasonable bases for its determination that the Permit was validly issued; and

WHEREAS, as a consequence, the Board finds that the Permit was validly issued; and

WHEREAS, to the extent that Justice Lewis in the context of the remand voided the Board's October 5, 2010 decision, the Board turns to the remaining findings for the recognition of a vested right to continue construction under the common law; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that as of the Rezoning Date the owner had obtained permits for the development and had completed foundation work, such that the right to continue construction was vested by DOB pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, however, only two years are allowed for completion of construction and to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, in the event that construction permitted by ZR § 11-331 has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy has not been issued within two years of a rezoning, ZR § 11-332 allows an application to be made to the Board not more than 30 days after its lapse to renew such permit; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that construction was not completed within two years of the Rezoning Date; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Applicant is seeking an extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Applicant failed to file an application to renew the Permit pursuant to ZR § 11-332 before the deadline of January 13, 2008 and is therefore requesting additional time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy under the common law; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that a common law vested right to continue construction generally exists where: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the parties did not submit any new evidence regarding substantial construction, substantial expenditures or serious loss; as such, the Board's determination on those findings has not been disturbed and it reiterates its findings from its October 5, 2010 decision with respect to those elements; and

WHEREAS, Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10, 15, 382 N.Y.S.2d 538, 541 (2d Dept. 1976) stands for the proposition that where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance;" and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) found that "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right.' Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action;" and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the Board notes that DOB determined that the Applicant had completed foundation work prior to the Rezoning Date, such that the right to continue construction had vested pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that as of February 15, 2008, the Applicant completed excavation, footings, and the entire foundation of the building, including foundation bracing and strapping and underpinning of the existing foundation; and

WHEREAS, in support of the assertion that the owner has undertaken substantial construction, the Applicant submitted the following evidence: photographs of the site; construction contracts, a construction schedule, copies of cancelled checks, and invoices; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it has not considered any work performed subsequent to February 15, 2008 and the Applicant represents that its analysis is based on work performed up to that date; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed and the supporting documentation and agrees that it establishes that significant progress has been made, and that said work was substantial enough to meet the guideposts established by case law; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law; accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the owner has expended $158,390.56 or 14 percent, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $1,168,251.50 budgeted for the entire project; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the Applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, and invoices; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition argues that the Board should consider the expenditures as a percentage of the total construction costs for the six-story building rather than the proposed three-story building, because the plans approved at the time of the Rezoning Date were for the six-story building; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the fact that DOB vested the project under ZR § 11-331 based on plans approved for the six-story building does not preclude the applicant from changing the scope of the project to the proposed three-story building; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the proposed three-story building decreases the degree of non-compliance with the current R4-1 zoning district as to floor area and height; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant represents that the proposed three-story building utilizes all of the work completed prior to February 15, 2008; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board is not persuaded by the Opposition's argument that the expenditures should be considered in light of the six-story building, given that the Applicant is permitted to change the scope of the project to the proposed three-story building; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also contends that there are inconsistencies with respect to the total construction costs represented by the Applicant; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Opposition states that the construction cost of the original five-story proposal listed on the Permit was $200,000, but that the construction contract submitted in connection with the six-story building approved under the PAA estimated a construction cost in excess of $1,740,000, and that the estimated construction cost for the proposed three-story building is $1,168,251.50; and

WHEREAS, in response, the Applicant represents that the estimated cost of the six-story building and the proposed three-story building are accurate, and states that at the time the initial application was filed at DOB the cost of construction was underestimated, and the costs would have been adjusted upon completion of the job by filing a PW3 form indicating the actual construction costs; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both in and of itself for a project of this size, and when compared against the total development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board considers not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that if vesting were not permitted, it would result in the inability to develop approximately 1,780 sq. ft., or approximately 44 percent, of the proposed residential floor area of the three-story building; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition argues that the Applicant has failed to provide evidence to support the purported loss that it will incur if vesting were not permitted, and has not explained what portion of the approved three-story building will have to be reduced or redesigned to create a conforming building, and

WHEREAS, in response, the Applicant states that if required to construct pursuant to the current R4-1 district regulations, it would limit the size of the building to a complying floor area of 1,882 sq. ft., with a potential 376 sq. ft. increase under the attic rule, which would be a significant reduction from the originally approved floor area of 7,515 sq. ft. and the currently proposed floor area of 4,038 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant further states that a complying home would require the street wall to be reduced from the proposed 43'-10 ½" to 25'-0", and the maximum building height would have to be reduced from 53'-10 ¾" to 35'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant further states that the inability to construct under the prior zoning regulations would require the owner to re-design the home; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the need to re-design, the expense of demolition and reconstruction, and the actual expenditures and outstanding fees that could not be recouped constitute, in the aggregate, a serious economic loss, and that the supporting data submitted by the applicant supports this conclusion; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed, the expenditures made, and serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building had accrued to the owner.

Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of DOB Permit No. 302049441-01-AL, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for two years from the date of this grant.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this appeal comes before the Board in response to a Final Determination letter dated December 5, 2012 by the Manhattan Borough Commissioner of the NYC Department of Buildings ("DOB") (the "Final Determination") with respect to DOB Application No. 104869509; and

WHEREAS, the Final Determination states, in pertinent part:

> The Department is in receipt of your correspondence dated August 13, 2012 in which you claim that the permit issued in connection with Alteration No. 104869509 is unlawful on the basis that the existing building was demolished and is no longer eligible to rely on a City Planning Commission (CPC) authorization per New York City Zoning Resolution Section 15-41 to facilitate the enlargement and conversion of the building for residential use.
> The application for construction document approval is consistent with the Department's policy regarding the type of application that must be filed for work involving the demolition of exterior building walls (see Technical Policy and Procedure Notice #1/02, amended by TPPN #1/05). TPPNs #1/02 & 1/05 allow the proposed work to be filed as an alteration of an existing building, instead of as the demolition and construction of a new building, because not more than 50% of the existing building's walls are removed. As such the permit may properly rely on the CPC authorization under ZR 1[5]-[4]1; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on May 21, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on July 23, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the appeal was brought on behalf of neighbors of the area surrounding the site who were represented by counsel (the "Appellant") and who provided their own individual written and oral testimony in support of the appeal; and

WHEREAS, individual members of the community also, through written and oral testimony expressed opposition to the potential impact of the building's massing, increased traffic, absence of open space, effect on light air, and views, and other site conditions and in support of the appeal

WHEREAS, DOB provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the appeal; and

WHEREAS, representatives of the owner (the "Owner") provided written and oral testimony in opposition to the appeal; and

WHEREAS, the appeal involves a site at 303 West Tenth Street/150 Charles Street, historically occupied by a through-block full lot coverage four-story warehouse building (with 3.8 FAR) bounded by West Tenth Street, Charles Street, Washington Street, and West Street with 257'-9" of frontage on Charles Street and 237'-4" of frontage on West Tenth Street; and

WHEREAS, the site is within a C1-7 zoning district which allows a maximum residential FAR of 6.02; and

WHEREAS, the proposal reflects a building with a four-story base with an 11-story stepped for a total of 15 stories that would be approximately 178 feet in height; and

WHEREAS, the proposed total floor area is 280,209 sq. ft. (5.9 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the proposal was approved pursuant to a City Planning Commission (CPC) authorization as provided by ZR § 15-41 (Enlargement of Converted Buildings); and

WHEREAS, the appeal seeks the reversal of DOB's determination that the Owner is in compliance with ZR § 15-41 and that the associated building permit is valid; and

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

WHEREAS, on September 19, 2007, CPC approved the enlargement and conversion of an existing four-story manufacturing building and a new 11-story tower pursuant to an authorization in accordance with ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 15-41 was added to the Zoning Resolution by text amendment, approved by CPC in conjunction with the authorization, and adopted by the City Council on October 17, 2007; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 15-41 authorizes certain zoning waivers (including open space and height factor requirements) in connection with enlargements of residential conversions of non-residential buildings and applicable to buildings converted to residential use pursuant to the Zoning Resolution's Article I, Chapter 5; and

WHEREAS, the parameters of ZR § 15-41 include:

> Enlargements of Converted Buildings
> In all #Commercial# and #Residence Districts#, for #enlargements# of #buildings converted# to #residences#, the City Planning Commission may authorize:
> (a) a waiver of the requirements of Section 15-12 (Open Space Equivalent) for the existing portion of the #building#

#converted# to #residences#; and

(b) the maximum #floor area ratio# permitted pursuant to Section 23-142 for the applicable district without regard for #height factor# or #open space ratio# requirements; and

WHEREAS, the citywide text amendment modified ZR § 15-41 to allow for a waiver of the open space requirements in ZR § 15-12 (Open Space Equivalent) for the portion of the building being converted to residential use; and to allow the maximum FAR to be achieved on the site irrespective of the site meeting its required height factor or open space requirements; and

WHEREAS, on April 25, 2011, CPC approved the renewal of the authorization without any changes to the approved plans or the requirements shown on those plans; and

WHEREAS, on April 18, 2013, CPC approved the renewal of the authorization to allow certain changes in the landscaping design for the open space areas; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that by demolishing as much of the building as it did, the Owner has forfeited its right to the zoning approval granted under ZR § 15-41 since ZR § 15-41 requires that the existing building be preserved and enlarged; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant makes the following primary arguments: (1) as noted in its Final Determination, DOB's reliance on the TPPN is misplaced as the Zoning Resolution is the prevailing authority; (2) the Owner has misrepresented/altered its plans so that more than 50 percent of the walls have been removed; (3) the project is contrary to the public policy and intent of ZR § 15-41; and (4) the building is incompatible with neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB's rationale for permitted the construction to continue, as expressed in its Final Determination, is misplaced as DOB relied on its TPPNs rather than on zoning, while the TPPNs are only departmental guidelines; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that the Final Determination focuses on the type of application that must be filed for permits pursuant to the TPPNs and not on the Zoning Resolution definition of building or the public policy underlying the enactment of the amendment to ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the question is not whether the Owner complied with its own internal policy per the TPPNs but whether it complied with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that if there is any conflict between the Zoning Resolution and DOB policy notices, the Zoning Resolution must prevail; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant cites to the Zoning Resolution definition of (1) building, which states that it has one or more floors and a roof and at least one primary exit and (2) enlargement which is an addition to the floor area of an existing building and that, accordingly, the construction does not meet the requirement for enlarging an existing building notwithstanding the guidance in the TPPNs; and

WHEREAS, as to the wall condition, the Appellant provided photographs which reflect the current conditions of framing of the north and south walls without any bricks, mortar, doors, or windows, which it asserts is insufficient to meet the Zoning Resolution criteria for enlargement of an existing building; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Owner does not plan to build atop the existing building as it represented it would in its application CPC because no existing building remains; and

WHEREAS, as to the plans, the Appellant asserts that there are discrepancies between the plan sheets concerning how much of the building was to be retained; specifically, the Appellant questions the inclusion of plan sheet AF-005 in the submission to the Board because it asserts that the plan reflects the retention of portions of the building as originally described in the CPC application and not what actually has been retained; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Owner shows on plan sheet AF-005 that approximately 30 feet of depth of the existing building along both streets (Charles and West Tenth) would be retained; each of those sections was approximately 250 feet long by 30 feet wide and four stories; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the level of demolition exceeds that shown on the plans and that only approximately 15 percent of the original walls remains; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant asserts that it appears that CPC has not been informed of the changes to the original proposal; and

WHEREAS, as to the meaning of ZR § 15-41, the Appellant asserts that the building is contrary to public policy and the intent of the provision in several ways; and

WHEREAS, first, the Appellant asserts that the Owner erroneously identifies the goal of ZR § 15-41 as to preserve the "urban form" rather than the actual building, but that such position is not supported by the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, instead, the Appellant asserts that ZR § 15-41 is clear with its use of the term "existing building" and the purpose as a "preservation tool"; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant asserts that (1) ZR § 15-41 requires the preservation and enlargement of an existing building; and (2) the Owner represented that it would preserve the existing building; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB is circumventing required procedures that undermine ZR § 15-41 by granting an approval for construction which reflects modifications that have not been submitted to the community boards and involved agencies; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Owner's changes are subject to public review, just as the original plans were and DOB cannot grant permit approvals to the Owner for plans that are contrary to those submitted to the community board and CPC; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant and other community members in opposition to the project assert that the as-of-right taller and narrower tower surrounded by smaller buildings is more consistent with the neighborhood character which they identify as reflecting taller buildings surrounded by smaller buildings and such design better preserves views and access to light and air than the proposed; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also asserts that a proto-type as-of-right building would be only three stories higher than the current proposal and would provide air, view, and public space; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant disfavors the proposed private open space, primarily above a height of 40 feet, as opposed to public open space at grade which it represents would be provided with the as-of-right alternative; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant raised additional concerns about the diminishment of property value in the surrounding area, the potential for increased vulnerability to flooding in the area due to the proposed design and its effect on drainage, increased traffic, exhaust, and noise; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant requests the reversal of DOB's determination and revocation of the building permits for failure to comply with the requirements of ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Appellant, DOB states that (1) the plans it reviewed and approved are consistent with CPC approvals; (2) the Owner has provided sufficient information regarding its plan revisions and has maintained a sufficient amount of the building; (3) the Appellant misreads the intent of ZR § 15-41; and (4) it does not rely on the TPPN; and

WHEREAS, DOB maintains that the plans associated with the permit are consistent with the CPC-approved plans associated with the authorization and therefore there is not any basis to revoke the permit; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Zoning Resolution does not require DOB to review or concur with CPC's determination that the project is entitled to an authorization under ZR § 15-41, rather that its role with regard to whether a permit may rely on CPC's authorization is to issue a permit consistent with that authorization; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB asserts that the Zoning Resolution does not give DOB authority to approve or reject CPC's grant, to question whether the grant of the authorization is appropriate for a project, or to reevaluate CPC's decision to regard the project as an "enlarged building;" and

WHEREAS, as to the extent of the demolition, DOB states that the removal work allowed under the permit is consistent with CPC's authorization as CPC's authorization does not require that a certain percentage of the existing building remain intact or specify that a particular amount of existing construction materials must be preserved; further, the authorization application to the CPC states that the warehouse's fourth floor would be removed and approximately 43,304 sq. ft. of floor area would be removed in order to create a common courtyard; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that CPC's report, dated September 19, 2007, acknowledges the Owner's plan to remove the portion of the fourth story of the existing building and the 43,304 sq. ft. of floor area from the interior portion of the existing warehouse to create a common courtyard and open space available to residents, thus, CPC understood that the proposal included removal of parts of the original warehouse and it granted the authorization to enlarge and convert the building without imposing any limits on how much of the warehouse could be removed; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that contrary to the Appellant's assertion, ZR § 15-41's use of the defined terms "enlargement" and "building" do not preclude the removal of floors and roof from the original building during the course of permitted work; as Article I Chapter 5 establishes standards for changing non-residential floor area to residences but does not regulate conditions during the transition to residences nor does it require that a certain portion of the former building be retained in the completed building; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB asserts that Article I Chapter 5 (Residential Conversions within Existing Buildings) does not define the term "existing building" but the applicability provision ZR § 15-01 provides that the chapter controls conversions in buildings erected prior to December 15, 1961 that are located in Manhattan Community District 1 through 6, which includes the subject building, a former warehouse built in 1938; and

WHEREAS, DOB concludes that for the purpose of applying ZR § 15-41, where the original building's massing is preserved in the new design and bulk is added, the building is enlarged regardless of whether a new roof and new floors are installed in the structure; similarly, a damaged or destroyed building that does not meet the definition of "building" due to the extent of damage sustained may still rely on ZR § 54-40 (Damage or Destruction in Non-Complying Buildings) as a "non-complying building" that may be permissibly reconstructed provided it does not create a new non-compliance or increase the degree of non-compliance with applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that sections like ZR § 54-40 use defined terms as a practical matter to refer to a structure before and after their provisions are utilized and do not expressly require that the structure always satisfy the requirements of the "building" definition or that it preserve floors so as to maintain "floor area" at all times; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds that an alteration permit is appropriate in this instance because less than 50 percent of the area of exterior walls was removed; DOB states that plan sheet AF-005, titled "Alteration of Existing Warehouse" and approved by the Department in connection with the application on September 29, 2011, shows approximately 450 linear feet of the east and west walls of the existing warehouse will be removed and 495 linear feet of the north and south exterior walls of the existing warehouse structure, with the exception of exterior windows, doors and the smaller setback at the fourth story, will remain intact; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's assertion that the Owner misrepresented to CPC the scope of the removal work by amending plan sheet AF-005, the Owner submitted revised drawings superseding the original AF-005 and an AI1: Additional Information form submitted with the permit application, which states: "Changes include demolition of remaining interior floor slabs, loading dock beam extensions and end bays spandrel beams and replacement of existing brick walls at street facades and property lines;" and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that it approved the amendment on September 29, 2011 while CPC had initially approved the proposal to remove portions of the existing warehouse on September 19, 2007, it renewed the grant on April 25, 2011, and it approved a modification to the authorization affecting the open space design and the massing of the building envelope on April 18, 2013; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that CPC reviewed and continued to approve the project after plan sheet AF-005 was revised; and

WHEREAS, as to the intent of ZR § 15-41, DOB asserts that CPC's report reflects a consideration of the building form rather than the conservation of original construction materials; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB cites to CPC's report which states that the grant under ZR § 15-41 acts as a preservation tool by allowing the retention of the massing of the existing warehouse with high lot coverage and high street wall characteristics of the former industrial neighborhood and the CPC's finding in the report include that the building form resulting from use of the authorization would appropriately result in a building far more in context than an as-of-right tower constructed pursuant to height factor regulations; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the CPC was concerned that the enlarged building retains the existing streetwall and this is reflected in the construction documents showing that the north and south streetwalls are not removed; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that it is not obligated to make an independent assessment that a CPC authorization is warranted for this project; and

WHEREAS, as to the text, DOB notes that in the absence of ZR § 15-41, a new as-of-right building could be designed according to the maximum open space ratio and maximum floor area ratio according to the building's height factor as set forth in ZR § 23-142; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the purpose of ZR § 15-41 is to provide a means for an alternative design that allows available floor area to be used together with the original building's high lot coverage and street wall configuration and that CPC's findings include a determination that the building's scale is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood and that the enlarged building will not adversely affect structures or open space in the vicinity in terms of scale, location and access to light and air; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that ZR § 15-41 also authorizes CPC to prescribe additional conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; ZR § 15-41's purpose is to make possible conversions and enlargements that are in accord with the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, DOB concludes that the CPC properly evaluated the proposed plan for the completed enlarged building, made the required findings, and deemed the authorization appropriate; and

WHEREAS, DOB rejects the Appellant's assertion that DOB's permit is improper because it undermines the purpose of ZR § 15-41 to preserve an existing building because conservation of improvements is not the text's goal; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the purpose of ZR § 15-00 includes allowing owners to increase a return on investment in existing buildings by authorizing conversions without requiring conformance with Article II, providing locations and space for commercial and manufacturing uses and providing new housing at an appropriate density, none of the goals describe the protection of improvements or architectural features of a special character or historical or aesthetic interest; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, per CPC's report dated September 19, 2007 (at pages 9-10), the term "preservation" as used in ZR § 15-41 refers to an existing building's massing, not its construction materials; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that an enlarged building that keeps an existing configuration that is compatible with the character of the surrounding neighborhood achieves the goal of ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that in approving the subject proposal, CPC noted that the enlarged building retains the warehouse's high lot coverage and street wall and appropriately results in a building with the characteristics of the former industrial neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB finds that CPC's authorization and the Permit, issued consistently with the authorization, further the intent of the text; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds that the Appellant objects to CPC's authorization rather than DOB's permit and DOB defers to CPC; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the scope of the removal work is not a basis to declare the permit invalid, since the removal work was contemplated in the authorization and does not contravene any section of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB represents that notwithstanding the Final Determination, it does not rely on TPPN 1/02 to allow the proposed construction work to be filed as a permit application to alter a building rather than as an application to construct a new building to determine whether the permit may use CPC's authorization; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the proposed work does not need to qualify as an alteration type application in order to be considered eligible for an enlargement authorization under ZR § 15-41 and the TPPN does not provide any guidance on the applicability of zoning regulations governing existing buildings; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the 2005 amendment to the TPPN removed the paragraph that allowed DOB to grant exceptions where the classification of a permit as a "new building" when it would adversely affect its status under the

ZR provisions governing existing buildings; this paragraph was removed because the TPPN was being misinterpreted as a guide for applying the Zoning Resolution when it was only intended for classifying work for administrative purposes; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the analysis of whether the permit is consistent with the Zoning Resolution must be based on the regulations of the Zoning Resolution and is not dependent on the administrative classification of the application for construction document approval; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the purpose of the TPPN is to inform DOB's assessment of whether a new building or alteration permit is required; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that its obligations relating to the permit were properly carried out; namely, to confirm that the building is a building that may be converted subject to the provisions of Article I Chapter 5, and that the construction documents conform to the authorization; ZR § 15-41 does not require that any amount of the former building be retained in the completed building nor does CPC's authorization require that a certain percentage of the existing building remain intact in the finished construction; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the Appellant fails to present a basis to determine that DOB issued the alteration permit contrary to the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Department of City Planning has not advised DOB that the permit exceeded the terms of the Commission's authorization; and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that CPC approved the proposal to remove portions of the existing warehouse when it issued the authorization on September 19, 2007, when it renewed the grant on April 25, 2011, and when it approved a modification to the authorization affecting the open space design and the massing of the building envelope on April 18, 2013; and

THE OWNER'S RESPONSE

WHEREAS, the Owner agrees with DOB that the permit should not be disturbed and that the proposal was reviewed and approved appropriately first by CPC and then by DOB; and

WHEREAS, the Owner agrees with DOB that the relevant question is whether it acted in accordance with the authorization in issuing the Permit; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that its application to DOB and its resulting construction conditions are consistent with CPC approvals and thus there is not any basis to disturb the permit; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that the Appellant's contention that the existing building ceased to be a "building" once portions of the original warehouse were removed such that the Owner forfeited the right to use ZR § 15-41 is unfounded; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that DOB determined that the building was properly filed as an alteration and enlargement in compliance with the standards of the TPPNs and did not require an NB application under this standard in a written determination dated June 11, 2007; DOB also approved the repair and replacement of the bricks in the exterior walls during construction of the building, in an amendment to the existing building permit issued on September 29, 2011; and

WHEREAS, the Owner agrees with the Appellant that the Zoning Resolution, not DOB's policy guidance, is the proper source for the determination of the meaning of ZR § 15-41; however, the Appellant's interpretation of the meaning of ZR § 15-41 and its application to this case is incorrect; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that ZR § 15-41 is absent a requirement to preserve a particular amount of the original fabric of a building in order to obtain the authorization; rather, the findings concern the scale of the building and the quality of its landscaping improvements that must be provided after the building is constructed and do not concern the preservation of the existing fabric of the building to be retained; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Owner notes that in order to grant this authorization, ZR § 15-41 requires that CPC make the following findings:

(1) the enlarged building is compatible with the scale of the surrounding area;
(2) open areas are provided on the zoning lot that are of sufficient size to serve the residents of the building. Such open areas, which may be located on rooftops, courtyards, or other areas on the zoning lot, shall be accessible to and usable by all residents of the building, and have appropriate access, circulation, seating, lighting and paving;
(3) the site plan includes superior landscaping for all open areas on the zoning lot, including the planting of street trees; and
(4) the enlarged building will not adversely affect structures or open space in the vicinity in terms of scale, location and access to light and air; and

WHEREAS, the Owner notes that the Zoning Resolution does not include a definition of "existing building" or otherwise establish any standard for how much of the fabric of an existing building must be retained for the purposes of ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that the Zoning Resolution's definition of "building" only describes a finished structure and does not relate to one in stages of construction; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Owner asserts that in the case of this authorization, the CPC approval was clearly directed at achieving and recreating an urban form, with a building built along the street line that would recall the original warehouse form and contain superior landscaping; the authorization did not require any specific quantum of the original building fabric to be retained, as long as the resulting design and massing complied with the approved drawings; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that the plans it submitted to DOB and DCP on November 8, 2007 did not include any representations as to the amount of the building that would be retained or its exact appearance; instead, they show the size and dimensions of the building's open space areas, the landscaping details that were the basis for the CPC's finding that the building would include "superior landscaping," and the overall massing of the final building; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that the nature of the approved plans and the CPC approval also make clear that substantial changes to the original building were explicitly contemplated by the authorization; and

WHEREAS, the Owner asserts that in its revised plans it provided a description of the numerous changes to the streetwall and façade of the warehouse building; and

WHEREAS, the Owner notes that it provided a plan sheet to DOB which illustrates the area of the walls to be repaired and replaced to a degree in excess of 50 percent of the original walls; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that DOB's approval of a simultaneous repair and replacement of the bricks and windows, which results in the current condition, was reasonable and proper, and consistent with its long-standing practice; and

WHEREAS, the Owner adds that there were certain significant infirmities of the walls including insufficient load requirements per the Building Code and obsolete windows that did not meet the noise attenuation requirements set forth in the authorization; and

WHEREAS, the Owner contends that the Appellant's assertions of misrepresentation are unfounded as it has properly represented all of its changes and gone through all required channels of approval, as DOB agrees; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Owner states that it filed the 2011 version of plan sheet AF-005 with DOB (explicitly as an amendment of the existing building permit and the earlier 2007 plan) in order to seek DOB approval for the repair and replacement of the exterior bricks and windows; the Owner states that DOB initially approved the plans for compliance with TPPN #1/02, based on the percentage of the walls to the retained, on June 11, 2007; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that subsequently, on September 29, 2011, DOB approved the repair and replacement of the bricks and windows within the walls, to occur simultaneously with the construction of the Building; DOB has confirms that it approved the 2011 version which demonstrates that less than 50 percent of the exterior walls of the building were removed, such that the proposed building was properly filed as an alteration, in accordance with DOB TPPN #1/02, because the drawing shows that 450 linear feet of the exterior walls of the original warehouse were removed and 495 linear feet of the exterior walls remained; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the subject of the appeal is narrow and that is whether DOB has a basis to determine that the permit it granted for work approved by a CPC authorization is unlawful; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that any questions about the validity of CPC's 2007 approval are not appropriately before it; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB and the Owner that DOB's permit issuance was appropriate based on plans that were consistent with the CPC authorization absent any showing from the Appellant that the DOB plans are inconsistent with the CPC-approved plans in any relevant way; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that its role with regard to whether a permit may rely on CPC's authorization is to issue a permit consistent with that authorization and that (1) the Zoning Resolution does not require DOB to review or concur with CPC's determination that the project is entitled to an authorization under ZR § 15-41; (2) the Zoning Resolution does not give DOB authority to approve or reject CPC's grant, to question whether the grant of the authorization is appropriate for a project, or to reevaluate CPC's decision to consider the project as an "enlarged building;" and (3) it is not appropriate for DOB to make an independent assessment as to whether a CPC authorization is warranted; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees that DOB's obligations to confirm that the building is a building that may be converted subject to the provisions of Article I Chapter 5 and that the construction documents conform to the authorization were properly carried out; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that ZR § 15-41 does not require that any amount of the former building be retained in the completed building nor does CPC's authorization require that a certain percentage of the existing building remain intact in the finished construction; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB relied on the TPPNs in its approvals and in its Final Determination, but, in the course of the subject appeal correctly shifted the focus of the authority back to CPC, the approving body with sole jurisdiction pursuant to grant authorizations pursuant to ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find that it is necessary to engage in an analysis of the definition of building and whether more than 50 percent of the floor area of the warehouse building has been retained; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that nowhere in CPC's extensive analysis did it specify what portion of existing buildings must remain; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that CPC's authorization was based on many factors with, per the text, an emphasis on aesthetics and compatibility with the existing built context, but not the preservation of the historic building materials; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not a reviewing body to question CPC's decision making and deliberative review of the project; however, the Board notes that the project went through a public review process and that all amendments were reviewed by CPC and DOB; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant does not cite to any required process or rule that CPC erroneously avoided in its initial or subsequent review; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that CPC is aware of the status of the project; the Department of City Planning received a copy of the subject appeal application (which includes photographs of the condition of the site), and has as recently as April 2013 reviewed and approved the project and has not made any assertion that there is any non-compliance with its authorization; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB and the Owner that DOB has followed its duties under the City Charter and the Zoning Resolution to implement the zoning approvals for this building; and

WHEREAS, the Board also agrees with DOB and the Owner that DOB issued the Permit to construct the building, as approved pursuant to the authorization and as shown on the approved plans and that in the absence of a requirement in the authorization to retain a specific amount of the original building, the authorization is satisfied if the building is constructed in accordance with the approved plans; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that there was not any basis for DOB to impose any requirements for the retention of the original building fabric, because no such requirements were indicated on the approved plans or required by ZR § 15-41; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, instead, DOB determined in its Final Determination that, because the proposed work could be filed as an alteration and enlargement, "the permit may properly rely on the CPC authorization;" and

WHEREAS, as reflected in the Final Determination, DOB determined only that the Owner's retention of 50 percent of the original walls was sufficient to allow the permit to rely on ZR § 15-41 rather than that it was necessary to do so in order to comply with the authorization, or that compliance with the TPPN is substituted for compliance with the authorization; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that compliance with the authorization is determined by reference to the approval and the requirements of the plans, which contain specification for the massing, open spaces, landscaping, and façade details of the final building, but do not include requirements for the retention of any amount of the original fabric of the building; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that DOB has the authority to allow reasonable and customary construction means and methods in the implementation of its permits, and its accepted means of replacing building components in kind; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the instant appeal, seeking a reversal of the Final Determination of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated December 5, 2012, which states that the Permit may rely on CPC's authorization, is hereby denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 23, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated July 5, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320476285 reads, in pertinent part:

1. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR §43-43 in that the proposed total height (of front wall) above the street line exceeds the maximum.
2. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR § 43-43 in that the proposed initial setback distance is less than the maximum required.
3. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR § 43-43 in that the proposed sky exposure plane fails to meet the minimum ratio required.
4. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR § 43-26 and ZR § 43-302 in that the proposed rear yard (open area along the rear lot line) is less than the minimum required.
5. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR § 44-21 in that the required parking is not provided; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site in an M1-1 zoning district, the construction of a three-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for front wall height, setback, sky exposure plane, rear yard, open area along a rear lot line, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 43-43, 43-26, 43-302, and 44-21; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 15, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on February 26, 2013, and then to decision on July 23, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the adjacent property owner testified in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is being brought on behalf of Congregation Toldos Yehuda (the "Synagogue"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular interior lot with 80 feet of frontage along 61st Street between 16th Avenue and 17th Avenue in an M1-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a lot area of 8,000 sq. ft. and is currently occupied by a one-story manufacturing building with 6,080 sq. ft. of floor area (0.76 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a new building with the following parameters: a complying floor area of 18,543.3 sq. ft. (2.32 FAR); three stories and a maximum front wall height of 50'-0" (a maximum front wall height of 35'-0", or three stories, whichever is less, is permitted); no setback of the street wall (a setback at 20'-0" and a 1:1 sky exposure plane are required); no rear yard on the first and second floor (a minimum of 20'-0" is required); no open area along the rear lot line (an open area of 30'-0" along the rear lot line is required); no parking spaces (a minimum of 25 parking spaces are required); and

WHEREAS, the proposal provides for the following uses: (1) a worship area, bathrooms, showers, a dressing room, a laundry room, electric, storage and mechanical rooms, lobbies and a mikvah at the cellar level; (2) men's sanctuary, men's bathroom, a coffee room, office, and coat area at the first story; (3) women's sanctuary, women's bathrooms, storage, and a lobby at the second story; and (4) a library, book storage room, conference room, office, men's bathroom, and a hallway at the third story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the primary programmatic needs of the Synagogue which necessitate the requested variances: (1) to accommodate a congregation with a desire to expand that currently consists of approximately 75 individuals on a daily basis, 205 men and 60 women on the Sabbath, and 300 men and 200 women on high holidays; (2) to provide separate worship and study spaces for male and female congregants; (3) to provide the necessary space for offering weekly classes for adults and teenagers and holding cultural program; and (4) to satisfy the religious requirement that members of the congregation be within walking distance of the synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the as-of-right building would have a total floor area of 12,481 sq. ft. (1.56 FAR), 5,565 sq. ft. of floor area on the first story, only 3,910 sq. ft. of floor area on the second story (because much of the second story would remain open to the sanctuary below) and only 3,005.8 sq. ft. of floor area on the third story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the as-of-right building would allow for a men's sanctuary on the first story that would hold approximately 205 persons and a women's sanctuary on the second story that would hold approximately 78 persons, and would require the elimination of the library on the third story; in contrast, the proposal would allow for 368 persons in the main sanctuary and 191 persons in the women's sanctuary; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the height and setback waivers permit: (1) the double-height ceiling of the first story main sanctuary which is necessary to create a space for worship and respect and an adequate ceiling height for the second floor women's balcony; and (2) the library on the third story, which will help the Synagogue participate in a publishing fund; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the waiver of the required open area along the rear lot line and rear yard allows the Synagogue to build to a size that will accommodate current and projected numbers of congregants; the applicant also notes that the existing building at the site has no open area along the rear lot line; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the parking waiver is necessary because providing the required parking would render the site wholly inadequate to support the proposed building and such parking spaces are not necessary because congregants must live within walking distance of their synagogue and must walk to the synagogue on the Sabbath and on high holidays; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that 50 percent of the congregation lives within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site, which is less than the 75 percent required under ZR § 25-35 to satisfy the City Planning Commission certification for a locally-oriented house of worship, but still a significant portion of the congregation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Synagogue has occupied three stories of a nearby 6,300 sq. ft. building as a place of worship for approximately 14 years, and such space is wholly inadequate to accommodate the congregation, especially on high holidays, when the congregation is forced to rent separate space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested waivers enable the Synagogue to construct a building that can accommodate its growing congregation as well as provide a separate worship space for men and women, as required by religious doctrine, space for studying and meeting, and a library for publishing books and recordings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested waivers are necessary to provide enough space to meet the programmatic needs of the congregation; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Synagogue, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Synagogue create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Synagogue is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed use is permitted in the subject M1-1 district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, although the subject block is split between manufacturing and residence districts, of the approximately 38 developed lots, 33 maintain residential uses, with one lot (lot 39) developed with a four-story, 72,000 sq. ft. Yeshiva building (Yeshiva Novominsk), and there are additional educational, religious and health institutions in the immediate area; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant notes that the proposed FAR is less than the maximum permitted as of right for a community facility in the M1-1 district; and

WHEREAS, as to front wall height, the applicant performed a study of neighboring buildings, which reflects that there are eight nearby buildings that are between 40'-0" and 50-'0" in height; accordingly, the proposed building height (50'-0") is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a rezoning of a nearby block from M1-1 to R6A adopted by the City Planning Commission on January 20, 2013 is likely to result in the construction of nearby buildings that are similar in height and FAR to the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, as to yards, the applicant notes that the existing building on the site has no rear yard and while the first two stories of the proposed building will not provide the required 30-foot open area, the third story will set back from the rear lot line 30'-0"; the applicant also notes that the lots abutting the rear of the building maintain a 30-foot rear yard and that if the building were not along a district boundary line but rather in a residence district, a complying community facility building would be permitted in the required year yard up to a height of one story or 23 feet; further, the applicant notes that the existing building extends to the rear lot line; and

WHEREAS, as to parking, the applicant represents that the majority of congregants will walk to the site and that there is not any demand for parking; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant submitted a parking and traffic study that concluded that the proposal would not significantly or adversely impact parking or traffic in the area; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the study found that out of approximately 850 legal parking spaces within a ¼-mile radius, there was an average of 85 available spaces during the morning and 150 available spaces during the evening for parking; and

WHEREAS, further, as noted above, the applicant represents that 50 percent of congregants live within a three-quarter-mile radius of the site and thus are within the spirit of City Planning's parking waiver for houses of worship; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the Board directed the applicant to review the design of the rear of the building to determine if it could be shortened; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant modified the design to provide a 30'-0" rear setback (open area) at the third story; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Synagogue could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the requested waivers to be the minimum necessary to afford the Synagogue the relief needed to meet its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA014K, dated August 2, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials, air quality and noise impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the June 2013 Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's March 2013 stationary source air quality screening analysis and determined that the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant stationary source air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the results of the August 2012 noise assessment and based on the measured ambient noise levels at the project site, no potential noise impacts are anticipated to occur; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, on a site in an M1-1 zoning district, the construction of a three-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for front wall height, setback, sky exposure plane, open area along a rear lot line, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 43-43, 43-26, 43-302, and 44-21; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 11, 2013" – Fourteen (14) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: a floor area of 18,543.3 sq. ft. (2.32 FAR); no minimum required rear yard or open area for the first and second stories to a height of 28'-0"; three stories; a maximum building height of 50'-0" and 41'-0" at the rear, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT DOB shall not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided it with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report; and

THAT any change in control or ownership of the building shall require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the use will be limited to a house of worship (Use Group 4);

THAT no commercial catering shall take place onsite;

THAT the above conditions shall be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 23, 2013.

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Queens, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, a representative of Queens College, City University of New York ("Queens College" or "the School"), provided testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, this application is being brought on behalf of the Queens College Special Projects Fund, Inc. ("the applicant"), an affiliate of Queens College, which owns the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of 107th Street, between 34th Avenue and 37th Avenue, within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is a zoning lot that comprises tax lots 66 and 67, with 60 feet of frontage along 107th Street, a lot depth of 95 feet, and a lot area of 5,700 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently vacant; the applicant notes that across the street from the site (at 34-56 107th Street) is the Louis Armstrong House Museum ("the Museum"), which is operated by the applicant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two-story building to be occupied as an Education Center for the Museum ("Education Center") with a complying floor area of 9,046 sq. ft. (1.59 FAR) (the maximum permitted floor area is 11,400 (2.00 FAR) and a complying total height of 31'-3" (the maximum permitted total height is 35'-0"); and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Education Center will include the following non-compliances: lot coverage of 57 percent (the maximum permitted lot coverage is 55 percent); a; a front yard with a depth of 5'-0" (a front yard with a minimum depth of 10'-0" is required); two side yards with widths of 0'-1⅞" (two side yards with minimum widths of 8'-0" each are required); a non-permitted obstruction (a sound enclosure for the mechanical bulkhead) within the side setback, which reduces the setback to 16'-3" (a side setback of 22'-6" is required); and no planting strip (a minimum of 0'-6" of planting is required); and

WHEREAS, the Education Center will provide for the following uses: (1) educational space for the Museum and Queens College; (2) Museum visitor reception; (3) a state-of-the art, climate-controlled research, storage, and archive space; (4) a 73-seat auditorium; (5) an exhibit gallery and (6) accessory offices; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Museum is an affiliate of Queens College and a registered public charity administered by the applicant pursuant to a long-term license agreement with the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, which owns the Museum site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Queens College handles all administrative functions for the Museum, including personnel, security, technical support, and design services; the applicant notes that the director of the Museum and all Museum staff members are employed by Queens College; the applicant also notes that scholars outside the School benefit from the collections; and

WHEREAS, as to the educational nature of the Museum, the applicant represents that Queens College professors and students use the Museum's research collections as part of their curriculum for courses on jazz history, library studies and English; in addition, the Museum offers internships to Queens College students who are interested in musicology, library science and other related fields; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that approximately 25 percent of the annual visitorship of the museum is from New York City public and private elementary and high schools; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21(a), the applicant articulated the following primary programmatic needs, which necessitate the requested variances: (1) to locate near the Museum (which is substantially undersized given its use), so that the buildings can function together; and (2) to provide additional space for the School's educational programming related to the Museum; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the School has a programmatic need to locate the Education Center as near to the Museum as possible; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Museum has experienced unexpected growth in the number of visitors to the Museum since its opening in 2003, and that it will soon be unable to accommodate the number of visitors interested in the Museum's collections and tours; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Museum is located in a converted single-family dwelling with only 2,500 sq. ft. of floor area, which, as a tribute to Louis Armstrong and his legacy, maintains its original character and size; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the Museum building has been designated as an individual landmark by the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC"); as such, the Museum's ability to expand to accommodate its increased popularity is constrained; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Museum can only accommodate a maximum of 24 visitors at one time, and that such limited space results in patrons and groups (often school children) being forced to congregate outdoors; as a result, tours are often cancelled or rescheduled due to inclement weather; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that locating the Education Center at the site will alleviate the overcrowding on the Museum premises and surrounding properties; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that allowing the Education Center to be constructed with the requested variances will further the School's educational objectives at the Museum and allow for additional programs and future growth; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal will allow the Museum to provide a wider range of educational experiences to a greater number of Museum visitors and Queens College students; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposal will permit the number of visitors who can occupy the first floor of the Education Center (approximately 160) to match the typical size of the school group that visits the Museum on a daily basis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the Museum lacks adequate space for the conservation of sound recordings, photographs, manuscripts, letters, films, artwork, and textiles; the proposal addresses this need by providing space for workstations devoted exclusively to conservation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Education Center presents the only option for Queens College to continue to fulfill its educational mission through the Museum and meet the demands of its growing patronage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted as-of-right plans which reflected that a complying building would result in a narrower lobby and an auditorium which would be too small to accommodate large groups, which would, in turn, eliminate the ability of the School to host lectures, concerts, and cultural events at the Museum; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant represents that an as-of-right building would require a reduction in the size of the exhibit gallery by 60 percent, which would prevent the use of state-of-the art materials and displays, and the elimination of archive space for the Museum's collections, which would result in the Museum maintaining its current, inefficient and disconnected system of off-site storage at Queens College; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that providing a complying front yard at the second story would both eliminate a contextual feature of the building (a second-story terrace is commonplace throughout the neighborhood), and weaken the Education Center's spatial and visual connection to the Museum; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that without the requested variances, the proposed exhibit gallery would be reduced from 28 feet to 12 feet in width and the Museum store—which would sell books, CDs, DVDs, and other educational materials central to the academic mission of Queens College—would have to be eliminated entirely; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the School, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the School is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building would be in keeping with the character of the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed use and FAR are permitted as-of-right within the R5 zoning district; the applicant also represents that the scale and design of the Education Center is compatible with nearby residential buildings, in that most feature second-story terraces or bay windows set back from the street and undersized side and front yards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed front yard is similar to neighboring front yards, which are predominantly non-complying due to a rezoning that changed the district from R6B to R5; the applicant represents that a complying front yard with complying plantings would create a "missing tooth" in the streetscape of the block and alter the essential character of the neighborhood more than the proposed design; and

WHEREAS, as for the proposed side yards, the applicant represents that narrow side yard widths are commonplace throughout the neighborhood, including the directly adjacent neighbor to the Education Center's north (34-45 107th Street), which has a side yard width abutting the site of 2'-4¾" and the Education Center's neighbor directly to the south (34-53 107th Street), which has a side yard width abutting the site of 3'-11"; as such, the proposed side yards are contextual; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed non-permitted obstruction within the side setback—the sound-attenuating enclosure for the rooftop mechanical bulkhead—is necessary to minimize impact of noise upon the surrounding residence; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the Museum places a strong emphasis on community outreach, including neighborhood involvement in its management, and block residents have routinely held seats on the Museum's advisory board since 1994; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the School could occur on the existing site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum relief necessary to accommodate the projected programmatic needs, pursuant to ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the applicant's program needs and assertions as to the insufficiency of a complying scenario and has determined that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow the School to fulfill its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 13BSA078Q, dated April 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials, and air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and the Board of Standards and Appeals makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to to permit, on a site within an R5 zoning district, the construction of a two-story building to be occupied by a community facility (Use Group 3), which does not comply with the underlying zoning district regulations for lot coverage, front yard, side yards, side setback, and plantings for community facilities, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-12, 24-34, 24-35, 24-55, 24-551, 26-42, and 24-06, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 9, 2013" – thirteen (13) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the proposed building will be in accordance with the approved plans and be limited to: a maximum floor area of 9,046 sq. ft. (1.59 FAR); a maximum lot coverage of 57 percent; a maximum total height of 31'-3"; a minimum front yard depth of 5'-0"; two side yards with minimum widths of 0'-1⅞"; a minimum side setback of 16'-3", as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the sound attenuation measures in the proposed building will be maintained as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated April 9, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121511417, reads in pertinent part:

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located partially within a C2-5 (R7A) zoning district and partially within an R8B zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on portions of the first through fifth stories of a five-story commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-31; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a five-story commercial building with approximately 25,285 sq. ft. of floor area (4.79 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that because 20 feet of the lot's 120-foot depth extends beyond the C2-5 (R7A) district into the R8B district, and because the lot existed as a lot of record as of December 15, 1961, per ZR § 77-11, the use regulations applicable in the C2-5 (R7A) district may apply in the R8B portion; therefore, commercial uses permitted in a C2-5 district are permitted throughout the lot; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA122M, dated April 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on June 4, 2013, June 18, 2013, and July 23, 1013, and then to decision on August 13, 2013; and
WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and
WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and
WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular lot that spans the full width of the north side of Roosevelt Avenue between 91st Street and 92nd Street, within a C2-4 (R6) zoning district; and
WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since November 12, 1941 when, under BSA Cal. No. 361-37-BZ, the Board, pursuant to 1916 Zoning Resolution § 7h, granted a use variance to permit the transient parking and storage of more than five automobiles in a business use district for a term of two years; and
WHEREAS, on April 18, 1961, the Board approved an amendment to the grant allowing, in addition to the parking and storage of automobiles, the construction and maintenance of a gasoline service station, auto laundry, lubritorium, office, sale of auto accessories, and minor auto repairs with hand tools only, for a term of 20 years; and
WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant was extended and amended by the Board at various times, and expired on April 18, 2001; and
WHEREAS, most recently, on November 29, 2005, under the subject calendar number, the Board reinstated the prior grant pursuant to ZR § 11-411 for a term of ten years, to expire on April 18, 2011; and
WHEREAS, the applicant now requests an additional extension of the term, and an amendment to legalize deviations from the previously-approved plans, change the hours of operation of the auto repair shop, and permit the rental of two vehicles from the site; and
WHEREAS, as to the deviations from the previously-approved plans, the applicant seeks to legalize a modification to the number and configuration of parking spaces; the applicant notes that it modified the site to accommodate the installation of a remediation shed, which the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation required in connection with DEC Spill No. 98-08815; and
WHEREAS, as to the proposed change in the hours of operation of the auto repair shop, the applicant seeks an expansion from Monday through Friday, from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Saturday, from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. to Monday through Saturday, from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, as to the rental of vehicles from the site, the applicant seeks to legalize its current practice of renting two U-Haul vans or small trucks on an hourly basis seven days per week between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-411, the Board may permit an extension of term and pursuant to ZR § 11-412, the Board may permit amendments; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to address the following site conditions: (1) inadequate landscaping along the 91st Street frontage; (2) bent bollards along the northwest lot line; and (3) damaged sidewalks along the Roosevelt Avenue frontage; in addition, the Board instructed the applicant to explore the feasibility of removing the curb cut on 91st Street; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant provided photographs reflecting improved landscaping and repaired bollards; the applicant also submitted: (1) a statement indicating that it intends to eventually replace the existing bollards with concrete bollards; and (2) a sidewalk replacement plan, which will be implemented upon the renewal of the term of the grant; and

WHEREAS, as to the 91st Street curb cut, the applicant's engineer prepared tanker truck circulation diagrams showing the existing circulation plan (using the 91st Street curb cut) and a modified circulation plan (without the 91st Street curb cut); based on the diagram, the applicant represents that maneuvering will become unduly burdensome without the 91st Street curb cut; the applicant also notes that removal of the curb cut would require the relocation of a manhole that is partially located within the curb cut and partially within the street, and that such relocation must be coordinated with the Department of Environmental Protection; finally, the applicant notes that the curb cut was approved by the Board and has operated for more than 25 years without incident; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees with the applicant that it is infeasible to remove the 91st Street curb cut and it may remain; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds, pursuant to ZR §§ 11-411 and 11-412, that the requested extension of term and amendments are appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals waives the Rules of Practice and Procedure, reopens and amends the resolution, dated November 29, 2005, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to grant an extension of the special permit for a term of ten years from the prior expiration, to change the hours of operation, and to allow rental of commercial vehicles from the site, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received June 6, 2013'-(5) sheets; and on further condition:

WHEREAS, the decision of the Staten Island Borough Commissioner, dated March 3, 2007, acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 500866057, 500866128, 500866119, 500866100, and 500866093 reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed development within the bed of a mapped street is contrary to Article 3, Section 35 of the General City Law. Therefore, approval from the Board of Standards and Appeals is required; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 25, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on October 30, 2012, January 8, 2013, February 26, 2013, June 4, 2013 and July 23, 2013, and then to decision August 13, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Staten Island, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, this application was filed in 2007 to allow the construction of six three-story, two-family dwellings and one two-story, one-family dwelling in the bed of Thornycroft Avenue, a mapped street, portions of which are unbuilt; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located north of Oakdale Street west of the mapped but unbuilt portion of Thornycroft Avenue, within an R3-2 zoning district within the Special South Richmond Development District; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that by letter dated April 29, 2010, it advised the Board that, due to the construction of a baseball field on the corner of Thornycroft Avenue and Oakdale Street and the improvement of sidewalks and curb cuts along Thornycroft Avenue for a distance of 200 feet from Oakdale Street, the original proposal was no longer feasible; accordingly, the application was amended to eliminate two of the seven homes to be constructed in the bed of the street; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant withdrew BSA Cal. Nos. 90-07-A and 91-07-A (concerning 460 and 464 Thornycroft Avenue); and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that its prosecution of this application has been delayed at various times due to its attempts to resolve outstanding issues related to the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP"), Department of Transportation ("DOT"), and the Fire Department; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated June 5, 2007, the DEP states that: (1) there is an existing watercourse crossing the property; (2) there are no existing sewers or watermains in Thornycroft Avenue between Oakdale Street and St. Alban's Place; (3) Amended Drainage Plan No. D-2-2, sheet 2 of 9 calls for a future 12-inch diameter sanitary sewer and a 48-inch diameter sewer in the bed of Thornycroft Avenue between Oakdale Street and St. Alban's Place; and (4) it requires the applicant to submit a survey/plan showing the width of the widening portion of Thornycroft Avenue between Oakdale Street and St. Alban's Place, and the location and width of the existing watercourse; and

WHEREAS, following a series of letters between the applicant and DEP regarding its initial requirements and requests, including an exchange that resulted in DEP's acknowledgment that a watercourse does not cross the property, DEP issued a letter, dated March 26, 2012, providing that it has reviewed the applicant's Builders Pavement Plan, which shows Thornycroft Avenue with a width of 34'-0", which will be available for the installation, maintenance, and/or reconstruction of any future sewers, and therefore has no further objections to the proposed application; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 17, 2007, the DOT states in part that the proposed site plan does not reflect any provisions for a cul-de-sac or turnaround at the dead end of Thornycroft Avenue; as such, the developer would be required to construct half the mapped width of Thornycroft Avenue plus five feet for the entire length of the unopened portion of Thornycroft Avenue and construct curbs and sidewalks for the entire length of the property abutting Oakdale Street and Winchester Avenue, following the same width and alignment as currently exists; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, by letter dated December 16, 2010, DOT states that it has reviewed the revised proposal and has no objections; however, by letter dated September 12,

2012, DOT requested a title search to determine ownership of a portion of Thornycroft Avenue that the applicant proposes to improve; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated June 18, 2013, DOT states that the New York City Law Department has conducted a title search and determined that the City has title to such portion of Thornycroft Avenue; however, DOT also states that the improvement of Thornycroft Avenue is not presently included in DOT's Capital Improvement Program; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 22, 2013, the Fire Department states that it has reviewed the site plan, including the turn-around, and has no objection to it, provided that the following note is added to the site plan: "No parking in any part of the turn-around"; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted an amended site plan including the note requested by the Fire Department; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence to warrant this approval under certain conditions.

Therefore it is Resolved that the decision of the Staten Island Borough Commissioner, dated March 3, 2007, acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 500866057, 500866128, 500866119, 500866100, 500866093 is modified by the power vested in the Board by Section 35 of the General City Law, and that this appeal is granted, limited to the decision noted above; on condition that construction shall substantially conform to the drawing filed with the application marked "Received August 9, 2013" (1) sheet; that the proposal shall comply with all applicable zoning district requirements; and that all other applicable laws, rules, and regulations shall be complied with; and on further condition:

THAT signs be posted stating that there is "No parking in any part of the turn-around";

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT DOB shall review the proposed plans to ensure compliance with all relevant provisions of the Zoning Resolution;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction of a five-story commercial building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 4, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on July 9, 2013, and then to decision on August 13, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the east side of 29th Street, between 39th Avenue and 40th Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the site has a lot area of 2,556.8 sq. ft. and approximately 26 feet of frontage along 29th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes a change of use and an enlargement of the existing two-story manufacturing building at the site; the proposal would result in a five-story building with a sixth-story penthouse with 11,287.65 sq. ft. of floor area (4.41 FAR) occupied by offices (Use Group 6) (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is currently located within an M1-2/R5B zoning district within the Special Long Island City Mixed Use District, but was formerly located within an M1-3D zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Building complies in all respects with the former M1-3D zoning district parameters; and

WHEREAS, however, on October 7, 2008 (the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Dutch Kills Rezoning, which rezoned the site to M1-2/R5B; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the rezoning, the Building does not comply with the district parameters regarding maximum floor area; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that New Building Permit No. 410113657-01-AL (the "Permit") was issued to the owner by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on July 24, 2008; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 3, 2013, DOB confirmed that the Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that ZR § 11-31(c)(1) classifies the construction authorized under the Permit as a "minor development"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, per ZR §§ 11-331 and 11-332, where all work on foundations for a minor development has been completed prior to the effective date of an applicable amendment to the Zoning Resolution, work may continue for two years, and if after two years, construction has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy has not been issued, the permit shall automatically lapse and the right to continue construction shall terminate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, as of the Enactment Date, the entire foundation for the Building was completed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states, on November 18, 2008, DOB recognized the owner's right to continue construction under the Permit for two years from the Enactment Date (October 7, 2010), pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, however, as of October 7, 2010, construction was not complete and a certificate of occupancy had not been issued; therefore, on that date the Permit lapsed by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that it did not, pursuant to ZR § 11-332, seek renewal of the Permit from the Board within 30 days of such lapse; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks to proceed pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a valid permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that prior to October 7, 2008, the owner had completed the following work: interior demolition, excavation, underpinning, the entire foundation, and the setting of base plates for structural columns; further, between October 7, 2008 and October 7, 2010 (the date that the Permit lapsed), the applicant states that the following was completed: completion of base plates, structural columns, installation of all floor beams and columns, installation of all decking, pouring of concrete on all floors, installation of roof beams, decking and bulkhead, installation of HVAC duct work on all floors, some installation of electrical conduits on each floor, installation of exterior façade in the enlargement, including windows, and some demolition of the exterior façade in the existing portion of the building, and some installation of insulation; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant submitted the following evidence: invoices, concrete delivery slips, construction contracts, plans highlighting the work completed, and photographs of the site showing certain aspects of the completed work; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before and after the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, given the size of the site, and based upon a comparison of the type and amount of work completed in this case with the type and amount of work discussed by New York State courts, a significant amount of work was performed at the site during the relevant periods; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that since the Enactment Date, when DOB recognized that the Permit had vested by operation of law, the owner has expended $731,738.25, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $1,172,738.87 budgeted for the entire project; the applicant also notes that since the lapse of the Permit on October 7, 2010, an additional $157,292.56 has been expended in soft costs and obligations owed; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, invoices, and accounting tables; and

WHEREAS, thus, the expenditures to date represent approximately 75 percent of the projected total cost; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if the owner is not permitted to vest the Building under the former M1-3D zoning and must comply with the M1-2/R5B zoning, the maximum permitted floor area ratio would be reduced from 5.0 FAR to 2.0 FAR, representing a loss of 7,670.4 sq. ft., which is approximately 60 percent of the development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the owner planned to initially occupy a portion of the Building upon completion and lease the remainder, and eventually use the entire Building for its growing business; therefore, if the Building must be reduced in size to comply with the M1-2/R5B zoning, not only will the owner have insufficient space to accommodate its growing business, but it will also be deprived of significant rental income in the years before it requires the entire space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that because construction is nearly 50 percent complete, its contractor estimates that redesigning, demolishing and rebuilding portions of the Building to bring it into compliance will cost an estimated $825,000; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that that the owner would incur substantial additional costs in reconstructing the Building to comply with the current zoning; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

Therefore it is Resolved that this application made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 410113657-01-AL, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for two years from the date of this grant.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, a reopening, a reinstatement, an extension of term for the continued use of an office (Use Group 6) and accessory parking for four automobiles in an R4 zoning district, which expired on May 13, 2000, and an extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy, which expired on March 31, 1993; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 27, 2012, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on March 12, 2013, June 4, 2013, and July 9, 2013, and then to decision on August 13, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 10, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Cross Bay Boulevard and 109th Avenue, within an R4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since October 20, 1959 when, under BSA Cal. No. 64-59-BZ, the Board granted a use variance to permit the construction of an office building and accessory parking for four automobiles, contrary to 1916 Zoning Resolution §§ 7e and 7h; the Board granted the variance for a term of 20 years; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant has been extended by the Board at various times; and

WHEREAS, most recently, on March 31, 1992, the Board: (1) granted an approval to extend the term for ten years from May 13, 1990 to expire on May 13, 2000; and

(2) granted an extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy until March 31, 1993; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to reinstate the variance under BSA Cal. No. 64-59-BZ; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, under its Rules, an applicant requesting reinstatement of a pre-1961 use variance must demonstrate that: (1) the use has been continuous since the expiration of the term; (2) substantial prejudice would result if reinstatement is not granted; and (3) the use permitted by the grant does not substantially impair the appropriate use and development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, as to continuity, the applicant represents that, although the term expired in 2000, the office use and parking have been continuous from 1959 to the present; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that substantial prejudice would result if reinstatement is not granted, because without reinstatement it would be unable to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also represents that the office and parking use permitted by the grant are harmonious with the commercial character of the immediate area and Cross Bay Boulevard in general, and have existed for more than 50 years with no adverse effects; and

WHEREAS, based on the applicant's representations, the Board finds that reinstatement of the subject variance is appropriate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also requests an additional extension of the term and an additional extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-411, the Board may permit an extension of term of an expired variance; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to address the oversized, illuminated accessory signage, open Department of Buildings ("DOB") violations, and lack of plantings along the Cross Bay Boulevard frontage; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant provided photographs reflecting the removal of the oversized, illuminated accessory signage and submitted records from DOB showing the dismissal of all violations and payment of associated fines; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant submitted an amended plan reflecting the installation of planters along the Cross Bay Boulevard frontage; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the requested reinstatement, extension of term, and extension of time to obtain a certificate of occupancy are appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 11-411 to permit, within an R4 zoning district, the reinstatement of a prior Board approval of office use (Use Group 6) with accessory parking for four automobiles at the subject site, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received May 31, 2013'- (7) sheets and 'July 3, 2013'- (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will be for ten years, to expire on August 13, 2023;

THAT the site will be maintained free of debris and graffiti;

THAT signage will comply with C1 district regulations;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a new certificate of occupancy will be obtained by August 13, 2014;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Zoning

Specialist, dated April 16, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121331157, reads in pertinent part:

ZR 32-10 & 73-36; proposed physical culture establishment is prohibited and requires Board of Standards and Appeals approval; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located partially within a C5-3 zoning district, partially within a C6-6 zoning district, partially within a C5-2.5 zoning district, and partially within a C6-7 zoning district within the Special Midtown District and the Theater Subdistrict, the operation of a physical culture establishment ("PCE") in portions of the first story, cellar and sub-cellar of a 41-story commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 9, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on August 13, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 5, Manhattan, has no objection to the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular lot, spanning the full length of Avenue of the Americas between West 41st Street and West 42nd Street, with 197.5 feet of frontage along Avenue of the Americas, and 300 feet of frontage along both West 41st Street and West 42nd Street, with a total lot area of approximately 59,250 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is located partially within a C5-3 zoning district, partially within a C6-6 zoning district, partially within a C5-2.5 zoning district, and partially within a C6-7 zoning district within the Special Midtown District and the Theater Subdistrict and is occupied by a 41-story commercial building with 1,066,500 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the site since January 21, 1975 when, under BSA Cal. No. 613-74-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the installation of an illuminated sign at the rooftop level, on the north and south facades of building; and

WHEREAS, the proposed PCE will occupy approximately 1,098 sq. ft. of floor area on the first story, 7,098 sq. ft. of floor space in the cellar, and 21,589 sq. ft. of floor space in the sub-cellar; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will be operated as Equinox; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the services at the PCE include facilities for instruction and programs for physical improvement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the hours of operation for the proposed PCE are Monday through Friday, from 5:00 a.m. to 11:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns about the proposed signage for the PCE; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended plans reflecting that the PCE signage would comply with the underlying district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA128M, dated April 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

of a 41-story commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received July 25, 2013" – Seven (7) sheets and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will expire on August 23, 2023;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the physical culture establishment without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT all massages must be performed by New York State licensed massage therapists;

WHEREAS, decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated November 15, 2011, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320372725, reads:

Proposed residential building cannot be built in M1-1 zoning district, as per Section 42-00 ZR; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site within an M1-1 zoning district, the residential conversion (UG 2) of an existing four-story manufacturing building, contrary to ZR § 42-00; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 1, 2012, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on June 5, 2012, and July 10, 2012, and then to decision on November 15, 2012 (the October 30, 2012 decision date was postponed due to the storm-related office closure); and

WHEREAS, the building and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Brooklyn, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the west side of Sandford Street between Myrtle Avenue and Park Avenue, within an M1-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 37'-9" of frontage on Sandford Street, a depth of 100 feet, and a lot area of 3,775 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a four-story manufacturing building, with a total floor area of 12,836 sq. ft. (3.4 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the building was constructed in approximately 1931 and has been vacant for three years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert the building to residential use with commercial use at a portion of the ground floor, and to make a slight modification to the building envelope to improve the circulation of the building, resulting in a building with a total floor area of 12,566.5 sq. ft. (3.33 FAR); and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant proposes to use a 1,376 sq. ft. (0.37 FAR) portion of the first floor for conforming commercial use, and to convert the remaining 11,190.5 sq. ft. (2.96 FAR) of the building to 14 residential units; and

WHEREAS, the applicant originally proposed to convert the subject building to residential and ground floor commercial uses, and to enlarge the existing building by constructing a partial fifth floor at the roof level, resulting in a total floor area of 14,447 sq. ft. (3.83 FAR) and two additional dwelling units (16 total dwelling units); and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns regarding the proposed enlargement and additional floor area, and directed the applicant to remove the partial fifth floor; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted revised plans removing the partial fifth floor enlargement and reflecting the current proposal; and

WHEREAS, because residential use is not permitted in the underlying M1-1 zoning district, the subject use variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following is a unique physical condition, which creates practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in occupying the subject site in conformance with underlying district regulations: the existing building is obsolete for conforming manufacturing use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building is obsolete for modern manufacturing due to (1) the small and narrow footprint of the building, (2) wood decking and joists which cannot support loads required for manufacturing, (3) an inoperable elevator and twisted stairwell, (4) the low floor-to-ceiling heights, (5) the lack of a loading birth, and (6) the site's mid-block frontage along a narrow street with low traffic volume; and

WHEREAS, as to the building's small and narrow footprint, the applicant states that the building is unusually narrow at 37'-9" with a floorplate of 3,209 square feet, which renders it unmarketable for conforming occupancy; and

WHEREAS, as to the uniqueness of this condition, the applicant submitted a lot study which examined 133 lots within the surrounding M1-1 and M1-2 area and found 28 were occupied with conforming uses and have a street frontage of 38'-0" or less; and

WHEREAS, the lot study submitted by the applicant indicates that of those 28 lots, 25 are distinguishable from the subject property because the lots are either: (1) connected to buildings on adjoining narrow lots; (2) part of a larger assemblage; (3) configured to allow off-street parking/loading; (4) occupied by a residential use; or (5)

located along Nostrand Avenue, a busy thoroughfare; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the lot study indicates that only three lots of the total 133 lots within the study area were deemed to be comparable to the subject site in terms of their lot width and conforming occupancy; and

