PROCEEDINGS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1908,

TRIBUNE BUILDING, 154 NASSAU STREET,

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, CITY OF NEW YORK.

Present—Chairman William R. Willcox, Commissioners Milo R. Maltbie, John E. Eustis.

(1) The Secretary presented the following resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen on January 28, 1908, and transmitted to this Commission:

Whereas, The danger to life and limb at the crossing of the Long Island Railroad at the junction of Fresh Pond road and Sherman street, Glendale, in the Borough of Queens, is growing in alarming proportions, and should be checked ere there be a frightful catastrophe; therefore

Resolved, That the Board of Aldermen urges upon the Public Service Commission for the First District to compel the Long Island Railroad Company to establish and maintain safety gates or other equally reliable devices or appliances at the said crossing so that the present attendant dangers may be minimized, if not wholly eliminated. The resolution was referred to Commissioner Bassett.

(2) The Secretary presented the following resolution, adopted by the Board of Aldermen on January 28, 1908, and transmitted to this Commission:

Whereas, The conditions prevailing at the stations of the subway at One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street and One Hundred and Eighty-first street, on the west side or Broadway branch, are a menace to the health of those who are compelled to use them because of the severe draughts raised by the powerful suction of the elevators used for purposes of ingress and egress, the wells or hoistway shafts of said elevators having a depth of more than a hundred feet; and

Whereas, The said conditions at the points named are particularly discomfiting and means of annoyance to women in that their clothing is disarranged, often making it extremely embarrassing for them; and

Whereas, Constant complaint for relief has brought no answer, nor has any apparent effort been made on the part of the operating company to relieve what is an indelicate situation for thousands of people; therefore

Resolved, That the Public Service Commission for the First District be and hereby is earnestly requested to give attention to the plaint herein set forth, and to exact that the Interborough Rapid Transit Company adopt, at as early a day as practicable, some measure of relief from the deplorable conditions from which thousands of people daily suffer at the subway points named.

The resolution was referred to the Chief Engineer for report as to a possible remedy.

(3) The Secretary presented a communication from William M. Laurence, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, transmitting the following resolution, adopted by that Board on January 24, 1908:

Resolved, That, pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891, as amended, and section 14 of chapter 429 of the Laws of 1907, and a requisition of the Public Service Commission for the First District, duly made by the Secretary thereof, on January 14, 1908, for an issue of Corporate Stock of The City of New York, to provide means for acquiring easements from the owner of premises

The Secretary presented a communication from the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company, upon Order No. 156 of the Commission, which had been referred to Commissioner Bassett, and which was as follows:

January 31, 1908.
Mr. TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary Public Service Commission, No. 154 Nassau Street, N. Y. City:

DEAR SIR—Order No. 156 of the Public Service Commission provides for the erection of 143 station signs on or before the 10th of February proximo.

The signs which it is proposed to install are enamelled, much more costly to manufacture and more durable than painted wooden signs.

We have proceeded with due diligence and find that it will be impossible to obtain delivery of these signs in time to comply with the date specified in the order. It will hardly be possible to complete the work before April 1, and we therefore beg that an extension of time within which to install these signs be granted until that date.

Yours truly,

J. F. CALDERWOOD,

Vice President and General Manager.

It was thereupon moved, and duly seconded, that the following order be adopted by the Commission:

ORDER FOR EXTENSION OF TIME (No. 236).

The regulations, practices and service of the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company.

An order, No. 156, having been made on or about the 16th day of December, 1907, in the above entitled proceeding, ordering and directing the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company to procure and place additional station signs at stations within the time therein specified, and the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company having applied for an extension of such time,

Ordered, That the time of the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad Company within which to procure additional station signs above mentioned and to place said signs at their stations at the points mentioned in said order No. 156, be, and the same hereby is, extended to and including the first day of April, 1908.

COMPLAINT ORDER (No. 237).

Union Railway Company, Defendant.

The order of the Commission, being Order No. 237, as to the operation of the Boscobel avenue line over a portion of the route not yet completed, was approved, confirmed and ordered filed in the office of the Commission.

The Secretary presented the following:

OPINION OF COMMISSIONER BASSETT.

In the matter of the hearing on the motion of the Commission on the question of improvements in and additions to the equipment of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company. Matter of rehearing on portion of order entered December 4, 1907, No. 134.

Among the requirements in Order No. 134 was the following:

"That said company by or before the said 15th day of April, 1908, provide and equip all of said open cars with two (2) new automatic circuit breakers of sufficient capacity and modern type."

The operating company asked for a rehearing upon this item, which was granted by Order No. 166. Hearings have been held and further testimony taken. The company does not deny the propriety of equipping all of its said cars with two modern automatic circuit-breakers, but claims that it can operate all of its open cars so that the effective automatic circuit-breaker shall be over the motorman's head, and that this, although somewhat inconvenient for the operating company, yet gives every protection to the public and prevents delays as fully as if two modern automatic circuit-breakers were placed upon each car. In other words, they claim that the present expense of purchasing two new circuit-breakers for each open car is not now necessary.

The open cars of this company caused a great deal of delay on the Brooklyn Bridge in the summer of 1907, because of fuse blow-outs. An examination of these cars showed that some had no automatic circuit-breakers whatever, and that some had only one automatic circuit-breaker, instead of two, which is the modern practice. The function of a circuit-breaker is to cut off the electric current when for any reason the volume becomes too great, thus preventing the burning out of the fuse. When the current is cut out by the circuit-breaker all that is necessary for the motorman to do is to throw a handle located above his head, whereupon the current immediately is restored and the car proceeds without delay. If, however, there is no circuit-breaker, the fuse blows out and a new one must be inserted before the car can go on. This causes a substantial delay. If the operating circuit-breaker is not above the motorman's head there are two drawbacks: One is that the conductor or motorman must go to the back platform and throw the handle, and the other is that the noise, and sometimes flame, that occurs when the current throws the breaker is apt to frighten passengers that may be standing on the rear platform. On these accounts good practice requires two automatic circuit-breakers on each car, so that the one that is operative may always be above the front platform. The operating company show that many of their open cars are operated with loop terminals, and that they can always have the circuit-breaker in the front of such cars. This is probably the fact, although there is some evidence to show that it is not well to operate cars continuously in the same direction on account of uneven wear upon motors and gears. This particular company appears to have been remiss for some time past in the upkeep of its rolling stock, and now finds it difficult to comply with all modern requirements in a few months' time. On this account I am inclined to look with favor on a modification of the existing order, so that the equipment of part of the open cars with modern automatic circuit-breakers may be postponed until the summer of 1909. I have come to the conclusion, therefore, that the order should make the following provisions:

That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1908, provide and equip all of the said open cars in service that operate into a switchback terminal with two automatic circuit-breakers of modern type and connect such circuit-breakers in multiple on each such car, and at all times maintain both the said circuit-breakers on each such car in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the cars on which they are placed, and that the circuit-breaker over the motorman's head shall at all times be the one operative.

That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1908, provide and equip all of the rest of its open cars in service with at least one circuit-breaker of modern type and at all times maintain the said circuit-breaker in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the car on which it is placed, and that the car shall at all times be operated so that the said circuit-breaker shall be above the motorman's head.

That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1909, provide and equip all of its open cars in service with two automatic circuit-breakers of modern type and connect such circuit breakers in multiple on each car, and at all times maintain both the said circuit-breakers on each car in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the car on which they are placed, and that the circuit-breaker over the motorman's head shall at all times be the one operative.

Let an order be prepared accordingly.

February 3, 1908.

(Signed) E. M. BASSETT, Commissioner.

On motion, duly seconded, the following order was thereupon adopted:

FINAL ORDER AFTER REHEARING (No. 238).

The hearing on the motion of the Commission on the question of improvements in and additions to the equipment of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company.

Matter of rehearing on portion of Order No. 134, entered December 4, 1907.

An order having been made and filed herein the 4th day of December, 1907, being Order No. 134, under and pursuant to an order for hearing made the 13th day of November, 1907, being Order No. 88, and said Order No. 134 having been duly served upon the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company, and said Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company having accepted said Order No. 134 in part, but having applied in writing to this Commission for a modification of paragraph numbered (2) of said Order No. 134, and an order having been made and filed the 20th day of December, 1907, returnable December 31, 1907, being Order No. 166, which directed a rehearing of the matters contained in said paragraph numbered (2) of said Order No. 134, and it appearing that said rehearing was duly held by and before the Commission on the matters in said Order No. 166 specified on the 31st day of December, 1907, and by adjournment duly had on the 14th day of January, 1908, and by adjournment duly had on the 15th day of January, 1908, Mr. Commissioner Bassett presiding, and proof being taken, and Grosvenor H. Backus, Esq., appearing for the Commission, and John J. Kuhn, Esq., appearing for the railroad company.