WHEREAS, as to the building's load capacity, the applicant represents that the existing floors with wood decking and joists do not have the structural capacity to carry the requisite load capacity for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the 2008 Building Code requires a minimum uniformly distributed live load of 125 p.s.f. and a minimum concentrated live load of 2000 lbs; however, the building's current load capacity measures between 107 and 69 p.s.f. and therefore cannot support a manufacturing warehouse load; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, aside from its low load-bearing capacity, the building's dated floor system consisting of wood decking over wood joists is nearly 50 percent of the building and, aside from any structural stability related work, would require the entire floor and sub-floor to be removed, the affected joists replaced, and the sub-floors and floors reinstalled to achieve a level condition, resulting in significant additional costs associated with the reconstruction of the wood joists and wood decking; and

WHEREAS, as to the inadequate elevator shaft and staircases, the applicant states that the building lacks a functioning elevator and the size of the elevator, at 8'-0" by 8'-0", is not large enough to appropriately market the building for conforming tenancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the ability to vertically transport products and goods to and from the building's upper levels is further compromised by the existing main stairwell, which would need to be demolished and re-installed because of its uneven and sagging condition; and

WHEREAS, as to the floor-to-ceiling height, the applicant notes that the floor-to-ceiling height varies from 12'-0" to 9'-10" throughout the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that typical wholesale showroom minimum ceiling heights are 14'-0", and ceiling heights needed for warehousing goods requires a minimum ceiling height of 25'-0" to facilitate the stacking of palettes, and as such, the low ceiling heights of the existing building contribute to the functional obsolescence of the building for conforming manufacturing use; and

WHEREAS, as to the street conditions, the applicant states that Sandford Street, although mapped at a width of 50'-0", is paved for a width of only approximately 30'-0", and off-street parking is permitted on both sides of the street; this coupled with a lack of a loading berth constrains vehicle delivery and access to the site and trailer/truck loading for a conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building has been vacant for nearly three years, and that the owner has actively attempted to market the space within the building for over two years for a conforming use, but has been unsuccessful; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the combination of the small and narrow footprint, wood decking and joists which cannot support load required for manufacturing, inoperable elevator and twisted stairwell, low floor to ceiling height, lack of a loading birth, and mid-block frontage along a narrow, low traffic street create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in using the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided a feasibility study analyzing: (1) the building used in conformance with M1-1 zoning district regulations; (2) the original proposal with a fifth floor addition; and (3) the proposed four-story residential building with ground floor commercial use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant's feasibility study reflects that the building occupied by a conforming use does not provide a reasonable return but that the proposed building does result in a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the applicant's financial analysis, the Board has determined that because of the subject site's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that use in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed residential use will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that although zoned M1-1, the site is two blocks west of an R6 zoning district, and two blocks east of an MX-4 (M1-2/R6A) district, which both permit residential uses as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the surrounding area is characterized by a mix of residential uses and commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, the land use map submitted by the applicant shows residential uses immediately to the north and west of the site, and across Sandford Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the conforming uses in the surrounding area are mostly non-intrusive, one-story garages and undeveloped property; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the proposed residential conversion of the subject building will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the unique physical characteristics of the site; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the applicant initially proposed to construct a partial fifth story enlargement to the existing building, which would have resulted in a floor area of 14,447 sq. ft. (3.83 FAR) and two additional dwelling units (16 total dwelling units); and

WHEREAS, in response to concerns raised by the Board, the applicant revised its proposal to remove the fifth story enlargement; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the current proposal, is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") 12BSA048K, dated April 30, 2011; and

SUBJECT – Application January 31, 2013 – Variance (§72-21) for the enlargement of existing single-family residence, contrary to front yard (§113-54) as there is a parking space within the required front yard, minimum required side yards (§113-543), and side yards (§23-461a) regulations. THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated February 13, 2013, and acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320329471 reads, in pertinent part:

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yards and provides parking within the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461, 113-543, and 113-54; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 14, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 11, 2013, and then to decision on July 16, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East Fifth Street between Avenue L and Avenue M; and

WHEREAS, the site is located within an R5 district within the Special Ocean Parkway District and has approximately 41 feet of frontage along East Fifth Street; and

WHEREAS, the site is a triangular lot ranging in lot width from approximately 41 feet at the front lot line to 9.38 feet at the rear lot line; the lot depth ranges from 104.9 feet to 100 feet; the site has a lot area of approximately 2,521 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a two-story, detached, single-family home with approximately 2,135.40 sq. ft. of floor area (0.85 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that DOB permits for an as-of-right enlargement of the building have been obtained and construction has commenced but not yet been completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing first and second floor of the building contrary to the side yard and front yard requirements and increase the floor area from 2,135.40 sq. ft. (0.85 FAR) to 2,454.88 sq. ft. (0.97 FAR) (a maximum of 3,781.50 sq. ft. (1.50 FAR) is permitted); and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant proposes one side yard with a width of 1'-4" and one side yard with a width of 4'-0" (two side yards of no less than two feet each and ten feet total, with a minimum distance of eight feet between buildings is required, per ZR § 113-543); and a parking space within the required front yard (parking is not permitted within the front yard, per ZR § 113-54); the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement complies in all other respects with the applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, because the proposed enlargement does not comply with the R5/Special Ocean Parkway District regulations, a variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the subject site in compliance with underlying zoning regulations: the lot size and shape; limited width; and limited potential floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the lot is triangular in shape, which limits the development of the site to a triangular building due to compliance with the side yard and accessory parking requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a deed chain showing that the lot shape is a historic condition, which has existed since at least 1928; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that a triangular building has constrained and inefficient floorplates, inadequate shared living space, and impedes realization of the maximum available FAR; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the limited width of the lot—which, as noted above, is less than ten feet at the rear lot line—would result in a building that tapers to a width of approximately 5'-6" at the rear, which is too narrow to accommodate usable living space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the triangularity of the lot and its narrow width are atypical on the subject block, where the average lot is rectangular in shape with an average width of 21'-6"; and since many homes are semi-detached and share driveways, the average building on the block has a building width of 17'-5"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the only other triangular lot on the block is adjacent to the subject lot but is substantially larger, with approximately 3,900 sq. ft. of lot area, which is nearly 1,400 sq. ft. more than the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the shape and width of the lot reduce the potential building floor area well below what is permitted on the site and common on the block; specifically, the applicant states that it can only build 2,275 sq. ft. of floor area as-of-right, but homes in the neighborhood with average-sized, rectangular lots typically can build up to 2,600 sq. ft. as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant explored the feasibility of enlarging the building as-of-right i.e., with complying side yards and a parking space within the side lot ribbon, and determined that it would result in an increase in floor area of approximately 140 sq. ft. (70 sq. ft. on each story), which the applicant deemed impractical given the cost of construction; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that compliance with applicable zoning regulations will result in a habitable home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood, or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal essentially maintains existing distance between the subject building and the adjacent building to the south and will maintain a distance of greater than 20 feet from the adjacent building to the north; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlargement will occur in the rear of the building and will not be visible from East Fifth Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the proposed building is well within the maximum height and maximum permitted FAR in the district; thus, the impact of the enlargement on the surrounding community from a bulk perspective is both minimal and harmonious with the neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, as to the parking space within the front yard, the applicant notes while the space is within the front yard, it is not located in front of the home, but on the side of the home where the side yard intersects with the front yard; as such, in terms of appearance it is comparable to parking spaces in the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is a result of the unique lot size and shape; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yards and provides parking within the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461, 113-543, and 113-54; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received January 31, 2013" - (10) and "May 28, 2013"-(2) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the proposed building will be limited to: two stories, a maximum floor area of 2,454.88 sq. ft. (0.97 FAR), side yards with minimum widths of 1'-4" and 4'-0", and one accessory off-street parking space within the front yard, as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT significant construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 16, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION:

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening and a change in use from an automotive service station (Use Group 16) to an eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 4, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with a continued hearing on July 16, 2013, and then to decision on August 20, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commission Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 13, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the northwest corner of Neptune Avenue and Brighton 3rd Street, in an R6 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a vacant one-story building constructed for gasoline service station use; and

WHEREAS, on November 15, 1949, under BSA Cal. No. 632-49-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the site to be operated as a storage garage for more than five motor vehicles, gasoline service station, lubrication, motor vehicle repair shop, and offices; the grant did not include a term; and

WHEREAS, on December 15, 1970, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted an application to permit the reconstruction and reduction in area of the building and the use of the site as an automotive service station with accessory parking and other accessory use; the grant did not include a term; and

WHEREAS, most recently, on May 7, 2002, the Board amended the approval to permit the conversion of three service bays to an accessory convenience store and the installation of a new canopy over the existing pump islands; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the work approved under the 2002 amendment was never performed and the service station no longer operates at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the storage tanks associated with the gasoline service station have been closed and removed in accordance with New York State Department of Environmental Conservation requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now proposes to renovate the existing building to accommodate the proposed Use Group 6 eating and drinking establishment, to be operated as Dunkin' Donuts open 24 hours, daily; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-413, the Board may grant a request for a change in use from one non-conforming use to another non-conforming use which would be permitted under one of the provisions applicable to non-conforming uses as set forth in ZR §§ 52-31 to 52-36; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that its request for a change in use from a Use Group 16 use to a Use Group 6 use is be permitted pursuant to ZR § 52-34; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the change in use will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, as a Use Group 16 use operated at the site for more than 40 years, and the surrounding area has a number of ground floor commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board questioned whether (1) the parking spaces were all functional and necessary to accommodate the demand, particularly the two spaces adjacent to the dumpster enclosure; (2) the exhaust and air condensers could be located further from residential uses to mitigate any sound impacts; (3) the lighting could be softened to reduce the impact on adjacent residential uses; and (4) the garbage pickup could be restricted to hours that are compatible with adjacent residential uses; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant (1) stated that all parking spaces are functional and necessary to accommodate the peak demand of 10-12 spaces and that it will post signage at the two spaces adjacent to the dumpster stating that parking is prohibited there during garbage collection hours; (2) proposes a split system which allows the condenser to be located on the ground, rather than the roof and provided revised plans showing the relocation of the condenser units to the walkway adjacent to the building on the Brighton 3rd Street side and the exhaust fans in a different location on the roof; (3) provided specifications on shielded lighting, which is directed down and away from residential uses; and (4) agreed to restrict the garbage pickup hours to times between 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submitted a plan sheet which reflects the traffic flow designed to allow maneuverability; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 11-413.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated December 15, 1970, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to permit a change in use from gasoline service station (Use Group 16) to an eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6); on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 31, 2013"-(7) sheets; and on further condition:

THE RESOLUTION:

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 11-332, to permit an extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy for a minor development currently under construction at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 23, 20013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on August 20, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a through-block site with frontages on the west side of Orchard Street, the south side of Rivington Street, and the east side of Allen Street; and

WHEREAS, the site has a width of 87'-9" and a depth of 127'-3", and a total lot area of approximately 9,828 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a single zoning lot comprising five separate tax lots (Lots 61, 62, 63, 66 and 67); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a 16-story transient hotel (Use Group 5) building (the "Building") on Lots 61, 66 and 67, utilizing development rights transferred from Lots 62 and 63; the existing building located on Lot 62 will remain; and

WHEREAS, the Building is proposed to have a total floor area of approximately 39,064 sq. ft., which contributes to a total FAR of 6.0 for the entire zoning lot, and a building height of 191'-0"; and

WHEREAS, the site was formerly located within a C6-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, on September 29, 2008, Alteration Type 2 Permit No. 110251361-EW-OT (the "Foundation Permit") was issued by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") permitting excavation of the premises and the construction of the foundation of the Building, and work commenced on October 14, 2008; on November 19, 2008, New Building Permit No. 104870392-01-NB (the "New Building Permit") was issued by DOB permitting the construction of the Building (collectively, the "Permits"); and

WHEREAS, on November 19, 2008 (hereinafter, the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to enact the East Village/Lower East Side Rezoning, which changed the zoning district to C4-4A; and

WHEREAS, as of that date, the applicant had obtained the Permits for the development and completed excavation, but had not completed the foundations for the property; and

WHEREAS, on June 16, 2009 the Board granted a renewal of all permits necessary to complete construction under BSA Cal. No. 311-08-BZY, pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, the foundation was completed within six months and construction proceeded until November 19, 2010; on that date, two years after the Enactment Date, the Permits lapsed pursuant to ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, one day prior to the lapse, on November 18, 2010, the applicant's predecessor filed an application under the subject calendar number pursuant to ZR § 11-332, seeking a two-year extension to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, on March 15, 2011, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a two-year extension of the Permits, to expire on March 15, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, on March 1, 2011—two weeks before the Board's initial grant under the subject calendar—the developer's loan matured, and the applicant, as lender, commenced a foreclosure proceeding against the developer-borrower in Supreme Court; since the filing of that action, construction work at the site has been limited to maintenance of site safety and the construction of a sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, because the two-year time limit has expired and construction has not been completed, the applicant seeks relief pursuant to ZR § 11-30 et seq., which sets forth the regulations that apply to a reinstatement of a permit that lapses due to a zoning change; and

WHEREAS, first, the Board notes that ZR § 11-31(c)(1) defines construction such as the proposed development, which involves the construction of a single building which is non-complying under an amendment to the ZR, as a "minor development"; and

WHEREAS, for "minor development," an extension of time to complete construction, previously authorized under a grant for an extension made pursuant to ZR § 11-331, may be granted by the Board pursuant to ZR § 11-332; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 11-332 reads, in pertinent part: "In the event that construction permitted in Section 11-331 (Right to construct if foundations completed) has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy including a temporary certificate of occupancy, issued therefore within two years after the effective date of any applicable amendment . . . the building permit shall automatically lapse and the right to continue construction shall terminate. An application to renew the building permit may be made to the Board of Standards and Appeals not more than 30 days after the lapse of such building permit. The Board may renew such building permit for two terms of not more than two years each for a minor development . . . In granting such an extension, the Board shall find that substantial construction has been completed and substantial expenditures made, subsequent to the granting of the permit, for work required by any applicable law for the use or development of the property pursuant to the permit."; and

WHEREAS, the applicant noted that ZR § 11-332 requires only that there be substantial completion and substantial expenditures subsequent to the issuance of building permits and that the Board has measured this completion by looking at time spent, complexity of work completed, amount of work completed, and expenditures; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold issue, the work must have been performed pursuant to a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that all of the relevant DOB permits were lawfully issued to the owner of the subject premises; and

WHEREAS, in the context of the prior renewal, DOB issued a letter, dated December 22, 2010, in which it stated that the Permits were lawfully issued, authorizing construction of the proposed Building prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board accepts that the Permits were lawfully issued to the owner of the subject premises prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that, based on the record, the Permits have been timely renewed since issuance, including the two-year renewal pursuant to the Board's March 15, 2011 grant; however, no work has been performed and no expenditures undertaken since November 19, 2010; and

WHEREAS, turning to the substantive findings of ZR § 11-332, the Board notes that there is no fixed standard in an application made under this provision as to what constitutes substantial construction or substantial expenditure in the context of new development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, due to the foreclosure proceeding, the only work that has been performed since the prior two-year extension of the Permits by the Board is related to maintenance of site safety and the construction of a sidewalk; as such, the applicant seeks to rely on construction performed and expenditures undertaken as of November 19, 2010, when the Permits initially lapsed; and

WHEREAS, the Board observes that the work to be measured under ZR § 11-332 must be performed after the issuance of the Permits; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the expenditures to be assessed under ZR § 11-332 are those incurred after the Permits are issued; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, as is reflected below, the Board only considered post-permit work and expenditures, as submitted by the applicant; and

WHEREAS, in written statements and testimony, the applicant represents that, since the issuance of the Permits, substantial construction has been completed and substantial expenditures were incurred; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that work on the proposed development subsequent to the issuance of the Permits and prior to the expiration of the Board's most recent two-year extension of time to complete construction on November 19, 2010, includes: 100 percent of the foundation and completion of seven floors of the superstructure, with partial construction of the eighth floor; and

WHEREAS, in support of this statement, the applicant has submitted the following: an affidavit from the owner enumerating the completed work; construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, copies of lien waivers evidencing payments made by the applicant, and photographs of the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed all documentation and agrees that it establishes that the aforementioned work was completed subsequent to the issuance of the Permits; and

WHEREAS, as to costs, the applicant represents that the total expenditure paid for the development subsequent to the issuance of the Permits through November 19, 2010 is $4,826,511, or 32 percent, out of the approximately $15,249,467 cost to complete; and

WHEREAS, the applicant has submitted financial records, construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, and copies of lien waivers evidencing payments made by the applicant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this percentage constitutes a substantial expenditure sufficient to satisfy the finding in ZR § 11-332; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of all the submitted evidence, the Board finds that substantial construction was completed and that substantial expenditures were made since the issuance of the initial permits; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that the applicant has adequately satisfied all the requirements of ZR § 11-332, and that the owner is entitled to the requested reinstatement of the Permits, and all other permits necessary to complete the proposed development; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board, through this resolution, grants the owner of the site a two-year extension of time to complete construction, pursuant to ZR § 11-332.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to ZR § 11-332 to renew New Building Permit No. 104870392-01-NB and Alteration Type 2 Permit No. 110251361-EW-OT, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction, is granted, and the Board hereby extends the time to complete the proposed development and obtain a certificate of occupancy for one term of two years from the date of this resolution, to expire on August 20, 2015.

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction of a five-story commercial building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on June 18, 2013, and July 23, 2013, and then to decision on August 20, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the west side of 27th Street, between 40th Avenue and 41st Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the site has a lot area of 5,009 sq. ft. and approximately 50 feet of frontage along 27th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a new ten-story commercial building at the site; the proposal would result in 24,938.84 sq. ft. of floor area (4.98 FAR) occupied by a hotel (Use Group 5) (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is currently located within an M1-2/R5B zoning district within the Special Long Island City Mixed Use District, but was formerly located within an M1-3D zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Building complies in all respects with the former M1-3D zoning district parameters; and

WHEREAS, however, on October 7, 2008 (the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Dutch Kills Rezoning, which rezoned the site to M1-2/R5B; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the rezoning, the Building does not comply with the district parameters regarding maximum floor area and sky exposure plane; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that New Building Permit No. 410116422-01-NB (the "Permit") was issued to the owner by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on June 27, 2008; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 31, 2013, DOB confirmed that the Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that ZR § 11-31(c)(1) classifies the construction authorized under the Permit as a "minor development"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, per ZR §§ 11-331 and 11-332, where all work on foundations for a minor development has been completed prior to the effective date of an applicable amendment to the Zoning Resolution, work may continue for two years, and if after two years, construction has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy has not been issued, the permit shall automatically lapse and the right to continue construction shall terminate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, as of the Enactment Date, the entire foundation for the Building was completed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant represents that the applicant's predecessor acquired a vested right to continue construction under the Permit for two years from the Enactment Date (until October 7, 2010), pursuant to ZR § 11-331; nevertheless, construction under the Permit did not continue at the site after October 7, 2008 due to the owner's inability to obtain construction financing, and the only work performed was site safety-related maintenance, including the installation of the cellar concrete slab and first-story concrete deck to stabilize the unbraced foundation walls, and maintenance of the construction fence; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, as of October 7, 2010, construction was not complete and a certificate of occupancy had not been issued; therefore, on that date the Permit lapsed by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that it did not, pursuant to ZR § 11-332, seek renewal of the Permit from the Board within 30 days of such lapse; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks to proceed pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a valid permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that prior to October 7, 2008, the owner had completed the following work: excavation, underpinning, and the entire foundation; between October 7, 2008 and October 7, 2010, the owner completed the cellar concrete slab and first-story concrete deck; no work has been performed at the site since October 7, 2010, aside from site safety-related maintenance; and

WHEREAS, the Board only considers work performed between June 27, 2008 and October 7, 2010, when the permit lapsed; and

WHEREAS, in support of this appellant's assertions regarding completed work, the applicant submitted the following evidence: invoices, concrete delivery slips, construction contracts, plans highlighting the work completed, and photographs of the site showing certain aspects of the completed work; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before and after the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, given the size of the site, and based upon a comparison of the type and amount of work completed in this case with the type and amount of work discussed by New York State courts, a significant amount of work was performed at the site during the relevant period; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner expended $773,384, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $6,519,616 budgeted for the entire project; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, invoices, and accounting tables; and

WHEREAS, thus, the expenditures to date represent approximately 12 percent of the projected total cost; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if the owner is not permitted to vest the Building under the former M1-3D zoning and must comply with the M1-2/R5B zoning, the maximum permitted floor area ratio would be reduced from 5.0 FAR to 2.0 FAR, representing a loss of 14,920.84 sq. ft., which is approximately 60 percent of the development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that reduction in floor area will result in a reduction in hotel rooms from 78 to 30, which will significantly reduce the market value of the hotel; to support this assertion, the applicant represented that the nearby Comfort Inn located at 42-24 Crescent Street, Queens (an 80-room economy hotel) was recently purchased for $22,500,000, which results in an average value-per-room of $250,000; even assuming the subject hotel will be valued at only $220,000 per room, the reduction in the number of rooms represents a loss of $10,560,0000 of market value (or $12,000,000, if the rooms are valued at $250,000 per room); and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that the loss of 48 rooms would jeopardize its agreement with Super 8 Worldwide, and that financing will become more difficult to obtain and more expensive without a franchise-backed development; and the Building in compliance with the M1-2/R5B regulations will cost an estimated $160,000; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that redesigning

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with the applicant that the owner would incur substantial additional costs in reconstructing the Building to comply with the current zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Board also agrees with the applicant that the reduction in the floor area and hotel rooms results in a significant decrease in the market value of the Building; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 410116422-01-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for two years from the date of this grant.

2. Proposed existing east side yard of 7.54 feet is existing non-complying; building is proposed to be raised and to maintain this existing non-complying side yard . . . contrary to ZR 23-461(a);
3. Proposed existing front yard of 6.23 feet is existing non-complying; building is proposed to be raised and to maintain this existing non-complying front yard . . . contrary to ZR 23-45; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R1-2 zoning district within the Douglaston Hill Historic District, the enlargement of an existing, non-complying single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yard or front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461 and 23-45; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on August 20, 2013; and

WHEREAS, a companion case, BSA Cal. No. 60-12-A, has been filed in accordance with General City Law § 35, seeking authorization from the Board to construct in the bed of a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of Depew Avenue between Prospect Avenue and Willow Place; and

WHEREAS, the site is a triangular lot with a width of 93.77 feet, a depth of 93.23 feet, and a total lot area of 4,371 sq. ft.; the hypotenuse of the triangle is formed by the boundary of a property occupied by the North Side Branch of the Long Island Railroad; and

WHEREAS, the site is located within an R1-2 district within the Douglaston Hill Historic District and has 93.77 feet of frontage along Depew Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a two-story, detached, single-family home with 846.5 sq. ft. of floor area (0.19 FAR); the applicant notes that the home was built approximately 150 years ago as an "oyster house"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that because Depew Avenue has been re-graded and raised over the years, the building is now located approximately three feet below curb level; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building has one non-complying side yard with a width of 7.54 feet (a minimum width of 8 feet is required), and a non-complying front yard with a depth of 6.23 feet (a minimum of depth of 20 feet is required); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to elevate the building to street level and vertically and horizontally enlarge it, while maintaining the existing yard non-compliances, which will result in a home with the following parameters: a floor area of 1,789.39 sq. ft. (0.41 FAR) (a maximum floor area of 2,185.50 sq. ft. (0.50 FAR) is permitted); a side yard with a width of 7.54 feet (a minimum width of 8 feet is required); a front yard with a depth of 6.23 feet (a minimum depth of 20 feet is required); and an open space ratio of 187 percent (an open space ratio of 150 percent is required); and

WHEREAS, because the proposed enlargement does not comply with the R1-2 district regulations, a variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the subject site in compliance with underlying zoning regulations: the significantly underbuilt existing building, the location of the building at three feet below curb level due to the elevation of Depew Avenue, the site's location within a historic district, the triangular shape of the lot, and the building's orientation and location on the lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the existing building at the site is significantly underbuilt with 846.05 sq. ft. of floor area (0.19 FAR) in the subject R1-2 district, which allows a maximum 0.50 FAR; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, according to a survey of the 54 homes within a 400-foot radius of the subject site, the building is the smallest; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant notes that, according to the survey, the nearby homes range in size from 1,213 sq. ft. to 6,680 sq. ft. and the average home size is 2,300 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, owing to its small size and below-grade placement, the building is unsuitable for modern residential occupancy, in that the existing ceiling heights are less than seven feet on both the first and second stories, the two bedrooms are only 48 sq. ft. and 110 sq. ft. in area, there is only one bathroom, and there is neither adequate closet space, nor a usable cellar; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is a contributing structure to the Douglaston Hill Historic District and that such designation effectively prohibits the building's demolition and curtails the applicant's ability to modify the structure in a complying fashion; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that providing complying side and front yards is neither feasible—due to the lot's triangular shape and the building's existing orientation on the lot—nor desirable, because the existing orientation contributes to the integrity of the historic district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant explored the feasibility of enlarging the building as-of-right in the rear with no elevation of the existing non-complying yards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the as-of-right enlargement requires a split-level configuration, which is architecturally complicated and creates inefficient layouts; in addition, the split-level scenario is costly, does not adequately address the existing rubble foundations (which are crumbling), and does not address the current drainage problems imposed by the building being three feet below curb level; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that compliance with applicable zoning regulations will result in a habitable home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood, or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal maintains existing non-complying yards, which, though deficient according to the Zoning Resolution, help contribute to the historic character of the area; since no increase in the degree of such non-compliances is proposed, the impact of the enlargement from a bulk perspective is negligible; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement will result in a home that is more in character with the larger, more stately homes in the surrounding area; to support this statement the applicant submitted an analysis of the floor area of surrounding homes, which reflects that the proposed enlargement results in a home that is still below the average size; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the existing front yard is unchanged and that the enlargement is oriented toward the Long Island Railroad property, rather than toward any nearby existing homes; and

WHEREAS, the Landmarks Preservation Commission has approved the enlargement by Certificate of Appropriateness, dated August 14, 2013; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is a result of the lot shape, the peculiar conditions of the existing building and the constraints imposed by the site's being within a historic district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, within an R1-2 zoning district within the Douglaston Hill Historic District, the enlargement of an existing, non-complying single-family detached home that does not provide the required side yard or front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-461 and 23-45; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received February 25, 2013"- (3) sheets and "March 13, 2013"- (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the proposed building shall be as follows: a maximum floor area of 1,789.39 sq. ft. (0.41 FAR), a side yard with a width of 7.54 feet, a front yard with a depth of 6.23 feet, and an open space ratio of 187 percent, as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT significant construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, August 20, 2013.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated March 18, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320525614, reads in pertinent part:

1. Proposed FAR and OSR constitutes an increase in the degree of existing non-compliance, contrary to ZR 23-141;

2. Proposed horizontal enlargement provides less than the required side yards, contrary to ZR § 23-46 and less than the required rear yard, contrary ZR 23-47; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, to permit, within an R2 zoning district, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio ("FAR"), open space, side yards, and rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-46, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also proposes to reduce its rear yard depth from 28'-6" to 20'-0" (a minimum rear yard depth of 30'-0" is required), maintain its existing side yards with widths of 2'-11¼" and 6'-8" (the general requirement in this district is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each; however, because the lot is an existing narrow lot, per ZR § 23-48, two side yards with minimum widths of 5'-0" are required), and reduce its open space from 101 percent to 55 percent (a minimum open space of 150 percent is required); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood and will not impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant represents that the proposed 0.98 FAR is in keeping with the bulk in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, to support this representation, the applicant submitted a study of the 33 single-family homes within 200 feet of the site; based on the study, seven homes (21 percent) have an FAR of 0.98 or greater; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening and an amendment to a previously granted variance permitting the enlargement of an existing building occupied by a synagogue (Use Group 4) and rabbi's apartment contrary to the R4-1 bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application;

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of East 21st Street, between Avenue O and Avenue P, within an R4-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the subject lot has a width of 40 feet, a depth of 100 feet, and a lot area of 4,000 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since July 10, 2012 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance authorizing the enlargement of an existing building occupied by a synagogue (Use Group 4) and rabbi's apartment, which does not comply with the underlying zoning district regulations for lot coverage, height and setback, front yard, side yards, rear yard, and distance between windows and lot lines, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-521, 24-34, 24-35, 24-36, and 24-651; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to amend the variance to include a parking waiver, the introduction of a sub-cellar and other modifications that do not alter the envelope of the building or increase the total floor area proposed; and

WHEREAS, as to the parking waiver, the applicant represents that although the original proposal was for an enlargement, the nature and scope of the enlargement made substantive re-use of the existing walls for load-bearing purposes impractical; as such, must be analyzed as a new building (development), which changes the parking requirements; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that due to the change from enlargement to development, the number of parking spaces required for the building will be calculated based on the largest room in the building and that such calculation gives rise to a parking requirement of 16 spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that it is ineligible for the parking waiver for locally oriented houses of worship pursuant to ZR § 25-33 because the site generates 16 required spaces and the number of spaces that may be waived must be less than ten in the subject R4-1 district; and

WHEREAS, however, the applicant represents that it satisfies the criteria for a waiver under ZR § 25-35 (City Planning Certification for Locally Oriented Houses of Worship); specifically, the applicant submitted evidence that demonstrates that 76 percent of the congregants live within ¾ mile of the site; applying the 76 percent figure to the 235 persons rated capacity ("PRC") produces a reduced PRC of 56, which results in a parking requirement of four spaces (five fewer than the nine that may be waived pursuant to ZR § 25-33); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that waiver of the required parking is appropriate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also proposes the following site modifications, which the applicant represents do not alter the envelope of the building or increase the total floor area proposed: (1) the introduction of a sub-cellar to accommodate a larger mikvah; (2) the enlargement of the cellar multipurpose room; (3) the relocation of the first floor level to curb level; (4) the elimination of a vestibule in the first story; (5) the relocation of administrative space; (6) a minor increase in the size of the Rabbi's residence; and (7) a more uniform façade without the originally-approved staggered heights; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of term and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, as adopted on July 10, 2012, to permit the noted modifications to the site; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received July 2, 2013'- Seventeen (17)

sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction on four attached single-family homes under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had a site and neighborhood examination by Commissioner Hinkson; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southwest corner of Davies Road and Caffrey Avenue, in an R4-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site consists of Tax Lots 12 and 14 (Tentative Lots 12, 13, 14 and 15) and has 100 feet of frontage along Davies Road, 75 feet of frontage along Caffrey Avenue, and a total lot area of 7,500 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop the site with four attached single-family homes; the homes on Lots 12 and 15 (the end lots) each have a floor area of 2,329 sq. ft., and the homes on Lots 13 and 14 (the middle lots) each have a floor area of 2,125 sq. ft. (the "Homes"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is currently located within an R4-1 zoning district, but was formerly located within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Homes comply with the former R5 zoning district parameters, specifically with respect to floor area ratio ("FAR") and use; and

WHEREAS, however, on August 14, 2008 (the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Rockaway Neighborhoods Rezoning, which rezoned the site to R4-1, as noted above; and

WHEREAS, the Homes do not comply with the R4-1 zoning district parameters as to FAR, and attached homes are not permitted in R4-1 districts; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that New Building Permit Nos. 402607345-01-NB, 402607390-01-NB and 402607407-01-NB were issued on August 30, 2007, and New Building Permit No. 402607504-01-NB was issued on September 13, 2007 (collectively, the "Permits"), authorizing the development of four attached single-family homes pursuant to R5 zoning district regulations; and

WHEREAS, however, the applicant states that the Permits lapsed by operation of law on the Enactment Date because the plans did not comply with the new R4-1 zoning district regulations and the Department of Buildings ("DOB") determined that the Homes' foundations were not complete; and

WHEREAS, on June 21, 2011, under the subject calendar numbers, the Board recognized a vested right to continue construction under the Permits based on its determination that the owner had performed substantial work, made substantial expenditures, and would suffer serious loss if the Homes were required to comply with the R4-1 district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the 2011 grant allowed two years from the date of the June 21, 2011 grant to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, as of June 21, 2013, construction had not been completed and a certificate of occupancy had not been obtained; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks an additional two years to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued validly prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, as noted in the prior grant, by letter dated December 23, 2010, DOB stated that the Permits were validly issued, authorizing construction of the Homes prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a valid permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner had completed the following: 100 percent of site preparation work; installation of 84 wooden timber piles, accounting for 100 percent of pile installation; 25 percent of excavation work; installation of 30 percent of the pile caps; and the pouring of ten cubic yards of concrete required for the foundation, accounting for 32 percent of footing installation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, since the Board's 2011 grant, very little work has been performed, owing in part to delays at DOB, and that such work amounts to: rebuilding the construction fence, excavation and soil removal; accordingly, with respect to its claim of substantial construction, the applicant relies primarily on the work performed prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted the following evidence: photographs of the site showing the amount of work completed as of the Enactment Date, concrete pour tickets, a foundation plan, an affidavit from the contractor, a TR5 Technical Report related to the installation of piles, vibration monitoring field inspection reports, a letter from the engineer, and concrete inspection and testing reports; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, given the size of the site, and based upon a comparison of the type and amount of work completed in this case with the type and amount of work discussed by New York State courts, a significant amount of work was performed at the site during the relevant periods; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that prior to the Enactment Date, the owner expended $149,921.29, including hard and soft costs and irrevocable commitments, out of $1,248,856.24 budgeted for the entire project; and

WHEREAS, as proof of the expenditures, the applicant has submitted construction contracts, copies of cancelled checks, invoices, and work orders; and

WHEREAS, in relation to actual construction costs, the applicant specifically notes that the owner had paid or contractually incurred $102,186 for the work performed at the site as of the Enactment Date, representing 47 percent of the foundation-related hard costs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the owner paid an additional $47,735 in soft costs related to the work performed at the site as of the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, thus, the expenditures up to the Enactment Date represent approximately 12 percent of the projected total cost; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that since the Board's 2011 grant, the owner has incurred approximately $11,530 in new expenditures and incurred costs; accordingly, with respect to its claim of substantial expenditures, the applicant relies primarily on the expenditures made prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board considers not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if vesting were not permitted, the site's permissible FAR would be reduced from 1.25 to 0.90, and attached homes would not be permitted; therefore, if required to construct pursuant to R4-1 district regulations, the applicant would be required to eliminate one of the homes from the site and redesign the entire site plan for the development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a complying site plan for the R4-1 district reflecting that the development would be reduced to three detached single-family homes with 2,250 sq. ft. of floor area each; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the complying scenario would reduce the project value by approximately $540,000, resulting in a project loss of $170,000 under the complying scenario; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that only 28 of the 84 timber piles installed at the site could be utilized in a complying development, resulting in a loss of approximately $42,175 in pile installation costs alone; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the existing southeastern foundation wall is unusable in the complying development because the first floor extends over the wall by approximately three feet; therefore, approximately 22 cubic yards of concrete would also be lost under the complying development; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the need to redesign, the limitations of any conforming construction, and the loss of actual expenditures and outstanding fees that could not be recouped constitute, in the aggregate, a serious economic loss, and that the supporting data submitted by the applicant supports this conclusion; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed, the expenditures made, and serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Homes had accrued to the owner of the premises as of the Enactment Date.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this appeal made pursuant to the common law of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of the New Building Permits associated with DOB Application Nos. 402607345-01-NB, 402607390-01-NB, 402607407-01-NB, and 402607504-01-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for two years from the date of this grant.

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Permit was issued based upon an approved application which showed complete plans and specifications authorizing the complete construction, and it was issued prior to the Enactment Date, thus it was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also represents that the plans were subject to DOB review and approval, which affirms the permit's validity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requests that the Board determine that the permit was valid by invoking its authority pursuant to Section 666(7) of the New York City Charter "to vary or modify any rule or regulation or the provisions of any law relating to the construction . . . of buildings or structures"; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant asks that the Board determine that the Sliver Law non-compliance at the time of permit issuance does not render the permit invalid because a prospective application of the Sliver Law interpretation in the Sliver Law Appeal is consistent with the spirit of the law; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that by approving the vesting application and the companion MDL application, the Board would not be endorsing or sustaining the zoning error that led to the construction of the partial seventh floor since the removal of the partial seventh floor and the MDL waivers will cure the height violation and a grant of prospective application will meet the legislative intent of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that (1) if the Board does not grant an approval that will allow him to continue construction, substantial justice will not be done; (2) the application of the Sliver Law under which the approval was made was reasonable; and (3) the Board's reversal of DOB's approval leads to a harsh result; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial justice, the applicant asserts that, pursuant to Charter Section 666(7), the Board has a duty to modify the application of "the strict letter of the law, so that the spirit of the law shall be observed" and to do "substantial justice"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that to enforce the Sliver Law and deem the permit unlawful so that the R7B zoning regulations must be applied is unjust; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that a prospective application of the Sliver Law is consistent with the spirit of the law because it is not asking to maintain the partial seventh floor that was the subject of the Sliver Law Appeal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that DOB's erroneous approval of the Sliver Law non-compliance can be remedied by the Board; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the Board did not direct the Permit to be revoked in the Sliver Law Appeal decision and contends that the decision to revoke permits must be considered consistently and with reason; and

WHEREAS, the applicant cites to the Board's decision in BSA Cal. No. 125-11-A (the "East 6th Street Vesting Case") and the Board's and the court's decision in BSA Cal. No. 140-07-A and Golia v. Srinivasan, 95 A.D.3d 628 (2d Dep't 2012) (the "Breezy Point Case"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the Board's determination that the permit in the East 6th Street Vesting Case was valid must be applied to the subject case, which, like the East 6th Street building, was also the subject of the MDL Appeal and whose permit the Board directed DOB to revoke on November 25, 2008; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that (1) the circumstance in the East 6th Street Vesting Case are the same in that the objections are for MDL noncompliance and DOB's erroneous assumption of authority because the partial seventh floor will be removed (and with it the Sliver Law non-compliance) so what remains is the same MDL non-compliance; (2) because the Board directed DOB to revoke the East 6th Street and East 5th Street buildings' permits on the same day, through the same November 25, 2008 resolution in the MDL Appeal, they must have been revoked for the same reason, which is the MDL non-compliance; and (3) DOB is inconsistent as to what is correctable error and what is not and thus the absence of its statement that there are correctable errors in the subject case is not meaningful; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the error in DOB granting the Permit was due to its long-standing and plausible policy of interpreting the Sliver Law, the Board's resolution in the Sliver Law Appeal did not include direction to revoke the Permit, and the height violates the MDL and zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Breezy Point Case instructs the Board to apply a prospective application of its zoning interpretation and to not require that subsequently discovered zoning non-compliance renders a permit invalid retroactively; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Breezy Point Case supports the reinstatement of a permit by the Board when DOB makes a mistake in interpreting the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the Sliver Law is sufficiently ambiguous such that DOB's interpretation is reasonable in the same way it found it to be in the Breezy Point Case; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the Permit was valid and should be deemed valid notwithstanding the fact that it did not comply with the zoning in effect at the time of its issuance at any time before or after the Enactment Date; and

Supplementary Arguments

WHEREAS, the applicant submits the following two supplementary arguments: (1) that it can vest the Building pursuant to ZR § 11-33 et seq and that (2) DOB can reinstate the Permit pursuant to the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, first, the applicant asserts that it has obtained a statutory vested right, pursuant to ZR § 11-332(a) because it finds that the proposal is "other construction" as defined by ZR 11-31(c)(3) and the construction was completed by the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, secondly, the applicant seeks to overturn DOB's July 10, 2012 determination that it could not reinstate the Permit pursuant to the prior zoning, but did not pursue this claim; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Permit is not valid and cannot form the basis for a vested right to proceed; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the claim of a valid permit at the time of the zoning change fails because the Board determined that the Permit was not valid for reasons unrelated to the zoning change, by its Sliver Law Appeal and its MDL Appeal, which each render the Permit invalid and not entitled to vested rights; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to the Board's Sliver Law Appeal in which it stated that the Board does not have the authority "simultaneously to determine that the building permits for the expansion of the Building were issued unlawfully and to permit DOB to ignore that fundamental fact; and . . . furthermore, as an administrative body, the Board does not have the equitable powers of a court to address any alleged unfairness to the Owner that may result from its decision in the instant appeal;" and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the applicant's position that the distinctions between the East 6th Street Vesting Case and the subject case are not meaningful because it states that the Board exercised its authority under MDL Section 310 to cure the East 6th Street MDL non-compliance but the Board does not have power to cure the Sliver Law non-compliance through the vesting application; and

WHEREAS, additionally, at the Board's request, DOB performed an audit, dated April 15, 2013, to review the plans it approved on November 13, 2006 for compliance with the prior R7-2 zoning regulations, as if the partial seventh floor were removed (to eliminate Sliver Law non-compliance); and

WHEREAS, DOB submitted the audit results which includes objections for Building Code and MDL non-compliance as well as zoning non-compliances: (1) due to the removal of 75 percent of the floor area, the Building must comply with district bulk regulations and not exceed 12 dwelling units; (2) because the density is exceeded, the Building cannot be enlarged pursuant to Quality Housing bulk regulations and therefore exceeds maximum floor area; (3) insufficient size of first floor dwelling unit, required to be established as pre-existing; and (4) the plans do not specify proposed community facility (Use Group 4) on first floor and cellar; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that even if the Board grants the vested rights application and waiver to the MDL, the remaining objections will need to be addressed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the application to reinstate the Permit pursuant to vested rights must fail; and

The Opposition's Position

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that the Board and DOB have stated that the Permit was invalid and it should be declared invalid on two separate grounds: (1) the Permit improperly allowed an enlargement which did not comply with the Sliver Law and (2) in issuing the permit, DOB waived applicable MDL provisions without the legal authority to do so; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition cites to Jayne Estates v. Raynor, 22 N.Y.2d 417, 422 (1968) for the principle that "one does not acquire vested rights where one builds in reliance on an invalid permit;" and to Parkview Associates v. City of New York, 71 N.Y.2d 274, 281 (1988), in which the court stated that the "building permit was invalid when issued, vesting no rights"; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition adds that even where DOB erroneously issues a permit as a result of its own failure, vested rights are not acquired, citing Perrotta v. City of New York, 71 N.Y.2d 274 (1985), aff'd 66 N.Y.2d 859 (1985); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Opposition states that because the applicant's construction was completed pursuant to an invalid permit, the vested rights claim must fail; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition asserts that to reinstate the Permit would be to (1) act contrary to prior Board determinations that have been affirmed by the Supreme Court; (2) reverse the Board's stated position of deference to DOB on the question of permit validity; (3) overlook the applicant's bad faith toward the Board, the Supreme Court, and the Building's tenants; and (4) retroactively amend the permit to eliminate the portions that allowed the partial seventh floor in violation of the Sliver Law; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition states that the applicant who has acted in bad faith cannot benefit from equitable relief and cites to the applicant's failure to bring the Building into compliance with applicable laws and regulations while occupying the Building; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition notes that the Enactment Date was more than a year after the Board invalidated the Permit for failure to comply with the Sliver Law and nearly six months after the Board's determination was affirmed by the Supreme Court but that at no time in the intervening months did the applicant take any measures to revise it plans to demonstrate compliance with the Sliver Law through removal of the Building's partial seventh floor; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition notes that the applicant also failed to pursue a zoning variance application but rather in contravention to DOB orders, it maintained the non-complying seventh floor and continued to occupy and collect rent for the four new apartment units; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition notes that more than three years passed between the Supreme Court's determination that the MDL Appeal was not ripe for review on July 24, 2009 and the applicant's filing the subject application and the companion MDL application and all during that time, the Building has been occupied and the applicant has collected revenue; and

WHEREAS, the Opposition also asserts that the Building's enlargement does not comply with either the current or prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Opposition asserts that the statutory vested rights claim is untimely based on the clear language of the text; and

Conclusion

WHEREAS, the Board first notes that it ruled on the validity of the Permit in 2007 in the Sliver Law Case in which it determined that the Permit, issued contrary to the Sliver Law, was unlawful; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the facts and circumstances surrounding the Permit have not changed since that determination except that the Supreme Court upheld the Board's decision; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board declines to reconsider or reverse its decision and maintains that the Permit, issued contrary to the Sliver Law, is unlawful; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the threshold vesting requirement that there be a valid permit prior to the Enactment Date is not met; and

WHEREAS, the Board distinguishes the East 6th Street Vesting Case and the Breezy Point Case; and

WHEREAS, as to the comparison to the East 6th Street Vesting Case, the Board notes that, in the MDL Appeal, it directed DOB to revoke the Permit due to MDL-noncompliance, which was a jurisdictional issue that was subsequently resolved, by the East 6th Street MDL Case; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Permit and the East 6th Street permit had actually lapsed by operation of law on November 19, 2008 before it directed their revocation on November 25, 2008; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in the East 6th Street Vesting Case, DOB stated (by its January 10, 2012 submission) that the reinstatement of the East 6th Street permit "would not present a correctable error issue" as long as the Board granted the vested rights application and its pending audit review concluded favorably for the property owner; and

WHEREAS, the Board enumerates certain other distinctions between the East 6th Street Vesting Case and other permit validity cases which include that in East 6th Street: (1) the MDL non-compliance had been resolved at DOB to a great extent prior to the rezoning in 2008, but the property owner had to re-apply to the Board, the appropriate authority, for additional modifications after the rezoning; (2) the flaw relates to the jurisdiction of the permit-issuing entity first and secondarily to the substance of the non-compliance; (3) the revocation was only intended to prevent the application from moving forward until the MDL issues were resolved; and (4) the revocation was by the Board in the context of an interpretive appeal, rather than by DOB; and

WHEREAS, as to the Breezy Point Case, the Board finds that the Appellate Division accepted the Board's conclusion that the new interpretation and the old interpretation were both rational and the Board had the authority to accept both; and

WHEREAS, in contrast, the Board finds that in the Sliver Law Appeal, it concluded that DOB's interpretation was not reasonable and explicitly stated that it could not find that DOB's interpretation was erroneous and also find that the Permit was valid; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find any basis to re-evaluate the Sliver Law Appeal in light of the Breezy Point Case since it finds the two to be distinct; and

WHEREAS, the Board disagrees with the applicant that the Breezy Point Case requires it to accept an erroneous interpretation and only apply the correct interpretation prospectively; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that courts defer to buildings departments and zoning boards for determinations about the validity of building permits; as the Appellate Division explained in Matter of Perrotta:

> [a] determination as to whether [there can be] vested rights under [a] building permit must, of necessity, involve an examination of the validity of the permit, as well as compliance with technical provisions of the Zoning Resolution, and this is clearly an appropriate inquiry for agency expertise. (emphasis added); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that for statutory vested rights cases, the requirement for a valid permit is forth at ZR § 11-33, which states that "[t]he provisions of this Section shall apply to minor developments, major developments or other construction authorized by building permits lawfully issued before the effective date of an applicable amendment of this Resolution;" and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that New York State courts also have stated repeatedly that vested rights can only be obtained where there is reliance on a valid permit. Perrotta; Village of Asharoken v. Pitassy, 119 A.D.2d 404, 417 (N.Y. App. Div. 2nd Dept. 1986); and Natchev v. Klein, 41 N.Y.2d 834, 834 (1977); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in Perrotta, DOB erroneously issued a permit due to its own initial failure to notice that a builder's plans did not comply with zoning regulations, the court agreed with DOB that the permit was not valid and stated that "[a] determination as to whether [a] petitioner had vested rights under [its] building permit must, of necessity, involve an examination of the validity of the permit, as well as compliance with technical provisions of the Zoning Resolution, and this is clearly an appropriate inquiry for agency expertise" (107 A.D.2d at 324); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that recently, the Supreme Court remanded a common law vested rights application to the Board (Bibi Lieberman v. City of New York et al, S.Ct. N.Y. Co. Index No. 27201/10 (September 5, 2012) arising from BSA Cal. No. 10-10-A, 1882 East 12th Street, Brooklyn) to examine the question of permit validity; and

WHEREAS, the Board also cites to the Supreme Court's recent decision in 339 West 29th Street v. City of

New York et al, S.Ct. N.Y. Co. Index No. 10459/13 (August 6, 2013) (arising from BSA Cal. No. 145-12-A, 339 West 29th Street, Manhattan) in which it upheld the Board's decision that a permit was not valid absent the required Landmarks Preservation Commission approval; and

WHEREAS, as to the applicant's request for equitable relief, the Board notes that during the Sliver Law Case, the applicant sought a hardship waiver pursuant to New York City Charter Section 666(7), and the Matter of 515 East 5th Street court disagreed with the applicant that the Board's refusal to consider its request for a hardship waiver was erroneous or an abuse of discretion; and

WHEREAS, the court, by its May 6, 2008 decision, noted that the Board identified the appropriate process for a waiver to the zoning was through a zoning variance rather than a prospective application of a zoning interpretation; it said "Although the hardship waiver process may be more advantageous to the [applicant] than the process for obtaining a variance, it has failed to show that the BSA's refusal to entertain a hardship application as irrational;" and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board concludes that the Permit was not valid when issued nor was it valid on the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board recognizes that the applicant presented evidence on the common law vesting criteria, however it declines to analyze it since the threshold requirement of a valid permit is not met; and

WHEREAS, as to the applicant's supplemental argument that it has a statutory vested right under ZR § 11-33, the Board concludes that such claims are untimely; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board notes that ZR § 11-332(a) requires that if construction "has not been completed and a certificate of occupancy, including a temporary certificate of occupancy, issued therefore within two years after the effective date of any applicable amendment, the building permit shall automatically lapse and the right to continue construction shall terminate;" and

WHEREAS, accordingly because a certificate of occupancy was not issued by November 19, 2010 (two years from the effective date of the rezoning), the permit automatically lapsed on that date and vested rights pursuant to ZR § 11-33 are not available to the applicant regardless of the amount of completed work; and

WHEREAS, further, under ZR § 11-331, once a permit subject to a rezoning automatically lapses "an application to renew the building permit may be made to the Board, not more than 30 days after the lapse of such building permit;" and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant did not make an application within 30 days of November 19, 2010, thus by the clear language of the text, the Permit automatically lapsed; and

WHEREAS, as to DOB's authority to reinstate the Permit pursuant to the prior zoning, the Board notes that the applicant has not provided any basis for DOB's authority to reinstate permits under the subject circumstances and supports DOB's position that it may only reinstate the Permit pursuant to current regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board cites to Building Code § 28-105.9 Expiration, which states that "[a]ll permits issued by the commissioner shall expire by limitation and become invalid if the permitted work or use . . . if commenced, is suspended or abandoned for a period of 12 months thereafter . . . The commissioner may, however, upon good cause shown, reinstate a work permit at any time within a period of two years from the date of issuance of the original permit, provided that the work shall comply with all the requirements of this code and other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time application for reinstatement is made;" and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, by the applicant's admission, work has not been performed at the site for approximately six years and that it thus does not comply with Building Code § 28-105.9 and is far beyond the time period for reinstatement; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 104568845, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is denied.

> Proposed Physical Culture Establishment in an R5B (C2-2) zoning district requires a special permit; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located within a C2-2 (R5B) zoning district, the legalization of an existing physical culture establishment ("PCE") located in the cellar and first story of a one-story commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 19, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on July 9, 2013, and August 13, 2013, and then to decision on September 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concerns about the calculation of the occupant load and the lack of sprinklers in the cellar; the Fire Department also submitted a letter recommending sprinklers in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended plans showing: (1) the revised cellar occupant load; and (2) the installation of sprinklers in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the PCE has operated since August 1, 2010 without a special permit and thus the term will be reduced for the period between August 1, 2010 and the date of this grant; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA066Q, dated December 12, 2012; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located within a C2-2 (R5B) zoning district, the legalization of an existing PCE located in the cellar and first story of a one-story commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 28, 2013" – Six (6) sheets and on further condition:

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated February 26, 2013 acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320704877, reads in pertinent part:

> The proposed enlargement of the existing one family residence:
> 1. Creates non-compliance with respect to floor area by exceeding the allowable floor area ratio and is contrary to Section 23-141;

WHEREAS, the applicant states, as noted above, that the Project will result in a total floor area of 176,707 sq. ft. (3.60 FAR), which is well below the maximum permitted FAR for a community facility at the site (4.80 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Project will create the following non-compliances on the site: (1) the New Building will have maximum street wall height of 97.34 feet and a maximum building height of 101.34 feet with no setback on Crescent Street (wide street) or on 30th Road (narrow street) (a maximum street wall height of 60 feet or 6 stories (whichever is less) is permitted, after which the initial setback is 15 feet on a wide street or 20 feet on a narrow street; there is no maximum building height), and penetrate the sky exposure plane (the required sky exposure plane from a height of 60 feet above the street line is 5.6:1 on a wide street or 2.7:1 on a narrow street); (2) the Project will result in a lot coverage of 99.7 percent on the corner lot portion in an R6 district (the maximum permitted lot coverage is 70 percent for a corner lot); (3) the portions of the site where a 30-foot rear yard is required (on the two interior lot portions of the site) contain a portion of the New Building and an oxygen tank farm, which are not permitted obstructions within a required rear yard; and (4) finally, where 20- and 30-foot rear yard equivalents are required (on the two through lot portions of the site), they are not provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Mount Sinai is one of the country's oldest and largest voluntary teaching hospitals, and is internationally acclaimed for excellence in clinical care, education, and scientific research in nearly every aspect of medicine; Mount Sinai bought the 100-year-old hospital now known as Mount Sinai Queens in 1999, continuing a tradition of providing hospital services to the residents of western Queens; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Mount Sinai has done all it can to improve and expand Mount Sinai Queens' operations within the confines of the existing buildings, including expansion of the emergency department; expansion and upgrade of the imaging equipment; construction of a new endoscopy suite; and implementation of an electronic health record system to enhance and integrate patient care across Mount Sinai hospital campuses and medical practices; nevertheless, the applicant states that Mount Sinai Queens must further expand in order to meet the needs of its growing patient population; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that since the time Mount Sinai acquired the facility, the borough of Queens has lost five hospitals, and Mount Sinai Queens is currently the only hospital and the leading provider of care in its primary service area, an area with a population of approximately a quarter of a million people; when combined with its secondary service area, which only includes one other hospital, Mount Sinai Queens services three-quarters of a million people; the applicant notes that the importance of a local hospital cannot be overstated as for many people the cost and difficulty of traveling to Manhattan, except for highly specialized care, is a barrier to treatment and can delay or forego timely diagnosis and treatment, resulting in otherwise unnecessary and expensive hospitalization; finally, the applicant represents that the community surrounding the site is made up of an ethnically and culturally diverse population, which suffers from several persistent health problems including increased heart disease, obesity, and diabetes; and

WHEREAS, as to the educational component of Mount Sinai, the applicant states that Mount Sinai Queens is a key training site for students of Mount Sinai's medical school, the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai; medical students do primary care and pediatrics rotations at the Family Health Center, emergency medicine rotation in the emergency department, are introduced to clinical medicine in the Medicine Department, and take elective training in obstetrics, gynecology and reproductive surgery; Mount Sinai Queens also provides resident training in podiatry in the hospital, the Emergency Department, and outpatient clinics; and

WHEREAS, in addition to training medical students, the applicant states that Mount Sinai Queens provides essential health education to the community through local faith-based organizations and community groups, and also, in partnership with its affiliates, holds lectures, health fairs, and open houses, which offer information and screenings on a wide variety of health care issues; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that its existing facilities are extremely undersized given the need and size of the surrounding community (particularly due to the recent closure of health care providers in the Queens area) and outdated, in that the Main Building was built more than 60 years ago, and the Annex—the original hospital building—was built more than 100 years ago; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed expansion is critical to Mount Sinai's ability to provide high quality medical care and education in up-to-date medical facilities; the applicant asserts that the rapidly changing nature of health care delivery in New York, and around the country, necessitates building new program spaces and improving upon existing ones; the applicant also notes that with the adoption of the Affordable Care Act at the federal level and efforts at the State level around Medicaid Redesign, Mount Sinai Queens must redesign its programs in order to successfully deliver 21st Century medical care and medical education; further, improved facilities would allow an increase in the presence of medical students and faculty, and expand teaching opportunities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested waivers are required so that it may construct a building that accommodates Mount Sinai's programmatic needs, which the applicant articulated as follows: (1) large, uniform floor plates to accommodate state-of-the-art equipment and maximize the efficiency of the space; and (2) adequate floor-to-floor heights to allow for alignment and integration with floors of the existing buildings to create a single facility; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that there is a direct nexus between the need for large, uniform floor plates and high ceilings, and the requested relief from compliance with the regulations regarding maximum street wall height, sky exposure plane, lot coverage, rear yards and rear yard equivalents, (which collectively result in smaller floor plates and lower floor-to-floor heights); and

WHEREAS, as to large, uniform floor plates, the applicant asserts that they will allow for the creation of: an integrated, state-of-the-art operating room floor with ten rooms spanning the entire third floor of the New Building and one wing of the Main Building, a sterile core between the third floor of the New Building and the fifth floor of the Main Building (which will allow safe movement of physicians, staff, and supplies) an expanded and highly efficient emergency department with a connection to inpatient imaging and patient rooms on the second floor of the Main Building, an outpatient ambulatory care floor with nearby complimentary services (which will allow the sharing of support services such as reception and waiting areas, thereby reducing redundancies), an integrated primary and preventive outpatient care space, grouped into practice area suites, with at least 40 exam rooms per floor to accommodate multi-specialty Mount Sinai clinical practical facilities, separation of inpatient and outpatient circulation, double-sided elevator and fire stairs that access all floors and connect the New Building with all other buildings by bridging the offset in elevation, minimizing of mechanical space; and

WHEREAS, as to adequate floor-to-floor heights, the applicant represents that they will allow for: alignment and integration of the first and third floors of the New Building with the second floor of the Administration Building and Main Building and fifth floor of the Main Building, respectively, which requires floor-to-floor heights of approximately 17 feet on the first and second floors of the New Building, space to accommodate the structure, ductwork, conduit, and plumbing required between floors, which requires floor-to-floor heights of at least 15 feet on the third through sixth floors of the New Building, and an entrance pavilion that is easily identifiable to patients approaching along 30th Avenue and which aligns with and leads into the cellar level of the remainder of the New Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that through extensive programming studies and a multi-year planning process, Mount Sinai determined the need for expanded and improved state-of-the-art medical care and teaching facilities to fulfill the needs of the Queens community; further, the applicant represents that the design of the New Building is critically important to the fulfillment of Mount Sinai's mission and the provision of comprehensive and efficient medical services and medical education, as well as the recruitment of high-quality physicians, medical school faculty members, students, and residents; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed design represents the only possible place on the site to locate the approximately 18,891 sq. ft. floor plates of the New Building in an arrangement that achieves the required opportunities for integration of certain departments with existing facilities in the existing buildings, convenient access to shared laboratory and medical support facilities and other support services, effective and efficient staffing of the facility, distinct inpatient and outpatient circulation, efficient mechanical systems, and appropriate placement of loading and service functions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the New Building design is constrained by the fact that Mount Sinai has a programmatic need to maintain services within the Ambulatory Building until the New Building is operational; accordingly, the New Building cellar cannot be expanded eastward to accommodate mechanical and support facilities; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the programmatic needs, the applicant states that the building design is constrained by the following unique conditions of the site: (1) irregular shape of the site; and (2) subsurface conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the site has an irregular shape due to the existence of three out-parcel lots along 30th Avenue, which limit the size and shape of the New Building and prevent an as-of-right design that provides large, uniform floor plates that are integrated with existing buildings; and

WHEREAS, as to subsurface conditions, the applicant submitted a report that indicates the existence of a high water table at the site, which increases the cost of construction and makes construction of multiple sub-cellars infeasible; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that the requested modifications of the lot coverage, rear yard, rear yard equivalents, and height and setback regulations are due in part to the irregular shape of the site and the subsurface conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant explored the feasibility of an alternative configuration of the New Building that would strictly comply with the applicable zoning requirements, and it found that the as-of-right building fails to satisfy its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant determined that the as-of-right building: (1) fails to provide the necessary floor plate size for all but one floor in the New Building; and (2) would need to rise to twelve stories in order to accommodate the programming in the proposed New Building, and include a sub-cellar to accommodate program area and mechanical equipment displaced from the upper floors due to the required setbacks; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the smaller, non-uniform floor plates undercut the departmental layouts, efficiencies and adjacencies that drive the design of the proposed New Building, resulting in an inefficient use of space, inefficient patient circulation, duplication of programs and staffing, and higher operating costs, as well as a reduction in services and medical school training; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the smaller floor plates would force the operating rooms to be split between two floors in order to maintain the necessary operating room size, creating a tremendous loss of efficiency and duplication of program spaces and staffing and resulting in the loss of one of the proposed operating rooms; the additional operating room floor would not connect to the Main Building, and the primary connection of the primary operating room floor between the third floor of the New Building and the fifth floor of the Main Building would be lost due to the relocation of the fire stairs necessitated by the required setback and compliance with Building Code requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the changes necessitated by the as-of-right design would eliminate the proposed sterile core, causing physicians and staff to continually move between sterile and non-sterile areas, which would severely impact the efficiency of the operating rooms; further, the rear yard setbacks would force the relocation of the visitor elevators and adjacent fire stairs to the center of the emergency department, which would displace four treatment positions and compromise the functionality and operating efficiency of the emergency department layout, representing a significant loss to a vital department which had already been compressed in the proposed New Building to the minimum space necessary; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant represents that the progressively smaller floor plates starting on the second floor and the very small floor plates on the ninth through eleventh floors would also necessitate the following changes: relocation of the morgue, storage, sterile processing department and mechanical equipment from the cellar to an added sub-cellar; relocation of the urgent care department, pre-admission testing and imaging department to the cellar and endoscopy to the fourth floor, thereby splitting up the outpatient ambulatory care service and resulting in a loss of efficiency and redundancy of support services and staffing, and creating patient circulation issues as ambulatory care patients move between floors; and distribution of the outpatient care facilities over eight floors rather than three, making it impossible to provide the recommended 40 exam rooms per floor, to locate symbiotic practice groups in close proximity to one another, and to provide outpatient medical training in a model faculty practice setting; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that elevator service would suffer in the as-of-right building, because the five proposed elevators would need to serve six additional floors, and additional elevators could not be added due to the smaller upper floor plates; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that an as-of-right building, with its narrow floor plates, limited space for mechanical equipment and shafts, and 15- to 17-foot floor-to-ceiling heights (a key programmatic requirement, as noted), would require the inclusion of a sub-cellar, which, as noted above, would be below the water table; as such, a double pressure slab, extensive waterproofing, and substantial additional support of excavation would be required, including sheeting and shoring at the perimeter of the site and underpinning of the existing buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that, overall, the as-of-right building would increase construction time by approximately five to six months and increase construction costs by approximately $12,000,000 to $13,500,000; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that Mount Sinai, as an educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell Univ. v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), an educational institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic, and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the above, the Board finds that the limitations and inefficiencies of the site, when considered in conjunction with the programmatic needs of Mount Sinai, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building would be in keeping with the character of the surrounding neighborhood, which is defined by medium density residential neighborhood, light commercial uses, and numerous medical and other institutional uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the six-story New Building, with its street wall height of 97.34 feet and building height of 101.34 feet on Crescent Road, will be compatible with the directly-adjacent Main Building, which is also six stories and has a building height of 94.73 feet; in contrast, the 12-story, tiered as-of-right building (with a maximum street wall height of 60 feet and total building height of approximately 235 feet) would be out of context with the existing buildings at the site and the neighborhood in general; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant states that the site comprises nearly half of the block, and the remainder of the block is fully developed with several medium density five- or six-story apartment buildings, many of which contain individual doctors' offices on the ground floors; and

WHEREAS, as to the nearby buildings on adjacent blocks, the applicant states that: (1) uniform three-story mixed residential and commercial buildings characterize the north side of 30th Avenue; (2) a mix of one- and three-story residential, community facility, and commercial uses, and open space are found on the west side of Crescent Street; and (3) across 30th Road are several six-story apartment buildings; and

WHEREAS, in support of its representations regarding the New Building's compatibility with the residential buildings along 30th Road, the applicant submitted a streetscape showing building heights ranging from 52 feet to 146 feet, with the majority of buildings being six stories and between 67 and 83 feet in height; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the contemporary design of the New Building is compatible with newer residential and community facility buildings in the vicinity, including the steel-and-glass arched atrium of the tile-clad Astoria Medical Plaza located at 27-47 Crescent Street, the glass-and-steel façade of the six-story Olympic Open MRI building located at 23-08 30th Avenue, and the masonry-clad P.S. 234 with an abstract gable element at the roofline located at 30-15 29th Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the creation of a continuous street wall with new street trees, removal of existing chain link fencing and mechanical gates, and replacement of the vertically-oriented oxygen tank (with a height of 31 feet) with a horizontally-oriented oxygen tank (with a height of nine feet) improves the pedestrian experience along the frontages and reduce the site's impact on its residential neighbors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that its proposal does not alter street orientation or street patterns, is designed to improve emergency and commercial vehicle traffic on 30th Avenue, Crescent Street, and 30th Road, and pedestrian and vehicular circulation, and will reduce the parking and idling of vehicles around the site; the applicant also represents that the proposed service yard will be substantially similar in terms of impact on the adjacent property as the as-of-right design, except that the proposed design will have a reduced visual impact due to the reorientation of the oxygen tank; and

WHEREAS, as to the impact of the Project on the low-rise mixed residential and commercial buildings along 30th Avenue, the applicant states that it will be minimal, because the New Building will be situated to the rear of the site, behind the existing Main Building and across 30th Avenue, which is a wide street; additionally, the as-of-right building would be much more visible to the 30th Avenue neighbors and cast significantly longer shadows than the New Building; and

WHEREAS, to address the concerns of Community Board 1, the applicant responds that it will: (1) appropriately screen the proposed service yard from the neighboring properties to the east by an opaque wall, which will match the appearance of the New Building, be eight feet tall along the southern portion of the project (near 30th Road) and four feet tall along the northern portion of the project site (near 30th Avenue), and be covered with plantings from planters on top or from plantings within the wall itself; (2) explore the possibility of an automatic gate at the ambulance exit on 30th Road to further screen the service yard; (3) illuminate the service yard and ambulance driveway with lights installed low and directed away from the adjacent properties; (4) hold quarterly meetings with its neighbors during construction and post a 24-hour telephone number for reporting of concerns; (5) remove graffiti that appears at the site; (6) expand its off-site parking facilities at 23-11 30th Road from 46 parking spaces to 96; and (7) continue to investigate options for ensuring pedestrian safety at the site, particularly around the 30th Avenue vehicle entrance and 30th Road vehicle exit, including the placement of enhanced signage and other visual and tactile markings along the sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns regarding the hours of deliveries and collection, hours of waste compacting, and the proposed screening, lighting, and landscaping of the service yard; in addition, the Board requested clearer depictions of the neighborhood character and bulk along 30th Road; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted an amended statement, which indicated that deliveries, collection, and waste compacting will be limited to daily between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.; in addition, the applicant submitted additional drawings showing adequate screening, lighting and landscaping along the perimeter of the service yard and streetscapes and photographs sufficiently depicting all frontages of the site in context; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(c), this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of Mount Sinai could occur on the existing site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the requested waivers are the minimum relief necessary to accommodate the projected programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the applicant's program needs and assertions as to the insufficiency of a complying scenario and has determined that the requested relief is the minimum necessary to allow Mount Sinai to fulfill its programmatic needs, per ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 13BSA150Q, dated June 27, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the July 2013 Remedial Action Work Plan and site-specific Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and the Board of Standards and Appeals makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, partially within an R6 zoning district and partially within an R6 (C1-3), the construction of a six-story addition, renovation and reconfiguration of existing hospital and administration buildings to create an integrated hospital building (Use Group 4) for Mount Sinai that does not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, rear yard, rear yard equivalents, and height and setback, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-36, 24-382, 24-533, and 33-283, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received August 27, 2013" – twenty-five (25) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the New Building will be in accordance with the approved plans and be limited to 176,707 sq. ft. (3.60 FAR), a maximum street wall height of 97.34 feet, a maximum building height of 101.34 feet, and a maximum lot coverage of 99.7 percent on the corner lot portion in the R6 district, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the hours of delivery, collection, and waste compacting within the service yard will be as reflected in the BSA-approved plans and limited to daily, from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.;

THAT lighting will be directed away from the adjacent residential buildings;

THAT the site will be maintained free of graffiti;

THAT traffic control and mitigation will be provided at the ambulance entrance and exit;

THAT landscaping and screening will be in accordance with the approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT substantial construction will be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT DOB will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided them with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

COMMUNITY BOARD #9BK

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Appeal Denied.

Affirmative: 0
Negative: Chair Srinivasan, Vice Chair Collins, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Montanez 5
THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the subject appeal comes before the Board in response to a Final Determination, dated August 14, 2012, issued by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") (the "Final Determination"); and

WHEREAS, the Final Determination states, in pertinent part:

> The request to allow structural alterations to the existing attached single-family residence that is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use within the R2 district in order to accommodate the proposed horizontal enlargement at the rear is hereby denied.
> Within the R2 district, only single-family detached residences in Use Group 1 are permitted residential uses, in accordance with ZR 22-00. The existing attached single-family residence is non-conforming Use Group 2. For the existing building that is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use, no structural alterations are permitted, per ZR 52-22; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on July 23, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site had visits by Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHERAS, the appeal is filed on behalf of the owner of the subject site, who contends that DOB's determination was erroneous (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, DOB and the Appellant have been represented by counsel throughout this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the south side of Carroll Street, between New York Avenue and Brooklyn Avenue, within an R2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by an attached, three-story, single-family residential building (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the last-issued certificate of occupancy for the Building, No. 112580, issued June 4, 1945, authorizes an accessory doctor's office on the first story and a single-family residence on the second and third stories; and

WHEREAS, on August 23, 2007, the Appellant obtained Permit No. 302240625 to perform certain work at the Building, including removal of the accessory doctor's office, various structural alterations (the "Permit"), and the construction of a rear extension; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 20, 2009, DOB notified the Appellant that the Permit was issued in error, and by letter dated September 2, 2010, DOB revoked the Permit; and

WHEREAS, at the Appellant's request, DOB reviewed the grounds for the Permit revocation and on August 14, 2012, DOB issued the Final Determination, affirming its earlier determination that the Permit was issued in error, and clarifying that the Permit failed to comply with ZR § 52-22, in that it authorized structural alterations to a building substantially occupied by a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant requests that the Board reject DOB's determination that the Building is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use, and either: (1) confirm that the Building is occupied by a conforming use and that the Permit authorized an alteration to a non-complying building in accordance with ZR § 54-31; or (2) confirm that although the Building is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use, the Permit authorized structural alterations performed in order to accommodate a conforming use, in accordance with ZR § 52-22; and

(b) in order to accommodate a conforming #use#; or

(c) in order to conform to the applicable district regulations on performance standards; or

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that: (1) the Building is occupied by a conforming use and that the Permit authorized an alteration to a non-complying building in accordance with ZR § 54-31; or (2) in the alternative, although the Building is occupied by a non-conforming use, the Permit authorized structural alterations performed in order to accommodate a conforming use pursuant to ZR § 52-22, in that the enlarged portion of the building provided complying side yards and contained a conforming use (a single-family residence); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Building is a non-complying building occupied by a conforming use in an R2 district, and that the Permit authorized an alteration permitted under ZR § 54-31; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that, under the Zoning Resolution, a "use" is not a Use Group; while a use is the purpose for which a building is designed or arranged, a Use Group is a mere classification; and

WHEREAS, as such, the prohibition of a Use Group does not mean the use type—single-family residence, multi-family residence, college, eating and drinking establishment—classified in that Use Group is necessarily prohibited; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that because the Building is the residence for a single family, such use falls within Use Group 1, which per ZR § 22-11, consists of "single-family detached residences"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that whether the Building is attached or detached is a bulk consideration, and is not determinative on the question of whether the use occupying the Building is conforming or non-conforming; thus, the Appellant contends that although Use Group 2 (which per ZR § 22-12, consists of all types of residences other than "single-family detached residences") is prohibited in an R2 district, because single-family residences are permitted, the Building, which is an attached single-family residence is considered a conforming use, and the fact that such Building is attached rather than detached merely renders the Building non-complying; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that as a non-complying building occupied by a conforming use, the Building may be altered in accordance with Article V, Chapter 4, which governs non-complying buildings; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant contends that the Permit, which authorized the construction of an addition at the rear of the Building that complied with the bulk requirements applicable in an R2 district, was properly issued and should not have been revoked; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that DOB previously supported its interpretation classifying the Building as a non-complying building occupied by a conforming use, and specifically authorized structural alterations and the construction of an addition at the rear of the Building, provided that such addition included side yards complying with the underlying district regulations; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB approved seven other permit applications filed by the Appellant between 2001 and 2007 and proposing structural alterations to single-family attached buildings within the subject R2 district; in each case, the Appellant asserts that DOB approved the applications as permitted alterations to non-complying buildings and never classified the buildings as occupied by non-conforming use; thus, the Appellant asserts that DOB has arbitrarily changed its interpretation of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, in the alternative, the Appellant states that the Permit authorized structural alterations to a building substantially occupied by a non-conforming use and that such alterations were to accommodate a conforming use and were permitted by ZR § 52-22; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that even if the use of the Building is considered "non-conforming" because it is not an attached single-family residence, the work proposed under the Permit is properly classified as structural alterations made in order to accommodate a conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Permit authorizes the construction of a building segment that, unlike the existing Building, is not attached to the buildings on the adjacent lots; as such, this portion of the Building is occupied by a "detached single-family residence," which is a conforming use in the R2 district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that the Permit authorized structural alterations in order to accommodate a conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the instant appeal is distinguishable from the Board's decision in BSA Cal. No. 16-96-A (Pleasant Valley Village, Staten Island) primarily on the ground that that case involved the Board's classification of new attached buildings as non-conforming under ZR § 22-12 following a rezoning of the district from R3-2 to R3A, while this case involves the extension of a single existing attached building and no rezoning; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant asserts that the owner acquired a common law vested right to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy because it: (1) completed work under the Permit prior to DOB's new interpretation of the Zoning Resolution and prior to February 2, 2011 (the effective date of the Key Terms Amendment, which the Appellant suggests gave rise to DOB's new interpretation); (2) made substantial expenditures; and (3) would suffer serious loss if the vested right is not recognized; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that: (1) the Building is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use; and (2) the Permit erroneously authorized structural alterations and was properly revoked; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Building contains non-conforming uses and is restricted by ZR § 52-22's limitations on structural alterations in a building occupied by non-conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that pursuant to ZR § 52-22, "no structural alterations shall be made in a building or other structure substantially occupied by a non-conforming use"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that ZR § 12-10 defines a non-conforming use as "any lawful use . . . of a building or other structure . . . which does not conform to any one or more of the applicable use regulations of the district in which it is located, either on December 15, 1961 or as a result of any subsequent amendment thereto"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the 1945 CO for the Building authorizes a single-family residence and an accessory doctor's office as lawful uses in the Building, which is an attached, row-house style building; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that at the time that the Permit was issued (as now), only single-family detached residences (Use Group 1) and accessory uses are allowed as-of-right in the R2 district, per ZR § 22-11; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that all other types of residences (including single-family attached residences) are classified under Use Group 2, per ZR § 22-12; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that ZR § 22-00 does not allow Use Group 2 uses in the R2 district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB contends that the Building is substantially occupied by a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Permit authorized structural alterations contrary to ZR § 52-22; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that the work includes structural alteration of portions of the Building consisting of the construction of new floors, walls and window openings as well as the lowering of foundations; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that while there are exceptions to ZR § 52-22's general prohibition on structural alteration, none applies in this case; and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the Appellant that the structural alterations are "made in order to accommodate a conforming use" in accordance with exception (b), because DOB finds that the existing use and the use proposed within the new portion of the Building are both non-conforming Use Group 2; DOB notes that the new portion of the Building is fully integrated with the existing portion of the Building and that the Building, as a whole, contains a single-family attached residence; and

WHEREAS, as to the prior erroneous interpretations involving existing single-family attached residences cited by the Appellant, DOB states that ZR § 22-11 was apparently misinterpreted as a bulk regulation in the respect that it requires single-family residences to be configured so that they are surrounded by yards or other open area on a zoning lot; however, DOB represents that this reading is plainly incorrect since ZR § 22-11 is a use regulation found under Article II Chapter 2 use regulations and not in the Chapter 3 bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, DOB also states that given that a non-conforming use is defined in ZR § 12-10 as a lawful use of a building which does not conform to any one or more of the applicable use regulations of the district in which it is located on December 15, 1961, and that the use regulation ZR § 22-11 effective in 1961 only allows single-family detached residences in the R2 zoning district, the Building is occupied by a non-conforming use; thus, DOB asserts that no rational explanation can be provided to support the interpretation that an attached single-family residence is a conforming use in the R2 district, where only single-family detached residences are permitted; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that it has applied the law correctly in the past, and it cites the position in took in BSA Cal. No. 16-96-A; in that case, DOB properly classified multi-family residences rezoned from the R3-2 zoning district to the R3A zoning district as construction that will be non-conforming under ZR § 22-12, which prohibits multi-family buildings in the R3A district; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's argument that the portion of the Building created under the Permit should be treated as a detached building because it is surrounded by two side yards, and therefore is complying construction, DOB asserts that such an interpretation is unsupported by the ZR § 12-10 definitions of "detached," "attached," "semi-detached" and "abut"; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that the Zoning Resolution classifies an entire building as being within the category of attached, detached or semi-detached, and does not classify portions of buildings in different categories; accordingly, DOB asserts the new portion of the Building is properly classified as a portion of an attached building, rather than a separate detached building; and

WHEREAS, therefore, DOB contends that it properly revoked the Permit as authorizing structural alterations to a Building substantially occupied by a non-conforming use, in violation of ZR § 52-22; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the Permit erroneously authorized structural alterations to a building substantially occupied by a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, according to the plain text of ZR § 22-11, single-family detached residences and their accessory uses are classified as Use Group 1, and, all other types of residences are, per ZR § 22-12, classified as Use Group 2; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the use of the Building is properly classified—both prior to the issuance of the Permit (when the Building included a residence and an accessory doctor's office), and as altered by the Permit—as a single-family attached residence (Use Group 2); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that according to ZR § 22-00, only Use Group 1 is permitted as-of-right in an R2 district; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that ZR §§ 22-00, 22-11 and 22-12 are use regulations and a failure to adhere to a use regulation, renders a use, by definition, a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the Building is substantially occupied by a non-conforming Use Group 2 use; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the Appellant's assertion that because an R2 district permits single-family residences and prohibits attached buildings, its use is conforming and its building is non-complying; the Board finds that such an interpretation is clearly contrary to the plain text of ZR § 22-11; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that while the Building may also be a non-complying building subject to Article V, Chapter 4, it is further restricted by the applicable provisions of Article V, Chapter 2, including ZR § 52-22, which prohibits structural alterations; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board disagrees with the Appellant that the Permit authorized structural alterations made to accommodate a conforming use pursuant to ZR § 52-22(b); and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the structural alterations were made to expand the living space of the single-family attached residence; thus, they were made to accommodate the existing, non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the Appellant's argument that because complying yards were provided in the new portion of the Building, the use within that portion is considered conforming single-family detached residence (Use Group 1); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds no authority for such a proposition in the Zoning Resolution, and finds the assertion particularly dubious in this case given that the plans show that the new portion of the Building is fully integrated with the existing portion of the Building and that the Building, as a whole, contains a residence for a single family; and

WHEREAS, turning to the Appellant's arguments regarding the Board's precedent, the Board notes, as DOB observed, that in BSA Cal. No. 16-96-A, it classified multi-family residences rezoned from the R3-2 zoning district to the R3A zoning district as construction that will be non-conforming under ZR § 22-12, which prohibits multi-family buildings in the R3A district; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the Appellant's assertion that BSA Cal. No. 16-96-A is distinguishable because new buildings were involved rather than an existing building; that new buildings were involved was not relevant to the question of whether such building became non-conforming as a result of a rezoning; rather, the classification of the buildings was based—as it is in this case—on the definition of "non-conforming", and just as the new buildings in BSA Cal. No. 16-96-A did not comply with a use regulation as a result of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, so does the Building in this case not comply with a use regulation that became effective when the Zoning Resolution was adopted; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that, more recently, in BSA Cal. No. 306-05-BZ (206A Beach 3rd Street, Queens), the Board found that "the use of the property for attached residences, is specifically not permitted by the use provisions ZR § 22-00 in an R3X district; and therefore, the proposed development is non-conforming as to use"; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's assertion that the owner is entitled to a common law vested right to complete construction, the Board does not agree; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if the owner has undertaken substantial construction, made substantial expenditures, and serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, thus, vested right cases by their very nature involve the prerequisite of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution that changes the law under which the permit was approved; in the instant matter, the Board finds that the Appellant lacks both; and

WHEREAS, for reasons already discussed, the Board finds that the owner does not possess a lawfully issued permit because the Permit was issued contrary to the clear and unambiguous requirements of ZR § 52-22, which, the Board notes, has not been amended since 1989; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board finds that although the Appellant generally identifies the Key Terms Amendment as the amendment that resulted in DOB's interpretation that the Building is occupied by a non-conforming use, the Appellant does not specify which provision(s) were amended and how such amendment(s) resulted in DOB's interpretation; the Board notes that DOB makes no such assertion; on the contrary DOB asserts that its interpretation is long-standing;

WHEREAS, likewise, the Board is unaware of anything in the Key Terms Amendment that would compel a different interpretation of ZR § 52-22 (or ZR §§ 12-10, 22-00, 22-11 or 22-12, for that matter); accordingly, it is unnecessary to determine whether the owner has undertaken substantial construction or made substantial expenditures, and the Board rejects the Appellant's request for recognition of a vested right; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board notes that while DOB may have historically approved applications contrary to ZR § 52-22, the Court of Appeals has held that DOB cannot be estopped from revoking its approval of a building permit issued in violation of the Zoning Resolution (Parkview Associates v. City of New York, 71 N.Y.2d 274 (1988)); and Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board denies the appeal and affirms DOB's revocation of the Permit based on its determination that the Permit erroneously authorized structural alterations to a building substantially occupied by a non-conforming use, in violation of ZR § 52-22.

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks an increase in the floor area from of 2,673.5 sq. ft. (0.67 FAR) to 5,059.11 (1.27 FAR); the maximum permitted floor area is 5,000 sq. ft. (1.25 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant also proposes to decrease its rear yard depth from 38'-7" to 20'-0" (a minimum rear yard depth of 30'-0" is required) and maintain its existing side yards, which have widths of 4'-0" and 7'-0" (the requirement is two side yards with a minimum total width of 13'-0" and a minimum width of 5'-0" each); and

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum floor area of 5,059.11 (1.27 FAR), a minimum rear yard depth of 20'-0", and side yards with minimum widths of 4'-0" and 7'-0", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated February 25, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No.

210032249, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed ambulatory diagnostic treatment health care facility (UG-4) in an R7-1 and C1-4 (R7-1) zoning district without the required rear yard in the R7-1 portion of the site is contrary to ZR Section 23-46; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit the construction of a six-story and one-story ambulatory diagnostic and treatment health care facility (Use Group 4), the one-story portion of which does not provide the required rear yard, contrary to ZR § 24-36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 9, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with a continued hearing on August 13, 2013, and then to decision on September 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Urban Health Care Plan, Inc. ("Urban Health"), a not-for-profit institution; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, City Councilmember Maria del Carmen Arroyo provided written testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a square interior lot located on the east side of Simpson Street between Westchester Avenue and East 167th Street, partially within an R7-1 zoning district and partially within an R7-1 (C1-4) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 100 feet of frontage along Simpson Street, a lot depth of 100 feet, a lot area of 10,000 sq. ft., and was previously occupied as a parking lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that on March 10, 2011, DOB issued Permit No. 210032249-01-NB (the "Permit") for the construction of a six-story ambulatory diagnostic and treatment health care facility (Use Group 4) with 43,233 sq. ft. of floor area (4.3 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Permit erroneously authorized construction within the required rear yard contrary to ZR § 24-36 and construction commenced; subsequently, the error was discovered; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant filed the subject variance seeking to proceed according to the original design (the "Proposed Facility"), which was for a six-story building that included a one-story portion (23'-0" in height) with a basement and a cellar within the 30-foot required rear yard for the full width of the R7-1 portion of the zoning lot; the applicant notes that the one-story building extends the full width of the zoning lot but it is a permitted obstruction within the R7-1 (C1-4) portion of the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Urban Health is a well-established, nationally-recognized community health center, which has existed in the South Bronx for nearly 40 years, and works closely with neighborhood hospitals, schools, and community organizations, including Bronx Lebanon Hospital, the Lincoln Medical and Mental Health Center, New York Presbyterian Hospital, the Jane Addams Academic Careers High School, PS 48, 75, 333 and 335, and the St. Vincent de Paul Adult Day Treatment Program; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that Urban Health's stated mission is to continuously improve the health status of underserved communities by providing affordable, comprehensive, and high-quality primary and specialty medical care in a culturally proficient, barrier free, individualized, and family-oriented manner, with an emphasis on prevention through education; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Urban Health seeks a variance due to the tremendous success of its existing health care facility at 1050 Southern Boulevard (the "Southern Boulevard Facility"), which abuts a portion of the rear lot line of the site and provides medical care to a growing number of patients, many of whom lack insurance and would otherwise seek care within a hospital emergency room; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the closure of Westchester Square Hospital has significantly increased the demand for such services, and the applicant represents that the Proposed Facility will allow Urban Health to increase the number of patient visits per year from approximately 200,000 to approximately 400,000; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Proposed Facility will include the following: (1) in the cellar, a pediatrics unit with a variety of exam and treatment rooms, and storage, employee lockers and bathrooms, and mechanical rooms; (2) at the basement level, the Adult Walk-in Unit waiting room, exam and treatment rooms, and staff support areas; (3) on the first floor, the Adult Medicine Appointment Unit exam and treatment rooms; (4) on the second floor, administrative offices, and obstetrics and gynecology facilities; (5) on the third floor, specialized pediatric facilities; (6) on the fourth floor, mental health facilities, a multi-purpose room, and a conference room; and (7) on the fifth floor, the staff dining room and exercise facility; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the following are unique physical conditions inherent to the zoning lot, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations: (1) the angle of the district boundary line across the site; and (2) the programmatic needs of Urban Health; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is divided by a district boundary in a manner that creates practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship; specifically, the boundary divides the site beginning in the southwest corner and running at an approximately 40-degree angle in a northeasterly direction and resulting in a site with two distinct portions: a southeast triangular-shaped portion that is fully within the R7-1 (C1-4) zoning district, where a building for an ambulatory and diagnostic health treatment facility is a permitted obstruction in the rear yard up to a height of 23 feet and a northwest trapezoidal-shaped portion that is fully within the R7-1 district where a building for an ambulatory and diagnostic health treatment facility is not a permitted obstruction in the rear yard; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that compliance with the rear yard requirements of both districts would result in undersized, oddly-shaped and inefficient floor plates at the basement and first story in the Proposed Facility and would prevent the connection of the Proposed Facility with the Southern Boulevard Facility; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the programmatic needs of Urban Health, which require the requested waiver: (1) the ability to connect the Proposed Facility to the Southern Boulevard Facility in the area where the rear yard is required; (2) the need to fully utilize the portions of cellar, basement, and first floor (3,740 sq. ft. of floor space spanning three levels) that encroach upon the required rear yard but which were included in the original design and will accommodate vital functions of Urban Health; and

WHEREAS, as to the ability to connect the facilities, the applicant represents that interconnection allows the Proposed Facility to be integrated with the Southern Boulevard Facility, which will result in efficient distribution of patient care and staff resources; and

WHEREAS, as to the need to fully utilize all portions of the originally-designed basement and first floor, the applicant represents that, absent the requested waiver, it will be forced to reduce the Adult Walk-in Unit program floor space in the basement by 50 percent, resulting in a loss of 80 medical visits per day, and it will be forced to eliminate approximately 25 percent of the patient examination and treatment space on the first floor, resulting in a loss of approximately 50 medical visits and 25 counseling sessions per day; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the above, the Board finds that the angle of the district boundary line, when considered in conjunction with the programmatic needs of Urban Health, creates unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based upon the above, the Board finds that the limitations and inefficiencies of the site, when considered in conjunction with the programmatic needs of Urban Health, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since Urban Health is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the neighborhood is characterized by a mix of residential and community facility uses, except along Westchester Avenue where the 2 and 5 trains run on elevated tracks, where commercial uses predominate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Proposed Facility is harmonious with the surrounding neighborhood in terms of both use and bulk; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Proposed Facility complies with all use and bulk regulations of the underlying R7-1 and R7-1 (C1-4) zoning districts, with the exception of the rear yard requirement in the R7-1 portion of the lot for a distance of only 20 linear feet; further, the portion of the site for which the variance is sought directly abuts properties under the ownership and control of Urban Health; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that it purchased the site in 1995 and could have constructed the proposal as-of-right until ZR § 24-33 was amended in 2004 to remove certain community facilities from the list of permitted obstructions within a required rear yard in an R7-1 zoning district; importantly, a community facility classified as a hospital (which performs many of the same functions as the Proposed Facility) would be a permitted obstruction up to a height of 23 feet under ZR § 24-33; thus, the proposal is within the spirit of the Zoning Resolution's preference in certain residential districts for community facilities that provide certain medical services; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents, as stated above, that Urban Health is a well-established, nationally recognized community health center, which has existed in the South Bronx for nearly 40 years and at the Southern Boulevard Facility since 2001; as such, the Proposed Facility will provide a direct benefit to members of the surrounding community by increasing the availability of health care and improving its quality; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of Urban Health could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the Proposed Facility complies with all use and bulk regulations of the underlying R7-1 and R7-1 (C1-4) zoning districts, with the exception of the rear yard requirement in the R7-1 portion of the lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §72-21; and

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit the construction of a six-story and one-story ambulatory diagnostic and treatment health care facility (Use Group 4), the one-story portion of which does not provide the required rear yard, contrary to ZR § 24-36; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received June 10, 2013"– fourteen (14) sheets and "Received August 5, 2013" – one (1) sheet; and on further condition;

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum of 43,233 sq. ft. of floor area (4.3 FAR), a maximum of six stories, and a maximum building height of 72'-0", as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, September 17, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an appeal of a Department of Buildings ("DOB") final determination dated July 2, 2013, issued by DOB's First Deputy Commissioner (the "Final Determination"); and

WHEREAS, the Final Determination reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed residential development on a zoning lot in an R1-2 Zoning District (Lot 58) that is deficient in the lot width and lot area required by ZR Section 23-32 that was owned on December 15, 1961 by a husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, abutting an adjacent lot (Lot 56) that was owned individually only be the husband, pursuant to ZR Section 23-33 is impermissible, since the zoning lot was not owned separately and individually from abutting adjacent lot on December 15, 1961; and

WHEREAS, the appeal was brought on behalf of the owner of 184-27 Hovenden Road (hereinafter the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 24, 2013; and

WHEREAS, DOB appeared and made submissions in opposition to this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of Hovenden Road between Somerset Street and Chevy Chase Street, within an R1-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, Lot 58, a vacant site, has an average width of 38.55 feet (with a minimum width of 37.1 feet), and a total lot area of 3,855 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the R1-2 zoning district regulations require a minimum lot width of 60 feet and a minimum lot area of 5,600 sq. ft., pursuant to ZR § 23-32; and

WHEREAS, Lot 56, the adjacent lot to the east, has similar dimensions to Lot 58 and several other lots on the subject block and is occupied by a two-family home; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant disagrees with DOB's contention that Lot 56 and Lot 58 were not held in separate and individual ownership on December 15, 1961 and thus Lot 58 cannot be developed as an undersized lot; and

WHEREAS, on July 1, 1941, Otto Westerfeld purchased Lot 56, which is occupied by a home built in approximately 1938 that remains; the home on Lot 56 has a Certificate of Occupancy No. 61216, issued on October 14, 1938; and

WHEREAS, on May 3, 1944, Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld purchased Lot 58, a vacant lot, as tenants by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, until 1985, Lot 56 was owned by Otto Westerfeld alone when it was transferred to Otto Westerfeld and his wife Christine Westerfeld as tenants by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, until Otto Westerfeld's death in 1994, Lot 58 was held by Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld as tenants by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, from 1994 until her death in 2007, Lot 56 and Lot 58 were owned by Christine Westerfeld; and

WHEREAS, from 2007 until 2009, Lot 56 and Lot 58 were owned by the Westerfelds' heirs; and

WHEREAS, in 2009, the Westerfelds' heirs conveyed Lot 56 to the current owner; and

WHEREAS, Lot 58 is now owned by the Westerfelds' heirs; and

WHEREAS, on April 23, 2012, the Appellant sought approval from DOB to allow Lot 58 to be developed as an "existing small lot" pursuant to ZR § 23-33; and

WHEREAS, DOB's subsequent denial of the request forms the basis for the Final Determination; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant and DOB cite the following Zoning Resolution provisions, which read in pertinent part:

> ZR § 23-33
> Special Provisions for Development of Existing Small Lots
> R1 R2 R3 R4 R5 R6 R7 R8 R9 R10
> In all districts, as indicated, either one #single-family detached residence# or, where permitted, one #single-# or #two family residence# may be #developed# upon a #zoning lot# that:
> (a) has less than the prescribed minimum #lot area# or #lot width# or, in #lower density growth management areas# in the Borough of Staten Island, does not comply with the provisions of Section 23-32 (Minimum Lot Area or Lot Width for Residences);
> (b) was owned separately and individually from all other adjoining tracts of land, both on December 15, 1961, and on the date of application for a building permit or, in R2X, R3A, R3X or R4A Districts, both on the effective date of establishing such district on the #zoning maps# and on the date of application for a building permit or, in #lower density growth management areas#, both on December 8, 2005, and on the date of application for a building permit . . . ; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant makes the following primary arguments in support of its assertion that Lot 58 can be developed as an existing small lot in compliance with ZR § 23-33: (1) Lot 58 was owned separately and independently from all adjoining tracts of land on December 15, 1961 and today; (2) the history of development of Lot 56 has been independent of Lot 58; and (3) the Zoning Resolution does not require that adjacent zoning lots in common ownership be merged; and

Separate and Individual Ownership from Adjoining Tracts of Land

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that ownership of Lot

56 by one individual and Lot 58 by that same individual and his wife as tenants by the entirety satisfies the separate and individual ownership requirement of ZR § 23-33; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB is incorrect to say that the same person owned both lots on December 15, 1961 when one was owned individually by Otto Westerfeld and the other was owned by Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld as tenants by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant relies on two New York State cases: Barbara Homes, Inc. v. Michaelis, 178 N.Y.S.2d 543 (Sup. Ct. 1958) and Edlu Custom Builders, Inc. v. Young, 181 N.Y.S.2d 400 (Sup. Ct. 1958) to support its position that ownership of one property by an individual and the other by that individual and their spouse constitutes separate and individual ownership; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant disagrees with DOB's position to distinguish Barbara Homes and Edlu Custom Builders on the basis that they concern the right to bequeath, sell, or encumber property because those issues are inherently related to zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that The Law of Zoning and Planning Section 49:20, acknowledges the holding in Barbara Homes and Edlu Custom Builders with regard to the ownership of one property as an individual and a second as tenants by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant acknowledges that from October 21, 1985 when Otto Westerfeld transferred Lot 56 to Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld as tenants by the entirety until the Westerfeld heirs' sale of Lot 56 on September 2, 2009, Lot 56 and Lot 58 were both owned by Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld as tenants by the entirety and not owned separately and individually from each other; and

WHEREAS, but, the Appellant notes that the period between 1985 and 2009 is not relevant to ZR § 23-33 and does not affect the required finding that there be separate and individual ownership on December 15, 1961 and on the date of application for a building permit; and

WHEREAS, as to the ownership on the date of an application for a building permit, the Appellant notes that since 2009, Lot 56 and Lot 58 have been owned separately and individually from each other; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB incorrectly equates "separate and individual ownership" of adjoining tracts of land with "common ownership"; and

WHEREAS, as to the definition of separately and individually, the Appellant asserts that ZR § 23-33 does not make reference to common ownership, a term that was used in DOB Directive No. 14-1967 with the subject "Section 23-33 Zoning Resolution – Provisions for Existing Small Lots" but is not defined nor used in ZR § 23-33; and

History of Development of Lot 56 and Lot 58

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that a third party owned Lot 56 at the time of construction of the home there and the issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy in 1938, more than 23 years prior to the effective date of the 1961 Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that Otto Westerfeld alone purchased Lot 56, three years later in 1941, 20 years prior to the effective date of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that given the history, it is clear that the owners did not try to circumvent the minimum lot size requirement, which was not conceived of or articulated in the Voorhees Report until two decades after the Westerfelds acquired the lots, one of which had previously been developed by another independent third party; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that Lot 58 was vacant and undeveloped on the following dates: in 1938 (when Lot 56 was developed); 1941 (when Otto Westerfeld purchased Lot 56); 1944 (when Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld purchased it as tenants by the entirety); and 1961 (at the adoption of the Zoning Resolution with the § 23-33 restriction on small lots); and today; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that its history renders Lot 58 as a ZR § 12-10(a) lot and that DOB does not have the authority to require an involuntary merger pursuant to ZR § 12-10(b); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that Lots 11, 15, 53, and 60 also adjoin Lot 58 and, as per ZR § 23-33, must also have been owned separately and individually from it on December 15, 1961 and on the date of an application for a building permit; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant has submitted deeds for all other adjoining lots which reflect that neither Otto Westerfeld nor Christine Westerfeld are listed as owners of Lots 11, 15, 53, or 60 on December 15, 1961; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also submitted current deeds for Lots 11, 15, 53, and 60, which reflect that the Westerfelds' heirs are not listed as owners currently; and

WHEREAS, the parties agree that none of the other lots were owned with Lot 58 on December 15, 1961 or thereafter; and

The Absence of a Requirement to Merge Lot 56 and Lot 58

WHEREAS, in support of its assertion that Lot 58 may be developed separately from Lot 56, the Appellant applies the theory that an affirmative action is required to merge contiguous lots and that common ownership alone, without the affirmative action, does not create a de facto zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant disputes DOB's position that the two lots were in common ownership, but notes that even common ownership would not force a merger that would require the lots to be developed together; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant cites to several sources including a June 24, 1988 letter from the Department of City Planning's General Counsel which states that the Board's position was that "common ownership of contiguous lots was not automatically recognized to create a zoning lot absent an affirmative action at the Department of Buildings by the filing of an application or alteration which treated the lots as one" and a September 13, 2010 determination by DOB which states that when adjacent lots are clearly distinct on December 15, 1961, they are considered ZR § 12-10(a) zoning lots for all future development unless an application is filed to unify the uses on the lots or the usage of the lots is linked, in which case they would be considered ZR § 12-10(b) zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant states that New York courts have held that where there is no ordinance providing for merger by reason of common ownership, common ownership of adjoining parcels alone does not create a lot merger, citing to Allen v. Adami, 39 N.Y.2d 275 (1976); Van Perlstein v. Oakley et al, 611 N.Y.S.2d 336 (Sup. Ct. 1994); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant asserts that Lot 58 can be developed as an existing small lot because it was owned separately and individually from all other adjoining tracts of land, both on December 15, 1961, and on the date of application for a building permit and the owners did not take any affirmative action to merge the lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB makes the following primary arguments in support of its determination that Lot 58 cannot be developed as an existing small lot: (1) Lot 58 and Lot 56 were not owned separately and individually from each other on December 15, 1961; (2) Lot 56 and Lot 58 could have merged pursuant to ZR § 12-10(b); and (3) public policy dictates that undersized lots be prohibited from being developed in most instances; and

Separate and Individual Ownership

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the same person – Otto Westerfeld - owned Lot 56 and Lot 58 on December 15, 1961 and, therefore, Lot 58 does not meet ZR § 23-33's requirement that the lot was owned "separately and individually" from other adjoining tracts of land on that date; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to the deeds which reflect that on December 15, 1961, Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld owned Lot 58 and Otto Westerfeld owned Lot 56; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that since the deeds identify Otto Westerfeld as an owner of both lots on December 15, 1961, Lot 58 was not owned separately and individually from all other adjoining tracts of land on December 15, 1961 and therefore Lot 58 is not entitled to be developed as an existing small lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that it is not relevant that Christine Westerfeld was also an owner of Lot 58 in 1961, as Otto Westerfeld's ownership of "the totality of both lots" precludes a finding of separate and individual ownership in 1961; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to a prior Board case at BSA Cal. No. 54-97-A (129 Garretson Avenue, Staten Island) in which the same two people both owned two lots that existed on December 15, 1961 as separate tax lots and the Board decided that "the fact that the lots are separately described in a deed and are separately assessed and taxed has no bearing on whether a lot is a separate lot for zoning purposes or on whether there is separate ownership"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Board's decision in Garretson Avenue makes it clear that ZR § 23-33 requires more than simply a tract of land that existed on December 15, 1961; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to the Board's consideration in Garretson Avenue that minimum lot width and lot area regulations are undermined if an owner who could have developed adjoining lots together in order to meet minimum size requirements is allowed to develop substandard-sized lots instead; in its Garretson Avenue decision, the Board stated that "the exception in ZR § 23-33 is narrowly drafted so that new frontage and area requirements will not be circumvented by an owner who could have developed the combined lots in conformance with the new zoning requirements at the time the zoning requirements were enacted"; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Barbara Homes and Edlu Custom Builders cases should not be followed because they are based on whether an owner has the right to bequeath, sell, and encumber property and not whether the owner has a right to develop land; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the court noted that the zoning regulation at issue in Barbara Homes did not define or explain the term "common ownership" or "different ownership"; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the court concluded that the lots were not in common ownership under the statute because each spouse possessed the right of survivorship and neither spouse could sell or mortgage the property without the consent of the other, whereas an individual property owner had full control over his or her own property; and

WHEREAS, DOB distinguishes Barbara Homes and Edlu Custom Builders because it finds that even though tenancy by the entirety limits a spouse's right to bequeath, sell, and encumber a property, it does not limit one spouse's right as an owner of both lots in 1961 to merge the lots into a single zoning lot pursuant to the ZR § 12-10(b) "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that rights related to survivorship, conveyance and encumbrance that Christine Westerfeld had to Lot 58 are not relevant to Otto Westerfeld's ability to merge Lots 58 and 56 into a ZR § 12-10(b) zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that the holdings in Barbara Homes and Edlu should not be followed since ZR § 23-33 is concerned with whether an owner would be able to merge lots into a zoning lot under the Zoning Resolution such that any single owner may develop the lots together and not whether that person has the right to bequeath, sell, or encumber property; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that its application of ZR § 23-33 is consistent with the plain meaning of the text; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that the common sense meaning of the text is that there is no right to develop a small lot if the same person owned or owns all of the small lot and all of an adjoining lot and that a small lot is not owned "separately and individually" from a contiguous lot if one individual had or has ownership of the entirety of both lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that in order to satisfy ZR § 23-33, completely different people must own the small lot and the surrounding lots because when one person owns both the small lot and an adjoining lot, there is a unity and singleness of ownership that is incompatible with the text's language; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Appellant's interpretation of ZR § 23-33 is not consistent with its plain language and that Christine Westerfeld's ownership of Lot 58 does not cause it to be owned separately and individually from Lot 56; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that if the text meant to exclude only those small lots that belong equally to any and all owners of neighboring lots, it would have instead stated that the small lot could be developed provided it was not held in "identical," "same" or "common" ownership with adjoining lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that when both lots are owned by one person, there is a unity of ownership, and an absence of separate and individual ownership, that is not trumped by the existence of an additional owner of one lot; and

Merger Pursuant to ZR § 12-10(b)

WHEREAS, DOB states that ZR § 23-33 must be read in conjunction with the ZR § 12-10 "zoning lot" definition to determine whether the small lot and an adjoining lot that is not owned separately and individually from the small lot could be developed as a single merged lot that complied with minimum lot size requirements; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that if the small lot and the adjoining lot could be merged into a single "zoning lot" by the owner of both lots in accordance with ZR § 12-10, then, by the Board's rationale in Garretson Avenue, the lot cannot be developed in reliance on ZR § 23-33 without undermining the Zoning Resolution's minimum lot standards; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the small Lot 58 and adjoining Lot 56 were held in "single ownership" by Otto Westerfeld on December 15, 1961, so the lots could have been developed or used together as a "zoning lot" under the ZR § 12-10(b) definition and therefore the small lot should not be developed independently per ZR § 23-33 to circumvent minimum lot standards established in 1961; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that a ZR § 12-10(b) zoning lot is defined as "a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more contiguous lots or record, located within a single 'block,' which, on December 15, 1961 or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto was in single ownership," consists of contiguous tax lots or other recorded parcels in single ownership on December 15, 1961 that are used or developed together pursuant to a permit, certificate of occupancy or other Department record; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Board's rationale in the Garretson Avenue decision supports its position that Lot 58 cannot rely on ZR § 23-33 because Otto Westerfeld, as an owner of both Lot 58 and Lot 56 on December 15, 1961 could have complied with ZR § 23-32 by applying for a permit to develop or used the lots together in accordance with the ZR § 12-10(b) "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to Newport Assn., Inc. v. Solow, 30 N.Y.2d 263 (1972) for the point that an owner can form a zoning lot under the Zoning Resolution where the owner does not possess complete control over that property; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that in Newport, the Court determined that a zoning lot could be formed out of three lots because the long-term lessee of one lot, who was also the fee owner of two adjoining parcels, held all the lots in "single ownership"; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the Court's decision was based on the 1961 Zoning Resolution definition of ownership of a zoning lot that included a lease of not less than 50 years duration, with an option to renew for an additional 25 years or longer; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that there is a parallel relationship between Newport's long-term lessee who had the right to create a zoning lot comprising all the parcels and could properly obtain a permit to use floor area derived from the portion of the lot he leased without needing the consent of the fee owner of the lot, and Otto Westerfeld who did not need Christine Westerfeld's consent to file an application to use or develop Lots 56 and 58 as a single zoning lot pursuant to ZR § 12-10(b) "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that its determination that the subject lots were not owned separately and individually within the meaning of ZR § 23-33, but rather in single ownership, is consistent with the ruling in Newport; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the 1977 Zoning Resolution amendment to the "zoning lot" definition did not nullify the Court's determination that one owner of an entire tract of land holds the land in "single ownership" even though the land includes differently held parcels; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the 1977 Zoning Resolution amendment removed the definition of "ownership" that included long term lessees, but this did not disturb the concept that an owner of a tract of land holds the land in "single ownership" and may develop as a ZR § 12-10(b) zoning lot notwithstanding the objection of an additional owner of a portion of the land; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds that the Newport Court recognized not just the leasehold ownership, but the fee ownership in lots which together placed the land under "single ownership" notwithstanding the existence of another owner of one of the lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the City Planning Commission (CPC) added the ZR § 12-10(d) zoning lot definition and removed the ownership through lease device for combining lots to solve the problem raised in Newport of allowing a party with a leasehold interest to shift unused development rights without notice to other parties holding property interests; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that CPC did not amend ZR § 12-10(b) to change the concept that single ownership may have existed in 1961 in the absence of a leasehold interest where there was one fee owner of the entire tract of land in addition to other fee owners of portions of the land; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that if Lot 58 and Lot 56 are each a lot of record existing on December 15, 1961 and there was no application to develop or use the lots together in order to satisfy a requirement of the Zoning Resolution, they are each zoning lots as defined by ZR § 12-10(a), but they still cannot take advantage of the special provisions for developing existing small lots because ZR § 23-33 grants the exception only where the lots are separately and individually owned in 1961 and on the date of application for a building permit; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that there is nothing in the Administrative Code or Zoning Resolution that would preclude DOB from accepting a permit application filed by Otto Westerfeld had he chosen to exercise his right to merge the lots under ZR § 12-10(b) and DOB would have had no basis to revoke the permit in the event Christine Westerfeld objected to such merger; and

WHEREAS, DOB adds that as long as the land is held in "single ownership," that owner is entitled to full utilization of development rights derived from the entire tract of land under ZR § 12-10(b), per Newport; and

Public Policy Goals

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Zoning Resolution sets a high standard in the R1 district to provide usable open space, privacy, and low density comparable to the standards in adjacent suburban areas for families that might otherwise leave the city (citing to Voorhees Walker Smith & Smith, Zoning New York City, A Proposal for a Zoning Resolution for the City of New York, August 1958); and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that to allow Lot 58 to be developed separately from Lot 56 when both could have been merged by Otto Westerfeld in 1961 to comply with minimum size requirements would defeat the goal of the R1 districts minimum lot area and lot width regulation; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that ZR § 23-33 should be applied under limited circumstances because the Zoning Resolution's minimum lot size and lot width requirements achieve important public purposes; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that Lot 58 meets the requirements of ZR § 23-33 and can be developed as an existing small lot; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board finds that Lot 58 meets the criteria of an existing small lot because: (1) it was owned separately and individually from all adjoining lots on December 15, 1961 and (2) it is owned separately and individually from all adjoining lots today (and since 2009), in advance of an application for a building permit; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that because on December 15, 1961, Otto Westerfeld owned Lot 56 and Otto Westerfeld and Christine Westerfeld owned Lot 58 as tenants by the entirety, they were owned separately and individually; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the meaning of "owned separately and individually" is not clear on its face; however, the Board is not persuaded that the text has a plain meaning of practical, effective, or even common ownership; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board is not persuaded by DOB's reliance on the term "single ownership" from the definition of "zoning lot" at ZR § 12-10(b) as there is no basis to import that term and it is similarly not defined, thus, its meaning in relation to ZR § 23-33's "owned separately and individually" is unclear; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not see any support in the text for DOB's position that "owned separately and individually" means that in order to satisfy ZR § 23-33, the ownership of the two lots must be disconnected or completely distinct such that the lots could not have been developed together per the ZR § 12-10(b) definition of "zoning lot"; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the facts of Barbara Homes are on point to the extent that the case involved two adjoining sites, one owned by a husband and the other owned by the husband and his wife as tenants by the entirety and that the question was raised about whether development could occur on a lot that existed prior to the adoption of the zoning ordinance and was smaller than what the zoning ordinance required; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the statute in Barbara Homes precluded such development if the adjoining lots were in common ownership, but noted that common ownership was not defined in the statute; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in Barbara Homes, the court considered the principles of ownership by tenants by the entirety and found that in such an arrangement "neither party has any individual interest" and that there are numerous differences between individual or absolute ownership and tenancy by the entirety; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the court concluded that the sites were under different ownership and did not meet the zoning ordinance's "common ownership" standard; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that there has not been any dispute as to whether Lot 56 and Lot 58 are or will be owned separately and individually on the date of the application for a building permit; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not persuaded by DOB's citation to the Garretson Avenue decision or the Newport case, both of which can be distinguished; and

WHEREAS, as to Garretson Avenue, the Board notes that both lots were unquestionably owned by the same two individuals on December 15, 1961, so there can be no claim that they were owned separately and individually; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it determined the Garretson Avenue case based on those facts failing to satisfy the requirements of ZR § 23-33 and not based on its statement that ZR § 23-33's intent is to prohibit an owner who could have developed combined lots from developing an existing small lot; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that the Appellant does not assert that merely because Lot 56 and Lot 58 existed in their current configuration on December 15, 1961 that the exception at ZR § 23-33 is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Newport Court acknowledged the long-term lessee as the owner at the time of the application to transfer the air rights and rejected the fee owner as another owner with the right to transfer the air rights during the term of the lease; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board notes that the Newport case addressed whether the long-term lessee (the owner at the time of application) had the ability to merge the contiguous lots; it did not say that if the same identical entity owned contiguous lots it must merge them; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Newport Court recognized an identical owner as the owner of the contiguous lots and there was not an assertion that there was co-ownership between the long-term lessee and the fee owner or that the long-term lessee had a co-owner in some other manner on one of the other lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that Zoning Resolution text in effect at the time of the Newport decision recognized the long-term lessee as an owner who could satisfy the ZR § 12-10(b) requirement of a tract of land (three contiguous lots) in "single ownership" with the right to merge the lots and did not address the issue of co-ownership; and

WHEREAS, in Newport, the same entity was the owner (as it was defined at the time) of the leased lot and the adjacent two lots, which it owned in fee; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Zoning Resolution was amended to exclude long-term lessees as owners who could assume the role of the fee owner to merge lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Westerfelds' ownership structure is quite different from Newport in that there is not a scenario under which both lots had the same owner because Otto was not the sole owner of both and nor were Otto and Christine as tenants by the entirety the owners of both; further, Newport did not address the question of tenants by the entirety, an ownership structure in which Otto nor Christine alone could fully assume the role of owner of Lot 58; and

WHEREAS, as to a zoning lot merger pursuant to ZR § 12-10(b), the Board does not find that the ability to merge the lots, when such merger is not automatic or required, is indicative of Lot 58 failing to meet the requirements of the ZR § 23-33 exception for small lots; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board does not find the fact that DOB only requires one of the two tenants by the entirety to authorize applications for building permits to be conclusive on the question of whether the two lots are owned separately and individually; the Board notes that a single tenant by the entirety cannot encumber or alienate his or her property without the consent of the other; and

WHEREAS, the Board states that its decision is limited to the subject facts in which one spouse owned one lot and both spouses owned the adjoining undersized lot as tenants by the entirety on December 15, 1961, and it has not made a determination about any other ownership structure; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that, based upon the above, Lot 58 satisfies the ZR § 23-33 criteria for an existing small lot that can be developed according to all other applicable Zoning Resolution requirements.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the subject appeal, seeking a reversal of the Final Determination of the Department of Buildings, dated July 2, 2013, is hereby granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, September 24, 2013.

SUBJECT – Application February 12, 2013 – Appeal challenging Department of Buildings' determination that the existing roof sign is not entitled to non-conforming use status. M1-1 zoning district.

PREMISES AFFECTED – 945 Zerega Avenue, Zerega Avenue between Quimby Avenue and Bruckner Boulevard, Block 3700, Lot 31, Borough of Bronx.

COMMUNITY BOARD #9BX

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Appeal Denied.

Affirmative: 0

Negative: Chair Srinivasan, Vice Chair Collins, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Montanez 5

WHEREAS, the subject appeal comes before the Board in response to a Notice of Sign Registration Rejection letter from the Bronx Borough Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB"), dated January 14, 2013, denying registration for a sign at the subject premises (the "Final Determination"), which reads, in pertinent part:

> The Department of Buildings is in receipt of additional documentation submitted in response to the Deficiency Letter from the Sign Enforcement Unit and in connection with the application for registration of the above-referenced sign. However, such documentation does not support the establishment of the existing sign prior to the relevant non-conforming use date. As such the sign is rejected. This sign will be subject to enforcement action 30 days form the issuance of this letter; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 16, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 24, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject premises (the "Premises") is located on the southwest corner of the intersection of Zerega Avenue and Bruckner Boulevard, within an M1-1- zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Premises is occupied by a five-story commercial building; atop the building is an advertising sign with a surface area of 672 sq. ft. (the "Sign"); and

WHEREAS, this appeal is brought on behalf of the lessee of the Sign structure (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Sign is 50 feet from and within view of the Cross Bronx Expressway, an arterial highway pursuant to Appendix H of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that on March 27, 2008, DOB issued Permit No. 210039224 for the repair of the structural elements of the Sign and on April 21, 2008, DOB issued Permit No. 201143253 for the repair of the Sign itself (collectively the "Permits"); however, on January 31, 2013, DOB revoked the Permits based on its determination that the Sign was not established as a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks a reversal of DOB's rejection of the registration (and related revocation of the Permits) of the Sign based on DOB's determination that the Appellant failed to provide evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the relevant statutory requirements related to sign registration have been in effect since 2005; and

WHEREAS, under Local Law 31 of 2005, the New York City Council enacted certain amendments to existing regulations governing outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, the amendments are codified under Articles 501, 502, and 503 of the 2008 Building Code and were enacted to provide DOB with a means of enforcing the sign laws where signs had been erected and were being maintained without a valid permit; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Article 502 (specifically, Building Code § 28-502.4), an outdoor advertising company is required to submit to DOB an inventory of:

> all signs, sign structures and sign locations located (i) within a distance of 900 linear feet (274 m) from and within view of an arterial highway; or (ii) within a distance of 200 linear feet [60.96 m] from and within view of a public park with an area of ½ acre (5000 m) or more; and

WHEREAS, further, Local Law 31 authorized the Commissioner of DOB to promulgate rules establishing permitting requirements for certain signs; the DOB rules, enacted under Rule 49, provide specific procedures for registration of advertising signs; Rule 49-15(5) reads in pertinent part:

> Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter; and

WHEREAS, subchapter B of Rule 49 (Registration of Outdoor Advertising Companies), (specifically, Rule 49-15(d)(15)(b)), sets forth the acceptable forms of evidence to establish the size and the existence of a non-conforming sign on the relevant date set forth in the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the acceptable forms of evidence set forth at Rule 49 are, in pertinent part as follows:

> Acceptable evidence may include permits, sign-offs of applications after completion, photographs and leases demonstrating that the non-conforming use existed prior to the relevant date; and

WHEREAS, affidavits are also listed as an acceptable form of evidence; and

WHEREAS, a DOB guidance document sets forth the instructions for filing under Rule 49 and states that any one of the following documents would be acceptable evidence for sign registration pursuant to Rule 49: (1) DOB issued permit for sign erection; (2) DOB-approved application for sign erection; (3) DOB dockets/permit book indicating sign permit approval; and (4) publicly catalogued photograph from a source such as NYC Department of Finance, New York Public Library, Office of Metropolitan History, or New York State Archives; and

WHEREAS, on September 5, 2012, pursuant to the requirements of Article 502 and Rule 49, the Appellant submitted a Sign Registration Application for the Sign and completed an OAC3 Outdoor Advertising Company Sign Profile, attaching copies of cancelled checks, leases, and other agreements as evidence of establishment of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, on October 3, 2012, DOB issued a Notice of Sign Registration Deficiency, stating that "[DOB is] unable to accept the sign for registration at this time (due to a) failure to provide proof of legal establishment of the sign"; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated December 3, 2012, the Appellant submitted a response to DOB, including additional leases and DOB records, which it claimed demonstrated that the Sign was legally established; and

WHEREAS, DOB determined that the December 3, 2012 submission lacked sufficient evidence of the Sign's establishment, and on January 14, 2013, issued the Final Determination denying registration; likewise, DOB revoked the Permits for the Sign by letter dated January 31, 2013; and

…(d)(5) Each sign shall be identified as either "advertising" or "non-advertising." To the extent a sign is a non-conforming sign, it must further be identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising." A sign identified as "non-conforming advertising" or "non-conforming non-advertising" shall be submitted to the Department for confirmation of its non-conforming status, pursuant to section 49-16 of this chapter.

RCNY § 49-16 – Non-conforming Signs

(a) With respect to each sign identified in the sign inventory as non-conforming, the registered architect or professional engineer shall request confirmation of its non-conforming status from the Department based on evidence submitted in the registration application. The Department shall review the evidence submitted and accept or deny the request within a reasonable period of time. A sign that has been identified as non-conforming on the initial registration application may remain erected unless and until the Department has issued a determination that it is not non-conforming; and

THE APPELLANT'S POSITION

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Final Determination should be reversed and the Permits should be reinstated because the evidence it submitted was sufficient to demonstrate that the Sign was: (1) established as a non-conforming use; and (2) not discontinued for a period of two or more years since establishment; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the evidence it has submitted demonstrates that the Sign was established at the Premises prior to November 1, 1979 and therefore may be continued pursuant to ZR § 42-55(c)(2); specifically, the Appellant submitted: a June 12, 1978 lease between Joma Manufacturing Company (of the Premises) and Allied Outdoor Advertising (the "1978 Lease"), an affidavit from Allied Outdoor Advertising President Richard J. Theryoung (the "Theryoung Affidavit"), and an affidavit from advertising and media consultant Bruce Silverman (the "Silverman Affidavit"), and asserts that these items are, considered together, a sufficient basis for a finding that the Sign existed as of November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the 1978 Lease authorized Allied Outdoor Advertising ("Allied") to construct and maintain a sign atop the roof of the Premises for seven years, from June 15, 1978 to June 14, 1985; as such, it is evidence that the Sign existed as of November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the Theryoung Affidavit, in which the affiant states that he was President of Allied from 1979 to 1997 and that the Sign was constructed in early 1979 and continuously maintained thereafter, further supports the establishment of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, as to the Silverman Affidavit, the Appellant notes that it should be understood as providing background information on the outdoor advertising industry in New York City in the 1970s and supportive of the establishment of the Sign; according to the affiant, recordkeeping practices in the industry at the time were so uneven that the presence of the 1978 Lease makes the existence of the Sign virtually certain; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant asserts that it has demonstrated that the Sign existed as of November 1, 1979 and was therefore established as a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the evidence it has submitted demonstrates that the Sign has not been discontinued since its establishment and is not subject to termination under ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant has submitted the following to evidence the Sign's continuity: (1) a July 15, 1980 Work Completion Notice (the "1980 Notice") for the construction of a Best Way Food Stores sign; (2) an affidavit from Frank Ferrovechio, who attests that he commuted on the Bruckner Expressway during the 1980s and 1990s and observed the Sign daily; (3) the 1980 Lease, which the Appellant asserts shows continuity from 1978 through 1985; (4) leases with substantial rents in 1988 and 1998; (5) the Theryoung Affidavit; (6) a November 26, 1996 contract for tobacco bulletins for the period 1994 to 1998; (7) miscellaneous lease forms and correspondence between Allied and Universal Outdoor from 1996, 1997, 1998, 2000, 2008 and 2009; (8) 1997 and 1998 rent invoices; (9) a 1998 late notice; (10) a check covering the period between the beginning of July 2004 and the end of August 2004; (11) insurance certificates from 2000 to 2005; (12) a 2007 lease termination; and (13) photographs of the Premises and the Sign from approximately 2005 and from February 2008 through the present; and

WHEREAS, as to any gaps in the evidence, the Appellant requests that the Board apply the evidentiary principle of the "presumption of continuity" as set forth in Prince-Richardson on Evidence § 3-101 (1995) and Wilkins v. Earle, 44 NY 172 (1870), to find that the Sign was not discontinued because DOB has not presented evidence of discontinuance; in particular, the Appellant asserts that under that principle, once an object, condition, or tendency is factually established, it may be presumed to continue for as long as is usual with such conditions; further, the Appellant explains that the presumption of continuity "reflects a common sense appraisal of the probative value of circumstantial evidence," Foltis v. City of New York, 287 NY 108, 115 (1941), and should be applied in the instant matter to find that the evidence supports a finding that the Sign continued even if the items of evidence of its existence do not cover the entire period in question; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, the Appellant points to the Silverman Affidavit to bolster its claim that recordkeeping was generally inconsistent in the outdoor advertising industry during most of the time period in question and that the existence of any supporting documentation is persuasive evidence that the Sign existed continuously; and

WHEREAS, as to DOB's assertion that a tax photograph from the 1980s shows that the Sign and its structure were removed, the Appellant states that such a photograph only shows the Premises at a single point in time and not over a period of time; as such, it is not sufficient evidence to conclude that the Sign was discontinued for more than two years, and the Appellant cites the Board's decision in BSA Cal. No. 96-12-A (2284 12th Avenue, Manhattan) in support of the principle that a single photo cannot, standing alone, demonstrate that a use was discontinued for more than two years; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also notes that the 1980 Notice—which DOB asserts is evidence that the Sign was not constructed prior to November 1, 1979—merely supports the continued existence of the Sign and is not dispositive on the actual date that the Sign was established; and

WHEREAS, finally, as to whether the Sign was, as DOB contends, prohibited from being reconstructed after it was removed pursuant to ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83, the Appellant asserts that DOB has previously accepted as a non-conforming use signs that appear to have been altered, relocated, or reconstructed; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant states that signs at the following addresses were structurally altered, relocated and/or reconstructed: 5 Eldridge Street, Manhattan; 330 East 126th Street, Manhattan; 2284 12th Avenue, Manhattan; 682-686 East 133rd Street, Bronx; 586 Third Avenue, Brooklyn; 51-06 Vernon Boulevard, Queens; and 54-30 43rd Street, Queens; and

WHEREAS, as such, the Appellant asserts that DOB's position that removal and reconstruction of the Sign violated

ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83 in this case is belied by its position in prior instances and is, thus, arbitrary; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that DOB's Final Determination with respect to the Sign and revocation of the Permits should be reversed; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that: (1) the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence to demonstrate the Sign was established at the Premises prior to November 1, 1979; and (2) even if the Board were to find that the Sign was established, the evidence demonstrates that it was removed and reconstructed contrary to ZR §§ 42-55; and 52-83; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the 1978 Lease and Theryoung Affidavit are, collectively, insufficient evidence of the establishment of the Sign at the Premises prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that under Rule 49(d)(15)(b), an affidavit, on its own and without supporting documentation, is insufficient evidence of establishment; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that although the Appellant has submitted the 1978 Lease as supporting documentation for the statements of the Theryoung Affidavit, the 1978 Lease by its terms does not demonstrate the establishment of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, in particular, DOB asserts that, according to the language employed in the 1978 Lease ("Lessee will erect the said advertising sign structure and its appurtenances"), Allied was authorized to construct and maintain a sign at the Premises, rather than maintain an existing sign at the Premises; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that distinction is critical, because it demonstrates that no sign existed when the 1978 Lease was executed and gives no indication as to when the rights under the lease to construct the Sign were exercised; thus, DOB concludes that the evidence fails to demonstrate the Sign was established prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, DOB also contends that a Department of Finance tax photograph from the 1980s shows the Premises without the Sign and its structure; accordingly, DOB concludes that the Sign was removed at some point and reconstructed, in violation of ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that pursuant to ZR § 42-55, which regulates advertising signs in manufacturing districts, no advertising sign may be structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed if that sign is located in a district regulated by ZR § 42-55 and is within 200 feet of an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that ZR § 52-83 allows non-conforming advertising signs in specific zoning districts to be structurally altered, reconstructed, or replaced, provided that such alteration does not create any new non-conformity; however, the section also contains an exception clause, which states, "except as otherwise provided in Section 42-55"; and

WHEREAS, therefore, DOB contends that where a non-conforming advertising sign is in a district covered by both ZR § 52-83 and ZR § 42-55, the exception clause in ZR § 52-83 requires that the more restrictive provisions of ZR § 42-55 apply; as such, in this case, ZR § 42-55 prohibits the Sign, which is within an M1-1 district and within 50 feet of an arterial highway, from being structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB contends that the Sign cannot have non-conforming status because it was removed and reconstructed in the 1980s contrary to ZR §§ 42-55 and 52-83; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that it properly issued its Final Determination denying the registration of the Sign and properly revoked the Permits; and

CONCLUSION

WHEREAS, the Board finds that DOB properly denied the Sign registration because the Appellant has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Sign was established prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that, by its terms, the 1978 Lease is only evidence of what Allied was authorized to do, namely construct and maintain the Sign; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board also agrees with DOB that nothing in the 1978 Lease provides a basis for the Board to determine when the Sign was actually constructed; the 1978 Lease speaks to, at most, when the Sign could have been constructed; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board finds that the only other item of evidence that is somewhat contemporaneous with the 1978 Lease is the 1980 Notice, which is dated July 15, 1980, and which suggests that the Sign construction was completed more than eight months after November 1, 1979, the required date of establishment in ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, as to the Theryoung Affidavit, the Board finds that it lacks specificity and contains conclusory statements, which do not credibly establish that the Sign existed at the Premises prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that although Theryoung states that he was "directly involved" in the "specific project" he provides no details regarding the dimensions, orientation, or message of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, as to the Silverman Affidavit, the Board finds that insofar as it seeks to equate the 1978 Lease with the existence of the Sign prior to November 1, 1979, it is not persuasive; indeed, the Board notes that in this case, the record indicates that there was a time period during the 1980s when a lease for the Sign existed, but the Sign—and its structure—were absent from the roof of the Premises; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees with DOB that the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence of the Sign's establishment prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, because the Board finds that the Sign was never established as non-conforming, it is unnecessary to determine whether the Zoning Resolution permitted its removal and reconstruction or whether the presumption of continuity impels the Board to find, based on the Appellant's evidence, that the Sign was not discontinued;

and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that DOB's enforcement against the Sign is warranted, and as such, DOB properly rejected the Appellant's registration of the Sign and properly revoked the Permits.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on January 14, 2013, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, September 24, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings, dated July 31, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320517017, reads, in pertinent part:

> The existing building is a Historic Structure and as per FIRM map 3604970203F is located within an area of special flood hazard (Elev. 10 AE Zone). The elevation of the lowest level is below the Base Flood Elevation and compliance with BC Appendix G (G304.1.2, section 1 or 2) is required; and

WHEREAS, this is an administrative appeal filed pursuant to Appendix G, Section BC G107 of the New York City Administrative Code (the "Building Code") to permit the renovation and enlargement of an existing building in a flood hazard area contrary to the flood-proofing requirements of Appendix G, Section G304.1.2 of the Building Code; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 20, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 24, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Brooklyn recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Steven T. Levin submitted a written statement in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a corner lot located on the north side of Water Street between New Dock Street and Old Dock Street within the Empire-Fulton Ferry State Park a/k/a Brooklyn Bridge Park, within an M3-1 zoning district; (zoning compliance has been overridden by the General Park Plan); and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by the remnants of a building, which was constructed between 1860 and 1861, altered numerous times over the years, and has come to be known as the "Tobacco Warehouse"; it is included on the National and New York State Registers of Historic Places and was designated an individual landmark by the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC") in 1977; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to integrate the remnants of the building—which are free-standing masonry walls—into a new theater building with approximately 19,000 sq. ft. of floor area and 7,000 sq. ft. of open space; the applicant notes that the theater will be operated as "St. Ann's Warehouse"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building does not comply with the flood-proofing requirements of the Building Code; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks a variance pursuant to Section BC G107.2.1; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is located within a Special Flood Hazard Area as determined by the Federal Emergency Management Agency ("FEMA"), as indicated on the Flood Insurance Rate Maps for the City of New York; and

WHEREAS, Appendix G, Section BC G304 of the Building Code establishes general limitations on occupancy and construction within Special Flood Hazard Areas; and

WHEREAS, specifically, Section BC G304.1.2 requires that nonresidential buildings comply with either an "elevation option," in which the lowest floor is elevated at or above the design floodplain elevation, or a "dry floodproofing option," in which the building is made water-tight to a level at or above the design flood elevation, or obtain a variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the design floodplain elevation is 8.44 feet and the proposed ground floor elevation is 7.29 feet; therefore, the ground floor elevation is below the design floodplain elevation, contrary to Section BC G304.1.2; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the instant appeal was filed seeking relief from Appendix G, Section G304.1.2 of the Building Code; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Building Code Appendix G Section G107.2.1, the Board may grant a variance to the provisions of Section G304 upon finding that: (1) the application has received approval from LPC and/or the New York State Historical Preservation Office, as applicable; (2) the proposed repair or rehabilitation will not preclude the structure's continued designation as a historic structure; and (3) the variance is the minimum necessary to preserve the historic character and design of the structure; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that on June 4, 2013, LPC issued a positive advisory report for the proposal, and by letter dated July 19, 2013, the New York State Historic Preservation Office indicated that it had forwarded the proposal to the National Park Service with the recommendation that it be approved; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed rehabilitation will not preclude the structure's continued designation as a historic structure; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant states that the proposal is supportive of the historic structure, in that: (1) it maintains the existing masonry walls and openings, which give the building its distinctive character; (2) it preserves the ground floor openings in their original relationship to the grades at Water Street and the surrounding park (which historically were the working waterfront streets and spaces); and (3) it employs design elements, such as doors, windows, and interior finishes that allude to the historic function and configuration; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the variance is the minimum necessary to preserve the historic character and design of the structure; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the Tobacco Warehouse's distinctive façade and its historic at-grade entrances from the street are key elements of the building's historic character and design; as such, alteration of these elements to provide a compliant elevation or dry floodproofing was deemed infeasible; and

WHEREAS, as to elevating the building, the applicant represents that it would require extensive structural modifications and the creation of accessible ramps and landings, which would alter the site and surrounding spaces and be inconsistent with the historic character and design of the building; in addition, the applicant represents that the proposed ground floor elevation is the highest elevation that will provide the minimum floor-to-ceiling height necessary (20 feet) to create a modern performance venue that will accommodate stage sets, lighting positions and seating with proper viewlines within the proposed total building height (38.75 feet), which the applicant endeavored to minimize, both for preservation, and neighborhood-impact purposes; and

WHEREAS, as to dry floodproofing the building, the applicant represents that it would require the partial disassembly and reconstruction of the façade with an integrated water membrane, the installation of steel receiving channels on the façade or within door jambs, and the construction of flood gates at entrances, all of which would compromise the aesthetics of the building and the site; and

WHEREAS, based on its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed repair or rehabilitation will not preclude the structure's continued designation as a historic structure, and that the variance is the minimum necessary to preserve the historic character and design of the structure; and

WHEREAS, further, as noted above, LPC issued a positive advisory report for the proposal on June 4, 2013, and by letter dated July 19, 2013, the New York State Historic Preservation Office indicated that it had forwarded the proposal to the National Park Service with the recommendation that it be approved; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the specific findings the Board must make pursuant to Appendix G Section G107.2.1, the Board must also evaluate the effect of the proposed variance on the following factors: (1) the danger that material and debris may be swept onto other lands resulting in damage or injury; (2) the danger to life or property due to flooding or erosion damage; (3) the susceptibility of the proposed development, including contents, to flood damage and the effect of such damage on current and future owners; (4) the importance of the services provided by the proposed development to the community; (5) the availability of alternative locations for the proposed development that are not subject to flooding or erosion; (6) the relationship of the proposed development to comprehensive plan and flood plain management program for that area; (7) the safety of access to the property in times of flood for ordinary and emergency vehicles; (8) the expected heights, velocity, duration, rate of rise and debris and sediment transport of the floodwaters and the effects of wave action, if applicable, expected at the site; and (9) the costs of providing governmental services during and after flood conditions including maintenance and repair of public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical and water systems, streets and bridges; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance would not create the danger that material and debris may be swept onto other lands resulting in damage or injury, in that the applicant has developed a building safety plan to be implemented in the event of a flood warning; in such case, the plan requires all unfixed items to be relocated to the mezzanine level, to the top of the seating riser, or onto the catwalk structure; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance would not create a danger to life and property due to flooding or erosion damage, in that the applicant anticipates that it will receive sufficient notice of a flood and that it will prevent occupancy of the building during any such event; further, as noted above, in a flood event, all unfixed items at the ground floor will be relocated; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that flood damage to the proposed building and its contents would be limited because the project requires that critical building elements and infrastructure (electrical, mechanical, ducted distribution, and lighting) that could be damaged during flooding are located well above the base flood elevation; in addition, the finishes at the ground level (concrete floors, gypsum and plywood) are comparatively inexpensive and easy to replace in the event that they are damaged by flood waters; likewise, office spaces are to be located at upper levels, which will protect records, furnishings and equipment; finally, the proposed elevator is controlled by a gearless hoist mechanism located at the top of the elevator shaft, approximately 22 feet above the ground floor, and the elevator pit will contain only incidental equipment, such as an access ladder, steel guiderails, and pit bumpers; and

WHEREAS, as to the importance of the services provided by the proposed development to the community and the availability of alternative locations for the proposed development that are not subject to flooding or erosion, the applicant represents that the adaptive reuse of the 250-year-old Tobacco Warehouse on the Brooklyn waterfront as a community and performance space furthers the public interest in historic preservation and the arts and has garnered the support of numerous elected officials and community groups; and

WHEREAS, as to the relationship of the proposed development to the comprehensive plan and flood plain management program for that area and the safety of access to the property in times of flood for ordinary and emergency vehicles, the applicant represents that, as noted above, it has developed a comprehensive flood management program for the building, including the evacuation of the building during a hazardous flood and the provision of additional staffing, which obviates the need for vehicular access to the site; however, if access were to become necessary, the applicant notes that it is easier under the proposed design than it would be if flood gates and barriers were provided in accordance with Building Code Appendix G; and

WHEREAS, as to the expected heights, velocity, duration, rate of rise and debris and sediment transport of the floodwaters and the effects of wave action, the applicant represents that the proposed building and grounds do not impact such items; the applicant also notes that the existing building survived the surge that accompanied Superstorm Sandy without damage to its structure and the proposed building is designed to withstand similar floodwaters; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that the proposal does not increase the costs of providing governmental services during and after flood conditions, including maintenance and repair of public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical and water systems, streets and bridges; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made pursuant to Building Code Section BC G107.2.1 and Section 666(7) of the New York City Charter.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the application to permit the renovation and enlargement of an existing building in a flood hazard area contrary to the flood-proofing requirements of Section BC G304.1.2 of the Building Code is granted; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received August 30, 2013" nine (9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited objections; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, a reopening, a reinstatement, and an extension of term for the continued use of a parking garage for more than five vehicles, which expired on May 29, 1971; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 20, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 24, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Manhattan, noted its familiarity with the subject site but declined to issue a recommendation regarding this application; and

WHEREAS, the site comprises the block bounded by Broadway, Leonard Street, Catherine Street and Lafayette Street and is within a C6-4A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 60 feet of frontage along Broadway, 400 feet of frontage along Leonard Street, 401.75 feet of frontage along Catherine Street, and 82.83 feet of frontage along Lafayette Street, and is occupied by a 12-story commercial building; and

WHEREAS, the exterior and portions of the interior of the building are designated as individual landmarks by the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC"); and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since May 29, 1956, when, under BSA Cal. No. 18-56-BZ, the Board granted a use variance to permit a portion of an existing building to be used as a parking garage for more than five motor vehicles, contrary to 1916 Zoning Resolution § 7f; the Board granted the variance for a term of 15 years; and

WHEREAS, by resolution dated July 17, 1956, the Board amended the grant to allow access to the garage by ramp, instead of elevators; and

WHEREAS, the term of the grant expired in 1971 and was never extended; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to reinstate the variance granted under BSA Cal. No. 18-56-BZ for a term of ten years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to locate 110 parking spaces in the basement (21 spaces) and in the cellar (79 spaces, including stacker spaces) of the building, and provide access to the facility via a curb cut on Leonard Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the City of New York, Department of Citywide Administrative Services ("DCAS") has owned the site since 1968; recently, the site was the subject of a request for proposals by the New York City Economic Development Corporation and a purchaser has been selected; the prospective owner seeks to convert the building to primarily residential use and to continue the parking use; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, under its Rules, an applicant requesting reinstatement of a pre-1961 use variance must demonstrate that: (1) the use has been continuous since the expiration of the term; (2) substantial prejudice would result if reinstatement is not granted; and (3) the use permitted by the grant does not substantially impair the appropriate use and development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, as to continuity, the applicant represents that, although the term expired in 1971, the parking use has been continuous from 1971 to the present; in support of this representation, the applicant submitted numerous leases, certificates of insurance, communications, appraisals, licenses, permits, court filings, and various other public records, which demonstrate the continuity of the parking use; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that substantial prejudice would result if reinstatement is not granted, because both DCAS and the prospective owner, in agreeing to the terms of sale, contemplated that the garage use would be continued and that the garage would be an available amenity to the residents of the building and to the public in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, as to the whether the parking use substantially impairs the appropriate use and development of adjacent properties, the applicant asserts that the garage has operated continuously at the site as the neighborhood has evolved from predominantly commercial and manufacturing to mixed residential and commercial; further, the parking spaces have always been and will to continue to be located in the cellar and basement of the building, which mitigates any impact the garage may have upon adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, based on the applicant's representations, the Board finds that reinstatement of the subject variance is appropriate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also requests a ten-year extension of the term; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-411, the Board may permit an extension of term of an expired variance; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested clarification regarding whether: (1) the accessory signage near the intersection of Lafayette Street and Leonard Street was approved by LPC; and (2) whether the stackers in the cellar were approved by the Department of Buildings ("DOB"); and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended plans indicating that: (1) the signage at the intersection of Lafayette Street and Leonard Street had been removed and noting that signs may be posted at the garage entrance, not illuminated and not extending beyond the building line, to identify the garage and provide such other information as may be required by the Department of Consumer Affairs; and (2) the parking would be according to layouts approved by DOB and would not exceed 110 spaces; and

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 11-411 to permit, within a C6-4A zoning district, the reinstatement of a prior Board approval for a parking garage at the subject site, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received September 9, 2013'- (5) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of this grant will be for ten years, to expire on September 24, 2023;

THAT the layout of the spaces will be as approved by DOB and will not exceed 110 spaces;

THAT the site will be maintained free of debris and graffiti;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, a reopening, and an extension of term for the continued use of a private parking lot for the catering establishment located at Block 4743, Lot 8, which expired on September 28, 2011; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site spans the full width of the block on the south side of Tillotson Avenue between Mickle Avenue and Eastchester Road, and is located partially within an R5 zoning district and partially within an R4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 29 feet of frontage along Eastchester Road, approximately 190 feet of frontage along Tillotson Avenue, approximately 83 feet of frontage along Mickle Avenue, and is occupied as a private parking lot for the catering establishment located across Eastchester Road at Block 4743, Lot 8; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the site since January 17, 1961 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board, pursuant to 1916 Zoning Resolution § 7h, granted a use variance to permit, in a residence district, the maintenance of a private parking lot for the patrons of the catering establishment at Block 4743, Lot 8, for a term of ten years; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant was extended by the Board at various times, most recently, on October 29, 2002, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board extended the grant for a term of ten years, to expire on September 28, 2011; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant's amended statement indicates the following minor changes to the site: there is only one drain (instead of two); there is a sliding gate on Tillotson Avenue (instead of a double swinging gate); there is a single swinging gate on Eastchester Road (instead of a double swinging gate); and there are double lights (instead of single lights); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that these minor site changes are in substantial compliance with the original grant; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds, pursuant to ZR §§ 11-411, that the requested extension of term is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an appeal of an Order of Closure for the subject premises, issued by the Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on November 23, 2010 (the "Order"), brought by the property owner (hereinafter "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, the Order states, in pertinent part:

> I have reviewed the record of charge and specification in the Petition and Notice of Hearing, dated February 1, 2010, and the Report and Recommendation of the Administrative Law Judge, dated November 1, 2010. The Report of the recommendation of the Administrative Law Judge recommended closure of the premises.
> It is my determination that the maintenance and repair of steel containers, truck repair, and storage of commercial trucks constitutes illegal commercial and/or manufacturing uses in a residence district and, therefore, the subject premises is ORDERED CLOSED . . . ; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on July 9, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on September 17, 2013, and then to decision on October 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of Meyer Avenue, between 159th Street and Bedell Street, in an R3-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, Lot 82 is irregularly-shaped with 86.56 feet of frontage on the north side Meyer Avenue to a depth of approximately 190 feet, 80 feet of frontage on the west side of Bedell Street to a depth of 100 feet, and a lot area of approximately 15,000 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied partially by open use, which the Appellant asserts is consistent with the historic use of iron works, and several metal shed structures; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contests the Order, which states that "the maintenance and repair of steel containers, truck repair, and storage of commercial trucks" are illegal non-conforming uses in the subject zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the primary questions on appeal are whether (1) the non-conforming use was established prior to 1947 when the site was first zoned residential and (2) the use has been continuous from 1947 until the present without an interruption of two years or more; and

WHEREAS, in response to complaints raised, on October 7, 2009 and December 10, 2009, DOB performed inspections of Lot 82 and observed the site is in violation of the Zoning Resolution because it is being used for automobile repairs, commercial vehicle storage, contractor's yards, and for junk salvage storage; and

WHEREAS, the October 7, 2009 inspection report for 159-17 Meyer Avenue states that the commercial trucks, excavator, trailer, and other equipment were observed as were commercial vehicles in different stages of being repaired; trucks at the site were identified as All Seasons Carting, 159-17 Meyer Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the December 10, 2009 Padlock Inspection Report stated that no changes were observed from the last inspection and the property was continuing to be used for storage of commercial vehicles and a garage use for automotive repairs and storage; and

WHEREAS, DOB determined that the noted uses were not permitted in the subject R3-2 zoning district and proceeded to enforce against the Appellant pursuant to Administrative Code § 26-127.2, otherwise known as the Padlock Law, which provides DOB with the authority to declare illegal commercial uses in residential zoning districts to be a nuisance, and to then close such uses; and

WHEREAS, however, prior to the issuance of an Order of Closure, the Padlock Law provides that the owner is entitled to a hearing at the City's Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH"); and

WHEREAS, by Petition and Notice of Hearing before OATH, dated February 1, 2010, Appellant was charged with violating ZR § 22-00 based on inspections by DOB, between October 7, 2009 and December 10, 2009, reflecting that the yard and garage at the premises had been used for automobile repairs, commercial storage, contractor's yards and junk salvage storage; and

WHEREAS, on February 18, 2010, DOB inspected and observed that there were not any changes since the last inspection and, again on April 19, 2010, DOB inspected and observed that there were not any changes since the last inspection and that it continued to be used for commercial activities including commercial trucks and equipment, a welding business, and container storage; and

WHEREAS, the OATH hearing was held on July 19, 2010; and

WHEREAS, by a Report and Recommendation, dated November 1, 2010, OATH issued a recommendation for closure of non-conforming use at the site; and

WHEREAS, based on the finding that the premises was being used for maintenance and repair of steel containers, truck repair and storage of commercial trucks in violation of ZR § 22-00 and that sufficient evidence of a legally created, prior non-conforming use had not been provided, the Administrative Law Judge recommended that the DOB Commissioner may order closure of the premises pursuant to Administrative Code § 28-212.2; and

WHEREAS, on November 23, 2010, after reviewing the administrative record and the Report and Recommendation, DOB Commissioner Robert D. LiMandri determined that the maintenance and repair of steel containers, truck repair and storage of commercial trucks constitutes illegal commercial and manufacturing uses in a residence district and ordered the premises closed; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the City Charter, the Appellant may appeal the Order to the Board, and the Board has the authority to review the validity of the Order and the underlying issues de novo; it is not bound by any finding or determination of OATH, nor is any other party; and

WHEREAS, on March 23, 2011, the Appellant commenced a proceeding in court challenging the Closing Order as in violation of lawful procedure, affected with error of law, arbitrary and capricious, an abuse of discretion and contrary to substantial evidence; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleged in the petition, that it has operated an industrial iron works company at the site, including activities associated with storage, maintenance, fabrication and repairs to steel containers and this activity has repeatedly been confirmed and ratified by DOB as valid and additionally alleges that ample and uncontested evidence of similar operations dating back to 1940 was provided at the OATH hearing but ignored1; and

WHEREAS, the City moved to have the court proceeding dismissed for failure to exhaust administrative remedies as petitioner failed to appeal the Closing Order to the Board as required under New York City Charter § 666 and New York City Administrative Code § 28-103.4, before seeking judicial review; and

WHEREAS, on July 21, 2011, the City and the Appellant stipulated a withdrawal of the Article 78 proceeding and provided that the Appellant could file an appeal at the Board within a specified period; and

WHEREAS, zoning maps reflect that Lot 82 has been within a residential zoning district since 1947; and

WHEREAS, the site is commonly referred to as 159-17 Meyer Avenue; however, the lots and addresses, including the range of 159-09 through 159-17 are referenced in historic documents and associated with Lot 82; and

WHEREAS, sometime around 1922 a home was constructed at the site that was demolished in 1973; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that Vincent Brancato began renting the site in the 1950s before purchasing it from the City; and

WHEREAS, in 1961, Lot 82 was zoned R3-2, which it remains today; and

WHEREAS the Appellant does not have information to explain the full history of the configuration of Lot 82 and the surrounding lots, but Brancato's deed references Lots 82, 84, and 85, and due to the absence of Lots 84 and 85 on the current tax map, it seems that they were enveloped by Lot 82 at some point; and

WHEREAS, however, the Appellant states that Lot 82 has been occupied by iron works since prior to 1947 – first by A. Hoffman, then Brancato Iron Works, and since approximately 2003 by several tenants who continue the iron works and related uses; and

WHEREAS, OATH accepted that Brancato Iron Works began operations at the site in 1958, when the site was already zoned residential and its use was continuous up until the date of the hearing; and

WHEREAS, at the Board's first hearing, DOB stated that it agreed that there was sufficient evidence to establish the use at 1958 but that 1947 is the operative date; and

CRITERIA FOR MAINTAINING A NON-CONFORMING USE

WHEREAS, DOB and the Appellant agree that the site is currently within an R3-2 zoning district and that commercial and manufacturing uses active at the site, are not permitted as-of-right uses within the zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, in order to establish the affirmative defense that the non-conforming iron works use is permitted to remain, the Appellant must meet the Zoning Resolution criteria for a "non-conforming use" as defined at ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 12-10 defines "non-conforming" use as "any lawful use, whether of a building or other structure or of a tract of land, which does not conform to any one or more of the applicable use regulations of the district in which it is located, either on December 15, 1961 or as a result of any subsequent amendment thereto"; and

WHEREAS, additionally, ZR § 52-61 – Discontinuance - Non-Conforming Uses – General Provisions - states that: "If, for a continuous period of two years, either the non-conforming use of land with minor improvements is discontinued, or the active operation of substantially all the non-conforming uses in any building or other structure is discontinued, such land . . . shall thereafter be used only for a conforming use"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, as per the Zoning Resolution, the Appellant must establish that the use was established before it became unlawful, by zoning, in this case in 1947 (as reflected on the 1947 zoning maps) and it must have continued without any two-year period of discontinuance since then; and

WHEREAS, neither DOB nor the Appellant contest that this is the appropriate standard to apply to the analysis of whether the non-conforming use may continue at the site; and

APPELLANT'S ARGUMENTS

WHEREAS, the Appellant makes the following primary arguments in support of its position that the Order of Closure be reversed: (1) the commercial and industrial use has been established and was continuous since prior to 1947; and (2) the issuance of the Order of Closure and DOB's and OATH's actions were procedurally flawed; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the site has been used as an industrial site as evidenced by its submissions dating back to at least 1940 when it was used for iron works; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant resubmitted all of its evidence from the OATH proceeding, which includes copies of resolved DOB complaint reports from 1990, 1995, and 2005 related to construction without a permit and illegal

1 The Order was previously challenged in an Article 78 proceeding brought by Rock Hard Concrete in December 2010. (Rock Hard Concrete Corp v. Robert D. Limandri , DOB, OATH, City of New York and Vincent Brancato, Index No. 116018/10). Rock Hard Concrete ultimately vacated the site.

occupancy (Block 12178, Lot 82; 159-09, 159-11, 159-15, 159-17 Meyer Avenue) which reflect DOB's acceptance of the use as non-conforming per notations which state that it is accepted as a pre-1961 use; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also submitted (1) a notice in a 1940 Department of Housing and Building ledger for construction at 159th Street and Meyer Avenue identified as A. Hoffman premise; (2) a 1957/58 phone book advertisement; (3) a 1961 accountant's statement for Brancato Iron Works at 112-11 159th Street; (4) a 1970s permit for work at 159-17 Meyer Avenue; (5) the deed dated January 29, 1981, between the City and Vincent Brancato for the purchase of Lots 82, 84, and 84 at auction; (6) 1998, 2003, 2010 New York City Department of Finance property tax bills for 159-17 Meyer Avenue; (7) a series of emails between the Appellant, DOB, and the Administrative Law Judge; and (8) a lease agreement dated May 17, 2003 between Vincent Brancato and Rock Hard Concrete Corp. for 159-17 Meyer Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that DOB accepted OATH's decision and, thus, accepted that the use was established at the site from 1958; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted 19 affidavits during the OATH proceeding to establish the use at the site prior to 1961 as was initially believed to be the operative date; and

WHEREAS, the primary source is Vincent Brancato who founded Brancato Iron Works; he stated that he immigrated to the United States from Italy in 1950 at age 19 and that in 1955 he set up operations at 112-01-17 159th Street for its main offices and purchased the Hoffman Iron facility; Mr. Brancato provided records to help establish his presence on 159th Street back to the 1950s, including a 1965 torch license, 1957 Yellow Page advertisement and finance records as well as the 1940 DOB record that states A. Hoffman at 112-10 159th Street; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Brancato states that 159th Street was the mailing address used for all businesses on the block but that he rented Lot 82 on Meyer Avenue in the 1950s and states that other lots have since been consolidated into Lot 82; accordingly, Mr. Brancato states that Lot 82 includes 159-09 through 159-17 Meyer Avenue; and

WHEREAS, when it was learned that 1947, rather than 1961, was the operative date, Mr. Brancato supplemented his affidavit to address the 1947 threshold; he states that when he first saw the A. Hoffman site on Lot 82 in 1950, he could see that it had been there since before 1947, based on wear and tear; Mr. Brancato relies on the DOB records from 1940 with entries for A. Hoffman on Meyer Avenue support he conclusion that an iron works facility was established in 1940 prior to the 1947 date; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant's other affidavits include those from Rock Hard Concrete's president, former Brancato Iron Works employees, people who formerly worked and lived in the surrounding area, and other neighbors who said that there was consistent use of the site as iron works since the 1950s; and

WHEREAS, the affidavits address the consistency of the type of work despite the change in occupants; and that the 1922 house at the site was used for industrial work until its demolition; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted three other supplemental affidavits to address the period prior to 1947; those are from Thomas Griffin (the "Griffin Affidavit"), Edward Puppe (the "Puppe Affidavit"), and Andrew Jenkins (the "Jenkins Affidavit"); and

WHEREAS, Mr. Griffin states that due to a family business that was nearby, he visited the area between 1945 and 1975 and witnessed the iron works business during that period; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, Mr. Puppe submitted his affidavit which states that he worked in the Jamaica area including Meyer Avenue and 159th Street from 1946 to 1966 as a police officer and that all during that period "the entire stretch of land north of Meyer Avenue, including Lot 82 . . . was used for iron works and related industrial purposes"; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Puppe also states that he saw trucks, iron containers, piles of new and used steel as well as stacks of finished steel products and that in 1946, Lot 82 was part of Hoffman Iron Works which also had offices on 159th Street and that Brancato's use took over the site immediately after Hoffman left and was the same use, which continues today; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Jenkins states that he has had personal knowledge of the area from 1960 and was a DOB Deputy Commissioner from 1974 to 1978; he asserts that because DOB would not determine a use to be a lawfully established non-conforming use unless it was proven to have been established prior to the zoning change, the use has to have been legally established prior to 1947 as would have been required to satisfy any DOB review; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB has not submitted any documents to refute the establishment of the use prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that since DOB and OATH accepted the initial affidavits which address the pre-1961 period, then they should accept the supplemental affidavits which address the pre-1947 period as there should be no distinction between the two sets of affidavits; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also asserts that the photographs DOB submitted of homes on the block are from the 1930s and not 1940s and do not refute the eyewitness accounts of Mr. Puppe and Mr. Griffin regarding the pre-1947 character of the area; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the absence of pre-1947 evidence should not be construed against it but rather for it where the reasonable presumption is that complaints against it since 1995 were closed based on proof; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the paucity of evidence of residential use in the area in the 1930s and 1940s confirms that the block was occupied by commercial or industrial use, which became non-conforming in 1947; and

WHEREAS, as to the question of whether the current use is a departure from the established use to the extent that it constitutes a discontinuance of use, the Appellant asserts that the existing use is not junk salvage or storage, but rather continues to be iron works and repair of metal containers; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that OATH determined that the current uses were not junk salvage and DOB should be held to that since it adopted OATH's determination; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that there are the following procedural deficiencies: (1) DOB is never clear about the addresses it is enforcing against; (2) the Order is defective because it does not identify the correct addresses and must only apply to 159-17 Meyer Avenue; and (3) DOB abandoned the order as it did not enforce it in a timely manner; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that only the portion of the lot identified as 159-17 Meyer Avenue is subject to padlocking and not the remainder of Lot 82, but that, nonetheless, the remainder of Lot 82 has also been occupied by non-conforming use prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that (1) the use was not established prior to 1947; (2) the current use reflects a discontinuance of the iron works; and (3) the Order applies to all of Lot 82; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the relevant date by which the use must have been established is 1947 as it is not disputed that the site has been within a residential zoning district from 1947 through today, as reflected on 1947 and 1953 zoning maps; and

WHEREAS, DOB is not persuaded by the evidence that the Appellant submitted to support its claim that the site was occupied by the non-conforming use prior to 1950 when Vincent Brancato came to the United States from Italy and 1955 when he states he established his business on 159th Street; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Order of Closure was properly based upon OATH's Report and Recommendation, which found that the Appellant had not established a valid nonconforming use defense and recommended closure of the site to abate the illegal nuisance; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Appellant has not presented new facts to support its effort to establish the commercial and manufacturing uses; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that during the course of the OATH proceeding, the Appellant provided evidence to support its claim that the use had existed at the site prior to 1961, but that ultimately, it was discovered that the operative date was actually 1947 and the Appellant subsequently submitted supplemental affidavits; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the evidence to establish the use prior to 1947 was initially limited to two affidavits from Vincent Brancato and the Griffin Affidavit, which it rejects as being not reliable enough to pre-date 1950 and that the Griffin Affidavit has no probative value since it is so general and dates back 65 years; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that of the 19 affidavits submitted during the OATH proceeding, only Vincent Brancato's observations date back prior to 1958 and that was to 1955; of all the other affiants, there was one recalling observations back to 1958 and another to 1959, with all the others spanning the period of 1960 to the present; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that affidavits are only credible if their narrative is consistent with other accounts obtained independently or with documentary evidence; and

WHEREAS, as to evidence, DOB states that the photographs and business documents do not confirm the presence of the use at the site prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the fact that commercial and manufacturing uses may have been occurring on other zoning lots on Block 12178 under the Hoffman name does not support the subject claim about the use of Lot 82, especially since there was a dwelling built on Lot 82 in 1922; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds the representations and recollections about the historic use of the site to be so broad as to cover the block as a whole, which fails to provide sufficient detail to support a claim that Lot 82 has been occupied by the non-conforming use during all relevant periods; and

WHEREAS, DOB submitted tax photographs, which it states where taken between 1939 and 1941, which reflect homes at 112-33 and 112-31 159th Street (Lots 1 and 3); and 159-17 and 159-05 Meyer Avenue (Lots 82 and 86) and building data that indicates that they all existed in 1958 when the first of the four was demolished; one was demolished in 1973 and the other two remain; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the evidence that four homes existed on the block until at least 1958 refutes two supplemental affidavits (the Puppe Affidavit and the Jenkins Affidavit); the Puppe Affidavit states that the entire stretch along Meyer Avenue from 159th Street to the railroad was used for iron works; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the subject portion of Meyer Avenue was very different than it is today and had a number of residences not noted in the Puppe Affidavit; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds that in addition to the recollection being set more than 60 years in the past, it is also not reliable because Mr. Puppe fails to recognize the true character of the block, which included residences; and

WHEREAS, similarly, DOB dispels of the Jenkins Affidavit for failing to reach back to 1947 as Jenkins' involvement with the site began in 1960 and that he says that in his former position at DOB, he would not have allowed the use to continue if he had not had evidence that it was lawfully established prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that no documentary evidence has been submitted by Jenkins or the Appellant to support the claim that DOB even received evidence to establish the pre-1947 use at the site; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that in 2009, it initiated an enforcement proceeding against the commercial and manufacturing uses at the site after inspections revealed it was being used for automobile repairs, commercial vehicle storage, contractors' yards, and for junk salvage storage; such uses are contrary to the Zoning Resolution because they are within use groups which are not permitted in the subject R3-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, specifically, commercial vehicle repair and storage are both Use Group 16 (ZR § 32-25); contractors' yards, including iron works and container carting are within Use Group 17 (ZR § 42-14); and the storage of salvage auto parts and junk salvage are Use Group 18 (ZR § 42-15); and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that the uses are in violation of the Building Code because they are not supported by the legal use documents on file with DOB; the only documents on record are a 1912 New Building Application for a dwelling that was presumably the one demolished in 1973; and

WHEREAS, DOB maintains that the evidence demonstrates that Use Group 18 junk salvage storage is present at the site; based on its inspector's observations, there were numerous damaged empty metal containers at the site, which it deems constitute junk salvage/storage; and

WHEREAS, as to what portion of the lot is subject to the Order, DOB asserts that all of Lot 82 is subject to it as the Order describes the premises as 159-17 Meyer Avenue "a/k/a Lot 82" rather than saying "a portion of Lot 82"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the fact that the OATH petition did not list the range of addresses at Lot 82 does not limit the scope of the padlock action given, in particular, the fact that some premises do not have street addresses as is fairly common for undeveloped land; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that it is currently investigating other lots on the block as it appears that illegal uses extend beyond Lot 82; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the record fails to reflect that the non-conforming use was established on Lot 82 prior to 1947 when it was zoned for residential use; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find that the four supplemental affidavits (from Brancato, Griffin, Puppe, and Jenkins) provide a sufficient level of detail or information about the site prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, first, the Board notes that by Mr. Brancato's own testimony, he states that he did not enter the United States until 1950 and did not visit first the site until several years after that, so his statements about the use of the site prior to 1947 are purely speculative; and

WHEREAS, as to the Griffin Affidavit, the Board notes that it is very general, based on the assertion that Mr. Griffin's family had a business near the site during the period of 1945 to 1975, but does not include any detail or isolated point of reference in time as the Board finds would be difficult to do for period more than 65 years ago; and

WHEREAS, as to the Puppe Affidavit, the Board agrees with DOB that Mr. Puppe's statement that the whole blockfront from 159th Street to the railroad was used for iron works calls into question the precision of his recollections of that period more than 65 years ago given that historic records show that there were several homes along Meyer Avenue in the 1940s until their demolition beginning in 1958 according to City records; additionally, as with the Griffin Affidavit, there is a lack of specificity and precision; and

WHEREAS, finally, as to the Jenkins Affidavit, the Board notes that Mr. Jenkins' personal observations did not begin until 1960 and the Board is not persuaded by the statement that the use must have been established prior to 1947 or DOB would not have dismissed complaints and allowed it to continue; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB erroneously relied on a 1961 establishment date as reflected in its complaint reports and the early stages of the proceedings in the matter; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that there is nothing in the record that confirms that DOB ever required or that the Appellant proved the establishment of the use in 1947; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the only other pre-1947 evidence in the record – the 1940 DOB ledger – is not legible but seems to reflect a "dwelling, garage, shop" and does not speak to the establishment of an iron works on Lot 82; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that Lot 82 is subject to the Order of Closure, in the absence of any evidence or arguments in the record to limit it to 159-17 Meyer Avenue; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the Board directed the Appellant to photograph the current uses at the site and to provide a map of where the different addresses on Lot 82 are located to support its argument that 159-17 Meyer Avenue should be considered distinct from other addresses and the Order should only cover that one portion of the site; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant failed to provide photographs or the map and never explained how different addresses fit into Lot 82; and

WHEREAS, in fact, the Board notes that the Appellant has claimed that addresses are somewhat interchangeable across the block as the Meyer Avenue addresses where the use is located are not always used while there has been consistent use of a 159th Street address for the offices; and

WHEREAS, based on site visits and a review of recent aerial photographs, the Board finds that it is difficult even to conclude that the entire use is within Lot 82 as certain site conditions seem to straddle other lots, including Lot 74, Lot 80, Lot 101, and even into Bedell Street; and

WHEREAS, the Board understands that DOB is investigating the legality of other uses on the block; and

WHEREAS, the Board recognizes that on a site with a significant amount of open use and temporary structures, it is difficult to differentiate between portions of the site, particularly on a site with significant depth in relation to actual street frontage; and

WHEREAS, as to the question of continuity, the Board notes that so long as the Use Group 17 use was established prior to 1947, the Zoning Resolution would allow for it to convert to another Use Group 17 or 16 use, but not to Use Group 18; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that truck repair is Use Group 16 and metal finishing or heat treatment or manufacturing is Use Group 17, both of which would be permitted to continue if the Use Group 17 iron works had been established in 1947 and not discontinued; and

WHEREAS, the Board cannot definitively conclude based on its own observations nor is it persuaded by DOB that the current use constitutes a discontinuance of the iron works use or another use that would be permitted if the non-conforming use were established in 1947; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board notes that the record before it does not thoroughly address the question of continuity of use to an extent that the Board can make a determination; and

WHEREAS, the Board refrains from addressing whether there were any procedural irregularities associated with the OATH proceeding as it is able to exercise its zoning expertise with regard to non-conforming use independent of the OATH proceeding and as, noted above, its review of the facts and the record is de novo; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board notes that the Appellant has had nearly four years since DOB's first inspection in 2009 to gather evidence to support its claims of establishment and continuity of use and finds four years to be an ample amount of time to assemble evidence and defend its position; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board concludes as follows: (1) the non-conforming use has not been established prior to 1947; (2) the whole of Lot 82 is the appropriate subject of the review; and (3) any use of the site which does not conform to R3-2 zoning district regulations must cease; and Therefore it is Resolved, that this appeal, which challenges an Order of Closure issued by DOB on November 23, 2010, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 8, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Director of the NYC Development Hub, dated February 7, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121329268 reads, in pertinent part:

> Proposed conversion of an office building to a Use Group 5 transient hotel does not comply with MDL Section 26(7), in that legally required windows open onto an existing inner court; and

WHEREAS, this is an application pursuant to Multiple Dwelling Law ("MDL") § 310, to vary court requirements in order to allow for the proposed conversion of the subject building from office and adult vocational school uses (Use Groups 6 and 9) to a transient hotel (Use Group 5), contrary to MDL § 26(7); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 9, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on August 13, 2013, and then to decision on October 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular lot located on the south side of Beekman Street and extending from Theater Alley to Nassau Street, within a C5-5 district within the Special Lower Manhattan District; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 100 feet of frontage along Beekman Street, approximately 146 feet of frontage along Nassau Street, approximately 150 feet of frontage along Theater Alley, and a lot area of 14,937 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a ten-story commercial building that was constructed between 1881 and 1890 and is known as the Temple Court Building and Annex (the "Building'); and

WHEREAS, on February 10, 1998, the Building was designated as an individual landmark by the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC"); and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since October 19, 2004, when, under BSA Cal. No. 383-03-A, the Board authorized the retention of an open, unenclosed access stair contrary to the 1938 Building Code and the MDL in connection with a proposed conversion from office and adult vocational school uses (Use Groups 6 and 9) to residences (Use Group 2); and

WHEREAS, in 2009, another application was filed with the Board, under BSA Cal. No. 12-09-A, seeking MDL and 1938 Building Code waivers in connection with a proposed conversion from office and adult vocational school uses (Use Groups 6 and 9) to transient hotel (Use Group 5); this application was withdrawn on July 19, 2011; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, despite the Board's action under BSA Cal. No. 383-08-A, the Building was never converted to residential use and has been vacant for many years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now proposes to convert the Building to a transient hotel use (Use Group 5) with 287 rooms (the "Proposal"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that while the proposed use is permitted as-of-right in the underlying zoning district, the Building's existing inner court, as defined by MDL § 4(32), does not comply with the applicable provisions of the MDL; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to MDL § 4(9), transient hotels are considered "class B" multiple dwellings; therefore the proposed hotel use must comply with the relevant provisions of the MDL; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to MDL § 30(2), every room in a multiple dwelling must have one window opening directly upon a street or upon a lawful yard, court or space above a setback located on the same lot as that occupied by the multiple dwelling; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that of the 287 rooms proposed, 32 rooms (11 percent) would have required windows opening onto the existing inner court; and

WHEREAS, MDL § 26(7) states that, except as otherwise provided in the Zoning Resolution, (1) an inner court shall have a minimum width of four inches for each one foot of height of such court and (2) the area of such inner court shall be twice the square of the required width of the court, but need not exceed 1,200 sq. ft. so long as there is a horizontal distance of at least 30 feet between any required living room window opening onto such court and any wall opposite such window; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Building's existing inner court with a height of 121 feet does not comply with the requirements of MDL § 26(7), in that it has a width of 30'-8¼" and a depth of 16'-2¾", and an area of 514 sq. ft., but is required, per MDL § 26(7) to have a minimum width of 40'-5" and a minimum depth of 30'-0" and an area of 1,200 sq. ft.; as such, the applicant requests that the Board waive compliance with that provision pursuant to MDL § 310; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to MDL § 310(2)(a), the Board has the authority to vary or modify certain provisions of the MDL for multiple dwellings that existed on July 1, 1948, provided that the Board determines that strict compliance with such provisions would cause practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships, and that the spirit and intent of the MDL are maintained, public health, safety and welfare are preserved, and substantial justice is done; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the Building was constructed in the 1880s and completed around 1890; therefore it is subject to MDL § 310(2)(a); and

WHEREAS, specifically, MDL § 310(2)(a) empowers the Board to vary or modify provisions or requirements related to: (1) height and bulk; (2) required open spaces; (3) minimum dimensions of yards or courts; (4) means of egress; and (5) basements and cellars in tenements converted to dwellings; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that MDL § 26(7) specifically relates to the minimum dimensions of courts; therefore the Board has the power to vary or modify the subject provision pursuant to MDL § 310(2)(a)(3); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship would result from strict compliance with the MDL; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, in order for all of the hotel units in the proposed hotel to have windows that open onto a street or a lawful yard or court, as required by MDL § 30(2), extensive structural work would be required to enlarge the inner court to a complying dimension, including construction of new foundations below the annex cellar, shoring of the two existing floor beams down to the foundation, the installation of three new beams on the edge of the new opening, the installation of a new metal deck and concrete topping between the edge beam and the remaining interior floor beam, the demolition of each floor and wall for one story below, and the installation of a new light well façade; and

WHEREAS, as an alternative to the creation of a complying court, the applicant explored the feasibility of a design in which the inner court was not altered and the rooms were configured so that no room used the inner court to satisfy MDL § 30(2); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that both complying configurations significantly increase costs and reduce revenue; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant represents that providing a complying inner court would result in a reduction in the number of hotel rooms from 287 to 263 (24 rooms) and a loss of 6,669 sq. ft. of floor area; further, the construction cost of providing a complying court would exceed the proposed design cost by approximately $23,000 per room; and

WHEREAS, as to the design in which the inner court is not altered and the rooms are reconfigured, the applicant represents that such a design would result in a reduction in the number of rooms from 287 to 255 (32 rooms) and construction costs in excess of the proposed design of approximately $31,000 per room; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant asserts that both complying designs would generate significantly less annually than the proposal; specifically, the complying inner court design would generate approximately $2,500,000 less than the proposal and the reconfigured rooms design would generate approximately $3,400,000 less than the proposal; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, the Board agrees that the applicant has established a sufficient level of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship in complying with the requirements of MDL § 26(7); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requested variance of MDL §26(7) is consistent with the spirit and intent of the MDL, and will preserve public health, safety and welfare, and substantial justice; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Building was constructed to meet the demands of a late-19th Century office and, as such, is unsuitable to satisfy the demands of a modern office, but can be altered to provide transient accommodations to business travelers and tourists in Lower Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that only 11 percent of the rooms will use the existing inner court for light and ventilation and that, because the rooms will be occupied for less than 30 days, and, presumably, by visitors who will spend a significant portion of their time touring the city or conducting business outside their room, the impact of the deficient court upon the health, safety and welfare of the occupants of the hotel will be, at most, negligible; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal will not affect the historical integrity of the building, which, as noted above, was designated by LPC as an individual landmark in 1998; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a Certificate of No Effect from LPC approving the proposed interior alterations, dated April 30, 2013, and a Permit for Minor Work from LPC approving the exterior alterations, dated March 27, 2013; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, the Board finds that the proposed variance to MDL § 26(7) will maintain the spirit and intent of the MDL, preserve public health, safety and welfare, and ensure that substantial justice is done; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the Appellant has submitted adequate evidence in support of the findings required to be made under MDL § 310(2)(a) and that the requested variance of MDL § 26(7) is appropriate, with certain conditions set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the decision of the Executive Director of the NYC Development Hub, dated February 7, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121329268, is modified and that this application is granted, limited to the decision noted above, on condition that construction shall substantially conform to the plans filed with the application marked, "Received June 3, 2013" - twelve (12) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed Department of Buildings objections related to the MDL;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated August 21, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420113745, reads in pertinent part:

> The subject building is located on a zoning lot split into R2A and C2-2/R4 zoning districts (and) enlargement of vertical and horizontal at R2A portion of building is contrary to ZR 22-00 (and) enlargement of C2-2/R4 portion of building exceed[s] maximum permitted FAR, contrary to ZR 33-121; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-52, 73-63, and 73-03, to permit, on a site partially within an R2A zoning district and partially within a C2-2 (R4) zoning district, the legalization of an extension of an existing commercial use within portions of an existing building within the R2A portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 22-00, and the enlargement of a non-complying, non-residential building within the C2-2 portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 33-121; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 16, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on August 13, 2013 and September 10, 2013, and then to decision on October 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Queens, recommends approval of this application, on condition that there will be no parking or driving on the sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregular corner lot located at the northwest corner of the intersection of 35th Avenue and Bell Boulevard, partially within an R2A zoning district and partially within a C2-2 (R4) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 133 feet of frontage along 35th Avenue, approximately 32 feet of frontage along Bell Boulevard, and a lot area of 4,435 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a two-story eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6) with 4,556 sq. ft. of floor area (2,471 sq. ft. of floor area (0.75 FAR) within the C2-2 (R4) portion of the zoning lot; and 2,085 sq. ft. of floor area (1.82 FAR) within the R2A portion of the zoning lot); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the commercial uses have existed at the site since well before December 15, 1961, when the current R2A portion of the site was zoned R2; therefore, the commercial use in that portion of the lot is legally non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, in recent years (since 2005), a portion of the rear alley along the northern border of the site was enclosed and a small enlargement was constructed along the western border of the site; because these additions were located within the R2A portion of the lot, the amount of commercial floor area in the residence district increased, contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to: (1) pursuant to ZR § 73-52, extend the use regulations applicable in the C2-2 (R4) portion of the lot 25 feet to the west along the northern lot line, thereby legalizing the portion of the enclosure of the alley within the R2A portion of the lot; (2) pursuant to ZR § 73-63, enlarge the portion of the restaurant within the C2-2 (R4) portion of the lot from 4,291 sq. ft. (1.02 FAR) to 4,590 sq. ft. (1.09 FAR); and (3) demolish the small enlargement constructed along the western border of the site; and

WHEREAS, as to floor area changes under the proposal, the applicant states that the commercial floor area within the R2A portion of the district will decrease—because of the extension of the district boundary—from 2,085 sq. ft. (1.82 FAR) to 265 sq. ft. (1.09 FAR), while the floor area within the C2-2 (R4) portion of the lot will increase from 2,471 sq. ft. (0.75 FAR) to 4,590 sq. ft. (1.09 FAR); and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-52 provides that when a zoning lot, in single ownership as of December 15, 1961, is divided by district boundaries in which two or more uses are permitted, the Board may permit a use which is permitted in the district in which more than 50 percent of the lot area of the zoning lot is located to extend not more than 25 feet into the remaining portion of the zoning lot where such use is not permitted, provided that: (1) without any such extension, it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the remaining portion of the zoning lot for a permitted use; and (2) such extension will not cause impairment of the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, as to the threshold single ownership requirement, the applicant submitted deeds and historic Sanborn maps establishing that the subject property has existed in single ownership since prior to December 15, 1961; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the applicant has provided sufficient evidence showing that the zoning lot was in single ownership prior to December 15, 1961 and continuously from that time onward; and

WHEREAS, as to the threshold 50 percent requirement, 3,326 sq. ft. (75 percent) of the site's total lot area of 4,435 sq. ft. is located within the C2-2 (R4) zoning district, which is more than the required 50 percent of lot area; and

WHEREAS, as to the first finding, the applicant represents that it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the R2A portion of the zoning lot for a permitted use; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states the residential portion of the lot is too small—approximately 35 feet wide and 35 feet deep—to accommodate a complying building; further, a complying use, particularly a residence, would be nearly impossible to market because it would be surrounded by non-residential uses; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the remaining portion of the zoning lot, zoned R2A, for a permitted use; and

WHEREAS, as to the second finding, the applicant states that the proposed development is consistent with existing land use conditions and anticipated projects in the immediate area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Bell Boulevard is predominantly commercial in nature, including two gasoline stations at the intersection of Bell Boulevard and 35th Avenue; the applicant also notes that the commercial use has existed at the site for decades; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed extension of the C2-2 (R4) zoning district portion of the lot into the R2A portion will not cause impairment of the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-63 permits the enlargement of a non-complying, non-residential building provided that: (1) such building existing on December 15, 1961; (2) the enlargement does not create any new non-compliance or increase the degree of any existing non-compliance; and (3) the enlargement does not increase the floor area beyond ten percent of the maximum permitted FAR in the underlying district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that DOB records indicate that the building was constructed around 1930 and that the proposal neither creates a new non-compliance, nor increases the degree of any existing non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the maximum permitted FAR in the C2-2 (R4) district is 1.0 and that the proposal—including the extension of the district boundary pursuant to ZR § 73-52—results in a commercial FAR of 1.09; thus, the enlargement may be permitted under ZR § 73-63; the applicant notes that the remaining commercial floor area (265 sq. ft.) is lawfully non-conforming, as stated above; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposal satisfies the threshold requirements of ZR § 73-63; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested clarification regarding the footprint of the building prior to the recent enlargements; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a survey of the building completed prior to 2005 and deeds for the relevant lots covering the time period in question; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the proposed action will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the granting of the proposed special permits is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-52, 73-63, and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 17.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No.13BSA050Q, dated April 5, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the bank would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-52, 73-63, and 73-03, to permit, on a site partially within an R2A zoning district and partially within a C2-2 (R4) zoning district, the legalization of an extension of an existing commercial use within portions of an existing building within the R2A portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 22-00, and the enlargement of a non-complying, non-residential building within the C2-2 portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 33-121; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received October 7, 2013" – five (5) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building will be as follows: 265 sq. ft. (1.09 FAR) within the R2A portion of the lot and 4,590 sq. ft. (1.09 FAR) within the C2-2 (R4);

THAT substantial construction will be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all of the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 8, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated November 11, 2012, and acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320397691 reads, in pertinent part:

1. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 23-141 in that the proposed open space is less than the minimum required;
2. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 23-141 in that the proposed lot coverage exceeds the maximum permitted;
3. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 113-55 and 23-631 in that the proposed wall height exceeds the maximum permitted; and
4. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 113-542 and 23-45 in that the proposed front yards are less than the minimum required; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family semi-detached home that does not provide the required open space, lot coverage, perimeter wall height, or front yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-631, 23-45, 113-542, and 113-55; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on September 17, 2013, and then to decision on October 8, 2013;

and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community submitted oral and written testimony in opposition to the application, citing concerns about the proposed building's overall bulk and the impact of construction upon surrounding neighbors; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Avenue P and East Seventh Street, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District; and

WHEREAS, the site has 90 feet of frontage along East Seventh Street, 17 feet of frontage along Avenue P, and 1,710 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site has an irregular shape; its lot width varies from 17 feet at its narrowest point (along the Avenue P frontage) to 27 feet along its northern boundary (running perpendicular to East Seventh Street); and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a two-story, semi-detached, single-family home with approximately 1,505.30 sq. ft. of floor area (0.88 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing first and second stories of the building contrary to the open space, lot coverage, perimeter wall, and front yard requirements, and increase the floor area from 1,505.30 sq. ft. (0.88 FAR) to 2,415.75 sq. ft. (1.41 FAR) (a maximum of 2,565 sq. ft. (1.50 FAR) is permitted); and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant proposes to decrease its open space from 52 percent to 39 percent (a minimum open space of 45 percent is required, per ZR § 23-141(b)), increase its lot coverage from 48 percent to 61 percent (a maximum lot coverage of 55 percent is permitted, per ZR § 23-141(b)), maintain its existing non-complying perimeter wall height of 23'-11" (a maximum perimeter wall height of 21'-0" is permitted, per ZR § 113-55), and maintain its existing non-complying front yard depths of 0'-6 ¾" along East Seventh Street and 5'-7 3/16" along Avenue P (two front yards of no less than 10 feet each are required, per ZR § 113-542); the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement complies in all other respects with the applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, because the proposed enlargement does not comply with the R5/Special Ocean Parkway District regulations, a variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the subject site in compliance with underlying zoning regulations: (1) the lot's small size and narrowness; (2) the underdevelopment of the existing home; and (3) the orientation of the existing home on the corner lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that with only 1,710 sq. ft. lot area, the site has less lot area than every lot in the R5 district except one; further, the site's lot width of 17 feet (for the majority of the lot) makes it the narrowest corner lot out of the 38 corner lots in the applicant's R5 district study;

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that all other corner lots in the district have at least 2,000 sq. ft. of lot area and the average lot area is 3,335.7 sq. ft. (nearly twice that of the subject site); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that based on the lot size and narrow width, and its location as a corner lot, any conforming enlargement would be severely restricted by the underlying yard and open space requirements and would not be able to provide livable space for the enlarged home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the existing home with a floor area of 1,505 sq. ft (0.88 FAR) is underdeveloped compared to the allowable square footage of 2,565 sq. ft (1.5 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the existing home is the fifth smallest of 37 homes occupying corner lots, the average being 2,995 sq. ft; and

WHEREAS, as to the orientation of the existing home on the lot, the applicant states that because the home is currently 16'-3 5/8" in width with a non-complying front yard of 0'-6 ¾", an as-of-right enlargement providing the required 10'-0" front yard would result in a building width of only seven feet in the enlarged portion of the building from exterior wall to exterior wall, which yields a livable space with a width of approximately five feet; thus, an as-of-right enlargement would not even yield rooms that meet the minimum dimensional requirements for habitability, let alone accommodate modern living space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that because other corner lots in the district have more lot width, the front yard requirements can be satisfied without overwhelming the living space; the subject site, on the other hand, is too narrow to provide complying front yards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also contrasts the site's as-of-right enlargement limitations with other semi-detached interior lots on the block, noting that such lots generally require one side yard (the equivalent of the site's East Seventh Street front yard because the site is a corner lot) of only four feet; thus, other lots on the block have between three and six more feet of lot width, but have yard requirements that are generally six feet less than the subject lot's; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the applicant asserts that its site is uniquely burdened and cannot realize its potential floor area without the requested waivers to floor area, open space, and lot coverage; and

WHEREAS, further, since the existing home has an existing non-complying perimeter wall of 23'-11", it would be impractical to enlarge the home and, at the same time, provide a complying perimeter wall at 21 feet for the enlarged section without significant structural changes included potentially lowering the existing second floor or creating a floor to ceiling height within the enlarged section of approximately seven feet; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that compliance with applicable zoning regulations will result in a habitable home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal will maintain the existing non-complying front yards and reduce the existing side yard from a complying 30'-3" to a complying 20 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that its design minimizes neighborhood impact by locating the majority of the enlargement at the rear of the site; however, such design required a modest reduction in side yard width; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the enlargement will maintain the existing building height of 33'-8" (the maximum permitted height is 35 feet) and pull the ridge toward the rear of the site, which will result in a roofline and streetscape that is compatible with the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant notes that the proposed FAR is well within the maximum permitted in the district and that the proposed open space and lot coverage deviate less than 13 and 11 percent, respectively, from the requirements; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is a result of the unique conditions at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, within an R5 zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the enlargement of an existing single-family semi-detached home that does not provide the required open space, lot coverage, perimeter wall height, or front yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-631, 23-45, 113-542, and 113-55; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received September 3, 2013"- (10) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the proposed building will be limited to: two stories, a maximum perimeter wall height of 23'-11", a maximum building height of 33'-8", a maximum floor area of 2,415.75 sq. ft. (1.41 FAR), minimum open space of 39 percent, maximum lot coverage of 61 percent, and front yards with minimum widths of 0'-6 ¾" and 5'-7 3/16", as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT significant construction shall proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 8, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated May 6, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No. 320221309, reads in pertinent part:

> Total proposed zoning floor area of 5,736 square feet, including 366 square feet at the attic level, exceeds maximum allowed in R6 district for Quality Housing development, per ZR 23-145; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03, to permit, within an R6 zoning district within a limited height district (LH-1) within the Cobble Hill Historic District, the legalization of an enlargement of a two-family residence, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio ("FAR"), contrary to ZR § 23-145; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 17, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior lot located on the east side of Clinton Street, between Amity Street and Congress Street, within an R6 zoning district within a limited height district (LH-1) within the Cobble Hill Historic District; and

WHEREAS, the site has a lot area of 2,261.5 sq. ft. and is occupied by a two-family residence (the "Subject Building") with a floor area of 5,376 sq. ft. (2.38 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in October 2010, the owner filed Application No. 320221309 to perform certain alterations to the Subject Building, including renovations of the first story, rear façade and roof; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the increase in floor area is located in the attic and was originally excluded from floor area by DOB when Application No. 320221309 was approved; however, subsequently, DOB determined that the 366 sq. ft. was required to be included in floor area because it was to be used for dwelling purposes; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks to legalize the increase in the floor area from 4,974 sq. ft. (2.2 FAR) to 5,376 sq. ft. (2.38 FAR); the applicant notes that the maximum floor area permitted is 4,975.3 sq. ft. (2.2 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the special permit authorized by ZR § 73-621 is available to enlarge buildings containing residential uses that existed on December 15, 1961, or, in certain districts, on June 20, 1989; therefore, as a threshold matter, the applicant must establish that the Subject Building existed as of that date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents, and the Board accepts, that the Subject Building has existed in its pre-enlarged state since 1957, when DOB issued Certificate of Occupancy No. 156051 in connection with alterations authorized under Alteration Application No. 87/1957; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-621 permits the enlargement of a residential building such as the subject two-family building if the following requirements are met: (1) the proposed open space ratio is at least 90 percent of the required open space; (2) in districts where there are lot coverage limits, the proposed lot coverage does not exceed 110 percent of the maximum permitted; and (3) the proposed floor area ratio does not exceed 110 percent of the maximum permitted; and

WHEREAS, as to the floor area ratio, the applicant represents that the proposed floor area is 108 percent of the maximum permitted; and

WHEREAS, as to lot coverage, the applicant represents that the enlargement did not alter the existing, complying lot coverage of 58.2 percent (the maximum permitted lot coverage is 60 percent); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has reviewed the proposal and determined that the proposed enlargement satisfies all of the relevant requirements of ZR § 73-621; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the enlargement will have no negative effects on the community, in that it does not increase the density or use of the building and does not modify the building's envelope in any horizontal direction; further, the applicant asserts that the slight increase in height involved in the enlargement has no appreciable impacts on the privacy, quiet, light or ventilation of the adjacent buildings or the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the Landmarks Preservation Commission has approved the enlargement by Certificate of Appropriateness, dated January 24, 2011; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03, to permit, within an R6 zoning district within a limited height district (LH-1) within the Cobble Hill Historic District, the legalization of an enlargement of a two-family residence, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio ("FAR"), contrary to ZR § 23-145; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received August 29, 2013"– (11) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the maximum floor area of the building will be 5,376 sq. ft. (2.38 FAR), as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objections(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening and an amendment to a previously granted variance permitting residential use within a manufacturing district; the amendment proposes the relocation of floor area from maisonette units to townhouse units, with no net change in floor area, and a reduction in the total number of dwelling units on the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 24, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site spans the full length of Hudson Street between Leroy Street and St. Luke's Place, within an M1-5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 200 feet of frontage along Hudson Street, 150 feet of frontage along Clarkson Street, 125 feet of frontage along Leroy Street, and a lot area of 27,584 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a ten-story mixed residential and commercial building (the "Main Building") and five, two-story residential buildings (the "Townhouses"), with a total of 184 dwelling units; the ground floor and mezzanine of the Main Building contains eight residential units (the "Maisonettes"); and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since July 20, 1976 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a use variance authorizing the conversion of an existing eight-story industrial building to a mixed commercial and residential building (Use Group 2) within an M1-5 zoning district; on that same day, under BSA Cal. No. 607-75-A, the Board granted an appeal pursuant to New York State Multiple Dwelling Law § 310 waiving compliance with certain provisions of the MDL governing rear yard, egress, living room depth from a window, and flue projections; and

WHEREAS, on April 5, 2011, under BSA Cal. No. 226-10-BZ, the Board granted a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-36 to permit a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on the first, ninth and tenth stories of the building; simultaneously, the Board granted an amendment to the subject variance to reflect the floor plan changes associated with the PCE; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to amend the grant to decrease the floor area of the mezzanine levels within the Maisonettes by 1,345 sq. ft., increase the floor area of the Townhouses by 1,345 sq. ft. and to alter certain other dwelling units within the Main Building; the proposed relocation of floor area and Main Building alterations will result in a decrease in the number of Maisonette dwelling units from eight to three and a decrease in the number of Townhouse dwelling units from five to two; the alterations not related to the Maisonettes or the Townhouses will result in a decrease in the number of dwelling units from 141 to 138; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the amendment will increase the height of the Townhouses from 26'-1" to 29'-9" and will result in new landscaping, walkways and drainage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposed reduction in the number of dwelling units at the site will decrease the scope of the use variance and will have no adverse effects on the surrounding community; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested amended drawings clearly delineating the relocation of the floor area; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended drawings; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of term and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, as adopted on July 20, 1976, to permit the relocation of floor area from the Maisonettes to the Townhouses and the reduction in the number of dwelling units at the site; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received October 8, 2013'- seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THE APPLICABLE STANDARD FOR NON-CONFORMING USES

WHEREAS, DOB and the Appellant agree that the site is currently within a C6-1G zoning district and that the Sign is not permitted as-of-right within the zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, in order to establish the affirmative defense that the non-conforming signs are permitted to remain, the Appellant must meet the Zoning Resolution's criteria for a "non-conforming use" as defined at ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 12-10 defines "non-conforming" use as "any lawful use, whether of a building or other structure or of a tract of land, which does not conform to any one or more of the applicable use regulations of the district in which it is located, either on December 15, 1961 or as a result of any subsequent amendment thereto"; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Appellant must comply with ZR § 52-61 (Discontinuance, General Provisions) which states that: "[i]f, for a continuous period of two years, either the non-conforming use of land with minor improvements is discontinued, or the active operation of substantially all the non-conforming uses in any building or other structure is discontinued, such land . . . shall thereafter be used only for a conforming use"; and

WHEREAS, through the hearing process, DOB and the Appellant came to agree that because the site was located in a Business District (under the 1916 Zoning Resolution) beginning in 1947, the Appellant was required to demonstrate that the Sign existed prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, the parties also agree that the Appellant must demonstrate that the Sign has existed without any two-year period of discontinuance since its establishment, and that DOB's Technical Policy and Procedure Notice No. 14/1988 (the "TPPN") provides guidelines for DOB's review of whether a non-conforming use has been continuous; and

WHEREAS, the TPPN provides, in pertinent part, that:

> [T]he following shall be a guideline, in order of preference, for the acceptable documentation in support of [an] existing use for legalization or proof of continual non-conforming use:
> a) Records of documentation from any City Agency. Such records may include, but not be limited to, tax records, multiple dwelling registration cards, I cards from HPD and cabaret licenses.
> b) Records, bills, documentation from public utilities indicating name and address of business and time period bills cover.
> c) Any other documentation or bills indicating the use of the building, such as telephone ads, commercial trash hauler invoices, liquor licenses, etc.
> d) Only after satisfactory explanation or proof that the documentation pursuant to (a), (b) or (c) does not exist, affidavits regarding the use of a building will be accepted to support either an application for legalization or as proof concerning whether or not a prior non-conforming use was continual per ZR 52-61. However, where such affidavits are submitted, they may be accepted only after the Borough Superintendent has reviewed them with close scrutiny; and

WHEREAS, further, the parties agree that, in the context of non-conforming signs, photographic evidence is given substantial weight; and

LAWFUL ESTABLISHMENT

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Sign was established as an advertising sign prior to 1947 in 1932, and submits a 1932 photograph (the "1932 Photograph") in support of that statement; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that while the 1932 Photograph is blurry, the evidence in the record in its totality supports the conclusion that an advertising sign would have been established at the site and maintained through 1947; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Appellant states that DOB has previously accepted blurry photographs as establishing a non-conforming advertising sign; specifically, the Appellant states that two roof signs at 55 Washington Street, Brooklyn were accepted as established based in part on two photographs as blurry as the 1932 Photograph; and

WHEREAS, as to the Sign's initial existence as an advertising sign, the Appellant states that an advertising sign would have been permitted as-of-right in 1932, because the site was within an Unrestricted District, which contained no restrictions on signs; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant contends that, based on the opinion of its media consultant, the wall of the Building—which is visible to pedestrian and vehicle traffic on Canal Street approaching Bowery and the entrance to the Manhattan Bridge—was historically and remains an ideal location for advertising, and was, based on the record, used for advertising for decades; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the Sign is likely to have existed as an advertising sign after its establishment for the same reasons it was likely to have been established as an advertising sign in the first place—its highly visible location on a busy Lower Manhattan street would have made it attractive to advertisers and much more lucrative to the Building's owner than a business sign; and