Now, it being made to appear after the proceedings upon said rehearing that it is just, reasonable and proper that said Order No. 134 should be modified in the manner hereinafter set forth,

Ordered, That paragraph numbered (2) of said Order No. 134, made the 4th day of December, 1907, be and the same hereby is modified so as to read as follows:

"(2) That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1908, provide and equip all of its open cars that are to operate into a switchback terminal with two automatic circuit breakers of modern type, and connect such circuit breakers in multiple on each such car, and at all times maintain both the said circuit breakers on each such car in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the cars on which they are placed, and that the circuit breaker over the motorman's head shall at all times be the one operated."

"That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1908, provide and equip all the rest of its open cars with at least one circuit breaker of modern type and at all times maintain the said circuit breaker in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the car on which it is placed, and that the car shall at all times be operated so that said circuit breaker shall be above the motorman's head."

"That said company by or before the 15th day of April, 1909, provide and equip all of its open cars with two automatic circuit breakers of modern type and connect such circuit breakers in multiple on each car and at all times maintain both the said circuit breakers on each car in good and perfect repair and keep the same properly adjusted for the capacity of the motors of the car on which they are placed, and that the circuit breaker over the motorman's head shall at all times be the one operated."

And it is further

Ordered, That except as to the portion hereinbefore modified, said Order No. 134 shall remain in full force and effect until modified by the further order of this Commission; and it is further

Ordered, That this order shall take effect immediately; and it is further Ordered, That within five days the said Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company notify the Public Service Commission for the First District whether the terms of this order are accepted and will be obeyed.

Ayes—Commissioners Willcox, Maltbie, Eustis.

Nays—None.

The Secretary presented the following:

OPINION OF COMMISSIONER BASSETT.

South Brooklyn Board of Trade, complainant, against Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company, defendant. Matter of rehearing on matters contained in Order No. 164 entered December 20, 1907.

Final Order No. 164 required the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company to improve their cars as follows:

(1) "That all gears and pinions on the cars of said company shall be operated with their gear cases maintained at least half full of gear grease or other lubricant."

(2) "That all wheels on the cars of said company that show flat spots or undue wear shall be immediately replaced by wheels in good and proper condition."

(3) "That said company shall within one month thoroughly clean and varnish the interior of all its cars and shall hereafter maintain them in a cleanly and sanitary condition."

The defendant on December 28, 1907, requested a rehearing on the items above set forth, claiming that a small amount of grease in each gear case was advisable; that a reasonable opportunity should be afforded the company to change flat wheels for perfect wheels, and that it is not reasonable, practicable or necessary to require the company to varnish the interior of all of its cars. The Commission granted the defendant a rehearing on the above items, appointing the undersigned to take the testimony and report his opinion thereon. Accordingly, a full opportunity was given the defendant to examine additional witnesses. Experts for the South Brooklyn Board of Trade and the Public Service Commission were also heard.

It appears from the testimony that the first application of grease in a gear case is greater in amount than is requisite in later applications. The reason for this is that a large amount of the grease is thrown up in the case and adheres to the top and sides. If after the original application the gear case were filled up to the centre point of the axle, which is the construction placed upon the order by the defendant, there would be a tendency for the grease to run out at the axle joint. The evidence shows that if enough grease is at all times kept in the gear case, so that the teeth of the gear wheel can run in it, that will be sufficient. The order should be changed in this particular, so that it will require that the lower half of the gear case shall be maintained at all times half full of gear grease or other proper lubricant.

The item in the original final order regarding replacing of flat wheels should remain as it now stands.

It appears to me that the strict compliance with present final order, which requires varnishing of the interior of all of the cars, involves an unnecessary amount of work in some cases and probably too long a withdrawal of cars from actual service. It would seem more reasonable to require the interiors of the cars to be varnished where not now varnished. Many of the cars need to have work done upon their interiors and cleaning alone is not enough. In many cases rubbing down with crude oil after washing with soda ash is not enough, because an unprotected surface of natural wood would be left, which is incapable of being kept clean. Such parts of each car should be varnished, and the whole of the interior of each car should present a cleanly appearance, with all exposed natural wood covered with a proper coat of varnish.

January 28, 1908.

(Signed) E. M. BASSETT,
Commissioner.

On motion, duly seconded, the following order was thereupon adopted:

The Secretary presented the following communication from the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, upon Order No. 218 of the Commission requesting a report on the present condition of the work at the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street stations of the Third avenue elevated line:

INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY,
Nos. 13 to 21 PARK ROW,
NEW YORK, January 30, 1908.

Mr. TRAVIS H. WHITNEY, Secretary, Public Service Commission, First District, Tribune Building, New York:

DEAR SIR—Replying to Order No. 218 of the Public Service Commission for the First District, requesting a report on the present condition of the work at the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street stations of the Third avenue elevated line, the situation is as follows:

At the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street station new exit and entrance stairways were put into service on January 12 and 13, respectively. It is expected that the entire work at this station will be completed on or about February 15.

At the One Hundred and Forty-ninth street station the stairways leading from the elevated structure have been changed and in general use for some time. The new subway stairway on Third avenue, although not fully completed, was opened November 3, 1907. The new subway stairway on One Hundred and Forty-ninth street will be completed in about two weeks, and all the improvements contemplated at this station will be completed on or about March 1, weather permitting.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) E. P. BRYAN, President.

Commissioner Eustis—"That letter does not fully answer the requests made upon the railroad. Mr. Bryan was under the impression that the changes at the One Hundred and Forty-ninth street station referred to the changes coming from the street down to the subway which are now nearly completed, but the inquiry was directed toward proposed changes in the elevated station which were presented by the railroad people to this Commission several weeks ago and approved by us; but I have been informed by Mr. Hedley, manager of the railroad company, that nothing has been done, so far as he knows, in regard to carrying out those changes except in the securing of consents. In so far as the letter refers to changes at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, that is correct, and the work is now progressing to completion."

The Secretary presented the following communication, from the Counsel to the Commission:

February 4, 1908.

Public Service Commission for the First District:

Sirs—I have the letter of the Secretary of the 1st ult., as follows:

"The Commission at its meeting on December 31, 1907, adopted a resolution for an additional rapid transit system in the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, and referred the question of the legality and feasibility of such a system to the Counsel and the Chief Engineer to the Commission, for a report and to prepare the necessary plans and papers for submission to the Commission."

The system referred to is the so-called Lexington avenue system, including a cross-town route at Canal street, a description of which was transmitted with the Secretary's letter.

Before the changes necessary in the Lexington avenue and Gerard avenue route and the additional route through Canal street can become effectual, it will be necessary to take the same proceedings as were taken on the original adoption of the Lexington avenue and other routes. This involves, first, the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment; second, the approval of the Mayor; and third, the consent of a majority in value of the owners of property abutting on the line of the modifications and new routes, or if such consent cannot be obtained, then the consent of the Appellate Division in the First Department, in lieu thereof. To this end I have prepared and now transmit to the Commission a form of communication to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and a form of resolution authorizing the Chairman to transmit such a communication, resolutions modifying the Lexington avenue route, resolutions modifying the Gerard avenue route and resolutions adopting the routes and general plans for the Canal street route. When these resolutions are adopted certified copies thereof should be transmitted with the communication to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. When the modifications and the new route have received the approval of the Board of Estimate and the Mayor, steps can then be taken to obtain the consent of the abutting property owners.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed)

GEO. S. COLEMAN,
Counsel to the Commission.

MODIFICATION OF LEXINGTON AVENUE ROUTE.

On motion, duly seconded, the following was adopted:

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York did, on the 12th day of May, 1905, adopt certain routes and general plan for a rapid transit railway in The City of New York, a copy of which is hereto annexed, entitled "Copy Routes and General Plan adopted 12th May, 1905," and which route is known as the Lexington Avenue Route; and

Whereas, The said routes and general plan were afterwards duly approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York, on the 14th day of July, 1905, by the Mayor of The City of New York on the 28th day of July, 1905, and were duly approved by Commissioners appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Judicial Department, which consent was duly confirmed by the said Appellate Division and its consent given to the said routes and general plans in lieu of the consent of the owners of a majority in value of the property along the said route, by an order entered on the 19th day of October, 1906; and

Whereas, The Public Service Commission for the First District, as the successor of the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 429 of the Laws of 1907, has duly made the inquiries and investigation necessary or proper in the premises, and has determined that the modification and amendment of the said routes and general plan hereinafter set forth is necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established as hereinafter provided; now therefore be it

Resolved, That, subject to the approvals and consents to be first obtained, as in this resolution hereinafter mentioned, the said routes and general plan heretofore adopted by the said Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York be and they hereby are modified and amended in the following respects:

(1) By inserting after the following words in the first paragraph under the head of Section 5-C:

"thence curving northeasterly under private property into Park avenue and running northeasterly along Park avenue to"

—the words:

a point at or near the intersection of East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, where the lines will diverge, one line continuing northeasterly along Park avenue to —and by adding at the end of such paragraph the words:

; and the other of said branches continuing northeasterly under Park avenue, private property, and under the tracks of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company and under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and private property into Mott avenue; thence running along and under Mott avenue to a point between East One Hundred and Fiftieth street and East One Hundred and Fifty-first street; thence curving northwesterly into East One Hundred and Fifty-first street and continuing northwesterly under East One Hundred and Fifty-first street to a point between Walton avenue and Gerard avenue, curving thence northerly into Gerard avenue to a junction with a certain rapid transit route heretofore authorized and known as the Gerard Avenue Route. And also a spur beginning at a point in the Borough of The Bronx under private property in the centre line of the branch just described, situated about three hundred (300) feet south of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, and curving thence northeasterly under private property, Mott avenue and private property into East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point near the intersection of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Park avenue; running thence easterly under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point near Third avenue, where a connection can conveniently be made with a rapid transit route heretofore duly authorized and known as the Southern Boulevard and Westchester Avenue Route.