WHEREAS, likewise, the Appellant contends that the Sign, once established, is not only likely to have existed, but also is, pursuant to the presumption of continuity, presumed to have existed through 1947; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Appellant states that it is proper to apply the evidentiary principle of the "presumption of continuity" as set forth in Prince-Richardson on Evidence § 3-101 (1995) and Wilkins v. Earle, 44 NY 172 (1870), to find that the Sign was not discontinued because DOB has not presented evidence of discontinuance; in particular, the Appellant asserts that under that principle, once an object, condition, or tendency is factually established, it may be presumed to continue for as long as is usual with such conditions; further, the Appellant explains that the presumption of continuity "reflects a common sense appraisal of the probative value of circumstantial evidence," Foltis v. City of New York, 287 NY 108, 115 (1941), and should be applied in the instant matter to find that the evidence supports a finding that the Sign continued even if the items of evidence of its existence do not cover the entire period in question; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant contends that the record demonstrates that the Sign was established prior to 1947 as a non-conforming advertising sign under the 1916 Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the 1932 Photograph is insufficient evidence of the Sign's establishment as a non-conforming advertising sign prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that the photograph is so unclear that it is impossible to even determine whether the building depicted is the Building, let alone whether a painted sign is depicted or whether such sign has a message that can be identified as advertising; and

WHEREAS, as to determination that the roof signs at 55 Washington Street were established, DOB states that the 55 Washington Street photographs it relied upon were: (1) significantly clearer than the 1932 Photograph; and (2) supported by other evidence, including another more recent photograph, as well as records of DOB inspections in 1978, 1979 and 1980, which documented the existence of the signs; as such, DOB asserts that its rejection of the 1932 photograph in this case is distinguishable from its acceptance of photographs in connection with its determination regarding 55 Washington Street, Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, moreover, DOB states that even assuming the 1932 Photograph is accepted as demonstrating that the Sign existed as of 1932, there is no evidence of the Sign's existence as of 1947, when the Sign needed to have been in place in order to become established as a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that the Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Sign was established as a non-conforming use; and

CONTINUITY OF THE SIGN

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that it has submitted sufficient evidence under the TPPN to demonstrate the continuity of the Sign from 1932 to the present; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted the following evidence of the Sign's continuity: (1) 1959 video showing Wing Furniture Co. advertising sign on the Building and Wing Furniture Co. located across the street at 185 Canal Street; (2) 1959 address book listings for individuals and Eisenfeld clothing store at 174 Canal Street and Wing Furniture Co. at 185 Canal Street; (3) 1960 Yellow Pages with Wing Furniture Co. at 185 Canal Street; (4) 1968 photograph showing a cookbook; (5) 1968 address book listings for individuals and Keen Wah Merchandise Co. at the Building; (6) 1975 Yellow Pages Olins Rent-a-Car with no listing for the Building as a location; (7) 1976 photograph showing Olins Rent-a-Car advertising sign; (8) 1976 address book listings for individuals, a restaurant, and a hosiery store at the Building; (9) 1977 lease with three-year term; (10) a 1980(s) Department of Finance photograph showing the pagoda and Chemical Bank; (11) 1980 address book listings for individuals and hardware company; (12) 1985 photograph showing the pagoda and Chemical Bank; (13) 1993 photograph showing Bank Central Asia; (14) 1993 address book listings for individuals and bakery; (15) 1999 photograph showing Golden Bowl with 800 number, located at 220 Moore Street, Brooklyn; (16) 1999 lease with five-year term; (17) 1999 letter from president of Wonton Food, Inc. expressing interest in the Sign and undated credit application/reference for Wonton Food, Inc.; (18) 2004 photograph showing Malaysia Airlines; (19) 2007 photograph showing Eason's Moving On Stage 3 at Mohegan Sun; (20) 2007 contract between OTR and Mohegan Sun; (21) 2008 photograph showing Coors Light Beer; (22) 2008 media contract between OTR and Coors Brewing Company; (23) 2009 photograph showing Americare, a health care organization located at 171 Kings Highway, Brooklyn; (24) 2010 photograph showing AT&T; (25) 2010 media contract between OTR and AT&T Mobility; (26) 2011 photograph showing Jumping the Broom (motion picture); and (27) 2012 photograph showing The Watch (motion picture); and

WHEREAS, as for any gaps in evidence, the Appellant contends that because DOB has not submitted evidence of discontinuance, the presumption of continuity dictates that the Sign is presumed to continue to exist; and

WHEREAS, moreover, according to the Appellant's media consultant, the advertising sign industry had irregular recordkeeping practices and where there was paperwork memorializing a deal to display advertising, an advertising sign is "virtually certain" to have existed; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Appellant states that it has satisfied its burden of demonstrating that the Sign existed from 1947 to the present without any two-year period of discontinuance; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that there are numerous gaps in the Appellant's continuity evidence, as well as evidence that the Sign was removed from the wall in 2003 and in 2007; as such, DOB contends that the Appellant has failed to demonstrate in accordance with the TPPN that the Sign was used for advertising from 1947 to the present without any period(s) of discontinuance for two or more years; and

WHEREAS, as to the gaps, DOB states that the Appellant provides no evidence of the Sign's existence from 1947 to 1959 (a 12-year gap), 1968 to 1976 (an eight-year gap), 1985 to 1993 (an eight-year gap), 1993 to 1999 (a six-year gap), and 1999 to 2004 (a five-year gap); and

WHEREAS, as to the removals of the Sign, DOB submitted "Pictometry" (an online aerial oblique imaging and mapping service) photographs dated April 13, 2003, April 25, 2003, May 31, 2003, June 3, 2003, and May 14, 2007 showing the east wall of the Building without the Sign; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Sign existed from 1947 to the present without any two-year period of discontinuance; as such, DOB asserts that even if the Sign use was established, such use was discontinued and must terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the Appellant has not submitted sufficient evidence of the Sign's establishment prior to 1947; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board rejects that the 1932 Photograph demonstrates that the Sign existed as early as 1932; on the contrary, the Board agrees with DOB that the 1932 Photograph does not show an advertising sign on the wall of the Building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, at most, the 1932 Photograph shows that the east wall of the Building is a different color than the front façade of the Building, and nothing about the color of the wall "directs attention to attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment"; as such, the 1932 Photograph does not depict an "advertising sign" as that term is defined under ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, likewise, the Board agrees with DOB that the Appellant has not demonstrated that the Sign existed prior to 1947, when the site was zoned as a Business District; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the Sign was not established as a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, because the Board finds that the Sign was never established as non-conforming, it is unnecessary to determine whether the presumption of continuity impels the Board to find, based on the Appellant's evidence, that the Sign was not discontinued; and

WHEREAS, in conclusion, the Board finds that DOB properly revoked the Permit for the Sign; and Therefore it is Resolved, that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on February 5, 2013, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 22, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an appeal of a final determination, issued by the First Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB") on April 9, 2013 (the "Final Determination") acting on DOB Application No. 121398246, which states, in pertinent part that:

> The request to accept the existing non-illuminated advertising sign at the premises, currently located in a C2-8 zoning district, as lawfully non-conforming is hereby denied . . .
> If an advertising sign can be viewed from a specific point on the arterial highway in any direction, 360 degrees (i.e., whether it is the driver of a car who is facing forward, or a passenger in the back seat of a car facing to the side or the rear, or a passenger in the back seat of a convertible facing the side or rear, etc.), the advertising sign is considered within view (hereinafter, the "360 Degrees Standard"); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on August 20, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on October 8, 2013, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Tenth Avenue and West 40th Street, within a C2-8 zoning district within the Special Hudson Yard District; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by an eight-story community facility building and one-story community facility building; a 3,300 sq. ft. non-illuminated advertising sign (the "Sign") is located the south wall of the eight-story building; and

WHEREAS, this appeal is brought on behalf of OTR Media Group, Inc., the lessee of the Sign (the "Appellant" or "OTR"); and

WHEREAS, DOB appeared and made submissions in opposition to this appeal; and

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

WHEREAS, on October 4, 2012, the Appellant filed a permit application with DOB under Job. No. 121398246 to construct the Sign on the south wall of the eight-story building at the site (the "Permit"); the Permit application indicated that the Sign was an existing, non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, on October 4, 2012, DOB disapproved the Permit application, finding insufficient evidence of the Sign's non-conforming use status; and

WHEREAS, on December 18, 2012, the Appellant submitted a determination request asserting that the Sign was protected pursuant to ZR § 42-58, because a painted sign existed at the site as of December 13, 2000, and, at the time, the site was within a Manufacturing district and not within view of an arterial highway or its approaches, as set forth in Appendix H of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, following a series of discussions between DOB and the Appellant in which the Appellant attempted to establish the Sign's legal use under the Zoning Resolution, on April 9, 2013, DOB issued its Final Determination denying the Permit; and

WHEREAS, DOB's Final Determination, the full text of which is available under ZRD1 Control No. 26253, articulates three grounds for its denial of the Permit: (1) the Sign's proximity within 200 feet and within view of the portion of Dyer Avenue between West 39th Street and West 42nd Street, which, at that point, is considered an "approach" to the Lincoln Tunnel, contrary to ZR § 42-55; (2) the Sign's surface area, which is in excess of that permitted under ZR § 42-55 due to the Sign's proximity within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel; and (3) even if the Sign is not subject to the arterial highway restrictions, the Sign cannot achieve non-conforming status pursuant to ZR § 42-58, because that section only applies where a sign has been constructed pursuant to a permit prior to December 13, 2000, and the Sign prior to that date was a painted sign, which did not require a permit; and

WHEREAS, on May 9, 2013, the Appellant filed the instant appeal, which challenges the first and second grounds of the Final Determination1; and

WHEREAS, through the hearing process, the Appellant and DOB came to agree that the Sign existed prior to the establishment of the traffic patterns on Dyer Avenue that, on occasion, render the Sign within 200 feet and within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel2; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the only dispute remaining is whether, beyond 200 feet, the Sign is within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel because it may be seen at some angles by drivers or passengers; and parks#.

(a) Within 200 feet of an arterial highway or a #public park# with an area of one-half acre or more, #signs# that are within view of such arterial highway or #public park# shall be subject to the following provisions:

(1) no permitted #sign# shall exceed 500 square feet of #surface area#; and

(2) no #advertising sign# shall be allowed; nor shall an existing #advertising sign# be structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed.

(b) Beyond 200 feet from such arterial highway or #public park#, the #surface area# of such #signs# may be increased one square foot for each linear foot such sign is located from the arterial highway or #public park#.

(c) The more restrictive of the following shall apply:

(1) any #advertising sign# erected, structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed prior to June 1, 1968, within 660 feet of the nearest edge of the right-of-way of an arterial highway, whose message is visible from such arterial highway, shall have legal #non-conforming use# status pursuant to Section 52-83 (Non-Conforming Advertising Signs), to the extent of its size existing on May 31, 1968; or

(2) any #advertising sign# erected, structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed between June 1, 1968, and November 1, 1979, within 660 feet of the nearest edge of the right-of-way of an arterial highway, whose message is visible from such arterial highway, and whose size does not exceed 1,200 square feet in #surface area# on its face, 30 feet in height and 60 feet in length, shall have legal #non-conforming use# status pursuant to Section 52-83, to the extent of its size existing on November 1, 1979. All #advertising signs# not in conformance with the standards set forth herein shall terminate.

THE APPELLANT'S POSITION

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Sign is not "within view" of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel; as such, it is not subject to the arterial highway restrictions set forth in ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that a motorist traveling along the approach to the Lincoln Tunnel must turn around to view the Sign, and, thus, the Sign is not "within view" of the Lincoln Tunnel; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that DOB's interpretation of "within view" (as set forth in the Final Determination) is contrary to principles of statutory construction, does not, given the facts of this case, further the purposes of the arterial highway restrictions, and is inconsistent with comparable provisions of federal and state law; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the 360 Degrees Standard—which considers objects behind a viewer to be "within view" of the viewer—offends common senses and is therefore contrary to the settled principles of statutory construction that legislation is presumed to be based in common sense and laws must be construed in the light of common sense, citing McKinney's Statutes § 143, People v. Ahern, 196 NY 221, 227 (1909) and People ex rel. Hallock v. Hennessy, 205 NY 301, 306 (1912); and

1 On appeal, the parties do not address the applicability of ZR § 42-58.

2 Initially, DOB took the position that because an "approach" is, per 1 RCNY 49-01, "that portion of the roadway connecting the local street network to a bridge or tunnel and from which there is no entry or exit to such network," and buses could either exit Dyer Avenue and enter the ramp into the Port Authority Bus Terminal or make a U-turn onto West 40th Street, Dyer Avenue was an "approach" whenever it was being used to connect to West 40th Street. Through the hearing process, it was revealed that the Port Authority controls the portion of Dyer Avenue in question and did not allow U-turns onto West 40th Street until 2003. Accordingly, DOB concedes that Dyer Avenue became an "approach" after the Sign was first painted in 2000.

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the 360 Degrees Standard when applied to the facts of this case does not further the purposes of the arterial highway restrictions (reducing driver distraction and beautifying public spaces) because a driver or passenger must turn completely around in order to even catch a glimpse of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also states that the 360 Degrees Standard is inconsistent with comparable provisions of federal and state law, which reflect a common sense application of the "within view" concept and indicate that a sign is objectionable only if it is capable of being seen in the ordinary course of traveling along a highway; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Appellant states that the Highway Beautification Act (23 USC § 131(b)) uses the phrase "visible from the main traveled way of the system, and erected with the purpose of their message being read from such main traveled way" when describing its analog of "within view" and the law's implementing rules as set forth in 23 CFR 750.102(s) define "visible" as "capable of being seen (whether or not legible) without visual aid by a person of normal visual acuity," and New York State's scheme uses the phrase "visible from the main traveled way" in New York State Highway Law § 88(2) and that statute's rule (17 NYCRR § 150.1(vv)) defines "visible" identically to the federal rule; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant asserts that the 360 Degrees Standard should be rejected in favor of a standard that excludes from "within view" a sign that only becomes visible when the traveler along the arterial highway has passed the plane of the sign, is traveling away from the sign, and must turn around in order to view the sign (the "Bypass Standard"); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Bypass Standard is an objective standard that comports with common sense, furthers the objectives of the underlying federal law, is consistent with similar state and federal regulations regarding arterial signs, and can be easily implemented by DOB; and

WHEREAS, as such, the Bypass Standard should be applied in the instant case to support a finding that the Sign: (1) is not within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel; (2) is not subject to the arterial sign restrictions; and (3) therefore became a legal non-conforming advertising sign (as to height and surface area) when the site was rezoned from M1-5 to C2-8 on January 19, 2005; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant states that it has submitted sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the Sign has existed without any two-year period of discontinuance since becoming a non-conforming use in 2005; therefore the Sign is permitted to remain pursuant to ZR § 52-11; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Appellant states that DOB's refusal to approve the Permit application must be reversed; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Sign is "within view" of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel; thus, the painting of the Sign in 2000 was contrary to the arterial sign restrictions; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that in 2000 when the Sign was painted in violation of ZR § 42-531, which regulated signs "within view" of an arterial highway and provided that

> [b]eyond 200 feet from such arterial highway or public park, an advertising sign shall be located at a distance of at least as many linear feet therefrom as there are square feet of surface area on the fact of such sign; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, as noted above, it interprets "within view" using the 360 Degree Standard; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that the 360 Degree Standard is the only reasonable interpretation of "within view"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that other measurements of "within view," including the Appellant's Bypass Standard, would be unworkable, necessarily involve some measure of subjectivity in determining the angle of the viewer's sightline, and would result in inconsistent determinations regarding whether a sign was within view; and

WHEREAS, DOB responds to the Appellant's arguments regarding the Federal Beautification Act and New York State Highway Law, which DOB characterizes as applying only where a sign may be viewed by "a driver of a car looking straight ahead," by asserting that there is nothing in the legislative history of the arterial highway restrictions of the Zoning Resolution that suggest they were intended to replicate the federal and state requirements; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB notes that neither the Department of City Planning, nor the City Council has signified an intent to adopt a "within view" standard similar to the state or federal regulation despite opportunities to do so in connection with the various sign regulation amendments over the years; and

WHEREAS, DOB also states that the 360 Degrees Standard is both long-standing and endorsed by the Department of City Planning; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that applying the 360 Degrees Standard, the Sign is approximately 520 linear feet from and within view of the Lincoln Tunnel; as such, DOB asserts that when the 3,300 sq.-ft. Sign was painted in 2000, it exceeded its permitted surface area by 2,780 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the Sign was never lawfully established and could not have become a non-conforming use in 2005, when the site was rezoned from M1-5 to C2-8; and

CONCLUSION

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that the proper standard in interpreting the meaning of the term "within view" is the 360 Degrees Standard; as such, the Board finds that the Sign was never lawfully established; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the Appellant's contention that the 360 Degrees Standard is an interpretation of "within view" that is unreasonable; on the contrary, the Board finds that the standard is the only objective measurement of whether a sign is within view of a motorist traveling along an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that other measures of "within view" including the Bypass Standard, would be difficult, if not impossible to apply, and would necessarily involve subjective decision-making by DOB; and

WEHREAS, the Board is not persuaded that the arterial highway restrictions on signs in the Zoning Resolution are intended to replicate the similar provisions of state and federal legislation; as DOB noted, the Board finds that there is nothing in the Zoning Resolution to support such a contention; and

WHEREAS, the Board also finds that the standard furthers the intent of the arterial highway restrictions on signs; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Board notes that the policy objectives of restrictions on signs near arterial highways include reducing driver distraction and beautifying public spaces, and the Board finds that the 360 Degrees Standard furthers both objectives; indeed, the Board observes that glancing in the rear or side view mirror at a particularly large sign could be more distracting and therefore more dangerous than glancing at a sign while looking straight ahead; and

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that the 360 Degrees Standard is consistent with the Board's decisions in BSA Cal. Nos. 88-12-A and 89-12-A (462 11th Avenue, Manhattan); in those cases, the appellant argued, among other things, that if a sign was only within view of a motorist on an arterial highway for a "fleeting moment," the sign was not "within view" of the arterial highway; the Board rejected this argument, noting that the plain meaning of within view is a more objective and less-nuanced concept; the Board also noted that the goal of the statute was to regulate signs within view of arterial highways and that enforcement would be best-served by applying an objective standard, rather than a subjective standard; likewise, the Board favors DOB's objective, 360 Degrees Standard over the Appellant's subjective, Bypass Standard in the instant matter; and

WHEREAS, thus, applying the 360 Degrees Standard, the Board finds that when the Sign was first painted in 2000, it far exceeded the allowable surface area for a sign approximately 520 feet from and within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that even if it determined that the Sign was not within view of an approach to the Lincoln Tunnel, the Sign became subject to surface area and height limitations generally applicable within Manufacturing districts pursuant to a February 27, 2001 text amendment; as such, the Sign would have become non-conforming as to height and surface area as of that date, and the rezoning of the site to C2-8 on January 19, 2005 would have merely increased the degree of non-conformity of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the Sign was never established as a non-conforming use and DOB properly refused to issue the Permit; and Therefore it is Resolved, that this appeal, challenging a Final Determination issued on April 9, 2013, is denied.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 22, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION -

WHEREAS, the decisions of the Staten Island Borough Commissioner, dated June 7, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 520140464, 520140419, 520140400, 520140393, 520140384, 520140375, 520140366, 520140357, 520140428, 520140437, 520140446, 520140455, read in pertinent part:

> The street giving access to the proposed building is not duly placed on the official map of the City of New York therefore:
> No Certificate of Occupancy can be issued pursuant to Article 3, Section 36 of General City Law; and

WHEREAS, this application seeks a waiver to construct twelve (12) two- and three-story detached homes accessed by a proposed private street, Savona Court, contrary to General City Law § 36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 8, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had a site and neighborhood examination by Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Staten Island recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located within an R3-X zoning district within the Special South Richmond District ("SSRD") not fronting upon a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the site is bounded by Station Avenue on the north side, a residential development accessed by a private street (Savo Loop) on the west side, a residential development accessed by a private street (Carly Court) on the east side, and the Staten Island Rapid Transit on the south side; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that there are approximately 15 feet of Freshwater Wetlands Buffer located along the south side of the site, along the rear lot lines of lots 320, 321, and 322; and

WHEREAS, the applicant filed an application with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation indicating that no construction is proposed within the buffer area; as such, the applicant states that that agency will issue a letter of no objection; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Fire Department's September 5, 2013 letter, the applicant asserted that the conditions were inappropriate because Savona Court would be a minimum of 38 feet in width and include a turn around, in accordance with the New York City Fire Code; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated October 2, 2013, the Fire Department submitted a revised recommendation, superseding its prior conditions with the following conditions: (1) Savona Court must be 38 feet in width curb to curb; (2) there shall be a turnaround with a minimum diameter of 70 feet; and (3) a hydrant shall be installed along the perimeter of the cul-de-sac (in addition to the private hydrant indicated approximately 155 feet south of Station Avenue); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence to warrant this approval under certain conditions.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the decisions of the Staten Island Borough Commissioner, dated June 7, 2013 acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 520140464, 520140419, 520140400, 520140393, 520140384, 520140375, 520140366, 520140357, 520140428, 520140437, 520140446, 520140455, are modified by the power vested in the Board by Section 36 of the General City Law, and that this appeal is granted, limited to the decision noted above; on condition that construction will substantially conform to the drawing filed with the application marked "Received October 18, 2013"- (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the site and roadway will conform with the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT the required approvals from the City Planning Commission, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, and the New York State Department of Transportation will be obtained prior to the issuance of work permits by the Department of Buildings; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTIOn –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated March 27, 2011, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 420283730 reads, in pertinent part:

Proposed floor area and lot coverage contrary to ZR 24-111.

Proposed lot coverage is contrary to ZR 24-11.

Proposed front yard contrary to ZR 24-34.

Proposed side yard contrary to ZR 24-35.

Proposed rear yard contrary to ZR 24-36.

Proposed parking is contrary to ZR 25-31; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site within an R2A zoning district, the legalization and enlargement of an existing building occupied by a synagogue and accessory uses (Use Group 4) which does not comply with the underlying zoning district regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yard, side yard, rear yard, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-111, 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-36 and 25-31; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 27, 2011, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on December 13, 2011, February 28, 2012, April 24, 2012, May 15, 2012, July 23, 2013, and September 17, 2013, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 13, Queens, recommends disapproval of the application and requests that any grant be conditioned on the hours of operation be limited, that garbage removal is not adequately addressed, that visitor conduct be monitored, and that a term be imposed so that oversight can continue; and

WHEREAS, City Council Member Leroy Comrie and New York State Assembly Member Barbara Clark provided testimony citing concerns about traffic and parking, garbage disposal, the use of the overnight accommodations on any days other than the Sabbath and holidays, the use of the outdoor space, the need for a landscape buffer, the poor condition of the site, the conduct of visitors within the community, and the insufficiency of certain aspects of the EAS; and

WHEREAS, the Cambria Heights Civic Association identified the following primary concerns with the operation of the site: improper disposal of garbage, bus traffic and pollution due to idling, safety concerns related to traffic and parking, the incompatibility of transient sleeping accommodations, and the apparent lack of consideration for neighbors; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community provided testimony in opposition to the operation of the facility and cited the same concerns as the civic association, Community Board, and elected officials; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Congregation Ohel Chabad Lubavitch (the "Congregation"), a non-profit religious entity; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of Francis Lewis Boulevard, between 225th Street and 228th Street, within an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is located adjacent to Montefiore Cemetery where the spiritual leader of the Lubavitch, Rebbe Menachem M. Schneerson, was buried in 1994; the gravesite is approximately 50 feet from the eastern side of the site; the prior Rebbe, Yosef J. Schneerson is also buried there; and

WHEREAS, due to the large number of followers who seek to be in the Rebbe's presence, the cemetery provided a gate adjacent to the site to provide access to the gravesite so that followers did not have to enter through the cemetery's main gate; and

WHEREAS, the Congregation operates the site as a synagogue with a traditional sanctuary and as a facility to accommodate those visiting the gravesite; and

WHEREAS, the Congregation purchased the five homes adjacent to the grave site entry, which it has connected through a series of tents that are used as letter-writing, mediation, prayer, study, light refreshment, and restroom areas; and

WHEREAS, the site has a total width of 252'-1/8", a depth ranging from 79'-9 13/16" to 79'-2 3/16", and a lot area of 20,133.77 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by five one-and-one-half-story buildings constructed for residential use, several mobile trailers, and a tented area at the rear of the site; the existing buildings have a total legal floor area of 4,539.55 sq. ft. (0.23 FAR), but an actual floor area of 10,258.5 sq. ft. (0.51 FAR), including the temporary structures; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially proposed to merge and enlarge the buildings to add a continuous cellar and first story and a second story for a total floor area of 24,150.63 sq. ft. (1.2 FAR) (the maximum permitted floor area is 10,066.89 (0.5 FAR)); a lot coverage of 79.6 percent (a maximum lot coverage of 55 percent is permitted); side yards of 9'-9 5/8" and 1'-0" (two side yards with widths of 24.12' are required); a rear yard with a depth of 0'-10-9/16" (a rear yard with a depth of 30'-0" is required); and no parking (48 spaces are required); and

WHEREAS, the existing buildings have a pre-existing front yard with a depth of 10'-0" that will be maintained (a front yard with a minimum depth of 15'-0" is required); and

WHEREAS, at the Board's direction, the applicant revised the application to reduce the degree of required waiver; first, the applicant reduced the proposal to 21,681.78 sq. ft. of floor area (1.07 FAR) and then to 20,294.34 sq. ft. (1.01 FAR) with just a small cellar for the storage of garbage and an accessory kitchen; and

WHEREAS, the applicant ultimately proposed to maintain both existing side yards – the western 9'-9 5/8" and the eastern 10'-1 1/16" – which are non-complying for community facility use and which results in a further reduction in floor area to 19,719 sq. ft. (0.98 FAR) and 73.79 percent lot coverage; and

WHEREAS, because the proposed building does not comply with the bulk regulations of the underlying zoning district, the subject variance is requested; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the following are the Congregation's programmatic needs: (1) to meaningfully and comfortably accommodate visitors to the gravesite for prayer and meditation; (2) to accommodate prayer space including separate spaces for men and women as required by religious doctrine; (3) to provide sleeping accommodations for visitors to the site; and (4) to preserve the modest scale of the five existing homes as a show of reverence for the spiritual leader; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that an improved facility will also serve the purpose of providing (1) a safe building in compliance with Code and fire safety measures, (2) an aesthetically improved building without temporary trailers and tents, and (3) sufficient space to bring visitors off the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that every day several hundred people visit the site at all hours of the day and night, noting that the site is ten minutes from JFK airport and is a pilgrimage site for those arriving by plane and bus to pray and meditate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the most significant number of visits occur on the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Passing and of the Anniversary of the Previous Rebbe's Passing, the Rebbe's Birthday, the High Holy Day period, and the annual conferences of the men and women emissaries of the Chabad; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposed building is designed to accommodate the current amount of visitors to the site and will not create more traffic; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the existing conditions are compromised in that they require the use of two trailers and a temporary tent structure to accommodate the rabbi's office, video-viewing room, libraries, restrooms, conference/study/meeting rooms, administrative office, letter-writing and reflection areas, bedrooms and lounges; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the as-of-right design with the required yards and lot coverage would significantly diminish the amount of programming that could be accommodated;

WHEREAS, specifically, the lot coverage and rear yard restrictions would eliminate the entire one-story enlargement at the rear which has a depth of approximately 30 feet and is entirely within the required rear yard; and

WHEREAS, the one-story enlargement allows for several large spaces for multiple uses and essentially all of the Congregation's program would be lost without the new space, currently in the form of tents that do not provide comfortable or safe facilities to the many visitors to the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the complying rear yard and lot coverage conditions would not allow it to meet its programmatic needs to improve the existing conditions and promote a more attractive, modern, and safe worship and visitation space; and

WHEREAS, as to the side yard request, the applicant states that the required 24-foot side yards would necessitate the demolition of approximately one-half of the two outer homes which is both impractical and contrary to the programmatic need to maintain the modest homes as a sign of humbleness; and

WHEREAS, the maintenance of the non-complying side yards allows the Congregation to re-purpose the existing homes while preserving the original spiritual center of the pilgrimage site; and

WHEREAS, as to the parking requirement, the applicant states that the constraints of the site do not allow for accommodation of any of the required parking and that the inclusion of parking would require the demolition of the five original homes, again, contrary to the programmatic need to preserve them; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that an important part of its program is to provide transient accommodations for followers and that new floor area on the second floor is primarily dedicated to serving that need; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially sought to allow sleeping accommodations on a daily basis regardless of whether travel was permitted; and

WHEREAS, the Board raised concerns that transient sleeping accommodations were not customary and are beyond the scope of a religious institution's programmatic needs and did not see any basis for allowing the site to include unrestricted transient sleeping accommodations which is a use not permitted in or compatible with the surrounding low density residential zoning district comprising primarily single-family homes; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant stated that the transient use was akin to a Shabbos House, which accommodates worshipers on the Sabbath, holidays, and event days; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserted that the religious purpose and importance of a Shabbos house is supported by case law and cites to Bikur Cholim v. Village of Suffern, 664 F.Supp.2d 267 (2009), in which the Village of Suffern denied a variance for a Shabbos house near a hospital, which allowed patients' family members to stay overnight when arriving or departing on the Sabbath when travel is not permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also cited to the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act of 2000 (RLUIPA) for the principle that the government is prohibited from imposing or implementing a land use regulation "in a manner that imposes a substantial burden on the religious exercise of a person, including a religious assembly or institution" unless the government demonstrates that the imposition is in furtherance of a compelling government interest and is the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling government interest; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserted that a plan without sleeping accommodations would not meet its programmatic needs and would substantially burden its religious exercise; and

WHEREAS, the Board reviewed the case law and the information related to the Shabbos House in Albany and concluded that such facilities provide sleeping accommodations on days when religious doctrine prohibits travel and worshipers must either remain because they cannot travel or must arrive early for the next day; the use of the Shabbos house in Bikur Cholim was limited to "Fridays and approximately 10 Jewish Holidays when travel is not permitted;" and

WHEREAS, the Board did not see any support for the initial claim that the Congregation requires sleeping accommodations on a daily basis or on any day other than those when religious doctrine prohibits travel, including every holiday and event day and that such a model was not in keeping with Shabbos houses in the traditional sense and was not warranted; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant agreed to limit the use of sleeping accommodations at the site to the following 65 days per year when religious doctrine prohibits travel: 52 Sabbath days, Rosh Hashanah (2 days), Yom Kippur (1 day), Shavuot (2 days), the first two and last two days of Passover (4 days), and the first two and last two days of Sukkot (4 days); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that requiring the Congregation to follow the traditional Shabbos house model is consistent with RLUIPA and notes that in the Bikur Cholim case, the Village of Suffern denied the variance for a Shabbos house outright and that the court stated that when the Village reconsidered the variance application on remand, it could impose conditions for the use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds it appropriate and consistent with legal authority to impose conditions as to occupancy and number of days the sleeping accommodations may be used; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the yard and floor area waivers will enable the Congregation to provide new Code-compliant prayer and synagogue space and improved circulation space, new educational and administrative space, and improved common facilities such as bathrooms and kitchen space; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the synagogue, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Congregation create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Congregation is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed use is permitted in the subject zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant has revised its plans to reduce the bulk by (1) maintaining both existing side yards; (2) removing a lounge are on the second floor; (3) removing a set of egress stairs that are no longer necessary; and (4) removing an office; and

WHEREAS, the noted changes have reduced the FAR to 0.98, which the applicant asserts is consistent with the FAR that could be obtained for a community facility by the Department of City Planning special permit pursuant to ZR § 74-901; and

WHEREAS, as to the yards, the applicant notes that (1) the non-complying front yard condition is existing and will be maintained and is consistent with the neighborhood character; (2) both side yards will be maintained at their existing widths; and (3) the non-complying rear yard abuts cemetery property; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that the encroachments into the rear yard is one story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed height of two stories and 28'-3 5/6" is compatible with the surrounding context and the majority of the excess bulk will be in the rear yard, which is adjacent to the cemetery and creates minimal visual impact; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the second floor enlargements will set back the required 15'-0" at the front; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that on the western side of the site, including the neighbor's driveway, there is a space of approximately 20 feet between the proposed building and the adjacent home and that it will provide a landscape buffer along the shared lot line; and

WHEREAS, during the course of the public hearing process and in consideration of the commissioners' own observations on site visits and the community's concerns, the Board directed the applicant to create an operational plan to describe the use of the site and to improve the conditions for the neighbors; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board directed the applicant to address concerns about (1) frequent parking of buses in front of nearby homes; (2) excessive bus idling and disruptive loading and unloading; (3) cars blocking nearby driveways and blocking traffic; (4) incompatibility of a 24-hour operation with adjacent residential use; (5) the incompatibility of high volume and continuous transient use; (6) poor maintenance of the site including improper garbage storage and disposal as well as littering nearby property; (7) insufficient support and resources on busy event days ("Event Days"); and (8) lack of consideration for neighbors' property and quiet; and

WHEREAS, in consideration of the potentially incompatible nature of the facility at certain times and the community's interests, the Board suggested and analyzed the following mitigation measures: (1) alternate locations for bus parking; (2) limiting bus idling time; (3) monitoring and direction to prohibit inappropriate car parking; (4) requiring reduced hours of operation; (5) eliminating or reducing the transient use and limiting the days to when religious doctrine prohibits travel; (6) installing refrigerated garbage storage; (7) requiring an operational plan for general use and extra measures for Event Days; and (8) requiring facility management to assume a greater role in controlling visitation to the site; and

WHEREAS, to address the concerns about bus parking, the applicant contacted the Department of Transportation and requested that it install a No Parking Any Time sign on the south side of Francis Lewis Boulevard that applies to an area starting in front of the building and continuing east for a total length of 150 feet, which will accommodate at least three large buses; and

WHEREAS, additionally, DOT, by letter dated April 26, 2013, stated that it will replace the Attention Drivers 3 Minute Idling Law Enforced: $2,000 Fine signs with ones that specify a one minute idling limit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it has communicated with cemetery officials who have informed them that they are not interested in selling the parking lot on Springfield Boulevard or in reserving it for visitors to the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that to encourage the use of buses and reduce individual vehicular trips, the Congregation will provide charter buses from Crown Heights to the site and it will encourage visitors to park in the cemetery parking lot by providing a shuttle service from the cemetery parking lot to the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant performed a parking study which reflects that there were 258 available parking spaces during the weekday and 211 available on Sunday and that the patron studies show a peak visitor accumulation of 73 people on weekdays and 122 on Sunday; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that there is sufficient on-street parking to accommodate demand on non-Event Days; and

WHEREAS, the Board asked the applicant if it was possible to direct more visitors to the main entrance of the cemetery; and

WHEREAS, the applicant explained that the main entrance on Springfield Boulevard is 3,000 feet from the grave site and the cemetery does not have lights and the roadways are narrow which makes access untenable after dark; further, the cemetery gates are open 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday and Sunday, which does not satisfy the visitors' needs; and

WHEREAS, as to the hours of operation, the applicant states that it receives approximately 300 visitors on a typical day between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m., with visitation significantly reduced on Saturday, when there are religious restrictions on travel; and

WHEREAS, however, the applicant requests that it be able to maintain its 24 hours of operation because followers seek to be in the Rebbe's presence at all hours; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that prohibiting 24-hour access to the site would interfere with participation in a religious ceremony and would be a substantial burden to visitors; the applicant submitted a letter from the Union of Orthodox Rabbis setting forth the importance of uninhibited access; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that regardless of the hours of operation, visitors will enter the site beyond those hours; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposed locking a folding partition wall between the hours of 12:00 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. to discourage people from visiting overnight and would limit access to the minimum spaces that can be provided when visiting the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposed to post the following hours of operation on the website: limited access from 12:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. Monday to Saturday and from 2:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. on Sunday; and

WHEREAS, the Board carefully considered the position of the Congregation, which says that 24-hour access is necessary, and of the community, seeking a schedule which would allow for a cessation of activity for a portion of each day; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that a restriction on the hours of operation from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., daily, for the entire site – interior and exterior - is warranted and that access to the entire site will be restricted during that time; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that (1) the applicant states that visitors typically visit the site between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. and, thus, few visitors would be constrained by the hours; (2) due to the intensity of use and volume of visitors into the area, it is reasonable to allow the neighbors a portion of the day during late and early hours when there will not be any activity; and (3) access to the site will be permitted for 16 hours per day, every day; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not persuaded by the applicant's assertions that a reduction of the hours of operation is an infringement on its religious exercise when the facility has unrestricted access every day of the year except in the late and early hours of the day when the applicant notes few people actually visit the site; and

WHEREAS, at public hearing, the Board asked the applicant to identify up to four days during the year when it anticipates the most visitors and stated that 24-hour operation on those days would be appropriate; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant stated that the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Passing, the Anniversary of the Previous Rebbe's Passing, the Rebbe's Birthday, and the Eve of Rosh Hashanah are four days when 24-hour operation is necessary; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it has restricted hours of use for certain operations, including the use of outdoor space, on numerous religious use applications; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it is standard for religious institutions and shrines to have hours of closure in which case, worshippers plan their trips to arrive at first opening and to leave by closing time; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Congregation's operation is not diminished and the compelling benefit to the community is realized; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board finds that the hours of use of the second-floor terrace should be restricted in order to be more compatible with nearby residential use; and

WHEREAS, as to sleeping accommodations, during the hearing process, the Board expressed its concerns about the incompatibility of high volume and consistent use of the site for transient sleeping accommodations; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the applicant agreed to limit the overnight accommodations to the 65 days per year when religious doctrine prohibits travel; and

WHEREAS, additionally, in response to the Board's concerns about the scale of the transient accommodations, the applicant reduced the number of beds proposed from 52 to 34; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the other homes in the area that the community has identified as offering sleeping accommodations are not affiliated with the Congregation; and

WHEREAS, as to garbage storage, the applicant proposes a refrigerated room to store trash until pickups, to assign staff to monitor and maintain the area surrounding the site, and to post signs regarding litter; and

WHEREAS, as to the building mechanicals, the applicant has agreed to move its condensers to the roof (air handlers were already located inside the building) a minimum distance of approximately 150 feet from the closest residential neighbor and specify that they will include sound isolation/vibration dampers and sound attenuation panels; and

WHEREAS, as to visitor conduct, the applicant proposes to place signs near each entrance door reminding visitors not to block driveways or park illegally and signs near each exit reminding visitors to keep noise to a minimum and be respectful of neighbors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it will maintain a section on its website directing visitors (1) not to block driveways, (2) to dispose of all garbage in the receptacles in or around the site and not on the neighbors' properties or sidewalks, (3) to walk on sidewalks only and not on lawns, and (4) to avoid congregating in front of neighbors' homes and keep noise to a minimum; and will also include information about hours of operation; and

WHEREAS, as to Event Days, the applicant identified the busiest days, as the following: the Eve of Rosh Hashanah, the Day of the Rebbe's Recovery, the Anniversary of the Previous Rebbe's Passing, the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Wife's Passing, the Rebbe's Birthday, and the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Passing, and other busy days identified as the Birthday of Founders of Chassidic and Chabad Movements, Rosh Hashanah, the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Mother's Passing, Eve of Yom Kippur, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, the Rebbe's Wedding Anniversary, Chassidic New Year, Festival of Liberation of the Rebbe's Books, Passover, Lag B'Omer, Shavuot, Liberation of the Previous Rebbe, and the Anniversary of the Rebbe's Father's Passing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that on Event Days, it will notify the Community Board and the neighbors by letter that they are anticipating an increased number of visitors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant will also communicate with the MTA to alert them to Event Days when use of its public busses will be increased; and

WHEREAS, the applicant said that it will contact the Department of Sanitation to request that additional trash bins be placed in the area and that there will be a requirement for additional pick ups; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it will request additional police presence on Event Days and it will hire three private security personnel for those days; and

WHEREAS, as to the community's suggestion that there be a term imposed to enable the Board to more closely monitor the approval, the applicant states that such action would severely limit its ability to raise funds necessary to construct the building and could ultimately make it financially infeasible; and

WHEREAS, the Board considered the community's suggestion for a term and in light of the history of illegal use of the site and several site conditions that the Congregation has agreed to modify, the Board finds that a term of ten years from the date of the grant is appropriate to allow for oversight of the site conditions and a time to re-evaluate if they have been effective; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action, with a series of operational improvement measures, will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Congregation could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the Congregation originally proposed to enlarge the building to an FAR of 1.2 and to excavate a full cellar; and

WHEREAS, at the direction of the Board, the applicant revised its plans to reduce the size of the building to 1.01 FAR and eliminate the cellar space and, ultimately, re-designed the plan to maintain both side yards, which reduced the FAR to 0.98; and

WHEREAS, at the direction of the Board, the applicant analyzed a lesser variance scenario which completely excluded sleeping accommodations and resulted in an FAR of 0.8; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that such a scenario would not satisfy its programmatic needs of accommodating those who are at the site on days when religious doctrine prohibits travel; and

WHEREAS, instead, the Board notes that the applicant reduced its sleeping accommodations from 52 to 34-person occupancy; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds the requested waivers to be the minimum necessary to afford the Congregation the relief needed to meet its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 11BSA075Q, dated April 17, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and

Appeals issues a negative declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, on a site within an R2A zoning district, the legalization and enlargement of an existing building occupied by a synagogue and accessory uses (Use Group 4) which does not comply with the underlying zoning district regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yard, side yard, rear yard, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-111, 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-36 and 25-31; on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received October 16, 2013" – ten (10) sheets, and on further condition:

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated December 27, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 310076333, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed floor area contrary to maximum permitted under ZR 33-122 . . .
> Proposed commercial use in residential zone not permitted as per 22-00.
> Proposed height and setback contrary to allowable under ZR 33-431; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site partially within a C8-1 zoning district and partially within an R6 zoning district, the proposed development of a self-storage facility (Use Group 16), which is non-complying as to floor area, height, and setback, and non-conforming as to the portion of the use within the R6 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on February 12, 2013 after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on April 23, 2013, May 14, 2013, July 23, 2013, and September 10, 2013, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, waived its right to a hearing and did not take a position on the application; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the east side of Bushwick Avenue, with frontage on Furman Avenue and Aberdeen Street; and

WHEREAS, the primary frontage is along Bushwick Avenue (200 feet), with side frontage on Furman Avenue (227 feet) and Aberdeen Street (100 feet); and

WHEREAS, the site comprises three tax lots that, although historically used together, were recently merged into Lot 5 and is irregularly shaped with a lot area of 29,272 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the lot area within the R6 zoning district at the northwest corner is 3,343 sq. ft. and the remaining 25,929 sq. ft. of lot area is within the C8-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, the proposed building which will accommodate a self-storage facility and accessory uses has the following bulk parameters: three stories, a height of 33'-8" (a maximum height of 30'-0" is permitted), a floor area of 68,556 sq. ft. (2.64 FAR) (a maximum floor area of 25,929.56 sq. ft. (1.0 FAR) is permitted), 15 parking spaces, and four loading berths; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the non-complying floor area and height without the required setback, the applicant proposes to locate a portion of the Use Group 16 use within the residential zoning district, thus the applicant seeks a variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the subject site in compliance with underlying district regulations: (1) the irregular shape; (2) the split zoning district condition; (3) the presence of an LIRR tunnel easement below the site; (4) the presence of an MTA subway tunnel below the adjacent playground; and (5) sensitive soil conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the site's irregular shape which includes one large triangular portion leads to significant design inefficiencies when compared to a regularly-shaped lot; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant states that the presence of the zoning district boundary line between the C8-1 and R6 zoning districts is profound as the permitted uses in the two zoning districts are distinct; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the split zoning district condition cannot be cured by ZR § 77-11 because of the distance of the lot lines from the district boundary line; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant states that the zoning district change does not allow for the capture of the available floor area on the residential portion of the site for its use with the commercial portion of the site; and

WHEREAS, as to the LIRR tunnel easement, the applicant states that the easement is largely coincident along a significant portion of the site on the southerly diagonal lot extending south from Furman Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the tunnel easement burdens more than 50 percent of the site and prohibits the construction of below grade space, which would be customary for a storage facility that does not require access to natural light; and

WHEREAS, as to the MTA subway tunnel easement, the applicant notes that the easement is below the adjacent Rudd Playground, which is just southwest of the large Trinity Cemetery and Cemetery of the Evergreens; the subway tunnel is above the site's level of grade and close enough to the property line as to be within MTA's zone of influence; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the additional required construction measures attributed to the proximity of the two tunnels include (1) minimizing vibration, auger installed shoring on three street frontages; (2) foundation knuckle and cantilever design; (3) specialized foundation design at MTA and LIRR's direction; (4) various premium soft costs and timing delays; and (5) specialized structural mat foundation for at-grade construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the premium costs include $160,000 associated with the retaining wall regardless of whether a cellar is included, $525,000 of costs associated with the sectional wall construction and underpinning with a cellar, or $200,000 of costs associated with such construction even without a cellar; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant represents that due to the LIRR tunnel, with or without a cellar, the specialized structural mat concrete slab will cost $900,000 compared to $180,000 on a site without the LIRR tunnel; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the subway tunnel is approximately ten feet above the level of grade of the site at a horizontal distance of 17 feet and it is this condition that creates the grade differential between the site and the elevated Rudd Playground; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the sensitive soil conditions include the requirement for a retaining wall adjacent to the playground and a significant amount of urban fill at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the retaining wall is necessary to support the elevated playground, which has two levels and is 12 feet and greater above the level of grade at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the two transportation easements, including the presence of the tunnel, and the change in grade which requires a retaining wall, contribute to the premium construction costs and the inability to feasibly construct below grade; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that a typical site in a C8-1 zoning district can accommodate a self-storage facility on a 30,000 sq. ft. lot by fully utilizing cellar and sub-cellar levels to accommodate the necessary amount of space to make the project viable; and

WHEREAS, as noted, below grade space is ideal for self-storage facilities which do not require windows; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that if it were able to construct below grade, it could accommodate all the necessary floor area that now must be above grade and, similarly, the below grade space would eliminate the requirement for the height/setback waivers which are attributed to the need to construct floors with uniform floorplates; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposed 2.64 FAR allows for the recapture of below grade space as well as for additional revenue to offset the significant premium construction costs; and

WHEREAS, as to the inclusion of the Use Group 16 use on the portion of the site within the R6 zoning district, the applicant asserts that the entire lot has historically been used together for commercial use and that due to its triangular shape, the residential portion cannot feasibly accommodate construction for any use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant proposes to allow loading for the facility on the residential portion of the lot, which abuts the dead end of Furman Avenue and is not adjacent to any residential use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that to include the loading within the C8-1 portion of the site would not be feasible due to the lot's shape and the location on the heavily-trafficked Bushwick Avenue, which would not be compatible with vehicle loading and unloading; and

WHEREAS, as to uniqueness, the applicant represents that the site is the only one in the vicinity that is burdened by the combination of the noted conditions; and

WHEREAS, the Board observes that the applicant has established each of the bases of hardship and uniqueness and has justified the requested waivers; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the unique conditions mentioned above, when considered in the aggregate, create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict compliance with applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a feasibility study that analyzed (1) an as of right self-storage facility with special costs; (2) an as-of-right self-storage without special costs; (3) an alternate variance self-storage facility; and (4) the proposal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that neither the two noted as of right scenarios nor the alternate variance scenario would realize a reasonable return due to the site's constraints; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant has identified significant premium costs related to the site's unique features that render a complying development infeasible; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that because of the subject site's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict compliance with the specified zoning provisions will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance, if granted, will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood nor impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the self-storage use is permitted as of right within the C8-1 zoning district and only the loading area within the R6 portion of the site is non-conforming; and

WHEREAS, as to the portion of the site within the residential zoning district, the applicant notes that this is a historic condition and that that portion of the site has been used in conjunction with the remainder of the site for commercial use historically; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that there are not any residential uses adjacent to the site and that the residential portion of the site is adjacent to the dead end at Furman Avenue, thus, it is not in proximity to any conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the use across Furman Avenue is also not residential in character; and

WHEREAS, the applicant characterizes the site as being located in a small C8-1 enclave which includes a gas service station, a stand-alone auto repair, and a four-story mixed-use residential building with ground floor retail all across Bushwick Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant performed a traffic analysis and concluded that the inclusion of the loading on Furman Avenue adjacent to the dead end was preferable to including it along the Bushwick Avenue or Aberdeen Street where it would interfere with traffic; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the building's height at three stories is compatible with the surrounding area which includes many three- and four-story buildings along Bushwick Avenue and Aberdeen Street and notes that the adjacent R6 zoning district allows for 3.0 FAR for Quality Housing developments and 4.8 FAR for community facilities; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to analyze the effect of the building's massing on the adjacent playground, namely as to shadows; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant performed a shadow analysis which reflects that there would not be any shadow impact on the playground even on the day of longest shadow in the year; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that there is not any impact due to the two changes in grade at the playground attributed to the MTA subway tunnel's location above the grade level of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, however, at the Board's direction, the applicant revised its plans to include a setback to a depth of five feet at the third floor to pull back away from the playground at the rear of the site and the applicant also replaced its parapet wall with a fence so as to further reduce the perception of bulk; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but instead results from the above-mentioned unique physical conditions; and

WHEREAS, as noted, at the direction of the Board, the applicant revised the plans to include a setback at the rear of the site, which provided a minimal reduction in the floor area and reduced the height at the rear of the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it examined several complying scenarios as well as the lesser variance alternative and found that none provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that without the requested waivers, premium construction costs could not be overcome; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 12BSA147K, dated June 22, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the June 2013 Remedial Action Work Plan and site-specific Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with the conditions stipulated below and prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site partially within a C8-1 zoning district and partially within an R6 zoning district, the proposed development of a self-storage facility (Use Group 16), which is non-complying as to floor area, height, and setback, and non-conforming as to a portion of the use within the R6 zoning district, contrary to ZR §§ 33-122, 33-431, and 22-00; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received October 16, 2013"– ten (10) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the buildig: a maximum floor area of 68,556.32 sq. ft. (2.64 FAR) and a maximum total height of 33'-8", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the interior layout and all exiting requirements will be as reviewed and approved by the Department of Buildings;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT DOB will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided them with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated March 8, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320572233, reads in pertinent part:

on the block that is two blocks directly east of the subject block (Block 7661), and one home on the same block as the premises (Block 7659) with an FAR of 1.0 or greater; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board agrees with the applicant that the proposed bulk is compatible with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 73-622.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR § 73-622, to permit, within an R2 zoning district, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for FAR, open space, side yards, and rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received October 23, 2013"- (12) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum floor area of 4,016 sq. ft. (1.0 FAR), a minimum open space of 54 percent, a minimum rear yard depth of 20'-0", and side yards with minimum widths of 3'-5" and 8'-0", as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objections(s) only;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 22, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated April 30, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No. 220201412, reads in pertinent part:

> ZR Section 24-33(b) – the proposed building within the rear yard is contrary to the cited section in that it exceeds the height limitation for permitted obstructions;
> ZR Section 24-35(a) – the proposed side yard is contrary to the cited section in that ten percent of the aggregate street walls is required (15 feet) [however] per the proposed plan, eight feet is indicated;
> ZR Section 24-36 – the proposed rear yard does not comply with the minimum 30 feet required [because] the interior lot portion of the site is not eligible for the shallow lot provision, per ZR Section 24-37(a);
> ZR Section 24-34 – proposed front yard is contrary to the stated section in that [a depth of] 15 feet [is required but] only ten feet [is provided]; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R4 zoning district, the construction of a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) that does not comply with the zoning regulations for rear yard, side yard, front yard, and permitted obstructions in rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-33, 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 17, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Evangelical Church Letting Christ Be Known (the "Church"), a not-for-profit institution; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Bronx, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns about traffic and parking; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Andy King testified in opposition to the proposal, citing concerns about traffic; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in opposition to the application, citing concerns about traffic and the requested yard waivers' impacts on adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregular corner lot located on the northwest corner of the intersection of Grace Avenue and Bartow Avenue, within an R4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 100 feet of frontage along Bartow Avenue, approximately 322 feet of frontage along Grace Avenue, and a lot area of approximately 22,989 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the site has been vacant since at least 1983; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) with 12,388 sq. ft. of floor area (0.54 FAR) to accommodate the programmatic needs of the Church, which has been in existence for approximately 16 years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will create the following non-compliances on the zoning lot: (1) the building will obstruct the rear yard for two stories and a height of 31'-0" (the maximum permitted height of this community facility building within the rear yard in this district is one story and 23'-0", per ZR § 24-33(b)); (2) a rear yard with a depth of 8'-8" (a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30'-0" is required for the interior lot portion of the site, per ZR § 24-36); (3) two side yards with depths of 24'-2" and 10'-0" (the requirement, which is based on the width of the street wall, is two side yards with minimum depths of 15'-0", per ZR § 24-35(a)); and (4) a front yard depth of 10'-0" (a front yard depth of 15'-0" is required, per ZR § 24-34); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, since its founding, the Church has leased space at 2111 Starling Avenue, Bronx, a two-story building with approximately 3,976 sq. ft. of floor area; however, that building accommodates neither the Church's current membership of 350 members, nor its projected growth; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will include the following: (1) in the cellar, a community room, electrical and mechanical rooms, a cafeteria and serving area, and men's and women's restrooms; (2) on the first story, a lobby, a temple, a restroom, dressing area, and a pastor's office; and (3) on the second story, two offices, a coat closet, storage, children's chapel, and men's and women's restrooms; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the community room will be used primarily to provide light meals to congregants after worship services; however, no catered affairs (such as wedding receptions) will be held at the Church; the applicant also states that the Church anticipates a capacity of approximately 300 congregants in the temple on the first story and approximately 100 congregants in the chapel on the second story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the irregular shape of the site—in particular its jagged western boundary—is a unique physical condition inherent to the zoning lot, which creates practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations, per ZR § 72-21(a); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the jaggedness of the western boundary gives rise to no fewer than 13 adjoining rear and side lot lines (none of which is parallel to either Grace Avenue or Bartow Avenue) which results in an as-of-right footprint of only 5,653 sq. ft.; in contrast, a standard, rectangular lot with the site's lot area (22,989 sq. ft.) would yield an as-of-right footprint of 12,500 sq. ft.; the applicant notes that the proposed footprint is approximately 6,194 sq. ft., less than half the size that would be accommodated on a rectangular lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that although the site is adjacent to a lot with a similarly jagged boundary line, the adjacent lot is significantly larger and therefore would provide greater flexibility in development; further, while there are other lots with jagged lot lines within a 400-foot radius of the site, only the site and the immediately adjacent lot are vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the programmatic needs of the Church, which necessitate the requested waivers: (1) the increasing size of the congregation; and (2) the Church's expansive mission, which, includes spiritual outreach and creating support groups for local youth; and

WHEREAS, as to the increasing size of the congregation, the applicant states that the Church has 350 regular members and anticipates that it will have approximately 385 regular members when construction at the site is completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Church's existing facility cannot accommodate the Church's current membership and that an as-of-right building would be similarly inadequate; in particular, based on the as-of-right plans submitted by the applicant, the floor area of the building would decrease from the proposed 12,388 sq. ft. (0.54 FAR) to 9,184 sq. ft. (0.39); further, in the as-of-right scenario, the capacity of the temple on the first story is decreased from 300 congregants to 214 congregants and the capacity of the chapel on the second story is decreased from 100 congregants to 54 congregants; and

WHEREAS, as to the expansive mission of the Church, the applicant represents that an as-of-right facility would not provide the worship, classroom or community outreach space it requires to fulfill it wide-ranging spiritual and pedagogical objectives; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board acknowledges that the Church, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the irregular lot shape in combination with the programmatic needs of the Church create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the Church is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the neighborhood is characterized by its diversity: buildings range in height from one to five stories, and residential, commercial, and manufacturing uses are found within a 400-foot radius of the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that other nearby uses include a park, a large parking lot for a shopping center, gasoline stations, and the New England Thruway (Interstate 95); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed use is permitted as-of-right and that the proposal complies with the regulations regarding building height, setback, sky exposure plane, lot coverage, and parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that at 0.54 FAR, the proposal is 27 percent of the maximum permitted floor area ratio for a community facility in the district (2.0 FAR); and

WHEREAS, as to the adjacent uses, the applicant notes that the site immediately to the west is vacant and significantly larger than the subject site; as such, it can be developed with as-of-right yards that will provide additional separation from the proposed building; further, the site immediately to the north is occupied by a three-story residential building, which will be, because of the odd shape of the side lot line, more than 35 feet from the proposed house of worship; therefore, the requested yard waivers will not impact the adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, contrary to Community Board 12's assertions, the proposal will not adversely impact parking or traffic within the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that although the Church expects the majority of congregants to walk or utilize public transportation, the proposal provides 22 off-street parking spaces, which is one more than the required 21 spaces; in addition, the applicant represents that there are a total of 18 on-street parking spaces available along Bartow Avenue and Grace Avenue; and

WHEREAS, as to traffic, the applicant states that it conducted a study of neighborhood traffic patterns and reconfigured the proposed entrances and site circulation in order to minimize congestion; the applicant also notes that services and worship activities will occur on weekday evenings and Sundays; as such, the Church's traffic will not conflict with school-related traffic; and

WHEREAS, finally, in response to Community Board 12's characterization of the proposal as inconsistent with recent down-zonings in the area, the applicant notes that the site has been zoned R4 since 1961; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Church could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d); the applicant notes that the site was formed by the combination of historic tax lots 16, 20, 26, and 29, which were originally jagged and irregularly shaped; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary, per ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA173X, dated May 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, within an R4 zoning district, the construction of a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) that does not comply with the zoning regulations for rear yard, side yard, front yard, and permitted obstructions in rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-33, 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received September 3, 2013"– Ten (10) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum of 12,388 sq. ft. of floor area (0.54 FAR), a maximum building height of 31'-0", a rear yard depth of 8'-8", two side yards with depths of 24'-2" and 10'-0", and a front yard depth of 10'-0", as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03, to permit, on a site located in a C6-4A zoning district within the Ladies' Mile Historic District, the operation of a physical culture establishment ("PCE") in portions of the cellar and first story of an existing 11-story mixed residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 20, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 5, Manhattan, has no objection to this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of West 19th Street between Fifth Avenue and Sixth Avenue within a C6-4A zoning district within the Ladies' Mile Historic District; and amended plan noting the proposed sound attenuation measures; the applicant also submitted a statement confirming that notices regarding the PCE application were posted near the residential entrances to the building and explaining that the open violations relate to construction of the proposed PCE and that such violations are resolved or will be resolved by the Board's grant of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, however, on August 14, 2008 (hereinafter, the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Rockaway Neighborhoods Rezoning, which rezoned the site from R6 to R5A; and

WHEREAS, the Building, which is a multiple dwelling with a floor area ratio in excess of 1.10 and a height in excess of 35 feet, does not comply with the current zoning; and

WHEREAS, as of the Enactment Date, the applicant had obtained permits for the development and had completed 100 percent of its foundations, such that the right to continue construction was vested pursuant to ZR § 11-331, which allows DOB to determine that construction may continue under such circumstances; and

WHEREAS, however, only two years are allowed for completion of construction and to obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, in the two years subsequent to the Enactment Date, construction was not completed and a certificate of occupancy was not issued; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, an application was filed with the Board for an extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, on October 19, 2010, pursuant to ZR § 11-30 et seq., the Board granted, under BSA Cal. No. 110-10-BZY, a two-year extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy under the subject calendar number; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant had until October 19, 2012 to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, as of October 19, 2012, construction had not been completed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, on March 19, 2013, pursuant to ZR § 11-30 et seq., the Board granted, under BSA Cal. No. 110-10-BZY, an additional two-year extension to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy under the subject calendar number; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Board's March 19, 2013 grant, the New Building Permit does not lapse until March 19, 2015; and

WHEREAS, nevertheless, the applicant now seeks a four-year extension to complete construction pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it seeks a four-year extension because construction will be delayed as a result of the applicant's seeking public financing for the Building from the New York City Housing Development Corporation ("HDC") and the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD"), which may dictate a change in the number of dwelling units proposed under the New Building Permit; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that changes to the New Building Permit are subject to DOB approval; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 17, 2010, DOB stated that the New Building Permit was lawfully issued, authorizing construction of the proposed Building prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a lawfully-issued permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that the work on the Building subsequent to the issuance of the permits includes: 100 percent of the excavation; 100 percent of the foundation (including the installation of over 300 driven piles); and the installation of a complex drainage system; and

WHEREAS, in support of this statement, the applicant has submitted the following: a breakdown of the construction costs by line item; a foundation survey; copies of cancelled checks; invoices; and photographs of the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before and after the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the total expenditure paid for the development is $3,011,614 (including $1,474,974 in hard costs), or 17 percent, out of the $17,610,614 cost to complete; and

WHEREAS, as noted, the applicant has submitted invoices and copies of cancelled checks; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the R5A use regulations are significantly more restrictive than the R6 regulations; specifically, whereas any type of residence is permitted within an R6 district, however, an R5A district is limited to one- and two-family detached residences; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that if the owner is not permitted to vest the Building under the former R6 district regulations, more than half of the floor area (34,696 sq. ft.) of the Building would be lost, the height of the building would have to be reduced from 65 feet to 35 feet, twice as many accessory parking spaces would be required, and a front yard with a minimum depth of ten feet will be required (no front yard is required in an R6 district), all of which will reduce the livable space within the Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that its foundation—which is 100 percent complete—would be useless for any complying and conforming development because it was designed and built for a six-story multiple dwelling; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that individually and collectively, the changes to the Building required under the R5A district regulations would significantly decrease the market value of the Building, causing a serious economic loss to the applicant; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that complying with the R5A district regulations would result in a substantial reduction of the market value of the site and cause the applicant a serious economic loss; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 402483013-01-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for four years from the date of this grant.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated August 29, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 220179376, reads, in pertinent part:

Proposed lot width is contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-32; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R1-1 zoning district mapped within a Special Natural Area District (NA-2) within the Riverdale Historic District, the construction of a single-family home on a zoning lot that does not comply with minimum lot width requirements, contrary to ZR § 23-32; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 15, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on July 23, 2013, and September 10, 2013, and then to decision on October 8, 2013, which was re-opened and re-adopted on October 29, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it initially voted to approve the variance on October 8, 2013, but that it did so without having a Certificate of Appropriateness from the Landmarks Preservation Commission in the record; accordingly, the Board re-opened the hearing on October 29, 2013 to admit the Certificate of Appropriateness into the record and to re-adopt its vote to grant; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 8, Bronx, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, City Council Member G. Oliver Koppell provided written testimony in opposition to the application, citing concerns about any building which does not comply with the R1-1 rezoning, neighborhood character, and the effect on the sewer system; and

WHEREAS, certain neighbors, on behalf of themselves, and represented by counsel, appeared in opposition to the proposal, citing concerns about the incompatibility of the home with the surrounding area, the applicant's failure to satisfy the variance findings including that there is not any hardship, the home disturbs the public welfare through the effect it would have on the sewer system, and specific bulk concerns related to the front yard, lot coverage, the perspective from Sycamore Avenue, and lot frontage are not compatible with neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior lot located on the west side of Independence Avenue, between Blackstone Avenue and West 252nd Street, within an R1-1 zoning district within a Special Natural Area District (NA-2) within the Riverdale Historic District; and

WHEREAS, the site, which is vacant, has 92.85 feet of frontage along Independence Avenue and a lot area of 15,877 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks to construct a single-family home on the site with the following bulk parameters: three stories, 4,549 sq. ft. of floor area (0.28 FAR), a front yard depth of 20'-0", side yards with widths of 21'-1" and 15'-11", a rear yard depth of 97'-6", and two accessory off-street parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposal complies in all respects with the bulk regulations applicable in the subject zoning district, except that the proposed lot width of 92.85 feet is less than the minimum required lot width pursuant to ZR § 23-32 (100 feet is the minimum required); accordingly, the applicant seeks a variance of that requirement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the site was formerly located within an R2-1 zoning district and fully compliant with all zoning regulations, but was rezoned in 2005 to R1-1, which has a minimum required lot width of 100 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions inherent to the zoning lot, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations, per ZR § 72-21(a): (1) disproportionate lot depth in relation to width; (2) extreme slope; (3) vacancy; and (4) historic configuration and zoning; and

WHEREAS, as to the depth/width ratio, the applicant notes that the lot has an average width of 92.9 feet, with 92.85 feet of frontage on Independence Avenue and a width of 92.94 feet at its rear lot line, in contrast to its depth of 171 feet, which results in a lot area of 15,877 sq. ft. (well in excess of the minimum required lot area of 9,500 sq. ft. pursuant to ZR § 23-32), but none of the floor area can be realized due to the approximately seven-ft. insufficiency of the width for residential development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the width requirement for residential development does not apply to community facility development; and

WHEREAS, however, the existing terrain poses a significant hardship in accommodating a complying community facility development with efficient floor plates; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that the area of the lot that is affected by steep sloping sections measures approximately 3,635 sq. ft., which is approximately 22.9 percent of the total lot area, and another 2,593.33 sq. ft. of lot area is steep slope buffer (approximately 16.3 percent); two areas of steep slope are at the extreme west end of the site and the other is in the middle, which leaves only the eastern end of the site closest to Independence Avenue viable for construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the extreme slope requires that the footprint be kept to a minimum and moved as close as possible to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of an as of right community facility use, which is not subject to minimum lot width requirements and concluded that the extreme slope and Special Natural Area District (SNAD) regulations prohibit such use; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant's analysis concluded that the natural topography would have to be greatly modified to accommodate the necessary accessory parking for a community facility use and that such contouring would not be consistent with SNAD requirements to minimize topographic modifications; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant asserts that the site's slope limits the building footprint, which cannot accommodate a community facility building given that the maximum lot coverage on the site would be 12.5 percent or 1,984 sq. ft. and as such a 1,984 sq. ft. footprint would not be sufficient for a community facility building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the standard footprint associated with community facility buildings within the surrounding area is substantially greater than the 1,984 sq. ft. that would be possible at the site; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the average footprint for a community facility building in the area measures 19,673 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant notes that 43 percent of the ground floor of a community facility would be dedicated to Code-compliant restrooms, stairwells, an elevator, and accessory space; and

WHEREAS, as to vacancy, the applicant notes that the lot is one of three within a 600-ft. radius that is not developed; all of the three have lot widths of less than 100 feet, but the other two lots are either so small or irregularly-shaped that no development would be feasible; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant states that of the 21 other lots located within the 600-ft. radius, with widths less than 100 feet, all are developed with single family homes; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant notes that lots with widths of less than 100 feet are not unique in the immediate area and are, in fact, developed with single-family homes; however, a vacant lot with a width of less than 100 feet is unique; and

WHEREAS, as to the history of the lot, at the Board's direction, the applicant reviewed the ownership history of the adjoining lots and found that on December 15, 1961, it was in common ownership with the adjacent lots and, thus, the ZR § 23-33 exception for small lots is not available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that on December 15, 1961, Tax Lot 458 was part of the former larger Lot 350 (which included Lots 350, 374, 450, and 463); the tax lot subdivision appears to have occurred between 1971 and 1974 and the first deed of record that references Tax Lot 458 as apportioned from Lot 350 was April 4, 1978; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the zoning lot has been owned separately and individually from all adjoining zoning lots since 1978; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in 1978 and until 2005, the site was within an R1-2 zoning district which permitted construction of single-family detached homes on lots with widths of at least 60 feet; thus, the insufficient width condition was not self-created as it pre-dates the zoning change; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant asserts that until 2005, when the lot had been in existence for approximately 27 years, it could have constructed a single-family home on the lot in full accordance with zoning; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the lot dimensions and sloping conditions contribute to a hardship in developing the site with a complying building and that the applicant has submitted evidence in the record to establish that the lot has existed in its current configuration and was owned separately and apart from all adjacent lots at the time of the 2005 adoption of the lot width restriction, and at the time of the subject application; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the aforementioned unique physical conditions create a practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning provisions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed home will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed home complies with all R1-1 (NA-2) zoning district parameters aside from lot width and that the lot area far exceeds the minimum required within the zoning district; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant notes that there are 21 lots within a 600-ft. radius of the site with widths less than 100 feet that are occupied by single-family homes, thus, the home is compatible with that context; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant states that the home complies with all R1-1 zoning district requirements including its 4,549 sq. ft. of floor area (0.28 FAR), a front yard depth of 20'-0", side yards with widths of 21'-1" and 15'-11", and rear yard depth of 97'-6"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, in fact, the floor area is just more than half of the maximum permitted floor area of 0.5 FAR; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that the proposed home will have a wall height of 20'-11", while the maximum permitted wall height is 25'-0" (ZR § 23-631); a rear yard measures 97'-6", while the minimum required is 30'-0" (ZR § 23-47); and an open space ratio of 305.6 percent, while a minimum open space ratio of 150 percent is required (ZR § 23-141); and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided responses to the Opposition's concerns about compatibility with the area including the front yard, lot coverage, perspective from Sycamore Avenue, lot frontage, and the sewer system; and

WHEREAS, as to lot coverage, the applicant notes that it proposes 12.5 percent, not the 70 percent that the Opposition alleges and that the open space ratio of 305.6 percent is substantially greater than the minimum required 150 percent; and

WHEREAS, as to the front yard depth of 20'-0", the applicant notes that this meets the underlying zoning regulations and that of the homes at 5225 and 5271 Independence Avenue are located closer to the street; and

WHEREAS, as to the perspective from Sycamore Avenue, the applicant provided a streetscape to reflect the view from the rear of the site at the Board's direction, which reflects that the home is designed to fit within the steep slope while not overwhelming the street below and the applicant notes that the Landmarks Preservation Commission (LPC) and City Planning Commission (CPC) approved the design within the hillside; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that the rear of the home is 97'-6" from the rear property line and 130 feet from the curb on Sycamore Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes additional plantings in the rear yard to buffer the rear of the home and notes that the plantings were approved by the CPC and are required to be planted in accordance with a Notice of Restrictions recorded against the property; and

WHEREAS, as to the lot frontage, the applicant notes that of the 24 lots within the 600-ft. radius of the lot with widths less than 100 feet, the average lot width is 68'-11", significantly less than the subject lot's width; and

WHEREAS, as to the concerns about the impact the home will have on the area's vulnerable sewer system, the applicant states that it has agreed to enter into a written understanding before the sewer investigation work is commenced to enable both the applicant and neighboring property owners to understand the sewer condition and capacity; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant has already reviewed a draft agreement concerning the investigatory work to be undertaken and is working with the Opposition's counsel to resolve any concerns; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that after the completion of the sewer investigation, it will be required to submit a permit application to the Department of Environmental Protection for approval of the sewer work plan before commencing any sewer-related construction work, notwithstanding that the connection will be to the private sewer line; and

WHEREAS, by Certificate of Appropriateness, dated October 15, 2013, LPC approved the proposal; and

WHEREAS, by authorization, dated August 19, 2013, CPC approved the proposal as compliant with all relevant SNAD regulations; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is the result of the site's unique conditions, which existed in 1978 and at the time of the 2005 adoption of ZR § 23-32's lot width requirement along the street frontage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that it complies with all R1-1 zoning district parameters except for the minimum lot width, of which it is only deficient by approximately seven feet (or seven percent of the required width of 100 feet); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R1-1 zoning district mapped within a Special Natural Area District (NA-2) within the Riverdale Historic District, the construction of a single-family home on a zoning lot that does not comply with minimum lot width requirements, contrary to ZR § 23-32; on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received May 29, 2013"– (9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk will be limited to 4,549 sq. ft. of floor area (0.28 FAR), a front yard depth of 20'-0", side yards with widths of 21'-1" and 15'-11", a rear yard depth of 97'-6", and two accessory off-street parking spaces, as reflected on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction will be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT construction will be in strict conformance with Landmarks Preservation Commission and City Planning Commission approvals;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 29, 2013.