So that said first paragraph under the heading of Section 5-C shall read as follows:

Section 5-C. A route, the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at or near the intersection of the southerly line of East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street with the centre line of Lexington avenue, at the northerly end of Section 5-O above described; running thence northerly under Lexington avenue to the Harlem River and under and across the Harlem River to the Borough of The Bronx and to a point in the northeasterly side of the said river at or near the point where the said northeasterly side is intersected by the easterly side of Park avenue; thence curving northeasterly under private property into Park avenue and running northeasterly along Park avenue to a point at or near the intersection of East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, where the lines will diverge, one line continuing northeasterly along Park avenue to East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, near which point spurs or connections will be constructed as hereinafter stated, and thence still northeasterly and northerly along Park avenue and under East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street to the northerly side of said street, near which point a spur will be constructed as hereinafter stated; and thence still northerly and northeasterly along Park avenue to its intersection with East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street; and the other of said branches continuing northeasterly under Park avenue, private property and under the tracks of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company and under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and private property into Mott avenue; thence running along and under Mott avenue to a point between East One Hundred and Fiftieth street and East One Hundred and Fifty-first street; thence curving northwesterly into East One Hundred and Fifty-first street and continuing northwesterly under East One Hundred and Fifty-first street to a point between Walton avenue and Gerard avenue; curving thence northerly into Gerard avenue to a junction with a certain rapid transit route heretofore authorized and known as the Gerard Avenue Route. And also a spur beginning at a point in the Borough of The Bronx under private property in the centre line of the branch just described, situated about three hundred (300) feet south of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, and curving thence northeasterly under private property, Mott avenue and private property into East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point near the intersection of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Park avenue; running thence easterly under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point near Third avenue, where a connection can conveniently be made with a rapid transit route heretofore duly authorized and known as the Southern Boulevard and Westchester Avenue Route.

(2) By adding after the paragraph headed Section 5-D a new paragraph as follows:

Section 5-E—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at a point in Lexington avenue north of East Thirty-sixth street, where Section 5-D above described curves westerly into East Thirty-sixth and Thirty-fifth streets; thence running southerly along Lexington avenue to the intersection of Lexington avenue and Gramercy Park; thence southerly through and under Gramercy Park to its intersection with Irving place; thence still southerly along and under Irving place and crossing under East Fourteenth street, private property and East Thirteenth street to a point in private property between East Thirteenth street and East Twelfth street, curving thence southwesterly under private property, East Twelfth street, Fourth avenue and the present Rapid Transit Railway structure in Fourth avenue to a point in private property between Fourth avenue and Broadway at about East Eleventh street, curving thence southerly under private property into Broadway at a point near East Ninth street, at which a junction can be conveniently made with Section 5-D above described.

(3) By striking out from the portion of the said routes and general plan headed General Plan of Construction the words in the second paragraph thereof, as follows, to wit:

"For the route running northerly from East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Lexington avenue and under the Harlem River, and Park avenue, and other streets, known as Section 5-C, including the various spurs above described, there shall be two tracks, except that in the loop north of East One Hundred and Fifty-second street there shall be one track."

—and by inserting in the place and stead of the words thus stricken out the following words, to wit:

For the route running northerly from East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Lexington avenue under the Harlem River and Park avenue and other streets to East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, where the lines diverge as above described there shall be four tracks. For the branch of such road running through Mott avenue to East One Hundred and Fiftieth street there shall be four tracks, and for the remainder of such branch through East One Hundred and Fifty-first street into Gerard avenue and for the spur included in said branch running easterly through East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to Third avenue there shall be three tracks. For the branch of said route running northerly from East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and through Park avenue and other streets including the various spurs above described, there shall be two tracks, except that in the loop north of East One Hundred and Fifty-second street there shall be one track.

—and by adding at the end of said paragraph the words:

For the portion of the route known as Section 5-E above described and running southerly through Lexington avenue, Gramercy Park and Irving place and private property to Broadway there shall be four tracks.

So that the whole of said paragraph shall read as follows:

For the route running under Lexington avenue from about East Forty-third street to East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, known as Section 5-O, there shall be four tracks. For the route running westerly and southwesterly from the southerly end of Route 5-O under East Forty-second street, and known as Section 5-A, there shall be four tracks. For the route running northerly from Lexington avenue and East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street under the Harlem River, Third avenue and Morris avenue, known as Section 5-B, there shall be four tracks up to the point where the said route begins to curve in order to join the subway at East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, and from that point there shall be two tracks. For the route running northerly from East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Lexington avenue under the Harlem River and Park avenue and other streets to East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, where the lines diverge as above described, there shall be four tracks. For the branch of such road running through Mott avenue to East One Hundred and Fiftieth street, there shall be four tracks, and for the remainder of such branch through East One Hundred and Fifty-first street into Gerard avenue and for the spur included in said branch running easterly through East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to Third avenue there shall be three tracks. For the branch of said route running northerly from East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and through Park avenue and other streets including the various spurs above described, there shall be two tracks, except that in the loop north of East One Hundred and Fifty-second street there shall be one track. For the route running southerly from a point near East Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, known as Section 5-D above described, there shall be four tracks as far south as the point between East Thirty-sixth and East Thirty-seventh streets, where the line diverges as above described; there shall be two tracks from the point of divergence through East Thirty-sixth street and Fifth avenue to the point where the lines reunite; and two tracks from the point of divergence through Lexington avenue and East Thirty-fifth street to the said point in Fifth avenue, where the lines reunite; and for the remainder of the distance southerly under Fifth avenue and Broadway, there shall be four tracks as far south as Chambers street. From Chambers street southerly under Broadway, Vesey street, Trinity place, and Greenwich street, there shall be two tracks. In the loop under the City Hall Park, there shall be one track. There shall be as many additional tracks as may be needed for convenient operation of terminals under Battery place and Battery Park. For the portion of the route known as Section 5-E above described and running southerly through Lexington avenue, Gramercy Park and Irving place and private property to Broadway there shall be four tracks.

(4) By adding at the end of the fifth paragraph under the head of "General Plan of Construction" the words:

, and the tracks for the spur under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to Third avenue may be partly constructed in and occupy the same tunnels as another subway to be built under the said street as a part of another route. So that the whole of said paragraph shall read as follows:

The tracks under East Thirty-fifth street and East Thirty-sixth street may be constructed in and occupy the same tunnel as another subway to be built under the said streets between Third avenue and Eighth avenue, and the tracks for the spur under East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to Third avenue may be partly constructed in and occupy the same tunnels as another subway to be built under the said street as a part of another route.

Resolved, That whereas this Commission has duly made the inquiries and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and has determined that the modification and amendment aforesaid of the said routes and general plan are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established as herein provided, this Commission does hereby determine and establish the said modification and amendment, subject to the approvals and consent to be first obtained as hereinafter mentioned; and it is further

Resolved, That the said modification and amendment of the routes and general plan shall take effect only upon and after the following approvals thereof and consents thereto shall be duly had, to wit:

I.—The approval and consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York.

II.—The approval of the Mayor of The City of New York.

III.—The consents of the owners of a majority in value of the property upon the portion of the said routes hereby modified and amended, or if such consents cannot be obtained, then in lieu thereof the determination of three Commissioners to be appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in and for the First Judicial Department, duly confirmed by the said Appellate Division; and it is further

Resolved, That the four maps entitled "Public Service Commission for the First District, Manhattan, Key Map A, and Manhattan A—Sheet No. 3, Bronx Key Map A, and Bronx A—Sheet No. 1," are hereby adopted as showing the modification as hereby adopted of the foregoing routes and general plan, for convenience merely, and that said maps are not to be deemed a part of the description of the routes, or a part of the general plan for any purpose whatever.

COPY ROUTES AND GENERAL PLAN ADOPTED 12TH MAY, 1905.

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that the rapid transit railway or railways for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination;

Now, therefore, this Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York, and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract, or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may in the judgment of this Board require.

Routes.

A route lying within the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx and made up of several sections as hereinafter described. The said sections are as follows:

Section 5-O—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at or near the intersection of the southerly line of East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street with the centre line of Lexington avenue; running thence southerly along Lexington avenue to a point about half way between East Forty-second and East Forty-third streets.

Section 5-A—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at a point in Lexington avenue about half way between East Forty-second and East Forty-third streets, at the southerly end of Section 5-O, above described; running thence southwesterly in a curve under Lexington avenue and private property to East Forty-second street; thence westerly along East Forty-second street to a point near the intersection of the centre line of East Forty-second street with the centre line of Depew place produced; thence southwesterly in a curve under East Forty-second street and private property to Park avenue, and thence southwesterly and southerly under Park avenue to a point in Park avenue between East Thirty-eighth and East Forty-first streets, at which a junction can conveniently be made with the subway constructed under resolutions of this Board, adopted January 14 and February 4, 1897.

Section 5-B—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at or near the intersection of the southerly line of East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street with the centre line of Lexington avenue at the northerly end of Section 5-O, above described; running thence northerly and northeasterly in a curve under Lexington avenue and private property to and across East One Hundred and Thirtieth street; thence again under private property and East One Hundred and Thirty-first street and under the Harlem River to the Borough of The Bronx and to a point on the northeasterly side of the said Harlem River distant not less than 200 feet northwesterly from the westerly side of Third avenue; thence running northeasterly under private property and East One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street and again under private property to Third avenue at or near the intersection of Third avenue with East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street; thence running northeasterly under Third avenue and Morris avenue to a point at or near the intersection of Morris avenue and East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street, and thence running in a curve under Morris avenue, East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street and private property to a point in East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street between Morris avenue and Cortlandt avenue, at which a junction can conveniently be made with the subway constructed under resolutions of this Board adopted January 14 and February 4, 1897.

Section 5-C—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at or near the intersection of the southerly line of East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street with the centre line of Lexington avenue at the northerly end of Section 5-O above described; running thence northerly under Lexington avenue to the Harlem River and under and across the Harlem River to the Borough of The Bronx and to a point in the northeasterly side of the said river at or near the point where the said northeasterly side is intersected by the easterly side of Park avenue; thence curving northeasterly under private property into Park avenue and running northeasterly along Park avenue to East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, near which point spurs or connections will be constructed as hereinafter stated, and thence still northeasterly and northerly along Park avenue and under East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street to the northerly side of said street, near which point a spur will be constructed as hereinafter stated, and thence still northerly and northeasterly along Park avenue to its intersection with East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street.

And also spurs, beginning as above stated, in the Borough of The Bronx, near the intersection of Park avenue with East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street. One of the said spurs shall begin in Park avenue, south of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, and thence curve northeasterly and easterly under Park avenue, private property and Canal Street West, and again under private property to East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street. The other of said spurs shall begin in Park avenue north of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, and thence curve southwesterly and easterly under Park avenue and private property to East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, where the said spur shall unite with the first spur above mentioned. The centre line of the said two spurs shall then run easterly along East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point about 300 feet westerly from the intersection of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street with the westerly side of Third avenue.

And also a spur, beginning as above stated, in the Borough of The Bronx, at a point on the main line of the route of Section 5-C, as above described, at or near its intersection with the northerly line of East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street; thence curving northerly under private property to Mott avenue; thence under and across Mott avenue and under and along East One Hundred and Fifty-third street and under and across One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street; thence under private property and under the bed of Cromwell Creek to Exterior street; thence under and along Exterior street and under the viaduct and Jerome avenue to a point near the northerly corner of Jerome avenue and Sedgwick avenue; thence running northeasterly in a curve under private property to Sedgwick avenue, and thence under and along Sedgwick avenue to the intersection of Sedgwick avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-fourth street.

And also a loop beginning in the Borough of The Bronx at a point on the main line of the route of Section 5-C, as hereinbefore described, between East One Hundred and Fifty-first street and East One Hundred and Fifty-second street; running thence northwesterly and westerly under private property and connecting within private property with the spur of route 5-C, last above described, near the point of where the centre line of said spur would intersect the northerly line of East One Hundred and Fifty-first street produced.

Section 5-D—A route the centre line of which shall begin in the Borough of Manhattan at a point in Lexington avenue about half way between East Forty-second and East Forty-third streets, at the southerly end of Section 5-O, above described; running thence southerly along Lexington avenue to a point about half way between East Thirty-sixth street and East Thirty-seventh street, at which point the tracks will diverge into two branches. The centre line of the route for one of such branches shall run thence in a curve southwesterly under Lexington avenue and private property to East Thirty-sixth street; thence westerly along East Thirty-sixth street to a point about 100 feet easterly from the intersection of the centre line of East Thirty-sixth street with the easterly line of Fifth avenue; thence in a curve southwesterly under East Thirty-sixth street and private property to Fifth avenue, and thence southerly along Fifth avenue to a point between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets, where it shall be rejoined by the second branch, diverging as above stated. The centre line of the route for the said second branch shall run from the said point of divergence in Lexington avenue southerly under Lexington avenue to a point about half way between East Thirty-fifth and East Thirty-sixth streets; thence in a curve southwesterly under Lexington avenue and private property to East Thirty-fifth street; thence westerly along East Thirty-fifth street to a point about 100 feet easterly from the intersection of the centre line of East Thirty-fifth street with the easterly side of Fifth avenue; thence in a curve southwesterly under East Thirty-fifth street and private property to Fifth avenue, and thence in a curve under Fifth avenue and rejoining the branch first above described at a point between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets. From the last-mentioned point the centre line of the route shall run southerly under Fifth avenue to a point about half way between West Twenty-fourth and West Twenty-fifth streets produced; thence along Madison square and into Broadway; thence southerly along Broadway, passing under Union square, and still southerly under Broadway to Chambers street, at which point a loop will begin, as hereinafter stated; thence southerly along Broadway to a point between Vesey street and Barclay street; thence in a curve southwesterly under Broadway and private property to Vesey street; thence westerly along Vesey street to a point about 100 feet easterly from the intersection of the centre line of Vesey street with the easterly side of Church street; thence in a curve southwesterly under Vesey street and private property to Church street; thence southerly along Church street and Trinity place and curving at the southerly end of Trinity place into Greenwich street, and thence southerly under Greenwich street and under and across Battery place and under Battery Park to a suitable terminus therein.

And also a loop the centre line of which shall begin, as above stated, in the Borough of Manhattan at or near the intersection of Broadway and Chambers street; running thence southeasterly in a curve under Broadway and the City Hall Park, recurring southerly and westerly under the City Hall Park and Broadway at a point about opposite the centre line of Murray street, and rejoining the main line at a suitable point in Broadway, between Murray street and Chambers street.

General Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing routes is as follows:

For the route running under Lexington avenue, from about East Forty-third street to East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, known as section 5-O, there shall be four tracks. For the route running westerly and southwesterly from the southerly end of route 5-O under East Forty-second street, and known as section 5-A, there shall be four tracks. For the route running northerly from Lexington avenue and East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street under the Harlem River, Third avenue and Morris avenue, known as section 5-B, there shall be four tracks up to the point where the said route begins to curve in order to join the subway at East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, and from that point there shall be two tracks. For the route running northerly from East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Lexington avenue under the Harlem River and Park avenue and other streets, known as section 5-C, including the various spurs above described, there shall be two tracks, except that in the loop north of East One Hundred and Fifty-second street there shall be one track. For the route running southerly from a point near East Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, known as section 5-D, above described, there shall be four tracks as far south as the point between East Thirty-sixth and East Thirty-seventh streets, where the line diverges as above described; there shall be two tracks from the point of divergence through East Thirty-sixth street and Fifth avenue to the point where the lines reunite; and two tracks from the point of divergence through Lexington avenue and East Thirty-fifth street to the said point in Fifth avenue, where the lines reunite; and for the remainder of the distance southerly under Fifth avenue and Broadway there shall be four tracks as far south as Chambers street. From Chambers street southerly under Broadway, Vesey street, Trinity place and Greenwich street there shall be two tracks. In the loop under the City Hall Park there shall be one track. There shall be as many additional tracks as may be needed for convenient operation of terminals under Battery place and Battery Park.

All of the above mentioned tracks shall be placed in subway or tunnel substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same level; except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or other special or local necessities, and except for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings at Lexington avenue and Thirty-fifth street, Lexington avenue and Thirty-sixth street, Lexington avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, Third avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, near Cortlandt avenue; Park avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, or at the City Hall Park loop, or elsewhere, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the level of the other track or tracks to a depth of not more than 20 feet.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient; except that in Morris avenue they shall be placed on the westerly side of said avenue; and except that in turning from Fifth avenue to Broadway, as described in section 5-D above, the tracks may be placed as far easterly as necessary, or under the surface of Madison Square; and wherever else required by special or local necessities, or for curves, the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of the longitudinal streets of the route or any of them. But in Fifth avenue and Broadway no wall of the tunnel or part thereof (except at stations, station approaches, points where the route passes from streets to private property, curves and places of access to subsurface structures, as hereinafter provided) shall be within the distance of five feet of the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route. In all other longitudinal streets of the route, any part of such streets may be occupied so far as the purposes of this general plan require.

The tracks under East Thirty-fifth street and East Thirty-sixth street may be constructed in and occupy the same tunnel as another subway to be built under the said streets between Third avenue and Eighth avenue.

The roof of the tunnels when under a street shall be as near the surface of the street as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit; except that under East Thirty-fifth and East Thirty-sixth street and under East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Park avenue, the tunnel shall be so constructed as to pass under the subway constructed under resolutions of this Board adopted January 14 and February 4, 1897; and except also that near the intersection of Third avenue and East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street the tunnel may, if necessary, be depressed to a depth sufficient to allow other tunnels or subways to be constructed over and across it.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel, with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure; or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections, and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks may at any point of the said route, or of the spur or loops therein included, be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks, as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width may be increased.