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed mixed residential (Use Group 2) and commercial (Use Group 6) building, which will incorporate the existing building façade and certain existing structural elements, will have a total floor area of 13,500 sq. ft. (5.0 FAR), a residential floor area of 11,697 sq. ft. (4.33 FAR), a commercial floor area of 1,803 sq. ft. (0.67 FAR), a street wall height of 91.75 feet, a building height of 100 feet, and a rear yard depth of 30 feet beginning at the second story; the applicant notes that the cellar will include retail space, mechanical rooms, and accessory storage for the residences; the first story will be occupied by retail space and the residential lobby; and the second through eighth stories will be occupied by a total of six dwelling units; and

WHEREAS, because Use Group 2 is not permitted and Use Group 6 is not permitted below the floor level of the second story within the subject M1-5B zoning district, the applicant seeks use variances; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(a), the following are unique physical conditions which create an unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the site has a small lot area, narrow lot width, and is occupied by an underdeveloped building, which is classified by the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC") as contributing to the character of the NoHo Historic District Extension; and (2); the site is surrounded on all three sides by significantly overbuilt buildings, creating a "canyon effect" that reduces the lots marketability for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site's lot area of 2,700 sq. ft., lot width of 27 feet, and underdevelopment (2.7 FAR) make it unique in the M1-5B district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this statement, the applicant submitted its analysis of the 157 tax lots within the M1-5B district north of Houston Street to Astor Place and between Broadway and Bowery; based on the analysis, the applicant states that while there are 23 lots that share the site's small lot area (2,700 sq. ft. or less), narrow lot width (27 feet or less), and underutilization (3.0 FAR or less where the maximum permitted FAR is 5.0 for commercial and manufacturing uses and 6.5 for community facility uses), only ten such lots are not already occupied by residential or mixed uses; further, when vacant lots, lots that are clearly part of a larger development assemblage, and inherently unbuildable lots are eliminated from consideration, only five lots (six including the subject site) remain; and

WHEREAS, the applicant distinguishes the remaining five lots from the subject site based on various factors, including: location on a corner, already-transferred development rights, and shared historic characteristics with neighbors that make independent development unlikely; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant notes that even if the other five lots are considered uniquely burdened by the same factors affecting the subject lot, six lots out of the 157 lots within the study area represents only approximately four percent of the lots; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also contends that the site is further constrained by being occupied by a building designated as contributing to the NoHo Historic District Extension; as such, it cannot demolish the building and replace it with a new building that is better suited to modern conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the "canyon effect," the applicant asserts that the existence of a seven-story building to the east, a six-story building to the west, and seven-story building to the south, each with a rear yard depth of significantly less than 30 feet, further constrain conforming development on the site; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that although a rear yard would not be required for certain conforming uses, the canyon effect would compel it to provide one in order to supply natural light to the rear windows of the buildings (an essential, in terms of marketability, for certain uses such as offices); and

WHEREAS, consequently, the applicant states that the site's small lot area, narrow lot width, and overbuilt neighbors leave it with the following as-of-right scenarios, which it deems equally undesirable: (1) it could create a full lot coverage building by demolishing the rear wall, which would yield floorplates of approximately 2,700 sq. ft., a building depth of 100 feet, and limited windows for light and ventilation except along Great Jones Street; or (2) it could preserve the existing rear yard and enlarge vertically, which would provide more windows, but would result in floorplates of 2,423 sq. ft. (which is essentially what the site offers now and cannot rent); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it is not persuaded that the "canyon effect" is a unique condition; on the contrary, the Board finds that such condition is characteristic of numerous lots within the district; and

WHEREAS, nevertheless, the Board finds that the remaining aforementioned unique physical conditions, when considered in the aggregate, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that, per ZR § 72-21(b), there is no reasonable possibility that the development of the site in conformance with the Zoning Resolution will bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, in particular, in addition to the proposal, the applicant examined the economic feasibility of: (1) an as-of-right 5.0 FAR commercial scenario (offices); (2) an as-of-right 5.0 FAR hotel scenario (22 hotel rooms); and (3) a lesser variance scenario (mixed residential and commercial within the existing building); and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that both as-of-right scenarios and the lesser variance scenario resulted in negative rates of return after capitalization; in contrast, the applicant represents that the proposal results in a positive rate of return, making it the only economically viable scenario; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the applicant's economic analysis, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the immediate area is characterized by a mix of medium-density residential and commercial uses, with some remaining manufacturing/industrial uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that 43.2 percent of the 535 tax lots within the subject M1-5B district are either residential or mixed residential and commercial; thus, the applicant asserts that the existing context includes a significant amount of residential use; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the applicant states that the street-level residential lobby and retail facade will enhance the Great Jones Street frontage, which today, with the exception of the few remaining underutilized sites and parking lots, consists of small retail shops, restaurants and residential lobby entrances; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the proposal will be a natural complement to several recently approved LPC and BSA applications on Great Jones Street and Bond Street, and has the support of the community, which has historically shown an aversion to certain as-of-right uses such as hotels; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the community has, both historically and in this case, been opposed to the creation of eating and drinking establishments in the area; accordingly, the applicant has agreed not to allow an eating or drinking establishment to occupy the ground floor of the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the character of the area is mixed-use, and finds that the introduction of six dwelling units and ground floor retail will not impact nearby conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that some ground floor Use Group 6 is contemplated in the M1-5B district, as evidenced by the existence of ZR § 74-781, a City Planning Commission special permit, which allows modification of the use regulations set forth in ZR § 42-14 upon a finding that the owner has made a good faith effort to rent the space to a conforming use at fair market rentals; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that one part-owner of the site has operated industrial businesses on the subject block for more than 50 years and is intimately knowledgeable regarding the real estate trends and availability of commercial and manufacturing space in the vicinity, and the other part-owner is a real estate development company that has had offices on Great Jones Street for more than ten years and maintains a database of conveyances and leases in the neighborhood; the owners have held the site for many years and have been unable to rent for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant states that the building's street wall height of 91.75 feet and building height of 100 feet are comparable to buildings in the immediate vicinity; and

WHEREAS, LPC has approved the proposal by Certificate of Appropriateness, dated January 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the site's size and narrowness, the limited economic potential of conforming uses on the lot, and the fact the site is occupied by a building designated as contributing to the NoHo Historic District Extension; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board finds that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, as set forth in ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617 and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA102M, dated February 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the October 2013 Remedial Action Work Plan and site-specific Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, within an M1-5B zoning district within the NoHo Historic District Extension, the construction of an eight-story mixed residential and commercial building (Use Groups 2 and 6) with ground floor retail, contrary to ZR §§ 42-10 and 42-14, on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 17, 2013"- eighteen (18) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the proposed building: a total floor area of 13,500 sq. ft. (5.0 FAR), a residential floor area of 11,697 sq. ft. (4.33 FAR), a commercial floor area of 1,803 sq. ft. (0.67 FAR), eight stories, a street wall height of 91.75 feet, a building height of 100 feet, and a rear yard depth of 30 feet beginning at the second story;

THAT an eating and drinking establishment (Use Group 6) will not be permitted at the site;

THAT substantial construction will be completed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT DOB will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until the applicant has provided them with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner, dated May 6, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No. 121607083, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed use as Physical Culture Establishment, as defined by ZR 12-10, in a C4-4 zoning district, is contrary to ZR 32-10 and must be referred to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval pursuant to ZR 73-36;
> Proposed extension of use as Physical Culture Establishment, as defined by ZR 12-10, into R8 portion of zoning lot is contrary to ZR 77-11 and must be referred to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval pursuant to ZR 73-52; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36, 73-03, and 73-52 to permit, on a site located partially within a C4-4 zoning district and partially within an R8 zoning district, the legalization of a physical culture establishment ("PCE") in portions of the cellar and first floor, and entire second floor, of an existing two-story commercial use building, contrary to ZR § 32-10, and to permit the legalization of an extension of the proposed PCE use within the existing two-story commercial use building into the R8 portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 77-11; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 8, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 29, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Hinkson and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregularly-shaped lot located on the west side of Broadway and bordered to the north by West 158th Street, to the south by West 157th Street, and to the west by Edward Morgan Place, partially within a C4-4 zoning district and partially within an R8 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 200 feet of frontage along Broadway, approximately 33 feet of frontage along West 157th Street, approximately 210 feet of frontage along Edward Morgan Place, and approximately 210 feet of frontage along West 158th Street, with a lot area of 26,713 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a two-story commercial building; and

WHEREAS, the PCE occupies approximately 20,376 sq. ft. of floor area in portions of the cellar and first floor, and the entire second floor; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the site since October 27, 1921, when under BSA Cal. No. 972-21-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit an extension of a business building from a business district into a residential district; subsequently, on July 1, 1924, under BSA Cal. No. 571-24-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit an extension of a business building located in both a business district and residential district; lastly, on October 5, 1965, under BSA Cal. No. 757-64-A, the Board granted an appeal from the decision of the fire commissioner requiring installation of a non-automatic sprinkler system in the cellar and installation of an automatic fire alarm with central office connection throughout the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the PCE has been in operation since July 8, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the PCE is currently operated as a Planet Fitness; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to: (1) pursuant to ZR § 73-52, extend the use regulations applicable in the C4-4 portion of the lot six feet to the west along the southern lot line, thereby legalizing a six foot sliver of the existing two-story commercial building within the R8 portion of the lot; and (2) pursuant to ZR § 73-36, legalize a PCE in portions of the cellar and first floor, and the entire second floor, of an existing two-story commercial use building; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-52 provides that when a zoning lot, in single ownership as of December 15, 1961, is divided by district boundaries in which two or more uses are permitted, the Board may permit a use which is permitted in the district in which more than 50 percent of the lot area of the zoning lot is located to extend not more than 25 feet into the remaining portion of the zoning lot where such use is not permitted, provided that: (1) without any such extension, it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the remaining portion of the zoning lot for a permitted use; and (2) such extension will not cause impairment of the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, as to the threshold issues of single ownership and the 50 percent lot area requirement, the applicant submitted deeds showing that the zoning lot was in single ownership prior to December 15, 1961 and continuously from that time onward, as well as a site plan indicating that 19,913 sq. ft. (75 percent) of the site's total lot area of 26,713 sq. ft. is located within the C-4-4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the site meets the threshold requirements for ZR § 73-52; and

WHEREAS, as to economic feasibility, the applicant represents that it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the R8 portion of the site for a permitted use; specifically, the applicant states that the residential portion of the site is occupied with a portion of the two-story building that is too small—approximately six feet wide—to accommodate a separate residential or community facility tenant; as such, absent the requested extension of the PCE into the residential space, the six foot wide portion would remain vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also asserts that because there is an existing, two-story community facility building on the R8 portion of the lot, redevelopment of the R8 portion is impractical because it would necessitate demolition of the existing building; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that the small size and triangular shape of the R8 portion of the lot make it unsuitable for residential use; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that it would not be economically feasible to use or develop the remaining portion of the zoning lot, zoned R8, for a permitted use; and

WHEREAS, as to the extension's effect on the surrounding area, the applicant states that the proposed extension is consistent with existing land use conditions and anticipated projects in the immediate area, in that the area surrounding the site is predominated by commercial and high-density residential uses; further, the proposed PCE will be entirely within the existing building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the PCE does not have any windows on entrances facing the residential district, and that commercial uses have existed at the site for decades; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed extension of the C4-4 zoning district portion of the lot into the R8 portion will not cause impairment of the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, turning to the substantive findings for ZR § 73-36, the applicant represents that the services at the PCE include facilities for group training, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction, and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the hours of operation for the PCE will be 24 hours per day and seven days per week; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this action will neither 1) alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood; 2) impair the future use or development of adjacent properties; nor 3) be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, finally, the PCE will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board, therefore, has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36, 73-03, and 73-52; and

WHEREAS, the Board reduces the term of the grant for the period since the PCE began operation on July 8, 2013 to the date of the grant; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA142M, dated May 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the operation of the PCE would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36, 73-03, and 73-52 to permit, on a site partially within a C4-4 zoning district and partially within an R8 zoning district, the legalization of an existing PCE in portions of the cellar and first floor, and entire second floor of an existing two-story commercial use building, contrary to ZR § 32-10, and the legalization of an extension of an existing commercial use within portions of an existing building within the R8 portion of the zoning lot, contrary to ZR § 77-11; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "August 28, 2013" – Five (5) sheets and "Received October 16, 2013" – One (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the PCE grant will expire on July 8, 2023;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT the bulk parameters of the building will be as follows: 6,800 sq. ft. within the R8 portion of the lot and 19,913 sq. ft. within the C4-4 portion of the lot;

THAT Local Law 58/87 compliance will be as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT fire safety measures will be installed and/or maintained as shown on the Board-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction will be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all of the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for an amendment to a prior grant to permit the conversion of automotive service bays to an accessory convenience store, the elimination of automobile repair use, and an increase in the number of gasoline pumps from three to eight; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 10, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on October 22, 2013, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the site and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 13, Queens, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a corner lot spanning the full length of 224th Street, between North Conduit Avenue and 143rd Avenue, within an R3X zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 133.06 feet of frontage along North Conduit Avenue, 185.6 feet of frontage along 224th Street, 120 feet of frontage along 143rd Street, and a lot area of 18,864 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since January 28, 1947, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the reconstruction, enlargement, and continued use of an existing gasoline service station, and the addition of an automobile sales showroom, a repair shop, an auto laundry, a lubritorium, and an office; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, the grant has been amended by the Board at various times; and

WHEREAS, on November 13, 1968, the Board granted an amendment to allow for a total of 12 gasoline storage tanks and the relocation of pumps and pump islands at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks an amendment to permit the following: (1) the conversion of automotive service bays to an accessory convenience store; (2) the elimination of the automobile repair use; and (3) an increase in the number of pumps from three to eight; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 11-412, the Board may amend the grant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed convenience store complies with Department of Buildings' Technical Policy and Procedure Notice No. 10/1999, in that the selling floor of the convenience store will be located on the same lot as the gasoline station and have less than 2,500 sq. ft. of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, initially, the applicant also sought to construct a drive-thru for the convenience store; however, in response to concerns raised by the Board, that portion of the proposal was abandoned; and

WHEREAS, in addition, at hearing, the Board expressed concerns over: (1) the site's towing-related operations, which are not authorized under any of the Board's grants; and (2) the signage calculations provided; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant acknowledged that towing-related operations were not permitted; the also applicant submitted: (1) an affidavit from the operator of the site, which attested to the recent cessation of towing-related operations; and (2) signage calculations by frontage, which reflects that the signage is in accordance with the C1 regulations; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the requested amendment is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated January 28, 1947, so that as amended the resolution reads: "to allow for the conversion of automotive service bays to an accessory convenience store, the elimination of automobile repair use, an increase in the number of gasoline pumps from three to eight, and other related site changes; on condition that all use and operations shall substantially conform to plans filed with this application marked 'Received November 1, 2013' – nine (9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT all signage will comply with the C1 zoning district regulations;

THAT the above condition and all relevant conditions from prior grants will appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a new certificate of occupancy will be obtained by May 19, 2015;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 22, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of West 28th Street, between Sixth Avenue and Seventh Avenue, within an M1-6 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a nine-story mixed-use commercial/ residential building, with a total floor area of 39,950 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since November 24, 1981 when, under BSA Cal. No. 768-81-ALC, the Board granted an application pursuant to ZR § 15-021 to permit the conversion of 24,776 sq. ft. of commercial floor area on the second through ninth floors of the subject building to residential floor area, with the exception of half-floor units on the second, third, fifth and seventh floors; and

WHEREAS, on October 18, 2005, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the conversion of four units constituting 8,750 sq. ft. of floor area on the second, third, fifth and seventh floors from commercial use to residential use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that additional time is necessary to complete the project; thus, the applicant now requests an extension of time to complete construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that completion of the project has been slowed by delays in purchasing the units, obtaining co-op approval of the construction documents for the renovation of the units, and acquiring DOB permits for the work; in addition, it has not even completed the purchase of Unit 3W, which is necessary prior to the conversion authorized by the subject variance; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of time to complete construction is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application requesting a Board determination that the owner of the premises has obtained the right to complete construction of a two-story, two-family residential building under the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 29, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of 87th Avenue, between 239th Street and 241st Street, within an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 40 feet of frontage along 87th Avenue, and a total lot area of 4,696 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is proposed to be developed with a two-story residential building with 2,812.38 sq. ft. of floor area (0.6 FAR) and two dwelling units (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Building complies with the parameters of the former R3A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, on April 23, 2013, Alteration Permit No. 420577753-01-AL (hereinafter, the "Alteration Permit") was issued by the Department of Buildings ("DOB") permitting construction of the Building; and

WHEREAS, however, on June 24, 2013 (hereinafter, the "Enactment Date"), the City Council voted to adopt the Bellerose, Floral Park, and Glen Oaks Rezoning, which rezoned the site from R3A to R2A; and

WHEREAS, the Building, which is a two-family residence with 2,812.38 sq. ft. of floor area (0.6 FAR), does not comply with the current zoning, which allows only single-family residences with a maximum FAR of 0.5; and

WHEREAS, as of the Enactment Date, the applicant had obtained permits but had not completed construction; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks recognition of vested right to complete construction pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights; and

WHEREAS, a threshold matter for the vested rights analysis is that a permit be issued lawfully prior to the Enactment Date and that the work was performed pursuant to such lawful permit; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 20, 2013, DOB stated that the Alteration Permit was lawfully issued, authorizing construction of the proposed Building prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a lawfully-issued permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10 (2d Dept. 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner's rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested "and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause 'serious loss' to the owner," and "where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance"; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308 (2d Dept. 1990) "there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess 'a vested right'. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action"; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial construction, the applicant states that it performed the following prior to the Enactment Date: (1) demolition of the existing garage at the site; (2) partial demolition of the existing two-family building at the site, including roof, attic, and interior partitions; (3) capping of electrical and plumbing; (4) bracing of the existing walls at the cellar and first and second stories; (5) bracing and installation of subflooring for the existing second story; (6) 40 percent of the framing for the enlargement; and (7) three percent of the excavation (the applicant notes that because the majority of the project is developing the first story, the limited amount of excavation work is not reflective of the progress of construction); and

WHEREAS, in support of this statement, the applicant has submitted the following: a breakdown of the construction costs by line item; copies of cancelled checks; construction permits; invoices; and photographs of the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the amount and type of work completed before and after the Enactment Date and the documentation submitted in support of these representations, and agrees that it establishes that substantial work was performed; and

WHEREAS, as to expenditure, the Board notes that unlike an application for relief under ZR § 11-30 et seq., soft costs and irrevocable financial commitments can be considered in an application under the common law and

accordingly, these costs are appropriately included in the applicant's analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the total expenditure paid for the development is $62,542.85 (including $37,708.64 in hard costs), or 25 percent, out of the $250,000 cost to complete; and

WHEREAS, as noted, the applicant has submitted invoices and copies of cancelled checks; and

WHEREAS, the Board considers the amount of expenditures significant, both for a project of this size, and when compared with the development costs; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board's consideration is guided by the percentages of expenditure cited by New York courts considering how much expenditure is needed to vest rights under a prior zoning regime; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the R2A use regulations are significantly more restrictive than the R3A regulations; specifically, whereas a two-family residence is permitted in an R3A zoning district, only a single-family residence is permitted in an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that the bulk regulations for an R2A are more restrictive; whereas 0.6 FAR is permitted in an R3A zoning district, only 0.5 FAR is permitted in an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that, in order to comply with the R3A regulations, it would have to revert to the prior one-family residence at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the changes to the Building required under the R2A district regulations would significantly decrease the market value of the Building and the site, and result in a loss of all expenditures made to date (since the Building would have to be restored to its pre-construction size and occupancy), which would result in a serious economic loss to the applicant; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that complying with the R2A district regulations would result in a serious economic loss for the applicant; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

Therefore it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 420577753-01-AL, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for four years from the date of this grant.

THE VOTE TO GRANT –

WHEREAS, the decision of the First Deputy Commissioner, dated June 28, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320378088 reads, in pertinent part:

> The request to confirm that an automatic sprinkler system is not required throughout the existing building when changing the occupancy group class from R-2 to R-3 is hereby denied.
> Where the above referenced Alteration Type I application was reviewed under the 1968 Building Code, the use of the 1968 Building Code or a prior Code for the alteration of existing buildings is permitted subject to the conditions listed under AC 28-101.4.3. Item 2 of AC 28-101.4.3 requires that "the installation, alteration and additions to fire protection systems regulated by Chapter 9 of the New York city building code, including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems, shall be governed by applicable provisions of such chapter and related referenced standards." The subject building with a proposed reduction in the total number of dwelling units from 3 to 2 dwelling units, because of the change in the occupancy of the building from R-2 to R-3, requires compliance with the fire protection systems regulated by Chapter 9, including the sprinkler systems. In accordance with BC 903.2.7, "an automatic sprinkler system shall be installed in Group R fire areas." Since the exceptions under BC 903.2.7 do not apply for the subject building, an automatic sprinkler system is required to be installed throughout the building.

In addition the Building Code requirement for the sprinkler system is regardless of any sprinkler system exemptions permitted under the New York City Fire Code.

Furthermore, the request to propose a fire escape and hard-wired interconnected smoke and carbon monoxide detectors and alarms in lieu of the required automatic sprinkler system does not provide an equally safe or safer alternative; and

WHEREAS, this is an appeal, pursuant to New York City Charter § 666(6), of DOB's requirement to install a sprinkler system in connection with the building's conversion, and, in the alternate, if the Board agrees with DOB that there is such a requirement, a request pursuant to New York City Charter § 666(7), to vary the requirement; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 24, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on October 22, 2013, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a four-story brick townhouse, which was builtoccupied as a two-family home, later converted to a three-family home, and recently converted back to a two-family home under the subject alteration application; and

Application History

WHEREAS, due to the age of the building, the applicant was able to file its alteration application under the 1968 Building Code to renovate and convert the building from a three-family home to a two-family home; and

WHEREAS, under 1968 Building Code classifications, a three-family home is J-2 and a two-family home is J-3 (neither of which require sprinklers under the 1968 Building Code) and under 2008 Building Code classifications a three-family home is R-2 and a two-family home is R-3 (both of which require sprinklers under the 2008 Building Code with limited exceptions); and

WHEREAS, on October 31, 2011, DOB issued objections to the alteration application, which included a requirement for "Carbon monoxide and smoke detector" but did not include a requirement for sprinklers; and

WHEREAS, on January 26, 2012, DOB approved and permitted the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that DOB verbally identified a sprinkler requirement but concluded that it could be waived; and

WHEREAS, in February 2012, the conversion work was completed; and

WHEREAS, on February 23, 2012, DOB denied a request to waive the sprinkler requirements for the change of occupancy group, stating that compliance with the 2008 Building Code is required for the change in occupancy; and

WHEREAS, in connection with the conversion, the property owner installed hard-wired interconnected smoke and carbon monoxide detectors and alarms, which are required under the 1968 Code for J-3 occupancies, and the building has a rear yard fire escape, which provides an additional means of egress; and

WHERAS, the applicant notes that by approval dated April 15, 2012, the Fire Department stated that the 2008 Building Code should not be interpreted to require sprinklers in buildings being converted to one- or two-family homes under the 1968 Building Code, and approved a waiver of the sprinkler requirement, noting the inclusion of the proposed fire safety measures; and

WHEREAS, in June and August 2012, DOB denied the applicant's request to approve the construction without a sprinkler; and

Relevant Statutory Provisions

Building Code § 28-101.4.3 Optional use of the 1968 building code for alteration of existing buildings

At the option of the owner, and subject to appropriate approval, a permit may be issued after the effective date of this code authorizing work on existing buildings constructed in accordance with the 1968 building code or with the building laws in effect prior to the effective date of the 1968 building code to be performed in accordance with the requirements and standards set forth in the 1968 building code, subject to the following conditions: . . .

2. The installation, alteration and additions to fire protection systems regulated by Chapter 9 of the [2008] New York city building code, including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems, shall be governed by applicable provisions of such chapter and related referenced standards. With respect to existing buildings, references to occupancy classifications in Chapter 9 of the New York city building code shall be deemed to refer to the equivalent occupancy classification of the 1968 building code; and

The Applicant's Interpretation of Building Code § 28-101.4.3

WHEREAS, the applicant makes the following three primary points in support of its position that sprinklers are not required: (1) the 1968 Building Code does not require sprinklers for two-family homes; (2) the plain reading of Section 28-101.4.3 reflects that the 2008 Building Code is not triggered because the conversion from a three- to a two-family dwelling is not a change of occupancy that would require a sprinkler; and (3) the standards and specifications of the 2008 Building Code only apply to the portion of the fire protection system that is installed as a result of the change in occupancy group; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the change in occupancy group must be analyzed under the occupancy classifications of the 1968 Building Code to determine whether there is a change in occupancy group that would require the installation of fire protection systems; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the occupancy group is changing from J-2 (multi-family) to J-3 (one- and two-family) and that under the 1968 Building Code (Table 17-2), J-3 occupancies do not require sprinklers, nor does the change of occupancy to J-3 trigger any requirement for fire protection systems under the 1968 Building Code, other than smoke detectors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that since J-3 occupancy does not require a sprinkler under the 1968 Building Code, there is no "change of occupancy group" that "would require such systems" pursuant to Section 28-101.4.3 and therefore the fire protection standards of the 2008 Building Code do not apply to a change in occupancy group from J-2 (multi-family) to J-3 (one- and two-family); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that DOB's interpretation of Section 28-101.4.3 would require the installation of sprinklers for any change of occupancy group rather than only a change that would require it; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the requirement to install a sprinkler system does not apply in this case because it is triggered only when the 1968 Code would require the installation of a fire protection system; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the basic premise of Section 28-101.4.3 is that existing buildings may be altered under the 1968 Building Code instead of the 2008 Building Code, subject to a list of exceptions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant suggests that the interpretation of Section 28-101.4.3 with or without the phrase: "including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems" the provision should read the same way and that is that "the installation, alteration and additions to fire protection systems regulated by Chapter 9 of the New York city building code . . . shall be governed by applicable provisions of such chapter and related referenced standards;" and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the provision states that if an owner is installing a fire protection system or altering or adding to an existing one then that work is governed by the 2008 Building Code; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the second paragraph of Section 28-101.4.3 – specifically the phrase "including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems" - must mean that if an owner is installing a fire protection system in an existing building because a change in occupancy group would require it under the 1968 Building Code, then the installation must adhere to the requirements of the 2008 Building Code, not the 1968 Building Code; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the phrase referring to a change in occupancy group cannot be read independently to impose a requirement to install a fire protection system, because it begins with the word "including"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that of all the sections in Chapter 9 of the 2008 Building Code that cover fire safety systems, only the sprinkler requirements are specifically identified as applying to new buildings as opposed to the other sections that apply to all buildings, existing and new; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that an owner must look to the 2008 Building Code simply to determine the particular requirements of the fire protection system being installed, but not to determine whether or not the installation itself is required; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that nothing in Section 28-101.4.3 contains an independent requirement to install a sprinkler system when there is a change of occupancy group and nothing in 28-101.4.3 says to look to the 2008 Building Code to determine when a change of occupancy group would impose the requirement; and

DOB's Interpretation of Building Code § 28-101.4.3

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that Section 28-101.3.4 requires a new sprinkler system be installed for the following primary reasons: (1) the sprinkler requirement for a change in occupancy group is not within the scope of exemption from the 2008 Building Code; and (2) 2008 Building Code regulations are the sole subject of sub-paragraph 2; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Section 28-101.4.3 allows construction on existing buildings to follow the 1968 Building Code, except that changes of occupancy groups requiring a fire protection system under Chapter 9 of the 2008 Building Code must follow the 2008 code's fire protection requirements; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that Section 28-101.4.3 then clarifies that occupancy groups mentioned in Chapter 9 of the 2008 Building Code using the 2008 Building Code terminology apply to the equivalent occupancy groups listed under the former 1968 Building Code classifications in existing buildings as follows: "[w]ith respect to existing buildings, references to occupancy classifications in Chapter 9 of the New York city building code shall be deemed to refer to the equivalent occupancy classification of the 1968 building code;" and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the applicant's argument that Section 28-101.4.3(2)'s clarification of terminology between the 1968 and 2008 codes means that pre-existing buildings should be analyzed using the 1968 occupancy classifications and applicable 1968 regulations is unreasonable as the second sentence of Section 28-101.4.3(2) would negate the effect of the first sentence, which specifically applies the 2008 Building Code fire protection systems requirements to changes in occupancy even when the rest of the job is allowed to comply with the 1968 Building Code; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that there is an inherent conflict in the applicant's interpretation, combined with Applicant's lack of reasons to adopt such interpretation; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the applicant's grammatical analysis of Section 28-101.4.3's "participial clause" (i.e., the portion that reads "including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems") does not add to the interpretive dispute at issue because whether this phrase is (in applicant's words) a "specific example within the overall meaning of the sentence" or if it "independently [] impose[s] a requirement to install a fire protection system," this section means that changes of occupancy groups requiring fire protection systems are "governed by applicable provisions of [2008 Code Chapter 9] and related referenced standards;" and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the issue remains whether the language "changes of occupancy groups requiring fire protection systems" refers to systems required under the 2008 or 1968 codes and the context of the section clearly points to the 2008 Building Code; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that under Section 28-101.4.3, existing buildings may be altered under the 1968 Building Code instead of the 2008 Building Code but for some exceptions where the 2008 Building Code must apply; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the first sentence of sub-paragraph 2 addresses work on fire protection systems governed by 2008 Building Code Chapter 9, and it specifies that such work must comply with "such chapter and related referenced standards;" and

WHEREAS, DOB states that since the specific legal references at the beginning and end of the sentence are about Chapter 9 of the 2008 Code, the reference in the middle of this sentence to a "change in occupancy group that would require such [fire protection] systems" must refer to Chapter 9 as well; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that without any indication that this phrase refers to the 1968 Building Code, it would be impossible to infer such meaning from this language; while the applicant claims one can infer its proffered interpretation from this text because the 1968 Building Code governs the work in that building, the paragraph under consideration specifically dictates the exception to the 1968 Building Code's application in favor of the 2008 Building Code and, thus, applicant's interpretation is untenable; and

WHEREAS, additionally, DOB states that the fact that the applicant was granted a waiver of the sprinkler requirement of Fire Code 503.8.2 (a statute requiring sprinklers due to restricted fire apparatus access) has no bearing on the proper interpretation of Section 28-101.4.3 as it is a different statute with different purposes; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB does not find it relevant that applicant's allegations that a Fire Department representative does not interpret the 2008 Building Code to require a sprinkler in this case nor is such a position binding interpretation upon DOB or the Board; and

WHEREAS, as to the applicant's request that the Board vary the sprinkler requirement, DOB notes that it has found that the proposed "fire escape and hard-wired interconnected smoke and carbon monoxide detectors and alarms in lieu of the required automatic sprinkler system does not provide an equally safe or safer alternative;" and

The Board's Conclusion

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB that Section 28-101.4.3 reflects a requirement for sprinklers pursuant to the 2008 Building Code when there is a change in occupancy group, including from a three- to two-family home; and

WHEREAS, the Board concurs with DOB's interpretation and notes specifically that Section 28-101.4.3(2) addresses the circumstances when the allowance to follow the 1968 Building Code does not apply and it is strained to read that a portion of the provision then actually addresses the 1968 Code rather than the applicable 2008 Building Code, which is otherwise the subject of the sub-paragraph; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that there is meaning to the entire provision and that, under the applicant's interpretation, the language "refer to the equivalent occupancy classification of the 1968 building code" would be redundant but under DOB's interpretation that language provides instruction about how to translate the 2008 Building Code occupancy classifications; and

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that the provision's language "shall be governed by such applicable provisions of such chapter and related reference standards" immediately following "including a change of occupancy group that would require such systems" must be read with it to recognize that reference standards and the other "provisions" of the 2008 Building Code's Chapter 9 apply in situations where there is a change of occupancy group, as here; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not persuaded by the applicant's argument that only the 2008 Building Code's technical standards are applied to sprinkler systems and that the substantive requirements arise from the 1968 Building Code; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board upholds DOB's requirement for sprinklers in the subject building; and

The Applicant's Request to Vary the Building Code

WHEREAS, the applicant requests that in the alternate, if the Board supports DOB's interpretation, then a waiver of a sprinkler requirement in Section 28-101.4.3 pursuant to the Board's authority under City Charter § 666(7) is appropriate; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building otherwise complies with all relevant regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it has authority to hear appeals of final determinations of the Department of Buildings, as set forth in Charter § 666(6) and that the basis for the subject application is a final determination from the Department of Buildings, with an objection that cites to the Building Code; and

WHEREAS, the subject application seeks a modification of the 2008 Building Code provision, pursuant to the Board's authority under Charter § 666(7); and

WHEREAS, if all other requirements of Charter § 666 are met, including the subject matter and source of the final determination, the Board may grant a modification pursuant to Charter § 666(7), if it finds that (1) there are practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the law; (2) the spirit of the law shall be observed; (3) public safety shall be secured; (4) substantial justice is done; and (5) if the Housing Maintenance Code is varied it shall be limited to the extent permitted by the code and only in the manner provided for in it; and

WHEREAS, as to the practical difficulties and hardship, the applicant represents that all of the conversion work has been completed pursuant to DOB approvals and installing a sprinkler system now and new service line from the water main, after all the walls, ceiling, and floor have been finished will cost approximately $124,780 to install the sprinkler and make associated repairs and interior finishing work; the applicant provided a construction professional's estimate, which enumerates the necessary work and reflects that figure; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the work includes 25 sprinkler heads throughout the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the supplemental costs represent close to 50 percent of the $298,800 in costs to renovate the building; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant represents that there are significant costs associated with connecting to the water service line leading to the building from the street and increasing the diameter of the pipe from the service line in order to accommodate the water supply a sprinkler requires; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted documentation to support its claims about the hardship associated with installing the sprinklers in the building which was recently renovated; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that due to the supplemental work and expense the applicant has established that there are practical difficulties in installing sprinklers now after all of the renovation work has been completed pursuant to DOB's approval that did not include a sprinkler requirement; and

WHEREAS, as to the spirit of the law, the applicant represents that neither the Building Code nor the Fire Code intend for a sprinkler requirement to apply retroactively to existing one- and two-family buildings which are being converted to their original occupancy classification; and

WHEREAS, rather, the applicant states that the intent of Section 28-101.4.3 is to require compliance with the 2008 standards for sprinklers for existing buildings only when the 1968 Building Code requires their installation; and

WHEREAS, the Board recognizes a broader intent of Section 28-101.4.3 to include increasing fire safety for buildings that undergo significant renovations with occupancy changes; however, it notes that the applicant has actually reduced the density of the building from three to two units and that the smoke detectors, alarms, and fire escape provide a level of fire safety that satisfies the Fire Department; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed waiver does not conflict with the spirit of the law; and

WHEREAS, as to public safety, the applicant states that hardwired interconnected smoke detectors and alarms, and fire escape provide an equally safe alternative under the Fire Code, as evidenced by the Fire Department's waiver of the sprinkler requirement; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that its renovation of the building includes the following significant improvements to the infrastructure which contribute to safer conditions: the installation of new electrical systems; gas main, and meter bars along with all risers and branch piping; fireproof 5/8-inch sheetrock in the vast majority of the ceilings and walls; and fire blanket insulation in the vast majority of ceilings and walls; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the 2008 Building Code requires the Buildings' commissioner to "act in consultation with the fire commissioner on matters relating to fire safety," so the opinion of the Fire Department that the site is adequately fire protected should carry a great deal of weight in determining whether the current protection is an equally safe alternative; and

WHEREAS, the applicant adds that there is a fire station less than two minutes travel time from the building; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes the existing condition prior to the conversion was a three-family building without a sprinkler system; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the proposal includes sufficient improved measures and will not compromise public safety; and

WHEREAS, as to substantial justice, the applicant asserts that the reduction in density from three to two units should not trigger a requirement to install an expensive sprinkler system; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant represents that all construction was performed pursuant to DOB approvals and DOB verbally waived a sprinkler requirement with the project architect; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it is unjust for DOB to require a sprinkler system now as a prerequisite to a Certificate of Occupancy after all the conversion work has been completed when there were verbal assurances that the sprinkler would not be required and no such requirement was listed as an objection on the application or on the plans; and

WHEREAS, the Board concurs that substantial justice is maintained if the sprinkler requirement is waived; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the applicant does not seek a variance of the Housing Maintenance Code and, thus, that finding is not relevant to the subject application; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board notes that, according to the applicant, the proposal will be in full compliance with all other provisions of the Administrative Code and the Building Code, as well as the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence in support of the findings required to be made under Charter § 666(7) and varies Building Code § 28-101.3.4; and

WHEREAS, in reaching this determination, the Board notes that its finding is based on the unique facts related to the physical conditions of the building and the sequence of DOB's approvals as presented in the instant application, and that this decision does not have general applicability to any pending or future Board application.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the appeal of the decision of the First Deputy Commissioner, dated June 28, 2013, is denied but the request for waiver is granted, limited to the decision noted above, on condition that construction will be maintained in conformance with the plans approved by DOB dated January 24, 2012 – seven (7) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT all conditions, including the hardwired interconnected smoke detectors and alarms, be maintained in accordance with the January 24, 2012 DOB plans; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated April 11, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320715534 reads, in pertinent part:

> Proposed House of Worship (UG 4) in an R5 district is contrary to ZR 24-34 (front yard), ZR 24-36 (rear yard), and ZR 24-35 (side yard); and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site in an R5 zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of a three-story residential building to be occupied as a synagogue (Use Group 4), which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for front yard, side yards and rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 22, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, Councilman David G. Greenfield recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Congregation Beth Aron Moshe (the "Congregation"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a rectangular lot with 28 feet of frontage along 57th Street, between 15th Avenue and 16th Avenue, within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has a lot area of 2,804.7 sq. ft. and is currently occupied by a three-story, semi-detached residential building with 4,236 sq. ft. of floor area (1.51 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert the residential building to a synagogue, mikvah, and rabbi's apartment, and construct a one-story rear enlargement with a complying floor area of 5,119 sq. ft. (1.83 FAR) (a maximum FAR of 2.0 is permitted), a complying lot coverage of 50 percent (a maximum lot coverage of 55 percent is permitted), and a complying front wall and building height of 29'-4" (a maximum height of 35'-0" is permitted with a 1:1 sky exposure plane); and

WHEREAS, in addition, the proposal includes the following non-compliances: maintaining the existing front yard depth of 2'-11½" (a minimum front yard of 10'-0" is required); maintaining a portion of the existing side yard at its existing 7'-10" width (two side yards are required, with a minimum width of 8'-0" each); and maintaining the existing rear yard depth of 27'-2½" (a minimum rear yard depth of 30'-0" is required; however, a one-story permitted obstruction is permitted for a community facility); and

WHEREAS, the proposal would allow for the following uses: (1) synagogue and mikvah at the cellar level; (2) synagogue at the basement level; and (3) a rabbi's apartment at the first and second stories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the primary programmatic needs of the Congregation, which necessitate the requested variances: (1) to accommodate its membership, which currently consists of approximately 50 to 60 individuals on a daily basis and 98 individuals on the Sabbath and high holidays; (2) to provide adult religious education classes and lectures to the community on a regular basis; (3) to hold special events such as Kiddush for a Bar or Bat Miztvah; (4) to provide the necessary sanctuary and worship space for the congregants; (5) to provide an apartment for the rabbi who maintains a close relationship to the congregants through holding religious services and pastoral counseling; and (6) to satisfy the religious requirement that members of the Congregation be within walking distance of the synagogue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the synagogue will be used daily for morning and evening services, as well as the Sabbath and high holidays, with daily services beginning at 6:10 a.m. and ending at 10:00 p.m. and Sabbath and high holiday services beginning at 9:15 a.m. and ending at 10:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the mikvah space in the cellar will accommodate up to 20 people and will be open daily from 4:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. and on Friday and holiday evenings from 4:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the two-story rabbi's apartment is necessary because of the rabbi's close ties with the congregants and his programmatic requirements to provide daily religious services and pastoral counseling; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the non-complying yards are existing conditions, and that, absent the requested yard waivers, it would be unable to maintain and re-use the existing building or accommodate an appropriate worship area, necessary sanctuary space, proper separate entrances for men and women, and a functional apartment for the rabbi; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the enlargement is necessary because the size of the existing building is inadequate for the current and projected needs of the Congregation, especially on high holidays, when the number of congregants that attend services increases; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, due to the narrowness of the site, an as-of-right enlargement, which requires two, eight-foot side yards, results in a building width in the enlarged portion of only 12 feet; and

WHEREAS, as to the requested front and rear yard waivers, the applicant notes that they are necessary not because of any proposed construction (a synagogue is a permitted obstruction within a rear yard up to a height of 23 feet and one story), but because of the existing conditions; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that it seeks to utilize as much of the existing building as possible, in order to minimize costs, and that the proposal accomplishes this; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Congregation, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 N.Y.2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Congregation create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Congregation is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, or be detrimental to the public welfare, consistent with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding neighborhood is characterized by low- to medium density residential and community facility uses, and that, as such, the proposal is consistent with the use and bulk of the area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that immediately west of the site is a large, six-story multiple dwelling, which provides an open area adjacent to the proposed one-story enlargement, and immediately east of the site is a three-story, two-family dwelling that is already attached to the building at the subject site; thus, the impact of the proposed one-story enlargement on its immediate neighbors is minimal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed FAR is less than the maximum permitted as-of-right for a community facility in the R5 district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states, as noted above, that the existing non-complying front and rear yards will be not be altered and that the side yard waivers will visually affect only the rear of the site on the west side, where the one-story enlargement is proposed, and an open area of 7'-10" will continue to be provided for the majority of the lot; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that the synagogue will be used by members of the surrounding community and that the application has received a letter of support from an adjoining neighbor; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Congregation could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states and the Board agrees that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to afford relief to satisfy the Congregation's programmatic needs, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as Unlisted pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA130K, dated April 18, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, on a site in an R5 zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of an existing three-story building to be occupied by a synagogue, mikvah, and a rabbi's apartment, which does not comply with the zoning district regulations for front yard, side yards, and rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received July 25, 2013" – Eleven (11) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: a floor area of 5,119 sq. ft. (1.83 FAR); a minimum front yard depth of 2'-11½"; a minimum rear yard depth of 27'-2½" above the first story; and three stories, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the use will be limited to a synagogue with a mikvah (Use Group 4), and an accessory rabbi's apartment;

THAT no commercial catering will occur on the site;

THAT any change in the control or ownership of the building will require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans are considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Application granted on condition.

THE VOTE TO GRANT –

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated September 21, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320444444, reads in pertinent part:

ZR 23-45 – proposed front yard is less than required minimum;

ZR 23-461 – proposed side yard is less than required minimum; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 72-21 and 73-622, to permit, within an R5 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing, detached single-family home that does not provide the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-45 and 23-461; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application June 11, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on August 13, 2013, September 24, 2013, and October 22, 2013, and then to decision on November 19, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a corner lot located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Avenue T and East 14th Street, within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 24 feet of frontage along East 14th Street, 100 feet of frontage along Avenue T, and 2,400 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a two-story, detached, single-family home with 1,490 sq. ft. of floor area (0.57 FAR), and an attic; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing first and second stories, and the attic of the building contrary to the side and front yard requirements, and increase the floor area from 1,490 sq. ft. of floor area (0.57 FAR) to 2,794 sq. ft. (1.16 FAR) (a maximum of 3,000 sq. ft. (1.25 FAR) is permitted); and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant proposes to maintain its existing, non-complying front yard with a depth of 3'-11" (a minimum front yard depth of ten feet is required), and its existing, non-complying side yard with a width of 3'-11" (a minimum side yard width of five feet is required) in the enlarged portion of the building; and

WHEREAS, the premises is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-622 is available, and under that section, the applicant seeks approval of the proposed side yard; however, ZR § 73-622 is not available for a waiver of the front yard requirement; accordingly, the applicant seeks a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 for that portion of the proposal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following, when considered together, are unique physical conditions, which creates practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in compliance with underlying zoning regulations: (1) the obsolete size and underdevelopment of the existing home; and (2) the site's narrowness and location on a corner; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a study of the 117 sites within a 400-foot radius of the site to support this statement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the size of the home at 1,490 sq. ft. is one of the smallest homes in the surrounding area; the applicant notes that the home has only two small bedrooms, which renders it obsolete as a modern, single-family home; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant states that the site itself is significantly underdeveloped at 0.57 FAR where 1.25 FAR is permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that despite such underdevelopment, the site's corner location and narrow width (24 feet) create a practical difficulty in enlarging the existing building in accordance with yard requirements of the R5 district; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that an enlargement of the home with complying yards would result in the enlarged portion of the building having an outer dimension of only 9'-0" feet; the applicant states that a 9'-0" width would yield inefficient floorplates and room sizes not suited to modern living; and

WHEREAS, as to uniqueness, the applicant states that the study indicates that of 117 sites studied, only 20 sites are occupied by homes with less than 1,500 sq. ft. of floor area; of these 20 sites, 18 sites are interior lots with two side yards and are eligible for a side yard waiver under ZR § 73-622; the subject site cannot obtain similar relief because it has two front yards rather than two side yards; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant notes that the study shows that there is only one other site with a home of 1,500 sq. ft. or less that is on a corner lot; however, that site is distinguishable from the subject site because it has significantly less lot area 1,575 sq. ft. of lot area (35 percent less than the subject site's 2,400 sq. ft. of lot area); therefore, that home's smaller size is attributable less to its location on a narrow, corner lot and more to its significantly smaller lot size; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant also notes that three of the sites are occupied by attached or semi-detached homes, which are not required to provide two side yards; and

WHEREAS, therefore, only one other underdeveloped site is comparable to the subject site in terms of lot width, location on corner, and existing non-compliances exists in the study area; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant explored the feasibility of an as-of-right enlargement of the home; such an enlargement would not yield any additional bedrooms, and would result in a modest increase in floor area from 1,490 sq. ft. (0.57 FAR) to 2,074 sq. ft. (0.69), which the applicant notes is well below the maximum permitted FAR of 1.25; thus, the applicant asserts that an as-of-right enlargement is impractical; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the site's unique conditions create practical difficulties in developing in accordance with the front yard regulations; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that compliance with applicable zoning regulations will result in a habitable home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that neither the proposed variance, nor the special permit will negatively affect the character of the neighborhood or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding area is characterized by low-density, detached or semi-detached, two- or three-story homes, with varying side yard depths; as such, the proposal is consistent with the use, bulk, and appearance of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal will maintain the existing non-complying front and side yards and will comply in all other respects with the R5 bulk regulations; and that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-622 is available, and that several homes have utilized the special permit to enlarge; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states, as noted above,

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant asserts that three corner lots in the area have similar yard sizes, but are occupied by even larger homes than the proposal; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concerns regarding: (1) the lack of landscaping at the site; and (2) the proposed wrap-around porch; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a plan indicating: (1) additional plantings along Avenue T and East 14th Street; and (2) that the porch would be subject to Department of Buildings approval; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is a result of the unique conditions at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 72-21 and 73-622; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings ZR §§ 72-21 and 73-622, to permit, within an R5 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing, detached single-family home that does not provide the required front yard, contrary to ZR §§ 23-45 and 23-461; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received October 11, 2013"- nine (9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the proposed building will be limited to: two stories and an attic, a maximum floor area of 2,794 sq. ft. (1.16 FAR), a front yard with minimum width of 3'-11", and side yards with minimum widths of 3'-11" and 20'-0", as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT significant construction will proceed in accordance with ZR §§ 72-23 and 73-70; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Bronx Borough Commissioner, dated April 30, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No. 220201412, reads in pertinent part:

> ZR Section 24-33(b) – the proposed building within the rear yard is contrary to the cited section in that it exceeds the height limitation for permitted obstructions;
> ZR Section 24-35(a) – the proposed side yard is contrary to the cited section in that ten percent of the aggregate street walls is required (15 feet) [however] per the proposed plan, eight feet is indicated;
> ZR Section 24-36 – the proposed rear yard does not comply with the minimum 30 feet required [because] the interior lot portion of the site is not eligible for the shallow lot provision, per ZR Section 24-37(a);
> ZR Section 24-34 – proposed front yard is contrary to the stated section in that [a depth of] 15 feet [is required but] only ten feet [is provided]; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R4 zoning district, the construction of a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) that does not comply with the zoning regulations for rear yard, side yard, front yard, and permitted obstructions in rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-33, 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 17, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Evangelical Church Letting Christ Be Known (the "Church"), a not-for-profit institution; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Bronx, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns about traffic and parking; and

WHEREAS, Councilmember Andy King testified in opposition to the proposal, citing concerns about traffic; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in opposition to the application, citing concerns about traffic and the requested yard waivers' impacts on adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregular corner lot located on the northwest corner of the intersection of Grace Avenue and Bartow Avenue, within an R4 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 100 feet of frontage along Bartow Avenue, approximately 322 feet of frontage along Grace Avenue, and a lot area of approximately 22,989 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the site has been vacant since at least 1983; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) with 12,388 sq. ft. of floor area (0.54 FAR) to accommodate the programmatic needs of the Church, which has been in existence for approximately 16 years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will create the following non-compliances on the zoning lot: (1) the building will obstruct the rear yard for two stories and a height of 31'-0" (the maximum permitted height of this community facility building within the rear yard in this district is one story and 23'-0", per ZR § 24-33(b)); (2) a rear yard with a depth of 8'-8" (a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30'-0" is required for the interior lot portion of the site, per ZR § 24-36); (3) two side yards with depths of 24'-2" and 10'-0" (the requirement, which is based on the width of the street wall, is two side yards with minimum depths of 15'-0", per ZR § 24-35(a)); and (4) a front yard depth of 10'-0" (a front yard depth of 15'-0" is required, per ZR § 24-34); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, since its founding, the Church has leased space at 2111 Starling Avenue, Bronx, a two-story building with approximately 3,976 sq. ft. of floor area; however, that building accommodates neither the Church's current membership of 350 members, nor its projected growth; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will include the following: (1) in the cellar, a community room, electrical and mechanical rooms, a cafeteria and serving area, and men's and women's restrooms; (2) on the first story, a lobby, a temple, a restroom, dressing area, and a pastor's office; and (3) on the second story, two offices, a coat closet, storage, children's chapel, and men's and women's restrooms; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the community room will be used primarily to provide light meals to congregants after worship services; however, no catered affairs (such as wedding receptions) will be held at the Church; the applicant also states that the Church anticipates a capacity of approximately 300 congregants in the temple on the first story and approximately 100 congregants in the chapel on the second story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the irregular shape of the site—in particular its jagged western boundary—is a unique physical condition inherent to the zoning lot, which creates practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations, per ZR § 72-21(a); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the jaggedness of the western boundary gives rise to no fewer than 13 adjoining rear and side lot lines (none of which is parallel to either Grace Avenue or Bartow Avenue) which results in an as-of-right footprint of only 5,653 sq. ft.; in contrast, a standard, rectangular lot with the site's lot area (22,989 sq. ft.) would yield an as-of-right footprint of 12,500 sq. ft.; the applicant notes that the proposed footprint is approximately 6,194 sq. ft., less than half the size that would be accommodated on a rectangular lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that although the site is adjacent to a lot with a similarly jagged boundary line, the adjacent lot is significantly larger and therefore would provide greater flexibility in development; further, while there are other lots with jagged lot lines within a 400-foot radius of the site, only the site and the immediately adjacent lot are vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are the programmatic needs of the Church, which necessitate the requested waivers: (1) the increasing size of the congregation; and (2) the Church's expansive mission, which, includes spiritual outreach and creating support groups for local youth; and

WHEREAS, as to the increasing size of the congregation, the applicant states that the Church has 350 regular members and anticipates that it will have approximately 385 regular members when construction at the site is completed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Church's existing facility cannot accommodate the Church's current membership and that an as-of-right building would be similarly inadequate; in particular, based on the as-of-right plans submitted by the applicant, the floor area of the building would decrease from the proposed 12,388 sq. ft. (0.54 FAR) to 9,184 sq. ft. (0.39); further, in the as-of-right scenario, the capacity of the temple on the first story is decreased from 300 congregants to 214 congregants and the capacity of the chapel on the second story is decreased from 100 congregants to 54 congregants; and

WHEREAS, as to the expansive mission of the Church, the applicant represents that an as-of-right facility would not provide the worship, classroom or community outreach space it requires to fulfill it wide-ranging spiritual and pedagogical objectives; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board acknowledges that the Church, as a religious institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 NY2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the irregular lot shape in combination with the programmatic needs of the Church create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, since the Church is a non-profit institution and the variance is needed to further its non-profit mission, the finding set forth at ZR § 72-21(b) does not have to be made in order to grant the variance requested in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the neighborhood is characterized by its diversity: buildings range in height from one to five stories, and residential, commercial, and manufacturing uses are found within a 400-foot radius of the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that other nearby uses include a park, a large parking lot for a shopping center, gasoline stations, and the New England Thruway (Interstate 95); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed use is permitted as-of-right and that the proposal complies with the regulations regarding building height, setback, sky exposure plane, lot coverage, and parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that at 0.54 FAR, the proposal is 27 percent of the maximum permitted floor area ratio for a community facility in the district (2.0 FAR); and

WHEREAS, as to the adjacent uses, the applicant notes that the site immediately to the west is vacant and significantly larger than the subject site; as such, it can be developed with as-of-right yards that will provide additional separation from the proposed building; further, the site immediately to the north is occupied by a three-story residential building, which will be, because of the odd shape of the side lot line, more than 35 feet from the proposed house of worship; therefore, the requested yard waivers will not impact the adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, contrary to Community Board 12's assertions, the proposal will not adversely impact parking or traffic within the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that although the Church expects the majority of congregants to walk or utilize public transportation, the proposal provides 22 off-street parking spaces, which is one more than the required 21 spaces; in addition, the applicant represents that there are a total of 18 on-street parking spaces available along Bartow Avenue and Grace Avenue; and

WHEREAS, as to traffic, the applicant states that it conducted a study of neighborhood traffic patterns and reconfigured the proposed entrances and site circulation in order to minimize congestion; the applicant also notes that services and worship activities will occur on weekday evenings and Sundays; as such, the Church's traffic will not conflict with school-related traffic; and

WHEREAS, finally, in response to Community Board 12's characterization of the proposal as inconsistent with recent down-zonings in the area, the applicant notes that the site has been zoned R4 since 1961; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Church could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d); the applicant notes that the site was formed by the combination of historic tax lots 16, 20, 26, and 29, which were originally jagged and irregularly shaped; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the requested relief is the minimum necessary, per ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement, CEQR No. 13BSA173X, dated May 9, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the proposed project would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; Construction Impacts; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, within an R4 zoning district, the construction of a two-story house of worship (Use Group 4A) that does not comply with the zoning regulations for rear yard, side yard, front yard, and permitted obstructions in rear yard, contrary to ZR §§ 24-33, 24-34, 24-35, and 24-36; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received September 3, 2013"– Ten (10) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum of 12,388 sq. ft. of floor area (0.54 FAR), a maximum building height of 31'-0", a rear yard depth of 8'-8", two side yards with depths of 24'-2" and 10'-0", and a front yard depth of 10'-0", as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 22, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an appeal of a Department of Buildings ("DOB") final determination dated April 19, 2013, issued by the First Deputy Commissioner (the "Final Determination"); and

WHEREAS, the Final Determination reads in pertinent part:

> The request to confirm that the Long Island Railroad right-of-way that runs parallel to Austin Street meets the definition of a "street," as per the zoning definition in ZR 12-10, is hereby denied.
> Contrary to the ZR 12-10 "street" definition, the existing railroad right-of-way is not shown as a mapped street on the City Map, zoning maps, or the Department of Finance's tax maps. Therefore, the zoning lot for the proposed new building cannot be considered a "through lot," as per the definition in ZR 12-10, and requires a 30'-0" rear yard, as per ZR 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the appeal was brought on behalf of the owners of 65-70 Austin Street (the "Appellant"); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 20, 2013 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on October 8, 2013, and then to decision on November 26, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, DOB appeared and made submissions in opposition to this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of Austin Street between 65th Road and 66th Avenue, within an R7B zoning district and is currently occupied by a one-story commercial building; the site abuts a railroad right-of-way for the Long Island Railroad ("LIRR ROW"); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks to build a six-story residential building at the site with a rear yard with a depth of less than 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, the site has an average depth of approximately 80 feet and, based on the premise that the lot is a through lot, the Appellant proposes a yard with a depth of approximately 19 feet at the rear of the building adjacent to the LIRR ROW abutting the site; and

Relevant Zoning Resolution Provisions

WHEREAS, the following provisions read in pertinent part:

Street (ZR § 12-10 Definitions)

A "street" is:

(a) a way established on the City Map; or

(b) a way designed or intended for general public use, connecting two ways established on the City Map, that:

(1) performs the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map;

(2) is at least 50 feet in width throughout its entire length; and

(3) is covenanted by its owner to remain open and unobstructed throughout the life of any #building# or #use# that depends thereon to satisfy any requirement of this Resolution; or

(c) any other open area intended for general public use and providing a principal means of approach for vehicles or pedestrians from a way established on the City Map to a #building or other structure#, that:

(1) performs the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map;

(2) is at least 50 feet in width throughout its entirelength;

(3) is approved by the City Planning Commission as a "street" to satisfy any requirement of this Resolution; and

(4) is covenanted by its owner to remain open and unobstructed throughout the life of any #building# or #use# that depends thereon to satisfy any requirement of this Resolution; or

(d) any other public way that on December 15, 1961, was performing the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map; or . . .