Stations and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersections of streets, and shall be built under the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property, or through or under private property to be acquired for the purpose. The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures, the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side, provided always that the limits hereinbefore provided as to certain longitudinal streets of the route shall be observed. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction shall be by tunneling or excavation under cover, except in places where this Board shall give express permission to construct by open excavation.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of the said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

Definitions.

The word "street" wherever used herein, shall include an avenue or public place.

The words "Rapid Transit Act" wherever used herein shall be taken and held to mean chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891 as amended by chapter 752 of the Laws of 1894, and other acts of the Legislature.

MODIFICATION OF GERARD AVENUE ROUTE.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the following was adopted:

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York did, on the 1st day of June, 1905, adopt certain routes and general plan for a rapid transit railway in The City of New York, a copy of which is hereto annexed entitled "Copy Routes and General Plan adopted 1st June, 1905," and which route is known as the Gerard Avenue Route; and

Whereas, The said routes and general plan were afterwards duly approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York, on the 14th day of July, 1905, by the Mayor of The City of New York on the 28th day of July, 1905, and were duly approved by commissioners appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Judicial Department, which consent was duly confirmed by the said Appellate Division and its consent given to the said routes and general plan in lieu of the consent of the owners of a majority in value of the property along the said route, by an order entered on the 19th day of October, 1906; and

Whereas, The Public Service Commission for the First District was the successor of the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 429 of the Laws of 1907, has duly made the inquiries and investigation necessary or proper in the premises, and has determined that the modification and amendment of the said route and general plan hereinafter set forth is necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York and should be established as hereinafter provided; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That subject to the approvals and consents to be first obtained, as in this resolution hereinafter mentioned, the said routes and general plan heretofore adopted by the said Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York be and they hereby are modified and amended in the following respects:

(1) By striking out from the said routes and general plan the portion of the second paragraph under the head of General Plan of Construction as follows, to-wit: "except that northerly from the point in Gerard avenue near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, where the route separates into two routes, there shall be two ascending tracks and two descending tracks."

And by substituting in the place and stead thereof the words as follows, to wit: except that northerly from One Hundred and Fifty-first street and Gerard avenue there shall be three tracks to the point near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street where the route separates into two routes; thence northerly there shall be three ascending and three descending tracks.

So that the whole of said paragraph shall read as follows:

For the whole of the route above described there shall be two tracks; except that northerly from One Hundred and Fifty-first street and Gerard avenue there shall be three tracks to the point near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street where the route separates into two routes; thence northerly there shall be three ascending and three descending tracks.

(2) By modifying the following portion of the third paragraph under the head of "General Plan of Construction":

"where the route separates into two routes, the tracks shall be at such levels and on such alignments as to permit of proper connection by two of such tracks with a subway, and by two of such tracks with an elevated railway, in Jerome avenue."

by substituting the word "three" for the word "two," so that the whole of said paragraph shall read as follows:

All of the above mentioned tracks shall be substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same level; except that northerly from the said point in Gerard avenue, near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, where the route separates into two routes, the tracks shall be at such levels and on such alignments as to permit of proper connection by three of such tracks with a subway, and by three of such tracks with an elevated railway, in Jerome avenue; and except also that wherever else required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or other special or local necessities, or for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings, any one or more of the tracks may be elevated above or depressed below the other track or tracks so far as may be necessary.

(3) By modifying the portion of the fourth paragraph under the head of "General Plan of Construction:"

"The tracks shall be placed in tunnels or subways, except that northerly from the point where one of the routes or branches above described emerges to the surface in Gerard avenue two of the tracks shall be carried upon a viaduct over and along Gerard avenue and over and along Jerome avenue."

by substituting the word "three" for the word "two."

So that the said paragraph shall read as follows:

The tracks shall be placed in tunnels or subways, except that northerly from the point where one of the routes or branches above described emerges to the surface in Gerard avenue three of the tracks shall be carried upon a viaduct over and along Gerard avenue and over and along Jerome avenue.

Resolved, That whereas this Commission has duly made the inquiries and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and has determined that the modification and amendment aforesaid of the said routes and general plan were necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established as herein provided, this Commission does hereby determine and establish the said modification and amendment, subject to the approvals and consents to be first obtained as herein-after mentioned; and it is further

Resolved, That the said modification and amendment of the routes and general plan shall take effect only upon and after the following approvals thereof and consents thereto shall be duly had, to wit:

I. The approval and consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York.

II. The approval of the Mayor of The City of New York.

III. The consents of the owners of a majority in value of the property upon the portion of the said routes hereby modified and amended, or if such consents cannot be obtained, then in lieu thereof the determination of three commissioners to be appointed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in and for the First Judicial Department, duly confirmed by the said Appellate Division; and it is further

Resolved, That the two maps entitled "Public Service Commission for the First District, Routes and General Plan, Bronx Key May A and Bronx A—Sheet No. 2," are hereby adopted as showing the modification hereby adopted of the foregoing routes and general plan, for convenience merely, and that said maps are not to be deemed a part of the description of the routes, or a part of the general plan for any purpose whatever.

COPY ROUTES AND GENERAL PLANS ADOPTED JUNE 1, 1905.

Whereas, The Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the convenience and transportation of persons and property in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York, and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Board has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination; now therefore

This Board, by the concurrent votes of at least six members, does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation and such details as to manner of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Board, in adopting the said route or routes and general plans, expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract; or by separate contracts, executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads, as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may in the judgment of this Board require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that at a future time upon the requirement of this Board, the contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Board, require.

Route.

A route lying wholly within the Borough of The Bronx, the centre line of which shall begin at a suitable point in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, between the westerly side of Third avenue and the easterly side of Park avenue, at which a connection or connections can be made with spurs curving thence northerly and southerly to unite with subways to be hereafter constructed under and along Third avenue and under and along Park avenue. From the said point of beginning the centre line of said route shall run westerly under and along East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to a point near the intersection of the centre line of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street with the centre line of Walton avenue; thence curving northwesterly to a point near the intersection of the northerly line of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street with the easterly side of Gerard avenue; thence under private property to Gerard avenue and under and along Gerard avenue to a point near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street where the said route shall separate into two routes along the same avenue, but at different levels. One of the said routes shall continue northerly on a descending grade under the surface of Gerard avenue curving into Jerome avenue and uniting at a suitable point between Clarke place and East One Hundred and Seventieth street with a subway to be hereafter constructed under Jerome avenue. The other of the said routes running from the said point in Gerard avenue near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, shall begin to ascend and shall emerge to the surface and continue northerly over and along Gerard avenue, curving into Jerome avenue and uniting near the intersection of Clarke place with an elevated structure to be constructed over and along Jerome avenue.

General Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing route is as follows:

For the whole of the route above described there shall be two tracks; except that northerly from the point in Gerard avenue near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, where the route separates into two routes, there shall be two ascending tracks and two descending tracks.

All of the above mentioned tracks shall be substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same level; except that northerly from the said point in Gerard avenue, near the southerly side of East One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, where the route separates into two routes, the tracks shall be of such levels and on such alignments as to permit of proper connection by two of such tracks with a subway, and by two of such tracks with an elevated railway, in Jerome avenue; and except also that wherever else required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or for special or local necessities, or for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings, any one or more tracks may be elevated above or depressed below the other track or tracks so far as may be necessary.

The tracks shall be placed in tunnels or subways, except that northerly from the point where one of the routes or branches above described emerges to the surface in Gerard avenue, two of the tracks shall be carried upon a viaduct over and along Gerard avenue and over and along Jerome avenue.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets forming a portion of the route above described so far as may be practicable and convenient; but wherever required by special or local necessities or for curves, the tracks or any or one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of such streets or any of them. But in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Jerome avenue no wall of the tunnel or viaduct or any part thereof (except at stations, station approaches, points where the route passes from streets to private property, curves and places of access to subsurface structures, as hereinafter provided) shall be within a distance of five feet of the exterior line or side of the said street. In all other longitudinal streets of the route, any part of such streets may be occupied so far as the purposes of this general plan require.

Wherever the tracks change from tunnel to viaduct, or from viaduct to tunnel, the change shall be so made as to involve the use of the surface to the least possible extent consistent with the proper gradient for the tracks.

Wherever necessary for the proper support of the surface of a street the roof of the tunnels shall be of iron or steel, with brick or concrete arches, supported, when necessary, by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure, or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

The roof of the tunnels when under a street shall be as near the surface as street conditions and grades will conveniently permit.

The tunnels shall in no case be less than thirteen feet in height in the clear.

There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and cross overs the width may be increased.

Viaducts shall be built with a width of twelve and one-half feet for each track, except on curves or where greater width is required for special construction, and with an additional width of three feet on each side for outside footways. Viaducts may be built of metal or of masonry or of both.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four feet and eight and a half inches between the rails.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections and an additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one quarter of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks, wherever constructed below the surface, may at any point of the route be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks, as shall be most convenient.

Stations and station approaches shall, in general, be at the intersections of streets, and shall be built under or, if the position of the tracks so require, over the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property or through private property to be acquired for the purpose, or both under or over streets and through private property as aforesaid. The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures, the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, the width of any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width on each side of the route, not to exceed fifteen feet on either side, provided always that the limits hereinbefore provided as to certain longitudinal streets of the route shall be observed. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional widths hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be those provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the routes not to exceed fifteen feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers, street railway tracks, poles for electric wires and other subsurface structures at any part of the said routes shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed upon, over or under, the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and service thereof shall not be impaired. Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction of subways shall be by tunneling or open excavation. In parks, parkways, and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed in the course of construction shall be replaced, under the direction and to the satisfaction of said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route or routes above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

The word "street," wherever used herein, shall include an avenue or public place.

RESOLUTIONS FOR CANAL STREET ROUTE.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the following was adopted:

Whereas, The Public Service Commission for the First District has determined that a rapid transit railway or railways for the convenience and transportation of persons and property, in addition to those already existing, authorized or proposed, are necessary for the interest of the public and of The City of New York and should be established therein as hereinafter provided; and

Whereas, This Commission has duly made the inquest and investigation necessary or proper in the premises, and all such inquests and investigations as are necessary or proper for such determination.

Now, therefore, this Commission does hereby adopt the following route or routes for an additional rapid transit railway or railways in The City of New York, and does hereby determine and establish the said additional route or routes thereof as follows, and does hereby adopt a general plan of construction of the said railway or railways, the route or routes of which are herein provided, and does in such general plan hereby adopted show the general mode of operation and such details as to matter of construction as may be necessary to show the extent to which any street, avenue or other public place is to be encroached upon and the property abutting thereon affected.

This Commission in adopting the said route or routes and general plans expressly reserves all the powers in relation to the construction of the said route or routes which are conferred upon it by section 34 of the Rapid Transit Act. In particular, it reserves the right to contract for the construction of the whole road or all the roads provided for in the following plans in a single contract; or by separate contracts executed from time to time, to provide for the construction of parts of said road or roads or for the construction at first of two or more tracks over a part or parts of such road or roads and afterwards of one or more additional tracks over a part of such road or roads as the necessities of The City of New York and the increase of its population may in the judgment of this Board require; or to provide in a contract for any part of such railroad that at a future time upon the requirement of this Commission the Contractor shall construct the remainder or any part of the remainder of said road as the growth of the population or the interests of the City may, in the judgment of this Commission, require.

Route.

A route lying wholly within the Borough of Manhattan, the centre line of which shall begin at a suitable point in Canal street at or near Centre street at which a connection or connections can be made with a route running over the Manhattan Bridge, thence running westerly through and under Canal street to Hudson street; thence continuing westerly under Canal street to Washington street; thence in a loop curving southerly under Canal street, public park and private property to West street; thence southerly under West street and curving easterly under private property to Watts street; thence easterly under Watts street to Canal street and at or near the intersection of Canal and Hudson streets joining the line on Canal street described above. Also two spurs connecting the route hereby described with a rapid transit railroad to be constructed under Broadway. One of such spurs to begin at a point in Canal street at or near Lafayette street; running thence westerly along and under Canal street, on the northerly side thereof to a point between Lafayette street and Broadway, where it curves in a northwesterly direction under private property to Broadway, connecting with the said rapid transit railroad under Broadway at about Grand street. The other of such spurs to begin at a point in Canal street at or near Lafayette street; running thence westerly along and under Canal street, on the southerly side thereof, to a point between Lafayette street and Broadway, where it curves in a southwesterly direction under private property to Broadway, connecting with the said rapid transit railroad under Broadway at about White street.

General Plan of Construction.

The general plan of construction hereby adopted for the foregoing route is as follows:

For the part of the route from Centre street to Hudson street there shall be four tracks; for the entire remainder of the route, including the spurs above described, there shall be two tracks. There shall be as many additional tracks as may be needed for convenient operation of terminals under the public park and streets at Canal, Hoboken and West streets.

All of the above mentioned tracks shall be placed in subway or tunnel substantially parallel with each other and on substantially the same level; except that wherever required by special necessities of surface or subsurface structures or other special or local necessities, or for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings, any one or more of the tracks may be depressed below the level of the other track or tracks so far as may be necessary.

The tracks shall be placed in general under the central part of the longitudinal streets of the route so far as may be practicable and convenient, except that wherever required by special or local necessities or for curves the tracks or any one or more of them may be diverted as far as necessary to one side or the other of the longitudinal streets of the route or any of them. In all such longitudinal streets of the route any part of such streets may be occupied so far as the purposes of this general plan require.

The roof of the tunnels shall be as near the surface of the street as street conditions and grades and rapid transit railroads heretofore proposed or constructed will conveniently permit.

The tunnels above described shall in no case be less than thirteen (13) feet in height in the clear.

The roof of the said tunnels shall be of iron or steel with brick or concrete arches, supported when necessary by iron or steel or masonry columns and resting upon masonry walls; or the roof shall be a masonry structure, or the whole of the lining may be of metal.

Adjacent tracks shall be connected by necessary and suitable switches and connections, and additional track for siding accommodations may be constructed not to exceed in length one-fourth of a mile for each mile of roadway.

The tracks from Wooster street to Centre street may be partly constructed in and occupy the same tunnels as other subways to be built under part of Canal street as portions of other rapid transit routes adopted by the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York.

The tracks may at any point of the said route or of the loop therein included be placed in the same tunnel; or there may be separate tunnels for one or more tracks as shall be most convenient.

The tracks shall be of standard gauge, that is to say, of the width of four (4) feet and eight and one-half (8½) inches between the rails. There shall be a width in the tunnels not exceeding fifteen (15) feet for each track in addition to the thickness of the supporting walls, unless it shall be necessary to tunnel by the shield method, in which event the tracks may be placed in tubes not exceeding twenty (20) feet in diameter and driven or placed along such part of the street or streets as shall be most convenient, except that at stations, switches, turnouts, curves and crossovers the width or diameter may be increased.

Stations and station approaches shall in general be at the intersection of streets and shall be built under the streets and immediately adjoining private abutting property or through or under private property to be acquired for the purpose or both under streets and through private property as aforesaid. The streets under which stations or station approaches shall be built may include cross streets, but no part of any cross street shall be used for a station approach at a distance greater than seventy-five (75) feet from the exterior line or side of the longitudinal street of the route.

Wherever along any part of the routes above described it shall be necessary for the proper maintenance or accommodation of pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures, the removal, construction or reconstruction of which shall be rendered necessary by the construction of the railway, any tunnel or subway may be enlarged on either or both sides by an additional width not to exceed fifteen (15) feet on each side of the route. All or any pipes, wires, sewers or other subsurface structures may be placed in suitable galleries to be constructed within the additional width hereinbefore permitted. At each cross street where accommodation for pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be thus provided within the tunnels or subways, such tunnels or subways, in order to provide convenient access to the same, may have, within the limit of the sides or exterior lines of such cross streets or such lines produced, an additional width on each side of the route not to exceed fifteen (15) feet.

Pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures at any part of the said route shall be removed or disturbed only when necessary for the construction and operation of the railway above referred to, and if removed or disturbed shall be placed under the several streets in such manner and in such location that the use and the service thereof shall not be impaired. Such pipes, wires, sewers and other subsurface structures shall be left or shall be so arranged as to give free access for their repair or alteration, or for the placing with them, so far as there may be space, of new pipes, wires, sewers and other like structures, and for making connections between the same and abutting buildings at any time.

The manner of construction shall be by tunneling or excavation under cover, except in places where this Commission shall give express permission to construct by open excavation.

In parks, parkways and public places under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks, all trees injured or destroyed shall be replaced under the direction and to the satisfaction of the said Department.

Mode of Operation.

The general mode of operation of the route above described shall be by electricity or some other power not requiring combustion within the tunnels, and the motors shall be capable of moving trains at a speed of not less than forty (40) miles per hour for long distances, exclusive of stops.

Definitions.

The word "street" wherever used herein shall include an avenue or public place.

The words "Rapid Transit Act" wherever used herein shall be taken and held to mean chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891 as amended by chapter 752 of the Laws of 1894, and by other acts of the Legislature.

The following resolution was moved and duly seconded:

Resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary of the Commission be and they hereby are authorized to address a communication to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York, transmitting the modification of the routes and general plans of the Lexington avenue and Gerard avenue routes and the routes and general plans for the Canal street route, in form substantially as set forth.

Carried.