Lot, through (ZR § 12-10 Definitions)

A "through lot" is any zoning lot, not a corner lot, which adjoins two street lines opposite to each other and parallel or within 45 degrees of being parallel to each other. Any portion of a through lot which is not or could not be bounded by two such opposite street lines and two straight lines intersecting such street lines shall be subject to the regulations for an interior lot; and

Excepted through lots

R1 R2 R3 R4 R5 R6 R7 R8 R9 R10

(a) In all districts, as indicated, no #rear yard# regulations shall apply to any #through lots# that extend less than 110 feet in maximum depth from #street# to #street#; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant seeks for DOB to consider the site a "through lot" because it adjoins two "street lines" opposite to each other and parallel - Austin Street and the LIRR ROW; and

WHEREAS, the subject R7A zoning district regulations do not require a front yard and, thus, the Appellant proposes to construct its building to the front lot line and, based on the premise that it is a through lot with a depth less than 80 feet, the Appellant does not propose a rear yard, but proposes a building setback from the rear lot line of between approximately 19'-3 ½" and 38'-5 ¾"; and

WHEREAS, in support of its position, the Appellant makes the following primary arguments: (1) the LIRR ROW meets the ZR § 12-10 definition of street; (2) even if the LIRR ROW is not a "street," it functions like a street and should be viewed as such; and (3) the principles of Equal Protection and fairness require that the application be approved; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the LIRR ROW is a street either pursuant to the ZR § 12-10(a) or § 12-10(d) definitions of "street" as it is "a way established on the City Map" and "any other public way that on December 15, 1961 was performing the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map"; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Appellant cites to Webster's Dictionary definition of "street" as "a public way, with buildings on one or both sides, in a city, town or village" and lists "road" as a synonym; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant posits that the inclusion of the word "road" as part of the term "railroad" by definition implies that the LIRR ROW is in effect a "street" for trains; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that the ZR § 12-10(a) provision was changed by the February 2, 2011 Key Terms Text Amendment from the prior "a way shown on the City Map" to the current "a way established on the City Map"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the LIRR ROW is both a way shown and a way established on the City Map, so the revision to the text does not implicate its analysis; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Appellant states that neither DOB nor the Board have limited the application of the definition of street to ways shown (or established) on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant notes that the Corporation Counsel has declared streets not shown on the City May as Prescriptive Streets and the Board has waived the requirement for compliance with GCL § 36 for unmapped streets to facilitate construction fronting on such streets; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that pursuant to BSA Cal. No. 229-06-A (Bayside Drive, Queens), the Board determined that a private service road entirely on private property was a street for purposes of application of zoning yard requirements; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing process, the Appellant adopted the alternate approach that if the LIRR ROW did not meet the definition of street, it functions like a street and should, thus, be treated as one; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that DOB's formerly followed a reasonable interpretation that it recognized that the LIRR ROW could be "considered to be a street" for the purposes of applying ZR § 23-531(a) to other lots abutting the LIRR ROW; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant revised its position to assert that it is a technicality that the LIRR ROW does not meet the strict definition of "street" in ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the LIRR ROW serves the purpose of a street in that it provides access to light and air for the benefit of the site similar to an established street for automobile traffic on the City Map, but which cannot be developed as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, as to DOB's history of approvals, the Appellant states that DOB issued approvals for the construction of two buildings adjacent to the site, which similarly abut the LIRR ROW; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the first approval arose from DOB's Borough Commissioner Technical Meeting (BCTM) No. 168 on February 11, 1993 (the "1993 BCTM") in which DOB determined that the LIRR ROW can be considered a street with reference to 69-40 Austin Street; and

WHEREAS, second, the Appellant states that on July 26, 2006, the Borough Commissioner accepted the 1993 precedent for the adjacent property at 65-60 Austin Street, a decision that was upheld by the Borough Commissioner in Queens during an audit two years later; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant further notes that DOB approved the construction of two other multiple dwellings within the last two decades with rear yards with depths less than 30 feet at 65-84 and 66-08 Austin Street; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that all four of the noted buildings on Austin Street have obtained certificates of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, as to the Constitutional arguments, the Appellant asserts that DOB's actions have limited the property owner's use and enjoyment of his property and caused financial hardship, in conflict with the U.S. Constitution's Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant states that recent U.S. Supreme Court cases (including Koontz v. St. Johns River Waste Management District, 570 U.S. ___(2013)) uphold the Fifth Amendment's fundamental right to property and directs that land use agencies may not exercise unbridled discretion during decision-making processes; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Appellant asserts that DOB has been arbitrary and inconsistent and that such practices raise a Constitutional issue under the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment which provides that state government will not "deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws" and provides protection to every person "against intentional and arbitrary discrimination, whether occasioned by express terms of a statute or by improper execution through duly constituted agents"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that principles of Equal Protection require that the owner of the subject 65-70 Austin Street be afforded the same approval as the owners of the other four Austin Street sites; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant cites to Village of Willowbrook v. Olech, 528 U.S. 1071 (2000) (quoting Sioux City Bridge Co. v. Dakota County, 260 U.S. 441, 441 (1923)) to support its position and for the point that the local government's action cannot have been "irrational and wholly arbitrary"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that it does not have any knowledge of intentional discrimination against it but it contends that DOB has been arbitrary in denying to approve the subject building yet choosing to remedy its mistake on the four approvals on similarly-situated properties; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that DOB has singled its building out and has selectively enforced against it; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant asserts that in the event the appeal is denied, the Board has an obligation to conduct hearings pursuant to ZR § 72-11 and NYC Charter § 645 to consider revocation of the Certificates of Occupancy issued for the adjacent sites and that DOB is obliged to pursue appropriate actions as it cannot be estopped from correcting its erroneous issuance of Certificates of Occupancy for the other Austin Street sites; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the site is not a through lot because: (1) the LIRR ROW is not a street, as defined by ZR § 12-10; (2) there is no basis to approve the application even if the LIRR ROW functions as a street; and (3) the Constitutional claims are meritless; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that because the LIRR ROW is not a "street," and the site does not adjoin two "street lines," a rear yard of 30 feet is required; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the "through lot" definition requires the lot to be between "street lines," not between something that is not a "street" but may have some similarities to a street (i.e. a railroad right-of-way) and the definition specifically states that if a lot is not bounded by street lines, the lot is an interior lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that while the LIRR ROW is depicted on the City Map, it does not meet the ZR § 12-10(a) definition of "street" because it is not "a way shown" or "established" on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, DOB acknowledges that on February 2, 2011, through its Key Terms Text Amendment, the Department of City Planning (DCP) amended the ZR § 12-10(a) definition of street to replace the word "shown" with "established;" and

WHEREAS, DOB and DCP, by separate letter, state that the change in text was a clarification and not a substantive change in that the wording was modified to be consistent with the terminology for streets on the City Map; prior to the text change and now, the LIRR ROW would not satisfy the definition of street because it is not a way shown or established on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that although the change in wording is subtle, this clarification was necessary in order to address confusion that may have been occurring from seeing certain depictions, such as railroads, on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that, according to DCP, the purpose of the change was to clarify the intent of the "street" definition by emphasizing that, while there are some features shown on the City Map for informational purposes, only specific map elements, such as streets, are "established" on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Chapter 1 of Title 25 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York governing DCP specifically defines what features are required to be "established" on the City Map; Administrative Code § 25-102 entitled "City map; what to include", states that "[t]here shall be located and laid out on the city map all parks, playgrounds, streets, courtyards abutting streets, bridges, tunnels and approaches to bridges and tunnels, and improvements of navigation in accordance with bulkhead and pierhead lines established pursuant to section seven hundred five of the charter…"; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that this list of legally established map elements that must be included on the City Map includes ways, such as streets, bridges, tunnels and approaches to bridges and tunnels, but does not include railroads; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the legend on the City Map, indicates that streets and railroad rights of way are treated differently; specifically, the straight line indicates a street and the City Map legend states "street line heretofore established" or "street line hereby "established", while a broken line specifically identifies the "LIRR Right of Way" but leaves out the language "heretofore established" or "hereby established"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that while streets are "established" on the City Map, railroads are not and are only included for informational purposes; and

WHEREAS, DOB also states that if a railroad right-of-way is a "street," other inconsistencies arise in the zoning such as the definition of "block" including "streets" and "railroad rights-of-way" as separate items; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Appellant's reliance on the 1993 BCTM which noted that the LIRR ROW did meet the ZR § 12-10 definition of "street" for construction of 69-40 Austin Street, the 2006 determination from Terrence Lin (then-Technical Compliance Unit Auditor in the Queens Borough Office), which accepted the LIRR ROW as a ZR § 12-10 "street" for construction at 65-60 Austin Street and the addresses for three other buildings with rear lot lines abutting the LIRR, DOB states that those permits were issued in error and cannot be relied on to support the Appellant's case; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that it is unclear whether the attendees at the 1993 BCTM thought that the LIRR ROW met the ZR § 12-10 definition of "street" or whether they thought the LIRR ROW was something similar to a "street" when adopting their conclusion; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the one sentence used in the 1993 BCTM notes stating "[t]he applicants request to consider the Rail Road right-of-way a street is granted per Section 12-10 (definition of Block and Street)" is not convincing one way or the other and more importantly, even if the 1993 BCTM decision was made on the basis that they thought the LIRR ROW was something similar to a "street," such a decision was erroneous and is not supported by the ZR § 12-10 definition of "street"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that it is irrelevant which rationale the 1993 BCTM used to come to their conclusion since their conclusion was erroneous and not supported by the text of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that it has described the reasons for reaching a different result in this case in that the LIRR ROW does not satisfy the definition of "street" and that any prior decision made by DOB finding that the LIRR is a "street" was erroneous, as it is not supported by the text of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the statutory language is unambiguous and no interpretation is required; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Appellant's claims that DOB's application of the ZR § 12-10 definition of "street" in this case violates the Fourteenth Amendment, DOB states that it did not issue the Final Determination irrationally, arbitrarily or capriciously, nor is DOB denying the Appellant equal protection of the law; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB notes that the Appellant asserts that it "demonstrated inconsistent and unrestrained discretion in the granting of variances due to its inconsistent interpretation of relevant land use terms and definitions", citing to Koontz v. St. Johns River Waste Management District, 570 U.S. __ (2013), Nollan v. California Coastal Commission, 483 U.S. 825 (1987) and Dolan v. City of Tigard, 512 U.S. 374 (1994); and

WHEREAS, however, DOB finds that the Appellant fails to explain how these Fifth Amendment regulatory takings cases are relevant to the present case; in the three cited cases, the plaintiffs were deprived of use of their land because the government was essentially taking the plaintiff's property – by creating public easements on the property – without a legitimate state interest; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that there has been no such "taking" of Appellant's property; therefore discussion of these cases is irrelevant to the issues at hand; and

WHEREAS, DOB responds to the Appellant's invocation of Village of Willowbrook v. Olech, which states that an "irrational and wholly arbitrary" decision where "the plaintiff alleges that she has been intentionally treated differently from others similarly situated and that there is no rational basis for the difference in treatment" is a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause and to Burt v. City of New York, for the claim that the DOB has not offered a rational distinction for treating the Appellant differently from the prior erroneous approvals; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the Appellant does not include the fact that Burt v. City of New York also held that "unequal application to those who are entitled to be treated alike, is not a denial of equal protection unless there is shown to be present in it an element of intentional or purposeful discrimination." Burt v. City of New York, 156 F.2d 791, 792 (2d Cir. 1946) (emphasis added) (holding that discrimination occurs when city officials deliberately misinterpret and abuse their statutory power in order to deny plaintiff's architectural applications or impose upon him unlawful conditions) referring to Snowden v. Hughes, 64 S.Ct. 397 (1944); and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that it has thoroughly explained its reasoning and that the Appellant has not demonstrated any evidence of intentional or purposeful discrimination against the Appellant because none exists; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that if applicants file plans today or in the future to develop a zoning lot as a "through lot" that adjoins a "street" and a railroad right-of-way, DOB would disapprove the plans for the same reasons set forth in the Final Determination and throughout the appeal process; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that such treatment would act to treat similarly-situated properties in the same manner; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that therefore, in contrast to Willowbrook, its Final Determination has not been made to intentionally treat the Appellant differently from others similarly situated nor has DOB violated the Equal Protection Clause in issuing this Final Determination; and

WHEREAS, finally, DOB states that In The Matter of Charles A. Field Delivery Service, Inc., states that an agency is "free [like courts] to correct a prior erroneous interpretation of the law by modifying or overruling a past decision" Field Delivery Service, Inc., 66 N.Y.2d 516, 519 (1985) and that "when an agency determines to alter its prior stated course it must set forth its reasons for doing so." Id., at 520; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that an agency only acts arbitrarily and irrationally if the agency "fails to adhere to its own prior precedent nor indicates its reason for reaching a different result." Id., at 516; and

WHEREAS, DOB contends that in this case, it has admitted to prior erroneous interpretations of the ZR § 12-10 definition of "street" and has provided sufficient explanation for doing so; therefore, DOB maintains that it has not acted arbitrarily or capriciously; and

The Department of City Planning's Letter

WHEREAS, DCP's counsel submitted a letter into the record on appeal, which states that the meaning of the term "way" in the ZR § 12-10(a) definition considered in the context of ZR § 12-10 as a whole, clearly refers to a thoroughfare which provides public vehicular and/or pedestrian passage, not railroad transportation use, consistent with the common understanding of a "street"; and

WHEREAS, DCP cites to the repeated reference to the concept of streets being "designed or intended for general public use" in the sections of the ZR § 12-10 definition and that private roads or driveways that provide only limited vehicular access are, under the final paragraph of the ZR § 12-10 definition, not considered a street; and

WHEREAS, DCP states that taken as a whole, the definition's framework makes clear that a railroad right of way that is not accessible to the public for vehicular or pedestrian use is not a "street"; and

WHEREAS, DCP also states that the Zoning Resolution treats railroad rights-of-way as distinct from streets in numerous provisions; and

WHEREAS, DCP adds that the LIRR ROW is not established on the City Map but is among the items noted for informational purposes only; and

Conclusion

WHEREAS, the Board agrees with DOB and DCP's position that the LIRR ROW is not a "street" as defined at ZR § 12-10 and, thus, the subject lot is not a through lot exempt from the rear yard requirement; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find that the LIRR ROW satisfies the ZR § 12-10(a) requirement of "a way established on the City Map" as the LIRR ROW is included on the map for informational purposes but is not established there, nor is it a "way" in the sense that it is "designed or intended for general public use" consistent with the framework of the provision; and

WHEREAS, further, the Board does not find that the LIRR ROW satisfies the ZR § 12-10(d) condition of being "any other public way that on December 15, 1961, was performing the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map" as the LIRR ROW is not a "public way" and does not function similarly to one of the limited kinds of "ways" that are established by law on the City Map; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that railroad rights-of-way are not among the contents of the City Map listed in Administrative Code § 25-102 and are therefore intended to be for informational purposes only; and

WHEREAS, as far as the Appellant's Constitutional claims, the Board agrees with DOB's reading of the cited case law and notes that the Appellant is neither being deprived of its use of its property nor being treated un-equally in the sense contemplated by the noted Supreme Court decisions; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find any basis to support a claim that DOB intentionally or purposefully discriminated against the Appellant as required by Burt v. City of New York to establish a claim for Equal Protection; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that DOB has failed to explain the reason for the four approvals on Austin Street, which are contrary to zoning, but none of the submissions have provided a legal or procedural basis for issuing an approval now that DOB (the permit-issuing body) and DCP (the drafters of the text) agree would be contrary to zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board continues to support DOB's position that it is not estopped from correcting its errors as per Matter of Charles A. Field Delivery Serv., Inc.; the case law requires that the agency explain its correction and does require the rationale for the disavowed erroneous approval in order to correct itself; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that DOB states that it will not grant any approvals for similarly-situated sites along the LIRR ROW that include rear yards with depths of less than 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that the Appellant has not begun construction at the site and that it may be possible to redesign the project to include a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet and allow for a productive use of the site; however, the Board notes that no such plans have been proposed or reviewed by the Board or DOB; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant's current proposal reflects a setback from the rear lot line/LIRR ROW of depths ranging from approximately 19'-3 ½" to 38'-5 ¾"; and

WHEREAS, as to the Appellant's reliance on the summary of the 1993 BCTM, the Board notes that at the time of the other Austin Street approvals, the definition of street included ZR § 12-10(a) "a way shown on the City Map" and based on the BCTM summary – "the applicant's request to consider the Rail Road right-of-way a street is granted as per Section 12-10 (definition of Block and Street)" - it is unclear whether there was reliance on the concept of "shown" or if the meeting attendees understood "shown on the City Map" to mean "established on the City Map"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, it is possible that the outcome of the BCTM would have been different if the 2011 Key Terms Text Amendment and the provision "established on the City Map" had been in effect; and

WHEREAS, the Board recognizes that DOB and DCP consider the Key Terms Text Amendment change from "shown" to "established" to be a clarification and not a substantive change; however, the Board finds that whether it was clarification or substantive change, there may be a more reasonable argument for the prior version of the text to be seen as ambiguous and thus prone to misreading that led to the four prior erroneous approvals; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that to the extent that ambiguity may have existed under the pre-2011 text, such ambiguity no longer exists and the text is clear on its face that a way must be established on the City Map in order to satisfy the ZR § 12-10(a) definition of "street"; and

WHEREAS, the Board rejects the Appellant's revised argument that DOB's approval was based on the fact that the LIRR ROW functioned as a street or that being like a street would be a sufficient substitute to satisfy the Zoning Resolution definition; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant's remaining arguments, including a citation to a prior Board decision involving the ZR § 12-10(d) definition of "street" as "any other public way that on December 15, 1961, was performing the functions usually associated with a way established on the City Map," are without merit and do not address the issue of whether a railroad right-of-way is a street per the ZR § 12-10(a) definition of a "street" as a "way established on the City Map"; and

WHEREAS, as to the Board's duty to direct DOB to revoke the certificates of occupancy for the four other Austin Street buildings, the Board notes that the four other buildings and their certificates of occupancy have not been reviewed or considered within the appeal; and

WHEREVER, the Board also notes that DOB approved the construction of those buildings when the definition of "street" was less clear and finds that the change in the text may provide an explanation for the errors, notwithstanding DOB and DCP's position that there was not a substantive change; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board does not see any basis to direct DOB to revoke the certificates of occupancy for the four other Austin Street buildings and notes that the current unambiguous text will ensure that there will be no other such erroneous approvals; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, the Board has determined, the Final Determination must be upheld and this appeal must be denied; and Therefore it is Resolved that this appeal, which challenges a Department of Buildings final determination dated April 19, 2013, is denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Queens Borough Commissioner of the Department of Buildings, dated February 24, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 410202221, reads, in pertinent part:

Proposed commercial use (retail Use Group 6) within an R3-2 district is contrary to ZR 22-00; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R3-2 zoning district, the construction of a one-story commercial building (Use Group 6), contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on February 5, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on May 14, 2013 and October 29, 2013, and then to decision on November 26, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 13, Queens, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an interior lot located on the south side of South Conduit Avenue between Farmer's Boulevard and Guy R. Brewer Boulevard, within an R3-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 99.38 feet of frontage along South Conduit Avenue and a lot area of 7,819 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site is vacant and has never been developed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a one-story commercial building (Use Group 6) with 2,346 sq. ft. of floor area (0.30 FAR) and parking for ten automobiles; and

WHEREAS, because Use Group 6 is not permitted within the subject R3-2 zoning district, the applicant seeks a use variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(a), the following are unique physical conditions which create an unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the shallowness and irregular shape of the site; (2) the site's location and sole frontage along South Conduit Avenue, a service road, and its proximity to multiple busy thoroughfares, including an exit ramp for the Belt Parkway; and (3) the adjacency of non-residential uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the shallow lot depth of the site (approximately 80 feet) and its irregular shape (it is approximately four feet wider along South Conduit Avenue than it is along the rear lot line) combined with the yard requirements of the R3-2 district result in impractical residential developments; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that it must provide a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet, two side yards with widths of eight feet, and a front yard with a depth of 15 feet, it can only build a maximum of three single-family homes, which the applicant states is financially infeasible; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the average lot depth of the residential sites along South Conduit Avenue is 117 feet, which is nearly 40 feet deeper than the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the community facility yard requirements, are fewer, similarly result in a financially infeasible development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the site's location along South Conduit Avenue combined with its close proximity to an exit ramp for the Belt Parkway and the corner of South Conduit Avenue and Farmer's Boulevard make the site particularly undesirable for residential uses because of the heavy automobile traffic along these roadways; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that all residential developments on either South Conduit Avenue or North Conduit Avenue on lots that are similar in size to the site and have direct access from either service road also have access and frontage along more residential streets; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that although 16 semi-detached residences are located along South Conduit Avenue directly west of the site, such residences are screened from South Conduit Avenue by substantial vegetation, have significantly deeper lots, and are accessed by and front on Meadow Road, with their rear yards abutting South Conduit Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that it is not feasible to extend Meadow Road east to provide access to homes on the site for the following reasons: (1) the neighboring school owns and uses the area as a parking lot; (2) the parking lot is not for sale; (3) even if the lot could be purchased, easement agreements would have to be executed among the applicant, the owners of the homes fronting on Meadow Road, and the school; and (4) any such alteration of the school's parking and traffic pattern would require the review of the Department of Transportation; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that because it is infeasible to extend Meadow Road, any homes at the site would—unlike all other lots in the area—have to front on and be exclusively accessed by South Conduit Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also asserts that the uses adjacent to the site make it unsuitable for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant states that, directly south, the site abuts a large parking lot accessory to the school located on Lot 15, and, directly east, the site abuts a gasoline station service station and its accessory parking lot on Lot 1; in addition, as mentioned above, the site is directly across from an exit ramp of the Belt Parkway; the applicant represents that such adjacent uses significantly reduce the value of the site for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the adjacent gasoline service station, the applicant notes that it has a history of contamination as well as the potential for future contamination; as such, the subject site has the potential to become contaminated as well, which further reduces its market value for conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant notes that pedestrian access to the site is limited; while the gasoline service station has a sidewalk extending to Farmer's Boulevard, none of the residences to the west of the site have sidewalks along South Conduit Avenue; therefore, pedestrians would be unable to safely access the site from Guy R. Brewer Boulevard; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proximity of the site to an exit from the Belt Parkway and the site's sole frontage along the service road create an unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that, per ZR § 72-21(b), there is no reasonable possibility that the development of the site in conformance with the Zoning Resolution will bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, in particular, in addition to the proposal, the applicant examined the economic feasibility of: (1) an as-of-right development with three, single-family homes and 4,686 sq. ft. of floor area (0.60 FAR); (2) an as-of-right multiple dwelling with four dwelling units and 4,688.25 sq. ft. of floor area (0.60 FAR); and (3) an as-of-right community facility (ambulatory diagnostic center) with 4,837.51 sq. ft. of floor area (0.62 FAR) and 12 at-grade parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that all three as-of-right scenarios resulted in negative rates of return after capitalization; in contrast, the applicant represents that the proposal results in a positive rate of return, making it the only economically viable scenario; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the applicant's economic analysis, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the immediate area is characterized by a mix of low- to medium-density residential and commercial uses with some manufacturing/industrial uses, including a school, a gasoline station, and a subdivision of one- and two-family dwellings; and

WHEREAS, in support of this statement, the applicant submitted surveys and photographs depicting the mixed-use nature of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposal would serve as a buffer between the gasoline station and the heavily-trafficked and retail-oriented intersection of Farmer's Boulevard and South Conduit Avenue and the residential subdivision directly east of the site, and the residences directly west of the site; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states, as noted above, that the site is adjacent to or in close proximity to several major thoroughfares, including South Conduit Avenue, Guy R. Brewer Boulevard, Farmer's Boulevard, and the Belt Parkway; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the proposed commercial use will be compatible with the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, turning to bulk, the applicant represents that the following are the bulk parameters of the proposal: 2,346 sq. ft. of floor area (0.30 FAR); a front yard depth of approximately 49 feet; one side yard with a width of 20 feet; no rear yard; and parking for 12 automobiles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed FAR of 0.30 is half of the maximum FAR for a residence in the R3-2 district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that it far exceeds the front yard requirement for the subject R3-2 district (which requires a minimum depth of 15 feet) as well as for the nearest district where the use would be permitted as-of-right (C1-2, which does not require a front yard); and

WHEREAS, as to side yards, the applicant states that it complies with the C1-2 regulations, but does not comply with the R3-2 regulations (which require two side yards with minimum widths of eight feet), because it provides a 20-foot side yard along the west of the building, but reduced its side yard along the east of the building in order to create the maximum distance between the nearby residences and the commercial building; and

WHEREAS, as to rear yard, the proposal complies with neither the R3-2 regulation, nor the C1-2 regulations; however, as noted above, the rear of the site abuts a parking lot for a school; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that all parking lot lighting at the site will be directed away from residences; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the character of the area is mixed-use, and finds that the introduction of a one-story commercial building and parking lot will not impact nearby conforming uses; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concern regarding the following: (1) the sufficiency of the proposed plantings and sidewalks; (2) the proposed hours of operation; and (3) the location of refuse storage and the hours of its removal from the site; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a statement that: (1) certified that the plantings and sidewalks were in compliance with applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution and Building Code; (2) indicated that the hours of operation would be limited to seven days per week, from 6:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and (3) certified that refuse pickup would occur between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. and submitted an amended plan showing that refuse storage would be located on the far east side of the property; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the site's unique physical conditions; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board finds that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, as set forth in ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Manhattan Borough Commissioner of the Department of Buildings ("DOB"), dated June 3, 2013, acting on DOB Application No. 110443841, reads, in pertinent part:

> Proposed physical culture establishment . . . is not a permitted use in (an) R10A district (and) commercial uses are not permitted; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, within an R10A zoning district, the legalization of an existing physical culture establishment ("PCE") within portions of the cellar, first floor, and first-floor mezzanine of a 24-story residential building, contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 29, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on November 26, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located at the southeast corner of the intersection of West End Avenue and West 97th Street, within an R10A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 100.92 feet of frontage along West End Avenue, 100 feet of frontage along West 97th Street, and a lot area of 10,074 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a 24-story building with approximately 100,740 sq. ft. of floor area (10.0 FAR) (the "Building"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Building is occupied by the Paris Health Club (the "Health Club"), a facility classified as a PCE pursuant to ZR § 12-10, in portions of the cellar, first floor, and first-floor mezzanine, and that the remainder of the Building is occupied by residential use (Use Group 2); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Health Club occupies approximately 8,096 sq. ft. of floor area on the first floor and first-floor mezzanine and 11,890 sq. ft. of floor space in the cellar for a total Health Club floor space of 19,986 sq. ft., and includes a swimming pool, exercise and yoga rooms, approximately 1,100 lockers, and 18 showers; the applicant notes that the hours of operation for the Health Club are Monday through Thursday, from 5:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., Friday, from 5:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, according to the original certificate of occupancy for the Building (No. 17926, issued October 19, 1931), the cellar was occupied by a gymnasium, a swimming pool, and lockers, and the rest of the Building was occupied by hotel uses; subsequent certificates of occupancy (No. 37387, issued June 29, 1950, and No. 69811, issued December 1, 1970) indicate that the swimming pool was maintained in the cellar and that the first floor and first floor mezzanine were occupied by various commercial uses, including a bar, a dining room, a barber shop, a beauty salon and hotel offices; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, in 1977, the Building was converted to residential use and the portions of the Building comprising the Health Club were re-classified on Certificate of Occupancy No. 78621, issued July 21, 1978, as "accessory" to the residences; however, the applicant states that such classification was in error, and despite the Health Club's designation as accessory, the Health Club has never been restricted to residents of the Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, twice in 2010, the prior owner of the Building submitted to DOB a request for a determination that the accessory designation for the Health Club was in error, and that the Health Club was permitted to continue to operate as separate, non-accessory, non-conforming commercial health club use1; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that DOB denied both requests; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that on June 12, 2012, DOB issued a notice of violation to the Health Club for operating as a commercial club contrary to the certificate of occupancy; the violation was sustained by an administrative law judge of the Environmental Control Board on September 13, 2012; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks a variance to permit the Health Club to continue to operate as a commercial PCE in the subject R10A zoning district, contrary to ZR § 22-00; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(a), the following are unique physical conditions which create an unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the existing Building's configuration on the site, which renders it unsuitable for a conforming use at the first floor and mezzanine level; and (2) the historic commercial use at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the first floor's full lot coverage, which does not allow for a rear yard or central court, makes it unsuitable for conforming uses at the first floor and mezzanine level because required light and ventilation cannot be provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, on the contrary, the upper floors enjoy the benefit of a courtyard for light and ventilation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that such lack of rear yard or large court on the first floor is a unique burden within the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant submitted the results of a study of the 158 buildings in the area three blocks north and south of the Building, between Riverside Drive and 100 feet west of Broadway; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that of the 158 buildings examined, only five, including the Building, lack a rear yard or large ground floor court; further, the applicant states that one of the five buildings has commercial uses on the first floor, and another has more than half its perimeter fronting a street, giving its first-floor apartments abundant light and ventilation; as such, the Building is one of only three buildings in the study area (approximately two percent) that lack a rear yard or large court on the first floor; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that it examined the uses of the 153 buildings within the study area that do provide a rear yard or a large court, and found that of 104 buildings that have certificates of occupancy, 96 have ground floor residential units; the remaining eight buildings are distinguishable from the Building in that: five buildings are either wholly or partially within a commercial district and have commercial use on the first floor; two buildings are entirely community facilities (a school and a Salvation Army); and one building is occupied by an accessory parking garage; and

WHEREAS, based on its analysis of the 153 buildings that do have a rear yard or large court, the applicant asserts that, in the neighborhood, where a residential building has sufficient first-floor light and ventilation, such light and ventilation allow for first floor residential units; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that because the Building is only one of three buildings out of 158 that is adversely affected by not having first-floor light and ventilation, the site is uniquely disadvantaged; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also contends that the historic commercial use at the site is a unique physical condition; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states, as noted above, that the cellar, first floor, and first floor mezzanine have been used for commercial purposes since the Building was constructed in 1930; thus, for more than 80 years, the cellar has been occupied by a commercial health club, and the first floor and first-floor mezzanine have been used only for commercial purposes, first by the hotel prior to 1978, and thereafter by the Health Club; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also asserts, as noted above, that the 1978 Certificate of Occupancy classifying the Health Club as accessory was issued in error, and that the club has always operated independently of the residential portion of the Building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, unlike buildings without a history of commercial use, the Building's cellar, first floor, and first-floor mezzanine were designed, arranged, and intended for commercial use; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the aforementioned unique physical conditions, when considered together, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that, per ZR § 72-21(b), there is no reasonable possibility that the development of the site in conformance with the Zoning Resolution will bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, in particular, in addition to the proposal, the applicant examined the economic feasibility of demolishing the Health Club and constructing conforming medical offices at the cellar, first floor, and first-floor mezzanine of the Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that the medical offices resulted in a negative rate of return after capitalization; in contrast, the applicant represents that the proposal results in a positive rate of return; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the applicant's

1 The applicant believes that the 2010 determination requests did not include reference to the plans for the building's 1978 public assembly permit, which indicated that 1,100 lockers, three sales offices, 18 showers, and a separate entrance to the street would be maintained. The applicant notes that such a configuration is customarily found with a commercial rather than an accessory health club.

economic analysis, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the continued operation of the Health Club will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Health Club complements and strengthens the surrounding residential environment by providing a unique and quality recreational facility for its approximately 2,200 members, most of whom reside in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the loss of the Health Club would damage its members, who rely on it for a safe, convenient facility for physical exercise and recreational activities; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that the Health Club has existed in its current form for more than 30 years without incident or detriment to the public welfare, and that the site as originally developed included a swimming pool, a gymnasium, and lockers at the cellar level; accordingly, the applicant states that some form of exercise facility has existed at the site for more than 80 years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states, as noted, that this application has the full endorsement of Community Board 7; and

WHEREAS, as to the effect of the Health Club on the residents of the Building, the applicant submitted a letter from a long-time employee of the Health Club and letters from the tenants of the two first-floor mezzanine apartments; the employee's letter indicated that no noise complaints have been received during her ten-year tenure, and both tenants' letters attested to the lack of noise emanating from the Health Club; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the configuration of the existing building at the site and the history of commercial use within such building; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board finds that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, as set forth in ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that because the use authorized herein is classified as a PCE, the variance will be granted for a term of ten years, to expire on November 26, 2023; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the PCE and the principals thereof, and issued a report which the Board has determined to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13-BSA-152M, dated May 23, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, within an R10A zoning district, the legalization of an existing PCE within portions of the cellar, first floor, and first floor mezzanine of a 24-story residential building, contrary to ZR § 22-00, on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received September 26, 2013"- Eight(8) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the PCE grant will expire on November 26, 2023;

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening and an amendment to a previously granted variance permitting residential use within a manufacturing district; the amendment proposes the relocation of floor area from maisonette units to townhouse units, with no net change in floor area, and a reduction in the total number of dwelling units on the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 24, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 22, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site spans the full length of Hudson Street between Leroy Street and St. Luke's Place, within an M1-5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 200 feet of frontage along Hudson Street, 150 feet of frontage along Clarkson Street, 125 feet of frontage along Leroy Street, and a lot area of 27,584 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a ten-story mixed residential and commercial building (the "Main Building") and five, two-story residential buildings (the "Townhouses"), with a total of 184 dwelling units; the ground floor and mezzanine of the Main Building contains eight residential units (the "Maisonettes"); and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since July 20, 1976 when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a use variance authorizing the conversion of an existing eight-story industrial building to a mixed commercial and residential building (Use Group 2) within an M1-5 zoning district; on that same day, under BSA Cal. No. 607-75-A, the Board granted an appeal pursuant to New York State Multiple Dwelling Law § 310 waiving compliance with certain provisions of the MDL governing rear yard, egress, living room depth from a window, and flue projections; and

WHEREAS, on April 5, 2011, under BSA Cal. No. 226-10-BZ, the Board granted a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-36 to permit a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on the first, ninth and tenth stories of the building; simultaneously, the Board granted an amendment to the subject variance to reflect the floor plan changes associated with the PCE; and

WHEREAS, subsequently, in 2011 and in 2012, the Board issued letters of substantial compliance authorizing various reconfigurations of the residential units, resulting in an overall reduction in the number of units from 184 to 154; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks to amend the grant to decrease the floor area of the mezzanine levels within the Maisonettes by 1,425 sq. ft., increase the floor area of the Townhouses by 1,425 sq. ft. and to alter certain other dwelling units within the Main Building; the proposed relocation of floor area and Main Building alterations will result in a decrease in the number of Maisonette dwelling units from eight to three and a decrease in the number of Townhouse dwelling units from five to two; the alterations not related to the Maisonettes or the Townhouses will result in a decrease in the number of dwelling units from 141 to 138; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the amendment will increase the height of the Townhouses from 26'-1" to 30'-1" and will result in new landscaping, walkways and drainage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposed reduction in the number of dwelling units at the site will decrease the scope of the use variance and will have no adverse effects on the surrounding community; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested amended drawings clearly delineating the relocation of the floor area; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended drawings; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested extension of term and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, as adopted on July 20, 1976, to permit the relocation of floor area from the Maisonettes to the Townhouses and the reduction in the number of dwelling units at the site; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked 'Received October 8, 2013'- seventeen (17) sheets and 'July 3, 2013'-seven (7) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT there will be no increase in the floor area at the site;

THAT Multiple Dwelling Law compliance will be reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 17, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Staten Island Borough Commissioner, dated June 28, 2012, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 520100097, reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 24-35 – Side yard is not compliant in that a minimum of eight feet is required for change of use to a community facility (and) existing side yard is 4.96 feet;
2. ZR 22-10 – Proposed change in use to a community facility in an R2 district is contrary to ZR 22-10; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to legalize the extension of medical office use within an existing building in an R2 zoning district, which does not conform to the use regulations or provide the required side yard, contrary to ZR §§ 22-10 and 24-35; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 4, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on September 10, 2013 and October 29, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Montanez; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Staten Island, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns about the historic use of the building contrary to the certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the surrounding community testified in opposition to the application; and

WHEREAS, the site is an irregular corner lot located at the northwest corner of the intersection of Norden Street and Richmond Road, within an R2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 100 feet of frontage along Norden Street, 40 feet of frontage along Richmond Road, and a lot area of 4,346.07 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a one-story building containing a medical office (Use Group 4) with approximately 1,325 sq. ft. of floor area (0.31 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building was originally constructed around 1958 with approximately 1,010.35 sq. ft. of floor area (0.23 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building has been used exclusively as a medical office since at least 1971, notwithstanding that the last-issued certificate of occupancy for the building (No. 18864, dated January 29, 1960) (the "CO") authorized a one-family residence and a dentist's office on the first story of the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, to the extent a medical office existed at the site as of September 9, 2004, such use became non-conforming as a result of a text amendment that prohibited certain community facility uses as-of-right in an R2 district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a fire destroyed portions of the building in 2010 and that it sought to reconstruct the building to be used exclusively as a medical office within the historic building envelope; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it attempted to demonstrate to the Department of Buildings ("DOB") that the building was never occupied in accordance with the CO and was instead always exclusively a medical office, but DOB determined that the evidence was insufficient and that the building could only be reconstructed in accordance with the CO; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that although permits were obtained to reconstruct in accordance with the original plans and CO (one-family residence and a medical office) the reconstruction altered to the building to its current configuration as medical office with no residential use; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now seeks to legalize the reconstruction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that where the medical office did not previously exist as a lawful, non-conforming use, the reconstruction creates a new non-conformance (a medical office is not permitted in an R2 district) and a new non-compliance with respect to the side yard (the reconstructed building has one side yard with a width of 4.96 feet; the requirement is one side yard with a minimum width of eight feet); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed medical office would contain, in the cellar, utility space, storage, and a bathroom, and on the first story, an entrance area, a waiting room, examination rooms, and a clerical area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, per ZR § 72-21(a), the following are unique physical conditions inherent to the subject building and zoning lot, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict conformance with underlying zoning regulations: (1) the site's small lot area compared to nearby corner lots; (2) the site's location on Richmond Road; (3) the history of development at the site; and (4) the unsuitability of the building for its current lawful use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site's lot area of 4,346.07 sq. ft., makes it smaller than all but two of the 19 corner lots along Richmond Road within 1,000 feet of the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the two lots are distinguishable from the site, in that one lot contains a commercial use authorized by a variance, and the other is a community facility use with a significantly higher FAR (0.47) than the proposed FAR (0.31); and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that, based on its study, the other lots that are occupied by mixed residential and commercial or community facility buildings, are significantly larger than the site and range in lot area from 5,559 sq. ft. to 8,528 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the site's location on heavily-trafficked Richmond Road makes one- or two-family residential development unique and undesirable; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant provided evidence that along 1,000 feet of Richmond Avenue, only two lots are developed solely with residential use – one is home on an 11,000 sq.-ft. lot (where the home may position itself away from Richmond Avenue), and the other is a multiple dwelling constructed with other buildings with an FAR of 0.78; and

WHEREAS, as to the history of development at the site, the applicant represents that medical office use has been permitted in a portion of the building at the site since 1960 and that the building has been exclusively used as a medical office since at least 1971; and

WHEREAS, as to the obsolescence of the building for its current lawful use, as noted above, the applicant states that the lawful configuration of the reconstructed building—half conforming one-family residence and half non-conforming medical office—results in undersized and therefore undesirable uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the lawful use of the building includes the historic condition of a medical office and one-family residence with approximately 500 sq. ft. of livable space; the applicant asserts that this configuration results in a residence that is approximately 38 percent of the size of the average residential unit (1,300 sq. ft.) on a comparably-sized lot in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant concludes that the small lot size with the existing building that was developed to include medical offices on Richmond Road creates an impediment to either a conforming one- or two-family home or a mixed residential and community facility building; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that, in the aggregate, the noted conditions create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the proposal, the applicant analyzed the feasibility of two as-of-right scenarios: (1) occupying the building as half-medical office, half-residence; and (2) occupying the building solely as a residence; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that only the proposal results in an acceptable rate of return; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(b), because of the subject lot's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict compliance with zoning will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(c), the proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding area is characterized by low-rise one- and two-family dwellings, except along Richmond Road, where community facility and commercial uses predominate; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant states that there are nine buildings on the five nearest blocks along Richmond Road that contain either a professional office or light retail; therefore, the proposed use is in keeping with nearby existing uses; and

WHEREAS, as to the adjacent uses, the applicant states directly north of the site (but separated by an unlighted parking lot and a fence) is a residence and directly west of the site is a two-story office building; as such, the impact upon adjacent properties is minimal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a medical office has existed at the site for well over 50 years and that the proposed building envelope is consistent with the historic building envelope at the site; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant states that the proposed 0.31 FAR is well below the maximum permitted FAR for a community facility in the R2 zoning district (1.0 FAR); the applicant also notes that while the proposed side yard of approximately five feet is deficient by three feet, it is an existing condition that is considered a new non-compliance solely because change in use triggers compliance with community facility bulk regulations rather than the residential bulk regulations of the R2 district; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board directed the applicant to remove excess signage at the site, to remove one curb cut, and to clarify the arrangement of the parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted photographs showing the removal of the excess signage and certified that the signage was in compliance with ZR § 22-321(b) ("Nameplates or Identification Signs"); in addition, the applicant submitted a revised site plan showing the removal of one curb cut and the proposed arrangement of the parking lot; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states and the Board agrees that the hardship was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is the result the site's lot size, historic use, and location on Richmond Road; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, in that the proposal merely seeks to legalize a use that has existed since at least 1971 and has been partially authorized by a certificate of occupancy since 1960; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted Action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 236-12-BZ dated July 26, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to legalize the extension of medical office use within an existing building in an R2 zoning district, which does not conform to the use regulations or provide the required side yard, contrary to ZR §§ 22-10 and 24-35; on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received May 6, 2013"-(3) sheets and "November 26, 2013"– (2) sheets; and on further condition;

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: 1,325 sq. ft. of floor area (0.31 FAR), a minimum side yard width of 4.96 feet; and a minimum front yard depth of 8.46 feet, as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT all signage at the site will be in accordance with the BSA-approved plans;

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 10, 2013.

1. Use Group 6 retail (accessory parking and driveway) is not permitted in R2A district lot portion; contrary to ZR 22-10; and
2. Use Group 4 medical office (accessory parking and driveway) is not permitted in R2A district lot portion; contrary to ZR 22-14; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site partially within a C1-2 (R3-1) zoning district and partially within an R2A zoning district, an accessory parking lot to a medical office (Use Group 4) and retail (Use Group 6) on the R2A portion of the site, which is contrary to ZR §§ 22-10 and 22-14; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 24, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with a continued hearing on October 29, 2013, and November 26, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Queens, recommended approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, Queens Borough President Helen Marshall recommended approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregularly-shaped lot located at the southwest corner of the intersection of Northern Boulevard and Little Neck Parkway, partially within a C1-2 (R3-1) zoning district and partially within an R2A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 172 feet of frontage along Little Neck Parkway, approximately 85 feet of frontage along Northern Boulevard, and 11,651 sq. ft. of lot area (7,510 sq. ft. of lot area within the C1-2 (R3-1) zoning district and 4,141 sq. ft. of lot area within the R2A zoning district); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that despite its designation as a single tax lot, the site has been owned as two separate and independent parcels since before 1961 and supports this statement with historic tax maps and a chain-of-title analysis; and

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a one-story commercial building that was constructed in or about 1939 and contained an eating and drinking establishment known as the "Scobee Diner" until November 2010, when the diner was closed due to fire damage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that to the extent that portions of the lot within the R2A zoning district were used for the eating and drinking establishment (including accessory parking) and were lawfully non-conforming, such non-conforming uses have been discontinued and may not be resumed, pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to formally subdivide the separately owned parcels, demolish the Scobee Diner building (which straddles the parcels), and construct a two-story mixed commercial and community facility building with 5,612.7 sq. ft. of floor area entirely within the C1-2 (R3-1) portion of the lot and in accordance with all applicable bulk regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that because 12 of the required 17 accessory parking spaces are being provided within the R2A portion of the lot, the proposal is contrary to ZR § 22-10, which does not allow parking accessory to a commercial use as-of-right, and ZR § 22-14, which does not allow parking accessory to a medical office as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions which create an unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the division of the site by a district boundary line; (2) history of commercial use at the site; (3) the site's location at the intersection of two major thoroughfares; and (4) the irregular shape of the lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, in December 2006, the Douglaston-Little Neck Rezoning rezoned 65 percent of the site C1-2 (R3-1) and 35 percent of the site R2A; previously, approximately 90 percent of the site was within the C1-2 (R3-1) district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that while a typical commercial overlay has a depth of 150 feet, the commercial overlay resulting from the rezoning of the subject site has a depth of only 100 feet; and

WHEREAS, consequently, the applicant states that, prior to the rezoning, it was able to utilize ZR § 77-11 to extend the permitted commercial uses in the C1-2 district to the R2A portion of the lot; however, subsequent to the rezoning, ZR § 77-11 was not available to extend the permitted commercial uses, because the lot line was relocated to more than 25 feet from the district boundary; likewise, the applicant notes that it is unable to utilize ZR § 73-52 to extend the district boundary and expand the portion of the lot that may be used for commercial uses because, as noted above, the site to be developed was not a lot of record held in single ownership prior to 1961; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the standard 150-foot depth is to accommodate the high accessory parking requirements for certain uses permitted as-of-right within C1-2 districts, and that the site is uniquely burdened by the absence of the 150 depth (width) along Little Neck Parkway; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also asserts that the zoning districts that many of the viable community facility uses that are permitted in the C1-2 district are prohibited in the R2A district and those community facility uses that are permitted as-of-right in both portions of the lot (schools or houses of worship) are economically infeasible; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that of the 28 lots affected by the Douglaston-Little Neck Rezoning, six split in a similar fashion to the site; however, each of the six is either occupied by an existing building that covers the entire lot or utilizes the rear of its respective lot for parking; therefore, the applicant asserts that only the site is unable to make practical use of its R2A portion following the rezoning; and

WHEREAS, as to the history of commercial use at the site, the applicant states that the site has been used for commercial purposes since the 1930s, including the long-standing use of the R2A portion of the lot for parking; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the existing building on the lot is partially within the R2A portion of the lot, but can no longer be used for commercial purposes due to its discontinuance pursuant to ZR § 52-61; in any event, the applicant asserts that the existing building is configured as a diner and cannot be renovated to accommodate a use other than a diner without significant cost; and

WHEREAS, as to the site's location at the intersection of two major thoroughfares, the applicant asserts that both Northern Boulevard and Little Neck Parkway are heavily-trafficked thoroughfares, which are well-suited to commercial or community facility use; and

WHEREAS, likewise, the applicant asserts the intersection of these streets is an undesirable location for the types of homes (one-family, detached residences) that predominate in the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, as to the irregular shape of the lot, the applicant states that the lot's southeast corner forms an acute angle, which, when combined with the parking requirements, results in inefficient floorplates and the loss of rental square footage; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the shape of the site in combination with the location of the district boundary, result in inefficient as-of-right vehicular circulation and parking configurations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that while it is possible to locate all required parking for the proposal within the C1-2 portion of the lot, the neighborhood is heavily automobile-oriented; as such, the applicant asserts that additional parking is necessary in order for the development to succeed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create an unnecessary hardship and a practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a feasibility study analyzing the following scenarios: (1) an as-of-right community facility development with daycare center use; (2) an as-of-right commercial retail and office building; (3) an as-of-right retail and office building with the residential portion of the site being developed with a single-family residence; (4) an as-of-right commercial office building with on-grade parking below; (5) a lesser variance scenario that is identical to the proposal, but lacks the second-story community facility use; and (6) the proposed two-story mixed commercial and community facility building with 17 on-grade parking spaces partially within the R2A district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that only the proposal would result in a reasonable return due to the physical conditions of the site; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the submissions, per ZR § 72-21(b), the Board has determined that because of the subject site's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed use of the site will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding neighborhood is characterized by low-rise commercial and community facility uses along the major streets (e.g., Northern Boulevard and Little Neck Parkway) and predominantly two-story, single-family detached residences along the residential streets (e.g., Browvale Lane and 44th Avenue); and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the proposal is consistent with the uses immediately adjacent to the site, which include, a shopping center to the south, a large accessory parking lot to the west, a series of two-story retail stores and an Off-Track Betting establishment across Little Neck Parkway to the north, and to the east, across Northern Boulevard, a small parking lot, one-story martial arts school, and two, two-story mixed retail buildings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the adjacent accessory parking lot is entirely within the subject R2A district and was authorized by Board variance under BSA Cal. No. 332-79-BZ; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant states that the R2A portion of the lot has been used for commercial purposes for more than 60 years and the proposal would allow such use to continue, without an increase in its intensity or scope; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed building is well within the parameters of the C1-2 (R3-1) district and that the proposed FAR of 0.75 is three-quarters of that which is permitted as-of-right (1.0 FAR); and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant states that it has configured the curb cuts and parking spaces on the site so as to minimize the traffic impacts on the R2A district; specifically, traffic will enter the site along Little Neck Parkway and exit onto Northern Boulevard; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board questioned the necessity of the "bridge" connecting the building segments on either side of the exit driveway and requested additional landscaping for portions of the site; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant explained that the bridge and the floor area that will be accessed by it are integral to the project and that removing them would make the development financially infeasible; in addition, the applicant amended its site plan to include additional landscaping; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the split-lot condition and ownership history of Lot 53; and

WHEREAS, likewise, the Board finds the proposal to allow accessory parking spaces within the R2A portion of the site to be the minimum variance necessary to afford the owner relief, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to Sections 617.6(h) and 617.2(h) of 6 NYCRR; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13-BSA-067Q, dated December 11, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site partially within a C1-2 (R3-1) zoning district and partially within an R2A zoning district, an accessory parking lot to a medical office (Use Group 4) and retail (Use Group 6) on the R2A portion of the site, which is contrary to ZR §§ 22-10 and 36-21, on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received October 17, 2013" - three (3) sheets and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the site: two stories, 5,612.7 sq. ft. of floor area (0.75 FAR) (1,999.6 sq. ft. of community facility floor area and 3,613.1 sq. ft. of commercial floor area), 17 parking spaces (12 parking spaces within the R2A district), a maximum wall height of 18'-6", and a maximum building height of 28'-0", as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the use of the parking lot is limited to an accessory parking for principal uses on the lot;

THAT screening and landscaping will be installed and maintained as per the BSA-approved plans;

THAT all exterior lighting within the parking area shall be directed away from adjacent residential use;

THAT the above conditions will be noted on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT this grant will apply to the lot as depicted on the BSA-approved plans and the lot may not be altered without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 10, 2013.

WHEREAS, the decisions of the Brooklyn Borough

Commissioner, dated January 28, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 320547654 and 320547645, read in pertinent part:

> Proposed one (1) family dwelling (UG-2) in proposed zoning lot within an M1-1 zoning district is contrary to Section 42-10 of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site within an M1-1 zoning district, the construction of two, three-story, single-family residential buildings (Use Group 2), contrary to ZR § 42-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on June 4, 2013 and July 9, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of DeGraw Street, between Van Brunt Street and Columbia Street, within an M1-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site comprises Tax Lots 22 and 23, each of which has a width of 17.5 feet and a depth of 100 feet, for a combined lot width of 35 feet, and a combined lot area of 3,500 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct two, three-story, single-family residential buildings on separate zoning lots in accordance with the bulk regulations applicable in an R6A district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building on Lot 22 will have 3,152 sq. ft. of floor area and the building on Lot 23 will have 3,044 sq. ft. of floor area for a combined floor area of 6,196 (1.77 FAR) (the maximum permitted FAR in an R6A district is 3.0); one accessory off-street parking space is proposed for each building, and both buildings will have a street wall height of 31'-8" and a maximum building height of 36'-0" (the maximum permitted street wall height in an R6A district is 60'-0"; the maximum permitted building height in an R6A district is 70'-0"); and

WHEREAS, because residential use is not permitted in the subject M1-1 zoning district, the applicant requests the subject variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, per ZR § 72-21(a), the following are unique physical conditions which create unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the site is vacant, and has a small lot size of 3,500 sq. ft. and a narrow lot width of 35 feet; (2) the site is adjacent to residential buildings on two sides; (3) the site fronts on a narrow street; and (4) the site is burdened with sub-surface soil conditions that significantly increase the cost of construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the site's narrowness and small lot size would result in a conforming manufacturing or commercial building with inefficient, narrow floor plates that would be inadequate space for providing a loading dock; further, the applicant states based on the small lot size, a conforming development would provide a maximum floor plate of 3,500 sq. ft., which the applicant represents is substandard for modern manufacturing uses; and

WHEREAS, in support of its claim that the site—with its narrow lot width and small lot size—is not feasible for modern manufacturing use, the applicant surveyed the surrounding manufacturing uses and found that most conforming uses are located on larger lots; the applicant also found that out of the 121 lots that are less than 3,500 sq. ft., only eight lots (6.61 percent) contain buildings that are occupied by a conforming use and that all such buildings were built prior to 1977, except two: an architectural office and a mechanic's shop; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant concludes that: (1) where commercial and manufacturing uses exist on narrow lots within the surrounding neighborhood, they are long-standing uses within existing buildings; and (2) modern manufacturing uses require larger lots; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant notes that for approximately 100 years (until 1991), the site was occupied by two single-family dwellings; as such, the size and width of the site has historically been to accommodate residential uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that the site is adjacent to residential uses on both sides and that the existence of residential buildings on the adjacent lots further devalues the site for a conforming use and would result in lower rental incomes and higher vacancy rates; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submitted study of the surrounding properties within an area bounded by DeGraw Street to the north, Columbia Street to the east, and Hamilton Avenue to the south and Van Brunt Street to the west to support its representations regarding uniqueness; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, of the 121 lots surveyed, there are 27 lots that share the following basic characteristics with the subject lot: the lots are vacant, have narrow lot widths of 35 feet or less, lot areas of 3,500 sq. ft. or less, and are located in the subject M1-1 district; however, of these 27 lots, only six lots (4.96 percent) are also adjacent to residential uses on both sides which constraint access to the site for larger vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concludes that the site is uniquely unsuitable for a manufacturing use because of its width, size, and adjacency to residential uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that the width of DeGraw Street (60'-0")—which, as a practical matter, is narrowed further by the existence of a bike lane and permitted parking on both sides of the street—makes the site incapable of handling the truck traffic associated with a conforming use; accordingly, rent would have to be decreased to reflect a tenant's increase in loading costs; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that the site's unique sub-surface soil conditions create an additional impediment to conforming development; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a letter from an engineer, which concluded that, due to the soil composition at the site, an as-of-right building at the site would require deep foundations and the installation of 58 helical piles, which increase the cost of construction; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it does not find that DeGraw Street is particularly narrow or that its width is unique or inherently unsuitable for manufacturing uses; on the contrary, the Board observes that a width of 60 feet is typical to the neighborhood and to most areas of the city, including where bike and parking lanes are provided; and

WHEREAS, nevertheless, the Board finds that the site has a combination of unique physical conditions including its lot width and size, the adjacent residential uses and the sub-surface conditions, which, in the aggregate, create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations;

WHEREAS, to satisfy ZR § 72-21(b), the applicant submitted a feasibility study which analyzed the rate of return on an as-of-right industrial building at the site and the proposal; and

WHEREAS, according to the study, a one-story building with 3,500 sq. ft. of floor area occupied by a conforming use would yield a negative rate of return; the proposed residential buildings, on the other hand, would realize a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the feasibility study, the Board has determined that because of the subject lot's unique physical condition, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable use requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the subject block is a mix of residential, commercial, and manufacturing/industrial uses; the applicant notes that while the western half of the block is predominantly manufacturing/industrial, the eastern half, where the site is located, is predominantly residential with a total of 26 dwelling units and ground floor commercial uses along Columbia Street (which forms the eastern boundary of the block); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, based on a series of Sanborn maps, the site was occupied by two single-family buildings for the majority of the 20th Century, until 1991, when the buildings were demolished; further, nine of the ten residential buildings on the eastern half of the block have existed for approximately 100 years, and the tenth was built around 1930; thus, the block has remained residential in character despite its designation as an M1-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the Columbia Street frontage of the block directly across the street from the site is planned to be developed as an access point to the Brooklyn Waterfront Greenway and will include outdoor recreation and green space; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, as noted above, the applicant states that the proposed building complies with all bulk regulations of a R6A zoning district, which is mapped on portions of the blocks directly to the northeast, east, southeast, and south of the subject block; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant notes that the proposed buildings are designed to maintain the contextual streescape, will align with the height of the residential building directly to the east of the site (31'-8"), and be compatible with the two buildings directly west (three feet shorter than one; three feet taller than the other); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title, but is rather a function of the site's historic lot dimensions, adjacent residential uses, and soil conditions; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Board finds that the proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, as set forth in ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 13BSA085K, dated December 24, 2012; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials, air quality and noise impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed and accepted the November 2013 Remedial Action Plan and the October 2013 site-specific Construction Health and Safety Plan; and

WHEREAS, DEP requested that a P.E.-certified

Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the applicant's stationary source air quality screening analysis and determined that the proposed project is not anticipated to result in significant stationary source air quality impacts; and

WHEREAS, DEP reviewed the results of noise monitoring and determined that a minimum of 26 dBA window-wall noise attenuation and an alternate means of ventilation (provided by a rooftop ERV/HRV system) should be provided in the proposed building's residential units in order to achieve an interior noise level of 45 dBA; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21, and grants a variance to permit, on a site within an M1-1 zoning district, the construction of two three-story, single-family residential buildings (Use Group 2), contrary to ZR § 42-10; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received March 25, 2013" – seven (7) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the total floor area on the lots shall not exceed 6,196 sq. ft.;

THAT the following are the bulk parameters of the building on Lot 23: a floor area of 3,044; a maximum street wall height of 31'-8"; a maximum building height of 36'-0"; and one parking space, as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the following are the bulk parameters of the building on Lot 22: a floor area of 3,152; a maximum street wall height of 31'-8"; a maximum building height of 36'-0"; and one parking space, as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT DOB shall not issue certificates of occupancy until the applicant has provided it with DEP's approval of the Remedial Closure Report;

THAT a minimum of 26 dBA window-wall noise attenuation and an alternate means of ventilation (provided by a rooftop ERV/HRV system) shall be provided in the proposed building's residential units;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated January 2, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 320752912 reads, in pertinent part:

1. Proposed floor area is contrary to ZR 24-11;
2. Proposed wall height and sky exposure plane are contrary to ZR 24-521;
3. Proposed side yard setback is contrary to ZR 24-551; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for a variance pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit, on a site within an R5 zoning district, a two-story enlargement of a three-story and mezzanine community facility building occupied as a religious school (Use Group 3), which does not comply with the district regulations for floor area, wall height, sky-exposure plane, and side yard setback, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-521, and 24-551; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 8, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and

Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of Yeshiva Novominsk (the "Yeshiva"); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is an irregular corner lot that spans the full length of the block on the west side of 17th Avenue between 60th Street and 61st Street, within an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 140 feet of frontage along 60th Street, 200 feet of frontage along 17th Avenue, 150 feet of frontage along 61st Street, and 29,000 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site is currently occupied by a three-story plus mezzanine religious school building, with 55,290 sq. ft. of floor area (1.91 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the building currently includes the following uses: (1) classrooms for the Yeshiva; (2) prayer halls; (3) a gymnasium; (4) a rabbi's apartment; (5) conference rooms; and (6) a dormitory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two-story enlargement atop the southern wing of the existing building (61st Street frontage) in order to expand the Yeshiva's dormitory facilities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that although the proposed enlargement will provide complying lot coverage and front and rear yards, it will also: (1) result in an increase in floor area from 55,290 sq. ft. (1.91 FAR) to 65,799 sq. ft. (2.27 FAR), which will exceed the maximum FAR of 2.0, contrary to ZR § 24-11; (2) increase the wall height from 37'-0" to 58'-6", which will exceed the maximum wall height of 37'-0"; (3) eclipse the required sky exposure plane of 1:1, contrary to ZR § 24-521; and (4) not provide the required side setbacks of 22'-6" at a height of 45'-0" above the side yard level, and 27'-6" at a height of 55'-0" above the side yard level, contrary to ZR § 24-551; and

WHEREAS, the proposal would allow for an increase in the number of dormitory beds from 177 beds to 269 beds; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the Yeshiva's programmatic need to provide sufficient dormitory space for its 292 students necessitates the requested variances; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant asserts that providing sleeping accommodations for its student body is essential to achieving the pedagogical and religious objective of the Yeshiva; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that students enrolled in the Yeshiva (40 ninth-graders, 41 tenth-graders, 41 eleventh-graders, 47 twelfth-graders, and 123 post-high school students) come from across the United States and Europe and attend the Yeshiva because of its uniquely rigorous secular and religious curriculum; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that students at the Yeshiva are immersed in the curriculum—which includes prayers, meals, and recreation time—from as early as 7:30 a.m. to as late as 11:00 p.m.; thus, the Yeshiva must be able to provide sleeping accommodations for all students who do not live in the immediate vicinity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that there is a direct nexus between the requested waivers and the design of the proposal; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that vertically enlarging the building without setbacks is necessary due to the limitations created by the structural elements of the existing building; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant represents that the two-story enlargement's floor plates and layouts mirror those of the existing dormitory at the second and third stories of the building, which provides the most efficient and structurally-sound enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that extending the enlargement horizontally across the roof instead of vertically above the existing dormitory would require: (1) demolition of the existing beams and columns above the Batei Midrash (study hall) and portions of the roof slab; (2) reinforcement of the transfer girders, which were only designed to carry the loads imposed by the roof and exterior wall; and (3) demolition and reconstruction of the some walls and ceilings of the study hall spaces, which the applicant states are the most intricately-finished spaces in the building; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant represents that alternative designs expanding the existing footprint of the building or providing some or all of the required setbacks would be infeasible due to the extensive structural and plumbing work that would be required, at significant cost; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant notes that an off-site dormitory would be both costly and impractical given the comprehensive nature of the Yeshiva's curriculum; the Yeshiva does not bus students and it does not want its students taking public transportation late into the evening due to safety concerns; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant represents that if the Yeshiva is unable to increase the size of its dormitory, it may be forced to turn away prospective students who do not live in the immediate vicinity of the school; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Yeshiva, as a religious and educational institution, is entitled to significant deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and as to its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Westchester Reform Temple v. Brown, 22 N.Y.2d 488 (1968), a religious institution's application is to be permitted unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of a neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of an application; and

WHEREAS, the Board accepts that the Yeshiva's programmatic needs are furthered by the construction of the proposed dormitory; and