The said form of communication to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was as follows:

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of The City of New York:

The Public Service Commission for the First District, as organized, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 429 of the Laws of 1907, has, since its induction into office, conducted a careful and extended investigation of the traffic conditions and necessities of the people of The City of New York. The intolerable and indecent congestion, and the resultant danger to life and health, is so self-evident that prompt and effective measures for its relief are imperatively necessary. The Commission, under the powers of regulation and supervision of the present railroads, given it by chapter 429 of the Laws of 1907, has issued orders for large additions to and improvements in the present accommodations, but without the construction of additional railroads to meet the rapidly increasing population of the City, it is the opinion of the Commission that no permanent relief can be afforded. The population of the City in 1905 was four million and fourteen thousand (4,014,000) people and the traveling population one billion two hundred and thirty-one million (1,231,000,000) people. It is estimated that the population of the City at the present rate is doubling every thirty to thirty-two years, and that the traveling population is doubling every twelve years. It is manifest that the present accommodations cannot keep pace with this increase, and when the enormous population that provision must be made for within the next one or two decades is considered, the stupendous transportation problem before the City is apparent.

The Commission has carefully examined the Rapid Transit routes, adopted by the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners for The City of New York, with a view to selecting for construction the ones that will give the maximum relief at the present time. The present subway gives substantial relief to the west side of the Borough of Manhattan, north of Forty-second street, but affords little or no relief to the east side of the Borough north of that point and its route in The Bronx is open to the objection that a great proportion of its passengers are obliged to travel over a very circuitous route in order to reach the downtown business district.

In the opinion of the Commission, the first Rapid Transit system that should be constructed in Manhattan and The Bronx is one that will accommodate the large population on the east side of the Borough of Manhattan, and at the same time will furnish substantial additional facilities to the Borough of The Bronx. The Lexington avenue route, as advertised for bids by the former Rapid Transit Board, was admirable in many respects, but had at least two very important defects; first, and most important, in that it did not extend far enough into The Bronx to afford any large measure of relief to that portion of the City; and, secondly, that south of Forty-third street, in Manhattan, the line contained such sharp curves as would seriously lessen the speed of trains, increase the cost of operation and diminish the capacity of the road. With some modifications, however, the Lexington avenue route, as adopted by the Rapid Transit Board, should form the nucleus of the proposed new system. The most pressing necessity for new subways in Manhattan is on the east side, and although there are strong reasons for the selection of the other east side routes, the Commission, after a careful consideration of the subject, and after having had the benefit of a public hearing on the question, has concluded that the Lexington avenue route would best meet the present needs, although in the near future lines must also be constructed upon other longitudinal avenues.

The system which the Commission proposes to construct as soon as the means are at hand begins at the Battery, in Manhattan, and runs north along Church street to Vesey street, through Vesey street to Broadway, northerly along Broadway, with important cross-town connections at Canal street, to about East Ninth street, where it leaves Broadway and continues through private property and across the several cross streets to Irving place; thence northerly along Irving place and through Gramercy Park to Lexington avenue, whence it continues northerly along Lexington avenue and under the Harlem River to the Borough of The Bronx, where it branches into two lines, one line connecting with the Gerard avenue and Jerome avenue routes, and running as far north as Woodlawn Cemetery, and the other line running generally northeasterly and along the Southern boulevard and Westchester avenue route to Pelham Bay Park.

The routes upon which this system is based were laid out by the Rapid Transit Board and only certain changes, which are embodied in the resolutions amending such routes transmitted herewith, are necessary to provide for proper connections and to eliminate sharp curves. These modifications are necessary in order to utilize this system to its utmost capacity, and may be summed up shortly as follows:

(1) Changing the road north of One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street to a point in Park avenue in The Bronx, from a two track structure to a four track structure.

(2) Providing for a branch in The Bronx beginning in Park avenue at about East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and extending up Mott avenue to East One Hundred and Fifty-first street, and through One Hundred and Fifty-first street to Gerard avenue, where a connection can be made with the proposed Gerard avenue subway, with a spur through East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to make a connection with the proposed Southern boulevard and Westchester avenue route.

(3) Changing the proposed Gerard avenue subway north of East One Hundred and Fifty-first street from a two track road to a three track road.

(4) Provision for a direct line through Gramercy Park, Irving place and private property to Broadway.

By changing the route north of East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street into Park avenue from a two track road to a four track road, adequate provision is made to accommodate the large population now in The Bronx and leave room for meeting the necessities of future traffic. The same may be said of the change in the Gerard avenue route from a two track road to a three track road. Under present conditions a two track road will not allow of express service during the rush hours in one direction or the other, and the consequent congestion is bound to have its effect on the entire road. The change of the Park avenue section from a two track road to a four track road also allows provision for running the trains of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad through to the down-town districts either from a connection at East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, or from a connection with the Putnam Division. By the construction of the branch from Park avenue through Mott avenue the connection with the Gerard avenue and Jerome avenue routes is straightened and opportunity given for more rapid and less expensive service, while the spur through One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street will give the Lexington avenue route its important connection with the Southern boulevard and Westchester avenue route. The branches and spurs laid out by the former Rapid Transit Board as part of the Lexington avenue route and extending across the Harlem River through Third avenue to Morris avenue and along Park avenue to East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street and through East One Hundred and Fifty-third street to the Putnam Division of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad are retained as furnishing an important nucleus for future extensions of the line further north in The Bronx. It will be seen that this arrangement permits the utilization of the Lexington avenue subway to its utmost capacity and affords marked relief to two widely separated sections of The Bronx. If at the time when contracts are prepared for these routes there is any immediate likelihood of the construction of other important east or west side roads, provision may be considered for the joining of the one or more of The Bronx routes to other systems. In the Borough of Manhattan the addition of the section through Irving place straightens the line of the railroad, and by the elimination of sharp curves will permit the operation of trains at high speed and lower the operating cost, while the Fifth avenue route may still be retained for future necessities as furnishing a valuable artery through the shopping district and as affording an outlet for the local service, leaving the direct route down Irving place open for express service.

To afford the maximum scope for this proposed system, the Commission has also adopted, and transmits herewith resolutions adopting routes and general plan for a cross town line in the Borough of Manhattan, which runs east and west through Canal street, with a loop at the westerly end, and at the easterly end connects with the Manhattan Bridge route revised, heretofore adopted by the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, providing a route over the Manhattan Bridge to Brooklyn. The cross town traffic facilities in the lower portion of the Borough of Manhattan are old and inadequate, making it difficult for a large part of the population to reach the great steamship district on the west side of Manhattan, either from the east side of Manhattan or from Brooklyn. Provision is made for connections between this route and the Lexington avenue route at Broadway, thus affording an opportunity for through service from The Bronx or the east side of Manhattan to the shipping district on the North River or to the east for through service over the Manhattan Bridge to Brooklyn, and if deemed wise, continuing through the Fourth avenue subway to Fort Hamilton or Coney Island.

This combination of the Lexington avenue, Gerard avenue, Jerome avenue and Southern boulevard and Westchester avenue routes, as modified, with the new Canal street route, provides a comprehensive system of rapid transit that will afford the greatest present maximum relief to Manhattan and The Bronx, and by the Manhattan Bridge connection will give a convenient access into Manhattan to residents of Brooklyn, with a resultant relief of the congestion at the Brooklyn Bridge. The line also runs close enough at Fifty-ninth street to the Blackwell's Island Bridge and at Forty-second street to the Steinway tunnel to give a more direct route into the business district of Manhattan to the residents of Queens. This system therefore embodies all the advantages of the Tri-Borough route, gives additional facilities to four out of five boroughs of the City, and in addition provides certain advantages which that route did not have, inasmuch as the Manhattan portion of the Tri-Borough route did not serve Broadway north of the Post Office.

Certified copies of resolutions modifying the routes and general plan of the Lexington avenue route and the Gerard avenue route and adopting routes and general plans for the Canal street route are herewith transmitted to your Honorable Body for approval as the authorities having control of the streets through which the proposed railways are to be constructed.

In witness whereof, this Commission has caused its seal to be hereto affixed and these presents signed by its Chairman and Secretary the 5th day of February, 1908.

MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1907.

Municipal Civil Service Commission,
No. 299 Broadway,
New York, January 14, 1908.

Hon. GEORGE B. McCLELLAN, Mayor of The City of New York:

Sir—We have the honor to submit herewith a report of the work performed during the year 1907 by the Municipal Civil Service Commission of New York.

On July 8, 1907, the Hon. Frank L. Polk was appointed a member of the Commission to succeed the Hon. Alfred J. Talley.

The Commission records with regret that it has lost the valuable services of Dr. L. F. Warner, who, on July 23, 1907, was appointed Police Surgeon. Dr. Warner had been connected with this department for nearly ten years, and during that time he discharged the duties of his office faithfully and with great intelligence.

Administrative Work.

During the past year the volume of business handled by the Commission has increased in proportion to the increase in the work of the various departments of City government. In the competitive class 19,290 applications were filed and 15,832 candidates were examined, as follows:

Examinations.	Candidates.	Total.
47 Mental competitive	9,538
57 Mental non-competitive.....	187
78 Mental promotion	3,253
182		12,978
29 Physical competitive	2,854
211		15,832

In the Labor Bureau there were filed 18,373 applications; 12,642 persons were examined, as follows:

Examinations.	Candidates.	Total.
250 Physical	10,413
2 Practical (Part I.).....	64
42 Oral (Part II.).....	1,808
11 Trade	357
305		12,642

The number of employees in the Civil Service of The City of New York under the jurisdiction of the Commission at present is 45,306, divided as follows:

Exempt class	727
Competitive class	23,917
Non-competitive class	3,909
Labor class	16,753
	45,306

There are 221 persons in the unclassified service and 11,000 employees in the teaching force of the Board of Education, so that the total number of persons employed by The City of New York at the present time is 56,527.