WHEREAS, the Board also recognizes that the proposed enlargement above the existing dormitory is the most efficient, practical, and cost-effective to construct the dormitory and that such proposal cannot be accomplished without the requested height, setback, and floor area waivers;

and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the programmatic needs of the Congregation create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in compliance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant need not address ZR § 72-21(b) since the Yeshiva is a not-for-profit organization and the proposed development will be in furtherance of its not-for-profit mission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed enlargement will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, or be detrimental to the public welfare, consistent with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding neighborhood is characterized by a diverse mix of low- to medium density residential, community facility and manufacturing uses; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the applicant states that although other nearby uses include, across 61st Street, two-story industrial buildings, across 60th Street, a one-story warehouse and a two-story residence, and, across 17th Avenue, a two-story branch of the Brooklyn Public Library, and two-story residences, there are a number of nearby community facility buildings that are similar in height and FAR to the subject building, including: (1) the Edward B. Shallow Junior High School (four stories, 184,000 sq. ft. of floor area (2.2 FAR) within an R5 district); (2) The Seeall Academy (five stories, 157,261 sq. ft. of floor area (2.12 FAR) partially within an R5 district and partially within an R6 district); (3) Bais Sarah School (three stories, 61,148 sq. ft. of floor area (2.04 FAR) within an M1-1 district); and (4) Public School 48 (five stories, 72,400 sq. ft. of floor area (1.81 FAR) within an R5 district); and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that it chose to locate the enlargement on the 61st Street frontage of the lot, so as to minimize its impact upon the R5 district; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant states, as noted above, that the enlargement maintains the complying front and rear yards, does not increase the building's complying lot coverage, and only exceeds the permitted FAR by 0.27, which represents a 13.5 percent increase over the maximum permitted 2.0 FAR; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that although there is a two-story residence directly west of the site along 61st Street, it is a total of 13 feet away from the Yeshiva building and no windows are proposed in the enlarged portion of the school facing that residence; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested clarification regarding the proposed occupant load and questioned whether enrollment was anticipated to increase; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted amended plans indicating that occupant loads would be subject to DOB approval; in addition, the applicant submitted a statement confirming that enrollment is expected to remain at current levels; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship was not self-created and that no development that would meet the programmatic needs of the Yeshiva could occur on the existing lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states and the Board agrees that the requested waivers are the minimum necessary to afford relief to satisfy the Congregation's programmatic needs, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as Unlisted pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) CEQR No. 13BSA090K, dated January 27, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance, to permit, on a site within an R5 zoning district, a two-story enlargement of a three-story and mezzanine community facility building occupied as a religious school (Use Group 3), which does not comply with the district regulations for floor area, wall height, sky-exposure plane, and side-yard setback, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-521, and 24-551; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received November 4, 2013" – Eight (8) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the building parameters will be: a floor area of 65,799 sq. ft. (2.27 FAR); a maximum wall height of 58'-6"; and five stories, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT any change in the control or ownership of the building will require the prior approval of the Board;

THAT the above conditions will be listed on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans are considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23;

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 10, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decisions of the Queens Borough Commissioner, dated February 15, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 402460608, read in pertinent part:

> Proposed building creates non-compliance with open area requirements and is contrary to ZR Section 23-891; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, in an R1-2 zoning district, construction of a two-story single-family home that does not provide the required minimum open area, contrary to ZR § 23-891; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 22, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS¸ the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of 166th Street and Cryders Lane, within an R1-2 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site is a rectangular zoning lot with 100 feet of frontage along Cryders Lane, 103 feet of frontage along 166th Street, and a lot area of 10,300 sq. ft.; and

WHEREAS, the site comprises two tax lots, Lots 1 and 3, which were declared to be a single zoning lot pursuant to a 2006 declaration; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the site previously comprised a single tax lot, Lot 3, and that it was occupied by a single-family home that was demolished in 2001; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Lot 3 is currently occupied by a two-story, single-family home that has 1,929.46 sq. ft. of floor area and was completed in 2005; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Lot 1 is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two-story, single-family home on Lot 1, and that the addition of the proposed building to the zoning lot results in the following compliances: 2,611.52 sq. ft. of floor area is proposed, for a total of 4,504.98 sq. ft. of floor area on the zoning lot (0.44 FAR for the zoning lot) (the maximum permitted FAR is 0.50); an open space ratio of 153 percent, (the minimum open space ratio is 150 percent); front yards with a depths of 24'-0" and 20'-0" (front yards with minimum depths of 20'-0" and 15'-0' are required) (the building on Lot 3 has a front yard depth of 20'6"); an open area of 20'-0" measured perpendicular to the rear wall (a minimum of 20'-0" is required for a corner lot); a wall height of 24'-0" (the maximum permitted wall height is 25'-0"); and one parking space (one parking space is required for each dwelling unit on the zoning lot and there is one existing parking space on Lot 3, for a complying total of two parking spaces on the lot); and

WHEREAS, however, the applicant states that, per ZR § 23-891(b), where there are two buildings located on a corner lot within an R1-2 district, the interior building must provide a minimum open area of 30 feet measured perpendicular to the rear wall; therefore, the construction of the proposed building creates a new non-compliance with respect to the existing building on Lot 3, because that building only provides 23'-5" feet of open space; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, similarly, subdividing the zoning lot would create a non-compliance on Lot 3 with respect to the requirement for a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30'-0"; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, in order to construct the building proposed on Lot 1, the applicant seeks a waiver of the open area requirement for the existing building on Lot 3;

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions, which create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in compliance with underlying district regulations: (1) the underdevelopment of the site; and (2) the history of development on the site, including the location of the existing home on the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the subject zoning lot is a large, significantly under-developed corner lot; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the zoning lot has a lot area of 10,300 sq. ft. and is currently occupied by a single-family home with a floor area of 1,929.46 sq. ft. (0.19 FAR), which is significantly underdeveloped based on the maximum allowable floor area of 5,150 sq. ft. (0.50 FAR) for the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also states that such underdevelopment is due to history of development on the lot; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant states that Lot 3 was historically a single tax lot that was subdivided into Lots 1 and 3, in order to construct two as-of-right single-family homes; development of Lot 3 proceeded and was completed in 2005; subsequently, in 2008, ZR § 23-891 ("Open Area Requirements for Residences") was amended so that if a home were to be constructed on Lot 1, the home on Lot 3 would become non-complying with respect to its open area at the rear; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states, as noted above, that any development of Lot 1 would require removing significant portions of the rear of the home on Lot 3 to provide a minimum open area of 30 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the sequence of development, the orientation of the existing home on Lot 3 (which was complying when the home was designed and built), and the underdevelopment of the lot is unique among similar sites in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant submitted the results of a study of the 82 corner lots within 900 feet of the site that are subject to ZR § 23-891; and

WHEREAS, based on this study, the applicant states that 73 out of 82 lots potentially impacted by ZR § 23-891 are smaller than the subject lot, significantly developed, and cannot be subdivided; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant contends that there are only nine lots out of 82 in the study area that may be reasonably considered to be similar in size to the subject site; however, the subject site is the most underdeveloped at 0.19 FAR and, more importantly, the other sites have existing homes that occupy a central location on their respective site, making subdivision impossible without demolition of the existing home; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that, as such—and in contrast to the subject site whose existing building leaves ample room for a second home but for the requirements of ZR § 23-891—the development potential of the nine underdeveloped sites that are similar in size to the subject site lies in enlarging their respective centrally-located single-family homes; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the cited unique physical conditions create practical difficulties in developing the site in strict compliance with the applicable regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts and the Board agrees that because of the site's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that the owner will be able to develop the site without the requested waiver; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(c), the proposed variance will not negatively affect the character of the neighborhood, or impact adjacent uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding community is characterized by single-family, detached homes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposal is contextual in terms of use and bulk and complies in all respects with the R1-2 regulations; as noted above, the only non-compliance on the zoning lot that would result from the proposal is a failure of the existing home on Lot 3 to provide a 30-foot open area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that a 20-foot distance has been provided between the rear wall of the proposed home on Lot 1 and the side lot line of the adjacent Lot 46, which is well in excess of the eight feet that would be required if this lot line were considered a side lot line for Lot 1; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that this action will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the unnecessary hardship in developing the site in compliance with underlying district regulations is not self-created but is inherent to the site's history of development and the location of the existing home, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d); and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that Lots 1 and 3 were subdivided for the sole purpose of developing them independently, and at the time of subdivision—indeed, even at the time that the home on Lot 3 was completed—it was not foreseeable that the Zoning Resolution would be amended in manner that would make as-of-right development of both lots infeasible; and

WHEREAS, for reasons set forth above, the Board agrees that the unnecessary hardship in developing the site in compliance with underlying district regulations was not self-created; and

WHEREAS, finally, the applicant asserts and the Board agrees that a reduction in the open area from the required 30'-0" to 23'-5" is consistent with ZR § 72-21(e) and, thus, is proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and

Appeals issues a Type II Declaration under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.13, §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2), and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R1-2 zoning district, construction of a two-story single-family home that does not provide the required minimum open area, contrary to ZR § 23-891; on condition that any and all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received September 18, 2013"- (7) sheets, "November 6, 2013"-(2) sheets and "November 12, 2013"-(4) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the parameters of the site will be as follows: 2,611.52 sq. ft. of floor area (Lot 1), for a total of 4,504.98 sq. ft. of floor area on the zoning lot (0.44 FAR) (Lots 1 and 3); an minimum open space ratio of 153 percent (Lots 1 and 3); front yards with minimum depths of 24'-0" and 20'-0" (Lot 1); a maximum wall height of 24'-0" (Lot 1); a minimum open area of 20'-0" measured perpendicular to the rear wall (Lots 1 and 3); and one parking space for each home on the zoning lot, for a total of two parking spaces (Lots 1 and 3); as illustrated in the BSA-approved plans;

THAT the internal floor layouts on each floor of the proposed home will be as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT there will be no habitable room in the cellar;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board, in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT construction will proceed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks an increase in the floor area from of 1,729 sq. ft. (0.43 FAR) to 4,168 sq. ft. (1.04 FAR); the maximum permitted floor area is 2,000 sq. ft. (0.50 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated April 11, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings ("DOB") Application No. 320588280, reads in pertinent part:

> Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 23-141 in that the proposed floor area ratio is greater than the maximum permitted; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03, to permit, within an R2X zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio

("FAR"), contrary to ZR § 23-141; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 8, 2013, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East Eighth Street, between Avenue J and Avenue K, within an R2X zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District; and

WHEREAS, the site has a total lot area of 4,820 sq. ft. and is occupied by a two-story and attic single-family home with a floor area of 2,990.65 sq. ft. (0.63 FAR), and an accessory parking garage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to demolish the garage and enlarge the home, resulting in an increase in floor area from 2,990.65 sq. ft. (0.63 FAR) to 5,398.4 sq. ft. (1.12 FAR) the maximum floor area permitted is 4,097 sq. ft. (0.85 FAR) with a 20 percent attic bonus, which brings the maximum permitted floor area to 4,916.4 sq. ft. (1.02 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the special permit authorized by ZR § 73-621 is available to enlarge buildings containing residential uses that existed on December 15, 1961, or, in certain districts, on June 20, 1989; therefore, as a threshold matter, the applicant must establish that the subject building existed as of that date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a tax photograph from 1940 depicting the subject building; thus, the applicant states that the building existed well before June 20, 1989, which is the operative date within the subject R2X district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board acknowledges that the special permit under ZR § 73-621 is available to enlarge the building; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-621 permits the enlargement of a residential building such as the subject single-family home, provided that the proposed floor area ratio does not exceed 110 percent of the maximum permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed floor area is 109.8 percent of the maximum permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, initially, it proposed to maintain its existing, non-complying perimeter wall height of 22'-0"; however, in response to the Board's concerns, the applicant amended the proposal to provide a 21'-0" perimeter wall height, in accordance with ZR § 23-631(b); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has reviewed the proposal and determined that the proposed enlargement satisfies all of the relevant requirements of ZR § 73-621; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concerns regarding the following: (1) the enclosure of the proposed balconies and porch; (2) whether the proposed parking space has sufficient maneuvering area; (3) the adequacy of the proposed landscaping; (4) the scope of the proposed structural work; (5) the calculation of the attic bonus; and (6) the size of the trusses and collars within the attic; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant clarified that the rear balcony is enclosed and included in floor area, but the front balcony is not enclosed and not included in floor area, and that the open porch at the front is subject to DOB approval; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant submitted amended plans showing sufficient maneuvering area for the parking space, complying landscaping and plantings, and detailed information regarding the scope of the structural work, the calculation of the attic bonus, and the size of the trusses and collars within the attic; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the proposed enlargement will neither alter the essential character of the surrounding neighborhood, nor impair the future use and development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed project will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03, to permit, within an R2X zoning district within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the proposed enlargement of a single-family home, which does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio ("FAR"), contrary to ZR § 23-141; on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked "Received November 27, 2013" - eleven (11) sheets and "December 5, 2013"-(1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT the following will be the bulk parameters of the building: two stories and an attic and a maximum floor area of 5,398.4 sq. ft. (1.12 FAR), as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT DOB will verify that the FAR attic bonus is limited to 20 percent of the 1.12 FAR and is calculated in accordance with 23-141(b)(1);

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed

DOB/other jurisdiction objections(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted;

THAT construction proceed in accordance with ZR § 73-70; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 10, 2013.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Executive Zoning Specialist, dated April 3, 2013, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 121329589, reads, in pertinent part:

1. ZR 42-10 – Proposed UG 2 is not permitted; contrary to ZR 42-10
2. ZR 42-14 (D)(2)(b) – Proposed UG 6 is not permitted below the floor level of the second story; contrary to ZR 42-14 (D)(2)(b)
3. ZR 13-12(a) – Proposed number of accessory parking spaces for UG 2 exceeds the maximum permitted; contrary to ZR 13-12(a); and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21, to permit, on a site within an M1-5B zoning district, a 16-story residential building, with 33 dwelling units, commercial use on the first floor and cellar level, and ten accessory parking spaces, which is contrary to ZR §§ 42-10, 42-14 (D)(2)(b), and 13-12(a); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 24, 2013 after due notice by publication in the City Record, with continued hearings on October 22, 2013 and November 19, 2013, and then to decision on December 10, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Manhattan, recommends approval of the use variance but recommends a reduction for the FAR to 3.44 and a reduction of the building height; and

WHEREAS, the Greenwich Village Society for Historic Preservation provided testimony in opposition to the proposed building citing concerns about the potential incompatibility with the surrounding area and that the proposal does not reflect the minimum variance; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community provided oral and written testimony in support of the application; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the community provided oral and written testimony in opposition to the application, primarily citing concerns with the proposed building's bulk; and

WHEREAS, the subject triangular site is located at the intersection of Avenue of the Americas and Sullivan Street with 356.74 feet of frontage on Avenue of the Americas and 343.38 feet of frontage on Sullivan Street; and

WHEREAS, Lot 27 is currently vacant, but was formerly occupied by a gasoline service station and Lot 35 is occupied by a car wash that ceased operations in April 2013; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially proposed an 18-story building, which included a three-story base with a 15-story tower adjacent to four attached four-story townhouses and rose to a total height of 223 feet; and

WHEREAS, at the Board's direction and in response to the community's concern about the building's scale, the applicant now proposes a 16-story building, which includes an extended four- and five-story base with a 14-story tower adjacent to the four attached four-story townhouses for a total of 33 residential units; the proposed building will have a total floor area of 81,565 sq. ft. with a resulting 5.0 FAR, of which 1,802 sq. ft. will be commercial on the first floor (0.11 FAR) (Use Group 6) and 79,763 sq. ft. (4.89 FAR) will be residential (Use Group 2); the proposal has a height of 204.75 feet to the top of the parapet; and

WHEREAS, the four townhouses will occupy the northern portion of the site, with frontage on Sullivan Street, and the 16-story portion will occupy the southern tip of the site and will include commercial use on the ground floor and cellar level of the base and 10 parking spaces accessory to the residential use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant seeks relief in the form of use variances pursuant to ZR § 72-21 to permit: (1) residential use in the building, which is contrary to ZR §§ 42-10; (2) commercial use on the first floor and cellar level, contrary to ZR § 42-14 (D)(2)(b); and (3) 10 accessory residential parking spaces, contrary to ZR § 13-12(a), which allows a maximum of six accessory off street parking spaces for residential developments; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the owner now seeks a variance from the Board, which would permit the construction of the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the following are unique physical conditions which create an unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with applicable regulations: (1) the size and shape of the site; (2) sloping topography; (3) the proximity of the Eighth Avenue subway along the Avenue of the Americas' frontage; and (4) environmental conditions associated with the historic use of the site as a car wash and gasoline service station; and

WHEREAS, as to the site's size and shape, the applicant states that it is a long narrow triangle, with its sides measuring 356.73 feet along Avenue of the Americas, 343.38 feet along Sullivan Street, and 94.97 feet across the base of the triangle along the northern portion of the site parallel with Spring Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that due to the unusual configuration and the narrowness of the triangle, the buildable portion of the site begins approximately 78 feet north of the apex where the site's east-west dimension is 21 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the site's triangular-shaped block is one of a few sites created in the 1920s by the development of the IND subway line and the extension of the Avenue of the Americas, which sliced its way from the intersection of Carmine Street and Minetta Lane south to Canal Street; the development resulted in truncated blocks and buildings and a series of irregular rectangular and trapezoidal blocks; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the changes to the area in the 1920s led to many buildings being demolished and others sheared in half; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that new buildings replaced some of those that had been demolished to make way for the Avenue (ADT Building at Spring Street on the west side of the Avenue (1929); 100 Avenue of the Americas at Watts Street, on the east side of the Avenue (1930); Union Building at Grand on the west side of the Avenue (1991); and the James Hotel at Grand Street on the east side of the Avenue (2010)), but many sites remained vacant, or were occupied by small, temporary structures, or underbuilt commercial buildings; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant notes that the historic under use of the site is attributed to the effect of the subway line and Avenue construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, due to the size and shape, where the site can be developed, the utility of the interior spaces is limited by the narrowness of the site, where a building would not reach a width of 50 feet until it is approximately 110 feet north of the triangle's apex, or back one third into the length of the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that the site's shape results in inefficient interior layouts; and

WHEREAS, to support its assertion, the applicant submitted drawings for an as-of-right hotel building that would have to sit all the way to the top of the site along the northern boundary in order to accommodate feasible floor plates for hotel use, utilizing a 53-foot deep floor plate with a double-loaded hotel room corridor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that height and setback regulations require at the sixth floor a 15-ft. setback from Avenue of the Americas and a 20-ft. setback from Sullivan Street; for the tower portion of the hotel, the regulations mandate further reduction in the floor plates above the 11th floor, with required setbacks of 10 feet from the Avenue and 15 feet from Sullivan Street, and aggregate tower area maximums of 1,875 sq. ft. within 50 feet of Sullivan Street and 1,600 sq. ft. within 40 feet of the Avenue pursuant to ZR § 43-45; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that above the fifth floor, the floor plates would become long narrow trapezoids of only 4,765 sq. ft. that are ill-suited to the standard double-loaded corridor hotel floor and accommodate only eight rooms per floor, while at the tower portion of the building from the 11th to 18th floors, the floor plates reduce to only 2,787 sq. ft., permitting only three hotel rooms per floor; and

WHEREAS, as to the topography, the applicant notes that the site slopes steeply downward both from west to east and from north to south, with a difference in elevation from the Avenue of the Americas down to Sullivan Street of nearly five feet and along the Avenue of the Americas of nearly eight feet from the northern lot line of Lot 27 to the southern apex of Lot 35; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the as-of-right drawings reflect that the west to east slope presents difficulties in accessing the shallow interior spaces, requiring a split-level design, which requires that the commercial space is entered at grade from Sixth Avenue at the northernmost portion of the site, but up a flight of six to eight steps midway down the Avenue and at the apex facing the plaza where the difference between sidewalk level and the interior space is between three and five feet; and

WHEREAS, further, the applicant states that the hotel entry vestibule and core would be at grade with Sullivan Street, but six feet lower than the commercial space on the other side of the wall that defines the vestibule and core; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the grade differential, resulting in the need for an elevated entry plaza on the Avenue side of the site and splitting the ground floor into multiple levels, compounds the problems owing to the narrow, irregular shape and size of the site, affecting not only the functionality of the ground floor but also greatly increasing development costs; and

WHEREAS, as to the proximity of the subway, the applicant represents that construction activity in close proximity to a subway line (typically, within a 50-ft. "zone of influence") requires a permit from the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA), a condition of which is engineering review and approval by the MTA, adherence to strict vibration limits and continuous monitoring of any construction-related vibrations; certain standard construction methods such as pile driving, which are vibration inducing, and tiebacks, are not permitted and, thus lead to increased construction costs; and

WHEREAS, as to the uniqueness of the constraints imposed by the subway, the applicant performed an analysis which reflects that there are 15 properties in the M1-5 zoning district located along the Avenue of the Americas and Houston Street that are within the "zone of influence" of the subway, including the subject property; and

WHEREAS, further, the analysis reflects that the building line of the subject site is 20 to 21 feet from the subway tunnel and 14 to 15 feet from a subway vent and that the subject property's frontage along Avenue of the Americas is 195.6 feet and 161.6 feet for a total of 357.2 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that of the sites identified as being within the zone of influence of the subway tunnel, the building lines of five sites are closer than 20 feet to the subway tunnel, and the building lines of two sites are closer than 14 feet to a subway vent; of the 15 sites, including the subject property, only the subject site (357.2 feet) and three others have frontage in excess of 150 feet, while no property, other than the subject property, has frontage greater than 201 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concludes that given that the subject site is the only one in the study group with a building line located 20 feet from the subway tunnel and 14 feet from the subway vent with frontage that exceeds significantly the frontages of other sites in the study area, the subject site is uniquely burdened; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that there are premium costs of approximately $4,603,000 associated with the construction on the subject site due to its shape, topography, and proximity to the subway; and

WHEREAS, as to the environmental conditions, the applicant notes that the southern, Lot 35 portion of the site was occupied by a car wash from 1979 until April 2013 and the car wash building is still on the site but will be demolished for the proposed building; the northern, Lot 27 portion of the site was occupied by a gasoline service station from August 1985 to December 2006, which was demolished in 2009 and this portion of the site is currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in October 1992, during construction on the adjacent Eighth Avenue subway tunnel, the New York City Transit Authority ("NYCTA") observed petroleum impacts and a spill was reported to the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation ("NYSDEC"); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that a spill number (92-07631) was assigned to Lot 27 by NYSDEC and the spill remains open; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that since 1992, environmental investigations and remedial measures (e.g., tank removal, mass excavation, product recovery systems, and chemical oxidant injections) have been completed both on and off Lot 27, and that the most recent remedial plan for Lot 27 is the February 2012 Revised Supplemental Remedial Action Plan ("RSRAP"), which was approved by the NYSDEC and any subsequent development on Lot 27 must comply with the requirements made in the RSRAP; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that in addition to compliance with the NYSDEC RSRAP, development of the site requires compliance with the New York City Department of Environmental Protection ("NYCDEP") Remedial Action Work Plan ("RAWP"), which requires development of the site that includes additional soil excavation in excess of what would be required to accommodate a single cellar, installation of a monitoring and remediation well system, a sub-slab depressurization system and engineering controls; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that pursuant to the RSRAP, excavation must extend to approximately 23 feet below the average existing site grade (approximately 18.5 to 16.5 feet excavated to approximately elevation -4.5 feet), which amounts to an over-excavation beyond that required for foundation construction and one cellar level; and

WHEREAS, the applicant's expert submitted that based on boring reports, natural soils with adequate bearing capacity for a mat foundation were encountered at the desired cellar slab level at elevations +4.4 to -3.6; however, due to the requirement to remove contaminated soils, excavation must extend to depths that are between one and nine feet below the bearing level of the foundations and then must be backfilled using one to nine feet of imported structural fill; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the over-excavation generates additional costs and complications relating to dewatering, soil disposal, support of excavation, backfilling, oversight, and general site work; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the RSRAP requires installation of a vapor barrier to mitigate the potential migration of contaminants into the proposed buildings and compliance with the NYCDEP RAWP requires installation of a submembrane depressurization system; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that additional measures also include monitoring, injection, an extraction well, piping, and an access vault; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the costs associated with environmental remediation of the below grade contamination will add $2,445,750 to construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that its use waivers and for four additional accessory parking spaces are necessary to compensate for the premium construction costs; and

WHEREAS, the Board views the configuration of the site, the topography, the presence of the subway, and the environmental conditions as legitimate unique physical conditions, in the aggregate and are relatively unique within the area; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board finds that the site conditions create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant initially submitted a feasibility study analyzing: (1) an as-of-right conforming hotel scenario, (2) an as-of-right conforming hotel scenario on a site unencumbered by the site's unique physical conditions, and (3) the initially-proposed 18-story 5.0 FAR building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant determined that the theoretical as-of-right hotel on a standard site would be marginally feasible, but only the initially-proposed building would realize a truly reasonable rate of return; and

WHEREAS, at the Board's direction, the applicant analyzed three additional development scenarios with residential development: (1) a 3.44 FAR lesser variance; (2) a 5.0 FAR building with a higher, five-story base structure surmounted by an 11-story tower; and (3) a 4.6 FAR building with a 13-story tower; and

WHEREAS, the applicant concluded that only the 5.0 FAR extended base scenario realized a reasonable rate of return due in large part to the loss of the most valuable high floor units in the other scenarios; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the subsequent submissions, the Board has determined that because of the site's unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the immediate area surrounding the site contains significant residential use and ground floor Use Group 6 use; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant cites to the immediate north of the site where there are two six- and seven-story, mixed-used residential and retail buildings, a six-story retail building with joint living-work quarters for artists and a six-story retail and office building, all with frontage on Spring Street (202 through 208 Spring Street); to the east, directly across Sullivan Street from the site are three- to five-story residential rowhouses and tenements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that an R7-2 zoning district with a C1-5 overlay is located immediately north of the site, to the northeast is an R7-2 zoning district and to the southeast is the M1-5B in which the site itself is also located; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that due to the manner in which the Avenue of the Americas was laid out in the 1920s to facilitate the Avenue's southerly extension, the portion of the Avenue of the Americas to the west of the site is more than 180 feet wide and is one of the widest sections along the entirety of the Avenue's length; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the Avenue of the Americas extends north and south along the diagonal, cutting through Tribeca, SoHo and Greenwich Village, and defining transitions in scale between the lower-rise portions on small lots of SoHo to the east of the site and the higher-rise portions on larger lots to the north and south of the site along the Avenue of the Americas and across the Avenue to the west at Hudson Square; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the site is at the crossroads of two neighborhoods and two scales, with three- to seven-story low rise to the immediate east of the site, buildings with heights ranging from 180 to 277 feet to the immediate south of the site on the east side of the Avenue of the Americas and 170 feet to 246 feet (with the Trump SoHo tower at 510 feet) on the west side of the Avenue; and

WHEREAS, as to bulk, the applicant notes that R7-2 districts permit a maximum of 4.0 FAR for residential use within 100 feet of a wide street and 6.5 FAR for community facility uses; M1-5 districts, which prohibit residential use as-of-right, permit a maximum of 5.0 FAR for commercial uses and up to 6.5 FAR for community facility uses; and the M1-6 in the Special Hudson Square District permits up to 10.0 FAR for commercial, community facility and residential use, with an additional 2.0 FAR for projects employing Inclusionary Housing bonuses; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant asserts that its proposed 5.0 FAR is compatible with the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that it has designed the site with four single-family residential townhouses fronting on and entered from Sullivan Street at the northern portion of the triangular site and extend 100 feet south along Sullivan Street and that the revised proposal with the extended base provides a transition from the four-story townhouses to the 14-story tower at the south of the site at a height of 204.75 feet to the parapet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the location of the tower at the southern portion of the block, pulls the tallest portion of the building onto the Avenue of the Americas and away from the context of Sullivan Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the configuration of the building speaks directly to the development history of the area and the block with the townhouses and three-story base building, located along the northern portion of the site, responding to the low scale of Sullivan Street's 19th Century conditions, and the larger residential tower to the southern portion of the site reflecting development trends occurring to the immediate south and across the Avenue to the west of the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building, with its brick rowhouses and three-story brick base building located adjacent to the brick tower with large window openings, and which rises to its full height without setback, reflects the formal and textural conditions found in the area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted renderings to support its point that the proposed building is compatible with the surrounding area; specifically, the applicant asserts that from many vantage points, the tower cannot be seen from within SoHo and that when it is visible between buildings or along streets within SoHo, it appears to be located outside of the SoHo neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that on approaching the site from the west side of the Avenue, the low scale townhouses at the north of the site permit a view from SoHo Square through to the lower scale portions of SoHo (which would have been blocked by a bulkier as-of-right building), while the tower at the southern portion of the site picks up the high-rise street wall created by 100 Avenue of the Americas (204 feet) and the James Hotel (277 feet) at Grand Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the revised height of 204.75 feet to the top of the parapet matches the 204.55 feet to the top of the parapet of 100 Avenue of the Americas, which is directly to the south of the site on the east side of the Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that there are six projects expected to be built by 2016 within the area of the site, including several large-scale residential developments; and

WHEREAS, as to the accessory parking for the proposed residential use, accessory parking for a hotel is permitted as-of-right in the district at a rate of 15 percent of the hotel rooms to a maximum of 150 spaces; accordingly, the as-of-right hotel with 130 rooms, could have up to 19 parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, consequently, the applicant asserts that the proposed number of accessory parking spaces for the residences—which initially was 11 but through the hearing process was reduced to ten—exceeds that permitted by ZR § 13-12(a) by only four spaces; thus, the accessory parking would have no impact on the use of adjoining properties, the public welfare or the character of the neighborhood, particularly in light of the prior uses of the site as gasoline service station and car wash; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant asserts that the entrance to the accessory parking is through an existing curb cut at the Avenue of the Americas frontage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the entrance to the Use Group 6 space is at the corner of the site, off of the Sullivan Street frontage, where Sullivan Street and the Avenue of the Americas frontage; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the area is best characterized as mixed-use, and that the proposed residential use and commercial space is compatible with the character of the community; and

WHEREAS, as to the nature of the hardship, as noted above, the unique configuration of the site is due to the construction of the IND subway line and the widening of the Avenue of the Americas in the 1920s and was not created by the owner; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board inquired about the history of the site's environmental contamination and if there was documentation to establish that once the gasoline spill problems were identified, they were addressed appropriately and not permitted to worsen due to inaction; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant submitted a report documenting the prior owner's remediation efforts between 1992 and 2004; based upon this analysis, the applicant's consultant concludes that ExxonMobil, who operated a gasoline filling station on the site until 2006, took appropriate action, since spill discovery, to effectively stop, control and remediate the spill and, thus, they assert that the hardship claimed with respect to required remediation at the site was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, as to the minimum variance, as noted, the Board directed the applicant to analyze additional development scenarios from the original 18-story proposal, including buildings with 3.44 FAR and 4.6 FAR and a 5.0 FAR with an extended base and 16 stories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant revisited its analysis and concluded that the extended base alternative, but none of the reduced FAR scenarios, realized a reasonable rate of return due to the reduction of the number of the more valuable units; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant reduced the proposed number of parking spaces accessory to residences from 11 to ten; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed the revised feasibility analysis and agrees that the 5.0 FAR scenario with the extended base represents the degree of relief necessary to overcome the site's inherent hardship while resulting in a building that is compatible with the surrounding context; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that this proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 13BSA145M, dated December 6, 2013 and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities and Services; Open Space; Shadows; Historic Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Neighborhood Character; Natural Resources; Waterfront Revitalization Program; Infrastructure; Hazardous Materials; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Traffic and Parking; Transit and Pedestrians; Air Quality; Noise; and Public Health; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission's ("LPC") requested that a Construction Protection Plan be prepared to address any potential proposed site construction effects and/or or impacts on the LPC, State and National Register-listed houses located at 83 Sullivan Street and 85 Sullivan Street; and

WHEREAS, NYCDEP's Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis reviewed the project for potential hazardous materials impacts; and

WHEREAS, NYCDEP reviewed and accepted the May 2013 Remedial Action Plan and Construction Health and Safety Plan for the subject site's lots 27 and 35; and

WHEREAS, NYCDEP also indicated that the proposed sub-slab depressurization system ("SSDS") discussed in the RAP should have the capability of being converted to an active SSDS, if warranted based on future conditions and should be incorporated into the design plan of the proposed construction project; and

WHEREAS, NYCDEP requested that a Remedial Closure Report be submitted to NYCDEP for review and approval upon completion of the proposed project; and

WHEREAS, the remediation on the subject site's Lot 27 should comply with the requirements of the RSRAP; the remediation required under Consent Order No. D2-0030-02-07SWO and Spill No. 9207631 should continue in accordance with the NYSDEC requirements; and

WHEREAS, a copy of the NYSDEC-approved Remedial Closure Report should also be submitted with Remedial Closure Report submitted to NYCDEP for review and approval; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, on a site within an M1-5B zoning district, a 16-story residential building, with 33 dwelling units, commercial use on the first floor and cellar, and 10 accessory parking spaces, which is contrary to ZR §§ 42-10, 42-14 (D)(2)(b), and 13-12(a), on condition that any and all work will substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above noted, filed with this application marked "Received December 10, 2013" –(24) sheets; and on further condition:

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a reopening, and an amendment to a previously-granted special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-641 and 73-49, which authorized, on the campus of the Cabrini Hospital, the construction of a new building contrary to the bulk regulations, and roof parking on an existing building; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 26, 2013, after due notice by publication in the City Record, and then to decision on December 17, 2013; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Hinkson, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a through lot located mid-block on the north side of East 19th Street and the south side of East 20th Street between Second Avenue and Third Avenue, within an R8B zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has 334 feet of frontage along East 19th Street, 309 feet of frontage along East 20th Street, and 59,813 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the site is the campus of the former Cabrini Hospital; it is occupied by five buildings, which are designated on the most recent certificate of occupancy (Certificate of Occupancy No. 75029, dated October 9, 1974), as buildings A, B, C and C1, D, and E, and 48 accessory parking spaces at grade and in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Building A is a 16-story building with 220,123 sq. ft. of floor area; Building A was developed pursuant to a June 24, 1969 grant from the Board under the subject calendar number and pursuant to ZR § 73-641, which waived compliance with the regulations regarding front setback, rear yard equivalent, sky-exposure plane, permitted obstructions within a front setback; the grant also included a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-49, which allowed roof parking on an existing building at the site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the site first came under the Board's jurisdiction on July 3, 1956, when the Board, under BSA Cal. No. 378-56-A, authorized a waiver of the fire-tower stair requirements for the extension of an existing stair to an eighth-floor addition to Building C; subsequently, on July 18, 1967, under BSA Cal. No. 555-67-BZ, the Board granted a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-641 waiving compliance with the regulations regarding FAR, lot coverage, front setback, sky-exposure plane, rear yard equivalent, and parking; on that same date, under BSA Cal. No. 556-67-A, the Board denied an appeal seeking waiver of the requirement for a fire-tower stair; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Buildings B (six stories), C (eight stories) and C1 (one story), D (nine stories), and E (three stories) were constructed as-of-right prior to 1961 and contain a total of 143,972 sq. ft. of floor area; as noted above, Building A has 220,123 sq. ft. of floor area; thus, the site contains a total floor area of 364,095 sq. ft. (6.15 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that at the time of the special permit and until 1995, the site was located in an R7-2 zoning district, which allowed a maximum community facility FAR of 6.50, therefore, until the 1995 rezoning, a maximum of 384,689 sq. ft. of community facility floor area was permitted at the site; however, in 1995, the site was rezoned R8B, reducing the maximum permitted community facility floor area permitted at the site to 236,732 sq. ft. (4.0 FAR); accordingly, the site is non-complying with respect to floor area; likewise, the site does not comply with the R8B height and setback requirements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building authorized under the 1967 special permit was not constructed and that the 1967 grant was superseded by the 1969 grant described above; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Cabrini Hospital ceased operating in March 2008 after being designated for closure in 2006 by the New York State Commission on Health Care Facilities a/k/a the Berger Commission; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that it extensively marketed the site to find a new hospital tenant without success; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant now requests an amendment to permit the conversion of the hospital to residential use (Use Group 2); and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant proposes to demolish Buildings B and C1, convert Buildings A, C, D, and E to residential use, create 287 dwelling units, and retain all 48 accessory off-street parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that: (1) all pre-1961 non-residential floor area on the lot may be converted to residential floor area pursuant to Article I, Chapter 5 of the Zoning Resolution without regard to the floor area restrictions of the underlying district; and (2) the post-1961 floor area, including the non-occupiable space (such as mechanical space) within the pre-1961 buildings may be converted to occupiable space and count as zoning floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that the proposed conversion of mechanical space within Building A to residential use will increase its floor area from 220,123 sq. ft. to 253,103 sq. ft.; correspondingly, the floor area within the pre-1961 buildings will decrease from 143,972 sq. ft. to 127,601 sq. ft., for a total floor area on the lot of 380,704 sq. ft. (6.43 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Buildings B, C, and E will be reconfigured to comply with the R8B envelope and that the degree of non-compliance with respect to rear yard equivalent will be decreased as a result of the proposal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposal does not introduce any new non-compliances and does not trigger the need for any further relief from the Board but is required due to the prior action regarding Building A; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that all changes to the existing buildings, including Building A, is as-of-right under the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, as to the effect on the neighborhood character, the applicant represents that the proposal will result in a reduction in neighborhood impacts, as compared to the prior hospital use; specifically, the applicant represents that the proposal results in no urban design or shadow impacts, no significant impact on schools, libraries, day care facilities, open space or other public services and neighborhood resources, and a net reduction in the number of vehicle and pedestrian trips; and

WHEREAS, in support of these representations, the applicant submitted its environmental study, which analyzed (with particular emphasis on traffic and air quality) the neighborhood effect of the proposal in comparison to the as-of-right R8B development and the prior hospital use; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board requested clarification regarding the proposed increase in floor area and the proposed landscaping of the site; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant represented that the Department of Buildings ("DOB") reviewed and approved the proposed increase in floor area; in addition, the applicant submitted amended plans clarifying the proposed landscaping of the site; and

WHEREAS, the Board takes no position on the floor area calculations, which are subject to DOB review and approval; and

WHEREAS, based upon the above, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports a grant of the requested amendment with the conditions listed below.

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated June 24, 1969, to grant the noted modifications to the previous approval; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections above-noted, filed with this application and marked 'Received December 11, 2013'- (31) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT DOB will review and approve compliance with the Zoning Resolution, including floor area calculations;

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 17, 2013.

WHEREAS, on April 11, 2012, the Appellant filed an application with the Board seeking recognition of a right to continue its use of the wall at the subject premises for an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2013, under the subject calendar number, the Board upheld DOB's Final Determination and found that advertising sign had been discontinued for a period of greater than two years, contrary to ZR § 52-61; specifically, that for the period of 1979 to 1989 when the Sign was occupied by an installation by artist Terry Fugate-Wilcox entitled "the Holland Tunnel Wall," the advertising sign use was discontinued; and

WHEREAS, on February 14, 2013, the property owner appealed the Board's determination in New York State Supreme Court pursuant to Article 78 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules; and

WHEREAS, by decision and order in Van Wagner v. Board of Standards and Appeals, dated June 18, 2013, Supreme Court, New York County, Justice Rakower "remanded [the matter] back to the agency for a fuller record" and "granted the petition to the extent stated in the record"; and

WHEREAS, the record from the oral argument includes the following:

> [the Board has] to figure out why this art installation, which was later dismantled and sold, which bore the name of the artist and served to perpetuate those sales that came later, was less than an advertising sign, and establish how it was that that is a departure from the non-conforming use that was in place.

> So, I'm going to send it back and I'm not

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area had site and neighborhood examinations by Chair Srinivasan, Vice-Chair Collins, Commissioner Montanez, and Commissioner Ottley-Brown; and

WHEREAS, the Board re-adopts the analysis and determination it made in its January 15, 2013 decision on the matter; and

WHEREAS, this resolution reflects the parties' supplemental arguments and the Board's associated analysis; it includes a summary of the parties' original arguments, which are presented in full in the January 15, 2013 resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant and DOB appeared and, pursuant to the remand, made a total of six additional submissions on the question of whether the Sign constituted an advertising sign from the years of 1979 to 1989 when the wall was occupied by the "Holland Tunnel Wall"; the Board held one executive review session and one public hearing; and

Background

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that DOB's Final Determination should be reversed because (1) an advertising sign was established on the building prior to June 1, 1968, as required under ZR § 42-55, and may therefore be maintained as a legal non-conforming advertising sign pursuant to ZR § 52-11, and (2) an advertising sign has occupied the Sign Structure with no discontinuance of two years or more since its establishment; and

WHEREAS, as to the establishment of an advertising sign prior to June 1, 1968, DOB has stated that it does not contest the Appellant's claim that an advertising sign existed on May 31, 1968; however, DOB asserts that the use was discontinued and must terminate per ZR § 52-61 because the wall was used to display an art installation for a period of approximately ten years; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant contends that the art installation at the site from approximately 1979 to 1989 constituted an "advertising sign" within the meaning of ZR § 12-10, and therefore the use of the Sign Structure from an advertising sign was continuous during that period; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the sole question in dispute is whether the Sign Structure was occupied by an advertising sign, as defined by the Zoning Resolution, from 1979 to 1989 when the "Holland Tunnel Wall" art installation (the "Holland Tunnel Wall" or the "Art Installation") occupied it; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant notes that ZR § 12-10 defines the term "sign" as follows:

ZR § 12-10 Definitions

Sign

A "sign" is any writing (including letter, word, or numeral), pictorial representation (including illustration or decoration), emblem (including device, symbol, or trademark), flag, (including banner or pennant), or any other figure of similar character, that:

(a) Is a structure or any part thereof, or is attached to, painted on, or in any other manner represented on a #building or other structure#;
(b) Is used to announce, direct attention to, or advertise; and
(c) Is visible from outside a #building#. A #sign# shall include writing, representation or other figures of similar character, within a #building#, only when illuminated and located in a window…

Sign, advertising

An "advertising sign" is a #sign# that directs attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered elsewhere than upon the same #zoning lot# and is not #accessory# to a #use# located on the #zoning lot#; and

The Appellant's Original Arguments

WHEREAS, in sum, the Appellant contended that the Final Determination should be reversed because (1) an advertising sign was established prior to June 1, 1968, as required under ZR § 42-55, and may therefore be maintained as a legal non-conforming use pursuant to ZR § 52-11, and (2) the Sign Structure has been occupied by an advertising sign with no discontinuance of two years or more since its establishment; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant argued that the art installation met the ZR § 12-10 definition of a "sign," in that (1) it was a pictorial representation (including illustration or decoration), (2) it was attached to the building; (3) it was used to direct attention to and advertise the artist Terry Fugate-Wilcox and his works; and (4) it was visible from outside the building; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant also contended that the context and circumstances applicable to the Sign make it clear that the Art Installation was simultaneously used for artistic and advertising purposes; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Appellant asserted that the Sign Structure has a long history of use as an advertising sign from as early as the 1920's, the Art Installation was affixed in the exact same position and location as advertising signs that had been posted on the Building for six decades prior, and that it met all of the elements of the definition of a "sign," and based on this context the Art Installation may properly be construed as an advertising sign for the purposes of establishing a history of continuous use under the Zoning Resolution; and

The Appellant's Position on Remand

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Board should reconsider its prior denial and order DOB to accept its sign registration for the following primary reasons: (1) the plain language of the ZR § 12-10 definitions controls; (2) sale of the pieces is indicative of an advertising signage and the inclusion of the artist's signature and; (3) any ambiguity in the text must be read in favor of the property owner; and (4) there are unique conditions surrounding the Sign Structure and location that will not allow it to set a precedent; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the art installation was a "sign" and an "advertising sign" under the plain language of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that to affirm DOB's position that the Art Installation did not constitute an "advertising sign" during the time it was displayed, the Board would be taking a narrow reading of the statute that departs from its plain language; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the installation was clearly a "sign," because it satisfies all elements of the definition that it was a pictorial representation (including illustration or decoration), that was (a) was attached to the building, (b) used to direct attention to and advertise the artist Fugate-Wilcox and his works, and (c) visible from the outside of the building; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that as with any other types of business, an artist must develop his or her brand, and that the Art Installation served that purpose by directing attention to the artist and his work by attracting attention to the installation itself; thus, element (b) of the "sign" definition is satisfied; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Art Installation also satisfies the definition of an "advertising sign" in that it "direct[ed] attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment" by directing attention to the artist and his work, which can be construed as a "business" (the business of creating artwork), a "profession" (being an artist), a "service" (providing commissioned works) or "entertainment" (the viewing and enjoyment of artwork); and

WHEREAS, the Appellant submitted an affidavit from the vice-president of the property owner of the site from 1973 to 2010 which states that Mr. Fugate-Wilcox leased the space on the Sign Structure and thus paid for the right to advertise his work and display his signature by posting the Art Installation on the Sign Structure; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Art Installation was posted as an opportunity to promote the brand and the work of the artist Terry Fugate-Wilcox and that the aesthetic and creative aspects of the Art Installation do not preclude its function as an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that such an interpretation is not found within the Zoning Resolution, which does not include anything in the statutory definition of "advertising sign" to suggest that it must exclude signs that also have independent aesthetic value; and

WHEREAS, further, the Appellant asserts that the Art Installation, while displayed on the Sign Structure, functioned as advertising for the artist Terry Fugate-Wilcox because (1) after the Fugate-Wilcox installation was removed from the Sign Structure, it was broken apart and sold as individual pieces of artwork; and (2) the signature of the artist appeared on the corner of the installation; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant assert that in effect, the signature, and what the literature regarding Mr. Fugate-Wilcox's works describes as his "artistic voice" in a genre known in the art community as "Actual Art," which included an entire series of "weathering" art installations which directed attention to the artist and his unique works, thus satisfying the definition of "advertising sign"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that, though not required by the statute, the fact that the installation functioned as advertising was then confirmed by the fact that patrons purchased pieces of the weathering wood as "works of art" after the installation was dismantled; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Art Installation served to draw attention to Mr. Fugate-Wilcox and became a source of commercial revenue for him, as pieces of the art were sold to the public due to the attention the art installation had garnered; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant assert that there is no requirement in the statute that an advertising sign have a "discernible message" as DOB contends; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant rejects DOB's inclusion of the requirement that there be a discernible message, but, asserts, that even if there were such a requirement, the installation would satisfy it because the art community at the time recognized the work as an expression of Mr. Fugate-Wilcox's "artistic voice"; and

WHEREAS, as to the artist's signature, the Appellant asserts that it is not relevant that the signature was not "prominently featured" as there is no requirement in the Zoning Resolution that a signature be the "focal point"; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that it also does not matter that the signature of the artist may have worn away over time because whether the signature lasted for one year or ten, its initial presence created an association between the artist and the weathering wood that would have persisted even after the signature eroded; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant reiterated its position that a sign bearing the Target brand logo of a target is analogous because it is similarly abstract and similarly fails to convey a discernible message; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the Art Installation constituted advertising because it was a sign that directed attention to the artist, Terry Fugate-Wilcox, and his works and it is immaterial that only those most familiar with the art world and its community, understood and reacted to the advertisement by knowing that the artwork of Mr. Fugate-Wilcox was commercially available for purchase elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the statutory language is ambiguous and thus should be construed in favor of the property owner; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that if the Board or DOB believes the statutory language is too broad, and that applying its plain meaning as urged by Appellant would yield unusual or undesirable results, the appropriate remedy would be to amend the statute through the proper legislative channels; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant asserts that the Subject Sign represents a unique circumstance of a long-grandfathered signage location that does not set a precedent for all artistic displays to be advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that the sign was a legal "non-conforming" advertising use prior to the Art Installation and it should be seen as a continuation of a non-conforming advertising use of the Sign Structure in that the installation was in the same format and location as advertising signs that had been at this location since the 1920s; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant asserts that additional unique features include that the artist leased the space from the property owner; the artist was identified on the installation; and the pieces were subsequently sold; and

WHEREAS, finally, the Appellant asserts that the Court has already found that there were insufficient findings in the record to support the Board's prior decision and that DOB has presented no new evidence or arguments that would support new findings by the Board; and

DOB's Original Arguments

WHEREAS, in sum, during the original case, DOB stated that it did not contest the Appellant's claim that an advertising sign existed prior to June 1, 1968; however, DOB asserted that during the time the building wall was used to display the Art Installation, the non-conforming advertising sign use was discontinued, and therefore the use must terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, DOB stated that pursuant to ZR § 12-10, a non-conforming "sign" must continue to be used to "announce, direct attention to or advertise," and a non-conforming "advertising sign" must continue to be used as a sign that "directs attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered elsewhere than upon the same zoning lot"; and

WHEREAS, DOB concluded that painted plywood, whether visible in solid colors or eroded into patterns, does not announce, direct attention to or advertise a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered elsewhere than upon the same zoning lot, and therefore, does not constitute a "sign" or "advertising sign" pursuant to the ZR § 12-10 definitions of those terms; and

DOB's Position on Remand

WHEREAS, DOB maintains its position that the "Holland Tunnel Wall" displayed at the site from 1979 to 1989 did not meet the ZR § 12-10 definition of "sign" or "advertising sign" because: (1) the "Holland Tunnel Wall" did not "announce, direct attention to, or advertise" as per the sign definition's requirement (b); and (2) the "Holland Tunnel Wall" did not direct attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered off the zoning lot as per the advertising sign definition's requirement; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to requirement (b) of the definition of "sign" which provides that a sign "announce, direct attention to, or advertise" a particular message because the threshold requirement that there be an exhibition of any writing, picture, emblem, flag or other figure does not alone satisfy the other three elements of the ZR § 12-10 definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the enumerated forms of expression must communicate a commonly understood message that is readily discernible by the viewer because otherwise the statute would include all forms of expression that met the sign definition's requirements (a) and (c) and paragraph (b) would be without meaning; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the "Holland Tunnel Wall" did not announce, direct attention to, or advertise because there was no particular message being conveyed; and

WHEREAS, in support of the assertion that the Art Installation failed to meet the definition of sign, DOB cites to historic records regarding the wall including copies of a Department of Finance photograph dated 1982-1987 and other photographs of the art installation posted on the Wikipedia website, which described the different layers of paint the artist used and the process of their degradation; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the article states that "[t]he artist's intention was to use paints that were incompatible with each other so that as the work weathered, all the different colors would merge, in natural patterns;" and

WHEREAS, DOB also cites to a New York Times article dated August 7, 1981 titled "An Outdoor-Sculpture Safari Around New York" which described Fugate-Wilcox's work at 111 Varick Street as "sheets of plywood painted yellow" covering the façade and noted that the artist felt that "[t]ime and the weather…will give [the display] esthetic appeal;" and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB asserts that the Art Installation was used to show changing paint patterns caused by exposure to the outdoors and not to "announce, direct attention to, or advertise" or (2) convey any message and, thus, was comparable to a display of colorful lights on a building, which also does not deemed to be a "sign" per zoning; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that in order to announce, direct attention to or advertise, as required by the definition's (b), a sign must communicate a commonly understood message that is readily discernible by the viewer; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the "Holland Tunnel Wall" did not "announce, direct attention to, or advertise" the artist, his artwork, or anything else; and

WHEREAS, first, DOB notes that there is no evidence that Mr. Fugate-Wilcox's name was prominently identified such that the display was used for the purpose of promoting the artist and the work does not express any particular message about the artist or the artwork; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the artist's signature was initially visible in the lower right hand corner of the Art Installation, but by the third year on display, the signature had worn away and was no longer legible; and

WHEREAS, DOB submitted an image from the Wikipedia article showing the "Holland Tunnel Wall" in years one, two and three to support the point that for approximately seven of the ten years of the work's installation, no signature was visible so if any message had ever been conveyed, it was certainly not during that period; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB asserts that for the life of the work, it did not contain identification of a museum exhibit, studio or gallery at which to view or buy the artist's artwork, and so there was no basis to conclude that the Art Installation was used to direct attention to the artist, his profession, or his artistic product as none of that information included on advertising signs was present; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to the Wikipedia article, which states that "[w]hen the sub-structure of the plywood billboard eventually gave way to the effects of weathering [and] had to be dismantled, the artist was able to reclaim many of the weathered plywood panels which, in turn became individual works of art;" and

WHEREAS, however, DOB notes that there was no information displayed on the art installation that offered it for sale and it cannot be concluded that the art installation was used to promote its purchase simply because the artist was able to sell the art installation segments after it was taken down; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that even if the Art Installation were a sign, it was not an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that it would be overly restrictive to interpret the work as an advertising sign because it would render every display an "advertising sign" directing attention to itself as a commodity for sale; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that, contrary to the Appellant's assertion, the Wikipedia article on the artist states that the wall space was not leased, but donated by the owner of the building; and

WHEREAS, further, the article states that the installation was painted by riggers of the Apollo Painting Company who donated their services and was sponsored by the Lower Manhattan Cultural Council (LMCC), which identifies itself as a non-profit art organization that produces cultural events and promotes the arts through grants, services, advocacy, and cultural development programs; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that regardless of whether the artist paid the building's owner for the right to display his artwork or whether the project was funded by either a non-profit or commercial organization, the installation was not a sign, or advertising sign, regulated by the ZR because the face of the installation did not communicate a commonly understood message readily discernible by the viewer about the artist's business or artwork; and

WHEREAS, DOB concludes that the Holland Tunnel Wall does not meet the definition of a "sign;" and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that an "advertising sign" per ZR § 12-10 is a "sign" that directs attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered on another zoning lot and that, accordingly, to be an advertising sign under the ZR, the Appellant must show that this installation communicated a commonly understood message readily discernible by the viewer about the artist's business or artwork sold elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the Appellant's position that the installation was not an advertising sign that directed attention to the artist's business conducted on another zoning lot and artwork as a commodity sold on another zoning lot because the artist's signature on the installation drew attention to the artist and the sale of the "Holland Tunnel Wall" generated revenue; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that the artist's signature and sale of the installation do not satisfy the terms of the ZR "sign" or "advertising sign" definitions; and

WHEREAS, first, DOB notes that the artist's name was not prominently featured in the display and that the overall effect of the small signature that wore away after three years in the context of the large display of changing paint colors did not direct attention to the artist; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that an artist's signature is customarily used to show that a work is finished and authentic and is typically shown, as it was on the "Holland Tunnel Wall," in a neutral color in the lower right hand corner of the work in order to not distract the viewer's eye; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that given a signature's conventional use on artwork, it would be unreasonable to consider the artist's signature the focal point of the installation particularly given that the artist's signature was no longer legible or even visible after the third year, therefore the signature was not an important element of the display during its ten year long use; and

WHEREAS, DOB finds that the temporary and incidental presence of the artist's signature did not communicate a commonly understood message about the artist or his works and did not render the installation an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB asserts that how a display is used once it is removed from the premises is not a criterion for determining whether it was a sign or an advertising sign regulated by the ZR; and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that the handling of the "Holland Tunnel Wall" after it was removed from the premises (to the extent it was dismantled and sold in pieces) does not support a finding that while it was displayed it promoted itself as a commodity that could be purchased; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that had the installation identified a museum exhibit, studio or gallery at which to view or buy the artist's artwork, it would have been an advertising sign that directed attention to the artist's business and products offered on another zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that here, there is no evidence of contemporaneous publicity to demonstrate that the installation was installed to encourage its sale or other artwork of the artist generally; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the installation with abstract paint patterns on it does not direct attention to anything but itself as it exists on-site at the premises and does not meet the definition's standard for an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, DOB disagrees with the Appellant's assertion that since the City does not have a policy with respect to whether art could constitute advertising, an art installation that does not meet the ZR sign definition should nevertheless be regulated as an advertising sign if it is located in the same wall space formerly used to display advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, DOB asserts that this argument misses the point because the only relevant question is whether the display meets the ZR's definition of a sign, not what the historic use of the Sign Structure has been; and

WHEREAS, moreover, DOB asserts that the Appellant's proposal to treat artwork as an advertising sign based only on the former use of the billboard space is incompatible with ZR § 52-61, which recognizes that once a non-conforming use ceases for a continuous period of two years, the right to the non-conforming use is lost; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the ZR does not make exception to allow the reactivation of a non-conforming advertising sign use following a ten year-long display of an art installation that did not meet the sign definition; and

The Board's Original Conclusion

WHEREAS, as noted, the Board re-adopts its prior resolution dated January 15, 2013 and re-affirms its position to uphold DOB's determination that the advertising sign use at the site was discontinued for a ten-year period between 1979 and 1989 when the "Holland Tunnel Wall" occupied the building and, thus, the advertising sign use must terminate pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board found that the art installation, which consisted of sheets of plywood painted in layers of solid colors, did not meet the ZR § 12-10 definition of a "sign" or an "advertising sign" because it did not "announce, direct attention to, or advertise" a business, profession, commodity, service, or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered elsewhere than upon the same zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Board agreed with DOB that the Art Installation is a creative expression that attracts attention to itself rather than directing attention to a use or product off the site, and therefore it lacks requirement (b) of the ZR § 12-10 definition of "sign"; and

WHEREAS, the Board found the fact that the Art Installation is similar to many other murals displayed throughout the City, which DOB noted are not subject to the sign regulations of the Zoning Resolution, to be further evidence that an artist's signature is not sufficient to transform a piece of art into an advertising sign, since it is standard practice for artists to sign their work; and

The Board's Conclusion on Remand

WHEREAS, in consideration of all the supplemental points made in the record on remand, the Board is not persuaded by the Appellant's position that the "Holland Tunnel Wall" satisfies the definition of "sign" but that even if it were a "sign," by definition, it is not an "advertising sign," which is the regulated use subject to the discontinuation provisions of ZR § 52-61; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board does not find that the Art Installation created from paint and plywood satisfies requirement (b) of the ZR § 12-10 definition of "sign" for announcing, directing attention to, or advertising; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the inclusion of the requirement that a sign "announce, direct attention, or advertise" acknowledges that there are examples of writing, pictorial representation, emblems, flags or other characters which announce, direct attention to, or advertise and there are those that do not do any of those things yet may satisfy the other elements of the definition; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that if every form of representation within the definition's list that is attached to a building (requirement (a)) and visible from outside the building (requirement (c)) "announce[d], directe[d] attention to, or advertise[d]" then there would not be any reason to include requirement (b); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the complete criteria for signs is enumerated so as to make clear that writing or pictorial representation along with being located on a wall alone do not meet the criteria for a sign and would fit into some other category not regulated by DOB; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that there may be a pictorial representation that announces or advertises (requirement (b)) and is attached to a wall (requirement (a)) but is not visible from the outside of a building (requirement (c)) and therefore not a sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that such a representation may have many qualities of a "sign" and even be referred to as a sign outside of the zoning context, but would not be a "sign" as per the Zoning Resolution and would not be regulated by DOB or the sign provisions; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Appellant's interpretation of requirement (b) is overly broad, would lead to the conclusion that requirement (b) is unnecessary to state, and does not have any basis in either the statute or common sense; and

WHEREAS, the Board asserts that there are many forms of representation that would satisfy elements (a) and (c) but do not include (b) in any reasonable sense; and

WHEREAS, the Board cites to graffiti, which often includes a signature, would satisfy (a) and (c) but not (b) in any reasonable sense but, by the Appellant's reading, it would be a sign as it may direct attention to the graffiti artist's work there and elsewhere or to the graffiti artist; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Board posits that, under the Appellant's interpretation, an architectural feature or piece of art attached to a building wall (such as a cornice or a metal sculptural relief on an exterior wall at Pace University) would be deemed a sign because it directs attention to itself and to the artist, like the "Holland Tunnel Wall" or ubiquitous graffiti; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that if an architect imprinted her name on a building's exterior wall that had some form of decoration on it, by the Appellant's reasoning, that wall would be a sign because it announces, directs attention to, or advertises the architect; and

WHEREAS, in fact, the Board notes that it is difficult to imagine any visual representation that does not announce something, and would therefore not be a sign, if announcing its own presence or the identity of its creator alone would satisfy the (b) requirement; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not find that the statute's text is overly broad and leads to absurd results; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that there are many examples of a representation fitting several of the definitional requirements, but not all, and thus may not be a "sign" in the zoning context and subject to the limitations and benefits of such use; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the plain reading of the text does not result in a conclusion that the "Holland Tunnel Wall" is a sign, because it does not announce, direct attention to, or advertise and the Board does not find the language to be ambiguous if the concepts in requirement (b) are given their plain meaning; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not see any requirement in the text that there be a discernible message, as DOB asserts, but finds that for the definition to have any meaning, there must be (1) a reasonable nexus between the sign and the business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered offsite, or else every "sign" would be an "advertising sign"; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, the Board questions whether the "Holland Tunnel Wall" satisfies the threshold requirement of being a "writing (including letter, word, or numeral), pictorial representation (including illustration or decoration), emblem (including device, symbol, or trademark), flag, (including banner or pennant), or any other figure of similar character" as the subject installation without any pictorial representation arguably does not satisfy even the threshold element of the "sign" definition; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Appellant's repeated example of the Target brand logo is completely distinguishable as the Target logo is a pictorial representation (an illustration) of a target sign and it is an emblem (a symbol and a trademark); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, contrary to the Appellant's assertions, there is nothing abstract about the Target brand logo and no question that it satisfies requirement (b) that it announces, directs attention to, and advertises the brand; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that even if the Holland Tunnel Wall were a "sign," by definition, it is not an "advertising sign" by definition because it does not "direct[ ] attention to a business, profession, commodity, service or entertainment conducted, sold, or offered elsewhere"; and

WHEREAS, again, the Board finds that every sign has a connection to something offsite and in most every case the person who actually installed the sign is offsite, so, by the Appellant's reasoning, graffiti and decorative reliefs or architectural features, would be "advertising signs"; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requirement is actually that "sign" direct attention to one of the enumerated endeavors off the zoning lot; so that, if the Holland Tunnel Wall were a "sign," it could only be so in the sense that it directs attention to itself as there is no perceptible nexus between it and an endeavor off of the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, similarly, the Board does not find that the inclusion of a signature has any bearing on whether or not the Holland Tunnel Wall was an advertising sign, but notes that for approximately seven years no signature was visible, so finding the nexus between the installation and the "business," "profession," or "service" offsite is even more strained; on the contrary, the installation draws attention to something on the site, itself; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that there is not any compelling evidence to refute the unbiased reporting that the Lower Manhattan Culture Council (LMCC) sponsored the project and secured the space, including the affidavit from someone affiliated with the building during the relevant period, which does not provide any evidence to establish that Mr. Fugate-Wilcox himself leased the space or that the LMCC did not lease the space on behalf of Mr. Fugate-Wilcox; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the distinctions between art and advertising are made to the benefit of art and that the exclusion of art installations from the definitions of "sign" and "accessory sign" protects the rights of artists and their expression thus, DOB routinely exempts murals and other art displays, which satisfy requirements (a) and (c) from sign regulations, but not (b); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Appellant's argument that the Holland Tunnel Wall is an advertisement undermines the protections in place (including through the First Amendment and the Zoning Resolution) for art and the greater freedom it enjoys than advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that murals and other art installations on building walls are not regulated by the Zoning Resolution, or, indeed, any other local law, rule, or regulation except to the extent that the process of installing or maintaining such works requires agency approval; for example, scaffolds 40 feet or more in height require a work permit from the Department of Buildings pursuant to Building Code Section 3314.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that an installation by an artist that was conceived of as art, according to reporting on the matter and which was completed using donated labor, materials, and through the support of a non-profit cultural organization that supports public art, fails to have any nexus to a commercial endeavor off of the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the Appellant looks to the unique history of the subject wall at 111 Varick Street, including that it has been occupied by a sign and sign structure for 80 or 90 years and that it is highly visible such that there is an expectation for an advertising sign to be there; and that the Holland Tunnel Wall occupied a former billboard space; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds such suppositions to be conclusory given that a high degree of visibility is not a requirement in zoning and that the shape and degree of visibility of an installation is not relevant to the analysis of whether it is advertising; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that a flat rectangular form, such as that occupied by billboards, is a traditional and very natural backdrop for a painting and that any artist would prefer a location with optimal visibility; further, the fact that the Sign replaced a historic billboard is irrelevant to the question of whether it satisfies the definition of an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, the Board concludes that through this decision, it does not have a basis to establish the distinction between all art and all advertising, but, based on the record before it, the Board determines that the the subject installation of plywood and layers of weathering paint was not an advertising sign and, thus, for the period between 1979 and 1989, the advertising sign use on the subject wall at 111 Varick Street discontinued to an extent that such use is no longer permitted pursuant to ZR § 52-61; and Therefore it is resolved, that the subject appeal, seeking a reversal of the Final Determination of the Department of Buildings, dated March 12, 2012, on remand is hereby denied.