There are now 165 competitive eligible lists and 145 promotion lists in existence.

On November 1 the Labor Bureau and Examination Rooms were removed from No. 51 Lafayette street to No. 66 Lafayette street. The quarters there obtained are in every respect much more satisfactory, for in addition to convenient office space and greatly improved facilities for conducting the physical examinations, the Commission has well ventilated and well lighted examination rooms, capable of accommodating six hundred candidates. We shall now be able to hold all examinations in our own quarters, with the possible exception of a few very large examinations for the Police and Fire Departments.

The several amendments to our rules that have been adopted during the year are already known to your Honor. Probably one of the most important is the amendment to Rule XIX., which permits the Commission to require either an oral or a practical examination for any position in Part I. or Part II. of the Labor Class. Some of the changes were made in order that our rules might conform to the excellent and comprehensive report of the Commission on the Revision of Salaries and Grades, which report was recently submitted to and approved by your Honor and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

As a result of many months of hard and careful work the Commission has made certain recommendations, which have placed the Civil Service of this City for the first time on a sound business basis, and have created an orderly system for all departments that was sorely needed. It is the unanimous opinion of those in any way in touch with City affairs that the value of this improvement cannot be overestimated.

The number of examinations held by the Commission has already been mentioned. Many of these examinations were of great importance, the most important, in point of numbers, being that for the position of Assistant Foreman in the Fire Department.

A notable change in the manner of conducting examinations has been the introduction of a new system of numbering the examination papers. This system was devised by Mr. Murray, one of our Examiners, and in our opinion it is by far the most efficient heretofore devised, as the possibility of identifying the paper of a candidate before final rating is well nigh impossible.

The examining department still complains, and with justice, of the large number who file applications and do not appear for examination. In most instances the difficulty seems to be caused by a lack of knowledge on the part of the applicant as to the duties of the place for which he applies. This, perhaps, is due in a measure to the misleading titles of some of the offices. It is claimed that the only remedy would be to charge a fee on filing of applications, but the Commission hardly feels prepared to take that step. The Commission will shortly distribute a book containing extracts from the rules and regulations, sample questions for all examinations and the classification of positions. It is to be hoped that this will help that situation, and also reduce the number of applicants for information; for at present the time of three Clerks is practically devoted to that work.

In regard to the important matter of efficiency records there has been some complaint, not only as to the method of making out the records, but also to the obvious unfairness in marking. The Commission recently introduced in the Police and Fire departments a new method of keeping efficiency records, and it is hoped that better results will be obtained if this system is carried out. In view of the fact that the record counts for so much in promotion examinations, we feel that every effort should be made to make them of real value to the Commission, and at the same time to see that justice is done the men.

The work of the examining department is the most important, in our opinion, and we feel that too great care cannot be taken to protect that department from all possible criticism. In large examinations the Commissioners have taken it upon themselves personally to prepare the papers on the morning of the examination. This course is pursued not because of any lack of confidence on the part of the Commission in the Examiners, but because it was hoped by the Commission and the Examiners that in this way it might be possible to impress gullible candidates with the absurdity of wasting their money on frauds.

The work of the payroll bureau, as is shown by the figures given below, has continued to increase. The total number of appointments recorded for the year 1907 was 10,238, divided as follows:

Exempt class	126
Competitive class	3,215
Non-competitive class	1,700
Labor class	5,197

The total number of removals (in all classes) was 3,800; resignations (in all classes), 1,614; transfers (in all classes), 558; promotions, 787; deaths (in all classes), 636; retirements, 313; and reinstatements, 779.

The scope of the work of this bureau has also been increased, as now the certification of vouchers for special services is required. The amount represented by these vouchers alone approximates $2,000,000. The strict enforcement of the Civil Service Law in regard to promotions, reinstatements, transfers, etc., necessitated many supplementary payrolls. The total number of payrolls certified during the year was 12,818, and the number of names verified during the year was approximately a million.

Labor Bureau.

The work of the Labor Bureau, as in other departments, shows a substantial increase for the year. In accordance with the amended rule referred to before, there have been forty-two oral examinations held in order to determine the fitness of the candidate to fill the position for which he has applied. The addition of an oral examination has tremendously increased the work of this bureau, yet, at the same time, it has been productive of great good in weeding out incompetents, as it has been found that 10 per cent. of the applicants had absolutely no knowledge of the positions for which they had applied, and that 25 per cent. had such a limited knowledge of the duties of the positions that they were unfit for certification. The success of these examinations seems to be assured, and the complaints of the various departments as to the ability of the persons certified have greatly diminished. During the year, in response to complaints as to pavers and rammers, arrangements were made with the Commissioner of Public Works so that examinations could be held at the Corporation Yard under an expert examiner, who would pass upon the fitness of the candidates. This class of work requires a certain amount of skill, and therefore practical examinations were advantageous.

The Commission has to note with pleasure the type of men who present themselves as candidates, and it is believed that this is in a great measure due to the growing realization on the part of the public that merit is the basis in the rating of the lists for the various departments.

The Commission is always open to suggestion and anxious to forestall criticism. In this connection we feel that the greatest care should be taken—and it is taken—to avoid any grounds for complaint on the score that the tests are technical rather than practical. It is our aim to supply lists of applicants properly fitted and equipped to fill the various positions, and we feel very strongly that perhaps even better results might be accomplished if the heads of departments would co-operate with us rather than indulge in ill-advised and inaccurate public criticism.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK L. POLK, President.
R. ROSS APPLETON, Commissioner.
ARTHUR J. O'KEEFE, Commissioner.

As provided for by the Greater New York Charter.

1. Proposals containing conditions other than those herein set forth will not be received or considered.

2. No proposal for bonds or stock shall be accepted for less than the par value of the same.

3. Every bidder, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of his proposal, shall deposit with the Comptroller in money, or by a certified check drawn to the order of said Comptroller upon a solvent banking corporation, two per cent. of the par value of the bonds or stock bid for in said proposal.

No proposal will be received or considered which is not accompanied by such deposit. PROPOSALS FOR BIDS AND ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

The person or persons making a bid or estimate for any services, work, materials or supplies for The City of New York, or for any of its departments, bureaus or offices, shall furnish the same in a sealed envelope, indorsed with the title of the supplies, materials, work or services for which the bid or estimate is made, with his or their name or names and the date of presentation to the President or Board or to the head of the Department at his or its office, on or before the date and hour named in the advertisement for the same, at which time and place the estimates received will be publicly opened by the President or Board or head of said Department and read, and the award of the contract made according to law as soon thereafter as practicable.

Each bid or estimate shall contain the name and place of residence of the person making the same, and names of all persons interested with him therein, and, if no other person be so interested, it shall distinctly state that fact; also, that it is made without any connection with any other person making an estimate for the same purpose, and is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud, and that no member of the Board of Aldermen, head of a department, chief of a bureau, deputy thereof, or clerk therein, or other officer of The City of New York is, shall be or become interested, directly or indirectly, as contracting party, partner, stockholder, surety or otherwise in or in the performance of the contract, or in the supplies, work or business to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof. The bid or estimate must be verified by the oath, in writing, of the party or parties making the estimate that the several matters stated herein are in all respects true.

Each bid or estimate shall be accompanied by the consent, in writing, of two householders or freeholders in The City of New York, or of a guaranty or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety, and shall contain the matters set forth in the blank forms mentioned below.

No bid or estimate will be considered unless, as a condition precedent to the reception or consideration of any proposal, it be accompanied by a certified check upon one of the State or National banks of The City of New York, drawn to the order of the Comptroller, or money to the amount of five per centum of the amount of the bond required, as provided in section 420 of the Greater New York Charter.

The certified check or money should not be inclosed in the envelope containing the bid or estimate, but should be either inclosed in a separate envelope addressed to the head of the Department, President or Board, or submitted personally upon the presentation of the bid or estimate.

For particulars as to the quantity and quality of the supplies, or the nature and extent of the work, reference must be made to the specifications, schedules, plans, etc., on file in the said office of the President, Board or Department.

No bid shall be accepted from or contract awarded to any person who is in arrears to The City of New York upon debt or contract, or who is a defaulter, as surety or otherwise, upon any obligation to the City.

The contract must be bid for separately. The right is reserved in each case to reject all bids or estimates if it is deemed to be for the interest of the City so to do.

Bidders will write out the amount of their bids or estimates in addition to inserting the same in figures.

Bidders are requested to make their bids estimates upon the blank forms prepared and furnished by the City, a copy of which, with the proper envelope in which to inclose the bid, together with a copy of the contract, including the specifications, in the form approved by the Corporation Counsel, can be obtained upon application therefor at the office of the Department for which the work is to be done. Plans and drawings of construction work may also be seen there.
